READER.

THE enſuing Treatiſes are ſufficiently recommended to all (that love the Truth as it is in Jeſus) by the Name of the Author of them. They need not any Man's Teſtimony or Recommendation to uſher them into the World. Part of what thou art here preſented with, is perhaps no more than what thou haſt ſeen in leſſer Volumes; for ſeveral of the Treatiſes were printed by the Author in his Life-time, and the Acceptance of them is known to almoſt all that converſe with Theological Compoſures. The reſt were prepared by the Author for the Preſs before his Death; and are as he left them, without any Man's Cultivation, they needing none for the Matter of them. The Author indeed had a peculiar Phraſe to himſelf in expreſſing the Conceptions of his Mind; his Words were his own, as well as his Matter. The Matter and Contexture of that which is New (never before printed) in this Volume, will eaſily induce any who knew the Author, to believe that it was his own; and we may ſay as much his own, as any Man's Works that ever came into Publick, he not having thoſe Helps, that others have been, or are, bleſs'd withal: Like the Spider, all came from his own Bowels; what the Spirit of God gave in to him, by Prayer and Study, that he freely gave out, and communicated to others, cloathed in a familiar Style.

For humane Learning, it's true, he had none; but let it not be therefore ſaid, that what was done by him, is not worth our Time or Pains to read: For as Converſion-work, or the New-birth, is not of Blood, nor of the Will of the Fleſh, nor of the Will of Man, but of God; ſo the Author's Knowledge and Inſight into Goſpel Myſteries, was given to him by God himſelf; we don't ſay, by immediate Inſpiration, but by Prayer and Study, without any other external Helps. His Buſineſs was to converſe much with the Word of God, and to pray over it; his Labours therein were indefatigable, and God bleſs'd him in ſo doing, with a more than ordinary degree of Knowledge.

It's evident, that many in his Life-time did deſpiſe him, and all done by him, for the meanneſs of his Education and Calling that he was inſtructed in, and did in the Morning of his Days follow, as if no good Thing could come out of Nazareth; and it's probable ſome may ſtill be ready to have mean and contemptible Thoughts of his Works for that Reaſon; as alſo becauſe he had not that acquired Learning that others have. For the firſt reaſon, there is no manner of ground for it; to ſuch as make the laſt their Plea, we would ſay, That as Learning hath been too much trampled on, by them in whom Ignorance hath prevailed, (Ignoti nulla cupido,) ſo it hath been, and is too much Idolized by thoſe that have been Proficients in it; as though none might, or ought to engage in the Work of the Miniſtry, or publiſhing Treatiſes of this Nature, but Perſons under their Circumſtances: Not conſidering, that at the ſame time, the Eternal Spirit doth bleſs the Studies of thoſe that have Learning, with great Knowledge in Goſpel Myſteries, (comparatively great, yet abſolutely, the Beſt of men know but in part) and alſo makes their Labours in the Miniſtry of the Goſpel ſucceſsful, where Grace doth rule and reign in the Heart, and Prayer, together with a fiducial reliance on

on the Teachings and Help of the Spirit, do accompany what they undertake; I ſay, not conſidering that the ſame Spirit may, and evidently doth inſtruct the Unlearned (more humano) alſo, if gracious and painful, in the deep things of the Goſpel, and give them great knowledge therein, and truly qualifie, and fit them both for Preaching, and Writing, and bleſs them in ſo doing.

Learning in its place is of excellent uſe (if ſanctified,) yet certainly, as thoſe Men are juſtly chargeable with Folly, and ſome degree of Madneſs, that will reject wholeſome Food, if not brought in a Silver Diſh; ſo thoſe are beſides the Rule, that will deſpiſe all thoſe Works in which there is not the Savour of Logical Exactneſs, or Academical Preparations; though much of the Anointing of the Spirit, may be ſeen to have been on the Heads of the Authors, which doth clearly appear to have been on the Head of this Author, by the Spirituality, Soundneſs, and Clearneſs of his Writings.

Let us not confine the Spirit to our Meaſures; where is it ſaid in all the Book of God (which is our Rule in theſe things,) or from what Portion of Scripture can any genuine Conſequence be drawn, to prove that none, though gracious, and of good Underſtanding in the Goſpel, and called by a People, muſt engage in the Work of the Miniſtry, unleſs they are Grammarians, and have gone through a Courſe of Philoſophy, and have their Syſtems of Divinity at their fingers ends; and have been examined in theſe things, and are found to have ſome Expertneſs in them? if no proof can be brought for it, the Author was eminently qualified for his Work. Don't therefore throw away that which is Orthodox, and uſeful, becauſe not modified after your manner.

We know Children are taken with painted Babies, but Men and Chriſtians (to them that are or would be ſuch, not to Carpers, is this Work commended,) ought to act as ſuch, being guided by Judgment, not Fancy. What would become of thoſe Thouſands of precious Souls where Men of Learning are not, nor will reſide to preach the Goſpel, were it not for ſuch as the Author? Do I ſay ſuch: It would be a Mercy indeed, if all that preach were as able as he was.

Will you ſay, that ſuch are not Chriſtians, who own their Converſion to be under illiterate Men, as they are call'd? God forbid! It's God's will and pleaſure to own them in that Work, therefore don't reply againſt God. Read 1 Cor. 1. 27, 28, 29. Miſtake us not, we are not decrying Learning (neither was it the Author's Judgment, or Practice ſo to do, though himſelf deſtitute of it) but we would not have any place it, where God hath not; and make that eſſential to a Goſpel Miniſter, which is only a help. The Graces (we conceive) and the Gifts of the Spirit, together with the Call of a People, accompanied with an Inclination to the Work, are the Eſſentials of a Miniſter of the New Teſtament; not Learning, though a good and great Help, if rightly uſed. As on the one hand, ſome are ſo ſtrait-laced, that they will allow none to be Miniſters, but Scholars; ſo others are ſo large, that they'll admit any to the Work, though hardly endued with a good Family Gift: This the Author was againſt, and we have ſeen both of theſe Extreams to our Trouble. Therefore let us perſwade thee, to ſhun both of them, and reſolve to approve of thoſe that God qualifies for, and calls forth to, and bleſſes in the Work of Preaching, whether Learned or not; and of the latter ſort was the Author: The effect doth demonſtrate it; for Ultra poſſe non datur eſſe. Read the firſt to the Corinth. ch. 2 v. 14. The caſe being thus, peruſe and pray over what is before thee, that the Bleſſing of God may attend thy Reading, to thy Soul's advantage.

We ſhall not here delay thee with an Account of the Author's Pedigree, Education, Converſion, or Call to the Miniſtry, it being done for thee by his own hand, in his Treatiſe of Grace abounding to the Chief of Sinners: But give us leave to ſay, his Natural Parts and Abilities were not mean, his Fancy and Invention were very pregnant, and fertile; the uſe he made of them was good, converting them to ſpiritual Objects: His wit was ſharp and quick, his memory tenacious; it being cuſtomary with him to commit his Sermons to Writing after he had Preached them: His underſtanding was large and comprehenſive, his Judgment ſound and deep in the Fundamentals of the Goſpel, as his Writings evidence. Alſo his Experience of Satan's Temptations, in the Power and Policy of them, and of Chriſt's Preſence in and by his Word and Spirit to ſuccour and comfort him, was more than ordinary; the Grace of God was magnified in him and by him, and a rich anointing of the Spirit was upon him; and yet this great Saint was always in his own eyes the chiefeſt of Sinners, and the leaſt of Saints; eſteeming any, where he did believe the Truth of Grace, better than himſelf. There was indeed in him all the parts of an accompliſht Man, and for his Piety and Sincerity towards God, it was apparent to all that convers'd with him: He was not only well furniſhed with the Helps and Endowments of Nature, beyond ordinary, but eminent in the Graces and Gifts of the Spirit, and Fruits of Holineſs. He was from firſt to laſt of (and eſtabliſhed in, and ready to maintain,) that God like Principle of having Communion with Saints as ſuch, without any reſpect to difference in Opinion in things diſputable among the Godly, a true Lover of all that love Our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and did often bewail the different and diſtinguiſhing Appellations that are among the godly, ſaying, he did believe a Time would come when they ſhould be all Buried. His Carriage was condeſcending, affable and meek to all; yet bold and couragious for Christ's and the Gospel's sake. He was much struck at in the late times of Persecution, and his Sufferings were great, he enduring, first and last, above Twelve Years Imprisonment; under all which he behaved himself like Christ's Soldier, being far from any sinful compliance to save himself, but did chearfully bear the Cross of Christ: And when, by reason of Imprisonment, he was restrained from Preaching, he then spent his time (much of it) in composing that which might be useful and beneficial to the Church of God, when in Person he could not be so.

His Countenance was grave and sedate, and did so to the Life discover the inward Frame of his Heart, that it was convincing to the Beholders; and did strike something of Awe into them that had nothing of the Fear of God: And though his Enemies and Persecutors, in his Life-time, did what they could to vilify and reproach him; yet being gone, he that before had the Testimony of their Consciences, hath now their actual Commendation and Applause. His Conversation was as becomes the Gospel, Eph. 5. 6. Col. 2. 6. He was eminent as a Christian, and as a Minister of Christ; making that which God had called him to, his Business with Delight. He was laborious in his Work of Preaching at Home and Abroad; and diligent in his Preparation for it, not doing the Work of the Lord negligently. He was faithful in dispensing the Word, and discharging his Duty to God and Man. Where he saw Cause of Reproof, he did not spare for outward Circumstances, whether in the Pulpit or no; and as ready to administer Comfort and Succour to the Tempted: A Son of Consolation to the Broken-hearted and Afflicted, yet a Son of Thunder to secure and dead Sinners.

He knew the Worth of an Interest in Christ, by his own Experience of the Goodness of God, shewing him on the one hand his Natural Pollution, Guilt and Enmity, and that Wrath that was due to him thereby; and the vertue of the Blood of Christ on the other to free from all. And from that experimental Knowledge did flow hearty Desires and fervent Prayers, that the Work of God might be effectually wrought on Sinners, especially those among whom he laboured in the Word and Doctrine; and matter of Grief was it to him, when he did not see Conversion-work in foot. Indeed, in the beginning of his Ministry, God did own him in that Work, beyond what is ordinary: And in his latter years, few, if any, were more successful in their Work, we mean, with respect to Conversion. God was with him from first to last: And it may be said of him, as of David, 2 Sam. 7. 8, 9. Some are now gone to Glory with him; others are yet in the Body, who own him as the External Instrument in God's Hand, of their Conversion.

His so long continuance in the Work of the Ministry, was a great Blessing to the Church of Christ, in and about Bedford in particular, over which the Holy Ghost made him Overseer; his Ministry being blest to the Edification, Comfort and Establishment of the Saints, as well as the Conversion of Sinners. And he was also very useful, as he was an Elder or Pastor: First by his Example, he being full of Zeal and Affection, at all times, (according to knowledge,) more especially at his Administration of the Lord's Supper, it was observable that Tears came from his Eyes in abundance, from the sense of the Sufferings of Christ, that are in that Ordinance shadowed forth: And then, as a Pastor, he was useful also, by the Accuracy of his Knowledge in Church-discipline, and readiness to put that in practice in the Church (as occasion offered) which he saw was agreeable to the Word of God, whether Admonition, or Excommunication, or making up Differences, or filling up Vacancies, or paring off Excrescences. And as he was useful to that Church, so to the whole Countrey round, and to other Churches where he did frequently spend his Labours.

His Death was, and is much lamented, for that Reason: as also because it was somewhat sudden, and he from home at that time. His Remembrance is sweet and refreshing to many, and so will continue: For the Righteous shall be had in everlasting Remembrance. God's blessing his Labours in Preaching, to those Ends for which it was ordain'd, was one great motive to prevail with him to Print them: And to our knowledge, those Books that he himself put forth, were blest to the good of many Souls; the Acceptance which his former Works have met with in the World, and the Advantage that many haue received by them, doth assure us, that his Remains will be welcome also to those that would either grow in Grace themselves, or have others won over to Jesus Christ.

His Preaching, for the Matter of it, was much what he before had the Savour of on his own Spirit, (he walking close with God) and therefore came from him with no small Degree of Livelinesß and Vigour. His Design was, in Preaching, and Publishing (what he preach'd) to recommend the Truth and Grace of God to all, that either heard him, or should read his Works, and ours is the same: Therefore read, and receive what thou readest in the Truth and Love of it, it being consonant thereto.

We grant, that with respect to some Circumstantials, or Things of lesser Moment, the Author's Sentiments were different from ours; if thou findest them, and thy Judgment be otherwise, take the Liberty of thy Conscience, as we do, and is the Duty of all to give; yet in the great Truths of the Gospel that he handles, we judge him to be very sound, and can therefore recommend the Work.

Some Things he treats of, are Doctrinal and Controverted: There you'll find his Soundneſs, and a great Degree of Clearneſs; deep Things brought into a familiar Phraſe. The reſt of his Writings (and they the greateſt Part) are practical, and therefore to be eſteemed as uſeful by all ſound-hearted Chriſtians.

The Reaſon why there are ſo many Treatiſes put into one Volume, (ſome Printed before, others not) is, that they may be preſerved to future Ages, fearing that their continuing ſingle, or the reſt being printed ſo, may hazard their being loſt, and ſo our Poſterity deprived of that Benefit which we now hope they may receive from them.

If any ſay, they can't ſpare ſo much Money as this Volume will coſt; there are the leſſer Volumes for them, which they may buy ſome and ſome, as they can. In this Volume are not contained all the Works of the worthy Author; they would ſwell to too great a Bulk: Neither were all the Copies to be procur'd, becauſe the Propriety of ſeveral Pieces already Printed, is lodg'd in particular Perſons hands, who were not willing to reſign up their Right at reaſonable Rates; but the reſt will be in another Volume as ſoon as the Copies can be obtained, that thou mayſt have all thoſe Works by thee, which the Author with great Labour, and the Spirit's Aſſiſtance compiled, and with many Prayers recommended to God for a Bleſſing to thoſe into whoſe Hands they ſhould come.

To conclude: If thou haſt taſted that the Lord is gracious, read, and pray that thou mayeſt be edified, and built up in thy moſt holy Faith, and be made meet for Glory. But if thou art yet in thy Natural Eſtate, which is a State of unſpeakable Danger, as well as Sin, remember that thou ſhalt not always have ſuch Mercies put into thy hands, for thy Soul's good; and that the heavieſt Blow of Divine Juſtice is ſtill ready to avenge thy Abuſe of Mercy: Therefore don't read to fill thy head with Notions; but labour after a deep Impreſſion on thy Heart of what thou readeſt; and ſet thy ſelf about the obtaining the one Thing neceſſary, that thou mayſt have cauſe to bleſs God for caſting this Book into thy hands, as others have had, for what hath been already Printed. We ſhall forbear ſaying any more to Saints or Sinners, becauſe the Author hath been ſo full in what he hath ſpoken to both, rightly dividing the Word of Truth.

That therefore the ſame Bleſſing of God, and Breathing of the Spirit, may accompany thy Reading, as did the Author's Preaching, and others Reading, is, and ſhall be the unfeigned and fervent Requeſt of us,

Who are thy Souls Friends,

Anno 1692.

To

To the Worthy Perſons, whoſe Zeal for Primitive Chriſtianity, has engaged them to encourage the Reprinting of Mr. BUNYAN's Works.

MY FRIENDS,

WHAT We approve ourſelves, We are apt to recommend to others. I have long been of Opinion that the Writings of this excellent Author, as far as I have had an Opportunity of being acquainted with them, are well worth the Peruſal of thoſe who have taſted that the Lord is gracious. Some of them being admirably adapted to inform, and encourage Sinners inquiring the Way to Zion, with their Faces thitherwards: For which he was more abundantly furniſh'd, from his own Experience, having been long in the Service of Sin, 'till at length God opening his Eyes, he was enabled to diſcover the imaginary Satisfaction of the carnal Appetite, in a Courſe of Impiety, to be meer Vanity, Folly, and Deluſion; leaving a Sting in the Conſcience, expoſing us to the Divine Reſentment, and rendering us viler than the Beaſts who periſh.

And as he has skillfully repreſented Sin, in its odious Malignity, as the abominable Evil which God hates, and carefully traced it to its Original, in the firſt Adam's Apoſtacy, pointing out the dangerous Effects of this moſt deadly Diſeaſe, as it ſullies the Beauty, deſtroys the Peace, and endangers the Safety of the immortal Soul: So it is not eaſy to ſay, whether with greater Judgment, or Affection, he has deſcribed the Remedy, when treating on the Imputed Righteouſneſs of Chriſt, and the Myſtery of Pardoning Grace, in the Blood of the Everlaſting Covenant.

This indeed runs through the greateſt Part of his Works, as a fundamental Truth on which the whole Fabrick of the Goſpel, and the Believers Hopes are built; for as the Apoſtle obſerves, There is no other Name given under Heaven whereby we can be ſaved, nor other Foundation can any Man lay, than that which is laid, which is Chriſt Jeſus, in whom only we have Redemption, through his Blood, the Forgiveneſs of Sins, according to the Riches of God's Grace.

And whilſt he diſcovers the warmeſt Zeal for Purity of Heart, and Piety of Life, conſtantly recommending Holineſs, as the beauteous Image of the God of all Glory; as abſolutely neceſſary to Communion and Fellowſhip with him, and without which no Man ſhall ſee his Face with Comfort in the great Day: He at the ſame time cautions againſt the proud Conceit of being ſaved by Works of Righteouſneſs which we can do, and, with our Lord, adviſes, That when we have done all we are enabled to do in the Diſcharge of our Duty, and for God's Glory, we ſhould conclude ourſelves to be unprofitable Servants. As to other important Myſteries of the everlaſting Goſpel, you will find them frequently not only aſſerted, but greatly illuſtrated and thoroughly proved and confirmed; ſuch as,

The Doctrine of a Trinity of Perſons, in the one undivided Eſſence; or, that Father, Son, and Spirit, having one common Nature, and the ſame glorious Perfections, are the three who bare Record in Heaven, and have equal Right to the Homage, or religious Worſhip, of the intelligent Creature.

That whatſoever comes to paſs in the ſeveral Ages of Time, was known to, and determined, by Him who works all things after the Counſel of his own Will. That all the Actions of Men, as far as they are ſimply natural, are wrought in God, in whom we Live, and Move, and have our Being. That wherein they are morally good or praiſe-worthy, it is God that worketh in us, both to will and to do of his own good Pleaſure; and that ſo far as they are ſinful and criminal, they are meerly under the Permiſſion and Sufferance of Him, who cannot poſſibly be tempted himſelf, neither does he tempt any Man.

That God hath choſen his People in Chriſt before the Foundation of the World, and predeſtinated them unto the Adoption of Sons by Jeſus Chriſt, that he has inrolled their Names in the Book of Life, and given their Perſons into the Hands of his Son to redeem and ſave.

That when a Sinner is called or converted the Arm of the Lord is revealed, that he is made willing in the Day of God's Power, and born not of Blood, nor of the Will of the Fleſh, nor of the Will of Man, but of God: And that he who commanded Light to ſhine out of Darkneſs, in the natural Creation, muſt ſhine into the Soul of an unrenewed Sinner, before he can behold the Glory of God, as it's exhibited in the Face or Perſon of Chriſt.

That Grace once received in the Habit, or Principle, is an immortal Seed, and abides forever; though it may ſadly decline, and greatly abate in its Exerciſe, yet ſhall never be wholly loſt, for God ſtands engaged to carry on the good Work where he has begun it, and will preſerve his People by his mighty Power, through Faith unto Salvation: And that after a Life ſpent in a painful Struggle with Sin and Satan, the Believer having ſown in Tears, ſhall reap in Joy, and employ an Eternity in that Reſt which remains for the People of God.

Beſides theſe glorious Truths of the everlaſting Goſpel, you will meet with a large Account of the ſeveral Duties of Chriſtians, whether as Members of Civil Society, or related to particular Communities, or concerned in the Management of Private Families, together with the ſpiritual Manner in which they are to be performed, the Divine Aſſiſtance which is neceſſary to it, and the Merits of the Saviour, which alone can render them acceptable to God. Nor does he overlook the many exceeding great and precious Promiſes, whether made to the Church in general, or Believers in particular, and as it comes before him, reconciles the ſeeming Contradiction between the Promiſe and certain Diſpenſations of Providence, by vindicating the Divine Faithfulneſs, ſince whether the Saint can ſee it or no, all things do work together for good to them that love God, and are the Called according to his Purpoſe. So that here is Inſtruction for the Ignorant, Encouragement for the Weak, Milk for Babes, and Meat for ſtrong Men.

As to the Author himſelf, he is above our Praiſe, now triumphing in the Preſence of that Redeemer, who ſo wonderfully pluck'd him as a Brand out of the Burning. Nor ſhall I add any thing to the Account he has given of himſelf in his Treatiſe of Grace Abounding to the chief of Sinners. And what is farther ſaid of him by the Reverend Mr. Chandler, and my Worthy Grandfather, whoſe Names I find at the Cloſe of the preceding Preface, only that I am perſuaded his Name will have its Fragrancy with all ſerious Perſons, who at any time ſhall be acquainted with his Writings. Nor was it a little pleaſing to me, to ſee the Encouragement which the polite Part of Mankind lately gave to the new Cloathing of his Pilgrim, a Book which has been tranſlated almoſt into every Language, and in which the Allegory is ſo exceedingly entertaining, that when we once enter upon it, we can't tell how to leave it without going through the whole of it.

The Treatiſes collected in this Volume, are not the leaſt valuable of his Works, and have been ſo well received by the Church of God, that they need no Commendation. I have only to add, my earneſt Deſire, That You who have generouſly encouraged its Reprinting, may find your Account in it, eſpecially ſuch of you who are of the riſing Generation, of which to my Joy I find there are not a few. And that the ſame Spirit, who render'd the Author a burning and ſhining Light, in his Day, may be poured out upon you, and bleſs you in the Uſe of this and all other Means, with an Increaſe of ſpiritual Knowledge and Experience, 'till you reach a State of Manhood in Chriſt, and arrive at full Perfection in the Viſion and Enjoyment of him.

I am, GENTLEMEN,

Your Affectionate Friend,

And Servant in the Goſpel,

Barbican, Feb. 5th, 1735-6.

Samuel Wilſon.

Some Account of the Life and Death of Mr. John Bunyan.

The Righteous ſhall be in everlaſting Remembrance, Pſal. cxii. 6.

MR. John Bunyan was born at Elſtow in the County of Bedford, within a little mile of that Town, in the Year 1628, of honeſt but very poor Parents; his Original being ſo mean and deſpicable; his Father by Trade a Mender of Pots or Kettles, vulgarly call'd a Tinker; that I know not in whom the Words of the great Apoſtle of the Gentiles, in his 1*ſt* Chapter to his 1*ſt* Epiſtle to the Corinthians, were more fully exemplify'd, than in Mr. John Bunyan; the Words are theſe: For you ſee your Calling, Brethren, how that not many wiſe men after the Fleſh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called; but God hath choſen the Fooliſh Things of the World to confound the Wiſe; that no Fleſh might Glory in his Preſence: And this he himſelf was ready upon all Occaſions to own, that God might have the Glory of his own Grace; for tho' his Original and Birth was but poor and deſpiſed, yet it pleaſed God to chooſe him before many others to be an Inſtrument for the bringing of many Souls unto God: And that the Grace of God that was given to him, may be the more exceedingly magnified, we will give ſome brief Account of what he was before the Grace of God appeared to him.

His Parents took Care to give him that Learning which was ſuitable to their Condition, bringing him up to Read and Write; but ſo great was his Natural Depravity, and his Proneneſs to all Evil, that he quickly forgot both, being only wiſe to do Evil; but to do or learn that which was Good he had no Heart or Knowledge; addicting himſelf too much in his very Childhood to Curſing, Swearing, Lying and Blaſpheming, that he had few Equals in Wickedneſs; inſomuch, that I remember I have heard him ſay, with grief of Heart, he was a Town-Sinner; that is to ſay, One notoriouſly Wicked, by all the Town where he liv'd: Yet was not his Conſcience ſeared.

But notwithſtanding all this Wickedneſs of his, God did not utterly leave him, but followed him ſometimes with Convictions, and ſometimes with Judgments, but yet ſuch as had in them a Mixture of Mercy: At one time he fell into a Creek of the Sea, and then hardly eſcaped Drowning; and at another time fell out of a Boat into Bedford River, but there he alſo was preſerved, tho' with difficulty: But, alas! It was neither Mercy nor Judgment that could yet awaken him, for he had given up himſelf to the Love of Sin, and after it he was reſolved to go, whatever Rubs he met with in his Way.

Yet God left not himſelf without a Witneſs in his Soul, often checking him, in one Way or another; As one Day being at Sly with his Companions, a Voice ſuddenly ſtarted from Heaven, into his Soul ſaying, Wilt thou leave thy Sins, and go to Heaven, or have thy Sins, and go to Hell? This put him into ſuch a Conſternation, that he immediately left his Sport, and looking up to Heaven, he thought he ſaw the Lord Jeſus looking down upon him, and threatning him with ſome grievous Puniſhments for his ungodly Practices.

But ſee the Wiles of Satan! No ſooner had this made ſome Impreſſion in his Mind, but the Devil ſuggeſted to him, That he had been a great and grievous Sinner, and that it was now too late for him to look after Heaven, for Chriſt would not forgive him, nor pardon his Tranſgreſſions. And this was no other than the Devil's uſual Practice; firſt for to draw Sinners to commit all Iniquity with Greedineſs, and then to perſwade them there is no hope of Mercy left, that thereby the Sinner may be prevail'd with to go on in Sin: And this was the Effect that this Suggeſtion drew on Mr. Bunyan; who looking upon himſelf as one that had ſinned beyond the reach of Mercy, thought within himſelf that he would take his fill of Sin, it being the only Pleaſure he was ever like to take. And yet theſe Pleaſures of Sin, through the wonderful Operation of the Holy Spirit were ſo often embitter'd to him, that he could take but little Satisfaction in them. Thus the Labour of the natural Man, or Man before Converſion, doth but weary him, becauſe he knoweth not the Way to the City of God, Eccleſ. 10. 15.

Once being going on the full Career of Sin, and belching out Oaths like the Madman that Solomon ſpeaks of, who ſcatters abroad Firebrands, Arrows and Death, he was reproved ſeverely by a Woman who was a notorious Sinner herſelf, who told him, That he was the uglieſt Fellow for Swearing that ever ſhe heard in all her Life; and that by his doing thus, he was able to ſpoil all the Youth in the Town if they came but into his Company: This Reproof coming from ſuch a Woman whom he knew to be very Wicked and Ungodly, fill'd him with ſecret Shame, and wrought more with him than many that had been given him before by thoſe that were ſober and godly, and made him wiſh that he had never known what it was to be a Swearer, and even made him out of Love with it, and from that time forward very much to refrain from it.

In a little time after he fell into the Company of a Poor Man that made Profeſſion of Religion, whoſe Diſcourſe of Religion and of the Scriptures ſo affected Mr. Bunyan, that he betook himſelf to reading the Bible, eſpecially the hiſtorical Part thereof, but yet was ignorant both of the Corruption and the Depravity of his Nature, and by a neceſſary Conſequence of the Want and Worth of Jeſus Chriſt to ſave him.

However, this produc'd outward Reformation, both in his Words and Life; and he now was fallen into a kind of Legal Religion; working for Life, and making up a Righteouſneſs for himſelf thereby; ſo that while he thought he kept the Commandments he had Comfort; but when at ſometimes he broke any of them, then his Conſcience was full of Guilt and Trouble; but then upon his Sorrow and Repentance he heal'd himſelf again, and thought thereby he had made God amends, and all was well.

And thus he continued for ſome time, very near a Year, his Neighbours all that time taking him for a very good Man, and wondring at his Reformation. Tho' indeed all that time he was as far from the Way of Life, as when he was the moſt Prophane; tho' as himſelf Phraſes it, his Change of Life and Manners was as Remarkable, as for a Tom of Bedlam to become a Sober Man.

And now thoſe that ſpake ill of him before, began to praiſe and commend him, which notwithſtanding his Reformation, puff'd him up with Pride, and fill'd him with Hypocriſie.

But, alas! This was but lopping off the Branches of Sin, whilſt the Root of Unregeneracy remain'd. Not long after the Providence of God ſo order'd it, that Mr. Bunyan went to Bedford to work upon his Calling, (being his Father's Trade, a Tinker,) and happen'd there to hear Three or Four poor Women, who were ſitting in the Sun, diſcourſing together about the Things of God; which caus'd him to draw near to them, for he was by this time himſelf become a mighty Talker of Religion; but when he had heard them a while, as himſelf confeſſed, he heard indeed, but he underſtood not, for they ſpoke of things above his Reach; diſcourſing of the New-birth, and the Work of God on their Hearts, and how they where convinced of their miſerable State by Nature; they talked how God had viſited their Souls with his Love in the Lord Jeſus, and with what Words and Promiſes they had been Refreſhed, Comforted and Supported, againſt the Temptations of the Evil One in particular, and told each other by which they had been afflicted, and how they were born up under his Aſſaults. He heard them likewiſe Diſcourſe of the Wretchedneſs of their own Hearts, and of their Unbelief; and of Contemning and Abhorring their own Righteouſneſs, as filthy and inſufficient to do them any Good. And all this appear'd to him to be ſpoken with ſuch Pleaſantneſs of Scripture-Language, and with ſuch an Appearance of Grace in all they ſaid, that they ſeem'd to him as if they had found a new World; or as if they were People that dwelt alone, and were not to be reckoned among their Neighbours.

It was upon this Diſcourſe of theirs that he began to feel ſome unuſual Agitations in his own Heart, and to be conſcious to himſelf that his Condition was not ſo good as he had thought it to be; becauſe in all his thoughts about Religion and Salvation the New Birth never entered into his Mind, but found it was a Thing he wholly was a Stranger to, and unacquainted with; nor did he ever know the Comfort of a Word or Promiſe, nor the Deceitfulneſs and Treachery of his own wicked Heart: And as for Secret Thoughts, he had never taken any notice of them, nor did he at all underſtand what Satan's Temptations were, nor how they were to be underſtood or reſiſted.

But however, this Diſcourſe of theſe good Women mightily affected him, and made him very deſirous to hear further of theſe Things; and therefore he made it his Buſineſs to be going often into the Company of thoſe People: For God had touched his Heart by their Diſcourſe, and he could not ſtay away. And ſo intent was his Mind upon the Knowledge of theſe Things

Things, that his Heart was like the Horſe-leach at the Vein, ſtill crying out, give, give, Prov. 30. 15. And now nothing but the Revelation of the Myſtery of Faith in his own Heart could ſatisfie him, for his whole Soul was then ſo fixed on Eternity, and the Things of the Kingdom of God, ſo far as he knew, that neither Pleaſures nor Profits, Perſwaſions nor Threats, could make him let go his hold; inſomuch that I have heard him ſay, That it would then have been as difficult at that time to have taken his Mind from Heaven to Earth, as he has found it often ſince to get it from Earth to Heaven.

But after Divine Grace had been thus kindled in his Heart, the Devil ſtrove hard, by divers Winds of Temptations, to blow it out again, cauſing him to make ſeveral Objections againſt himſelf, as, That he was caſt away, and one that had no Faith; and never could have any, becauſe he was not Elected.

He was a long time troubled with very ſore Temptations, as I ſaid before, and three Things there were that the Tempter made uſe of to try him: One great Thing was the queſtioning of his Faith; having frequently ſuch Thoughts as theſe injected into his Mind, how if you want Faith? And how can you tell you have Faith? This put him to great Perplexities: He knew not that he had it, and yet without it he ſaw he was like to periſh for ever. So that tho' at firſt he was willing to overlook it, yet conſidering of how great Moment it was for him to be ſatisfy'd therein, he was willing to put himſelf upon the Tryal, whether he had Faith or no. But while he was conſidering how he ſhould make a ſatisfactory Tryal of this Matter, the Tempter ſought to gain an Advantage upon him, coming in with his Deluſion, That there was no Way for him to try whether he had Faith, but by trying to work ſome Miracle; nor wanted he Scripture to back it, for as he perverted the Scriptures, when he tempted our bleſſed Lord, ſo did he alſo the Words of our Bleſſed Saviour in tempting this his Servant, urging, Matth. 17. 20. If ye have Faith as a Grain of Muſtard-ſeed, ye ſhall ſay unto this Mountain, Remove hence to yonder Place, and it ſhall remove, and nothing ſhall be impoſſible to you. This Temptation proceeded ſo far, that one Day Mr. Bunyan being between Elſtow and Bedford (the Temptation being then hot upon him to try his Faith by doing ſome Miracle) he was about to ſay to ſome Puddles that were then in the Horſe-pad, Be dry; and juſt as he was going to ſpeak, this Thought came into his Mind, Pray firſt, that God would make you able; and when he was about ſo to pray, he had ſome ſecret Impulſe that prevail'd with him not to put his Faith upon that Tryal. And ſo he continued for ſome time at a great loſs, not knowing whether he had Faith or not.

But after he had paſſed many Days in this diſconſolate State, it pleaſed the Father of Mercies to ſhine in upon his Soul, by that bleſſed Word, Luke 14. 22, 23. Compel them to come in, that my Houſe may be filled: AND YET THERE IS ROOM! Theſe laſt Words gave him abundant Conſolation, and were a full Anſwer to Satan's Suggeſtions, That the Day of Grace was paſt.

Many more were his Temptations at ſundry Times, and on divers Occaſions, but God delivered him out of them all, and at laſt ſet his Feet in a large Place, filling his Soul with Joy and Gladneſs.

About the Year 1653, he was baptiz'd, and admitted a Member of the Church at Bedford, who having had Experience of the Grace of God that was in him, and how eminently God had fitted him for the Work of the Miniſtry, he was earneſtly deſired by the Congregation to Communicate to them thoſe Spiritual Gifts with which God had bleſſed him; he at firſt very modeſtly excuſed himſelf, out of a Senſe of his own Weakneſs and Inability; but being further preſſed unto it by them, he conſented; but through his Baſhfulneſs, did at firſt decline a Publick Aſſembly, and diſpenſed his Gift only in Private among Friends; but it was with ſo much Life and Power, and ſo exceedingly to their Edification, that they could not but give Thanks to the Father of Mercies for the great Grace he had beſtowed upon him.

After this, when ſome of the Congregation were ſent forth into the Country to Teach, they deſired Mr. Bunyan to go along with them, which accordingly he did, and by their Perſwaſion did exerciſe his Gift (but ſtill privately) among the good People where he came, which they alſo received with rejoycing at the Mercy of God ſhewed towards him, profeſſing their Souls very greatly edified thereby.

At the Seſſions he was Indicted for an Upholder and Maintainer of unlawful Aſſemblies and Conventicles, and for not Conforming to the Church of England. Mr. Bunyan was a Man of a free and open Spirit, and would not diſſemble to ſave himſelf, eſpecially in his Maſter's Cauſe, and therefore frankly owned his being at a Meeting, and Preaching to the People, and that he was a Diſſenter from the Eſtabliſh'd Worſhip, acknowledging (as the Apoſtle Paul had done before him) that after the Way which they called Hereſy, ſo worſhipped he the God of his Fathers. The Juſtices took his open and plain Dealing with them for a Confeſſion of the Indictment, and ſentenced him to perpetual Baniſhment, becauſe he refuſed to Conform, in Purſuance of an Act made by the then Parliament. Upon which he was again committed to Priſon; where tho' his Sentence of Baniſhment was never executed upon him, yet he was kept in Priſon for Twelve Years together; bearing that tedious Impriſonment in an uncomfortable and cloſe Priſon, and ſometimes under cruel and oppreſſive Goalers, with that Chriſtian Patience and Preſence of Mind, as became a Miniſter of Jeſus Chriſt, and ſuch a Cauſe as he was engag'd in and ſuffer'd for.

But tho' his Enemies ſtirr'd up thereto was very many, yet were they withheld by a Divine Power from executing the Sentence of his Baniſhment: For God had other Work for him to do in England: And when his Bonds and Impriſonment, thro' the over-ruling Providence of that God who is both wonderful in Counſel, and excellent in working, tended much to the Furtherance of the Goſpel, and by his Sufferings here, he Confirmed and Sealed the Truth which before he had Preached.

It was by making him a Viſit in Priſon that I firſt ſaw him, and became acquainted with him; and I muſt profeſs I could not but look upon him to be a Man of an excellent Spirit, zealous for his Maſter's Honour, and chearfully committing all his own Concernments unto God's Diſpoſal. When I was there, there was above 60 Diſſenters beſides himſelf there, taken but a little before at a Religious Meeting at Kaiſtoe, in the County of Bedford, beſides Two eminent Diſſenting Miniſters, to wit, Mr. Wheeler and Mr. Dun, (both very well known in Bedfordſhire, tho' long ſince with God) by which means the Priſon was very much crowded; yet in the midſt of all that Hurry which ſo many new Comers occaſioned, I have heard Mr. Bunyan both Preach and Pray with that mighty Spirit of Faith, and Plerophory of Divine Aſſiſtance, that has made me ſtand and wonder.

Nor did he, while he was in Priſon, ſpend his Time in a ſupine and careleſs manner, nor eat the Bread of Idleneſs; for there have I been Witneſs, that his own Hands have miniſtred to his and his Families Neceſſities, making many hundred Groſs of long Tagg'd Laces to fill up the Vacancies of his Time, which he had learn'd for that Purpoſe ſince he had been in Priſon. There alſo I ſurveyed his Library, the leaſt, and yet the beſt, that e'er I ſaw, conſiſting only of Two Books, a Bible, and the Book of Martyrs. And during his Impriſonment (ſince I have ſpoke of his Library) he writ ſeveral excellent and uſeful Treatiſes; particularly, The Holy City, Chriſtian Behaviour, The Reſurrection of the Dead, And Grace abounding to the Chief of Sinners; with ſeveral others.

I cannot leave the Subject of his Impriſonment, till I have given the Reader a Taſte of ſome of his Experiences there: He profeſſed he never had ſo great an Inlet in all his Life into the Word of God, as then. Thoſe Scriptures that he ſaw nothing in before, were, when in Priſon, made to ſhine upon him. Jeſus Chriſt alſo was never more real and apparent to him than then, For there (ſaid he) I have ſeen him, and felt him indeed. And that Word, 2 Pet. 2. 16. We have not preached unto you cunningly deviſed Fables, was a Bleſſed Word unto him there: He has at ſome time been ſo carried up above all Fears and Temptations, that he has been able to laugh at Deſtruction, and to fear neither the Horſe nor his Rider. There it was that God gave him ſweet and precious Sights of the Forgiveneſs of his Sin, and of his being with Jeſus in another World. Yea, there it was that he found upon every Temtation God ſtood by him, and Rebuked the Tempter.

But notwithſtanding all this, he found he was a Man compaſſed with Infirmities, and that a Concernment for his poor Wife and Children would now and then be thruſting in, the parting from whom would be to him like the pulling off his Fleſh from his Bones: (For he was both a loving and tender Husband, and an indulgent Father; perhaps ſomewhat to a Fault) and the many Miſeries, Hardſhips and Want that this poor Family was like to meet withal, if he ſhould be taken from them, would often come into his Mind, eſpecially his Daughter, who was blind, (which lay nearer his Heart than all the reſt:) And the thought of her enduring Hardſhip, would at ſome times be almoſt ready to break his Heart. But he found God gracious to him, even in this Particular alſo: Greatly ſupporting him by theſe two Scriptures, Jer. 49. 11. and Chap. 15. 11. Leave thy Fatherleſs Children, I will preſerve them alive: And let thy Widows truſt in me. The Lord ſaid, verily it ſhall go well with thy Remnant; verily I will cauſe the Enemy to intreat thee well in the time of Evil.

After this Bleſſed Man had ſuffered Twelve Years and a half Impriſonment for the Teſtimony of a good Conſcience, and ſtopp'd the Mouths of his greateſt Enemies, by his holy, Harmleſs, and Inoffenſive Converſation; it pleaſed God to ſtir up the Heart of Dr. Barlow, Biſhop of Lincoln, to be a Means of his Deliverance, which I mention to this Biſhop's Honour.

After this being at Liberty, he wou'd frequently look back upon former Deliverances, and bleſs God: Of which ſome were exceeding remarkable, and none more ſo than that which I am now going to relate: Being a Soldier in the Parliament's Army at the Siege of Leiceſter, in 1645, he was drawn out to ſtand Centinel, but another Soldier voluntarily deſired to go in his Room; which Mr. Bunyan conſenting to, he went, and as he ſtood Centinel there, was ſhot into the Head with a Musket Bullet, and died. This was a Deliverance that Mr. Bunyan would often mention, but never without Thankſgiving to God.

The laſt Act of his Life was a Labour of Love and Charity; for a young Gentleman, who was Mr. Bunyan's Neighbour, having fallen into the Diſpleaſure of his Father, he deſired Mr Bunyan to be the Inſtrument of making up the Breach, which he both undertook, and happily effected; but in his return to London being overtaken with exceſſive Rains, and coming to his Lodging very wet, (which was at Mr. Strudwick's a Grocer, at the Star upon Snow-Hill,) he fell Sick of a violent Fever, which he bore with much Conſtancy and Patience, reſigning himſelf up to the Will of God, and deſiring to be Diſſolved, that he might be with Chriſt; and in this Holy Longing Frame of Spirit, after a Sickneſs of Ten Days, he breathed out his Soul into the Hands of his Bleſſed Redeemer, following his happy Pilgrim from the City of Deſtruction to the Heavenly Jeruſalem.

His Dying Sayings.

Of SIN.

SIN is the great Block and Bar to our Happineſs, the Procurer of all Miſeries to Man, both here and hereafter; take away Sin and nothing can hurt us: for Death Temporal, Spiritual and Eternal is the Wages of it.

Sin, and Man for Sin is the Object of the Wrath of God: How dreadful therefore muſt his Caſe be who continues in Sin? For who can bear, or grapple with the Wrath of God?

No Sin againſt God can be little, becauſe it is againſt the great God of Heaven and Earth; but if the Sinner can find out a little God, it may be eaſy to find out little Sins.

Sin turns all God's Grace into Wantonneſs; it is the Dare of his Juſtice, the Rape of his Mercy, the Jear of his Patience, the Slight of his Power, and the Contempt of his Love.

Take heed of giving thy ſelf Liberty of committing one Sin, for that will lead thee to another, till by an ill Cuſtom it become natural.

To begin a Sin is to lay a Foundation for a Continuance, this Continuance is the Mother of Cuſtom, and Impudence at laſt the Iſſue.

The Death of Chriſt giveth us the beſt Diſcovery of our ſelves, in what Condition we were, in that nothing could help us but that: And the moſt clear Diſcovery of the dreadful Nature of our Sins: For if Sin be ſo dreadful a thing as to bring the Heart of the Son of God, how ſhall a poor wretched Sinnner be able to bear it?

Of AFFLICTION.

NOthing can render Affliction ſo unſupportable as the Load of Sin: Would you therefore be fitted for Afflictions? Be ſure to get the Burden of your Sins laid aſide, and then what Afflictions ſoever you may meet with will be very eaſy to you.

If thou canſt hear and bear the Rod of Affliction which God ſhall lay upon thee, remember this Leſſon: Thou art beaten that thou mayeſt be better.

The Lord uſeth his Flail of Tribulation, to ſeparate the Chaff from the Wheat.

The School of the Croſs is the School of Light; it diſcovers the Worlds Vanity, Baſeneſs and Wickedneſs, and lets us ſee more of God's Mind; Out of dark Affliction comes a ſpiritual Light.

In times of Affliction we commonly meet with the ſweeteſt Experiences of the Love of God.

Did we heartily renounce the Pleaſures of this World, we ſhould be very little troubled for our Afflictions: That which renders an afflicted State ſo inſupportable to many, is becauſe they are too much addicted to the Pleaſures of this Life, and ſo cannot endure that which makes a Separation between them.

Of REPENTANCE and coming to CHRIST.

THE End of Affliction is the Diſcovery of Sin, and of that to bring us to a Saviour: Let us therefore with the Prodigal return unto him, and we ſhall find Eaſe and Reſt.

A repenting Penitent, tho' formerly as bad as the worſt of Men, may by Grace become as good as the beſt.

To be truly ſenſible of Sin, is to ſorrow for diſpleaſing of God, to be afflicted that he is diſpleaſed by us, more than that he is diſpleaſed with us.

Your Intentions to Repentance, and the Neglect of that Soul-ſaving Duty, will riſe up in Judgment againſt you.

Repentance carries with it a Divine Rhetorick, and perſuades Chriſt to forgive Multitudes of Sins committed againſt him.

Say not with thy ſelf, To-morrow I will repent; for it is thy Duty to do it daily.

The Goſpel of Grace and Salvation, is above all Doctrines the moſt dangerous, if it be received in Word only by graceleſs Men; if it be not attended with a ſenſible need of a Saviour, and bring them to him. For ſuch Men only as have the Notion of it are of all Men moſt miſerable; for by reaſon of their knowing more than Heathens, this ſhall only be their final Portion that they ſhall have greater Stripes.

Of PRAYER.

BEfore you enter into Prayer ask thy Soul theſe Queſtions, 1. To what End, O my Soul, art thou retired into this Place? Art thou not come to diſcourſe the Lord in Prayer? Is he preſent, will he hear thee? Is he merciful, will he help thee? Is thy Buſineſs ſlight, is it not concerning the Welfare of thy Soul? What Words wilt thou uſe to move him to Compaſſion?

To make thy Preparation compleat, conſider that thou art but Duſt and Aſhes, and he the great God, Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, that clothes himſelf with Light as with a Garment: That thou art a vile Sinner, he a holy God, that thou art but a poor crawling Worm, he the Omnipotent Creator.

In all your Prayers forget not to thank the Lord for his Mercies.

When thou prayeſt, rather let thy Heart be without Words, than thy Words without an Heart.

Prayer will make a Man ceaſe from Sin, or Sin will entice a Man to ceaſe from Prayer.

TheSpirit of Prayer is more precious than Treaſures of Gold and Silver.

Pray often, for Prayer is a Shield to the Soul, a Sacrifice to God, and a Scourge for Satan.

Of the Lord's Day, Sermons, and Week-Days.

HAve a ſpecial care to ſanctify the Lord's Day; for as thou keepeſt it, ſo it will be with thee all the Week long.

Make the Lord's Day the Market for thy Soul; let the whole Day be ſpent in Prayer, Repetitions, or Meditations: lay aſide the Affairs of the other part of the Week: let thy Sermon thou haſt heard be converted into Prayer: Shall God allow thee ſix Days, and wilt not thou afford him one?

In the Church, be careful to ſerve God; for thou art in his Eyes, and not in Mans.

Thou mayſt hear Sermons often, and do well in practiſing what thou heareſt; but thou muſt not expect to be told thee in a Pulpit all that thou oughteſt to do, but be ſtudious in ſearching the Scriptures, and reading good Books; what thou heareſt may be forgotten, but what thou readeſt may better be retained.

Forſake not the Publick Worſhip of God, leſt God forſake thee, not only in Publick, but in Private.

In the Week Days, when thou riſeſt in the Morning, conſider, 1. Thou muſt die; 2. Thou mayeſt die that Minute; 3. What will become of thy Soul. Pray often. At Night conſider, 1. What Sins thou haſt committed. 2. How often thou haſt pray'd. 3. What hath thy Mind been bent upon. 4. What hath been thy dealing. 5. What thy Converſation. 6. If thou calleſt to mind the Errors of the Day, ſleep not without a Confeſſion to God, and a hope of Pardon. Thus every Morning and Evening make up thy Accounts with Almighty God, and thy Reckoning will be the leſs at laſt.

Of Love of the WORLD.

NOthing more hinders a Soul from coming to Chriſt, than a vain Love of the World; and till a Soul is freed from it, it can never have a true Love for God.

What are the Honours and Riches of this World, when compared to the Glories of a Crown of Life?

Love not the World; for it's a Moth in a Chriſtian's Life.

To deſpiſe the World is the Way to enjoy Heaven; and bleſſed are they who delight to converſe with God by Prayer.

What folly can be greater than to labour for the Meat that periſheth, and neglect the Food of eternal Life?

God or the World muſt be neglected at parting time, for then is the time of Tryal.

To ſeek your ſelf in this World is to be loſt; and to be humble is to be exalted.

The Epicure that delighteth in the Dainties of this World, little thinketh that thoſe very Creatures will one Day witneſs againſt him.

Of SUFFERING.

IT is not every Suffering that makes a Martyr, but ſuffering for the word of God after a right manner; that is, not only for Righteouſneſs, but for Righteouſneſs ſake; not only for Truth, but out of Love to Truth; not only for God's word, but according to it: To wit, in that holy, humble, meek manner, as the word of God requireth.

'Tis a rare thing to ſuffer aright, and to have my Spirit in ſuffering bent only againſt God's Enemy, Sin; Sin in Doctrine, Sin in Worſhip, Sin in Life, and Sin in Converſation.

The Devil, nor Men of the World can kill thy Righteouſneſs, or Love to it but by thy own Hand; or ſeparate that and thee aſunder without thy own Act. Nor will he that doth indeed ſuffer for the ſake of it, or out of Love he bears thereto, be tempted to exchange it, for the good Will of all the World.

I have often thought that the beſt of Chriſtians are found in the worſt of times: And I have thought again that one reaſon why we are no better, is becauſe God purges us no more. Noah and Lot, who ſo holy as they in the time of their Afflictions? And yet who ſo idle as they in the time of their Proſperity?

Of DEATH and JUDGMENT.

AS the Devil labours by all Means to keep out other things that are good, ſo to keep out of the Heart as much as in him lies, the Thoughts of paſſing from this Life into another World; for he knows if he can but keep them from the ſerious Thoughts of Death, he ſhall the more eaſily keep them in their Sins.

Nothing will make us more earneſt in working out the work of our Salvation, than a frequent Meditation of Mortality; nothing hath greater Influence for the taking off our Hearts from Vanities, and for the begetting in us deſires after Holineſs.

O Sinner, what a Condition wilt thou fall into when thou departeſt this World; if thou depart unconverted, thou hadſt better have been ſmothered the firſt Hour thou waſt born; thou hadſt better have been plucked one Limb from another; thou hadſt better have been made a Dog, a Toad, a Serpent, than to die unconverted, and this thou wilt find true if thou repent not.

A Man would be counted a Fool to ſlight a Judge, before whom he is to have a Tryal of his whole Eſtate. The Tryal we have before God is of otherguiſe Importance, it concerns our Eternal Happineſs or Miſery; and yet dare we affront him?

The only way for us to eſcape that terrible Judgment, is to be often paſſing a Sentence of Condemnation upon our ſelves here.

When the ſound of the Trumpet ſhall be heard, which ſhall ſummon the Dead to appear before the Tribunal of God, the Righteous ſhall haſten out of their Graves with Joy to meet their Redeemer in the Clouds; others ſhall call to the Hills and Mountains to fall upon them, to cover them from the Sight of their Judge: Let us therefore in time be poſing our ſelves which of the two we ſhall be.

Of the Joys of HEAVEN.

THere is no good in this Life but what's mingled with ſome Evil: Honours perplex, Riches diſquiet, and Pleaſures ruin Health. But in Heaven we ſhall find Bleſſings in their Purity, without any Ingredient to embitter, with every thing to ſweeten them.

O! who is able to conceive the unexpreſſible, unconceivable Joys that are there? None but they who have taſted of them. Lord help us to put ſuch a value upon them here, that in order to prepare our ſelves for them, we may be willing to forgo the Loſs of all thoſe deluding Pleaſures here.

How will the Heavens eccho of Joy, when the Bride, the Lamb's Wife, ſhall come to dwell with her Husband for ever?

Chriſt is the Deſire of Nations, the Joy of Angels, the Delight of the Father: What ſolace then muſt that Soul be filled with, that hath the Poſſeſſion of him to all Eternity?

O! what Acclamations of Joy will there be, when all the Children of God ſhall meet together, without fear of being diſturbed by the Antichriſtian and Cainiſh Brood?

Is there not a time coming when the godly may ask the wicked, what Profit they have in their Pleaſure? what Comfort in their Greatneſs? and what Fruit in all their Labour?

If you would be better ſatisfied what the beatifical Viſion means, my requeſt is, that you would live holily and go and ſee.

Of the Torments of HELL.

HEaven and Salvation is not ſurely more promiſed to the Godly, than Hell and Damnation is threatned to, and ſhall be executed on the Wicked.

When once a Man is damned he may bid adieu to all Pleaſures.

Oh! who knows the Power of God's wrath? None but damned ones.

Sinners Company are the Devil and his Angels, tormented in everlaſting Fire with a Curſe.

Hell would be a kind of Paradiſe, if it were no worſe than the worſt of this world.

As different as Grief is from Joy, as Torment from Reſt, as Terror from Peace; ſo different is the State of Sinners from that of Saints in the world to come.

AN

ON THE

Ten First Chapters

And Part of the Eleventh.

CHAP. I.

Of GOD.

GOD is a Spirit, eternal, infinite, incomprehensible, perfect, and unspeakably Glorious in his Being, Attributes, and Works: The Eternal God. Do not I fill Heaven and Earth, saith the Lord? Neither is there any Creature that is not manifest in his sight, Jer. 23. 24.

Joh. 4. 24. I. Job 11. 7. Deut. 32. 23. Heb. 4. 12, 13. Prov. 15. 11. Rom. 1. 17. Gen. 17. 1 Isa. 6. 2. Ex. 3329.

II. In his Attributes of Wisdom, Power, Justice, Holiness, Mercy, &c. he is also inconceivably perfect and infinite, not to be comprehended by things in Earth, or things in Heaven; known in the Perfection of his Being only to himself. The Seraphims cannot behold him, but through a Veil; no Man can see him in his Perfection and live.

III. His Attributes, though apart laid down in the Word of God, that we, being weak, might the better conceive of his eternal Power and Godhead; yet in him they are without Division; one Glorious and eternal Being. Again, though sometimes this, as of Wisdom, or that, as of Justice and Mercy, is most manifest in his Works and Wonders before Men; yet every such Work is begun and compleated by the joynt Concurrence of all his Attributes. No Act of Justice is without his Will, Power and Wisdom; no Act of Mercy is against his Justice, Holiness and Purity.

IV. Besides, no Man must conceive of God, as if he consisted of these Attributes, as our Body doth of its Members, one standing here, another there, for the compleating personal Subsistance: For though by the Word we may distinguish, yet may we not divide them, or presume to appoint them their places in the Godhead: Wisdom is in his Justice, Holiness is in his Power, Justice is in his Mercy, Holiness is in his Love, Power is in his Goodness.

Num. 14. 17, 18.

V. Wherefore, he is in all his Attributes almighty, all-wise, holy and powerful. Glory is in his Wisdom, Glory is in his Holiness, Glory is in his Mercy, Justice and Strength; and God is Love.

1 Joh. 4. 16.

Of the Persons or Subsistances in the God-head.

THE Godhead is but One, yet in the Godhead there are Three. There are

Three

1 Joh. 5. 7, 8, 9. Three that bear record in Heaven. Theſe three are called the Father, the Son, the Holy Spirit; each of which is really, naturally and eternally God: yet there is but one God. But again, becauſe the Father is of himſelf, the Son by the Father, and the Spirit from them both, therefore to each, the Scripture, not only applyeth, and that truly, the whole Nature of the Deity, but again diſtinguiſheth the Father from the Son, and the Spirit from them both; calling the Father he, by himſelf; the Son he, by himſelf; the Spirit he, by himſelf. Yea, the Three of themſelves, in their manifeſting to the Church what ſhe ſhould believe concerning this matter, hath thus expreſſed the thing, Let US make man in our Image, after our likeneſs. Again, The Man is become like one of US. Again, Let US go down and there confound their Language: And again, Whom ſhall I ſend, and who will go for US? To theſe general Expreſſions might be added, That Adam heard the Voice of the Lord God walking in the midſt of the Garden: Which Voice John will have, to be one of the Three, calling that which Moſes here ſaith is the Voice, the Word of God: In the beginning, ſaith he, was the Word; the Voice which Adam heard walking in the midſt of the Garden. This Word, ſaith John, was with God, this Word was God; the ſame was in the beginning with God. Marvellous Language! once aſſerting the Unity of Eſſence, but twice inſinuating a diſtinction of Subſtances therein. The Word was with God, the Word was God, the ſame was in the beginning with God. Then follows, All things were made by him, the Word, the Second of the Three.

Gen. 1. 26. Gen. 3. 22. Gen. 11. 6, 7. Iſa. 6. 8. Gen. 3. 8. Joh. 1. 1, 2. Joh. 1. 3.

Now the Godly in former Ages have called theſe three, thus in the Godhead, Perſons or Subſiſtances; the which, though I condemn not, yet chuſe rather to abide by Scripture Pharſe, knowing, though the other may be good and ſound, yet the Adverſary muſt needs more ſhameleſly ſpurn and reject, when he doth it againſt the evident Text.

To proceed then,

1. There are three.
2. Theſe three are diſtinct.

Firſt, by this word three, is intimated the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghoſt, and they are ſaid to be three,

1. Becauſe thoſe Appellations that are given them in Scripture, demonſtrate them ſo to be, to wit, Father, Son and Holy Ghoſt.

2 Becauſe their Acts one towards another diſcover them ſo to be.

Secondly, Theſe three are diſtinct.

1. So diſtinct as to be more than one, only. There are three.

2. So diſtinct as to ſubſiſt without depending. The Father is true God, the Son is true God, the Spirit is true God. Yet the Father is one, the Son is one, the Spirit is one: The Father is one of himſelf, the Son is one by the Father, the Spirit is one from them both. Yet the Father is not above the Son, nor the Spirit inferior to either: The Father is God, the Son is God, the Spirit is God.

Among the Three then there is not ſuperiority.

1. Not as to Time; the Father is from Everlaſting, ſo is the Son, ſo is the Spirit.

2. Not as to Nature, the Son being of the ſubſtance of the Father, and the Spirit of the ſubſtance of them both.

3. The Fulneſs of the Godhead is in the Father, is in the Son, and is in the Holy Ghoſt.

The Godhead then, theough it can admit of a Trinity, yet it admitteth not of Inferiority in that Trinity: if otherwiſe, then leſs or more muſt be there, and ſo either Plurality of Gods, or ſomething that is not God: ſo then, Father, Son and Spirit are in the Godhead, yet but one God; each of theſe is God over all, yet no Trinity of Gods, but One God in the Trinity.

Explication. The Godhead then is common to the Three, but the three themſelves abide diſtinct in that Godhead: Diſtinct I ſay, as Father, and Son, and Holy Spirit.

This is manifeſt further by theſe ſeveral Poſitions.

Firſt, Father and Son are Relatives, and muſt needs therefore have their relation as ſuch: A Father begetteth, a Son is begotten.

Proof.

Who hath aſcended up into Heaven, or deſcended? who hath gathered the wind in his fiſt? who hath bound the Waters in a Garment? what is his Name, and what is his Son's Name, if thou canſt tell? Prov. 30. 4.

God ſo loved the World, that he gave his only begotten Son, &c. Joh. 3. 16.

The Father ſent the Son to be the Saviour of the World. 1 Joh. 4. 14.

Secondly, The Father then cannot be that Son he begat, nor the Son that Father that begat him, but muſt be diſtinct as ſuch.

Proof.

I am one that beareth witneſs of my ſelf, and the Father that ſent me beareth witneſs of me. Joh. 8. 18.

I came forth from the Father, and am come into the World; again, I leave the World, and go to the Father. John 16. 28.

The Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all Judgment unto the Son, that all men ſhould honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. Joh. 5. 22, 23.

Thirdly, The Father muſt have Worſhip as a Father, and the Son as a Son.

Proof.

They that worſhip the Father muſt worſhip him in Spirit and in Truth, for the Father ſeeketh ſuch to worſhip him. Joh. 4. 23, 24.

And of the Son he ſaith, And when he bringeth Heb. 1. 6.

eth his firſt begotten into the World, he ſaith, And let all the Angels of God worſhip him.

Fourthly, The Father and Son have really thoſe diſtinct, but heavenly, relative Properties, that diſcover them, as ſuch, to be two as well as one.

Proof.

Joh. 5. 20. The Father loveth the Son, and ſheweth him all things.

Therefore doth my Father love me, becauſe I lay down my life, that I may take it again. The Father ſent the Son; the Father commanded the Son; the Son prayed to the Father, and did always the things that pleaſed him.

The abſurdities that flow from the denial of this are divers, ſome of which hereunder follow.

1 Abſurdity.

It maketh void all thoſe Scriptures that do affirm the Doctrine; ſome of which you have before.

2 Abſurdity.

If in the Godhead there be but One, not Three, then the Father, Son, or the Spirit, muſt needs be that One, if any one only: So then the other two are nothing. Again, If the Reality of a Being be neither in the Father, Son, nor Spirit, as ſuch, but in the Eternal Deity, without conſideration of Father, Son, and Spirit, as Three; then neither of the three are any thing but Notionsin us, or Manifeſtations of the Godhead, or nominal Diſtinctions, ſo related by the Word; but if ſo, then when the Father ſent the Son, and the Father and Son the Spirit, one Notion ſent another, one Manifeſtation ſent another. This being granted, this unavoidably follows, there was no Father to beget a Son, no Son to be ſent to ſave us, no Holy Ghoſt to be ſent to comfort us, and to guide us into all the truth of the Father and Son, &c. The moſt amounts but to this, a Notion ſent a Notion, a Diſtinction ſent a Diſtinction, or one Manifeſtation ſent another. Of this Error theſe are the Conſequences, we are only to believe in Notions and Diſtinctions, when we believe in the Father and the Son; and ſo ſhall have no other Heaven and Glory, than Notions and nominal Diſtinctions can furniſh us withall.

3 Abſurdity.

If Father and Son, &c. be no otherwiſe Three, than as Notions, Names, or Nominal Diſtinctions; then to worſhip theſe diſtinctly, or together, as ſuch, is to commit moſt groſs and horrible Idolatry: For albeit we are commanded to fear that great and dreadful Name, The Lord our God; yet to worſhip a Father, a Son, and Holy Spirit in the Godhead, as Three, as really Three as One, is by this Doctrine to imagine falſly of God, and ſo to break the Second Commandment: but to worſhip God under the Conſideration of Father, and Son, and Holy Ghoſt, and to believe them as really Three as One when I worſhip, being the Sum and Subſtance of the Doctrine of the Scriptures of God, there is really ſubſtantially Three in the Eternal Godhead.

But to help thee a little in thy ſtudy on this deep.

1. Thou muſt take heed when thou readeſt, there is in the Godhead, Father, and Son, &c. that thou do not imagine about them according to thine own carnal and fooliſh Fancy; for no Man can apprehend this Doctrine but in the Light of the Word and Spirit of God. No Man knoweth the Son but the Father; neither knoweth any Man the Father, ſave the Son; and he to whom the Son will reveal him. Matt. 11. 27. If therefore thou be deſtitute of the Spirit of God, thou canſt not apprehend the Truth of this Myſtery as it is in it ſelf, but will either by thy darkneſs be driven to a denial thereof; or if thou own it, thou wilt (that thy acknowledgment notwithſtanding) falſly imagine about it.

2. If thou feel thy Thoughts begin to wreſtle about this Truth, and to ſtruggle concerning this one againſt another; take heed of admitting of ſuch a Queſtion, How can this thing be? For here is no room for Reaſon to make it out, here is only room to believe it is a Truth. You find not one of the Prophets propounding an Argument to prove it; but aſſerting it, they let it lye, for Faith to take it up and embrace it.

The Grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and the Love of God, and the Communion of the Holy Ghoſt be with you all. 2 Cor. 13. 14. Amen.

Of the Creation of the World. Gen. 1.

THE Apoſtle ſaith, That to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jeſus Chriſt, by whom are all things, and we by him. God that made the World. All things were made by him, and without him was not any thing made that was made. 1 Cor. 8. 6. Acts 17. 24. Joh. 1. 3. This World therefore had a Beginning, and was Created by the God of Heaven: Which Work, becauſe it is wonderful, and diſcovereth much of the Greatneſs, of the Wiſdom and Power of theEternal Godhead, it behoveth ſuch poor Mortals as we to behold theſe Works of the Mighty God, that thereby we may ſee how Great he is, and be made to cry out, What is Man! Pſal. 8. 3, 4.

Now in the Creation of the World we may conſider ſeveral things; as, What was the Order of God in this Work? And, Whether there was a Secret or Myſtery in this Work containing the Truth of ſome higher thing? For the Firſt of theſe:

Of the Order of God in Making the World.

I. ALTHOUGH God be indeed Omnipotent, potent, and not only can, but doth do whatſoever he will; and tho' to do his Works he needeth not length of time; yet it pleaſed him beſt, in the Creation of the World (though he could, had it pleaſed him, have done all by one only word) to proceed by degrees from one thing to another, to the compleating of ſix days work in the making thereof.

And foraſmuch as this Work went on by degrees, now this thing, and then another, it may not be amiſs, if in our Diſcourſe on this wonderful Work, we begin where God began; and if we can, go wondring after him who hath thus wrought.

1. The firſt thing that God made, was Time; I ſay, it was Time: All the Plain in which he would build this beautiful World; he made nothing before, but in the Beginning: In the beginning God created the Heavens and the Earth: In the beginning of Time. For in ſix days the Lord made heaven and earth, the ſea, and all that in them is. Therefore the Firſt Day muſt firſt have a beginning to be. Whatſoever was before Time, was Eternal; but nothing but God himſelf is Eternal, therefore no Creature was before Time. Time therefore, which was indeed the beginning, was the firſt of the Creatures of God.

Exod. 20. 11.

2. I think, the ſecond of Creatures that the Lord created, were the holy Angels of God, they being called the Morning Stars, as created and ſhining in the Morning of the World; and therefore they are ſaid to be by, when the Corner-ſtone of the Univerſe was laid; that is, when he laid the Foundation of the World: Then the Morning-ſtars ſang together, and all the Sons of God ſhouted for joy.

Job 38. 4, 5, 6, 7.

3. I think, the third thing that the Lord created, was theſe large and copious Heavens; for they are mentioned with reſpect to their being before the Earth, or any viſible Creature. In the beginning God created the heavens, &c. Neither do I think that the Heavens were made of that confuſed Chaos that afterwards we read of: It is ſaid, he ſtretched out the heaven as a curtain, and with his hand he hath ſpanned the heavens; intimating, that they were not taken out of that formleſs heap, but were immediately formed by his power. Beſides, the Holy Ghoſt, treating of the creating of Heaven and Earth, he only ſaith, The Earth was void, and without form; but no ſuch thing of the Heavens.

Gen. 1. 1.

4. The Fourth thing that God created, it was (in mine Opinion) that Chaos, or Firſt Matter, with which he in the ſix days framed this Earth, with its Appurtenances; for the viſible things that are here below, ſeem to me to be otherwiſe put into Being and Order, than Time, the Angels, and the Heavens, they being created in their own ſimple Eſſence by themſelves: But the things that are viſibly here below, whatever their Eſſence and Nature be, they were formed of that firſt deformed Chaos. In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth, and the earth was without form, and void. He ſaith not ſo of the Heavens; they, as I ſaid, were at firſt ſtretched forth as a Curtain; indeed they were afterwards garniſhed with the beauty which we now behold; but otherwiſe they had, at their firſt inſtant of being, that form which now they have. This ſeems clear by the Antitheſis which the Holy Ghoſt put between them, God created the Heavens and the Earth, but the Earth was without form, and void: The Earth was without form, &c. without order; things were together on a confuſed heap; the Waters were not divided from the Earth, neither did thoſe things appear which are now upon the face of the Earth, as Man, and Beaſt, Fiſh, Fowls, Trees and Herbs; all theſe did afterwards ſhew themſelves, as the Word of God gave them Being, by commanding their appearance, in what form, order, place and time he in himſelf had before determined; but all, I ſay, took their matter and ſubſtance of that firſt Chaos, which he in the firſt Day of the World had commanded to appear, and had given Being to: And therefore 'tis ſaid, God ſaid, Let the Earth bring forth Graſs, Herbs, Trees, &c. and that the Waters brought forth the Fiſh, and Fowl, yea, even to the mighty Whales: Alſo the Earth brought forth Cattle, and creeping things: And that God made Man of the Duſt of the Ground: All theſe things therefore were made of, or cauſed by his Word diſtinctly to appear, and be after its kind, of that firſt Matter which he had before created by his Word. Obſerve therefore, That the Matter of all Earthly things was made at the ſame inſtant, but their forming, &c. was according to the day in which God gave them their Being, in their own order and kind. And hence it is ſaid, that after that firſt Matter was created, and found without form, and void, That the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters; that is, to work, and cauſe thoſe things to appear in their own Eſſence and Form, which, as to Matter and Subſtance, was before created: Wherefore it follows, And God ſaid, Let there be light; and God divided the light from the darkneſs, &c. Now he ſet to putting in frame that which before lay in diſorder and confuſion: And this was a great part of the ſix days work; I ſay, a great part, but not all; for (as I ſaid) before that, Time, the Angels, and the Heavens were made; yea, after the beginning of the Morning of the Firſt Day. I am of the belief, that other things alſo, that were formed after, were not made of that firſt Chaos, as the Sun, the Moon, the Stars, the Light, the Souls of Men, and poſſibly the Air, &c. The Sun, and Moon, and Stars are ſaid to be made the Fourth Day, yet not of the Body of Heaven it ſelf, much leſs, in my Opinion, of any Earthly Matter: God made

Whether there was a Secret or Myſtery in this Work, containing the Truth of ſome Higher Thing.

¶ Though God, in very deed, by his Eternal Power, created Heaven and Earth of things that do not appear, we that are Chriſtians believe; yet in this his wonderful Work, neither his Will or Underſtanding did here terminate, or make a ſtop; but being infinite in Wiſdom, he made them, that both as to Matter and Manner they might preſent unto us, as in a Myſtery, ſome higher and more excellent thing; in this Wiſdom he made them all. And hence it is that other things are alſo called a Creation: As,

1. The Eſſential Converſion of a Sinner, 2 Cor. 9. 7.

2. The Recovery of the Church from a degenerate ſtate, Rev. 21. 5.

And therefore, as Moſes begins with the Creation of the World, ſo John begins with the Goſpel of Salvation, Gen. 1. 1. Joh. 1. 1. There is alſo beſides many excellent things in the manner and order of the Creation of the World, held forth to thoſe that have Underſtanding: Some of which I may touch upon by way of Obſervation. But to begin with the the Firſt:

1. The Firſt appearance of this Earthy part of the World, is recorded to be but a formleſs and void Heap or Chaos; and ſuch is Man before a New Creation: formleſs, I mean, as to the Order of the Teſtament of Chriſt, and void of the Holy Order thereof: And hence Jeremiah, when he would ſet forth the Condition of a wicked People,
Jer. 4. 23. Iſa. 53. 2. he doth it under this Metaphor: I beheld (ſaith he) the Earth, and it was without form, and void. Indeed, the World would Epheſ. 2. 10, 11, 12. make this a Type of Chriſt; to wit, a Man of no form or comelineſs: But 'tis only true of themſelves; they are without a New-Teſtament Impreſſion upon them; they are void of the Sovereign Grace of God. So then the Power of God gave the World a Being, but by his Word he ſet it in Form and Beauty; even as by his Power he gives a Being to Man, but by his Word he giveth him New-Teſtament Framing and Glory. This is ſtill followed by that which follows:

And darkneſs was upon the face of the deep, ver. 2.

The Deep here, might be a Type of the Heart of Man before Converſion; and ſo Solomon ſeems to intimate. Now as the darkneſs of this World did cover the face of this firſt Chaos; ſo ſpiritual Darkneſs the Heart of the Sons of Men: and hence they are ſaid to be darkned, to be in darkneſs, yea, to be very darkneſs it ſelf.

And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters. The First Days Work.

A bleſſed Emblem of the Word of God in the matter of Regeneration; for as the firſt Chaos remained without form, and void, until the Spirit of God moved to work upon it, and by working, to put this World into frame and order; ſo Man, as he comes into the World, abides a confuſed Lump, an unclean thing; a Creature without New-Teſtament Order, until by the Spirit of the Lord he is transformed into the Image of Jeſus Chriſt. Gal. 1. 15.

And the Spirit of God moved upon the Face.

Solomon compares the Heart to a Man's Face; becauſe as in the Face may be diſcerned whether there is Anger or otherwiſe; ſo by the Inclinations of the Heart is diſcovered the truth of the Condition of the Man, as to his ſtate either for Heaven or Hell. And beſides, as the Spirit of God moved upon the Face of the Waters; ſo in the work of our Converſion, the Spirit of God begin-neth with the Heart of the Sons of Men; Acts 2. 37. becauſe the Heart is the main Fort: Now if the main Fort be not taken, the Adverſary is ſtill capable of making continual Reſiſtance. Therefore God firſt conquers the Heart; therefore the Spirit of God moveth upon the face of our Heart, when he cometh to convert us from Satan to God.

And God ſaid, Let there be Light.

This is the firſt thing with which God began the order of the Creation; to wit, Light, Let there be Light: From which many profitable Notes may be gathered, as to the Order of God in the Salvation of the Soul. As,

1. When the Holy Ghoſt worketh upon us, and in us, in order to a New Creation; he firſt toucheth our Underſtanding, that great piece of the Heart, with his Spiritual Illu-mination: His firſt word, in order to our Converſion, is, Let there be Light: Light, to ſee their State by Nature; Light, to ſee the Fruits and Effects of Sin; Light, to ſee the truth and worth of the Merits of Jeſus Chriſt; Light to ſee the truth and faithful-neſs of God, in keeping Promiſe and Cove-nant with them that embrace Salvation upon the bleſſed terms of the Goſpel of Peace. Now that this word, Let there be Light, was a ſemblance of the firſt work of the Holy Ghoſt upon the Heart, compare it with that of Paul to the Corinthians: For God, who commanded the light to ſhine out of darkneſs, that is, at the beginning of the World, hath ſhined in our hearts to give the Mat. 4. 16. Heb. 10. 32. 2 Cor. 4. 6.

light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the Face of Jeſus Chriſt.

2. And God ſaid, Let there be Light. As here, the Light of this World; ſo in Converſion, the Light of the New-Teſtament of Chriſt, it comes by the Word of God. No Word, no Light: therefore the Apoſtle ſaith, He hath brought life and immortality to light through the Goſpel. And therefore Paul ſaith again, That Salvation is manifeſt through preaching, through the expounding or opening of the Word of Faith.

2 Tim. 1. 10.

3. And God ſaid, Let there be Light; and there was Light: He ſpake the word, and it was done; all that darkneſs that before did cover the face of the Deep, could not now hinder the Being of Light. So neither can all the blindneſs and ignorance that is in the Heart of Man, hinder the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jeſus Chriſt. When it pleaſeth God to reveal, it is revealed; when he openeth, none can ſhut: He ſaid, Let there be Light, and there was Light.

2 Cor. 4. 6.

And God ſaw that the Light was good. Truly the light is good (ſaith Solomon) and a pleaſant thing it is for the Eye to behold the Sun. It was good, becauſe it was God's Creature; and ſo in the work of Grace that is wrought in our Hearts, that Light of the New-Covenant, it is good, becauſe it is God's work, the work of his good pleaſure; that good work which he hath not only begun, but promiſed to fulfil until the Day of Jeſus Chriſt.

2 Theſſ. 1. 11.

Phil. 1. 6.

God ſaw that the Light was good. The Darkneſs that before did cover the face of the Waters, was not a Creature of God, but a Privation, or that which was cauſed by reaſon that Light was not as yet in the World: ſo Sin, that Darkneſs that might be felt, is not the Workmanſhip of God in the Soul, but that which is the Work of the Devil; and that taketh occaſion to be, by reaſon that the true Light, as yet, doth not ſhine in the Soul.

And God divided the Light from the Darkneſs. As Paul ſaith, What communion hath light with darkneſs? they cannot agree to dwell together. We ſee the Night ſtill flyes before the Day, and dareth not come upon us again, but as the Light diminiſheth and conveyeth it ſelf away. So it is in the New Creation; before the light of the glorious Goſpel of Chriſt appears, there is Night, all Night in the Soul; but when that indeed doth ſhine in the Soul, then for Night there is Day in the Soul: Ye were darkneſs (ſaith Paul) but now ye are light in the Lord: And, The darkneſs is paſt (ſaith John) and the true light now ſhineth.

2 Cor. 6. 14.

Epheſ. 5. 8.

1 Joh. 2. 8.

And God divided the Light from the Darkneſs.

God took part with the Light, and preſerved it from the Darkneſs. By theſe words, it ſeems that Darkneſs and Light began the quarrel, before that bloody bout of Cain and Abel. The Light and the Darkneſs ſtruggled together, and nothing could divide or part them but God. Darkneſs is at implacable enmity with Light in the Creation of the World; and ſo it is in that rare work of Regeneration, the Fleſh luſteth againſt the Spirit, and the Spirit againſt the Fleſh; as Peter ſaith, Fleſhly luſts, they war againſt the ſoul. This every Chriſtian feels, and alſo that which I mentioned before, namely, That before he be capable of oppoſing Antichriſt, with Abel, in the World, he findeth a ſtruggling in his own Soul between the light and the darkneſs that is there.

Gal. 5. 17.

And God called the Light Day, and the Darkneſs he called Night.

God doth not only diſtinguiſh by ſeperating, but alſo by certain Characters; that things which are diſtinguiſhed and ſeperate, may to us be the better known; he did ſo here in the Work of Creating the World, and he doth ſo alſo in the great concern of Man's Eternal Happineſs. The place of Felicity is called Heaven: The place of Torment is called Hell: that which leads to Hell is called Sin, Tranſgreſſion, Iniquity and Wickedneſs; that which leads to Heaven, Righteouſneſs, Holineſs, Goodneſs and Uprightneſs: Even as in theſe Types God called the Light Day, of which the Godly are the Children; but the Darkneſs he called Night, of which all ungodly Men are the Inhabiters and Children alſo. Thus after the Spirit of God had moved upon the face of the Waters; after God had commanded the Light to ſhine, and had divided between the Light and the Darkneſs, and had characterized them by their proper Names, he concludes the Firſt Days Work, And the evening and the morning was the firſt day. In which Concluſion there is wrapped up a bleſſed Goſpel-Myſtery; for God, by concluding the Firſt Day here, doth ſhew us how we ought to determine that one is made indeed a Chriſtian: Even then when the Spirit of God hath moved upon the face of the Heart, when he hath commanded that Light ſhould be there, when he divideth between, or ſetteth the Light at variance with the Darkneſs; and when the Soul doth receive the Characters of both, to obſerve them, and carry it to each according to the Mouth of God.

1 Theſſ. 5. 5.

¶ And God ſaid, Let there be a Firmament.

The Second Days Work.

This Firmament he calleth Heaven, ver. 8. Now this Firmament, or Heaven, was to make a Seperation, or to divide between the Waters and the Waters; to ſeperate, I ſay, the Waters from the Waters; the Waters which were under the Firmament, from the Waters which were above the Firmament. Now by Waters is ſignified in the Scriptures many things, as Afflictions, worldly People, and particularly the Saints; but in this place is figured forth, all the People in the World, but ſo as conſiſting of two parts, the Children

Gen. 1. 7. Pſal. 69. 1, 2, 3. Rev. 19. 6.

dren of God, and the Children of the wicked One: They under the Heaven, figure out the World, or Ungodly; they above the Firmament, the Elect and Chosen of God. And hence in Scripture the one is called Heaven, and the other is called Earth, to signifie the seperation and difference that there is between the one and the other.

And God made the Firmament, and divided the Waters from the Waters.

Indeed the World think that this Separation comes, or is made, through the captiousness of the Preacher: But in truth it is the Handy-work of God; And God made the Firmament, and God divided, &c. I (saith he) will put enmity between thee and the woman, between thy seed and her seed: The good Seed are the Children of the Kingdom of God, but the bad are the Children of the wicked One.

Matt. 13. 38.

And God made the Firmament, and divided the Waters that were under the Firmament, from the Waters that were above the Firmament: and it was so.

Whatsoever the Lord doth, it abideth for ever. And again, what he hath made crooked, who can make strait? He said it in the Beginning, and behold how it hath continued! yea, tho' there hath been endeavours on Satan's part, to mingle his Children with the Seed of Men; yet it hath not been possible they should ever cleave one to another, even as Iron is not mixt with Clay. Yea, let me add further, What Laws have been made, what Blood hath been shed, what Cruelty hath been used, and what flatteries and lies invented, and all to make these two Waters and People one? And yet all hath fail'd, and fallen short of producing the desired Effect; for the Lord hath made a Firmament, even Heaven it self hath divided between them.

Eccles. 3. 14. Chap. 1. 15.

Dan. 2. 43.

And God called the Firmament Heaven, and the Evening and the Morning were the Second Day.

After the Waters were divided from the Waters, God called the cause of dividing, Heaven; and so concluded the Second Days Work. And indeed it was a very great Work, as in the Antitype we feel it to this very day. Dividing Work is difficult Work, and he that can, according to God, compleatly end and finish it, he need do no more that day of his life.

¶ And God said, Let the waters under the heaven be gathered together into one place, and let the dry-land appear: and it was so.

The Third Day's Work.

Although in the Second Day's work, the Waters above the Firmament, and those that be under, are the two Peoples, or Great Families of the World; yet because God would shew us by things on Earth, the flourishing state of those that are his, therefore he here doth express his mind by another kind of Representation of things: And God said, Let the waters under the firmament be gathered together in one place: and let the dry land appear. The Waters here signifying the World; but the Fruitful Earth, the thrifty Church of God. That the Fruitful Earth is a figure of the Thriving Church of God in this World, is evident from many Scriptures, (and there was nothing but Thriftiness till the Curse came.) And hence it is said of the Church, That she should break the clods of the ground; that she should sow righteousness, and reap it; that she should not sow among Thorns; that if this be done, the heart is circumcised, and spiritual Fruit shall flow forth, and grow abundantly: And hence again it is that the Officers, and Eminent Ones in the Church, are called Vines, Trees, and other fruitful Plants. And hence it is said again, When the Lord reigneth, let the Earth (that is, the Church) rejoice. That Earth which bringeth forth Fruit meet for him by whom it is dressed, receiveth Blessing from God. In all which Places, and many more that might be named, the Earth is made a Figure of the Church of God; and so I count it here in this Place.

Prov. 8. 31. Hos. 10. 12. Jer. 4. 3. 4. Joel 2. 21, 22. Psal. 97. 1. Heb. 6. 7.

And God said, Let the waters under the heaven be gathered into one place.

Let them be together: It is not thus of all Waters, but of the Sea, which is still here a Type of the World. Let them be so together, that the Earth may appear, that the Church may be rid of their rage and tumult, and then she will be fruitful, as it follows in this First of the Book of Genesis. The Church is then in a flourishing state, when the World is fartheſt off from her, and when the roaring of their Waves are far away. Now therefore let all the wicked Men be far from thence: The Lord gather these Waters, which in another Place are called the doleful Creatures, and Birds of Prey; Let these, O Lord, be gathered together to their own Places, and be settled in the Land of Shinar upon their own basis: Then the wilderness and the solitary places shall be glad for them; that is, for that they are departed thence, the Desart shall rejoice and blossom as a Rose.

Ezra 6. 6. Zech. 5. 11.

Isa. 35. 1.

And God called the dry land Earth; and the gathering together of the Waters he called Seas; and God saw that it was good.

God saw, that to separate the Waters from the Earth was good: And so it is, for then have the Churches Rest. Then doth this Earth bring forth her Fruit, as in the 11th and 12th Verses may here be seen.

¶ And God said, Let there be lights in the firmament of heaven.

The Fourth Day's Work.

The Wisdom of God, is there to make use of Figures and Shadows, even where most fit things, the things under Consideration, may be most fitly demonstrated. The dividing the Waters from the Waters, most fitly doth shew the Work of God in Chusing and Refusing; by dividing the Waters from the Earth, doth shew how fruitful God's Earth, the Church, is, when Persecutors are made to be far from thence.

Wherefore

Wherefore he ſpeaketh not of garniſhing of his Church until he comes to this Fourth Days Work: By his Spirit he hath garniſhed the heavens, that moſt fitly ſhewing the Glory of the Church.

Let there be lights; to wit, the Sun, the Moon, and the Stars.

The Sun is in this place a Type of Chriſt, the Sun of Righteouſneſs: The Moon is a Type of the Church, in her uncertain Condition in this World: The Stars are Types of the ſeveral Saints and Officers in this Church. And hence it is that the Sun is ſaid not only
Rev. 1. 20. to rule, but it, with the Moon and Stars, to be ſet for Signs, and for Seaſons, and for Days and for Years, &c. But if we take
Mat. 28. 20. the Heaven for the Church, then how is
Rev. 1. 12, 13. ſhe beautified, when the Son of God is placed in the midſt of her! And how plainly is her Condition made out, even by the Changing, Increaſing, and diminiſhing of the Moon! And how excellent is that Congregation of Men, that for Light and Glory are figured by the Stars!

From this Day's Work much might be obſerved.

1. That foraſmuch as the Sun was not made before the Fourth Day, it is evident there was Light in the World before the Sun was created; for in the firſt Day God ſaid, Let there be Light, and there was Light. This may alſo teach us thus much, That before Chriſt came in Perſon, there was ſpiritual Light in the Saints of God. And again, That as the Sun was not made before the Fourth Day of the Creation, ſo Chriſt ſhould not be born before the Fourth Myſtical Day of the World; for it is evident, that Chriſt, the true Light of the World, was not born till about Four thouſand Years after the World was made.

2. As to the Moon, there are Four things attending her, which fitly may hold forth the ſtate of the Church. 1. In that ſhe Changeth from an Old to a New, we may conceive, that God by making her ſo, did it to ſhew he would one Day make a Change of his Church, from a Jewiſh to a Gentile Congregation. 2. In that ſhe Increaſeth, ſhe ſheweth the flouriſhing ſtate of the Church. 3. In her Diminiſhing, the Diminiſhing ſtate of the Church. 4. The Moon is alſo ſometimes made to look as Red as Blood, to ſhew how Dreadful and Bloody the Suffering of the Church is at ſome certain times.

Heb. 11. 12. 1 Cor. 15. 41. 3. By the Stars, we underſtand Two things. 1. How innumerable the Saints, thoſe ſpiritual Stars ſhall be. 2. How they ſhall differ each from other in glory.

And God ſaid, Let there be lights in the firmament of heaven, to divide the day from the night.

For though before the Light was divided from the Darkneſs, yet the Day and Night was not ſo kept within their bounds, as now by theſe Lights they were: Probably ſignifying, that nothing ſhould be ſo clearly diſtinguiſh'd and made appear, as by the Sun-light of the Goſpel of Chriſt; for by that it is that the ſhadows flee away. The Light of the Sun gathers the Day to its Hours, both longer and ſhorter, and forceth alſo the Night to keep within his bounds.

And God made two great lights; the greater light to rule the day, and the leſſer light to rule the night.

Signifying, That Chriſt ſhould be the Light and Governor of his Church, which are the Children of the Day; but the Church, a Light to the Children of the Night, that by them they might learn the Myſteries of the Kingdom. Saith Chriſt to his own, Ye are the Light of the world: And again, Let your Light ſo ſhine, that men may ſee, &c. for though they that only walk in the Night, cannot ſee to walk by the Sun, yet by the Moon they may. Thus the Heaven is a Type of the Church, the Moon a Type of her uncertain ſtate in this World; the Stars are Types of her immovable Converts; and their Glory, of the differing Degrees of theirs, both here, and in the other World. Much more might be ſaid, but I paſs this.

Of the Fifth Day's Work.

¶ And God ſaid, Let the waters bring forth abundantly the moving creature that hath life.

Zech. 13. 8. Iſa. 60. 5. The Sea, as I ſaid, is a Figure of the World; wherefore the Creatures that are in it, of the Men of the World. This Sea bringeth forth ſmall and great Beaſts, even as the World doth yield both ſmall and great Perſecutors, who like the Fiſhes of Prey, eat up and devour what they can of thoſe Fiſh that are of another condition. Now alſo out of the World, that Myſtical Sea, as Fiſhers do out of the Natural, both Chriſt and his Servants catch myſtical Fiſh, even Fiſh as of the Great Sea.

Job 41. 33, 34. In the Sea God created great Whales, he made them to play therein.

Which Whales in the Sea are Types of the Devils in the World: Therefore as the Devil is called, the Prince of this World; ſo the Whale is called, King over all the Children of Pride.

The Sixth Day's Work.

¶ And God ſaid, Let the earth bring forth the living creature after his kind.

Of the beginning of this Sixth Day's Work that may be ſaid which is ſaid of the Fiſhes, and the reſt of the Sea; for as there is variety of Fiſh in the one, ſo of Beaſts and Cattle in the other, who alſo make a Prey of their fellows, as the Fiſhes do; a moſt apt Repreſentation of the Nature and Actions of bloody and deceitful Men: Hence Perſecutors are called Bulls, Bears, Lions, Wolves, Tygers, Dragons, Dogs, Foxes, Leopards, and the like.

And God ſaid, Let Us make man.

I ob-

I obſerve, that in the Creation of the World, God goeth gradually on, from things leſs, to things more abundantly glorious; I mean, as to the Creation of this Earth, and the things that thereto appertain. Firſt he bringeth forth a confuſed Chaos, then he commands Matter to appear diſtinct, then the Earth bringeth forth Trees, and Herbs, and Graſs; after that Beaſts; and the Sea, Fowls; and laſt of all, Let us make Man. Now paſſing by the Doctrine of the Trinity, becauſe ſpoken to before, I come to make ſome Obſervation upon this wonderful Piece of the Workmanſhip of God.

Let Us make Man. Man, in whom is alſo included the Woman, who was made the laſt of the Creatures. From whence we may gather, Firſt, God's reſpect to this excellent Creature, in that he firſt provideth for him, before he giveth him his Being: He bringeth him not to an empty Houſe, but to one well furniſhed with all kind of Neceſſaries, having beautified the Heaven and the Earth with Glory, and all ſorts of Nouriſhment, for his Pleaſure and Suſtenance.

Let us make Man in our Image, after our likeneſs.

An Image, or the likeneſs of any thing, is not the thing of which it is a Figure; ſo here, Adam is an Image, or made in the likeneſs of God. Now as Adam is the Image of God, it muſt either reſpect him, as he conſiſteth of the Soul, as a part; or as he conſiſts of a Body and Soul together: If as he is made a reaſonable Soul, then he is an excellent Image of the Eternal Godhead, the Attributes of the one being ſhadowed out by the Qualities and Paſſions of the other; for as there is in the Godhead, Power, Knowledge, Love, and Righteouſneſs; ſo a Likeneſs of theſe is in the Soul of Man, eſpecially of Man before he had ſinned: And as there is Paſſions of Pity, Compaſſion, Affections, and Bowels in Man; ſo there are theſe in a far more infinite way in God.

Again, if this Image reſpect the whole Man, then Adam was a Figure of God, as Incarnate; or of God, as he was to be made afterwards Man. And hence it is, that as Adam is called the Image of God; ſo alſo is Chriſt himſelf called and reckoned as the anſwering Antitype of ſuch an Image. Rom. 5. 14.

But again, Though Adam be here called the Image or Similitude of God; yet but ſo as that he was the Shadow of a more excellent Image. Adam was a Type of Chriſt, who only is the expreſs Image of his Father's Perſon, and the Likeneſs of his excellent Glory; for thoſe things that were in Adam, were but of an humane, but of a created Subſtance; but thoſe that were in Chriſt, of the ſame Divine and Eternal Excellency with the Father. Heb. 1. 3.

Is Chriſt then the Image of the Father, ſimply, as conſider'd of the ſame Divine and Eternal Excellency with him? Certainly, No: for an Image is doubtleſs inferiour to that of which it is a Figure. Underſtand then, that Chriſt is the Image of the Father's Glory, as born of the Virgin Mary, yet ſo, as being very God alſo: Not that his Godhead in it ſelf was a Shadow or Image, but by the Acts and Doing of that Man, every Act being infinitely perfect by vertue of his Godhead, the Father's Perfections were made manifeſt to fleſh. An Image is to be looked upon, and by being looked upon, another thing is ſeen; ſo by the Perſon and Doings of the Lord Jeſus, they that indeed could ſee him as he was, diſcovered the Perfection and Glory of the Father. ----Philip, He that hath ſeen me, hath ſeen the Father, and how ſayeſt thou then, Shew us the Father? Neither the Father nor the Son can by us at all be ſeen, as they are ſimply and intirely in their own Eſſence. Therefore the Perſon of the Father muſt be ſeen by us, through the Son, as conſiſting of God and Man; the Godhead, by working effectually in the Manhood, ſhewing clearly therethrough the infinite Perfection and Glory of the Father: The word was made fleſh, and (then) we beheld his glory, the glory of the only begotten of his Father, (He being in his perſonal Excellencies, infinitely and perfectly, what is recorded of his Father,) full of Grace and truth. So again, He is the Image of the Inviſible God. The Godhead is indeed Inviſible; How then is Chriſt the Image of it? Not by being Inviſible alſo; for ſo is he as much hid as the Father; but being cloathed with fleſh, that the Works of the Son might by us be ſeen, he thereby preſenteth to us, as in a Figure, the eternal Excellency of the Father. And hence as he is called an Image, he is alſo called the Firſt-born of every Creature; his being a Creature, reſpecting his Manhood; and his Birth, his Riſing again from the Dead. Therefore a little after, he is called, the Firſt-born from the dead: And in another place, the Firſt-begotten of the Dead: And the Firſt-fruits of them that ſleep. So then, though Adam was the Image of God, yet God's Image but as a meer Creature: But Chriſt though a Creature, as touching his Manhood; yet being alſo God, as the Father, he ſhewed forth expreſsly, in Capital Characters, by all his Works and Doings in the World, the Beauty and Glory of the Father: The light of the knowledge of the glory of God, is given in the face of Jeſus Chriſt. Where by Face, we muſt underſtand that which is viſible, that being open when all elſe is covered, and that by which moſt principally we are diſcovered to others, and known. Now as to the caſe in hand, this Face muſt ſignifie to us the perſonal Vertues and Doings of Chriſt, by which the Glory of the Father is expoſed; the Glory of his Juſtice, by Chriſt's Exactneſs of Life; the Glory of his Love, by Chriſt's Compaſſion to Sinners, &c.

Joh. 1. 14.

Col. 1. 15.

Rev. 1. 5. 1 Cor. 15. 20.

2 Cor. 4. 6.

And God ſaid, Let us make man in our image, after our likeneſs; and let them have dimi-nion over the fiſh of the ſea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattel, and over all the earth, and every creeping thing that creep-eth upon the earth.

As Adam was a Type of Chriſt, as the Image and Glory of God; ſo by theſe words he further ſheweth, that he was a Type of his Sovereign Power; for to him be dominion and power everlaſting, to whom be praiſe and dominion for ever. Now by the Fiſh of the Sea, the Beaſt of the Earth, the Fowls of the Air, and every creeping thing, we may underſtand all Creatures, Viſible and Inviſible, whether they be Men, Angels, or Devils, in Heaven, Earth, or under the Earth: alſo all Thrones, Authorities and Powers, whether in Heaven, in Earth, or Hell: Chriſt is made Head over all; He hath alſo a Name above every Name, not only in this world, but in that which is to come.

Heb.2.8, 9. 1 Pet. 4. 11. Jude 25. Eph.1.20, 21,22,23.

And God bleſſed them; and God ſaid unto them, (that is, to the Man and his Wife) Be fruitful, and multiply, and repleniſh the earth, and ſubdue it, &c.

This in the Type doth ſhew in the Antitipe how fruitful Chriſt and his church ſhall be; and how he at laſt ſhall, all over the Earth, have a Seed to repleniſh and ſubdue it by the power of the Immortal Seed of the Word of God: how his Name ſhall be reverenced from one end of the Earth to the other: how the Kingdoms of the Earth ſhall all at laſt become the Kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Chriſt.

And ſubdue it. God did put that majeſty and dread upon Adam at his Creation, that all the Beaſts of the Field ſubmitted themſelves unto him. As God alſo ſaid to Noah, The fear of you, and the dread of you, ſhall be upon every beaſt of the earth, and upon every fowl of the air; upon all that moveth upon the earth, and upon all the fiſhes in the ſea; into your hands are they delivered.

Gen. 9. 2.

¶ And God ſaid, Behold I have given you every herb bearing ſeed, which is upon the face of all the earth; and every tree, in which is the fruit of a tree yielding ſeed, to you it ſhall be for meat.

Theſe Herbs and Trees are Types of the wholſom Word of the Goſpel, on which both Chriſt, his Church, and unconverted Sinners, ought to feed and be refreſhed; and without which there is no ſubſiſting either of one or the other: He cauſeth the graſs to grow for the cattel, and herb for the ſervice of man, that he may bring forth food upon the earth; and wine, that maketh glad the heart of man; and oyl, to make his face to ſhine; and bread, which ſtrengtheneth man's heart.

Pſal. 104. 14, 15.

¶ And God ſaw every thing that he had made, and behold it was very good.

All things have their natural goodneſs by Creation. Things are not good, becauſe they have a Being only, but becauſe God gave them ſuch a Being: Neither did God make them, becauſe he ſaw they would attract a goodneſs to themſelves; but he made them in ſuch kind, as to bring forth that goodneſs he before determined they ſhould. And the evening and the morning were the ſixth day.

CHAP. II.

AND God bleſſed the ſeventh day, and ſanctified it; becauſe that in it he had reſted from all his work which God created and made.

The Seventh Day did ſignifie two things: Firſt, Chriſt Jeſus, who is as well the Reſt of the Juſtice of God, as a Reſt for ſinful Man.

Secondly, It was alſo a Type of that glorious Reſt that Saints ſhall have when the Six Days of this World are fully ended.

For the Firſt, the Apoſtle makes the Sabbath a Shadow of Jeſus Chriſt, a Shadow of things to come, but the Body, or Subſtance, is Chriſt: And hence it is that he is ſo often ſaid to be a Reſt to the Gentiles, a glorious Reſt, and that he promiſeth Reſt to ſuch as caſt their Burthen upon him.

Col. 2. 17. Mat. 11.

The Second alſo the Apoſtle aſſerteth in that Fourth Chapter to the Hebrews, There remaineth therefore a Reſt, or the keeping of a Sabbath, to the People of God: Which Sabbath, as I conceive, will be the Seventh thouſand of Years, which are to follow immediately after the World hath ſtood Six thouſand firſt: For as God was Six Days in the Works of Creation, and reſted the Seventh; ſo in Six thouſand Years he will perfect his Works and Providences that concern this World: As alſo he will finiſh the toil and travel of his Saints, with the Burthen of the Beaſts, and the Curſe of the Ground; and bring all into reſt for a thouſand years. A Day with the Lord, is as a Thouſand Years: wherefore this bleſſed and deſirable time is alſo called a Day, a Great Day, that great and notable Day of the Lord, which ſhall end in the Eternal Judgment of the World. God hath held forth this by ſeveral other Shadows, as the Sabbath of Weeks, the Sabbath of Years, and the Great Jubilee, which is to be the Year after Forty Nine Years are expired. Of all which, more in their place, if it God permit.

Heb. 4. 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, &c.

Lev. 25. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, &c.

¶ Theſe are the generations of the heavens, and of the earth, when they were created; in the day that the Lord God created the earth and the heavens.

Moſes ſeems by theſe words, In the day, to inſiſt principally upon them in their firſt and primitive ſtate, before there was Sin or Curſe in the World; for in the day that they were created, there was a far more glorious luſtre and beauty than now can be ſeen; the Heaven, for Sin, is, as it were, turned into Braſs; and the Rain into Powder and Duſt, in compariſon of what it was as it came from from the Fingers of God: The Earth hath also from that time a Curse upon it; yea, the whole Creation, by Sin, is even made subject to vanity, is in travail, and groans under the burthen that Sin hath brought upon it.

Rom. 8. 19, 20, 21, 22, 23.

And every plant of the field before it was in the earth, and every herb of the field before it grew.

Thus it was in the First Creation; they therefore became neither Herbs nor Trees, by the Course of Nature, but by the Creation of God. And even so it is in the New-Creation, Men spring not up by Nature to be Saints: No, not in the Church of God, but first they are created in Christ Jesus, and made meet to be Partakers of the Benefit, and then planted in the Church of God; planted, I say, as Plants before prepared. Indeed Hypocrites, and formal Professors, may spring up in the Church, by virtue of her Forms, and outward Services, as Thorns and Thistles spring up in the Earth, by virtue of her moisture and heartiness. But these are but the fruits of the Curse, and are determined to be burn'd at last in the Fire: Every plant (saith Christ) which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.

Heb. 6. 8. Mat. 15. 13.

For the Lord God had not caused it to rain upon the Earth: This is the reason that they came not up by Nature first, but were first Created, then Planted, then made to Grow. So the reason why Men by Nature grow not in the Church, is, because the Lord doth not cause it to rain upon them, they still abiding and doing according to the course of this World; but he plants them in his House by the mighty power of his Word and Spirit, by which they are created Saints, and then they afterwards grow in Grace, and in the Knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

And there was not a man to till the ground. It seems by this there was a kind of Necessity why God should make Man, yea, a multitude of Men; for otherwise he had made what before he made in vain; that is, his End in making so glorious a Creature as this World, which was to shew forth his Glory by, had been void, and without Effect; for although it was glorious, as it came out of the Hand of God; yet it was not of power so to preserve it self, but would, without Men to look after and dress it, be turned into a Wilderness.

Thus it is with the World of Men, if there was not the second Adam to plow them and sow them, they could none of them become Saints; No, not the Elect themselves; because the Means are determined, as well as the End.

By this we may likewise see what a woful Condition that People is in, that have no Ministers of the Word of the Gospel: My people perish, for lack of knowledge: And again, Where there is no vision, the people perish. Pray therefore to the Lord of the Harvest, that he would send out his plowers to plow, and his Labourers into his Harvest.

¶ But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground.

Although as yet there was no Plowman nor Rain, yet a Mist arose from the Earth; so where there is not the word of the Gospel, there is yet sufficiency of Light, to teach Men how to govern themselves in Civil and Natural Society. But this is only a Mist, Men cannot Gospelly grow by this; therefore, as in the next Verse, of necessity Man must be formed.

But again, I have sometimes thought by this Mist, might be held forth that Nourishment Men had by the Doctrine of Faith, before the Gospel was divulged by Moses, the Prophets, or Christ, &c. for before these, that Nourishment the Church received, was but slender and short, even as short as the nourishing of the Mist is to sober and moderate Showers of Rain; to which both the Law and the Gospel is compared.

Again, I have also sometimes thought, that by this Mist might be typified those excellent Proverbs and Holy Sayings of the Men of Old, before there was a written Word; for it cannot be but the Godly did contain in Proverbs, and certain Sayings, the Doctrine of Salvation hereafter, and of good living here; of which we have a touch in Genesis, but more at large by that blessed Book of Job; which Book, in mine Opinion, is a holy Collection of those Proverbs and Sayings of the Ancients, occasioned by the Temptation of that good Man. But whatever this Mist did signifie (in other Mens Judgment) certain it is, it was for present necessity, till a Man should be made to Till the Ground, and the Fruits thereof watered with the Bottles of Heaven: Which, so far as I see yet, most aptly presents us with some of all these.

¶ And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, &c.

In the Creation of Man, God began with his out-side; but in the Work of Regeneration, he first begins within, at the Heart. He made him; that is, his Body, of the Dust of the Ground; but he abides a lifeless Lump, till the Lord puts forth a second Act. And he breathed into his nostrils the breath of life, and man became a living soul. Now he lives, now he acts: so it is in the Kingdom of Christ, no Man can be a living Soul in that Kingdom by his first Creation, he must have life breathed into him, Life and Spirit from Jesus Christ.

Joh. 20. 22.

Now therefore is Adam a Type, yet but an Earthly one, of things more High and Heavenly; and as we have born the image of the earthly, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

1 Cor. 15. 49.

¶ And the Lord God planted a garden Eastward in Eden, and there he put the man whom whom he had formed.

And the Lord God planted a Garden. Thus the Holy Ghoſt ſpeaks clearer and clearer; for now he preſents the Church to us under the ſimilitude of a Garden, which is taken out of the wide and open Field, and incloſed; A Garden incloſed is my Siſter, my Spouſe; a Garden incloſed, a Spring ſhut up, a Fountain ſealed; and there he put the Man whom he had formed. An excellent Type of the Preſence of Chriſt with his Church.

Sol. Song. 4. 12.

Rev. 1. 12, 13.

¶ And out of the ground made the Lord God to grow every tree that is pleaſant to the ſight, &c.

Theſe Trees, and their pleaſurableneſs, do ſhew us the beauty of the truly Godly, whom the Lord hath beautify'd with Salvation. And hence it is ſaid the glory of Lebanon, of Sharon, and of Carmel, is given to the Church: that is, She is more beautified with Gifts and Graces than can by Types and Shadows be expreſſed. The Tree of Life alſo in the midſt of the Garden, and the Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil.

This Tree of Life, was another Type of Chriſt, as the Bread and healing Medicine of the Church, that ſtands in the midſt of the Paradiſe of God.

Rev. 2. 7. Ch. 22. 2.

The Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil, was a Type of the Law, or Covenant of Works, as the ſequel of the Story clearly manifeſteth; for had not Adam eaten thereof, he had enjoyed for ever his firſt Bleſſedneſs. As Moſes ſaith, It ſhall be our Righteouſneſs, if we obſerve to do all theſe commandments before the Lord our God, as he hath commanded us. But both Adam and we have touched, that is, broken the Boughs and Fruit of this Tree, and therefore now forever, by the Law, no Man can ſtand Juſt before God.

Cal. 2. 16.

¶ And a river went out of Eden, to water the garden; and from thence it was parted, and became into four heads.

This River while it abided in Eden, in the Garden, it was the River of God; that is, ſerviceable to the Trees and Fruit of the Garden, and was herein a Type of thoſe watering Miniſters that water the Plants of the Lord. But obſerve, when it had paſſed the Garden, had gotten without the bound of the Garden, from thence it was parted, and became into four Heads; from thence it was transformed, or turned into another manner of thing: it now became into four Heads; A Type of the four great Monarchs of the World, of which Babylon, though the firſt in order of Being, yet the laſt in a Goſpel or Myſterious ſenſe. The fourth is the River Euphrates, that which was the Face of the Kingdom of Babel of old. Hence note, That how eminent and ſerviceable ſoever Men are while they abide in the Garden of Eden, the Church; yet when they come out from thence, they evilly ſeek the great things of the World: one is for compaſſing the whole Land of Havilah, where is Gold; another is for compaſſing this, a third that, anda fourth another thing, according as you ſee theſe four heads did. Obſerve again, That while Men abide in the Church of God, there is not by them a ſeeking after the Monarchies of this World; but when they depart from thence, then they ſeek and ſtrive to be Heads; as that curſed Monſter the Pope, forſaking the Garden of God, became in a manner the Prince of all the Earth: Of whom Tyrus mentioned by Ezekiel, was a very lively Type, Thou haſt been in Eden, the Garden of God; every Precious-ſtone, that is, Doctrine, was thy covering; as the Sardius, Topaz, Diamond, &c. till iniquity was found in thee; till thou lefteſt thy Station, and place appointed of God, and then thou waſt caſt as prophane out of the Mountain of God, yea, though a covering Cherub. See it again in Cain, who while he continued in the Church, he was a buſie Sacrificer, as buſie as Abel his Brother; but when he left off to fear the Lord, and had bloodily Butcher'd his holy Brother, then he ſeeks to be a Head, or Monarch; then he goeth and buildeth a City to preſerve his Name and Poſterity for ever.

Ezek. 28, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18.

Gen. 4. 17.

And the Lord God took the man, and put him into the garden of Eden, to dreſs it, and to keep it.

In this alſo Adam was a Figure of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, as Paſtor and chief Biſhop of his Church. I the Lord, ſaith Chriſt, do keep it; I will water it night and day.

Iſa. 17. 1, 23.

And the Lord God took the man. No Man taketh this honour upon him, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron. Bleſſed is he alſo that can ſay as the Prophet Amos; And the Lord took me (ſaid he) as I followed the flock; and the Lord ſaid unto me, Go propheſie unto my people Iſrael.

Amos. 7. 14, 15.

To dreſs it and to keep it. He that is not dreſſed, is not kept: That is a ſad Judgment, That which dieth, let it die; That which is diſeaſed, let it not be dreſſed, let it die of that diſeaſe. By Dreſſing therefore I underſtand, Pruning, Manuring, and the like, which the Dreſſer of the Vineyard was commanded to do, without which all is over-run with Briers and Nettles, and is fit for nothing but curſing, and to be burn'd.

Luk. 13. Prov. 24. 30, 31, 32, 33, 34. Heb. 9. 7, 8.

¶ And the Lord God commanded the man, ſaying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayeſt freely eat.

It is God's Word that giveth us power to eat, to drink, and do other our works, and without the Word we may do nothing. The Command gave Adam leave: Every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refuſed, if it be received with thankſgiving; for it is ſanctified by the word of God (by the Command of the Word, and by receiving of it according to the limits thereof;) and prayer.

1 Tim. 4. 4, 5.

¶ But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou ſhalt not eat of it. I ſaid before,

What

What God's Word prohibits, we must take care to shun.

This Tree of Knowledge, as I said before, was a Type of the Covenant of Works, the
Gen. 3. 3. which had not Adam touched, (for by touching it he broke that Covenant,) he then had lived ever, but touching it he dies.

Adam going into the Garden under these Conditions and Penalties, was therein a Gal. 4. 4, 5. Type of the Humiliation of Christ; who at his coming into the World, was made under the Law, under its Command and Penalty, even as other Men, but without sin.

For in the day thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die.

For in the day. Adam lived to God no longer than while he kept himself from Eating forbidden Fruit; in that very day he died; first a spiritual Death in his Soul; his Body also was then made capable of Mortality, and all Diseases, which two great impediments in time brought him down to Dust again.

And the Lord God said, It is not good that man should be alone; I will make him an help meet for him.

By these words, Adam's state, even in Innocency, seems to crave for help; wherefore it is manifest that state is short of that we attain by the Resurrection from the Dead; yea, for as much as his need required earthly help, 'tis apparent his Condition
1 Cor. 15. 45, 46, 47. was not heavenly: The first man is of the earth, earthy; the second man is the Lord from heaven. Adam in his first Estate was not Spiritual: That was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural, and afterwards that which is spiritual. Wherefore those that think it enough to attain to the state of Adam in Innocency, think it sufficient to be meer Naturalists; think themselves well, without being made Spiritual: yea, let me add, they think it safe standing by a Covenant of Works; they think themselves happy, though not concerned in a Covenant of Grace; they think they know enough, though ignorant of a Mediator, and count they have no need of the Intercession of Christ.

Adam's Perfections

Adam stood by a Covenant of Works: Adam's Kingdom was an Earthly Paradise; Adam's Excellency was, that he had no need of a Saviour; and Adam's Knowledge was ignorant of Jesus Christ: Adam in his greatest Glory, wanted Earthly Comforts; Adam in his Innocency, was a meer Natural Man.

¶ And out of the ground the Lord God formed every beast of the field, and every fowl of the air.

This proveth further what I said at first, That in the first Chaos was contained all that was made upon the Earth.

And brought them to Adam, to see what he would call them; and whatsoever Adam called every living creature, that was the name thereof.

In this Adam was a lively Type of the Lord Christ's sovereign and glorious power over all Flesh: Thou hast given him power
Joh. 17. 2. over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many as thou hast given him.

And he brought them to Adam, to see what he would call them.

So Christ nameth the World; who he will he calleth Saints; and who he will he calleth the World, Ungodly, Serpents, Vipers, and the like. I pray for them, I pray not for the world.

And whatsoever Adam called every living creature, that was the name thereof. Even as Christ passes Sentence, so shall their Judgment be.

¶ And Adam gave names to all cattle, and to the fowl of the air, and to every beast of the field. So Christ judgeth of Angels, Devils, and Men.

But for Adam, there was not found an help meet for him. All the glory of this World, had not Adam had a Wife, could not have compleated this Man's blessedness; he would yet have been wanting: so all the Glory of Heaven, consider Christ as Mediator, could not, without his Church, have have made him up compleat. The Church, I say, which is his Body, the fulness of him Ephes. 1. 23. that fills all in all.

¶ And the Lord God caused a deep sleep to fall upon Adam, and he slept; and he took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead thereof. And the rib which the Lord God had taken from man, made he a woman, and brought her unto the man.

In these words we find an Help provided for Adam; also, whence it came. The Help was a Wife: she came out of his Side; she was taken thence while Adam slept. A blessed Figure of a further Mystery. Adam's Wife was a Type of the Church of Christ; for that she was taken out of his Side, it signifies we are Flesh of Christ's Flesh, and Bone of Christ's Bone. And in that she was taken Ephes. 5. 30. thence while Adam slept, it signifies, the Church is Christ's, by vertue of his Death and Blood: Feed the Church of God, which he purchased with his own blood.
Acts. 20. 28.

And he brought her to the man. That is, And God brought her to the Man. By which he clearly intimates, That as the Church is the Workmanship of God, and the Purchase of the Blood of Christ; so yet she cannot come to Christ, unless brought to him of God: No man can come to me (saith Christ) except the Father which hath sent me, draw him.
Joh. 6. 44.

¶ And Adam said, This is bone of my bone, and flesh of my flesh; she shall be called Woman, because she was taken out of Man.

In that Adam doth thus acknowledge his Wife to be Bone and Flesh of his Substance, it shews us, That Christ will acknowledge those that are his: He is not ashamed to call
Heb. 2. 12. them brethren, saying, I will declare thy name unto my brethren, in the midst of the Church will I sing praise unto thee.

And obſerve it, He ſaid She is Bone of my Bone &c. before that God that brought her to him; intimating, that Chriſt both owns us now at his Father's Right-hand, and will not be aſhamed of us, even in the Day of Judgment. Luke 12. 8.

¶ Therefore ſhall a man leave his father and his mother, and ſhall cleave unto his wife, and they ſhall be one fleſh.

This ought to be truly performed in our Married eſtate in this World. But here endeth not the Myſtery.

Therefore ſhall a man leave his father. Thus did Chriſt when he came into the World to ſave Sinners: He came forth from the Father; I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world. Joh. 16. 28.

Therefore ſhall a man leave his Father and his mother. The Jewiſh Church may, in a myſtical ſenſe, be called the Mother of Chriſt; for ſhe was indeed God's Wife, and of her came his Son Jeſus Chriſt: yet this Mother he left and forſook, to be joined to his Gentile Spouſe, which is now his only Wife.

¶ And they were both naked, the man and his wife, and were not aſhamed.

No Sin, no Shame: Let Men ſtand where God hath ſet them, and there is no cauſe of ſhame, though they be expoſed in outward appearance to never ſo much contempt.

And they were both naked. Apparel is the Fruits of Sin; wherefore let ſuch as pride themſelves therein, remember, that they cover one Shame with another. But let them that are truly godly have their Apparel modeſt and ſober, and with ſhamefac'dneſs put them on, remembring always the firſt Cauſe of our covering our Nakedneſs, was the Sin and Shame of our firſt Parents.

CHAP. III.

NOW the ſerpent was more ſubtil than any beaſt of the field which the Lord God had made; and he ſaid unto the woman, Yea, hath God ſaid, ye ſhall not eat of every tree of the garden?

In theſe words we have an entrance of the firſt great ſpiritual Conflict that was fought between the Devil and Feſh; and it is worth the obſerving, how the Enemy attempted, engaged, and overcame the World.

1. He tempts by Means; he appeareth not in his own ſhape and hue, but aſſumeth the Body of one of the Creatures, the Body of the Serpent, and ſo begins the Combat. And from hence it is, that in after-ages he is ſpoken of under the Name of that Creature, the Dragon, that Old Serpent called the Devil, and Satan; becauſe, as the Holy Ghoſt would have us beware of the Devil, ſo of the Means and Engines which he uſeth; for where one is overcome by his own fearful Appearance, ten thouſand are overcome by the Means and Engines that he uſeth. 2 Cor. 11. 3. Rev. 20. 2.

2. The Serpent was more ſubtil. The Devil, in his attempts after our Deſtruction, maketh uſe of the moſt ſuitable means. The Serpent was more ſubtil, therefore the cunning of the Devil was leaſt of all diſcerned: Had he made uſe of ſome of the moſt fooliſh of the Creatures, Adam had luckily ſtarted back; for he knew the Nature of all the Creatures, and gave them Names accordingly; wherefore the Serpent, Adam knew, was ſubtil, therefore Satan uſeth him, thereby to catch this goodly Creature: Hereby the Devil leaſt appeared; and leaſt appearing, the Temptation ſooneſt took the Tinder.

Now the Serpent was more ſubtil. More ſubtil. Hence the Devil is called, the Serpent with Heads, [with great Cunning;] the Crooked Serpent, [with knotty Objections;] the Piercing Serpent, [for he often wounds;] and his Ways are called Devices, Temptations, Deluſions, Wiles, Power, and the Gates of Hell; becauſe of their mighty Prevalency. This is he that undertook our Firſt Parents.

But how did he undertake them?

1. He labours to make them queſtion the Simplicity of the Word of God, bearing Adam's Wife in hand, that there muſt needs be ſome Meaning that palliates the Text; Hath God ſaid ye ſhall not eat of the Tree? Which Interogatory ſuggeſted them with a ſtrong Doubt that this Word would not appear a Truth, if you compare it with the 4th Verſe.

Hence learn, That ſo long as we retain the Simplicity of the Word, we have Satan at the end of the Staff; for unleſs we give way to a Doubt about that, about the Truth and Simplicity of it, he gets no ground upon us. And hence the Apoſtle ſays, He feared leſt by ſome means, as the Serpent beguiled Eve through his ſubtilty, ſo our Minds ſhould be corrupted from the Simplicity that is in Chriſt; that is, leſt our Minds ſhould be drawn off from the Simplicity of the Word of the Goſpel by ſome deviliſh and deluſive Arguments: For mark, Satan doth not firſt of all deny, but makes a Doubt upon the Word, whether it is to be taken in this or another Senſe; and ſo firſt corrupting the Mind with a Doubt about the Simplicity of the true Senſe, he after brings them to a Denial thereof; Hath God ſaid, Ye ſhall not eat of every tree that is in the garden? 2 Cor. 11. 3.

And the woman ſaid unto the ſerpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden.

And the woman ſaid. Indeed, the Queſtion was put to her, but the Command was not ſo immediately delivered to her: The Lord God commanded the Man. This therefore I reckon a great Fault in the Woman, an Uſurpation, to undertake ſo mighty an Adverſary, when ſhe was not the principal that was concerned therein; nay, when her Husband, who was more able than ſhe, was Gen. 2. 16.

was at hand, to whom also the Law was given as Chief. But for this Act, I think it is, that they are now commanded silence, and also commanded to learn of their Husbands: A Command that is necessary enough for that simple and weak Sex: Though they see it was by them that Sin came into the World, yet how hardly are some of them to this day disswaded from attempting unwarrantably to meddle with potent Enemies, about the great and weighty Matters that concern Eternity.

1 Cor. 14. 34, 35.

1 Tim. 2. 11, 12, 13, 14, 15.

Hence note, That often they who are least able, will first adventure to put in their Head to defend that, from whence they return with shame.

And the woman said unto the serpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees that are in the garden.

This was her Prologue to her Defence, but that also for which she had no warrant. In time of Temptation, it is our wisdom and duty to keep close to the Word, that prohibits and forbids the Sin; and not to reason with Satan, of how far our outward and worldly Privileges go, especially of those Privileges that border upon the Temptation, as she here did: We may eat of all but one. By this she goeth to the out-side of her liberty, and sets her self upon the brink of the danger. Christ might have told the Tempter, when he assaulted him, That he could have made Stones Bread; and that he could have descended from the Pinnacle of the Temple, as afterwards he did; but that would have admitted of other Questions: Wherefore he chuseth to lay aside such needless and unwarrantable reasonings, and resisteth him with a direct word of God, most pertinent to quash the Tempter, and also to preserve himself in the way. To go to the out-side of Privileges, especially when tempted of the Devil, is often, if not always very dangerous and hazardous.

By these words therefore, in mine Opinion, she spoke at this time too much in favour of the Flesh; and made way for what after came upon her, We may eat of all but one.

But of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die.

Now, too late, she urgeth that which should have been her only Stay and Weapon; to wit, the express Word of God; That she should, if she would have disputed with the Tempter, have urged at the first that only, and have thought of nothing else. Thus did the Lord himself: But she looking first into those worthy Privileges which God had given her, and dilating delightfully of them before the Devil, she lost the dread of the Command from off her Heart, and retained now but the Notion of it: Which Satan perceiving, and taking heart therefrom to make his best advantage, he now adds to his former forged Doubt, a plain and flat Denial, Ye shall not surely die.

And the serpent said unto the woman, Ye shall not surely die.

When People dally with the Devil, and sit too near their outward Advantages; when they are tempted to break the Command of God, it is usual for them, even by setting their Hearts upon things that in themselves are honest and lawful, to fall into Temptation: To see a piece of Ground, to prove a yoke of Oxen, to marry a Wife, are doubtless lawful things; but upon the borders of these Privileges lay the Temptation of the Devil; therefore by the love of these, which yet were lawful in themselves, the Devil hardened the Heart, and so at last made way for, and perfectly produc'd in them, flatly to deny (as then) to embrace the words of God's Salvation. The like befel our first Mother; wherefore though at last she freely objected the Word; yet because before she had so much reasoned to the pleasing of the Flesh, she lost the dread and savour of the Command, and having nought but Notion left, she found not wherewith to rebuke so plain a Lye of the Devil, but hearkened to his further reasoning.

Mat. 22. Luke 14. 16, 17, 18, 19, 20.

Ye shall not surely die. Not surely; in the word there is some slight meaning, of which you need not be so afraid. And besides,

God doth know, that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil.

In these words two Privileges are asserted: one, That their Eyes should be opened; the other, That they should be as Gods, knowing good and evil. The first is very desireble, and was not at all abridged by them; the second, as to their knowing good and evil, was absolutely forbidden; because they could not attain to the knowledge of that which was Evil, but by transgressing, or by Eating of that forbidden Tree.

Hence observe, That it is usual with the Devil, in his tempting of poor Creatures, to put a good and bad together, that by shew of the good, the Tempted might be drawn to do that which in truth is evil. Thus he served Saul; he spared the best of the Herd and Flock, under pretence of Sacrificing to God, and so transgressed the plain Command. But this the Apostle saw was dangerous, and therefore censureth such, as in a state of Condemnation. Thus he served Adam; he put the desirableness of Sight, and a plain Transgression of God's Law together, that by the lovelineſs of the one, they might the easier be brought to do the other. O poor Eve! Do we wonder at thy Folly! Doubtless we had done as bad with half the Argument of thy Temptation.

1 Sam. 15. 20, 21, 22.

Rom. 3. 8.

Ye shall be as Gods. In these words he attempts to beget in them a desire to be Greater than God had made them: He knew this was a likely way, for by this means he fell himself; for being puffed up with pride, they left their own estate, or habitation, and so became Devils, and were tumbled down

Jude 6. to Hell, where they are reſerved in chains, under darkneſs, unto the judgment of the great day.

Ye ſhall be as God's. When Souls have begun to hearken to the Tempter, that hearkning hath made way for, and given way to ſo much darkneſs of Mind, and hardneſs of Heart, that now they can liſten to any thing: as to hear God charged with Folly, Ye ſhall not ſurely die; as to hear him made the Author of Ignorance, and that he delights to have it ſo, by ſeeking by a Command to prohibit them from knowing what they could; for God doth know, that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes ſhall be opened; and therefore he forbids to touch it.

Ye ſhall be as Gods. Here is alſo a pretence of Holineſs, which he knew they were prone unto; Ye ſhall be as Gods, as Knowing and Perfect as God. Oh! Thouſands are, even to this day, by ſuch Temptations overcome! Thus he wraps his Temptations up in ſuch kind of Words and ſuggeſtions as will carry it either way. But mark his Holineſs, or the way that he preſcribes for Holineſs; it is, if not point blank againſt, yet without and beſides the Word, not by doing what God commands, and abhorring what he forbids, but by following the deluſion of the Devil, and their own roving Fancies; as Eve here does.

And when the woman ſaw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleaſant to the eyes, and a tree to be deſired to make one wiſe, ſhe took of the fruit thereof, &c.

This Verſe preſents us with the uſe that Eve made of the Reaſonings of the Serpent; and that was, to take them into Conſideration; not by the Word of God, but as her Fleſh and Blood did ſenſe them: A way very dangerous and devouring to the Soul, from which Paul fled, as from the Devil himſelf: [Immediately I conferred not with fleſh and blood.] Wherefore, pauſing upon them, they entangled her as with a threefold Cord. 1. The Luſts of the Fleſh; ſhe ſaw it was good for Food. 2. The Luſts of the Eye; ſhe ſaw it was pleaſant to the Eye. 3. The Pride of Life; a Tree to be deſired, to make one wiſe. Being taken, I ſay, with theſe three Snares of the Adverſary, which are not of the Father, but of the World, and the Devil the Prince thereof, forthwith ſhe falls before him: And when the woman ſaw this, ſhe took of the fruit thereof, and did eat.

Gal. 1. 16.

1 Joh. 2. 16.

And when the woman ſaw. This Seeing, as I ſaid, is to be underſtood of her conſidering what Satan preſented to her, and of her ſenſeing or taſting of his Doctrine; not by the Word, which ought to be the Touchſtone of all, but by and according to her own natural Reaſon without it. Now this makes her forget that very Command that but now ſhe had urged againſt the Tempter: This makes her alſo to conſent to that very Reaſon, as an inducement to tranſgreſs; which, becauſe it was the Nature of the Tree, was by God ſuggeſted as a Reaſon why they ſhould forbear; it was the Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil, therefore they ſhould not touch it; it was the Tree, that would by touching it, make them know good and evil; therefore ſhe toucheth, and alſo eateth thereof. See therefore what ſpecious Pretences the Devil, and thoſe that are under the Power of Temptation, will have to tranſgreſs the Command of God. That which God makes a Reaſon of the Prohibition, even that the Devil will make a Reaſon of their Tranſgreſſion.

God commands to Self-denial, but the World makes that a Reaſon of their ſtanding off from the very Grace of God in the Goſpel. God alſo commands, That we be Sober, Chaſte, Humble, Juſt, and the like; but the Devil, and carnal Hearts, make theſe very Things the Argument that keeps Sinners from the Word of Salvation. Or rather take it thus; God forbids Wickedneſs, becauſe it is delightful to the Fleſh, and draws the Heart from God, but therefore carnal Men love Wickedneſs and Sin: Therefore they go on in Sin, and therefore they ſay unto God, Depart from us, for we deſire not the knowledge of thy ways. Job 21. 14.

She did eat, and gave alſo unto her huſband with her, and he did eat. Ch. 22. 15, 16, 17.

The great Deſign of the Devil, as he ſuppoſed, was now accompliſhed; for he had both in the Snare, both the Man and his Wife, and in them, the whole World that ſhould be after. And indeed the chief Deſign of Satan was at the Head at firſt, only he made the Weakeſt the Conveyance for his Miſchief. Hence note again, That Satan by tempting one, may chiefly intend the Deſtruction of another. By tempting the Wife, he may aim at the Deſtruction of the Husband; by Tempting the Father, he may deſign the Deſtruction of the Children; and by tempting the King, he may deſign the Ruin of the Subjects. Even as in the Caſe of David; Satan ſtood up againſt Iſrael, and provoked David to number the People. He had a mind to deſtroy Seventy Thouſand, therefore he tempted David to Sin. 1 Chron. 21. 1.

She gave alſo to her Husband, and he did eat. Sin ſeldom or never terminates in one Perſon; but the pernicious Example of one, doth animate and embolden another; or thus, the beholding of Evil in another, doth often allure a Stander-by. Adam was the Looker on, he was not in the Action as from the Serpent: Adam was not deceived, that is, by having to do with the Devil, but the woman, the woman being deceived, was in the tranſgreſſion. This ſhould exhort all Men that they take heed of ſo much as beholding Evil done by others, leſt alſo they ſhould be allured. When Iſrael went into Canaan, God did command them not ſo much as to ask, How thoſe Nations 1 Tim. 2. 14. Deut. 12. 30.

Nations ſerved their Gods? leſt by ſo doing, Satan ſhould get an Advantage of their Minds, to incline them to do the like: Evil Acts, as well as evil Words, will eat as doth a Canker. This then is the Reaſon of that Evil-favour'dneſs that you ſee attending ſome Mens Lives and Profeſſions; they have been corrupted, as Adam was, either by evil Words or bad Examples, even till the very Face of their Lives and Profeſſions are disfigured as with the Pox or Canker.

2 Tim. 2. 17.

Thus have we led you through that woful Tragedy that was acted between the Woman and the Serpent; and have alſo ſhewed, how it happened that the Serpent went away as Victor.

1. The Woman admitted of a Doubt, about the Truth of the Word that forbad her to eat; for Unbelief was the firſt Sin that entered the World.

2. She preferred the Privileges of the Fleſh, before the Argument to Self-denial; by which means her Heart became hardned, and grew Senſeleſs of the Dread and Terror of the Words of God.

3. She took Satan's Arguments into Conſideration, and ſenſed, or taſted them; not by the Word of God, but her own natural, or rather fore-deluded Fancy.

4. She had a Mind to gratify the Luſts of the Fleſh, the Luſts of the Eyes, and the Pride of Life.

Now to ſpeak of the evil Conſequences that followed this ſinful Act: That is not in the Wiſdom of mortal Man to do; partly, becauſe we know but in Part even the evil and deſtructive Nature of Sin; and partly, becauſe much of the Evil that will follow this Action, is yet to be committed by Perſons unborn. Yet enough might be ſaid to aſtoniſh the Heavens, and to make them horribly afraid.

Jer. 2. 12.

1. By this Act of theſe two, the whole World became guilty of Condemnation and Eternal Judgment.

Rom. 5. 18.

2. By this came all the Blindneſs, Atheiſm, Ignorance of God, Enmity and Malice againſt him, Pride, Covetouſneſs, Adultery, Idolatry, and Implacableneſs, &c. that is found in all the World: By this, I ſay, came all the Wars, Blood, Treachery, Tyranny, Perſecution, with all manner of Rapine and Outrage that is found among the Sons of Men.

3. Beſides, all the Plagues, Judgments and Evils that befal us in this World, with thoſe everlaſting Burnings that will ſwallow up Millions for ever and ever; all and every Whit of theſe came into the World as the Portion of Mankind, for that Firſt Tranſgreſſion of our Firſt Parents.

And the Eyes of them both were opened, and they knew that they were naked; and they ſewed fig-leaves together, and made themſelves aprons.

That their Eyes might be opened, was one Branch of the Temptation, and one of the Reaſons that prevailed with the Woman to forſake the Word of God: But ſhe little thought of Seeing after this Manner, or ſuch Things as now ſhe was made to behold. She expected ſome ſweet and pleaſant Sight, that might tickle and delight her deluded Fancy; but behold, Sin and the Wrath of God appears, to the ſhaking of their Hearts! And thus, even to this very Day, doth the Devil delude the World: His Temptations are gilded with ſome ſweet and fine Pretences; either they ſhall be Wiſer, Richer, more in Favour, live Merrier, fare Better, or ſomething; and that they ſhall See it, if they will but obey the Devil: Which the Fools eaſily are, by theſe and ſuch-like Things, allured to do: But behold, when their Eyes are opened indeed, inſtead of ſeeing what the Devil falſly told them, they ſee themſelves involved in Sin, made guilty of the Breach of God's Command, and ſubject to the Wrath of God.

And they knew that they were naked. Not only naked of outward Cloathing, but even deſtitute of Righteouſneſs; they had loſt their Innocency, their Uprightneſs, and ſinleſs Vail, and had made themſelves polluted Creatures, both in their Hearts, and in their Fleſh; this is Nakedneſs indeed; ſuch a kind of Nakedneſs as Aaron made Iſrael naked with, when he ſet up his Idol Calf for them to worſhip: For Aaron had made them naked unto their ſhame. Naked before the Juſtice of the Law.

And they knew that they were naked. And they knew it: Why, did they not know it before? the Text ſays, They were naked, and were not aſhamed. O! they ſtood not naked before God! they ſtood not without Righteouſneſs, or Uprightneſs before him, and therefore were not aſhamed, but now they knew they were naked as to that.

And they ſewed fig-leaves together, and made themſelves aprons. A fit Reſemblance of what is the Inclination of awakened Men, who are yet but natural! they neither think of Chriſt, or of the Mercy of God in him for Pardon, but preſently they betake themſelves to their own Fig-Leaves, to their own Inventions, or to the Righteouſneſs of the Law, and look for Healing from Means which God did never provide for Cure. When Ephraim ſaw his ſickneſs, and Judah ſaw his wound, then went Ephraim to the Aſſyrian, not to God, and ſent to King Jareb, not to Chriſt, yet could they not heal him, nor cure him of his wound.

Hoſ. 5. 13.

And made themſelves Aprons. Not Coats, as God did afterwards. A carnal Man thinks himſelf ſufficiently cloathed with Righteouſneſs, if the Nakedneſs which he ſees, can be but covered from his own Sight: As if God alſo did ſee that and only that which they have a Sight of by the Light of Nature; and as if becauſe Fig-Leaves would hide their Nakedneſs from their Sight, that therefore they would hide it from the Sight of God. But alas! no Man, without the Help of another, can bring all his Nakedneſs to the Sight of his own Eye; much is undiſcovered to him, that may yet lye open and bare to a Stander-by: So it is with the Men that ſtand without Chriſt before God, at beſt they ſee but ſome of their Nakedneſs, to wit, their moſt groſs and worſer Faults, and therefore they ſeek to cover them; which when they have hid from their own Sight, they think them hid alſo from the Sight of God. Thus did Adam, he ſaw his own moſt ſhameful Parts, and therefore them he covered: They made themſelves Aprons, or things to gird about em, not to cover them all over withall. No Man by all his own Doings, can hide all his own Nakedneſs from the Sight of the Juſtice of God, and yet, but in vain, as buſie as Adam to do it.

And they ſewed fig-leaves together, and made themſelves aprons. Fig-Leaves! A poor Apron, but it was the beſt they could get. But was that a ſufficient Shelter againſt either Thorn or Thiſtle? Or was it poſſible but that after a while theſe Fig-Leaves ſhould have become rotten, and turned to Dung? So will it be with all Man's own Righteouſneſs which is of the Law; Paul ſaw it ſo, and therefore counted it but loſs and dung, that he might win Chriſt, and be found in him.

Phil. 3. 7, 8.

And they heard the voice of the Lord God walking in the garden in the cool of the day, and Adam and his wife hid themſelves from the preſence of the Lord God, among the trees of the garden.

And they heard the voice of the Lord God. This Voice muſt not be underſtood according, as if it was the Effect of a Word; as when we ſpeak, the Sound remains with a Noiſe for ſome time after; but by Voice here, we are to underſtand the Lord Chriſt himſelf; wherefore this Voice is ſaid to walk, not to ſound only: They heard the voice of the Lord God walking. This Voice John calls the Word, the Word that was with the Father before he made the World, and that at this very time was heard to walk in the Garden of Adam: Therefore John alſo ſaith, this Voice was in the beginning; that is, in the Garden with Adam, at the Beginning of his Converſion, as well as of the Beginning of the World.

And they heard the voice of the Lord God walking in the Garden in the cool of the day. The Goſpel of it is, in the Seaſon of Grace; for by the cool of the day, he here means in the Patience, Gentleneſs, Goodneſs and Mercy of the Goſpel; and it is oppoſed to the Heat, Fire, and Severity of the Law.

And Adam and his wife hid themſelves. Hence obſerve, That a Man's own Righteouſneſs will not fortifie his Conſcience from Fear and Terrour, when God begins to come near to him to Judgment. Why did Adam hide himſelf, but becauſe, as he ſaid, he was naked? But how could he be naked, when before he had made himſelf an Apron? O! the approach of God conſumed and burnt off his Apron! Though his Apron would keep him from the Sight of a Bird, yet it would not from the Eye of the Incorruptible God.

Let therefore all ſelf-righteous Men beware, for however they at preſent pleaſe themſelves with the Worthineſs of their glorious Fig-Leaves; yet when God ſhall come to deal with them for Sin, aſſuredly they will find themſelves naked.

And they hid themſelves. A Man in a natural State, cannot abide the Preſence of God; yea, though a righteous Man. Adam, though adorned with his Fig-Leaves, flies.

Obſerve again, That a ſelf-righteous Man, a Man of the Law, takes Grace and Mercy for his greateſt Enemy. This is apparent from the Carriage of the Phariſees to Jeſus Chriſt, who becauſe they were wedded to the Works of their own Righteouſneſs, therefore they hated, perſecuted, condemned and crucified the Saviour of the World. As here in the Text, though the Voice of the Lord God walked in the Garden in the COOL of the Day, in the time of Grace and Love, yet how Adam with his Fig-Leaves flies before him!

And Adam and his wife hid themſelves from the preſence of the Lord God. Theſe latter words are ſpoken, not to perſwade us that Men can hide themſelves from God, but that Adam, and thoſe that are his by Nature, will ſeek to do it, becauſe they do not know him aright. Theſe words therefore further ſhew us what a bitter thing Sin is to the Soul; it is only for hiding work, ſometimes under its Fig-Leaves, ſometimes among the Trees of the Garden. O what a ſhaking, ſtarting, timerous evil Conſcience, is a Sinful and guilty Conſcience! eſpecially when 'tis but a little awakened, it could run its Head into every Hole, firſt by one Fancy, then by another; for the Power and Goodneſs of a Man's own Righteouſneſs, cannot withſtand or anſwer the Demands of the Juſtice of God, and his Holy Law.

And Adam and his wife hid themſelves from the preſence of the Lord God among the trees of the garden. If you take the Trees in a myſtical Senſe as * ſometimes they may be taken; then take them here to ſignifie, or to be a Type of the Saints of God, and then the Goſpel of it is, That carnal Men, when they are indeed awakened, and rouzed out of their fooliſh Fig-Leave-Righteouſneſs; then they would be glad of ſome Shelter with them that are ſaved and Juſtified freely by Grace, as they in the Goſpel of Matthew; Give us of your Oyl, for our Lamps are gone out. And again, The Man without the Wedding garment, had crouded himſelf among the Wedding Gueſts. Had hid themſelves among the Trees of the Garden.

And the Lord God called unto Adam, ſaying unto him, Where art thou?

Adam having eaten of the Forbidden Tree, doth now fleet his Station, is gone to another than where God left him: Wherefore, if God will find Adam, he muſt now look him where he had hid himſelf. And indeed ſo he does with Adam, Where art thou?

And the Lord God called, &c. Here begins the Converſion of Adam, from his ſinful State, to God again. But mark, it begins not at Adam's calling upon God, but at God calling upon him: And the Lord God called unto Adam. Wherefore, by theſe Words, we are to underſtand the Beginning of Adam's Converſion. And indeed, Grace hath gone the ſame Way with the Elect, from that time to this Day. Thus he dealt with Abraham, Iſaac and Jacob; he called them from their Native Countrey, the Countrey of their Kindred. And hence it is that, eſpecially in the New-Teſtament, the Saints are ſaid to be the Called; Called of God, and Called of Jeſus Chriſt. And hence again it is that Calling is by Paul made the firſt Demonſtration of Election, and that Saints are admoniſhed to prove their Election by their Calling; for as Adam was in a loſt, miſerable and periſhing Condition, untill God called him out of thoſe Holes into which Sin had driven him; ſo we do lie where Sin and the Devil hath laid us, until by the Word of God we are called to the Fellowſhip of his Son Jeſus Chriſt.

By theſe Words therefore we have the Beginning of the diſcovery of Effectual Calling or Converſion; And the Lord God called. In which Call obſerve Three things.

1. God called ſo that Adam heard him: And ſo it is in the Converſion of the New-Teſtament Saints, as Paul ſays, If ye have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the truth is in Jeſus: That therefore is one Diſcovery of Effectual Calling, the Sinner is made to hear him, even to hear him diſtinctly, ſingling out the very Perſon, calling, Adam, Where art thou? Saul, Saul, Why perſecuteſt thou me? I have called thee by thy name, thou art mine. As he alſo ſaid to Moſes, I know thee by Name, and thou haſt alſo found grace in my ſight.

Eph. 4. 20, 21.

Exod. 33. 12.

2. God called ſo, as to faſten Sin upon his Conſcience, and as to force a Confeſſion from him of his naked and ſhameful State.

3. God called ſo, as to make him tremble under, and be afraid of the Judgment of God.

And the Lord God called unto Adam, and ſaid unto him, Where art thou? Indeed, Where art thou muſt of Neceſſity be forceably urged to every Man on whoſe Soul God doth work effectual Converſion; for until the Perſon is awakened, as to the State and Condition he is in, he will not deſire, nay, will not endure to be turned to God; but when in truth they are made to ſee what Condition Sin hath brought them to, namely, that it hath laid them under the Power of Sin, the Tyranny of the Devil, the Strength of Death, and the Curſe of God by his holy Law; then is Mercy ſweet.

Where art thou? God knew where he was, but fooliſh Adam thought otherwiſe; he thought to hide himſelf from the Preſence of the Lord, but the Lord found him out. Indeed, deluded Sinners think that they can hide themſelves and Sins from God: How doth God know, ſay they, Can he ſee through the thick Cloud? But ſuch ſhall know he ſees them; they ſhall know it either to their Correction, or to their Condemnation. Though they dig into Hell, ſaith God, thence ſhall mine hand take them; though they climb up to Heaven, thence will I bring them down; and though they hide themſelves in the top of Carmel, I will ſearch and take them out thence, &c. Can any hide themſelves in ſecret places that I ſhould not ſee them, ſaith the Lord? Do not I fill heaven and earth, ſaith the Lord?

Jer. 23. 24.

And he ſaid, I heard thy voice in the garden, and I was afraid, becauſe I was naked, and I hid myſelf.

This then was the Cauſe of his flying, he heard the Voice of God: A wicked and evil Conſcience ſaith, every thing is to it as the Meſſenger of Death and Deſtruction; for, as was ſaid before, the Voice of the Lord walked in the garden in the cool of the Day, in the Time of Grace and Mercy: But it mattereth not whether he came with Grace or Vengeance; Guilt was in Adam's Heart, therefore he could not endure the Preſence of God: He that doth evil hateth the light. And again; The wicked flieth when no man purſueth. Cain thought all that met him would ſeek his Blood and Life.

Joh. 3. 20. Prov. 28. 1.

I heard thy voice. Something by the Word of God was ſpoken, that ſhook the Heart of this poor Creature; ſomething of Juſtice and Holineſs, even before they fell into this Communication: For obſerve it, Adam went forthwith from the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil a Convinced Man, firſt to his Fig-Leaves, but they would not do; therefore he ſeeks to be hid among the Trees. And obſerve again, That the Inſufficiency of Fig-Leaves were diſcovered by this Voice of the Lord God, that at this Time walked in the Garden: I heard thy voice in the garden, and I was afraid, becauſe I was naked, and I hid myſelf. So then, there was a firſt and ſecond Voice which Adam heard; the firſt he ran away from, I heard thy voice, and hid myſelf. The ſecond was this, wherein they commune each with other. The firſt therefore was the Word of Juſtice, Severity, and of the Vengeance of God; like that in the Exod. 19. 16. 19th of Exodus, from the pronouncing of which, a Trembling, and almoſt Death, did ſeize Six hundred thouſand Perſons.

I heard thy voice in the garden. It is a Word from without that doth it. While Adam liſtned to his own Heart, he thought Fig-Leaves a ſufficient Remedy, but the Voice that walked in the Garden ſhook him out of all ſuch Fancies: I heard thy voice in the garden, and I was afraid, becauſe I was naked, and I hid myſelf.

And he ſaid, Who told thee that thou waſt naked? Haſt thou eaten of the tree whereof I commanded thee that thou ſhouldeſt not eat?

Who told thee? This, as I ſaid before, ſuppoſeth a third Perſon, a Preacher, and that was the Son of God; the Voice of the Lord God that walked in the Garden.

Haſt thou eaten of the tree? That is, If thou haſt been ſhewed thy Nakedneſs, thou haſt indeed ſinned; for the Voice of the Lord God will not charge Guilt, but where and when a Law hath been tranſgreſſed. God therefore, by theſe Words, driveth Adam to the Point, either to confeſs or deny the Truth of the Caſe. If he confeſs, then he concludes himſelf under Judgment; if he deny, then he addeth to his Sin: Therefore he neither denieth nor confeſſeth, but ſo as he may leſſen and extenuate his Sin.

And the man ſaid, The woman whom thou gaveſt to be with me, ſhe gave me of the tree, and I did eat.

He had endeavoured with Fig-Leaves to hide his Tranſgreſſions before, but that being found too ſcanty and ſhort, he now trieth what he can do with Arguments. Indeed he acknowledgeth that he did eat of the Tree of which he was forbidden; but mark where he layeth the Reaſon: Not in any Infection which was centred in him by reaſon of his liſtning to the Diſcourſe which was between the Woman and the Serpent; but, becauſe God had given him a Woman to be with him: The woman which thou gaveſt to be with me, ſhe gave me of the tree. The Woman was given for an Help, not an Hindrance; but Satan often maketh that to become our Snare, which God hath given us as a Bleſſing. Adam therefore here mixeth Truth with Falſhood. 'Tis true, he was beguiled by the Woman; but ſhe was not intended of God, as he would inſinuate, to the end ſhe might be a Trap unto him. Here therefore Adam ſought to leſſen and palliate his Offence, as Man by Nature is prone to do; for if God will needs charge them with the Guilt of Sin for the Breach of the Law, they will lay the fault upon any thing, even upon God's Ordinance, as Adam here doth, rather than they will honeſtly fall under the Guilt, and ſo the Judgment of the Law for Guilt. It is a rare thing, and it argueth great Knowledge of God, and alſo Hope in his Mercy, when Men ſhall heartily acknowledge their Iniquities, as is evident in the Caſe of David: Waſh me throughly from mine iniquities, and cleanſe me from my ſins; for I acknowledge my tranſgreſſions, and my ſin is ever before me. But this Knowledge is not at firſt in young Converts; therefore when God begins to awaken, they begin, as ſleepy Men, to creep further under their carnal Covering; which yet is too ſhort to hide them, and too narrow to cover their Shame. Pſal. 51. 2, 3. Iſa. 28. 20.

The woman which thou gaveſt to be with me, ſhe gave me of the tree. Although, as I ſaid, this Sinner ſeeks to hide, or at leaſt to leſſen his Sin, by laying the Cauſe upon the Woman, the Gift of God; yet it argueth that his Heart was now filled with Shame and Confuſion of Face, for that he had broken God's Command; for indeed it is the nature of Guilt, however Men may in Appearance ruffle under it, and ſet the beſt Leg before, for their Vindication; yet inwardly to make them bluſh and fail before their Accuſer. Indeed their inward Shame is the Cauſe of their Excuſe; even as Aaron, when he had made the golden Calf, could not for Shame of Heart confeſs in Plainneſs of Speech the Truth of the Fact to his Brother Moſes, but faulteringly: They gave me their gold, ſaith he, and I caſt it into the fire, and there came out this Calf. And there came out this Calf; a pitiful fumbling Speech: The Holy Ghoſt ſaith, Aaron had made them naked; had made them naked to their ſhame; for he, as alſo Adam, ſhould, being Chief and Lord in their Place, have ſtoutly reſiſted the Folly and Sin which was to them propounded; and not as Perſons of a womaniſh Spirit, have liſtned to wicked Propoſals. Exod. 32. 22, 23, 24.

And the Lord God ſaid unto the woman, What is this that thou haſt done? &c.

Foraſmuch as Adam did acknowledge his Sin, though with much Weakneſs and Infirmity, God accepts thereof; and now applieth himſelf to the Woman, whom Satan had uſed as his Engine to undo the World.

Hence obſerve, That when God ſets to ſearch out Sin, he will follow it from the Seduced to the Seducer, even till he comes to the Riſe and firſt Author thereof, as in the following Words may more clearly appear: Not that he excuſeth or acquitteth the Seduced, becauſe the Seducer was the firſt Cauſe, as ſome do vainly imagine; but to lay all under Guilt who are concerned therein: The Woman was concerned as a Principal, therefore he taketh her to Examination.

And the Lord God ſaid unto the woman, What is this that thou haſt done? What is this? God ſeems to ſpeak as if he were aſtoniſhed at the Inundation of Evil which the Woman by her Sin had overflowed the World withal: What is this that thou haſt done! Thou haſt undone thyſelf, thou haſt undone undone thy Husband, thou haſt undone all the World; yea, thou haſt brought a Curſe upon the whole Creation, with an overplus of Evils, Plagues and Diſtreſſes.

What is this that thou haſt done! Thou haſt defiled thy Body and Soul, thou haſt diſabled the whole World from ſerving God; yea, moreover, thou haſt let in the Devil at the door of thy Heart, and haſt alſo made him the Prince of the World. What is this that thou haſt done! Ah! little, little do Sinners know what they have done, when they have tranſgreſſed the Law of the Lord. I ſay, they little know what Death, what Plagues, what Curſe, yea, what Hell they, by ſo doing, have prepared for themſelves.

What is this that thou haſt done! God therefore, by theſe words, would faſten upon the Woman's Heart a deep ſenſe of the evil of her doings. And indeed, for the Soul to be brought into a deep ſenſe of its ſin, to cry out before God, Ah! what have I done! it is with them the firſt ſtep towards Converſion: Acknowledge thy ſin (ſaith God) that thou haſt tranſgreſſed againſt me. And again, If we confeſs our ſin, he is faithful and juſt to forgive us our ſins, and to cleanſe us from all unrighteouſneſs. The want of this is the cauſe of that obdurate and laſting hardneſs that continueth to poſſeſs ſo many thouſands of Sinners, they cry not out before God, What have I done? but fooliſhly they ruſh into, and continue in ſin, till their iniquity be found to be hateful, yea, their Perſons, becauſe of their ſin.

Jer. 3. 12. 13. 1 Joh. 1. 9.

What is this that thou haſt done? By this Interrogatory the Lord alſo implieth an admonition to the Woman, to plead for herſelf, as he alſo did to her Husband. He alſo makes way for the working of his bowels towards her, which (as will be ſhewn anon) he flatly denies to the Serpent, the Devil. I ſay, he made way for the Woman to plead for, or bemoan her ſelf; an evident Token that he was unwilling to caſt her away for her ſin: I have ſurely heard Ephraim bemoaning himſelf; I will ſurely have mercy upon him, ſaith the Lord. Again, by theſe words, he made way for the working or yearning of his own bowels over her; for when we begin to cry out of our Miſcarriages, and to bewail and bemoan our Condition becauſe of Sin, forthwith the bowels of God begin to ſound, and to move towards his diſtreſſed Creature, as by the place before alledged appears. I have ſurely heard Ephraim bemoaning himſelf; -- therefore my bowels are troubled for him: I will ſurely have mercy upon him, ſaith the Lord. See alſo the 11th and 14th Chapters of Hoſea.

Jer. 31. 18. 19, 20.

And the Woman ſaid, the Serpent beguiled me and I did eat. A poor Excuſe, but an heart affecting one; for many times want of Wit and Cunning to defend our ſelves, doth affect and turn the Heart of a Stander-by to pity us. And thus, as I think, it was with the Woman; ſhe had to do with one that was too cunning for her, with one that ſnapt her by his Subtility or Wiles; which alſo the Woman moſt ſimply confeſſes, even to the provoking of God to take Vengeance for her.

And the Lord God ſaid unto the ſerpent, Becauſe thou haſt done this, thou art curſed above all cattel, and above every beaſt of the field.

The Serpent was the Author of the Evil; therefore the Thunder rouls till it comes over him, the hot burning Thunder-bolt falls upon him.

The Lord, you ſee, doth not with the Serpent, as with the Man and his Wife; to wit, miniſter Occaſion to commune with him, but directly pronounceth him Curſed above all, above every Beaſt of the Field. This ſheweth us, that as concerning the Angels that fell, with them God is at eternal Enmity, reſerving them in everlaſting Chains under Darkneſs. Curſed art thou: By theſe Words, I ſay, they are prevented of a Plea for ever, and alſo excluded a Share in the Fruits of the Meſſias which ſhould afterwards be born into the World. Heb. 2. 10.

Becauſe thou haſt done this, curſed art thou. Becauſe thou haſt done this: Not as though he was bleſſed before; for had he not before been wicked, he had not attempted ſo wicked a Deſign. The Meaning then is, That either by this Deed the Devil did aggravate his Miſery, and make himſelf the faſter to hang in the everlaſting Chains under darkneſs; or elſe by this he is manifeſted to us to be indeed a curſed Creature.

Further, Becauſe thou haſt done this, may alſo ſignifie how great Complacency and Content God took in Adam and his Wife while they continued without Tranſgreſſion: But how much againſt his Mind and Workmanſhip this wicked Work was. 1. Againſt his Mind; for Sin ſo ſets it ſelf againſt the Nature of God, that, if poſſible, it would annihilate and turn him into nothing, it being in its Nature point blank againſt him. 2. It is againſt his Workmanſhip; for had not the Power of the Meſſias ſtept in, all had again been brought to Confuſion, and worſe than nothing: As Chriſt himſelf expreſſes it: The Earth, with the Inhabitants thereof, are diſſolved; I bear up the pillars of it: And again, He upholdeth all things by the word of his power. Pſal. 75. 3. Heb. 1. 2, 3.

Beſides, this being done, Man, notwithſtanding the Grace of God, and the Merits of Jeſus Chriſt, doth yet live a miſerable Life in this World; for albeit that Chriſt hath moſt certainly ſecured the Elect and Choſen of God from periſhing by what Satan hath done; yet the very Elect themſelves are, by reaſon of the Firſt Tranſgreſſion, ſo infeſted and annoyed with inward Filth, and ſo aſſaulted ſtill by the Devil, and his Vaſſals the proper Children of Hell, that they groan unutterably under their Burthen; yea, all Creatures, the whole Creation groaneth, travaileth, and is in pain together untill now: and that moſt principally upon the very Account of this firſt Sin of Adam; it muſt needs be therefore, this being ſo high an Affront to the Divine Majeſty, and ſo directly deſtructive to the Work of his Hands; and the aim of the Devil moſt principally alſo at the moſt excellent of his Creation, (for Man was created in God's own Image,) that he ſhould hereat be ſo highly offended, had they not ſinned at all before, to bind them over for this very Fact to the Pains of the eternal Judgment of God. Rom 8, 22.

And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy ſeed and her ſeed; it ſhall bruiſe thy head, and thou ſhalt bruiſe his heel.

The woman may, in this Place, be taken either really or figuratively; if really and naturally, then the Threatning is alſo true, as to the very Natures of the Creatures here under conſideration, to wit, the Serpent and the Woman, and ſo all that come of humane Race; for we find that ſo great an Antipathy is between all ſuch deadly Beaſts, as Serpents, and humane Creatures, that they abiding in their own Natures, it is not poſſible they ſhould ever be reconciled: I will put enmity: I will put it. This Enmity then was not infuſed in Creation, but afterwards, and that as a Puniſhment for the Abuſe of the Subtilty of the Serpent; for before the Fall, and before the Serpent was aſſumed by the fallen Angels, they were, being God's Creatures, good, as the reſt in their Kind; neither was there any jarring or Violence put between them; but after the Serpent was become the Devil's Vizor, then was an Enmity begot between them.

I will put enmity between thee and the ſerpent. If by Woman, we here underſtand the Church, (but then we muſt underſtand the Devil, not the natural Serpent ſimply,) then alſo the Threatning is moſt true; for between the Church of God, and the Devil, from the Beginning of the World, hath been maintained moſt mighty Wars and Conflicts, to which there is not a like in all the Blood-ſhed on the Earth. Yea, here there cannot be a Reconciliation, (the Enmity is ſtill maintained by God:) The reaſon is, becauſe their natural Diſpoſitions and Inclinations, together with their Ends and Purpoſes, are moſt repugnant each to other, even full as much as Good and Evil, Righteouſneſs and Sin, God's Glory and an Endeavour after his utter Extirpation.

Indeed, Satan hath tried many ways to be at Amity with the Church; not becauſe he loves her Holineſs, but becauſe he hates her Welfare, (wherefore ſuch Amity muſt only be diſſembled,) and that he might bring about his Enterprize, he ſometimes hath allured with the dainty Delicates of this World, the Luſts of the Fleſh, of the Eyes, and the Pride of Life: This being fruitleſs, he hath attempted to entangle and bewitch her with his glorious Appearance, as an Angel of Light; and to that End hath made his Miniſters as the Miniſters of Righteouſneſs, preaching up Righteouſneſs, and contending for a divine and holy Worſhip; but this failing alſo, he hath taken in hand at length to fright her into Friendſhip with him, by ſtirring up the helliſh Rage of Tyrants to threaten and moleſt her; by finding out ſtrange Inventions to torment and afflict her Children; by making many bloody Examples of her own Bowels, before her Eyes, if by that means he might at laſt obtain his purpoſe: But behold! all hath been in vain, there can be no Reconciliation. And why, but becauſe God himſelf maintains the Enmity? 2 Cor. 11, 12, 13, 14.

And this is the Reaſon why the Endeavours of all the Princes and Potentates of the Earth, that have through Ignorance or Malice managed his Deſign againſt the Church, have fallen to the Ground, and been of none Effect.

God hath maintained the Enmity: Doubtleſs the mighty Wonder, that their Laws cannot be obeyed; I mean their Laws and Statutes, which by the Suggeſtion of the Prince of this World they have made againſt the Church: But if they underſtood but this one Sentence, they might a little perceive the Reaſon. God hath put Enmity between the Devil and the Woman; between that old Serpent called, the Devil and Satan, and the holy, and beloved, and eſpouſed Wife of Chriſt.

I will put Enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy ſeed and her ſeed. The Seeds here, are the Children of both, but that of the Woman, eſpecially Chriſt: God ſent forth his Son made of a Woman. Whether you take it literally or figuratively; for in a Myſtery the Church is the Mother of Jeſus Chriſt, though naturally, or according to his Fleſh, he was born of the Virgin Mary, and proceeded from her Womb: But take it either way, the Enmity hath been maintained, and moſt mightily did ſhew itſelf againſt the whole Kingdom of the Devil, and Death, and Hell, by the Undertaking, Engaging, and War which the Son of God did maintain againſt them, from his Conception, to his Death and Exaltation to the right Hand of the Father, as is propheſied of, and promiſed in the Text, It ſhall bruiſe thy head. Gal. 3. 16. Chap. 4. 4.

He ſhall bruiſe thy head. By Head, we are to underſtand the whole Power, Subtilty, and deſtroying Nature of the Devil; for as in the Head of the Serpent lieth his Power, Subtilty, and poiſonous Nature; ſo in Sin, Death, Hell, and the Wiſdom of the Fleſh, lieth the very Strength of the Devil himſelf. Take away Sin then, and Death is not hurtful: The ſting of death is ſin: And take away the condemning Power of the Law, and Sin doth ceaſe to be charged, or to have any more hurt in it, ſo as

1 Cor 15. 55,56,57. to deſtroy the Soul: The ſtrength of Sin is the Law: Wherefore the Seed, Jeſus Chriſt, in his bruiſing the Head of the Serpent, muſt take away Sin, aboliſh Death, and conquer the Power of the Grave. But how muſt this be done? Why, he muſt remove the Curſe, which makes Sin intolerable, and Death deſtructive. But how muſt he take away the Curſe? Why, by taking upon him Fleſh, as we; by being made under the Law, as we; by being made to be Sin for us, and by being made a Curſe for us: He ſtanding therefore in our room, under the Law and the Juſtice of God, did both bear, and overcome the Curſe, and ſo did bruiſe the Power of the Devil.

Joh. 1. 14. Gal. 4. 4, 5. 2 Cor. 5. 21. Gal. 3. 10, 11, 12, 13.

He ſhall bruiſe thy Head. To bruiſe is more than to break; he ſhall quaſh thy Head to Death; ſo he alſo quaſhed the Heel of Chriſt; which would, had not his eternal Power and Godhead ſuſtained, have cauſed that he had periſhed for ever.

And thou ſhalt bruiſe his Heel. By theſe Words, a Neceſſity was laid upon Jeſus Chriſt to aſſume our Fleſh, to engage the Devil therein; and alſo becauſe of the Curſe that was due to us for Sin, that he might indeed deliver us therefrom; even for a while to fall before this Curſe, and to die that Death that the Curſe inflicteth: Chriſt hath redeemed us from the Curſe of the law, being made a curſe for us. Thus therefore did Satan, that is, by the Fruits and Effects of Sin, bruiſe, or kill, the Fleſh of Chriſt: But he being God, as the Father, it was not poſſible he ſhould be overcome. Therefore his Head remaineth untouch'd. A Man's Life lieth not in his Heel, but in his Head and Heart; but the Godhead being the Head and Heart of the Manhood, it was not poſſible Satan ſhould meddle with that; he only could bruiſe his Heel; which yet by the Power of the Godhead of this eternal Son of the Father, was raiſed up again from the Dead: He was delivered for our Offences, and was raiſed again for our Juſtification.

In theſe Words therefore the Lord God gave Adam a Promiſe, That notwithſtanding Satan had ſo far brought his Deſign to paſs, as to cauſe them by falling from the Command, to lay themſelves open to the Juſtice and Wrath of God; yet his Enterpriſe by Grace, ſhould be made of none effect. As if the Lord had ſaid, "Adam, thou ſeeſt how the Devil hath overcome thee; how he, by thy conſenting to his Temptation, hath made thee a Subject of Death and Hell: but though he hath by this Means made thee a Spectacle of Miſery, even an Heir of Death and Damnation: yet I am God, and thy Sins have been againſt me: Now becauſe I have Grace and Mercy, I will therefore deſign thy Recovery. But how ſhall I bring it to paſs? Why I will give my Son out of my Boſom, who ſhall in your room, and in your Nature encounter this Adverſary, and overcome him. But how? Why, by fulfilling my Law, and by anſwering the Penalties thereof: He ſhall bring in a righteouſneſs which ſhall be everlaſting, by which I will juſtifie you from Sin, and the Curſe of God due thereto: But this Work will make him ſmart, he muſt be made a Man of Sorrows, for upon him will I lay your Iniquities; Satan ſhall bruiſe his Heel.

Iſa. 53.

Unto the woman, he ſaid, I will greatly multiply thy ſorrow, and thy conception; in ſorrow ſhalt thou bring forth children; and thy deſire ſhall be unto thy husband, and he ſhall rule over thee.

I will greatly multiply thy ſorrow, &c. This is true, whether you reſpect the Woman according to the Letter of the Text, or as ſhe was a Figure of the Church; for in both Senſes their Sorrows for Sin are great, and multiplied upon them: The whole Heap of the Female Sex know the firſt, the Church only knows the ſecond.

In ſorrow ſhalt thou bring forth Children. The more fruitful, the more afflicted is the Church in this World; becauſe the Rage of Hell, and the Enmity of the World, are by her Righteouſneſs ſet on fire ſo much the more.

But again: Foraſmuch as the Promiſe is made before this Judgment of God for Sin is threatned, we muſt count theſe Afflictions not as coming from the Hand of God in a way of Vengeance, for want of Satisfaction for the Breach of the Law; but to ſhew and keep us in mind of his Holineſs, that henceforth we ſhould not, as at firſt through Ignorance, ſo now from Notions of Grace and Mercy preſume to continue in Sin.

I might add, That by theſe Words it is manifeſt, that a Promiſe of Mercy and Forgiveneſs of Sin, and great Afflictions and Rebukes for the ſame, may and ſhall attend the ſame Soul: I will greatly multiply thy ſorrows, comes after the Promiſe of Grace.

And thy deſire ſhall be to thy Husband, and he ſhall rule over thee. Doubtleſs the Woman was, in her firſt Creation, made in Subordination to her Husband, and ought to have been under Obedience to him: Wherefore, ſtill that had remained a Duty, had they never tranſgreſſed the Commandment of God; but obſerve, the Duty is here again not only enjoyned, and impoſed, but that as the Fruit of the Woman's ſin; wherefore, that Duty that before ſhe might do as her natural Right by Creation, ſhe muſt now do as the Fruits of her Diſobedience to God. Women therefore, when-ever they would perk it and lord it over their Huſbands, ought to remember, that both by Creation and Tranſgreſſion they are made to be in Subjection to their own Husbands. This concluſion makes Paul himſelf: Let (ſaith he) the woman learn in ſilence, with all ſubjection; but I ſuffer not a woman to teach, nor to uſurp authority over the man, but

but to be in ſilence; for Adam was firſt formed, then Eve; and Adam was not deceived, but the woman being deceived, was in the tranſgreſſion.

And unto Adam, he ſaid, Becauſe thou haſt hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and haſt eaten of the tree of which I commanded thee, ſaying, Thou ſhalt not eat of it: Curſed is the ground for thy ſake, in ſorrow ſhalt thou eat of it all thy days.

God having laid his Cenſure upon the Woman, he now proceedeth and cometh to her Husband, and alſo layeth his Judgment on him: The Judgment is, Curſed be the ground for thy ſake, and in ſorrow thou ſhalt eat thereof. The cauſes of this Judgment are, Firſt, For that he hearkened to his Wife: And alſo, For that he had Eaten of the Tree.

1. Becauſe thou haſt hearkened to thy Wife. Why? Becauſe therein he left his Station and Headſhip, the Condition which God had appointed him, and gave way to his Wife to aſſume it, contrary to the Order of Creation, of her Relation and of her Sex; for God had made Adam Lord and Chief, who ought to have taught his Wife, and not to have become her Scholar.

Hence note, That the Man that ſuffereth his Wife to take his Place, hath already tranſgreſſed the Order of God.

Becauſe thou haſt hearkened to the voice, &c. Wicked Women, ſuch as Eve was now, if hearkened unto, are the Snares of Death to their Husbands; for becauſe they are weaker built, and becauſe the Devil doth eaſier faſten with them than with Men, therefore they are more prone to Vanity, and all Miſ-orders in the Matters of God than they; and ſo, if hearkned unto, more dangerous upon many Accounts: Did not Solomon, King of Iſrael, ſin by theſe things? yet among many Nations was there no King like him, who was beloved of his God; nevertheleſs, even him did outlandiſh, wicked women, cauſe to ſin. But there was none like unto Ahab, which did ſell himſelf to work wickedneſs in the ſight of the Lord, whom Jezebel his wife ſtirred up.

1 King. 21. 25.

Hence note further, That if it be thus dangerous for a Man to hearken to a wicked Wife, how dangerous is it for any to hearken to wicked Whores, who will ſeldom yield up themſelves to the Luſts of beaſtly Men, but on Condition they will anſwer their ungodly Purpoſes! What Miſchief by theſe things hath come upon Souls, Countreys and Kingdoms, will here be too tedious to relate.

Becauſe thou haſt hearkened to the voice of thy Wife, and haſt eaten of the Tree. That is, From the Hand of thy Wife; for it was ſhe that gave him to eat: Therefore, &c. Although the Scripture doth lay a great Blot upon Women, and cautioneth Man to beware of theſe fantaſtical and unſtable Spirits, yet it limiteth Man in his Cenſure: She is only then to be rejected and rebuked, when ſhe doth things unworthy her Place and Calling. Such a thing may happen, as that the Woman, not the Man, may be in the right (I mean, when both are godly,) but ordinarily it is otherwiſe: Therefore the Concluſion is, Let God's Word judge between the Man and his Wife, as it ought to have done betwen Adam and his, and neither of both will do amiſs; but contrariwiſe, they will walk in all the Commandments of God without fault.

Luke 1. 6.

Therefore curſed be the ground for thy ſake. Behold what Arguments are thruſt into every Corner, thereby to make Man remember his Sin; for all the Toil of Man, all the Barrenneſs of the Ground, and all the Fruitleſneſs after all; What is it but the Fruits of Sin? Let not us then find fault with the Weed, with the Hotneſs, Coldneſs, or Barrenneſs of the Soil; but by ſeeing theſe things, remember our Sin, Curſed be the Ground for thy ſake; for this God makes our Heaven as Iron, and our Earth as Braſs: The Lord ſhall make the rain of thy land powder and duſt; from heaven ſhall it come down upon thee, untill thou be deſtroyed.

Levit. 26. 19, 20.

Deut. 28. 20, 21, 22, 23, 24.

In ſorrow ſhalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life. He then is much deceived, who thinks to fill his Body with the Delicates of this World, and not therewith to drink the cruel Venom of Aſps: Yea, He ſhall ſuck the poiſon of Aſps, the Vipers tongue ſhall ſlay him. The Reaſon is, becauſe he that ſhall give up himſelf to the Luſts and Pleaſures of this Life, he contracts Guilt, becauſe he hath ſinned; which Guilt will curdle all his Pleaſures, and make the ſweeteſt of them deadly as Poyſon.

Iſa. 7.

Job 20. 15, 16, 17.

Job. 2

In ſorrow ſhalt thou eat. Even thou that haſt received the Promiſe of Forgiveneſs: How then can they do it with Pleaſure, who eat, and forget the Lord?

Prov. 3. 9.

Again; Let not the Sorrows, Croſſes, and Afflictions, that attend the godly in the Things of this Life, weaken their Faith in the Promiſe of Grace, and Forgiveneſs of Sins; for ſuch things may befal the dareſt Chriſtian.

Heb. 21.

Thorns alſo and thiſtles ſhall it bring forth unto thee, and thou ſhalt eat the herb of the field.

This ſhews us (as I alſo hinted before) That the Thorns and Thiſtles of the Ground, are but as the Excrements thereof; and the Fruits of Sin, and the Curſe for Sin. This World, as it dropt from the Fingers of God, was far more glorious than it is now: Now it is loaden with a Burden of Corruption, Thorns, Thiſtles, and other Annoyances, which Adam knew none of in the Days of his Innocence. None therefore ever ſaw this World as it was in its firſt Creation, but only Adam and his Wife; neither ſhall any ever ſee it, until the Manifeſtation of the Children of God; that is, until the Redemption or Reſurrection of the Saints: But

Rom. 8. 21, 22, 23. then it ſhall be delivered from the bondage of corruption, into the glorious liberty of the children of God.

And thou ſhalt eat the herb of the field. Theſe Words are for his Comfort, under all the Sorrow Sin ſhould bring upon him, Thou ſhalt eat the herb: The Herb was a Type of the Goſpel-Comforts which the Rev. 7. 3. deſtroying Angels were forbidden to ſmite: Of theſe medicinal and healing Herbs therefore Adam and his Seed are admitted to eat, that their Soul may be repleniſhed in the Midſt of their Sorrow.

In the ſweat of thy face ſhalt thou eat Bread, till thou return unto the ground; for out of it waſt thou taken: for duſt thou art, and unto duſt ſhalt thou return.

In the ſweat of thy face. This is true, whether literally or allegorically underſtood: For as touching the things that pertain to this Life, as they become not ours without Toil and Labour; ſo the ſpiritual Comforts of the Kingdom of Heaven are not obtained without Travel and Sweat: Labour (ſaith Chriſt) for the bread and meat which endureth to everlaſting life.

In the ſweat of thy face. Thoſe that make Conſcience of walking in the commandments of God, they ſhall be bleſs'd with the Bread of Life, when others ſhall be hunger-bit. That may alſo be myſti- Iſa. 7. 25. cally applied, On all hills that ſhall be digged with a Mattock, there ſhall not come thither the fear of briars and thorns; but it ſhall be for the ſending forth of Oxen, and for the treading of leſſer cattle. The Meaning is, Where People are diligent according to the Word of God, eſpecially in ſpiritual and heavenly things, they ſhall be fat and flouriſhing, though Sorrow be mixed there- Job. 22. 29 with: When men ſhall ſay, There is caſting down: Then thou ſhalt ſay, There is lifting up; and he ſhall ſave the humble perſon.

'Till thou return to the ground. A Chriſtian ſhould not leave off ſweating Labour ſo long as he is above the Ground; even until he returneth thither, he ought to be Heb. 11. 21. diligent in the Way and Worſhip of God. Jacob, when ſick, would worſhip God, tho' ſo weak as not able to do it, without leaning upon the top of his ſtaff: A bleſſed Example for the Diligent, and Reproof for thoſe that are Slothful.

For out of it waſt thou taken. That is, out of the Ground. Behold how the Lord doth mix his Doctrine! Now he tells him of his Sin, then he promiſeth to give him a Saviour; then again he ſhews him the Fruits of his Sin, and immediately after the Comforts of the Promiſe; yet again, he would have him remember that he is but a mortal Creature, not to live here for ever; neither made of Silver nor Gold, but even of a Clod of Duſt: For duſt thou art. Obſerve therefore, that in the midſt of all our Enjoyments, God would have us conſider our Frame, that we may know how frail we are.

For out of it waſt thou taken. It is hard for us to believe it, though we daily ſee it is the way even of all the Earth, to return thither again: For Duſt thou art, and to Duſt thou ſhalt return.

Whether this was ſpoken to Adam, as a Judgment, or a Mercy, or both, is not hard to determine, (this firſt premiſed, that Adam had received the Promiſe;) for as it was the Fruit of Sin, ſo a Judgment and a Token of God's Diſpleaſure; for Rom. 6. 23. the wages of Sin is Death: But as it is made by the Wiſdom of God, a Prevention of further Wickedneſs, and a Conveyance through Faith in Chriſt, to a more perfect Enjoyment of God in the Heavens; ſo it is a Mercy and Bleſſing of God; for Eccleſ. 4. 2. thus to die is gain. Wherefore thus we may praiſe the Dead, that are already 2 Cor. 5. 6, 7, 8. dead, more than the Living, which are yet alive. This made Paul deſire to depart; for he knew that through Death was the way to have more perfect Sight of, and more cloſe and higher Communion with the Father, and the Son, and the Spirit in the Heavens: I have a deſire to depart, Phil. 1. 21, and be with Chriſt, which is far better. 22, 23. Thus therefore thoſe Things that in their Jer. 24. 5. own Nature are the proper Fruits and Rom. 8. wages of ſin, may yet through the Wiſdom 28. of God be turned about for our Good; but let not this embolden to ſin; but rather miniſter occaſion to us to magnify the Wiſdom of God.

And Adam called his wife's name Eve, becauſe ſhe was the mother of all living.

By this Act Adam returneth to his firſt Station and Authority in which God had placed him, from which he fell when he became a Scholar to his Wife; for to name the Creatures, was in Adam a Note of Sovereignty and Power: This he attained to, as an Effect of his receiving the Promiſe; for before the Promiſe is received, Man cannot ſerve God in his Station, becauſe as he wanteth the Power of Will, ſo alſo a good Underſtanding; but when he hath received the Promiſe, he hath alſo received the Holy Ghoſt, which giveth to the godly to know and do his Duty in his Station: 1 Cor. 2. The ſpiritual man diſcerneth, and ſo judgeth 15. all things; but he is not diſcerned nor judged of any.

And he called his Wives Name Eve, or Hevah: Becauſe ſhe gave life to, or was the firſt Mother of all Mankind. This then admits of two Poſitions. Firſt, That the World was Created when Adam was Created. And, Secondly, That there was none of the Sons of Men in the World before Adam, as ſome have not only vainly, but irreligiouſly and blaſphemouſly ſuggeſted. Eve is the mother of all living: Not a Man therefore that is the Son of Man, but had his Being ſince the Woman was made.

Unto Adam alſo, and to his wife, did the Lord God make coats of ſkins, and cloathed them.

By this Action the Lord God did preach to Adam, and to his Wife, the Meaning of that Promiſe that you read of in ver. 15. Namely, That by the Means of Jeſus Chriſt, God himſelf would provide a ſufficient Cloathing for thoſe that accept of his Grace by the Goſpel: The Coats here, being a Type of that bleſſed and durable Righteouſneſs.

The Lord God made the Coats. Not Adam now, becauſe now he is received into a Covenant of Grace with God: Indeed before he entered into this Covenant, he made his own Cloathing, ſuch as it was,
Iſa. 54. 17 but that could not cover his Nakedneſs; but now the Lord will make them: And unto Adam alſo, and to his wife, did the Lord God make coats: Their righteouſneſs is of me, ſaith the Lord: Of me; that is, of my pro-
Jer. 23. 6. viding, of my performing. And this is the name whereby he ſhall be called, The Lord our Righteouſneſs.

He made them Coats, and cloathed them. As the Righteouſneſs by which a Sinner ſtands Juſt in the Sight of God from the Curſe, is a Righteouſneſs of God's providing; ſo alſo it is of his putting on. No Man can put on the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt, otherwiſe than by God's Imputation: if God reckon it ours, then it is ours indeed; but if he refuſeth to ſhew that Mercy, who can impute that Righteouſneſs to Men? Bleſſed are they to whom the Lord
Rom. 4. 6. imputeth righteouſneſs: Curſed then muſt they needs be to whom God hath not imputed the Righteouſneſs of his Son. The Lord cloathed them, according to that of Paul, Chriſt is made unto us of God wiſdom
1 Cor. 1. 30. and righteouſneſs, &c. And of that God who hath made him thus to us, even of him are we in Chriſt Jeſus.

Did the Lord God make Coats of Skins. The Coats were made of the Skins of Beaſts, of the Skins of the Slain, which were ſlain either for Food only, or for Sacrifice alſo: This being ſo, the Effects of that Promiſe mention'd before were by this Action the more clearly expounded unto Adam; to wit, That Chriſt, in the fulneſs of time, ſhould be born of a Woman cloathed with fleſh; and as ſo conſidered, ſhould be made a Curſe, and ſo die that curſed Death which by Sin we had brought upon ourſelves; the
Dan. 9. 24. 25. Effects and Fruits of which ſhould to us be durable Cloathing; that is, Everlaſting Righteouſneſs.

And the Lord God ſaid, Behold, the man is become like one of us, to know good and evil! and now therefore leſt he put forth his hand and take alſo of the Tree of Life, and eat, and live for ever; therefore the Lord God ſent him forth from the garden of Eden, to till the ground from whence he was taken.

Behold the Man is become like one of us! Theſe words reſpect the Temptation of the Devil; the Argument that prevailed with Adam; and the Fruits of their conſenting: And therefore I underſtand them as ſpoken ironically, or in Deriſion to Adam. As if God had ſaid, "Now Adam, you ſee what "a God you are become: The Serpent told "You ſhould be as Gods, as one that was "infinite in Wiſdom: But behold, your "Godhead is horrible Wickedneſs, even "Pollution of Body and Soul by Sin: A "thing you little thought of, when you "pleaſed your ſelf with the Thought of "that high Attainment; and now if you be "not prevented, you will proceed from "Evil to Evil; for notwithſtanding I have "made Promiſe of ſending a Saviour, you "will, through the Pollution of your Mind, "forget and ſet at nought my Promiſe; "and ſeek Life and Salvation by that Tree "of Life which was never intended for the "Juſtification of Sinners; therefore I will "turn you out of the Garden, to Till the "Ground whence thou waſt taken.

1. Hence obſerve, That it often falls out, after the promiſed Bleſſing is come, that God yet maketh us to poſſeſs our former Sins; not that the Guilt thereof might be charged to Condemnation, but that remembring of them, we might bluſh before God, and be the more effectually driven to a continual embracing of the Mercy promiſed.

2. Obſerve again, That as God would have us to remember our former Sins, ſo he would not that we ſhould feed upon ought but the very Mercy promiſed. We muſt not reſt in Shadowiſh Sacraments, as the typical Tree of Life, but muſt remember 'tis our Duty to live by Faith in the promiſed Seed.

3. Obſerve alſo, That even our outward and temporal Employments, if they be lawful and honeſt, are ſo ordered of God, as that we may gather ſome heavenly Myſtery from them: To Till the Ground from whence he was taken: Myſteriouſly intimating Two things to Adam. 1. That ſeeing he was of the Earth, he ſtood in as much need to be ordered and dreſſed by God, in order to his future Happineſs; as the Ground, in order to its Thrift and Fruitfulneſs. 2. Again, Seeing he was taken from the Ground, he is neither God, nor Angel, but a poor Earthen Veſſel, ſuch as God can eaſily knock in pieces, and cauſe to return to the Ground again. Theſe things therefore Adam was to learn from his Calling, that he might neither think too highly of himſelf, nor forget to live by Faith, and depending on the Lord God, to be bleſſed of him.

So he drove out the man, and he placed at the Eaſt of the Garden of Eden, Cherubims, and a flaming Sword, which turned every way, to keep the way of the Tree of Life.

So he drove out the man. Adam was loth to forſake this Garden of Eden, becauſe there was the Tree of Life. The Promiſe will hardly ſatisfie, where Faith is weak and low: Had this Man with great Faith received and retained the Goſpel preached before, he he would not have so hankered after a Shadow; but the Conscience being awakened, and Faith low and weak there, because Faith wants the Flower or Bloom of Assurance, the Ceremonial or Moral Law doth with ease ingender Bondage.

And he placed at the East of the Garden of Eden, Cherubims, and a flaming Sword. This shews the Truth of what I said before; to wit, That Adam was loth to forsake the Garden, loth to forsake his doing of something; but God sets a shaking Sword against him, a Sword to keep that way, or to prevent that Adam should have Life by Eating of the Tree of Life.

Object. This Tree of Life, though lawful for Adam to feed on before he had transgressed, yet now is wholly forbidden him; intimating, that that which would have nourished him before he brake the Law, will now avail him nothing as to Life before the Justice of God: the Tree of Life might have maintained his Life before he sinned; but having done that, he hath no ways now but to live by Faith in the Promise; which that he might effectually do, God takes from him the Use of all other things, he driveth him out of the Garden, and sets to keep him from the Tree of Life, Cherubims, and a Flaming Sword.

And he placed at the East of the Garden Cherubims, and a flaming Sword. These Cherubims are one sort of the Angels of God, at this time made Ministers of Justice, shaking the Flaming Sword of God's Severity against Adam for his Sin, threatning to cut him off thereby, if he ever return by the Way that he went.

Acts 7. 53. We read also, that the Law was delivered to Israel from Sinai, by the Hand and Disposition of Angels; the Gospel only, by the Son himself. Heb. 11. 1.

To keep the way. Hence the Apostle implicitly concludes it a way, that is, to Death and Damnation; by opposing another against it, even the new and living one; a new, not this the old; a living one, not this the dead one; for, for that the Cherubims are here placed with a flaming, shaking Sword, to keep the Tree of Life, it is evident that Death is threatned to him that shall at any time attempt to come at, or that seeks for life that Way. Heb. 10. 20.

A flaming Sword, turning every way to keep, &c. This still shews us, that Man, though he hath already received the Promise, is yet exceeding prone to seek Life by another Way than Free-Grace by Jesus Christ; to wit, either by the Law he hath broken, or by the Law and Christ together; and so though not directly, yet as it were by the works of the Law. But all is to no purpose, they are every way prevented: For, forsake the Simplicity of the Promise in the Gospel, and thou shalt meet with the Stroke of the Justice of God; for that Flaming Sword of his Vengeance, it turneth every way, and therefore will in every way lay Wrath upon thee, if thou seek Life by ought but Christ. Rom. 9. 23.

CHAP. IV.

AND Adam knew Eve his wife, and she conceived and bare Cain, and said, I have gotten a man from the Lord. Ver. 1.

Now we are come to the Generation of Mankind. Adam knew his wife: A modest Expression; and it should teach us, in all such Matters where things are discoursed of, that are either the Fruits of Sin, or the proper Effects of Man's natural Infirmities, there to endeavour the use of such Expressions, as neither to provoke to Lust, nor infect us with evil and uncivil Communication. Adam knew his wife; Jacob, Samson, David, and others, are said to go in unto them. So as to our natural Infirmities of the Stool, the Scripture Expression is, When thou goest abroad to ease thyself, thou shalt turn again and cover that which cometh from thee: Modest and bashful Expressions, and such as become the godly, being those that are furthest off of occasioning Evil, and nearest to an Intimation, that such Infirmities bespeak us infirm and imperfect Creatures. Deut. 23. 13.

And she conceived and bare Cain. The first Sprout of a disobedient Couple, a Man in Shape, but a Devil in Conditions. This is he that is called elsewhere, The Child of that wicked one. 1 Joh. 3. 12.

And she said, I have gotten a man from the Lord. If Eve by these words did only ascribe the Blessing of Children to be the Gift of God, then she spake like a godly Woman; but if she supposed that this Man Cain was indeed the Seed promised, then it shews, that she in this was also deceived, and was therein a Figure of all such as make false and strange Delusions, Signs of the Mercy of God towards them: The Man she thought she had got from the Lord as a Mercy, and to be a Saviour, he proved a Man of the Devil, a Curse, and to be a Destroyer.

And she again bare his brother Abel: And Abel was a Keeper of Sheep, but Cain was a Tiller of the Ground. Ver. 2.

Observe here, that the good Child is not the First-born, but Abel. God often doth as Jacob did, even cross hands, in bestowing Blessings, giving that which is best to him that is least esteemed: for Cain was the Man in Eve's Esteem; she thought, when she had him, she had got an Inheritance; but as for Abel, he was little worth; by his * Name they shewed how little they set by him. It is so with the Sincere to this Day; they bear not the Name of Glory with the world: Cain with them is the profitable Son; Abel is of no Credit with them, neither see they form or comeliness in him; 1 Cor. 1. 27, 28.

* Abel in Hebrew signifies Vanity.

him; he is the melancholy, or lowring Child, whoſe Countenance ſpoileth the Mirth of the World: The heart of the wiſe is in the houſe of mourning, but the heart of fools is in the houſe of mirth.

Eccles. 7. 4.

And Abel was a Keeper of Sheep, but Cain was a Tiller of the Ground. By this it ſeems yet further, that Cain was the Man in favour, even him that ſhould, by his Father's Intentions, have been Heir, and have enjoyed the Inheritance: He was nurtured up in his Father's Employment, but Abel was ſet in the lower Rank.

It was alſo thus with Iſaac and Jacob, Iſhmael and Eſau, being the eldeſt, and thoſe that by Intention were to be Heirs.

Now in the Inheritance lay, of old, a great Bleſſing: ſo that Eſau in loſing his Father's Inheritance, loſt alſo the Bleſſing of Grace, and moreover the Kingdom of Heaven. Wherefore Cain had by this the better of Abel, even as the Jews by their Privileges had the better of the Gentiles. But mark it, the Bleſſing of Grace is not led by outward Order, but by electing Love: Where the Perſon then is under the Bleſſing of Election, be he the Firſt or the Second Son, the Higheſt or loweſt in the Family, or whether he be more or leſs loved of his Friends, 'tis he that with Abel hath the Everlaſting Bleſſing.

Heb. 12. 16, 17.

Rom. 3. 1, 2.

And it came to paſs in proceſs of time, that Cain brought of the fruit of the Ground an Offering unto the Lord.

Ver. 3.

Mark here, That the Devil can ſuffer his Children, in outward Forms of Worſhip, to be godly and righteous Men: Cain, a Limb of the Devil, and yet the firſt in Order that preſents himſelf and his Service to God.

Cain brought of the Fruit of the Ground, as of Wheat, Oyl, Honey, or the like; which things were alſo clean and good. Hence it is intimated, that his Offering was excellent; and I conceive, not at all, as to the matter it ſelf, inferiour to that of Abel's; for in that it is ſaid that Abel's was more excellent, it is not with reſpect to the Excellency of the Matter or Things with which they ſacrificed, but with reſpect to Abel's Faith, which gave Glory and Acceptableneſs to his Offering with God, By faith he offered to God a more excellent ſacrifice than Cain.

Heb. 11. 4.

And Abel, he alſo brought of the firſtlings of his flock, and of the fat thereof, &c.

Ver. 4.

Abel, laſt in Appearance, but in truth the firſt in Grace; as it alſo is at this day: Who do ſo flutter it out as our ruffling Formal Worſhippers? Alas! the Good, the Sincere and Humble, they ſeem to be leaſt and laſt; but the Concluſion of the Tragedy will make manifeſt that the firſt is laſt, and the laſt firſt; for the many are but called, the few are choſen.

And the Lord had reſpect unto Abel, and to his offering. Herein are the true footſteps of Grace diſcovered; to wit, the Perſon muſt be the firſt in favour with God, the Perſon firſt, the Performance afterwards.

And the Lord had reſpect to Abel. But how can God reſpect a Man, before he reſpect his Offering? A man's gift (ſaith Solomon) makes way for him: It ſhould ſeem therefore that there lyes no ſuch ſtreſs in the order of Words, but that it might as well be read, The Lord had reſpect to Abel, becauſe he reſpected his Offering.

Anſw. Not ſo: For though it be true mong Men, that the Gift makes way for the Acceptance of the Perſon, yet in the order of Grace it is after another manner; for if the Perſon be not firſt accepted, the Offering muſt be abominable; for it is not a good Work that makes a good Man, but a good Man makes a good Work. The Fruit doth not make a good Tree, but a good Tree bringeth forth good Fruit. Make (ſaith Chriſt) the Tree good, and his Fruit good; or the Tree evil, and his Fruit evil: Do Men gather Grapes of Thorns, or Figs of Thiſtles? Had Abel been a Thorn, he had not brought forth Grapes; had he been a Thiſtle, he had not brought forth Figs: So then, Abel's Perſon muſt be firſt accepted, and after that his Works.

Mat. 7. 16, 17, 18, 19.

Object. But God accepteth no Man while he remains a Sinner, but all Men are Sinners before they do good Works, how then could the Perſon of Abel be accepted firſt?

Anſw. Abel was Juſt before he did offer Sacrifice: Juſt, I ſay, in the Sight of God. This God witneſſed by teſtifying of his Gift: By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent ſacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witneſs that he was righteous: That is, God, by accepting of the Gift of Abel, did teſtifie that Abel was a Righteous Man; for we know God heareth not Sinners: The Prayers of the wicked are an abomination unto God: But Abel was accepted, therefore he was righteous firſt.

Hence obſerve, That a Man muſt be Righteous before he can do any good Work.

Queſt. Righteous! With what Righteouſneſs?

Anſw. With the Righteouſneſs of Faith: And therefore it is ſaid, that Abel had Faith before he offered Sacrifice: By Faith he offered: where Faith is made to precede or go before the Work which by Faith he offered unto God.

Heb. 11. 4.

Queſt. But are not good Works the Righteouſneſs of Faith?

Anſw. They are the Fruits of Faith: As here in the Caſe of Abel; his Faith produced an Offering; but before he gave his Offering, his Faith had made him Righteous; for Faith reſpects a Promiſe of Grace, not a Work of mine: Now the Promiſe of Grace, being this, That the Seed of the Woman, which is Chriſt, ſhould deſtroy the power of the Devil; by this Abel ſaw that it was Chriſt that that ſhould aboliſh Sin and Death by himſelf, and bring in everlaſting righteouſneſs for Sinners. Thus Believing, he had accepted of Chriſt for Righteouſneſs, which becauſe he had done, God in truth proclaims him Righteous, by accepting of his Perſon and Performances when offered.

Abel then preſented his Perſon and Offering, as ſhrouding both by Faith under the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt, which lay wrapped up in the Promiſe; but Cain ſtands upon his own Legs, and ſo preſents his Offering. Abel therefore is accepted, both his Perſon and his Offering, while Cain remains accurſed.

Ver. 5. But unto Cain, and to his Offering, the Lord had not reſpect: and Cain was very wroth, and his countenance fell.

Mark: As firſt Abel's Perſon is accepted, and then his Offering; ſo firſt Cain's Perſon is rejected, and afterwards his Offering: For God ſeeth not Sin in his own Inſtitutions, unleſs they be defiled by them that worſhip him; and that they needs muſt, when Perſons by themſelves offer Sacrifice to God, becauſe then they want the Righteouſneſs of Faith.

This then made the difference betwixt Abel and his Brother; Abel had Faith, but Cain had none. Abel's Faith covered him with Jeſus Chriſt, therefore he ſtood righteous in his Perſon before God: This being ſo, his Offering was accepted, becauſe it was the Offering of one that was righteous.

But unto Cain, and to his Offering, the Lord had not reſpect. Hence note, That a Chriſtleſs Man is a wicked Man, let him be never ſo full of Actions that be righteous; for righteous Actions make not a righteous Man, the Man himſelf muſt firſt be righteous.

Wherefore, though Cain was the Eldeſt, and firſt in the Worſhip; yet Abel was the Wiſeſt, and the moſt acceptable therein.

And Cain was wroth, and his countenance fell. From theſe words it may be gathered, that Cain had ſome evident Token from the Obſervation of God's Carriage towards both himſelf and Brother; that his Brother was ſmiled upon, but he rejected: He was wroth: wroth with God, and wroth with his Brother. And indeed, before the World hate us, they muſt needs hate Jeſus Chriſt: It hated me (ſaith he) before it hated you. He was wroth: And why? Wroth becauſe his Sacrifice was not accepted of God: And yet the fault was not in the Lord, but Cain: He came not before the Lord, as already made righteous with the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt, which indeed had been doing well, but as a curſed wicked Wretch, he thought that by his own good Works he muſt be Juſt before the Lord.

The difference therefore that was betweene theſe Worſhippers, it lay not in that they worſhipped divers Gods, but in that they worſhipped the ſame God after a diverſe manner: The one in Faith, the other without; the one as righteous, the other as wicked.

And even thus it is between us and our Adverſaries: We worſhip not divers Gods, but the ſame God in a diverſe manner: We according to Faith; and They according to their own Inventions.

And Cain was wroth. This further ſhews us the Force of the Law, and the End of thoſe that would be Juſt by the ſame; namely, That in concluſion they will quarrel with God; for when the Soul in its beſt Performances, and Acts of Righteouſneſs, ſhall yet be rejected and caſt off by God, it will fret and wrangle, and in its ſpirit let fly againſt God: for thus it judgeth, That God is auſtere and exacting; it hath done what it could to pleaſe him, and he is not pleaſed therewith. This again offendeth God, and makes his Juſtice Curſe and Condemn the Soul: Condemn it, I ſay, for imagining that the Righteouſneſs of a poor, ſinful, wretched Creature, ſhould be ſufficient to appeaſe Eternal Juſtice for Sin. Thus the Law worketh Wrath, becauſe it always bindeth our Tranſgreſſion to us, and ſtill reckoneth us Sinners, and Accurſed, when we have done our utmoſt to anſwer and fulfil it. Rom. 4. 15

And his countenance fell. However, an Hypocrite, while God forbeareth to ſmite him, may triumph and joy in his Goodneſs; yet when God ſhall pronounce his Judgment according as he approves of his Act, he needs muſt lowre and fall in his Countenance; for his Perſon and Gift are rejected, and he ſtill counted a Sinner.

And the Lord God ſaid unto Cain, Why art thou wroth? and why is thy countenance fallen? Ver. 6.

Theſe words are applied to Cain, for a further Conviction of his State to be miſerable. Why art thou wroth? Is it becauſe I have not accepted thy Offering? This is without Ground, thy Perſon is yet an Abomination to me: Muſt I be made by thy Gift, which is polluted for, and by thy Perſon, to juſtify thee as righteous? Thou haſt not yet done well. Wherefore, Cain had no Cauſe to be wroth; for God rejected only that which was ſinful, as was both his Perſon and Gift for the ſake thereof: Neither had he Grounds to lift up his Looks on high, when he came to offer his Sacrifice; becauſe he came not as a Man in a juſtify'd State. But there is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet are not waſhed from their iniquities. There is a generation, O how lofty are their eyes! and their eye-lids are lifted up. Such an one, or the Father of theſe, was Cain; he counted himſelf clean, and yet was not waſhed; he lifted up his Looks on high, before he was changed from his iniquity. Prov. 30. 12, 13.

If thou do well, ſhalt thou not be accepted? and if thou doſt not well, Sin lieth at the door: And unto thee ſhall be his deſire, and thou Ver. 7.

If thou do well: Why, is not worſhipping of God, well-doing? It may, and may not, even as the Perſon that worſhips is found: If he be found righteous at his coming to worſhip, and if he worſhip according to Rule, then he does well, then he is accepted of God; but if he be not found righteous before, be you ſure he cannot do well, let the Matter with which he worſhippeth be wrong or right. Can a man bring a Job 14.4. clean thing out of an unclean? Let Cain be clean, and his Offering will be clean, becauſe brought to God in a Veſſel that is clean; but if Cain be unclean, all the holy things he toucheth, or layeth up in his Skirt, it is made unclean by the Uncleanneſs of Hag. 2. 11,12,13, 14. his Perſon: And ſo is this Nation before me, ſaith God, and ſo is every work of their hands, and that which they offer there is unclean.

Men therefore ought to diſtinguiſh between doing and well-doing, even in the Worſhip of God. All that worſhip do not do well, though the Matter of Worſhip be good in itſelf. Cain's Offering you find not blamed, as if it had been of a ſuperſtitious Complexion; but he came not aright to worſhip. Why? he came not as one made righteous before. Wherefore, as I have already touched, the Difference that lay between the Gifts of Abel and Cain, was not in the Gifts themſelves, but the Qualifications of the Perſons. Abel's Faith, and Cain's Works, made God approve and reject the Offering: By faith Abel offered to God a more excellent ſacrifice than Cain: For, as I ſaid, Faith in Chriſt, as promiſed to come, made him Righteous, becauſe thereby he obtained the Righteouſneſs of God; for ſo was Chriſt in himſelf, and ſo to be to him that by Faith received and accepted of him: This, I ſay, Abel did; wherefore now he is righteous or juſt before God. This being ſo, his Offering is found to be an Offering of Abel the Juſt, and is here ſaid to obtain witneſs even of God, that he was righteous, becauſe he accepted his Gift.

Wherefore, he that does well muſt firſt be 1 Joh. 3.7 good: He that doth Righteouſneſs muſt firſt be righteous: He is righteous firſt; he is righteous even as Chriſt is righteous, becauſe himſelf is the Righteouſneſs of ſuch a Perſon. And ſo on the contrary; the Reaſon why ſome Men's good Deeds are accurſed of God, it is becauſe in truth, and according to the Law, the Lord finds Sin in them; which Sins he cannot pardon, becauſe he finds them not in Chriſt. Thus they being evil for want of the Righteouſneſs of the Son of God, they worſhip God as Sinners, according to that of the Apoſtle, Becauſe they are not good, therefore they do Rom. 3. 10,11,12. not good, no, not one of them.

The way therefore to do well, it is firſt to receive the Mercy of God in Chriſt; which Act of thine will be more pleaſing to the Divine Majeſty, than all whole Burnt-Offerings and Sacrifices: I will have Mercy (ſaith God) I will have mercy, and not ſacrifice. Mat. 9. 13. Chap. 12. 7. This Cain did not underſtand, therefore he goes to God in his Sins, and without Faith in the Mercy of God through Chriſt, he offereth his Sacrifice. Wherefore becauſe his Sacrifice could not take away his Sin, therefore it ſtill abode upon him.

But if thou do not well, ſin lieth at the door. This reaſoning therefore was much to Cain's Condition; he would be wroth, becauſe God did not accept his Offering, and yet he did not well: Now, if he had done well, God, by receiving of his Brother's Sacrifice, ſhews, he would have accepted him; for this is evident, they were both alike by Nature; their Offerings alſo were in themſelves one as holy as the other: How then comes it to paſs that both were not accepted, they both offered to God? Why, Abel only ſacrificed well, becauſe he firſt by Faith in Chriſt was righteous: This becauſe Cain wanted, ſin abideth at his door.

And to thee ſhall be his deſire, and thou ſhalt rule over him. That is, If ſin abideth at thy door ſtill, to thee ſhall be his deſire; he ſhall love, pity, pray for thee, and endeavour thy Converſion; but thou ſhalt be Lord over him, and ſhalt put thy Yoke upon his Neck. This was Jacob's Portion alſo; for after Eſau had got head, he broke Gen. 27. 40. Jacob's Yoke from off his Neck, and reigned by nineteen or twenty Dukes and Princes, before there was any King in Iſrael.

It is the Lot of Cain's Brood, to be Lords and Rulers firſt, while Abel and his Generation have their Necks under Perſecution; yet while they lord it, and thus tyrannically afflict and perſecute, our very Deſire is towards them, wiſhing their Salvation: While they curſe, we bleſs; and while they perſecute, we pray.

And Cain talked with Abel his brother: Ver. 8. And it came to paſs, when they were in the field, that Cain roſe up againſt Abel his brother, and ſlew him.

When Cain ſaw that by God's Judgment Abel was the better Worſhipper, and that himſelf muſt by no means be admitted for well-doing, his Heart began to be more obdurate and hard, and to grow into that Height of Deſperateneſs, as to endeavour the extirpating of all true Religion out of the World; which it ſeems he did, by killing his Brother, mightily accompliſh, until the Days of Enos; for then began men again to call upon the Name of the Lord. Ver. 26.

Hence ſee the Spite of the Children of Hell againſt God: They have ſlain thy Prophets, and digged down thine Altars: If they 1 Kings 19. 10. may have their Wills, God muſt be content with their Religion, or none; other they will not endure ſhould have ſhew within their Reach, but with Cain, will rather kill their Brother; or with the Phariſees, kill their Lord; and with the evil Kings of old, will rather kill their Sons and Subjects.

That

That the Truth, I say, may fall to the Ground, and their own Inventions stand for acceptable Sacrifices, they will not only envy, but endeavour to invalidate all the true Worship and Worshippers of God in the World; the which if they cannot without Blood accomplish, they will slay and kill till their Cruelty hath destroyed many Ten thousands, even as Cain, who slew his Brother Abel.

And Cain talked with his brother. He had not a Law whereby to arraign him, but Malice enough, and a Tongue to set all on Fire, of which no doubt, by the goodly Replies of his Brother, was easily blown up into Choler and Madness, the end of which was the Blood of his Brother.

And Cain talked with Abel, &c. To wit, about the Goodness and Truth of his Religion. For that the New-Testament seems
1 Joh. 3. 12. to import, he slew him because his Works were righteous; which Abel, no doubt, had justify'd before his Brother, even then when he most set himself to oppose him. Besides this, the Connection of the Relation importeth, he talked with him, he slew him; he talked with him and slew him, purely upon a Religious Account, because his Works were righteous.

Hence note, That when wicked Men have the Head in the World, Professors had need be resolved to hazard the worst, before they do enter Debate with ungodly Men about the things that pertain to the Kingdom of God: For behold here, Words did not end in Words, but from Words came Blows, and from Blows Blood. The Counsel therefore is, That you sit down first, and count up the Cost, before ye talk with Luke 14. 27,28,29, 30,31,32, 33. Cain of Religion: They make a Man an Offender for a Word, and lay a Snare for him that reproveth in the Gate, and turn aside
Isa.29.20, 21. the just for a thing of nought.

And Cain talked with Abel his brother. With Abel his only Brother, who also was a third Part of the World. But Tyrants matter nothing, neither Nearness of Kin, nor how much they destroy: The brother shall betray the brother to death, &c.

And it came to pass when they were in the field, that Cain rose up against Abel his brother; and slew him. When they were in the Field, from home, out of the Sight, and far from the Help of his Father: Subtil Persecutors love not to bite, till they can make their Teeth to meet; for which they observe their Time and Place. Joseph was
Gen. 37. also hated of his Brethren, but they durst not meddle till they found him in the Field. Here it is also that the holy Virgin falleth:
Deut. 22. 27. He found her in the field,—and there was none to save her.

Hence observe again, That be the Danger never so imminent, and the Advantage of the Adversary never so great, the sincere Professor of the Truth stands his ground against Wind and Weather. Bloody Cain daunteth not Holy Abel; no, though now he have his Advantage of him. Dan.3.16, 17, 18.

He rose up against Abel his Brother, and slew him. And wherefore slew he him? 1 Joh. 3. 12. Because his own works were evil, &c. It is therefore hence to be observed, That it is a Sign of an Evil way, be it covered with the Name of the Worship of God, when it cannot stand without the shedding of Innocent Blood. Wherefore slew he him? Because his own works were evil. Had his Works been good, they had been accepted of God: He had also had the Joy thereof in his conscience, as doubtless Abel had; which Joy and Peace would have produced Love and Pity to his Brother, as it was with his Brother towards him; but his works being evil, they minister to him no Heavenly Joy, neither do they beget in him Love to his Brother! but contrariwise, his Heart fills his Eye with Evil also; which again provoketh (while it beholdeth the godly Carriage of Abel) the Heart to more desperate Resolutions, even to set upon him with all his Might, and to cut him off from the Earth. Thus the Goodness of God's People provoketh to Envy the wicked Heart of the Hypocrite. As it was betwixt Saul and David; for after Saul had seen that God had rejected him for his Wickedness, the more he hated the Goodness of David: And Saul saw and knew that the Lord was with David, -- and 1 Sam.18. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 28, 29. Saul was yet the more afraid of David, and Saul became David's Enemy continually.

And the Lord said unto Cain, Where is Abel thy Brother? And he said, I know not: Am I my Brother's keeper?

Cain thought it had been no more but to kill his Brother, and his Intentions and Desires must needs be accomplished, and that himself should then be the only Man: Come let us kill him, and the Inheritance shall be ours. But stay, Abel was beloved of his God, who had also justified his Offering, and accepted it as a Service more excellent than his Brother's: So then, because the Quarrel arose between them upon this very account, therefore Abel's God doth reckon himself as engaged (seeing he is not) to take up his Servant's Cause himself.

And the Lord God said unto Cain, Where is Abel thy Brother? A Question not grounded on uncertainty, but proposed as a beginning of further reasoning; and also to make way to this wicked Wretch, to discover the desperate wickedness of his Luke 24. 13,—27. Acts 1. 11. bloody Heart the more: For Questions that stand at first afar off, do draw out more of the Heart of another; and also do minister more Occasion for Matter, than if they had been placed more near to the Matter.

Where is Abel? God missed the acceptable Sacrifices of Abel; Abel was dead, and his Sacrifices ceased, which had wont to be savoury in the Nostrils of God; Cain could not supply them; his Sacrifices were deficient, they were not of Faith. Hence note, that that if Tyrants ſhould have their will, even to the deſtroying of all the Remnant of God, their Sacrifices and Worſhip would be yet before God as abominable as they were before.

And the Lord ſaid unto Cain, Where is Abel? O dreadful Queſtion! the beginning of Cain's Hell, for now God entereth into Judgment with him. Wherefore, however this Wretch endeavoured at firſt to ſtifle and choak his conſcience, yet this was to him the Arrow of Death: Abel cried, but his Brother would not hear him while alive, and now being dead God hears the Cry of Pſal.9.12. his Blood. When he maketh Inquiſition for Blood, he remembreth them: he forgetteth not the Cry of the humble. Blood that is ſhed for the ſake of God's Word, ſhall not
Pſ. 116. 15. be forgotten or diſregarded of God: Pre-
Pſ. 72.14. cious in his ſight is the death of his Saints, and precious ſhall their Blood be in his ſight.

Where is Abel thy Brother? This word, thy Brother, muſt not be left out, becauſe it doth greatly aggravate his Wickedneſs: He ſlew his Brother; which horrid act the very Law and bond of Nature forbiddeth. But when a Man is given up of God, it is neither this nor another Relation that will bind his hands, or make him keep within the Bounds of any Law. Judas will ſeek his Maſter's, and Abſalom his Father's Blood. Where is Abel thy Brother?

And he ſaid, I know not. He knew full well what he had done, and that by his hands his Brother's blood was fallen to the Ground, but now being called into queſtion for the ſame, he endeavoureth to plead Ignorance before God: I know not. When men have once begun to ſin, they know not where they ſhall end; he ſlew his Brother, and endeavours to cover his Fact with a Lie. David alſo little thought his act of Adultery would have led him to have 2 Sam. 11. ſpilt the Blood of Uriah, and afterwards to have covered all with diſſembling Lips and a lying Tongue.

I know not: Am I my Brother's Keeper? This is the way of all ungodly men, they will not abide that guilt ſhould be faſtned. Sin they love, and the Luſts and Delights thereof, but to count for it they cannot abide; they will put it off with Excuſes, or Denials: Even like Saul, who though he had ſpared the Cattel and Agag contrary to the Command of God, yet would needs bear Samuel down, that he had kept, yea
1 Sam. 15. 13. 20. performed the Commandment of the Lord. But they are denials to no boot, and Excuſes that will not profit, that are made to hide the ſin of the Soul from the Sight and Judgment of God. Lies and Falſhood will here do nothing.

Ver. 10. And he ſaid, What haſt thou done? the Voice of thy Brother's blood crieth unto me from the Ground.

Poor Cain, thy feeble ſhifts help thee nothing, thy Excuſes are drowned by the Cries of the Blood which thou haſt ſhed.

What haſt thou done? the blood of thy Brother cries. Beware Perſecutors, you think that when you have ſlain the Godly, you are then rid of them; but you are far wide, their Blood which you have ſhed, cries in the Ears of God againſt you. O the Cries of Blood are ſtrong cries, they are cries that reach to Heaven; yea they are cries that have a continual voice, and that never ceaſe to make a noiſe, until they have procured Vengeance from the Hands of the Lord of Job 16. 18. Sabbath: And therefore this is the Word of the Lord againſt all thoſe that are for the Practice of Cain: As I live, ſaith the Lord Eze. 35.6. God, I will prepare thee to Blood, and blood ſhall purſue thee: Sith thou haſt not hated blood, (that is, hated to ſhed it,) blood ſhall purſue thee.

The Voice of thy Brother's Blood cries unto me. The Apoſtle makes this Voice of the Blood of Abel, a Type of the voice of the Juſtice of the Law, and ſo extends it further than meerly to the Act of Murder; intimating that he ſheds Blood, that breaks any the Commands of God, (and indeed ſo he doth, he layeth wait for his own Blood, Pro. 1. 18. and privily lurketh for his own life.) Wherefore the Apoſtle compareth the Blood of Abel and the Blood of Chriſt together; but ſo as by the Rule of Contraries, making betwixt them a contrary voice, even as there is between a broken Command and a Promiſe of Grace, the one calling for Vengeance and Damnation, the other calling for For- Heb. 12. giveneſs and Salvation; the Blood of Sprink- 24. ling it ſpeaks better things than the Blood of Abel; that is, it calls to God to forgive the Sinner; but Abel's Blood, of the Breach of the Law, that cries Damn them, damn them. Chriſt alſo ſets his own Blood in oppoſition to the Blood of all that was ſhed before him; concluding that the proper Voice of all Blood of the Godly, is to call for Vengeance on the Perſecutors, even from the Blood of Abel to the Blood of Zecharias, that was ſlain between the Altar and the Temple. And let me here take leave to propound my private thoughts: Namely, that the Zecharias that here is mentioned, might not be he that we find in 2 Cor. 24. the Book of Chronicles; but one of that 20, 21. Name that lived in the days of Chriſt, poſſibly John Baptiſt's Father, or ſome other holy Man. My reaſons for this Conjecture, are, 1. Becauſe the Murderers are Convict by Chriſt himſelf: Zecharias, whom ye ſlew between the Altar and the Temple. 2. Becauſe Chriſt makes a ſtop at the Blood of Zecharias, not at the Blood of John the Baptiſt: wherefore, if the Perſon here mentioned were not murdered after, but before John the Baptiſt, then Chriſt ſeems to excuſe them for killing his Servant Bear with this Conjecture. John; for the Judgment ſtops at the including of the Guilt of the Blood of Zecharias. 3. I think ſuch a thing, becauſe the Voice of all holy Blood that hath been ſhed before the the Law by the Adversary, excepting only the Blood of Jesus, must needs be included here; the proper voice of his only Being to plead for Mercy to the Murderers. However, the Voice of Blood is a very killing Voice, and will one day speak with such Thunder and Terror in the Consciences of all the Brood of Cain, that their pain and burthen will be for ever unsupportable.

Ver. 11. And now thou art cursed from the Earth, which hath opened her mouth to receive thy Brother's blood from thy hand.

Here begins the Sentence of God against this bloody man! a Sentence fearful and terrible, for it containeth a removing of him from all the Privileges of Grace and Mercy, and a binding of him over to the Punishment and Pains of the Damned.

And now thou art cursed from the Earth. Luke 2. 13, 14. Peace on Earth, is one Branch of that blessed Tidings that was brought into the World, at the Coming of the Messias. Prov. 8, 31. Again, before Christ was come in the flesh, it is said He rejoyced in the habitable part of his Earth: Wherefore, by the Earth in this place, I understand the state that the Men are in, to whom, by the Mind of God, the Gospel and Grace of God is to be tendred. Now, whether it respect the State of Man by Nature, or the State of those that are Saints, from both these Privileges Cain is Seperate, as are all whom the Lord hath utterly rejected. Not but that yet they may live long in the World, but God hath cut them off from the Earth, and all the Gospel Privileges therein, and set them in the Condition of Devils; so that as to Grace and Mercy they are Seperate therefrom, and stand as men, though alive, bound over to Eternal Judgment. And as to their Lives, it matters not how long they live, Heb. 10. 26, 27, 28. there is no Sacrifice for their sins, but a certain fearful looking for of Judgment and fiery Indignation which shall devour the Adversaries. So that I say, as the Devils be bound in Hell, so such lye bound in Earth; bound I say in the Chains of Darkness, and their own obstinate Heart, over to the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous Judgment of God. Cain therefore by these words is denied the Blessing of future Means of Grace, and stands bound over to answer for his Brother's Blood, which the Ground had received from his cruel hand.

Ver. 12. When thou tillest the Ground, it shall not henceforth yield to thee her strength; a Fugitive and a Vagabond shalt thou be in the Earth.

This is a branch, or the Fruits of this wilful Murder. Indeed, sins carry in them not only a curse with respect to Eternity, but are also the Cause of all the Miseries of this Life. Ps. 107. 34. God turneth a fruitful land into barrenness, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein.

When thou Tillest the Ground. Sin committed doth not always exclude the Sinner from an enjoyment of God's Mercies, but yet if unrepented of, bringeth a Curse upon them. Mal. 2. 2. I will curse, saith God, your Blessings, yea I have cursed them already, because ye laid it not to heart. This also is the reason that the Table of some is made their snare, their Trap, a Stumbling-block and a Recompence unto them; Men ought not therefore to judge of the Goodness of their State, by their enjoyment of God's Creatures, but rather should tremble while they enjoy them, lest for Sin they should become accursed to them, as were the Enjoyments of this wicked Man. Rom. 11. 8, 9.

A Fugitive and a Vagabond shalt thou be in the Earth. The Meaning is, thou shalt not have Rest in the World, but shalt be continually possessed with a guilty Conscience, which shall make thy Condition restless and void of Comfort. For the Man that indeed is linked in the Chains of Guilt and Damnation, as Cain here was; he cannot rest, but (as we say) Fudge up and down from place to place, because his burthen is insupportable. Ps. 69. 23. As David said, Let their eyes be darkened that they may not see, and make their loins continually to shake. A continual shaking and restlesness doth therefore possess such Persons as are given up of God, and swallowed up of Guilt.

A Fugitive and Vagabond shalt thou be in the Earth. Some Men certainly know, even while they are in this World, their State to be most miserable, and damnable, as Cain, Saul and Judas did; which knowledge, as I have hinted, puts them besides the very course of other carnal men; who while they behold them at quiet under their enjoyments, these cannot but wonder, fear, and be amazed with the deep cogitations which will abide upon them, of their certain Misery and everlasting Perdition.

And Cain said unto the Lord, My punishment is greater than I can bear: Or as the margent hath it, My sin is greater than that it may be forgiven. Ver. 13. And both readings are true: For however some Men please themselves in lessening Sin, and the Punishment thereof, yet a burdened conscience judgeth otherwise. And if Cain failed in either, it was in that he counted his Sin (if he did so) beyond the Reach of God's Mercy. But again, when Men persecute the Worship and People of God, as Cain did his blessed and Religious Brother, even of spite, and because he envied the goodness of his Brother's work; I question whether it be lawful for a Minister to urge to such the Promise of Grace and Forgiveness; and also whether it be the Mind of God such Persons should hope therein. He that Sins the Sin unto death, is not to be prayed for, but contrariwise he is to be taken from God's Altar that he may dye. 1 Joh. 5. 16. Exod. 21. 14. This was Cain's case, and now he knew it; therefore as one excluded of God from his Mercy and all the Means thereof, he breaks out with roaring under the intolerable burden of the Judgment of God upon him, concluding his puniſhment at preſent greater than he could bear, and that yet his Sin ſhould remain unpardonable for ever: As ſaith our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, He hath neither forgiveneſs here, nor in the World to come. Matt. 12. 32.

Ver. 14. Behold, thou haſt driven me out this day from the face of the Earth, and from thy Face ſhall I be hid: And I ſhall be a Fugitive and a Vagabond in the Earth, and it ſhall come to paſs that every one that findeth me, ſhall ſlay me.

By theſe words is confirmed what was ſaid before, to wit, to be Curſed from the Earth, was to be Seperate from the Priviledges of the Goſpel. For Cain was not now to die, neither was he driven into any Den or Cave; yet driven out from the face of the Earth, that is, as I have ſaid, he was excluded from a ſhare in thoſe ſpecial Mercies that by the Goſpel were ſtill offered by Grace to the others that inhabited the World: The Mercies, I ſay, that are offered by the Goſpel, as namely, The Mercy of Eternal Life: For as to the Bleſſings of this World, he had yet a notable ſhare thereof. Beſides, he groaneth under this Judgment, as an unſupportable Curſe: Thou haſt driven me out this day from the face of the earth. And indeed, if we take it according as I have laid it down, it is a Curſe that would break the whole World to pieces; for he that is denied a ſhare in the Grace that is now offered, muſt needs be denied a Portion in God's Kingdom: And this Cain ſaw; wherefore he adds in the proceſs of his complaint, And from thy face ſhall I be hid: "I ſhall ne-"ver come into thy Kingdom, I ſhall ne-"ver ſee thy Face in Heaven." This is therefore the higheſt of all complaints; namely, for a Man from a certain conviction that his condition muſt without fail be o amnable, to condole and bemoan his forl rn condition.

THOU haſt driven me out. O! when God ſhall bind one over for his Sin, to eteral Judgment, who then can releaſe him? This was Cain's ſtate, God had bound him over: The Blood of his Brother was to reſt upon him, and not to be purged with Sacrifice for ever.

Thou haſt driven me out THIS DAY. He knew by the Sentence that fell from Heaven upon him, even from that very day, that he was made a companion of, and an aſſociate with Devils. This Day, or for This Days Work, I am made an inhabitant of the Pit with the Devil and his Angels. Hence note, That God doth ſometimes ſmite the Reprobate ſo apparently, that himſelf from that day may make a certain Judgment of the certainty of his Damnation. Thus did Balaam: I ſhall ſee him, but not now; I ſhall behold him, but not nigh. Where by now, he reſpects the Time of Grace; and by nigh, the Time or Day of Judgment: As who ſhould ſay, "I, for "my Sorceries, and wicked Divinations, "am excluded a Portion in the Day of "Grace, and therefore ſhall not ſee the "Saviour now: I am alſo rejected, as to a "Portion in the Bleſſed World to come: "and therefore when he Judgeth, I ſhall not "ſee him nigh: Nigh, as a Friend, as a Sa-"viour to my Soul." I doubt this is the condition of many now alive, who for their Perfidiouſneſs and Treachery to Chriſt, and his Church, have already received, even in themſelves, that recompence of their error which is meet. Num. 24. 17. Rom. 1. 27.

Iſhmael alſo, in the day he laughed at Iſaac, and Eſau in the day he ſold his Birthright, might have gathered; the one from God's concurring with the Judgment of Sarah, the other, from his Father's adhering to his Brother; his adhering, I ſay, in a Prophetick Spirit; that from thenceforth they both were excluded Grace and Glory, as the Apoſtle by the Holy Ghoſt afterwards doth. Gen. 21. 11, 12. Ch. 25. Ch. 27. Gal. 4. 30. Heb. 12. 16, 17. Pſal. 4. 6, 7. Pſal. 16. 11.

And from thy FACE ſhall I be hid. By Face here, we are to underſtand God's Favour, and Bleſſed Preſence, which is enjoyed by the Saints both here, and in the World to come: Both which this wicked Man, for the Murdering of his Brother, and his Envy to the Truth, now knew himſelf excluded from.

From thy Face ſhall I be HID. The Pit of Hell, to which the Damned go, beſides the Torment that they meet with there, is ſuch a Region of Darkneſs, and at ſuch a Diſtance from the Heavens, and the glorious comfortable Preſence of God, that thoſe that ſhall be found the proper Subjects of it, ſhall for ever be eſtranged from one glimpſe of him: beſides, Sin ſhall bind all their faces in Secret, and ſo confound them with Horror, Shame, and Guilt, that they ſhall not be able from thenceforth for ever, ſo much as once to think of God with comfort.

From thy FACE. As it were all the Glory of Heaven, it lieth in beholding the Face of God: A thing the ungodly little think of; yet the Men that have received in themſelves already the Sentence of Eternal Damnation, they know it after a wonderful rate; and the thoughts of the loſs of his face and preſence, doth, do what they can, as much torment them, as the Thoughts of all the Miſery they are like to meet withal beſides.

And a Fugitive and a Vagabond ſhall I be on the Earth. Even from the preſent frame of his Spirit, Now, having received the Sentence, he knew, the Judgment paſt being unrevokable, how it would be with him all his life long; that he ſhould ſpend his days in trouble and guilt, rowling under the Juſtice of God, being always a Terror and Burthen to himſelf, to the Day he was to be cut off from the Earth, that he might go to the Place appointed for him.

And it ſhall come to paſs, that every one that that findeth me shall slay me. Guilt is a strange thing, it makes a Man think that every one that sees him, hath Knowledge of his Iniquity: It also bringeth such a Faintness into the Heart, that the sound of a shaken Leaf doth chase such Persons: And above all things, the Cries of Blood are most fearful in the Conscience; the Cries of the Blood of the poor Innocents, which the Seed of Cain hath shed on the Face of the Earth. Thus far of Cain's Complaint.

Lev. 26. 36. Jer. 2. 34. Ch. 19. 4.

Ver. 15. And the Lord said unto him, Therefore whosoever slayeth Cain, vengeance shall be taken on him seven-fold: and the Lord set a mark upon Cain, lest any finding him, should kill him.

By these words, the Judgment is confirmed, which Cain, in the Verse before, so mournfully pronounced against his own Soul. As if the Lord had said; "Cain, thy "Judgment is as thou hast said, I have dri- "ven thee out this Day from a share in my "Special Favour; and when thy Life is end- "ed, thou shalt be hid from my Face, and "Blessed Presence for ever; and seeing it "is thus, therefore I will not suffer that "thou die before thy time: Alas, thy Glass "will be quickly run! Besides thy Days, "while thou art here, will sufficiently be "filled with Vexation and Distress; for "thou shalt always carry in thy Conscience "the Cries of Innocent Blood, and the "Fear of the Wrath of God: I have said "it, and will perform it; I am not a Man, "that I should repent: So that thus shall thy "Judgment be: Therefore he that killeth "Cain, I will take vengeance on him.

Hence note, That none need to add to the Sorrows of the Persecutors: They above all Men are prepared unto Wrath: Let them alone (saith Christ) they will quickly fall into the Ditch. Besides, God hath taken the Revengement of the Blood of his Servants into his own hand, and will execute his Wrath himself. Therefore he saith to his Saints (as to this,) Dearly beloved, avenge not your selves, but rather give place unto wrath; for vengeance belongeth to me, and I will recompence, saith the Lord. And the reason is, because the quarrel is in Special between the Prosecutor and God himself: For we are not hated because we are Men, nor because we are Men of evil and debauched Lives; but because we are religious; because we stand to maintain the Truth of God. Therefore no Man must here intercept, but must leave the enemy in the hand of that God he hath slighted and condemned. This made Moses that he meddled not with Corah and his Company, but left them to that new thing which the Lord himself would do unto them, because they had condemned the Ordinance of God. This made David also that he meddled not with Saul, but left him to the Vengeance of God, though he had opportunity to have destroyed him. Let us learn therefore to be quiet and patient under the hand of wicked and blood-thirsty Men: Let us fall before them like holy Abel; it is and will be grief enough to them, that when we are dead, our Blood will cry from the Ground against them.

Rom. 12. 19. Num. 16. 25, to 34. 1 Sam. 24. Ch. 26. 10, 11, 12.

Therefore he that killeth Cain, vengeance shall be taken, &c. He now that shall, after this admonition, plead for religious Blood with the Sword, Vengeance shall be taken on him, because he giveth not place to the Wrath of God, but intercepts with his own, which worketh not the Righteousness of God. Say therefore with David, when you are vexed with the Persecutor, Mine hand shall not be upon him; but as the Lord liveth, the Lord shall smite him; or, his day shall come to die; or, he shall descend in battel, and perish.

Jam. 1. 19, 20.

Vengeance shall be taken on him seven fold. It would not be hard to shew how little they have prevailed, who have taken upon them to take Vengeance for the Blood of Saints, on them that have been the Spillers of it. But my Business here is Brevity, therefore I shall not launch into that Deep, only shall say to such as shall attempt it hereafter, Put up thy Sword into his Place; for they that take the Sword shall perish by the Sword! and here is the Patience and Faith of the Saints. Let Cain and God alone, and do you mind Faith and Patience; suffer with Abel, until your Righteous Blood be Spilt: even the Work of Persecutors, is, for the present, Punishment enough; the Fruits thereof being the Provoking God to Jealousie, a denying of them the Knowledge of the Way of Life, and a binding of them over to the Pains and Punishment of Hell.

Mat. 26. 51, 52. Rev. 13. 10.

And the Lord set a Mark upon Cain. What the Opinion of others is about this Mark, I know not; to me it seems like those in Timothy who had their Conscience seared with an hot Iron: Which words are an allusion to the way of the Magistrate in their dealing with Rogues and Felons; who that they may be known to all, are either in the Hand, Shoulder, or Cheek branded with an hot Iron. So Cain was marked of God for a Reprobate, for one that had murdered a Righteous Man, even of envy to the goodness of his Work: But the Mark (as it was on those in Timothy) was not on any outward or visible part of his Body, but (as there the Apostle expresseth it) even upon his very Conscience; his Conscience then had received the Fire-mark of the Wrath and Displeasure of God, which (as a Burning-Iron doth to the Flesh) had left such deep Impression therein, that it abode as a Scar or Brand upon him, in token that God would for ever after hold him for a Fugitive Rogue or Vagabond.

And the Lord set a Mark upon Cain, lest any finding him should kill him. For though the Mark was branded with Burning upon his Conscience, and so inward and invisible; yet yet the Effects of this hot Iron might be viſible, and ſeen of all: The Effects, I ſay, which were, or might be, his Reſtleſneſs in every place, his Dejectedneſs, the ſudden and fearful Pangs and Agonies of his Mind, which might break out into dolours and amazing complaints; beſides, his timerous carriage before all he met, leſt they ſhould kill him; gave all to underſtand, that God had with a Vengeance branded him. And indeed this was ſuch a Mark as was amazing to all that beheld him, and did ten times more make them afraid of ſpilling Blood, than if any viſible Mark had been ſet upon him; for by his trouble and diſtreſs of Mind, they ſaw, what was the Guilt of blood: and by his continual fear and trembling under the Judgment of God, what it was to be in fear of, nay, to have the Firſt Fruits of Everlaſting Damnation. Thus therefore God reſerved Cain to the Judgment which he had appointed for him.

Ver. 16. And Cain went out from the preſence of the Lord, and dwelt in the Land of Nod, on the Eaſt of Eden.

The right Carriage of a Reprobate, and the Infallible Fruits of final deſperation: For a Man that hath received in his Mind the Stroke of the Judgment of God, and that is denied all Means of Saving and Sanctifying Grace, (as the Great Tranſgreſſors are,) the Preſence of God is to ſuch moſt dreadful; whether we underſtand the Knowledge of him as he is in himſelf, or as he diſcovereth himſelf in his Church; for the thought of his Being, and eternal Majeſty, keeps the Wound open, and makes Terrour and Guilt revive. To ſuch it would be the Beſt of News, to hear that the Godhead doth ceaſe to be, or that themſelves were high above him: But that they are in the Hand of the Living God, this is the Dreadful and fearful Thought.

And Cain went out from the preſence of the Lord. Theſe words may be taken many ways.

1. That he Seperated himſelf from the 2 Cor. 6. 16. Church (the place of God's preſence) which then conſiſted of his Father and Mother, and of thoſe other Children they had. And this appears by the Text, He went out from the preſence of the Lord, and dwelt in the Land of Nod.

2. A Man goes out from the preſence of Job. 21. 14, 15, 16. God, when he withdraws his Thoughts from holy Meditations, and employeth the Strength of his mind about the Things of this Life: And thus he alſo did; he went into the Land of Nod, and there fell to building a City, and to recreate himſelf with the Pleaſures of the Fleſh what he might.

3. A Man goes out from the preſence of God, when he throweth up the Worſhip and Way of God; and this he did in departing 2 Chron. 19. 1, 23. from the Church.

4. Beſides, his going out from the preſence Heb 3. 12, of the Lord, implieth, that he hardned his 13. heart againſt him, that he ſet his Spirit againſt him; that he ſaid to God, Depart Job 15. 12, from me; that he grew an implacable enemy 13. to him, and to every appearance of Good in the World.

And Cain went out from the preſence of the Lord: Theſe words may alſo reſpect his being thruſt out from God, as one Anathematized, Accurſed, or Cut off, in effect the Same with Excommunication: But be it ſo, the Act was extraordinary, being adminiſtred by God himſelf; even as he ſerved Corah and his Company, though in kind there was a difference; the one, even Cain, being yet permitted to live for a while in the World; the other being ſent down quick into Hell; but both, for their Villany againſt the Worſhip and People of God, ſtand Bound over to Anſwer it at the Eternal Judgment.

And Cain knew his Wife, and ſhe conceived and bare Enoch; and he built a City, and called the Name of the City after the Name of his Son Enoch. Ver. 17.

Cain's Wife was his Siſter, or near Kinſwoman; for ſhe ſprang of the ſame Loyns with himſelf; becauſe his Mother was the Gen. 3. 20. Mother of all living.

This Wife bare him a Son; for whoſe ſake, as it ſeems, he built the City. Hence note, That Men who are ſhut out of Heaven, will yet uſe ſome Means to be honourable on Earth. Cain being accurſed of God, yet builds him a City; the Renown of which Act, that it might not be forgotten, he calleth it after the Name of his Son. Much like this was that Carnal Act, of blaſted Abſalom; becauſe he had no Child, 2 Sam. 18. he would erect a Pillar, which muſt for- 18. ſooth be called Abſalom's Place, after the Name of Abſalom, to keep his Name in remembrance upon Earth.

And he built a City, &c. Note, That it is the Deſign of Satan, and the deceitful Heart of Man, to labour to quiet a Guilty Conſcience, not by Faith in the Blood of Chriſt, but by over much buſineſs in the things of this World.

And called the Name of the City after the Name of his Son Enoch. Although Cain had a mind to keep up his Name with Fame in the World, yet he would not venture to dedicate the City to his own Name; that would have been too groſs; and perhaps others would have called it, The City of the Murtherer; but he calleth it after the Name of his Son, his Son Enoch; whom he pretended was a Man both taught, and dedicate, as it ſeems his Name imports. Hence note again, That Men who themſelves are accurſed of God, will yet put as fair gloſſes on their actions, as their hypocritical Hearts can invent. Who muſt this City be dedicated to, but to him whom Cain had dedicated and taught. I will not say that in truth he gave him to God, for that his Reprobate Heart would not suffer; but being given up of God, yet retaining, with Saul, Considerations of Honour: Therefore, as is the custom of ungodly Hypocrites, he would put the best show on his ungodly Actions.

Thus Saul, when he had received the Sentence of the Lord against him; yet, Turn again with me (saith he to Samuel) yet honour me now before the People, and before Israel: So the Money wherewith the High-Priests and Scribes had bought the Life, and obtained the Death of Christ; with that they make some shew of Godliness, in buying with it a piece of Ground to bury Strangers in.

1 Sam. 15. 30.

Matt. 27. 3,4,5,6,7.

And unto Enoch was born Irad, and Irad begat Mehujael, and Mehujael begat Methusael, and Methusael begat Lamech.

Ver. 18.

These are the Off-spring of Cain; the English of whose Names, if the Nature and distance of the Persons were according, they might well be called, with abhorrence, the Brood of wicked Cain, even the Generation whom the Lord had cursed, notwithstanding Enoch was their Father. Enoch begat Irad, a wild Ass; Irad begat Mehujael, one presumptuous above measure, his Name signifies, One teaching God. But who hath directed the Spirit of the Lord, or shall any teach God knowledge? The Son of this Man was Methusael, asking Death, the true Fruit of all such presumptuous Ones, (his confidence shall be rooted out of his Tabernacle, and it shall bring him to the King of Terrors,) his Son was Lamech, one poor, or smitten: The first, that, as we read, did break the Order of God in the Matter of Marriage.

Isa. 40. 13.

Job. 21. 22.

Job. 18. compare Verse 4. with Verse 14.

And Lamech took unto him two Wives, the Name of the one was Adah, and the Name of the other Zillah.

Ver. 19.

This Man was the first that brake the first institution of God concerning Marriage. He took unto him two Wives. The New-Testament says, Let every man have his own wife. And so said the Law in its first Institution: Therefore plurality of Wives first came into practice by the Seed of cursed Cain, and for a time was suffered in the World through the hardness of Man's Heart.

1 Cor. 7. 2.

And Adah bare Jabel, he was the Father of such as dwell in Tents, and of such as have Cattle. And his Brother's Name was Jubal; he was the Father of all such as handle the Harp and Organ.

Ver. 20. & 21.

Jabel signifies bringing, or budding; Jubal, bringing, or fading. So then in these two Sons might be shewed unto us the World, as it is in its utmost Glory: That is, it brings Buds, it brings Fading: To day in the Field, to morrow in the Oven: All flesh is grass, and all the goodliness thereof, as the flower of the field. The grass withereth, the flower fadeth, because the Spirit of the Lord bloweth upon it, surely the people is grass.

Isa. 40. 6, 7, 8.

And observe in these, the last was the Musical One. Indeed, the Spirit of the World, after things have budded, is so far off from remembring that they again must fade; that then it begins its Requiem; then it saith to it self, Eat, drink, and be merry; then it is for handling the Harp and Organ.

Luk. 12. 16, 17, 18, 19, 20.

And Zillah she also bare Tubal-Cain, an Instructer of every Artificer in Brass and Iron: and the Sister of Tubal-Cain was Naamah.

Ver. 22.

Tubal-Cain, a worldly Possession; and Naamah, one that by her Name should be beautiful. Lamech his Fruit then was, a budding, fading, worldly Possession, with a little deceitful, vain Beauty, for Favour is deceitful, and Beauty is vain, but a Woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised.

Prov. 31. 30.

And Lamech said unto his Wives, Adah and Zillah, Hear my voice, ye Wives of Lamech, hearken unto my speech; for I have slain a man to my wounding, and a young man to my hurt.

Ver. 23.

He that sticks not to exceed in one Point, will not fear to transgress in another: He had hardned his Heart, by breaking the modest and orderly Bounds of Marriage, and so fitted himself to shed Blood, or do any other wickedness.

Hearken to me, ye Wives. Lustful Men break their minds to their fleshly companions (sometimes) sooner than to wiser counsellors: Even as Ahab, in the business of the Vineyard of Naboth, breaks his mind to that ungodly Jezabel his Wife.

I have slain a man to my wounding. Who, or what Man this murthered Person was, therein the Word is silent: Yet this Lamech being the Son of a bloody Murtherer, 'tis possible he was some godly Man, one of Adam's other Children, or of his Grand-Children, the Son of Seth: for these Sons of Cain, and namely this in Special (as it seems) took not heed to the Mark wherewith God branded Cain; but like Belshazzer, he hardned his heart, though he knew it, and would turn Murtherer also.

Dan. 5. 18. —22.

I have slain a man to my wounding. The Guilt of Blood who can bear? or who can help himself thereby? It is a wounding thing, it is a hurtful thing, he that sheds Man's Blood wrongfully, cannot establish himself thereby. The Jews thought to have preserved themselves and Country by killing Jesus Christ; but this so provoked the Justice of God, that for this things sake he sent the Gentiles upon them to burn up their City; who when they were come, if Stories be true, slew of them Eleven hundred thousand; and those of them that were taken alive, were sold to who would buy them, Thirty a penny. Ye shed blood (says God) and shall you possess the Land? ye stand upon your sword, ye work abomination, and ye defil'd every one his neighbour's wife, and shall ye possess the Land?

Mat. 22. 6, 7.

Ezek. 33. 25, 26.

Ver. 24. If Cain ſhall be avenged ſeven-fold, truly Lamech ſeventy and ſeven fold.

Though wicked Men may be willingly ignorant of that Part of the Judgments of God, that are to premoniſh them, that they do not that wicked thing for which the Judgment was executed; yet if there be any thing like Favour mixed with the Judgment, of that they will take notice, to encourage themſelves to Evil: Even as this ungodly Perſon, he would not be ſtopped from Blood by the Judgment of God upon Cain; but rather, as it ſeems, becauſe the Eccl.8.11. Judgment was not ſpeedily executed, his Heart was fully ſet in him to do evil. Much like that of the Jews, who becauſe Jehoia- Jer.26.20, kim had ſlain Uriah the Prophet, and yet 21, 22, 23. God ſpared the Land; therefore make that an Argument to prevail with Zedekiah to kill Jeremiah alſo.

If Cain ſhall be avenged ſeven fold, truly Lamech ſeventy and ſeven fold. Give wicked Men leave to judge of themſelves, and they will paſs a Sentence favourable enough. Though Lamech had not Pity when he ſpilt Blood; yea, though the Judgment of God upon Cain could not hold his murderous Hands: yet now he is Guilty, let him but make a Law in the Caſe, and wo be to him that killeth Lamech: Vengeance ſhall be taken of him ſeventy fold and ſeven. Joab could with pitileſs Hands ſpill the Blood of more righteous Men than himſelf, not regarding what became of their Souls: But when his Blood was by Vengeance required for the ſame, then he would take San- 1 Kings 2. ctuary at the Horns of the Altar. But Judg- 28. ment is not wholly left to Men, the Lord is Judge himſelf; before whom both Cain and Lamech, and all their Succeſſors, ſhall be arraigned, and receive juſt Doom, and that never to be reverſed.

Ver. 25. And Adam knew his Wife again, and ſhe bare a Son, and called his Name Seth; for God ſaid ſhe hath appointed me another Seed inſtead of Abel whom Cain ſlew.

Now we have done, for a while, with Cain, and are come again to the Church of God. Cain had ſlain Abel, and by that Means, for a while, had greatly ſuppreſſed the flouriſhing of Religion; in which time his own Brood began to be mighty upon Earth; ſo encreaſing, as if Religion was put to an end for ever. But behold their Diſappointment! Adam knew his wife again, (for Adam's Family was then the True Church of God;) or take Adam for a Type of Chriſt, and his Wife for a Type of the Church, and then this Obſervation followeth; namely, That ſo long as Chriſt and the Church hath to do with one another, it is in vain for Cain to think of ſuppreſſing Religion.

Adam knew his wife again. If Eve had now been barren, or Adam had died without further Iſſue, then Cain might have carried the Day; but behold another Seed! a Seed to ſtand in Abel's Place: Therefore ſhe called his Name Seth; that is, Set or Put, as namely, in the room of Abel, to ſtand up for, and to defend the Truth againſt all the Army and Power of Cain: As Paul alſo ſaith of himſelf, I am ſet, or put, for the Phil. 1 17. defence of the Goſpel. This Man therefore, ſo far as can be gathered, was the firſt that put Check to the Outrage of Cain and his Company. But mark ſome Obſervations about him.

1. He was ſet in the Stead or Place of Abel; not an Inch behind him, but even at the Place where his Blood was ſpilt: So that he that will revive loſt Religion, muſt avow it as God's Abels have done before him: Every Talker cannot do this. The Blood that was ſhed before his Face, muſt not put Check to his godly Stomach; yea, he muſt ſay to Religion, as Ruth ſaid once to her Mother, Where thou dieſt, I Ruth 1. 16, 17. will die, and there will I be buried. This is the way to revive and to maintain the Ways of God, in deſpite of bloody Cain.

2. This Seth that was ſet to put Check to Cain, did not do it of his own Brain, but the Hand of God was Principal in the Work: God (ſaid ſhe) hath appointed me another Seed to be ſet in the place of Abel. And indeed it is otherwiſe in vain, when Religion is once ſuppreſſed, to think it ſhould ever revive again. Alas! where is the Man, if he want God's Spirit, that will care for the flouriſhing State of Religion? and that in truth will make the Lord his Delight: Jer.30.17. This is Zion, whom no Man ſeeketh for, or ſeeketh after. All Men here ſay, See to thine 1 Kings own Houſe, David. But when Seth comes, 12.16. then the Ground is made good again; then a living Saint is found to ſtand and maintain that Truth which but now his Brother bled for. When James was killed, Peter Acts 12. ſtands up, &c. And therefore Seth is ſaid to 1, 2, 3. be another Seed, a Man of another Spirit: One who was principled with a Spirit beyond and above the Spirit of the World. Another Seed, One that was ſpirited for God's Word, and God's Worſhip, and that would maintain his Brother's Cauſe.

3. Obſerve, That when Seth maintains his Brother's Lot, you hear no more of the Brood of Cain. And indeed, the way to weary out God's Enemies, it is to maintain and make good the Front againſt them: Reſiſt the Devil, and he will flie. Now if Jam. 4. 7. the Captain, their King Apollion, be made to yield, how can his Followers ſtand their ground? The Dragon, the Devil, Satan, he Rev.12.9. was caſt out into the earth, and his Angels were caſt out with him. But how? It was by fighting: Michael and his Angels fought Ver. 7, 8, with the Dragon, and overcame him by the 11. Blood of the Lamb, by the Word of their Teſtimony, and by not loving of their Lives unto the death.

4. Let this, in the laſt place, ſerve for Perſecutors, That when you have caſt down many many Ten thouſands, and alſo the Truth to the Ground; there is yet a Seth, another Seed behind, that God hath appointed to ſtand in the ſtead of his Brethren, by whom you will certainly be put to flight, and made to ceaſe from oppreſſing the Truth.

Ver. 26. And unto Seth, to him alſo there was born a Son and he called his Name Enos: Then began men to call upon the Name of the Lord.

The Holy Ghoſt, in recording the Birth of Enos, goeth out of his ordinary ſtyle, in that he doubleth the mentioning of his Father, with reſpect to the Birth of this Son. And indeed it is worth the obſerving; for it ſtaggereth the Faith of ſome, to think that the Man that makes good the Ground of a murthered Brother, ſhould not leave Iſſue behind him: But to Seth, to him was born a Son. Our faithfulneſs to the Truth, ſhall be no hinderance to the flouriſhing ſtate of our Off-ſpring, take them either for the fleſhly or ſpiritual Seed of God's Servants, but Sons, (eſpecially in the latter ſenſe, if we truly ſtand by the Word of God) ſhall ſurely be born unto us.

And unto Seth, to him alſo was born a Son, and he called his Name Enos. Enos, a Man; not a Devil, like Cain, but a Man; or, a Man that was miſerable in this world, for the ſake and Cauſe of God; for it ſeems, as was his Father, ſo was he, even both given up to maintain God's Truth; which cannot be done but with great hazard, ſo long as Cain or his Off-ſpring remain. His Father therefore, by his very Name, did offer him up to bear all Hardſhips for the Name and Cauſe of God: Behold I ſend you forth (ſaith Chriſt) as Lambs in the midſt of Wolves. In effect, he called their Name Enos, Men to be acquainted with Grief and Miſeries: But mark, Then began men to call upon the Name of the Lord.

Then, when Seth maintained Abel's ground, and when Enos endured all Miſeries for the ſame: For indeed this makes Spectators believe that Religion is more than a fictitious Notion: The Hardſhips, Miſeries, and Blood of the Saints, will make Men, otherwiſe heedleſs, conſider and ponder their Cauſe aright.

Then began. For, as I alſo before have hinted, the Out-rage of bloody Cain did put, for a time, a ſtop to the flouriſhing ſtate of God's Worſhip; which in all probability was not ſo little as half a hundred Years, even till Seth, and the Son of Seth, ſtood up to maintain the ſame; But then, then men began (more Men than Seth and Enos) to call upon the Name of the Lord.

Note again, That all True Religion beginneth with Fervent Prayer: Or thus, That when Men begin to be Servants to God, they begin it with calling upon him. Thus did Saul, Behold he prayeth: And, Acts 9. 11. Lord have mercy upon me, is the firſt of the Groans of a ſanctified Heart.

The Margin hath it, They began to call themſelves by the Name of the Lord: As God ſaith in another place, My Name is called on them. The Diſciples were called Chriſtians, (nay, the Saints are called the Anointed Ones, and the Church is called Chriſt.) But note, That fervent prayer ends in Faith and Confidence in God. They called themſelves by the Name; they counted themſelves not from a vain and groundleſs Opinion, but through the Faith they had in the Mercy of God, The Saints and holy People of God. 1 Cor. 12. 12.

They began to publiſh themſelves, in Contradiſtinction to the Off-ſpring of Cain, the holy People of God. Wherefore, a Seperation from the Wicked began betimes; the one going by the Name of the Sons of God; the other, by the Sons and Daughters of Men: Then began men to call upon the Name of the Lord. Gen. 6. 1, 2.

CHAP. V.

Ver. 1. THIS is the Book of the Generation of Adam: in the day that God created Man, in the likeneſs of God made he him.

The Holy Ghoſt having thus largely treated of Cain and his Off-ſpring, and of the Head made againſt him by Seth and Enos, and of the good ſucceſs that followed, he now comes to treat of the Church in particular, and of the flouriſhing ſtate of the ſame.

This is the Book. The Holy Ghoſt cuts off the Genealogy of Cain, accounting him none of the Race of the Church, although before he was within the pale thereof. John obſerving this, calls him, a Child of that wicked one, as our Lord alſo accounted Judas. Wherefore, he here begins his Book again, that this wicked Race might be quite excluded: Let them be blotted out of the book of the living, and not written with the righteous. Pſ. 69. 28.

In the day that God created Man, in the likeneſs of God made he him. Although by this new Beginning the Holy Ghoſt excludeth Cain, yet he fetcheth the Genealogy of the Church from the Day that Man was created; intimating that God, in the very Act of Creation, had a Special intention to plant him a Church in the World; and therefore, even before Sin was in the World, the Image of God was upon Man, as a Token of his Special Reſpect, and of the great Delight that he intended to take in that Creature above all that he had made. Prov. 8, 30, 31.

Ver. 2. Male and Female created he them, and bleſſed them, and called their Name Adam, in the day when they were created.

When Adam was created, the Lord created two in one: So when Chriſt, the Head of the Church, was choſen, the Church was alſo choſe in him.

And

Eph. 1. 4. And bleſſed them. With the Bleſſing of Generation: A Type of the Bleſſing of Regeneration that was to be by Chriſt in the Church, according to that which is written, So ſhall thy Seed be.

And called their Name Adam, in the day that they were created. So that in the Man the Woman is included: Neither is the man 1 Cor. 11. 11. without the woman, nor the woman without the man in the Lord: For the Holy Ghoſt, in the Work of the New Creation, of which this Creation was a Type, counteth not by Male and Female, but ye are all one in Gal. 3. 28. Chriſt Jeſus. Wherefore, Women are not to be excluded out of the Means of Salvation; nay, they have, if they Believe, a Special Right to all the Promiſes of Grace that God hath made to his Saints in all Ages: Yea, ſhe ſhall be ſaved, though ſhe 1 Tim. 2. 15. bare Children, if ſhe continue in the Faith, and Charity, and Holineſs with Sobriety.

Ver. 3. And Adam lived an hundred and thirty years, and he begat a Son in his own likeneſs, after his Image and called his name Seth.

1 Chro. 1. 1. Here alſo by the Book of Chronicles, the Holy Ghoſt carrieth away the Genealogy, becauſe Abel had no Children, ſaying Adam, Seth, &c.

An hundred and thirty years. Behold the rage of Hell! for untill Seth ſtood in Abel's place, Religion was greatly hindred, and that was after the World had ſtood an Hundred and thirty Years. Indeed, Abel, while he had his Breath, did hold it up in the World; but Cain, who was of that wicked one, ſmote him and Religion both to the ground.

Job 14. 4. And begat a Son in his own likeneſs. Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? Not one. If the Father be polluted with the inward filth of Sin, the Son muſt needs be like him: I was ſhapen in iniquity Pſal. 51. 5. (ſaid David) and in ſin did my mother conceive me. Seth then was no better than we by Nature, but came into the World in the Blood of his Mother's filth: What is Man, Job 15. 14. that he ſhould be clean! or he that is born of a Woman, that he ſhould be righteous!

This therefore ſhould teach us not to count of our Election, and of our Effectual Calling but by the Word of God. Seth by Nature was a ſinful Man, and yet the choſen Servant of God; the firſt that took up God's Quarrel after the Death of bleſſed Abel.

This ſhould alſo help us to hold up the Bucklers againſt the Kingdom of the Devil and Hell. Seth was ſubject to like Infirmities with us, and yet he got ground of the Children of Iniquity. I know a Senſe of our own Infirmities is apt to weaken our hand in ſo mighty an Undertaking, but it ſhould not: Although we be like old Adam by Nature, yet God is able to make us ſtand.

Ver. 4. And the days of Adam, after he begat Seth, were eight hundred years, and he begat ſons and daughters.

Adam therefore, as a Type of Chriſt, reigned in the Church almoſt a Thouſand Years. The World therefore beginning thus, doth ſhew us how it will end; namely, by the Reign of the ſecond Adam, as it began with the Reign of the firſt.

Theſe long-liv'd Men therefore ſhew us the Glory that the Church ſhall have in the latter Day, even in the Seventh thouſand Years of the World, that Sabbath when Chriſt ſhall ſet up his Kingdom on Earth, according to that which is written, They lived and Rev. 20. 6. reigned with Chriſt a Thouſand years. They: --- Who? The Church of God, according alſo as it was with Adam. Therefore they are ſaid by John to be Holy, as well as Bleſſed: Bleſſed and Holy are they that have part in the firſt reſurrection, on ſuch the ſecond death hath no power; but they ſhall be Prieſts of God, and of Chriſt, and ſhall reign with him a thouſand years. In all which time the wicked in the World ſhall forbear to Perſecute, as did alſo the Brood of wicked Cain in the days of Adam, Seth, &c. Hence therefore we find in the firſt place the Dragon chained for theſe thouſand years.

And all the days that Adam lived were Ver. 5. nine hundred and thirty years, and he died.

Adam therefore lived to ſee the Tranſlation of Enoch: In whoſe Tranſlation a Conqueſt was got over all the Enemies of his Soul and Body: So Chriſt ſhall Reign in and among his Saints till all his Enemies be 1 Cor 15. deſtroyed. The laſt Enemy that ſhall be deſtroyed is Death; which ſhall be ſwallowed up when the Members of that glorious Head have put on Incorruption, and their Mortal ſhall have put on Immortality. Adam's Reigning therefore until Enoch's Tranſlation, looks like a Prophecy of the Perfection of Chriſt's Kingdom: For he ſhall reign till he hath delivered up the Kingdom to God, even the Father: As Adam, till his Enoch was tranſlated and took up to God.

And Seth lived an hundred and five years, Ver. 6. and begat Enos.

Seth therefore ſtood by the Truth of God a long time, without much help or encouragement from Man; which was a great Tryal to his Spirit, and Proof of the Truth of his Faith, and tended much to the Perfection of his Patience. Somewhat like this was that of Paul, who had no Man ſtood with him when he ſtood before Nero.

Seth was ſet in the ſtead of Abel, to keep the Gap againſt the Children of Hell; which, by the Grace of God, he faithfully did, even till Enos was ſent to his aid and aſſiſtance.

Seth therefore was the Forlorn Hope of the Church in thoſe days: So ſet of God to put Check to the Enemy, until the Church was increaſed, and more able to defend herſelf from the Outrage.

This therefore ſhould teach the Saints of God, eſpecially thoſe that are ſent before, againſt the Off-ſpring of Cain, to ſtand their ground

1 Sam. 10. 8. Chap 13. 8, to 15. ground, and not to ſhrink like Saul, till God ſhall ſend others to take part with them.

Thus David ſtood, as it were, by himſelf, againſt the wicked that was in his day; Pſ. 94. 16. which made him cry, Who will riſe up for me againſt the evil Doers, or who will ſtand up for me againſt the workers of Iniquity.

Ver. 7. And Seth lived after he begat Enos eight hundred and ſeven years, and he begat Sons and Daughters.

Hence alſo we may gather great Encouragement who are ſet in the Front of the Army of the Lamb, againſt the Army and Regiment of Cain. Seth, ſaith the Spirit, was ſet in the ſtead of Abel, there as Forlorn, to defend Religion; Muſt he not now be ſwallowed up? Will the Blood-Hounds let him eſcape? Behold, therefore his Life muſt be accounted a Wonder! as was alſo that of 2 Cor. 6. 9. Paul, to ſtand Eight hundred Years againſt ſuch a murderous Crew, and yet to have his Breath in his Noſtrils! Our times are in thy hands, and thou, Lord, holdeſt our Soul in Life.

Ver. 8. And all the Days of Seth were nine hundred and twelve years, and he died.

His Life was therefore Eighteen Years ſhorter than that of Adam; he lived Fifty five Years after Enoch, and died Six hundred and fourteen Years before the Flood.

Ver. 9. And Enos lived ninety years, and begat Cainan.

Cainan ſignifieth a Buyer, or Owner. Let it be with reſpect to Religion, and then the Senſe may be, that he had this Privilege in Religion by the Hazard of his Father and Grandfather's Life; they bought it for him, and made him the Owner of it: As Paul Gal. 2. 5. ſaith, He gave not place to the falſe Apoſtles, that the Truth of the Goſpel might continue with the Galatians. As Jotham alſo ſaid Judg. 9. 17. to Shechem, My Father fought for you, and adventured his life far, and delivered you out of the hand of Midian; namely, that they might ſtill be Owners of the Inheritance that the Lord had given them. This ſhews us then, that the Fruit of a conſtant ſtanding to the Word of God, is, That the Generations yet unborn ſhall be made the Poſſeſſors and Owners of it.

Ver. 10. And Enos lived after he begat Cainan eight hundred and fifteen years, and begat Sons and Daughters.

He lived then to ſee his Son enjoy the Fruits of his own Conſtancy to the Truth, ſo long a Time as Eight hundred years, &c. as we hope God's People now may do. 'Tis true, they now do own the Truth with hazard, and do hold it up by enduring much miſery, according to the rage of wicked men; but, I ſay, 'tis hoped others will reap the Fruits of our Travels, and that ſome of us ſhall live to ſee it, as Enos lived to ſee his Cainan poſſeſs Religion eight hundred years.

Ver. 11. And all the days of Enos were nine hundred and five years, and he died.

He lived then One hundred fifty three Years after Enoch, and died Five hundred and ſixteen years before the Flood.

And Cainan lived ſeventy years, and begat Ver. 12. Mahalaleel.

Mahalaleel ſignifieth Praiſing God. Wherefore he was born in Settled Times, wherein Religion met with little or no Moleſtation: It began be as Hereditary in the Days of bleſſed Cainan; wherefore it was requiſite that the very next that ſhould poſſeſs the Truth, ſhould ſpend their days in Praiſing God. And thus it will be at the Rev 11. 15. down-fall of Antichriſt: After this (ſaith John) I heard a great voice of much people Chap. 19. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6. in Heaven, ſaying, Allelujah! Salvation, and glory, and honour, and power unto the Lord our God.----- And a voice came out of the Temple ſaying, Praiſe our God, all ye his Servants; and ye that fear him, both ſmall and great.

The whole Earth (ſaith the Prophet) is at reſt and quiet, they break forth into ſinging; Yea, the Fir-tree rejoyceth at thee, (O thou Brood of the blood-thirſty Cain,) and the Cedars of Lebanon, ſaying, Since thou waſt laid down, no Feller is come up againſt us. Iſa. 14. 7, 8.

And Cainan lived after he begat Mahalaleel eight hundred and forty years, and begat Ver. 13. Sons and Daughters.

God gave him a long Poſſeſſion and Enjoyment of the Fruits of his Father's Labours: They ſowed (as Chriſt ſaid) and he was entered into their labours: They ſowed in Tears, and He reaped in Joy. Mahalaleel, or Praiſe our God, was the Language of thoſe Times.

And all the days of Cainan were nine Ver. 14. hundred and ten years, and he died.

He lived then Two hundred and forty eight years after Enoch, and died Four hundred twenty one years before the Flood.

And Mahalaleel lived ſixty and five years, Ver. 15. and begat Jared.

Jared ſignifies Ruling, and ſheweth us Acts 9. 29, 30, 31. what is the holy Fruits of Peace and Thankſgiving in the Church; to wit, Government according to the Teſtament of Chriſt. It is hard to have all things according to Rule, in the day of the Churches Affliction; becauſe of the Weakneſs and Fearfulneſs of ſome; and becauſe poſſibly thoſe who have moſt skill in that matter, may for a time be laid up in Chains: but now when the Church hath reſt and quietneſs, then as ſhe praiſeth God, ſo ſhe conceiveth and bringeth forth Governors, and good Government and Rule among her Members. David, a Man of Blood, could 1 Chron. 28. 3. 6. not build that Houſe to the Lord, which peaceable Solomon, that Man of Reſt, afterwards did. When Armies are Engaged, and hot in Battle, 'tis harder to keep them in Rank and File, than when they have reſt, and time for Diſcipline. Jared therefore is the Fruits of Thankſgiving, as Thankſgiving is the Fruits of Peace and Poſſeſſion.

Ver.16. And Mahalaleel lived after he begat Jared eight hundred and thirty years, and begat Sons and Daughters.

He lived not only to give Thanks unto God, but to ſhew to all that he gave Thanks in truth, by ſubmitting his Neck the Reſt of the Hundred of years that he lived, to the holy Law and Word of God.

A good Rule to prove People by; for all that pretend to give Thanks for Liberty, put not their Neck under the Yoke, but Gal. 5. 13. rather uſe their Liberty as an occaſion for the 1 Pet. 2 16. fleſh, than by Love to ſerve and advantage one another in the things of the Kingdom of Chriſt; but as the Bramble ſaid to the reſt of the Trees, ſo ſaith Chriſt to ſuch feigned Thankſgivers, Judg. 9. 15. If in truth ye anoint me King over you, then come and put your truſt under my ſhadow; ſubmit to my Law, and be governed by my Teſtament: Let your Thankſgiving bring forth Jared, and walk with God in the Days of Jared.

Ver.17. And all the days of Mahalaleel were eight hundred ninety and five years, and he died.

He lived then Three hundred and three years after Enoch, and died Three hundred ſixty ſix years before the Flood.

Ver.18. And Jared lived an hundred ſixty and two years, and begat Enoch.

Enoch, is, taught, or dedicate: The true effect of Rule or Government, be it good or bad: in Cain's Poſterity it was bad; for an evil Tree cannot bring forth good Fruit: By Enoch here, we are to underſtand, one taught in, and dedicated unto God. This Enoch therefore was a Son that would hear the Rules, and ſubmit to the Government Prov. 25. 12. of his Father Jared. As an Ear-ring of Gold, and an Ornament of fine Gold; ſo is a wiſe Reprover upon an obedient Ear.

Ver.19. And Jared lived after he begat Enoch eight hundred years, and begat Sons and Daughters.

He lived therefore to ſee the Fruit of his good Rule and Government in the Church, even to ſee his teachable and dedicated Son caught up to God, and to his Throne. A good Encouragement to all Rulers in the Houſe of God, and alſo to all godly Parents to Teach and Rule in the fear of God; for that is the way to part with Church Members, and Children with comfort; yea, that is the way, if we ſhall out-live them, to ſend them to Heaven, and to God before us.

Ver.20. And all the days of Jared were nine hundred ſixty and two years, and he died.

He lived then Three hundred thirty five years after Enoch, and died Two hundred thirty four before the Flood.

Ver.21. And Enoch lived ſixty and five years, and begat Methuſelah.

Methuſelah ſignifieth, ſpoyling his Death: This therefore is the true Fruits of one that is truly taught in, and dedicate to the Service of God, as Enoch was; by this means he ſpoileth his Death: Wherefore he adds, And Enoch walked with God. Walking with God, ſpoileth Death, or overcomes it, or it ſhall be prevented, he ſhall not be hurt therewith: As Chriſt ſaith, If a man Joh. 8. 52. keep my ſayings, he ſhall never ſee death.

And Enoch walked with God, after he Ver. 22. begat Methuſelah, three hundred years, and begat Sons and Daughters.

Theſe words [after he begat Methuſelah] may have reſpect either to his beginning to walk with God, or to the number of the Years that he lived after the Birth of Methuſelah, or both.

If it reſpect the firſt, then it ſheweth that the only encouragement that a Sinner hath to walk with God, it is to ſee Methuſelah, or his Death ſpoiled: For when a Man ſeeth 1 Cor. 15. Death, and all Evils, conquered and over- 55, 56, 57, come, then his Soul is encouraged in Holi- 58. neſs. No Encouragement to Walking with God like this: Enoch walked with God after he begat Methuſelah: As Paul ſaith, Now being made free from Sin, (which indeed is Rom. 6. the Sting of Death) you have your fruit unto 22, 23. holineſs, and the end everlaſting life.

If it reſpect the Second, then it ſhews us the invincible Nature of true Faith, (for by Faith Enoch walked with God:) I ſay, it ſheweth us the invincible Nature of true Faith, in that it would hold up a Man in cloſe Communion with God for the Space of Three hundred Years.

He walked with God three hundred years. How will the Converſation of Enoch riſe up in Judgment with this Generation, that walk not with God at all! Or if they do, do it ſo by Fits, as if Walking with God was but a Work by the By.

He walked with God, and begat Sons and Daughters. And kept Houſe, and lived with his Wife, according to knowledge. This ſhews then, that it is Sin, not our lawful and honeſt Employment, that hindreth one's Walking with God.

And all the Days of Enoch were three hun- Ver. dred ſixty and five years. —— And Enoch 23 & 24. walked with God, and he was not; for God took him.

The New-Teſtament ſaith, By Faith E- Heb. 11. 5. noch was tranſlated, that he ſhould not ſee Death; and was not found, becauſe God had tranſlated him: for before his Tranſlation he had this Teſtimony, that he pleaſed God. And all the Days of Enoch were three hundred ſixty and five years. Enoch therefore lived here but a while; he was too good to live long in this World, the World was not worthy of him; neither would he be ſpared ſo long out of Heaven, for God took him. The End of Walking with God or the Path-way thereof, it leads Men to Heaven, to the Enjoyment of the Glory of God. Thus alſo it was with bleſſed Elijah, 2 Kings 2. he followed God from place to place, till at 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, length he was caught up into Heaven. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12.

A word

A Word or two more of Enoch. Jude obſerves, That he was the ſeventh from Adam: Cloſely intimating (as I conceive) that by him God prefigured the Reſurrection and End of the World: And intimated, That in the Seventh Great Day of the World this Reſurrection ſhould be, each Generation from Adam being a Type of a Thouſand Years: So that Enoch, the ſeventh from Adam, was a Type of the Seventh Thouſand, in which the Lord will reign with his Church a Thouſand Years.

There are Two things in Enoch that incline me to this Opinion. Firſt, he crieth out, Behold the Lord comes! and then is tranſlated, that he ſhould not ſee Death: The right Poſture and End of thoſe that ſhall live at the Day of God Almighty; and that ſhall, like Enoch, be found Walking with God, when the Lord ſhall come from Heaven. Jude 14. 15.

And Methuſelah lived an hundred eighty and ſeven years, and he begat Lamech.

Lamech ſignifieth poor, or ſmitten; wherefore I doubt, that the Apoſtacy that you read of in the next Chapter, began either in the Days of, or by, this Man: He being, as it ſeems, more dry and void of Grace than thoſe that went before him; poor, or ſmitten.

Hence note, That Faith and Godlineſs, though often it goeth from the Father to the Son, as from Seth to Enos, and from him to Cainan, yet it is not tied here, but runs according to Electing Love, as alſo do the Fruits thereof.

Ver. 26. & 27. And Methuſelah lived after he begat Lamech ſeven hundred eighty and two years, and begat Sons and Daughters. And all the days of Methuſelah were nine hundred ſixty and nine years, and he died.

Methuſelah, the ſpoiling of Death, is the longeſt Liver in the World; yet he died in the year that the Flood was upon the Earth; not by the Flood, but by the Courſe of nature, as alſo did Lamech his Son, for the wicked Reprobate only was ſwept away, by that according to the Apoſtle Peter.

Ver. 28. & 29. And Lamech lived an hundred eighty and two years, and begat a Son, and he called his Name Noah, ſaying, This ſame ſhall comfort us concerning our Work and toyl of our hands, becauſe of the Ground which the Lord hath curſed.

And called his name Noah. Noah ſignifieth Reſt; his Name was therefore according to his Work, for he was a Preacher of Righteouſneſs, which giveth Reſt to all that embraceth it: Beſides, it was he that prepared the Ark, the Place of Reſt to the Church of God.

This ſame ſhall comfort us concerning our Work, and toyl of our hands, becauſe of the Ground, which the Lord hath curſed.

Theſe words ſeem to carry in them a Repentance for the Apoſtacy that before was mentioned; This ſame ſhall comfort us, by reſtoring the Church to her former Reſt, and by delivering us from the Toyl of our Hands; for Sin once admitted of in the Church, is not without much Toyl extirpated, and driven forth of the ſame: Yea ſometimes it getteth ſuch Footing and Root, that it cannot again be purged and deſtroyed, but by breaking the very Being of the Church where it is. Thus it was as to the Caſe in hand, and is ſignified alſo by pulling down the Houſe in which the Leproſie was; yea Epheſus it ſelf was almoſt thus far infected, had not a Threatning prevented. Levit. 14. 43, 44, 45. Rev. 2, 1, 2, 3.

Becauſe of the Ground which the Lord hath curſed. The Lord did curſe it for the Sin of Adam: he alſo renewed the Curſe to Cain, becauſe he was guilty of the Blood of his Brother. I incline alſo to think, that the Curſe here mentioned, is the firſt, reiterated for the grievous Apoſtacy of this Congregation; according to that which is written, If ye yet walk contrary unto me, I will puniſh you ſeven times more: I will bring ſeven times more plagues upon you, according to your ſins. Levit. 26. 18, 19, 20, 21.

And Lamech lived after he begat Noah, five hundred ninety and five years, and begat Sons and Daughters. Ver. 30. Wherefore Lamech heard the preaching of Noah, who was the only Miniſter of God in thoſe Days, to recover the Church to Repentance from their Apoſtacy, which alſo he did in ſome good meaſure effect, while he condemned the World for their unbelief. Heb. 11. 7.

And all the days of Lamech were ſeven hundred ſeventy and ſeven years, and he died. Ver. 31. He died five years before the Flood. Methuſelah therefore was the longeſt Liver of thoſe Godly that fell on the other ſide the Flood, for he died not before the very Year the Flood came, not by the Water, but before. The righteous is taken away from the evil to come; though, as the Prophet ſaith, no man of the wicked laid it to heart. Iſa. 57. 1.

And Noah was five hundred years old: and Noah begat Shem, Ham and Japhet. Ver. 32.

CHAP. VI.

AND it came to paſs, when men began to multiply upon the Earth, and Daughters were born unto them. Ver. 1.

Moſes now leaveth the Genealogy for a while, and ſearcheth into the State and Condition of the Church now after ſo long a time as its ſtanding upwards of, or above a Thouſand years: Where he preſently findeth two things: 1. The Church declin'd. 2. And God provoked. Wherefore he maketh Inquiry into the Nature of the Churches ſin; which he relateth in this following Chapter.

And it came to paſs, when men began to multiply. The men here I underſtand to be be the Children of Cain, the Church and Synagogue of Satan, becauſe they are mentioned by way of Antitheſis to the Church and Sons of God.

And Daughters were born unto them. A Snare that was often uſed in the Hand of the Devil, to intangle withal the Church of God; yea, and doth ſo uſually ſpeed, that it hath often been counted by him as infallible; ſo that this is the Doctrine of his Prophet Balaam, and it prevailed, when all the Engines of Hell beſide were prevented. The People began to commit Whoredom with the Daughters of Moab. It may be this Child of Hell, in this his Advice to Balak looked back to the Daughters of Cain, and calling to Remembrance how of Old they intangled the Church, advertiſed him to put the ſame into Practice again.

Rev. 2. 14. Num. 25. 1, 2.

Ver. 2. And the Sons of God ſaw the Daughters of Men, that they were fair, and they took them Wives of all which they choſe.

This was the Way then of the Sons of Cain, to let their fair Daughters be ſhewed to the Sons of God. For it ſeems all other their Wiles and Devices were not able to bring the Church and the World together, and to make them live as in one Communion: Theſe to the Church was ſuch, whoſe Heart was Snares and Nets, and whoſe Hands were Bands to intangle and hold them from obſerving the Laws and Judgments of God.

Prov. 22. 14. Eccl. 7. 26.

And they took them Wives. Firſt their Eye ſaw them, and then their Heart luſted after them. Thus the Devil deceived the Woman, and by this Means periſhed curſed Achan. And Achan anſwered Joſhua, Indeed I have ſinned againſt the Lord, and thus and thus have I done: When I ſaw among the Spoils a goodly Babiloniſh Garment, &c. then I coveted them.

Joſh. 7. 20, 21.

Note therefore, that it is not good to behold with the Eye that which God hath forbid us to touch with our hand. I made a Covenant with mine Eyes, ſaith Job: And again, if at unawares a thing was caſt before him, the beholding of which was of an intangling Nature, he forthwith would hold back his heart as with a Bridle, leſt the deſign of Hell ſhould be effected upon him.

Job. 31. 1. Ver. 7.

Cruſh ſin then in the Conception, leſt it bring forth Death in thy Soul.

Ver. 3. And the Lord ſaid, My Spirit ſhall not always ſtrive with man, for that he alſo is fleſh; yet his days ſhall be an hundred and twenty years.

By theſe words is aggravated the Sin of the Church, that ſhe would attempt to cloſe with, and hold a ſinful Communion, againſt the Diſſwaſions of the Spirit of God.

My Spirit ſhall not always ſtrive. To wit, my Spirit in Noah, for he was the only Preacher of Righteouſneſs to the Church in thoſe back-ſliding times.

By this then, I find, that the Doctrine of Noah, was, To declare againſt a ſinful Communion, or to command the Church, in the Name of God, that ſhe ſtill maintain a ſeparation from the curſed Children of Cain: As he ſaid to the Prophet Jeremiah, If thou ſeparate the precious from the vile, thou ſhalt be as my mouth. Jer. 15. 19.

Noah therefore had an hard task, when he preached this Doctrine among them: For this above all is hard to be born, for by this he condemned the World.

The firſt great quarrel therefore that God had with his Church it was for their holding unwarrantable Communion with others. The Church ſhould always dwell alone, and not be reckoned among the Nations. The Church is a choſen Generation, a royal Prieſthood, an holy Nation, a peculiar People: Therefore the work of the Church of God, is not to fall in with any ſinful Fellowſhip, or receive into their Communion the ungodly World, but to ſhew forth the praiſes and vertues of him who hath called them out from among ſuch Communicants into his marvellous Light. Num. 23. 9. 1 Pet. 2. 9.

My Spirit ſhall not always ſtrive. Hence note, that the People that ſhall continue to grieve the Spirit of God, and to reſiſt the Doctrine of Noah, they are appointed for heavy Judgments. Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her ſins, and that ye receive not of her plagues. This becauſe thoſe (finally Impenitent) in Noah's time refuſed to do, therefore the wrath of God overtook them, and ſwept them off the Face of the Earth. Rev. 18. 4.

Yet his days ſhall be an hundred and twenty years. Noah therefore began his preaching about the Four hundred and fourſcore year of his Life, which continuing the ſpace of Sixſcore more, it reached to the day that the Flood came.

In which time doubtleſs his Faith was ſufficiently try'd, both by the hard Cenſures of the Hypocrites of the Church, and the open profane of the World, againſt whom he daily pronounced the Judgments of God for maintaining their forbidden Communion. Gen. 3. 15.

Yet his days ſhall be an hundred and twenty years. God alſo would yet have Patience with theſe People, if peradventure they would repent that his hand might not be upon them.

There were Giants in the Earth in thoſe Days; and alſo after that, when the Sons of God came in unto the Daughters of Men, and they bare Children unto them; the ſame became mighty Men, which were of old, Men of Renown. Ver. 4.

There were Giants in the Earth in thoſe Days. Theſe Words ſeem to be ſpoken, to ſhew us the Hazards that Noah ran, while he preached the Truth of God: He incurred the Diſpleaſure of the Giants, which doubtleſs made all Men tremble, and kept the whole World in Awe: But Noah muſt ingage the Giants, he must not fear the Face of a Giant. This way God took also with Moses, and with his People of Israel, they must go to possess the Land of the Deut. 9. 1, 2. Giants, a People high and tall as the Cedars, a People of whom went that Proverb, Who Chap. 3, 8, 9, 10, 11. can stand before the Children of Anak? They must not be afraid of Og the King of Bashan, though his Head be as high as the Ridge of an House, and his Bedstead a Bedstead of Iron.

This should teach us then not to fear the Faces of Men: no, not the Faces of the mighty, not to fear them, I say, in the Matters of God, though they should run upon us like a Giant.

These Giants I suppose were the Children of Cain, because mentioned as another Sort than those that were the Fruit of their forbidden and ungodly Communion: For he adds, And also after that, or besides them, when the Sons of God came in unto the Daughters of Men, and they bare Children unto them; the same, or they also, became mighty men, which were of old, Men of Renown.

Then Noah found Giants every where: Giants in the World, and Giants in this confused Communion. And thus it is at this day; we do not only meet with Giants abroad, among the most ungodly and uncircumcised in heart, but even among those that seem to be of the Religious, among them we also meet with Giants; men mighty to oppose the Truth, and very profound
Isa. 8, 13, 14. to make slaughter: But mark the advice of the Lord, Fear not their fear, neither be afraid, but sanctifie the Lord of hosts himself, (who is stronger than all the Giants that are upon the face of the Earth) and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread.

And when the Sons of God came in unto the Daughters of men, and they bare Children unto them, the same became mighty men; much like to the Giants: The Fruit therefore of ungodly Communion is monstrous, and of a very strange Complexion. They are like unto them that worshipped the Lord, and 2 King 17, 24, 41. served their own gods also; or like to those of the Church, of whom Nehemiah speaks,
Neh. 13, 23, 24. that had mixed themselves with the Children of Ashdod, Ammon and Moab, whose Children were a Monstrous Brood, that spake half the Language of Ashdod, and could not speak the Jews Language.

By both these sorts of Giants was faithful Noah despised, and his Work for God con-
1 Sam. 17, 10. demned. In David's time also Goliah defied Israel, and so did his Brethren also:
1 Chr. 20. 4, 5, 6, 7, 8. Giants, the Sons of the Giant; but David and his Servants must engage them, and fight them, though they were Giants.

Mighty men which were of old. Persecution therefore, or the Appearance of the Giants against the Servants of God, is no new Business; not a thing of yesterday, but of old, even when Noah did minister for God in the World: There were Giants in the Earth in those Days, to oppose him.

Men of Renown. Not for Faith and Holiness, but for some other high Atchievements, may be, mighty to fight, and to shed Man's Blood; or to find out Arts, and the Nature of Things; both which did render them Famous, and Men to be noted in their Place. Such kind of Men might be Corah, Dathan, and their Company also; Numb 16. 1, 2. yet they opposed Moses and Aaron, yea, God, his Way and Worship, and perished after an unheard of manner; as also did the Opposers of righteous Noah, in the Day of the Flood.

And God saw that the wickedness of man Vet. 5. was great upon the earth, and that every imagination of the thought of his heart was only evil continually. The Margin saith, not only the Imaginations, but also the Purposes and Desires.

These Words are to be understood, as still respecting the Apostacy that we read of in the First and Second Verses, and are (in my Thoughts) to be taken as the Effect of their Degeneracy: For though it be true, that the best of Men, in their most holy and godly Behaviour, have wicked and sinful Hearts; yet so long as they walk sincerely according to the Rules prescribed of God, there is no such Character upon them; especially as it stands related to the Words that immediately follow; to wit, that it repented the Lord that he made them.

These evil and wicked Purposes then were in special the Fruit of their Apostacy; for indeed, when Men are once fallen from God, they then, as the Judgment of God upon them, are given up to all Unrighteousness. Again, Apostatizing Persons are Zech. 11. 8. counted Abhorrers of God. Yet Persons in this Condition will seek their own Justification, turning things upside down, traver-
Jer. 2. 21, &c. sing their ways like the Dromedaries; bearing us still in hand, that they stand not guilty of Sin, but that what they do is allowable, or winked at of God. Besides, they say their Hearts are still upright with God, and that they have not forsaken the Simplicity of his Way, of a wicked and ungodly Design, with an hundred more the like Pretences; all which are condemned of God, and held by him as abominable and vile.

And God saw, &c. They covered their Shame from Men, like the Adulterous Woman in the Proverbs, and would speak with Prov. 30, 20. Oily Mouths, thereby to cozen the World; but God knew their Hearts, and had revealed their Sin to his Servant Noah; he therefore in the Spirit of God, as one alone, cried out against their Wickedness.

Hence learn to judge of Apostates, not by their Words nor Pretences, nor ungodly Coverings, whereby they may seek to hide themselves from the Stroke of a convincing Argument, but judge them by the Words of God; for however they think of themſelves, or would be accounted of others, God ſees their Wickedneſs is great.

And that every imagination of the thought of his heart, was only evil continually. If they think they have not ſinned; if they think they promote Religion; if they think to find out a Medium to make Peace between the Seed of the Woman, and the wicked Seed of Cain; all is alike ungodly, they have forſaken the right Way, they have diſſembled the known Truth, they have rejected the Word of the Lord; And what wiſdom or goodneſs is in them?

Ver. 6. And it repented the Lord that he had made man on the earth, and it grieved him at the heart.

Repentance is in us a Change of the Mind; but in God, a Change of his Diſpenſations; for otherwiſe he repenteth not, neither can he; becauſe it ſtandeth not with the Perfection of his Nature: in him is no variableneſs, nor ſhadow of turning. Jam. 1. 17.

Wherefore, it is Man, not God, that turns: When Men therefore reject the Mercy and Ways of God, they caſt themſelves under his Wrath and Diſpleaſure; which, becauſe it is executed according to the Nature of his Juſtice, and the Severity of his Law, they miſs of the Mercy promiſed before: Num. 23. 19. Which that we may know, thoſe ſhall one Day feel that ſhall continue in final Impenitency. Therefore, God ſpeaking to their Capacity, he tells them, he hath repented 1 Sam. 15. 35. of doing them good: It repented the Lord that he had made Saul King: And yet this Repentance was only a Change of the Diſpenſation, which Saul by his Wickedneſs had put himſelf under; otherwiſe the Verſe 29. Strength, the Eternity of Iſrael, will not lie, nor repent.

The Sum is therefore, that Men had now by their Wickedneſs put themſelves under the Juſtice and Law of God; which Juſtice, by Reaſon of its Perfection, could not endure they ſhould abide on the Earth any longer; and therefore now, as a juſt Reward of their Deed, they muſt be ſwept from the Face thereof.

And it grieved him at the Heart. This is ſpoken to ſhew, that he did not feign, but was ſimple and ſincere in his Promiſe of Remiſſion and Forgiveneſs of Sins, had they kept cloſe to his Word, according as he had commanded. Wherefore God's Heart went not with them in their Backſliding, but left them, and was offended with them.

Ver. 7. And the Lord ſaid, I will deſtroy Man whom I have created, from off the Earth, both Man and Beaſt, (or from Man to Beaſt,) and the creeping Things, and the Fowls of the Air; for it repenteth me that I have made them.

This may be either underſtood as a Threatning, or a Determination: If as a Threatning, then it admitted of Time for Repentance; but if it was ſpoken as a Determination, then they had ſtood out the Day of Grace, and had laid themſelves under unavoidable Judgment. If it reſpected the firſt, then it was in order to the Miniſtry of Noah, or in order to the effecting the Ends of its ſending; which were either to ſoften or harden, to bring to Repentance, or to leave them utterly and altogether inexcuſable. But if it reſpected the ſecond, as it might, then it was pronounced as an Effect of God's Diſpleaſure, for their Abuſe of his Patience, his Miniſter, and Word: As it alſo was with Iſrael of old; they mocked the Meſſengers of God, and deſpiſed 2 Chron. his Words, and miſuſed his Prophets, until the 36. 16. wrath of the Lord aroſe againſt his People, till there was no remedy.

And the Lord ſaid, I will deſtroy man whom I have created. This Word Created, is added, on purpoſe to ſhew that the World is under the Power of his Hand; for who can deſtroy, but he that can create? Or who can ſave alive, when the Maker of the World is ſet againſt them? There is one Law-giver, Jam. 4. 12. who is able to ſave, and to deſtroy. And again, Fear him who can deſtroy both body Matt. 10. and Soul in hell. In both which Places Power to deſtroy is inſinuated from his Power and Godhead: As he ſaith in another Place, All Souls are mine; the Soul that ſins, it ſhall Ezek. 18. die. 4.

Both man and beaſt, and the creeping thing, and the fowl, &c. Thus it was at firſt the Sin of a Man brought a Curſe and Judgment upon other the Creatures whom God had made: As Paul ſays, The whole Creation Rom. 8. 22 groans.

But again, This Threatning upon the Beaſts the Fowls, and Creeping things, might Joſh. 6. 20. ariſe from a double Conſideration: Firſt, 2 Chron. To ſhew, That when God intends the De- 35. 21. ſtruction of Man, he will alſo deſtroy the Means of his Preſervation. Or, Secondly, To ſhew, That when he is determined to execute his Judgments, he will cut off all that ſtands in his way: he could not deſtroy the Earth without a Flood, and preſerve the Beaſt, &c. alive; therefore he deſtroys them alſo.

For it repenteth me that I have made them. This ſeems to fall under the Firſt Conſideration, to wit, That God repented that he made the Beaſts and Fowls; becauſe now they were uſed to ſuſtain his implacable Enemies.

But Noah found Grace in the Eyes of the Ver. 8. Lord.

This Word Grace, muſt in ſpecial be obſerved; for Grace is it which delivereth from all deſerved Judgments and Deſtruction.

Noah, by Nature was no better than other Men: Therefore the Reaſon why he periſhed not with others, it was becauſe he found Grace in the Eyes of the Lord. Ye are Eph. 2. 8. ſaved by Grace. And thus was Noah, as is evident, becauſe he was ſaved by Faith; for Heb. 11. 7.

Faith

Faith respecteth not Works, but Grace: Ye
Rom. 4. 16. are saved by Grace through Faith. As Paul says again, Therefore it is of Faith that it might be by Grace, &c. We must therefore, in our Deliverance from all the Judgments of God, sing Grace, Grace, unto it.

Ver. 9. These are the generations of Noah: Noah was a just man, and perfect in his generations; and Noah walked with God.

The Holy Ghost here makes a short Digression from his Progress, in his relation of the Wickedness of the World: And yet not impertinently; for seeing Noah was the Man that escaped the Judgment, his Escape must be for some reason; which was, because God was gracious to him, and because God had justified him. Besides Noah being now made Righteous, faithfully walked with God.

He was just and perfect in his Generations. But why is it said, Generations? It might be, because he was faithful to God and Man, having the Armour of Righteousness on the right-hand, and on the left. It is said in
Isa. 53. 9. Isaiah, That Christ made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death: To import, That they only have Benefit by him to Eternal Life, that Die by his Exam-
Phil. 3. 8, 9, 10. ple, as well as Live by his Blood; for in his Death was both Merit and Example; and they are like to miss in the First, that are not concerned in the Second.

Perfect in his Generations. In his Carriage, Doctrines and Life, before both God and Man: And thus ought every Preacher to be; he ought to do in the sight of God, what he commands to Men; by this Means 1 Tim. 4. 16. he saveth both himself, and them that hear him.

Besides, Noah was a Man, as well as a Saint, and in either sense had a Generation: To both of which Grace made him faithful; and he that shall not serve his Genetation as a Man, will hardly serve his Generation as a Christian. But Noah was perfect in both, he was perfect in his Generations.

And Noah walked with God. This shews he was sincere in his Work; for an Hypocrite may, as to outward shew, do as the Saint of God; but he doth it with respect to Men, not God, and therefore he is an Hypocrite. To walk with God then, is not only to do the Duty commanded, but to do it as God Requireth it; that is, to do it with Faith, and Son-like Fear, as in God's sight, with singleness of heart.

And Noah begat three Sons, Shem, Ham,
Ver. 10. and Japhet.

These are the Off-spring of Noah, and by these was the Earth replenished after the Flood, as will be further seen hereafter.

And the earth also was corrupt before God,
Ver. 11. and the earth was filled with violence.

He is now returned to the Matter in hand before; to wit, the Causes of the Flood.

And the Earth also was corrupt. By Earth, he may here Mean, those that are without the Church: And if so, then by Corrupt here, we must understand, Wicked after a most high manner; for albeit the World and Generation of Cain be always Sinners before God, yet the Lord cutteth not off the World in general, nor a Nation in particular, but because of the Commission of eminent Outrage and Wickedness. Thus it was with those of Sodom, a little before the Lord with Fire devoured them. The men of Sodom (saith the Text) were wicked, and Gen. 13. 13. Sinners before the Lord exceedingly.

Again: As by Corrupt, we may understand, Corrupt by way of Eminency; so again, they were corrupt Incurably. This is evident, because they were not brought off from Sin by the Ministry of Noah, the only appointed Means of their Conversion.

Hence note, That when Men are Sinners exceedingly, and when the Means of Grace appointed of God for their Recovery, proves ineffectual, then they are near some 2 Chron. 36. signal Judgment. Thus back-sliding Jerusalem, because she was wicked with an high Ezek. 24. 13, 14. hand, and could not be cured by the Ministry of the Prophets, therefore her Sons must go forth of her into Captivity, and the Jer. 15. 1, 2, 3. City burned to the ground with fire.

And the earth was filled with violence. First, they had violated the Law of God, in making and maintaining ungodly and wicked communion; according to that of the Prophet, Her Priests have violated my Law, and have profaned my holy things. But how? They have put no difference be- Ezek. 22. 26. tween the holy and profane, neither have they shewed difference between the unclean and the clean.

They also perverted Judgment between a Man and his Neighbour: adhering to their own Party, in Disaffection to the Religious. This is supposed, because of the exceeding Latitude of the Expression, The Earth was filled with Violence; that is, all manner of Violence, Out-rage and Cruelty was committed by this Sort of People. This takes in that Saying of Solomon, the Oppression of the Poor, especially God's Eccl. 5. 8. Poor, is included, in a violent perverting of Judgment and Justice.

They also shewed Violence to the Lives of Good Men, as may be gathered by the Act of Lamech, one of the Sons of Cain. In a word, The Earth was filled with Violence; Violence of every kind; Lust and Wickedness was out-rageous, there was a World of Ungodliness among these ungodly Men.

And God looked upon the Earth, and be- Ver. 12. hold it was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth.

By these words therefore is confirmed the Sense of the former Verse, The earth was corrupt; for God saw it was so: The Earth was full of Violence, for they had corrupted God's way.

And

And God looked upon the Earth. This ſhews us, That the Lord doth not with Haſte, or in a raſh inconſiderate Way, pour his Judgments upon the World; but that with Judgment and Knowledge, the Wickedneſs firſt being certain, and of Merit deſerving the ſame. This is ſeen in his way of dealing with Sodom: And the Lord
Gen. 18. 20, 21. ſaid, Becauſe the cry of Sodom and Gomorrah is great, and becauſe their ſin is very grievous, I will go down now and ſee whether they have done altogether according to the cry of it, which is come unto me; and if not, I will know.

And behold, it was corrupt; for all fleſh had corrupted his way upon the earth. It proved, as that of Sodom did, according to the Cry thereof; for all fleſh had corrupted his way: God's way, by violating his Law, and perverting of Judgment, as was hinted before. All fleſh had corrupted it, therefore the evil needed not to be long in ſearching out: As God ſaith by the Prophet Jere-
Jer. 2. 34. miah, I have not found it by diligent ſearch, but upon all theſe. Here upon the whole Earth, none exempted but righteous Noah.

Ver. 13. And God ſaid unto Noah, The end of all fleſh is come before me: for the earth is filled with violence through them, and behold I will deſtroy them with the Earth.

And God ſaid unto Noah, Or told Noah his Purpoſe: The ſame way he went with
Gen. 18. 17, Amos. 3. 7. Abraham: Shall I hide from Abraham the thing that I do? Surely the Lord will do nothing, but he revealeth his Secrets unto his Servants the Prophets.

The end of all fleſh is come. The Time or Expiration of the World is at hand. God ſpeaks before he ſmites. Thus he did Ezek. 7. 2, 3, 6. alſo by the Prophet Ezekiel, ſaying, An end is come, the end is come: And again, The end is come, the end is come; it watcheth for thee; behold, it is come.

The end of all fleſh is come before me. Sin and Wickedneſs doth not put an end to the Ungodly before their own Face, yet it brings their End before the Face of God. It is ſaid of theſe very People, they knew not of their Matt. 24. 37, 38, 39. Deſtruction, untill the day the Flood came, and took them all away. Indeed, the Nature of Sin is to blind the Mind, that the Perſon concerned may neither ſee Mercy nor Judgment; but God ſees their End: The end of all fleſh is come before me.

The end of all fleſh. By theſe words, the Souls are left to, and reſerved for another Judgment: Wherefore, though here we find the Fleſh conſumed; yet Peter ſaith, their Spirits are ſtill in Priſon, even the Souls that Chriſt once preached to in the Days, and by the Miniſtry of Noah: Even the 1 Pet. 3, 18, 19, 20. Souls which ſometimes were diſobedient when once the long ſuffering of God waited in the Days of Noah, while the Ark was preparing, &c.

Ver. 14. Make thee an Ark of Gopher Wood: Rooms ſhalt thou make in the Ark, and ſhalt pitch it within and without with Pitch.

This is the Fruits of the Grace of God: He ſaid before, That Noah found Grace in the Eyes of the Lord: Which Grace appoints to him the Means of his Preſervation.

Make THEE an Ark. He ſaith not, Make one, or, Make one for Me: But, Make one; Make one for Thee: Make [Thee] an Ark of Gopher Wood.

Noah therefore, from this Word Thee, did gather, That God did intend to preſerve him from the Judgment which he had appointed in this his Work: Therein lay his own Profit and Comfort; not a Thought which he had, not a Blow that he ſtruck, about the preparing the Ark, but he preached, as to others their Ruin, to himſelf, his Safeguard and Deliverance: He prepared Heb. 11. 7. an Ark, to the ſaving of his Houſe.

This therefore muſt needs adminiſter much Peace and Content to his Mind, while he preached to others their Overthrow: As the Prophet ſaith, The Work of Righteouſneſs ſhall be Peace; and the Effects of Righteouſneſs, Quietneſs, and Aſſurance for ever. And, My People ſhall dwell in a peaceable Habi- Iſa. 32. 17, 18. tation. Thus did Noah when he dwelt in the Ark, and in ſure dwellings, and in quiet reſting-places.

Make thee an Ark. The Ark was a Figure of ſeveral things. 1. Of Chriſt, in whom the Church is preſerved from the Wrath of God. 2. It was a Figure of the Works of the Faith of the Godly: By Faith he prepared an Ark; by which the Followers of Chriſt are preſerved from the Rage and Tyranny of the World (for the Rage of the Water was a Type of that, as I ſhall ſhew you hereafter.) So then Noah, by preparing an Ark, or by being bid ſo to do of God, was thereby admoniſhed, Firſt, To live by the Faith of Chriſt, of whom the Ark was a Type: And hence it is ſaid, that in preparing the Ark, he became Heir of the Righteouſueſs which is by Faith; becauſe he underſtood the Mind of God therein, and throughout his Figure acted Faith upon Chriſt. But, Secondly, His Faith was not to be Idle, and therefore he was bid to work: This begat in him an obediential Fear of doing ought which God had forbidden: By Faith Noah being warned of God, of Things not ſeen as yet, moved with Fear, prepared an Ark, to the ſaving of his Houſe: by the which he condemned the world, and became Heir of the Righteouſneſs which is by Faith.

Rooms (Neſts) ſhalt thou make in the Ark. To wit, for himſelf, and the Beaſts, and Birds of the Field, &c. Implying, that in the Lord Jeſus there is Room for Jews and Gentiles: Yea, foraſmuch as theſe Rooms were prepared for Beaſts of every Sort, and for Fowls of every Wing: It informs us, that for all Sorts, Ranks and Qualities of Men, there is Preſervation in Jeſus Chriſt: Compel them to come in; drive them (in a Goſpel Luke 14, 21, 22, 23. Gospel Sense) as Noah did the Beasts of old into the Ark, that my House may be full, and yet there is room.

And thou shalt pitch it within and without with Pitch. This was to secure all from the Flood, or to keep them that were in the Ark from perishing in the Waters.

Ver. 15. And this is the fashion which thou shalt make it of; the length of the Ark shall be three hundred cubits, the breadth thereof fifty cubits, and the height of it thirty cubits.

A Vessel fit to swim upon the Waters.

And this is the fashion, &c. God's Ordinances must be according to God's Order and Appointment, not according to our Fancies, This is the Fashion, to wit, according to what is after expressed.

By these words therefore Noah was limited and bound up, as to a Direction from which he must not vary; according to that of the Angel to the Prophet, Son of man (saith he) behold with thine Eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thine heart upon all that I shew thee; for to the intent that I might shew them unto thee, art thou brought hither. As the Lord said also to his Servant Moses, In all things that I have said unto you, be circumspect. And so again, about making the Tabernacle in the Wilderness, which the Apostle also takes special notice of, saying, See (saith he) that thou make all things according to the Pattern shewed to thee in the Mount.

Exod. 23. 13.

Hence note, That God's Command must be the Rule whereby we order all our Actions, especially when we pretend to worship that is divine and religious. If our Works, Orders, and Observances, have not this Inscription upon them, This is the Fashion, or, This is according to the Pattern, such works and orders will profit us nothing: Neither have we any Promise when all is done, it wanting the Order of God, that we should escape those Judgments which those shall assuredly escape, that have their Eye in their Work to the Pattern revealed in the Word.

Ver. 16. A Window shalt thou make to the Ark, and in a cubit shalt thou finish it above; and the Door of the Ark shalt thou set in the side thereof: with lower, second, and third stories shalt thou make it.

I told you before, That the Ark was a Type of Christ, and also of the Works of the Faith of the Godly. And now he seems to bring in more, and to make it a Type of the Church of Christ; as indeed the Prophet also does, when he calls the Church, One afflicted, and tossed with tempests; and compareth her Troublers to the Waters of Noah, saying, This is as the Waters of Noah.

Isa. 54. 9, 10, 11.

Now as the Ark was a Type of the Church, so according to the Description of this Verse she hath Three most excellent things attending her. 1. Light. 2. A Door. 3. Stories of a lower and higher rank.

1. She hath a Window for Light, and that when she was to to be tossed upon the Waters. Hence note, That the Church of Christ wanteth not Light, no, not in the worst of Times. This Light is the Word and Spirit of God which Christ hath given to them that obey him.

John 17.

2. She hath a Door. This Door was a Type of Christ; so was also the Door of the Tabernacle. And hence it is that you read, That Moses, when he went to walk with God, would stand to talk in the Door of the Tabernacle; also that the Cloudy Pillar stood at the Door. I (saith Christ) am the Door: Again, I am the Door of the Sheep. By this Door then, entred all that went into the Ark, as by Christ all must enter that enter aright into the Church.

Exod. 33. 8, 9. Joh. 10.

3. She had Stories in her, of first, second, and third degree: To shew that also in the Church of Christ there are some higher than some, both as to Persons and States: 1. Apostles: 2. Evangelists: 3. Pastors and Teachers. And again, there are in the Church degrees of States, as also there is in Heaven.

Ver. 17. And behold, I, even I do bring a flood of waters upon the Earth, to destroy all flesh wherein is the breath of life from under heaven; and every thing that is in the earth shall die.

This is the reason of the Former Commandment, of Making an Ark: But some time was yet to intervene; the Flood was here-after to over-flow the World: Wherefore, from this it is that those words are inserted, of things not seen as yet: And that the Ark was a Work, or the Fruit of Noah's Faith: By Faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, &c.

And behold, I, even I, &c. These words excuse Noah of Treason or Rebellion, forasmuch as his Preparation for himself, and his Warning and Threatning the whole World with Death and Judgment for their Transgression, was solely grounded upon the Word of God: God bid him prepare, God said he would punish the World for their Iniquity.

Hence note, That a Man is not to be counted an Offender, how contrary soever he lieth, either in Doctrine or Practice, to Men, &c. If both have the Command of God, and are surely grounded upon the words of his Mouth. This made Jeremiah, though he preached, That the City Jerusalem should be burnt with Fire, the King and People should go into Captivity; yet stand upon his own Vindication before his Enemies, and plead his Innocency against them that persecuted him. Daniel also, though he did openly break the King's Decree, and refused to stoop to his Idolatrous and Devilish Demand; yet purged himself of both Treason and Sedition, and justifies his Act as innocent and harmless, even in the sight of God. My God (saith he) hath sent his Angel, and hath shut the

Jer. 26, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15.

Dan. 6. 22.

Lions mouths, ſo that they have not hurt me; foraſmuch as before him innocency was found in me; and alſo before thee, O King, I have done no hurt. Further, Paul alſo, although by his Doctrine he did cry-down the Ceremonies of the Jews, and the Idolatry of the Heathen Emperor, yet he quits himſelf of blame from either ſide: Neither Acts 25. 8. againſt the Law of the Jews, ſaith he, neither againſt the Temple, nor yet againſt Cæſar, have I offended any thing at all. The reaſon is, becauſe the words of God, how ſeverely ſoever they threaten Sinners, and how ſharply ſoever (the Preacher keeping within the Bowels of the Word) this Doctrine be urged on the World, if it deſtroy, it deſtroyeth but Sin and impenitent Sinners, even as the Waters of Noah muſt do.

This then affords us another Note worth remarking, to wit, That what God hath ſaid in his Word, how offenſive ſoever it be to ungodly Men, That we that are Chriſtians ought to obſerve; whether it direct us to declare againſt others Enormities, or to provide for our ſelves againſt the Judgment to come.

And behold I, even I, do bring a Flood, &c. Hence note again, Let us preach and practiſe well, and let God alone to execute his Judgments. It is ſaid of Samuel, That 1 Sam 3. 19, 20. not one of his words did fall to the ground. He Preached, and God, according to his Bleſſing or Curſing, did either Spare and Forgive, or Execute his Judgments.

And behold, I, even I. Note again, That when Sinners have with the utmoſt contempt ſlighted and deſpiſed the Judgment threatned, yet foraſmuch as the Execution thereof is in the Hand of an Omnipotent Majeſty, it muſt fall with violence upon the Head of the Wicked. I, even I, therefore, were words of a ſtrong Encouragement to Noah, and the Godly with him; but Black, and like Claps of Thunder to the Peſtilent unbelieving World: As the Prophet ſays, He is ſtrong that executes his word: And again, Not one of his Judgments fail.

And behold, I, even I do bring a Flood. The Flood was a Type of Three things.

1. A Type of the Enemies of the Church, Iſa. 54.

2. A Type of the Water-Baptiſm under the New-Teſtament, 1 Pet. 3. 20, 21.

3. A Type of the Laſt and General overthrow of the World by Fire and Brimſtone, 2 Pet. 3. 6, 7.

But here, as it ſimply reſpecteth the Cauſe, which (as is afore related) was the Sin that before you read of; ſo it preciſely was a Type of the laſt of theſe, and to that end put an end to the World that then was. The World that then was being overflowed with Water, periſhed, to ſignifie, That the Heavens and the Earth which are now, are reſerved unto Fire, againſt the Day of Judgment, and Perdition of ungodly Men.

I bring a flood of water upon the earth, to deſtroy all fleſh wherein is the breath of life from under heaven, and every thing that is in the earth ſhall die. By theſe latter words, as the cauſe, ſo the Extention of this Curſe is expreſſed; and that under a Threefold Denotation.

1. Every thing that is in the Earth.
2. All Fleſh wherein is the breath of life.
3. Every thing that is under Heaven.

So then, this Deluge was univerſal, and extended it ſelf not only to thoſe Parts of the World where Noah and that Generation lived, which we find repeated before, but even over the face of all the Earth; and it took hold of the life of every living thing that was either on all the Earth, or in the Air, excepting only thoſe in the ARK, as will the General Judgment do: And Noah Gen. 7. 23. only remained alive, and they that were with him in the Ark.

But with thee will I eſtabliſh my Covenant, Ver. 18. and thou ſhalt come into the Ark, thou, and thy Sons, and thy Wife, and thy Sons Wives with thee.

But with thee, &c. This concerns what was ſaid before concerning the univerſality of the Flood: As he alſo ſaid above, But Noah found grace in the eyes of the Lord. This Peter alſo notes, He ſaved Noah, the 2 Pet. 2. 5. eighth perſon, a Preacher of Righteouſneſs, bringing in the Flood upon the WORLD of the ungodly.

With thee will I eſtabliſh my Covenant. My Covenant of Mercy, or my Promiſe to ſave thee when I drown the whole World for their Iniquity: And therefore he adds, And thou ſhalt come into the Ark.

I will eſtabliſh. Making and Eſtabliſhing of Promiſes are not always the ſame: He made his Promiſe to Abraham, he ſecond- Pſal. 105. 8, 9, 10. ed it with an Oath unto Iſaac, and he confirmed, or eſtabliſhed it to Jacob; for by him he multiplied the Seed of Abraham as the Stars of Heaven for Multitude.

With thee will I eſtabliſh. Or, unto thee will I perform my Promiſe, Thou ſhalt come into the Ark.

Hence note again, That we ought to look upon ſignal and great Deliverances from ſore and imminent Dangers, to be Confirmations of the Promiſe or Covenant of God. Or thus, When God finds Means of Deliverance, and inſtateth our Souls in a ſpecial Luke 1. 68 to 75. Share of that Means, this we ſhould take as a Sign, That with us God hath confirmed, or eſtabliſhed, his Covenant.

Thou, and thy Sons, and thy Wife, and thy Sons Wives with thee. Becauſe in that Family did now reſide the whole of the Viſibility of the Church upon the Earth; all the reſt were loſt, as Peter alſo intimates, when he calleth Noah the Eighth Perſon, or One, and the Chief of the Eight that made up the Viſible Church, or that maintained the Purity of the Worſhip of God upon the Face of the whole Earth: As he explains it a little after: For thee have I found righteous before before me in this generation.

Ver. 19. And of every living thing of all flesh, two of every sort shalt thou bring into the Ark, to keep them alive with thee, they shall be male and female.

By these Words, Noah should seem to be (in this Action) a Figure or Semblance of Christ; who before the Lord shall rain Fire and Brimstone from Heaven, shall gather into his Ark, the Church, of all Kindreds, and Tongues, and People, and Nations, even as Noah was to gather of all, of every thing, of all flesh, of every sort, with him into the Ark.

Luke 13. 29. Chap. 14. 21, 22.

* Chap. 7. 2. Two of every sort. This Two, in special respecteth the * Unclean, which were a Type of the Gentiles, and so further confirms the Point.

Acts 10. 11, 12, 17, 28. They shall be Male and Female. He would not make a full End, he would in Judgment remember Mercy.

Ver. 20. Of Fowls after their kind, and of Cattel after their kind, and of every creeping thing of the earth after his kind: two of every sort shall come unto thee to keep them alive.

Of Fowls after their kind, of Cattel after their kind. This, still respecting the Antitype, may shew us also, how that God, for Proof of the Prophecy of the spreading of the Gospel, doth not only tell us, that the Gentiles were gathered into his Ark, but as here the Beasts and Birds according to their kind, are specified: so the Gentiles are also denominated according to their several Countries, Galatians, Corinthians, Ephesians, Colossians, Thessalonians, Bereans, &c. these after their Countrey and Nation were gathered unto Jesus to be preserved from the Flood of Wrath that at last shall fall from God who dwells in Heaven, to the burning up of the Sinner and Ungodly.

Two of every sort shall come into thee to keep them alive. If the Emphasis lieth in [Come,] as I am apt to think, and as the Eighth Verse of the next Chapter fairly allows me to judge; then we must observe still, That Noah was not only first in the Ark, as our Lord and Christ is the First from the Dead; but that the Cattel, the Fowls, and the Creeping things, did come to him into the Ark, by a special Instinct from Heaven of the Fruits of a Divine Election. Noah therefore, as a Man, did not make Choice which of every kind; but he went first into the Ark, and then of Clean Beasts by sevens, and of Unclean Beasts by two's, went in unto Noah into the Ark, as the Lord commanded Noah.

Psal. 65. 2. Gen. 49. 10. John 6. 37 44.

And thus it is in the Antitype: Unto thee shall all flesh come, saith the Prophet: And again, To him shall the gathering of the People be. But how? Why, by an Instinct from Heaven, the Fruit of a Divine Election: All that the Father hath given me, shall come to me; but no Man can come to me (saith Christ) unless the Father which hath sent me draw him.

The Beasts therefore which came into the Ark, were neither chosen by Men, neither came they in by any Instinct of Nature which was common to them all, but as being by a Divine Hand singled out and guided thither, so they entered in; the rest were left to the Fury of the Flood. Like to this also is the Anti-type, Sinners come not to Jesus by any Work or Choice of Flesh and Blood, nor yet by any Instinct of Nature that is common to all the World; but they come, as being by a divine Hand singled out from others; and as guided of the Father, so they come to Christ into the Ark: The rest are left to the Fury of the Wrath of God, which, in the Day of Judgment, shall swallow them up for ever.

They shall come unto thee to keep them alive. Indeed, they lived not for their own Sakes, they being not better than them that perished; but they shall come unto thee to save them: For, for the Sake of Noah they were preserved, when many Millions were drowned in the Waters. Bring this also to the Antitype, and you find them look like one another: for the reason why some are saved from the Wrath to come, it is not for that they are better in themselves, for both Jews and Gentiles are all under sin: But it is Christ that saveth by his Righteousness, as Noah saved the Beasts and Fowls, &c. Let us therefore, as the Beasts did, go to Jesus Christ, that he may keep us alive from perishing in the Day of Judgment.

Ver. 21. And take thou unto thee of all food that is eaten, and gather it to thee, and it shall be for food for thee, and for them.

This therefore was for the Preservation of the Life of those that were in the Ark; by which Action there is, as in the former, inclosed a Gospel-Mystery.

Take thou unto thee of all Food. This Food was not to be at the will and dispose of unruly Beasts, but Noah was, as the Lord of all that was in the Ark, to take it into his own custody: And therefore he doubleth the Command, Take it unto thee; Gather it unto thee; to wit, to dispose of after thy Discretion and Faithfulness. In this therefore he was a Type of Christ, whom God hath set as Lord and King in the Church, and to feed his flock as a Shepherd; for the Bread of God is in the Hand of Christ, for him to communicate unto his Spouses, Saints, and Children; as Joseph did to Egypt, according to the Power committed to him, and Trust reposed in him. And hence it is said, as concerning the Bread that endureth to Everlasting Life, the Son of Man shall give it you; for him hath God the Father sealed, or appointed thereunto: And therefore, that he giveth, we receive, and no more of the Bread of God: That thou gavest them, they gather; thou openest thy hand, they are filled with good.

John 6. 27. Ps. 104. 28.

Take unto thee all Food. That is, to be eaten

eaten by Man and Beaſt; the Fowl alſo, and the Creeping thing. This ſtill followed, and brought in to the Goſpel, it ſhews us, that, even then, when the Church is driven up into a Hole, and toſſed upon the Waves of the Rage and Fury of the World, as the Ark was upon the Face of the Waters, that even then her Noah hath all Food for her, or Food of all ſorts for her ſupport and refreſhment: Bread ſhall be given them, their Waters ſhall be ſure.

Iſa. 33.16.

Take unto thee. How bleſſedly was this anſwered, when the Lion of the Tribe of Judah took the Book out of the Hand of him that ſate upon the Throne; for in the Book is contained the words of Everlaſting Life; and the words of God are the Food of his Church, which this Noah hath received to nouriſh them withall: Man liveth not by Bread only, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord, doth Man live.

Rev. 5. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9.

Mat. 4. 4. Deut 8. 3.

And it ſhall be for Food for thee, and for them. That is, each according to their kind. The ſame is true alſo under our preſent Conſideration: Chriſt is the Shepherd, we are the Sheep, yet he feedeth with us in the Ark: I will come in and ſup with him, and he with me. Again, here Chriſt tranſcends this Action of Noah; for he was to have his Food of his own, but Chriſt feedeth on the ſame with us, even on the Words of God: Yet herein again we differ; He feedeth as a Lord, We as Servants; He as a Saviour, We as the Saved; but in general (reſpecting the Words of God) we feed all but of one Diſh, but at one Table; the Bread therefore that he hath provided, gathered and taken to him, it was Food for him, as well as for us.

Rev. 3.20.

Ver. 22. Thus did Noah; according to all that God commanded him, ſo did he.

Theſe words therefore preſent us with a Deſcription of the Sincerity and Simplicity of the Faith of Noah; who received the Word at the Mouth of God; not to hear only, but to do and live in the ſame.

Thus did Noah. As it is alſo ſaid of his Servant Moſes, As the Lord Commanded Moſes, ſo did he: As the Lord Commanded Moſes, ſo did he: Yea, to ſhew us how pleaſant a thing the Holy Ghoſt accounteth this Holy Obedience of Faith, he is not weary with repeating, and repeating again not leſs than Eight times in one Chapter, the punctuality of Moſes's conformity with the Word of God, in this manner, Thus did Moſes; according to All that the Lord Commanded Moſes, ſo did he.

Exod. 40, 16, 19, 21, 23, 25, 27, 29, 32.

This did Noah. This Note therefore is, as it were, a Character or Mark by which the Lord's People are known from the World: They have ſpecial regard to the Word. All his Saints are in thy hand; they ſat down at thy feet; every one ſhall receive of thy words. As Chriſt ſaid, I have given them thy words and they have received them: Yea, and they have kept this Word.

Deut 33. 3. Joh. 17. 8, 6.

Thus did Noah. Let this then be the diſcriminating Character of the Saints from the Men of this World. It was ſo in the days of Noah, when all the World went a whoring from their God, and ſaid, We deſire not the knowledge of his ways: Then Noah kept the Words of God: Thus did Noah; according to all that God Commanded him, ſo did he.

Job 22. 15, 17.

CHAP. VII.

Ver. 1. AND the Lord ſaid unto Noah, Come thou and all thy houſe into the Ark; for thee have I found righteous before me in this Generation.

The Ark being now prepared, and the Day of God's Patience come to an end, he now is reſolv'd to execute his Threatning upon the World of ungodly Men; but withall, in the firſt place, to ſecure his Saints, and them that have feared his Name. In this therefore we have a ſemblance of the Laſt Judgment, and how God will diſpoſe of his Friends and Enemies.

Come thou into the Ark. God, I ſay, will take care of, and ſafely provide for us that have feared him, when he moſt eminently entreth into Judgment with the World: As he alſo ſaith by Iſaiah the Prophet, Come my People, enter thou into thy chamber, and ſhut thy door about thee: Hide thy ſelf, as it were for a little moment, until the indigation be over-paſt. He ſhall ſend forth his Angels with a great ſound of a Trumpet, and they ſhall gather together his Elect from the four Winds, from one end of Heaven to another.

Iſa. 26. 20.

Come thou and all thy houſe. Not an Hoof muſt be left behind; God will not loſe the very Duſt of his People: Of all that thou haſt given me have I loſt nothing, but will raiſe it up at the laſt day. God therefore was careful not only of Noah, but of all that were in his Houſe; becauſe they were all of his Viſible Church, they muſt therefore be preſerved from the rage and fury of the Deluge: Gather my Saints together unto me, (ſaith he) even thoſe that have made a Covenant with me by Sacrifice.

Pſal. 50. 3, 4, 5.

For thee have I found righteous before me. This is not to be underſtood as the Meritorious Cauſe, but as the Characteriſtical Note that diſtinguiſheth them that are Gods, from others that are Subjects of his Wrath and Diſpleaſure: Wherefore, thoſe that at this time periſh'd, bear the Badge of ungodlineſs, as that which made them obnoxious to this over-flowing Judgment: As alſo we have it in the Book of Job, Haſt thou (ſaid Eliphaz) marked the old way which wicked men have trodden, which were cut down out of time, whoſe foundation was overflown with a flood.

Job 22. 15, 16.

Righteouſneſs therefore, is the diſtinguiſhing Character whereby the good are known known from the bad. Thus it was in Ezekiel's time: Set a mark (saith God) upon the foreheads of the Men that sigh, and that cry for the abominations that are done in the midst of the City. Which Mark was to distinguish them from those that were Profane, and that for their wickedness were to be destroyed by the Ministers of God's Justice. Ezek. 9. 4.

For thee have I found righteous before me. These words [Before me] are inserted on purpose to shew us, that Noah was no feigned Worshipper, but one who did all things in the Sight of God. Indeed, there are Two things which are of absolute necessity for the obtaining of this Approbation of God. 1. All things must be done as to Manner according to the Word. 2. All things must be done as to the Matter of them also according to the Word. Both which were found in Noah's Performances; and therefore he is said to be perfect in his Generations, and that he walked with God. Thus it was also with Zacharias and Elizabeth, they were both righteous before God; that is, sincere and unfeigned in their Obedience. Luke 1. 6.

Righteous before me in This Generation. By this we see, Righteousness, or the Truth of God's Worship in the World, was now come to a low ebb; the Devil, and the Children of Cain, had bewitched the Church of God, and brought the Professors thereof so off from the Truth of his Way, that had they got Noah also, the Church had been quite extinct, and gone: Wherefore, it now was time for God to work, and to cherish what was left, even by sending a Besom of Destruction upon all the Face of the Earth, to sweep away all the Workers of Iniquity.

Of every clean beast thou shalt take to thee by sevens, the male and his female; and of beasts that are not clean, by two, the male and his female.---Of fowls also of the air, by sevens, the male and his female, to keep seed alive upon the face of the earth. Ver. 2, 3.

Something hath been said to this already; only this I will add further, That by this Commandment of God, both Noah, and all that were with him, were pre-admonished to look to their Hearts; that they continued unfeigned before him: For if God would save unclean Beasts, and Fowls, from the present and terrible Destruction; why also might not some of them, though they partook of this Temporal Deliverance, be still reputed as unclean in his sight? As indeed it came to pass; for a cursed Ham was there: Wherefore, read not lightly the Commands of God, there may be both Doctrine and Exhortation; both Item, as well as an Obligation to a Duty contained therein. Circumcision was a Duty incumbent as to the letter of the Commandment; but there was also Doctrine in it, as to a more high and Spiritual Teaching than the letter simply imported.

Note then from hence, That when you read that unclean Beasts, and unclean Birds may be in the Ark of Noah: That unclean Men, and unclean Women may be in the Church of God: One of you is a Devil, was an Admonition to all the rest: Let this also of the Beasts unclean be an Admonition to you.

For yet seven days, and I will cause it to rain upon the earth forty days, and forty nights; and every living substance that I have made, will I destroy, (or, blot out) from off the face of the earth. Ver. 4.

Now the Judgment is at the door; it is time to make hast, and pack in to the Ark. God doth not love to have his People have much vacancy from Employment while they are in this World. Idle times are dangerous; David found it so in the business of Uriah's Wife: Wherefore Noah having finished the Ark, he hath another Work to do, even to get himself, with his Family and Houshold, fitly settled in the Vessel that was to save him from the Deluge, and that at his peril in seven days time.

For yet seven days, and I will bring a flood. Note again, That it hath been the way of God, even when he doth execute the severest Judgments, to tell it in the Ears of some of his Saints some time before he doth execute the same: Yea, it seems to me, that it will be so even in the Great Day of God Almighty; for I read, that before the Bridegroom came, there was a cry made, Behold, the Bridegroom comes! Which cry doth not seem to me, to be the ordinary Cry of the Ministers of the Gospel, but a Cry that was effected by some sudden and marvellous awakening, the product of some new and extraordinary Revelation. That also seems to look like some fore-word to the Church, Then shall appear the Sign of the Son of Man in heaven: Some strange and unusual Revelation of that notable Day to be near, which in other Ages was not made known to the World; upon which Sign he presently appears. Now whether this Sign will be the Appearing of the Angels first; or whether the Opening of the Heavens, or the Voice of the Arch-Angel, and the Trump of God, or what, I shall not here presume to determine; but a Fore-word there is like to be, yet so immediately followed with the Personal Presence of Christ, that they who had not Grace before, shall not have time nor Means to get it then: And while they went to buy, the Bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him, and the Door was shut. Matt. 25. 6. Chap. 24. 29, 30. Chap. 25.

And I will cause it to rain forty Days, and forty nights. This length of Time doth fore-pronounce the compleating of the Judgment: As who should say, I will cause it to rain until I have blotted out all the Creatures, both of Men, Beasts, and Fowls: and so the after-words import; And every living Substance that I have made, will I destroy deſtroy from off the face of the Earth.

Ver. 5. And Noah did according to all that the Lord commanded him.

This Note, as already I have ſaid, doth denote him to be a righteous Man; One that might with Honour to his God, eſcape the Judgment now to be executed: Wherefore, the reiterating of this Character is much for the vindicating of God's Juſtice, and for the Juſtification of his overthrowing the World of ungodly Sinners.

But again: Theſe words ſeem to reſpect in ſpecial, what Noah did in the laſt ſeven days, in order to the commandment laid before him in the three firſt Verſes of this Chapter; and ſo they ſignify his Faithfulneſs to the Word, and his Obſervance of the Law of his God, even to the Day that the Rain began to fall upon the Earth: And therefore they preach unto us, not only that he began well, but that he continued in godly and unfeigned Perſeverance; which when perfected, is the moſt effectual Proof, that what before he did, he did with Uprightneſs of Heart, and therefore now muſt eſcape the Judgment: As it is ſaid in the Goſpel of Matthew, He that ſhall endure to the end, the Same ſhall be ſaved.

Ver. 6. And Noah was ſix hundred years old when the flood of waters was upon the earth.

Four hundred and fourſcore of which the World had leaſure to ſtudy the Prophecy that God gave of him by the Mouth of his Father Lamech; the other hundred and twenty he ſpent in a more open teſtifying, both by Word, and his Preparing the Ark, that God would one day overtake them with Judgment; yet to the Day that the Flood came, the World was ignorant thereof: (Aſtoniſhing is the Fruits of Sin:) So it came to paſs, that in the Six hundredth Year of Noah's Life, which was the One thouſand ſix hundred fifty ſixth Year of the World's Age, the Flood of Waters were upon the Earth, to the utter Deſtruction of all that was found upon the face thereof, Noah only being left alive, and they that were with him in the Ark.

Chap. 5. 29.

Matt. 24. 38, 39.

Ver. 7. And Noah went in, and his Wife, and his Sons Wives with him, into the Ark, becauſe of the Waters of the Flood.

They had hardly done their Work in the World, by that it began to Rain, by that the firſt Drops of the Judgment appeared. They went into the Ark, ſays the Text, becauſe of the Waters of the Flood. This ſhould teach Chriſtians Diligence, leſt they be called for by God's Diſpenſations, either of Death or Judgment, before they have ſerved compleatly their Generations, by the will of God. Noah had done it, but it ſeems he had but done it; his Work was ended juſt as the Judgment came: Be ye therefore ready alſo; for at ſuch an hour as you think not, the Son of Man cometh.

Ver. 8. and 9. Of clean Beaſts, and of Beaſts that are not clean, and of Fowls, and of every thing that creepeth upon the Earth, there went in two and two unto Noah into the Ark, the male and his female, as God had commanded Noah.

By theſe Words it ſeems (as I alſo touched before) that the Beaſts, and Fowls, both clean and unclean, did come in to Noah, into the Ark; not by Noah's Choice, nor by any Inſtinct that was common to all, but by an Inſtinct from above, which ſo had determined the Life and Death of theſe Creatures, even to a very Sparrow; for not one of them doth fall to the Ground without the Providence of our heavenly Father; they went in unto Noah. And let no Man deride, for that I ſaid, By an Inſtinct from above; for God hath not only wrought Wonders in Men, but even in the Beaſts, and Fowls of the Air; to the making of them act both above and againſt their own Nature. How did Balaam's Aſs ſpeak! and the Cows that drew the Ark, have it right to the Place which God had appointed, not regarding their ſucking Calves! Yea, how did thoſe ravenous Creatures, the Ravens, bring the Prophet Bread and Fleſh twice a Day, but by immediate Inſtinct from Heaven? Even by the ſame did theſe go in to Noah, into the Ark.

Num. 22. 28, 29, 30. 1 Sam. 6. 10 to 15. 1 Kings 17. 2 to 7.

Ver. 10. And it came to paſs, after ſeven Days, that the Waters of the Flood were upon the Earth.

Juſt as the Lord had denounced before: Look therefore, what God hath ſaid, ſhall aſſuredly come to paſs, whether it be believed, or counted an idle Tale. The Confirmation therefore of what God hath ſpoken, dependeth not upon the Credence of Man, becauſe it came not by the Will of Man: He hath ſaid it, and ſhall he not make it good? It will therefore aſſuredly come to paſs, whatever God hath ſpoken, be it to ſave his Noahs, or be it to drown his Enemies; and the Reaſon is, becauſe to do otherwiſe, is inconſiſtent with his Nature; he is Faithful, Holy and True, and cannot deny himſelf, that is, the Word which he hath ſpoken.

Ver. 11. In the ſix hundredth Year of Noah's life, in the ſecond month, the ſeventeenth Day of the month, the ſame Day were all the Fountains of the great Deep broken up, and the Windows (or Flood-gates) of Heaven were opened.

As to the Month, and the Day of the Month I have but little to ſay; though doubtleſs, had not there been ſomething worthy of knowing therein, it would not ſo punctually have been left upon Record; for I dare not ſay this Scribe wrote this in vain, or that it was needleſs thus to punctilio it; a Myſtery is in it, but my darkneſs ſees it not; I muſt ſpeak according to the Proportion of Faith.

The ſame day were all the fountains of the great deep broken up. By theſe words, it ſeems that it did not only rain from Heaven, but alſo the Springs and Fountains were opened; opened; which together with the great Rain of his Strength, did over-flow the World the sooner.

This great Deep, in mine Opinion, was also a Type of the Bottomless Pit, that Mouth and Gulf of Hell, which at the Day of Judgment shall gape upon the World of ungodly Men, to swallow them up from the Face of the Earth, and to carry them away from the Face and Presence of God.

And the Windows (or Flood-gates) of Heaven were opened. That is, That the Water might descend without measure or
Num. 24. 7. order, even in its own natural Force, with Violence upon the Head of the Wicked. It came as Water out of his Buckets upon them, Judgment without Mercy.

This opening of the Flood-gates of Heaven, was a Type of the Way that shall be made for the Justice of God upon ungodly Men, when Christ hath laid aside his Mediatorship; for he indeed is the Sluice that stoppeth this Justice of God from its dealing according to its infinite Power and Severity with Men: He stands, like Moses, and, as it were, holdeth the Hands of God. Oh! but when he shall be taken away! When he shall have finished his Mediatory Work: Then will the Flood-gates of Heaven be opened, and then will the Justice and Holiness of God deal with Men without stint or diminution, even till it hath filled the Vessels of Wrath with Vengeance till they run over: It is a fearful thing to fall into the Hands of the Living God.

Ver. 12. And the rain was upon the earth forty Days and forty Nights.

That is, It rained so long without stop or stint, Ver 4.

Ver. 13. On the self same day entered Noah, and Shem; and Ham, and Japhet, the Sons of Noah; and Noah's Wife, and the three Wives of his Sons, with them into the Ark.

This therefore more fully approveth of what I said before; to wit, That they had hardly done their Work in the World, by that it began to rain; but so soon as they had done, the Flood was upon the Earth. Much like this is that of Lot; it was not to rain Fire and Brimstone upon Sodom, till he was got to Zoar: But when Lot was en-
Gen. 19. 21, 22, 23, 24. tred, but just entred, THEN the Lord rained upon Sodom, and upon Gomorrah, Brimstone and Fire from the Lord out of Heaven.

Hence note, That the reason why God doth forbear to destroy the World for the Wickedness of them that dwell therein, it is for the sake of the Elect; because his Work upon them is not fully perfected: The 2Pet. 3. 9. Lord is not slack concerning his Promise; no, nor as concerning his Threatning neither, —but is long-suffering to us-ward, who are the Elect; not willing that any of us should perish: But when Christ, Head and Members, are compleat in all things, let the World look for Patience and Forbearance no longer; for in that self same day the Trump of God will sound, and the Lord descend with a Shout from Heaven, to execute his Anger with Fury, and his Rebukes 1Pet. 1. 5. with Flames of Fire. Behold, he is now ready to Judge the Quick and the dead! ready to be revealed in the last time! The Judge also stands at the door; it is but open- Chap. 4. 5. ing therefore, and his Hand is upon you, which most assuredly he will do when his Jam. 5. 9. Body is full and compleat.

Observe again, that Providence sometimes so ordereth it, that as touching the Command of the Lord, Necessity is as it were the great Wheel that brings Men into the Performances of them, as here the Flood drove them into the Ark; as he said above, they went in because of the Waters of the Flood: So concerning the Ordinance of unleavened Bread, the first Institution of that Law, was as it were accompanied with an unavoidable Necessity, it was unleavened, Exod. 12. 39. saith the Text, because they were thrust out of Egypt, and could not tarry, neither had they prepared for themselves any Victuals.

It will be thus also at the Day of Judgment: Israel will be sufficiently weary of this World, they will even as it were unexpressibly groan to be taken up from hence; wherefore the Lord will come, as making Use of the Weariness and Groaning of his People, and will take them up into his Chambers of Rest, and will wipe away all Tears from their Eyes, as here Noah and his Sons, &c. did enter into the Ark.

They and every Beast after his kind, and Ver. 14. all Cattel after their kind, and every creeping thing that creepeth upon the Earth, after his kind, and every Fowl after his kind, every Bird of every Sort or Wing.

Without doubt this careful Repetition is not without a Cause, and hath also in the Bowels of it some comfortable Doctrine for the Church of God; every Beast, all Cattel, every creeping thing that creepeth; every Fowl and Bird of every Wing.

First, This sheweth, that God hath respect to the fulfilling of his Word in the midst of all his Zeal and Anger against Gen. 19. Sin. He doth not as we, being angry, run headlong upon the Offenders, but if there be but three in a Kingdom, or one in four Ezek. 14. 19, 20. Cities, he will have respect to them.

Secondly, It sheweth, that how inconsiderable soever the persons are, that are within the compass, and care of the love and Mercy of God, that inconsiderableness shall not be a let to their Safety and Preservation: yea though they are but as these creeping things, that creep upon the Earth, or as the saying is, but as a Flea, a dead Dog, or a Grashopper, or one of the least of the grains of Wheat, not one of them, nay, not a hair of the head of them shall fall to the ground and perish.

And they went in unto Noah into the Ark, Ver. two and two of all Flesh, wherein is the 15, 16. breath of life, and they that went in, went in male male and Female of all Fleſh, as God had commanded him, and the Lord ſhut him in.

The Holy Ghoſt in this relation is wonderful punctual and exact: every Beaſt, all Cattle, every creeping thing, every Fowl, and every Bird, after their kind went in; and ſaith he again, they that went in, went in two and two; as if there had been an intelligence among theſe irrational Creatures, that the Flood was ſhortly to be upon the Earth. Indeed, many among the Senſitives have ſtrange Inſtincts, as Appendixes to their Nature, by which they do, and leave to do, to the Aſtoniſhment of them that have reaſon: But that any inſtinct in Nature ſhould put them upon afore providing for ſhelter from the Flood, by going into the Ark, (a place to ſecure them, rather than to ſave them, had not the Occaſion and Command of God been otherwiſe) it cannot be once with reaſon imagined. Wherefore, as their going into the Ark, ſo their going in two by two, and that too Male and Female, plainly declares that their motion was ordered and governed by Heaven, themſelves being utterly ignorant thereof.

And they that went in, went in male and female of all Fleſh, (both Man and Beaſt) and the Lord ſhut him in, that is Noah; and thoſe that were with him.

Theſe latter words are of great importance, and do ſhew us the diſtinguiſhing Grace of God, for by his thus ſhutting the Door of the Ark, he not only confirmed his Mercy to Noah, but alſo diſcovered the bonds and limits thereof. As who ſhould ſay, Now Noah you have your full tale, juſt thus many I will ſave from the Flood: and with that he ſhut the door leaving all other, both Man and Beaſt, &c. to the fury of the waters. God therefore by this act hath ſhewed how it will go in the Day of Judgment with Men. Thoſe that (like thoſe Beaſts, and Birds, and creeping things) ſhall come to Chriſt, into his Ark, before it rain Fire and Brimſtone from Heaven, thoſe will God ſhut up in the Ark, and they ſhall live in that day; but thoſe that ſhall then be found in the World ſtrangers to Jeſus Chriſt, thoſe will God ſhut out:

Mat. 25. 10. They that were ready went in with him to the Marriage, and the door was ſhut.

And obſerve, it is not ſaid, that Noah ſhut the door, but the Lord ſhut him in: If God ſhuts in or out, who can alter it? I ſhut,

Rev. 3. 7. and no man openeth. Doubtleſs before the Flood had carried off the Ark, others beſides would with gladneſs have had there a lodging room, tho' no better than a Dog-kennel; but now it was too late, the Lord had ſhut the door. Beſides, had there been now in the heart of Noah Bowels or Compaſſion to thoſe without the Ark, or had he had deſire to have received them to him, all had been worth nothing, the Lord had ſhut him in. This ſignifying, that at the Day of Judgment, neither the Bowels of Jeſus Chriſt, neither the miſery that Damned Men ſhall be in, will any thing at all avail with God to ſave one Sinner more, the Door is ſhut.

Where you read therefore both in Matthew and Luke of the ſhutting of the door, underſtand that by ſuch Expreſſions Chriſt alludeth to the door in Noah's Ark, which door was open while Noah and his Attendants were entred into the Ark, but they being got in, the Lord ſhut the door: Then they that ſtood without and knocked, did weep, and knock, and ask too late. As Chriſt ſaith, When once the Maſter of the Houſe is riſen up, and hath ſhut too the Door, and ye begin to ſtand without, and knock at the Door, ſaying, Lord, Lord, open to us, and he ſhall anſwer and ſay unto them, I know you not whence you are; then ſhall ye begin to ſay, We have eaten and drunk in thy preſence, and thou haſt taught in our ſtreets; (as Noah did of old.) But he ſhall ſay, I tell you I know you not whence you are, depart from me all ye workers of Iniquity. There ſhall be weeping and gnaſhing of Teeth, when ye ſhall ſee Abraham, and Iſaac, and Jacob, and all the Prophets in the Kingdom of God, and your ſelves thruſt out. Luke 13. 25, 27, 28.

And the flood was forty days upon the Earth, and the waters increaſed and bare up the Ark, and it was lift up above the Earth. Ver. 17.

While the Ark reſted, and abode in his place, no doubt but the Ears of Noah were filled with doleful cries from the wretched and miſerable people, whom God had ſhut without the Ark, one while crying, another while knocking, according to what but now was related; which for ought I know might be many of the forty days, but when the waters much increaſed, and left the Ark above the Earth, this miſerable Company were ſoon ſhaken off.

It will be thus alſo in the day of Judgment; at the beginning of that day the Ears of the Godly will ſufficiently be filled with the Cries and Tears of the Damned and miſerable World; but when the Ark ſhall be taken up, that is, when the godly ſhall aſcend into the Clouds, and ſo go hence with Jeſus, they will ſoon loſe this Company, and be out of the hearing of their lamentable dolours.

And the waters increaſed. God's Judgments have no Ears to receive the Cries, nor Heart to pity the Miſeries of the Damned. They cry, It rains; they increaſe their Cries, and the Lord does increaſe his Judgment: And it came to paſs, that as I cryed and they would not hear; ſo they cryed, and I would not hear, ſaith the Lord. Zech. 7. 13.

Again, As the waters were a Type of the Wrath of God that in the Day of Judgment ſhall fall upon ungodly Men: So they were alſo a Type of thoſe Afflictions and Perſecutions that attend the Church; for that very Water that did drown the ungodly that,

that did also toss and tumble the Ark about; wherefore by the increase of the Waters, we may also understand, how mighty and numerous sometimes the Afflictions and Afflictors of the Godly be: As Psal. 3. 1. David said, Lord, how are they increased that trouble me! many are they that rise up against me.

And the waters increased, and bare up the Ark. The higher the Rage and Tyranny of this World groweth against the Church of God, the higher is the Ark lifted up towards Heaven, the most proud wave lifts it highest: The Church is also by Persecution more purged and purified from earthly and carnal delights; therefore it is added, the waters bare up the Ark, and it was lifted up above the Earth.

Ver. 18. And the waters prevailed, and were increased greatly upon the Earth, and the Ark went upon the face of the Waters.

These words are still to be considered under the former double consideration, to wit, both, as they present us with God's Wrath at the last Judgment, and as they present us with a sign of the Rage and Malice of ungodly men.

And the Waters prevailed; that is, over all ungodly Sinners; though they were mighty, and stout, and cared for none, yet the Waters prevailed against them, as the Fire and Brimstone will do over all the World at the Day and Coming of our Lord Jesus Christ: Wherefore, well may it be said to all impenitent Sinners, Can thy hands
Ezek. 22. 14. be strong, or can thy heart endure, in the Day that I shall deal with thee, saith the Lord God? Oh they cannot, the Waters of the Wrath of God will prevail against, and increase upon them, until they have utterly swallowed them up.

And the Waters prevailed. Take it now as a Type of the Nature of Persecution, and then it sheweth, that as the Waters here did swallow up all but the Ark, so when Persecution is mighty in the World, it prevaileth to swallow up all but the Church: for none else can aright withstand or oppose their Wickedness. It is said, when
Rev. 13. 3, 8. the Beast had Power to work, the whole World wondred after the Beast; and all Men who were not sealed, and that had not the Mark of God in their Foreheads, fell in with the Worship of the Beast; as it is said, And all that dwell upon the Earth shall worship him, whose Names are not written in the Book of Life of the Lamb, &c. So then it might well be said, The Waters prevailed and increased.

And the Ark went upon the Face of the Waters. It is said, that in the beginning the Spirit of God moved upon the Face of the Waters, and here that the Ark went upon the Face of them. Indeed the Spirit of God moveth, and the Church, as God, walketh in strange and unthought of Stations. It is Nahum 1. 3. said, that God hath a Way in the Whirlwind, and in the Storm: So he hath upon the very Face of the Persecution of the Day, but none but the Church can follow him here, it is the Ark that can follow him upon the Face of the Waters. Deep things are seen by them that are upon the Waters: They that go down to the Sea in Ships Psal. 107. 23, 24. that do Business in great Waters, they see the Works of the Lord, and his Wonders in the Deep. Indeed it oft falls out, that the Church seeth more of God in Affliction, than when she is at Rest and Ease; when she is tumbled to and fro in the Waters, then she sees the Works of God, and his Wonders in the Deep.

And this makes Persecution so pleasant a thing, this makes the Ark go upon the Face of the Waters, she seeth more in this Heb. 11. her State, than in all the Treasures of Egypt. 24, 25.

Ver. 19. And the Waters prevailed exceedingly upon the Earth, and all the high Hills that were under the whole Heaven were covered.

This second Repetition of the prevailing of the Waters, doth also call for a second Consideration.

1. It shews us, that all Hope that any ungodly Man might have at the Beginning of the Flood to escape the Rage thereof, was now swallowed up in Death. Indeed it is natural to the Creatures, when Floods and Innundations are upon the Earth, to repair to the high Places, as they only that are left for Preservation of Life; where Life may be also continued if the Waters do not overflow them: but when it comes to pass as here we read, that all the Hills under the Heavens are covered; then Life takes its farewell, and is gone from the World, as was the effect of the Waters of Noah.

The Hills therefore were Types of the Hope of the Hypocrite, upon which they clamber till their Heads do touch the Clouds, thinking thereby to escape the Amos 9. 2, Judgment of God; but tho' they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them thence, saith God; the Flood of his Wrath will come thither, even over the tops of all the Hills: So that safety is only in the Ark with Noah, in the Church with Christ, all other places must be drowned with the Flood.

2. We may also understand by this Verse, how God in a time of Persecution will cut off the carnal Confidence of his people. We are apt to place our hope somewhere else than in God, when persecution ariseth because of the Word: We hope that such a Man, or that such outward Means may prevent our being swept away with this Flood: But because this confidence is not after God, but tendeth to weaken our stedfast dependance on him; therefore this Flood shall cover all our Hills, not one shall be found for us under the whole Heaven. When the King of Babylon came up against Jerusalem to War, then Israel, instead of Jer. 2. 36, trusting 37.

truſting in God, put their confidence in the King of Egypt, but he alſo was ſwallowed up by this Flood, that Iſrael might be aſhamed of ſuch confidence; and this at laſt Lam.4.17. they confeſſed. As for us, ſaid they, our eyes as yet failed for our vain help: in our watching, we have watched for a Nation that could not ſave us.

It was requiſite therefore that the Hills ſhould be covered, that Noah might not have confidence in them; but ſurely this diſpenſation of God was an Heart-ſhaking Providence to Noah, and they that were with him; for here indeed was his Faith tryed, there was no Hill left in all the World; now were his carnal helpers gone, there was none ſhut up or left: Now therefore, if they could rejoyce, it muſt be only Pſal. 121. 1, 2. in the power of God. As David ſaid, ſhould I lift up mine eyes to the Hills, whence ſhould my help come? So the Margent: My help cometh from the Lord that made Heaven and Earth.

Ver.20. Fifteen Cubits upwards did the waters prevail, and the Mountains were covered. The 1 Sam. 17. 4. height of Goliah was but ſix Cubits and a
Deut. 3. 11. ſpan, neither was Og's Bed-ſtead any more than nine: wherefore this Flood prevailed far above the higheſt of thoſe mighty Ones; even fifteen cubits above the higheſt Mountains.

Ver.21, 22, 23. And all Fleſh dyed that moved upon the Earth, both of Fowl, and of Cattel, and of Beaſts, and of every creeping thing that creepeth upon the Earth, and every man: All in whoſe Noſtrils was the breath of life, of all that was in the dry land, dyed. And every living ſubſtance was deſtroyed, which was upon the face of the ground, both Man, and Cattel, and the creeping things, and the Fowls of the Heaven, and they were deſtroyed from off the Earth, and Noah only remained alive, and they that were with him in the Ark.

In theſe words you have the Effects of the Flood, which was punctually according to the Judgment threatned: But obſerve, I pray you, how the Holy Ghoſt, by repeating doth amplify the Matter. All Fleſh, all in whoſe Noſtrils was the Breath of Life; all that was in the dry Land, every living ſubſtance, every man; and they were deſtroyed from off the Earth: By which manner of Language doubtleſs there is inſinuated a Threatning to them who ſhould afterward live ungodly. And indeed the Holy Ghoſt affirmeth, that theſe Judgments, with that of Sodom, are but Examples ſet forth before our Eyes, to ſhew us that ſuch Sins, ſuch Puniſhment: Making them an Example, ſaith
2 Pet. 2.6. Peter, unto thoſe that after ſhould live ungodly: Nay, Jude ſaith, they are ſet forth
Jude 7. in their Overthrow, for that very purpoſe. Wherefore this careful repeating of this Judgment of God, doth carry a Threatning in it, aſſuredly foreſhewing the Doom and Downfal of thoſe that ſhall continue to tread their Steps.

Yea, mind how Peter hath it: For if God 2 Pet. 2. 5. ſpared not the old World, &c. Secretly intimating, that thoſe that then lived, being the firſt of his Workmanſhip, and far ſurpaſſing in Magnificence, if he would have ſpared, he would have ſpared them; but ſeeing he ſo dreadfully ſwept them away, let no Man be ſo bold to preſume that Wickedneſs ſhall now deliver him that is given to it.

And Noah only remained alive, and they that were with him in the Ark. Noah was that Man of God that had ſet himſelf againſt a World of ungodly Men. The Man that had hazarded Life and Limb for the Word of God committed to him; he only remained alive, &c. Hence note, That he was the Man that outlived the World, that would for God venture Life againſt all the World. Wherefore the Saying in the Goſpel is true, He that will loſe his Life for my Sake, ſhall ſave it unto Life eternal. Thus did Noah, and paſſed the End, and went over the Bounds, that God had appointed for every living thing: Behold! he was a Man in both Worlds, yea, the World then to come was given him for a Poſſeſſion.

And the Waters prevailed upon the Earth Ver.24. an hundred and fifty Days. About the ſame time the Scorpions mentioned of John, had Rev. 9.10. Power to hurt the Earth: wherefore, the thus prevailing of the water, might be a Type of our Perſecution now in the New Teſtament Days: All which Time doubtleſs Noah was ſufficiently tried, while the waves of the water had no Pity for him.

CHAP. VIII.

AND God remembred Noah, and every Ver. 1. living thing, and all the Cattel that was with him in the Ark, and God made a wind to paſs over the Earth, and the waters aſſwaged.

Moſes having thus related the Judgment of the Waters, as they reſpected the drowning of the World, and ſo typed forth the laſt Judgment: He now returneth to ſpeak of them more largely, as they were a Type of the Perſecution and Afflictions of the Church, and ſo ſheweth how God delivered Noah from the mercileſs violence of the waves thereof.

And God remembred Noah. This word remembred is uſual in Scripture, both when God is about to deliver his People out of Affliction, and to grant them the Petition which they ask of him. It is ſaid, God re- Gen. 19. 29. membred Abraham; and ſent Lot out of Ch.30.22. Sodom; that He remembred Rachel, and hearkned to her; that he alſo remembred Exod. 2. 24. his Covenant with Abraham, when he went to bring Iſrael out of their Bondage.

Hence note, that Noah was now both in an afflicted, and a praying Condition; afflicted flicted with the Dread of the waters, and prayed for their asswaging. It is a Question accompanied with Astonishment, How the Ark being of no bigger an Hull or Bulk should contain so many Creatures, with Sustenance for them? And verily, I think, that Noah himself was put to it, to believe and wait for so long a Time. But God remembred him, and also the Beasts, and every living thing, that was with him, and began to put an End to these mighty Afflictions, by causing the Waters to asswage.

And God made a Wind to pass over the Earth. The Waters being here a Type of Persecutors and Persecution: This wind
Isa. 11. 4. was a Type of the Breath of the Lord's Mouth, by which he is said to slay the wicked. He shall smite the Earth with the Rod of his Mouth, and with the Breath of his Lips shall he destroy the wicked. It was a wind also that blew away the Locusts of Exod. 10. 19. Egypt, which Locusts were a Type of our graceless Clergy, that have covered the Ground of our Land. Again, the Kingdom of Babel was to be destroyed by a destroy-
Jer. 51. 1, 2. ing Wind, which the Lord would send against her, which Paul expounds to be by the breath of the Lord's Mouth, and by the
1 Thess. 2. 8. brightness of his coming. This wind therefore, as I said, was a Type of the breathing of the Spirit of the Lord, by which means these tumultuous Waves shall be laid lower, and God's Ark in a while made to rest upon the Top of his Moun-
2 Sam. 22. 19. tain; for by the breath of the Lord the Earth is lightened, and by this lightning
Psal. 18. 14, 15, 16. Coals are kindled; yea, he sent out his Arrows and scatter'd them, he shot out his Lightning and discomforted them; then the channels of waters were seen, and the foundations of the world were discovered; at thy rebuke, O Lord, at the blast of the breath of thy Nostrils; And God made a Wind to pass over the Earth, and the waters were asswaged; that is, in New Testament Language, the Afflictors and Afflictions of the Church did cease and decay, and come to nought.

And the waters asswaged: To wit, by the Blowing of this wind, wherefore, as this wind did assault the waters, so it did refresh the Spirit of this Servant of God, because by it the Affliction was driven a-Ezek. 37. 8, 9. way. Thus then by the wind of the Lord were these dry bones refreshed, and made to stand upon their feet.

And God made a wind pass over. And God made it; when God blows, the Enemies of his Truth shall pass away like waters that fail.

Ver. 2. And the fountains also of the deep, and the windows of Heaven were stopped, and the rain from Heaven was restrained.

By these words we see, that when the Church of God is afflicted, both Heaven and Hell have their hand therein, but so as from a differing consideration, and to a divers end. From Heaven it comes, that we may remember we have sinned, and that we may be made white, and tried; Dan. 11. 35. but from Hell, from the great deep, that Job 1. 11. Chap. 2. 5. we might sin the more, and that we might despair, and be damned.

And the Fountains of the great deep. When God begins to slack and abate the Afflictions of his Church, he rebukes, as it were first, the Powers of Hell; for should he take off his own Hand, while they have leave to do what they list, the Church for this would be worse not better: But first he rebuketh them; The Lord rebuke thee, Zech. 3. 1 to 8. O Satan, that's the first; and then he cloaths them with change of raiment: the fountains of the great deep were stopped, and then the bottles of Heaven.

And the rain from Heaven was restrained, or held back, or made to cease. Afflictions are governed by God, both as to time, number, nature and measure. In measure when it shooteth forth thou wilt debate with Isa. 27. 8. it, he stayeth his rough wind in the day of his east-wind. Our Times therefore, and our Condition in those times, are in the Hand of God; yeat, and so are our Souls and Bodies, to be kept and preserved from the evil, while the Rod of God is upon us.

And the waters returned from off the Ver. 3. Earth continually, and after the end of an hundred and fifty days the waters were abated.

The Verse before doth treat of the Original, the Fountains of the deep, and the windows of Heaven, that they were shut, or stopped; which being done, the Effect beginneth to cease. Hence note, that ease and release from Persecution and Affliction cometh not by chance, or by the good moods, or gentle dispositions of men, but the Lord doth hold them back from sin, the Lord restraineth them. It is said the Lord 1 Kings 11. 14, 23. stirred up the adversaries of Solomon. Again, when the Syrians fought against Jehoshaphat, 2 Chron. 18. 31. the Lord helped him, and God moved them to depart from him. The Lord sent the Flood, and the Lord took it away.

And the Waters returned from off the Earth continually. When God ceaseth to be angry, the Hearts and Dispositions of the Adversaries shall be palliated, and made more flexible. It is said, when the Afflictions of Israel were ended in Egypt, the hearts of the people were turned to pity them; yea, he caused them to be pitied of them that carried them captive.

When you see therefore, that the Hearts of Kings and Governors begin to be moderated toward the Church of God, then acknowledge that this is the Hand of God. I, Jer. 15. 11 saith he, will cause the Enemy to intreat thee well in the time of evil, and in the time of Affliction: For by waters here are typed out the great and mighty of the World, by the flowing of them, their rage; and by their ebbing and returning their stillness and moderation.

And

Gen. 1. 9, 19. Pſal. 33. 7. And the waters returned: That is, to the Sea. He gathereth the waters of the Sea together as an heap, he layeth up the depth in ſtore-houſes.

By gathering up, the Perſecutors may be underſtood, his gathering them to their Graves, as he did Herod, who ſtood in the way of Chriſt; and as he did thoſe in Ezekiel, who hindred the Promotion of Truth, and the Exaltation of the Goſpel.

Mat. 2. 19, 20. Ezek. 31. 14. And after the end of an hundred and fifty days the waters were abated. Theſe words then imply, that for ſo long time, Noah, and the Church with him, were to exerciſe Patience. They alſo ſhew us, That when the Waters are up, they do not ſuddenly fall: They were up four hundred Years, from Abraham to Moſes; they were up threeſcore and ten Years in the Days of the Captivity of Babylon; they were up ten myſtical Days in the Perſecution that was in the Days of Antipas; and are to be up forty and two Months, in the Reign, and under the Tyranny of Antichriſt: but they will abate; the Houſe of Saul will grow weaker; yea, they ſhall be gathered to their Sea, and ſhall be laid in the Pit; yea, they ſhall not be on the Earth, when God ſhall ſet Glory in the Land of the Living.

Gen. 15. 13. Jer. 25. 12. Zech. 1. 12. Rev. 2. 10. Ch. 13. 5. Ezek. 26. 19, 20, 21.

Ver. 4. And the Ark reſted in the ſeventh month, on the ſeventh Day of the month, upon the Mountains of Ararat.

These Inſtances therefore were a Type of Chriſt, the Munition of Rocks, who is elſewhere called, the Mountain of the Lord's Houſe; the Rock upon which he will build his Church, and the Gates of Hell ſhall not prevail againſt it: For after the Ark had felt the Ground, or had got Settlement upon the Tops of theſe Mountains; however, the Waters that came from the great Deep, did notwithſtanding, for ſome time, ſhake, and make it ſtir, yet off from theſe Mountains they could not get it with all their Rage and Fury: It reſted there; theſe Gates of Hell could not prevail. But mark, it did reſt on theſe Mountains almoſt a Quarter of a Year, before any Ground appeared to Noah. A right Figure of Saving-Faith; for that maketh not outward Obſervation a Ground and Foundation for Faith, but Chriſt the Rock, who as to Senſe and Feeling is at firſt quite out of Sight. Hence the Hope of the Godly is compared to the Anchor of a Ship, which reſteth on, or taketh hold of the Rock that is now inviſible under the Water, at the Bottom of the Sea.

Iſa. 33. 16. Mich. 4. 1. Mat. 16. 18. Heb. 6. 18, 19.

This then ſhould learn us to ſtay on the Lord Jeſus, and there to reſt when the Waters have drowned all the World, and when all the Mountains and Hills for Help are as if they were caſt into the midſt of the Sea.

That is an excellent Saying of the Prophet, God is our Refuge and Strength, a very preſent Help in Trouble. Therefore will not we fear, though the Earth be removed, (as now it ſeemed) and though the Mountains be carried into the midſt of the ſea. Though the waters thereof roar, and be troubled; though the mountains ſhake with the ſwelling thereof. Selah.

Pſal. 46. 1, 2, 3.

And the waters decreaſed continually until the tenth month: in the tenth month, on the firſt day of the month, were the Tops of the mountains ſeen. Ver. 5.

In the 2d Verſe we read, that after an hundred and fifty days flood, the waters returned; that is, began to return, from off the earth: which beginning of their Return, was, becauſe that God had mercifully remembred the Prayer and Affliction of Noah. Again, in this Verſe we read, that from the day that the Ark did reſt upon the Mountains of Ararat, the Waters decreaſed continually. Now the reſting of the Ark on the Mountain, was a Figure of our truſting on Chriſt. Hence it follows, that the Tumults and Raging of the myſtical Waters, are made to decreaſe by the Power of Faith: This is your Victory, even your Faith. As it is alſo ſaid of Moſes, By Faith he walked through the Red-Sea; but above all take that as moſt pertinent. Through Faith they ſubdued Kingdoms, ſtopped the mouths of Lions, and turned to flight the Armies of the Aliens. Here you ſee Faith made the Waters decreaſe; it took away the Heat and Rage of the Adverſary.

Heb. 11. 33, 34.

And the waters decreaſed continually until the tenth month, (another period of time,) and in the firſt day of the tenth month were the tops of the mountains ſeen. Theſe Mountains were, before the Flood, a Type of the Hope of the Hypocrites, and therefore then were ſwallowed up, fifteen Cubits under the Waters: But now, methinks, they ſhould be a Figure to the Church of ſome viſible ground of Deliverance from the Flood; for almoſt three months the Ark did reſt on the inviſible Mountains of Ararat. But now are the tops of the Mountains ſeen: A further Sign that the Waters were abated; and a Ground, that at length they would be quite dried up. Let theſe Mountains then be Types of the High and Mighty, which God is uſed to ſtir up to deliver his Church from the Heat and Rage of Tyranny and Perſecution, (as they are often termed and called in Scripture, the Mountains of Iſrael, for this very end.) So then, from our thus conſidering the Mountains, Two things we are taught thereby.

1. That when the Great Ones of this World begin to diſcover themſelves to the Church, by way of Encouragement, it is a Sign that the waters are now decreaſing. Or thus: When God lets us ſee the tops of the Mountains, then we may certainly conclude, that the rage of the Waters abate.

Doubtleſs, when God made Promiſe of raiſing up Joſias to Iſrael, in Canaan; and of raiſing up for them Cyrus, in Babylon; the

1 Kings 13. 1, 2, 3.

Isa. 45. Ezra 1. 1, 2, 3. the thus appearing of the Tops of these Mountains, was Comfort to the Church in her Day of Affliction.

2. This should teach us, while we are in 2 Sam. 11. 1, 2, 3. Affliction, to look this way and that, if it may be that the tops of the Mountains may be seen by us: For though it be too much below a Christian to place his Confidence in Men, yet when God shall raise up a Josias or a Cyrus, we may take Encouragement at this Working of God. Therefore is Psal. 121. 1, 2. that in the Psalms read both ways, Shall I look to the Mountains? I will lift up mine eyes to the hills from whence cometh my help; yet so, as that he would also conclude his Help did come from the Lord: So then, we must take heed that we look not to the Mountains. Again, it is our wisdom to look to the Mountains: Look not to them but when God discovers them, look unto them if God discovereth them; yet then but so as Means of God's appointing. But again, God doth not let us see the Hills for our help, before we have first of all seen them drowned: Look not to them therefore while the Water is at the rising; but if they begin to cease their raging, if they begin to fall, and with that the tops of the Mountains be seen, you may look upon them with Comfort, they are Tokens of God's Deliverance.

Ver. 6. And it came to pass, at the end of forty days, that Noah opened the Window of the Ark which he had made.

These forty days seem to commence from the Discovery of the tops of the Mountains: Wherefore he did not presently go out of the Ark, but staid there above fourteen days; still signifying unto us, that we must not be therefore delivered so soon as the tops of the Mountains are seen, but may yet be assaulted with the Waters of the Flood, Days, and Weeks, and Months, &c.

Exod. 5. 15 to 24. When Moses was sent to deliver Israel, they came not presently out of Egypt; neither seemed their Burthens ever the lighter to Sense or feeling, tho' Faith indeed did see the End. Again, When he had brought them forth of Egypt, they came not in a Day, or a Month, to Canaan; but, saith Acts 7. 36. the Holy Ghost, He brought them out, (or, forth of Affliction) after he had shewed Signs and Wonders in the Land of Egypt, and in the Red-Sea, and in the Wilderness, forty years.

Let us therefore take heeed of a feavorish Spirit, while we behold the tops of the Mountains; possibly, for all they are visible Tokens to us of Deliverance, themselves may be yet much under Water. We see what work Moses, Gideon, Jeptha and Samson had to deliver Israel, even after more than their tops were seen. Be content to stay yet forty Days; David stay'd, after he was anointed, till Years and Times went over him, before he could deliver Israel from the Tyranny of its Opposers.

At the end of forty days Noah opened the Window of the Ark. This Opening of the Window also, was a Type, that now he was preparing to take Possession of the World. It also might be a Type of the Opening the Law and Testimony, that Light might by that come into the Church; for we find not that this Window had any other use, but to be a Conveyance of Light into the Ark, and as a Passage for the Raven and Dove, as may be further shewed after. Now much like this, is that of John: The Temple of God was opened in Heaven, and there was seen in his Temple the Ark of his Testament. And again, I looked, and behold, the Temple of the Tabernacle of the Testimony in Heaven was opened: And then, as the Raven and the Dove came out of the Window of the Ark; so the Angels, that is, the Lord's Executioners, came out of the Temple that was opened in Heaven. Rev. 11. 19. Chap. 15. 5.

Hence note, That though Men may be born with, if they lye in their Holes in the Heighth of the Tempest; but to do it when the Tops of the Mountains were seen, if they then shall forbear to open their Window, they are worthy of blame indeed. When the Lepers saw the Assyrians were fled, and that Liberty from Heaven was granted to Samaria; then they feared to conceal the thing any further; they feared, I say, that if they went not to the City to declare it, some Judgment of God would befal them. 2 Kings 7. 9.

And he sent forth a Raven, which went forth to and fro until the waters were dried up from off the earth. ---- And he sent forth a Dove from him, to see if the waters were abated from off the face of the earth. Ver. 7, 8.

Behold, the Raven and Dove are now sent out at the Window of the Ark, as the Angels are said to come out of the Temple, when it was opened in Heaven: This Raven therefore, and the Dove, were Figures and Types of those Angels. Rev. 15. 6.

But to speak to them both apart: The Raven went forth, but returned not again to the Ark: This is intimated by them words, She went to and fro, untill the waters were abated, and dried up. This is further evident by that Antithesis that the Word doth put between the Practice of the Raven and the Dove: The Raven went forth, and went to and fro till the Waters were dried up: But mark it, But the Dove found no rest for the sole of her foot, and she returned to him into the Ark. The Raven then did find rest elsewhere, the Raven then returned not to him into the Ark. Gen. 8. 9.

But what did the Raven then do? Why, certainly she made a Banquet of the Carkasses of the Giants that were drowned by the Flood; it fed upon the Flesh of the Men that had sinned against the Lord.

The Raven therefore was a Type of those Messengers that God sends out of his Temple against Antichrist; that is, for eating the Fleſh of Kings, and the Fleſh of Captains, and the Fleſh of mighty Men, and the Fleſh of Horſes: He was, I ſay, a Type of thoſe Profeſſors that God ſaith he hath a great Sacrifice to ſacrifice unto, a Sort of Profeſſors in his Church; as the Raven was one that had his Being in the Ark: Theſe are they which Ezekiel mentions, that were to eat Fleſh, and drink Blood; to eat the Fat till they be filled, and to drink Blood till they be drunken. Theſe alſo are the Gueſts that Zepheniah mentions, and ſaith, God hath bidden to the ſame Feaſt alſo.

Ezek. 39. 17 to 21.

Zeph. 1. 7 to 13.

And let no Man be offended that I ſay theſe Birds are in the Church: For one Effect of the Sixth Vial, was that Battel of the Great Day of God Almighty. Further, The Angel that proclaims this Feaſt, calls to thoſe that are God's Gueſts, by the Name of, the Fowls that fly in the midſt of Heaven: That they ſhould come and gather together to the Supper of the Great God: That they may eat the Fleſh of Kings, and the Fleſh of Captains, and the Fleſh of mighty Men, &c. Beſides, this Supper is the Effect of the going forth of the King of Kings againſt the Antichriſtian Whore, whoſe going forth was at the opening of Heaven, as the going forth of the Raven was at the opening of the Window of the Ark.

Rev. 19. 17, 18.

Note therefore, That God, in the Overthrow of the Kingdom of Antichriſt, and at the aſſwaging of the Rage of her tumultuous Waves, will ſend forth his Birds amongſt her fat Ones, to partake of the Banquet that he hath appointed; who when they ſhall be tolerated by that Angel that ſtandeth in the Sun, will come down to their Feaſt with ſuch Greedineſs, that neither King nor Captain ſhall keep them from their Prey: They will eat Fleſh, and Fat; till they be full, and drink the Blood till they be drunk.

Beware of Noah's Raven.

Alſo he ſent forth a Dove from him, to ſee if the waters were abated. This Dove was a Type of another Sort of Profeſſors in the Church, that are of a more gentle Nature; for all the Saints are not for ſuch Work as the Raven; they are not all for feeding upon the Carcaſes, the Kingdoms and Eſtates of the Antichriſtian Party, but are for ſpending their Time, and for bending their Spirits to a more ſpiritual and retired Work; even as the Dove is ſaid to be harmleſs, and to mourn for communion with her Companion, and that is content ſhe hath her Neſt in the Sides of the Rock, Chriſt. Wherefore he adds,

Matt. 10. 16.

Iſa. 38. 14.

Jer. 48. 28.

Ver. 9. But the Dove found no Reſt for the Sole of her Foot, and ſhe returned to him into the Ark, for the Waters were on the face of the whole Earth, &c.

The Dove could not live as the Raven; the Raven being content, ſo long as ſhe found the Carcaſſes; but the Dove found no Reſt till ſhe returned again to Noah.

The Raven therefore, though he was in the Ark, was not a Type of the moſt ſpiritual Chriſtian; nay rather, I think, of the worldly Profeſſor, who gets into the Church in the time of her Affliction, as Ziba did into the Army of David, in the day of his Trouble; not for Love to the Grace of David, but that, if time ſhould ſerve, he might be made the Lord of his Maſter's Inheritance: But David was content to let him go with him, and that too as under ſuch a Conſideration: As Chriſt alſo lets theſe Ravens to herd with his innocent Doves; becauſe he hath Fleſh to give them, which the Doves care not for eating.

2 Sam. 16. 1 to 5.

But the Dove found no Reſt. It ſeems the Raven did, as it is alſo with ſome Profeſſors, who when they by their Profeſſion have advanced themſelves to ſome worldly Honour, they have Eaſe and Reſt, though, like the Raven, they have it by going out of the Church.

But the Dove found no Reſt. Though all the Enemies of God lay tumbling in the Sea, this could not ſatisfy a gracious Soul: divide her from the Ark, and ſhe finds no Reſt, ſhe is not at Eaſe till ſhe be with Noah.

And ſhe returned to him into the Ark; and he put forth his Hand and took her, and pulled her into the Ark.

Noah here was a Type of Chriſt, who took the Dove unto him: And it ſhews us, That Chriſt hath a Boſom open for the Cries and Complaints of his People; for the Dove returned a-weary with the Tidings of this, That the Waters ſtill raged: A fit Figure of thoſe of the Saints that are groaning and weaary under the Oppreſſion and Cruelty of the Enemy.

Hence note, That though thou haſt no other Tidings to Chriſt but Sighs and Groans, and Wearineſs, becauſe of the Rage of the Waters; yet he will not deſpiſe thee; yea, he invites thee, as weary, to come.

Matt. 11. 30.

And he ſtayed yet other ſeven days; and again he ſent forth the Dove out of the Ark.

Ver. 10.

This ſtaying, ſhews us, That he exerciſed Patience, waiting God's Leiſure till the Flood ſhould be taken away. This Grace therefore had yet ſeven days Work to do, before he obtained any further teſtimony that the Waters were decreaſing. O this ſtaying Work is hard Work! Alas! ſometimes Patience is accompanied with ſo much Heat and feavouriſhneſs, that every hour ſeems ſeven untill the end of the Tryal, and the Bleſſing promiſed be poſſeſſed by the waiting Soul. It may be Noah might not be altogether herein a Stranger: I am ſure the Pſalmiſt was not, in that he often under Affliction, cries, But how long, O Lord! for ever! Make haſte! O Lord, how long!

Pſal. 6. 3. & 13. 1. & 74. 1. & 79. 5. & 89. 46. & 90. 13. & 94. 3.

And again he ſent forth the Dove. The firſt time he ſent her, ſhe brought no good News,

News, but came panting and weary home; yet he ſends her a ſecond time.

This ſhould teach us, not to make Concluſions too ſuddenly about God's Diſpenſations, ſaying, It muſt be now or never; for it may be the ſeven days are not out. The 1 Sam. 24. 1 to 5. Chap. 26. 8, 9, 10. 2 Kings 6. 33. Men of David ſaid, This is the day that the Lord will give thee the Kingdom of Iſrael: But David perceived otherwiſe, and therefore adds yet to his Temperance, Patience: Not ſullenly ſaying like that wicked King, Why ſhould I wait on the Lord any longer? but comforts himſelf with the Truth of the Promiſe, ſaying, His time ſhall come to die, &c. He that believeth, maketh not haſte, but waiteth patiently, for the perfecting God's Work in God's time. That is excellent in the Song: I charge you (ſaith the Church) that ye ſtir not up, nor awake my Love until he pleaſe. Song 8. 4. Noah was much for this, wherefore he ſtayed yet other ſeven days.

And again he ſent forth the Dove. Elias did much like this, when his Servant, at the firſt ſending, brought him no Tydings of Rain, he gave him his Errand again, ſaying, Go again: go ſeven times: As Noah 1 Kings 18. 43, 44, 45. here did with the Dove, and again he ſent her. Seeming Delays are no hinderance to Faith; they ought to try it, and put it into Exerciſe: As here it was with this good Man about the Waters of the Flood; he fainted not, but believed to ſee the Goodneſs of the Lord. That in the Prophet is notable as to this, The Viſion is yet for an appointed time, but at the end it ſhall ſpeak, and not lye: though it tarry, wait for it; becauſe it will ſurely come, it will not tarry. Habak. 2. 3.

Ver. 11. And the Dove came in to him in the evening; and lo! in her mouth was an Olive-leaf plucked off: ſo Noah knew that the waters were abated from off the earth.

And the Dove came in to him in the evening. Wherefore, his Patience was tried this day alſo. All the day he heard nothing of his Dove: Surely ſhe could not keep the wing all the day: Is ſhe drowned tro? Is ſhe loſt? O, no! ſhe comes at laſt, though ſhe ſtayed long. Samuel alſo ſtayed long before he came to Saul; but Saul could not wait as Noah did, therefore he had not the benefit of the Mercy promiſed.

The Dove came in to him in the Evening, and lo, in her mouth was an Olive-leaf, &c. Now he is recompenſed for the exerciſe of Patience: as alſo was Abraham, when God gave him Iſaac; for after he had patiently endured, he obtained the Promiſe.

And lo an Olive-leaf. A Sign that God was going through with his Work of Diminiſhing the waters: A Sign, I ſay, and a good Experience of the continued Love of God to his Servant; according to that of Paul, Patience worketh Experience; that is, it at laſt obtaineth the Bleſſing promiſed, and ſo ſettleth the Soul in a freſh Experience of the Love and Faithfulneſs of God.

And lo! This word [Lo,] it is, as it were an Appeal to all Readers to judge, whether God to Noah was faithful or no: So then, this was not written for his ſake only, but for us alſo that believe in God, that we might now exerciſe Patience, as Noah; and obtain the Tokens of God's Goodneſs, as he; for Lo the Dove, at laſt, though 'twas Night firſt, came to Noah into the Ark, and lo in her mouth was an Olive-leaf pluck'd off; ſo Noah knew that the waters were abated.

An Olive-leaf pluck'd off. Theſe words [an Olive-leaf pluck'd off,] do intimate, that Noah was now inquiſitive and ſearching how the Dove obtained the Leaf; that is, whether ſhe found it as dead, and upon the Waters; or whether ſhe pluck'd it off ſome Tree: But he found by the greenneſs and freſhneſs of the ſlip, that ſhe pluck'd it off from the Olive: Wherefore, he had good ground now to be comforted; for if this Leaf was plucked off from a Tree, then the Waters could not be deep; eſpecially, becauſe, as Story tells us, the Olive uſed alſo to ſtand in the Bottoms, or Valleys.

This ſhould teach us, That not over highly we conclude Meſſages or Tokens, be Signs of God's Mercy: There are lying Viſions, and they are cauſes of baniſhment; they we ſhould beware of, or elſe we are not only at preſent deceived, but our Faith is in danger of the Rocks; for not a few have caſt up all, becauſe the Truth of ſome ſeeming Viſion hath failed. Mark how David handleth the Meſſenger that brought him Tydings of the Death of Saul; ſays he, How doſt thou know that Saul is dead? 2 Sam. 1. 2 to 8. What Proof canſt thou make of the Truth of this Story? So ſhould we ſay of all thoſe Viſions or Meſſengers that come to perſwade us, that either inward or outward Deliverance is for us at the Door: Prove theſe Stories; look if they be not dead and lifeleſs Fancies; ſee if you can find that they were pluck'd off from the Tree that is green. Ver. 12.

And he ſtayed yet other ſeven days, and ſent forth the Dove; which returned not again unto him any more.

We read before of forty days Patience, and after that of ſeven days Patience; and that after the Waters began to return from off the Earth, and here again of ſeven days more. Whence Note, That the beſt of God's People, in the Times of Tryals, find their Patience too ſhort-winded to hold out the whole length of a Tryal, unleſs the time be, as it were, cut in pieces. The Ezek. 3. 4, 5, 6 Prophet, when he was to lay Siege againſt Jeruſalem, he muſt reſt the one ſide, by turning him upon the other. It was with holy Job exceeding hard, when he might not have Time to ſwallow his Spittle, when he might not a little ſit down and reſt him: And if you obſerve him, he doth not deſire an abſolute Deliverance as yet, but only only Time to take wind and breathe a while; and then, if God will, to engage in Job 7. 19 the Combat again: How long (ſaith he) wilt thou not depart from me? Depart: what quite? O! No, ſaith he, I beg not that abſolutely, but only ſo long as till a Man might ſwallow down his Spittle. This the Church in Ezra's time took as an exceed-Ezra 9. 8. ing Favour: And now (ſay they) for a little ſpace, Grace hath been ſhewed from the Lord our God, to leave us a remnant to eſcape, and to give us a Nail in his holy place, that our God may lighten our Eyes, and give us a little reviving in our Bondage.

And he ſtayed yet other ſeven Days. Note again, That it is not God's Way with his People to ſhew them all their Troubles at once; but firſt he ſhews them a part; firſt forty days, after that ſeven other days, and yet again ſeven days more; that, they coming upon them by piecemeal, they may the better be able to travel through them. While Iſrael was in Affliction in Egypt, they knew not the Trials that would meet them at the Red-Sea. Again, When they had gone through that, they little thought that yet for forty Years they muſt be tempted and proved in the Wilderneſs.

And thus it was with this bleſſed Noah; he thought that by the firſt ſeven Days his Trials might be ended: But behold, there is yet ſeven Days more behind: And he ſtayed yet other ſeven Days.

Further: There may alſo be by theſe Words thus much inſinuated, That theſe Periods of Time might be alſo of Noah's prefixing: And if ſo, then note, That the People of God in theſe Days are not the firſt that have been under Miſtake, as to the timing of their Afflictions. Noah counted it would end many Days before it ended indeed, even ſeven Days, and ſeven Days, and ſeven Days to that; for he ſent forth his Dove about the Beginning of the firſt Month, in which Month alſo were his two ſeven Days Trials. Again, after that he had ſtaid two ſeven Days more, to wit, to the End of that firſt Month. Again, he ſtaid almoſt four ſevens more; for he came not out of the Ark till the Twenty ſeventh Day of the ſecond Month.

A Caution. Hence therefore let Chriſtians beware that they ſet not Times for God, leſt all Acts 1. 7. Men ſee their Folly: It is not for you to know the times and the ſeaſons, which the Father hath put in his own Power: Yea, I ſay again, take heed leſt that for thy ſetting of God a ſeven Days time, he ſet not thee ſo many as ſeven times ſeven.

And he ſent forth the Dove, which returned not again to him any more. This is the third time that the Dove was ſent to ſee how the Waters were abated on the face of the Earth. The firſt time ſhe, by her reſtleſneſs, beſpake the Waters to be high and mighty: The ſecond time, by her Olive Leaf, ſhe notifieth that the Waters were low and ebbing: But this third time, ſhe ſeems to be weary of her Service, ſhe returned not again to him any more; yet in her ſo abſenting herſelf, ſhe gives Confirmation to Noah, that the Waters were even in a manner quite gone: If he will take this for a Proof let him, if not, let him hang in Suſpence with himſelf. Hence note, that God will not be always teſtifying, by renewing of his Tokens, to that about which we have had ſufficient Conviction before; for in ſo doing he ſhould gratify and humour our Unbelief. Noah had received already two ſufficient Teſtimonies, that the Waters were decreaſing: Firſt by his ſeeing the Tops of the Mountains, and then by the Olive-Leaf; but notwithſtanding theſe two Teſtimonies, his Unbelief in part remains; but God will not humour ſuch a groundleſs Miſtruſt, by giving him any further Token, than the very abſenting of the Dove. Much like this was that of Samſon's Father; the Angel once had told his Wife, that ſhe ſhould have a Son that ſhould deliver Iſrael; well, Manoah heard of this, he alſo deſired that he might ſee that Man that had told his Wife this happy News. Now God thus far condeſcends, as to ſend the Angel a ſecond Time; but then, this being now a ſufficient Antidote againſt their Unbelief, the Angel after the next departing, was not ſeen again of them at all: But ſaith the Word, The Angel of the Lord did no more appear to Manoah, and to his Wife: So that now they muſt live by Faith, or not at all.
Judg. 13. 3, 9, 21.

God's dealing with his People with reſpect to their ſpiritual Condition, is much like this. The Holy Ghoſt doth not uſe to confirm us by new Revelations of Grace and Juſtification, ſo often as by our fond Doubts or Miſtruſt we call for and deſire the ſame: But having confirmed in us the Teſtimony of Chriſt, it may be twice or thrice, (for the Teſtimony of two Men are true) he then expects we ſhould live by Faith: and obſerve it, if we have after ſuch Teſtimony joyful Communion with God, it is either by retreating to former Experience, or by arguing according to Faith; that becauſe God hath done thus before, he therefore hath given me Intereſt in ſuch and ſuch Promiſes and Mercies beſides.

I ſpeak now of the firſt Seals of the Love of God to the Soul, after we have been ſufficiently toſſed upon the waves of Unbelief, as Noah was by the waters of the 1 Kings 11. 9. Acts 22. 6. --- 18 Flood; ſuch Seals are few, the Lord gave them to Solomon twice, and alſo twice to his Servant Paul. --- 'Tis enough that they have ſeen the Tops of the Mountains, and have had brought to them the Olive-leaf. Let them now believe this Confirmation of Mercy is ſufficient, and if they will not believe now, they ſhall not be eſtabliſhed.

And it came to paſs in the ſix hundred and one Year, in the firſt month, the firſt day of Ver. 13.

the month, the waters were dried up from off the Earth, and Noah removed the covering of the Ark, and looked, and behold the Face of the Ground was dry.

And it came to pass: That is, by the working of God, that the waters were dryed up. This came to pass in God's Time, to wit, in the six hundred and one Year, in the first month, the first day of the month; not in the times of Noah's prefixing. God's time is the time, the best time, because it is the time appointed by him for the Proof and Trial of our Graces, and that in which so much, and so much of the Rage of the Enemy, and of the Power of God's Mercy, may the better be discovered unto us; I the Lord do hasten it in his time, not before, though we were the Signet upon his hand.

Noah the only Man with God in that Generation, could not be restor'd before

Luke 4. 13. tent: And when Satan had ended all the temptation, when he had ended all, then he departed from him for a season.

And Noah removed the covering of the Ark, and looked. The failing again of his expected comforter, caused him to be up and doing; probable he had not as yet uncovered the Ark, that is, to look round about him, had the Dove by returning pleased his Humour, but she failing him, he stirs up himself. Thus it should also be with the Christian now: Doth the Dove forbear to come to thee with a leaf in her Bill as before, let not this make thee sullen, and mistrustful, but uncover the Ark, and look, and by looking thou shalt see a further Testimony of what thou receivest by the first manifestations: He looked, and be-
2 Cor. 3. 18. hold the Earth was dry. Paul tells us, that by looking we have a Testimony like, or as that, which at first was given us by the Spirit of the Lord. And behold the face of the Earth was dry.

Ver. 14. And in the second month, on the seven and twentieth day of the month was the Earth dryed.

This prospect was like the Rain that we read of in another place, that confirmed God's Inheritance when it was weary: It was a comfortable sight to Noah, to see that the face of the Earth was dry; and now he could wait upon God with less tryal and strain to his patience the remaining days, which were fifty and four, to wit, from the first of the first, to the twenty seventh of the second month, than he could one of the sevens that he met with before. In-Ezek. 42. 4, 11. deed the path is narrowest just at entrance, as also our Nature is then the most untoward; but after we are in, the walk seems to be wider and easie; the Flesh is also then more mortified and conformable. The walk is but a cubit wide at the door, but inward ten times as broad.

And in the second month, on the seven and twentieth day of the month, was the Earth dryed. So that from the first day it began to rain, (which was the seventeenth day of the second month in the Year before, unto this day, was Noah in the Ark,) it was just a year and ten days: That was the time then that God had appointed to try his Servant Noah, by the Waters of the Flood; in which time he was so effectually Crucified to the things of this World, that he was as if he was never more to enjoy the same: Wherefore Peter making mention of this estate of his, he tells us, it was even like unto our Baptism; 1 Pet. 3. 20, 21. wherein we profess our selves dead to the World, and alive to God by Jesus Christ.

In the first Verse of this Chapter, we read that God remembred Noah; but till now we read not, that the face of the Earth was dryed. Hence note, that our being under the Rage of the Enemy, doth not argue that we are therefore forgotten of God, he remembreth us in our low estate, even when tossed to and fro by the waters of a flood of Temptations.

And God spake unto Noah, saying, Go Ver. 15. 16. forth of the Ark, thou and thy Wife, and thy Sons, and thy Sons Wives with thee.

Now we are come to the end of the Tryal, and so to the time of Noah's Deliverance, and behold as he went in, so he came out: He went into the Ark at the Commandment of the Lord: And the Lord Gen. 7. 1. said unto Noah, Come thou and all thy house into the Ark: And here again, And God spake unto Noah, saying, Go forth of the Ark. Hence note, that notwithstanding the Earth was dry about fifty four days before, yet Noah waited for the Word of God for his Commission to bring him forth of the Ark. Providence seemed to smile before, in that the Earth was dry, to which had but Noah added Reason, he must have concluded, the time is come for me to go forth of the Ark. But Noah knew, that as well the Providences of God, as the Waters of the Flood might be to try his dependance on the Word of the Lord: wherefore, though he saw this, yet because he had no answer of God, he will not take the opportunity.

It is dangerous, or at least very difficult, to make the most smiling Providence of God our Rule to act by: Had David done 1 Sam. 24. 17, to 21. it, he had killed Saul before the time, but David respected the Word of God. Elisha 2 Kings 6. 19 to 24. also would not suffer the King to make that improvement of the Providence of God, which reason should be put in Execution, when he rebuked the King's desires that he had to have killed the Syrians, and commanded that bread should be set before them, that they might eat, and go home again to their master. Hear the Word of the Lord, ye that tremble at his Word. At the Commandment of the Lord the Children of Israel journeyed, and at the Commandment of the Numb. 9. 18, 23. Lord they pitched---At the Commandment of the Lord they reſted in their Tents, and at the Commandment of the Lord they journeyed; they kept the charge of the Lord, at the Commandment of the Lord, by the hand of Moſes.

Go forth of the Ark, thou and thy Wife, and thy Sons, and thy Sons Wives with thee.

When God delivereth, he delivereth compleatly: Thus Iſrael alſo went out of Egypt, Exod. 10. 24, to 27. they, their wives, their Children, with their Flocks and Herds, not an hoof was left behind. When David's time was come to poſſeſs the Kingdom, he brought along with him thoſe ſix hundred men that had been his Companions in his ſuffering State, every man with his Houſhold: But I ſay, he went up to poſſeſs it, not ſimply by the Voice of Providence, tho' Saul was dead, but David enquired of the Lord, ſaying, 2Sam. 2. 1. 2, 3. Shall I go up to any of the Cities of Judah? Nay, a general Anſwer, even from God, would not ſatisfy this holy Man. The Lord ſaid, Go, but David replyed, Whither ſhall I go? and he ſaid, Unto Hebron. Oh! it is ſafe to regard the Word of the Lord; this makes us all come ſafe to Land. When Men wreſt themſelves from under the Hand of God, taking ſuch Opportunities for their Deliverance, which are laid before them only for Trial of Obedience to the Word; they may, 'tis probable, have a ſeeming
Jer. 41. ch. 42. ch. 43. Succeſs; the End will be as with Zedekiah King of Judah, Affliction with Addition. The Jews that were left in the Land of Iſrael, from the Hand of the King of Babylon, would flee to the Land of Egypt, that they might have Quietneſs there, but they went without the Word of God, and therefore their Reſt brought them to their Ruine.

Noah therefore choſe the ſafeſt way, even to ſtay in the Ark, till God's Word came: As it is alſo ſaid of Joſeph, The Pſal. 105. 19. Word of the Lord tried him; till the Word of the Lord came to deliver him, and then he had deliverance indeed, as Noah alſo and David had, ſafe deliverance for himſelf and Relations.

Ver. 19. Bring forth with thee every living thing that is with thee of all Fleſh, both of Fowl, and of Cattel, and of every creeping thing that creepeth upon the Earth, that they may breed abundantly in the Earth, and be fruitful and multiply upon the Earth.

Noah was not only to have in this deliverance, reſpect to himſelf and Family, but to the good of all the World: Mens Spirits are too narrow for the Mind of God, when their chief end, or their only deſign in their enjoying this or the other Mercy, is for the ſake of their own ſelves only. It cannot be according to God, that ſuch deſires ſhould be encouraged: None of us liveth unto himſelf, why then ſhould we deſire life only for our ſelves.

The Church cries thus, God be merciful to us, and bleſs us, and cauſe his face to Pſal. 67. 1. 2. ſhine upon us. Why? That thy way may be known upon Earth, and thy ſaving health among all Nations.

So David, Reſtore unto me the joy of thy Salvation, and uphold me with thy free Spi- Pſal. 51. 12, 13. rit: Then will I teach tranſgreſſors thy way, and Sinners ſhall be converted unto thee. So then, we muſt not deſire to come out of Tryals and Afflictions alone, or by our ſelves, but that in our Deliverance the Salvation of many may be concerned. It is ſaid, when Iſrael went up out of Egypt, Exod. 12. 37 38. there went up with them a mixed multitude, to wit, of Egyptians, and other Nations: This going out of Captivity was right, they carried out with them the Fowls, the Beaſts, and the creeping things; to wit, the Heathens of other Lands, and ſo added increaſe to the Church of God. In Eſther's time alſo, when the Jews came from under the ſnare of Haman, they Eſth. 8. 17. brought with them to God many of the people of the Provinces. Many of the people of the Land became Jews.

Theſe words therefore, Bring forth with thee every living thing, &c. are not lightly to be paſſed over; for they ſhew us, that we ought in our deliverance to have ſpecial reſpect to the deliverance of others: And if our deliverance be with the Word and liking of God, it muſt needs have this Effect. When I ſhall bring again their captivity, the captivity of Sodom, and her Daugh- Ezek. 16. 53. ters, and the captivity of Gomorrah, and her Daughters, then will I bring again the captivity of thy Captives, in the midſt of them.

And indeed there is reaſon for this, for in every Affliction and Perſecution, the Devil's deſign is to impair Chriſt's Kingdom: Wherefore no marvel, that God deſigneth in our deliverance, the impairing and leſſening the Kingdom of Sin and Satan. Wherefore, O thou Church of God in England, which art now upon the waves of Affliction, and Temptation, when thou comeſt out of the Furnace, if thou come out at the bidding of God, there ſhall come out with thee the Fowl, the Beaſt, and abundance of creeping things. O Judah, he Hoſ. 6. 11. hath ſet an harveſt for thee, when I return the captivity of my people.

That they may breed abundantly in the Earth, and be fruitful and multiply upon the Earth.

This was God's End in preſerving the Creatures from the Flood, that again the Earth might be repleniſhed therewith. The ſame End he hath in his ſuffering of the Perſecutors, and all manner of Adverſity to take away but a part, ſome; Some of Amos 7. 4, 5. them they ſhall kill and crucifie, leaving a remnant alive in the World, namely, that they might breed abundantly in the Earth, and be fruitful, and multiply upon the Earth. As he ſaith by the Prophet Iſaiah, Iſa. 27. 6. to 10.

He

He shall cause them that come of Jacob to take root, Israel shall blossom and bud, and fill the face of the World with fruit; and this after their Deliverance from Persecution: Chap. 37. 31, 32. According as he saith again, The remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah, shall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward: For out of Judah shall go forth a remnant, that is yet to repleniſh the Earth with Converts. As Luke observes, that Acts 9.31. when the Churches in Judea, Galilee, and Samaria had rest, they walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the comforts of the Holy Ghost, were multiplyed.

Ver. 18. And Noah went forth, and his Sons, and his Wife, and his Sons Wives with him; Obedience is better than Sacrifice. Noah is at the Beck of God, what he bid him do, that does he; and indeed this is in Truth to worship God, yea, this is to know and worship God. It is said of Abraham, when he went at God's Command to offer up Gen. 22, 5. Isaac, that he counted it going to Worship the Lord. And God saith of Hezekiah, that Jer. 22. 15, 16. he did Justice and Judgment, judging the Cause of the poor and needy; and then adds, Is not this to know me, saith the Lord? I bring these to shew, that Obedience to the Word of God, is the true Character of God's People in all Ages; and this very Text, as also such others before, is on purpose recorded by the Holy Ghost, to shew you, that Noah was obedient in all things; yea, I may add, these Commands were to discover the Proof of him, whether he would be obedient in all things; and this was also his way with New Testament 2 Cor. 2. 9. Churches. The Sincerity of Love, and of the Uprightness of the Heart, is greatly discovered by the Commandments of God. Joh. 14. 21. He that hath my Commandments, and keepeth them, saith Christ, he it is that loveth me, &c.

Ver. 19. Every Beast, every creeping thing, and every fowl, and whatsoever creepeth upon the Earth after their kind, went forth out of the Ark.

These Words are yet a further Expression of the Sincerity of Noah's Obedience, for that he at the Command of God, did carefully search and seek out every little creeping thing that God had brought to him into the Ark. Obedience in little things do oft-times prove us most; for we thro' the Pride of our Hearts are apt to look over little things, because tho' commanded, they are but little. O but Noah was of another Spirit, he carefully looked after Jer. 23. 38. Exod. 36. 12, 13. Ezek. 40. 3, 34, 37. Matt. 23. 23. Lev. 14. 52. little things, even after every thing, whatsoever creepeth upon the Earth; and not only so, but sought diligently that they might go out in order, to wit, Male and Female, according to their kind. Sometimes God would have Men exact to a word, sometimes exact to a Tack, or Pin, or Loop, sometimes to a Step: Be careful then in little things, but yet leave not the other undone.

Indeed the Command of God is great; if he therefore commands us to worship him, tho' but with a Bird, we must not count such Ordinances insignificant, or below a humane Creature.

And Noah builded an Altar unto the Lord, and took of every clean Beast, and of every clean Fowl, and offered burnt-offerings on the Altar. Ver. 20.

This is the first Work that we read Noah did, when he came forth of the Ark, and it shews us, that at this Time he had a deep Sense of the distinguishing Mercy of God. And indeed he had sufficient Cause to wonder, for the whole World was drowned, save only himself, and they that were with him in the Ark.

But I say, this was the first work, to wit, to worship God. Hence note, That a Sense of Mercy, of distinguishing Mercy, naturally engageth the Heart to worship. It is said of Moses, when the Name of the Lord was proclaimed before him, as merciful, gracious, and abundant in goodness and truth, and that he pardoned iniquity, transgression and sin; that he made haste, and bowed his head toward the Earth, and worshipped.

And Noah builded an Altar. Although this Altar be the first that we read of, yet forasmuch as there was before a blessed Church, and also an open Profession of Godliness, together with offering Sacrifice, in all Probability this was not the first Altar that was builded unto the Lord. Besides, we read not of any immediate Revelation, from which Noah had Light and Instruction to build it. The Text only saith, he built an Altar unto the Lord; which may be aptly expounded, according as he was wont in the other World.

This Altar was a Type of Christ, as capacitated to bear the Sin of the World (for the Altar was it upon which the Sacrifices were burnt;) wherefore it, in mine Opinion, in special respected his Godhead, by the Power of which he offered himself, that is, his Flesh. Again it is said, the Altar sanctifies the Gift: So did the Godhead the Humanity of Christ, thro' which Eternal Spirit, he offered himself without Spot to God: By this Altar then this Blessed Man preached to his Family the Godhead and Eternity of Christ. Matt. 23. 19. Heb. 9. 14.

And took of every clean Beast, and of every clean Fowl. These Beasts and Fowls were Types of the Flesh of the Son of God, as Paul in the ninth and tenth Chapters to the Hebrews affirms; wherefore by this Act he also preached to his Family the Incarnation of the Lord Christ, how that in the Fulness of Time he should in our flesh offer himself a Sacrifice for us; for as all the Ordinances of the New-Testament-Ministration preach to us, That Christ is come; so all the Ordinances of Worship under the Old-Testament preached to them that were under under it, Chriſt, as yet to come.

Of every clean Beaſt, of every clean Fowl. This was to ſhew, That when Chriſt did come, he ſhould not take hold of Acts 10. 11, 12, to 17. the Jew, and exclude the Gentile; but that in his fleſh he ſhould preſent unto God every clean Beaſt, and every clean Fowl; that is, all the Elect, both of Jew and Gentile.

And it was requiſite that this by Noah ſhould be preached, becauſe the whole World was yet in his Family; from whence, at the multiplication of Men, if through their Rebellion and Idolatry they loſt not this Doctrine, they might to all their Off-ſpring preach the Lord Jeſus.

Wherefore, the Doctrine of the Goſpel, had the World been faithful, might have been to this day retained amongſt them that now are the moſt barbarous People.

Ver. 11. And the Lord ſmelled a ſweet ſavour, (a ſavour of reſt;) and the Lord ſaid in his heart, I will not again curſe the ground any more for mans ſake; for the imagination of mans heart is evil from his youth: neither will I again ſmite any more every living thing, as I have done.

Theſe words more fully ſhew, that this Sacrifice of Noah was a Type of the offering up of the Body of Jeſus Chriſt, he being ſaid to be that bleſſed Sacrifice that is as Perfume in the Noſtrils of God: He gave himſelf for us an Offering and a Sacrifice to God for a ſweet-ſmelling ſavour. Beſides, this Offering of Noah was a Burnt-Offering to God; which burning ſignified, the Curſe of God, which Chriſt was made in his death for us: Wherefore, the Burnt-Offerings were all along a Type of him; as by reading the Epiſtle to the Hebrews you may
Lev. 6. 9. ſee: It is the Burnt-Offering, ſaith God, becauſe of the burning upon the Altar all night, until the morning; and the Fire of the Altar ſhall be burning in it. Which was a Type of the Fire of the Law, and the Guilt of Sin, that Chriſt, when he offered himſelf, ſhould undergo for the Sins of Man.

And the Lord ſmelled a ſweet ſavour. This ſignifies the Content and Satisfaction that for the Sin of the World, God ſhould have by the offering up of his Son for us upon the Croſs: Wherefore, he is ſaid to 2 Cor. 5. 19. be now in Chriſt, reconciling the world unto himſelf, not imputing their treſpaſſes to them.

Now it is obſervable, That Noah was a Man of Faith long before this. Hence note Two things.

1. That Men, even of eminent Faith, have yet need of a continual remembrance of the Death and Sufferings of Chriſt; yea, and that in the moſt plain and eaſieſt manner to underſtand.

2. They have need alſo, notwithſtanding they have Faith before, to preſent themſelves before God, through Jeſus Chriſt our Lord: For as our Perſons are not accepted, but in and through him, no more are our Performances; yea, though they be ſpiri-
1 Pet. 2. 5. Lev. 17. 11. tual Services or Sacrifices; it is the Blood that maketh the Attonement, as well for
Heb. 9. 21. Ezek. 20. 41. Exod. 12. 13. Works as Perſons: As he ſaith in another place, I will accept you with your ſweet ſavour, but not without it: As he alſo ſaid to his Church in Egypt, When I ſee the blood, I will paſs over you: and the Plague ſhall not be upon you to deſtroy you, when I ſmite the Land of Egypt.

And the Lord ſaid in his heart, I will not again curſe, &c. By Heart here, we may underſtand Two things.

1. That God was altogether unfeigned in this Promiſe. He ſpake it from his very Heart: which we uſe to count the moſt ſincere expreſſing of our Mind: According to
Jer. 32. 41. that of the Prophet, Yea, I will rejoyce over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this Land aſſuredly, in truth, in ſtability, with my whole heart, and with my whole ſoul. Mark, I will rejoyce to do it, I will do it aſſuredly, I will do it in truth, even with my whole Heart, and with my whole Soul.

2. By his ſaying, In his Heart, we may underſtand, the Secrecy of his Purpoſe; for this Doctrine, Of not Curſing again, it is hid from all but thoſe to whom it is revealed by the Spirit of God. For this purpoſe, in the Heart of God, is one of the depths, or of the deep things of God, which the Spirit of a Man cannot underſtand: Who hath known the mind of the
1 Cor. 2. 16. Lord? None of all the Sons of Men, but thoſe that have the Holy Ghoſt: Therefore Paul applyeth that to himſelf and Fellows, as that which is peculiar to them to Mark 4. 34. know, We have the mind of Chriſt. It is ſaid, that after Chriſt had by his Parables Preached his Goſpel to the World, he in private expounded all things to his Diſciples.

Hence note, That they that will hear God ſpeak this, they muſt be near his very Heart: They that are in his Heart, may hear it; but to them that are without, in Parables. This Secret, in Revelation of the Goſpel, is alſo expreſſed in other terms;
Iſa. 5. 9. Chap. 22. 14. Jer. 28. 7. as, That the Lord ſpake in mine Ears, and it was revealed in mine Ears: And again, Hear now this which I ſpeak in thine Ears.

I will not again curſe the ground any more. Theſe words are alſo under Moſes's Veil; for in them is contained the Sin of the World, and Damnation thereof. He ſaid,
Gen. 6. 11. 13. when he was to bring the Flood, that the Earth was corrupt, and that he would deſtroy the Earth; but his great Meaning, was, of the Sinners that dwelt therein; as the effect of that Flood declared. So he Deut. 32. 1. Pſ. 114 7, Jer. 6. 19. Chap. 22. 29. ſaith again, he will not bring any more a flood to deſtroy the Earth; and that the Bow in the Cloud ſhould be a Sign of Peace between him and the Earth: By all which is meant in ſpecial, the Men that dwell on the Earth; and they are called, the Ground, and the Earth, becauſe they came from thence.

So then, there is, as it were, the Foundation of all ſpiritual Bleſſedneſs couched under theſe words, I will not curſe the Ground, I will not deſtroy Man. And that this muſt needs be the Meaning thereof, conſider, that this Promiſe ariſeth from the ſweet ſavour that he ſmelt before in the Burnt-Offering; which was a Figure of Chriſt, who
Gal. 3. 13. was made a curſe for us, to deliver us from the Curſe of the Law; that we might through him obtain the Bleſſing of Forgiveneſs of Sins; to which the Curſe ſtands directly oppoſite.

I will not again curſe the ground for mans ſake; for the imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth. The Imagination of Man's Heart was the Ground of this dreadful Curſe; and the Effect of this Curſe, was, to lay them up in Chains in Hell: Wherefore Peter ſaith, Theſe Men are now in Priſon. The Curſe therefore, in its moſt eminent Extention, reached the Souls of thoſe ungodly Ones that were ſwept away with the Flood: But it ſeems a ſtrange Argument, or Reaſon rendred of God, why again he would not curſe the Ground, if it was becauſe of the evil Imagination of Man's Heart, this being the only Argument that prevailed with him to ſend the Flood. The Meaning therefore is rather this, That becauſe of the Satisfaction that Chriſt hath given to God for Sin, therefore he ſaid in his Heart, he would not again Curſe the Ground, for the evil Imagination of Man; that is, he would not do it, for want of a Sacrifice that had in it a ſufficient Propitiation.

Hence note, That the great cauſe now
John 3. 18, 19. of Man's Condemnation, is not becauſe of his inherent Pollution, but becauſe he accepteth not, with Noah, of the Satisfaction made by Chriſt; for to all them that have ſo accepted thereof, there is now no
Rom. 8. 1 Curſe nor Condemnation, though ſtill the Imagination of their Heart be evil: If any 1 John 2. 1, 2. man ſin, we have an Advocate with the Father, Jeſus Chriſt the righteous.

For the imagination of mans heart is evil from his Youth. Theſe words ſeem to inſinuate the Cauſe of theſe evil Imaginations; and that is, from the Corruption of their Youth. Now how ſoon their Youth
Pſal. 51. was corrupted, David ſhews by theſe words, I was ſhapen in iniquity, and in ſin
Ezek. 16. 1, 2, to 9. did my mother conceive me. Ezekiel alſo
Exo. 13. 13. ſhews, we were polluted in the day that we were born. Further, God to Moſes ſtrong-
Chap. 34. 20. ly affirms it, in that he commands, That for the Firſt-born, in whom the reſt were included, an Offering ſhould be offered, by that they were a month old. God ſeems therefore, by this word, to look back to the Tranſgreſſion of our Firſt Parents, by
Rom. 5. whom Sin came into our Natures; and by ſo doing, he not only intimateth, yea, promiſeth a Pardon to Perſonal Miſcarriages; but aſſureth us, That neither them, nor yet our inward Pollutions, ſhall deſtroy us, becauſe of the reſt that he found before in Chriſt.

Neither will I again ſmite any more every living thing, as I have done. The Creatures therefore alſo have ſome kind of Benefit by the Death and Blood of Chriſt; that is, ſo as to live, and have a Being; for infinite Juſtice is ſo perfectly juſt, as that without a Sacrifice it could not have ſuffered the World to ſtand, after Sin was in the World; but muſt have deſtroyed, for the Sake of Sin, the World which he had made.

For although it be foully abſurd to ſay Beaſts and Fowls are defiled with Sin, as Man; yet doubtleſs they received Detriment thereby: The Creature was made ſubject to Vanity, by reaſon of him who hath ſubjected the ſame, &c. That is, by Adam's Sin. Which Vanity they alſo ſhew by divers of their Practices; as both in their Enmity to Man, and one to another, with which they were not created; this came by the Sin of Man. Now that Man lives, yea, that Beaſts live, it is becauſe of the Offering up of Chriſt: Wherefore it is ſaid in that of the Coloſſians, The Goſpel is Col. 1. 23. preached to every Creature; in every Creature under Heaven; to wit, in that they live and have a Being.

Neither will I again ſmite any more every living thing, as I have done. Theſe Words [as I have done] doth not exempt the Creature from every Judgment of God, but from this, or ſuch as this; for we know, that other Judgments do befal ungodly Men now; and if they continue in final Impenitence, they ſhall partake of far greater Judgments than to be drowned by the Waters of a Flood: The wicked is reſerved unto Job 21. 30, 31. Judgment; yea, the Heavens and the Earth 2 Pet. 3. 7. that now are, are reſerved unto Fire, and Perdition of ungodly Men.

While the Earth remaineth, Seed-time and Ver. 22. Harveſt, Cold and Heat, and Summer and Winter, and Day and Night, ſhall not ceaſe.

While the Earth remaineth. Theſe words may have reſpect both to the Words before, and to them that follow after: If they reſpect the Words before, then they are as Limits to that large Promiſe, of not deſtroying the World again: Not but that the Day will come, as I ſaid, in which another General Judgment, and that too far more dreadful than this of Water, will over-flow the World, and every living thing ſhall again be cut off from the Face of all the Earth; as now by Rain of Water, then by Rain of Fire and Brimſtone: Which Day and ſore Judgment God ſhewed unto Men, when he burned Sodom and Gomorrah with Fire and Brimſtone from Heaven. But,

While the Earth remaineth, this ſhall not be: But in the End, then indeed both it and the Works therein, ſhall (as Peter ſaith) 2 Pet. 3. 10. be be burned up: But ſo long as it remaineth, that is, until it be overtaken with this ſecond, and that too the Beginning of Eternal Judgment, no univerſal Judgment ſhall over-run the Earth: For albeit that ſince that Flood, the Earth hath been ſmitten with many a Curſe; yet it hath been but here and there, not in every Place at once: Famines, and Earthquakes, and Peſtilences, have been in divers places, but yet at the ſame time hath there been Seed-time and Harveſt alſo.

Mark 13. 8. Luke 21. 11.

Seed-time and Harveſt, Cold and Heat, and Summer and Winter, and Day and Night, ſhall not ceaſe. Theſe words were ſome of the firſt, with that of the Bow in the Cloud, that prevailed with me to believe that the Scriptures were the Word of God.

For my Reaſon tells me, they are, and have continued a True Prophecy, from the Day that they were related; otherwiſe the World could not have ſubſiſted; for take away Seed-time and Harveſt, Cold and Heat, &c. and an End is put to the Beginning of the Univerſe.

Beſides, if theſe words be taken in a ſpiritual Senſe, they have alſo ſtood True from that very Day; otherwiſe the Church had ceaſed to have a Being long before this: For take away Seed-time and Harveſt from the Church, with Cold and Heat, and Day and Night, and thoſe Ordinances of Heaven are taken from her, which were ordained for her Begetting and Continuation. This Head might with much Largeneſs be inſiſted on; but to paſs it, and to come to the next Chapter.

CHAP. IX.

Ver. 1. AND God bleſſed Noah, and his Sons, and ſaid unto them, Be fruitful and multiply, and repleniſh the Earth.

Noah having thus waded through theſe great Temptations, and being made alſo to partake of the Mercy of God, in preſerving and ſaving him from the evil thereof, and being brought to partake of the Beginning of a New World, while the Ungodly that were before the Flood were periſhed for their Iniquity: He receiveth now from the Mouth of the Lord, before whom he walked before the Flood, Laws and Ordinances, as Rules by which he ſhould ſtill govern his Life before him. But mark, Before he receiveth theſe Rules and Commandments, he receiveth Bleſſing from God; Bleſſing, I ſay, as that which ſhould yet fore-fit him to do his Will.

And God bleſſed Noah. Bleſſed him with ſpiritual and ſpecial Grace; for without that, no Man can walk, with God's Acceptance before him: He bleſſed him with Grace ſuitable to the Work he was now to begin; to wit, for the repleniſhing and governing the New World God had brought him to: So that Noah did not without precedent Qualifications take this Work upon him. God alſo gave Caleb and Joſhua another Spirit, and then they followed him fully. That of David is for this remarkable, Who am I, ſaid he, and what is my People, that we ſhould offer ſo willingly after this ſort? for all things come of thee, and of thine own have we given thee. "O Lord God, ſaith he, all "this Store that we have prepared to build "thee an Houſe for thine holy Name, co-"meth of thine Hand, and is all thine "own." So is Faith, Love, Strength, Wiſdom, Sincerity, and all other good things wherewith and by which we Walk with God, worſhip him, and do his Will: All which is comprized in theſe words, I will give them an Heart to know me, that I am the Lord; and they ſhall be my People, and I will be their God; for they ſhall return to me with their whole Heart. A new Heart alſo will I give them. And again, I will put my Fear in their Hearts, and they ſhall not depart from me.

1 Chron. 29. 10 to 17. Jer. 24. 7. Jer. 32. 37 to 41. Ezek. 36. 25 to 30.

And God bleſſed Noah and his Sons, and ſaid unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and repleniſh the Earth. After he had bleſſed him, then he tells him what he ſhould do; namely, Be fruitful, and multiply: This he ſpake with reſpect to the Seed that he and his Sons ſhould beget, therewith to people the World; which was now the remaining part of his Work, and he had Three Arguments to encourage him thereto. Firſt, He was delivered from the Wicked and Sinners of the Old World: He was made the Heir of a New World; and was to leave it as an Heritage to his Children.

This therefore ſhould teach us, who are brought into the Kingdom of Chriſt, that New World that hath taken its Beginning in the Word of the Goſpel, not to be idle, but to be fruitful, and to labour to fill the World with a ſpiritual Seed to God: For as Noah, ſo are we made Heirs of this bleſſed Kingdom; and ſhall alſo, as that good Man, leave, when we ſleep in Jeſus, this ſpiritual Seed to poſſeſs the Kingdom after us.

2 Pet. 1. 8 to 16.

Ver. 2. And the Fear of you, and the Dread of you, ſhall be upon every Beaſt of the Earth, and upon every Fowl of the Air; upon all that moveth upon the Earth, and upon all the Fiſh of the Sea; into your hand are they delivered.

Theſe words ſeem to be a Promiſe of what ſhall be a conſequence of their putting into practiſe what was commanded in the Verſe before; namely, of their being fruitful, and of their multiplying in the Earth. Hence Note, That the faithful Obſervation of God's Word, puts Majeſty, and Dread, and Terrour upon them that do it: Therefore it is ſaid, that when the Church is fair as the Sun, and clear as the Moon, ſhe is terrible as an Army with Banners.

Song 6. 4. 10.

ners. The presence of godly Samuel made the Elders of Bethlehem tremble; yea, when Elisha was sought for by the King of Syria, he durst not engage him, but with Chariots
2 Kings 6. 13, 14. and Horses, and an heavy Host. Godliness is a wonderful thing, it commandeth Reve-
Acts 5. 13. rence, and the stooping of the Spirits, even of the World of ungodly ones.

And the fear of you, and the dread of you, shall be upon every Beast. This is true in the Letter; for because there is upon Man, as Man, more of the Image and Similitude of God, than there is upon other Creatures; therefore the Beasts, and all the Creatures, are made to stoop and fall before them; yea, though in themselves they are mighty and fierce: Every Kind (or, Nature) of Birds, and of Serpents, and Jam. 3. 7. things in the Sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed by Mankind.

But to allegorize the Word, (for by the word ungodly Men are Beasts;) then, as I said before, Godliness puts such a Majesty and dread upon the Professors of it, that their Enemies are afraid of them; yea, even then when they rage against them, and lay heavy Afflictions upon them. It is marvellous to see in what fear the ungodly are, even of Godly Men, and Godliness; in that they stir up the Mighty, make edicts against them; yea, and raise up Armies, and what else can be imagin'd, to suppress them; while the Persons thus opposed, if you consider them as to their state and capacity in this World, they are most inconsiderable; but as a dead Dog, or a Flea: O
1 Sam. 24. 14. but they are cloathed with Godliness! the Image and Presence of God is upon them! This makes the Beasts of this World afraid: One of you shall chase a thousand.

Into your hand are they delivered. That is, the Beasts, Birds, and Fish of the Sea (as David saith) to be for the service of Man. But again, This is also true in an higher Nature; for taking these Beasts, &c.
2 Cor. 2. 15, 16. for Men, even they are delivered into the hand of the Church, by whose Doctrine, Power and Faith they are smitten with severest Judgments; laying all that reject them even in the depth of Death, and smiting
Rev. 11. 6. them with all Plagues as often as they will. The world is therefore in our Hand, and disposed of by our Doctrine, by our Faith and Prayers, although they think far otherwise, and shall one day feel their Judgments are according.

Ver. 3. Every moving thing that liveth, shall be meat for you; even as the green herb have I given you all things.

From these words some would insinuate, That before the Flood Men lived only upon Herbs, not eating Flesh; as here they have Authority granted to do: But, in mine Opinion, such should be mistaken, for this Reason, if there were no other: Because they offered Sacrifice before; sacrifices, I say, as Types and Representatives to the Church, of the Death and Sufferings of Christ: Now, of such Sacrifices the Offerers used to eat, as is clear by the Lamb of the Passover, and many other offerings: So that these words seem to be but a renewing of their former Privileges, not a granting new Liberty to the World.

Every moving thing. This must be taken with this Restriction, That is wholsom and good for Food: For by the Law of Nature, nothing of that is forbidden to Man, though for some Significations many such Creatures Deut. 14. were forbidden us to use for a time.

Even as the green Herb. For which they expressly had liberty granted them, in the Gen. 1. 29. First Chapter of this Book. And this Liberty might a-fresh be here repeated, from some scruple that might arise in Noah, &c. He remembring that the World before might, for the abuse of the Creatures of God, as well as for the abuse of his Worship, be drowned with the Flood; for some- 1 Cor. 7. 1. times the abuse of that which is Lawful to Chap. 8. one, may be a Snare, Abuse and Stumbling to another.

But flesh with the life thereof, which is the Ver. 4. blood thereof, shall you not eat.

This Law seems to be Ceremonial, although given long before Moses was; as also some Sacrifices and Circumcision was: Joh. 7. 22. Wherefore we must seek for the Reason of this Prohibition: What man soever (saith God) there be of the house of Israel, that Lev. 17. eateth any manner of blood, I will set my 10, 11, 12. face against that soul that eateth blood, and will cut him off from among his people. Why? For the life of the flesh is the blood, and I have given it to you upon the altar, to make an attonement for your souls; for it is the blood that maketh the attonement for the soul: therefore I said to the Children of Israel, No soul of you shall eat blood. Again, As here the Prohibition is only concerning Blood; so in another place, the Word is as well against our eating the Fat: It shall be a perpetual statute for your generations, Lev. 3. 16, 17. throughout your dwellings, that you neither eat Fat nor Blood: And the reason rendred, is, For all the Fat is the Lord's.

So then the meaning, the spiritual meaning, seems to be this, That forasmuch as the Blood is the Life, and that which maketh the Attonement; and the Fat, the Glory, and the Lord's; therefore they both were to be offered to the Lord: That is, we ought always to offer the Merit of our Salvation to God, by a continual Acknowledgment, that it was through the Blood of Isa. 25. 6. Christ; and we ought always to give him the Glory thereof, and this is the Fat of all our Performances. Now this is so blessed a Thing, and calleth for that Grace, that every Professor hath not, every one cannot ascribe to the Blood of the Lamb, the whole of his Reconciliation to God; nor offer up the * Fat, the Glory, which is God's, * For so Zadok signifies. to the Lord for so great a Benefit: this is the the Benefit of a peculiar People, even of the Prieſts, the Levites, the Sons of Zadok, or they that are juſtified, or juſt there-Ezek. 44. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15. by; that kept the Charge of my Sanctuary, when the Children of Iſrael went aſtray from me; they ſhall come near to me, to miniſter unto me; and they ſhall ſtand before me, to offer unto me the Fat, and the Blood, ſaith the Lord God.

Wherefore, for Men to aſcribe to their own Works the Merit of their Salvation, or to take the Glory thereof to themſelves; it is as eating the Blood and the Fat themſelves, and they ſhall be cut off from the People of God.

Ver 5. And ſurely your Blood of your Lives will I require; at the Hand of every Beaſt will I require it; and at the Hand of Man, and at the Hand of every Man's Brother, will I require the Life of Man.

Theſe Words are ſpoken to the Church, which then reſided in this Family: Not but that God will avenge the Blood that is wrongfully ſhed, though the Perſon mur-Prov. 28. 17. dered be moſt Carnal and Irreligious: A Man that doth Violence to the Blood of any Perſon, ſhall fly to the Pit; let no man ſtay him.

But I ſay, theſe Words reſpect the Church in a more ſpecial and eminent Way: Surely (ſaith God) your Blood of your Lives will I require. Thus alſo David inſinuates the Pſ. 9. 12. Thing: when he maketh Inquiſition for Blood, he remembreth them; the Saints and Godly in ſpecial; he forgetteth not the Cry of the Humble, the afflicted.

At the Hand of every Beaſt will I require it. The Beaſts are here alſo to be taken for Men, to whom they are frequently likened in Scripture; and that becauſe they have caſt off Humane Affections; and, like Savage Creatures, make a Prey of thoſe that are better than themſelves. Ignorance therefore, or Brutiſhneſs, O thou wicked Man! will not excuſe thee in the Day of Judgment; all the Injuries that thou doeſt to the People of God, ſhall for certain be required of thee.

At the Hand of Man will I require it. By [Man] here, we may underſtand, ſuch as have greater Place and Shew of Reaſon wherewith they manage their Cruelty, than thoſe that are as the Natural Beaſt: For all perſecutors are not brutiſh alike; ſome are in Words as ſmooth as Oyl; others can ſhew a Semblance of Reaſon of State, why they ſhould ſell the Righteous for Silver, and the Poor for a Pair of Shoes: Theſe act, to Carnal Reaſon, like Men, as Saul againſt David, for the Safety of his Kingdom; but theſe muſt give an Account of their Cruelty, for Blood is in their Hands.

And at the Hand of every Man's Brother will I require the Life of Man. This Word [Brother] may reach in all the Apoſtatized Hypocrites that forſake or betray the Godly, (for Brother ſhall betray the Brother to Death:) Such are ſpoken of in Iſaiah, Your Brethren that hated you, ſaith God, and that caſt you forth for my Name Sake, ſaid, Let the Lord be glorified; but he ſhall appear to your Joy, and they ſhall be aſhamed: So that let them be as vile as the Brute, or as reaſonable in Appearance as Men, or as near in Relation as a Brother; neither their Ignorance, nor their Reaſon, nor their Relation to the Saints, ſhall ſecure them from the Stroke of the Judgment of God.
Mat. 10. 21.

Whoſo ſheddeth Man's Blood, by Man ſhall his Blood be ſhed; for in the Image of God made he him. Ver. 6.

In theſe Words we have both a Threatning and a Command; and the ſame Words carry both: By Man ſhall his Blood be ſhed, there is the Threatning; By Man ſhall his Blood be ſhed, there is the Command: For as they threaten, ſo they inſtruct us, that he is worthy of the Loſs of his own Blood, that doth wickedly ſhed the Blood of another. Blood for Blood, equal Meaſure: As he alſo ſaith elſewhere, An Eye for an Eye, a Tooth for a Tooth, Wound for Wound, Burning for Burning.
Mat. 26. 52. Rev. 13. 10. Exod. 21. 24. Lev. 24. 20. Deut. 19. 21.

For in the Image of God made he him. This ſeems as the Reaſon of this equal Law; becauſe no Man can ſlay his Neighbour, but he ſtriketh at the Image of God. It is counted an heinous Crime for a Man to run his Sword at the Picture of a King, how much more to ſhed the Blood of the Image of God? He that mocketh, or oppreſſeth, the Poor, reproacheth his Maker; but he that honoureth him, hath Mercy on the Poor: And if ſo, how much more do they reproach, yea, deſpiſe and abhor their Maker, that ſlay and murther his Image? But moſt of all thoſe do prove themſelves the Enemies of God, that make the Holineſs, the Goodneſs, the Religion and Sobriety that is found in the People of God, the Object of their Wrath, and helliſh Cruelty. Hence Murther is, in the New-Teſtament, imputed to that Man that hateth a holy and godly Man: He that hateth his Brother, is a Murtherer; and we know that no Murtherer hath eternal life abiding in him.
Prov. 14. 31. & 17. 5. 1 Joh. 3. 15.

And you, be ye fruitful, and multiply; bring forth abundantly in the earth, and multiply therein. Ver. 7. Thus he doubleth the Bleſſing and Command, of multiplying and increaſing the Church in the Earth, for that is the delight of God, and of Chriſt.

And God ſpake unto Noah, and to his Sons with him, ſaying, And I, behold, I eſtabliſh my Covenant with you, and with your Seed after you. Ver. 8, 9.

God having thus bleſſed them, and given them Laws and Judgments to walk by, for the further Confirmation of their Hope in God, he propoundeth to them the Immutability of his Mind, by the eſtabliſhing of his his Covenant with them; for a Covenant is that, which not only concludeth the Matter concerned between the Persons themselves; but it provideth Remedy against after Temptations, and Fears, and Mistrusts, as to the faithful Performance of that which is spoken of: As Laban said to Jacob, Now therefore (said he) come thou, let us make a Covenant, I and thou; and let it be for a witness between me and thee. Thus also the Apostle insinuates; where making mention of the Promise and Oath of God, he saith, this Promise and Oath are both Immutable, that we might have a strong consolation, or always Ground for great rejoycing, who have fled for refuge, to lay hold on the hope set before us.

Gen. 31. 44, 45, to 50.

Heb. 6. 18. 19.

This Covenant therefore, it was for the Encouragement of Noah and his Sons, that they might walk before God without fear: Yea, it was to maintain their Hope in his Promise of Forgiveness, though they should find their after Performances mixed with Infirmities; for so he had told them before, namely, That he would not again destroy the Earth for Man's sake, albeit the imagination of man's heart be evil from his youth. I will establish my Covenant with you, and with your Seed after you.

Ver. 10. And with every living Creature that is with you; of the Fowl, of the Cattel, and of every Beast of the Earth with you; from all that go out of the Ark, to every Beast of the earth. These words respect the whole * Creation; for all the things in the World, Devils only excepted, have a Benefit by this Covenant of God: And hence it is, that not Man only, but every thing that hath breath, is commanded to praise the Lord: But observe it; as for the Sin of Man, they before were destroyed by the Flood; so now, by reason of the Mercy of God to Man, they are spared, and partake of Mercy also: This is intimated by these words, Every Creature that is with you; every Beast of the Earth with you.

* See in Chap. 8.

Psal. 150.

Ver. 11. And I will establish my Covenant with you, neither shall all flesh be cut off any more by the waters of the Flood: neither shall there be any more a Flood to destroy the Earth.

This is the sum of the Covenant, as it respecteth the Letter, and the Type, and the whole Creation in general: But yet as to the Spirit and Gospel of it, the Holy Ghost must needs have a further reach, an Intention of more glorious things, as may further be shewed anon.

And I will establish my Covenant with you. For you that are Men, and especially the Members of the Church, have the most peculiar share therein.

Neither shall all flesh be cut off any more by the Waters of a Flood. For because of my Covenant which I establish with you, I will spare them also, and give them the taste of my Mercy and Goodness.

Neither shall there be any more a Flood to destroy the Earth. This Covenant therefore, is not of that Nature as the Covenant was which was made with Adam, (to wit, a Covenant of Works, as the only Conditions of Life;) for by that was the Ground, for Man's Sin, Accursed, Accursed, and Accursed again: But now the Lord goeth another way, the way of Grace, and Forgiveness of Sins: Wherefore now, not the Curse, but the Mercy of God, comes in on the back and neck of Sin, still sparing and forgiving Man, the great Transgressor, and the Beast, &c. and the Earth, for the sake of him.

Ver. 12, 13. And God said, This is the Token of the Covenant which I make between me and you, and every living Creature that is with you, for perpetual Generations. I do set my Bow in the Cloud, and it shall be for a token of a Covenant between Me and the Earth.

So then, the way to find out the Covenant, what that is, it is to see if we can find out this token of it; to wit, the Bow, of which the Rain-bow is but a Type. I find then by the Scriptures, where this Bow is mystically spoken of, that the Lord Jesus Christ himself is encompassed with the Bow. The First is this:

And above the firmament that was over their heads, was the likeness of a Throne, as the appearance of a Saphire-stone; and upon the likeness of the Throne, was the likeness, as the appearance of a Man upon it. And I saw, as the colour of Amber, as the appearance of fire round about within: from the appearance of his Loyns, even upward, and from the appearance of his Loyns even downward; I saw as it were the appearance of Fire, and it had brightness round about. As the appearance of the BOW that is in the Cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about: This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the Lord, the Man, the Lord's Christ, &c.

Ezek. 1, 26, 27, 28.

The second Scripture is this: I was in the Spirit, and behold a Throne was set in Heaven, and one sat on the Throne, and he that sat was to look upon like a Jasper and a Sardine stone, and there was a rainbow round about the Throne, like unto an Emerald.

Rev. 4. 2, 3.

In these two Texts there is mention of the Rainbow, that was, not to be the Covenant, but the Token or Sign thereof. Now then the Covenant it self must needs be the Man that was set in the midst of the Bow upon the Throne: For so he saith by the Prophet, I the Lord have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a Covenant of the people. The Covenant therefore is Jesus Christ the Saviour, whom the Bow in the Cloud was a Sign or a Token of. So then the sum of the Text is this, That God for the sake of the Lord Jesus Christ, will not again all the days of the Earth bring an universal Judgment upon the Creature, as in the days of Noah, and of the old World he did; for Christ by the Worth of his

Isa. 42. 6.

Blood and Righteouſneſs hath pacified the Juſtice of the Law for Sin: So then the whole univerſe ſtandeth not upon a bottom of its own, but by the Word and Power of Chriſt. The Earth, ſaith he, and the inhabitants thereof are diſſolved, I bear up the pillars of it.

Heb. 1. 2, 3. Pſa. 75. 3.

Queſt. But how muſt Chriſt be reckoned of God, when he maketh him the poize againſt all the Sin of the World.

The Prophet tells us thus: He ſhall be the Covenant of the People, or he ſhall be accounted the Conditions and Worth of the World; He ſhall be the Covenant, or Works, or Righteouſneſs of the People; for He, as the High Prieſt under the Law, is ſet for the people to God-ward; that is, he ſtandeth always in the preſence of God, as the compleat Obedience of the People. So then, ſo long as the Lord Chriſt bears up his Mediatorſhip, God in Juſtice will neither deſtroy the World, nor the things that are therein.

In this Covenant therefore, the Juſtice as well as the Mercy of God is diſplayed in its perfection, inaſmuch as without the perfection of the Mediator Chriſt, the World could not be ſaved from Judgment.

Ver. 14. And it ſhall come to paſs when I bring a Cloud over the Earth, that the Bow ſhall be ſeen in the Cloud.

By theſe words the Lord looks back to the Flood that before had drowned the Earth; for in thoſe Clouds there was no Bow, no Token of Chriſt, or of the Mercy of God: But now, ſaith God, I will do far otherwiſe; from henceforth when I bring a Cloud, and there be ſhowers of rain on the Earth, theſe Clouds ſhall not be as the other, but my Bow ſhall be therein.

The Cloud then that here is ſpoken of, muſt be underſtood of the Judgment of God for Sin, like thoſe before, and at the Overthrow of the World; only with this Difference, they were Clouds, Judgments without Mercy, but theſe Judgments mixed therewith; and often the Clouds are thus to be underſtood. Job when he curſeth his Day, ſaith, Let a Cloud dwell upon it. So the Judgments of God upon Sion, are called the Covering of a Cloud: So in Joel alſo, to the Darkneſs of Clouds, are the Judgments of the Church compared; yea, that Pillar that went before the Children of Iſrael, it being a Judgment to the People of Egypt, goes under this Epithet, as a Term moſt fit to expreſs this Judgment by, it was a Cloud and Darkneſs to them.

Job 3. 5. Lam. 2. 1. Joel 2. 2. Exod. 14. 20.

And now to the Cloud in hand, the Cloud in which is the Bow, the Cloud of Rain, although by the Mercy and Grace of God it is ſo great a Bleſſing as it is, yet it ſometimes becomes a Judgment, it comes for Correction, as a Rod to afflict the Inhabitants of the World withal. Thus it was in the Days of Ezra, and very often both before and ſince.

Job 37. 13. Ezra 10. 12, 13, 14.

The Bow ſhall be ſeen in the Cloud. This is the Mercy of God to the World, and that by which it hath been hitherto preſerved; The Bow ſhall be ſeen in the Cloud. You know I told you of the Bow before, that it was a Sign or Token of the Covenant of God with the World, and that the Covenant itſelf was Chriſt, as given of God unto us, with all his good Conditions, Merit and Worth. So then, in that God ſet this Bow in the Cloud, and eſpecially in the Clouds that he ſends for Judgment, he would have the World remember, that there comes no Judgment as yet on the World, but it is mixed with, or poized by the Mercy of God in Chriſt.

The Bow ſhall be ſeen in the Cloud. This may reſpect God, or the World, that is, the ſeeing of the Bow in the Cloud; if it reſpect God, then it tells us he in Judgment will remember Mercy; if it reſpect the World, then it admoniſheth us not to deſpond, or ſink in deſpair under the greateſt Judgment of God, for the Bow, the Token of his Covenant, is ſeen in the Judgments that he executeth.

When the Viſion of the Ruine of Jeruſalem was revealed to the Prophet Ezekiel, he ſaw that yet Chriſt ſat under the Bow. Ezek. 1.

When Antichriſt was to come againſt the Saints of God, the Commiſſion came from Chriſt, as he ſat under the Bow. This John did ſee and relate, of which we ſhould take ſpecial Notice; for by this Token God would have us to know that theſe Clouds, though they come for Correction, yet not to deſtroy the Church. Rev. 4.

Ver. 15. My Bow ſhall be ſeen in the Cloud.

And I will remember my Covenant which is between me and you, and every living Creature of all Fleſh, and the Waters ſhall no more become a Flood to deſtroy all Fleſh.

And I will remember my Covenant. Much like this is that of the Lord to Iſrael, when they are under all, or any of thoſe forty Judgments mentioned Leviticus 26. If they confeſs their Iniquities, ſaith he, and the iniquities of their Fathers, &c. then will I remember my Covenant with Jacob, and alſo my Covenant with Iſaac, and alſo my Covenant with Abraham will I remember, and I will remember the Land. His uſual way in other ſayings, is to begin with Abraham, but here he ends with him; and the reaſon is, becauſe there, as it were, the great Promiſe of the Meſſias to that People began, Saying, in thy Seed ſhall all Nations be bleſſed. Lev. 26. 42.

And I will remember my Covenant which is between me and you. We read not here of any Compact or Agreement between Noah and God Almighty; wherefore ſuch Conditions and Compacts could not be the Terms between him and us: What then? why that Covenant that he calls his, which is his Gift to us, I will give thee for a Covenant; this is the Covenant which is between between God and us: There is one God, and one Mediator between God and Man, the Man Christ Jesus. This then is the Reason why all the Waters, why all the Judgments of God, and why all the Sins that have provoked those Judgments, cannot become a Flood to destroy all Flesh.

Ver. 16. And the Bow shall be in the Cloud, and I will look upon it, that I may remember the everlasting Covenant between God, and every living Creature of all Flesh that is upon the Earth.

And the Bow shall be in the Cloud. This is a kind of a Repetition; for this he had told us before, saying, I do set my Bow in the Cloud, and the Bow shall be seen in the Cloud: which Repetition is very needful, for it is hard for us to believe that Christ and Grace are wrapped up in the Judgments of God. Wherefore it had need be attested twice and thrice: To write the same things to you, saith Paul, to me indeed is not grievous, but for you it is safe.

Phil. 3. 1. 1 Pet. 1. 12.

And I will look upon. A familiar Expression, and suited to our Capacity, and spoken to prevent a further Ground of Mistrust; much like to that of God, when he was to send the Plague upon Egypt: The Blood, saith God, (of the Lamb) shall be to you for a Token upon the Houses where you are, and when I see the Blood I will pass over you, and the Plague shall not be upon you, to destroy you, when I smite the Land of Egypt.

Exod. 12. 13.

And I will look upon it that I may remember. Not that God is forgetful, He is ever mindful of his Covenant: But such Expressions are used to shew and persuade us that the whole Heart and Delight of God is in it.

That I may remember the everlasting Covenant. This Word Covenant is also the sixth Repetition thereof; my Covenant, the Covenant, a Covenant, and the everlasting Covenant. O how fain would God beat it into the Heads of the World, that he hath for Men a Covenant of Grace.

The everlasting Covenant. Because the Parties on both Sides are faithful, perfect and true; the Father being the one, and the Son of his Love the other; for this Covenant, as I said before, is not a Compact and Agreement betwixt God and the World, but his Son, as his Gift to Men, is set for them to Godward. So that what Conditions there are, they are perfectly found in Christ, by whose Blood the Covenant is sealed and established, and indeed becomes everlasting. Hence it is called the Blood of the everlasting Covenant: And again, the New Testament is said to be in this Blood. Besides, the Promises are all in Christ, I mean the Promises of this Covenant; in him they are Yea, and in him Amen, to the Glory of God the Father: Now they being all in him, and Yea and Amen no where else, the Covenant itself must needs be of pure Grace and Mercy, and the Bow in the Cloud, not Qualifications in us, the proper Tokens of this Covenant.

Zech. 9. 11. Heb. 13. 20.

And God said unto Noah, This is the Token of the Covenant, which I have established between me and all Flesh that is upon the Earth. Ver. 17.

Behold a Repetition of all things that were essential either to the Covenant it self, or to our Faith therein, the making of the Covenant, the looking on the Covenant, and the Token of the Covenant; how often are they mentioned, that we might be more fully convinced of the unchangeable Nature of it: as Joseph said unto Pharaoh, For that the Dream was doubled unto Pharaoh twice, it is because the thing is established by God. Gen. 41. 32.

And God said unto Noah. Where God loveth, he delighteth to apply himself to such, in a more than general way; he singleth out the Person, Noah, Abraham, and the like. I know thee by Name, saith he to Moses, and thou hast found Grace in my Sight.

This is the token of the Covenant. It still wants beating into peoples heads, where they should look for the Covenant it self, to wit, the Throne which the Rainbow compasseth round about; for that is the token of the presence of the Messias, and thither we are to look for Salvation from all plagues, and from all the Judgments that are due to sin: The Lord for Christ's sake forgave you, this is the token of the Covenant.

Of the Covenant which I have established. This word [I] (as also hinted before) doth intimate that this Covenant is the Covenant of Grace and Mercy, for a Covenant of Works cannot be established; that is, settled between God and Men, before both parties have either by Sureties, or performance ratified and confirmed the same. Indeed it may be so established, as that God will appoint no other; but to be so established, as to give us the Fruits thereof, that must be the effects of his being well pleased with the Conditions of those concerned in the making thereof: But that is not the World, but the Son of God, and therefore it is called his Covenant, and He as given to us of God, is so reckoned our Condition and Worth. Zech. 9. 11

Which I have Established: To wit, upon better Promises than Duties purely commanded, or than the obedience of all the Angels in Heaven: I have established it in the Truth and Faithfulness, in the Merit and Worth of the Blood of my Son, of whom the Rainbow that you see in the Cloud is a Token.

And the Sons of Noah that went forth of the Ark, were Shem, Ham, and Japhet; and Ham is the Father of Canaan. Ver. 18.

By these Words Moses is returned again to the History of Noah: And the Sons of Noah

Noah that went forth of the Ark. If theſe words [that went forth of the Ark] bear the Emphaſis of this part of the Verſe, then it may ſeem that Noah had more Children than theſe; but they were not accounted of; for they being ungodly, as the reſt of the World, they periſhed with them in their ungodlineſs: Theſe only went in, and came out of the Ark with him; to wit, Shem, and Ham, and Japhet. The Names thus placed, is not according to their Birth; for Japhet was the Elder, Ham the Younger, and Shem the Middlemoſt of the two.

Chap. 10. 11. Shem therefore takes the Place, becauſe of his Eminency in Godlineſs; alſo, becauſe Chap. 9. 24. from him went the Line up to Chriſt: For which cauſe alſo the Family of the Sons of Judah (though he was but the Fourth Son of Iſrael) was reckoned before the Family 1 Chr. 2. 3. of Reuben Jacob's Firſt-born; or before the reſt of the Sons of his Brethren. Sometimes Perſons take their Place in Genealogy, from the fore-ſight of the mightineſs of their Off-ſpring: Thus was Ephraim placed Gen. 48. 17, to 21. before Manaſſeh; for, Truly (ſaid Jacob) his younger Brother ſhall be greater than he —And he ſet Ephraim before Manaſſeh.

Ham is the next in order; not for the ſake of his Birthright, or becauſe he was much, if any thing, now for Godlineſs; but for that he was the next to be eminent in his Off-ſpring, for oppoſing and fighting againſt the ſame.

Shem and Ham therefore the two Heads, or Chief, from whence ſprang Good and Evil Men, by way of Eminency. Ham is the Father of Canaan, or of the Canaanites, the People of God's Curſe, whom the Sons of Shem who afterwards ſprang from Abraham, Iſaac and Jacob, was to cut off from the Earth, for their moſt high Abominations.

Japhet comes in, in the Firſt place, as one that at preſent was leaſt concerned either in the Mercy or Diſpleaſure of God; being neither (in his Off-ſpring) to be devoutly Religious, nor yet incorrigibly Wicked, though afterwards he was to be perſwaded to dwell in the Tents of Shem.

Ver. 19. Theſe are the three Sons of Noah, and of them was the whole Earth over-ſpread.

Thus, tho' Noah's Beginning was ſmall, his Latter-End did greatly encreaſe.

Ver. 20. 21. And Noah, began to be an Husbandman, and he planted a Vineyard.—And he drank of the Wine, and was drunken; and he was uncovered within his Tent.

This is the Blot in this good Man's Scutcheon; and a ſtrange Blot it is, that ſuch an One as Noah ſhould be thus overtaken with Evil! One would have thought that Moſes ſhould now have began with a Relation of ſome Eminent Vertues, and Honourable Actions of Noah, ſince now he was ſaved from the Death that overtook the Whole World, and was delivered, both he and his Children, to poſſeſs the whole Earth himſelf. Indeed, he ſtepped from the Ark, to the Altar; as Iſrael of old did Sing on the Shore of the Red-Sea: But, as they, he ſoon forgat; he rendred Evil to God for Good.

Neither is Noah alone in this Matter: Lot alſo being delivered from that Fire from Heaven that burnt up Sodom and Gomorah, Gen. 19. 30, to 34. falls ſoon after into Lewdneſs with the Children of his Body, and begetteth his own two Daughters with Child.

Gideon alſo, after he was delivered out of the Hands of his Enemies, took that very Gold which God had given him, as Judg. 8. 24, to 28. the Spoil of them that hated him, and made himſelf Idols therewith. What ſhall I ſay of David? and of Solomon alſo, who after he had been Twenty Years at work for the Service of the True God, both in Building and Preparing for his Worſhip, and in Writing of Proverbs by Divine Inſpiration, did, after this, make Temples for Idols; yea, almoſt for the Gods of all Countries? Yea, he did it when he was old, when he ſhould have been preparing for his Grave, and for Eternity. It came to paſs when Solomon was old, that his Wives turned away his heart after other Gods; for Solomon went after Aſhtoreth, the Goddeſs of the Zidonians; and after Milcom, the Abomination of the Amonites. He did alſo build an high place for Chemoſh, the Abomination of Moab, in the hill before Jeruſalem; and for Molech, the Abomination of the Children of Amon. And likewiſe did he for all his ſtrange Wives, which burnt Incenſe, and ſacrificed unto their Gods. 1 Kings 11. 4, to 9.

All theſe Sins were Sins againſt Mercies; yea, and doubtleſs againſt Covenants, and the moſt ſolemn Reſolutions to the contrary. For who can imagine, but that when Noah was toſſed with the Flood, and Lot within the ſcent and ſmell of the Fire and Brimſtone (that burned down Sodom, with his Sons, and his Daughters;) and Gideon, when ſo fiercely engaged with ſo great an Enemy, and delivered by ſo ſtrange a Hand; ſhould in the moſt ſolemn manner both Promiſe and Vow to God: But behold! now they in truth are delivered and ſaved, they recompenſe all with Sin. Lord, what is Man! How abominable and filthy is Man, who drinketh in iniquity like water. Let theſe things learn us to ceaſe from man, whoſe breath is in his noſtrils; for wherein is he to be accounted of? Indeed, it is a vain thing to build our Faith upon the moſt godly Man in the World, becauſe he is ſubject to err; yea, far better than He was ſo. If Noah, and Lot, and Gideon, and David, and Solomon, who wanted not Matter from Arguments, and that of the ſtrongeſt kind, (as Arguments that are drawn from Mercy and Goodneſs be,) to ingage to Holineſs, and the Fear of God; yet after all, did ſo foully fall, as we ſee: Let us admire Grace, that any ſtand; let the Strongeſt Job 15. 16. Iſa. 2. 22.

fear, lest he fearfully fall; and let no Man but Jesus Christ himself be the absolute Platform and Pattern of Faith and Holiness: As the Prophet saith, Let us cease from Man. But to return:

And Noah began to be an Husband-man. This Trade he took up for want of better Employment; or rather (in mine Opinion) from some Liberty he took to himself, to be remiss in his Care and Work, as a Preacher: For seeing the Church was now at rest, and having the World before them, they still retaining outward Sobriety, poor Noah, good Man, now might think with himself, "I need not now be so diligent, watchful "and plainful in my Ministry as formerly; "the Church is but small, without Opposi- "tion, and also well settled in the Truth; "I may now take to my self a little time to "tamper with Worldly things." So he makes an Essay upon Husbandry. He began to be an Husband-man. Ha, Noah! it was better with thee when thou wast better employed! Yea, it was better with thee, when a world of ungodly Men set themselves against thee! Yea, when every day thy Life was in danger to be destroyed by the Giants, against whom thou wast a Preacher above an hundred years! For then thou didst walk with God; Then thou wast better than all the World; but now thou art in the relapse!

Hence Note, That though the Days of Affliction, of Temptation and Distress, are harsh to Flesh and Blood; yet they are not half so dangerous as are the Days of Peace and Liberty. Wherefore Moses pre-admonished Israel, That when they had received the Land of Canaan, and had Herds, and Silver and Gold in abundance, that then their heart be not lifted up to forget the Lord their God. Jesurun kicked when he was fat. O! when Provinder pricks us, we are apt to be as the Horse or Mule, that is without understanding.

Deut. 8. 10. to 16

He planted a Vineyard, and drank of the Wine, and was drunken. Although in the course of Godliness, many Men have but a speculative Knowledge of Things; yet it is not so in the ways of this World and Sin, the practical part of these things are lived in by all the World. They are Sinners indeed, He drank of the Wine.

He drank of the Wine, and was drunken. The Holy Ghost, when it hath to do with Sin, it loveth to give it its own Name: Drunkenness must be Drunkenness, Murther must be Murther, and Adultery must bear its own Name: Nay, it is neither the Goodness of the Man, nor his being in Favour with God, that will cause him to lessen or mince his Sin: Noah was drunken; Lot lay with his Daughters; David killed Uriah; Peter Cursed and Swore in the Garden, and also Dissembled at Antioch. But this is not Recorded, to the intent that the Name of these Godly should rot or stink; but to shew, that the best Men are nothing without Grace; and, that he that standeth, should not be high minded, but fear. Yea, they are also Recorded, for the Support of the Tempted, who when they are fallen, are oft raised up by considering the Infirmities of others: Whatsoever was writ afore-time, was written for our Learning, that we thro' patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope. Rom. 15. 4

And he was uncovered within his Tent. That is, He lay like a drunken Man, that regarded not who saw his Shame. Hence Note, how beastly a Sin Drunkenness is; it bereaveth a Man of Consideration, and Civil Behaviour; it makes him as brutish and shameless as a Beast; yea, it discovereth his Nakedness to all that behold.

And he was uncovered. That is, lay naked. Behold ye now, that a little of the Fruit of the Vine, lays Gravity, grey Hairs, and a Man that for hundreds of Years was a Lover of Faith, Holiness, Goodness, Sobriety, and all Righteousness, shamelessly, as the Object to the Eye of the Wicked, with his Nakedness in his Tent.

He was uncovered within his Tent. The best place of Retirement he had, but it could not hide him from the Eye of the Ungodly: It is not therefore thy secret Chamber, nor thy lurking in Holes, that will hide thee from the Eye of the Reproacher: Nothing can do this but Righteousness, Goodness, Sobriety and Faithfulness to God; this will hide thee; these are the Garments, which, if they be on thee, will keep thee, that the Shame of thy Nakedness do not appear. Rev. 16. 15.

And Ham, the Father of Canaan, saw the Nakedness of his Father, and told his two Brethren without. Ver. 22.

Ham was the unsanctified one, the Father of the Children of the Curse of God: He saw the Nakedness of his Father, and he blazed abroad the Matter. Hence note, That the wicked and ungodly Man, is he that doth watch for the Infirmities of the Godly: As David says, They watched for my halting: Indeed, they know not else how to justify their own Ungodliness; but this, instead of excusing them of their Wickedness, doth but justify the Word against them; for by this they prove themselves graceless, and Men that watch for Iniquity: They said in their Hearts (said David) Ah! so would we have it. Amon said, Aha! against the Sanctuary when it was profaned, and against the Land of Israel when it was desolate, and against the House of Judah when it went into captivity. The Enmity that is in the Hearts of ungodly Men, will not suffer them to do otherwise; when they see Evil befal the Saint, they rejoyce and skip for joy. Ps. 35. 25 Ezek. 25. 3. Chap. 26. 2. & 36. 2.

HE saw the Nakedness of his Father. Hence Note, That Saints can rarely slip, but the Eyes of the Canaanites will see them. This should make us walk in the World with jealous Eyes, with Eyes that look round about, not only to what we are and do, but alſo, how what we do is reſented in the World: Abraham was good at this, and ſo was Iſaac and Jacob; for they tendred more the Honour and Glory of God, than they minded their own concerns.

Geh. 13. 7, 8, 9. Chap. 34. 30.

He ſaw the Nakedneſs of his FATHER. Who was the neareſt and deareſt Relation he had in the World; yet neither Relation, nor Kin, nor all the Good that his Father had done him, could keep his polluted Lips from declaring his Father's Follies, but out they muſt go; the ſin of his own defiled Heart muſt take place of the Fifth Commandment, and muſt rather ſolace it ſelf in Rejoycing in his Father's Iniquity, than in Covering his Father's Nakedneſs. Wicked Men regard not Kindred; and no marvel, for they love not Godlineſs: He that loveth not God, loveth not his Brother, or Father: nay, he wrongeth his own Soul.

Prov. 8. 36.

And he told his two Brethren without. He told them; that is, mockingly, reflecting not only upon Noah, but alſo upon his Brethren; to all of whom himſelf was far inferior, both as to Grace and Humanity.

Ver. 23. And Shem and Japhet took a Garment, and laid it upon both their ſhoulders, and went backwards, and covered the nakedneſs of their Father; and their faces were backward, and they ſaw not their Father's nakedneſs.

Shem and Japhet did it: This is recorded for the Renown of theſe, as the Action of Ham is for his perpetual Infamy.

They took a Garment, and went backward, and covered their Father, and ſaw not his nakedneſs. Love will attempt to do that with difficulty, that it cannot accompliſh otherwiſe. I think it might be from this Action, that the Wiſe Man gathereth his Proverb from: Hatred ſtirreth up Strifes, but Love covereth all Sins. Indeed, Ham would fain have made Variance between his Father and his Brethren, by preſenting the Folly of the one, to the Shame and Provocation of the other. But Shem, and his Brother Japheth, they took the courſe to prevent it; they covered their Father's Nakedneſs.

Prov. 10. 12.

Ver. 24. And Noah awoke from his Wine, and knew what his younger Son had done unto him.

By theſe words more is implied than expreſſed; for this awaking of Noah, not only informeth us of Natural awaking from Sleep, but of his Spiritual awaking from his Sin: He awoke from his Wine: As Ely ſaid to Hannah, How long wilt thou be drunken? Put away thy Wine from thee. By which words he exhorteth to Repentance. It is ſaid of Nabal, That his Wine went from him, as many Mens Sins forſake them, becauſe they are decayed, and want ſtrength and opportunity to perform them. Now this may be done, where the Heart remaineth yet unſanctified: But Noah awoke from his Wine, put it away, or, repented him of the evil of his doing: A juſt man falleth ſeven times, and riſeth again, but the wicked ſhall fall into miſchief. Wherefore they have cauſe to ſay to all the Ham's in the world, Rejoyce not againſt me, O thou mine Enemy! for when I fall, I ſhall ariſe; but your fall, is a fall into miſchief.

Prov. 24. 16. Mic. 7. 8.

He knew what his younger Son had done unto him. Whether this was by Revelation from Heaven, or through the Information of Japhet and Shem, I determine not; but ſo it was, that the good Man had underſtanding thereof: Which might be requiſite upon a double account; not only that he might now be aſhamed thereof; but take notice, that he had cauſed the Enemies of God to reproach; for this ſinks deep into a good Man's Heart, and afflicteth him ſo much the more.

Ver. 25. And he ſaid, Curſed be Canaan; a Servant of Servants ſhall he be unto his Brethren.

By theſe words one would think that Canaan, the Grand-child of Noah, was the firſt that diſcovered his Nakedneſs; but of this I am uncertain: I rather think that Noah, in a Spirit of Prophecy, determined the Deſtruction of Ham's Poſterity, from the Prodigiouſneſs of his wicked Action, and of his Name, which ſignifieth Indignation, or Heat; for Names of old were oft-times given according to the Nature and Deſtiny of the Perſons concerned. Is not he rightly called Jacob? And again, As his Name is, ſo is he. Beſides, by this Act did Ham declare himſelf void of the Grace of God; for he that rejoyceth in Iniquity, or that maketh a mock, as being ſecretly pleaſed with or at the Infirmities of the godly, he is declared already, by the Spirit of God, to be nothing.

Gen. 27. 36. 1 Sam. 25. 25. 1 Cor. 13.

A Servant of Servants ſhall he be unto his Brethren. This was accompliſhed when Iſrael took the Land of Canaan, and made the Off-ſpring of this ſame Ham, even ſo many as eſcaped the Edge of the Sword, to be Captives and Bondſmen, and Tributers unto them.

Hence note, That the Cenſures of good Men are dreadful, and not lightly to be paſſed over, whether they propheſy of Evil or Good; becauſe they ſpeak in Judgment, and according to the Tenor of the Word of God.

Ver. 26. And he ſaid, Bleſſed be the Lord God of Shem; and Canaan ſhall be his Servant.

Shem ſeems by this, to be the firſt in that Action of Love to his Father; and that Japhet did help through his Perſwaſion; for Shem is bleſſed in a ſpecial manner, and Canaan is made his Servant.

Hence note, That Forwardneſs in things that are good, is a bleſſed Sign that the Lord is our God: Bleſſed be the Lord God of Shem. It is ſaid of Hananiah, That he was a faithful Man, and feared God above many. Now ſuch Men are Provocations to good, as I doubt not but Shem's was to Nehem. 7. 2.

Japheth:

2 Cor. 9. 2. Japheth: As Paul saith of some, Your Zeal hath provoked very many.

Ver. 27. God shall inlarge Japhet, and he shall dwell in the Tents of Shem.

In the Margin, 'tis, God shall perswade: And it looks like a Confirmation of what I said before, and is a Prophecy of that Requital of Love that God should one day give his Posterity, for his Kindness to Noah his Father: As if Noah had said, "Well, "Japhet, thou wast soon perswaded by "Shem to shew Kindness to me thy Father, "and the Lord shall hereafter perswade thy "Posterity to trust in the God of Shem.

God shall enlarge. This may respect Liberty of Soul, or how great the Church of Gen. 10. 5. the Gentiles should be; for Japhet was the Father of the Gentiles.

If it respect the first, then it shews, That Sin is as Fetters and Chains that hold Souls in Captivity and Thraldom. And hence, when Christ doth come in the Gospel, it is Luke 4. 18. to preach deliverance to Captives, and to set at liberty them that are bruised.

God shall perswade. That is, God shall enlarge him by Perswasion; for the Gospel knows no other Compulsion, but to force by Argumentation. Them therefore that God brings into the Tents, or Churches of Christ, they by the Gospel are inlarged from the Bondage and Thraldom of the Devil, and perswaded also to embrace his Grace to Salvation.

Ver. 28. And Noah lived after the Flood three hundred and fifty years.

He lived therefore to see Abraham fifty and eight years old: He lived also to see the Foundation of Babel lay'd; nay, the Top Stone thereof: and also the Confusion of Tongues: He lived to see of the Fruit of his Loyns, mighty Kings and Princes: But in all this time he lived not to do one Work that the Holy Ghost thought worthy to record for the Savour of his Name, or the Edification and Benefit of his Church, save only, That he died at Nine hundred and fifty Years; so great a breach did this Drunkenness make upon his Spirit.

Ver. 29. So all the days of Noah were nine hundred and fifty years, and he died.

CHAP. X.

Ver. 1. NOW these are the Generations of the Sons of Noah, Shem, Ham, and Japheth; and unto them were Sons born after the Flood.

Having thus passed over the Flood, with what Noah and his Sons did after; we now come to the Second Plantation of the World, to wit, by the Three Sons of Noah; for by these Three was the World replenished after the Flood. Shem was the Father of the Jews; Ham, the Father of the Canaanites; and Japheth, the Father of the Gentiles. So then, of Shem came the then present Visible Church; of Ham, the Opposers and Enemies of it; but of Japhet came those that should be received into the Church afterwards; as also abundance of the Haters of the Lord.

The Sons of Japhet; Gomer, and Magog, Ver. 2. and Madai, and Javan, and Tubal, and Meshech, and Tyras.

Gomer, a Consumer; Magog, Covering, or Melting: Madai, Measuring, or Judging; Javan, making Sad; Tubal, Born, Brought, or Worldly; Meshech, Prolonging; Tyras, a Destroyer: These are the English of their Names.

Gomer, and Magog, and Meshech, and Tubal, are the great Persecutors of the Church in the latter Days: They shall be persecuted then by Consumers, Melters, and Men of this World. Madai, and Javan, (as some say,) where the Fathers of the Medes and Greeks: These therefore did sometimes help, and not always hinder the Church. Ezek. 38. 2. Rev. 20. 8.

And the Sons of Gomer; Askenas, and Riphath, and Togarmah. ---- Also the Sons of Javan; Elishah, and Tarshish, Kittim, and Dodanim. Ver. 3, 4.

Riphath, Medicine, or Release; Elishah, the Lamb of God; Dodanim, Beloved: Either these Names were given them by way of Prophecy; implying, that of their Seed should arise many Gentile Churches; or to shew us, that when Men (as their Fathers) have left or lost the Power of Godliness, yet something of the Notion they may yet retain.

By these were the Isles of the Gentiles divided in their Lands, every one after his Tongue, after their Families, in their Nations. Ver. 5.

But this must be understood to be after the Building of, and Confusion at Babel; for before they had all but one Tongue; and besides, they kept all together. Chap. 11. 1, 2.

And the Sons of Ham; Cush, and Mizraim, Phut, and Canaan. Ver. 6.

Cush, Black. Of Ham and Mizraim came the Ethiopians, or Blackamore: The Land of Ham was the Country about Egypt; wherefore Israel was first afflicted by them. Ps. 102. 27. Ps. 72. 10. Isa. 60. 9. Isa. 43. 3.

And the Sons of Cush; Seba and Havilah, and Sabtah, and Raamah, and Sabtecha: and the Sons of Raamah, Sheba and Dedan. Ver. 7.

Seba and Sheba, sometimes look well upon the Church; but when he did not, God gave them for her Ransom.

And Cush begat Nimrod, (or the rebellious One;) he began to be a mighty one in the Earth. Ver. 8.

The begetting of Nimrod, is accounted a thing that is over and above, and is laid by the Holy Ghost as a Blot upon Cush for ever; for when Men would vilify, they used to say, Thou art the Son of the Rebellious, the Son of a Murderer. So again, He that begetteth Solomon's Fool, (or, wicked one) he begetteth him to his own shame.

Cush

Cuſh begat Nimrod. So then, the Curſe came betimes upon the Sons of Ham; for he was the Father of Cuſh: For the Curſe, as it were, begins in Rebellion, and a Rebellious One was Nimrod, both by Name and Nature.

He began to be a mighty One in the Earth. I am apt to think he was the firſt that in this New World ſought after Abſolute Monarchy.

He began to be a mighty One in the Earth, (or, among the Children of Men.) I ſuppoſe him to be a Giant; not only in Perſon, but in Diſpoſition; and ſo, through the pride of his Countenance, did ſcorn that others, or any, ſhould be his Equal; nay, could not be content, till all made Obeiſance to him. He therefore would needs be the Author and Maſter of what Religion he pleaſed; and would alſo ſubject the reſt of his Brethren thereto, by what ways his Luſts thought beſt. Wherefore here began a freſh Perſecution; That Sin therefore which the other World was drowned for, was again revived by this curſed Man, even to Lord it over the Sons of God, and to enforce Idolatry and Superſtition upon them; and hence he is called the Mighty Hunter.

Ver. 9. He was a mighty Hunter before the Lord: wherefore it is ſaid, Even as Nimrod the mighty Hunter before the Lord.

He was a mighty Hunter. That is, a Perſecutor: Wherefore Saul's Perſecuting
1 Sam. 26. 20. of David is compared to Hunting: And ſo
Ezek. 13. 18. is the Perſecution of others: They hunt every Man his Brother with a Net: And it may Mic. 7. 2. Ezek. 13. 21. well be compared thereto; for the Dog or Lion that hunteth, is void of bowels and 1 Sam. 24. 11. pity; and if they can but ſatisfie their Doggiſh and Lyoniſh Nature, they care neither for Innocence, nor Goodneſs, nor Life of that they purſue: The Life, the Blood, the Extirpation of the contrary Party, is the End of their Courſe of Hunting.

He was a mighty Hunter. As it is ſaid
Judg. 4. 3. of Jabin, He mightily oppreſſed Iſrael twenty years; that is, he did it exceedingly; he went beyond others; he was more cruel and barbarous; he was a mighty Hunter: Wherefore the Children of bleſſed Shem, by this Monſter, had ſore Affliction. Noah therefore lived to ſee Nimrod, the Mighty One, make havock of the Children of his Bowels, to his no little Grief and Compunction of Spirit.

He was a mighty Hunter Before the Lord; or, in the Preſence of the Lord; or, in De-
1 King 13. 1, 2, 3. fiance to him. This ſhews, That the Hand of God was ſtretched forth againſt his Work: As alſo it was againſt Jeroboam's, by that Man of God that from Judah went down to propheſie againſt him; but he abode obdurate and hard; he regarded not
Joel 2. 8. the Lord, nor the Operation of his hands: As he alſo ſaith in another place of the curſed Brood of Antichriſt, When they ſhall fall upon the Sword, they ſhall be wounded: Let them do things never ſo much againſt the plain Text, they feel not the Wounds of Conſcience; but this is a ſore Judgment, and that under which this Hunter was; and therefore the Preſence and Hand of God would not break him off, nor hinder his hunting of Souls: But even before the Face of the Keeper of the Godly, would Nimrod, the Rebel, hunt for their precious Life to deſtroy it.

Wherefore it is ſaid, Even, as Nimrod, the mighty Hunter, before the Lord. Theſe words, as it ſeems, was the Proverb that went of him among the Godly in after Generations; for he had ſo left his Marks in the Sides of the Church, that ſhe could not quickly forget him: Wherefore, when at any time there aroſe another that ſhewed Cruelty to the Ways of God, he was preſently compared to Nimrod, that hunted before the Lord. Nimrod therefore was Rebellious to a Proverb: And as it is ſaid of 1 King 21. 25. Ahab, ſo might it be ſaid of him, There was none like Nimrod, who ſold himſelf to work wickedneſs in the ſight of, or, before the Lord.

And the beginning of his Kingdom was Ver. 10. Babel, and Erech, and Accad, and Calneh, in the Land of Shinar.

By theſe Words, as I ſuppoſe, are thoſe in the Chapter that followeth expounded: Where it ſays, Let us build us a City, and a Tower; for this Work was chiefly the Invention of Nimrod, who, with his wicked Council, contrived this Work; and as one that had made himſelf Head of the People, he enjoyned them to ſet to the Work.

And the beginning of his Kingdom was Babel. Babel therefore was the firſt great Seat of Oppreſſors after the Flood; whoſe Situation was in the Land of Shinar, in that Land which is now called Babylon. By this we may alſo gather, by whom our myſtical Babel was builded; to wit, by thoſe that rebelled (as Nimrod) from the Simplicity of the Goſpel of Chriſt; for the Builders, eſpecially the Chief, have a Semblance one of another. It was even ſuch as came of the Seed of the Godly, as theſe did of bleſſed Noah; who, in time, apoſtatizing from the Word, and deſiring Maſterſhip over their Brethren; they, as Lords, fomented their own Conceptions, and then enjoyned the People to build. As Rehoboam forſook
1 King 12. 5 to 13. the Counſel of the Ancients, that ſtood before his Father Solomon; ſo theſe have forſaken the Counſel of the Old Men, the Apoſtles that ſtood before Jeſus Chriſt; and hearkning to the Counſel of a younger ſort of Wanters of their Grace and Wiſdom, they imagine and build a Babel.

Out of that Land went forth Aſhur, and Ver. 11, builded Nineveh, and the City Rehoboth, and 12. Calah, and Reſen, between Nineveh and Calah: The ſame is a great City.

Nimrod having began to exalt himſelf; others, that were big with Deſires of O-ſtentation,

ſtentation, did ſoon follow his Example, making themſelves Captains and Heads of the People, and built them ſtrong Holds for the Supportation of their Glory. But they did it (as I ſaid) by Nimrod's Example; wherefore it is ſaid they went out of the Land. Juſt thus it was at the Beginning of Myſtical Babel: Firſt the Tyranny began at Babel itſelf, where the Uſurper was ſeen to ſit in his Glory, before whoſe Face the World did tremble. Now other inferior Perſons, inferior, I ſay, in Power, but not in Pride, having Deſire to be Lords, as Nimrod himſelf, they will alſo go build them Cities; by which means Nimrod's Invention could not be kept at Rome, but hath ſpread itſelf in many and mighty Kingdoms.

Out of that Land went forth Aſhur, and built Nineveh, &c. Aſhur ſeems to be the ſecond Son of Shem, Ver. 22. A fit Reſemblance of thoſe Perſons that have come from Myſtical Babel, to build their Nineveh's, and Rehoboth's, and Calneh's, in all Lands: Still they have pretended Religion: That they had their Orders from the Apoſtolical See: That they were the true Sons of Shem, or Diſciples of Chriſt: But the ſeeing Chriſtian ſhould remember, that ſome of the Children of Shem were in Babel with Rebellious Nimrod: That inſtead of learning Humility of their Father, through the Pride and Rebellion of their own vain-glorious Fancies, they learned Wickedneſs and Rebellion of curſed and prodigious Nimrod.

Hence Note, that what Cities, that is, Churches, ſoever have been builded by Perſons that have come from Romiſh Babel, thoſe builders and Cities are to be ſuſpected for ſuch as had their Founder and Foundation from Babel it ſelf. Wherefore let Hoſ. 1. 43. Iſrael ſay, Aſhur ſhall not ſave us, for he ſhall not ſave himſelf; but as the Star of Numb. 24. 17, 24. Jacob ariſeth, he ſhall fade and periſh for ever. So periſh all the builders and building that hath had its Pattern from Myſtical Babel, unleſs a Miracle of Grace prevents.

It was Aſhur that carried away the Ten Ezra 4. 2. Tribes; it is Aſhur that joyneth with the Pſal. 83. 8. Enemies of the Church; it is Aſhur that Ezek. 27. 27. with others upholds the great Mart of the Chap. 32. 22, 23. Nations: Wherefore Aſhur, and all his Company, muſt at laſt go down into their Pit.

So then, let Auguſtine the Monk, come from Rome into England, and let him build his Nineveh here; let others go alſo into other Countries, and build their Reſen's and Calah's there; theſe are all but Brats of Babel, and their End ſhall be, That they periſh for ever. John ſaw it, and the Cities, that is, the Churches of the Nations, or the National Churches fell; and Great Babylon, their Inventer and Founder, came into Rev. 16. 19. remembrance before God, to give unto her the Cup of the Wine of the fierceneſs of his Wrath.

And Mizraim begat Ludim, and Anamim, and Lehabim, and Naphtuhim, and Ver. 13, 14. Pathruſim, and Caſluhim, (out of whom came Philiſtim,) and Capthorim.

Ludim, as I ſuppoſe, may be the ſame with Lubim that came up with the Egyptians and Ethiopians againſt Iſrael, of whoſe Cruelty Nahum complains; where he ſaith, They alſo helped Nineveh againſt the Children of God. The reſt of them were of the ſame Diſpoſition, eſpecially the Philiſtines that came of Caſluhim; for they, both in Saul and David's days, were implacable againſt the Church and People of God; they were a Gyantiſh People, and truſted in their Strength, and ſeldom overcome but when Iſrael went againſt them in the Name of the Lord their God. Nahum. 3. 9. 2 Chron. 12. 3. Chap. 16 8.

And Canaan begat Sidon his firſt-born, and Ver. 15, Heth, and the Jebuſite, and the Emorite, and 16, 17, the Girgaſite, and the Hivite, and the Ar- 18. kite, and the Sinite, and the Arvadite, and the Zemarite, and the Hamathite: And afterward were the Families of the Canaanities ſpread abroad.

Theſe are the Children of Canaan, the Son of Ham, the accurſed of the Lord: Theſe did chiefly poſſeſs the Land of Canaan before Iſrael went out of Egypt; they were a mighty Giantiſh People, yet Iſrael muſt fight with them, notwithſtanding they were, in compariſon to theſe, but as the Graſhoppper.

And the border of the Canaanites was Ver. 19. from Sidon, as thou comeſt to Gerar, unto Gaza, as thou goeſt unto Sodom and Gomorrah, and Admah, and Zeboim, even unto Laſha.

They bordered therefore upon the Philiſtines on the one ſide; for Gerar and Gaza belonged to them, and they touched upon Sodom and Gomorrah, &c. on the other: They were placed therefore, by the Judgment of God, between theſe two wicked and ſinful People, that they might, as a Puniſhment for their former Sins, be infected with the ſight and infection of their ungodly and monſtrous Abominations: They that turn aſide to their own crooked ways, the Lord ſhall lead them forth with the workers of iniquity. Gen. 26. 15 to 20. Judg. 16. 1, 21.

Theſe are the Sons of Ham, after their Ver. 20. Families, after their Tongues, in their Countreys, and in their Nations.

Ham had a mighty Off-ſpring; but the Judgment of God, was; That they ſhould be wicked Men, Idolaters, Perſecutors, Sinners with an high hand; ſuch as God was reſolved to number to the Sword, both in this World, and that to come; I mean, for the generality of them.

Unto Shem alſo, the Father of all the Chil- Ver. 21. dren of Eber, the Brother of Japheth the elder, even to him were Children born.

The manner of Style which the Holy Ghoſt here uſeth in his Preamble to the Genealogy of Shem, is worthy to be taken Notice of; as that he is called, the Father of all the Children of Eber, and the Brother of Japheth.

By his being called, the Father of all the Children of Eber, we may ſuppoſe, that from Eber to Abraham, (by whom the reckoning of the Genealogy was cut off from Eber, and intailed to the Name of Abraham,) all the Children of Eber were, as it were, the Diſciples of Shem, for he lived while after Abraham: His Doctrine therefore they might profeſs, though poſſibly with ſome Mixture of thoſe Inventions that came in among Men afterwards; which, I think, were at the greateſt about Abraham's time Beſides, he ſhews by this, that the other Children of Shem, as Elam, Aſhur, Lud and Aram, with Uz, Hul, Gether and Maſh, went away with Nimrod, and the reſt of that Company, into Idolatry, Tyranny, and other Profaneneſs; ſo that only the Line from Shem to Eber, and from thence to Abraham, &c. were the Viſible Church in thoſe days.

The Brother of Japheth. So he was of Ham; but becauſe Ham was cut off for his wickedneſs to his Father, therefore both Shem and Japhet did hold him in Abomination, and would not own that Relation that before was between them, eſpecially in things pertaining to the Kingdom of God, and of Chriſt: Wherefore the Holy Ghoſt alſo, in reckoning up the Kindred of Shem, excludeth Ham the younger Brother, and ſtops after he had mentioned Japheth: The Brother of Japheth the elder.

Unto him were Children born, unto Shem alſo. Unto him were Children born: The Holy Ghoſt doth ſecretly here, as he did before in the Generation of Seth, inſinuate a Wonder: For conſidering the Godlineſs of Shem, and the ungodlineſs of Ham, and the multitude of his Tyrannical Brood, it is a wonder that there ſhould ſuch a thing as the Off-ſpring of Shem be found upon the face of the Earth: For I am apt to think, that Shem, with his Poſterity, did teſtifie againſt the Actions of Nimrod; as alſo againſt the Children of Ham, in their Wickedneſs and Rebellion againſt the Way of God; as may be hinted after: Wherefore he, with his Seed, were in jeopardy, among that tumultuous Generation: yet God preſerved him and his Seed upon the face of the Earth: For let the Number and Wickedneſs of Men be never ſo great in the World, there muſt be alſo a Church, by whoſe Actions the Ways of the Wicked muſt be condemned.

The Children of Shem; Elam, and Aſhur, and Arphaxad, and Lud, and Aram.

Ver.22. Theſe Children were born unto Shem: The Book of Chronicles mentions four more, as Uz, and Hul, and Gether, Meſhech or Maſh; but theſe were the Natural Sons of Aram, Shem being only their Father's Father.

Elam and Aſhur, as alſo Lud and Aram, notwithſtanding they were the Sons of Shem, ſtruck off, as I think, with Nimrod, and left their Father, for the Glory of Babel; yea, they had a Province there in the Days of Daniel: Wherefore great Judgments are threatned againſt Elam; as, That Elam ſhall drink the Cup of God's Fury: That their Bow ſhall be broken: That God would bring upon him the four Winds: And, That there ſhould be no Nation whither the Captives of Elam ſhould not come: Yet God would ſave them in the latter days. Dan. 8. 2. Jer. 49. 35. 39.

As for Lud, although through the Wickedneſs of his Heart he forſook his Father Shem, and ſo the true Religion; yet a Promiſe is made of his Converſion, when God calls home the Children of Japheth, and perſwadeth them to dwell in the Tents of Shem: I will ſet a Sign among them (ſaith God,) and I will ſend to thoſe that eſcape of them, even to Tarſhiſh, Pul and Lud, to Tubal and Javan, to the Iſles afar off that have not heard my fame: Yea, thus it ſhall be, although they were once the Soldiers of the Adverſaries of the Church, and bare the Shield and Helmet againſt her. Of Aſhur I have ſpoken before. Aram became alſo an Heathen, and dwelt among the Mountains of the Eaſt: Out of him came Balaam the Sooth-ſayer that Balak ſent for, to curſe the Children of Iſrael. Iſa. 66. 19. Ezek. 27. 10. Numb. 23. 7.

In Arphaxad, though he was not the Eldeſt, remained the Line that went from Abraham to David; and from him, to Jeſus Chriſt. Luke 3.

And the Children of Aram, Uz, and Hul, and Gether, and Maſh. Ver. 23.

Uz went alſo off from Shem, but yet good Men came from his Loyns; for Job himſelf was of that Land: Yet the Wrath of God was threatned to go forth againſt them, becauſe they had a hand in the Perſecution of the Children of Iſrael, &c. Job. 1. 1. Jer. 25. 20. Lam. 4. 21.

And Arphaxad begat Salah, and Salah begat Eber: and unto Eber were born two Sons, the Name of the one was Peleg, for in his days was the Earth divided; and his Brother's Name was Joktan. Ver. 24. & 25.

This Eber was a very Godly Man, the next after Shem that vigorouſly ſtood up to maintain Religion. Two Things are entail'd upon him to his everlaſting Honour: Firſt, The Children of God, even Abraham himſelf, was not aſhamed to own himſelf one of this Man's Diſciples, or Followers; and hence he is called Abraham the Hebrew, or Ebrew. Joſeph alſo will have it go there: I was ſtoln (ſaid he) out of the Land of the Hebrews: Nay, the Lord God himſelf, to ſhew how he honoured this Man's Faith and Life, doth ſtyle himſelf the God of his Fathers, to wit, the God of Gen. 14. 13. Chap. 40. 15. Exod. 3. 16. Chap. 7. 16. Chap. 9. 1. 13. John 5. 2. Chap. 19. 13, 20.

the Hebrews, the Lord God of the Hebrews. Secondly, This was the Man that kept that Language with which Adam was created, and that in which God ſpake to the Fathers of old, from being corrupted and confounded by the Confuſion of Babel; and therefore it is for ever called his, the Hebrew Tongue, the Tongue in which Chriſt ſpake from Heaven to Saul: This Man therefore, was a ſtiff Oppoſer of Nimrod; neither had he a Hand in the Building of Babel; for all that had, had their Language confounded by that ſtrange Judgment of God.

Act. 21. 40. Chap. 22. 2. Chap. 26. 14.

And unto Eber were born two Sons, the Name of the one was Peleg, (or, Diviſion,) for in his Days was the Earth divided; and his Brother's Name was Joktan. This Diviſion, (in mine Opinion,) was not only that Diviſion that was made by the Confuſion of Tongues, but a Diviſion alſo that was made among Men by the bleſſed Doctrine of God, which moſt eminently reſted in the Boſom of Shem and Eber, neither of which had their Hands in that monſtrous Work: Wherefore, as Eber by abſtaining kept intire the Holy Language; ſo Shem, to ſhew that he was clear from this Sin alſo, is by the Holy Ghoſt called, the Father of all the Children of Eber: Implying, that Eber and Shem did mightily labour to preſerve a Seed from the Tyranny and Pollution of Nimrod and Babel; and by that Means made a Diviſion in the Earth; unto whom becauſe the Rebels would not adhere, therefore did God the Lord ſmite them with Confuſion of Tongues, and ſcatter them abroad upon the Face of all the Earth.

Ver. 25.

Ver. 26. 27, 28, 29. And Joktan begat Almodad, and Sheleph, and Hazarmaveth, and Jerah.

Here again he hath left the Holy Line, which is from Eber to Abraham, and makes a Stop upon Joktan's Genealogy, and ſo comes down to the Building of Babel.

Ver. 30. Theſe therefore begat Joktan: He alſo begat Hadoram, and Uſal, and Diklah, and Obal, and Abimael, and Sheba, and Ophir, and Havilah, and Jobab; all theſe were the Sons of Joktan: and their Dwelling was from Meſha, as thou goeſt unto Sephar, a Mount in the Eaſt.

Ver. 31. Theſe are the Sons of Shem, after their Families, after their Tongues, in their Lands, after their Nations.

Moſes, as I ſaid, by this Relation, reſpecteth, and handleth chiefly thoſe, or them Perſons, who were at firſt the Planters of the World after the Flood; leaving the Church, or a relation of that, and its Seed, to be diſcourſed after the building of Babel, unto the Tenth Verſe of the next Chapter. Hence methinks one might gather, that theſe abovementioned, whoſe Genealogies are handled at large, as the Families of Japheth, of Ham, and Joktan are, were both, in their Perſons and Off-ſpring engaged (ſome few only excepted, who might adhere to Noah, Shem, and Eber) in that foul work, the Building of Babel. Now that which inclineth me thus to think, it is becauſe immediately after their thus being reckoned by Moſes, even before he taketh up the Genealogy of Shem, he bringeth in the Building thereof; the which he not only mentioneth, but alſo enlargeth upon; yea, and alſo telleth of the Cauſe of the ſtopping of that Work, before he returneth to the Church, and the Line that went from Shem to Abraham.

Ver. 32. Theſe are the Families of the Sons of Noah after their Generations, in their Nations; and by theſe were the Nations divided in the Earth after the Flood.

CHAP. XI.

Ver. 1. AND the whole Earth was of one Language, and of one Speech.

Moſes having thus briefly paſſed thro' the Genealogies of Japheth, Ham and Joktan; in the next place he cometh to ſhew us their Work which they had by this time engaged to do; and that was, to build a Babel, whoſe Tower might reach to Heaven. Now, in order to this their work, or rather to his relation thereof, he maketh a ſhort Fore-ſpeech, which conſiſteth of Two Branches. The firſt is, That now they had all one Language or Lip. The other was, That they yet had kept themſelves together, either reſting or walking, as an Army compact: An excellent Reſemblance of the State of the Church, before ſhe imagined to build her a Babel: For till then, however one might out-ſtrip another in Knowledge and Love; yet ſo far as they obtained, their Language or Lip was but one: Having but one Heart, and one Soul, they with one Mouth did glorify God, even the Father.

And the whole Earth was of one Language. By theſe words therefore, we may conceive the reaſon why ſo great a Judgment as that great wickedneſs, Babel, ſhould be contrived, and endeavoured to be accompliſhed. The Multitude was one: Not but that it is a bleſſed thing for the Church to be one; as Chriſt ſaith, My Beloved is but one. But here was an Oneneſs, not only in the Church, but in her mixing with the World. The whole Earth, among which, as I ſuppoſe, is included Noah, Shem, and others; who being over-topt by Nimrod, the mighty Hunter, might company with him untill he began to build Babel. Therefore it is ſaid in the next Verſe, that they companied together from the Eaſt, to the Land of Shinar.

Hence Note, That the Firſt and Primitive Churches were ſafe and ſecure, ſo long as they kept intire by themſelves; but when once they admitted of a mixture,

Great

Great Babel, as a Judgment of God, was admitted to come into their mind.

Ver 2. And it came to paſs, as they journeyed from the Eaſt, that they found a Plain in the Land of Shinar, and they dwelt there.

By theſe words, we gather, that the firſt Reſt of Noah, and ſo the Inhabiting of his Poſterity, was ſtill eaſtward from Babylon, towards the Sun riſing.

But to Goſpellize: They Journeyed from the Eaſt; and ſo conſequently they turned their Backs upon the Riſing of the Sun: So did alſo the Primitive Church, in the Day when ſhe began to decline from her firſt and pureſt ſtate. Indeed, ſo long as ſhe kept cloſe to the Doctrine and Diſcipline of the Goſpel, according to the Word and Commandment of the Lord Jeſus, then ſhe kept her Face ſtill towards the Sun-riſing: According to the Type in Ezekiel, who ſaith of the Second and Myſtical Temple, Her Fore-front, or Face, did ſtand towards the Eaſt: Alſo he ſaith, when he ſaw the Glory of God, how it came unto this Temple, it came from the way of the Eaſt. Their journeying therefore from the Eaſt, was, their turning their Backs upon the Sun: And to us, in Goſpel-times, it holdeth forth ſuch a Myſtery as this: That their Journey was thus recorded, to ſhew they were now apoſtatized; for aſſuredly they had turned their Back upon the glorious Sun of Righteouſneſs, as upon that which ſhineth in the Firmament of Heaven.

Ezek. 47. 1. Chap. 43. 2.

They found a Plain in the Land of Shinar. Shinar is the Land of Babylon, as thoſe Scriptures in the Margin declare.

Dan. 1. 2. Zech. 5. 11.

They found a Plain. Or, Place of Fatneſs and Plenty, as uſually the Plains are; and are, upon that Account, great Content to our Fleſh: This made Lot ſeparate from Abraham, and chooſe to dwell with the Sinners of Sodom; why, the Countrey was a Plain, and therefore Fat and Plentiful, even like the Garden of the Lord, and the Land of Egypt. Here therefore they made a Stop; here they dwelt and continued together: A right Reſemblance of the Degenerators Courſe in the Days of general Apoſtacy, from the true Apoſtolical Doctrine, to the Church of our Romiſh Babel. So long as the Church endured Hardſhip and Affliction, ſhe was greatly preſerved from Revolts and Backſlidings; but after ſhe had turned her Face from the Sun, and had found the Plain of Shinar; that is, the fleſhly Contents that the Pleaſures, and Profits, and Honours of this World afford; ſhe forgetting the Word and Order of God, was content, with the Travellers in the Text, to dwell in the Land of Babel.

Gen. 13. 10, 11, 12.

And they ſaid one to another, Go to, let us make brick, and burn them throughly, (and burn them to a burning;) and they had brick for ſtone, and ſlime had they for morter. Ver. 3.

Now they being filled with Eaſe and Plenty, they begin to lift up the Horn, and to conſult one with another what they were beſt to do: Whereupon, after ſome time of Debate, they came to this Concluſion, That they would go build a Babel.

And they ſaid one to another, Go to. This manner of Phraſe is often uſed in Scripture; and is ſometimes, as alſo here, uſed to ſhew, That the Thing intended, muſt come to paſs, what Opinion or Contradiction to the contrary ſoever there be. It argueth that a Judgment is made in the Caſe, and Proceedings ſhall be according. Thus it is alſo to be taken in Judges, Eccleſiaſtes, Iſaiah, James, &c. Wherefore it ſhews, that theſe Men had caſt off the Fear of God, and, like Iſrael in the Days of the Prophet Jeremiah, they reſolved to follow their own Imagination, let God or his Judgments ſpeak never ſo loud to the contrary. And ſo indeed he ſays of them at Verſe the Sixth: And this they have begun to do (ſaith God) and nothing will reſtrain them.

BY AN

Imputed Righteouſneſs:

OR,

No Way to Heaven but by JESUS CHRIST.

JUſtification is to be diverſly taken in the Scripture.

1. Sometimes 'tis taken for the Juſtification of Perſons.

2. Sometimes for the Juſtification of Actions.

3. And ſometimes for the Juſtification of the Perſon and Action too.

It is taken for the Juſtification of Perſons, and that,

(1.) As to Juſtification with God: Or,

(2.) As to Juſtification with Men.

As to Juſtification with God. That is, when a man ſtands clear, quit, free, or, in a ſaved Condition before him, in the Approbation of his holy Law.

As to Juſtification with Men: That is, when a Man ſtands clear and quit from juſt ground of Reprehenſion with them.

Juſtification alſo is to be taken with Reference to Actions; and that may be when they are conſidered,

1. As flowing from true Faith: Or,

2. Becauſe the Act done fulfills ſome tranſient Law.

1 Pet. 2. 5. Heb. 13. 15. Rev. 8. 1, 2, 3, 4. (1.) As Actions flow from Faith, ſo they are juſtified, becauſe done before God in, and made compleat through the Perfections of Jeſus Chriſt.

(2.) As by the doing of the Act ſome tranſient Law is fulfilled: As when Jehu executed Judgment upon the Houſe of Ahab. Thou haſt done well, ſaid God to him, in executing that which is righteous in mine eyes, and haſt done to the Houſe of Ahab all that was in mine heart, 2 Kings 10. 30.

As to ſuch Acts, God may, or may not look at the Qualification of thoſe that do them: And 'tis clear, that he had not reſpect to any good that was in Jehu, in the juſtifying of this Action; nor could he, for Jehu ſtuck cloſe yet to the ſins of Jeroboam, but took no heed to walk in the Law of the Lord God of Iſrael, Chap. 10. 29, 31.

I might hence alſo ſhew you, that a man may be juſtified even then when his Action is condemned; alſo that a man may be in a ſtate of Condemnation, when his Action may be juſtified. But with theſe Diſtinctions I will not take up Time, my intention being to treat of Juſtification, as it ſets a man free or quit from Sin, the Curſe and Condemnation of the Law in the ſight of God, in order to Eternal Salvation.

And that I may with the more clearneſs handle this Point before you, I will lay down and ſpeak to this Propoſition.

> That there is no other way for Sinners to be juſtified from the Curſe of the Law in the Sight of God, than by the Imputation of That Righteouſneſs long ago performed by, and ſtill reſiding with the Perſon of Jeſus Chriſt.

The Terms of this Propoſition are eaſie: yet, if it will help, I will ſpeak a word or two for Explication.

(1.) By a Sinner, I Mean one that has tranſgreſſed the Law: for Sin is the tranſgreſſion of the Law. 1 Joh. 3. 4

(2.) By the Curſe of the Law, I Mean, that Sentence, Judgment, or Condemnation which the Law pronounceth againſt the Tranſgreſſor. Gal. 3. 10.

(3.) By Juſtifying Righteouſneſs, I Mean that which ſtands in the Doing and Suffering of Chriſt when he was in the World. Rom. 5. 19.

(4.) By the reſiding of this Righteouſneſs in Chriſt's Perſon, I Mean, it ſtill abides with him as to the Action, tho' the Benefit is beſtowed upon thoſe that are his.

(5.) By the Imputation of it to us, I Mean, God's making of it ours by an Act of his Grace, that we by it might be ſecured from the Curſe of the Law.

(6.) When I ſay there is no other Way to be juſtified, I caſt away to that end, the Law, and all the Works of the Law as done by us.

Thus I have opened the Terms of the Propoſition.

Now the two firſt, to wit, What Sin and the Curſe is, ſtand clear in all mens ſight, unleſs they be Atheiſts, or deſperately Heretical. I ſhall therefore in few words clear the other four.

Firſt, Therefore, Juſtifying Righteouſneſs, is the Doing and Suffering of Chriſt when he was in the World. This is clear, becauſe we are ſaid to be juſtified by his Obedience, Rom. 5. 19. By his Obedience to the Law. Hence he is ſaid again to be the End of the Law for that very thing. Chriſt is the end of the Law for Righteouſneſs, &c. Rom. 10. 4. The end, what's that? Why the requirement or demand of the Law. But what are they? Why Righteouſneſs, perfect Righteouſneſs; Gal. 3. 10. Perfect Righteouſneſs, what to do? That the Soul concerned might ſtand ſpotleſs in the Sight of God. Now this lies only in the Doings and Sufferings of Chriſt: For by his Obedience many are made righteous: Wherefore, as to this Chriſt is the End of the Law, that being found in that Obedience, That becomes to us ſufficient for our Juſtification. Hence we are ſaid to be made righteous by his Obedience: Yea, and to be waſhed, purged and juſtified by his Blood.

Rev. 1. 5.
Heb. 9, 14.
Rom. 5. 18. 19.

Secondly, That this Righteouſneſs ſtill reſides in and with the Perſon of Chriſt, even then when we ſtand Juſt before God thereby, is clear; for that we are ſaid when juſtified, to be juſtified in him. In the Lord ſhall all the ſeed of Iſrael be juſtified. And again: Surely ſhall one ſay, In the Lord have I righteouſneſs, &c. And again: For him are ye in Chriſt Jeſus, who is made unto us of God Righteouſneſs.

Iſa. 45. 24. 25.
1 Cor. 1. 30.

Mark, The Righteouſneſs is ſtill in Him, not in us, even then when we are made Partakers of the Benefit of it, even as the Wing and Feathers ſtill abide in the Hen, when the Chickens are covered, kept, and warmed thereby.

For as my doings, tho' my Children are fed and cloathed thereby, are ſtill my Doings, not theirs; ſo the Righteouſneſs wherewith we ſtand Juſt before God from the Curſe, ſtill reſides in Chriſt, not in us. Our ſins when laid upon Chriſt, were yet perſonally ours, not his; ſo his Righteouſneſs when put upon us, is yet perſonally his, not ours. What is it then? Why, he was made to be ſin for us, who knew no ſin, that we might be made the Righteouſneſs of God in him.

2 Cor. 5. 21.

Thirdly, It is therefore of a juſtifying Vertue, only by Imputation, or as God reckoneth it to us; even as our ſins made the Lord Jeſus a Sinner, nay Sin, by God's reckoning of them to him.

'Tis abſolutely neceſſary that this be known of us; for if the underſtanding be muddy as to this, 'tis impoſſible that ſuch ſhould be ſound in the Faith: Alſo in Temptation, that man will be at a loſs, that looketh for a Righteouſneſs for Juſtification in himſelf; when 'tis to be found no where but in Jeſus Chriſt.

The Apoſtle, who was his Crafts-maſter as to this, was always looking to Jeſus, That he might be found in him; knowing that no where elſe could Peace or Safety be had.

Phil. 3. 5, 7, 8.

And indeed this is one of the greateſt Myſteries in the World, namely, That a Righteouſneſs that reſides with a Perſon in Heaven, ſhould juſtifie me, a Sinner, on Earth.

Fourthly, Therefore the Law and the Works thereof, as to this muſt by us be caſt away; not only becauſe they here are uſeleſs, but alſo they being retained, are an hinderance. That they are Uſeleſs, is evident; for that Salvation comes by another Name, Acts 4. 12. And that they are an Hinderance, 'tis clear; for the very adhering to the Law, though it be but a little, or in a little part, prevents Juſtification by the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt.

Rom. 9. 31, 32.

What ſhall I ſay? As to this, the Moral Law is rejected, the Ceremonial Law is rejected, and Mans Righteouſneſs is rejected, for that they are here both weak and unprofitable.

Rom. 8. 2, 3. Gal. 3. 21. Heb. 10. 1, to. 12.

Now if all theſe and their Works, as to our Juſtification, are rejected, where but in Chriſt, is Righteouſneſs to be found?

Thus much therefore for the Explication of the Propoſition, namely, That there is no other Way for Sinners to be juſtified from the Curſe of the Law in the ſight of God, than by the Imputation of that Righteouſneſs long ago performed by, and ſtill reſiding with the Perſon of Jeſus Chriſt.

Now from this Propoſition I draw theſe two Poſitions.

Firſt, That men are Juſtified from the Curſe of the Law before God, while Sinners in themſelves.

Secondly, That this can be done by no other Righteouſneſs, than that long ago performed by, and reſiding with the Perſon of Jeſus Chriſt.

Let us then now enter into the conſideration of the firſt of theſe, namely, That men are juſtified from the Curſe of the Law before God, while Sinners in themſelves.

This I ſhall manifeſt,

1. By touching upon the myſterious Acts of our Redemption.

2. By giving of you plain Texts which diſcover it: And,

3. By Reaſons drawn from the Texts.

For the firſt of theſe, to wit, the myſterious Act of our Redemption: And that I ſhall ſpeak to under theſe Two Heads.

1. I ſhall ſhew you what that is. And,

2. How we were concerned therein.

That which I call, and that rightly, the myſterious Act of our Redemption; is Chriſt's Sufferings as a common, tho' a particular perſon, and as a Sinner, tho' always compleatly Righteous.

That he ſuffered as a common Perſon, is true.

true. By common, I Mean, a publick Person, or one that presents the Body of Mankind in himself. This a multitude of Scriptures bear witness to, especially that Fifth Chapter to the Romans; where, by the Apostle, he is set before us, as the Head of all the Elect; even as Adam was once Head of all the World. Thus he lived, and thus he died; and this was a mysterious Act.

And that he should die as a Sinner, when yet himself did no sin, nor had any guile found in his mouth, made this Act more mysterious. That he died as a Sinner, is plain: He hath made him to be sin. And the Lord laid upon him the iniquity of us all, Isa. 53. That then, as to his own Person, he was compleatly Sinless, is also as truly manifest, and that by a multitude of Scriptures.

1 Pet. 2. 22. Chap. 3. 18. Chap. 1. 19.

Now, I say, that Christ Jesus should be thus considered, and thus die, was the great Mystery of God. Hence Paul tells us, That when he preached Christ crucified, he preached not only the Wisdom of God, but the Wisdom of God in a Mystery, even his hidden Wisdom: For indeed, this Wisdom is hidden, and kept close from the Fowls of the Air.

1 Cor. 1. 23. Chap. 2. 7. 8. Job 28. 20. 21.

It is also so Mysterious, that it goes beyond the reach of all Men, except those to whom an understanding is given of God to apprehend it.

1 Joh. 5. 20.

That one particular Man should represent all the Elect in himself; and that the most Righteous should die as a Sinner, yea, as a Sinner by the Hand of a Just and Holy God, is a Mystery of the greatest depth.

Secondly, And now I come to shew you how the Elect are concerned therein; that is, in this mysterious Act of this most blessed One; and this will make this Act yet more mysterious to you.

Now then we will speak of this First, as to how Christ prepared himself thus mysteriously to Act.

1. He took hold of our Nature. I say, he took hold of US, by taking upon him Flesh and Blood. The Son of God therefore, took not upon him a particular Person, though he took to him a Humane Body and Soul: But that which he took, was, as I may call it a Lump of the Common Nature of Man; and by that, hold of the whole Elect Seed of Abraham: Heb. 2. 16. For verily he took not on him the Nature of Angels, but he took on him the Seed of Abraham.

Hence He, in a Mystery, became Us; and was counted as all the Men that were or should be saved. And this is the reason why we are said to do, when only Jesus Christ did do. As for Instance:

First, When Jesus Christ fulfilled the Righteousness of the Law, 'tis said, it was fulfilled in us, because indeed fulfilled in our Nature: For what the Law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh; God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful Flesh, and for sin condemned sin in the flesh, that the Righteousness of the Law might be fulfilled in us, &c. But because none should appropriate this unto themselves, that have not had passed upon them a Work of Conversion; therefore he adds, Who walk not after the Flesh, but after the Spirit. For there being an Union between Head and Members, though things may be done by the Head, and that for the Members, the things are counted to the Members, as if not done only by the Head. The Righteousness of the Law is fulfilled in us; and that truly, because fulfilled in that common Nature which the Son of God took of the Virgin. Wherefore, in this sense, we are said to do, what only was done by him; even as the Client doth by his Lawyer, when his Lawyer personates him: The Client is said to do, when 'tis the Lawyer only that does; and to overcome by doing, when 'tis the Lawyer that overcomes: The reason is, because the Lawyer does in the Client's Name. How much more then may it be said we do, when only Christ does; since he does what he does, not in our Name only, but in our Nature too: For the Law of the spirit of life in Christ (not in me) has set me free from the law of sin and death. He doing in his common Flesh, what could not be done in my particular Person; that so I might have the Righteousness of the Law fulfilled in me, my Flesh assumed by Christ; though impossible to be done, because of the weakness of my Person.

Rom. 8. 1, 2, 3.

The reason of all this, is, because we are said to be in him, in his doing: In him by our Flesh, and also by the Election of God. So then, as all Men sinned when Adam fell; so all the Elect did Righteousness, when Christ wrought and fulfilled the Law: For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.

Secondly, As we are said to do by Christ; so we are said to suffer by him, to suffer with him. I am crucified with Christ, said Paul: And again, For as much then as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm your selves likewise with the same mind; for he that hath suffered in the flesh, hath ceased from sin. Mark how the Apostle seems to change the Person. First he says, 'Tis Christ that suffered; and that's true: But then he insinuates, That 'tis us that suffered; for the Exhortation is to Believers, To walk in newness of life; and the Argument is, Because they have suffered in the Flesh: For he that hath suffered in the flesh, hath ceased from sin; that he no longer should live the rest of his time in the flesh to the lusts of men, but to the will of God.

Gal. 2. 20. 1 Pet. 4. 1, 2.

We then suffered, when Christ suffered:

We

We then ſuffered in his fleſh, and alſo our
Rom. 6. 6. old man was crucified with him; that is, in his Crucifixion; for when he hanged on the Croſs, all the Elect hanged there in their common fleſh which he aſſumed, and becauſe he ſuffered there as a publick Man.

Thirdly, As we are ſaid to ſuffer with him; ſo we are ſaid to die, to be dead with him; with him, that is, by the dying of his Body; Now if we be dead with Chriſt, we
Rom. 6. 8. believe that we ſhall alſo live with him.

Wherefore he ſaith in other places, Brethren, ye are become dead to the Law by the Body of Chriſt: For indeed we died then to it by him. To the Law; that is, The Law now has nothing to do with us; for that it has already executed its Curſe to the full upon us, by its ſlaying of the Body of Chriſt; for the Body of Chriſt was our Fleſh, upon it alſo was laid our Sin: The Law too ſpent that Curſe that was due to us, upon him, when it Condemned, Killed, and caſt him into the Grave. Wherefore, it having thus ſpent its whole Curſe upon him, as ſtanding in our ſtead, we are ex-
Rom. 7. 4. empted from its Curſe for ever: we are become dead to it by that Body; it has done with us, as to Juſtifying Righteouſneſs: Nor need we fear its damning Threats any more; for by the Death of this Body we are freed from it, and are for ever now coupled to a living Chriſt.

Fourthly, As we are ſaid thus to be dead; ſo we are ſaid alſo to riſe again by him:
Iſa. 26. 19. Hoſ. 6. 2. Thy dead men (ſaith he to the Father) ſhall live, together with my dead body ſhall they ariſe. And again, After two days he will revive us, and in the third day we ſhall live in his ſight.

Both theſe Scriptures ſpeak of the Reſurrection of Chriſt, of the Reſurrection of his Body on the third day: But behold, as we were ſaid before to ſuffer and be dead with him; ſo now we are ſaid alſo to riſe and live in God's ſight, by the Reſurrection of his Body! For, as was ſaid, the Fleſh was ours; he took part of our Fleſh when he came into the World; and in it he ſuffered, died, and roſe again, Heb. 2. 14. We alſo were therefore counted by God, in that God-Man, when he did this; yea, he ſuffered, died, and roſe, as a common Head.

Hence alſo the New-Teſtament is full of this, ſaying, If ye be dead with Chriſt. If Col. 2. 20. Chap. 3. 1 & 2. 13. ye be riſen with Chriſt. And again, He hath quickned us together with him.

We are quickned together with him. Quickned, and quickned together with him. The Apoſtle hath words that cannot eaſily be ſhifted or evaded. Chriſt then was quick- when he was raiſed from the Dead. Nor is it proper to ſay that he was ever quickened either before or ſince. This Text alſo concludes, that we, to wit, the whole Body of God's Elect, were alſo quickned then, and made to live with him together. True, we alſo are quickened perſonally by Grace, the day in the which we are born unto God by the Goſpel; yet afore that we are quickened in our Head; quickned when he was raiſed from the dead; quickned together with him.

Fifthly, Nor are we thus conſidered, to wit, as dying, and riſing, and ſo left; But the Apoſtle purſues his Argument, and tells us, that we alſo reap by him, as being conſidered in him the benefit which Chriſt received, both in order to his Reſurrection, and the bleſſed Effect thereof.

1. We received, by our thus being counted in him, that Benefit which did precede his riſing from the dead: And what was that, but the Forgiveneſs of Sins? For this ſtand clear to Reaſon, That if Chriſt had our Sins charged upon him at his Death, he then muſt be diſcharged of them in order to his Reſurrection. Now, though it is not proper to ſay they were forgiven to him, becauſe they were purged from him by Merit; yet they may be ſaid to be forgiven us, becauſe we receive this Benefit by Grace.

And this, I ſay, was done precedent to his Reſurrection from the Dead: He hath quickened us together with him, [having] forgiven us all treſpaſſes. He could not be quickened, till we were diſcharged; becauſe 'twas not for himſelf, but for us that he died. Hence we are ſaid to be, at that time (as to our own perſonal Eſtate) dead in our Sins, even when we are quickened together with Col. 2. 13.

Therefore, both the quickening and forgiveneſs too, ſo far as we are in this Text concerned, is to him, as we are conſidered in him or to him, with reſpect to us.

Having forgiven you [All] treſpaſſes. For Neceſſity ſo required; becauſe elſe how was it poſſible that the pains of death ſhould be looſed in order to his riſing, ſo long as one Sin ſtood ſtill charged to him, as that for the Commiſſion of which God had not received a plenary Satisfaction. As therefore we ſuffered, died, and roſe again by him; ſo, in order to his ſo riſing, he, as preſenting of us in his Perſon and Suffering, received for us Remiſſion of all our Treſpaſſes. A full diſcharge therefore, was, in and by Chriſt, received of God of all our Sins, afore he aroſe from the Dead: As his Reſurrection truly declared; for he was delivered for our Offences, and was raiſed Rom. 4. 25.
again for our Juſtification.

This therefore is one of the Privileges we receive by the riſing again of our Lord; for that we were in his Fleſh conſidered; yea, and in his Death and Suffering too.

2. By this Means alſo we have now eſcaped Death. Knowing that Chriſt being Rom. 6. 9. 10.
raiſed from the dead, dies no more, death hath no more dominion over him: For in that he died, he died unto (or, for) ſin once; but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God.

Now in all this, conſidering what has been been said before, we that are of the Elect, are priviledged: For that we we also are raised up, by the rising of the Body of Christ from the Dead. And thus the Apostle bids us reckon: Likewise (saith he) Rom. 6. 11. reckon also your selves to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ.

Hence Christ says, He is the Resurection, and the Life; for that all his are safe in him, suffering, dying and rising. He is the Life, our Life; yea, so our Life, that by him the Elect do live before God; even then, when as to themselves they yet are dead in their Sins. Wherefore, hence it is that in time they partake of Quickening-Grace from this their Head, to the making of them also live by Faith, in order to their living hereafter with him in Glory: For if Christ lives, they cannot die that were Sharers with him in his Resurrection. Hence they are said to live, being quickned together with him. Also, as sure as at his Resurrection, they lived by him; so sure, at his Coming, shall they be gathered to him: Nay, from that day to this, all that, as afore-said, were in him at his Death and Resurrection, are already, in the fulness of the dispensation of time, daily gathering to him. For this he hath purposed, wherefore none can disannull it: In the fulness of the dispensation of time, to Ephes. 1. 9, 10. gather together in one, all things in Christ, both which are in Heaven, and which are in Earth, even in him.

3. To secure this the more to our Faith that believe; as we are said to be raised up together with him, so we are said to be made to sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus, Eph. 2. 6. We died by him, we rose by him, and are together, even all the Elect, set down together in heavenly places, in Christ Jesus: For still, even now, he is on the Right-hand of God; he is to be considered as our publick Man, our Head, and so one in whom is concluded all the Elect of God. We then are by him already in Heaven; in Heaven, I say, by him; yea, set down there in our places of Glory by him. Hence the Apostle, speaking of us again, saith, That as we are predestinate, we are called, Justified, and glorified: Called, Justified, Glorified; all is done, already done, as thus considered in Christ, Rom. 8. 30. For that in his publick work there is nothing yet to do as to this: Is not he called? Is not he justified? Is not he glorified? And are we not in him, in him, even as so considered?

Nor doth this Doctrine hinder or forestall the Doctrine of Regeneration or Conversion: Nay, it lays a Foundation for it; for by this Doctrine we gather assurance, that Christ will have his own: For if already they live in their Head, what is that but a Pledge that they shall live in their Persons with him? and consequently, that to that end they shall, in the times allotted for that end, be called to a state of Faith, which God has ordained shall precede and go before their personal Enjoyment of Glory.

Nor doth this hinder their partaking of the Symbol of Regeneration, and of their other Priviledges to which they are called in the Day of Grace: Yea, it lays a Foundation for all these things; for if I am dead with Christ, let me be like one dead with him, even to all things to which Christ died, when he hanged on the Tree; and then he died to sin, to the Law, and to the rudiments of this World. Rom. 6. 10. Chap. 7. 4. Col. 2. 20.

And if I be risen with Christ, let me live like one born from the Dead, in Newness of Life; and having my Mind and Affections on the things where Christ now sitteth on the Right-hand of God. And indeed he professes in vain, that talketh of these things, and careth not to have them also answered in himself. This was the Apostles way, namely, To covet to know him, and the power of his Resurrection, and the fellowship of his Sufferings, being made conformable to his death. Phil. 3. 9. to 13.

And when we are thus, that thing is true both in him and us. Then as is the Heavenly, such are they that are Heavenly: For he that saith he is in him; and by being in him, a Partaker of these Priviledges by him, ought himself so to walk even as he walked. 1 Cor. 15. 48. 1 Joh. 2. 6, 8.

But to pass this Digression, and to come to my Argument; namely, That Men are justified from the Curse of the Law, before God, while Sinners in themselves.

This is evident by what hath already been said: For if the Justification of their Persons is by, in, and through Christ; then it is not by, in, and through their own doings. Nor was Christ engaged in this Work but of Necessity, even because else there had not been Salvation for the Elect. Father, (saith he) if it be possible, let this Cup pass from me. If what be possible? Why, that my Elect may be saved, and I not spill my Blood. Wherefore he saith again, Christ ought to suffer. Christ must needs have suffered; for without shedding of Blood, is no Remission of Sin. Mat. 26. 39. Luke. 24. 26. Acts 17. 3. Heb. 9. 22.

2. We will now come to the present State and Condition of those that are justified; I mean, with respect to their own Qualifications, and so prove the Truth of this our great Position. And this I will do,

1. By giving of you plain Texts that discover it, and that consequently prove our Point.

2. And after that, By giving of you Reasons drawn from the Texts.

For the First of these:

1. First, Speak not in thine Heart (no not in thine Heart) after that the Lord thy God hath cast out thine Enemies before thee, saying, For my Righteousness do I possess the Land: Not for thy Righteousness, or for the Uprightness of thine Heart, dost thou go in to possess the Land. Understand therefore, that Deut. 9. 4, 5, 6.

the Lord thy God giveth thee not this good Land, to poſſeſs it, for thy Righteouſneſs; for thou art a ſtiff-necked People.

In theſe Words, very pat for our purpoſe, two things are worthy our Conſideration.

1. The People here ſpoken to, were the People of God; and ſo by God himſelf are they here twice acknowledged to be, The Lord thy God, The Lord thy God. So then, the Righteouſneſs here intended, is not the Righteouſneſs that is in the World, but that which the People of God perform.

2. The Righteouſneſs here intended, is not ſome, but All, and every whit of that the Church performs to God: Say not in thine Heart, after the Lord hath brought thee in, It was for my Righteouſneſs. No, all thy Righteouſneſs, from Egypt to Canaan, will not purchaſe Canaan for thee.

That this is true, is evident; becauſe 'tis Thrice rejected: Not for thy Righteouſneſs, not for thy Righteouſneſs, not for thy Righteouſneſs, doſt thou poſſeſs the Land. Now, if the Righteouſneſs of the People of God, of old, could not merit for them Canaan, which was but a Type of Heaven: How can the Righteouſneſs of the World now obtain Heaven itſelf? I ſay again,

If Godly Men, as theſe were, could not by their Works purchaſe the Type of Heaven; then muſt the Ungodly be juſtified, if ever they be juſtified from the Curſe and Sentence of the Law, while Sinners in themſelves. The Argument is clear: for if good Men, by what they do, cannot merit the leſs; bad Men, by what they do, cannot merit more.

Neh. 13. 14. Secondly, Remember me, O my God, for this; and wipe not out my good Deeds that I have done.

Theſe Words were ſpoken by holy Nehemiah, and that at the End of all the Good that we read he did in the World. Alſo, the Deeds here ſpoken of, were Deeds done for God, for his People, for his Houſe, and for the Offices thereof.

Yet godly Nehemiah durſt not ſtand before God in theſe, nor yet ſuffer them to ſtand to his Judgment by the Law; but prays to God to be merciful both to him and them, and to ſpare him according to the multitude of his mercy. Ver. 22.

God blots out no Good but for the Sake of Sin; and foraſmuch as this Man prays God would not blot out his, 'tis evident, that he was conſcious to himſelf that in his good Works were Sin. Now, I ſay, if a good Man's Works are in danger of being overthrown, becauſe there is in them a tang of Sin; how can bad Men think to ſtand juſt before God in their Works, which are, in all parts, full of Sin? Yea, if the Works of a ſanctified Man are blameworthy; how ſhall the Works of a bad Man ſet him clear in the Eyes of Divine Juſtice?

Iſa. 64. 6. Thirdly, But we are all as an unclean thing, and all our righteouſneſſes are as filthy rags; and we do all fade away as a leaf; and our iniquities, like the Wind, have taken us away.

In theſe Words we have a Relation both of Perſons and Things.

1. Of Perſons: And they are a righteous People, a righteous People put all together: We, we all are, &c.

2. The Condition of this People, even of all of them, take them at the beſt, are, and that by their own Confeſſion, as an unclean thing.

3. Again: The things here attending this People, are their good things, put down under this large Character, Righteouſneſſes, ALL our Righteouſneſſes. Theſe Expreſſions therefore comprehend all their religious Duties, both before and after Faith too. But what are all theſe Righteouſneſſes? Why, they are all as filthy Rags, when ſet before the Juſtice of the Law: Yea, it is alſo confeſſed, and that by theſe People, that their Iniquities, notwithſtanding all their Righteouſneſſes, like the Wind, if Grace prevent not, would carry them away. This being ſo, how is it poſſible for one that is in his Sins, to work himſelf into a ſpotleſs Condition by Works done before Faith, by Works done by Natural Abilities? Or, to perform a Righteouſneſs which is able to look God in the Face, his Law in the Face; and to demand and obtain the Forgiveneſs of Sins, and the Life that is Eternal? It cannot be: Men muſt therefore be juſtified from the Curſe, in the Sight of God, while Sinners in themſelves, or not at all.

Fourthly, There is not a juſt Man upon the Earth, that doth good, and ſinneth not. Eccleſ. 7. 20. 1 Kings 8. 46.

Although the Words before are large, yet theſe ſeem far larger: There is not a Man, not a Juſt Man, not a Juſt Man upon the Earth, that doth good, and ſinneth not. Now, if no good Man, if no good Man upon Earth, doth good, and ſinneth not; then no good Man upon Earth can ſet himſelf by his own Actions juſtified in the Sight of God; for he has Sin mixed with his Good. How then ſhall a bad Man, any bad Man, the beſt bad Man upon Earth, think to ſet himſelf by his beſt things juſt in the Sight of God? And if the Tree makes the Fruit either good or evil; then a bad Tree, (and a bad Man is a bad Tree) can bring forth no good Fruit; how then ſhall ſuch an one do that that ſhall cleanſe him from his Sin, and ſet him as ſpotleſs before the Face of God? Mat. 7. 16.

Fifthly, Hearken to me, ye ſtout-hearted, that are far from righteouſneſs: I bring near my righteouſneſs, &c. Iſa. 46. 12, 13.

1. This Call is general, and ſo proves, whatever Men think of themſelves, that, in the Judgment of God, there is none at all Righteous Men, as Men are far from being ſo.

2. This general offer of Righteouſneſs, of of the Righteousness of God, declares, that 'tis in vain for Men to think to be set Just and Righteous before God by any other Means.

3. There is here also insinuated, That for him that thinks himself the worst, God has prepared a Righteousness; and therefore would not have him despair of Life, that sees himself far from Righteousness. From all these Scriptures therefore, it is manifest, That Men must be justified from the Curse of the Law, in the sight of God, while Sinners in themselves.

Sixthly, Come unto me, all ye that labour, and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Mat. 11. 28.

Here we have a labouring People, a People labouring for Life: But by all their labour, you see, they cannot ease themselves; their Burthen still remains upon them; they yet are heavy laden. The Load here, is, doubtless, Guilt of Sin; such as David had, when he said, by reason thereof, he was not able to look up. Psal. 38. 3, 4, 5.

Hence therefore you have an Experiment set before you, of those that are trying what they can do for Life: But behold, the more they stir, the more they sink under the weight of the Burthen that lies upon them.

And the Conclusion, to wit, Christ's Call to them to come to him for rest, declares, That in his Judgment, Rest was not to be had elsewhere. And, I think, one may with as much safety adhere to Christ's Judgment, as to any Man's alive: Wherefore, Men must be justified from the Curse, in the sight of God, while Sinners in themselves.

Seventhly, There is none righteous, no not one; there is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God; they are all gone out of the way; they are together become unprofitable, there is none that doth good, no, not one. Rom. 3. 10, 11, 12.

These words have respect to a Righteousness which is Justified by the Law; and they conclude, that none by his own Performances is righteous with such a righteousness. And it is concluded from Five Reasons.

1. Because they are not good: For a Man must be good, before he doth good, and perfectly good, before he doth good and sinneth not.

2. Because they understand not: How then should they do good? For a Man must know before he does, else how should he divert himself to do?

3. Because they want a Heart, they seek not after God, according to the way of his own appointment.

4. They are all gone out of the way; how then can they walk therein?

5. They are together become unprofitable; what worth or value then can there be in any of their Doings?

These are the Reasons by which he proveth that there is none righteous, no, not one. And the Reasons are weighty; for by them he proves the Tree is not good; how then can it yield good Fruit?

Now, as he concludes from these Five Reasons, That not one indeed is righteous: So he concludes by Five more, That none can do good to make him so.

1. For that internally they are as an open Sepulchre, as full of dead Mens bones; their Minds and Consciences are defiled; how then can sweet and good proceed from thence. Ver. 13. Matt. 23. 27. Tit. 1. 15. Isa. 44. 12. Jer. 17. 9.

2. Their Throat is filled with this stink; all their Vocal Duties therefore smell thereof.

3. Their Mouth is full of cursing and bitterness; how then can there be found one word that should please God?

4. Their Tongue, which should present their Praise to God, has been used to work deceit; how then, 'till 'tis made a new one, should it speak in Righteousness?

5. The Poyson of Asps is under their Lips; therefore, whatever comes from them, must be polluted.

Thus you see he sets forth their Internal part; which being a true Report, as to be sure it is, it is impossible that any good should so much as be framed in such an inward part, or come clean out of such a Throat, by such a Tongue, through such Lips as these. Rom. 3. 11 to 14.

And yet this is not all: He also proves, and that by Five Reasons more, That it is not possible they should do good.

1. Their Feet are swift to shed Blood: This implies an Inclination, an inward Inclination to evil Courses; a quickness of Motion to do Evil, but a backwardness to do Good. Ver. 15.

2. Destruction and Miseries are in their ways. Take Ways for their Doings; and in the best of them Destruction lurks, and Misery yet follows them at the Heels. Ver. 16.

3. The way of Peace they have not known, that is far above, out of their sight. Wherefore, the labour of these foolish ones will weary every one of them, because they know not the Way that goes to the City. Ver. 17.

4. There is no fear of God before their eyes: How then can they do any thing with that godly reverence of his holy Majesty, that is and must be essential to every good Work? For, to do things, but not in God's Fear, to what will it amount? will it avail? Ver. 18.

5. All this while they are under a Law that calls for Works that are perfectly good, that will accept of none but what are perfectly good; and that will certainly condemn them, because they neither are nor can be perfectly good: For whatsoever things the Law saith, it saith it to them that are under the Law, that every mouth may be stopt, and all the World become guilty before God. Ver. 19.

Thus you see that Paul here proves, by Fifteen Reasons, That none are, nor can be righteous before God, by Works that they they can do. Therefore, Men must be juſtified from the Curſe, in the Sight of God, while Sinners in themſelves.

Eighthly, But now the Righteouſneſs of Ver. 21. God, without the Law, is manifeſt, being witneſſed by the Law and the Prophets, &c.

This Text utterly excludes the Law. What Law? The Law of Works, the Moral Law, (Ver. 27.) and makes mention of another Righteouſneſs, even a Righteouſneſs of God; for the Righteouſneſs of the Law, is the Righteouſneſs of Men, Mens own Phil. 3. 9 Righteouſneſs.

Now, if the Law, as to a Juſtifying Righteouſneſs, is rejected; then the very Matter upon, and by which Man ſhould work, is rejected; and if ſo, then he muſt be juſtified by the Righteouſneſs of God, or not at all: For he muſt be juſtified by a Righteouſneſs that is without the Law; to wit, the Righteouſneſs of God. Now this Righteouſneſs of God, whatever it is, to be ſure it is not a Righteouſneſs that flows from Men: For that, as I ſaid, is rejected, and the Righteouſneſs of God oppoſed unto it; being called a Righteouſneſs that is without the Law, without our perſonal Obedience to it.

The Righteouſneſs of God, or a Righteouſneſs of God's compleating, a Righteouſneſs of God's beſtowing; a Righteouſneſs that God alſo gives unto, and puts upon all them that believe, (Ver. 22.) a Righteouſneſs that ſtands in the Works of Chriſt, and that is imputed both by the Rom. 3. 24,25,26. Grace and Juſtice of God.

Where now is room for Man's Righteouſneſs, either in the whole, or as to any part thereof? I ſay, where, as to Juſtification with God?

Ninthly, What ſhall we ſay then, that Abraham our Father, as pertaining to the fleſh, hath found?

Now the Apoſtle is at the root of the Matter: For Abraham is counted the Father of the Faithful; conſequently, the Man whoſe way of attaining Juſtification muſt needs be exemplary to all the Children of Abraham.

Now the Queſtion is, How Abraham found? How he found that which ſome of his Children ſought and miſs'd? (Rom. 9. 32.) That is, How he found Juſtifying Chap. 11. 7. Righteouſneſs? for 'twas that which Iſrael ſought, and attained not unto.

Did he find it (ſaith Paul) by the fleſh? Or, as he was in the Fleſh? Or, by Acts and Works of the Fleſh? But what are they? Why, the next Verſe tells you, They are the Works of the Law.

If Abraham was juſtified by Works, that is, as pertaining to the Fleſh; for the Works of the Law are none other but the beſt ſort of the Works of the Fleſh. And ſo Paul calls all they that he had before his Converſion to Chriſt: If any other Man (ſaith he) thinketh he hath whereof he may truſt in the Fleſh, I more. And then he counteth up ſeveral of his Privileges, to which he, at laſt, adjoyneth the Righteouſneſs of the Moral Law, ſaying, Touching the righteouſneſs which is in the Law, I was Phil. 3. 4, 5, 6. blameleſs.

And 'tis proper to call the Righteouſneſs of the Law the Work of the Fleſh; becauſe 2 Cor. 3. 8. 'tis the Work of a Man, of a Man in the Fleſh: For the Holy Ghoſt doth not attend the Law, or the Work thereof, as to this; in Man, as Man; that has confin'd itſelf to another Miniſtration, whoſe glorious Name it bears.

I ſay, 'tis proper to call the Works of the Jam. 3. 10. Law, the Works of the Fleſh; becauſe they are done by that ſelf ſame Nature, in and out of which comes all thoſe things that are more groſly ſo called, (Gal. 5. 19, 20.) To wit, from the corrupt Fountain of fallen Man's polluted Nature.

This, ſaith he, was not the Righteouſneſs by which Abraham found Juſtification See Rom. with God: For if Abraham was juſtified by 4. 4, 5 to works, he hath whereof to glory; but not 11. before God. But what ſaith the Scripture? Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him for righteouſneſs. This Believing, is alſo ſet in flat Oppoſition to Works, and to the Law of Works: Wherefore, upon pain of great Contempt to God, it muſt not be reckoned as a Work to juſtify withal; but rather, as that which receiveth and applieth that Righteouſneſs.

From all this therefore it is manifeſt, That Men muſt be Juſtified from the Curſe of the Law, in the Sight of God, while Sinners in themſelves. But, Tenthly, Now to him that worketh, is Rom. 4. 4. the Reward not reckoned of Grace, but of Debt.

Theſe Words do not only back what went before, as to the Rejection of the Law for Righteouſneſs, as to Juſtification with God: But ſuppoſing the Law was of force to juſtify, Life muſt not be admitted to come that way, becauſe of the evil Conſequences that will unavoidably flow therefrom.

Firſt, By this means Grace, and Juſtification by Grace, would be rejected; and that would be a foul Buſineſs; it would not be reckoned of Grace.

Secondly, By this God would become the Debtor, and ſo the Underling; and ſo we, in this, the more Honourable. It would not be reckoned of Grace, but of Debt: And what would follow from hence? Why,

1. By this we ſhould fruſtrate the Deſign Rom. 3. of Heaven; which is, to juſtify us freely by 24. 25,26. Grace, through a Redemption brought in Eph. 2. by Chriſt. 8 to 13.

2. By this we ſhould make our ſelves the Gal. 5. 2, Saviours, and joſtle Chriſt quite out of doors. 3, 4.

3. We ſhould have Heaven at our own diſpoſe, as a Debt, not by Promiſe; and Gal. 3. 18. ſo not be beholden to God for it. It muſt then then be of Grace, not of Works, for the preventing of these Evils. Again, It must not be of Works, because if it should, then God would be the Debtor, and we the Creditor. Now much Blasphemy would flow from hence: As,

First, God himself would not be his own to dispose of: For the Inheritance being God, as well as his Kingdom; for so it is written, Heirs of God; himself, I say, must needs be our Purchase. Rom. 8. 17.

Secondly, If so, then we have Right to dispose of him, of his Kingdom and Glory, and all: (Be astonished, O Heavens, at this!) for if He be ours by Works, then he is ours of Debt; if he be ours of Debt, then he is ours by Purchase: And then again, if so, he is no longer his own, but ours, and at our dispose, &c.

Therefore, for these Reasons, were there sufficiency in our personal Works to justifie us, it would be even inconsistent with the Being of God to suffer it.

So then, Men are Justified from the Curse, in the sight of God, while Sinners in themselves.

Eleventhly, But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his Faith is counted for Righteousness. Rom. 4. 5.

These words shew how we must stand Just in the sight of God, from the Curse of the Law, both as it respecteth Justification it self, as also the Instrument or Means that receiveth that Righteousness which justifieth.

First, As for that Righteousness that Justifieth, it is not Personal Performances in us; for the Person here justified, stands, in that respect as one that worketh not, as one that is ungodly.

Secondly, As it respecteth the Instrument that receiveth it, that Faith, as in the Point of justifying Righteousness, will not work, but believe, but receive the Works and Righteousness of another: For Works and Faith, in this, are set in Opposition: He doth not work, he doth believe: He worketh not, but believeth on him who justifieth us, ungodly. As Paul also saith in another place, The Law is not of Faith: And again, Works saith on this wise; Faith, far different. The Law saith, Do this, and live: But the Doctrine of Faith saith, If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved; for with the heart man believeth unto Righteousness, &c. Gal. 3. 12. Rom. 10. 5, 10.

Object. But Faith is counted for Righteousness.

Answ. True; but yet consider, That by Faith, we do oft understand the Doctrine of Remission of Sins, as well as the Act of Believing.

But again: Faith, when it hath received the Lord Jesus, it hath done that which pleaseth God; therefore, the very Act of Believing, is the most Noble in the World: Believing sets the Crown upon the Head of Grace; it seals to the Truth of the sufficiency of the Righteousness of Christ, and giveth all the Glory to God; and therefore it is a righteous Act; but Christ himself, he is the Righteousness that justifieth. John 3. 33. Rom. 4. 20.

Besides, Faith is a Relative, and hath its Relation, as such: Its Relation is the Righteousness that justifieth; which is therefore called the Righteousness OF Faith, or that with which Faith hath to do: Seperate these two, and Justification cannot be; because Faith now wants his Righteousness: And hence it is you have so often such Sayings as these, He that believeth in me: He that believeth on him: believe in the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved. Faith then, as seperate from Christ, doth nothing; nothing neither with God nor Man; because it wants its Relative: But let it go to the Lord Jesus; let it behold him as dying, &c. And it fetches Righteousness, and Life, and Peace, out of the vertue of his Blood, &c. Or rather, sees it there, as sufficient for me to stand Just thereby in the sight of Eternal Justice: For him hath God set forth to be a Propitiation, through Faith, (Belief,) in his Blood, with intent to justifie him that believeth in Jesus. Rom. 10. 6. John 6. 35. Ver. 40. Acts 10. 29, 31, 33. Rom. 3. 25, 26.

Twelfthly, Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the Man to whom God imputeth Righteousness without Works. Rom. 4. 6.

Did our Adversaries understand this one Text, they would not so boldly affirm, as they do, that the words, impute, imputed, imputeth, imputing, &c. are not used in Scripture, but to express Men really and personally to be that which is imputed unto them: For Men are not really and personally [Faith,] yet Faith is imputed to Men: Nay, they are not really and personally [Sin,] nor really and personally [Righteousness;] yet these are imputed to Men: So then, both good things and bad may sometimes be imputed to Men, yet themselves be really and personally neither.

But to come to the Point: What Righteousness hath that Man that hath no Works? Doubtless, none of his own; yet God imputeth Righteousness to him: Yea, what Works of that Man doth God impute to him that he yet Justifies as Ungodly?

Further, He that hath Works, as to Justification from the Curse before God, not one of them is regarded of God: So then, it mattereth not whether thou hast Righteousness of thine own, or none.

Blessed is the Man to whom the Lord imputeth Righteousness without Works. Man's Blessedness then, the Blessedness of Justification from the Curse, in the sight of God, lyeth not in good Works done by us, either before or after Faith received; but in a Righteousness which God imputeth without Works; as we work not, as we are ungodly: Blessed is the man whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sin is covered. To For- Ver. 7.

give, and to Cover, are Acts of Mercy, not the Cauſe of our Merit: Beſides, where Sin is real, there can be no perfect Righteouſneſs; but the way of Juſtification muſt be through perfect Righteouſneſs, therefore by another than our own, Bleſſed
Ver. 8. is the Man to whom the Lord will not impute Sin. The Firſt Cauſe then of Juſtification before God, dependeth upon the Will of God, who will Juſtifie, becauſe he will: Therefore, the meritorious Cauſe muſt alſo be of his own providing, elſe his Will cannot herein be Abſolute: For if Juſtification depend upon our perſonal Performances, then not upon the Will of God:
Rom. 9. 15, 18. He may not have Mercy upon whom he will, but on whom Man's Righteouſneſs will give him leave: But his Will, not ours muſt rule here; therefore, his righteouſneſs, and his only. So then, Men are Juſtified from the Curſe, in the ſight of God, while Sinners in themſelves.

Having paſſed over theſe few Scriptures, I ſhall come to particular Inſtances of Perſons who have been juſtified; and ſhall briefly touch their Qualifications in the Act of God's Juſtifying them.

Firſt, By the Old Teſtament Types.

Secondly, By the New.

Firſt, By the Old.

Gen. 3. 21. And unto Adam alſo, and to his Wife, did the Lord God make Coats of Skins, and cloathed them.

In the Beginning of this Chapter, you find theſe two Perſons reaſoning with the Serpent; the Effect of which Diſcourſe was,
Ver. 7 to 15. They take of the forbidden Fruit, and ſo break the Command of God This done, they hide themſelves, and cover their Nakedneſs with Aprons: But God finds out their Sin, from the higheſt Branch, even to the roots thereof.

What followeth? Not one Precept by which they ſhould by Works obtain the Favour of God, but the Promiſe of a Saviour: Of which Promiſe, this 21*ſt* Verſe is Ver. 15. a myſtical Interpretation: The Lord God made them Coats of Skins; Coats of Skins, and cloathed them.

Hence obſerve,

Firſt, That theſe Coats were made, not before, but after they had made themſelves Aprons: A plain Proof their Aprons were not ſufficient to hide their Shame from the Sight of God.

Secondly, Theſe Coats were made, not of Adam's inherent Righteouſneſs, for that was loſt before by Sin: but of the Skins of the ſlain, Types of the Death of Chriſt, and of the Righteouſneſs brought in there-
Iſa. 53. by: By whoſe Stripes we are healed.

Thirdly, This is further manifeſt: For the Coats, God made them; and for the Perſons, God cloathed them therewith: To ſhew, that as the Righteouſneſs by which we muſt ſtand juſt before God, from the Curſe, is a Righteouſneſs of Chriſt's performing, not of theirs; ſo he, not they, muſt put it on them alſo; For of God, we 1 Cor. 1. 30. are in Chriſt; and of God, his Righteouſneſs is made ours.

But, I ſay, if you would ſee their antecedent Qualifications, you find them under Two Heads.

Firſt, Rebellion.

Secondly, Hypocriſie.

Rebellion, in breaking God's Command; Hypocriſie, in ſeeking how to hide their Faults from God. Expound this by Goſpel-Language, and then it ſhews, That Men are juſtified from the Curſe, in the Sight of God, while Sinners in themſelves.

Secondly, The Lord had Reſpect to Abel Gen. 4. 4. and to his Offering.

By theſe Words we find the Perſon firſt accepted, The Lord had Reſpect unto Abel. And indeed, where the Perſon is not firſt accepted, the Offering will not be pleaſing; Matt. 23. 16 to 21. the Altar ſanctifies the Gift, and the Temple ſanctifieth the Gold; ſo the Perſon, the Condition of the Perſon, is that which makes the Offering either pleaſing or deſpiſing. In the Epiſtle to the Hebrews, it Heb. 11. 4. is ſaid, By Faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent Sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained Witneſs that he was Righteous. Righteous before he offered his Gift, as his Sacrifice teſtified; for God accepted of it.

By Faith he offered. Wherefore, Faith was precedent, or before he offered. Now Faith hath to do with God through Chriſt; not with him through our Works of Righteouſneſs. Beſides, Abel was righteous before he offered, before he did do good, otherwiſe God would not have teſtified of his Gift. By Faith he obtained witneſs that he was righteous, for God approved of his Gifts: Now Faith, I ſay, as to our ſtanding quit before the Father, reſpects the Promiſe of Forgiveneſs of Sins, through the Undertaking of the Lord Jeſus. Wherefore Abel's Faith, as to juſtifying Righteouſneſs before God, looked not forward to what ſhould be done by himſelf; but back to the Promiſe of the Seed of the Woman, Gen. 3. 15. Gal. 4. 4, 5. that was to deſtroy the Power of Hell, and to redeem them that were under the Law. By this Faith he ſhrouds himſelf under the Promiſe of Victory, and the Merits of the Lord Jeſus; now being there, God finds him righteous; and being righteous, he offered to God a more excellent Sacrifice than his Brother; for Cain's Perſon was not firſt accepted, through the Righteouſneſs of Faith going before; although he ſeemed foremoſt, as to perſonal Acts of Righteouſneſs. Abel Gen. 4. therefore was righteous before he did good Works, but that could not be, but alone through that reſpect God had to him for the Sake of the Meſſias, promiſed before, Chap. 3. 15. But the Lord's ſo reſpecting ABEL, preſuppoſeth, that at that time, he ſtood in himſelf by the Law a Sinner, otherwiſe he needed not to be reſpected, for, and upon the Account of another. Yea ABEL alſo, also, forasmuch as he acted Faith before he offered Sacrifice, must thereby intirely respect the Promise, which Promise was not grounded upon a Condition of Works to be found in Abel, but in and for the Sake of the Seed of the Woman; which is Christ. Which Promise he believed; and so took it for granted that this Christ should break the Serpent's Head; that is, destroy, by himself, the Works of the Devil; to wit, Sin, Death, the Curse, and Hell. By this Faith he stood before God righteous, because he had put on Christ, and being thus, he offered: By which Act of Faith, God declared he was pleased with him, because he accepted of his Sacrifice.

Gal. 4. 4.

Thirdly, And the Lord said unto her --- The elder shall serve the younger. These Words, after Paul's Exposition, are to be understood of Justification in the Sight of God, according to the Purpose and Decree of electing Love, which had so determined long before, that one of these Children should be received to eternal Grace: but mark, not by Works of Righteousness which they should do, but before they had done either good or evil: Otherwise the purpose of God according to Election, not of Works, but of him that calleth, could not stand, but fall in pieces. But none are received into eternal Mercy, but such as are Just before the Lord, by a Righteousness that is compleat; and Jacob having done no good, could by no means have that of his own; and therefore it must be by some other Righteousness; and so himself be justified from the Curse in the Sight of God, while a Sinner in himself.

Gen. 25. 23.

Rom. 9. 10, 11, 12.

Fourthly, The same may be said concerning Solomon, whom the Lord loved with special Love, as soon as born into the World: which he also confirmed with signal Characters; He sent (saith the Holy Ghost) by the Hand of Nathan the Prophet, and he called his Name Jedidiah, because the Lord loved him. Was this Love of God extended to him, because of his personal Virtues? No verily. For he was yet an Infant. He was justified then in the Sight of God, from the Curse, by another than his own Righteousness.

2 Sam. 12. 24, 25.

Fifthly, And when I passed by thee, and saw thee polluted in thine own Blood; I said unto thee, when thou wast in thy blood, live: yea, I said unto thee, when thou wast in thy Blood, live. The state of this People you have in the former Verses described, both as to their rise, and practice in the World.

Ezek. 16. 6.

Ver. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

(1.) As to their rise, their Original was the same with Canaan, the men of God's Curse. Thy Birth and thy Nativity is of the Land of Canaan; the same with other carnal Men: Thy Father was an Amorite and thy Mother an Hittite.

Gen. 9. 25.

Rom. 3. 9.

(2.) Their Condition, that is shewed us, by this Emblem.

1. They had not been washed in Water. 2. They had not been Swadled. 3. They not been Salted. 4. They brought filth with them into the World. 5. They lay stinking in their Cradle. 6. They were without Strength to help themselves: Thus they appear, and come by Generation.

Again, As to their Practice:

1. They polluted themselves in their own Blood. 2. They so continued till God passed by. And when I passed by thee, I saw thee polluted in thine own blood; in thy blood, in thy Blood; 'tis doubled. Thus we see, they were polluted born, they continued in their Blood till the day that the Lord looked upon them; polluted, I say, to the loathing of their Persons, &c. Now this was the time of Love. And when I passed by thee, and saw thee polluted in thine own blood; I said unto thee, when thou wast in thy blood, live; yea, I said unto thee, when thou wast in thy blood live.

Quest. But how could an holy God, say, live, to such a sinfull People?

Answ. Though THEY had nought but Sin; yet He had LOVE, and Righteousness. He had 1. LOVE to pity them. 2. Righteousness to cover them: Now when I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, BEHOLD, thy time was the time of LOVE: What follows? 1. I spread my skirt over thee. And 2. Covered thy Nakedness. Yea, 3. I sware unto thee. And, 4. Entred into Covenant with thee. And, 5. Thou becamest mine. MY LOVE pitied thee: MY SKIRT covered thee. Thus God delivered them from the Curse, in his sight. Then I washed thee with Water (after thou wast Justified:) Yea, I throughly washed away thy blood from thee, and anointed thee with Oyl. Sanctification then is consequential, Justification goes before: The Holy Ghost by this Scripture setteth forth, to the life, Free Grace to the Sons of men, while they themselves are Sinners. I say, while they are unwashed, unswadled, unsalted, but bloody Sinners: For by these words not washed, not salted, not swadled; he setteth forth their unsanctified state; yea they were not only unsanctified, but also cast out, without pity, to the loathing of their Persons; yea, No eye pitied them, to do any of these things for them: No Eye but his, whose glorious Grace is unsearchable: No Eye but his, who could look and love: All others look'd and loathed: But blessed be God, that hath passed by us, in that day that we wallowed in our own Blood; and blessed be God for the Skirt of his glorious Righteousness, wherewith he covered us, when we lay before him naked in Blood. 'Twas when we were in our Blood, that he loved us; when we were in our Blood, he said, Live. Therefore, Men are justified from the Curse, in the sight of God, while Sinners in themselves.

Ezek. 16. 8.

Ver. 9.

Sixthly,

Sixthly, Now Joſhua was cloathed with Zech. 3. 3. filthy Garments, and ſtood before the Angel.

The ſtanding of Joſhua here, is as Men uſed to ſtand that were Arraigned before a Ver. 1. Judge. Joſhua ſtood before the Angel of the Lord, and Satan ſtanding at his right-hand to reſiſt him. The ſame Poſture as Judas ſtood in when he was to be Condemned: Set thou (ſaith David) a wicked
Pſal. 109. 6, 7, 8. Man over him, and let Satan ſtand at his right-hand. Thus therefore Joſhua ſtood. Now Joſhua was cloathed (not with Righteouſneſs, but) with filthy Rags! Sin upon him, and Satan by him, and this before the Angel! What muſt he do now? Go away? No: There he muſt ſtand. Can he ſpeak for himſelf? Not a word: Guilt had made him dumb. Had he no place clean?
Iſa. 53. 12. No, he was Cloathed with filthy garments. But his lot was to ſtand before Jeſus Chriſt, that maketh Interceſſion for Tranſgreſſors: And the Lord ſaid unto Satan,
Zach. 3. 2. The Lord rebuke thee, Satan; even the Lord that hath choſen Jeruſalem, rebuke thee. (Thus Chriſt ſaveth from preſent Condemnation, thoſe that be ſtill in their Sin and Blood.)

But is he now quit? No, he ſtandeth yet in filthy Garments; neither can he, by ought that is in him, or done by him, clear himſelf from him. How then? Why, the Lord cloaths him with change of Raiment; the Iniquities were his own, the Raiment was the Lord's: This is the Heritage of the Servants of the Lord; and their righteouſneſs is of me, ſaith the Lord. We will not here diſcourſe of Joſhua's Sin, what it was, or when committed; it is enough to our purpoſe, that he was cloathed with filthy garments; and that the Lord made a change with him, by cauſing his iniquity to paſs from him, and by cloathing him with change of Raiment. But what had Joſhua antecedent to this glorious and heavenly Cloathing? The Devil at his Right-hand, to reſiſt him; and himſelf in filthy Garments: Now Jo-
Ver. 3. 4. ſhua was cloathed with filthy garments, and ſtood before the Angel: And he anſwered, and ſpake to thoſe that ſtood before him, ſaying, Take away the filthy garments from him. And unto him he ſaid, Behold, I have cauſed thine iniquity to paſs from thee; and I will cloath thee with change of raiment.

But to paſs the Old-Teſtament Types, and to come to the New.

Firſt, And when he was come into the Mark 5. 18, 19. Ship, he that had been poſſeſſed with the Devil, prayed him that he might go with him: But Jeſus ſuffered him not, but ſaith unto him, Go home to thy Friends, and tell them how great things God hath done for thee, and hath had compaſſion on thee.

The preſent ſtate of this Man is ſufficiently declared in theſe Particulars.

1. He was poſſeſſed with a Devil; with Devils, with many; with a whole Legion, which ſome ſay is Six thouſand, or thereabouts. Mat. 8.

2. Theſe Devils had ſo the maſtery of him, as to drive him from place to place into the Wilderneſs, among the Mountains; and ſo to dwell in the Tombs, among the Dead. Luke 8.

3. He was out of his Wits; he would cut his Fleſh, break his Chains, nay, no Man could tame him.

4. When he ſaw Jeſus, the Devil in him, as being Lord and Governor there, cried out againſt the Lord Jeſus. In all this, what Qualification ſhews it ſelf, as precedent to Juſtification? None but ſuch as Devils work, or as rank Bedlams have. Yet this poor Man was diſpoſſeſſed, taken into God's Compaſſion, and was bid to ſhew it to the World: Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compaſſion on thee: Which laſt words, becauſe they are added over and above his being diſpoſſeſſed of the Devils, I underſtand to be the fruit of Electing Love. [I will have Compaſſion on whom I will have Compaſſion:] Which bleſſeth us with the Mercy of a juſtifying Righteouſneſs: And all this, as by this is manifeſt, without the leaſt precedent Qualification of ours. Mark 5. 7.

Secondly, And when they had nothing to Luke 7. 42. pay, he frankly forgave them both.

The Occaſion of theſe Words, was, for
Ver. 37. that the Phariſee murmured againſt the Woman that waſhed Jeſus's Feet, becauſe ſhe was a Sinner: For ſo ſaid the Phariſee, and ſo ſaith the Holy Ghoſt: But ſaith Chriſt, Simon, I will ask thee a Queſtion:
Ver. 38. A certain Man had two debtors; the one owed him five hundred pence, and the other fifty; and when they had nothing to pay, he frankly forgave them both.

Hence I gather theſe Concluſions.

1. That Men that are wedded to their own Righteouſneſs, underſtand not the Doctrine of the Forgiveneſs of Sins. This is manifeſted by the poor Phariſee; he objected againſt the Woman, becauſe ſhe was a Sinner.

2. Let Phariſees murmur ſtill, yet Chriſt hath Pity and Mercy for Sinners.

3. Yet Jeſus doth not uſually manifeſt Mercy, until the Sinner hath Nothing to pay: And when they had Nothing to pay, he frankly (or freely, or heartily,) forgave them both. If they had Nothing to pay, then they were Sinners; but he forgiveth no Man, but with reſpect to a righteouſneſs: Therefore, that righteouſneſs muſt be another's; for in the very Act of Mercy they are found Sinners. They had Nothing but Debt, Nothing but Sin, Nothing to pay. Then they were juſtified freely by Grace, thro' that Redemption that is in Jeſus Chriſt. So then, Men are juſtified from the Curſe, in the Sight of God, while Sinners in themselves.

in

Luk.5.20. Thirdly, And when he saw their Faith, he said unto the Man, Thy Sins are forgiven thee.

This Man had not Righteousness to stand Just before God withal; for his Sins, as yet, remained unforgiven: Wherefore, seeing Guilt remained until Christ remitted him, he was discharged while ungodly.

And Observe it, The Faith here mentioned, is not to be reckoned so much the Man's, as the Faith of them that brought him: Neither did it reach to the Forgiveness of Sins, but to the Miracle of Healing; yet this Man, in this Condition, had his Sins forgiven him.

But again: Set the case the Faith was only his, (as it was not,) and that it reached to the Doctrine of Forgiveness; yet it did it without respect to Righteousness in himself; for Guilt lay still upon him, he had now his sins forgiven him.

Isa. 65. But this Act of Grace was a surprizal; it was unlooked for: I am found of them that sought me not. They came for one thing, he gave them another: They came for a Cure upon his Body, but, to their amazement, he cured first his Soul: Thy sins are forgiven thee.

Besides, To have his Sins forgiven, betokeneth an Act of Grace; but Grace and *Rom.11.6. Works, as to this, * are opposite: Therefore, Men are Justified from the Curse, in the sight of God, while Sinners in themselves.

Luke 15.21. Fourthly, Father, I have sinned against Heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy Son.

What this Man was, is sufficiently declared in Verse 13, &c. As First, A riotous Spender of all; of Time, Talent, Body and Soul.

Ver. 15, 17. 2. He added to this, his Rebellion, great Contempt of his Father's House: He joyned himself to a Stranger, and became an Associate with Swine.

At last, indeed, he came to himself. But then observe, 1. He sought not Justification by personal Performances of his own: 2. Neither did he mitigate his Wickedness: 3. Nor excuse himself before his Father: but first resolveth to confess his Sin; and coming to his Father, did confess it, and that with aggravating Circumstances: I have sinned against Heaven; I have sinned against Thee; I am
Ver. 18. no more worthy to be called thy Son. Now what he said, was true or false: If true, then he had not Righteousness; if false, he could not stand Just in the sight of his Father by vertue of his own Performances. And indeed, the sequel of the Parable clears it. His Father said to his Servant, Bring
Ver. 22. forth the best Robe, (the Justifying Righteousness,) and put it upon him; and put a Ring on his Hand, and Shoes on his Feet. This best Robe then, being in the Father's House, was not in the Prodigal's Heart; neither stayed the Father for further Qualifications, but put it upon him as he was, surrounded with Sin, and oppressed with Guilt. Therefore, Men are Justified from the Curse, in the sight of God, while Sinners in themselves.

Luke 19. 10. Fifthly, For the Son of Man is come to seek, and to save that which was lost.

The Occasion of these words, was, for that the Pharisees murmured, because Jesus was gone to be a Guest to one that was a Sinner: Yea, a Sinner of the Publicans, and are most fitly applied to the Case in hand: For though Zaccheus climbed the Tree, yet Jesus Christ found him first, and called him down by his Name; adding withall, For to day I must abide at thy Ver. 5. House; which being opened by Ver. 9. is as much as to say, I am come to be thy Salvation. Now this being believed by Zaccheus, he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully. And not only so, but to declare to all, the simplicity of his Faith; and that he unfeignedly accepted of this word of Salvation, he said unto the Lord, and that before all present, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, (a Supposition intimating an Affirmative,) I restore him four fold. This being thus, Christ doubleth his Comfort, saying to him also, and that before the People, This day is Salvation come to this house. Then by adding the next words, he expounds the whole of the Matter, For I am come to seek and save Rom. 10. that which was lost; to seek it till I find it, 20. to save it when I find it. He finds them that sought him not: And (saith Zaccheus,) Behold me! to a People that asked not after him. So then, seeing Jesus findeth this Publican first, preaching Salvation to him before he came down from the Tree; it is evident, he received this, as he was a Sinner. From which Faith flowed his following Words and Works, as a Consequence.

Luke 23. 43. Sixthly, Jesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, this day shalt thou be with me in Paradise.

This was spoken to the Thief upon the Cross, who had lived in wickedness all his days; neither had he so much as truly repented, no, not till he came to die; nay, when he first was hanged, he then fell to railing on Christ: For though Luke leaves it out, beginning but at his Conversion; yet by Matthew's relating the whole Trage- Mat. 27. dy, we find him at first as bad as the o- 44. ther. This Man then had no Moral Righteousness; for he had lived in the breach of the Law of God. Indeed, by Faith he believed Christ to be King, and that when dying with him: But what was this to a personal performing the Commandments? or of restoring what he had oft taken away? Yea, he confesseth his Death to be Juſt for his Sin; and ſo leaning upon the Mediation of Chriſt, he goeth out of the World. Now he that truly confeſſeth and acknowledgeth his Sin, acknowledgeth alſo the Curſe to be due thereto from the Righteous Hand of God. So then, where the Curſe of God is due, that Man wanteth Righteouſneſs: Beſides, he that makes to another for help, hath by that condemned his own (had he any) of utter inſufficiency. But all theſe did this poor Creature; wherefore, he muſt ſtand Juſt from the Law, in the ſight of God, while ſinful in himſelf.

Acts 9.6. Seventhly, Lord, What wilt thou have me to do? What wilt thou have me to do? Ignorance is here ſet forth to the full: He hitherto knew not Jeſus, neither what he would have him to do; yet a mighty Man for the Law of Works, and for Zeal towards God according to that. Thus you ſee, that he neither knew that Chriſt was Lord, nor what was his Mind and Will: 1 Tim. 1. 13,14,15. I did it ignorantly, in unbelief; I did not know him, I did not believe he was to ſave us: I thought I muſt be ſaved, by living righteouſly, by keeping the Law of God. This Thought kept me ignorant of Jeſus, and of Juſtification from the Curſe by him. Poor Saul! How many Fellows haſt thou yet alive! Every Man zealous of the Law of Works, yet none of them know the Law of Grace: Each of them ſeeking for Life by doing the Law, when Life is to be had by nought but Believing in Jeſus Chriſt.

Act.16.31 Eighthly, Believe in the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and thou ſhalt be ſaved.

A little before, we find Paul and Silas in the Stocks, for Preaching of Jeſus Chriſt: In the Stocks in the inward Priſon, by the hands of a ſturdy Jaylor: But at midnight, while Paul and his Companion ſang Praiſes to God, the Foundations of the Priſon ſhook, and every Man's Bands were looſed. Now the Jaylor being awakened by the noiſe of this ſhaking, and ſuppoſing he had loſt his Priſoners, drew his Sword, with intent to kill himſelf: But Paul cried out, Do thy ſelf no harm, for we are all here: Then he called for a light, and ſprang in, and came trembling, and fell down before Paul and Silas, and brought them out; and ſaid, Sirs! What muſt I do to be ſaved? In all this Relation, here is not ought that can juſtifie the Jaylor. For,

1. His whole Life was Idolatry, Cruelty, and Enmity to God: Yea,

2. Even now, while the Earthquake ſhook the Priſon, he had Murther in his Heart, yea, and in his Intentions too: Murther, I ſay, and that of an high nature, even to have killed his own Body and Soul at once. Well,

3. When he began to ſhake, under the fears of Everlaſting Burnings; yet then his Heart was wrapped up in Ignorance, as to the Way of Salvation by Jeſus Chriſt: What muſt I do to be ſaved? He knew not what, no, not he. His Condition then was this: He neither had Righteouſneſs to ſave him, nor knew he how to get it. Now, what was Paul's Anſwer? Why, Believe in the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, (look for Righteouſneſs in Chriſt,) and then thou ſhalt be ſaved. This then ſtill holdeth true, Men are Juſtified from the Curſe, in the ſight of God whilſt Sinners in themſelves.

The Second Concluſion. I ſhould now come to the Second Concluſion; viz. That this can be done by no other Righteouſneſs, than that long ago performed by, and remaining with the Perſon of Chriſt. But before I ſpeak to that, I will a little further preſs this, by urging for it ſeveral Reaſons.

The Firſt Reaſon.

The Firſt Reaſon. Firſt, Men muſt be juſtified from the Curſe, while Sinners in themſelves: Becauſe, By Nature all are under ſin: All have ſinned, and come ſhort of the glory of God. He hath concluded all in unbelief; he hath concluded all under ſin. Now having ſinned, they are in Body and Soul defiled, and become an unclean thing: Wherefore, whatever they touch, with an intent to work out Righteouſneſs thereby, they defile that alſo. And hence, as I have ſaid, all the Righteouſneſs they ſeek to accompliſh, is but as a menſtruous Cloth, and filthy Rags; therefore, they are Sinners ſtill.

Rom. 3. 23. Chap. 11. 32. Gal. 3.22. Tit. 1.15. Lev. 15. 11. Iſa. 64.6.

Indeed, to ſome Mens thinking, the Phariſee is holier than the Publican; but in God's ſight in the Eyes of Divine Juſtice, they ſtand alike condemned: All have ſinned; there's the Poyſon: Therefore, as to God, without Chriſt, all Throats are an open Sepulchre.

Mat.23.27. Rom. 3 13.

The World, in general, is divided into Two ſorts of Sinners.

1. The open Profane.

2. The Man that ſeeks Life by the Works of the Law: The Profane is Judged by all; but the other by a few. Oh! but God Judgeth him!

Firſt, For an Hypocrite: Becauſe, that notwithſtanding, he hath ſinned: He would be thought to be good and righteous. And hence it is that Chriſt calls ſuch kind of Holy Ones, Phariſees Hypocrites, Phariſees Hypocrites; becauſe by their gay Outſide they deceived thoſe that beheld them: But ſaith he, God ſees your Hearts; you are but like painted Sepulchres, within you are full of dead Mens Bones: Such is the Root from whence flows all their Righteouſneſs. But doth the blind Phariſee think his ſtate is ſuch? No, his thoughts of himſelf are far otherwiſe: God, I thank thee (ſaith he) I am not as other Men, Extortioners, Unjuſt, Adulterers, or even like this Publican. Ay, but ſtill God Judgeth him for an Hypocrite.

Pro. 30. 12. Mat. 23. 27. to 30. Luke 11. 24. Chap. 16. 15. Chap. 18. 11, 12.

Secondly, God judgeth him for one that ſpurneth spurneth against Christ, even by every such Work he doth. And hence it is, when Phil. 3. 7, 8. Paul was converted to Jesus Christ, that Acts 22. 3, 4. Chap. 26. 4. he calls the Righteousness he had before, 1 Tim. 1. 14, 15. Madness, Blasphemy, Injury; because what he did to save himself by Works, was in direct Opposition to Grace by Jesus Christ.

Behold then the Evil that is in a Man's own Righteousness!

1. It curseth and condemneth the Righteousness of Christ.

2. It blindeth the Man from seeing his Misery.

3. It hardeneth his Heart against his own Salvation.

Thirdly, But again, God Judgeth such, for those that condemn him of Foolishness: 1 Cor. 1. 18, 23. The preaching of the Cross, (that is, Christ Crucified,) is to them that perish, foolishness. What? (saith the * Merit-monger,) will you look for Life by the obedience of another Man? Will you trust to the Blood that was shed upon the Cross, that run down to the Ground, and perished in the Dust! Thus deridingly they scoff at, stumble upon, Isa. 8. 14. and are taken in the Ginn that attends the Gospel; not to Salvation, but to their Condemnation: Because they have condemned the Just, that they might justifie their own filthy Righteousness.

* Mine ears have heard all this.

But, I say, if all have sinned, if all are defiled; if the best of a Man's Righteousness be but Madness, Blasphemy, Injury; if for their Righteousness they are Judged Hypocrites, Condemned as Opposers of the Gospel, and as such, have counted God foolish, for sending his Son into the World: Then must the best of Men be Justified from the Curse, in the sight of God, while Sinners in themselves. Because they still stand Guilty in the sight of God; their Hearts are also still filthy in- Jer. 2. 22. fected: Though thou wash thee with Nitre, and take thee much Soap, yet thine iniquity is marked before ME, saith the Lord God: It stands marked still before God. So then, what esteem soever Men have of the Righteousness of the World; yet God accounts it horrible Wickedness, and the greatest Enemy that Jesus hath. Wherefore, this Mat. 3. 7. Vine, is the Vine of Sodom; these Clusters, Chap. 23. are the Clusters of Gomorrah; these Grapes, are Grapes of Gall; these Clusters are bitter; they are the Poyson of Dragons, and the cruel Venom of Asps. No marvel then, if John in his Ministry gives the first rebuke and justle to such; still calling them Serpents and Vipers, and concluding 'tis almost impossible they should escape the Damnation of Hell; for of all Sin, Man's own Righteousness, in special, bids defiance to Jesus Christ.

The Second Reason.

The second Reason. Secondly, A second Reason why Men must stand just in the Sight of God, from the Curse, while Sinners in themselves, is, Because of the Exactions of the Law. For were it granted, That Mens good Works 1 Pet. 2. 5. Rev. 7. 14, 15, 16. Heb. 13. 8. arose from a holy Root, and were perfect in their Kind; yet the Demand of the Law, (for that is still beyond them) would leave them Sinners before the Justice of God. And hence it is that holy Men stand just in the Sight of God from the Curse; yet dare not offer their Gifts by the Law, but thro' Jesus Christ; knowing, that not only their Persons, but their Spiritual Service also, would else be rejected of the Heavenly Majesty.

For the Law is itself so perfectly holy and good, as not to admit of the least Failure, either in the Matter or Manner of Obedience: Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things that are written in the Book of the Law, to do them: For they that shall keep the whole Law, and yet offend in one Point, are guilty of all; and convicted of the Law as Transgressors. Tribulation Rom. 2. 9 therefore, and Anguish upon every Soul of Man that doth evil; of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile. Gal. 3. 10. Jam. 2. 9, 10.

And observe, The Law leaveth thee not to thy Choice, when, or when not, to begin to keep it; but requireth thy Obedience, so soon as concerned, exactly, both as to the Matter and Manner, and that before thou hast sinned against it; for the first Sin breaks the Law. Now, if thou sinnest before thou Joh. 3. 18 beginnest to do, thou art found by the Law a Transgressor, and so standest by that convicted of Sin: So then, all thy after-Acts of Righteousness, is but the Righteousness of a Sinner, of one whom the Law hath condemned already. The Law is spiritual, Rom. 7. but thou art carnal, sold under sin. 14.

Besides, the Law being absolutely perfect, doth not only respect the Matter and Manner, as to outward Acts; but also the Rise and Root, the HEART, from whence they flow; and an Impediment there spoils all were the executive part never so good: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all Mark 12. thy Heart, with all thy Soul, with all thy 30. Mind, and with all thy Strength. Mark the Repetition, with all, with all, with all, with all; with all thy Heart, with all thy Soul, in all things, at all times, else thou hadst as good do nothing: But every imagi- Gen. 6. 5. nation of the thought of the heart of man, is only evil continually. The Margin hath it the whole imagination, the purposes and desires; so that a good Root is here wanting. The heart is deceitful above all things, and Jer. 17. 9. desperately wicked; who can know it? What Thoughts, Words, or Actions can be clean, sufficiently to answer a perfect Law, that flows from this Original; it is impossible. Men must therefore be Justified from the Curse, in the sight of God, while Sinners in themselves.

But further yet to open the Case: There are several things that make it impossible that a Man should stand Just in the sight of God, but while sinful in himself.

First,

First, Becauſe the Law under which he at preſent ſtands, holds him under the Dominion of Sin; for Sin, by the Law, hath Dominion over all that are under the Law; Dominion, I ſay, both as to Guilt and Filth. Guilt hath Dominion over him, becauſe he is under the Curſe: And Filth, becauſe the Law giveth him no power, neither can he by it deliver his Soul. And for this Cauſe it is, that it is called beggerly, weak, unprofitable; impoſing Duty, but giving no Strength; expecting the Duty ſhould be compleat, yet bendeth not the Heart to do the Work; to do it, I ſay, as is required: And hence it is again, that it is called, a void of Words; for as Words that are barely ſuch, are void of Spirit, and quickening Life; ſo are the Impoſitions of the Law of Works. Thus far therefore the Man remains a Sinner. But,

Rom. 6. 14. Gal. 3. 2. Chap. 4. 9. Rom. 8. 3. Heb. 12. 14.

Secondly, The Law is ſo far from giving Life or Strength to do it, that it doth the quite contrary. For,

1. It weakeneth, it diſcourageth, and diſheartneth the Sinner; eſpecially when it ſhews it ſelf in its Glory; for then it is the Miniſtration of Death, and killeth all the World: When Iſrael ſaw this, they fled from the Face of God: They could not endure that which was commanded: Yea, ſo terrible was the Sight, that Moſes ſaid, I exceedingly fear and quake: Yea, almoſt forty Years after, Moſes ſtood amazed, to find himſelf and Iſrael yet alive: Did ever People (ſaid he) hear the Voice of God ſpeaking out of the midſt of the Fire, as thou haſt done, and live?

Exod. 20. 18, 19. Heb. 12. 20, 21. Deut. 4. 32, 33.

Alas, he who boaſteth himſelf in the Works of the Law, he doth not hear the Law: When that ſpeaks, it ſhakes Mount Sinai, and writeth Death upon all Faces; and makes the Church it ſelf cry out, A Mediator! elſe we die.

Exod. 20. 19. Deut. 5. 25, 26, 27. Chap. 18. 15, 19.

2. It doth not only thus diſcourage, but abundantly encreaſeth every Sin.

1. Sin takes the Advantage of Being, by the Law; the Motions of Sin, are by the Law. Where no Law is, there is no Tranſgreſſion.

Rom. 7. 5 Ch. 4. 15

2. Sin takes an Occaſion to live by the Law. When the Commandment came, Sin revived; for without the Law, Sin is dead.

Chap. 7. 8, 9.

3. Sin takes an Occaſion to multiply by the Law: The Law entred, that the Offence might abound.

Rom. 5. 20.

4. And the ſtrength of Sin is the Law.

1 Cor. 15. 56.

5. Sin by the Commandment is become outragious, exceeding ſinful. What ſhall we ſay then? Is the Law Sin? God forbid: Yea, I had not known Sin, but by the Law; for I had not known Luſt, except the Law had ſaid, Thou ſhalt not Covet: But Sin taking Occaſion by the Commandment, wrought in me all Manner of Concupiſcence; for without the Law, Sin is dead.

Rom. 7. 7, 8.

Theſe Things then, are not infuſed, or operated by the Law, from its own Nature, or Doctrine; but are occaſioned by the meeting of, and having to do with a Thing directly oppoſite. The Law is Spiritual, I am Carnal: Therefore, every Impoſition is rejected, and rebelled againſt. Strike a Steel againſt a Flint, and the Fire flies about you: Strike the Law againſt a carnal Heart, and Sin appears, Sin multiplies, Sin rageth, Sin is ſtrengthened. And hence ariſeth all theſe Doubts, Murmurings, and ſinful Complainings that are found in the Hearts of the People of God; they have too much to do with the Law; the Law of Works is now in the Conſcience, impoſing Duty upon the Carnal Part: This is the Reaſon of the Noiſe that you hear, and of the Sin that you ſee, and of the Horror that you feel in your own Souls when tempted. But to paſs this Digreſſion.

The Law then having to do with carnal Men, by this they become worſe Sinners than before; for their Heart now recoileth deſperately; oppoſeth blaſphemouſly; it giveth Way to Deſpair; and then, to conclude, there is no Hope for hereafter; and ſo goeth on in a ſordid, ungodly Courſe of Life, till his Time is come to die, and be damned, unleſs a Miracle of Grace prevents. From all this I conclude, That a Man cannot ſtand juſt from the Curſe, in the Sight of God, but while ſinful in himſelf. But,

Thirdly, As the Law giveth neither Strength nor Life to keep it; ſo it neither giveth nor worketh Repentance unto Life, if thou break it: Do this and live, break it and die; this is the Voice of the Law: All the Repentance that ſuch Men have, it is but that of themſelves; the Sorrow of the World, that endeth in Death, as Cain's and Judas's did; even ſuch a Repentance as muſt be repented of, either here, or in Hell-fire.

2 Cor. 7. 10.

Fourthly, As it giveth none, ſo it accepteth none of them that are under the Law: Sin, and die, is for ever its Language; there is no Middle-way in the Law: They muſt bear their Judgment, whoſoever they be, that ſtand and fall to the Law. Therefore Cain was a Vagabond ſtill, and Judas hangeth himſelf; their Repentance could not ſave them, they fell headlong under the Law: The Law ſtays no Man from the due Reward of his Deeds; it hath no Ears to hear, nor Heart to pity its penitent Ones.

Gal. 5. 9. Gen. 4. 9, 10, 11. Mat. 27. 3.

Fifthly, By the Law, God will ſhew no Mercy: For, I will be merciful to their Unrighteouſneſs, is the Tenor of another Covenant: But by the Law, I regard them not, ſaith the Lord. For,

Heb. 8. 9, 10, &c.

Sixthly, All the Promiſes annexed to the Law, are by the firſt Sin null and void: Though then a Man ſhould live a thouſand Years twice told, and all that while fulfill fulfill the Law; yet having sinned first, he is not at all the better. Our Legalists then, begin to talk too soon, of having Life by the Law: Let them first begin without Sin, and so throughout, continue to Death; and then if God will save them, not by Christ, but Works, contrary to the Covenant of Grace, they may hope to go to Heaven.

But Lastly, to come close to the Point: Thou hast sinned: The Law now calls for Passive, as well as Active Obedience; yea, great Contentedness in all thou sufferest, for thy transgressing against the Law. So then, Wilt thou live by the Law? Fulfill it then perfectly till Death, and afterwards go to Hell, and be Damned, and abide there till the Law and Curse for thy Sin be satisfied for; and then, but not till then, thou shalt have Life by the Law.

Tell me now, you that desire to be under the Law, can you fulfill all the Commands of the Law, and after answer all its Demands? Can you grapple with the Judgment of God? Can you wrestle with the Almighty? Are you stronger than he that made the Heavens, and that holdeth Angels in everlasting Chains? Can thine Heart endure, or Ezek. 22. 14. can thy Hands be strong in the Day that I shall deal with thee? I, saith the Lord, have spoken it; I will do it? Oh, it cannot be! These Mat. 25. 46. must go away into everlasting Punishment. So then, Men must stand Just from the Curse, in the sight of God, while Sinners in themselves, or not at all.

Object. But the Apostle saith, That the Rom. 2. 13. Doers of the Law shall be justified. Plainly intimating, That, notwithstanding all you say, some by doing the Law, may stand Just before God thereby; and if so, then Christ fulfilled it for us, but as our Example.

Answ. The Consequences are not true; for by these Words, [The Doers of the Law shall be justified,] there is no more Proof of a Possibility of saving thy self by the Law, Gal. 2. 16. than there is by these: For by the Works of the Law shall no Man living be justified in his sight. The Intent then of the Text objected, is not to prove a Possibility of Man's Salvation by the Law, but to insinuate rather an Impossibility, by asserting what Perfections the Law requireth. And were I to argue against the pretended Sufficiency of Man's own Righteousness, I would choose to frame mine Argument upon such a Place as this: The bearers of the Law are not Just before God: Therefore the Breakers of the Law are not Just before God; not Just, I say, by the Law; but all have sinned, and broken the Law, therefore none by the Law are Just before God: For if all stand guilty of Sin by the Law; then that Law that judgeth them Sinners, cannot Justifie them before God. And what if the Apostle had said, Blessed are they that continue in all Things; instead of pronouncing a Curse for the contrary? The Conclusion had been the same: For where the Blessing is pronounced, he is not the better that breaks the Condition; and where the Curse is pronounced, he is not the worse that keeps it: But neither doth the Blessing nor Curse in the Law, intend a Supposition, That Men may be Just by the Law; but rather, to shew the Perfection of the Law; and that though a Blessing be annexed thereto, no Man by it can obtain that Blessing: For not the Hearers of the Law are justified before God; but the Doers, when they do it, shall be justified: None but Doers can by it be Just before God; but none do the Law, no, not Rom. 3. 10, 11. one; therefore none by it can stand Just before God.

And whereas it is said, Christ kept the Law, as our Example, that we by keeping it, might get to Heaven, as he; it is false, (as afore was shewed,) He is the End of the Rom. 10. 3, 4. Law (or, hath perfectly finished it) for Righteousness to every one that believeth.

But a little to travel with this Objection: No Man can keep the Moral Law, as Christ, unless he be first without Sin, as Christ; unless he be God and Man, as Christ.

And again: Christ cannot be our Pattern in keeping the Law for Life, because of the disproportion that is between him and us; for if we do it as he, when yet we are weaker than he; what is this but to out-vie, out-do, and go beyond Christ? Wherefore, we, not he, have our Lives Exemplary; Exemplary, I say to him; for who doth the greatest Work, they that take it in Hand in full strength, as Christ; or he that takes it in Hand in weakness, as we? Doubtless the last, if he fulfills it as Christ. So then, by this Doctrine, while we call our selves his Scholars, we make our selves indeed the Masters. But I challenge all the Angels in Heaven, let them but first sin, as we have done, to fulfill the Law, as Christ, if they can.

But again: If Christ be our Pattern in keeping the Law for Life, from the Curse before God, then Christ fulfilled the Law for himself; if so, he was imperfect before Dan. 9. 26. he fulfilled it: And how far short this is of Isa. 53. 8, 9, 10. Blasphemy, let sober Christians judge: For the Righteousness he fulfilled, was to justifie from Sin; but if it was not to justifie us from ours, you know what remaineth.

But when must we conclude we have kept the Law? Not when we begin, because we have sinned first; nor when we are in the Middle, for we may afterwards miscarry. But what if a Man, in this his Progress, hath one sinful Thought? I Query, Is it possible to come up to the Pattern for Justification with God? If yea, then Christ had such; if no, then who can fulfill the Law as he?

But should I grant that which is indeed impossible; namely, That thou art justified by the Law: What then? Art thou now in the Favour of God? No, thou art fallen, by this thy Perfection, from the Love and Mercy of God: Whoſoever of you are juſti-

Gal. 5. 4, 5. fied by the Law, are fallen from Grace. He ſpeaks not this to them that are doing, but to ſuch as think they have done it; and ſhews, that the Bleſſing that theſe have got thereby, is to fall from the Favour of God: Being fallen from Grace, Chriſt profits them nothing, and ſo they ſtill ſtand Debtors to do the whole Law.

So then they muſt not be ſaved by God's Mercy, nor Chriſt's Merits, but alone by the Works of the Law. But what ſhould ſuch Men do in that Kingdom that comes by Gift, where Grace and Mercy reigns? Yea, what ſhould they do among that Company that are ſaved alone by Grace, through the Redemption that is in Jeſus Chriſt?
Gal. 4. 30. Let them go to that Kingdom that God hath prepared for them that are fallen from Grace. Caſt out the Bond-woman, with her Son; for he ſhall not be Heir with the Son of the Promiſe.

But to paſs this Objection: Before I come to the next Reaſon, I ſhall yet, for the further clearing of this, urge theſe Scriptures more. The firſt is that in Gal. 3. Ver. 10. As many as are of the works of the Law, are under the Curſe. Behold, how boldly Paul aſſerts it! And obſerve it, he ſaith not here, So many as ſin againſt the Law, (though that be true;) but, As many as are of the WORKS of the Law. But what then are the Works of the Law? Not Whoredom, Murther, Theft, and the like; but Works that are holy and good; the Works commanded in the Ten Commandments; as to love God; abhor Idols; Reverence the Name of God; Keeping the Sabbath; Honouring thy Parents; Abſtaining from Adultery, Murther, Theft, Falſe Witneſs; and not to covet what is thy Neighbours: Theſe are the Works of the Law. Now he (ſaith Paul) that is OF theſe, is under the Curſe of God: But what is it then to be OF theſe? Why, to be found in the Practice of them, and there reſting; this is the Man that is under the Curſe: Not becauſe the Works of the Law are wicked in themſelves; but becauſe
Rom. 2. 17. the Man that is in the Practice of them, comes ſhort of anſwering the Exactneſs of them; and therefore dies for his Imperfections.

The Second Scripture, is that of the Twelfth Verſe of the ſame Chapter. But that no Man is juſtified by the Law, in the ſight of God, is evident: For, The Juſt ſhall live by Faith. Theſe Words, The Juſt ſhall live by Faith, are taken out of the Old Teſtament, and are thrice uſed by this Apoſtle in the New.

1. To ſhew, That nothing of the Goſpel can be apprehended, but by Faith: For
Rom. 1. 17. therein is the Righteouſneſs of God revealed from Faith to Faith: As it is written, The Juſt ſhall live by Faith. Heb. 10. 38.

2. To ſhew, That the Way to have Relief and Succour under Temptation, is then to live by Faith: Now the Juſt ſhall live by Faith.

3. But in this of the Galatians, it is urged to ſhew, That how Holy and Juſt ſoever Men be in themſelves; yet, as ſuch, they are Dead, and condemned to Death by the Law, before God. But that no Man is Juſtified by the Law, in the ſight of God, is evident; for, The Juſt ſhall live by Faith.

The Word [JUST] therefore, in this Place, in ſpecial, reſpecteth a Man that is Juſt, or that ſo eſteems himſelf by the Law; and is here conſidered in a double Capacity.

Firſt, What he is before Men.

Secondly, What he is before God.

1. As he ſtands before Men, he is Juſt by the Law; as Paul before his Converſion. Phil. 3. 4.

2. As he ſtands in the ſight of God; ſo (without the Faith of Chriſt) he cannot be Juſt: As is evident; for, The Juſt ſhall live, not by his Juſtice, or Righteouſneſs by the Law.

This is the true Intent of this Place.

1. Becauſe they carry with them a Suppoſition, That the Juſt here intended, may be excluded Life, he falling within the Rejection aſſerted within the firſt Part of the Verſe. No Man is Juſt by the Law, in the ſight of God: For, The Juſt ſhall live by Faith: His Juſtice cannot make him live, he muſt live by the Faith of Chriſt. Again,

2. The Words are a Reaſon diſſwaſive, urged to put a ſtop to thoſe that are ſeeking Life by the Law; as if the Apoſtle had ſaid, Ye Galatians! What are you doing? Would you be ſaved by Keeping the Law? Would you ſtand Juſt before God thereby? Do you not hear the Prophets, how they preſs Faith in Jeſus, and Life by Faith in him? Come, I will reaſon with you.

1. By Way of Suppoſition: Were it granted that you all loved the Law; yet that, for Life, will avail you nothing: For, the Juſt ſhall live by Faith.

2. Were it granted that you kept the Law, and that no Man on Earth could accuſe you; were you therefore Juſt before God? No: Neither can you live by Works before him; for, the Juſt ſhall live by Faith. Why not live before him? Becauſe when we have done our beſt, and are applauded of all the World for Juſt; yet then God ſees Sin in our Hearts: He putteth no Truſt in his Saints; yea, the Heavens are not clean Job 4. 18.
in his ſight. There is then a Juſt Man that Chap. 15.
periſheth in his Righteouſneſs, if he want 15.
the Faith of Chriſt: For that no Man is Juſtified by the Law, in the ſight of God, is evident; for, the JUST ſhall live by Faith;

Faith; and the Law is not of Faith.

Gal. 2. 15, 16. The Third Scripture is this: We who are Jews by Nature, and not Sinners of the Gentiles, knowing that a Man is not justified by the Works of the Law, but by the Faith of Jesus Christ; even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the Faith of Christ, and not by the Works of the Law; for by the Works of the Law shall no Flesh be justified.

These Words are the result of the experienced Christians in the Primitive Times; yea, of those among them, that had given up themselves before to the Law, to get Life and Heaven thereby; the result, I say, of believing Jews: We who are Jews by Nature. But how are they distinguished from the Gentiles? Why, they are such

Rom. 2. 17, 18, 19. that rest in the Law, and make their boast of God; that know his Will, and approve the Things that are excellent; that are Guides to the Blind, and a Light to them that are in Darkness; that are Instructers of the Foolish, Teachers of Babes; and which have the form of Knowledge, and of the Truth of the Law.

How far these attained, we find by that

Luke 18. 11, 12. of the Pharisee; I Pray, I Fast, I give Tithes of all: And by the Young-man in the Gospel; All these have I kept from my

Phil. 3. youth up: And by that of Paul; Touching the Righteousness which is in the Law, blameless. This was the Jew by Nature; to do, and trust in this. Now these attaining afterwards the sound Knowledge of Sin, the Depravedness of Nature, and the Exactions of the Law, fled from the Command of the Law, to the Lord Jesus for Life: WE know it; We that are taught of God, and that have found it by sad experience; We, even We, have believed in Jesus Christ; that we might be justified by the Faith of Christ, and not by the Works of the Law.

Surely, if Righteousness had come by the Law, Paul and the Jews had found it, they being by many Priviledges far better than the Sinners of the Gentiles: But these, when they received the Word of the Gospel, even these now fly to Christ from the Law, that they might be justified by the Faith of Christ, and not by the Works of the Law.

To conclude this: If righteous Men, through the Knowledge of the Gospel, are made to leave the Law of God, as despairing of Life thereby; surely Righteousness is not to be found in the Law; I mean, that which can justifie thee before God from the Curse, who livest and walkest in the Law.

I shall therefore end this Second Reason with what I have said before: Men must be justified from the Curse, in the sight of God, while sinful in themselves.

The third Reason.

Thirdly, Another Reason why not one under Heaven can be justified by the Law, or by his own personal Performances to it, is, Because since Sin was in the World, God hath rejected the Law, and the Works thereof, for Life. Rom. 7. 10.

'Tis true, before Man had sinned, it was ordained to be unto Life; but since, and because of Sin, God of Love gave the Word of Grace. Take the Law then as God hath established it, to wit, to condemn all Gal. 3. 21. Flesh; and then there is room for the Promise, and the Law; the one to kill, the other to heal: And so the Law is not against Rom. 4. the Promises; but make the Law a Justifier, 14. and Faith is made void; and the Promise is made of none Effect; and the everlasting Gospel, by so doing, thou endeavourest to root out of the World.

Methinks, since it hath pleased God to reject the Law, and the Righteousness thereof for Life; such Dust and Ashes as we are should strive to consent to his holy Will; especially when in the room of this of Works, there is established a better Covenant, and that upon better Promises.

The Lord hath rejected the Law, for the weakness and unprofitableness thereof: For (finding fault with them of the Law,) The Heb. 8. 7, 8. Days come, saith the Lord, that I will make a new Covenant with the house of Israel, &c. Give God leave to find fault with us, and to condemn our personal Performances to Death, as to our Justification before him thereby: Let Him do it, I say; and the rather, because he doth by the Gospel present us with a better; And certainly, if ever he be pleased with us, it will be when he findeth us in that Righteousness that is of his own appointing.

To conclude: Notwithstanding all that hath or can be said, there are six Things that have great Power with the Heart, to bend it to seek Life before God by the Law: Of all which I would Caution that Soul to beware, that would have Happiness in another World.

First, Take heed thou be not made to seek to the Law for Life, because of that Name and Majesty of God which thou findest Ex. 20. 1. upon the Doctrine of the Law. God indeed spake all the Words of the Law, and delivered them in that Dread and Majesty to Men, that shook the Hearts of all that heard it. Now this is of great Authority with some, even to seek for Life and Bliss Joh. 9. 28, by the Law: We know (said some) that God 29. spake to Moses: And Saul rejected Christ, even of Zeal towards God. What Zeal? Act. 22. 3. Zeal towards God according to the Law; Gal. 2. 20. which afterwards he left and rejected, because he had found out a better Way. The Life that he once lived, it was by the Law; but afterwards, saith he, The Life that I NOW live, it is by Faith, by the Faith of Jesus Christ. So that, though the Law was the Appointment of God, and had also his Name and Majesty upon it; yet yet now he will not live by the Law. Indeed, God is in the Law; but yet only as Juſt and Holy, not as Gracious and Merciful; ſo he is only in Jeſus Chriſt: The Law (the Word of Juſtice) was given by Moſes, but Grace and Truth came by Jeſus Chriſt: Wherefore, whatever of God thou findeſt in the Law; yet ſeeing Grace and Mercy is not there, let neither the Name of God, nor that Majeſty that thou findeſt of him in the Law, prevail with thee to ſeek Life by all the holy Commands of the Law.

Joh. 1.17.

Secondly, Take heed that the Law, by taking hold on thy Conſcience, doth not make thee ſeek Life by the Law. The Heart of Man is the Seat of the Law: This being ſo, the Underſtanding and Conſcience muſt needs be in Danger of being bound by the Law: Man is a Law unto himſelf, and ſheweth that the Works of the Law are written in his Heart. Now the Law being thus nearly related to Man, it eaſily takes hold of the Underſtanding and Conſcience: By which Hold, if it be not quickly broken off by the Promiſe and Grace of the Goſpel, it is captivated to the Works of the Law: For Conſcience is ſuch a Thing, that if it once be poſſeſſed with a Doctrine, yea, though but with the Doctrine of an Idol, it will cleave ſo faſt thereto, that nothing but an Hand from Heaven can looſen it; and if it be not looſed, no Goſpel can be there embraced. Conſcience is Little-eaſe, if Men reſiſt it, whether it be rightly or wrongly informed: How faſt then will it hold, when it knows it cleaves to the Law of God? Upon this Account the Condition of the Unbeliever is moſt miſerable: For not having Faith, in the Goſpel of Grace, through which is tendred the Forgiveneſs of Sins; they like Men a drowning, hold faſt that they have found; which being the Law of God, they follow it; but becauſe Righteouſneſs flies from them, they at laſt are found only accurſed, and condemned to Hell by the Law: Take heed therefore, that thy Conſcience be not entangled by the Law.

Rom. 2. 13, 14, 15.

1 Cor. 8. 6, 7.

Rom. 9. 31, 32.

Thirdly, Take heed of fleſhly Wiſdom. Reaſoning ſuiteth much with the Law: I thought verily that I ought to do many Things againſt the Name of Jeſus, and ſo to have ſought for Life by the Law; my Reaſon told me ſo: For thus will Reaſon ſay; Here is a Righteous Law, the Rule of Life and Death: Beſides, What can be better than to love God, and my Neighbour as my ſelf? Again, God hath thus commanded, and his Commands are Juſt and Good: Therefore, doubtleſs, Life muſt come by the Law. Further, to love God, and keep the Law, are better than to ſin, and break it: And ſeeing Men loſt Heaven by Sin, how ſhould they get it again but by working Righteouſneſs? Beſides, God is Righteous, and will therefore bleſs the Righteous. Oh, the Holineſs of the Law! It mightily ſwayeth with Reaſon, when a Man addicteth himſelf to Religion: The Light of Nature teacheth, that Sin is not the Way to Heaven; and ſeeing no Word doth more condemn Sin, than the Words of the Ten Commandments; it muſt needs be therefore the moſt perfect Rule for Holineſs: Wherefore, ſaith Reaſon, the ſafeſt Way to Life and Glory, is, to keep my ſelf cloſe to the Law. But a little here to correct: Though the Law indeed be Holy, yet the Miſtake as to the Matter in Hand, is as wide as the Eaſt from the Weſt: For therefore the Law can do thee no good, becauſe it is Holy and Juſt: For what can he that hath ſinned expect from a Law that is Holy and Juſt? Nought but Condemnation: Let them lean to it while they will, there is one that accuſeth you (ſaith Chriſt) even Moſes in whom you truſt.

Joh. 5. 45.

Fourthly, Man's Ignorance of the Goſpel, ſuiteth well with the Doctrine of the Law: They, through their being ignorant of God's Righteouſneſs, fall in Love with that. Yea, they do not only ſuit, but, when joyned in Act, the one ſtrengthneth the other; that is, the Law ſtrengthneth our Blindneſs, and bindeth the Vail more faſt about the Face of our Souls. The Law ſuiteth much our Blindneſs of Mind: For until this Day remains the Vail untaken away, in the reading of the Old Teſtament; eſpecially in the reading of that which was written and ingraven in Stones, to wit, the Ten Commandments, that perfect Rule for Holineſs; which Vail is done away in Chriſt. But even to this Day, when Moſes is read, the Vail is over their Hearts: They are blinded by the Duties enjoyned by the Law, from the Sight and Hopes of Forgiveneſs of Sins by Grace: Nevertheleſs, when IT (the Heart) ſhall turn to the Lord, the Vail ſhall be taken away. The Law then doth vail the Heart from Chriſt; and holds the Man ſo down to doing, and working for the Kingdom of Heaven, that he quite forgets the Forgiveneſs of Sins, by Mercy through Chriſt. Now this Vailing, or Blinding by the Law, is occaſioned,

Rom. 10. 1, 2, 3, 4.

2 Cor. 3. 15, 16.

1. By Reaſon of the Contrariety of Doctrine that is in the Law, to that which was in the Goſpel. The Law requireth Obedience to all its Demands, upon pain of everlaſting Burnings: The Goſpel promiſeth Forgiveneſs of Sins to him that worketh not but Believeth. Now the Heart cannot receive both theſe Doctrines; it muſt either let go Doing, or Believing: If it Believe, it is dead to Doing; if it be ſet to Doing for Life, it is dead to Believing, Beſides, he that ſhall think both to Do, and Believe, for Juſtification before God from the Curſe, he ſeeks for Life but as it were by the Law; he ſeeks for Life but as it were by Chriſt; and he being not direct in neither, ſhall for certain be forſaken of either. Wherefore? Becauſe he

Rom. 9. 32.

he seeks it not by Faith, but as it were, by the Works of the Law.

2. The Law vails and blinds, by that Guilt and Horror for Sin that seizeth the Soul by the Law: For Guilt, when charged close upon the Conscience, is attended with such Aggravations, and that with such Power and Evidence, that the Conscience cannot hear, nor see, nor feel any Thing else but that. When David's Guilt, for Murther and Blood, did roar by the Law in his Conscience, notwithstanding he knew much of the Grace of the Gospel, he could hear nothing else but Terror, the sound of Blood; the Murther of Uriah was the only Noise that he heard: Wherefore he crieth to God, that he would MAKE him hear
Psal. 51.8. the Gospel: MAKE me (saith he) to hear Joy and Gladness, that the Bones which thou hast broken may rejoyce. And as he could not hear, so neither could he SEE; the Law had struck him Deaf and Blind: I am (saith he) not able to look up; not up to Christ for Mercy: As if David had said, "O Lord, the Guilt of Sin, which is by "the Law, makes such a Noise and Hor- "ror in my Conscience, that I can nei- "ther hear nor see the Word of Peace, "unless 'tis spoke with a Voice from Heaven!"
Num. 21. 6. The Serpents that bit the People in the Days of Old, were Types of Guilt and Sin: Now these were fiery Serpents, and such as (I
* Isa. 14. 29. think) could * Fly: Wherefore, in my
Joh. 3.14. Judgment, they stung the People about their Faces, and so swelled up their Eyes; which made it the more difficult for them to look up to the brazen Serpent, which was the Type of Christ. Just so doth Sin by the Law do now; it stings the Soul, the very Face of the Soul; which is the Cause that looking up to Jesus, or believing in him, is so difficult a Task in Time of Terror of Conscience.

3. This is not only so at present; but so long as Guilt is on the Conscience, so long remains the Blindness: For Guilt standing before the Soul, the Grace of God is intercepted, even as the Sun is hid from the sight of mine Eyes, by the Cloud that cometh
Psal. 51.3. between: My Sin (said David) is ever before me; and so kept other Things out of his Sight: Sin, I say, when applied by the Law. When the Law came to Paul, he
Act. 9. remained without sight, until the good Man came unto him with the Word of Forgiveness of Sins.

4. Again, where the Law comes with Power, there it begetteth many Doubts against the Grace of God; for it is only a Revealer of Sin, and the Ministration of Death; that is, a Doctrine that sheweth Sin, and condemneth for the same: Hence therefore, as was hinted before, the Law being the Revealer of Sin; where that is embraced, there Sin must needs be discovered and condemned, and the Soul for the sake of that. Further, it is not only a Revealer of Sin, but that which makes it abound: So that the closer any Man sticks to the Law for Life, the faster Sin doth cleave to him. That Law (saith Paul) which was ordained to be unto Life, I found to be unto Death; for by the Law I became a notorious Sinner; I thought to have obtained Life, by obeying the Law, but Sin taking Occasion by the Commandment, deceived me, and thereby slew me. A strange way of Deceiveableness, and it is hid from the most of Men; but, as I have already told you, you see how it comes to pass. Rom. 7. 10 to 14.

1. Man by Nature is Carnal, and the Law it self is Spiritual: Now betwixt these two ariseth great difference; the Law is exceeding good, the Heart exceeding bad; these two Opposites therefore (the Heart so abiding) can by no means agree.

2. Therefore, at every Approach of the Law to the Heart, with intent to impose Duty, or to condemn for the Neglect thereof; at every such Approach the Heart starteth back, especially when the Law comes home indeed, and is heard in his own Language. This being thus, the Conscience perceiving this is a Fault, begins to tremble at the Sense of Judgment; the Law still continueth to command to Duty, and to condemn for the neglect thereof: From this struggling of these two Opposites, ariseth, I say, those Doubts and Fears that drive the Heart into Unbelief; and that makes it blind to the Word of the Gospel, that it can neither see nor understand any Thing, but that it is a Sinner, and that the Law must be fulfilled by it, if ever it be saved.

But again, Another Thing that hath great Influence upon the Heart, to make it lean to the Law for Life, is, the false Names that Satan and his Instruments have put upon it; such as these, to call the Law the Gospel; Conscience, the Spirit of Christ; Works, Faith; and the like: With these weak Consciences have been mightily pestered; yea, thousands deluded, and destroyed. This was the Way whereby the Enemy attempted to overthrow the Church of Christ of old; as namely, those in Galatia, and at Corinth, &c. I say, By the feigned Notion, 2 Cor. 11. 3, 4.— 13, 14.
that the Law was the Gospel, the Galatians were removed from the Gospel of Christ; and Satan by appropriating to himself and his Ministers, the Names and Titles of the Ministers of the Lord Jesus, prevailed with many at Corinth to forsake Paul and his Doctrine. Where the Lord Jesus hath been preached in Truth, and something of his Doctrine known; it is not there so easy to turn People aside from the sound of the Promise of Grace, unless it be by the noise and sound of A Gospel: Therefore, I say, the false Apostles came thus among the Churches; Another Gospel, Another Gospel; which in Truth, saith Paul, is not another; Gal. 1. 6, 7, 8.
but some would pervert the Gospel of Christ; and thrust that out of Doors, by guilding the Law with that glorious Name. So again, for the Miniſters of Satan, they muſt be called the Apoſtles of Chriſt, and Miniſters of Righteouſneſs? Which Thing, I ſay, is of great Force, eſpecially being accompanied with ſo holy and juſt a Doctrine as the Word of the Law is; for what better to the Eye of Reaſon, than to love God above all, and our Neighbour as our ſelves; which Doctrine being the Scope of the ten Words given on Sinai, no Man can contradict; for in Truth they are Holy and Good: But here is the Poyſon; To ſet this Law in the room of a Mediator, as thoſe do, that ſeek to ſtand juſt before God thereby; and then nothing is ſo diſhonourable to Chriſt, nor of ſo Soul-deſtroying a Nature as the Law; for that thus placed, hath not only Power when Souls are deluded; but Power to delude, by its real Holineſs, the Underſtanding, Conſcience and Reaſon of a Man; and by giving the Soul a ſemblance of Heaven, to cauſe it to throw away Chriſt, Grace and Faith. Wherefore it behoveth all Men to take heed of Names, and of Appearances of Holineſs and Goodneſs.

Laſtly, Satan will yet go further; he will make uſe of ſomething that may be at a Diſtance from a Moral Precept, and therewith bring Souls under the Law. Thus he did with ſome of old; he did not make the Galatians fall from Chriſt, by Virtue of one of the ten Words; but by ſomething that was aloof off, by Circumciſion, Days and Months: that were Levitical Ceremonies; for he knows it is no matter, nor in what Teſtament he found it, if he can therewith hide Chriſt from the Soul: Behold, I Paul ſay unto you, that if you be circumciſed, Chriſt ſhall profit you nothing; for I teſtifie again to every Man that is circumciſed, that he is a Debtor to the whole Law. Why ſo, ſeeing Circumciſion is not one of the ten Words? Why, becauſe they did it in Conſcience to God, to ſtand juſt before him thereby. Now here we may behold much cunning of the Devil; he begins with ſome at a Diſtance from that Law, which curſeth, and ſo by little and little bringeth them under it; even as by Circumciſion the Galatians were at length brought under the Law, that condemneth all Men to the Wrath and Judgment of God. I have often wondred, when I have read, how God crieth out againſt the Jews, for obſerving his own Commandment, (Iſai. 1.) but I perceive by Paul, that by theſe things a Man may reject and condemn the Lord Jeſus; which thoſe do, that for Life ſet up ought, whether Moral, or other Inſtitution, beſides the Faith of Jeſus.

Gal. 5. 2, 3.

Let Men therefore warily diſtinguiſh betwixt Names and Things; betwixt Statute and Commandment; leſt they by doing the one, tranſgreſs againſt the other. Study therefore the Nature and End of the Law, with the Nature and End of the Goſpel; and if thou canſt keep them diſtinct in thy Underſtanding and Conſcience, neither Names nor Things, neither Statutes nor Commandments, can draw thee from the Faith of the Goſpel. And that thou mayeſt yet be helped in this matter, I ſhall now come to ſpeak to the Second Concluſion.

2 Cor. 1. 19, 20.

The Second Poſition.

The Second Concluſion.

That Man can be juſtified from the Curſe before God, while Sinners in themſelves, by no other Righteouſneſs than that long ago performed by, and remaining with the Perſon of Chriſt.

For the better proſecuting of this Poſition, I ſhall obſerve two Things.

1. That the Righteouſneſs by which we ſtand juſt before God, from the Curſe, was performed by the Perſon of Chriſt.

2. That this Righteouſneſs is inherent only in him.

As to the Firſt of theſe, I ſhall be but brief.

Now, that the Righteouſneſs that juſtifieth us, was performed long ago by the Perſon of Chriſt, beſides what hath already been ſaid, is further manifeſt thus.

1. He is ſaid to have purged our Sins by HIMSELF: When he had by himſelf purged our Sins, he ſate down on the right Hand of God. I have ſhewed, that in Chriſt, for the accompliſhing of Righteouſneſs, there was both Doing and Suffering; Doing, to fulfill all the Commands of the Law; Suffering, to anſwer its Penalty for Sin: This Second is that which in this to the Hebrews, is in ſpecial intended by the Apoſtle; where he ſaith, he hath purged our Sins; that is, by his precious Blood; for 'tis that alone can purge our Sins, either out of the ſight of God, or out of the ſight of the Soul. Now this was done by HIMSELF, ſaith the Apoſtle; that is, in or by his perſonal Doings and Sufferings. And hence it is, that when God had rejected the Offerings of the Law, he ſaid, Lo, I come! A Body haſt thou prepared me, to do thy WILL, O God. Now by this Will of God (ſaith the Scripture) we are ſanctified. By what Will? Why, by the offering up of the Body of Jeſus Chriſt; for that was God's Will, that thereby we might be an Habitation for him: As he ſaith again: Jeſus alſo, that he might ſanctify the People with his own Blood, ſuffered without the Gate.

Heb. 1. 2. 3.

Heb. 9. 14.

Chap. 10. 5, 6, 7, 8.

Chap. 13. 12.

2. As it is ſaid, he hath purged our ſins by HIMSELF; ſo it was by himſelf at ONCE: For by one Offering hath he perfected for ever them that are ſanctified. Now by this Word, at ONCE, or, by one offering, is cut off all thoſe imaginary Sufferings of Chriſt, which fooliſh men conceive of; as, that he in all Ages hath ſuffered, or ſuffereth for Sin, in us. No; he did this Work but ONCE: Not that he ſhould offer himſelf often; as the High-Prieſt entred into the holy Place, every Year, with the Blood of others; for then muſt he often have ſuffered ſince the Foundation

Heb. 9. 25, 26.

tion of the World. But now ONCE in the End of the World (in the Time of Pilate) hath he appeared, to put away Sin by the Sacrifice of Himself. Mark how to the purpose the Holy Ghost expresseth it: He hath suffered but ONCE; and that ONCE, now; now ONCE: NOW he is God and Man in one Person: NOW he hath taken the BODY that was prepared of God: NOW ONCE, in the end of the World, hath he appeared, to put away Sin, by the Sacrifice of himself; by the offering up of the Body of Jesus Christ ONCE for all.

3. It further appears, in that by his Resurrection from the Dead, the Mercies of God are made sure to the Soul; God declaring by that, as was said before, how well pleased he is by the Undertaking of his Son, for the Salvation of the World: And as concerning that he raised him up from the Act. 13. 34. Dead, now no more to return to Corruption; he said on this wise, I will give thee the sure Mercies of David. For Christ being cloathed with Man's Flesh, and undertaking for Man's Sins, did then confirm all sure to us, by his Resurrection from the dead. So that by the rising of that Man again, Mercy and Grace are made sure to him that hath believed on Jesus. Wherefore, from these Things, together with what hath been discovered about his addressing himself to the Work, I conclude, That Men can be justified from the Curse before God, while Sinners in themselves, by no other Righteousness than that long ago performed by the Person of Christ. Now the Conclusion is true, from all shew of Contradiction; for the Holy Ghost saith, He hath done it; hath done it by himself, and that by the Will of God, at once, even then when he took the prepared Body upon him. By the Will of God we are sanctified, through the offering up of the Body of Jesus Christ once for all.

This being so, the Second Position is also manifest; namely, That the Righteousness, by which we stand just from the Curse before God, is only inherent in Jesus Christ. For if he hath undertaken to bring in a justifying Righteousness, and that by Works and Merits of his own, then that Righteousness must of necessity be inherent in him alone, and ours only by Imputation: And hence it is called, in that Fifth to the Romans, the Gift, the GIFT of Righteousness; because Rom. 5. 17. neither wrought nor obtained by Works of Isa. 61. 10. ours, but bestowed upon us, as a Garment already prepared by the Mercy of God in Christ.

There are four Things that confirm this for a Truth.

First, This Righteousness is said to be the Righteousness of ONE, not of many: I mean, of ONE properly and personally, as his own particular personal Righteousness. The Gift of Grace, which is the Gift of Rom. 5. 15, 16, 17, 18, 19. Righteousness, it is by ONE Man, Jesus Christ. Much more they that receive abundance of Grace, and of the Gift of Righteousness, shall reign in Life by ONE Jesus Christ: Therefore as by the Offence of one, Judgment came upon all to Condemnation; even so by the Righteousness of ONE, the Free Gift came upon all Men to Justification of Life: For as by one Man's Disobedience many were made Sinners; so by the Obedience of ONE, shall many be made Righteous. Mark, the Righteousness of ONE, the Obedience of ONE; the Righteousness of ONE Man, of one Man, Jesus. Wherefore, the Righteousness that justifieth a Sinner, it is personally and inherently the Righteousness of that Person only, who by Works and Acts of Obedience did compleat it, even the Obedience of one, of one Man, Jesus Christ; and so ours only by Imputation. It is improper to say, Adam's eating of the Forbidden Fruit, was personally and inherently an Act of mine: 'Twas personally his, and imputatively mine; personally his, because he did it; imputatively mine, because I was then in him. Indeed, the Effects of his personal Eating is found in my Person, to wit, Defilement and Pravity: The Effects also of the Imputation of Christ's personal Righteousness, is truly found in those that are in him, by Electing Love, and unfeigned Faith, even holy and heavenly Dispositions: But a Personal Act is one thing, and the Effects of that another: The Act may be done by, and be only inherent in one; the Imputation of the Merit of the Act, as also the Effects of the same, may be in a manner universal, extending itself unto the most, or all. This the Case of Adam and Christ doth manifest: The Sin of one is imputed to his Posterity; the Righteousness of the other, is reckoned the Righteousness of those that are his.

Secondly, The Righteousness by which we stand Just before God, from the Curse, is called, The Righteousness of the Lord: The Phil. 3. 6, 7, 8. Righteousness of God: The Righteousness of Jesus Christ, &c. And that by way of Opposition to the Righteousness of God's own Holy Law: That I might be found in him; not having on my own Righteousness, which is of the Law, but that which is through the Faith of Christ, the Righteousness which is of God by Faith. Now by this Opposition, (as by what was said before) the Truth is made exceeding clear: For by these Words, [not having my own Righteousness,] is not only excluded what Qualifications we suppose to be in us; but the Righteousness through which we stand Just in the Sight of God, by them is limited and confined to a Person absolutely distinct: Distinct, I say, as to his Person and Performances; who here is called GOD, and Jesus Christ: As he saith also in the Prophet Isaiah, In the Lord shall Isa. 45. 25. Ch. 54. 17. all the Seed of Israel be justified, and shall glory: In the Lord, not in the Law; in the Lord, not in themselves. And their Righteousness is of me, saith the Lord: Of

ME

ME, not of themſelves; of ME, not of the Law. And again, Surely ſhall one ſay, in the Ch. 45. 24. Lord have I Righteouſneſs and Strength. Now, as I have already ſaid, all this is to be underſtood of the Righteouſneſs that was fulfilled by Acts and Works of Obedience, which the Perſon of the Son of God accompliſhed in the Days of his fleſh in the World: By that Man, I ſay, The Lord our Righteouſ- Jer. 23. 6. neſs. Chriſt indeed is naturally and eſſentially Righteouſneſs; but as he is ſimply ſuch, ſo he juſtifieth no Man; for then he need not to bear our Sins in his Fleſh, and become obedient in all Points of the Law for us; but the Righteouſneſs by which we ſtand juſt before God, is a Righteouſneſs conſiſting of Works and Deeds, of the Doings and Sufferings of ſuch a Perſon who alſo is eſſentially Righteouſneſs. And hence, as before I have hinted, we are ſaid to be juſtified, by the Obedience and Blood of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, by the Doings and Sufferings of the Son of God. And hence again it is, that he firſt is called King of Righteouſneſs; that is, a King of Righteouſneſs, as God-Man, which of neceſſity ſuppoſeth his Perſonal Performances; and after Heb. 7. 1, 2, 3. that, King of Peace: for what he is naturally and eternally in his Godhead, he is not to us, but himſelf, but what he is actively, and by Works, he is not to himſelf, but to us: So then, he is neither King of Righteouſneſs, nor of Peace, to us, as he is only the eternal Son of the Father, without his being conſidered as our Prieſt and Undertaker; Heb. 9. 12. he hath obtained (by Works of Righteouſneſs) eternal Redemption for us. So then, the Righteouſneſs by which we ſtand Juſt before God, is a Righteouſneſs inherent (only) in Chriſt, becauſe a Righteouſneſs performed by him alone.

Now that Righteouſneſs by which we ſtand Juſt before God, muſt be a Righteouſneſs conſiſting of Perſonal Performances: The Reaſon is, becauſe Perſons had ſinned, this the nature of Juſtice requireth: 1 Cor. 15. 21. That ſince by Man came Death, by Man ſhould come alſo the Reſurrection from the dead. The Angels therefore, for this very Reaſon, abide under the Chains of Everlaſting Darkneſs; becauſe he took not hold Heb. 2. 16, 17. on them; that is, by fulfilling Righteouſneſs for them in their Nature: that is a Luk. 2. 11. bleſſed Word, To YOU, to YOU is born this Day in the City of David, a Saviour, which is Chriſt, the Lord: To YOU, not to Angels; to YOU is born a Saviour.

Thirdly, It is yet further evident, that the Righteouſneſs by which we ſtand Juſt before God from the Curſe, is a Righteouſneſs inherent, not in us, but Chriſt; becauſe it is a Righteouſneſs inherent, not in us, but Chriſt; becauſe it is a Righteouſneſs beſides, and without the Law it ſelf, now take away the Law, and you take away the Rule of Righteouſneſs. Again, take away the Rule, and the Act as to us muſt ceaſe: But now the Righteouſneſs Rom. 3. 21. of God without the Law, is manifeſted; being witneſſed by the Law and the Prophets. So then, by ſuch a Righteouſneſs we are juſtified, as is not within the Power of the Law to command of us.

Queſt. But what Law is that which hath not Power to command our Obedience, in the Point of our Juſtification with God?

Anſ. The Moral Law, or that called the Ten Commandments. Therefore we are neither commanded to love God, or our Neighbour, as the Means or Part of our Juſtifying Righteouſneſs: Nay, he that ſhall attempt to do theſe Things, to be delivered from the Curſe thereby, by the Scripture is holden accurſed of God: As many as Gal. 3. 10. are of the Works (or, Duties) of the Law, are under the Curſe, &c. Becauſe we are juſtified, not by that of the Law, but by the Righteouſneſs of God, without the Law; that is, without its commanding of us, without our Obedience to it: Freely by Rom. 3. 24, 25. his Grace, through the Redemption that is in Jeſus Chriſt; whom God hath ſet forth to be a Propitiation, through Faith in his Blood. This is the Righteouſneſs of God without the Law; that is, without any of our Obedience to the Law. Wherefore, the Righteouſneſs by which we ſtand Juſt in the Sight of God, cannot be inherent in us, but in Chriſt the King thereof.

Fourthly, This is further made apparent, by the Capacity that God will conſider that Soul in, to whom he imputeth Juſtifying Righteouſneſs; and that is, as one that work- Rom. 4. 4, 5. eth not, as one that ſtands ungodly in the Judgment of the Law. But this I have handled before, and therefore ſhall paſs it here.

Fifthly, To conclude: If any Works of ours could juſtifie us before God, they would be Works after Faith received; but it is evident that theſe do not: Therefore the Righteouſneſs that juſtifies us from the Curſe before God, is a Righteouſneſs inherent only in Chriſt.

That Works after Faith do not juſtifie us from the Curſe, in the Sight of God, is evident,

1. Becauſe no Works of the Saints can be juſtified by the Moral Law, conſidering it Gal. 3. 10. as the Law of Works for Life: For this muſt ſtand a Truth for ever: Whatſoever juſtifieth us, muſt be juſtified by the Moral Law? for that is it that pronounceth the Curſe; unleſs then that Curſe be taken away by the Work, the Work cannot juſti- Rom. 3. 21. fie us before God. But the Curſe cannot be taken away, but by a Righteouſneſs that is firſt approved of by that Law that ſo curſeth: For if that ſhall yet complain for want of a full Satisfaction, the Penalty remaineth: This is evident to Reaſon, and confirmed by the Authority of God's Word, as hath been already proved; becauſe the Law once broken, pronounceth Death, expecteth pecteth Death, and executeth the same on him that will stand to the Judgment of the Law: But no Work of a Believer, is capable of answering this Demand of the Law; therefore none of his Works can justify him before God; for the Law, that notwithstanding, complaineth.

2. No Works of Faith can justify us from the Curse before God; because of the want of Perfection that is in the greatest Faith in us. Now if Faith be not perfect, the Work cannot be perfect; I mean, with that Perfection, as to please Divine Justice: Consider the Person, one that hath to do with God immediately by himself. Now, that Faith is not capable of this kind of Perfection, it is evident; because when Men here know most, they know but in part: Now he that knows but in part, can do but in part; and he that doth but in part, hath a Part wanting in the Judgment of the Justice of God. So then, when thou hast done all thou canst, thou hast done but part of thy Duty, and so art short of Justification from the Curse, by what thou hast done. 1 Cor. 8.2. Ch. 13.12.

3. Besides, it looks too like a Monster, that the Works of Faith should justify us before God; because then Faith is turned, as it were, with its Neck behind it. Faith, in its own Nature and natural Course, respecteth the Mercy of God, through the Mediator Jesus Christ; and, as such, its Virtue and Excellency is to expect Justification by Grace, through him; but by this Doctrine, Faith is turned round about, and now makes a Life out of what it self hath done: But methinks Faith should be as noble as its Fruits; that being the First, and they but the Fruits of that.

Besides, seeing the Work is only good, because it floweth from Faith, (for Faith purifieth the Heart) therefore Faith is it that justifies all its Works: If then we be justified by either, it is by Faith, and not by his Works; unless we will say, there is more Virtue in the less than in the greater. Now what is Faith, but a believing, a trusting, or relying Act of the Soul? What then must it rely upon or trust in? Not in it self, that's without Scripture; not in its Works, they are inferiour to it self: Besides, this is the way to make even the Works of Faith the Mediator between God and the Soul, and so by them thrust Christ out of Doors: Therefore it must trust in Christ; and if so, then no Man can be justified from the Curse before God, by the Works that flow from Faith. Acts 15.9.

4. To put all out of Doubt; the Saint, when he hath done what he can to bring forth good Works by Faith; yet he dares not shew these Works before God, but as they pass through the Mediator, Christ; but as they are washed in the Blood of the Lamb. And therefore Peter saith, those Sacrifices of ours that are truly spiritual, are only then accepted of God, when offered up by Jesus Christ. And therefore it is said again, That the Prayers of the Saints, which are the Fruits of Faith, come up before the Throne of God, through the Angel's Hand; that is, through the Hand of Christ; through his Golden Censer, perfumed with his Incense, made acceptable by his Intercession. 1 Pet. 2.5. Rev. 8.3,4

It is said, in the Book of the Revelations, That it is granted to the Bride, the Lamb's Wife, that she should be arrayed in fine Linnen, clean and white; which white Linnen is the Righteousness of Saints. This fine Linnen, in my Judgment, is the Works of Godly Men, their Works that sprang from Faith. But how came they clean? How came they white? Not simply, because they were the Works of Faith. But mark, They washed their Robes, and made them white in the Blood of the Lamb; and therefore they stand before the Throne of God: Yea, therefore it is that their good Works stand there too. Rev. 7.14. 15.

I conclude then: Our Persons are justified, while we are Sinners in our selves: Our Works, even the Works of Faith, are no otherwise accepted, but as they come through Jesus Christ, even through his Intercession and Blood. So then, Christ doth justify both our Person and Works, not by way of Approbation, as we stand in our selves, or Works before God; but by presenting of us to his Father by himself; washing what we are and have from Guilt in his Blood, and cloathing us with his own Performances: This is the Cause of our Acceptance with God, and that our Works are not cast forth of his Presence.

The USE.

The First USE.

1. Is justifying Righteousness to be found in the Person of Christ only? Then this should admonish us, to take heed of seeking it in our selves; that is, of working Righteousness, thereby to appease the Justice of God; lest by so doing, we affront and blaspheme the Righteousness of Christ. He that shall go about to establish his own Righteousness; HE, as yet, doth Defiance to that which is of God; of God's appointing, of God's providing; and that only wherewith the Justice of the Law must be well-pleased. Wherefore, take heed, I say, of doing such a Thing, lest it provoke the Eyes of the Lord's Glory. When I shall say to the Righteous, that he shall surely live: If he trust to his own Righteousness, and commit Iniquity, all his Righteousness shall not be remembred; but for his Iniquity that he hath committed, he shall die for it. Mark, Though he be Righteous; yea, though he have a Promise of Life; yet he shall die. But why? Because he sinned against the Lord, by trusting to his own Righteousness, therefore he must die for it. Ezek. 33. 13.

There are some Things that will preserve a Man from splitting upon this Rock: As,

1. Get good Acquaintance with the Covenant of Grace, and of the Persons concerned in the Conditions of that Covenant. The Conditions (of that Covenant) are, That a Righteousness shall be brought into the World, that shall please the Justice of God, and answer (and so remove the Curse of) the Law. Now he that doth perform this Condition, is Christ; therefore the Covenant is not immediately with Man, but with him that will be the Mediator betwixt God and Man; As for thee, by the Blood of thy Covenant, (speaking of Christ.) So then, Christ, the Man Christ, is he who was to to bring in these Conditions, to wit, Everlasting Righteousness. And hence it is that God hath said, Christ shall be the Covenant OF the People; that is, he shall be our Conditions to God-ward: He therefore is all our Righteousness, as to the Point of our Justification before God; he is the Covenant OF the People, as well as the Light of the Gentiles: For as no Man can see, but in the Light of his Spirit; so no Man can stand, but in and by him: He is the Covenant of the People, the Conditions and Qualifications of the People: So that to God-ward, Christ is all in all, and no Man any Thing at all. He hath made with me an Everlasting Covenant; with me, as I stand in my Head, Christ, who, because he hath brought in Everlasting Righteousness, therefore hath removed the Curse of the Law: Wherefore he adds, this Covenant is ordered in all Things, and sure; because, all Points that concern me, as to Redemption from the Curse, are taken away by Christ, (as before is discoursed.) Look then upon Christ, as the Man, the Mediator, Undertaker and Accomplisher of that Righteousness in himself, wherein thou must stand Just before God; and that he is the Covenant, or Conditions OF the People, to God-ward; always having in himself the Righteousness that the Law is well-pleased with; and always presenting himself before God, as our only Righteousness.

2 Sam. 23. 5.

2. That this Truth may be the more heartily enquired into by thee, consider thine own Perfections; I say, study how polluted thou art, even from the Heart throughout: No Man hath an high Esteem of the Lord Jesus, that is a Stranger to his own Sore: Christ's Church is an Hospital of sick, wouuded and afflicted People; even as when he was in the World, the Afflicted and Distressed set the highest Price upon Jesus Christ. Why? They were sick, and he was the Physician; but the whole had no need of him. And just thus it is now: Christ is offered to the World, to be the Righteousness and Life of Sinners; but no Man will regard him, save he that seeth his own Pollution: He that seeth he cannot answer the Demands of the Law; he that sees himself from Top to Toe polluted; and that therefore his Service cannot be clean, as to justifie him from the Curse before God; he is the Man that must needs die in Despair, and be Damned: or must trust in Jesus Christ for Life.

Further, This Rule I would have all receive, that come to Jesus Christ for Life and Salvation.

1. Not to stick at the Acknowledgment of Sin, but to make that of it, which the Law makes of it: Acknowledge thine Iniquity, saith the Lord. This is a hard Pinch, (I know what I say,) for a Man to fall down under the Sense of Sin, by acknowledging them to be, what the Lord saith they are; to acknowledge them, I say, in their own defiling and polluting Nature; to acknowledge them in their unreasonable and aggravating Circumstances; to acknowledge them in their God-offending, and Soul-destroying Nature, especially when the Conscience is burthened with the Guilt of them. Yet this is Duty, If we confess our Sins, he is faithful and just to forgive: Yea, to this is annexed the Promise, He that confesseth, and forsaketh them shall find Mercy. This made David as it were, lay claim to the Mercy of God. Wash me thoroughly (said he) from mine Iniquity, and cleanse me from my Sin; for I acknowledge my Transgression, and my Sin is ever before me. Though then thou art to blush, and be ashamed, when thou remembrest thy Sins and Iniquities, yet do not hide them: He that hideth his Sins shall not prosper: Do not lessen them; do not speak of them before God after a mincing Way: Acknowledge thine Iniquities, that thou hast sinned against the Lord thy God; and hast scattered thy Ways to the Strangers, under every green Tree; and ye have not obeyed my Voice, saith the Lord.

Jer. 3. 13.

Jer. 3. 13.

2. If we would come to Christ aright, we must ONLY acknowledge our Sins; we must ONLY acknowledge them, and there stop; stop, I say, from attempting to do ought to present us good before God, but ONLY to receive the Mercy offered. ONLY acknowledge thine Iniquities: Men are subject to two Extreams; either to confess Sins Notionally, and by the Halves; or else, together with the Confession of them, to labour to do some holy Work, thereby to ease their burthened Conscience, and beget Faith in the Mercy of God. Now both these are dangerous, and very ungodly: Dangerous, because the Wound is healed falsely; and ungodly, because the Command is transgressed: Only acknowledge thy Sin, and there stand (as David) till thy Guilt is taken away. Joshua stood before the Angel, from Top to Toe in filthy Garments, till the Lord put other Cloaths upon him. In the Matter of thy Justification thou must know nothing, see nothing, hear nothing, but thine own Sins, and Christ's Righteousness: ONLY acknowledge thine Iniquities. Now the Saviour and the Soul comes rightly together; the Saviour to do his Work, which is to spread his Skirt over the Sinner; and the Sinner, to receive, by believing this blessed imputed Righteousness. And hence the Church, when she came to God, lyeth down in her Shame, and her Confusion covereth her; and so lyeth till Pardon comes. Jer. 3. 25.

to

The Second USE.

I come now to the Second USE; Have Faith in Christ. But what are we to understand by FAITH? The Second USE.

Answ. Faith importeth as much as to say, receive, embrace, accept of, or trust in the Benefit offered. All which are (by holy Men of God) Words used on purpose to shew that the Mercy of God, the Forgiveness of Sins, and Eternal Life, are not to be had by doing, or by the Law; but by receiving, embracing, accepting, or trusting to the Mercy of God, through Christ: We believe, that through the Grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, we shall be saved, even as they. Thus you see what the Gospel is, and what Faith doth do in the Salvation of the Soul. Joh. 1. 12. 2Cor. 4. 1. Col. 2. 6. Heb. 11. 13 2Cor. 11. 4 1 Tim. 1. 15. Ephes. 1. 12, 13. Acts 15. 11

Now, that Faith might be helped in this Work, (for great are they that oppose it) therefore the Scriptures (the Word of Truth) hath presented us with the Invitation, in most plain and suitable Sentences: As, That Christ came into the World to save Sinners: Christ died for our Sins: Christ gave himself for our Sins: Christ bare our Sins in his Body on the Tree: And, That God, for Christ's sake, hath forgiven you. Further, As the Invitations are plain and easy; so the Threatning to the Opposers are sore and astonishing: He that believeth not shall be damned: Because they received not the Love of the Truth, that they might be saved, God gave them up to strong Delusions, that they all might be damned. Mar. 16. 16. 2 Thes. 2. 10, 11, 12.

Object. But Faith is said to be an Act of Obedience.

Answ. 1. And well it may; for it is the most submitting Act that a Man can do; it throweth out all our Righteousness; it makes the Soul poor in it self; it liveth upon God and Christ, as the Alms-man doth upon his Lord; it consenteth to the Gospel, that it is true; it giveth God and Christ the Glory of their Mercy and Merit; it loveth God for his Mercy, and Jesus Christ for his Service; whatever Good it doth, it still cryeth, Hereby am I not justified; but he that justifieth me is the Lord.

Well, But is there in Truth such a thing as the Obedience of Faith? Then let Christians labour to understand it, and distinguish it aright; and to seperate it from the Law, and all Man's Righteousness; and remember, that it is a receiving of Mercy, an embracing of Forgiveness, an accepting of the Righteousness of Christ, and a trusting to these for Life. Remember again, that it putteth the Soul upon coming to Christ, as a Sinner; and to receive Forgiveness, as a Sinner; as such. We now treat of Justification.

But a little to insert at large a few more of the Excellencies of it, and so draw towards a Conclusion.

First, The more thou believest for Remission of Sins, the more of the Light of the glorious Gospel of Christ thou receivest into thy Soul: For therein is the Righteousness of God revealed, from Faith to Faith; that is, according to the Degree of Faith: Little Faith seeth but little, but great Faith seeth much; and therefore he saith again, That by Faith we have access into the Grace of God. The Reason is, Rom. 1. 16, 17. Chap. 5. 2.

1. Because Faith having laid hold upon Christ, hath found him in whom are hid all the Treasures of Wisdom and Knowledge: In him therefore it finds and sees those heights and depths of Gospel-Mysteries that are no where else to be found: Nay, let a Man be destitute of Faith, and it is not possible he should once think of some of them. Col. 2. 2, 3.

2. By this Means, the Holy Spirit is plentifully received. Now the Spirit of God, is a Spirit of Wisdom and Revelation; but yet so, as in the Knowledge of Christ; otherwise the Spirit will shew to Man not any mighty Thing; its great Delight being, to open Christ, and to reveal him unto Faith: Faith indeed can see him, for that is the Eye of the Soul; and the Spirit alone can reveal him, that being the Searcher of the deep Things of God: By these therefore the Mysteries of Heaven are revealed and received: And hence it is that the Mystery of the Gospel, is called, the Mystery of FAITH, or the Mystery with which Faith only hath to do. Wouldest thou then know the greatest Things of God? Accustom thy self to the Obedience of Faith; live upon thy justifying Righteousness. Gal. 3. 1, 2, 3. Eph. 1. 17. 1 Tim. 3. 9.

And never think, that to live always on Christ for Justification, is a low and beggerly Thing, and as it were, a staying at the Foundation: For let me tell you, Depart from a Sense of the meritorious Means of your Justification with God, and you will quickly grow light and frothy, and vain: Besides, you will always be subject to Errors and Delusions; for this is not to hold the Head from, or, through which Nourishment is administred. Further, No Man that buildeth, forsakes the good Foundation; that is the Ground of his Encouragement to work; for upon that is laid the stress of ALL; and without it, nothing that is framed can be supported, but must inevitably fall to the Ground. Again, Why not live upon Christ alway? And especially as he standeth the Mediator between God and the Soul; defending thee with the Merit of his Blood, and covering thee with his infinite Righteousness, from the Wrath of God, and Curse of the Law. Can there be any greater Comfort ministred to THEE, than to know thy Person stands Just before God? Col. 2. 19.

God? JUST, and juſtified from all Things that would otherwiſe ſwallow thee up? Is Peace with God, and Aſſurance of Heaven, of ſo little Reſpect with thee, that thou ſlighteſt the very Foundation thereof, even Faith in the Blood and Righteouſneſs of Chriſt? and are Notions and Whimſies of ſuch Credit with thee, that thou muſt leave the Foundation, to follow them? But again, What Myſtery is deſireable to be known, that is not to be found in Jeſus Chriſt, as Col.2.1,2. Rev. 3.7. Prieſt, Prophet, or King of Saints? In him is hid all the Treaſures of them, and he alone hath the Key of David to open them. Paul was ſo taken with Jeſus Chriſt, and the Knowledge of this, that he was Crucified 1 Cor.2.2. for us; that he deſired, nay determined not to know any Thing elſe among the Corinthians, that itcht after other Wiſdom.

Object. But I ſee not that in Chriſt now, that I have ſeen in him in former Days: Beſides, I find the Spirit lead me forth to ſtudy other Things.

Anſw. To the firſt Part of this Objection, I would anſwer ſeveral Things.

1. The Cauſe why thou ſeeſt not that in Chriſt now, which thou haſt ſeen in him in former Days, is not in Chriſt, but in thy Heb.1.11, 12. Faith: He is the ſame, as freſh, and as good, and as full of Bleſſedneſs, as when thou didſt moſt rejoice in him.

2. And why not now, as well as formerly? God is never weary of being delighted with Jeſus Chriſt; his Blood is always pre- Prov. 8. 30. cious with God: His Merits being thoſe in which Juſtice hath everlaſting Reſt, why Jer. 2. 36. ſhouldeſt thou wander, or go about to change thy Way?

3. Sin is the ſame as ever, and ſo is the Curſe of the Law: The Devil is as buſie as ever, and beware of the Law in thy Members: Return therefore to thy Reſt, O Soul! for he is thy Life, and the length of thy Days.

4. Guilt is to be taken off now, as it was Years ago; and whether thou ſeeſt it or no, thou ſinneſt in ALL thy Works: How then canſt thou ſtand clear from Guilt in thy Soul, who neglecteſt to act Faith in the Blood of the Lamb? There thou muſt waſh thy Robes, and there thou muſt make them white, Rev. 7. 14, 15,

5. I conclude then, thou art a polluted, ſurfeited, corrupted, hardened Creature, whoſoever thou art, that thus objecteſt.

But I find (ſayeſt thou) as if the Spirit led me forth to ſtudy other Matters.

Anſw. What other Matters? WHAT Matters beſides, above, or beyond the glorious Goſpel of Jeſus Chriſt, and of our acceptance with God through him! WHAT Spirit, or Doctrine, or Wiſdom ſoever it be, that centers not in, that cometh not from, and that terminates not within the Bonds Joh 6.51. of the Goſpel of Jeſus Chriſt, is not worthy the Study of the Sons of God; neither is it Food for the Faith of Jeſus Chriſt; for that is the Fleſh of Chriſt, (and that is eternal Life,) Whither will you go? Beware of the Spirit of Antichriſt; for many falſe Spirits are gone out into the World. I told you before, that the Spirit of God, is the Spirit of Wiſdom and Revelation in the Knowledge of Eph.1.17. Chriſt; and that without and beſides the Joh. 14. Chap. 15. Lord Jeſus it diſcovereth nothing; it is ſent Chap. 16. to teſtifie of him; it is ſent, to bring his Words to our Remembrance; it is ſent, to take of his Things and ſhew them unto us. Wherefore, never call that the Spirit of Jeſus, which leads you away from the Blood and Righteouſneſs of Chriſt: That is but the Spirit of Deluſion, and of the Devil, whoſe Teachings end in Perdition and Deſtruction. Tempt not Chriſt, as they of old did. But how did they tempt him? Why, in loathing the Manna, which was the Type of his Fleſh and Blood; which we are to eat of by believing. I ſay, tempt him not, leſt you be deſtroyed by the Serpents, by the Num. 21. gnawing Guilt of Sin; for, take away Chriſt, 5, 6, 7. and Sin remains, and there is no more Sacri- 1 Cor. 10. fice for Sin; if ſo, thou wilt be deſtroyed by 10. the Deſtroyer, &c. But again:

Living by Faith, begets in the Heart a Son-like Boldneſs and Confidence to God-ward, in all our Goſpel-Duties; under all our Weakneſſes, and under all our Temptations. It is a bleſſed thing to be privileged with an holy Boldneſs and Confidence God-ward, that he is on our Side, that he taketh part with us, and that he will plead our Cauſe with 2 Cor.2.14 them that riſe up againſt us. But this Bold- Gal. 2. 20. neſs Faith helpeth us to do, and alſo mana- Phil.3.2,3 geth in our Heart. This is that which Rom.5.11 made Paul always triumph and rejoyce in 2 Cor. 4. God, and the Lord Jeſus: He lived the 17, 18. Life of Faith; for Faith ſets a Man in the Favour of God, by Chriſt; and makes a Man ſee, that what befalls him in this Life, it ſhall, through the Wiſdom and Mercy of God, not only prove for his forwarding to Heaven, but to augment his Glory when he comes there. This Man now ſtands on high; he lives; he is rid of ſlaviſh Fears and carking Cares; and in all his Streights, he hath a God to go to. Thus David, when 1 Sam.30.6 all things looked a-wry upon him, en- Dan.6.23. couraged himſelf in the Lord his God. Daniel alſo believed in his God, and knew that all his Trouble, Loſſes and Croſſes, would be abundantly made up in his God. And David ſaid, I had fainted unleſs I had Pſ. 27. 13. believed. Believing therefore is a great Jon.3.4,5. Preſervative againſt all ſuch Impediments, Heb. 10. 22, 23. and makes us confident in our God, and Eph. 1. 4, with Boldneſs to come into his Preſence, 5, 6, 7. claiming Privilege in what he is and hath: For by Faith, I ſay, he ſeeth his Acceptance through the Beloved; and himſelf intereſted in the Mercy of God, and Riches of Chriſt, and Glory in the World to come. This Man can look upon all the Dangers in Hell and Earth, without Paleneſs of Countenance; he ſhall meditate Terror with Com-

Isa. 33. 17, 18. fort, because he beholds the King in his Beauty.

Again: Living by Faith, makes a Man exercise Patience and Quietness under all his Afflictions; for Faith shews him, that his best Part is safe, that his Soul is in God's special Care and Protection, purged from Sin in the Blood of Christ: Faith also shews him, that after a little while he shall be in the full Enjoyment of that which now he believes is coming: We, through the Spirit, Gal. 5. 5. wait for the Hope of Righteousness by Faith. Wherefore, upon this Ground it is, that Jam. 5. 7. —11. James exhorteth the Saints, to whom he wrote, to Patience, because they knew the Harvest would in due Time come. Faith lodgeth the Soul with Christ: I know, 2 Tim. 1. 12, 16. (saith Paul) on whom I have believed, (and to whom I have committed my Soul) and Ps. 46. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6. am persuaded, (I believe it) that he is able Lam. 3. 26. to keep that which I have committed unto him, against that Day: Therefore it were no Shame to him, to wear a Chain for his Name and Sake. Oh! it is a blessed thing to see, I say, by the Faith of the Lord Jesus, that we are embarqued in the same Ship with him: This will help us greatly, Lam. 3. 26. both to hope and quietly wait for the Salvation of the Lord.

Further, I might add, That living by Faith, is the way to receive fresh Strength from Heaven, thereby to manage thine every Day's Work with Life and Vigour; yea, every Look, by Faith, upon Jesus Christ, as thine, doth this great Work. It is said, when Paul saw the Brethren that came Acts 28. 15 to meet him, he thanked God, and took Courage. Oh! how much more then shall the Christian be blessed with fresh Strength and Courage, even at the beholding of Christ! whom beholding, as in a Glass, we 2 Cor. 3. 18 are changed (even by beholding of him by Faith in the Word) into the same Image, from Glory to Glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord. But to be brief.

Make Conscience of the Duty of believing; John 6. 46. and be as fraid of falling short here, as in any other Command of God. This is his 1 Joh. 3. 23 Commandment, That you believe: Believe therefore in the Name of the Lord Jesus. This is the Will of God, That you believe: Believe therefore to the Saving of the Soul. Unbelief is a fine spun Thread, not so easily discerned as grosser Sins; and therefore Heb. 12. 1. that is truly THE Sin that doth SO easily beset us. The Light of Nature will shew those Sins that are against the Law of Nature; but the Law of Faith is a Command beyond what Flesh or Nature teacheth: Therefore, to live by Faith is so much the harder Work; yet it must be done, otherwise thine other Duties profit thee nothing: For if a Man give way to Unbelief, though he be most frequent in all other Duties besides; so often as he worshippeth God in these, he yet saith, God is a Liar in the other; even because he hath not believed: He that believeth not God, hath 1 John 5. 10, 11. made him a Liar; because he believeth not the Record that God gave of his Son: And this is the Record, that God hath given us eternal Life; and this Life is in his Son. So then, when thou givest way to Unbelief; when thou dost not venture the Salvation of thy Soul upon the justifying Life that is in Christ, that is, in his Blood, &c. at once, thou givest the Lie to the whole Testament of God; yea, thou tramplest upon the Pro- Heb. 10. mise of Grace; and counteest this precious 29. Blood an unholy and unworthy Thing. Now how (thou doing thus) the Lord should accept of thy other Duties, of Prayer, Alms, Thanksgiving, Self-denial, or any other, will be hard for thee to prove: In the mean time remember, that Faith pleaseth God; and that without Faith it is impossible to please him: Remember also, that for this Cause it was that the Offering of Cain was not accepted. By Faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent Sacrifice than Cain: For by Faith Abel first justified the Promise of the Messias, by whom a Conquest should be obtained over the Devil, and all the Combination of Hell against us: Then he honoured Christ, by believing that he was able to save him; and in Token that he believed these Things indeed, he presented the Lord with the Firstlings of Heb. 11. 4. his Flock, as a Remembrance before God, that he believed in his Christ: And therefore 'tis said, By Faith he offered; by which Means the Offering was accepted of God; for no Man's Offering can be accepted with God, but his that stands righteous before him first: But Unbelief holdeth Men under their Guilt, because they have not believed in Christ, and by that Means put on his Righteousness. Again, He that believeth not, hath made invalid (what in him lies) the Promise of God, and Merits of Christ, of whom the Father hath spoken so worthily: Therefore, what Duties, or Acts of Obedience soever he performeth, God by no Means can be pleased with him.

By this therefore you see the miserable State of the People that have not Faith: Whatever they do, they sin; if they break the Law, they sin; if they endeavour to keep it, they sin: They sin, I say, upon a double Account: First, Because they do it but imperfectly: And Secondly, Because they yet stay upon that, resisting that which is perfect, even that which God hath appointed. It mattereth not (as to Justification from the Curse) therefore, Men wanting Faith, whether they be civil or profane, they are such as stand accursed of the Law, because they have not believed, and because they have given the Lie to the Truth, and to the God of Truth. Let all Men therefore, that would please God, make Conscience of believing; on pain, I say, of displeasing him; on pain of being with

Mark 16. 16. Cain rejected; and on Pain of being Damned in Hell. He that believeth not, ſhall be Damned. Faith is the very Quinteſſence of all Goſpel Obedience, it being that which muſt go before other Duties, and that which alſo muſt accompany whatever I do in the Worſhip of God, if it be accepted of him. Here you may ſee a Reaſon, why the Force and Power of Hell is ſo bent againſt Believing: Satan hateth all the Parts of our Chriſtian Obedience; but the beſt and chiefeſt, moſt. And hence the Apoſtle ſaith to the Theſſalo-
1 Theſ. 3. 5. nians, That he ſent to know their Faith, leſt by ſome Means the Tempter have tempted them, and ſo his Labour had been in vain. Indeed, where Faith is wanting, or hath been deſtroyed, all the Labour is in Vain; nothing can profit any Man, neither as to Peace with God, nor the Acceptance of any Religious Duty: And this, I ſay, Satan knows, which makes him ſo lend his Force againſt us.

There are three Things in the Act of Believing, which makes this Grace diſpleaſing to the wicked one.

1. Faith diſcovereth the Truth of Things to the Soul. The Truth of Things as they are, whether they be Things that are of this World, or of that which is to come; the Thing and Pleaſures above, and alſo thoſe beneath. Faith diſcovereth to the Soul, the Bleſſedneſs and Goodneſs, and Durableneſs of the one; the Vanity, Fooliſhneſs, and Tranſitorineſs of the other.
Act. 24. 14. Faith giveth Credit to all Things that are written in the Law, and in the Prophets; both as to the Being, Nature, and Attributes of God; the bleſſed Undertaking of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt; the Glory of Heaven, and Torments of Hell; the Sweetneſs of the Promiſe, and Terror of the Threatnings, and Curſes of the Word: By which Means Satan is greatly fruſtrated in his Aſſaults, when he tempteth either to love this World, or ſlight that which is to come; for he can do no great Matter in theſe Things to any but thoſe who want the Faith: In 1 Joh. 5. 4, 5. Prov. 1. 17. Vain is the Snare laid in the Sight of any Bird: Therefore he muſt firſt blind, and hold blind the Minds of Men, that the
2 Cor. 4. 4. Light of the glorious Goſpel of Chriſt, who is the Image of God, ſhould not ſhine into them, elſe he can do no harm to the Soul. Now
Heb. 11. 27. Faith is the Eye of the godly Man, and that ſees the Truth of Things, whatever Satan ſuggeſts, either about the Glory of this World, the Sweetneſs of Sin, the Uncertainty of another World, or the like.

2. Faith wraps the Soul up in the Bundle of Life with God; it encloſeth it in the Righteouſneſs of Jeſus; and preſents it ſo perfect in that, that whatever he can do, with all his cunning, cannot render the Soul ſpotted or wrinkled before the Juſtice of the Law: Yea, though the Man, as to his own Perſon and Acts, be full of Sin from Top to Toe, Jeſus Chriſt covereth all; Faith ſees it, and holds the Soul in its godly Senſe and Comfort of it. The Man therefore ſtanding here, ſtands ſhrouded under that goodly Robe that makes him gliſter in the Eye of Juſtice: yea, all the Anſwer that Satan can get from God againſt ſuch a Soul, is, That he doth not ſee Iniquity in Jacob, nor Numb. 23. 21, 22, 23. Jer. 51. 5. Rom. 6. 14. Deut. 33. 12. behold Perverſeneſs in Iſrael: For HERE Iſrael hath not been forſaken, nor Juda of his God, of the Lord of Hoſts, though (as to their own Perſons) their Land was fulfilled with Sin againſt the Holy One of Iſrael. Thus therefore the Soul believing, is hid from all the Power of the Enemy, and dwells ſafely under the Dominion of GRACE.

3. Faith keeps the Soul from giving Credit to any of his Inſinuations; for whatever Satan ſaith, either about the acceptance of my Perſon or Performances; ſo long as I believe that both are accepted of God, for Chriſt's ſake, he ſuggeſteth to the Wind: Wherefore, Faith doth the ſame againſt the Devil, that Unbelief doth to God. Doth Unbelief count God a Lyar? Faith counts the Devil a Lyar. Doth Unbelief hold the Soul from the Mercy of God? Faith holds the Soul from the Malice of the Devil. Doth Unbelief quench thy Graces? Faith kindleth them even into a Flame. Doth Unbelief fill the Soul full of Sorrow? Faith fills it full of the Joy of the Holy Ghoſt. In a Word, Doth Unbelief bind down thy Sins upon thee? Why, Faith in Jeſus Chriſt releaſeth thee of them all.

4. As Faith keeps the Soul from giving Credit to the Inſinuations of Satan; ſo, when he makes his Aſſaults, it over-maſters him, and makes him retreat: Reſiſt the Devil, Jam. 4. 7. 1 Pet. 5. 9. and he will fly from you; whom reſiſt ſtedfaſt in the Faith. Believe, as I have already ſaid, that God loveth you; that the Blood of Chriſt was ſhed for you; that your Perſon is preſented compleat before him, through the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt; and Satan muſt give Place, thy crediting of the Goſpel, makes him fly before thee, but thou muſt do it STEDFAST in the Faith; every WAVER giveth him Advantage. And indeed this is the Reaſon that the Godly are ſo foyled with his Aſſaults, they do not reſiſt him STEDFAST in the Faith; they often ſtagger through Unbelief: Now at every Stagger, he recovereth loſt Ground again, and giveth Battel another Time. Beſides, by this and the other Stagger, he taketh Heart to attempt by other Means, and ſo doubleth the Affliction with manifold Temptations: This is, I ſay, for want of being STED- Eph. 6. 16. FAST: Above ALL taking the Shield of Faith, wherewith you ſhall be able to quench ALL the fiery Darts of the Wicked: To quench them, though they come from him as kindled with the very Fire of Hell: None knows, ſave him that feels it, how burning hot the fiery Darts of Satan are; and how, when darted, they kindle upon our Fleſh and Unbelief; neither can any know the power and worth of Faith to quench them, but he that hath it, and hath Power to act it.

5. Laſtly, If Juſtifying Righteouſneſs be alone to be found in the Perſon of Jeſus Chriſt, then this ſhews us the ſad Condition of two Sorts of Men.

1. Of thoſe that hang in doubt betwixt Chriſt and the Law.

2. Of thoſe that do profeſſedly make denial of the Sufficiency of this moſt bleſſed Righteouſneſs.

The firſt Sort, though they may ſeek Life; yet thus continuing, are never like to find it: Wherefore? becauſe they ſeek it not by Faith, but as it were by the Works of the Law. Indeed they will not be Merit-mongers; they will not wholly truſt to the Law; they will partly venture on Chriſt, and partly truſt to the Law. Well, but therefore they ſhall be damned, becauſe they truſt to Chriſt but in Part, and in Part, as it were, to the Works of the Law; for ſuch Sinners make Chriſt but a Saviour in Part, Why then ſhould he be their Saviour in whole? No, becauſe they halt between Chriſt and the Law, therefore they ſhall fall between Chriſt and the Law; yea, becauſe they will truſt to their Works in Part, they ſhall be but almoſt ſaved by Chriſt: Let not that Man think that he ſhall obtain any Thing from the Lord. What Man? Why, he that doubteth, or wavereth in his Mind, about the Truth of the Mercy of God in Chriſt: Therefore the Exhortation is, But let him ask in Faith; Jam. 1. 6, 7. for he that wavereth, (or, that halteth between the Law and Chriſt for Life,) is like a Wave of the Sea, driven of the Wind, and toſſed. In Concluſion, he reſteth no where: a double-minded Man is unſtable in all his Ways. This Man therefore muſt miſcarry; he muſt not ſee the good Land that flows with Milk and Honey; no, let him not have a Thought of Life in his Heart: Let not that Man think that he ſhall receive any Thing of the Lord.

This was the Caſe of many in the Primitive Times, for whoſe ſake this Caution was written: For the devout and religious Jew and Proſelite, when they fell away from the Word of the Goſpel, they did not fall to thoſe groſs and abominable Pollutions in which the open Profane, like Sows and Swine, do wallow; but they fell from the Grace of God, to the Law; or at leaſt, did reſt betwixt them both, doubting of the Sufficiency of either; and thus being fearful, they diſtruſt: Wherefore, being found at length Unbelieving, they are reputed of Rev. 21. 8. God abominable, as Murtherers, Whoremongers, Sorcerers, Idolaters, and Lyars; and ſo muſt have their Portion in the Lake (with them) that burns with Fire and Brimſtone: The Reaſon is, becauſe where Chriſt is rejected, Sin remaineth, and ſo the Wrath of God for Sin: Neither will he be a Saviour in Part; he muſt be all thy Salvation, or none: Let not that Man think that he Jam. 1. 7 ſhall receive any Thing of the Lord.

Not any Thing. There is no Promiſe for him, no Pardon for him, no Heaven for him, no Salvation for him, no eſcaping of his Fire! What Condition is this Man in! Yet he is a religious Man, for he prays; he is a ſeeking Man, a deſiring Man, for he prays: But he halts between two, he leaneth to his Righteouſneſs, and committeth Iniquity: He is afraid to venture all upon the Lord Jeſus Chriſt. Let not that Man think of receiving any Thing from the Lord.

Yet the Words ſuggeſt, that he is apt to think he ſhall receive ſomething, becauſe God is merciful, becauſe his Promiſe is great; but this Expectation is by this Word cut off, and this Sinner is caſt away. Let Num. 14. not that Man think; let him forbear to 40, 41. think of having any Thing at the Hand of 1 Sam. 15. God. The Iſraelites thought to go up to 32, 33. the Land the Day after they had deſpiſed 2 Sam. 4. it. Agag thought the bitterneſs of Death 12. was paſt, even that Day in which he was hewn in Pieces. Rechab, and Baanah his Brother, thought to have received Reward of David, that Day they were hanged over the Pool in Hebron. Let not that Man think that he ſhall receive any Thing of the Lord.

2. As for thoſe that do profeſſedly make Denial of the Sufficiency of this moſt bleſſed Righteouſneſs, the whole Book is Conviction to them; and ſhall aſſuredly, if it comes to their Hands, riſe up in Judgment againſt them. They have rejected the Wiſdom and Mercy of God; they have rejected the Means of their Salvation; they have trampled upon the Blood of the Son of God: Wherefore, Judgment waiteth for them, and fiery Indignation, which ſhall devour the Adverſaries.

To conclude: One Word alſo to you that are Neglecters of Jeſus Chriſt: How ſhall we eſcape, if we neglect ſo great Salvation? Here then we may ſee how we ought to judge of all ſuch Perſons as neglect the Lord Jeſus, under what Guiſe, Name or Notion ſoever they be: We ought, I ſay, to judge of ſuch, That they are at preſent in a State of Condemnation; of Condemnation, becauſe they have not believed in the only be- Joh. 3. 18. gotten Son of God.

'Tis true, there is no Man more at eaſe in his Mind, (with ſuch eaſe as it is,) than the Man that hath not cloſed with the Lord Jeſus, but is ſhut up in Unbelief: Oh! but that is the Man that ſtands Convict before God, and that is bound over to the Great Aſſize! that is the Man whoſe Sins are ſtill his own, and upon whom the Wrath of God abideth: Ver. 36. For the Eaſe and Peace of ſuch, though it keep them far from Fear, is but like to that of the ſecure Thief, that is Ignorant that the Conſtable ſtandeth at the Door; the firſt ſight of an Officer, makes his Peace to give up the Ghoſt: Ah, how many Thouſands that can now Glory, that they never were troubled for Sin againſt God; I ſay, how many be there that God will trouble worſe than he troubled curſed Achan; becauſe their Peace (tho' falſe, and of the Devil) was rather choſen by them, than Peace by Jeſus Chriſt, than Peace with God by the Blood of his Croſs.

Col. 1.20.

Awake! Careleſs Sinners, awake! and ariſe from the Dead, and Chriſt ſhall give you Light. Content not your ſelves either with Sin or Righteouſneſs, if you be deſtitute of Jeſus Chriſt; but CRY, CRY, Oh CRY to God for Light to ſee your Condition by! for Light in the Word of God! for therein is the Righteouſneſs of God revealed: Cry therefore for Light to ſee this Righteouſneſs by; it is a Righteouſneſs of Chriſt's finiſhing, of God's accepting, and that which alone can ſave the Soul from the Stroke of Eternal Juſtice.

Eph. 5.14.

Rom. 1.17

There are ſix Things that, on Man's Part, are the Cauſe he receiveth not the Goſpel of Chriſt, and ſo Life by him.

1. They ſee not their State by Nature, how polluted they are with Original Sin.

Eph. 2. 2.

2. They ſee not the Juſtice of God againſt Sin; they know not him that hath ſaid, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompence.

Heb. 10. 30.

3. They cannot ſee the Beauty of Jeſus Chriſt.

2 Cor. 4. 4.

4. Unbelief being mighty in them, they dare not venture their Souls with Jeſus Chriſt; they dare not truſt to his Righteouſneſs, and to THAT only. For,

Rev. 21.8.

5. Their Carnal Reaſon alſo ſets it ſelf againſt the Word of Faith, and cannot ſtoop to the Grace of Jeſus Chriſt.

1 Cor. 2. 14.

6. They love to have Honour one of another; they love to be commended for their own vain-glorious Righteouſneſs; and the Fools think, that becauſe they are commended of Men, they ſhall be commended of God alſo: How can you Believe, who ſeek Honour one of another, and ſeek not the Honour that cometh from God ONLY. This laſt Thing, to wit, Deſire of Vain-glory, is the Bane of Thouſands; 'tis the Legaliſt's Bane; 'tis the Civilian's Bane; 'tis the Formaliſt's Bane; yea, (which yet is ſtranger,) it is the Bane of the Vicious and Debauched alſo: For though there be a Generation, that, to one's thinking, have not Regard to Righteouſneſs; yet watch them narrowly, and they have their Times of doing ſomething that looks like good; and though poſſibly it be but ſeldom, yet this Wretch counteth, that for the ſake of that, God accepteth him, and counteth his, glorious Righteouſneſs.

Joh. 5.44.

I might add a Seventh Cauſe; which is, Want of ſerious Meditation upon Eternal Judgment, and what ſhall follow. This Conſideration, did it take a deep Place in the Heart, would doubtleſs produce theſe workings of Spirit after Jeſus Chriſt for Juſtification, that now is wanting in the moſt of Men. This made Felix, yea, it makes the Devils tremble; and would, I ſay, couldeſt thou deeply meditate, make thee ſtart, and turn thy wanton Thoughts into heavy Sighs after God's Mercy in Jeſus Chriſt, leſt thou alſo come into their Place of Torment.

Before I conclude this Uſe, I would lay down a few Motives, if ſo be thou mayeſt be prevailed with, to look after thine own everlaſting State.

1. Conſider, God hath put Man (above all the Creatures in this viſible World) into a State of abiding for ever; they cannot be annihilated, they ſhall never again be turned into Nothing; but muſt live with God or the Devil for ever and ever. And though the Scripture ſaith, Man hath not Pre-eminence over a Beaſt in his Death, yet the Beaſt hath Pre-eminence above many Men; for he ſhall not riſe again, to come into Judgment, as Man muſt; nor receive that diſmal Sentence for Sin and Tranſgreſſion, as Man ſhall: This therefore is worthy to be conſidered with Seriouſneſs, of all that have Souls to be ſaved or damned: They muſt one Day come to Judgment, there to ſtand before that Judge of all the Earth, whoſe Eyes are like a Flame of Fire; from the Sight of which thou canſt not hide one of thy Words, or Thoughts, or Actions, becauſe thou wanteſt the Righteouſneſs of God: The Fire of his Juſtice ſhall burn up all thy Rags of Righteouſneſs, wherewith by the Law thou haſt cloathed thy ſelf; and will leave thee nothing but a Soul full of Sin to bemoan, and eternal Burnings to grapple with. Oh! the Burnings that will then beſet Sinners on every Side! and that will eat their Fleſh, and torment their Spirit, with far more Terror than if they were ſtricken with Scorpions! And obſerve it, the Torment will there be higher than other, where there is the Guilt of neglecting Jeſus Chriſt, he being indeed the Saviour, and him that was ſent on purpoſe to deliver Men from the Wrath to come.

2. Conſider, Once paſt Grace, and ever paſt Grace: When the Door is ſhut againſt thee, it will open no more; and then Repentings, Deſires, Wiſhings, and Wouldings, come all too late; Good may be done to others, but to thee none; and this ſhall be, becauſe, even becauſe thou haſt withſtood the Time of thy Viſitation, and not received Grace when offered: My God ſhall caſt them away, becauſe they did not hearken unto him. Cain was driven out from the Preſence of God, (for ought I know) ſome Hundreds of Years before his Death. Iſhmael was caſt away after ſeventeen Years of Age; Eſau lived thirty or forty Years after he had ſold his Birth-right. O! many, very many, are in this Condition! for though God be gracious, yea very gracious, yet he will not be ſlighted, nor abuſed always; there is Plenty of Sinners in the World,

Chap. 19. 41, 42, 43. Hoſ. 9. 17.

Luke 8. 37. 40. World, if one will not, another will. Christ was soon repulsed by, and sent away from the Country of the Gaderens; but on the other Side of the Sea, there were many ready Acts 13. 46 47, 48. with Joy to receive him: So when the Jews contradicted and blasphemed, the Gentiles gladly received the Word. Look to it, Sinner, here is Life and Death set before thee; Life, if it be not too late to receive it; but if it be, 'tis not too late for Death to swallow thee up: And tell me, Will it not be dreadful, to be carried from under the Gospel to the Damned, there to lye in endless Torment, because thou wouldest not be delivered therefrom? Will it be Comfort to thee, to see the Saviour turn Judge? To see him that wept and died for the Sin of the World, now ease his Mind on Christ-abhorring-Sinners, by rendering to them the just Judgment of God? For all their abominable Filthiness, had they closed with Christ, they had been shrouded from the Justice of the Law; and should not have come into Condemnation, but had been passed from Death to Life; but they would not take Shelter there; they would venture to meet the Justice of God in its Fury, wherefore now it shall swallow them up for ever and ever. And let me ask further, Is not he a mad Man, who being loaded with combustible Matter, will run headlong into the Fire upon a Bravado? Or, that being guilty of Felony or Murther, will desperately run himself into the Hand of the Officer, as if the Law, the Judge, the Sentence, Execution, were but a Jest, or a Thing to be play'd withal? And yet thus mad are poor, wretched, miserable Sinners, who flying from Christ, as if he were a Viper, they are over-come, and cast off for ever by the just Judgment of the Law. But ah! how poorly will these be able to plead the Virtues of the Law, to which they have cleaved, when God shall answer them, Whom dost thou pass in Beauty? Go Ezek. 32 down, and be thou laid with the Uncircumcised: Go down to Hell, and there be laid with those that refused the Grace of God. 19.

Sinners, take my Advice; with which I shall conclude this USE: Call often to remembrance, that thou hast a precious Soul within thee; that thou art in the Way to thine End, at which thy precious Soul will be in special concerned; it being then Time to delay no longer, the Time of Reward being come. I say again, Bring thy End home; put thy self, in thy Thoughts, into the last Day thou must live in this World; seriously arguing thus: How if this Day were my last? How if I never see the Sun rise more? How if the first Voice that rings To-morrow Morning in my heavy Ears, be, Arise ye Dead, and come to Judgment? Or, How if the next Sight I see with mine Eyes, be the Lord in the Clouds, with all his Angels, raining Floods of Fire and Brimstone upon the World? Am I in a Case to be thus near mine End? To hear this Trump of God? Or, To see this great Appearance of this Great God, and the Lord Jesus Christ? Will my Profession, or the Faith I think I have, carry me through all the Trials of God's Tribunal? Cannot his Eyes, which are as a Flame of Fire, see in my Words, Thoughts, and Actions, enough to make me culpable of the Wrath of God? Oh! How serious should Sinners be in this Work of remembring Things to come, of laying to their Heart the Greatness and Terror of that notable Day of God Almighty! And in examining themselves, how it is like to go with their Souls, when they shall stand before the Judge indeed! To this End, God make this Word effectual, AMEN.

PAUL's Departure and Crown:

OR, AN

EXPOSITION upon 2 TIM. iv. 6, 7, 8.

For I am now ready to be offered up, and the Time of my Departure is at Hand.

I have fought a good Fight, I have finiſhed my Courſe, I have kept the Faith.

Henceforth there is laid up for me a Crown of Righteouſneſs, which the Lord the righteous Judge ſhall give me at that Day; and not to me only, but alſo to all them that love his Appearing.

THESE Words were by the Apoſtle Paul written to Timothy, whom he had begot to the Faith, by the Preaching of the Goſpel of Chriſt; in which are many Things of great Concernment both for Inſtruction and Conſolation, ſomething of which I ſhall open unto you for your Profit and Edification. But before I come to the Words themſelves, as they are a Relation of Paul's Caſe, I ſhall take Notice of ſomething from them as they depend upon the Words going before, being a vehement Exhortation to Timothy to be conſtant and faithful in his Work. Which in Brief may be ſummed up in theſe Particulars, 1ſt, A ſolemn binding Charge before God and Jeſus Chriſt our Lord, that he be conſtant in Preaching the Word, whether in, or out of Seaſon, Reproving, Rebuking, and Exhorting with all Long-ſuffering and Doctrine: And that becauſe of that ungodly Spirit that would poſſeſs Profeſſors after he was dead; for the Time will come, ſaith he, that they will not indure ſound Doctrine (neither ſound Reproof nor ſound Trial of their State and Condition by the Word) but after their own Luſts ſhall they heap to themſelves Teachers having itching Ears (the Plague that once God threatned to rebellious Iſrael) and be turned unto Fables. Much like this is that in the Acts of the Apoſtles; for I know that after my Departure ſhall grievous Wolves enter in amongſt you, not ſparing the Flock; and alſo of your own ſelves ſhall Men ariſe ſpeaking perverſe Things to draw away Diſciples after them. Therefore Watch, and remember that by the Space of three Years I ceaſed not to warn every one of you Night and Day with Tears.

Deut. 28. 27.

Acts 20. 29, 30, 31.

This Evil then is to be prevented. 1ſt, By a diligent Watchfulneſs in Miniſters. 2d, By a diligent Preaching the Word of the Lord. And 3dly, By ſound and cloſe Rebukes, Reproofs and Exhortations to thoſe in whoſoever the leaſt there appears any ſwerving or turning aſide from the Goſpel. The Miniſters of the Goſpel have each of them all that Authority that belongs to their Calling and Office, and need not to ſtay for Power from Men to put the Laws of Chriſt in his Church into due and full Execution. This Remnant of Jacob ſhould be in the midſt of many People as a Dew from the Lord, that tarrieth not for Man, nor waiteth for the Sons of Men. Therefore he adds, watch thou in all Things, endure Afflictions (if thou ſhouldſt be oppoſed in thy Work) do the Work of an Evangeliſt, make full Proof of thy Miniſtery. How our time-ſerving, and ſelf-ſaving Miniſters will ſalve their Conſcience from the Stroke that God's Word will one Day give them, and how they will ſtand before the Judgment-ſeat to render an Account of this their Doings, let them ſee to it; ſurely God will require it of their Hand.

Tit. 2. 15.

Mic. 5. 7.

But O Timothy do thou be diligent, do thou watch in all Things, do thou endure Affliction, do thou the Work of an Evangeliſt, make thou full Proof of thy Miniſtery; for I am now ready to be offered up, &c. The Words then of my Text are a Reaſon of this Exhortation, of this Exhortation to Timothy, that he ſhould continue watchful and abide faithful in his calling. For I am now ready to be offered up, that is, to be put to death for the Goſpel.

Hence then learn two Things.

Firſt, That the Murders and Out-rage that our Brethren ſuffer at the Hands of wicked Men, ſhould not diſcourage thoſe that live, from a full and faithful Performance of their Duty to God and Man, whatever may be the Conſequence thereof. Or thus; When we ſee our Brethren before us fall to the Earth, by Death, through the Violence of the Enemies of God for their Holy and Chriſtian Profeſſion, we ſhould covet to make good their Ground againſt them, them, though our Turn ſhould be next: We ſhould valiantly do in this Matter, as is the Cuſtom of Soldiers in Wars; take great Care that the Ground be maintained, and 2 Tim. 2. 3. the Front kept full and compleat. Thou

1 Theſ. 3. 3. therefore, ſaith Paul, indure Hardneſs as a good Soldier of Jeſus Chriſt: And in another Place, we ſhould not be moved by theſe Afflictions, but indure, by reſiſting even unto Blood. Wherefore Paul ſaith again, be not thou therefore aſhamed of
2 Tim. 1. 8. the Teſtimony of our Lord, nor of me, his Priſoner; but be thou a Partaker of the Affliction of the Goſpel, according to the Num. 27. 20. Power of God. Thus let the Spirit of Paul reſt upon Joſhua, and the Spirit of Elijah
2 Kin. 2. 15. reſt upon Eliſha; ſtand up therefore like valiant Worthies, as the Miniſters of my God, and fly not every Man to his own, while the Cauſe and Ways and Brethren of our Lord are buffeted and condemned by the World. And remember that thoſe that keep the Charge of the Lord when moſt go a whoring from under their God; they, when he turns the Captivity of his Ezek. 44 10, 11, 12 13, 14, 15 16. People, ſhall be counted worthy to come nigh unto him, to offer the Fat and the Blood, ſaith the Lord God. But for the reſt, though they may yet ſtand before the People, becauſe, they ſtood before them in a way of Idolatry, yet it ſhall not be to their Honour, nor to their Comfort; but to their Shame, as the ſame Scripture ſaith.

1. Let this therefore ſmite with Conviction thoſe that in this Day of Jacob's Trouble, have been falſe with God, his Cauſe and People; I ſay thoſe firſt and eſpecially as the chief Ringleaders of this Cowardlineſs, who have done it againſt Light, Profeſſion, and Reſolutions. Behold, thou haſt ſinned againſt the Lord, and be ſure thy Sins will find thee out; and though thou mayeſt now have as a Judgment of God upon thee, thy right Eye darkned that thou mayeſt not ſee, yet awakening Time will overtake thee, and that too between the Straits, when he will ſhew thee, to the great Confuſion of thy Face, and the Amazement of them that behold thee, how great an Affront he counts it to be left by thee, in a Day when his Truth is caſt down to the Ground. I have often thought of that Prophet that went down from Judah
1 Kin. 13. 18, 19. to Bethel, to propheſy againſt the Idolatry that was there ſet up by the King; who becauſe he kept not the Commandment of God, but did eat and drink in that Place, at the Perſuaſion of a lying Prophet, was met at laſt by a Lion, who ſlew him there in the Way, where his Carcaſs was made a Spectacle of God to Paſſengers. If thou be ſpiritual, judge what I ſay; and think not to be one of that Number that ſhall have the Harps of God, when God appears for Zion, and that ſhall ſing that Song of Moſes, and alſo the Song of the Lamb, for that is only for thoſe who have fought the godly Fight, and gotten the Victory over the Beaſt, his Image, Mark, Number, and Name.

2. Let this alſo be an Awe to thee, who haſt Hankerings to do as the other: Beware and remember Judas, and the End God brought upon him; he will not always bear ſuch Things: Theſe Times have ſhewed us already, that he beholds them with great Diſlike; why ſhouldeſt thou hang up in Chains as a Fetter to all that know thee? And never object that ſome have done it and yet are at Peace in their Souls; for Peace in a ſinful Courſe is one of the greateſt of Curſes. And the Man that wandreth out of the Way of Underſtanding ſhall remain in the Congregation of the Dead.
Rom. 11. 10. Prov. 21. 16.

The Second Thing to be learned from theſe Words, as they have Relation to them going before, is, Encouragement to thoſe that are yet in the Storm; and that from three great Arguments; Firſt, Paul's Peace and Comfort now at the Time of his Death, which he ſignifieth to Timothy by theſe three Expreſſions, I have fought a good Fight, I have finiſhed my Courſe, I have kept the Faith.

Secondly, by the bleſſed Reward he ſhould have for his Labour from Chriſt in another World, together with all thoſe that love the Appearing of the Lord, at that great and notable Day.

Thirdly, that now his laſt Act ſhould not be inferior to any Act he did for God, while he was alive and preached in the World; for his Body ſhould now be an Offering, a Sacrifice well pleaſing to God. To all which I ſhall ſpeak ſomething in my Diſcourſe upon theſe Words. And therefore to come to them;

I am now ready to be offered up.

In theſe Words we have to enquire into two Things,

Firſt, What it is to be offered up.

Secondly, What it is to be ready to be offered up. I am now ready to be offered up.

For the firſt of theſe,

Paul, by ſaying he was to be offered, alludeth to ſome of the Sacrifices that of old were under the Law, and thereby ſignifieth to Timothy, that his Death and Martyrdom for the Goſpel ſhould be both ſweet in the Noſtrils of God, and of great Profit to his Church in this World; for ſo were the Sacrifices of old. Paul therefore lifts his Eyes up higher than ſimply to look upon Death, as it is the common Fate of Men; and he had good Reaſon to do it, for his Death was violent, 'twas alſo for Chriſt, and for his Church, and Truth; and it is uſual with Paul thus to ſet out the Suffering of the Saints, which they undergo for the Name and Teſtimony of Jeſus. Yea, he will have our Prayers a Sacrifice; our Praiſes, Thankſgiving and Heb. 13. 15, 16. Rom. 12. 1, 2.
Mortification,

Rom. 15. 16. 1 Pet. 2. 5. Mortification, Sacrifices: Alms-deed, and the offering up of the Gentiles, Sacrifices, being ſanctified by the Holy Ghoſt; and here his Death alſo muſt be for a Sacrifice, and an acceptable Offering to God.

Peter alſo ſaith, we are Prieſts to offer up Spiritual Sacrifices acceptable to God by Jeſus Chriſt; of which Sacrifices, it ſeems by Paul, the Death of a Chriſtian for Jeſus ſake muſt needs be counted one.

Beſides, Paul further inſinuates this by ſome other Sentences in his Epiſtles. As by that in the Epiſtle to the Coloſſians, Coloſ. 1. 24. where he ſaith, I now rejoyce in my Sufferings for you, and fill up that which is behind of the Affliction of Chriſt in my Fleſh, for his Body ſake which is the Church (not by Way of Merit, for ſo Chriſt alone, and that Heb. 10. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14. by once being offered himſelf, hath perfected for ever them that are ſanctified,) but his meaning is, that as Chriſt was offered in Sacrifice for his Church as a Saviour; ſo Paul would offer himſelf as a Sacrifice for Chriſt's Church, as a Saint, as a Miniſter, Philip. 2. 17. and one that was counted faithful. Yea, ſaith he, and if I be offered upon the Sacrifice and Service of your Faith, I joy and rejoyce with you all. This then teacheth us ſeveral Things worthy our Conſideration.

Firſt, That the Blood of the Saints that they loſe for his Name, is a ſweet Savour Pſal. 116. 15. to God. And ſo ſaith the Holy Ghoſt, precious in the Sight of the Lord is the Death of Pſal. 72. 14. his Saints. And again, he ſhall redeem their Soul from Deceit and Violence, and precious ſhall their Blood be in his Sight.

Secondly, Thoſe that ſuffer for Chriſt are of great Benefit to his Church (as the Sacrifices of Old, were confirming and ſtrengthening Philip. 1. 14. to Iſrael) wherefore Paul ſaith, his Bonds encouraged his Brethren, and made them much more bold in the Way of God to ſpeak his Word without Fear.

Thirdly, The Sufferings or Offering of the Saints in Sacrifice it is of great Uſe and Advantage to the Goſpel; of Uſe I ſay many Ways.

Firſt, The Blood of the Saints defends it. Secondly, confirmeth it, and Thirdly, redeemeth that thereof that hath been loſt in Antichriſtian Darkneſs.

Firſt, They do thereby defend and preſerve it from thoſe that would take it from us, or from thoſe that would impoſe another upon us. Phil. 1. 17. I am ſet, ſaith Paul, for the Defence of the Goſpel, and my Sufferings have fallen out for the furtherance of it; that is, it hath not only continued to hold its Ground, but hath alſo got more by my Contentions, Sufferings and Hazards for it.

Secondly, It confirms it, and this is Part of the meaning of Paul in thoſe large Relations of his Sufferings for Chriſt, ſaying, are they Miniſters of Chriſt, I ſpeak as a Fool, I am more, in Priſons more frequent, &c. as he ſaith again, and theſe Things I do for the Goſpels ſake: And again, That 2 Tim. 2. 8, 9, 10. the Truth of the Goſpel might be continued with you. So again, I ſuffer, ſaith he, in the Goſpel as an evil doer even unto Bonds, but the Word of God is not bound; yea, ſaith he, therefore I endure all Things for the Elect ſake (that is) that the Goſpel may be preſerved entire, that the Souls that are yet unborn may have the Benefit of it, with eternal Glory.

Thirdly, The Sufferings of the Saints are of a redeeming Vertue: for by their patient enduring and loſing their Blood for the Word, they recover the Truths of God that have been buried in Antichriſtian Rubbiſh, from that Soil and Slur, that thereby hath for a long Time cleaved unto them; wherefore it is ſaid, they overcame the Beaſt by Rev. 12. 11, 12. the Blood of the Lamb, the Word of their Teſtimony, they not loving their Lives to the Death. They overcame him, that is, they recovered the Truth from under his Aſperſions, and delivered it from all his Enemies. David ſaith, the Words of the Lord are as Pſal. 12. 6. Silver tried in a Furnace of Earth, purified ſeven Times; what is this Furnace of Earth but the Body of the Saints of God, in which the Word is tried, as by Fire in Perſecution, yea, purified ſeven Times, that is, brought forth at laſt by the Death of the Chriſtians, in its Purity before the World: How hath the Headſhip and Lordſhip of Chriſt, with many other Doctrines of God, been taken away from the Pope by the Sufferings of our Brethren before us? While their Fleſh did fry in the Flames, the Word of God was cleanſed, and by ſuch Means purified in theſe their Earthen Furnaces, and ſo delivered to us. The Lamps of Gideon were Judges 7. 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22. then diſcovered, when his Soldiers Pitchers were broken; If our Pitchers were broke for the Lord and his Goſpel's ſake, thoſe Lamps will then be diſcovered, that before lay hid and unſeen. Much Uſe might be made of this good Doctrine: Learn thus much,

Firſt, The Judgment that is made of our Sufferings by Carnal Men, is nothing at all to be heeded; they ſee not the Glory that is wrapped up in our Cauſe, nor the Innocence and Goodneſs of our Conſcience in our enduring of theſe Afflictions: They judge according to the Fleſh, according to outward Appearance. For ſo indeed we ſeem to lie under Contempt, and to be in a diſgraceful Condition; but all Things here are converted to another Uſe and End. That which is contemptible when Perſons are Guilty, is honourable when Perſons are clear; and that which brings Shame when 1 Pet. 2. 19, 20, 21, 22. Perſons are buffeted for their Faults, is thankworthy in thoſe that endure Grief, ſuffering wrongfully; though to ſuffer for Sin be the Token of God's Diſpleaſure, yet to thoſe that ſuffer for Righteouſneſs, it is a Token of greateſt Favour: Wherefore matter not 2 Theſ. 1. 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10. how the World doth eſteem of thee and thy preſent Diſtreſs that thou beareſt with Patience for God and his Word; but believe, that that thoſe Things that are both Shame and Diſhonour to others, are Glory and Honour to thee. O for a Man to be able to ſay, for the Hope of Iſrael I am bound with this Chain; it makes his Face to ſhine like the Face of an Angel, and his Lips to drop like the Honey-comb.

Acts 28. 20.

Secondly, We learn alſo from hence, the Reaſon why ſome in Days before us have made light of the Rage of the World; but they have laughed at Deſtruction when it cometh, and have gone forth to meet the armed Men; and with Job's Liars, mocked at Fear and have not been affrighted neither turned their Back from the Sword, the Quiver ratleth againſt him, the glittering Spear and the Shield; but they have ſaid among the Trumpets, ha, ha, it hath been their Glory to ſuffer for Chriſt. As it is ſaid of the Saints of old, they departed from the Counſel, rejoycing that they were worthy to ſuffer Shame for his Name. As Paul alſo ſaith, I will moſt gladly, mark, moſt gladly rather rejoyce in mine Infirmities, that the Power of Chriſt may reſt upon me. Therefore I take Pleaſure in Infirmities, in Reproaches, in Neceſſities, in Perſecutions, in Diſtreſſes for Chriſt's Sake, &c. Let thoſe that ſuffer for Theft and Murther hang down their Heads like a Bull-ruſh, and carry it like thoſe that are going to hanging; but let thoſe whoſe Trials are for the Word of God, know, by theſe very Things they are dignified.

Job 5. 21, 22. Job 39. 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25. Acts 5. 41. 2 Cor. 12. 9, 10.

Thirdly, Learn alſo in this to be confident, that thy Sufferings have their Sound, and a Voice before God and Men: Firſt, before God to provoke him to Vengeance, when he makes Inquiſition for Blood. The Blood of Abel cried until it brought down Wrath upon Cain; and ſo did the Blood of Chriſt, and his Apoſtles, till it laid Jeruſalem upon Heaps. Secondly, Thy Blood will alſo have a Voice before Men, and that poſſibly for their good. The faithful Chriſtian in his patient Suffering knows not what Work he may do for God; who knows but thy Blood may be ſo remembred by thy Children, Neighbours and Enemies as to convince them thou wert for the Truth? Yea, who knows, but their Thoughts of thy Reſolution for Chriſt, in thy reſiſting unto Blood, may have ſo good an effect upon ſome, as to perſwade them to cloſe with his Ways? The three Children in the fiery Furnace made Nebuchadnezzar cry out, there was no God like theirs. Indeed this is hard Labour, but be content, the dearer thou payeſt for it to win the Souls of others, the greater will be thy Crown when the Lord the righteous Judge ſhall appear; and in the mean while thy Death ſhall be as a Sacrifice pleaſing to God and his Saints.

Pſal. 9. 12, Gen. 4. 9, 10, 11.

I am now ready to be offered up.

The Second Thing that I would enquire into is this:

What it is to be [ready] to be offered up: Or how we ſhould underſtand this Word [ready] I am now ready to be offered up. Which I think may be underſtood three manner of Ways.

Firſt, With Reſpect to that Readineſs that was continually in the Heart of thoſe that hated him, to deſtroy him with his Doctrine.

Secondly, Or it may be underſtood with reſpect to the Readineſs of this bleſſed Apoſtle's Mind, his being ready and willing always to embrace the Croſs for the Words ſake: Or,

Thirdly, We may very well underſtand it, that he had done his Work for God in this World, and therefore was ready to be gone.

For the firſt of theſe:

The Enemies of God and his Truth they never want Will and Malice to oppoſe the Word of God; they are alſo always ſo far forth in Readineſs to murder and ſlaughter the Saints, as the Prophet cries to Jeruſalem, behold the Princes of Iſrael, every one were in thee to their Power to ſhed Blood. That is, they had Will and Malice always at Hand to oppoſe the upright in Heart. And therefore our Lord Jeſus ſaith, they are they that kill the Body; he doth not ſay they can do it as relating to their Power, but that they do it, as relating to their Will, and their Cuſtom, if let looſe: And we may underſtand thereby that it is no more to them to kill the People of God, than it is to Butchers to kill Sheep and Oxen. For though it be indeed a Truth, that God's Hand is always ſafe upon the Hilt of their Sword, yet by them we are killed all the Day long, and accounted as Sheep for the Slaughter, that is, in their Deſires always, as well as by their Deeds when they are let looſe, as Paul's Kinſman ſaid to the Captain, There lieth in wait for him of them more than forty Men that have bound themſelves in a Curſe, that they will neither eat nor drink until they have killed him. And now are they ready, looking for a Promiſe from thee: And hence it is that by the Word they are called Dragons, Lions, Bears, Wolves, Leopards, Dogs, and the like: All which are Beaſts of Prey, and delight to live by the Death of others. Paul therefore ſeeing and knowing that this Readineſs was in his Enemies; to pour out his Bowels to the Earth, he cried out to Timothy, ſaying, make thou full Proof of thy Miniſtry, for I am now ready to be ſlain; I am now ready to be offered up.

Ezek. 22. 6. Pſal. 44. 22. Rom. 8. 36. Acts 23. 12, 13.

Theſe Words thus underſtood, may be uſeful many Ways.

Firſt, To ſhew us, we live, not becauſe of any good Nature or Inclination, that is in our Enemies towards us; for they, as to their Wills, are ready to deſtroy us; but they are in the Hand of God, in whoſe Hand is alſo our Times. Wherefore though by the Will of our Enemies we are always delivered to Death, yet behold we live.

Pſ. 31. 15. 2 Cor. 6. 9.

Therefore in this Senſe it may be ſaid, where is the Fury of the Oppreſſor? It is not in his Power to diſpoſe of, therefore here it
Iſa. 51. 13. may be ſaid again, he is not ready to deſtroy. The Cup that God's People in all Ages have drank of, even the Cup of Affliction and Perſecution, it is not in the Hand of the Enemy, but in the Hand of God; and Pſal. 75. 8. he, not they, poureth out of the ſame. So Job 38. 10, 11. that they, with all their raging Waves, have Banks and Bounds ſet to them, by which they are limited within their Range, as the Pſ. 76. 10. Bear is by his Chain. Surely the Wrath of Men ſhall praiſe thee, and the Remainder of Wrath thou wilt reſtrain.

Secondly, This ſhould incourage us, not to forſake the Way of our Lord Jeſus, when threatned by our Adverſaries; becauſe, they are in his Chain: Indeed they are ready in their Wills to deſtroy us, but as to Power and Liberty to do it, that is not at all with them, who would fear to go, even by the very Noſe of a Lion, if his Chain would
Iſa. 51. 12, 13. not ſuffer him to hurt us. It is too much below the Spirit of a Chriſtian to fear a Man that ſhall die; and they that have ſo done
Luke 12. 7. have forgotten the Lord their Maker, who preſerveth the Hairs of our Head. Yea, let me tell you, he that ſo doth, he feareth to truſt the Lord with his Life, Eſtate, and Concernments, and chuſeth rather to truſt to himſelf, and that too out of God's Way; and though ſuch Perſons may lick themſelves whole now, while they are fallen and ſenſleſs, they muſt count for theſe Things again, and then they ſhall ſee, that Fear of Men, and to be aſhamed of Chriſt, will load them with no light Burden. Alſo it is an uncomely Thing for any Man in his Profeſſion, to be in and out with the Times; and to do this when winked at by Men, that they would not do if they frowned: Do ſuch fear God? Nay, they fear the Fear of Men, when they ſhould ſanctify the Lord himſelf, and let him be their Dread, and him be their Fear.
Iſa. 8. 12, 13. Thirdly, Let the Readineſs that is in the Enemies of God to deſtroy, provoke thee
1 Sam. 17. 45, 46, 47, 48. to make ready alſo, as I ſaid a little before, go out to meet the armed Men. David ran to meet Goliah; rub up Man, put on thy Harneſs, put on the whole Armour of God, that thou mayeſt be ready, as well as thy Adverſaries, as bleſſed Paul was here, I am now ready to be offered up, and the Time of my Departure is at hand: But becauſe this will fall in fitteſt under the ſecond Head, I ſhall therefore diſcourſe of it there.

The ſecond Thing.

The ſecond Thing conſidered in the Words is this, that to be ready, might be underſtood with Reſpect to the bleſſed Apoſtle's Mind, that was graciouſly brought over into a willingneſs to imbrace the Croſs for the Word's ſake, and thus in other Places he himſelf expounds it; I am ready
Act. 21. 13 ſaith he, not to be bound only, but to die at Jeruſalem for the Name of the Lord Jeſus. That alſo implies as much, where he ſaith, I count not my Life dear unto my ſelf, ſo that I may finiſh my Courſe with Joy, and the Miniſtry which I have received of Acts 20. 22, 23, 24. the Lord Jeſus, to teſtify the Goſpel of the Grace of God. As the Enemies then were ready and willing in their Hearts: ſo he was ready and willing in his. This Man was like to thoſe mighty Men of Solomon, that 2 Chron. 17, 18, 19. were ready prepared for the War, and waited on the King, fit to be ſent at any Time upon the moſt ſharp and pinching Service. A Thing fitly becoming all the Saints, but chiefly thoſe that miniſter in the Word and Doctrine.

Underſtand the Words thus, and they alſo teach us many Things both for Conviction and for Edification,

Firſt, Here we ſee that a Chriſtian's Heart ſhould be unclinched from this World; for he that is ready to be made a Sacrifice for Chriſt and his bleſſed Word, he muſt be one that is not intangled with the Affairs of this
2 Tim. 2. 4. Life; how elſe can he pleaſe him who hath choſen him to be a Soldier? Thus was it
2 Cor. 1. 8, 9. with this bleſſed Man, he was brought to
Gal. 2. 20. Gal. 6. 14 God's Foot with Abraham, and crucified to this World with Chriſt; he had paſſed a Sentence of Death upon all earthly Pleaſures and Profits beforehand, that they might not deaden his Spirit when he came to ſuffer for his Profeſſion.

Secondly, This ſhews us the true Effects of unfeigned Faith and Love, for they were the riſe of this moſt bleſſed Frame of Heart; read, 2 Cor. 4. at the 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14. and compare it Chapter the 12, at the 9th and 10th Verſes; and Men may talk what they will of their Faith and Love to the Lord Jeſus and to his Holy Goſpel; but if they throw up their open profeſſing of his Name for fear of thoſe that hate him, it is evident their Mouths go before their Hearts, and that their Words are bigger than their

Joh. 15. 13. and Love: Herein is Love, that a Man lay down his Life for his Friend.

Thirdly, This ſhews us the true Effects of a right Sight and Senſe of the Sufferings that attend the Goſpel, that they ſhall become truly profitable to thoſe that ſhall bear them aright. What made he ready for? it
2 Cor. 4. 16, 17, 18. was for Suffering: And why made he ready for them, but becauſe he ſaw they wrought out for him a far more exceeding and eternal Weight of Glory. This made Moſes alſo ſpurn at a Crown and a Kingdom; to look with a diſdainful Eye upon all the Glory of

Therefore he refuſed to be called the Son of Pharaoh's Daughter; chuſing rather to ſuffer Affliction with the People of God, than to enjoy the Pleaſures of Sin for a Seaſon. Eſteeming the Reproach of Chriſt greater Riches than* the Treaſures in Egypt: for he had Reſpect to the Recompence of Reward: by Faith he forſook Egypt, not fearing the Wrath of the King, for he endured, as ſeeing him who is inviſible. Every one cannot thus look upon the Afflictions and Temptations that attend the Goſpel; no not every one that profeſſeth it, as appears by their ſhrinking and ſhirking at the Noiſe of the Trumpet, and Alarum to War. They can be content (as Cowards in a Garriſon) to lie ſtill under ſome ſmaller Pieces of Service, as hearing the Word, entering in, to follow with loving in Word and in Tongue, and the like, but to go forth to him without the Camp, bearing his Reproach, and to be in Jeopardy every Hour for the Truth of the glorious Goſpel, that they dare not do. Nay inſtead of making ready with Paul to engage the Dragon and his Angels, they ſtudy how to evade, and ſhun the Croſs of Chriſt. Secretly rejoycing if they can but delude their Conſcience, and make it ſtill and quiet while they do yet unworthily.

Heb. 13. 13. 1 Cor. 15. 30. Revel. 12. 7, 8, 9.

Fourthly, By this readineſs we may diſcern who are unfeignedly willing to find out, that they may do the whole Will of God; even thoſe that are already made willing to ſuffer for his Sake, they are ſtill enquiring, Lord, what wouldeſt thou have me to do? not mattering nor regarding the Croſs and Diſtreſs that attends it. The Holy Ghoſt witneſſeth to me, ſaith Paul, that in every City, Bonds and Afflictions abide me; but none of theſe Things move me; neither count I my Life dear unto my ſelf, ſo that I may finiſh my Courſe with Joy, &c. counting that to ſee and be doing of heavenly Things, will countervail all the Trouble and Sorrow that attends them; This therefore ſharply rebuketh thoſe that can be glad to be ignorant of the Knowledge of ſome Truths, eſpecially of them that are perſecuted. Still anſwering thoſe that charge them with walking irregularly, that they do but according to their Light. Whereas the Hearts that be full of Love to the Name and Glory of Chriſt, will in quiet, return and come: yea, and be glad, if they find the Words of God, and will eat them with ſavour and ſweet Delight, how bitter ſoever they are to the Belly; becauſe of that Teſtimony they bind us up to maintain before Peoples, and Nations, and Kings.

Acts, 20. 23, 24. Revel. 10. 10, 11.

I judge not thoſe that have conſciouſly ſought, and that according to rule, and yet remain in the dark

I am now ready to be offered up.

The third Thing to be conſidered in the Words is this, that the Apoſtle by ſaying I am now ready, doth ſignify that now he had done that Work that God had appointed him to do in the World. I am now ready, becauſe I have done my Work; this is further manifeſt by the following Words of the Text; I am now ready to be offered up, and the Time of my Departure is at Hand; namely my Time to depart this World. The Words alſo that follow, are much to the Purpoſe, I have fought the good fight, I have finiſhed my Courſe, &c. much like that of our Lord Jeſus, I have finiſhed the Work which thou gaveſt me to do. Now then, put all theſe Things together, namely that I am to be offered a Sacrifice, and for this my Enemies are ready, my Heart is alſo ready; and becauſe I have done my Work, I am therefore every Way ready. This is a Frame and Condition that deſerveth, not only to ſtand in the Word of God for Paul's everlaſting Praiſe: but to be a provoking Argument to all that read or hear thereof, to follow the ſame Steps. I ſhall therefore to help it forward according to Grace received, draw one Concluſion from the Words, and ſpeak a few Words to it. The Concluſion is this;

Joh. 17. 4.

That it is the Duty and Wiſdom of thoſe that fear God, ſo to manage their Time and Work that he hath allotted unto them, that they may not have Part of the Work to do when they ſhould be departing the World.

This Truth I might further urge from the very Words of the Text, they being written on purpoſe by Paul to ſtir up Timothy and all the godly to preſs hard after this very Thing. But to paſs that, and to mind you of ſome other Scriptures that preſs it hard as a Duty, and then to proceed to ſome few Examples of the wiſe and moſt eminent Saints. Which when I have done I ſhall

1. Shew you Reaſon for it.
2. Give you Encouragement to it.
3. Preſs it with ſeveral Motives.
4. Make ſome Uſe and Application of the whole and ſo conclude.

That this is the Duty and Wiſdom of thoſe that fear God, you may ſee by Chriſt's Exhortation to Watchfulneſs and to prepare for his ſecond coming: Therefore be ye ready alſo; for at an Hour when you think not, the Son of Man cometh. Theſe Words, as they are ſpoken to ſtir up the godly to be ready, to meet their Lord at his coming, ſo becauſe the godly muſt meet him as well in his Judgments and Providences here, as at his perſonal appearing at the laſt Day; therefore they ſhould be diligent to be fitting themſelves to meet him in all ſuch Diſpenſations: and becauſe, ſaith God, I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God O Iſrael. Now Death is one of the moſt certain of thoſe Diſpenſations; yea, and ſuch, that it leaveth to thoſe no Help at all, or Means to perform for ever that, which, ſhouldeſt thou want it, that is lacking to thy Work. Wherefore Solomon alſo doth preſs us to this very Work, and that from this Conſideration, whatſoever thy Hand findeth to do, do it with all thy Might, for there is no Work, nor Device, nor Knowledge, nor Wiſdom in thy Grave whether thou goeſt; bauk nothing of thy Duty, neither defer to do it; for thou art in thy Way to thy Grave and there thou canſt not finiſh ought that by neglect thou leaveſt undone; therefore be diligent while Life laſts.

Mat. 24. 44. Amos 4. 12. Eccleſ. 9. 10.

Another

Another Scripture is that in Peter's Epiſtle to thoſe that were ſcattered abroad, ſeeing, ſaith he, that you look for ſuch Things, be diligent, that you may be found of him in Peace, &c. He is there diſcourſing of the coming of Chriſt to Judgment, as Chriſt alſo was in the other; and from the certainty and dread of that Day he doth preſs them on to a continual Diligence, and is to be underſtood, as that of Paul to Timothy, a diligent Watching in all Things, that as he ſaith again, they may ſtand compleat in all the Will of God, not lacking this or that of that Work which was given them to do of God and this World. Much might be ſaid for the further Proof of this Duty; but to give you ſome Examples of the godly Men of Old, whereby it will appear, that as it is our Duty to do it, ſo it is alſo our Wiſdom: And hence.

2 Pet. 3. 14.

2 Tim. 4. 5.

Gen. 5.22. Gen. 6. 9. It ſaid of Enoch, that he walked with God, and of Noah, that he was faithful in his Generation, and alſo walked with God, That is, they kept Touch with him, ſtill keeping up to the Work and Duty that every Day required; not doing their Duty by Fits and by Starts, but in a fervent Spirit they ſerved the Lord. So again it is ſaid of Abraham that his Work was to walk before God in a Way of Faith and Self-denial, which he with diligence performed. And therefore the Holy Ghoſt ſaith, he died in a good old Age; thereby inſinuating, that he made both Ends meet together, the End of his Work with the End of his Days, and ſo came to his Grave, in a full Age, as a ſhock of Corn coming in his Seaſon. Jacob alſo when he bleſſed his Sons, as he lay upon his Death-Bed before them, doth ſweetly comfort himſelf with this, after all his Toyl and Travel, ſaying, I have waited for thy Salvation, O Lord: As if he had ſaid, Lord, I have faithfully walked before thee in the Days of my Pilgrimage thorough the Help and Power of thy Grace; and now having nothing to do but to die, I lie waiting for thy coming to gather me up to thy ſelf and my Fathers: So when he had made an End of commanding his Sons; (now his Bottom was Wound) he gathered up his Feet in the Bed, and yielded up the Ghoſt, and was gathered unto his People. Caleb and Joſhua are ſaid to be Men of excellent Spirits, becauſe they were faithful in this their Work. David was eminent this Way, and had done his Work before his Death-day came. After he had ſerved his own Generation by the Will of God, then he fell aſleep. Which in the Old Teſtament is ſignified by three Paſſages, 1. By his loſing his Heat before his Death, thereby ſhewing his Work for God was done, he now only waited to die. 2. By that Paſſage, theſe are the laſt Words of David even the Wind up of all the Doctrines of that ſweet Pſalmiſt of Iſrael. 3. That in the Pſalms is very ſignificant, The Prayers of David the Son of Jeſſe are ended. In the whole they all do doubtleſs ſpeak forth this in the main, that David made great Conſcience of walking with God, by labouring to drive his Work before him, that his Work and Life might meet together; for that indeed is a good Man's Wiſdom. Job had great Conſcience alſo as to this very Thing, as witneſs both God's Teſtimony, and his own Conſcience for him. Elijah had brought his Work to that Iſſue that he had but to anoint Haziel to be King of Aſſyria, Jehu to be King of Iſrael, and Eliſha, Prophet in his Room, and then to be caught up into Heaven. What ſhall I ſay? I might come to Hezekiah, Jehoſaphat, Joſias; with old Simeon alſo, whoſe Days were lengthened chiefly, not becauſe he was behind with God and his Conſcience as to his Work for God in the World, but to ſee with his Eyes now at laſt, the Lord's Chriſt: a ſweet forefitting for Death! Zacharias with Elizabeth his Wife (that good old couple alſo,) how tender and doubtful were they in this Matter, to walk in all the Commandments and Ordinances of the Lord, in a bleſſed blameleſs Way! Their Son alſo is not to be left out, who rather than he would be put out of his Way, and hindred from fulfilling his Courſe, would venture the Loſs of the Love of a King, and the Loſs of his Head for a Word. All theſe with many more, are as ſo many mighty Arguments for the Praiſe of that I aſſerted before, to wit, that it is the Duty and Wiſdom of thoſe that fear God, ſo to manage their Time and Work that he hath here allotted unto them, that they may not have Part of their Work to do when they ſhould be departing this World. I might urge alſo many Reaſons to enforce this Truth upon you, as,

Firſt, Otherwiſe the great and chief Deſign of God in ſending us into the World, eſpecially in converting us and poſſeſſing our Souls with Gifts and Graces, and many other Benefits, that we might here be to the glory of his Grace, is as much as in us lies, truſtrate and diſappointed. This People have I formed for my ſelf, ſaith he, they ſhall ſhew forth my Praiſe: and ſo again, you have not choſen me, but I have choſen you and ordained you that you ſhould go and bring forth Fruit, and that your Fruit ſhould remain. God never intended when he covered thy nakedneſs with the Righteouſneſs of his dear Son, and delivered thee from the condemning Power of Sin and the Law, that thou ſhouldeſt ſtill live as do thoſe who know not God. This I ſay therefore, ſaith Paul, and teſtify in the Lord; that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles, in the Vanity of their Mind. What, a Chriſtian, and live as does the World? a Chriſtian, and ſpend thy Time, thy Strength and Parts for Things that periſh in the uſing? Remember Man, if the Grace of God hath taken hold of thy Soul, thou art a Man of another World,

Joh. 15.16

Eph. 4.17.

Joh. 17. 16

And

Rom. 14. 16, 17, 18. and indeed, a Subject of another and more noble Kingdom, the Kingdom of God which is the Kingdom of the Gospel, of Grace, of Faith and Righteousness, and the Kingdom of Heaven hereafter; in these Things thou shouldest exercise thy self: 1 Cor. 9. 26, 27. Not making heavenly Things, which God hath bestowed upon thee, to stoop to Things that are of the World; but rather here beat down thy Body, mortify thy Members, hoist up thy Mind to the Things that are above, and practically hold forth before all the World that blessed Word of Life. This Col. 3. 1, 2, 3, 4. I say, is God's Design; this is the Tendency, the natural Tendency of every Grace of God bestowed upon thee; and herein is our Joh. 15. 8. Father glorified, that we bring forth much Fruit.

Secondly, A second Reason why Christians should so manage their Time and the Work that God hath appointed them to do for his Name in this World, that they may not have Part thereof to do when they should be departing this World, it is because, if they do not, dying will be an hard Work with them, especially if God awakeneth them about their neglect of their Duty. 1 Cor. 11. 30, 31, 32. The Way of God with his People is to visit their Sins in this Life; and the worst Time for thee to be visited for them, is when thy Life is smitten down, as it were, to the Dust of Death, even when all natural Infirmities break in like a Flood upon thee; Sickness, Fainting, Pains, Weariſomness and the like; now I say to be charged also with the neglect of Duty, when in no Capacity to do it; yea, when perhaps, so feeble, as scarce able to abide to hear thy dearest Friend in this Life speak to thee; Will not this make dying hard? yea, when thou Heb. 4. 1, 2. shalt seem both in thine own Eyes, as also in the Eyes of others, to fall short of the Kingdom of Heaven for this and the other Transgression; Will not this make dying hard? David found it hard, when he cried, Psal. 39. 13. O spare me a little, that I may recover Strength, before I go hence and be no more. David at this Time was chastened for some Iniquity; yea, brought for his Folly to the Doors of the Shadow of Death. But here he could not enter without great Distress of Mind; wherefore he cries out for respite, and Time to do the Will of God, and the Work allotted to him. So again, the Pains of Hell caught hold upon me, the Sorrows of Death compassed me about, and I found Trouble and Sorrow; then I cried unto the Lord. Ay, this will make thee cry though thou be as good as David. Wherefore learn by his Sorrow, as he himself also learned, at last to serve his own Generation by the Will of God, before he fell asleep. God can tell how to pardon thy Sins, and yet make them such a bitter Thing, and so heavy a Burden to thee, that thou wouldest not, if thou wast but once distressed with it, come there again for all this World. Ah! it is easy with him to have this Pardon in his Bosom, when yet he is breaking all thy Bones, and pouring out thy Gall upon the Ground; yea, to shew himself then unto thee in so dreadful a Majesty, that Heaven and Earth shall seem to thee to tremble at his Presence. Let then the Thoughts of this prevail with thee, as a Reason of great Weight to provoke thee to study, to manage thy Time and Work in Wisdom while thou art well.

Thirdly, Another Reason why those that fear God should so manage their Time and Work for God in this World, that they may not have Part to do, when they should be departing this Life, it is because loitering in thy Work, doth as much as in it lieth, defer and hold back the second coming of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. One Thing, amongst many, that letteth the appearing of Christ in the Clouds of Heaven, is, his Body with the several Members thereof are not yet compleat and full; they Eph. 4. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13. are not all yet come to the Knowledge of the Son of God, to the Measure of the Stature of the fulness of Christ, that is, to the compleat making up of his Body, for as Peter saith, the Lord is not slack concerning his Promise, as some Men count Slackness, but is Long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to Repentance, and so also to the compleat Performance of all their Duty, and Work they have for God in this World. And I say, the faster the Work of Conversion, Repentance, Faith, Self-Denial, and the rest of the Christian Duties are performed by the Saints in their Day, the more they make Way for the coming of the Lord from Heaven. Wherefore, Peter saith again, seeing then that we look 2 Pet. 3. 9, 10, 11, 12. for such Things, what manner of Persons ought we to be in all holy Conversation and Godliness, looking for, and hasting unto, or as it is in the Margent, hasting the coming of the Day of God, wherein the Heavens being on Fire shall be dissolved, and the Elements shall melt with fervent Heat; when Rev. 19. 7. the Bride hath made herself ready, the Marriage of the Lamb is come. That is, the Lord will then wait upon the World no longer, when his Saints are fit to receive him. As he said to Lot when he came to Gen. 19. 20, 21, 22. burn down Sodom, haste thee to Zoar, for I can do nothing till thou be come thither. So concerning the great Day of Judgment to the World which shall be also the Day of Blessedness, and Rest to the People of God, it cannot come until the Lamb's Wife hath made herself ready; until all the Saints that belong to glory are ready. And before I go further, what might I yet say to fasten this Reason upon the truly gracious Soul? What! wilt thou yet loiter in the Work of thy Day? wilt thou still be unwilling to hasten Righteousness? doest thou not know that thou by so doing deferrest the coming of thy deareſt Lord? beſides, that is the Day of his Glory, the Day when he ſhall come in the Glory of his Father and of the holy Angels, and wilt not thou by thy Diligence help it forwards? Muſt alſo the general Aſſembly and Church of the Firſtborn wait upon thee for their full Portions of Glory? Wilt thou by thus doing endeavour to keep them wrapt up ſtill in the Duſt of the Earth, there to dwell with the Worm and Corruption? The Lord awaken thee, that thou mayeſt ſee thy loitering doth do this, and doth alſo hinder thy own Soul of the Inheritance prepared for thee.

Fourthly, Another Reaſon why Saints ſhould preſs hard after a compleat performing their Work that God hath allotted unto them, is, becauſe ſo far forth as they fall ſhort, in that they impair their own Glory. For as the Lord hath commanded his People to work for him in this World; ſo alſo he of Grace hath promiſed to reward whatever they chriſtianly do. For whatſoever good Thing any Man doth, the Heb. 6. 10. ſame ſhall he receive of the Lord, whether 2 Theſ. 1. 6, 7. he be bound or free; yea, he counts it Unrighteouſneſs to forget their Work of Faith and Labour of Love, but a righteous Thing to recompence them for it in the Day of our Lord Jeſus. This well conſidered is of great Force to prevail with thoſe that are covetous of Glory, ſuch as Moſes, and Paul, with the reſt of that Spirit. As the Apoſtle ſaith alſo to the Saints at Corinth, 1 Cor. 15. ult. be ſtedfaſt, unmoveable, always abounding in the Work of the Lord, foraſmuch as ye know that your Labour is not in Vain in the Lord.

Having thus given you the Reaſons, why God's People ſhould be diligent in that Work that God hath allotted for them, to be doing for him in this World; I ſhall in the next Place give you ſome Directions, as helps to further you in this Work. And they are ſuch as tend to take away thoſe Hindrances that come upon thee either by Diſcouragement, or by Reaſon of hardneſs and benummedneſs of Spirit. For great Hindrances overtake God's People from both theſe Impediments.

Firſt then, If thou wouldeſt be faithful to do that Work that God hath allotted thee to do in this World for his Name; labour to live in the Savour and Senſe of thy Freedom and Liberty by Jeſus Chriſt. That is, keep this, if poſſible ever before thee, that thou art a redeemed one, taken out of this World, and from under the Curſe of the Law, out of the Power of the Devil, &c. and placed in a Kingdom of Grace, and Forgiveneſs of Sins for Chriſt's Sake. This is of abſolute Uſe in this Matter; yea, ſo abſolute, that it is impoſſible for any Chriſtian to do his Work Chriſtianly without ſome Enjoyment of it. For this in the firſt of Luke is made the very Ground of all good Works, both as to their Nature and our Continuance in them, and is alſo reckoned there an eſſential Part of that Covenant, that God made with our Fathers; even that he would grant unto us that we being delivered out of the Hands of our Enemies, might ſerve him without fear, in Holineſs and Righteouſneſs before him all the Days of our Life. And indeed, take this away, and what Ground can there be laid for any Man to perſevere in good Works? none at all. For take away Grace and Remiſſion of Sins for Chriſt's Sake, and you leave Men nothing to help them but the Terrors of the Law, and Judgment of God, which at beſt can beget but a ſervile and ſlaviſh Spirit in that Man in whom it dwells, which Spirit is ſo far off from being an Help to us in our purſuit of good Works, that it makes us we cannot endure that which is commanded, but Iſrael like, it flieth from God even as from the Face of a Serpent. As Solomon ſaith, a Servant will not be corrected by Words, for though he underſtand, he will not anſwer. Get thou then thy Soul poſſeſſed with the Spirit of the Son, and believe thou art ſet perfectly free by him from whatſoever thou by Sin haſt deſerved at the Hand of revenging Juſtice. This Doctrine unlooſeth thy Bands, takes off thy Yoak and lets thee go upright. This Doctrine puts ſpiritual and heavenly Inclinations into thy Soul, and the Faith of this Truth, doth ſhew thee, that God hath ſo ſurprized thee, and gone beyond thee, with his bleſſed and everlaſting Love that thou canſt not but reckon thy ſelf his Debtor for ever. Therefore Brethren we are Debtors, not to the Fleſh to live after the Fleſh: That Argument of Paul to Philemon is here true in the higheſt Degree, thou oweſt to God for his Grace to thee, even thy whole ſelf beſides. This Paul further teſtifies both in the ſixth and ſeventh of the Romans. In the one he ſaith, we are free from Sin, in the other he ſaith, we are dead to the Law, that our Fruit might be unto Holineſs; that we might bring forth Fruit unto God: For, as I ſaid, if either thy ungodly Luſts, or the Power and Force of the Law have Dominion over thy Spirit, thou art not in a Condition now to be performing thy Work to God in this World. I have heretofore marvelled at the quarrelſome Spirit that poſſeſſed the People that Malachi ſpeaketh of, how they found Fault with, in a Manner, all Things that was commanded them to do: But I have ſince obſerved, their ungodly Diſpoſition was grounded upon this their doubting of the Love of God, yet ye ſay, wherein haſt thou loved us? And indeed if People once ſay to God by Way of doubt, wherein haſt thou loved thus, no marvel though that People be like thoſe in Malachi's Time; a diſcontented murmuring backward People about every Thing that is good. Read that whole Book of Malachi.

Secondly, If thou wouldeſt be faithful to do that Work that God hath allotted thee to do in this World for his Name;

Then

Then labour to ſee a Beauty and Glory in Holineſs, and in every good Work: This tends much to the engaging of thy Heart. O worſhip the Lord in the Beauty of Holineſs; fear before him all the Earth: And for thy Help in this, think much on this in general, that, Thus ſaith the Lord, is the Wind-up of every Command: For indeed much of the Glory and Beauty of Duties doth lie in the Glory and Excellency of the Perſon that doth command them; and hence it is, that Be it enacted by the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty, is in the Head of every Law, becauſe that Law ſhould therefore be reverenced by, and be made glorious and beautiful to all. And we ſee upon this very Account, what Power and Place the Precepts of Kings do take in the Hearts of their Subjects, every one loving and reverencing the Statute, becauſe there is the Name of their King. Will you rebel againſt the King, is a Word that ſhakes the World. Well then, turn theſe Things about for an Argument to the Matter in Hand, and let the Name of God, ſeeing he is wiſer and better, and of more Glory and Beauty than Kings, beget in thy Heart a Beauty in all Things that are commanded thee of God. And indeed if thou do not in this act thus, thou wilt ſtumble at ſome of thy Duty and Work thou haſt to do; for ſome of the Commands of God, are in themſelves ſo mean and low, that take away the Name of God from them, and thou wilt do as Naaman the Syrian, deſpiſe inſtead of obeying. What is there in the Lord's Supper, in Baptiſm, yea in preaching the Word and Prayer, were they not the Appointments of God? His Name being intailed to them, makes them every one glorious and beautiful. Wherefore, no marvel if he that looks upon them without their Title Page goeth away in a Rage, like Naaman, preferring others before them. What is Jordan? Are not Abana and Pharpar, Rivers of Damaſcus, better than all the Waters in Iſrael, may I not waſh in them and be clean? ſaith he. This was becauſe he remembred not that the Name of God was in the Command. Iſrael's Trumpets of Rams Horns, and Iſaiah's walking naked, and Ezekiel's Wars againſt a Tile, would doubtleſs have been ignoble Acts, but that the Name of God was that which gave them Reverence, Power, Glory, and Beauty. Set therefore the Name of God, and thus ſaith the Lord, againſt all Reaſonings, Defamings, and Reproaches that either by the World, or thy own Heart, thou findeſt to ariſe againſt thy Duty, and let his Name and Authority alone be a ſufficient Argument with thee, to behold the Beauty that he hath put upon all his Ways, and to inquire in his Temple.

Joſh. 6. 2, 3, 4. Iſa. 20. 3. Ezek. 4. 1, 2, 3, 4.

Thirdly, Wouldeſt thou be faithful to do that Work that God hath appointed thee to do in this World for his Name; then make much of a trembling Heart and Conſcience; for though the Word be the Line and Rule whereby we muſt order and govern all our Actions, yet a trembling Heart and tender Conſcience is of abſolute Neceſſity for our ſo doing. A hard Heart can do nothing with the Word of Jeſus Chriſt. Hear the Word of the Lord, ye that tremble at his Word; ſerve the Lord with Fear, and rejoice with Trembling. I ſpake before againſt a ſervile and ſlaviſh Frame of Spirit, therefore you muſt not underſtand me here as if I meant now to cheriſh ſuch a one; no, it is a Heart that trembleth for, or at the Grace of God; and a Conſcience made tender by the ſprinkling of the Blood of Chriſt. Such a Conſcience as is awakened both by Wrath and Grace, by the Terror and the Mercy of God, for it ſtands with the Spirit of a Son to fear before his Father. Yea, to fear Chaſtiſings, though not to fear Damnation. Let therefore Deſtruction from God be a Terror to thy Heart, though not that Deſtruction that attends them that periſh by Sin for ever. Though this I might add further; it may do thee no Harm, but Good, to caſt an Eye over thy Shoulder, at thoſe that now lye roaring under the Vengeance of Eternal Fire; it may put thee in mind of what thou waſt once, and of what thou muſt yet aſſuredly be, if Grace by Chriſt preventeth not: Keep then thy Conſcience awake with Wrath and Grace, with Heaven and Hell; but let Grace and Heaven bear Sway. Paul made much of a tender Conſcience, elſe he had never done as he did, nor ſuffer'd what we read of. But herein, ſaith he, I exerciſe my ſelf, to have always a Conſcience void of Offence towards God, and towards Men. But this could not a ſtony, benummed, bribed, deluded, or a muzzled Conſcience do. Paul was like the Nightingale with his Breaſt againſt the Thorn. That his Heart might ſtill keep waking, he would accuſtom himſelf to the Meditation of them Things that ſhould beget both Love and Fear; and would always be very chary leſt he offended his Conſcience. Herein do I exerciſe my ſelf, &c.

Be diligent then in this Matter, if thou wouldeſt be faithful with God. A tender Conſcience to ſome People is like Solomon's brawling Woman, a Burthen to thoſe that have it: But let it be to thee like thoſe that invited David to go up to the Houſe of the Lord. Hear it and cheriſh it with Pleaſure and Delight.

Fourthly, If thou wouldeſt be faithful to do that Work that God hath appointed thee to do in this World for his Name; then let Religion be the only Buſineſs to take up thy Thoughts and Time. Whatſoever thy Hand findeth to do, do it with all thy Might, with all thy Heart, with all thy Mind, and with all thy Strength. Pſ. 86. 11. Fear of God, an Heart moulded and faſhioned by the Word of God, is a rare Thing. Rare, becauſe 'tis hard to be found, and rare becauſe 'tis indeed the Fruit of an
Rom. 6. 17 excellent Spirit, and a Token of one ſaved by the Lord. But this Indifferency in Religion, this faſhioning our ſelves in our Language, Geſture, Behaviour, and Carriage to the Fancies and Fopperies of this World, as it is in it ſelf much unbecoming a People that ſhould bear the Name of their God in their Foreheads; ſo it cannot but be a very great and ſore Obſtruction to thy faithful walking with God in this World. Gird up then thy Loins like a Man, let God and his Chriſt, and his Word and his People and Cauſe, be the Chief in thy Soul; and as heretofore thou haſt afforded this World the moſt of thy Time and Travel, and Study, ſo now convert all theſe to
Rom. 6. 19 the Uſe of Religion. As you have yielded your Members Servants to Uncleanneſs, and to Iniquity, unto Iniquity; even ſo now yield your Members Servants to Righteouſneſs, unto Holineſs.

Holy Things muſt be in every Heart where this is faithfully put in Practice.

1. Daily bring thy Heart and the Word of God together, that thy Heart may be levelled by it, and alſo filled with it. The want of performing this ſincerely is a great Cauſe of that Unfaithfulneſs that is in us to God. Bring then thy Heart to the Word daily, to try how thou believeſt the Word to Day, to try how it agrees with the Word to Day. This is the Way to make clean Work daily, to keep thy Soul warm and

Pſ. 1. 2, 3. ſhall be like a Tree planted by the Rivers of Water, that bringeth forth his Fruit in his Seaſon; his Leaf alſo ſhall not wither, and whatſoever he doth ſhall proſper.

2. A continual Remembrance that to every Day thou haſt thy Work allotted thee;
Mat. 6. 32, 33, 34. and that ſufficient for that Day are the Evils
1 Cor. 15. 30, 31, 32, 33. that attend thee. This Remembrance ſet Paul upon his Watch daily; made him die to himſelf and this World daily, and provoked him alſo daily to wind up the Spirit of his Mind; transforming himſelf by the Power of the Word, from that Proneneſs
Pro. 23. 2. that was in his Fleſh to carnal Things. This will make thee keep the Knife at thy Throat in all Places and Buſineſs and Company.

3. Let thy Heart be more affected with what concerns the Honour of God, and the Profit and Glory of the Goſpel, than with what are thy Concernments as a Man, with all Earthly Advantages. This will make thee refuſe Things that are lawful, if they appear to be inexpedient. Yea, this will make thee, like the Apoſtles of old, prefer another Man's Peace and Edification before thine own Profit, and to take more Pleaſure in the Increaſe of the Power of Godlineſs in any, than in the Increaſe of thy Corn and Wine.

4. Reckon with thy own Heart every Day before thou lye down to ſleep, and caſt up both what thou haſt received from God, done for him, and where thou haſt alſo been wanting. This will beget Praiſe and Humility, and put thee upon redeeming the Day that is paſt; whereby thou wilt be able, through the continual Supplies of Grace, in ſome good Meaſure, to drive thy Work before thee; and to ſhorten it as thy Life doth ſhorten, and mayeſt comfortably live in the Hope of bringing both Ends ſweetly together. But to paſs this,

5. If thou wouldeſt be faithful to do that Work, that God hath appointed thee to do in this World for his Name; Then beware thou do not ſtop and ſtick when hard Work comes before thee. It is with Chriſtians as it is with other Scholars, they ſometimes meet with hard Leſſons, but theſe thou muſt alſo learn or thou canſt not do thy Work. The Word and Spirit of God comes ſometimes
Gen. 22. Exod. 32. 26, 27, 28. Acts 20. 23 Ex. 4. 3, 4 like Chain-Shot to us, as if it would cut down all; as when Abraham was to offer up Iſaac, and the Levites to ſlay their Brethren. Paul alſo muſt go from Place to Place to preach, though he knew beforehand he was to be afflicted there. God may ſometimes ſay to thee, as he ſaid to his Servant Moſes, Take the Serpent by the Tail; or as the Lord Jeſus ſaid to Peter, Walk upon the Sea. Theſe are hard Things, but have not been rejected when God hath called to do them. O how willingly would our Fleſh and Blood eſcape the Croſs for Chriſt! The Comforts of the Goſpel, the Sweetneſs of the Promiſe, how pleaſing is it to
Hoſ. 10. 11 us! like Ephraim here, we love to tread out the Corn, and to hear thoſe pleaſant Songs and Muſick that Goſpel Sermons make where only Grace is preached, and nothing of our Duty as to Works of Self-denial; but as for ſuch, God will tread upon their fair Neck, and Yoak them with Chriſt's Yoak; for there they have a Work to do, even a Work of Self-denial.

Now this Work ſometimes lieth in Acts that ſeem to be deſperate, as when a Man muſt both leave and hate his Life, and all Luke 14. 26, 27, 33. he hath for Chriſt, or elſe he cannot ſerve him nor be counted his Diſciple.

Thus

Thus it ſeemed with Chriſt himſelf when he went his fatal Journey up to Jeruſalem, he went thither as he knew, to die, and therefore trod every Step as it were in his own Bowels, but yet no Doubt with great Temptation to ſhun and avoid that Voyage; and therefore it is ſaid he ſet his Face ſtedfaſtly to go up, ſcorning to be invited to the contrary, and to prevent the Noiſe of his weak Diſciples, Maſter ſave thy ſelf. It is ſaid, he aſcended before them, inſomuch that they were amazed to ſee his Reſolution, while they themſelves were afraid of that dreadful Effect that might follow; alſo when he came there and was to be apprehended, he went to the Garden that Judas knew, his old accuſtomed Place: So when they asked him the killing Queſtion, he anſwered, I am he.

Luke 9.51. Mar. 10. 32, 33, 34. Joh. 18. 1, 2, 3. Mar. 14. 61, 62.

Sometimes in Acts that ſeem to be fooliſh, as when Men deny themſelves of thoſe Comforts and Pleaſures and Friendſhips and Honours of the World that formerly they uſed to have, and chuſe rather to aſſociate themſelves with the very Abjects of this World; I mean ſuch as Carnal Men count ſo, counting their Ways and Manners of Life, though attended with a thouſand Calamities, more profitable and pleaſing, and delightful, than all former Glory. Thus Eliſha left his Father's Houſe though to pour Water upon the Hands of Elijah, and thus the Diſciples left their Father's Ships and Nets, to love a beggerly Life with Jeſus Chriſt. As Paul did leave the Feet of Gamaliel for the Whip, and the Stocks and the Deaths that attended the bleſſed Goſpel. One would have thought that had been a ſimple Way of Peter, to leave all for Chriſt, before he knew what Chriſt would give him; as that 19th of Matthew ſeems to import; but Chriſt will have it ſo. He that will ſave his Life, muſt loſe it, and he that will loſe his Life in this World for Chriſt, ſhall keep it to Life Eternal. I might add many Things of this Nature, to ſhew you what hard Chapters ſometimes God ſets his beſt People: But thy Work is, if thou wouldeſt be faithful, not to ſtop nor ſtick at any Thing. Some when they come at the Croſs, they will either there make a ſtop and go no further; or elſe, if they can, ſtep over it, if not, they will go round about; do not thou do this; but take it up, and kiſs it, and bear it after Jeſus. God forbid, ſaith Paul, that I ſhould glory, ſave in the Croſs of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, by whom the World is Crucified unto me, and I unto the World. Now for thy better performing this Piece of Service for our Lord and Saviour Jeſus Chriſt.

2 Kin. 3. 11. Mat. 15. 27. Joh. 12.25 Mat. 10. 37, 38. Gal. 6.14.

O 'tis hard Work to pocket up the Reproaches of all the fooliſh People, as if we had found great Spoil, and to ſuffer all their Revilings, Lies and Slanders, without curſing them, as Eliſha did the Children; to anſwer them with Prayers, and Bleſſings for their Curſings. It is far more eaſy to give them Taunt for Taunt, and Reviling for Reviling; to give them Blow for Blow; yea, to call for Fire from Heaven againſt them: But to bleſs them that curſe us, and to pray for them that deſpitefully uſe and perſecute us even of Malice, of old grudge, and on Purpoſe to vex and afflict our Mind, and to make us break out into a Rage, this is Work above us; now our Patience ſhould look up to unſeen Things; now remember Chriſt his Carriage to them that ſpilt his Blood; or all is in Danger of burſting, and thou of miſcarrying in theſe Things.

I might here alſo dilate upon Job's Caſe and the Leſſon God ſet him, when at one Stroke he did beat down all, only ſpared his Life, but made that alſo ſo bitter to him, that his Soul choſe ſtrangling rather than it. O when every Providence of God unto thee is like the Meſſengers of Job, and the laſt to bring more heavy Tidings than all that went before him; when Life, Eſtate, Wife, Children, Body and Soul, and all at once, ſeem to be ſtruck at by Heaven and Earth; here are hard Leſſons: Now to behave my ſelf even as a weaned Child, now to ſay the Lord giveth and the Lord hath taken away, and bleſſed be the Name of the Lord. Thus with few Words Job aſcribeth Righteouſneſs to his Maker; but though they were but few, they proceeded from ſo bleſſed a Frame of Heart, that cauſed the Pen-man of the Word to ſtay himſelf and wonder, ſaying, in all this Job ſinned not with his Lips, nor charged God fooliſhly, in all this. What a great deal will the Holy Ghoſt make of that, which ſeems but little when it flows from an upright Heart, and it indeed may well be ſo accounted of all that know what is in Man, and what he is prone unto.

Job. 1.15, to 22.

1. Labour, to believe that all theſe Things are Tokens of the Love of God. Heb. 12.6. Rev. 3.19. Joh. 15.18.
2. Remember often that thou art not the firſt that hath met with theſe Things in the World: It hated me, ſaith Chriſt, before it hated you. 1 Pet. 4.1, 2, 3. Deut. 9.7. Levit. 26. 41, 42.
3. Arm thy ſelf with a patient and quiet Mind to bear and ſuffer for his Sake. Ezra. 9.13
4. Look back upon thy Provocations wherewith thou mayeſt have provoked God; then wilt thou accept of the Puniſhment for thy Sins, and confeſs it was leſs than thine Iniquities deſerve.
5. Pray thou mayeſt hear the Voice of the Rod, and have an Heart to anſwer the End of God therein. Mic. 6. 9.
6. Remember the Promiſe; all Things ſhall work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his Purpoſe. Rom 8.28
7. If thou wouldeſt be faithful to do that Work that God hath appointed thee to do in this World for his Name; then labour alway to poſſeſs thy Heart with a right Underſtanding, both of the Things that this World yieldeth, and of the Things that ſhall be hereafter. I am confident that moſt, if not all the Miſcarriages of the Saints and People of God, they have their Riſe from deceivable Thoughts here. The Things of this World appear to us more, and thoſe that are to come, leſs than they are; and hence it is that many are ſo hot and eager for Things that be in the World, and ſo cold and heartleſs for thoſe that be in Heaven. Satan is here a mighty Artiſt, and can ſhew us all earthly Things in a multiplying Glaſs; but when we look up to Things above, we ſee them as through Sackcloth of Hair: But take thou heed, be not ruled by thy ſenſual Appetite that can only ſavour fleſhly Things, neither be thou ruled by Carnal Reaſon, which always darkneth the Things of Heaven. But go to the Word, and as that ſays, ſo judge thou. That tells thee all Things under the Sun are Vanity, nay worſe, Vexation of Spirit; that tells thee the World is not, even then when it doth moſt appear to be: Wilt thou ſet thine Heart upon that which is not? for Riches certainly make themſelves Wings and fly away as an Eagle towards Heaven. The ſame may be ſaid for Honours, Pleaſures, and the like, they are poor, low, baſe Things to be entertained by a Chriſtian's Heart. The Man that hath moſt of them may in the fulneſs of his Sufficiency be in ſtraits. Yea, when he is about to fill his Belly with them, God may caſt the Fury of his Wrath upon him; ſo is every one that layeth up Treaſure for himſelf on Earth and is not Rich towards God. An Horſe that is loaden with Gold and Pearls all Day, may have a foul Stable and a gauled Back at Night. And Wo be to him that increaſeth that which is not his, and that ladeth himſelf with thick Clay. O Man of God, throw this Bone to the Dogs, ſuck not at it, there is no Marrow there. Set thine Affections on Things that are above, where Chriſt ſitteth on the right Hand of God. Behold, what God hath prepared for them that love him. And if God hath bleſſed thee with ought; ſet not thine Heart upon it, honour the Lord with thy Subſtance; labour to be rich in good Works, ready to diſtribute, willing to communicate, laying up in ſtore a good Foundation for the Time to come, that thou mayeſt lay hold on Eternal Life. Further to lighten thine Eyes a little; and firſt concerning the Glory of the World.

1 Cor. 1. 26. 1. It is that which God doth moſtly give to thoſe that are not his; for the poor receive the Goſpel, not many rich, not many mighty, not many noble are called.

2. Much of this World and its Glory is permitted of God to be diſpoſed of by the Devil, and he is called both the Prince and God thereof; yea, when Satan told Chriſt, he could give it to whom he would, Chriſt did not ſay thou lieſt; but anſwered, by the Word it is written thou ſhalt worſhip the Lord thy God, and him only ſhalt thou ſerve. Implying alſo, that commonly when Men get much of the Honours and Glory of this World, it is by bending the Knee too low to the Prince and God thereof.

Joh. 14. 30 2 Cor. 4. 4. Luke 4. 6, 7, 8.

3. The Nature of the beſt of worldly Things, if hankered after, is to deaden the Spirit, to eſtrange the Heart from God, to pierce thee through with many Sorrows, and to drown thee in Perdition and Deſtruction. O Man of God flie theſe Things, and follow after Righteouſneſs, Godlineſs, Faith, Love, Patience, Meekneſs. And fight the good Fight of Faith, lay hold on eternal Life, whereunto thou art alſo called, &c.

Rom. 8. 6, 7. 1 Joh. 2. 15. 1 Tim. 6. 9, 10, 11, 12.

Secondly, As to the Things of God, what ſhall I ſay? the Things of his Word, and Spirit, and Kingdom, they ſo far go beyond the Conceivings of the Heart of Man, that none can utter them but by the Holy Spirit; there is no Deceit in them, no Lie is of the Truth, what they promiſe they will perform with Additions of amazing Glory. Taſte them firſt, and then thou ſhalt ſee them, O come taſte and ſee that the Lord is good; bleſſed is the Man that truſteth in him.

1 Joh. 2. 21. Pſal. 34. 8.

To ſtoop low, is a good Work (which is an Act of thine,) if it be done in Faith and Love; though but by a Cup of cold Water it is really more worth in it ſelf, and of higher Eſteem with God, than all worldly and periſhing Glory; there is no Compariſon, the one periſheth with the uſing; and for the other is laid up a far more exceeding and eternal Weight of Glory.

2 Cor. 4. 17.

But again, as thou ſhouldeſt labour to poſſeſs thy Heart with a right Underſtanding, of the periſhing Nature of the Riches and Pleaſures of this World, and of the durable Riches and Righteouſneſs that is in Chriſt, and all heavenly Things; ſo thou ſhouldeſt labour to keep always in thy Eye, what Sin is, what Hell is, what the Wrath of God, and everlaſting Burnings are: Transfer them to thy ſelf, as it were on a Finger, that thou mayeſt learn to think of nothing more highly than is meet, but to give to what thou beholdeſt their own due Weight; then thou wilt fear, where thou ſhouldeſt fear, love what is worth thy love, and ſlight that which is of no Worth. Theſe are juſt Weights and even Balances; now thou dealeſt not with deceitful Weights; and this is the Way to be rich in good Works, and to bring thy Work, that God hath appointed, to a good Iſſue, againſt thy dying Day.

Seventhly, but again; If thou wouldeſt be faithful to do that Work that God hath appointed thee to do, in this World, for his Name, then beware that thou ſlip not, or let paſs by the preſent Opportunity that Providence layeth before thee; work while it is called to Day, the Night comes when no Man can work. In that Parable of the Man that took a far Journey, it is ſaid; As he gave to every Servant his Work, ſo he commanded the Porter to watch, that is, for his Lord's coming back; and in the mean Time, for all Opportunities to perform the Work he left in their Hand, and committed unto their Truſt.

Rom. 12. 20. Seeſt thou the Poor, ſeeſt thou the Fatherleſs, ſeeſt thou thy Foe in Diſtreſs; draw out thy Breaſt, ſhut not up thy Bowels of Compaſſion, deal thy Bread to the hungry, bring the Poor that are caſt out, into thine Iſa. 58. 7. Houſe, hide not thy ſelf from thine own Fleſh, take the Opportunity that preſents it ſelf to thee; either by the Eye, or the hearing of the Ear, or by ſome godly Motion that paſſeth over thy Heart; ſay not Pro. 3. 28. to ſuch Meſſengers, go and come again Tomorrow, if thou haſt it by thee, now the Opportunity is put into thy Hand, delay not to do it, and the Lord be with thee. Good Opportunities are God's Seaſons for the doing of thy Work; wherefore watch for them and take them as they come. 2 Cor. 11. 26, 27. Paul tells us, he was in Watchings often; ſurely it was, That he might take the Seaſon that God ſhould give him to do this Work for him; As he alſo ſaith to Timothy, watch thou in all Things, do the Work, &c. Opportunities as to ſome Things, come but once in ones Life-time, as in the Caſe of Eſther, and of Nicodemus, and Holy Joſeph; when Eſther begged the Life of the Jews, and the other the Body of Jeſus, which once had they let ſlip or neglected, they could not have recovered it again for ever; Watch then for the Opportunity.

Eccleſ. 3. 10, 11. Firſt, Becauſe it is God's Seaſon; which without doubt is the beſt Seaſon and Time for every Purpoſe.

Secondly, Becauſe Satan watches to ſpoil, by miſtiming as well as by corrupting, whatever thou ſhalt do for God: When Rom. 7. 21 I would do good, ſaith Paul, evil is preſent; that is either to withdraw me from my Purpoſe, or elſe to infect my Work.

Thirdly, this is the Way to be profitJob 35. 8. able unto others. Thy wickedneſs may hurt a Man, as thou art, and thy Righteouſneſs may profit the Son of Man.

Fourthly, This is alſo the Way to be doing good to thy ſelf. Pro. 11. 25. He that watereth ſhall be watered himſelf: Caſt thy Bread upon Job 22. 2. the Waters; for thou ſhalt find it after many Eccl. 11. 1, 2. Days. He judged the Cauſe of the poor and needy, then it went well with him.

And I ſay, That the Opportunity may not ſlip thee, either for want of Care or Proviſion.

Pro. 17. 17. 1. Sit always looſe from an overmuch affecting thine own Concernments, and Believe, that thou waſt not born for thy ſelf; a Brother is born for Adverſity.

2 Cor. 11. 29. 2. Get thy Heart tenderly affected with the Welfare and Proſperity of all Things, that bear the Stamp and Image of God.

3. Study thy own Place and Capacity 1 Cor. 7. 24. that God hath put thee in, in this World; for ſuitable to thy Place, thy Work and Opportunities are.

4. Make Proviſion before-hand, that 2 Tim. 2. 21. when Things preſent themſelves, thou mayeſt come up to a good Performance; be prepared to every good Work.

5. Take heed of Carnal Reaſonings, keep Gal. 2. 11. thy Heart tender; but ſet thy Face Iſa. 50. 7. like a Flint for God.

6. And look well to the Manner of every Duty.

Eighthly, Wouldeſt thou be faithful, to do that Work that God hath appointed thee to do, in this World, for his Name; believe then, that whatever good Thing thou doeſt for him, if done according to the Word, it is not not only accepted by him now, but recorded, to be remembred for thee, againſt the Time to come; yea, laid up for thee as Treaſure in Cheſts and Coffers, to be brought out to be rewarded before both Men and Angels to thy eternal Comfort by Jeſus Chriſt our Lord. Lay not up, ſaith Chriſt, Treaſures on Earth, where Moth and Mat. 6. 19, 20. Ruſt doth corrupt, and where Thieves break through and ſteal; but lay up for your ſelves Treaſures in Heaven, where neither Moth nor Ruſt doth corrupt, and where Thieves do not break through and ſteal. The Treaſure that here our Lord commands, we ſhould with Diligence lay up in Heaven, is found both in Luke and Paul and Peter, to be meant by doing good Works.

1. Luke renders it thus, Sell that you have Luke 12. and give Alms; provide your ſelves Bags 33. that wax not old, a Treaſure in the Heavens that fadeth not, where no Thief approacheth, nor Moth corrupteth: The latter Part of the Verſe expounding the former.

2. Paul ſaith thus, Charge them that be rich in this World, That they be not High-minded, nor truſt in uncertain Riches, but in the living God, who giveth us all Things richly to enjoy: That they do Good, that they be RICH IN GOOD WORKS, 1 Tim. 6. ready to diſtribute, willing to communicate: 17, 18, 19. Laying up in Store for themſelves a good Foundation againſt the Time to come, that they may lay hold on eternal Life.

3. Peter alſo acknowledgeth and aſſerteth 1 Pet. 5. this, where, in his Exhortation to Elders 2, 3, 4. to do their Duty faithfully, and with chearfulneſs; he affirms, if they do ſo, They ſhall receive a Crown of Glory that fadeth not away, which Paul alſo calleth, a Re- 1 Cor. 9. ward for chearful Work, and that as an Act 17. of Juſtice by the Hand of a righteous 2 Tim. 4. 8. Judge, in the Day when the Lord ſhall come to give Reward to his Servants the Prophets, and to his Saints, and to all that fear his Name, ſmall and great; for every Man 1 Cor. 3. 8. ſhall receive his own Reward, according to his own Labour.

But before I go any further, I muſt anſwer ſwer three Objections that may be made by thoſe that read this Book.

First Obj. The firſt is this, ſome godly Heart may ſay, I dare not own, that what I do ſhall ever be regarded, much leſs rewarded by God in another World, becauſe of the Unworthineſs of my Perſon, and becauſe of the many Infirmities and ſinful Weakneſſes that attend me in every Duty.

Anſw. Anſwer, This Objection is built partly upon a baſhful Modeſty, partly upon Ignorance, and partly upon Unbelief. My Anſwer to it is as followeth.

1. You muſt remind and look back to what but now hath been proved, namely, That both Chriſt and his Apoſtles do all agree in this; that there is a Reward for the Righteous; and that their good Deeds are laid up as Treaſure for them in Heaven, and are certainly to be beſtowed upon them in the laſt Day with abundance of eternal Glory.

2. Now then, to ſpeak to thy Caſe, and to remove the Bottom of thy Objection, that the Unworthineſs of thy Perſon, and thy ſinful Infirmities, that attend thee in every Duty, do make thee think thy Works ſhall not be either regarded or rewarded in another World. But conſider firſt, as to the Unworthineſs of thy Perſon.

1. They that are in Chriſt Jeſus are always compleat before God, in the Righteouſneſs that Chriſt hath obtained, how infirm and weak and wicked ſoever they appear to themſelves: Before God therefore in this Righteouſneſs thou ſtandeſt all the Day long, and that upon a double Account; firſt by the Act of Faith, becauſe thou haſt believed in him that thou mighteſt be juſtified by the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt: but if this fail, I mean the Act of believing, ſtill thou ſtandeſt juſtified by God's imputing this Righteouſneſs to thee; which Imputation ſtandeth purely upon the Grace and good Pleaſure of God to thee, that holds thee ſtill as juſt before God, though thou wanteſt at preſent the Comfort thereof; Gen. 4. 4. thus therefore thy Perſon ſtands always accepted; and indeed no Man's Works can at all be regarded, if his Perſon in the firſt Place be not reſpected. The Lord had Heb. 11. 4. Reſpect firſt to Abel, and after to his Offering; but he can have Reſpect to no Man before Works done, unleſs he find them in the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt, for they muſt be accepted through a Righteouſneſs; which becauſe they have none of their own, therefore they have one of God's imputing, even that of his Son, which he wrought for us when he was born of the Virgin, &c.

2. As to thy ſinful Infirmities that attend thee in every Work, they cannot hinder thee from laying up Treaſure in Heaven, thy Heart being upright in the Way with God; nor will he be unrighteous at all to forget thy good Deeds in the Day when Chriſt ſhall come from Heaven.

1. Becauſe by the ſame Reaſon then he muſt diſown all the good Works of all his Prophets and Apoſtles, for they have all been attended with Weakneſſes and ſinful Infirmities; from the Beginning hitherto there is not a Man, not a juſt Man upon Earth, that doeth Good and ſinneth not; the beſt of our Works are accompanied with Sin; when I would do Good, ſaith Paul, Evil is preſent with me. This therefore muſt not hinder. And for thy further Satisfaction in this conſider, Eccl. 7. 20. Rom. 7. 21

As Chriſt preſents thy Perſon before God acceptable without thy Works, freely and alone by his Righteouſneſs, ſo his Office is to take away the Iniquity of thy holy Things, that they alſo by him may be accepted of God; wherefore it is further ſaid for the Encouragement of the Weak and Feeble, He ſhall not break a bruiſed Reed, nor quench the ſmoaking Flax, but ſhall bring forth Judgment unto Victory. The bruiſed Reed you know is weak; and by Bruiſes we ſhould underſtand ſinful Infirmities. And ſo alſo concerning the ſmoaking Flax, by ſmoaking you muſt underſtand ſinful Weakneſs; but none of theſe ſhall neither hinder the Juſtification of thy Perſon, nor the Acceptation of thy Performance, they being done in Faith and Love, let thy Temptations be never ſo many, becauſe of Jeſus Chriſt, his Prieſtly Office now at the right Hand of God; by him therefore let us offer Spiritual Sacrifices; for they ſhall be acceptable to God and our Father. Exod. 28. 36, 37, 38. 1 Pet. 2. 5. Iſa. 42. 3.

2. Becauſe otherwiſe God and Chriſt would prove falſe to their own Word, which is horrible Blaſphemy once to imagine, who hath promiſed that when the Son of God ſhall come to Judgment, he ſhall render to every Man according to his Works, and doth upon this very Account incourage his Servants to a patient induring of the hotteſt Perſecutions. For great is your Reward in Heaven. From this alſo he bindeth his Saints and Servants to be ſincerely liberal and good and kind to all; firſt becauſe otherwiſe they have no Reward of their Father which is in Heaven, that is, for what they do not; but if they do it, then though it be but a Cup of cold Water given to a Prophet or Righteous Man, they ſhall receive a Prophet's Reward, a Righteous Man's Reward; yea, they ſhall receive it in any wiſe, They ſhall in no wiſe loſe their Reward. Rev. 22. 12. Mat. 5. 12. Luke 6. 23, 35. Mat. 6. 1. Mat. 10. 41, 42.

3. It muſt be ſo; otherwiſe he ſhould deny a Reward to the Works and Operations of his own good Grace he hath freely beſtowed upon us; but that he will not do, He is not unfaithful to forget your Work of Faith, and Labour of Love; and ſo of all other Graces, our Work ſhall not be in vain in the Lord; and as I ſaid before, Temptations, Weakneſſes, and Sins, ſhall not Heb. 6. 10. 1 Cor. 15. 58.

not hinder the truly gracious of this their bleſſed Reward. Nay, they ſhall further it (if need be); you are in Heavineſs, through manifold Temptations; that the Trial of your Faith being much more precious than of Gold that periſheth, might be found unto Praiſe and Honour and Glory, at the Appearing of Jeſus Chriſt. And the Reaſon is, becauſe the Truth and Sincerity of God's Grace in us doth ſo much the more diſcover it ſelf, by how much it is oppoſed and reſiſted by Weakneſs and Sin. It is recorded to the everlaſting Renown of three of David's Mighties, that they would break through an Hoſt of Giant-like Enemies, to fetch Water for their longing King. For it beſpake their Valour, their Love and good Will to him: The ſame alſo is true, concerning thy Graces and every Act of them when aſſaulted with an Hoſt of Weakneſſes.

1 Pet. 1. 6, 7.

1 Chron. 11. 15, 16, 17, 18.

The Second Obj.

And now I come to the ſecond Objection, and that ariſeth from our being compleatly juſtified freely by the Grace of God through Chriſt; and by the ſame Means alone brought to Glory; and may be framed thus,

But ſeeing we are freely juſtified, and brought to Glory by Free Grace, through the Redemption that is in Jeſus Chriſt; and ſeeing the Glory that we ſhall be poſſeſſed of, upon the Account of the Lord Jeſus, is both full and compleat, both for Happineſs and continuing therein, what need will there be that our Work ſhould be rewarded? Nay, may not the Doctrine of Reward for good Works be here not only needleſs, but indeed an impairing and leſſening the Compleatneſs of that Glory, to which we are brought (and in which we ſhall live inconceivably happy for ever) by Free Grace?

Anſw. That we are juſtified in the Sight of the Divine Majeſty, from the whole Lump of our Sins, both paſt, preſent, and to come, by Free Grace, through that one Offering of the Body of Jeſus Chriſt, once for all, I bleſs God I believe it; and that we ſhall be brought to Glory by the ſame Grace, through the ſame moſt bleſſed Jeſus, I thank God by his Grace I believe that alſo. Again, That the Glory to which we ſhall be brought by Free Grace, through the only Merits of Jeſus, is unſpeakably glorious and compleat, I queſtion no more than I queſtion the bleſſed Truths but now confeſſed. But yet, notwithſtanding all this, there is a Reward for the Righteous, a Reward for their Works of Faith and Love, whether in a doing or ſuffering Way, and that not principally to be enjoyed here, but hereafter, great is your Reward in Heaven, as I proved in the Anſwer to the firſt Objection. And now I ſhall anſwer further.

First, If this Reward had been an impairing or derogation to the Free Grace of God that ſaveth us, he would never have mentioned it for our Encouragement unto good Works, nor have added a Promiſe of Reward for them that do them, nor have counted himſelf unfaithful if he ſhould not do it.

Secondly, The ſame may be ſaid concerning Jeſus Chriſt, who doubtleſs loveth and tendreth the Honour of his own Merits, as much as any who are ſaved by him can do; whether they be in Heaven or Earth, yet he hath promiſed a Reward to a Cup of cold Water, or giving of any other Alms; and hath further told us, They that do theſe Things they do lay up Treaſure in Heaven, namely a Reward when their Lord doth come, then to be received by them to their eternal Comfort.

Thirdly, Paul was as great a Maintainer of the Doctrine of God's Free Grace, and of Juſtification from Sin, by the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt imputed by Grace, as any he that ever lived in Chriſt's Service, from the World's Beginning till now; and yet he was for this Doctrine; he expected himſelf, and incouraged others alſo to look for ſuch a Reward, for doing and ſuffering for Chriſt, which he calls, a far more exceeding and eternal Weight of Glory. Surely, as Chriſt ſaith, in a Caſe not far diſtant from this in hand, if it were not ſo he would have told us. Now could I tell what thoſe Rewards are that Chriſt hath prepared, and will one Day beſtow upon thoſe that do for him in Faith and Love in this World, I ſhould therein alſo ſay more than now I dare or ought; yet this let me ſay in general, they are ſuch as ſhould make us leap to think on, and that we ſhould remember with exceeding Joy, and never think that it is contrary to the Chriſtian Faith, to rejoice and be glad for that which yet we underſtand not. Beloved now are we the Sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we ſhall be, &c. But every one that hath his Hope in him, namely, that he ſhall be more than here he can imagine, purifieth himſelf even as he is pure. Things promiſed, when not revealed to be known by us while here, are therefore not made known, becauſe too big and wonderful. When Paul was up in Paradice, he heard unſpeakable Words, not poſſible for Man to utter. Wherefore a Reward I find, and that laid up in Heaven, but what it is I know not, neither is it poſſible for any here to know it any further, than by certain general Words of God, ſuch as theſe, Praiſe, Honour, Glory, a Crown of Righteouſneſs, a Crown of Glory, Thrones, judging of Angels, a Kingdom with a far more exceeding and eternal Weight of Glory, &c.

1 Cor. 4. 5. 1 Pet. 1. 7. 2 Tim. 4. 8. 1 Pet. 5. 4. Mat. 25. 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40.

Wherefore to both theſe Objections let me yet anſwer thus in a few Words. Though thy Modeſty or thy Opinion will not ſuffer thee to look for a Reward for what thou doeſt here for thy Lord, by the Faith and Love of the Goſpel: Yea, though in the Day of Judgment thou ſhouldeſt there ſlight all thou didſt on Earth for thy Lord, ſaying, when, Lord, when did we do it? he will anſwer then, even then when ye did it to the leaſt of theſe my Brethren, ye did it unto me.

The Third Objection. But is not the Reward that God hath promiſed to his Saints for their good Works, to be enjoyed only here? for concerning Holy Walking, according to God's Command, yieldeth even here abundance of bleſſed Fruits, as he ſaith, in keeping of them there is great Reward; and again, this Man ſhall be bleſſed in his Deed, that is, now even in this Time, as he ſaith in another Place; for indeed there is ſo much goodneſs and bleſſedneſs to be found in a holy and godly Life, that were a Man to have nothing hereafter, the preſent Comfort and Glory that lieth as the Juice in the Grape, in all Things rightly done for God, it were ſufficient to anſwer all our Travel and Self-denial in our Work of Faith, and Labour of Love to do the Will of God.

Doeſt thou love thy Friends, doeſt thou love thine Enemies, doeſt thou love thy Family or Relations, or the Church of God; then cry for Strength from Heaven, and for Wiſdom, and an Heart from Heaven to walk wiſely before them. For if a Man be remiſs, negligent and careleſs in his Converſation, not much mattering whom he offends, diſpleaſes or diſcourages by doing this or that, ſo he may ſave himſelf, pleaſe his fooliſh Heart, and get this World, or the like, this Man hath loſt a good Report of them that are without, and is fallen into Reproach and the Snare of the Devil. He is fallen into Reproach, and is ſlighted, diſ-
1 Tim. 3. 7. dained, both He, his Profeſſion and all he ſays, either by Way of Reproof, Rebuke or Exhortation; Phyſician cure thy ſelf, ſay all to ſuch a one; this Man is a ſayer, but not a doer, ſay they; he believeth not what he ſays. Yea, Religion it ſelf is made to ſtink by this Man's ungodly Life. This is he that hardens his Children, that ſtumbleth the World, that grieveth the tender and godly Chriſtian; but I ſay, he that walketh uprightly, that tenders the Name of God, the Credit of the Goſpel, and the Welfare of others, ſeeking with Paul, not his own Profit, but the Profit of others, that they may be ſaved; This Man holds forth the Word of Life, this Man is a good Savour of Chriſt amongſt them that are ſaved. Yea, may prove by ſo doing the Inſtrument in God's Hand of the Salvation of many Souls.

Thirdly, This is the Way to be clear from the Blood of all Men, the Way not to be charged with the ruin and everlaſting Mi-
Jer. 2. 33. ſery of poor immortal Souls. Great is the Danger that attends an ungodly Life, or any ungodly Action, by them that profeſs
2 Sam. 12. 14. the Goſpel. When wicked Men learn to be wicked of Profeſſors, when Profeſſors cauſe the Enemies of God to Blaſpheme; doubtleſs ſad and woful Effects muſt needs be the Fruit of ſo doing. How many in Iſrael were deſtroyed for that which Aaron, Gideon, and Manaſſeh unworthily did in their Day? a godly Man if he take not heed to himſelf, may do that in his Life, that may ſend many to everlaſting Burnings, when he himſelf is in everlaſting Bliſs. But on the contrary, let Men walk with God, and here they ſhall be excuſed; the Blood of them that periſh ſhall lie at their own Door, and thou ſhalt be clear. I am pure from the Blood of all Men, ſaith Paul; and again, your Blood be upon your own Head, I am clean. Yea, he that doth thus ſhall leave in them that periſh an accuſing Conſcience, even begotten by his good Converſation, and by that they ſhall be forced to juſtify God, his People and Way, in the Day of their Viſitation; in the Day when they are deſcending into the Pit to the damned.

Exod. 32. 25. Judges 8. 24, 25, 26, 27, 28. Acts 20. 26. Acts 18. 6. 1 Pet. 2. 12.

Fourthly, This is the Way to maintain always the Anſwer, the ecchoing Anſwer of a good Conſcience in thy own Soul. Godlineſs is of great Uſe this Way, for the Man that hath a good Conſcience to Godward, hath a continual Feaſt in his own Soul. While others ſay there is caſting down, he ſhall ſay there is lifting up, for he ſhall ſave the humble Perſon. Some indeed in the midſt of their Profeſſion are reproached, ſmitten and condemned of their own Heart, their Conſcience ſtill biting and ſtinging of them becauſe of the Uncleanneſs of their Hands, and they cannot lift up their Face unto God, they have not the Anſwer of a good Conſcience toward him, but muſt walk as Perſons falſe to their God, and as Traitors to their own eternal Welfare; but the godly upright Man ſhall have the Light ſhine upon his Ways, and he ſhall take his Steps in Butter and Honey. The Work of Righteouſneſs ſhall be Peace, and the Effect of Righteouſneſs, Quietneſs and Aſſurance for ever. If our Heart condemn us, God is greater than our Hearts and knoweth all Things; Beloved, if our Hearts condemn us not, then have we Confidence towards God.

Job. 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30. Iſa. 32. 17. 1 John 3. 20, 21, 22.

Fifthly, The godly Man that walketh with God, that chiefly careth to do the Work that God hath allotted him to do for his Name in this World, he hath not only theſe Advantages, but further, he hath as it were a Privilege of Power with God, he can ſway much with him; as it is ſaid of Jacob, as a Prince he had Power with God to prevail in Times of Difficulty; and ſo again 'tis ſaid of Judah, being faithful with the Saints, they ruled with God. How many Times did that good Man Moſes turn away the Wrath of God from the many thouſands of Iſrael; yea, as it were he held the Hands of God, and ſtaved off the Judgments not once nor twice; the effectual fervent Prayer of a righteous Man availeth much. One Man that walketh much with God, may work work Wonders in this very Thing, he may be a means of saving whole Countries and Kingdoms from those Judgments their Sins deserve. How many Times when Israel provoked the Lord to Anger, did he yet defer to destroy them? and the Reason of that Forbearance, he tells them, it was for David's sake; for my servant David's sake, I will not do it. As the Lord said also concerning Paul, Lo, God hath given thee all them that sail with thee: That is, to save their Lives from the Rage of the Sea. Yea, when a Judgment is not only threatned, but the Decree gone forth for its Execution, then godly upright Men may sometimes cause the very Decree it self to cease without bringing forth; or else may so time the Judgment that is decreed, that the Church shall best be able to bear it.

Zeph. 2. 1, 2. Mat. 24. 20.

Sixthly, The Man that is tender of God's Glory in this World, still ruling and governing his Affairs by the Word, and desirous to be faithful to the Work and Imployment that God hath appointed him to do for his Name; that Man shall still be let into the Secrets of God; he shall know that which God will reserve and hide from many; shall I hide from Abraham the Thing that I do, saith the Lord? For I know him that he will command his Children and his household after him, and they shall keep the Way of the Lord, &c. So again, The secret of the Lord is with them that fear him: And he will shew them his Covenant. And to him that ordereth his Conversation aright will I shew the Salvation of God. Such a Man shall have Things new as well as old. His Converse with the Father and the Son and the Spirit shall be turned into a kind of Familiarity; he shall be led into the Word, and shall still increase in Knowledge: When others shall be stinted and look with old Faces, being black and dry as a Stick, he shall be like a fatted Calf, like the Tree that is Planted by the Rivers of Water, his Flesh shall be fresh as the Flesh of a Child, and God will renew the Face of his Soul.

Gen. 18. 17, 18, 19. Psal. 25. 14. Psal. 50. 23.

Seventhly, If any escape publick Calamities, usually they are such as are very tender of the Name of God, and that make it their Business to walk before him. They either escape by being mercifully taken away before it, or by being safely preserved in the midst of the Judgment, until the Indignation be over-past. Therefore God saith in one Place, the righteous are taken away from the Evil to come; but if not so, as all be not, then they shall have their Life for a Prey. Caleb and Joshua escaped all the Plagues that befel to Israel in the Wilderness, for they followed God. Somewhat of this you have also in that Scripture, Seek the Lord all ye meek of the Earth, which hath wrought his Judgments, seek Righteousness, seek Meekness, it may be, ye shall be hid in the Day of the Lord's Anger. According to this is that in Luke, Watch therefore and Pray always, and you may be accounted worthy to escape all these Things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of Man. When a Man's Ways please the Lord he will make his Enemies to be at Peace with him. Marvellous is the Work of God, in the Preservation of his Saints (that are faithful with him) when Dangers and Calamities come; as Joseph, David, Jeremiah, and Paul, with many others may appear: He shall deliver thee in six Troubles; yea, in seven there shall no Evil touch thee. In Famine he shall redeem thee from Death; and in War, from the Power of the Sword. Thou shalt be hid from the Scourge of the Tongue, neither shalt thou be afraid of Destruction when it cometh.

Isa. 57. 1, 2 Jer. 39. 15, 16, 17, 18. Num. 14. 21, 22, 23, 24. Zeph. 2. 1, 2, 3. Luke 21. 34, 35, 36.

Job 5. 19, 20, 21.

Eighthly, If Afflictions do overtake thee; for whom the Lord loveth he chastneth, and scourgeth every Son whom he receiveth; Yet those Afflictions shall not befal thee, for those Causes for which they befal the slothful and backsliding Christian; neither shall they have that pinching and gauling Operation upon thee, as on those who have left their first Love and Tenderness for God's Glory in the World.

1. Upon the faithful upright Man (though he also may be corrected and chastised for Sin, yet I say he abiding close with God) Afflictions come rather for Trial and for the Exercise of Grace received, than as Rebukes for this or that Wickedness; when upon the backsliding heartless Christian these Things shall come from fatherly Anger and Displeasure, and that for their Sins against him. Job did acknowledge himself a Sinner, and that God therefore might chastise him; but yet he rather believed it was chiefly for the Trial of his Grace, as indeed, and in truth it was: He is a perfect Man, saith God to Satan, and one that feareth God, and eschewеth Evil, and holdeth still his Integrity, although thou movest me against him to destroy him without Cause. God will not say thus of every one when Affliction is laid upon them, though they yet may be his Children; but rather declareth and pronounceth that it is for their Transgressions, because they have wickedly departed from him.

Chap. 7. 20. Chap. 23. 10. Chap. 2. 3. Psal. 39. 11 Psal. 38. 1, 2, 3, 4.

2. Now Affliction arising from these two Causes, their Effects in the Manner of their working (though Grace turns them both for good) is very different one from the other; he who hath been helped to walk with God, is not assaulted with those turnings and returnings of Guilt when he is afflicted, as he who hath basely departed from God; the one can plead his Integrity when the other blusheth for Shame. See both these Cases in one Person, even that goodly beloved David. When the Lord did rebuke him for Sin, then he cries, O Blood guiltiness, O cast me not away from thy Presence. But when he at another Time knew himself guiltless (though then also sorely afflicted) behold behold with what boldneſs he turns his Face unto God; O Lord my God, ſaith he, if I have done this; if there be Iniquity in my Hands; if I have rewarded Evil unto him that was at peace with me; (yea, I delivered him that without Cauſe was mine Enemy)

Pſal. 7. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6. Let the Enemy perſecute my Soul, and take it; yea, let him tread down my Life to the Earth, and lay mine Honour in the Duſt. Selah, &c.

This therefore muſt needs be a bleſſed help in Diſtreſs, for a Man to have a good Conſcience when Affliction hath taken hold on him; for a Man then in his looking behind and before to return with Peace to his own Soul; that Man muſt needs find Honey in this Lion, that can plead his Innocency
Jer. 15, 10. and Uprightneſs. All the People curſe me, ſaith Jeremiah, but that without a Cauſe; for I have neither lent nor taken on Uſury, which it ſeems was a Sin at that Day.

Ninthly, When Men are faithful with God in this World, to do the Work he hath appointed for them, by this Means a dying Bed is made eaſier, and that upon a double Account.

1. By Reaſon of that preſent Peace ſuch ſhall have, even in their Time of Languiſhing.

2. By Reaſon of the good Company ſuch ſhall have at their Departure.

1. Such Souls uſually abound in preſent Peace, they look not back upon the Years they have ſpent, with that Shame as the idle and ſloathful Chriſtian does. Remember now, Lord; how I have walked before thee in Truth, and with a perfect Heart.

Pſal. 41. 1, 2, 3. Bleſſed is the Man that conſidereth the Poor, the Lord will deliver him in the Time of Trouble. The Lord will preſerve him, and keep him alive, and he ſhall be bleſſed upon the Earth; and thou wilt not deliver him to the Will of his Enemies. The Lord will ſtrengthen him upon the Bed of Languiſhing: Thou wilt make all his Bed in his Sickneſs. Ah! when God makes the Bed, he muſt needs lye eaſy, that Weakneſs hath caſt thereon; a bleſſed Pillow hath that Man for his Head, though to all Beholders it is hard as a Stone. Jacob, on his Death-bed, had two Things that made it eaſy:

Gen. 49. 29 1. The Faith of his going to reſt, I am to be gathered unto my People; that is, to the Bleſſed that have yielded up the Ghoſt before me.

2. The Remembrance of the Sealings of the Countenance of God upon him, when he walked before him in the Days of his Pilgrimage: When Joſeph came to ſee him before he left this World, Iſrael, ſaith the
Gen. 48. 1, 2, 3, 4. Word, ſtrengthened himſelf upon his Bed; and the firſt Word that dropt out of this good Man's Mouth, O how full of Glory was it! God Almighty appeared unto me, ſaith he, at Luz in the Land of Canaan, and bleſſed me, &c. O bleſſed Diſcourſe for a ſick Bed, when thoſe can talk thus that lie thereon, from as true a Ground as Jacob; but thus will God make the Bed of thoſe who walk cloſe with him in this World.

Secondly, The dying Bed of ſuch a Man, is made eaſy by Reaſon alſo of the good Company ſuch ſhall have at their Departure: And that is, 1ſt, The Angels; 2dly, Their good Works they have done for God in the World.

1. The Angels of Heaven ſhall wait upon them, as they did upon the bleſſed Lazarus, to carry them into Abraham's Boſom. I know all that go to Paradiſe are Luke 16. 22. by theſe Holy Ones conducted thither; but yet, for all that, ſuch as die under the Job 5. 14. Clouds, for unchriſtian walking with God, may meet with Darkneſs in that Day, may go heavily hence, notwithſtanding that; yea, their Bed may be as uncomfortable to them as if they lay upon nothing but the Cords, and their departing from it (as to Appearance) more uncomfortable by far. But as for thoſe who have been faithful to their God, they ſhall ſee before them, ſhall know their Tabernacle, ſhall be in Peace, the everlaſting Gates ſhall be opened Job 5. 24. Acts 7. 54, 55, 56. unto them; in all which from Earth they ſhall ſee the Glory. I once was told a Story of what hapned at a good Man's Death, the which I have often remembred, with Wonderment and Gladneſs: After he had lain for ſome Time ſick, his Hour came that he muſt depart, and behold, while he lay (as we call it) drawing on, to the Amazement of the Mourners, there was heard about his Bed ſuch bleſſed and raviſhing Muſick as they never had heard before; which alſo continued till his Soul departed, and then began to ceaſe, and grow (as to its Sound) as if it was departing the Houſe, and ſo ſtill ſeemed to go further and further off, till at laſt they could hear it no longer. Eye hath not ſeen, nor Ear heard, neither hath it entered into the Heart of Man, the Things that God hath prepared for them that love him: Behold then how God can make thy ſick Bed eaſy!

2. A dying Bed is made eaſy by thoſe good Works that Men have done in their Life for the Name of God: Bleſſed are the Dead that die in the Lord: Yea, ſaith the Spirit, that they may reſt from their Labours, and their Works follow them: Yea, and go before them too. No Man need be afraid to be accompanied by good Deeds to Heaven. Be afraid of Sins, they are like Blood-hounds at the Heels; and beſure thy Sins will find thee out, even thee who haſt not been pardoned in the precious Blood of Chriſt: But as for thoſe who have ſubmitted themſelves to the Righteouſneſs of God for their Juſtification, and who have through Faith and Love to his Name, been frequent in Deeds of Righteouſneſs, they ſhall not appear empty before their God, their Works (their good Works) follow them. Theſe ſhall ſhall enter into Reſt, and walk with Chriſt in white. I obſerve when Iſrael had paſſed

Deut. 27. 12, 13. over Jordan, they were to go to poſſeſs between Mount Ebal and Mount Gerizzim, from whence was to be pronounced the Bleſſing and the Curſing. The Goſpel Meaning of which I take to be as followeth, I take Jordan to be a Type of Death, and theſe two Mountains with the Curſing and Bleſſing to be a Type of the Judgment that comes on every Man, ſo ſoon as he goes from hence, [and after Death the Judgment] ſo that he that eſcapes the Curſing, he alone goes into Bleſſedneſs: But he that Mount Ebal ſmiteth, he falls ſhort of Heaven: O! none knows the Noiſe that doth ſound in Sinners Souls from Ebal and Gerizzim when they are departed hence; yet it may be they know not what will become of them till they hear theſe Ecchoings from theſe two Mountains: But here the good Man is ſure Mount Gerizzim doth pronounce him bleſſed: Bleſſed then are the Dead that die in the Lord, for their Works will follow them till they are paſt all Danger. Theſe are the Chriſtians Train that follow him to Reſt; theſe are a good Man's Company that follow him to Heaven.

Of the TRINITY, and a CHRISTIAN.

How a young or ſhaken Chriſtian ſhould demean himſelf under the weighty Thoughts of the Doctrine of the Trinity, or Plurality of Perſons in the Eternal Godhead.

THE Reaſon why I ſay a young or ſhaken Chriſtian; it is becauſe ſome that are not young, but of an antient ſtanding, may not only be aſſaulted with violent Temptations, concerning Goſpel Principles, but a ſecond time may become a Child, a Babe, a ſhallow Man, in the Things of God; eſpecially, either when by Backſliding he hath provoked God to leave him, or when ſome new unexpected, and (as to preſent Strength) over weighty Objection doth fall upon the Spirit; by Means of which, great Shakings of Mind do commonly attend ſuch a Soul, in the moſt weighty Matters of the Concerns of Faith, of which this is one that I have ſuppoſed in the above-named Queſtion: Wherefore paſſing other Things, I will come directly to that, and briefly propoſe ſome Helps to a Soul in ſuch a Caſe.

(The firſt Preparative)

Firſt, Then beſure thou keep cloſe to the Word of God, for that is the Revelation of the Mind and Will of God, both as to the Truth of what is either in himſelf or Ways; and alſo as to what he requireth and expecteth of thee, either concerning Faith in, or Obedience to what he hath ſo revealed. Now for thy better performing of this I ſhall give thee in Brief theſe following Directions.

1. Suffer thy ſelf by the Authority of the Word, to be perſuaded that the Scripture indeed is the Word of God; the Scriptures of Truth, the Words of the Holy One, and that they therefore muſt be every one true, pure, and forever ſettled in Heaven.

2. Conclude therefore from the former Doctrine, that that God whoſe Words they are, is able to make a Reconciliation and moſt ſweet and harmonious Agreement with all the Sayings therein, how obſcure, croſs, dark, and contradictory ſoever they ſeem to thee. To underſtand all Myſteries, to have all Knowledge, to be able to comprehend with all Saints, is a great Work, enough to cruſh the Spirit, and to ſtretch the Strings of the moſt capacious and widned Soul that breatheth on this Side Glory, be they notwithſtanding exceedingly inlarged by Revelation. Paul, when he was caught up to Heaven, ſaw that which was unlawful, becauſe impoſſible for Man to utter. And ſaith Chriſt to the reaſoning Phariſee, If I have told you earthly Things, and ye believe not, how ſhall you believe if I tell you of Things that are heavenly? It is great Lewdneſs, and alſo inſufferable Arrogancy to come to the Word of God, as conceiting already that whatever thou readeſt muſt either by thee be underſtood, or of it ſelf fall to the Ground as a ſenſleſs Error. But God is wiſer than Man, wherefore fear thou him, and tremble at his Word, ſaying ſtill, with godly Suſpicion of thine own Infirmity, what I ſee not teach thou me, and thou art God only wiſe; but as for me, I was as a Beaſt before thee.

3. Take Heed of taking a Part of the Word only, leſt thou thereby go away with the Truth as mangled in Pieces. For Inſtance, where thou readeſt The Lord our God is one Lord, there take Heed that thou doeſt not thence conclude, Then there are not three Perſons in the Godhead: Or when thou readeſt of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, then take Heed of concluding, There muſt therefore either be three Gods, or elſe that Jeſus Chriſt and the Holy Ghoſt are not true God, but the Father only. Wherefore to help thee here obſerve,

(The ſecond Preparative)

1. That Chriſtian Religion requireth Credit concerning every Doctrine contained in the Word; Credit, I ſay, according to the true Relation of every Sentence that the Holy Ghoſt hath revealed for the aſcerting, maintaining, or vindicating that ſame Truth.

2. And therefore hence it is that a Chriſtian is not called a Doer, a Reaſoner, an Objector, and perverſe Diſputer; but a Believer: Be thou an Example to the Believers: And Believers were added to the Church, &c.

3. Therefore know again that the Word, if it ſaith and expreſſeth that this or that is ſo and ſo, as to the Matter in Hand, thou art bound and obliged both by the Name, Profeſſion, and the Truth, unto which thou haſt joined thy ſelf, to aſſent to, confeſs and acknowledge the ſame, even then when thy carnal Reaſon will not ſtoop thereto. Righteous art thou, O God, ſaith Jeremiah, yet let me plead with thee; Wherefore do the Wicked live? Mark, firſt he acknowledgeth that God's Way with the Wicked is juſt and right, even then when yet he could not ſee the Reaſon of his Actings and Diſpenſations towards them. The ſame Reaſon is good as to our preſent Caſe. And hence it is that the Apoſtle ſaith, the ſpiritual Armour of Chriſtians ſhould be much exerciſed againſt thoſe high towering and ſelf-exalting Imaginations, that within our own Boſoms do exalt themſelves againſt the Knowledge of God. That every Thought or carnal Reaſoning may be not only taken, but brought as Captive into Obedience to Chriſt, that is, be made to ſtoop to the Word of God, and to give Way and Place to the Doctrine therein contained, how croſs ſoever our Thoughts and the Word lye each to other. And it is obſervable that he here ſaith, They exalt themſelves againſt the Knowledge of God, which cannot be underſtood that our carnal or natural Reaſon doth exalt it ſelf againſt an eternal Deity, ſimply conſidered; for that Nature it ſelf doth gather from the very Things that are made, even his Eternal Power and Godhead; it muſt be then that they exalt themſelves againſt that God as thus and thus revealed in the Word, to wit, againſt the Knowledge of one God conſiſting of three Perſons, Father, Son, and Spirit; for this is the Doctrine of the Scriptures of Truth; and therefore it is obſervable theſe Thoughts muſt be brought Captive, and be made ſubject in particular to the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, as to the ſecond Perſon in the Godhead; for the Father is ever acknowledged by all that profeſs the leaſt of Religion; but the Son is that Stumbling-Stone and Rock of Offence againſt which thouſands daſh themſelves in Pieces; though in him are hid all the Treaſures of Wiſdom and Knowledge, and in him dwells the Fullneſs of the Godhead bodily.

Of the Law and a Christian.

Exod. 19. Exod. 34. THE Law was given twice upon Mount Sinai, but the Appearance of the Lord when he gave it the ſecond Time, was wonderfully different from that of his, when at the firſt he delivered it to Iſrael.

Exod. 19. 16. Heb. 12. 18,19,20. 1. When he gave it the firſt Time, he cauſed his Terror and Severity to appear before Moſes, to the ſhaking of his Soul and the diſmaying of Iſrael: But when he gave it the ſecond Time, he cauſed all his Goodneſs to paſs before Moſes, to the Comfort of his Conſcience and the bowing of his Heart. Exod. 34. 8.

2. When he gave it the firſt Time, it was with Thundrings and Lightnings, with Blackneſs and Darkneſs, with Flame and Smoak, and a tearing Sound of the Trumpet: But when he gave it the ſecond Time, it was with a Proclamation of his Name to be merciful, gracious, long-ſuffering, and abundant in Goodneſs and Truth, keeping Mercy for Thouſands, forgiving Iniquity, Tranſgreſſions and Sins. Exod. 19. 16, 17, 18. Exod. 34. 6, 7.

3. When he gave it the firſt Time, Moſes was called to go up to receive it through the Fire, which made him exceedingly fear and quake: But when he went to receive it the ſecond Time, he was laid in a Clift of the Rock. Heb. 12. 21. Exod. 33. 21, 22.

4. From all which I gather, that, though as to the matter of the Law, both as to its being given the firſt Time, and the ſecond, it binds the Unbeliever under the Pains of Eternal Damnation (if he cloſe not with Chriſt by Faith) Yet as to the Manner of its giving at theſe two Times, I think the firſt doth more principally intend its Force as a Covenant of Works, not at all reſpecting the Lord Jeſus; but this ſecond Time not (at leaſt in the Manner of its being given) reſpecting ſuch a Covenant, but rather as a Rule, or directory to thoſe who already are found in the Clift of the Rock, Chriſt; for the Saint himſelf, though he be without Law to God, as it is conſidered the firſt or old Covenant, yet even he is not without Law to him as conſidered under Grace, not without Law to God, but under the Law to Chriſt. Gal. 2, 3, 1 Cor. 9. 21

5. Though therefore it be ſad with the Unbeliever, becauſe he only and wholly ſtandeth under the Law, as it is given in Fire, in Smoak, in Blackneſs, and Darkneſs, and Thunder; all which threaten him with Eternal Ruin if he fulfil not the utmoſt tittle thereof: Yet the Believer ſtands to the Law under no ſuch Conſideration, neither is he ſo at all to hear or regard it, for he is now removed from thence to the bleſſed Mountain of Zion, to Grace and Forgiveneſs of Sins; he is now, I ſay, by Faith in the Lord Jeſus ſhrouded under ſo perfect and bleſſed a Righteouſneſs, that this Thundering Law of Mount Sinai cannot find the leaſt Fault or Diminution therein; but rather approveth and alloweth thereof either when, or where ever it find it. This is called the Righteouſneſs of God without the Law, and is alſo ſaid to be witneſſed by both the Law and the Prophets: Even the Righteouſneſs of God, which is by Faith in Jeſus Chriſt unto all and upon all them that believe, for there is no Difference. Heb. 12. Rom. 3. 21, 22.

6. Wherefore whenever thou who believeſt lieveſt in Jeſus, doeſt hear the Law in its Thundering and Lightning Fits, as if it would burn up Heaven and Earth; then ſay thou, I am freed from this Law, theſe Thunderings have nothing to do with my Soul; nay even this Law, while it thus Thunders and Roareth, it doth both allow and approve of my Righteouſneſs. I know that Hagar would ſometimes be domineering and high, even in Sarah's Houſe and againſt her; but this She is not to be ſuffered to do, nay though Sarah her ſelf be barren; wherefore ſerve it alſo as Sarah ſerved her, and expel her out from thy Houſe. My meaning is, when this Law with its Thundering Threatnings doth attempt to lay hold on thy Conſcience, ſhut it out with a Promiſe of Grace; cry, the Inn is took up already, the Lord Jeſus is here entertained, and here is no room for the Law. Indeed if it will be content with being my informer, and ſo lovingly leave off to judge me, I will be content, it ſhall be in my Sight, I will alſo delight therein; but otherwiſe, I being now made upright without it, and that too with that Righteouſneſs, which this Law ſpeaks well of and approveth; I may not, will not, cannot, dare not make it my Saviour and Judge, nor ſuffer it to ſet up its Government in my Conſcience; for by ſo doing I fall from Grace, and Chriſt Jeſus doth profit me nothing.

Gal. 5. 1 2, 3, 4, 5

7. Thus therefore the Soul that is married to him that is raiſed up from the Dead, both may and ought to deal with this Law of God; yea, it doth greatly diſhonour its Lord and refuſe its Goſpel Privileges, if it at any Time otherwiſe doth, whatever it ſeeth or feels. The Law hath Power over the Wife ſo long as her Husband liveth, but if her Husband be dead ſhe is freed from that Law, ſo that ſhe's no Adultreſs tho' ſhe be married to another Man. Indeed ſo long as thou art alive to Sin, and to thy Righteouſneſs which is of the Law, ſo long thou haſt them for thy Husband and they muſt reign over thee: But when once they are become dead unto thee, as they then moſt certainly will, when thou cloſeſt with the Lord Jeſus Chriſt; then I ſay, thy former Husbands have no more to meddle with thee, thou art freed from their Law. Set Caſe a Woman be caſt into Priſon for a Debt of Hundreds of Pounds, if after this ſhe marry; yea, though while ſhe is in the Gaoler's Hand, in the ſame Day that ſhe is joyned to her Husband, her Debt is all become his; yea, and the Law alſo that arreſted and impriſoned this Woman, as freely tells her, go; ſhe is freed, ſaith Paul, from that, and ſo ſaith the Law of this Land.

Rom. 7. 1, 2, 3.

The Sum then of what hath been ſaid is this, The Chriſtian hath now nothing to do with the Law, as it thundreth and burneth on Sinai, or as it bindeth the Conſcience to Wrath and the Diſpleaſure of God for Sin; for from its thus appearing, it is freed by Faith in Chriſt. Yet it is to have Regard thereto, and is to count it Holy, Juſt and Good; which that it may do, it is always whenever it ſeeth or regards it, to remember that he who giveth it to us is merciful, gracious, long-ſuffering, and abundant in Goodneſs and Truth, &c.

ISRAEL's Hope Encouraged:

OR,

What Hope is, and how diſtinguiſhed from Faith; with Encouragements for a hoping People.

PSAL. 130. 7.

Let Iſrael hope in the Lord; for with the Lord there is Mercy, and with him is plenteous Redemption.

THIS Pſalm is ſaid to be one of the Pſalms of Degrees, which ſome ſay, if I be not miſtaken, the Prieſts and Levites uſed to ſing, when they went up the Steps into the Temple: But to let that paſs. It is a Pſalm that gives us a Relation of the Pen-man's Praying Frame, and of an Exhortation to Iſrael to hope in God.

Ver. 1. Out of the Deeps have I cryed unto thee O Lord; that is, out of deep or great Afflictions: (And ſaid) Lord hear my Voice, let thine Ears be attentive to the Voice of my Supplications. The latter Words explain the former; as who ſhould ſay, by Voice I mean the meaning and Spirit of my Prayer. There are Words in Prayer, and Spirit in Prayer;

Rom. 8. 27

Prayer; and by the Spirit that is in Prayer, is diſcerned whether the Words be Dead, Lifeleſs, Fained, or Warm, Fervent, Earneſt; and God who ſearcheth the Heart, knoweth
Rom.8.27 the meaning of the Spirit, becauſe he maketh Interceſſion for the Saints according to the Will of God.

V. 3. If thou Lord ſhouldeſt mark Iniquity, O Lord who ſhall ſtand? Here he confeſſeth that all Men by the Law muſt fall before God for ever; for that they have broken it, but cannot make amends for the Tranſgreſſion thereof: But he quickly bethinking himſelf of the Mercy of God in Chriſt, he ſaith, V. 4. But there is Forgiveneſs with thee that thou mayeſt be feared. Then he returns, ſaying, V. 5. I wait for the Lord, that is, in all his Appointments; yea, he doubleth it, ſaying, My Soul doth wait, and in his Word do I hope. By which Repetition he inſinuates, that many are content to give their bodily Preſence to God in his Appointments, while their Hearts were roving to the Ends of the Earth; but for his Part he did not ſo. V. 6. My Soul waiteth for the Lord, more than they that watch for the Morning: I ſay, more than they that watch for the Morning. As who ſhould ſay, even as it is with thoſe that are tired with the Night, either by Reaſon of dark or wearisome Journies, or becauſe of tedious Sickneſs, to whom the Night is moſt doleful and uncomfortable, waiting for Spring of Day: So wait I for the Lord, that his Preſence might be with my Soul. So and more too, I ſay, More than they that wait for the Morning. Then he comes to the Words which I have choſen for my Text, ſaying, Let Iſrael hope in the Lord; for with the Lord there is Mercy, and with him is plenteous Redemption.

In which Words we have

1. An Exhortation.
2. A Reaſon of that Exhortation, and
3. An Amplification of that Reaſon.

Let Iſrael hope in the Lord; there is the Exhortation. For with the Lord there is Mercy: there is the Reaſon of it. And with him is plenteous Redemption; there is the Amplification of that Reaſon.

In the Exhortation there are three Things to be enquired into.

1. The Matter contained in it.
2. The Manner by which it is expreſt.
3. The Inferences that do naturally flow there-from.

We will ſpeak firſt to the Matter contained in the Text, and that preſenteth it ſelf unto us, under three Heads.

1. A Duty.
2. A Direction for the well Management of that Duty.
3. The Perſons that are ſo to manage it.

Firſt then to ſpeak to the Duty, and that is HOPE: Let Iſrael [Hope.] By which Word, there is ſomething pre-admitted, and ſomething of great Concern inſinuated.

That which is pre-admitted, is Faith; for when we ſpeak properly of Hope, and put others diſtinctly to the Duty of Hoping, we conclude that ſuch have Faith already; for no Faith, no Hope. To Hope without Faith, is to ſee without Eyes, or to expect without a Ground: For Faith is the Sub- Heb.11.1. ſtance of Things hoped for; as well with reſpect to the Grace, as to the Doctrine of Faith. Doth ſuch a one Believe? No: Doth he Hope? Yes: If the firſt is true, the ſecond is a Lie; he that never Believed, did never Hope in the Lord. Wherefore when he ſaith, Let Iſrael hope in the Lord, he pre-ſuppoſeth Faith, and ſignifieth that he ſpeaketh to Believers.

That which is (of great Concern) inſinuated, is, That Hope has in it an excellent Quality to ſupport Iſrael in all its Troubles. Faith has his Excellency in this, Hope in that, and Love in another Thing. Faith will do that which Hope cannot do, Hope can do that which Faith doth not do, and Love can do Things diſtinct from both their doings: Faith goes in the Van, Hope in the Body, and Love brings up the Reer; and 1 Cor. 13. thus now abideth Faith, Hope, and Charity. 13.

Faith is the Mother Grace, for Hope is born of her, but Charity floweth from them both. But a little now we are upon Faith and Hope diſtinctly, to let you ſee a little.

1. Faith comes by Hearing, Hope by Experience. Rom. 10. 17.

2. Faith comes by hearing the Word of God, Hope by the Credit that Faith hath given to it. Chap. 5. 3, 4. Chap. 4. 18.

3. Faith believeth the Truth of the Word, Hope waits for the fulfilling of it.

4. Faith lays hold of that End of the Promiſe that is next to us, to wit, as it is in the Bible; Hope lays hold of that End of the Promiſe that is faſtned to the Mercy Seat: For the Promiſe is like a mighty Cable, that is faſtned by one End to a Ship, and by the other to the Anchor: The Soul is the Ship where Faith is, and to which the hither End of this Cable is faſtned; but Hope is the Anchor that is at the other End of this Cable, and which en- Heb. 6. 18. treth into that within the Vail. Thus Faith 19. and Hope getting hold of both Ends of the Promiſe, they carry it ſafely ALL away.

5. Faith looketh to Chriſt, as Dead, Buried and Aſcended; and Hope to his ſecond Coming. Faith looks to him for Juſtification, Hope for Glory. 1 Cor. 15. 1, 2, 3, 4 Rom. 4. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8. Act. 26. 6, 7.

6. Faith fights for Doctrine, Hope for a Reward: Faith for what is in the Bible, Hope for what is in Heaven. Col. 1. 3, 4, 5. 1 Joh. 5. 4, 5.

7. Faith purifies the Heart from bad Principles, Hope from bad Manners, 2 Pet. 3. 11, 14. Acts 28. 20. Eph. 5. 8.

8. Faith ſets Hope on Work, Hope ſets Patience on Work: Faith ſays to Hope, look for what is promiſed, Hope ſays to Faith, ſo I do, and will wait for it too. Act. 9. 9. 1 Joh. 3. 3. Gal. 5. 5.

9. Faith looks through the Word to God in Chriſt; Hope looks through Faith, beyond the World to Glory.

10. Thus

1 Pet. 1.7. 10. Thus Faith ſaves, and thus Hope ſaves: Faith ſaves by laying hold of God by Chriſt, Hope ſaves by prevailing with Rom. 8.24 the Soul to ſuffer all Troubles, Afflictions and Adverſities that it meets with 'twixt this and the World to come, for the Sake thereof. Take the Matter in this plain Similitude: There was a King that adopted ſuch an one to be his Child, and cloathed him with the Attire of the Children of the King, and promiſed him that if he would fight his Father's Battles, and walk in his Father's Ways, he ſhould at laſt ſhare in his Father's Kingdom. He has received the Adoption, and the King's Robe, but not yet his Part in the Kingdom; but now Hope of a Share in that, will make him fight the King's Battles, and alſo tread the King's Paths. Yea, and tho' he ſhould meet with many Things that have a Tendency to deter him from ſo doing, yet Thoughts of the Intereſt promiſed in the Kingdom, and hopes to enjoy it, will make him cut his Way through thoſe Difficulties, and ſo ſave him from the Ruins that thoſe Deſtructions would bring upon him, and will in Concluſion, uſher him into a Perſonal Poſſeſſion and Enjoyment of that Inheritance. Hope has a thick Skin, and will endure many a Blow, it will put on Patience as a Veſtment, it will wade through a Sea of Blood, it will endure all Things, if it be of the right Kind, for the Joy that is ſet before it. 1 Theſ. 1 3. Hence Patience is called, Patience of Hope, becauſe it is Hope that makes the Soul exerciſe Patience and long-ſuffering under the Croſs, until the Time comes to enjoy the Crown. The Pſalmiſt therefore by this Exhortation, perſuadeth them that have believed the Truth, to wait for the Accompliſhment of it, as by his own Example he did himſelf. I wait for the Lord, my Soul waiteth, and in his Word do I hope. It is for Want of Hope, that ſo many brisk Profeſſors that have ſo boaſted and made brags of their Faith, have not been able to endure the Drum in the Day of Alarum and Affliction. Their Hope in Chriſt has been ſuch, as has extended it ſelf no further than to this Life, and therefore they are of all Men the moſt miſerable.

The Pſalmiſt therefore by exhorting us unto this Duty, doth put us in Mind of four Things.

Firſt, That the beſt Things are yet behind, and in Reverſion for the Saints.

Secondly, That thoſe that have believed, will yet meet with Difficulties before they come at them.

Thirdly, The Grace of Hope well exerciſed, is the only Way to overcome theſe Difficulties.

Fourthly, They therefore that have Hope, and do exerciſe it as they ſhould, ſhall aſſuredly at laſt enjoy that Hope, that is laid up for them in Heaven.

For the firſt of theſe, that the beſt Things are yet behind, and in Reverſion for Believers; this is manifeſt by the natural Exerciſe of this Grace. For Hope that is ſeen, is not Hope; for what a Man ſeeth, why doth he yet hope for? But if we hope for that we ſee not, then do we with Patience Hope for it, Rom. 8. 24, 25. Hope lives not by ſight as Faith doth, but Hope truſteth Faith, as Faith truſts the Word, and ſo bears up the Soul in a Patient Expectation at laſt to enjoy, what God has promiſed: But I ſay, the very natural Work of this Grace, proveth, that the Believers beſt Things are behind in Reverſion.

You may ask me, what thoſe Things are? Joh. 3. 12. And I may tell you, firſt in general; they 1 Cor. 4. 14. are Heavenly Things, they are Eternal Col. 3. 1. Things, they are the Things that are where Iſa. 64. 4. Chriſt ſitteth on the right Hand of God: 1 Cor. 2. 9. Do you know them now? They are Things that Eye hath not ſeen, nor Ear heard, nor that have entred into the Heart of Man to conceive of: Do you know them now?

They are Things that are referred for the next World, for the Saints when they come into the next World; talked of they may be now, the real being of them may be believed now, and by Hope we may, and 'twill be our Wiſdom to wait for them now; but to know what they are in the Nature of them, or in the Enjoyment of them, otherwiſe than by Faith, he is deceived that ſaith it. They are Things too big as yet to enter into our Hearts, and things too big if they were there to come out, or to be expreſſed by our Mouths.

Firſt, There is Heaven it ſelf, the Imperial Heaven; does any Body know what that is?

Secondly, There is the Mount Zion, the Heavenly Jeruſalem, and the innumerable Company of Angels; doth any Body know what all they are?

Thirdly, There is Immortality and Eternal Life, and who knows what they are?

Fourthly, There are Rewards for Services and Labour of Love, ſhewed to God's Name here, and who knows what they will be?

Fifthly, There are Manſion-houſes, Beds of Glory, and Places to walk in among the Angels, and who knows what they are?

Sixthly, There will be Badges of Honour, Harps to make merry with, and Heavenly Songs of Triumph; doth any here know what they are?

Seventhly, There will be then a Knowing, an Enjoying, and a Solacing of our ſelves with Prophets, Apoſtles and Martyrs, and all Saints; but in what glorious Manner we all are ignorant of.

Eighthly, There we ſhall ſee and know, and be with forever, all our Relations, as Wife, Husband, Child, Father, Mother, Brother, or Siſter, that have died in the Faith; but how glorioufly they will look when we ſhall ſee them, and how glori-

1 Thes. 4. ouſly we ſhall love when we are with them, it is not for us in this World to know.

Ninthly, There are Thoughts, and Words, and Ways for us, which we never dreamt on in this World: The Law was Heb. 10. 1. but the Shadow, the Goſpel the Image, but what will be the Subſtance that comes to us next, or that rather we ſhall go unto, who can underſtand?

Tenthly, If we never ſaw God nor Chriſt as glorified, nor the Spirit of the Lord, nor the Bottom of the Bible, nor yet ſo much as one of the Days of Eternity (and yet all theſe Things we ſhall ſee and have then) how can it be that the Things laid up for us, that ſhould be the Object of our Hope, ſhould by us be underſtood in this World?

Yet there are Intimations given us of the Goodneſs and Greatneſs of them.

Of their Goodneſs. And that,

1. In that the Holy Ghoſt ſcorns that Things that are here, ſhould once be com- Iſa. 40. 15, 16, 17. pared with them; hence all Things here are called Vanities, Nothings, leſs than Nothings: Now if the Things, all the Things, that are here, are ſo contemptuouſly conſidered, when compared with the Things that are to be hereafter; and yet theſe Things ſo great in the carnal Man's Eſteem, as that he is willing to venture Life and Soul, and all to have them: What are the Things that God has prepared for them that wait, that is, that hope for him?

2. Their Goodneſs alſo appears in this, Pſ. 73. 25. Heb. 11. 24, 25, 26, 37, 38, 39, 40. that whoever has had that Underſtanding of them as is revealed in the Word, whether King or Beggar, Wiſe Man or Fool, he has willingly caſt this World behind him in Contempt and Scorn, for the Hope of that.

3. The Goodneſs of them has even Teſtimony in the very Conſcience of them that hate them: Take the vileſt Man in the Country, the Man who is ſo wedded to his Luſts, that he will rather run the Hazard of a thouſand Hells than leave them; and ask this Man his Judgment of the Things of the next World, and he will ſhake his Head, and ſay, They are good, They are beſt of all.

4. But the Saints have the beſt Apprehenſion of their Goodneſs, for that the Lord doth ſometimes drop ſome of the Juice of them out of the Word, into their hungry Souls.

But as they are Good, ſo they are Great, Pſ. 31. 19. O how great is thy Goodneſs that thou haſt laid up for them that fear thee, which thou haſt wrought for them that truſt (that hope) in thee before the Sons of Men!

1. Their Greatneſs appears in that they go beyond the Word; yea, beyond the Word of the Holy Ghoſt; It doth not yet appear to us by the Word of God to the full, the Greatneſs of what is prepared for God's 1 John 3. 2. People. Beloved, now are we the Sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we ſhall be: It doth not appear in the Word; there is a Greatneſs in the Things that we are to hope for, that could never be expreſſed: They are beyond Word, beyond Thought, beyond conceiving of. Paul when he was come down again from out of Paradiſe, into which he was caught up, could not ſpeak a Word about the Words he heard, and the Things that there he ſaw: They were Things and Words which he ſaw and heard, which it is not poſſible for a Man to utter. 2 Cor. 12. 2, 3, 4.

2. Their Greatneſs is intimated by the Word [Eternal] he that knows the Bottom 2 Cor. 4. 18 of that Word, ſhall know what Things they are; the Things which are not ſeen are Eternal; they are Incorruptible, Undefiled, 1 Pet. 1. 4. and that fade not away, that are reſerved in Heaven for us.

3. Their Greatneſs is ſhewed, in that one right Thought of them, will fill the Heart ſo full, that both it and the Eyes will run over together; yea, ſo full, that the Creature ſhall not be able to ſtand up under the Weight of Glory, that by it is laid upon the Soul.

Alas! all the Things in this World will not fill one Heart; and yet one Thought that is right, of the Things that God has prepared, and laid up in Heaven for us, will, yea, and over fill it too.

4. The Greatneſs of the Things of the next World appears, in that when one of the leaſt of them are ſhewed to us, we are not able, without Support from thence, to abide the Sight thereof. I count that the Angels are of thoſe Things that are leaſt in that World, and yet the Sight of one of them, when the Sight of them was in Uſe, what Work would it make in the Hearts Judg. 13. 22. and Minds of mortal Men? The Scripture plainly enough declares.

5. Their Greatneſs is intimated in that we muſt be as it were, new made again, before we can be capable of enjoying them, as we muſt enjoy them with Comfort. And herein will be a great Part of our Luk. 20. 36 Happineſs, that we ſhall not only ſee them, but be made like unto them, like unto their King, For when he ſhall appear we ſhall be like him, for we ſhall ſee him as he is, we 1 John 3. 2. Rev. 1. 17. Phil. 3. 20, 21. ſhall ſee him, and therefore muſt be like him; for elſe the Sight of him would overcome us and deſtroy us; but becauſe we are to ſee him with Comfort and everlaſting Joy; therefore we muſt be like him in Body and Mind.

But to come to the ſecond Thing, namely, That thoſe that have believed there are ſuch Things as theſe, will meet with Difficulties before they come at them: This is ſo grand a Truth, that nothing can be ſaid againſt it. Many are the Afflictions of the Righteous; and we muſt through many Acts 14. 22 Tribulations enter into the Kingdom of Heaven.

The

The Cauſe from whence theſe Afflictions ariſe is known to be,

1. From our ſelves, for Sin having got ſuch hold in our Fleſh, makes that Oppoſition againſt our Soul and the Welfare of that, that puts us continually to Trouble. Fleſhly Luſts work againſt the Soul, and ſo do Worldly Luſts too; yea, they quench our Graces, and make them that would live, ready to die: Yea, by Reaſon of theſe, ſuch Darkneſs, ſuch Guilt, ſuch Fear, ſuch Miſtruſt, ariſeth in us, that it is common for us, if we live any while, to make a thouſand Concluſions, twice told, that we ſhall never arrive with Comfort at the Gates of the Kingdom of Heaven. The natural Tendency of every ſtruggle of the leaſt Luſt againſt Grace, is if we judge according to Carnal Reaſon, to make us queſtion the Truth of a Work of Grace in us, and our Right to the World to come. This it was that made Paul cry out, O wretched Man that I am, who ſhall deliver me! Only he had more Wiſdom than to follow the natural Concluſions that Carnal Reaſon was apt to make thereupon, and ſo hoiſted up his Soul to Hope.

1 Pet. 2. 11. Tit. 2. 12. Rev. 3. 2. Rom. 7. 24.

2. Sin by its working in us, doth not only bring Darkneſs, Guilt, Fear, Miſtruſt, and the like; but it doth oft times as it were ham-ſtring us, and diſable us from going to God by Faith and Prayer for Pardon: It makes the Heart hard, ſenſeleſs, careleſs, lifeleſs, ſpiritleſs as to Feeling, in all Chriſtian Duty; and this is a grievous Thing, to a gracious Soul. The other Things will create a Doubt, and drive it up to the head into the Soul; but theſe will go on the other ſide, and clench it: Now all theſe Things make hoping difficult.

Iſa. 63.

3. For by theſe Things the Judgment is not only clouded, and the Underſtanding greatly darkned; but all the Powers of the Soul made to fight againſt it ſelf, conceiving, imagining, apprehending and concluding Things, that have a direct Tendency to extirpate and extinguiſh, if poſſible, the Graces of God that are planted in the Soul: Yea, to the making of it cry out, I am out off from before thine Eyes.

Pſal. 31. 22

4. And to theſe, the hidings of the Face of God from the Soul; a Thing to it, more bitter than Death; yet nothing more common among them that Hope in the Lord; He hideth himſelf from the Houſe of Jacob. Nor is this done only in fatherly Diſpleaſure, but by this Means ſome Graces are kept alive, Faith is kept alive by the Word, Patience by Hope, and Hope by Faith; but oft-times a Spirit of Prayer, by the Rod, Chaſtiſement, and the hiding of God's Face. But I ſay, this hiding of this ſweet Face, is bitter to the Soul, and oft-times puts both Faith and Hope to a ſad, and moſt fearful Plunge: For at ſuch a Day, it is with the Soul, as with the Ship at Sea, that is benighted and without Light; to wit, like a Man bewildred upon the Land; only the Text ſaith, for the Help and Succour of ſuch, Who is among you that fear-eth the Lord, and that obeyeth the Voice of his Servant, that ſitteth in Darkneſs and hath no Light, let him truſt in the Name of the Lord, and ſtay upon his God. Yet as it is with Children, ſo it is with Saints; we are a great deal more ſubject to fears in the Night, than in the Day: That therefore that tendeth to the help of ſome Graces, if there be not great Care taken, will prove an hindrance to others.

Iſa. 8. 17. Hoſ. 5. 14, 15. Iſa. 26. 16. Song. 5. 6.

Iſa. 50. 10.

5. Nor is the Ruler of the Darkneſs of this World wanting to apply himſelf and his Engines, ſo, as if poſſible, to make uſe of all theſe Things, for the overthrowing of Faith, and for the removing of our Hope from the Lord; as a Tree is removed from Rooting in the Ground.

Job 19. 10.

Behold! he can expound all Things, ſo as that they ſhall fall directly in the Way of our Believing: As thus, we have Sin, therefore we have no Grace; Sin ſtruggleth in us, therefore we fear not God; ſomething in us ſideth with Sin, therefore we are wholly Unregenerate; Sin is in our beſt Performances, therefore wherefore ſhould I hope? Thus I ſay, he can afflict us in our Pilgrimage, and make hope difficult to us. Beſides the hiding of God's Face, he can make, not only a Cauſe of Sorrow (for that indeed it ſhould) but a Ground of Deſpair, and as deſperately concluding he will never come again: How many good Souls has he driven to theſe Concluſions, who afterwards have been made to unſay all again?

6. And though ſpiritual Deſertions, darkneſs of Soul, and guilt of Sin, are the Burdens moſt intolerable, yet they are not all; for there is to be added to all theſe, that common Evil of Perſecution, another Device invented to make void our Hope.

In this, I ſay, we are ſure to be concerned; that is, if we be Godly: For though the Apoſtle doth not ſay, All that will live in Chriſt; that is, in the common Profeſſion of him, ſhall ſuffer Perſecution: Yet he ſaith, All that will live Godly in him ſhall. Now this in it ſelf is a Terror to Fleſh and Blood, and hath a direct Tendency in it to make Hope difficult. Hence Men of a perſecuting Spirit, becauſe of their Greatneſs, and of their Teeth, the Laws are ſaid to be a Terror, and to carry Amazement in their doings; and God's People are apt to be afraid of them, though they ſhould die, and to forget God their Maker; and this makes Hoping hard Work.

2 Tim. 3. 12. 1 Pet. 3. 6, 14. Iſa. 51. 12, 13.

7. For beſides that Grimneſs that appears in the Face of Perſecutors, Satan can tell how to leſſen and make to dwindle in our Apprehenſions, thoſe Truths unto which our Hearts have joyned themſelves afore, and to which Chriſt our Lord has commanded us to ſtand. So that they ſhall now appear but little, ſmall, inconſiderable Things;

Things; Things not worth engaging for: Things not worth running thoſe Hazards for, that in the Hour of Tryal may lye ſtaring us in the Face.

Moreover we ſhall not want falſe Friends in every Hole, ſuch as will continually be
Mat. 24. boring our Ears with that Saying, Maſter do good to thy ſelf: At ſuch Times alſo, Stars do uſe to fall from Heaven and the Powers of Heaven to be ſhaken; and ſo every Thing tends to weaken, or at leaſt to lay ſtumbling Blocks in their Way, who are commanded To Hope in the Lord.

8. Again, As Satan can make Uſe of his Subtilty, thus to afflict and weaken the Hands and Hearts of thoſe that Hope in God; ſo he can add to theſe, the diſmalneſs of a ſuffering State: He can make the loſs of Goods in our Imagination, ten Times bigger than it is in it ſelf: He can make an Informer a frightful Creature, a Gaol look like Hell it ſelf; he can make Baniſhment and Death utterly intolerable, and Things that muſt be ſhunned with the Hazard of our Salvation. Thus he can greaten and leſſen, leſſen and greaten, for the troubling of our Hearts, for the hindring of our Hope.

9. Add to all theſe, That the Things that we ſuffer for were never ſeen by us, but are quite beyond our Sight; Things that indeed are ſaid to be great and good; but we have only the Word and the Bible for it. And be ſure if he that laboureth Night and Day to devour us, can help it, our Faith ſhall be moleſted and perplexed at ſuch a Time, that it may, if poſſible, be hard to do the Commandment that here the Text enjoyns us to the Practice of; that is, to Hope in the Lord. And this brings me to the third Particular.

Thirdly, That the Grace of Hope well exerciſed, is the only Way to overcome thoſe
Gen. 17. 17. Difficulties: Abraham had never laughed for Joy, had he not Hoped when the Angel brought him Tydings of a Son; yea, had he not Hoped againſt all Things that could have been ſaid to diſcourage: Hence it is ſaid, that againſt Hope he believed in Hope, that he might become the Father of many
Rom. 4. 18. Nations, according to that which was ſpoken, ſo ſhall thy Seed be.

There is Hope againſt Hope; Hope grounded on Faith, againſt Hope grounded on Reaſon: Hope grounded on Reaſon, would have made Abraham expect that the Promiſe ſhould ſurely have been ineffectual, becauſe of the deadneſs of Abraham's Body, and of the Barrenneſs of Sarah's Womb: But he hoped againſt the Difficulty, by a Hope that ſprang from Faith, which confided in the Promiſe and Power of God, and ſo overcame the Difficulty, and indeed obtained the Promiſe: Hope therefore well exerciſed, is the only Way to overcome.
1 Pet. 1. 13. Hence Peter bids thoſe that are in a ſuffering Condition, Be Sober, and Hope to the End, for the Grace that is to be brought unto them at the Revelation of Jeſus Chriſt: And therefore it is as you heard before, that we are ſaid to be ſaved by Hope. Rom. 8. 24.

Hope is excellent,

Firſt, Againſt thoſe Diſcouragements, that ariſe up out of our own Bowels.

Secondly, It is excellent to imbolden a Man in the Cauſe of God.

Thirdly, It is excellent at helping one over the Difficulties, that Men by Frights and Terrors may lay in our Way.

Firſt, it is excellent to help us againſt Rom. 4. thoſe Diſcouragements that ariſe out of our own Bowels: This is clear in the Inſtance laſt mentioned about Abraham, who had Heb. 6. 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18. nothing but Diſcouragements ariſing from himſelf; but he had Hope, and as well he exerciſed it; wherefore after a little patient enduring, he overcame the Difficulty, and obtained the Promiſe.

The Reaſon is, for that it is the Nature of true Hope, to turn away its Ear from oppoſing Difficulties, to the Word and Mouth of Faith; and perceiving that Faith has got hold of the Promiſe, Hope, notwithſtanding Difficulties that do or may attempt to intercept, will expect, and ſo wait for the accompliſhment thereof.

Secondly, Hope is excellent at imboldening a Man in the Cauſe of God: Hence the Apoſtle ſaith, Hope maketh not aſhamed; Rom. 5. 5. for not to be aſhamed, there, is to be imboldned. So again, when Paul ſpeaks of his Troubles he met with for the Profeſſion of the Goſpel, he ſaith, That they ſhould turn to his Salvation: According, ſaith he, Phil. 1. 19, 20. to my earneſt Expectation, and my Hope, that in nothing I ſhall be aſhamed, but that with all Boldneſs, as always, ſo now Chriſt ſhall be magnified in my Body, whether it be by Life or by Death: See here, a Man at the Foot of the Ladder, now ready in Will and Mind, to die for his Profeſſion; but how will he carry it now? Why, with all brave and innocent Boldneſs. But how will he do that? Oh! By the Hope of the Goſpel that is in him, for by that he is fully perſuaded that the Cauſe he ſuffereth for will bear him up in the Day of God, and that he ſhall then be well rewarded for it.

Thirdly, It is alſo excellent at helping one over thoſe Difficulties, that Men by Frights and Terrors may lay in our Way. Hence when David was almoſt killed with the Reproach and Oppreſſion of his Enemies, and his Soul full ſorely bowed down to the Ground therewith; That he might revive and get up again, he calls to his Soul to put in Exerciſe the Grace of Hope. Saying, Why art thou caſt down, O my Soul? Pſal. 42. and why art thou diſquieted within me? 9, 10, 11. Hope thou in God, for I ſhall yet praiſe him, who is the Health of my Countenance and my God. So again, ſaith he, in the next Pſalm after, as afore he had complained of the Oppreſſion of the Enemy, Why art thou Pſ. 43. 2, 5. caſt down, O my Soul? and why art thou diſquieted diſquieted within me? Hope in God, for I ſhall yet praiſe him, who is the Health of my Countenance, and my God. Hope therefore is a Soul-incouraging Grace, a Soul-imbolding Grace, and a Soul-preſerving Grace. Hence it is called our Helmet or Head-

Eph. 6.17. piece, the Helmet of Salvation. This is,
1 Theſ. 5.8 one Piece of the Armor with which the
Iſa. 59. 17. Son of God was cloathed, when he came into the World: And 'tis that againſt which nothing can prevail. For as long as I can hope for Salvation, what can hurt me? This Word ſpoken in the bleſſed Exerciſe of Grace, I hope for Salvation, drives down all before it. The Truth of God is that
Pſ. 91. 4. Man's Shield and Buckler that hath made the Lord his Hope.

And now to encourage thee, good Man, to the exerciſe of this bleſſed Grace of Hope as the Text bids; Let me preſent thee with that which followeth.

1. God to ſhew how well he takes hoping in him at our Hands, has called him-
Rom. 15. 13. ſelf The God of Hope. That is, not only the Author of Hope, but the God that
Pſ. 147. 11. takes Pleaſure in them that exerciſe it. The Lord takes Pleaſure in them that fear him, in them that hope in his Mercy.

2. He will be a Shield, a Defence to them that hope in him. Thou art my hi-
Pſal. 119. 114. ding Place and my Shield, ſaith David, I hope in thy Word. That is, he knew he would be ſo: For he hoped in his Word.

3. He has promiſed us the Life we hope for, to incourage us ſtill to hope, and to
Tit. 1. 2. indure all Things to enjoy it. That he
1 Cor. 9. 10 that ploweth ſhould plow in Hope, and that he that threſheth in Hope ſhould be Partaker of his Hope.

Queſt. But you may ſay, What is it to exerciſe this Grace aright?

Anſw. Firſt, you muſt look well to your Faith that that may proſper; for as your Faith is, ſuch your Hope will be. Hope is never ill when Faith is well; nor ſtrong if Faith be weak. Wherefore Paul prays
Rom. 15. 13. that the Romans might be filled with all Joy and Peace in believing, that they might abound in Hope. When a Man by Faith believes to Joy and Peace, then Hope grows ſtrong, and with an Aſſurance looketh for a Share in the World to come. Wherefore look to your Faith, and pray heartily that the God of Hope will fill you with all Joy and Peace in believing.

Secondly, Learn of Abraham not to faint,
Rom. 4. ſtumble, or doubt, at the Sight of your own Weakneſs; for if you do, Hope will ſtay below and creak in the Wheels as it goes, becauſe it will want the Oil of Faith. But ſay to thy Soul, when thou beginneſt to faint and ſink at the Sight of theſe, as David did to his, in the Places made mention of before.

Thirdly, Be much in calling to Mind what God has done for thee in former
Rom. 5. 4. Times. Keep thy Experience as a choice Thing. Remember all the Way the Lord
Deut. 8. 2. 3, 4, 5. hath led thee in the Wilderneſs this forty Years. O God, ſaid David, my Soul is caſt down within me, therefore will I remember thee from the Land of Jordan, and of the Hermonites from the Hill Mizar.
Pſ. 42. 5.

Fourthly, Be much in looking at the End of Things, or rather, to the End of this, and to the Beginning of the next World. What we enjoy of God in this World, may be an earneſt of Hope, or a Token that the Thing hoped for is to be ours at laſt; but the Object of Hope is in general, the
Heb. 11. 1. next World. We muſt therefore put a
Pſ. 119. 49 Col. 1. 27. Difference betwixt the Mother of Hope, Faith; the Means of Hope, the Word; the Earneſt of Hope, Chriſt in us; and the proper Object of Hope, to wit, the World to come and the Goodneſs thereof.

If Chriſtians have not much here, their Hope, as I may ſo ſay, lies idle, and as a Grace out of its Exerciſe. For as Faith cannot feed upon Patience, but upon Chriſt; and as the Grace of hungering and thirſting cannot live upon Self-fulneſs, but upon the Riches of the Promiſe; ſo Hope cannot make what is enjoyed, its Object; for what
Rom. 8. 24 a Man ſeeth why doth he yet hope for it? but the proper Object of Hope is, that we ſee not.

Let Faith then be exerciſed upon Chriſt crucified, for my juſtification; and Hope upon the next World, for my glorification: and let Love ſhew the Truth of Faith in Chriſt, by Acts of Kindneſs to Chriſt and his People; and Patience, the Truth of Hope, by a quiet bearing and enduring that which may now be laid upon me for my ſincere Profeſſions ſake, until the Hope that is laid up for us in Heaven ſhall come to us, or we be gathered to that, and then Hope is in ſome Meaſure in good Order, and exerciſed well. But,

Fourthly, We now come to the laſt Thing propounded to be ſpoken to, which is, They that have Hope and exerciſe it well, ſhall aſſuredly at laſt enjoy that Hope that is laid up for them in Heaven. That is, they that do regularly exerciſe the Grace of Hope, ſhall at laſt enjoy the Object of it, or the Thing hoped for. This muſt of Neceſſity be concluded, elſe we overthrow the whole Truth of God at once, and the Expectation of the beſt of Men: Yea, if this be not concluded, what follows, but that Atheiſm, Unbelief, and Irreligion is the righteſt? and profane and debauched Perſons are in the righteſt Way?

But to proceed, This muſt be, as is evident, for that the Things hoped for, are put under the very Name of the Grace that
Tit. 2. 13. lives in the Expectation of them: They are called HOPE; looking for the bleſſed Hope; for the Hope that is laid up for them
Colo. 1. 5. in Heaven. God has ſet That Character upon them, to ſignify that they belong to HOPE, and ſhall be the Reward of Hope.

God doth in this, as your great Traders do with the Goods that their Chapmen have either bought or ſpoke for; to wit, he ſets their Name or Mark upon them; and then ſaith, This belongs to this Grace, and this belongs to that; but the Kingdom of Heaven belongs to HOPE, for his Name is ſet upon it. This therefore is one Thing to prove that the Thing hoped for ſhall be thine, God has marked it for thee: Nor can it be given to thoſe that do not hope. That is, to the ſame Purpoſe that you read of, 2 Theſ. 1. That you may be counted worthy of the Kingdom of Heaven, for which ye alſo ſuffer. Suffering flows from Hope; he that hopes not for an Houſe in Heaven, will not for it chuſe to ſuffer the Loſs of the Pleaſures and Friendſhips of this World. But they that ſuffer for it, and that all do, one Way or other, in whom is placed this Grace of Hope: They God counteth worthy of it, and therefore hath marked it with their Mark, HOPE, for that it belongs to Hope, and ſhall be given to thoſe that Hope. That's the firſt.

Secondly, They that do, as afore is ſaid, exerciſe this Grace of Hope, ſhall aſſuredly enjoy the Hope that is laid up for them in Heaven, as is evident alſo from this; becauſe as God has marked and ſet it apart for them, ſo what he has done to and with our Lord and Head, ſince his Death, he hath done it to this very End: That is, to beget and maintain our Hope in him, as touching this Thing. He has begotten us again to a lively Hope, by the Reſurrection of Chriſt from the dead. The Meaning is, Chriſt is our Undertaker, and ſuffered Death for us, that we might enjoy Happineſs and Glory: And God to ſhew how willing he was that we ſhould have this Glory, raiſed up Chriſt again, and delivered him from the Sorrows of Death. Wherefore conſidering this, Paul ſaid, he rejoiced in hope of the Glory of God, to wit, of that Glory, that Sin, had he not had Jeſus for his Undertaker, would have cauſed that he ſhould certainly have come ſhort off.

1 Pet. 1. 3.
Rom. 5. 2.
Rom. 3. 23.

But again, God raiſed him up from the Dead, and gave him Glory too, and that to this very End, that your Faith and Hope might be in God. I ſay, he did it to this very End, that he might beget in you this good Opinion of him, as to hope in him, that he would give you that good Thing hoped for, to wit, eternal Life. And gave him Glory, and put it into his Hand (for you) who is your Head and Saviour, that you might ſee how willing God is to give you the Hope you look for, That your Faith and Hope might be in God.

1 Pet. 1. 21.

Thirdly, That we that have Hope and rightly exerciſe it, might aſſuredly enjoy that Hope that is laid up for us in Heaven: God has promiſed it, and that to our Saviour for us. Had he promiſed it to us, we might yet have feared, for that with our Faults we give a Cauſe of continual Provocation to him: But ſince he hath promiſed it to Chriſt, it muſt aſſuredly come to us by him; becauſe Chriſt, to whom 'tis promiſed, never gave Occaſion of Provocation to him, to take it back. And that it was promiſed to Chriſt, 'tis evident, becauſe 'twas promiſed before the World began. In hope of eternal Life, ſaith Paul, which God, that cannot lie, promiſed before the World began: And this is, that we might hope. Men that uſe to hope to enjoy that Money or Eſtate, that by thoſe that are faithful is promiſed to them, and put into the Hands of truſty Perſons for them. Why this is the Caſe, God that cannot lie has promiſed it to the hopers, and has put it into the Hand of the truſty Jeſus for us, therefore let us hope that in his Times we ſhall both ſee and enjoy the ſame we hope for.

Tit. 1. 2.

Fourthly, Yea, that all Ground of Doubt and Scruple as to this, might be removed out of the Way; when Chriſt, who as to what was laſt ſaid, is our Hope, ſhall come, he ſhall bring that Grace and Mercy with him, that ſhall even from before his Judgment-Seat, remove all thoſe Things that might have any Tendency in them to deprive us of our Hope, or of the Thing hoped for by us. Hence Peter bids us Be ſober and hope to the End, for the Grace that ſhall be brought unto us at the Revelation of Jeſus Chriſt. Alſo as to this, Jude, the Servant of Jeſus Chriſt joins with him, ſaying, Keep your ſelves in the Love of God, looking for the Mercy of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt unto eternal Life. Here then you ſee that there is Grace and Mercy ſtill for us in reverſion, Grace and Mercy to be brought unto us at the Revelation, or ſecond Coming of Jeſus Chriſt: How then can we be hindred of our Hope? For tranſporting Mercy will then be buſy for them that indeed have here the Hope of eternal Life. And they ſhall be mine, ſaith the Lord, in the Day that I make up my Jewels; and I will ſpare him, as a Man ſpareth his own Son that ſerveth him.

1 Tim. 1. 1.
Jude 21.
Mal. 3. 16, 17.

None knows the Myſtery of God's Will in all Things revealed in his Word: Therefore many Texts are looked over, or laid by, as thoſe whoſe Key doth go too hard; nor will I boaſt of any ſingular Knowledge in any particular Thing. Yet methinks ſince Grace and Mercy was not only brought by Chriſt when he came into the World, but ſhall be brought again with him when he comes in his Father's Glory: It ſignifies, that as the firſt brought the beginning of eternal Life to us while we were Enemies; This ſecond will bring the full Enjoyment of it to us, while we are Saints, attended with many Imperfections: And that as by the firſt Grace, all unworthineſs was pardoned and paſſed by: So by this ſecond Grace,

Pſal. 8, 9.
Pſal. 3, 4.

Grace, the Grace that is to be brought unto us at the Revelation of Jesus Christ, all shortness in Duties, and failings in Performances, shall be spared also; and we made Possessors by Vertue of this Grace and Mercy, of the blessings hoped for, to wit, the Blessings of eternal Life.

But thus much for the Duty contained in the Exhortation, to wit, of hoping. I shall therefore come in the next Place, to treat of the well managing of this Duty with reference to its primary Object, which is, the Lord himself. Let Israel hope in the Lord. There is a general Object of Hope, and there is a particular Object; there is a common Object, and there is a special one. Of the general and common Object, to wit, of Heaven and Happiness, I have said something already; wherefore it remains that now we come and treat of this particular and special Object of our Hope: Let Israel Hope in the [Lord.] The Lord therefore is to be the particular, and special Object of our Hope: Let Israel hope in the Lord. Now in that there is not only a Duty here exhorted to, but a Direction for the better Management of that Duty, to the particular and special Object upon which this Duty should be exercised; It suggesteth how apt good Men are, especially in Times of Trouble (the Case of Israel now) to fix their Hopes in other Things, than on the Lord. We have seen a great deal of this in our Days; our Days indeed have been Days of Trouble, especially since the discovery of the Popish Plot, for then we began to fear cutting of Throats, of being burned in our Beds, and of seeing our Children dashed in Pieces before our Faces. But looking about us, we found we had a gracious King, brave Parliaments, a stout City, good Lord Mayors, honest Sheriffs, substantial Laws against them, and these we made the Object of our Hope, quite forgetting the Direction in this Exhortation, Let Israel hope in the Lord. For indeed the Lord ought to be our Hope in Temporals, as well as in Spirituals, and Eternals. Wherefore Israel of old were checked under a Supposition, of placing their Hope for Temporals in Men, It is better to trust in the Lord, than to put Confidence in Man. It is better to trust in the Lord, than to put Confidence in Princes. And again, put not your Trust in Princes, nor in the Son of Man, in whom there is no help. This implyeth that there is in us an Incidency to forget God our Hope, and to put Confidence in some Thing else. And to be sure we shall find it the more difficult to make the Lord our Hope only, when Things that are here, tho' deceitfully, proffer us their Help.

Psal. 118. 8, 9.

Psal. 145. 3, 4.

But my Design is not to treat of the Object of Hope, but with reference to the next World. And as to that we must take heed that we set our Hope in God, in God in the first Place, and in nothing below or besides himself. To this End it is that he has given us his Word, and appointed a Law to Israel.

First, Because of his own Grace he is become the special Object of Hope, designing HIMSELF in the most special Sense to be the Portion of his People. The Lord is my Portion, saith my Soul, therefore will I hope in him. Wherefore this we must look well to, and take heed that we miss not of this Object. This is the special Object, the ultimate Object, the Object that we cannot be without, and that short of which we cannot be happy, as God willing, shall be shewed more anon. God is not only happiness in himself, but the Life of the Soul, and him that puts goodness into every Thing in the next World, in which goodness shall be found. And this our Lord Jesus Christ himself affirmeth, when he saith, I am the Way, to wit, the Way to Life and Happiness. And yet he saith I am the Way to the Father, for that it is HE that is the Fountain and Ocean of Happiness and Bliss.

Psal. 78. 5, 6, 7. Psal. 146. 5. Jer. 17. 13 Chap. 50. 7. Lam. 3. 24.

So then, that we might in the next World be Heirs of the highest good, God has made us Heirs of his own good Self, Heirs of God and Joynt-Heirs with Christ, Heirs of God through Christ. This God, this eternal God therefore is necessity to be the Object of our Hope, because he is of Grace become our Hope. The Church in Heaven, called the Body and Temple of God, is to be an Habitation for himself, when it is finished, to dwell in for ever and ever. This then we hope for, to wit, to be possessed at that Day with eternal Life, eternal Glory. Now this eternal Life and eternal Glory, is through God, the Hope of his People. And for this End, and to this Bliss, are the called and regenerate in this World, That being justified by his Grace, we should be made Heirs, according to the Hope of eternal Life.

Rom. 8. 17. Gal. 4. 7. 1 Tim. 6. 12, 19. 1 Pet. 5. 10. Joh. 5. 20. Tit. 3. 7.

Nor can it be that Heaven and Happiness, should ever be the Portion of them that make not God their Hope; any more than such a Lady should hope to enjoy the Estate of such a Lord, who first makes not the Lord himself her Husband. Heaven, Heaven is the Talk of the Ignorant, while the God of Heaven they cannot abide. But shall such ever come to Glory! But,

Secondly, God must be the special Object of our Hope, and him in special that must be enjoyed by us in the next World, or nothing can make us happy. We will suppose now for the illustrating of this Matter, that which is not to be supposed: As,

1. Suppose a Man when he dieth should go to Heaven, that Golden Place, what good would this do him, if he was not possessed of the God of it? It would be, as to Sweetness, but a Thing unsavoury; as to Durableness, but a Thing uncertain; as to Society, as a Thing forlorn; and as to Life, but a Place of Death. All this is made appear pear by the Angels that fell; for when fallen, what was Heaven to them? Suppoſe they ſtaid but one Quarter of an Hour there after their fall, before they were caſt out, what ſweetneſs found they there, but Guilt? what ſtay, but a continual fall of Heart and Mind? What Society, but to be abandoned of all? And what Life, but Death in its Perfection? Yea, if it be true that ſome think, that for the promoting of Grace, they are admitted yet to enter that Place to accuſe the Saints on Earth; yet what do they find there, but what is grievous to them? 'Tis the preſence of God that makes Heaven Heaven in all its beauteouſneſs. Hence David when he ſpeaks of Heaven ſays, whom have I in Heaven but thee? As who ſhould ſay, what would Heaven yield to me for Delights, if I was there without my God? 'tis the preſence of God that will make Heaven ſweet to who are his. And as 'tis that that makes the Place, ſo 'tis intereſt in him that makes the Company, and the deeds that are (done) there, pleaſant to the Soul. What Solace can he that is without God, tho' he were in Heaven, have with Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, the Prophets, and Angels? how could he join in their Thanks, and Praiſes, and Bleſſings of him for ever and ever in whoſe Favour, Mercy, and Grace they are not concerned?

Pſal. 73. 25.

2. Suppoſe a Man, when he dieth, ſhould be made to live for ever, but without the Enjoyment of God, what good would his Life do him? Why, it would be filled full of Horror, Darkneſs, Deſolation, Sorrow, and all Things that would tend to make it bitter to the Soul, Witneſs they that live in Hell if it be proper to ſay they live in Hell. It is no more poſſible for a Man to live happily (were he poſſeſſed of all that Heaven and Life could afford him) ſuppoſe him to be without Intereſt in God; than it is for a Man that hath all the Enjoyments of this World, if the Sun was taken from him out of the Firmament. As all things, whether it be Heaven, Angels, heavenly Pleaſures and Delights have had their Being of him: So their Being is continued by him, and made ſweet of him.

Now for the well managing of our Hope with reference to this ſpecial Object of it, there are theſe Things to be conſidered; and now I ſpeak to all.

We muſt know him right, we muſt come to him right: Firſt, we muſt know him right. It is eſſential to Happineſs and ſo to the making of the God of Heaven our Hope, to know him rightly. It is not every Fancy, or every Imagination of God, that thou mayeſt have, that will prove that therefore thou knoweſt God a-right. In him there is no variableneſs nor Shadow of turning, he only is what he is, what Imaginations ſoever we have of him. We may ſet up Idols, and Images of him, as much in our Minds as ſome do in their Houſes and in their Temples, and be as great, tho' not ſo groſs Idolaters as they. Now if thou wouldſt know him, thou muſt diligently feel for him in his Works, in his Word, and in his Ways, if perhaps thou mayeſt find the Knowledge of him.

Joh. 17. 1, 2, 3.

Jam. 1. 17.

Pro. 2. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. Acts 17. 27.

Secondly, Beware when thou haſt found him, that thou go to him by his Son, whom he has ſanctified and ſent into the World, to be the Way for Sinners to go to God. And ſee that thou keepeſt in this Path always, for out of him he is found intolerable, and a conſuming Fire.

Thirdly, Buſy thy ſelf with all thy Might to make an Intereſt in his Son (and he will willingly by thy Saviour) for he muſt become thine before his Father can be the object of thy Hope. He that hath the Son, hath the Father, but contrarywiſe he that hath not him has neither.

Joh. 3. 36. 2 Joh. 9.

Fourthly, Stay not in ſome tranſient Comforts, but abide reſtleſs till thou ſeeſt an Union 'twixt thee and this bleſſed one. To wit, that he is a Root, and thou a Branch; that he is Head, and thou a Member. And then ſhall thou know that the Caſe is ſo between thee and him, when Grace and his Spirit has made thee to lay the whole ſtreſs of thy Juſtification upon him, and has ſubdued thy Heart and Mind to be one Spirit with him.

Rom. 4. 4, 5. 1 Cor. 6. 17.

Fifthly, This done, hope thou in God, for he is become thy Hope, that is the Object of it. And for thy Encouragement ſo to do,

1. Conſider that he is able to bear up thy Heart, and has ſaid he will do it, as to this very Thing, to all thoſe that thus hope in him: Be of good Courage, and he ſhall ſtrengthen your Heart, all ye that hope in the Lord.

Pſal. 27. 14. Pſal. 31. 24.

It it manifeſt, as was ſaid before, that many Difficulties lye in the Way of hoping; but God will make them Difficulties eaſy, by ſtrengthening the Heart of him that hopeth, to Hope. He has a Way to do that, which no Creature can hinder, by the bleſſed Work of his holy Spirit; he can ſhew us he loves us, that he may encourage our Hope.

2. As he can work in us for our Encouragement, ſo he can and will, as was ſaid before, himſelf in his Time anſwer our Hope, by becoming our Hope himſelf. The Lord ſhall be the Hope of his People, and the ſtrength of the Children of Iſrael.

Joel 3. 16.

3. His Faithfulneſs alſo is a great Encouragement to his, to hope for the Accompliſhment of all that he hath promiſed unto his People. Hath he ſaid it, and ſhall he not make it good? When he promiſed to bring Iſrael into the Land of Canaan, he accompliſhed it to a Tittle. There failed not ought of any good Thing which the Lord had ſpoken to the Houſe of Iſrael; all came to paſs. Alſo what he with his Mouth had promiſed to David, with his Hand he fulfilled filled to Solomon in the View of all the Thousands of Israel. I will omit making mention again of the Encouragements spoken of before, and shall now come to the third Thing specified in this Part of the Text, to wit, to shew more distinctly, who, and what particular Persons they are, who are concerned in this Exhortation to hope.

Joſ. 21. 45. Chap. 23. 14. 1 Kings 8. 22, 23, 24. 2 Chro. 6. 7, 8, 9, 10.

They are put, as you see, under this general Term [Israel] Let Israel hope in the Lord: And, he shall save Israel from all his Troubles.

Israel is to be taken three Ways, (in the Scripture)

1. For such that are Israel after the Flesh.

2. For such as are Israel after God, or the Spirit.

3. For such as are such neither after the Flesh nor the Spirit; but in their own Fancies and carnal Imaginations only.

First, Israel is to be taken for those that are such after the Flesh; that is, for those that sprang from the Loins of Jacob, and are called, ISRAEL after the Flesh, the Children of the Flesh. Now these, as such, are not the Persons interested in this Exhortation, for by the Flesh comes no true spiritual and eternal Grace. Men are not within the Bounds of the Promise of eternal Life as they are the Children of the Flesh, either in the more gross or more refined Sense. Jacob was as spiritual a Father as any he, I suppose, that now professeth the Gospel; but his Spiritualness could not convey down to his Children, that were such only after the Flesh, that Spirit and Grace that causeth sound Conversion, and Salvation by Jesus Christ. Hence Paul counts it a carnal Thing to glory in this; and tells us plainly, if he had heretofore known Christ thus, that is, to have been his Brother or Kinsman, according to the Flesh, or after that, he would henceforth know him, that is, so, no more. For though the Children of Israel be as the Sand of the Sea; yet not that Multitude, but the Remnant that the Lord hath chosen and shall call, shall be saved.

Rom. 9.6, 7, 8. 1 Cor. 10. 18. Philip. 3. 4, 5, 6. 2 Cor. 5. 16, 17, 18. Rom. 9.27 Joel 2. 32.

This therefore is as an Arrow against the Face of that false Doctrine that the Jews leaned upon, to wit, that they were in the State of Grace, and the everlasting Favour of God, because the Children and Off-spring of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. But Secondly, Israel may be taken for such, as are neither so after the Flesh, nor the Spirit, but in their own Fancy and Imagination only. And such I take to be all those that you read of in Rev. 2. 9. which said, They were Jews, and were not, but did lie.

Rev. 2. 9.

These I take to be those carnal Gospelers, that from among the Gentiles pretended themselves to be Jews inwardly, whose Circumcision is that of the Heart in the Spirit, when they were such only in their own Fancies and Conceits, and made their Profession out as a Lie.

Abundance of these there are at this Day in the World, Men who know neither the Father, nor the Son, nor any Thing of the Way of the Spirit, in the Work of Regeneration, and yet presume to say, they are Jews; that is, truly and spiritually the Seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: For now, he is not a Jew who is one outwardly, neither is that Circumcision which is outward in the Flesh; but he is a Jew which is one inwardly, and Circumcision is that of the Heart in the Spirit, whose Praise is not of Men, but of God. Rom. 2. 28, 29.

And although it may please some now to say, as they of old said to them of the Captivity, We seek your God, as ye do; yet at last it will be found, that as they, such have no Portion, nor Right, nor Memorial in Jerusalem. And I would from hence, caution all to take heed of presuming to count themselves Jews, unless they have a substantial Ground so to do: For to do this without a good Bottom, makes all our Profession a Lie; and not only so, but it hindreth us of a Sight of a Want of an Interest in Jesus Christ, without which we cannot be saved; yea such an one is the great SELF-DECEIVER, and so the worst Deceiver of all: For he that deceives his OWN Self, his OWN Heart is a Deceiver in the worst Sense, nor can any Disappointment be like unto that, which casts away Soul and Body at once. Oh slender Thread! that a Man should think that because he fancieth himself an Israelite indeed, that therefore he shall go for such an one in the Day of Judgment, or that he shall be able to cheat God with a pitiful Say-so.

Ezra 4. 2. Neh. 2. 20. Jam. 1. 22, 26.

Thirdly, But the Israel under Consideration in the Text, is Israel after God or the Spirit; hence they are called the Israel of God, because they are made so of him, not by Generation, nor by Fancy, but by Divine Power. Gal. 6. 16.

And thus was the first of this Name made so, Thy Name shall be called no more Jacob, but Israel: This then is the Man concerned in the Text, Let Israel hope in the Lord; to wit, Israel that is so of God's making, and of God's Allowance: For Men are not debarred from calling themselves after this most godly Name, provided they are so indeed; all that is dangerous is, when Men shall think this Privilege comes by carnal Generation, or that their fancying of themselves to be such, will bear them out in the Day of Judgment. Otherwise if Men become the true Servants of God by Christ, they have, as I said, an Allowance, so to subscribe themselves. One shall say, I am the Lord's, and another shall call himself by the Name of Jacob, and another shall subscribe with his Hand unto the Lord, and surname himself by the Name of Israel. But Gen. 32. 28. Isa. 44. 5.

then for the further describing of such, they must be Men of circumcised and tender Hearts, they must be such which worship God in the Spirit, and that rejoice in Christ Jesus, and that have no Confidence in the Flesh; for these are the Nathaniels, the Israelites INDEED, in whom there is no Guile; and these are they that are intended in the Exhortation, when he saith, Let Israel hope in the Lord.

Phil. 3. 3. John 1. 47.

First, For these are formed for that very End, that they might hope in the Lord; yea, the Word and Testament is given to them for this Purpose.

Psal. 78. 5, 6, 7.

Secondly, These are Prisoners of Hope all the Time they are in the State of Nature, even as the whole Creation is subjected under Hope, all the Time of its Bondage, by the Sin and Villany of Man; and unto them it shall be said, in the Dispensation of the Fulness of Time, Return to the strong Hold ye Prisoners of Hope; as certainly, as that which is called the Creature it self, shall be delivered from the Bondage of Corruption, into the glorious Liberty of the Children of God.

Zech. 9. 11 12.

Rom. 8. 18, 19, 20, 21.

Only here, as I said before, let all Men have a Care in this Thing; this is the Pinnacle, the Point; he that is right here, is right in all that is necessary to Salvation; but he that misses here, can by no Means be right any where to his Soul's Advantage in the other World.

If I should a little improve the Text, where this Title is first given to Man, and shew the Posture that he was in, when 'twas said to him, Thy Name shall be called Israel; and should also debate upon the Cause or Ground of that, An Israelite INDEED, thou mightest not repent it who shall read it; and therefore a few Words to each.

1. When Jacob received the Name of Israel, he was found wrestling with the Angel; yea, and so resolved a Wrestler was he, that he purposed, now he had begun, not to give out without a Blessing, I will not let thee go, said he, except thou bless me. Discouragements he had while he wrestled with him, to have left off before he obtained his Desire; for the Angel bid him leave off; let me go, said he: He had wrestled all Night and had not prevailed, and now the Day brake upon him, and consequently his Discouragement was like to be the greater, for that now the Majesty and Terribleness of him with whom he wrestled, would be seen more apparently; but this did not discourage him: Besides, he lost the Use of a Limb as he wrestled with him; yet all would not put this Israel out: Pray he did, and pray he would, and nothing should make him leave off Prayer, until he had obtained, and therefore he was called Israel: For as a Prince hast thou had Power with God and with Man, and hast prevailed, Gen. 32. 24, 32.

Gen. 32. 26

A wrestling Spirit of Prayer is a Demonstration of an Israel of God; this Jacob had, this he made use of, and by this he obtained the Name of Israel: A wrestling Spirit of Prayer in Straits, Difficulties, and Distresses; a wrestling Spirit of Prayer when alone in Private, in the Night, when no Eye seeth but God's, then to be at it, then to lay hold of God, then to wrestle, to hold fast, and not to give over until the Blessing is obtained, is a Sign of one that is an Israel of God.

Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom is no Guile: This was the Testimony of the Lord Jesus concerning Nathaniel. Nathaniel was persuaded by Philip to come to Jesus, and as he was coming, Jesus saith to the rest of the Disciples concerning him, Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom is no Guile: Then said Nathaniel to Jesus, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the Fig-Tree, I saw thee. Nathaniel as Jacob was at Prayer, at Prayer alone under the Fig-Tree, wrestling in Prayer; for what no Man can certainly tell, but probably for the Messias, or for the Revelation of him: For the seeing Jews were convinced that the Time of the Promise was out; and all Men were in Expectation concerning John, whether he might not be he. But Nathaniel was under the Fig-Tree alone with God, to enquire of him, and that with great Earnestness and Sincerity; else the Lord Jesus would not thus have excused him of Hypocrisy, and justified his Action as he did, concluding from what he did there, that he was a true Son of Jacob; and ought, as he, to have his Name changed from what his Parents gave him, to this given him of Christ, An Israelite indeed. Wherefore from both these Places, it is apparent, that a wrestling Spirit of Prayer in private, is one of the best Signs that this or that Man or Woman is of Israel; and consequently, such who are within the Compass of the Exhortation here, saying, Let Israel hope in the Lord.

John 1. 47. ver. 46 ver. 48. Luke 3. 15 16.

I say it is this wrestling Spirit of Prayer with God alone; for as for that of publick Prayer (though I will not condemn it) it gives not Ground for this Character, notwithstanding all the Flourishes and Excellencies that may therein appear. I am not unsensible what Pride, what Hypocrisy, what Pretences, what Self-seekings of Commendations and Applause, may be countenanced by those concerned in, or that make publick Prayers; and how little Thought or Savour of God, may be in all so said; but this Closet, Night, or alone Prayer, is of another Stamp, and attended, at least so I judge, with that Sense, those Desires, that Simplicity, and those Strugglings, wherewith that in publick is not. Nay, I think verily, a Man cannot addict himself to these most solemn Retirements, without some ſome of Jacob's and Nathaniel's Senſe and Sincerity, Wreſtlings and Reſtleſneſs for Mercy: Wherefore laying aſide all other, I ſhall abide by this; That the Man that is as I have here deſcribed, is not an Iſraelite of the Fleſh, nor one ſo only in his Fancy or Imagination, but one made ſo of God; one that is called a Child of Promiſe, and one to whom this Exhortation doth belong: Let Iſrael hope in the Lord; to wit, they that ſerve God by Prayer Day and Night: Theſe I ſay are Iſrael, the Iſrael of God: And let theſe hope in the Lord, from now, henceforth, and for ever.

Luke 2.37 Acts 26.5, 6, 7.

Pſ. 131.3.

Having thus briefly touched upon thoſe three Things, that are contained in the matter of the Exhortation; I now come to ſpeak a Word to the manner of Praiſes, by which the Exhortation is preſented to us, Let Iſrael hope; he doth not ſay, Iſrael hath hoped; Iſrael did hope, or Iſrael can Hope, but LET Iſrael hope in the Lord. LET is a Word very copious, and ſometimes ſignifies this, and ſometimes that, even according as the Nature or Reaſon of the Thing under Debate, or to be expreſſed, will with Truth and Advantage bear: LET him Hope.

First, Sometimes LET is equivalent to a Command; Let every Soul be ſubject to the higher Powers, this is a Command: LET all Things be done decently and in order, this alſo is a Command: So here, LET Iſrael hope, this alſo is a Command; and ſo enjoyns a Duty upon Iſrael; for why, ſince they ſeek for Mercy, ſhould they not have it? now a Command lays a very ſtrong Obligation upon a Man, to do this or any other Duty. He commandeth all Men every where to repent, but Iſrael only to hope in his Mercy: Now take the Exhortation and convert it into a Commandment, and it ſheweth us,

1. In what good earneſt God offers his Mercy to his Iſrael; he commands them to hope in him, as he is and will be ſo to them.

2. It ſuppoſes an Impediment in Iſrael, as to the Faculty of receiving or hoping in God for Mercy; we that would have God be merciful, we that cry and pray to him to ſhew us Mercy, have yet that Weakneſs and Impediment in our Faith, which greatly hindreth us from a ſtedfaſt hoping in the Lord for Mercy.

3. It ſuggeſteth alſo, that Iſrael Sins if he hopeth not in God; God would not that all ſhould attempt to Hope, becauſe they have no Faith; for he is for having of them firſt believe, knowing that it is in Vain to think of hoping, until they have believed; but Iſrael has believed, and therefore God has commanded them to hope, and they ſin if they obey him not in this, as in all other Duties. He commands thee, I ſay, ſince thou haſt believed in his Son, to hope, that is, to expect to ſee his Face in the next World with Joy and Comfort; this is hoping, this is thy Duty, this God commands thee.

Secondly, As this Word LET is ſometimes equivalent to a Command, ſo it is expreſſed ſometimes alſo to ſhew a Grant Leave, or Licenſe to do a Thing; ſuch are theſe that follow, LET us come boldly to the Throne of Grace; LET us draw near with a true Heart; LET us hold faſt the Profeſſion of our Faith without wavering. Here alſo this manner of expreſſing the Thing may be taken in the ſame Senſe, to wit, to ſhew that Iſrael has a Grant, a Leave, a Licenſe, to truſt in the Lord. And oh! what a Privilege is this, but who believes it? And yet as truly as God has granted to Jacob, to Iſrael, Repentance unto Life, and by that Means has made him fly for Refuge, to lay hold of Chriſt ſet before him as a Juſtifier; ſo has he granted him Leave and Licenſe to truſt in him for ever, and to hope for his Favour in the next World.

Heb. 4.16. Chap. 10. 22. 23.

And if you take the Word in this Senſe, to wit, for a Grant, Leave or Licence, to hope in God; Then

1. This ſhews how liberal God is of himſelf, and Things to Iſrael: Let Iſrael hope in me, truſt to me, expect good Things at my Hand, I give him Leave and Licence to do it: Let him live in a full Expectation of being with me, and with my Son in Glory, I give him Leave to do ſo; he has Licence from me to do ſo.

2. Underſtand the Word thus, and it ſhews us with what boldneſs and confidence God would have us Hope in him: They that have Leave and Licence to do a Thing, may do it with Confidence and Boldneſs, without miſgivings and reluctances of Mind, this is our Privilege; we may live in a full Aſſurance of Hope, unto the End, we may hope perfectly to the End, we have Leave, Licence, and a Grant to do it.

3. Underſtand the Word thus, and it alſo ſhews you how muddy, how dark thoſe of Iſrael are, and how little they are acquainted with the Goodneſs of their God, who ſtand ſhrinking at his Door like Beggars, and dare not in a godly ſort be bold with his Mercy: Wherefore ſtandeſt thou thus with thy If's and thy O-buts, O thou poor benighted Iſraelite! Wherefore putteſt thou thy Hand in thy Boſom, as being afraid to touch the Hem of the Garment of thy Lord? Thou haſt a Leave, a Grant, a Licence, to hope for good to come, thy Lord himſelf has given it to thee, ſaying; Let Iſrael hope in the Lord.

Thirdly, This Word LET is alſo ſometimes uſed by Way of Rebuke and Snub, Let her alone, for her Soul is vexed; Let her alone, why trouble ye her? Refrain from theſe Men, and Let them alone; and it may alſo ſo be taken here. But if ſo, then it implies that God in this Exhortation, rebuketh thoſe evil Inſtruments, thoſe fallen Angels,

2 Kin. 4. 27. Mark 14. 6. Act. 5. 38.

Angels, with all others that attempt to hinder us in the Exercise of this Duty. As Ruth 2. 15, 16. Boaz said to his Servants, when Ruth was to glean in his Field; Let her Glean even among the Sheaves, and reproach her not: We have indeed those that continually endeavour to hinder us of living in the full Assurance of Hope, as to being with God and with Christ in Glory: But here's a Rebuke for such; LET Israel Hope in the Lord. And it shews us,

1. That what Suggestions come from Satan to make us that are Israelites to doubt, come not for that End, by vertue of any Commission that he hath from God; God has rebuked him in the Text, and you may Zech. 1. 1, 2, 3. see it also elsewhere: These Temptations therefore are rather forged of Malice, and of despite to our Faith and Hope, and so should be accounted by us.

2. This shews us also, that we should take heed of crediting of that which comes unto us, to hinder our Hope in the Lord; lest we take part with Satan, while God rebuketh him, and countenanceth that which fights against the Grace of God in us.

3. It shews us also, that as Faith, so Hope cannot be maintained, but with great Difficulty, and that we should endeavour to maintain it, and Hope, tho' very difficultly.

2 Sam. 13. 6. Est. 9. 13. Fourthly, This Word LET is sometimes used by Way of Request or Entreaty: I pray thee LET Tamar my Sister come: LET it be granted to the Jews to do, &c. And if it be so to be taken here, or if in the best Sense this Interpretation of it may here be admitted, the consideration thereof is amazing; for then 'tis all one as if God by the Mouth of his Servant, the Penman of this Psalm, did entreat us to hope in him:
2 Cor. 5. 20. And why this may not be implyed here, as well as expressed elsewhere, I know not: God did beseech you by us; we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God. Why should God beseech us to reconcile to him, but that we might hope in him? And if it be thus taken here, it shews,

1. The great Condescension of God, in that he doth not only hold out to us the Advantages of hoping in God, but desire that we should hope, that we might indeed be partakers of those Advantages.

2. It Teaches us also Humility, and that always in the Acts of Faith and Hope we should mix Blushing, and Shame, with our
Lam. 3. 29. Joy and Rejoycing: Kiss the Ground, Sinner; put thy Mouth in the Dust, if so there may be Hope.

Fifthly and Lastly, This Word is used sometimes by Way of Caution; Let him
1 Cor. 10. 12. that thinketh he standeth, take heed least he fall. LET us fear therefore least a
Heb. 4. 1. Promise being left us of entering into his Rest, any of you should seem to come short of it: And if it should be so taken here, Then,

1. This shews us the Evil of Despair, and that we at Times are incident to it; our daily Weaknesses, our fresh Guilt, our often Decays, our Aptness to forget the Goodness of God, are direct Tendencies unto this Evil, of which we should be aware; for it robs God of his Glory, and us of our Comfort, and gratifies none but the Devil and Unbelief.

2. It sheweth us that Despair is a Fall, a falling down from our Liberty; our Liberty is to hope; it is our Portion from God; for he hath said that himself will be the Hope of his People. To do the contrary, is therefore a falling from God, a departing from God, through an evil Heart of Unbelief. It is the greatest Folly in the World for an Israelite to despair; Why sayest thou O Jacob, and speakest O Israel, my
Isa. 40. 27, 28, 29, 30, 31. Way is hid from the Lord, and my Judgment is passed over from my God? Hast thou not known, hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the Ends of the Earth fainteth not? There is no searching of his Understanding. He gives Power to the Faint; and to them that have no Might, he increaseth Strength. Even the Youths shall faint and be weary, and the young Men shall utterly fall. But they that wait upon (that Hope in) the Lord, shall renew their Strength; they shall mount up with Wings as Eagles, they shall run and not be weary, and they shall walk and not faint.

Now we come to those Inferences that do naturally flow from this Exhortation, and they are in Number Four.

First, That HOPE, and the Exercise of First inference. it, is as necessary in its Place, as FAITH, and the Exercise of it. All will grant that there is need of a daily Exercise FAITH, and we are bid to HOPE unto the End: Because Hope is the Grace that relieveth the Soul, when dark and weary. Hope is as the Bottle to the faint and sinking Spirit. Hope calls upon the Soul, not to forget how far it is arrived in its Progress towards Heaven. Hope will point and shew it the Gate afar off; and therefore it is called the Hope of Salvation. Hope exerciseth it self upon God.

1. By those Mistakes that the Soul hath formerly been guilty of, with Reference to the Judgment that it hath made of God, and of his Dealings with it. And this is an excellent Vertue. I said once, says the
Lam. 3. 18, 19, 20, 21. Church, that my Hope was perished from the Lord (but I was deceived) this I recall to Mind, therefore have I Hope. That is, why, if I give Way to such distrusting Thoughts, may I not be wrong again? Therefore will I Hope. This Vertue, is that which belongs to this Grace only; for this and this only is it that can turn Unbelief and Doubts to Advantage.

I said in my haste, said David, I am cut

was miſtaken; thou heardeſt the Voice of my Supplications, when I cried unto thee. And what Uſe doth he make of this? Why, an Exhortation to all good Men to Hope, and to take Advantage to Hope from the ſame Miſtakes. I think I am caſt off from God, ſays the Soul; ſo thou thoughteſt afore, ſays Memory, but thou waſt miſtaken then, and why not the like again? and therefore will I hope. When I had concluded that God would never come near me more, yet after that he came to me again, and as I was then, ſo I am now, therefore will I hope.

2. True Hope, in the right Exerciſe of it upon God, makes no ſtick at Weakneſs or Darkneſs, but rather worketh up the Soul to ſome Stay, by theſe. Thus Abraham's Hope wrought by his Weakneſs. And ſo Paul, when I am weak, then I am ſtrong. I will moſt gladly therefore rejoyce in mine Infirmities. But this cannot be done where there is no Hope; nor but by Hope: For it is Hope, and the Exerciſe of it, that can ſay, now I expect that God ſhould bring Good out of all this. And as for the Dark, it is its Element to act in that, For Hope which is ſeen is not Hope. But we muſt hope for that we ſee not. So David, Why art thou caſt down, O my Soul? hope thou in God. Chriſtians have no Reaſon to miſtruſt the Goodneſs of God, becauſe of their Weakneſs, &c. I had fainted unleſs I had believed to ſee. By Believing there, he means hoping to ſee, as the Exhortation drawn from thence doth import.

Rom. 4.

2 Cor. 12. 10.

Rom. 8. 24. Pſal. 27. 13, 14.

3. Hope will make uſe of our Calling, to ſupport the Soul, and to help it, by that, to exerciſe it ſelf in a Way of Expectation of Good from God. Hence the Apoſtle prays for the Epheſians, that they may be made to ſee what is the Hope of their Calling: That is, what Good that is which by their Calling they have Ground to hope is laid up in Heaven, and to be brought unto them at the Appearance of Jeſus Chriſt.

Epheſ. 1. 17, 18, 19.

For thus the Soul by this Grace of Hope will reaſon about this Matter. God has called me; ſurely it is to a Feaſt. God has called me to the Fellowſhip of his Son; ſurely it is, that I may be with him in the next World. God has given me the Spirit of Faith and Prayer; ſurely it is that I might hope for what I believe is, and wait for what I pray for. God has given me ſome Taſtes already; ſurely it is to encourage me to hope that he purpoſeth to bring me into the rich Fruition of the whole.

4. Hope will exerciſe it ſelf upon God by thoſe Breakings, wherewith he breaketh his People for their Sins. The Valley of Achor muſt be given for a Door of Hope. The Valley of Achor, what is that? Why the Place where Achan was ſtoned for his Wickedneſs, and the Place where all Iſrael was afflicted for the ſame. I ſay hope can gather by this, that God has a Love to the Soul. For when God hateth a Man, he chaſtiſeth him not for his Treſpaſſes. If ye be without Chaſtiſement, whereof all are Partakers, then are ye Baſtards, and not Sons. Hence Moſes tells Iſrael, that when the Hand of God was upon them for their Sins, they ſhould conſider in their Heart, that as a Man chaſteneth his Son, ſo the Lord their God chaſtned them. And why thus conſider, but that a Door might be opened for Hope to exerciſe it ſelf upon God, by this. This is that alſo that is intended in Paul to the Corinthians, When we are judged we are chaſtned of the Lord, that we ſhould not be condemned with the World. Is not here a Door of Hope? and why a Door of Hope? but that by it, God's People, when afflicted, ſhould go out by it, from Deſpair by Hope. But it is to be inferred.

Joſh. 7.

Heb. 12. 8.

Deut. 8. 5.

1 Cor. 11. 32.

Secondly, That the Exerciſe of Hope upon God is very delightful to him. Elſe he would not have commanded and granted us a Liberty to hope, and have ſnubbed thoſe that would hinder. Behold the Eye of the Lord is upon them that fear him: Upon them that hope in his Mercy: To deliver their Soul from Death, and to keep them alive in Famine.

Second Inference.

Pſal. 33. 18, 19.

That God is much delighted in the Exerciſe of this Grace, is evident, becauſe of the Preparation that he has made for this Grace, wherewith to exerciſe it ſelf. For whatſoever Things were writ aforetime, were writ for our Learning, that we through Patience and Comfort of the Scriptures might have Hope.

Mark the whole Hiſtory of the Bible, with the Relation of the wonderful Works of God with his People, from the Beginning of the World, are written for this very Purpoſe, that we by conſidering and comparing, by Patience and Comfort of them might have Hope. The Bible is the Scaffold or Stage that God has builded, for Hope to play his Part upon in this World. It is therefore a Thing very delightful to God, to ſee Hope rightly giving its Colour before him. Hence he is ſaid, to laugh at the Trial of the Innocent: Why at his Trial? Becauſe his Trial puts him upon the Exerciſe of Hope. For then indeed there is Work for Hope, when Trials are ſharp upon us. By why is God ſo delighted in the Exerciſe of this Grace of Hope?

Job 9. 23.

1. Becauſe Hope is a head Grace and governing: There are ſeveral Luſts in the Soul that cannot be maſtered, if Hope be not in Exerciſe; eſpecially if the Soul be in great and ſore Trials. There is Peeviſhneſs and Impatience, there is Fear and Deſpair, there is doubting and miſ-conſtruing of God's preſent Hand, and all theſe become Maſters, if Hope be not ſtirring; nor can any Grace beſides, put a Stop to their tumultuous raging in the Soul. But now

Hope in God, makes them all huſh, takes away the Occaſion of their working, and lays the Soul at the Foot of God. Surely, ſaith the Pſalmiſt, I have behaved and quieted my ſelf as a Child that is weaned of his Mother, my Soul is even as a weaned Child. But how came he to bring his Soul into ſo good a Temper? why that is gathered by the Exhortation following; Let Iſrael hope in the Lord from henceforth and for ever. It was by hoping in the Lord that he quieted his Soul, and all its unruly ſinful Paſſions.

2. As Hope quaſheth and quieteth ſinful Paſſions; ſo it putteth into Order ſome Graces that cannot be put into Order without it: As Patience, Meekneſs, Silence, and Long-ſuffering, and the like. Theſe are all in a Day of Trial, out of Place, Order, and Exerciſe, where Hope forbeareth to work.

I never ſaw a diſtruſting Man, a patient Man, a quiet Man, a ſilent Man, and a meek Man, under the Hand of God, except he was dead in Sin, at the Time: But we are not now talking of ſuch. But now let a Man hope in the Lord, and he preſently concludes, this Affliction is for my good, a Sign God loves me, and that which Luke 21. 19. will work out for me a far more exceeding and eternal Weight of Glory; and ſo it puts the Graces of the Soul into Order: Wherefore Patience, by which a Man is bid to poſſeſs or keep his Soul under the Croſs, is 1 Theſ. 1.3 called, The Patience of Hope. So in another Place, when he would have the Church patient in Tribulation, and continue inſtant
Rom. 12. 12. in Prayer, he bids them Rejoyce in Hope, knowing, that the other could not be done without it.

3. God takes much Delight in the Exerciſe of Hope, becauſe it conſtrueth all God's Diſpenſations, at preſent, towards it, for Job 23.10. the beſt; when he hath tried me I ſhall come forth like Gold. This is the Language of Hope. God, ſaith the Soul is doing of me good, making of me better, refining of my inward Man. Take a Profeſſor that is without Hope, and either he ſuffereth Affliction of Pride and Oſtentation, or elſe he picks a Quarrel with God, and throws up All. For he thinks that God is about to undo him; but Hope conſtrueth all to the beſt, and admits no ſuch unruly Paſſions to carry the Man away.

4. Therefore Hope makes the Man, be the Trials what they will, to keep ſtill cloſe to the Way and Path of God. My Foot,
— 11. 12. ſaid hoping Job, hath held his Steps, his Way have I kept and not declined, neither have I gone back from the Commandment of his Lips. And again, Our Heart is not
Pſ. 44. 17, 18, 19, 20. turned back, neither have our Steps declined from thy Way; though thou haſt ſore broken us in the Place of Dragons, and covered us with the Shadow of Death. But how came they thus patiently to endure? Why, they by Hope put Patience and Prayer into Exerciſe. They knew that their God was as it were but aſleep, and that in his Time he would ariſe for their help, and when he did ariſe he would certainly deliver. Thus Rom. 8. is this Pſalm applied by Paul.

Thirdly, There is alſo inferred from this Exhortation, That the Hope of thoſe that are not Iſraelites, is not eſteemed of God. Let Iſrael hope. The Words are excluſive, ſhutting out the reſt. He doth not ſay, let Amalek hope, let Babylon or the Babylonians hope; but even in and by this Exhortation ſhutteth out both the reſt and their Hope, from his Acceptance. This being concluded, it follows, that ſome may hope, and not be the better for their Hope. The Hypocrites Hope ſhall periſh: Their Hope ſhall be as the giving up of the Ghoſt: Job 8. 13, 14. — 11. 20. — 27. 8. For what is the Hope of Hypocrites? Again, The Hope of unjuſt Men periſheth. There is Pro. 11.7. a Hope that periſheth, both it and he that hoped with it together. The Reaſons are, Third Inference.

1. Becauſe it floweth not from Faith and Experience, but rather from Conceit and Preſumption. Hope, as I have told you, if it be right, cometh of Faith, and is brought forth by Experience; but the Hope now under Conſideration is alone, and has no right Original, therefore not regarded. 'Tis not the Hope of God, but the Hope of Man; that is, It is not the Hope of God's working, but the Hope that ſtandeth in natural Abilities. Thou waſheſt away Job 14.19. Iſa. 28.17, 18, 19. the Things that grow out of the Duſt of the Earth, and thou deſtroyeſt the Hope of Man. Whatſoever in religious Matters is but of a carnal and earthly Exiſtence, muſt be waſhed away, when the overflowing Scourge ſhall at the End paſs over the World.

2. Becauſe the Lord's Mercy is not the Object of it. The worldly Man makes Gold, or an Arm of Fleſh, his Hope; that is, the Object of it, and ſo he deſpiſeth God. Or if he be a religious Hypocrite, his Hope terminates in his own Doings; he truſteth, or hopeth, in himſelf that he is righteous. All theſe Things are abhorred of God, nor can he with Honour to his Name, or in a Compliance with his own eternal Deſigns, give any Countenance to ſuch a Hope as this. Job 31.24. Jer. 3. 23. Luke 18.9.

3. This Hope has no good Effect on the Heart and Mind of him that hath it. It purifieth not the Soul, it only holds faſt a Lie, and keeps a Man in a Circuit, at an infinite Diſtance from waiting upon God.

4. This Hope buſieth all the Powers of the Soul about Things that are of the World, or about thoſe falſe Objects on which it is pitched; even as the Spider diligently worketh in her Web (unto which alſo this Hope is compared) in vain. This Hope will bring that Man that has it, and exerciſes it, to Heaven, when Leviathian is pulled out of the Sea with a Hook; or or when his Jaw is bored thorough with a Thorn: But as he that thinks to do this, hopeth in vain; So, even so will the Hope of the other be as unsuccessful, So are the Paths of all that forget God, and the Hypocrites Hope shall perish; whose Hope shall be cut off, and whose Trust shall be as the Spider's Web. He shall lean upon his House, but it Job 8. 13, 14, 15. shall not stand; he shall hold it fast, but it shall not endure. This is the Hope that is not esteemed of God, nor the Persons that — 20. 4, 5, 6, 7, 8. have it, preferred by him a whit before their own Dung.

4thly, There is also inferred from these Words, That Israel himself is subject to swerve in his Soul about the Object of Hope. For this Text is to him (as a Command and Grant) so an Instruction by which he is to be informed, how and upon whom to set his Hope. That Israel is apt to swerve as to the Object of his Hope is evident, for that so much ado is made by the Prophets Psal. 78. 7. Jer. 3. 23, 24, 25. to keep him upon his God; in that so many Laws and Statutes are made to direct him Lam. 4. 17 to set his Hope in God: and also by his own Confession. The Fears also and the Murmurings and the Faintings that attend the godly in this Life, do put the Truth of this Inference out of Doubt. 'Tis true, the Apostle said that he had the Sentence of Death in himself, that he might not trust, or hope, in himself, but in God that raiseth the dead. But this was an high Pitch, Israel is not always here: there are many Things that hinder.

1. The Imperfection of our Graces. There is no Grace perfected in the godly. Now it is incident to Things defective, to be wanting in their Course. Faith is not perfect; and hence the sensible Christian feels what follows; Love is not perfect, and we see what follows; and so of Hope and every Rom. 4. other Grace; their Imperfection makes them stagger.

2. Israel is not yet beyond Temptations. There is a deal to attend him with Temptations, and he has a Soul so disabled by Sin, that at all Times he cannot fix on God, that made him, but is apt to be turned aside to lying Vanities. The very Thing that Jona. 2. 8. Jonah was ensnared with.

3. The promising Helps that seems to be in other Things, are great hindrances to a stiddy fixing, by Hope, on God; there are good Frames of Heart, Enlargements in Duties, with other the like, that have thorough the Darkness, and the Legality of our Spirits, been great hindrances to Israel. Not that their natural Tendency is to turn us aside; but our corrupt Reason getting the upper Hand, and bearing the Stroak in Judgment, perverts our Minds and Consciences to the making of wrong Conclusions upon them.

4. Besides, as the Mind and Conscience by Reason is oft deluded to draw these wrong Conclusions upon our good Frames of Heart, to the removing of our Hope from the right Object unto them; so by like Reason, are we turned by unwholsome Doctrines, and a carnal Understanding of Jer. 2. 11, 12, 13. the Word, to the very same Thing: Cisterns, broken Cisterns that can hold no Water, Israel, even God's People, are apt to make unto themselves to the forsaking of their God.

Thus have I gone through the first Part of the Text, which consists of an Exhortation to hope in the Lord: And have shewed you,

1. The Matter contained therein.

2. Something of the Reason of the Manner of the Phrase.

3. And have drawn, as you see, some Inferences from it.

I now come to the second Part of the Text, which is a Reason urged to enforce the Exhortation. Let Israel hope in the Lord. Why? For with the Lord there is Mercy. There is the Reason, let him Hope, for there is Mercy; let him hope in the Lord, for with him there is Mercy.

The Reason is full and suitable. For what is the Ground of Despair, but a Conceit that Sin has shut the Soul out of all Interest in Happiness; and what is the Reason of that, but a Persuasion that there is no help for him in God? Besides, could God do all but shew Mercy, yet the Belief of that Ability would not be a Reason sufficient to encourage the Soul to hope in God. For the Block, SIN, which cannot be removed, but by Mercy, still lies in the Way. The Reason therefore is full and suitable, having naturally an Inforcement in it, to the Exhortation.

And first to touch upon the Reason in a Way general, and then to come to it more particularly.

Let Israel hope in the Lord, for with the Lord there is Mercy. Mercy to be bestowed, Mercy designed to be bestowed.

First, Mercy to be bestowed. This must be the meaning: What if a Man has never so much Gold or Silver, or Food or Raiment; yet if he has none to communicate, what is the distressed, or those in want, the better! What if there be Mercy with God, yet if he has none to bestow, what Force is in the Exhortation, or what shall Israel, if he hopeth, be the better? But God has Mercy to bestow, to give. He saith on this Acts 13. 34. wise, I will give you the sure Mercies of David. And again, The Lord give Mercy to 2 Tim. 1. 16. the House of Onesiphorus. Now then here lies the Encouragement: The Lord has Mercy to give; he has not given away ALL his Mercy; his Mercy is not clean gone for ever. He has Mercy yet to give away, yet to bestow upon his Israel. Let Psal. 77. 8. Israel hope in the Lord, for with the Lord there is Mercy.

Secondly, As there is with God, Mercy to be bestowed, so there is Mercy designed to to be beſtowed, or given to Iſrael. Some Men lay by what they mean to give away, and put that in a Bag by it ſelf, ſaying, this I deſign to give away, this I purpoſe to beſtow upon the Poor. Thus God, he deſigneth Mercy for his People. Hence the Mercy that God's Iſrael are ſaid to be Partakers of, is a Mercy kept for them. (And thou O God haſt prepared of thy goodneſs for the poor) and laid up for them. This is excellent and is true, let Iſrael Hope in the Lord, for there is with him Mercy, kept, prepared, and laid up for them. When God deſigns the beſtowing of Mercy, we may well hope to be Partakers. The Poor will go merrily to Weddings and Funerals, and Hope for an Alms all the Way they go, when they come to underſtand that there is ſo much kept, prepared and laid up for them by the Bridegroom, &c. But HE keepeth Mercy for Thouſands.

Exod. 34. 7. Dan. 9. 4. Pſal. 61. 7. Pſal. 68. 10. Pſal 30. 10.

Thirdly, As God has Mercies to beſtow, and as he has deſigned to beſtow them: So thoſe Mercies are no fragments or the leavings of others: but Mercies that are full and compleat to do for thee, what thou wanteſt, wouldeſt have, or canſt deſire. As I may ſo ſay, God has his Bags that were never yet untied, never yet broken up, but laid by him through a thouſand Generations, for thoſe that he commands to hope in his Mercy. As Samuel kept the Shoulder for Saul, and as God brake up that decreed Place for the Sea, ſo hath he ſet apart, and will break up his Mercy for his People: Mercy and Grace that he gave us before we had a Being, is the Mercy deſigned for Iſrael. Whole Mercies allotted to us; however Mercy ſufficient.

1 Sam. 9. 23, 24. Job 38. 10. 2 Tim. 1. 9.

But to be a little more diſtinct.

Firſt, I find that the goodneſs of God to his People is diverſly expreſſed in his Word, ſometimes by the Word, GRACE; ſometimes by the Word, LOVE; and ſometimes by the Word, Mercy: even as our badneſs againſt him is called, Iniquity, Tranſgreſſion and Sin.

When it is expreſſed by that Word, GRACE; then it is to ſhew, that what he doth, is of his Princely Will, his Royal Bounty and Sovereign Pleaſure. When it is expreſſed by that Word LOVE, then it is to ſhew us that his Affection was, and is in what he doth, and that he doth what he doth for us, with Complacency, and Delight. But when it is ſet forth to us under the Notion of Mercy, then it beſpeaks us to be in a State both wretched and miſerable, and that his Bowels and Compaſſions yearn over us in this our fearful plight.

Now the Holy Ghoſt chuſeth (as it ſhould ſeem) in this Place, to preſent us, with that goodneſs that is in God's Heart towards us, rather under the term of Mercy, for that, as I ſaid before, it ſo preſenteth us with our Miſery and his Pity, and Compaſſion; and becauſe it beſt pleaſeth us when we apprehend God in Chriſt, as one that has the Love of compaſſion and Pity for us. Hence we are often preſented with God's goodneſs to us to cauſe us to hope, under the Name of Pity and Compaſſion. In his Pity he redeemed them, and like as a Father pitieth his Children; ſo the Lord pitieth them that fear him. The Lord is very pitiful and of great Mercy, he alſo is gracious and full of Compaſſion. Thou O Lord! art a God full of Compaſſion, and thy Compaſſions fail not.

Iſa. 63. 9. Pſal. 103. 13. Jam. 5. 11. Pſal. 78. 37, 38. Pſal. 86. 15. Pſal. 111. 4. Lam. 3. 22. Pſal. 25. 6. Pſal. 103. 4. Pſal. 119. 156. Pſal. 40. 11.

The Words being thus briefly touched upon; I ſhall come to treat of two Things.

Firſt, more diſtinctly, I ſhall ſhew you what kind of Mercy is with the Lord, as a Reaſon to encourage Iſrael to hope.

Secondly, And then ſhall ſhew what is to be inferred from this Reaſon, Let Iſrael hope in the Lord, for with the Lord there is Mercy. For the firſt of theſe; firſt, with him there is TENDER Mercy, and therefore let Iſrael Hope. Tender Mercy is Mercy IN Mercy; and that which Iſrael of old had in high Eſtimation, cried much for, and choſe that God would deal with their Souls by that: Withhold not thy tender Mercy from me, ſaid David. And according to the Multitude of thy tender Mercies blot out my Tranſgreſſions. And again, Let thy tender Mercy come unto me, that I may live: Now of this ſort of Mercies God has a great many, a multitude to beſtow upon his People. And they are thus mentioned by the Word, to cauſe us to hope in him. And is not this alluring, is not this enticing to the Iſrael of God to hope, when the Object of their Hope is a God very pitiful, and of tender Mercy? Yea, a God whoſe tender Mercies are great, and many. Theſe are two Things that this Word tender Mercy importeth.

Pſal. 51. 1. Pſal. 119. 77.

1. The firſt is, that Sin will put a Believer, if he giveth Way thereto, into a very miſerable Condition.

2. That God would have them Hope, that tho' Sin may have brought any of them into this Condition, the Lord will reſtore them with much Pity and Compaſſion. Let Iſrael hope in the Lord, for with the Lord there is Mercy, Tender Mercy.

For the firſt of theſe, That Sin will put a Believer, if he gives Way thereto, into a very miſerable Condition, and that upon a double Account.

1. For that it will bring him into Fears of Damnation.

2. In that it will make his Soul to be much pained under thoſe Fears. We will wave the firſt, and come to the ſecond of theſe.

The Pains that Guilt will make, when it wounds the Conſcience, none knows, but thoſe to whom Sin is applied by the Spirit of God, in the Law. Yet all may read of it in the Experience of the godly; Where this Pain is compared to a Wound in the Pſal. 38. 3, 5, 7, 8. Pſal. 102. 3. Pſal. 22. 14 Lam. 1. 13 Chap. 3. 4.

the Fleſh, to Fire in the Bones, to the putting of Bones out of joint, and the breaking of them aſunder.

He that knows what Wounds and broken Bones are, knows them to be painful Things: And he that knows, what Miſery Sin will bring the Soul into with its Guilt, will conclude the one comes no whit ſhort of the other. But now he that hath theſe Wounds, and alſo theſe broken Bones, the very Thoughts of a Man that can cure, and of a Bone-ſetter, will make him afraid, yea, quake for Fear; eſpecially if he knows that though he has Skill, he has a hard Heart, and Fingers that are like Iron. He that handleth a Wound had need have Fingers like Feathers, or Down; to be ſure the Patient wiſheth they were. Tenderneſs is a Thing of great worth to ſuch; and ſuch Men are much enquired after by ſuch; yea, their Tenderneſs is an Invitation to ſuch to ſeek after them. And the Thing is true in Spirituals. Wherefore David cried, as I ſaid before, Have Mercy upon Pſal. 51. 1. me, O Lord! according to the Multitude of thy tender Mercies, blot out my Tranſgreſſions. O handle me tenderly, Lord handle me tenderly, cried David. O cure me I beſeech thee, and do it with thy TENDER Mercy.

Now anſwerable to this, the Lord is ſet forth to Iſrael, as one with whom is Mercy, conſequently tender Mercy, Let Iſrael hope in the Lord, for with the Lord there is tender Mercy.

2. God therefore would have the wounded and bruiſed, and thoſe whoſe Pains may be compared to the Pains and Pangs of broken Bones, to hope that he will reſtore them with much Pity and Compaſſion, or as you have it before, in Pity and tender Mercy. See how he promiſeth to do it, by the Prophet, A bruiſed Reed ſhall he not
Iſa. 42. 3. break; and the ſmoaking Flax ſhall he not quench. See how tender he is in the Action; When he ſaw him, he had Compaſſion on Luke 10. him, and went to him, and bound up his 33,34,35. Wounds, pouring in Oil and Wine, and ſet him on his own Beaſt, and brought him to an Inn, and took Care of him. Every Circumſtance is full of Tenderneſs and Compaſſion. See alſo how angry he maketh himſelf with thoſe of his Servants, that handle the Wounded or Diſeaſed without this Tenderneſs; and how he catcheth them out of their Hand, with a Purpoſe to deal more gently with them himſelf. The Diſeaſed (ſaith he) have ye not ſtrengthened, neither have ye healed that which was ſick;
Ezek. 34. neither have ye bound up that which was 4,7,15,16. broken; neither have ye brought again that which was driven away; neither have ye ſought that which was loſt; but with Force and with Cruelty have ye ruled them. Therefore ye Shepherds, hear the Word of the Lord: I will feed my Flock, and I will cauſe them to lye down, ſaith the Lord. I will ſeek that which was loſt, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which is broken, and will ſtrengthen that which was ſick. Here is Encouragement to hope, even according to the Reaſon urged; Let Iſrael hope in the Lord; for with the Lord there is Mercy, tender Mercy.

Secondly, As with him is Mercy tender, ſo there is with him Mercy that is Great (for with him is great Mercy) The Lord is long-ſuffering, and of great Mercy. Num. 14. 18. When Tenderneſs accompanies want of Skill, the Defect is great; but when Tenderneſs and great Skill meet together, ſuch a Surgeon is a brave accompliſhed Man. Beſides, ſome are more plagued with the Senſe of the Greatneſs of their Sins, than others are; the Devil having placed or fixed the great Sting there: Theſe are driven by the Greatneſs of Sin into deſpairing Thoughts, hotter than Fire: Theſe have the Greatneſs of their Sin betwixt God and them, like a great Mountain; yea, they are like a Cloud, that darkneth the Sun and Air. This Man ſtands under Caius's Gibbet, and has the Halter of Judas, to his own thinking, faſtned about his Neck.

And now, cries he, GREAT Mercy, or NO Mercy, for little Mercy will do me no Good: Such a poor Creature, thus expoſtulateth the Caſe with God. Wilt thou Pſ. 88. 10. ſhew Wonders to the Dead? Shall the Dead ariſe and praiſe thee? Lord! I have deſtroyed my ſelf, can I live? My Sins are more than the Sands, can I live? Lord, every one of them are Sins of the firſt Rate, of the biggeſt Size, of the blackeſt Line, can I live? I never read that Expreſſion but once in all the whole Bible. For thy Names ſake, O Lord, pardon mine — 25. 11. Iniquity, for it is great: Not that there was but one Man in Iſrael that had committed great Iniquities, but becauſe Men that have ſo done, have rather inclined to Deſpair, than to an Argument ſo againſt the Wind. If he had ſaid, Pardon for they are little, his Reaſon had carried Reaſon in it; but when he ſaith, Pardon for they are great, he ſeems to ſtand like a Man alone. This is the common Language, if our Tranſgreſſions be upon us, and we pine away in them, How ſhall we then live? Or thus, Ez. 33. 10. our Bones are dried, our Hope is loſt, and — 37. 11. we are cut off for our Parts. Wherefore to ſuch as theſe, good Wiſhes, tender Fingers and Compaſſion, without GREAT Mercy, can do nothing. But behold, O thou Man of Iſrael, thou talkeſt of great Sins; anſwerable to this, the Scripture ſpeaks of great Mercy; and thy great Sins are but the Sins of a Man, but theſe great Mercies are the Mercies of a God; yea, and thou art exhorted, even becauſe there is Mercy with him, therefore to truſt thy Soul with him; Let Iſrael truſt in the Lord; for with the Lord there is Mercy; great Mercy.

This therefore is a Truth of ſingular Conſolation, That Mercy is with the Lord, that tender Mercy is with him, that great Mercy is with him; both tender and great: What would Man have more? But,

Thirdly, As great Mercy is with the Lord to encourage us to hope, ſo this Mercy that is great, is rich; God is rich in Mercy: There is Riches of Goodneſs, and Riches of Grace with him. Things may be great in Quantity and little of Value; but the Mercy of God is not ſo: We uſe to prize ſmall Things, when great Worth is in them; even a Diamond as little as a Pea, is preferred before a Pebble, though as big as a Camel. Why here is rich Mercy Sinner, here is Mercy that is rich and full of Virtue; a Drop of it will cure a Kingdom! Ah! but how much is there of it? ſays the Sinner. Oh! abundance, abundance, for ſo ſaith the Text; Let us fall now into the Hand of the Lord, for his (rich) Mercies are great. Some Things are ſo rich, and of ſuch Virtue, that if they do but touch a Man, if they do but come nigh a Man, if a Man doth but look upon them, they have preſent Operation upon him; but the very mentioning of Mercy, yea a very Thought of it, has ſometimes had that Virtue in it, as to cure a Sin-ſick Soul: Here is virtuous Mercy.

Eph. 2. 4. Rom. 2. 4. Eph. 1. 7. 2 Sam. 24 14.

Indeed Mercy, the beſt of Mercies, are little worth to a ſelf-righteous Man, or a Sinner faſt aſleep; we muſt not therefore make our Eſteems of Mercy, according to the Judgment of the ſecure and heedleſs Man, but according to the Verdict of the Word; nay, though the awakened Sinner, he that roareth for Mercy all Day long, by Reaſon of the Diſquietneſs of his Heart, is the likelieſt among ſinful Fleſh; or as likely as another, to ſet a ſuitable Eſtimate upon Mercy; yet his Verdict is not always to paſs in this Matter. None can know the RICHES of Mercy to the full, but he that perfectly knoweth the Evil of Sin, the Juſtice of God, all the Errors of Man, the Torments of Hell, and the Sorrows that the Lord Jeſus underwent, when Mercy made him a Reconciler of Sinners to God: But this can be known by none but the God whoſe Mercy it is: This is the Pearl of great Price.

The Richneſs of Mercy is ſeen in ſeveral Things.

Tit. 3. 5. Mat. 15. 22. 28. — 17. 15, 18. Pſal. 116. 3, 5, 6. — 94. 18. Rom. 9. 23

1. It can ſave from Sin, from great Sin, from all Sin.

2. It can ſave a Soul from the Devil, from all Devils.

3. It can ſave a Soul from Hell, from all Hells.

4. It can hold us up in the midſt of all Weakneſſes.

5. It can deliver from eternal Judgment.

Yea, what is it that we have, or ſhall need that this vertuous Mercy cannot do for us; Let Iſrael hope in the Lord; for with the Lord is RICH Mercy, Mercy full of Virtue, and that can do great Things.

Fourthly, As the Mercies that are with the Lord, are tender, great, and rich, ſo there is a Multitude of them, and they are called manifold: There is a Multitude of theſe rich and virtuous Mercies. By Multitude, I underſtand Mercies of every Sort or Kind; Mercies for this, and Mercies for the other Malady; Mercies for every Sickneſs, a Salve for every Sore. Some Things that are rich and very full of Virtue, have yet their Excellency extending it ſelf, but to ONE, or TWO, or THREE Things for help; and this is their Leanneſs in the midſt of their Excellencies. But it is not thus with the Mercy of God. Some Things that are rich and virtuous, are yet ſo only but at certain Seaſons; for there are Times in which they can do nothing: But it is not ſo with this tender, great, and rich Mercy of God. There are ſome Things, though rich, that are ſparingly made uſe of; but it is not ſo with this Mercy of God. There is a Multitude of them; ſo if one will not another will: There is a Multitude of them; ſo one or other of them is always in their Seaſon: There is a Multitude of them; and therefore it muſt not be ſuppoſed, that God is niggardly as to the Communicating of them.

Pſ. 69. 13. Neh. 9. 19.

As they are called a Multitude, ſo they are called Mercies manifold. There is no ſingle Flower in God's Goſpel-Garden, they are all double and treble; there is a Wheel within a Wheel, a Bleſſing within a Bleſſing, in all the Mercies of God. Manifold: A Man cannot receive one, but he receives many, many folded up, one within another. For Inſtance,

1. If a Man receiveth Chriſt, who is called God's tender Mercy; why he ſhall find in him all the Promiſes, Pardons, Juſtifications, Righteouſneſſes, and Redemptions, that are requiſite to make him ſtand clear before the Juſtice of the Law, in the Sight of God from Sin.

Luke 1. 76 78, 79. 1 Cor. 1. 29 Eph. 4. 32. 1 Cor. 1. 30

2. If a Man receive the Spirit, he ſhall have as folded up in that (for this is the firſt unfolding it ſelf) many, very many Mercies: He ſhall have the Graces, the Teachings, the Sanctifications, the Comforts, and the Supports of the Spirit; when he ſaith in one Place, He will give the Spirit; he calleth that in another Place, The good Things of God.

Ezek. 1. 4. Luk. 11. 13 Mat. 7. 11.

3. If Man receive the Mercy of the Reſurrection of the Body (and God's People ſhall aſſuredly receive that in its Time) what a Bundle of Mercies will be received, as wrapt up in that? He will receive Perfection, Immortality, Heaven, and Glory: And what is folded up in theſe Things, who can tell?

I name

I name but these three (for many more might be added) to shew you the Plenteousness, as well as the Vertuousness, of the Tender, Great and Rich, Mercy of God.

A Multitude: There is Converting Mercy, there is Preserving Mercy, there is Glorifying Mercy; and how many Mercies are folded up in every one of these Mercies? None but God can tell.

A Multitude: There are Mercies for the faithful Followers of Christ, for those of his that backslide from him, and also for those that suffer for him; and what Mercies, will by these be found folded up in their Mercies, they will better know, when they come to Heaven.

A Multitude of preventing Mercies, in Afflictions, in Disappointments, in Cross-Providences, there are with God: and what Mercies are folded up in these afflicting Mercies, in these disappointing Mercies, and in these merciful Cross-providences, must rest in the Bosom of him to be revealed, who only is wonderful in Counsel, and excellent in working.

A Multitude of Common Mercies; of every Day's Mercies, of every Night's Mercies, of Mercies in Relations, of Mercies in Food and Raiment, and of Mercies in the want of these Things there is; and who can number them? David said, He daily was loaded with God's Benefits: And I believe, if, as we are bound, we should at all Times return God Thanks, for all particular Mercies particularly; it would be a Burden intollerable, and would kill us out of Hand.

Psal. 68. 19.

And all this is written, that Israel might hope in the Lord; Let Israel hope in the Lord; for with the Lord there is Mercy.

Fifthly, As the Mercies that are with the Lord, are Tender, Great, Rich, a Multitude and Manifold; so they are Mercies that diminish not in the using, but that rather increase in the exercising of them: Hence it is said, Grace aboundeth, and hath abounded unto many; and that God is able to make all Grace abound towards us: The Grace of forgiveness I mean, wherein he hath abounded towards us: Now to abound, is to flow, to multiply, to increase, to greaten, to be more and more; and of this Nature is the Mercy that is with the Lord: Mercy that will abound and increase in the using. Hence he is said to pardon abundantly, to Pardon and Multiply to Pardon: And again to exercise loving kindness; to exercise it, that is, to draw it out to the length, to make the best Advantage and Improvement, of every Grain and Quantity of it. The Lord, the Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and Truth.

Rom. 5. 2, 15. 2 Cor. 9. 8. Eph. 1. 7, 8. Isa. 55. 7. Jer. 9. 24. Exod. 34. 6.

Mercy to a Man under Guilt, and fear of Hell-fire, seems as a little shrunk up, or shrivelled Thing, there appears no Quantity in it: There is Mercy, said Cain, but there is not enough, and he died under that Conceit: Nor is it as to Judgment and Thought many Times much better with the Israel of God. But behold when God sets Mercy to work, it is like the Cloud that at first was but like a Man's Hand, it increaseth until it hath covered the Face of Heaven: Many have found it thus, yea, they have found it thus in their Distress.

Gen. 4. 13. 1 Kin. 18. 41, 42, 43, 44.

Paul has this Expression; The Grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant; that is, increased towards me exceedingly.

1 Tim. 1. 13, 14, 15.

And this is the Cause of that Change of Thoughts, that is wrought at last in the Hearts of the Tempted; at first they doubt, at last they hope; at first they despair, at last they rejoyce; at first they quake, while they imagine how great their Sins are, and how little the Grace of God is; but at last they see such a Greatness, such a Largeness, such an abundance of Increase, in this multiplying Mercy of God, that with gladness of Heart, for their first Thoughts, they call themselves Fools, and venture their Souls, the next World, and their Interest in it, upon this Mercy of God.

I tell you Sirs, you must not trust your own Apprehensions nor Judgments with the Mercy of God; you do not know how he can cause it to abound; that which seems to be short and shrunk up to you, he can draw out, and cause to abound exceedingly. There is a Breadth, and Length, and Depth, and Height therein, when God will please to open it; that for Infiniteness can swallow up not only all thy Sins, but all thy Thoughts and Imaginations, and that can also drown thee at last. Now unto him that is able (as to Mercy) to do exceeding abundantly, above all that we ask or think, according to the Power that worketh in us; unto him be Glory in the Church by Christ Jesus throughout all Ages, World without end, Amen.

Eph. 3. 20, 21.

This therefore is a wonderful Thing, and shall be wondred at to all Eternity; that that River of Mercy, that at first did seem to be but Ankle deep, should so rise, and rise and rise, that at last it became, Waters to swim in, a River that could not be passed over.

Ezek. 47. 3, 4, 5.

Now all this is written that Israel might Hope: Let Israel hope in the Lord; for with the Lord there is Mercy.

Sixthly, As there is with God Mercies, Tender, Great, Rich, a Multitude, and Mercy that abounds; so to encourage us to trust in him, there is Mercy to compass us round about; Many Sorrows shall be to the Wicked, but he that trusteth in the Lord, Mercy shall compass him about: This is therefore the Lot of the Israel of God, that they shall, they trusting in their God, be compassed with Mercy round about. This is Mercy to do for us in this World, that we may arrive safely in that World, which is to come. Another Text saith, For thou Lord wilt bless the Righteous; with Favour wilt thou compass him as with a Shield.

Psal. 32. 10.

As with a Shield; this compassing of them therefore, is, to the End they may be defended fended and guarded from them that ſeek their hurt: When Eliſha was in Danger by Reaſon of the Army of the Syrians; Behold the Mountains were full of Horſes and Chariots of Fire, round about him, to deliver him.

2 Kin. 6. 15,16,17.

Pſal. 71. 21 Zech. 9. 8. Round about on every Side; or as David hath it, Thou ſhalt encreaſe my Greatneſs, and comfort me on every Side. I will camp about mine Houſe, ſaith God, becauſe of the Army, becauſe of him that paſſeth by, and him that returneth.

This therefore is the Reaſon, why, notwithſtanding all our Weakneſſes, and alſo the Rage of Satan, we are kept and preſerved in a wicked World; we are compaſſed round about: Hence, when God asked Satan concerning Holy Job, he anſwered, Thou haſt made a Hedge about him, and about his Houſe, and about all that he hath on every Side; I cannot come at him, thou compaſſeſt him, and keepeſt me out.

Job 1. 10.

By this then is that Scripture opened, Thou art my hiding Place, thou ſhalt preſerve me from Trouble, thou ſhalt compaſs me about with Songs of Deliverance: And indeed it would be comely, if we, inſtead of doubting and deſpairing, did ſing in the Ways of the Lord; have we not Cauſe thus to do, when the Lord is round about us with Sword and Shield, watching for us againſt the Enemy, that he may deliver us from their Hand?

Pſal. 32. 7. Jer. 31. 12.

This alſo is the Reaſon why nothing can come at us, but that it may do us good: If the Mercy of God is round about us, about us on every Side; then no evil Thing can by any Means come at us, but it muſt come through this Mercy, and ſo muſt be ſeaſoned with it, and muſt have its deadly Poyſon, by it, taken away. Hence Paul underſtanding this, ſaith, And we know that all Things work together for good to them that love God: But how can that be, did they not come to us through the very Sides of Mercy? and how could they come to us ſo, ſince Satan pryeth to wound us deadly in every, or in ſome private Place, if Mercy did not compaſs us round about, round about as with a Shield?

Rom. 8. 28

He went round about Job, to ſee by what Hog-hole he might get at him, that he might ſmite him under the fifth Rib: But behold, he found he was hedged out round about, wherefore he could not come at him but through the Sides of Mercy; and therefore what he did to him muſt be for good. Even thus alſo ſhall it be in Concluſion with all the Wrath of our Enemies; when they have done what they can, by the Mercy of God, we ſhall be made to ſtand. Why boaſteth thou thy ſelf in Miſchief (ſaid David) O mighty Man! the goodneſs of God endureth continually: And that will ſanctifie to me whatever thou doeſt againſt me. This therefore is another ſingular Encouragement to Iſrael to hope in the Lord; for that there is with him Mercy to compaſs us round about.

Here is I ſay, room for Hope, and for the Exerciſe thereof; when we feel our ſelves after the worſt manner aſſaulted.

Wherefore ſhould I fear (ſaid David) in the Day of Evil, when the Iniquity of my Heels compaſſeth me about? Wherefore, why now there is all the Reaſon in the World to fear, the Day of Evil is come upon thee, and the Iniquity of thy Heels doth compaſs thee about. The Hand of God is upon thee, and thy Sins, which are the Cauſe, ſtand round about thee, to give in Evidence againſt thee; and therefore thou muſt fear. No, ſaith David, that's not a ſufficient Reaſon; he that truſteth in the Lord, Mercy ſhall compaſs him about.

Pſal. 49. 5.

Here is Ground alſo to pray in Faith, as David, ſaying, Keep me as the Apple of thine Eye, hide me under the Shadow of thy Wings, from the Wicked that oppreſs me, from my deadly Enemies, who compaſs me about.

Pſal. 17. 8, 9.

Seventhly, As all this tender, Great, Rich, much abounding Mercy, compaſſeth us about; ſo that we may hope in the God of our Mercy, it is ſaid, This Mercy is to follow us, ſurely Goodneſs and Mercy ſhall follow me all the Days of my Life, and I will dwell in the Houſe of the Lord for ever: It ſhall follow me, go with me, and be near me, in all the Way that I go. There are theſe ſix Things to be gathered out of this Text, for the further Support of our Hope.

Pſal. 23. 6. Pſal. 32. 8.

1. It ſhall follow us to guide us in the Way. I will guide thee with mine Eye, ſays God, that is, in the Way that thou ſhalt go. The Way of Man to the next World, is like the Way from Egypt to Canaan: A Way not to be found out but by the Pillar of a Cloud by Day, and a Flame of Fire by Night: That is, with the Word and Spirit. Thou ſhalt guide me with thy Counſel, and afterward receive me to Glory. Thou ſhalt guide me from the firſt Step to the laſt, that I ſhall take in this my Pilgrimage. Goodneſs and Mercy ſhall follow me.

Pſal. 73. 24.

2. As God in Mercy will guide, ſo by the ſame he will uphold our goings in his Paths. We are weak, wherefore tho' the Path we go in, were never ſo plain, yet we are apt to ſtumble and fall. But when I ſaid my Foot ſlippeth, thy Mercy O Lord help me up. Wherefore we ſhould always turn our Hope into Prayer, and ſay, Lord, hold up my goings in thy Paths, that my Foot-ſteps ſlip not, be not moved; let Mercy follow me.

Pſal. 94. 18. Pſal. 17. 5.

3. As the God of our Mercy has Mercy to guide us, and uphold us; ſo by the ſame will he inſtruct us, when we are at a loſs, at a ſtand. I led Iſrael about, ſays God, I inſtructed him and kept him as the Apple of mine Eye. I ſay we are often at a loſs; David ſaid, after all his brave Sayings in the 119th Pſalm, I have gone aſtray like a loſt a loſt Sheep, ſeek thy Servant. Indeed a Chriſtian is not ſo often out of the Way, as he is at a ſtand therein, and knows not what to do. But here alſo is his Mercy as to that. Thine Ears ſhall hear a Word Iſa. 30.21. behind thee, ſaying, This is the Way, walk in it, when ye turn to the right Hand, and when ye turn to the left; Mercy follows for this.

Deut. 32. 10. Pſal. 119. 176.

4. Mercy ſhall follow to carry thee when thou art faint; we have many fainting and Iſa. 40.11. ſinking Fits as we go. He ſhall gather the Lambs with his Arm, and carry them in Deut. 32. 13. his Boſom, or upon Eagles Wings. He made Iſrael to ride on the high Places of the Earth, and made him to ſuck Honey out of the Rock.

5. Mercy ſhall follow us to take us up when we are fallen, and to heal us of thoſe Wounds that we have caught by our Falls. Pſal. 145. 14. The Lord upholdeth all that fall, and raiſeth Pſal. 146. 8. up all thoſe that are bowed down. And again, the Lord openeth the Eyes of the blind; the Lord raiſeth up them that are bowed down; the Lord loveth the righteous. Or as we have it in another Place; The Steps of a good Man are ordered by the Lord: and he delighteth in his Way. Pſal. 37. 23, 24. Tho' he fall he ſhall not be utterly caſt down: for the Lord upholdeth him with his Hand. Here is Mercy for a hoping Iſraelite; and yet this is not all.

6. Mercy ſhall follow us to Pardon our Sins, as they are committed. For tho' by the Act of Juſtification, we are for ever ſecured from a State of Condemnation; yet as we are Children we need Forgiveneſs daily, and have need to pray, Our Father forgive us our Treſpaſſes. Now that we may have daily Forgiveneſs, for our daily Exod. 34. 8, 9. Sins and Treſpaſſes, Mercy and Goodneſs muſt follow us; or as Moſes has it: And he ſaid, if now I have found Grace in thy Sight, O Lord! let my Lord I pray thee go amongſt us (for it is a ſtiff-necked Num. 14. 18, 19. People) and pardon our Iniquity and our Sin, and take us for thine Inheritance. Joyn to this, that Prayer of his, which you find in Numbers; Now I beſeech thee let the Power of my Lord, be great according as thou haſt ſpoken, ſaying; The Lord is long-ſuffering and of great Mercy, forgiving Iniquity, and Tranſgreſſion, and by no Means clearing the Guilty; viſiting the Iniquity of the Fathers, upon the Children, unto the third and fourth Generation. Pardon I beſeech thee the Iniquities of this People according to the Greatneſs of thy Mercy, and as thou haſt forgiven this People from Egypt, even until now, or hitherto.

How many Times think you did Iſrael ſtand in need of Pardon, from Egypt, 'till they came to Canaan? Even ſo many Times wilt thou need Pardon from the Day of thy Converſion, to the Day of Death; To the which, God will follow Iſrael that he may dwell in the Houſe of the Lord for ever.

7. As all this Tender, Great, Rich, Abounding, Compaſſing, Mercy, ſhall follow Iſrael to do him good; ſo ſhall it do him every good Turn, in delivering of him from every Judgment that by Sin he hath laid himſelf obnoxious to, with rejoycing. For Mercy rejoyceth againſt Judgments, That is Jam. 2.13. (applying it to the Mercy of God towards his) it rejoyceth in delivering us from the Judgments that we have deſerved; yea, it delivereth us from all our Woes with rejoycing. In the Margent it is, glorieth; It glorieth in doing this great Thing for us. I have thought, conſidering how often I have procured Judgments and Deſtructions to my ſelf, that God would be weary of pardoning, or elſe that he would pardon with grudging. But the Word ſaith, he fainteth Iſa. 80.21. Jer. 32.41. not nor is weary, I will rejoyce over them to do them good, with my whole Heart, and with my whole Soul. This doing of us good with rejoycing, this ſaving of us from deſerved Judgments with rejoycing; this getting the Victory over our Deſtructions, for us with rejoycing; oh! it is a marvelous Thing. O ſing unto the Lord a new Song, Pſal. 98.1. for he hath done marvelous Things: his right Rom. 8.37 Hand, and his holy Arm hath gotten him Coloſ. 2. the Victory. The Victory for us, as Paul 15. ſaid, we are more than Conquerors through him, and this he did with Triumph and Rejoycing. The Heart is ſeen oft Times, more in the Manner, than in the Act that is acted; more in the Manner of doing, than in doing of the Thing. The wickedneſs of the Heart of Moab, was more ſeen in the manner of Action than in the Words that he ſpake againſt Iſrael. For ſince thou Jer. 48.27 ſpeakeſt againſt him thou skippedſt for Joy. Obad. 10. So Edom rejoyced, at he Calamity of his 11, 12, 13, 14. Brother, he looked on it and rejoyced, and in his rejoycing appeared the badneſs of his Heart, and the great ſpite that he had againſt his Brother Jacob.

Now, my Brethren, I beſeech you conſider, that God hath not only ſhewed you Mercy, but hath done it with rejoycing: Mercy doth not only follow you, but it follows you with rejoycing; Yea, it doth not only prevent your ruin, by your repeated Tranſgreſſions procured, but it doth it with rejoycing. Here is the very Heart of Mercy ſeen, in that it rejoyceth againſt Judgment.

Like unto this is that in Zephaniah; The Zeph. 3. 17, 18. Lord thy God in the midſt of thee is mighty: he will ſave, he will rejoyce over thee with Joy, he will reſt in his Love, he will joy over thee with ſinging.

There are many Things that ſhew with what an Heart Mercy is of God extended, as is afore deſcribed to Iſrael for his Salvation: but this, that it acteth with rejoycing, that it ſaveth with rejoycing! and gets the Victory over judgment with rejoycing! is a wonderful one, and one that ſhould be taken Notice of by Iſrael, for his Encouragement to hope. Let Iſrael hope in the Lord, for with him there is Mercy, Tender, Great, Rich, multiplying Mercy: Mercy that compaſſeth us about, that goeth with us all the Way, and Mercy that rejoyceth to overcome every Judgment that ſeeketh our Deſtruction, as we go toward our Father's Houſe and Kingdom.

It is ſaid in the Word, God delighteth in Mercy: Who is a God like unto thee that pardoneth Iniquity, and paſſeth by the Tranſgreſſion of the Remnant of his Heritage? he retaineth not his Anger for ever, becauſe he delighteth in Mercy. Mich. 7. 18.

Here then is a Reaſon of the rejoycing of Mercy, againſt Judgment; why, Mercy is God's Delight, or as another hath it, Mercy pleaſeth thee. What a Man delights in, that he will ſet on Foot, and that he will ſeek to manage, that he will promote, and that he will glory in the Succeſs and Proſperity of: why, the Text ſaith, God delighteth in Mercy; nor do I believe, (how odious ſoever the compariſon may ſeem to be) that ever Man delighted more in Sin, than God hath delighted in ſhewing Mercy. Has Man given himſelf for Sin? God has given his Son for us, that he might ſhew us Mercy. Has Man lain at wait for Opportunities for Sin? God has waited to be gracious, and that he might have Mercy upon us. Has Man, that he might enjoy his Sin, brought himſelf to a Morſel of Bread? why Chriſt, Lord of all, that he might make room for Mercy, made himſelf the pooreſt Man. Has Man, when he has found his Sin, purſued it with all his Heart? Why God, when he ſets a ſhewing Mercy, ſhews it with rejoycing, for he delighteth in Mercy. Joh. 3.16. Iſa.30.18. Luk.9.58. 2 Cor.8.9.

Here alſo you may ſee the Reaſon why ALL God's Paths are Mercy and Truth, to his. I have obſerved that what a Man loveth, he will accuſtom himſelf unto, whether it be Fiſhing, Hunting, or the like. Theſe are his Ways, his Courſe, the Paths wherein he ſpends his Life, and therefore he is ſeldom found out of one or another of them. Now, ſaith David, ALL the Paths of the Lord are Mercy, &c. he is never out of them. For wherever he is, ſtill he is coming towards his Iſrael in one or other of theſe Paths ſtepping Steps of Mercy. Pſal. 25. 10.

Hence again it is that you find, that at the end of every Judgment, there is Mercy; and that God in the midſt of this, remembers that. Yea, Judgment is in Mercy, and were it not for that, Judgment ſhould never overtake his People. Wherefore let Iſrael hope in the Lord, ſeeing with him is all this Mercy. Hab. 2. 3. 1 Cor. 11. 32.

Eighthly, Beſides all this, The Mercy that is with God, and that is an Encouragement to Iſrael to hope in him, is everlaſting, The Mercy of the Lord is from everlaſting to everlaſting upon them that fear him: From everlaſting to everlaſting: That is more, more than I ſaid. Well, Pſal. 103. 17.

1. Then from everlaſting, that is, from before the World began; ſo then, Things that are, and are to be hereafter, are to be managed according to thoſe Meaſures that God in Mercy took for his People then. Hence it is ſaid, that he has bleſſed us according as he choſe us in Chriſt, before the World began; that is according to thoſe Meaſures and Grants that were by Mercy allotted to us then. According to that other ſaying, according to his Mercy he ſaved us, that is, according as Mercy had allotted for us before the World began; according to his own Purpoſe and Grace, which was given us in Chriſt before the World began. This is Mercy from everlaſting, and is the Ground and Bottom of all Diſpenſations that have been, are, or are to come to his People. And now tho' it would be too great a Step a to-ſide, to treat of all thoſe Mercies that of neceſſity will be found to ſtand upon that which is called Mercy from everlaſting; yet it will be to our purpoſe, and agreeable to our Method, to conclude, that Mercy TO everlaſting, ſtands upon THAT; even as Vocation, Juſtification, Preſervation, and Glorification, ſtandeth upon our being choſen in Chriſt before the Foundation of the World. Here then is the Mercy that is with God, and that ſhould encourage Iſrael to hope. The Mercy that has concerned it ſelf with them, is Mercy from everlaſting. Nor may it be thought that a few Quarrels of ſome brain-ſick-fellows will put God upon taking new Meaſures for his People; what Foundation has been laid for his, before he laid the Foundation of the World, ſhall ſtand, for that it was laid in Chriſt by Vertue of Mercy, that is, from everlaſting. The old Laws, which are the Magna Charta, the ſole Baſis of the Government of a Kingdom, may not be caſt away for the Pet that is taken by every little Gentleman againſt them. We have indeed ſome Profeſſors that take a great Pet againſt that Foundation of Salvation, that the Mercy that is from everlaſting has laid; but ſince the Kingdom, Government and Glory of Chriſt is wrapped up in it; and ſince the Calling, Juſtification, Perſeverance, and Glorification of his Elect, which are called, his Body, and Fulneſs, is wrapt up therein: it may not be laid aſide nor deſpiſed, nor quarrelled againſt by any, without Danger of Damnation. Ephes. 1. 4. Tit. 3. 5. 2 Tim. 1. 9. Rom. 8. 29, 30. Rom. 9. 11

Here then is the Mercy with which Iſrael is concerned, and which is with God as an Encouragement to them that ſhould hope, to hope in him. 'Tis Mercy from everlaſting; 'tis Mercy of an ancient date; 'tis Mercy in the Root of the Thing. For it is from this Mercy, this Mercy from everlaſting, that all, and all thoſe Sorts of Mercies, of which we have diſcourſed before, do flow. It is from this, that Chriſt the Saviour flows; This is it, from which that Tender Mercy, that Great Mercy, that Rich Mercy, and that Mercy that aboundeth eth towards us, doth flow; and ſo of all the Reſt. Kind brings forth its Kind, know the Tree by his Fruit, and God by his Mercy in Chriſt. Yea, and know what God was doing before he made the World, by what he has been doing ever ſince.

And what has God been doing for and to his Church, from the Beginning of the World, but extending to, and exerciſing loving Kindneſs and Mercy for them? therefore he laid a Foundation for this in Mercy from everlaſting.

2. But Mercy FROM everlaſting, is but the Beginning (and we have diſcourſed of thoſe Mercies that we have found in the Bowels of this already) wherefore a Word of that which is TO everlaſting alſo. From everlaſting to everlaſting. Nothing can go beyond to everlaſting; wherefore this, to everlaſting will ſee an end of all. The Devil will tempt us, Sin will aſſault us, Men will perſecute; but can they do it to everlaſting? If not, then there is Mercy to come to God's People at laſt; even when all Evils have done to us what they can. After the Prophet had ſpoken of the inconceivable Bleſſedneſs that God hath prepared for them that wait for him: He drops to preſent Wrath, and the Sin of God's People in this Life: This done, he mounts up again to the firſt, and ſaith, in thoſe is Continuance, that is, the Things laid up for us are everlaſting, and (therefore) we ſhall be ſaved. How many Things ſince the Beginning, have aſſaulted the World to deſtroy it, as Wars, Famines, Peſtilences, Earthquakes, &c. and yet to this Day it abideth. But what is the Reaſon of that; Why God liveth, upon whoſe Word, and by whoſe Decree it abideth. He hath eſtabliſhed the Earth and it abideth: It ſtandeth faſt, and cannot be moved. Why, my Brethren, Mercy liveth, Mercy is everlaſting, His Mercy endureth for ever: And therefore the Church of God liveth, and when all her Enemies have done their All, this is the Song that the Church ſhall ſing over them; They are brought down and are fallen, but we are riſen, and ſtand upright. Everlaſting Mercy, with everlaſting Arms, are underneath.

Deut. 33. 27.

And as this ſhews the Cauſe of the Life of the Church, notwithſtanding her ghoſtly and bodily Enemies, ſo it ſheweth the Cauſe of her Deliverance from her repeated Sins. As God ſaid of Leviathan, I will not conceal his Parts, &c. ſo it is very unbecoming of God's People to conceal their Sins and Miſcarriages, for it diminiſheth this Mercy of God. Let therefore Sin be acknowledged, confeſſed, and not be hid nor diſſembled; 'tis to the Glory of Mercy that we confeſs to God and one another what we are, ſtill remembring this, but Mercy is everlaſting.

As this ſhews the Reaſon of our Life, and the Continuance of that, notwithſtanding our repeated Sins; ſo it ſhews the Cauſe of the receiving of our Graces, from ſo many Decays and Sickneſs. For this Mercy will live, laſt, and out-laſt all Things that are corruptible and hurtful unto Iſrael. Wherefore let Iſrael hope in the Lord, for this Reaſon, for with the Lord there is Mercy.

1. Tender Mercy for us.
2. Great Mercy for us.
3. Rich Mercy.
4. Manifold Mercy.
5. Abounding Mercy towards us.
6. Compaſſing Mercy wherewith we are ſurrounded.
7. Mercy to follow us wherever we go.
8. Mercy that rejoyceth againſt Judgment.
9. And, Mercy that is from everlaſting to everlaſting.

All theſe Mercies are with God, to allure, to encourage, and uphold Iſrael in Hope.

I come now to the ſecond Thing, which is to ſhew what is to be inferred from this Reaſon. And,

First Inference.

Firſt, Thus to be ſure, is to be inferred, That Iſrael, as the Child of God, is a pitiful Thing of himſelf; one that is full of Weakneſſes, Infirmities, and Defects; ſhould we ſpeak nothing of his Tranſgreſſions. He that is to be attended with SO many Mercies, abſolutely neceſſary Mercies, (for there is not in theſe Mercies, ONE that can be ſpared) muſt needs be in himſelf a poor, indigent Creature: Should you ſee a Child attended with ſo many Engines to make him go, as the Child of God is attended with Mercies to make him ſtand, you would ſay, What an infirm, decrepid, helpleſs Thing is this? Alas, I have here counted up Mercies in Number nine: If I had counted up nine hundred and ninety-nine, all had been the ſame, for the Child of God would not have one to ſpare. The Text ſaith, The Earth is full of the Mercy of the Lord, and all little enough to preſerve his Iſrael. Indeed thoſe that I have preſented the Reader with, are the chief Heads of Mercies; or the head Mercies from which many others flow: But however, were they but ſingle Mercies, they ſhew with great Evidence our Deficiency; but being double they ſhew it much more.

Pſ. 119. 64

Should it be ſaid, there is ſuch a Lord has a Son, a poor decrepid Thing; he is forced to wear Things to ſtrengthen his Ankles, Things to ſtrengthen his Knees, Things to ſtrengthen his Loins, Things to keep up his Bowels, Things to ſtrengthen his Shoulders, his Neck, his Hands, Fingers; yea, he cannot ſpeak but by the Help of an Engine, nor chew his Food but by the Help of an Engine; What would you ſay? What would you think? Would you not ſay ſuch a one is not worth the Keeping, and that his Father cannot look for any Thing from him, but that he ſhould live

live upon high Charge and Expence, as long as he liveth; beſides all the Trouble ſuch an one is like to be of to others. Why this is the Caſe: Iſrael is ſuch an one, nay a worſe: He cannot LIVE without tender Mercy, without great Mercy, without rich Mercy, without manifold Mercy, and unleſs Mercy abounds towards him. He cannot Stand if Mercy doth not compaſs him round about, nor Go unleſs Mercy follows him. Yea, if Mercy that rejoiceth againſt Judgment doth not continually flutter over him,
Job 4. 19. the very Moth will eat him up, and the Canker will conſume him. Wherefore it is neceſſary to the making of Iſrael live and flouriſh, that everlaſting Mercy ſhould be over his Head, and everlaſting Mercy under his Feet, with all the afore-mentioned Mercies, and more in the Bowels of it.

But I ſay, doth not this ſufficiently ſhew, had we but Eyes to ſee it, what a ſad and deplorable Creature the Child of God of himſelf is? Oh! this is not believed, nor conſidered as it ſhould. Vain Man would be wiſe, ſinful Man would be holy, and poor, lame, infirm, helpleſs Man, would be ſtrong, and fain perſuade others that he hath a Sufficiency of himſelf. But I ſay, If it be ſo, what need all this Mercy? If thou canſt go luſtily, what means thy Crutches? No, no, Iſrael, God's Iſrael, when awake, ſtand aſtoniſhed at his being ſurrounded with Mercies, and cries out, I
Gen. 32. 10 am not worthy of the leaſt, (I am leſs than the leaſt of all thy Mercies, and) thy Truth which thou haſt ſhewed to thy Servant.

Second Inference. Secondly, This alſo ſheweth how ſorely the Enemies of Iſrael are bent to ſeek his Deſtruction. The Devil is by way of Eminency called the Enemy of God's People:
1 Pet. 5. 8. The Devil your Adverſary. And this, that there are ſo many Mercies employed about us, and all to bring us to the Place which God has appointed for us, doth demonſtrate it. Should you ſee a Man that was not to go from Door to Door, but he muſt be clad in a Coat of Mail, muſt have an Helmet of Braſs upon his Head, and for his Life-guard not ſo few as a thouſand Men to wait upon him; would you not ſay, Surely this Man has Store of Enemies at hand, ſurely this Man goes continually in Danger of his Life? Why this is the Caſe, Enemies lie in wait for poor Iſrael in every Hole; he can neither eat, drink, wake, ſleep, work, ſit ſtill, talk, be ſilent; worſhip his God in publick or in private, but he is in Danger of being ſtabbed, of being deſtroyed. Hence, as was ſaid before, he is compaſſed about with Mercy as with a Shield. And again, 'tis ſaid con-
Mich. 7. 20 Pſ. 91. 4. 2 Sam. 22. 31. cerning theſe, God's Truth (his Mercy) ſhall be thy Shield and Buckler. And again, He is a Buckler to all them that truſt in him:
Pſ. 35. 2. Yea, David, being a Man ſenſible of his own Weakneſs, and of the Rage and Power of his Enemies, cries out to his God to take hold of Shield and Buckler, and to ſtand up for his Help. But what need theſe Things be aſſerted, promiſed, or prayed for, if Iſrael had no Enemies, or none but ſuch, he could, as we ſay, make his Party good with all? Alas their Cries, their Tears, Sighs, Watchings, and Outcries at ſundry Times, make this beyond all Shew of Doubt, a Truth.

If Solomon uſed to have about his Bed, no leſs than threeſcore of the valianteſt of Iſrael, holding Swords, and being expert in War, every one with his Sword upon Song. 3. 7, 8. his Thigh, becauſe of Fear in the Night, (and yet thoſe Fears were only concerning Men) What Guard and Safe-guard doth God's poor People need, who are continually, both Night and Day, roared upon by the unmerciful fallen Angels of Hell?

I will add, if it be but duly conſidered, all this Guard and Safe-guard by Mercy notwithſtanding, how hardly this People do eſcape being deſtroyed for ever; yea, how will Heart-broken and Loins-broken many of them with much Difficulty get to the Gates of Heaven? It will be eaſily concluded that her Enemies are ſwifter than Eagles, ſtronger than Lions; and that they often overtake her between the Streights.

To ſay nothing of the many thouſands that dare not ſo much as once think of true Religion, becauſe of the Power of the Enemy which they behold (when alas they ſee no body but the very Scare-crows which the Devil hath ſet up, for I count the Perſecutor of God's People, but the Devil's Scare-crow, the old one himſelf lies quat: Yet) I ſay, how are they frighted! How are they amazed! What a many of the Enemies of Religion have theſe Folks ſeen to Day! Yea, and they will as ſoon venture to run the Hazard of Hell-fire, as to be engaged by THESE Enemies in THIS Way. Why, God's People are fain to go through them all, and yet no more able than the other to do it, of themſelves. They therefore are girded, compaſſed, and defended by this Mercy, which is the true Cauſe indeed of their godly Perſeverance.

Third Inference. Thirdly, A third Thing that I infer from theſe Words is, what a loving God has Iſrael? Truly God is good to Iſrael. Let the redeemed of the Lord ſay ſo. A loving God, that ſhould take this Care of him, and beſtow ſo many Mercies upon him. Mercies of all Sorts, for all Caſes, for all manner of Relief, and Help againſt all manner of Perils. What is Man that God ſhould ſo unweariedly attend upon him, 1 Sam. 25. and viſit him every Moment? Is he a ſe- 20.
cond God, is he God's Fellow, is he of the Job 25. 6. higheſt Order of Angels! or what is he? Oh! he is a Flea, a Worm, a dead Dog, ſinful Duſt and Aſhes; he comes up like a Flower, and is cut down, and what a Thing is it that God ſhould ſo much as open his Eyes upon ſuch an one! But then,

what

Job 14. 2, 3 — 7. 17. what a Thing is it that God ſhould magnify him, and that he ſhould ſet his HEART upon him! Yea, that he ſhould take him into Acquaintance with him, give his Angels to be all miniſtring Spirits for him! Yea, engage his Mercy for him, his tender, great, manifold, and everlaſting Mercy for him, to compaſs him round with all, as with a Shield, that nothing might work his Ruin, for ever and ever!

It may well be ſaid, God is Love, Man may well ſay ſo. O give Thanks unto the 1 Joh. 4. 16 Pſ. 107. 1, 2, 3. Lord for he is good, for his Mercy endureth for ever. Let the Redeemed of the Lord ſay ſo, whom he hath redeemed from the Hand of Enemy.

If it be Love for a fellow Creature to give a Bit of Bread, a Coat, a Cup of cold Water; What ſhall we call this? when God, the great God, the Former of all Things, ſhall not only give an Alms, an Alms to an Enemy, but ſhall riſe up, take Shield and Buckler, and be a Guard, a Protection, a Deliverer from all Evil, until we come into his heavenly Kingdom?

This Love is ſuch, as is not found on Earth, nor to be parallelled among the Creatures. None hopes thus but one that is good. Nor does any believe as they ſhould, that God doth love as theſe Things declare he does. Our Heart ſtaggereth at the Greatneſs of the Thing, and who is it that has any Reaſon left in him, and knows any thing of what a wretched Thing Sin hath made him, that can without Starting, ſo much as hear of all this Mercy? But,

Fourth Inference. Fourthly, Another Thing that I infer from theſe Words is this, what Ground is here for Iſrael to hope in the Lord? The Lord is not that broken Reed of Egypt, on which if a Man lean, it will go into his Hand and pierce it. God's Word is ſtedfaſt for ever, even the Word by which we are here exhorted to hope. Nor ſhall we have Cauſe to doubt of the Cauſe of the Exhortation, to ſuch a Soul-quieting Duty, for Mercy is with the Lord: Let Iſrael re- Pſ. 149. 2. joice in him that made him; let the Children of Zion be joyful in their King: For with the Lord there is Mercy, wherewith to beautify the Meek with Salvation. What ſayeſt thou, Child of God? Has Sin wounded, bruiſed thy Soul, and broken thy Bones? Why, with the Lord there is tender Mercy. Art thou a Sinner of the firſt Rate, of the biggeſt Size? Why, with the Lord there is great Mercy for thee. Have thy Sins corrupted thy Wounds, and made them putrify and ſtink? Why, with the Lord there is rich, that is, virtuous Mercy for thee. Are thy Sins of divers Sorts? Why, here is a Multitude of manifold Mercies for thee. Doſt thou ſee thy ſelf ſurrounded with Enemies? Why, with the Lord there is Mercy to compaſs thee about withal. Is the Way dangerous in which thou art to go? Surely Goodneſs and Mercy ſhall follow thee, all the Days of thy Life. Doth Iniquity prevail againſt thee? The Mercy of this Lord aboundeth towards thee. Doth Judgments for thy Miſcarriages overtake thee? There is with thy Lord Mercy that rejoiceth to deliver thee from thoſe Judgments. What ſhall I ſay? There is Mercy from everlaſting to everlaſting upon thee. What wouldeſt thou have? There is Mercy underneath, Mercy above, and Mercy for thee on every Side, therefore let Iſrael hope in the Lord. I will add, it is the greateſt Unkindneſs thou canſt return to the Lord, to doubt this Mercy notwithſtanding. Why what wilt thou make of God, is there no Truth (nor Truſt to be put) in him, notwithſtanding all that he hath ſaid? Oh the Depravedneſs of John 8. 45. Man's Nature! becauſe he ſpeaketh the Truth, therefore we believe him not: The Odiouſneſs of Unbelief is manifeſt by this, yea, alſo the Unreaſonableneſs thereof. God is true, his Word is true; and to help us to hope in him, how many Times has he fulfilled it to others, and that before our Eyes? Hope then; 'tis good that a Man ſhould hope: Hope then; it pleaſes God that thou ſhouldſt hope: Hope then to the End, for the Grace that is to be brought unto thee will ſurely come, with Chriſt thy Saviour.

Men that have given up themſelves to Rom. 1. 18 their Sins, hope to enjoy ſome Benefit by them, though the Curſe of God, and his Wrath is revealed from Heaven againſt them for it; and yet thou that haſt given thy ſelf to God by Chriſt, art afraid to hope in his Mercy: For Shame, hope, and do not thus diſhonour thy God, wound thine own Soul, and ſet ſo bad an Example to others. I know thou haſt thy Objections in a Readineſs to caſt in my Way, and were they made againſt Doctrine, Reaſon would that ſome Notice ſhould be taken of them; but ſince they are made againſt Duty, Duty urged from, and grounded upon a Word which is ſtedfaſt for ever; thou deſerveſt to be blamed, and to be told, that of all Sins that ever thou didſt commit, thou now art managing the vileſt, while thou art giving Way to, and fortifying of Unbelief and Miſtruſt, againſt this Exhortation to Hope, and againſt the Reaſon for Encouragement to the Duty. But I ſhall paſs from this to the third Thing found in the Text, and that is, the Amplification of the Reaſon. I told you that there was in the Text, theſe three Things; Firſt, an Exhortation to the Children of God to hope in the Lord; Let Iſrael hope in the Lord. Secondly, A Reaſon to enforce that Exhortation, For with the Lord there is Mercy. Thirdly, An Amplification of that Reaſon; And with him is plenteous Redemption. I have gone through the two firſt, and ſhall now come to this laſt.

In theſe laſt Words, which I call the Amplification of the Reaſon, we have two Things.

Firſt, A more particular Account of the Nature of the Mercy, propounded for an Encouragement to Iſrael to hope.

Secondly, An Account of the Sufficiency of it.

The Nature of the Mercy propounded, is expreſſed by that Word Redemption: The Sufficiency of it is expreſſed by that Word plenteous; Let Iſrael hope in the Lord; for with the Lord there is Mercy, and with him is plenteous Redemption.

Redemption may be diverſly taken, as ſhall be further ſhewed anon; but for as much as the Term here, is made mention of indefinitely, without nominating of this or that Part of Redemption particularly; I ſhall ſpeak to it in the general, with Reſpect at leaſt to the main Heads thereof.

To redeem, is to fetch back, by ſufficient and ſuitable Means, thoſe at preſent in an inthralled, captivated, or an impriſoned Condition; and there are two Sorts of this Redemption.

1. Redemption by Purchaſe.
2. Redemption by Power.

Redemption by Purchaſe is, from the Cauſe of Captivities.

Redemption by Power, is from the Effects.

If we ſpeak of Redemption by Purchaſe, then three Things preſent themſelves to our Conſideration.

1. The Perſon redeeming.
2. The Nature of the Price paid to redeem withal.
3. The Thing or State from which this Redeemer, with this Price redeemeth.

The Subject of this Redemption (or Perſon redeemed is Iſrael) of him we have ſpoken before.

Mat. 1. Luke 2. For the Perſon redeeming, it is Jeſus of Nazareth; Jeſus that was born at Bethlehem, at the Time, and as the Scriptures relate.

Now with Reference to his Perſon, we have two Things to enquire after.

1. What this Perſon was.
2. How he addreſſed himſelf to this Work.

Prov. 8. John 1. Heb. 1. This Jeſus was and is, the natural and eternal Son of God Almighty, without Beginning or End, from Everlaſting; the Creator and Upholder of the World.

How he addreſſed himſelf to the Work of Redeeming, take as follows.

Luke 2.31, 32, 33, 34, 35. 1. He became true Man; for he was conceived through the Power of the Holy Ghoſt, in the Womb of a Maid, and in the Fulneſs of Time, brought forth of her, true, real, natural Man; I ſay, though not in the worſt, yet in the beſt Senſe.

Being thus brought forth without Spot or Blemiſh.

2. He began to addreſs himſelf to the Work.

1. By Works preparatory, and then by the Act it ſelf. The Works preparatory were as follow.

Rom. 5. 19. Ex. 28. 40. Ex. 40. 13. 1 Pet. 1. 19. 1. He prepares himſelf a Prieſtly Robe, which was his own obediential Righteouſneſs; for without theſe holy Garments, he might not adventure to come into the Preſence of God to offer his Gift.

2. Before he offered his Gift for the People, he was to be himſelf ſanctified to his Office. And that,

1. By Blood.
2. By Prayers and Tears.

Ex. 29. 19, 20, 21, 22. 1. By Blood; for before Aaron was to offer his Sacrifice for the People, he muſt himſelf be ſprinkled with Blood: And becauſe Jeſus could not be ſprinkled with the Blood of Beaſts, therefore was he ſprinkled with that of his own: Not as Aaron was, upon the Tip of his Ear, and upon the Tip of his Toe; but from Top to Toe, from Head to Foot; his Sweat was Blood. So that from his Agony in the Garden, to the Place where he was to lay down the Price of our Redemption, he went as conſecrated in his own Blood.

Luke 22. 44.

Heb. 5. 5, 6, 7, 8. 2. He offered alſo his Sacrifice of ſtrong Crying and Tears, as his Drink-Offering to God, as a Sacrifice preparatory, not propitiatory in purſuit of his Office; not to purge his Perſon.

This is the Perſon redeeming, and this was his Preparation to the Work.

Now the Redemption is often aſcribed particularly to his Blood; yet in general, the Act of his redeeming of us, muſt either more remotely, or more nearly, be reckoned from his whole Suffering for us in the Fleſh; which Suffering I take to begin at his Agony, and was finiſhed when he was raiſed again from the Dead. By his Fleſh I underſtand his whole Man, as diſtinguiſhed from his Divine Nature; and ſo that Word doth comprehend his Soul, as well as his Body, as by the fifty-third of Iſaiah appears. His Soul after that Manner which was proper to it; and his Body after that Manner which was proper to it.

His Sufferings began in his Soul, ſome Time before his Body was touched, by Virtue of which was his bloody Sweat in his Body: The Sorrows of his Soul began at the Apprehenſion of what was coming from God, for our Sakes upon him; but the bloody Sweat of his Body, was from that Union it had with ſuch a Soul.

Lev. 1. 3. John 10. 18 Gal. 3. 13. Heb. 12. 10. Iſa. 53. 6. Heb. 9. 22. His Sufferings were from the Hand of God, not of Man; not by Conſtraint, but of his own Will: And they differ from ours in theſe ſix Things.

1. His Sufferings were by the Rigor of the Law; ours according to the Tenor of the Goſpel.

2. His Sufferings were from God's Hand

Hand immediately; ours by and through a Mediator.

Isa. 53. Lam. 3. 33. 1 Cor. 15. 12. 3. God delighted himself in every Stroak he gave him; he doth not willingly grieve nor afflict his People.

Lam. 3. 39 Heb. 9. 26 Rom. 10. 3, 4. 4. He suffered as a common or publick Person; we for our own private Offences.

Deut. 8. 5. 2 Chron. 6. 27. Act. 2. 24. 5. He suffered to make amends to Justice, for the Breach of an Holy Law; we to receive some small Correction, and to be taught to amend our Lives.

Eph. 4. 31. Chap. 5. 2. 6. He was delivered from the Nature of suffering, by the Merit of his Person and Sufferings; we from ours, by the Mercy of God, through Christ.

Redemption then by a Price, was this, the Blood of Christ which he willingly suffered to be spilt on the Cross, before the Face of God. The Cause of this Price was our Sins, by which we were justly delivered up to the Curse, the Devil, Death and Hell; and should everlastingly have so continued, but that this Price of Redemption was for us paid. Hence it is said Christ died for us, Christ died for our Sins, Christ gave himself for our Sins; we have Redemption through his Blood, the forgiveness of Sins; and that we are bought with this Price.

Now in all this Christ respected the Holiness of the Law, and the worth of our Souls; giving full Satisfaction to the one, for the Love that he bear to the other: And this has redeemed his People from Sin and the Curse, the Cause of our Captivity.

Secondly, But besides this, there is Redemption by Power, and that respecteth that or those Things, unto which we become not legally indebted by our Transgression: There was that unto which we became legally indebted, and that was the Justice and Holiness of the Law; now from this because God had said it (for his Word Gen. 2. 17. made it so) there could be no Deliverance, but by a Reverend and Due Respect to its Command and Demand, and an Answer to every Whit of what it could require; for Mat. 5. 18. not one Tittle, not one Jot or Tittle of the Law could fail.

Jesus Christ therefore with respect to the Law, that he might redeem us, paid a full, and a sufficient Price of Redemption; but as for these Things that hold us Captive, not for any Injury we had done to them, but of Power, Tyranny, or the like; from them he redeemed us by Power. Hence when he had made Satisfaction or Amends for us to the Law, he is said to lead Captivity Captive, to spoil Principalities and Ephes. 4. 8. Powers, and to make a shew of them openly. Col. 2. 16. But to take Captive, and to Spoil, must be understood of what he did, not to the Law, but to those others of our Enemies from which we were to be redeemed, not by Price but by Power. And this second Part of Redemption is to be considered under a twofold Head.

First, That these were overcome Personally, in and by himself for us.

Secondly, That they shall be overcome also, in and by his Church through the Power of his Spirit.

For the first, these were overcome Personally, in and by himself for us; to wit, at his Resurrection from the Dead. For as by his Death he made amends for our Breach of the Law, so by his Resurrection he spoiled those other Enemies; to wit, Death, the Devil, and the Grave, &c. unto which we were subjected, not for any Offence we had committed against them, but for our Sin against the Law; and Men when they have answered to the Justice of the Law, are by Law and Power delivered from the Prison. Christ therefore by Power, by his glorious Power, did overcome the Devil, Hell, Sin and Death, then when he arose and revived from his Grave; and so got the Victory over them, in and by himself for us: For he engaging as a common or publick Person for us, did on our Behalf what he did, both in his Death and Resurrection: So then as he died for us, he rose for us; and as by his Death he redeemed us from some, so by his Resurrection from other of our Enemies. Only it must be considered, that this Redemption as to the fulness of it as yet, resides in his own Person only, and is set out to his Church as she has need thereof, and that orderly too. First that Part thereof, which respecteth our Redemption from the Law; and then that part of it, which respecteth our Redemption from those other Things. And although we are made Partakers of Redemption from the curse of the Law in this Life, so far forth as to be justified therefrom, and also as to the receiving of an earnest, while here, of being wholly possessed of the Glory of the next World hereafter; yet we neither are, nor shall be redeemed from all those Things, which yet our Head has, as Head, got a compleat and eternal Victory over, until just before he shall deliver up the Kingdom to the Father, that God may be all in all; For the last Enemy 1 Cor. 15. that shall be destroyed is Death: Death as it 26. has hold upon us (for Death as it had hold on our Head, was destroyed, when HE rose from the Dead; but Death as we are subject to it) shall not be destroyed, until we all and every one of us shall attain to the Resurrection from the Dead: A Pledge of Col. 3. 1, which we have by our Spiritual Resurrection, 2, 3, 4. Eph. 4. 30. from a State of Nature to a State of Grace, Luke 20. a Promise of which we have in the Word of 35. the Truth of the Gospel; and an Assurance of it we have by the Resurrection of Christ Act. 17. from the Dead: Wherefore let us hope. 30, 31.

Now as to Redemption from the Law, and from those other Things from which we are, and are to be redeemed with Power; do but consider the different Language which the Holy Ghost useth, with Reference to our Redemption from each.

1. When

1. When it ſpeaketh of our Redemption from the juſt Curſe of the Law, which we have ſufficiently deſerved, it is ſaid to be done, not by deſtroying, but by fulfilling the Law: Think not (ſays Chriſt) that I am come to deſtroy the Law and the Prophets; I am not come to deſtroy, but to fulfil: For verily I ſay unto you, till Heaven and Earth paſs, one Jot or one Tittle ſhall in no wiſe paſs from the Law, till all be fulfilled: For it became him, as our Redeemer, to fulfil all, and all manner of Righteouſneſs, by doing and ſuffering what juſtly ſhould have been done or born of us.

Mat. 5. 17, 18. Rom. 8. 3, 4, 5. Gal. 3. 13, 14.

2. But now when our Redemption from thoſe other Things is made mention of, the Dialect is changed; for when we read, to the end we might be delivered from them, Chriſt was to deſtroy and aboliſh them; that through Death, he might deſtroy him that had the Power of Death, which is the Devil, and (ſo) deliver. And again, O Death I will be thy Plagues! O Grave I will be thy Deſtruction! And again, that the Body of Sin might be deſtroyed: And I have the Keys of Hell, and of Death, having thereby ſufficiently declared, that the Power of it is deſtroyed as to Iſrael, who are the People concerned in this Redemption.

Heb. 2. 14. 1 Tim. 1. 10. Hoſ. 13. 14. Rom. 6. 6. Rev. 1. 18.

Now, as was hinted before, the Redemption is already obtained and that compleatly, by the Perſon of Chriſt for us, as 'tis written, He has obtained eternal Redemption for us; yet theſe Enemies, Sin, Death, the Devil, Hell, and the Grave, are not ſo under the Feet of his, as he will put them, and as they ſhall be in Concluſion under the Feet of Chriſt; I ſay they are not; wherefore as the Text alſo concludeth, this Redemption is with the Lord, and under our Feet they ſhall be by the Power of God towards us, and for this let Iſrael hope.

Heb. 9. 24. Ch. 2. 8, 9. 2 Cor. 13. 4.

The Sum then is, God's People have with the Lord Redemption, and Redemption in Reverſion; Redemption and Redemption to come; all which is in the Hand of the Lord for us, and of all we ſhall be poſſeſſed in his Time: This is that called plenteous Redemption, for with him is plenteous Redemption.

A little therefore to touch upon the Redemption that we have in Reverſion, or of the Redemption yet to come.

Firſt there is yet much Sin and many Imperfections, that cleave to our Perſons and to our Performances, from which, though we be not yet in the moſt full Senſe delivered, yet THIS Redemption is with our Lord, and we ſhall have it in his Time: and in the mean Time it is ſaid, it ſhall not have Dominion over us, Sin ſhall not have Dominion over you, for you are not under the Law, but under Grace: We are by what Chriſt HAS done, taken from under the Law, the Curſe; and muſt by what Chriſt WILL do, be delivered from the very being of Sin. He gave himſelf for us, that he might redeem us from all Iniquity, that he might preſent us to himſelf a glorious Church, not having Spot or Wrinkle or any ſuch Thing, but that we ſhould be without Blemiſh: That we are already without the being of Sin, none but Fools and Madmen will aſſert; and that we ſhall never be delivered from it, none but ſuch Men will affirm neither. It remains then, that there is a Redemption for Iſrael in Reverſion, and that from the being of Sin; and of this it is that the Text alſo diſcourſeth, and for which let the godly Hope.

Rom. 6. 14. Tit. 2. 13, 14. Epheſ. 5. 25, 26, 27.

Secondly, We are not yet QUITE free from Satan's aſſaulting of us; though our Head by himſelf, and that for us, has got a compleat Conqueſt over him; but the Time is coming, and himſelf knows that it is but a little while to it, in which he ſhall for ever be bruiſed under our Feet. Be wiſe unto that which is good, and ſimple concerning Evil, and the God of Peace ſhall bruiſe, tread down Satan under your Feet ſhortly: Some may think that this Text, will have a fulfilling of the Ruin and downfal of Antichriſt, and ſo it may; but yet it will never be wholly fulfilled, as long as Satan ſhall have any Thing to do with one of the Children of God. There is therefore a Redemption in Reverſion for the Children of God from Satan, which they are to hope for, becauſe this Redemption is with the Lord their Head, and that to manage and bring about for them: For he ſhall bruiſe him under their Feet in his Time.

Rom. 16. 20.

Thirdly, There is yet belonging to the Church of God, a Redemption from what remains of Antichriſt, although as yet he is ſtronger than we, which I alſo call a Redemption in Reverſion, for that it is yet to come, nor ſhall it be accompliſhed till the Time appointed: In this Redemption, not only Saints, but Truths will have a Share; yea, and many alſo of the Men, that belong not to the Kingdom of Chriſt and of God.

This Redemption God's People are alſo to hope for, for it is with their Lord, and he has promiſed it to them, as the Scripture doth plentifully declare.

Fourthly, There is yet a Redemption to come, which is called the Redemption of our Body: Of this Redemption we have both the Earneſt and the Seal, to wit, the Spirit of God. And becauſe the Time to it is long, therefore we are to wait for it; and becauſe it will be, that upon which all our Bleſſedneſs will be let out to us, and we alſo let into it; therefore we ſhould be comforted, at all the Signs of the near Approach thereof: Then, ſaith Chriſt, look up and lift up your Heads. The Bodies of Saints are called the purchaſed Poſſeſſion; Poſſeſſion, becauſe the whole of all that ſhall be ſaved, ſhall be for a Temple or Houſe for God to dwell in, in the Heavens: A purchaſed Poſſeſſion, becauſe the Body as well as

Rom. 8. 23. Epheſ. 1. 14. Ch. 4. 30. Luk. 21. 28. 1 Cor. 6. 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20.

as the Soul, is bought with the Price of Blood. But what then doth he mean by the Redemption of this purchaſed Poſſeſſion? I anſwer, he meaneth the raiſing it up from the Dead; I will ranſom them from the Power of the Grave, I will redeem them from Death. And then ſhall be brought to paſs that ſaying, that is written, Death is ſwallowed up of Victory; That ſaying, that is this, and that in Iſaiah, for they ſpeak both the ſelf ſame Thing

Hoſ. 13. 14. 1 Cor. 15. Iſa. 25. 8.

Levit. 25. And this was ſignified by Moſes, where he ſpeaks of the Year of Jubilee, and of the Redemption of the Houſe that was ſold in Iſrael, how of that Year it ſhould return to the Owner. Our Bodies of Right are God's, but Sin ſtill dwells in them; we have alſo ſold and forfeited them to Death and the Grave, and ſo they will abide; but at the Judgment Day, that bleſſed Jubilee, God will take our Body, which originally is his, and will deliver it from the Bondage of Corruption, unto which by our Souls, through Sin, it has been ſubjected; he will take it I ſay, becauſe 'tis his, both by Creation and Redemption, and will bring it to that perfect Freedom, that is only to be found in Immortality and eternal Life; and for this ſhould Iſrael hope.

From what hath been ſaid to this firſt Thing, it appears that the Mercy that is with God for his People (as it is in general what has been deſcribed before, ſo it) is redeeming Mercy, or Mercy that has with it the Vertue of Redemption: Of the advantageouſneſs of this Mercy, we will further diſcourſe by and by: But now we will look into the ſecond Thing, that from this Amplification of the Reaſon, was propounded to be ſpoken to; to wit, An Account of the Sufficiency of this Redemption; Let Iſrael hope in the Lord; for with the Lord there is Mercy, and with him is [plenteous] Redemption.

The Sufficiency or Plenteouſneſs of it may be ſpoken to as it reſpecteth the many Difficulties and Dangers, that by Sin we have brought our ſelves into; or as it reſpecteth the ſuperabundant Worth that is found therein, let the Dangers attending us be what they will; though we ſhould not be acquainted with the half or the hundredth Part thereof.

To ſpeak to it as it reſpecteth thoſe particular Difficulties and Dangers, that by Sin we have brought our ſelves unto; and that,

1. By ſhewing the Suitableneſs of it.

2. By ſhewing the Sufficiency of the Suitableneſs thereof.

The Suitableneſs of it lieth in the fit Application thereof, to all the Parts of Thraldom and Bondage.

Iſa. 53. 2 Cor. 5. 21. Gal. 4. 4. Ch. 3. 13. 1. Have we ſinned? Chriſt had our Sins laid upon his Back; yea, of God was made, that is, reputed Sin for us.

2. Were we under the Curſe of the Law, by Reaſon of Sin? Chriſt was made under the Law, and bare the Curſe thereof to redeem. Rom. 3. 23 Col. 1. 20. Rom. 6. 23 Act. 26. 18 2 Tim. 2. 26.

3. Had Sin ſet us at an indefinite Diſtance from God? Chriſt has become by the Price of his redeeming Blood, a Reconciler of Man to God again.

4. Were we by Sin ſubject to Death? Chriſt died the Death to ſet us free therefrom.

5. Had our Sins betrayed us into, and under Satan's Slavery? Chriſt has ſpoiled and deſtroyed this Work, and made us free Citizens of Heaven. Heb. 2. 14 Epheſ. 2. 19.

Thus was our Redeemer made, as to thoſe Things, a ſuitable Recoverer, taking all and miſſing nothing, that ſtood in the Way of our Happineſs; according to that a little below the Text; And he ſhall redeem Iſrael from all his Iniquities: That is, from them together, with their evil Fruits.

Now as to the Sufficiency that was in this Suitableneſs, that is declared by his Reſurrection, by his Aſcenſion, by his Exaltation to the right Hand of God, that is alſo declared by God's putting all Things under his Feet, and by giving of him to be Head over all Things for his Redeemed ſakes. It is alſo further declared, in that God now threatneth none but thoſe that refuſe to take Jeſus for their Saviour, and for that he is reſolved to make his Foes his Foot-ſtool: What are more natural Conſequences flowing from any Thing, than that by theſe Things is the ſufficiency of the ſuitableneſs of Redemption by Chriſt proved?

For all theſe Things followed Chriſt, for, or becauſe he humbled himſelf to the death of the Croſs, that he might become a Redeemer; therefore God raiſed him up, took him to his Throne, and gave him Glory, that your Faith and Hope might be in God by him. Phil. 2. 8. 1 Pet. 1.

2. But alas! what need we ſtand to prove the Sun is light, the Fire hot, the Water wet! What was done by him, was done by God, for he was true God; and what Compariſon can there be betwixt God and the Creature, betwixt the worth of God's Acts, and the Merit of the Sin of poor Man! And can Death or Sin, or the Grave hold us, when God ſaith, give up! Yea, where is that, or he, that ſhall call into Queſtion the ſuper-abounding Sufficieney that is in the Merit of Chriſt, when God continueth to diſcharge Day by Day; yea, hourly, and every Moment, Sinners from their Sin, and Death, and Hell, for the ſake of the Redemption, that is obtained for us by Chriſt.

God be thanked here is Plenty; but no want of any Thing. Enough, and to ſpare. It will be with the merit of Chriſt, even at the End of the World, as it was with the five Loaves, and two Fiſhes, after the five thouſand Men, beſides Women and Children had ſufficiently eaten thereof. There was to the View of all at laſt, more than ſhewed it ſelf at firſt. At firſt there was but five Loaves and two Fiſhes, which a Lad carried. At laſt there were twelve Baskets full, the weight of which I ſuppoſe, not the ſtrongeſt Man could bear away. Nay, I am perſuaded that at the end of the World, when the damned ſhall ſee what ſufficiency there is left of Merit in Chriſt, beſides what was beſtowed upon them that were ſaved by him, they will run mad for anguiſh of Heart to think what Fools they were, not to come to him, and truſt in him that they might be ſaved as their fellow Sinners did. But this is revealed, that Iſrael, that the godly may hope and expect. Let Iſrael therefore hope in the Lord, for with him is plenteous Redemption.

Now as this laſt Clauſe, as I termed it, Is the Amplification of the Reaſon going before; ſo it ſelf yieldeth amplifying Reaſons as a Concluſion of the whole. For Firſt, Add Redemption unto Mercy, and then Things ſtill are heightned, and made greater. And it muſt, becauſe the Text adds it, and becauſe both the Nature of God, the Holineſs of his Law, and the preſent State of the Sinner that is to be ſaved, requireth that it ſhould be ſo. God is Juſtice, as well as Mercy; the Law is Holy and Juſt; that Man that is to be ſaved, is not only a Sinner, but polluted. Now then, that Mercy and Juſtice may meet and kiſs in the Salvation of the Sinner, there muſt be a Redemption; that the Sinner may be ſaved, and the Law retain its Sanction and Authority, there muſt be a Redemption; that the Sinner may be purged, as well as pardoned, there muſt be a Redemption. And, I ſay, as there muſt, ſo there is. For with the Lord there is Mercy, and with him is plenteous Redemption. Mercy is the Original, the Cauſe, and the Manager of our Redemption. Redemption is the Manifeſtation, and the compleating of that Mercy. If there had been no Mercy, there had been no Redemption: Mercy had been defective, as to us, or muſt have offered violence to the Law and Juſtice of God, and have ſaved us contrary to that Word, in the Day thou eateſt thou ſhalt die; and curſed is every one that continueth not in all Things written in the Book of the Law to do them. But now, Redemption coming in by Mercy, the Sin is done away and the Sinner ſaved, in a Way of Righteouſneſs.

Secondly, By Law as well as Grace. That is, in a Way of Juſtice as well as in a Way of Mercy. Hence it ſaith, we are juſtified
Rom. 3. 24 freely by Grace, through the Redemption that is in Jeſus Chriſt. Through the Redemption that is in Jeſus Chriſt, whom God hath ſet forth to be a Propitiation through Faith in his Blood, and ſo, to ſhew the World the Equity of his proceeding with Sinners in the ſaving of their Souls. As if God ſhould ſay to all thoſe who ſtumble at the Salvation of Sinners by Grace: Behold, I act according to Law and Juſtice: For of Grace I ſave them through a Redemption, and therefore, am faithful and juſt to my Law, as well as free and liberal of my Mercy. Wherefore thus I declare I am righteous, faithful and juſt in paſſing over or remitting of Sin. Nay the Matter ſo ſtandeth now betwixt me and the ſinful World, that I could not be juſt if I did not juſtify him that hath Faith in the Blood of Jeſus, ſince by that Blood my Juſtice is appeaſed for all that this or that Sinner has done againſt my Law.

This is a Way that God, nor any Child of his, need be aſhamed of before any that ſhall call in Queſtion the Legality and Juſtneſs of this Procedure. For why may not God be merciful, and why may not God be juſt? and ſince he can be both merciful and juſt in the Salvation of Sinners, why may he not alſo ſave them from Death and Hell? Chriſt is God's Salvation, and to ſhew that he is not aſhamed of him, he hath preſented him and the Way of Redemption by him, before the Face of all People. Nor is the Luk. 2. 30. 31, 32.
SON, who is become, with Reſpect to the Act of Redemption, the Author of eternal Salvation, aſhamed of this his doings. I Iſa. 50. 6. gave my Back to the Smiter, ſaith he, and my Cheeks to them that plucked off the Hair, I hid not my Face from ſhame and ſmiting. This he ſpeaks, to ſhew what was ſome of his ſuffering, when he engaged in the Work of our Redemption, and how heartily he did bear and go through them. For, ſays he, the Lord God will help me, that is, juſtifie me in it, therefore I ſhall not be confounded, therefore have I ſet my Face like a Ver. 7, 8. Flint, for I know that I ſhall not be aſhamed. And if God and his Son Jeſus Chriſt, are neither of them aſhamed to own this Way of Salvation; why ſhould the Sinners concerned thereabout, be afraid thereupon to venture their Soul?

I know, ſaith he, I ſhall not be aſhamed. I ſhall not, that is, when all Things come to Light, and every Thing ſhall appear above-board; when the Heart and Soul of this undertaking of mine ſhall be proclaimed upon the Houſe Tops, I know I ſhall not be aſhamed.

It was alſo upon this Account that Paul Rom. 1. Epheſ. 1. 8. ſaid, he was not aſhamed of the Goſpel. For he knew that he was a Declaration of the higheſt Act of Wiſdom, that ever God Ver. 7. did ſpread before the Face of the Sons of Men. And of what Wiſdom is the Goſpel a Declaration? but of that of Forgiveneſs of Sins by Grace, through the Redemption that is by the Blood of Jeſus Chriſt? In whom we have Redemption through his Blood, even the Forgiveneſs of Sins, according to the Riches of his Grace, wherein he hath abounded towards us in all Wiſdom and Prudence,

And

And as Paul ſpeaketh here as a Miniſter, ſo he ſpeaketh after the ſame manner alſo, as he is a Believer, ſaying, I am not aſhamed (of this Goſpel) for I know whom I have believed, (or truſted with my Soul) and I am perſuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him, againſt that Day. Wherefore ſeeing that Mercy is not preſented to us alone, or ſingly, but as accompanying, and concerning with Redemption; it is manifeſt enough that Mercy ſtandeth not above, and conſequently, that it ſaveth none but in, by, and through a Redeemer. He that believeth not in Chriſt ſhall be damned. But what needs that, if Mercy could ſave the Soul without the Redemption that is by him? If any ſays, Chriſt is the Mercy of God to us: True, if you count him a Redeemer, a Worker out of a Redemption for us by his Death and Blood upon the Croſs. But otherwiſe he is none, I mean, if you make him a Law-giver and a Saviour only, as he has ſet an Example to us to get to Heaven by doing Commandments, or by treading in his Steps. Yea, though you ſay his Commandment is, That we believe in him. For take the Work of Redemption by his Blood, from the Curſe out of his Hand; and then what concerning him is left for me to believe, but as was ſaid before, that he is a Law-giver, and as ſuch, at beſt but a Pattern to us to get to Heaven as here? And whoſo counteth him as ſuch, is ſo far off from counting of Chriſt the Mercy of God to us, that they make him a contradictor of Mercy, both in the Fountain and all the Streams of it. For to propound Life eternal to us, through the Obſervation of Laws, is to ſet before us that which contradicteth Grace and Mercy; let the Work be what it will; nor will it help at all to ſay, that they that do the Law of Chriſt, or that take him for their Law and Example, ſhall be ſure of Mercy to paſs by their Shortneſs of attaining to the Perfection of what is ſet before them. For all this might have been done, and not one Drop of Blood ſpilt for the Redemption of Man. Beſides this makes Chriſt's Death as a Redeemer, as an Act unadviſedly undertaken; for what need he have died, if his Doctrine and Example had been ſufficient, through that which they call Mercy, to have brought the Soul to Glory? If Righteouſneſs comes by the Law, than Chriſt is dead in vain. I will add, put Man's Righteouſneſs, God's Mercy, and Chriſt's Redemption altogether, and they will not ſave a Man, though the laſt two alone will ſufficiently do it; but this third is a Piece, when put to that, does, inſtead of mending, make the Rent worſe. Beſides, ſince Man's Righteouſneſs cannot be joined in Juſtification with God's Mercy and Chriſt's Redemption, but through a Disbelief of the Sufficiency of them, ſhould it be admitted as a Cauſe, though but the leaſt Cauſe thereof, what would follow, but to make that curſed Sin of Unbelief a good Inventor, and a neceſſary Worker in the Manner of the Juſtification of a Sinner? For I ſay, Unbelief is the Cauſe of this Hodge-Podge in any, and the Effects of it are ſhewed in the ninth Chapter of the Epiſtle of Paul to the Romans, at the latter end thereof.

2 Tim. 1. 11, 12.

Gal. 2. 20.

And there are three Things that follow upon that Opinion that denieth the abſolute Neceſſity of the ſhedding of the Blood of Chriſt for the Redemption of Man, that Mercy might be let out to him.

1. It followeth from thence, That there is no ſuch Attribute as abſolute Juſtice in God; Juſtice to ſtand to his Word, and to vindicate every Tittle of his Law: For let but this be granted, and the Death of Chriſt muſt be brought in, or by Juſtice the Floodgate of Mercy ſtill be ſhut againſt ſinful Man; or that God muſt have Mercy upon Man, with the Breath of his Word.

2. It alſo followeth from the Premiſes, That Chriſt's Death was of Pleaſure only, and not of Neceſſity alſo; contrary to the Scripture, that makes his Death the Effect of both: Of Pleaſure, to ſhew how willing God the Father was that Chriſt ſhould die for Man: Of Neceſſity, to ſhew that Men could not be ſaved without it. Of Pleaſure, to ſhew how Juſtice did deal with him for our Sin: Of Neceſſity, to ſhew that Mercy could not be communicated to us without it.

Iſa. 53. 10. Mat. 26. 39 Acts 17. 3.

3. There alſo followeth therefrom, that by the Blood of Chriſt we have not Redemption from Law and Juſtice, as to the condemning Part of both, but that rather this Title is given to it for Honour and Glory, to dignify it: As the Name of God is alſo given to him. For they that affirm the one, are bold to affirm the other. For as by them is concluded, that there is no Neceſſity, why the Blood of Chriſt ſhould be counted the abſolutely neceſſary Price of our Redemption from the Curſe of the Law and Severity of Juſtice; ſo by them it is concluded, that it is not neceſſary to hold that Chriſt the Redeemer is naturally, and co-eternally God as the Father. But let Iſrael hope in the Lord, for with him is Mercy, and with him is plenteous Redemption.

Thirdly, Muſt there be Redemption by Blood added to Mercy, if the Soul be ſaved? This ſhews us what an horrible Thing the Sin of Man is: Sin as to the Nature of it, is little known in the World. Oh! it ſticks ſo faſt to us, as not to be ſevered from us, by all the Mercy of God, do but exclude Redemption by the Blood of Chriſt. I will ſay it over again. All the Mercy of God cannot ſave a Sinner, without Reſpect to Redemption from the Curſe of the Law, by the Death and Blood of Chriſt. Without ſhedding of Blood Heb. 9. 22.

is no Remiſſion. No Remiſſion, no Pardon, or paſſing by of the leaſt Tranſgreſſion without it. Tears! Chriſt's Tears will not do it: Prayers! Chriſt's Prayers will not do it: An holy Life! the holy Life that Chriſt lived, will not do it; as ſevered from his Death and Blood. The Word Redemption, therefore muſt be well underſtood, and cloſe ſtuck to, and muſt not be allowed as properly ſpoken, when we talk of Deliverance from Sin, the Law, and God's Curſe, unleſs it be applied particularly to Gal. 3. 13. the Death and Blood of Chriſt. We have
Eph. 1. 7. Redemption through his Blood. Chriſt
Rev. 1. 5. has redeemed us from the Curſe of the Law, being made a Curſe for us; as it is
— 5. 9. written, Curſed is every one that hangeth on a Tree. He has redeemed us to God by his Blood. For thou waſt ſlain, and haſt redeemed us to God by thy Blood. This is the Redemption that is joined with Mercy; yea, that is the Fruit thereof; and it is that without which Sin cannot be removed out of the Sight of God. Moſes, that was a better Preacher of the Law, and the Sufficiency of the Righteouſneſs thereof, than any now can pretend to be, yet he full well declared by all his bloody Sacrifices, that the Blood and Death of Jeſus Chriſt, is of abſolute Neceſſity for the Redemption of the Soul. Beſides he tells us that the Man that ſhould flee to the City of Refuge, from the Avenger of Blood, ſhould not be at Liberty from the Law, unleſs he kept himſelf cloſe in that City until the Death of the High-Prieſt. Mark the Word, Ye ſhall take no
Numb. 35 32. Satisfaction for him that is fled to the City of his Refuge, that he ſhould come again to dwell in the Land, until the Death of the High-Prieſt. Wherefore Chriſtian Man, know thou thy Sin in the Nature of it, and perſuade thy ſelf that the removing of it from before the Face of God, is by no leſs Means, than the Death and Blood of Chriſt.

But it is a poor Shift that the Enemies of the Truth are put to, when to defend their Errors, they are forced to diminiſh Sin, and to enlarge the Borders of their Fig-Leaf-Garments, and to deny or caſt away, as much as in them lies, one of the Attributes, the Juſtice of God. Indeed they will ſay they abhor to do thus, and all erroneous Perſons will put the beſt Face they can upon their bad Matters; but the natural Conſequences of Things amount to it, nor can they, when Men ſtick cloſe to their Sides, avoid the Charge.

Fourthly, Then here you ſee the Reaſon of that free Courſe that Mercy hath among the Sons of Men, and why it doth, as has been ſhewed before, what it doth: Why, Juſtice is content; Blood hath anſwered the Demands of Juſtice. The Law has nothing to object againſt his Salvation, that believeth in Jeſus Chriſt. Blood has ſet the Door open, for us with Boldneſs to go to God for Mercy, and for God to come with his abundant Grace to us. We
Heb. 10. 19, 20. have Boldneſs, Brethren, to enter into the Holieſt by the Blood of Jeſus, by a new and living Way, which he has conſecrated for us through the Vail, that is to ſay, his Fleſh. This is the WAY that Moſes deſired to find, when God ſo largely ſpake to him of his Mercy. Thou haſt ſaid, ſays Moſes to God, I know thee by Name, and thou haſt found Grace in my Sight. Now, therefore I pray thee, if I have found Grace in thy
Ex. 33. 12, 13. Sight, ſhew me thy Way that I may know thee, &c. What if it ſhould be applied thus? Thou now talkeſt of Mercy, but in thy Words to us from the Mount, thou ſpakeſt Fire and Juſtice; and ſince thou haſt delivered us ſo holy a Law, and art reſolved that the leaſt Tittle thereof ſhall by no Means fall to the Ground; by what Means is it that Mercy ſhould come unto us? Well, ſaith God, I will ſhew thee my Way, I will put thee in a Clift of the Rock, which was a Figure of Chriſt: For
Jer. 23. John 14. 6. Chriſt ſays, I am the Way, This done he proclaimed his Name, and ſhewed him how he could be gracious, and gave him the Sign of his being merciful, a Promiſe that his Preſence ſhould go with him. The breaking then of the Body of Jeſus was (the renting of the Vail) that out of which came Blood, that the Way to God might be, living; and not Death, or Sword, or Flame, to the poor Children of Men.

Out hence therefore bubbleth continually, the tender Mercy, the great Mercy, the rich Mercy, the abundant Mercy, multiplying Mercy, and every other Mercy of God to us for our preſent and everlaſting Good.

Not that God was ſparing of his Mercy, and would not part with it unleſs paid for it; for this WAY of Redemption by Blood, was his Contrivance, the Fruit of his Wiſdom. So then, God was big with Mercy
Eph. 1. 8. for a ſinful World; but to be continually extending of Mercy, ſince Sin and Juſtice,
Gen. 3. 24. becauſe of the Sanction of the Law, lay in the way, as a turning flaming Sword, there did lie the Work; ſo it was concluded, that Mercy might, in a Way of Juſtice, be let out to Sinners, Chriſt the Son of God ſhould die for the Sin of Man. By which Means the Outcries of the Law and Juſtice againſt us for our Sins did ceaſe, and Mercy flowed from Heaven like the Waters of Mich. 7. 18, 19. Noah, until it became a Sea.

By Redemption by Blood therefore, is this great Myſtery, That a juſt God can ſave that Man that has broken that Law, that God has ſaid he will inflict the Penalty for the Breach thereof upon, and do his Juſtice no Wrong, expounded; not by a Relaxation of the Puniſhment, as the doltiſh Wiſdom of this World imagines; but by an inflicting of the exacteſt Juſtice upon that Nature that has offended. If the

Queſtion

Queſtion be asked, How a juſt God can ſave that Man from Death that by Sin has put himſelf under the Sentence of it? Any Fool can anſwer, by a Pardon. And if it be asked, But what will become of the Threatning wherewith he threatned the Offender? He that knows no Myſteries, can ſay, why Man muſt repent of his Sin, and God of his Threatning. But if it be asked, How God can execute his Threatning to the utmoſt, and yet deliver the Sinner by his Mercy from it; the Sinner that has deſerved it, and yet be juſt to his Law, faithful to his Law, and one that will ſtand by every Tittle of his Law? This, to expound, is too high for a Fool. Therefore theſe Men are for deſpiſing of Myſteries, and for counting of Myſteries in the Goſpel, Follies.

But this Key of Heaven is no where but in the Word of the Spirit, it is not ſeen in the Law, nor in the Reaſon, or Righteouſneſs of the World. To puniſh the Juſt for the Unjuſt, and to make him to be Sin for us, who knew no Sin, that we might be made the Righteouſneſs of God in him, ſeems unreaſonable; ſo croſs to the Wiſdom of Man, are the Words of this Lock. Wherefore uſually, when they come at this Doctrine, they belch out their Frumps, their Taunts, their Scoffs, and their Scorns againſt it; and in Oppoſition thereto, comment, exalt, cry up, and ſet on high, Socinianiſm, Mahometaniſm, Mans ragged Righteouſneſs, or any Thing. But we will paſs theſe Things.

2 Cor. 5. 21

Fifthly, The Knowledge of Redemption, and the Faith of Redemption, is the only Means of ſettling, compoſing, and upholding the Soul of the throughly awakened, in the Hope of enjoying a Portion in Mercy for ever. What ſenſleſs, ſecure, beſotted, and deluded Men conclude of themſelves, and of the Means of future Happineſs, is one Thing; and what the throughly awakened Soul concludes upon, is another. And I ſay, one throughly awakened about the Nature of God, the Nature of Sin, and the Worth of the Soul, will find but little Eaſe of Mind, notwithſtanding Notions of Mercy, until he comes and ſees that he muſt be ſaved by Mercy and Juſtice both, and that to be ſure he ſhall never do until he is taught that by the Blood of Chriſt the Law is, as to the Curſe that is in it againſt the Sinner, taken out of the way.

Col. 2.

Theſe Things, Sin and Juſtice, are too great to be played with by him, that ſhall ſee them in the Height of the Law, and that ſhall feel them in their Terror upon a trembling Conſcience. But when the Soul ſhall ſee that a Propitiation is made to Juſtice by Blood, then and not till then, it ſees Sin taken away; and when it ſees, by this Means, Sin taken away, then it can behold to hope in the Mercy of God. Yea, and it will be as hard to wring off him that is ſettled here, from this Belief to another, as it would be to perſuade him that ſtands upon ſound Ground, to venture his Life upon a ſhaking bottomleſs Quag. Oh! it is a pleaſant Thing for the wounded Conſcience to taſt the Sweetneſs of redeeming Blood! This is like the beſt Wine that goes down ſweetly; this carries with the laſt of it, the very Tang of eternal Life. And know, that dead Works, or Works of Death, will abide in the Conſcience, notwithſtanding all Talk and Notions of Mercy, until that be purged with Blood applied thereto, by the Spirit and Faith. This is one of the three that abide to witneſs on Earth, that God hath given us eternal Life, and that this Life is in his Son; becauſe he died for us and roſe again.

John 6. 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56.
Heb. 9. 14.
1 John 5. 8, 9, 10, 11.

This therefore is that that will eſtabliſh a Man with that Peace that ſhall not be ſhaken, becauſe by this, ſuch an one ſeeth the Juſtice of God is quieted. For Peace is made by the Blood of the Croſs: Peace with God for Sinners? Yea, God himſelf by the Blood of the Croſs has made it, that by him, Chriſt, he might reconcile to himſelf all Things, whether they be Things in Earth, or Things in Heaven. Nor will a Man that is truly ſpiritually wiſe, reſt, till he comes where God towards Man doth reſt; but that can be only there, where ſuch Means are offered for the taking away of Sin, that are of a ſweet ſmelling Savour to God. Now this is the Offering that Chriſt offered, to wit, himſelf; for Chriſt loved us, and hath given himſelf for us, an Offering and a Sacrifice to God for a ſweet ſmelling Savour. Therefore it is it, the Body of his Fleſh through Death that we are preſented holy, unblameable, and unreproveable in his Sight by. Wherefore it muſt be true which was ſaid before, to wit, That the Knowledge of Redemption, and the Faith of Redemption, is the only Means of ſettling, compoſing, and upholding of the Soul of the throughly awakened, in the Hope of enjoying a Portion in Mercy for ever.

Col. 1. 20.
Eph. 5. 1.
Col. 1. 21.

He that hath the Son of God, hath the Father, hath Life; becauſe with him is the Means of Peace with the Father; and ſo of eternal Life: But then, to have the Son, is to believe on him, and on the Father through him: On him, that he is the Saviour by his Blood; and on the Father through him, as believing, that he, for his Son's Sufferings, is pacified with us, and of his Grace hath forgiven us, through him, all Treſpaſſes.

1 John 2. 23. — 5. 10, 11. 1 Cor. 1. 30. 2 John 9. Eph. 4. 32.

Sixthly, The Knowledge and Faith of this Redemption, fortifieth the Chriſtian againſt Temptations. We that do believe, know what it is to be aſſaulted by the Devil, and to have knotty Objections caſt into our Minds by him; we alſo know what Advantage the vile Sin of Unbelief will get upon us, if our Knowledge and Faith in this Redemption, be in the leaſt, below the common Faith of Saints, defective. If we talk of Mercy, he can talk of Juſtice; if we talk of Grace, he can talk of the Law. And all his Words, when God will ſuffer it, we ſhall find as ſharp and as ſubject to ſtick in our Minds, as bearded Arrows are to ſtick in Fleſh. Beſides, he can and doth, and that often, work in our Fancies and Imaginations ſuch Apprehenſions of God, that he ſhall ſeem to be to us, one that cannot abide us, one that hates us, and that lieth in wait to deſtroy us. And now if any Body ſpeaks to us of Mercy, we think we might hope in that, had we nothing to trouble us but the Guilt of actual Sins: But we ſee our Nature as full of the Filth of Sin, as the Egg is of Meat, or the Toad of Poiſon. Which Filth vilely recoileth againſt the Commandments, flyeth in the Face of God, and continueth all his Judgments. This is felt; this is ſeen by the Sinner, who cannot help it; nor can he be brought to that Conſideration as

Rom. 7. to ſay, It is no more I. Now what ſhall this Man do? ſhall he look to the Commandment? There is Death. Shall he look to God? There is Juſtice. Shall he look to himſelf? There is Sin out of Meaſure. Let him look then to one as dying; to the Rev. 5. 6. Lamb as it had been ſlain; and there let him ſee himſelf by this Lamb, as curſed, and a dying of a curſed Death for this Sin that doth ſo fright and ſo diſtreſs the Soul. Then let him turn again, and behold this Lamb alive and well, and highly exalted by this God, that but juſt before laid the Curſe of the Law upon him; but let him be ſure to reckon that he has died for his Sins by the Perſon of Chriſt, and it will follow, that this Man is now acquitted; becauſe Chriſt is ſtill alive. Say I, theſe Things as a Man? ſaith not the Goſpel the very ſame?

Rom. 6. 6. Chap. 7. 1. As to Chriſt's dying for us; as alſo that we are dead to the Law by the Body of Chriſt.

Ver. 1. 2. And that we ſhould ſo reckon as to this Matter, becauſe that God has transferred our ſin from us to him.

Ver. 2. Firſt, did not Chriſt die for us; and dying for us, are we not become dead to the Law by the Death of his Body? Or will the Law ſlay both him and us, and that for the ſame Tranſgreſſion? If this be con-
Ver. 3. cluded in the Affirmative, what follows, but that Chriſt though he undertook, came ſhort in doing for us? But he was raiſed
Ver. 4. up from the Dead, and believing marrieth us to him as riſen, and that ſtops the Mouth of all. I am crucified with Chriſt, our old Man was crucified with him, and we are become dead to the Law by the Body of Chriſt. What then?

Secondly, Why, reckon your ſelves to be dead indeed unto Sin, but active unto God through Jeſus Chriſt. Ay, but ſays the Soul, How can I reckon thus, when Sin is yet ſtrong in me? Anſwer. Read the Words again, He ſaith not, Reckon your ſelves to be dead indeed unto Sin, in your ſelves; but dead unto it, through Jeſus Chriſt. Not alive unto God, in your ſelves; but alive unto God through Jeſus Chriſt. For Chriſt in his Death and Reſurrection preſenteth me. As I died, by him; I roſe again, by him; and live through the Faith of the Goſpel in the Preſence of God, by him. This muſt in the firſt Place be allowed and believed, or no true Peace can come near the Soul, nor the Soul be prepared to aſſoil the Aſſaults of the Adverſary. Let therefore thy Faith, if thou wouldeſt be a Warrier, Oh thou faint-hearted Chriſtian! be well inſtructed in this. Then will thy Faith do thee a two-fold Kindneſs. 1*ſt*, It will conform thee to the Death and Reſurrection of Chriſt: And 2*dly*, It will give thee Advantage, when thou ſeeſt Sin ſtrange in thy ſelf, yet to conclude that by Chriſt thou art dead thereto, and by him alive therefrom: Nor can there but two Objections be made againſt this. The firſt is to queſtion whether any are ſaid to die and riſe, by the Death and Reſurrection of Chriſt? Or if it ſo may be ſaid; yet whether thou art one of them. To the firſt, the Scripture is full. To the ſecond, thy Faith muſt be ſtrong: For let go Faith here, and all falls flat to the Ground, I mean as to Comfort and Conſolation. Chriſt died for us, or in our Stead, therefore by the Word of God I am allowed ſo to reckon. Chriſt roſe and revived, though he died for me, therefore I roſe and revived by Chriſt. Unleſs any does hold, that though he died in a common, ye he roſe as conſidered but in a ſingle Capacity. Now then, if Satan comes and tells me of my Sins; I anſwer, Chriſt has taken them upon himſelf. If he comes and tells me of the Death that is due to me for Sin, by the Curſe of the holy Law? I anſwer, I have already undergone that by Chriſt. If he asks me how I know that the Law will not lay hold of me alſo? I anſwer, Becauſe Chriſt is riſen from the Dead. If he asks me by what Authority I take upon me thus to reaſon? I tell him, by the Authority and Allowance of the holy and moſt bleſſed Goſpel, which ſaith, He was deli- Rom. 4. 25.

thee thus to believe, and thus to hold, 16, 17, 18.
when thou art in an Hour of Temptation; This is the Way to ſee Mercy ſtand and ſmile upon thee; for Mercy will ſmile upon him that ſhall thus believe. This is the Way to put Faith and Hope James 4. 7.
both to work againſt the Devil; and to do this is very pleaſing to God. This is the 1 Pet. 5. 9.
Way to make that Hell-hound retreat and leave off to aſſault. And, This is the Way to find an Anſwer to many Scriptures, with which elſe thou wilt not know what to do, as with many of the Types and ſhadows; yea, and with the moral Law it ſelf.

with

Beſides, thus believing ſetteth thy Soul againſt the Fear of Death, and Judgment to come; for if Chriſt be raiſed from the Dead who died for our Sins: and if Chriſt who died for our Sins is entred into Glory, I ſay again, if Chriſt who died for our Sins has purchaſed us to himſelf, and is purpoſed that the Fruit of this his Purchaſe ſhall be that we may behold his Face in Glory, then caſt off ſlaviſh Fear of Death and Judgment: For Chriſt being raiſed from the Dead, dieth no more; Death hath no more Dominion over him.

Seventhly, the Knowledge and Faith of this Redemption prepareth Man to an holy Life. By an holy life I mean, a Life according to the moral Law, flowing from a Spirit of thankfulneſs to God, for giving of his Son to be my Redeemer. This I call an holy Life, becauſe it is according to the Rule of Holineſs, the Law; and this I call a holy Life, becauſe it floweth from ſuch a Principle as giveth to God the Heart, and Life, for the Gift beſtowed on us.

What Pretences ſoever there are to holineſs, if it floweth not from thankfulneſs for Mercy received, it floweth from a wrong Principle, and ſo cannot be good. Hence Men were required, of old, to ſerve the Lord with joyfulneſs, for the abundance of all Things; and threatned, if they did not, that they ſhould ſerve their Enemies in Hunger and in Thirſt, in Nakedneſs, and in the Want of all Things. But then, though there are many Mercies that lay an Obligation upon Men to be holy; yet he that ſhall want the Obligation that is begotten by the Faith of redeeming Mercy, wanteth the main Principle of true Holineſs; nor will any other be found ſufficiently to ſanctifie the Heart to the cauſing of it to produce ſuch a Life. Nor can ſuch Holineſs be accepted, becauſe it comes not forth in the Name of Chriſt. That that obliged David, was, forgiving and redeeming Mercy; and that that obliged Paul was, the Love that Chriſt ſhewed to him in dying for his Sins, and in raiſing from the dead. Paul alſo beſeecheth the Romans by the redeeming, juſtifying, preſerving and electing Mercy of God, that they preſent their Body a living Sacrifice, holy, acceptable to God; which is, ſaith he, your reaſonable Service. For we muſt be holy and without blame before him in Love.

Pſal. 103. 1,2,3,4,5. 2 Cor. 5. 14, 15.

Rom. 12. 1. Epheſ. 1. 4.

Hence all along they that are exhorted to Holineſs in the New Teſtament, are exhorted to it upon the Suppoſition of the Benefit of Redemption, which they have received by Jeſus Chriſt. Walk in Love as Chriſt loved us. If there be any Conſolation in Chriſt, if any Comfort of Love, if any Fellowſhip of the Spirit, if any Bowels of Mercies, fulfil ye my Joy, that ye be like-minded, having the ſame Love, &c. If ye then be riſen with Chriſt, ſeek thoſe Things that are above where Chriſt ſitteth on the right Hand of God. Set your Affections on Things above, not on Things on the Earth. For ye are dead, and your Life is hid with Chriſt in God; when Chriſt who is our Life ſhall appear, then ſhall we appear with him in Glory. Mortifie therefore your Members which are upon the Earth, &c. Wherefore laying aſide all Malice and all Guile, and Hypocriſie, and Envy, and all Evil-ſpeaking, as new born Babes deſire the ſincere Milk of the Word, that ye may grow thereby, if ſo be ye have taſted that the Lord is gracious. I will conclude this with that of Peter to thoſe, to whom he wrote concerning this very Thing. Be obedient Children, ſaith he, not faſhioning your ſelves according to the former Luſts, in your Ignorance; but as he which hath called you is holy, ſo be ye holy in all Manner of Converſation: becauſe it is written; Be ye holy, for I am holy. And if ye call on the Father, who without Reſpect of Perſons judgeth according to every Man's Work, paſs the Time of your Sojourning here in fear: For as much as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible Things, as Silver and Gold, from your vain Converſation received by Tradition from your Fathers, but with the precious Blood of Chriſt, as of a Lamb without Blemiſh and without Spot.

Col. 3. 1, 2, 3, 4. 5. 1 Pet. 2. 1, 2, 3. Chap. 1. 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19.

From all which it appears, that Mercy by Chriſt, or from the Benefit of Redemption by the precious Blood of Chriſt, I ſay from the Faith of that, flows that which is Holineſs indeed.

And I believe that thoſe very Men that are pleaſed to taunt at this kind of Inference, would condemn a Man was he laid under theſe Obligations concerning Things of this Life, and yet did carry it as one not touched thereby. We will make an Inſtance: Suppoſe a Socinian ſhould thorough his contracting a great Debt, be forced to rot in Priſon, unleſs redeemed by Silver and Gold: And ſuppoſe a Man unto whom this Socinian was an Enemy, ſhould lay down the whole Debt to the Creditor that this Socinian might be at Liberty, might trade and live comfortably in this World: And if after this, this Socinian ſhould taunt at them that ſhould tell him he is engaged to this Redeemer, ought to love and reſpect this Redeemer, what would they ſay, but that this Socinian that was a Debtor, is an inconſiderate and ſtupified Raſcal. Why this is the Caſe: Paul was a Debtor to the Law and Juſtice of God; Jeſus Chriſt his Son, that Paul might not periſh for ever, paid for him a Price of Redemption, to wit, his moſt precious Blood. But what! ſhall Paul now, though redeemed from perpetual Impriſonment in Hell, be as one that never was beholding to Jeſus Chriſt, or if others ſay he was, taunt at them for their ſo ſaying! No, he ſcorns it. Though the

Love

Love of Chriſt, in dying to pay a Price of Redemption, will not engage a Socinian, yet it will engage a true Chriſtian to think and believe that he ought to live to Jeſus, that died for him and roſe again.

I know it will be objected, that the Satisfactioniſts, as the quaking Pen is pleaſed to call them, ſhew but little of this to the World. For their Pride, Covetouſneſs, Falſe-dealing, and the like, ſince they profeſs as I have ſaid, ſhews them as little concerned to the full, as to the Socinian under Conſideration.

I anſwer, it muſt be that the Name of Chriſt ſhould be ſcandalized through ſome that profeſs him; and they muſt anſwer it at the Tribunal of the great Judge: yet what I have ſaid, ſtands faſt as a Rock that cannot be moved.

Eighthly, The Knowledge and Faith of Redemption, is a very great Encouragement to Prayer. It is great Encouragement for the Poor to go even to a Prince for what he wanteth, when he conſidereth that what he goeth to him for, is the Price
Joh. 15. 16 of Redemption. All Things that we want we muſt ask the Father for, in the Name of Pſal. 25. 11. Chriſt; we muſt ask it of him for the ſake
Dan. 9. 17. of his redeeming Blood, for the ſake of the Merit of his Paſſion. Thus David means when he ſays, for thy Name ſake do it; and Daniel, when he ſaith here, for the Lord's ſake. For Jeſus Chriſt is God's great Name, and to do for his Sake, is to do, for what worthineſs is in him.

Unworthineſs; The Conſideration of Unworthineſs, is a great ſtumbling Block to the tempted when he goes to ſeek the Lord. But now, remembring the worthineſs of Chriſt, and that he is now on the right Hand of God on purpoſe to plead that on the Behalf of the Petitioner, this is great Encouragement.

The Jews, by God's Ordinance, when they went Morning and Evening by their Prieſt, to ſpeak with God, were to offer a Exod. 29. 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46. Lamb for a Burnt-Offering, and it muſt be thus continually. Now this Lamb was a Figure of the Sacrificing of the Body of Chriſt which was to be offered for them in Time to come: and in that it was to be continually, Morning and Evening ſo repeated, what doth it ſignifie, but that we ſhould remember to go, when we went to God, in the Name and Faith of the Merits of Jeſus Chriſt for what we ſtood in need of? This will ſupport, and this will encourage, for now we ſee that the Thing deſired (it being according to his Will) is obtained for us by the Sacrificing of the Body of Jeſus Chriſt, once for all.

1 Sam. 7. 8, 9. When Iſrael begged of Samuel that he would not ceaſe to cry to the Lord their God for them; 'Tis ſaid, he took a ſucking Lamb, and offered it for a Burnt-offering wholly unto the Lord; and Samuel cried unto the Lord for Iſrael, and the Lord heard him.

But why did he take a ſucking Lamb, and why did he offer it, and that wholly unto the Lord, as he cried, but to ſhew to Iſrael, that he was not heard for his own, or for his Righteouſneſs Sake, but for the Sake of Chriſt, whoſe Merits were prefigured by Samuel's burning of the Lamb?

Alſo when David ſpake for himſelf to Saul, he put himſelf upon this; If, ſaith he, the Lord hath ſtirred thee up againſt me, let him accept a Sacrifice, a Smell, or a ſweet ſmelling Sacrifice, a Figure of the ſatisfactoryneſs of the Sufferings of Jeſus Chriſt. 1 Sam. 26. 19.

What is the meaning of all theſe Paſſages, if not to ſhew that when we go to pray to God, we ſhould turn away our Face from every Thing of ours, and look to God, only by the Price of Redemption paid for us by Jeſus Chriſt, and plead that alone with him as the great prevailing Argument, and that by, and for the Sake of which he giveth Pardon and Grace to help in Time of need?

Wherefore, wouldeſt thou be a praying Man, a Man that would pray and prevail; why pray to God in the Faith of the Merits of Chriſt, and ſpeed.

Ninthly, For this is the very Cauſe why This is added in the Text, to wit, the Plenteouſneſs of Redemption, it is, I ſay, that Men ſhould hope to partake by it, of the Goodneſs and Mercy of God. Let Iſrael hope in the Lord, for with the Lord there is Mercy; and with him is plenteous Redemption. Mercy and Redemption, Mercy through a Redeemer, therefore let Iſrael hope. It muſt alſo be noted, that this Word Redemptiou is as it were the explicatory Part of the Text, for the helping of Iſrael to hope. As who ſhould ſay, as there is with God Mercy, ſo there is with him a Way to his Mercy, and that Way is Redemption, or a Price paid for your Sins; and that you ſhould not be diſcouraged through the Greatneſs of your Sins, I tell you, there is with God plenty of this Redemption, or a Price paid to the full; to an over and above. It alſo is as if he had ſaid, forget not this, for this is the Key of all the reſt, and the great Support to the Saints in Prayer, or while they wait upon God in any of his Appointments to encourage them to hope.

Tenthly and Laſtly, This alſo ſhould teach the Saints when they Sing or Praiſe the Lord, they ſhould not ſing of Mercy only, but of Mercy and Judgment too; I will ſing of Mercy and Judgment, unto thee O Lord will I ſing: Of Mercy and Judgment, or Juſtice in the Manifeſtation of it as ſmiling upon our Forgiveneſs. When Hannah ſang of, and rejoyced in God's Salvation, ſhe ſang aloud of Holineſs; ſaying, There is none holy as the Lord; Holy in keeping his Word, though it coſt the Blood of his Son: This alſo is that that is called a helping of his Servant Iſrael in Remembrance Pſal. 101. 1. 1 Sam. 2. 1, 2. Luke 1. 49, to 80.

brance of his Mercy, and the performing of the Mercy promiſed; even the Oath that he ſware to our Father Abraham, that he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the Hands of our Enemies (by a Redeemer) might ſerve him without Fear, &c.

When you praiſe therefore, remember Chriſt and his Blood, and how Juſtice and Judgment took hold on him that they might not take hold on thee; yea, how they by taking hold on him, left a Way to thee to eſcape. Iſaac ſhould have been ſacrificed, had not the Lord provided a Ram; and thou thy ſelf ſhouldeſt have been damned, had not the Lord provided a Lamb. Hence Chriſt is called the Lamb of God that taketh away the Sins of the World; that taketh them away by the Sacrifice of himſelf: Sing therefore in your Praiſes unto God, and to the Lamb.

Gen. 22. 13.

Rev. 5.

I would come now to ſpeak one ſhort Word of Uſe to the whole. And Firſt, This ſtill ſhews more and more, what a ſad State God's People have brought themſelves into by Sin: I told you before that the Revelation of ſo much Mercy as is preſented unto us by the firſt Part of the Text, ſufficiently declared our State to be miſerable by Sin. But what ſhall we ſay, when there muſt be added to that, the Heart Blood of the Son of God, and all to make our Salvation compleat? For albeit Mercy is eſſential to our Salvation, and that without which can be no Salvation: yet it is the Blood that maketh the Attonement for the Soul, that propitiates, and ſo makes capable of enjoying of it. 'Twas Mercy and Love, as I ſaid afore, that ſent one to ſhed his Blood for us; and it is the Blood of him that was ſent, that puts us into the Enjoyment of Mercy. Oh! I have thought ſometimes, what bloody Creatures hath Sin made us! The Beaſts of the Field muſt be ſlain by Thouſands before Chriſt came, to ſignifie to us we ſhould have a Saviour; and after that, he muſt come himſelf and die a worſe Death than died thoſe Beaſts, before the Work of ſaving could be finiſhed. O Redemption, Redemption by Blood, is the Heart-indearing Conſideration! This is that which will make the Water ſtand in our Eyes, that will break an Heart of Flint, and that will make one do as they do, that are in Bitterneſs for their Firſt-born.

Lev. 17. 10, 11. Rom. 3. 24, 25.

Zech. 12. 10.

Sinner, wouldſt thou have Mercy? wouldſt thou be ſaved? Go thou then to the Blood of the Croſs, as ſet forth in the Word of the Truth of the Goſpel, and there thou ſhalt find that Mercy that thou haſt need of firſt; for there is a Mercy that may be called a firſt Mercy, and that is the Mercy that gives Admittance into, an Intereſt in all the reſt: Now the Mercy that doth this, is that which reconcileth us to God; but that cannot other Things do, if we ſtand off from the Blood of the Croſs. Wherefore we are ſaid to be reconciled to God, by the Death of his Son: For if when we are Enemies we are reconciled to God by the Death of his Son; much more being reconciled, we ſhall be ſaved by his Life.

Rom. 5. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10

According to that other ſaying, He that ſpared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how ſhall he not with him alſo freely give us all Things? In both theſe Places, the Son of God and our Redeemer, is ſet forth to us in the firſt Place, as the only one that reconcileth to God the Sinner by the Blood of his Croſs; wherefore to this Chriſt, as Crucified, the Sinner muſt come firſt; becauſe nothing elſe can reconcile to God; and if thou be not reconciled to God, what art thou but an Enemy to him, partake of what Mercy thou canſt? Go to him, did I ſay? receive him into the Arms of thy Faith, hold him faſt, for he is a Saviour, yea, carry him as ſet forth by the Goſpel, Dying for thee, and pray God for his Sake to beſtow upon thee, all thoſe Mercies that will compaſs thee about as with a Shield, and follow thee all thy Days till thou entereſt in at the Doors of Eternity; and this is the Way to ſpeed. For he that hath the Son hath Life, in the beginning of it; and he that holds faſt the Son, ſhall have Life in the Conſummation of it. I do the oftner touch upon this Matter, becauſe this Chriſt is the Door, in at which whoſoever entreth ſhall be ſaved; but he that climbs up any other Way, ſhall be judged as a Thief and a Robber. But

Chap. 8. 31, 32.

Joh. 10. 1.

Secondly, Is Chriſt, as crucified, the Way and Door to all Spiritual and Eternal Mercy? And doth God come to the Sinner, and the Sinner again go to God in a ſaving Way, by him, and by him only? And is there no other Way to the Father but by his Blood, and through the Vail, that is to ſay, his Fleſh? Then this ſhews the Danger upon what Pretence ſoever, of caſting of the daily Sacrifice, and ſetting up in its Place the Abomination that maketh deſolate; I mean of caſting away of a crucified Chriſt, and the ſetting up the Vanity of moral Obedience, as the more ſubſtantial and moſt acceptable Thing with God. I call not a crucified Chriſt the daily Sacrifice, as if I thought he often ſuffered for Sin, ſince the Foundation of the World: But becauſe the Vertue of that one Offering is that, and only that by the which we daily draw nigh unto God; and becauſe the Vertuouſneſs of that one Sacrifice, will for ever abide beneficial to them that come to God, to the World's end, by him.

Heb. 10. 19, 20.

But I ſay, into what a miſerable plight have ſuch People put themſelves, that have caſt off coming to God by Chriſt, as he is the Propitiation for their Sins, and that ſeek to come another Way? ſuch are relapſed again to Gentiliſm, to Paganiſm, to Heatheniſm: nor will it help at all to ſay, they rely on the Mercy and Goodneſs of God; for there is no ſuch Thing as ſpiritual and eternal Mercy can come from God to him, that comes not to him by Chriſt. The Turks, if I be not miſtaken, have this for the beginning of every Chapter in their Alcoran, The Lord God, Gracious and Merciful, yet are counted Unbelievers, and are verily ſo, for they have not received the Faith of Chriſt: The Lord God, Gracious and Merciful, will not ſave them, no not by Grace and Merciful, unleſs repenting of their preſuming upon Mercy, without a bloody Sacrifice, they come to him

Act. 4.12. by his Son. Men therefore that have laid aſide the neceſſity of Reconciliation to God by the precious Blood of Chriſt, are in a damned State; nor will it help at all to ſay, they do indeed believe in him. I am not ſo void of Reaſon, as to think that they that have caſt away Chriſt as he is a Propitiatory Sacrifice with God for Sin, ſhould alſo caſt away his Name out of their Mouths; no, his Name is too Honourable, and the Profeſſion of it too Glorious for them to do ſuch a Thing. But retaining his Name, and the Notion of him as a Saviour, they yet caſt him off, and that in thoſe very Things wherein the eſſential Part of his Sacrifice, the Merit of it, and his everlaſting Prieſthood conſiſts: And in this lies the Myſtery of their Iniquity.

They will have him to be a Saviour, but it muſt not be by fulfilling of the Law for us; but it muſt not be by the putting of his glorious Righteouſneſs, that which he performed by ſubjecting himſelf to the Law, on our Behalf, upon us; but it muſt not be by Waſhing of us from our Sins in his own Blood; but it muſt be by his kingly and prophetical Offices: When as for his kingly and prophetical Office, he puts thoſe People under the Government of them, that he has afore made to ſtand juſtified before God, from the Curſe of the Law by his Prieſthood. Nor dare they altogether deny that Chriſt doth ſave his People as a Prieſt, but then their Art is to confound theſe Offices, by pleading that they are in effect but one and the ſelf ſame Thing; and then with a Noiſe of Morality and Government, they joſtle the Merit of his Blood, and the Perfection of his juſtifying Righteouſneſs out of Doors; and ſo retaining the Name of Chriſt in their Mouths, they caſt thoſe Things of Chriſt that they like not, under Feet; which Things, who have not the Faith of, muſt not, cannot ſee the Kingdom of God.

The Term [Mercy] is but a general Sound, and is as an Arrow ſhot at Rovers, unleſs the Death and Blood of the Son of God be ſet before us, as the Mark or Mean by which our Spirits are to be directed to it. What Profit ſhall a Man have; and what ſhelter or Succour ſhall he find, in hearing of the moſt exact Relation of the Strength of the moſt impregnable Caſtle in the World, unleſs he knows the Door, and entreth in by that, into that Place of Strength, in the Time when the Enemy ſhall purſue him? Why this is the Caſe: We hear a Noiſe of Mercy, and of being at Peace with God: what a good God God is, and what a bleſſed Thing it is to be a Child of God; how many Privileges the Children of God have, and what will be their Exaltation and Glory in the next World: And all the while they that tell us theſe Things, conceal from us the Way thereto, which is Chriſt, not in the naming of him, but in the right adminiſtring of his Goſpel to us.

Chriſt, and Faith in him as a Saviour, not in the Name only, but in the true Senſe thereof, is the Mark, as I have ſaid, from which if any ſwerve, they err from the ſaving Way, and ſo come nothing near that Mercy that can ſave them. Hence Iſa. 5. 26. Ch. 11.10. Ch. 49.22. Ch. 62.10, 11. Chriſt is called a Standard, an Enſign; And in that Day there ſhall be a Root of Jeſſe, which ſhall ſtand for an Enſign of the People, to it ſhall the Gentiles ſeek, and his Reſt ſhall be glorious. And again, Thus ſaith the Lord God, I will lift up mine Hand to the Gentiles, and ſet up my Standard to the People. Go through, go through the Gates, prepare you the Way of the People, gather out the Stones, lift up a Standard for the People. Behold the Lord hath proclaimed to the End of the World; ſay ye to the Daughter of Zion, behold thy Salvation cometh. Behold his Reward is with him, and his Work before him: Hence again he is called the Captain (the Chieftain) of our Salvation, and him without whom there neither is nor can be any.

But now the Men of this Confederacy, rather than they will ſubmit themſelves to the Righteouſneſs of God, will lay Odiums and Scandals upon them that preach they ſhould. Not forſooth, if you will believe Rom. 10.3 them, but that they are highly for the Righteouſneſs of God, let it be that which they count ſo; but then to be ſure it ſhall never be the perſonal Performances of Chriſt, by which they that believe in him, are juſtified from all Things: But that which they call firſt Principles, dictates of Humane Nature, Obedience to a Moral Precept, followed and Ver. 4. done as they have Chriſt for an Example, not underſtanding that Chriſt in his own Doings, is the End of all theſe Things to every one that believeth. But if it be urged, that Gentiles and Pagans are poſſeſſed with thoſe very Principles, only they have not got the Art as our Men have, to cover them with the Name of Chriſt and Principles of Chriſtianity; then they fall to commending the Heathens and their Philoſophers, and the natural Motives and Principles by which they were acted; preferring of them much before what by others are called the Graces of the Spirit and Principles, upon what the Doctrine of the free Grace and Mercy of God by Chriſt are grounded. But as I ſaid, all the good that ſuch Preachers can do as to the next World, is, is, to draw the People away from their Enſign, and their Standard, and ſo lead them among the Gentiles and Infidels, to ſeek by their Rules, the Way to this unſpeakable Mercy of God.

Wherefore their State being thus deplorable, and their Spirits thus incorrigible; they muſt be pitied, and left and fled from, if we would live.

Thirdly, is Chriſt Jeſus, the Redemption; and as ſuch, the very Door and Inlet into all God's Mercies! Chriſtian-Man, look well to thy ſelf that thou goeſt no whether and doeſt nothing, I mean in any Part of religious Worſhip, &c. But as thou art in him. Walk in him, ſpeak in him, grow in him, for he is the All. And though others regard not to hold the Head, from which all the Body by Joynts and Bands have Nouriſhment miniſtred; yet have thou a Care: This is he that is thy Life, and the length of thy Days, and without whom no true Happineſs can be had. Many there be that count this but a low Thing, they deſire to ſoar aloft, to fly into new Notions, and to be broaching of new Opinions, not counting themſelves happy, except they can throw ſome new-found fangle, to be applauded for, among their novel Hearers: But fly thou to Chriſt for Life; and that thou mayeſt ſo do, remember well thy Sins, and the Judgment and Wrath of God; and know alſo that he is merciful; but at Mercy none can come, but through the curſed Death Chriſt underwent. And although ſome of the wanton Profeſſors of our Age, may blame thee for poring ſo much upon thy Sins, and the Pollution of thy Nature, yet know that there is an Advantage in it. There be ſome alive in the World, who, though they count the Nature and Commiſſion of Sin, the very Evil of Evils, yet can ſay, that the Remembrance of how vile they are, and of what Evils they have committed, has been to them, a Soul-humbling, a Chriſt-advancing, and a Creature-emptying Conſideration. Though Sin made Death bitter to Chriſt, yet Sin makes Chriſt ſweet to his. And though none ſhould ſin that Grace might abound, yet where Sin has abounded, Grace doth much more abound, not only as an Act of God, but alſo in the Eye of Faith.

2 Cor. 12. 18, 19. Coloſ. 2. 6, 7. Epheſ. 4. 15. Coloſ. 2. 19.

A Sight of the Filth, and a Senſe of the Guilt of Sin, makes a Pardon to ſuch a Soul more than empty Notion; and makes the mean through which the Pardon comes, more to be deſired than is either Life or Limb. This is it that makes the ſenſible Soul prize the Lord Jeſus, while the Self-Juſticiary laugheth him to ſcorn. This is it which makes the awakened Sinner caſt away his own Righteouſneſs, while the Self-conceited one makes it his Advocate with the Father.

Some indeed count their own doings the only Darling of their Soul, while others caſt it to the Dogs. And why ſhould a Man cumber himſelf with what is his, when the good of all that is in Chriſt, is laid, and to be laid out for him? Not that a Believer caſts off to do good, for he knows that what good thing is done in Faith and Love, is acceptable to God and profitable to his Neighbour: But this is it, he ſetteth not his good Deed againſt the Judgment of God; he cometh not in his own Good: When he comes to God for Forgiveneſs of Sins, then he ſees nothing, knows nothing, mentions nothing as Righteouſneſs, but that which Chriſt wrought out in the Days of his Fleſh, and that only. But how then is what he doth, accepted of God? verily as the Duty of a Son, and as the Work of one that is juſtified. We muſt therefore conclude, that there is acceptation, and acceptation: acceptation of the Perſon, and acceptation of his Performance. Acceptation of the Perſon, may be conſidered with reſpect to Juſtification from the Curſe, and ſo Acceptation there can be none, but through the one Offering of the Body of Jeſus Chriſt once for all. Alſo the Acceptation of a Duty done by ſuch a Perſon is by Virtue of the ſelf-ſame Offering, the Perſon being conſidered as ſtanding juſt through Chriſt before God. And the Reaſon why a juſtified Perſon muſt have his Duties accepted the ſame Way, as is his Perſon, is becauſe juſtifying Righteouſneſs, ſets not the Perſon free from Sin, ſave only in the Sight of God and Conſcience, he remaineth ſtill infirm in himſelf, and ſtandeth ſtill in Need of the freſh and continual Application of the Merits of the Lord Jeſus, which alſo the Soul receiveth by Virtue of Chriſt's Interceſſion. I ſpeak now of Acceptation with reference to the Juſtice of the Law, and the Judgment of God upon Perſon or Work, according to the ſelf-ſame Law. For ſo they both muſt be aceepted through the ſelf-ſame Mediator, or they cannot be accepted at all. Nor is it a thing to be wondered at that a Man ſhould ſtand juſt in the Sight of God, when polluted and defiled in his own Sight. He ſtands juſt before God in the Juſtice of his Son, upon whom God looks, and for whoſe ſake he accepts him. May not a ſcabbed, mangy Man, a Man all over-run with Blanes and Blotches, be yet made beautiful to the View of a Beholder, through the Silken, Silver, Golden Garment that may be put upupon him, and may cover all his Fleſh?

Why the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt is not only unto, but upon all them that believe. And whoſo conſiders the Parable of the wretched Infant, ſhall find that before it was waſhed with Water, it was wrapt up, or covered, as 'twas found in its Blood, in, and with the skirt of his Garment that found it in its Faith. And then he waſhed it with Water, and then he ſanctified it by the anointing Oil of the Spirit of God. Rom. 3. 22. Ezek. 16. 8, 9.

I ſpeak

I ſpeak thus to thee Chriſtian Reader, partly, becauſe in the Faith of theſe things is thy Life, and becauſe I would yet inforce the Exhortation upon thee with the Reaſon and the Amplification thereof. To wit, to put thee upon truſting in the Lord through the Encouragement that thou haſt in redeeming Mercy ſo to do.

Some may ſay, Will God ſee that which is not, and will he judge a Man juſt that is a Sinner? But I will anſwer, The Man that had the Rainbow about his Head, was to look on; or be looked upon, while he ſhone like a Jaſper and a Sardix-ſtone. The Blood of the Paſchal Lamb was to be looked upon by him that came to deſtroy the Land of Egypt, in their Firſt-born. I add, The Rainbow that God gave to Noah for a Token that he would no more deſtroy the Earth with the Waters of the Flood, was to be looked upon, that God might remember to ſhew Mercy to his People. Now all theſe meet in the Man Chriſt Jeſus, who is the only one, for the ſake of whom the Sinner that believeth in him, ſtands acquitted in the Sight of God. His is the Blood, he is the Prince, that's more than the token of the Covenant: nor do all the Colours in the Rainbow appear ſo beautiful in the Eyes of Man, as does the Garment of Chriſt; which is from his Loins, even upward, and from his Loins even downward, in the Eyes of the God of Heaven: and wilt thou ſay theſe are things that are not! Alſo he can legally judge a Man juſt that is a Sinner. Do but admit of a diverſe Conſideration, and God will ſo conſider of that Sinner which he juſtifieth, in Deſpite of all the Teeth in thy proud Mouth. He juſtifies the Ungodly. Not that were, but that are ſuch now, in the Judgment and Verdict of the Law, might deal with them in their own Perſons as Men. He will then conſider them in his Son; in, and under the skirt of his Son: He will conſider them as waſhed in the Blood of his Son, and will alſo conſider, that in him is no Sin, and ſo he will deal with them. We know that he was manifeſt to take away our Sins, and in him is no Sin.

Rev. 4. 3. Exod. 12. 13. Gen. 9. 8, to 18. Ezek. 1. 27, 28. Rom. 4. 5. Chap. 5. 8, 9, 10. 1 Joh. 3. 5.

What though I have broke a thouſand Pound in my Creditors Debt; yet if another will diſcharge the whole freely, what has the Law to do with me, as to that?

Or what if I cannot but live upon the ſpend all my days; yet if my Friend will always ſupply my Need, and through his Bounty, keep me from Writ, Bailiff, or Gaol, is it not well for me? Yea, what, if what I can get, ſhall be laid up for me for hereafter, and that my Friend ſo long as there is Death or Danger in the Way, will himſelf ſecure me, and bear my Charges to the World's end; may I not accept thereof and be thankful? Bleſſed be God for Jeſus Chriſt! I believe he is more than all this to me. In the Lord ſhall all the ſeed of Iſrael be juſtified, and ſhall glory. I know Similitudes will not hold in all things; but we that believe, are ſet free from the Curſe of the Law by another Man's Obedience: for by the obedience of one, ſhall many be made righteous. Let then the believer, as was ſaid, ſtudy and pray, and read God's Word continually, for the ſake of the Glory of this Truth, that it may be made more his own, and that his Conſcience may be more and more ſettled in the Power and Glory thereof.

Iſa. 45. 25. Rom. 5. 19.

Fourthly, As the Chriſtian ſhould moſt labour to get into the Power and Glory of this Doctrine, ſo let him ſee that he holds it faſt. This Doctrine is foreign to Fleſh and Blood; it is not Earthly, but from Heaven. It is with many that begin with this Doctrine, as it is with Boys that go to the Latin School; they learn till they have learned the Grounds of their Grammar, and then go home and forget all. How have many, that as to the Grounds of Chriſtian Religion, one would think, had been well taught, yet not taking ſuch Heed thereto as they ſhould, they have let ſlip all, and their Hearts have been filled with the world again, or elſe have drunk in ſome Opinion that has been diametrically oppoſite to what they profeſſed of the Truth before? Wherefore, haſt thou any thing of the Truth of Chriſt in thy Heart? hold that faſt that no Man takes thy Crown. Yea, grow in Grace, and in the Knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jeſus Chriſt.

Mat. 16, 17. Heb. 2. 1, 2, 3, 4. Rev. 3. 11. 2 Pet. 3. 18.

He that will retain and hold faſt the Doctrine of Redemption, and ſo by that, have, through Faith, an Inlet into all the abounding Mercy of God, muſt not deal in God's Matters with a ſlack Hand. 'Tis not enough for them that would do ſo, to be content with Sermons, Family-Duties, and other Publick Aſſemblies for Worſhip; but there muſt be a continual Exerciſe of the Mind about theſe Matters, and a Labour of the Soul to retain them in their Glory, and Sweetneſs; elſe they will firſt as to their Excellency, then as to the very Notion of them, ſlip from the Heart and be gone. Not that there is Treachery, or Deceit therein; but the Deceit lies in the Heart about them: He that will keep Water in a Sieve, muſt uſe more than ordinary Diligence. Our Heart is the leaking Veſſel; And therefore we ought to give the more earneſt heed to the things that we have heard, leſt at any time we ſhould let them ſlip.

Heb. 2. 1, 2, 3.

That this Doctrine may remain with us, we muſt alſo mortify our carnal Reaſon, for that makes Head againſt the Truth thereof, and what can fooliſhneſs do elſe! And the Wiſdom of this world, which is carnal Reaſon in its Improvements, is Fooliſhneſs with God. It is not ſubject to the Law of God, neither indeed can it be. It judges this Doctrine that we have been ſpeaking of,

of, Fooliſhneſs: Wherefore, it muſt be avoided, oppoſed, and mortified: and the Word of Faith the more carefully ſubmitted to. Truſt in the Lord with all thy heart, and lean not to thine own underſtanding. See here, truſting in the Lord, and leaning to our own Underſtanding are Oppoſites; wherefore, they muſt either be reconciled, or one quite adhered unto, in a way of Mortification of the other. Now 'tis ſafeſt in this Matter to keep a continual Guard upon our carnal Powers, and to give up ourſelves to the Conduct of our God, and in all our Ways acknowledge him that he (not ourſelves) may direct our Paths. 'Tis a great thing for a Man, when the Word, and his Reaſon claſhes, then to adhere to the Word, and let his Reaſon fall to the Ground. And this indeed is Chriſtianity in the Practic Part thereof. The Spirit of Chriſt in the word is to be hearkned unto, above all things.

1 Cor. 1. 20, 21, to 26. Prov. 3. 5. ver. 6. 2 Cor. 10. 3, 4, 5.

There muſt alſo be a continual War maintained upon all the Luſts of the Fleſh, that they may not draw away the Heart from the Study and Delight, the Love and Faith of the things that are hid in Chriſt. This I ſay, muſt be done, elſe the Heart cannot be at Liberty to wait upon the Lord without Diſtraction, for the further Communications of himſelf in his Son, according to his bleſſed Goſpel, to us. Many Chriſtians are lean in their Faith and too barren in their Lives, and all for want of being diligent here. Wherefore having Faith in this bleſſed Lord Jeſus Chriſt, as has been afore diſcourſed; in the next Place, giving all Diligence, add to your Faith, Vertue; and to Vertue, Knowledge; and to Knowledge, Temperance; and to Temperance, Patience; and to Patience, Godlineſs; and to Godlineſs, Brotherly Kindneſs; and to Brotherly Kindneſs Charity. For if theſe things be in you and abound, they make you that you ſhall neither be barren nor unfruitful in the Knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jeſus Chriſt. There is a Method that the Holy Ghoſt has preſcribed in the Word, for them that have Faith to obſerve; and without the Obſervation thereof, tho' they indeed may be of the Number of them that ſhall be ſaved, yet they ſhall not have much, nor do much for Chriſt and his Name, in this World. Now the unskilful, that are ſo in the Word of Righteouſneſs, finding this Method, and not diſcerning to whom it belongs, forthwith apply it to all; and forgetting that Faith muſt go before, they preſs them as Duties Preparatory to Faith, or elſe ſo call that which is not ſo; and ſo the Blind leading of the Blind, both fall into the Ditch, and are ſmothered. But do thou, O Child of God, diſtinguiſh, and keep Faith and Duty for Juſtification of thy Perſon in the Sight of God, far aſunder; alſo be ſure to let Faith go before, and be always with thy

Isa. 28. 9. 2 Pet. 1. 5, 6, 7, 8.

Saviour: But add unto thy Faith, Virtue; &c. not as though thy Faith could not lay hold of Chriſt, unleſs accompanied with theſe, but to ſhew that thy Faith is of the right kind, as alſo for the imboldening of thee to an holy Endeavour, yet to preſs further into his everlaſting Kingdom, his Word; for he that lacketh theſe things, is blind, and cannot ſee afar off, and has forgotten that he was purged from his old Sins.

Fifthly, That thou mayeſt keep ſtedfaſt to this Doctrine, take heed of being offended, or of ſtumbling at the Word, becauſe of the offenſive Lives and Converſations of ſome that are Profeſſors of the ſame. There will be Offences, and 'tis needful there ſhould; yea, Scandals and Hereſies alſo, that they that are approved of God may be made manifeſt among you. There are many Cauſes of the offenſive Lives of them that profeſs this Faith, ſome of which I will give a touch upon here.

1 Cor. 11. 19.

First, Many that adhere to, and profeſs this Goſpel, are ſhort of the Power and Glory of the things which they profeſs: Now the Word, the Word only, will not bring thoſe that profeſs it into a Conformity to it; into a Conformity in Heart and Life. Wherefore they that know it only in Word, live ſcandalous Lives, to the Reproach of the Faith, the imboldening of its Enemies, the ſtumbling of the ignorant, and Grief of the Godly, that are ſo indeed; and muſt bear their Judgment in the next World.

1 Cor. 4. 18, 19, 20.

Secondly, This alſo flows from the Wiſdom of Hell: The Devil knows that the Faith of the Goſpel rightly profeſſed, is, not only ſaving to thoſe in whom it is; but alluring unto Beholders; wherefore that he may prevent the beauteous Luſtre thereof, he ſows his Tares among God's Wheat, and goes his way, that is, to the end, thoſe that ſtumble, may not ſee what he hath done; or whoſe are the Tares indeed. Now by theſe the Sun-ſhine of the Faith of the true Profeſſors of this bleſſed Goſpel is clouded: Yea, and the World made believe, that ſuch as the worſt are, ſuch are the beſt; that there is never a Barrel better Herring, but that the whole Lump of them are in truth, a Pack of Knaves. Now has the Devil got the Point aimed at, and has cauſed many to fall; but behold ye now the good Reward theſe Tares ſhall have at the Day of Reward for their Doings. As therefore the Tares are gathered and burned in the fire, ſo ſhall it be in the end of this World. The Son of Man ſhall ſend forth his Angels, and they ſhall gather out of his Kingdom all things that offend, and them that do Iniquity, and ſhall caſt them into a Furnace of Fire, there ſhall be wailing and gnaſhing of Teeth.

Mat. 13. 37, 38, 39. ver. 40. ver. 41. ver. 42.

Thirdly, It alſo happeneth, ſometimes, through the Anger and Judgment of God againſt Sinners, that ſome of them truly gracious, do fall; as David, Peter, &c. The which is a great Tryal to the Godly, a Wound to the Perſons fallen, and a Judgment of God to the World: For ſince theſe laſt would not be converted, nor made turn to God by the convincing Glory that has attended their Faith in a holy and unblameable Life annexed, God has ſuffered them to fall that they alſo might ſtumble and fall, and be daſhed in Pieces by their Vices.

But thou Chriſtian Man, be not thou offended at any of theſe Things; do thou look unto Jeſus, do thou look unto his Word, do thou live by Faith, and think much of thy latter End; do thou be baſe in thine own Eyes, be humble and tender, and pray to God always; do thou add to thy Faith Vertue, and to Vertue what elſe is mentioned; and give Diligence to make thy Calling and Election ſure, for if thou doſt theſe Things thou ſhalt never fall: For ſo an Entrance ſhall be miniſtred unto you abundantly, into the everlaſting Kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jeſus Chriſt.

2 Pet. 1. 10, 11.

Sixthly, If it be ſo, that there is ſo much Mercy in the Heart of God for his People, and that Jeſus his Son has by his Blood, made ſo living a Way for us that we might enjoy it, and the Benefit of it for ever, Then let Iſrael hope; for to that End is this Goodneſs revealed; Let Iſrael hope in the Lord; for with the Lord there is Mercy, and with him is plenteous Redemption. Hope! who would not hope to enjoy Life eternal, that has an Inheritance in the God of Iſrael? Happy art thou O Iſrael; who is like unto thee, O People ſaved by the Lord, the Shield of thy help, and who is the Sword of thy Excellency! Did but the People of God ſee to what they are born, and how true the God of Truth will be to what by his Word they look for at his Hands, they would be above alway; they would be weary of Life, of Eſtates, of Relations; they would groan earneſtly under all their Enjoyments to be with him, who is their Life, their Nation, and their Glory for ever. But we profeſs, and yet care not for dying; we profeſs, and yet long not for the coming of the Day of God; we profeſs the Faith, and yet by our whole Life ſhew to them that can ſee, how little a Meaſure of it we have in our Hearts. The Lord lead us more into the Power of Things; then ſhall the Vertues of him that has ſaved us, and called us out of Darkneſs into his marvelous Light, and the Savour of his good Knowledge be made known to others, far otherwiſe than it is, Amen.

Deut. 33. 29.

Seventhly and Laſtly, Sinner, doth not all this Diſcourſe make thy Heart twitter after the Mercy that is with God, and after the Way that is made by this plenteous Redemption thereto? Methinks it ſhould; yea, thou couldeſt not do otherwiſe, didſt thou but ſee thy Condition; look behind thee, take a View of the Path thou haſt trodden this many Years: Doſt thou think that the Way that thou art in, will lead thee to the ſtrait Gate, Sinner? Ponder the Path of thy Feet with the greateſt Seriouſneſs; thy Life lies upon it; what thinkeſt thou? But make no Anſwer, till in the Night, till thou art in the Night Watches, Commune with thine own Heart upon thy Bed, and then ſay, what thou thinkeſt of, whether thou art going.

Pſal. 4. 4

Oh that thou wert ſerious! Is not it a Thing to be lamented, that Madneſs and Folly ſhould be in thy Heart while thou liveſt, and after that to go to the Dead, when ſo much Life ſtands before thee, and Light to ſee the Way to it: Surely Men void of Grace and poſſeſt of Carnal Minds, muſt either think that Sin is nothing, that Hell is eaſie, and that Eternity is ſhort; or elſe that whatever God has ſaid about the puniſhing of Sinners, he will never do as he has ſaid; or that there is no Sin, no God, no Heaven, no Hell, and ſo no good or bad hereafter; or elſe they could not live as they do. But perhaps thou preſumeſt upon it, and ſayſt, I ſhall have Peace, though I live ſo ſinful a Life: Sinner, if this wicked Thought be in thy Heart, tell me again, doſt thou thus think in earneſt? Canſt thou imagine thou ſhalt at the Day of Account out-face God, or make him believe thou waſt what thou waſt not? Or that when the Gate of Mercy is ſhut up in Wrath, he will at thy Pleaſure, and to the reverſing of his own Counſel, open it again to thee? Why ſhall thy deceived Heart turn thee aſide, that thou canſt not deliver thy Soul, nor ſay, is there not a Lie in thy right Hand?

Eccl. 9. 3.

Desire of the Righteous Granted:

OR, A

DISCOURSE of the Righteous Man's Desires.

PROV. XI. 23. The Desire of the Righteous is only good.
PROV. X. 24. The Fear of the Wicked, it shall come upon him; but the Desire of the Righteous shall be granted.

THIS Book of the Proverbs, is so called, because it is such as containeth hard, dark and pithy Sentences of Wisdom, by which is taught unto young Men, Knowledge and Discretion. Chap. 1. 2,3,4,5,6. Wherefore this Book is not such as discloseth Truths, by Words antecedent or subsequent to the Text, So as other Scriptures generally do, but has its Texts or Sentences more independent; for usually each Verse standeth upon its own Bottom, and presenteth by it self, some singular Thing to the Consideration of the Reader: So that I shall not need to bid my Reader look back to what went before, nor yet to that which follows, for the better opening of the Text: and shall therefore come immediately to the Words, and search into them, for what hidden Treasures are contained therein.

1. The Words then, in the first Place, present us with the general Condition of the whole World; for all Men are ranked under one of these Conditions; the Wicked or the Righteous: For he that is not Wicked, is Righteous; and he that is not Righteous, is Wicked. So again, Lay not wait (O Wicked Man) against the dwelling of the Righteous, spoil not his Dwelling-Place. I might give you out of this Book, many such Instances, for it flows with such; but the Truth hereof is plain enough.

The World is also divided by other general Terms, as by these; Believers, Unbelievers; Saints, Sinners; Good, Bad; Children of God, and Children of the Wicked one, &c. These, I say, are general Terms, and comprehend not this, or that Sect, or Order of each, but the whole: The Believer, Saint, Good, and Child of God, is one, to wit, the Righteous: The Unbeliever, the Sinner, the Bad, and the Child of the Devil, is one, to wit, the Wicked; as also the Text expresses them; so that I say, the Text, or these two Terms in it, comprehend all Men: The one, all that shall be saved; the other all that shall be Damned for ever in Hell-fire. Psal. 9.17. Psal. 11.6.

The [Wicked] who is he? But the Man that loves not God, nor to do his Will: The [Righteous] who is he? But the Man that loveth God, and his Holy Will to do it.

Of the Wicked there are several Sorts, some more ignorant, some more knowing; the more ignorant of them are such, as go to be executed, as the Ox goes to the Slaughter or as a Fool to the Correction of the Stocks: That is, as Creatures whose Ignorance makes them as unconcerned, while they are going down the Stairs to Hell. But alas their Ignorance will be no Plea for them before the Bar of God! for it is written, It is a People of no Understanding; therefore he that made them, will not have Mercy on them, and he that formed them will shew them no Favour. Prov. 7. 22. Isa. 27.11.

Though I must confess, the more knowing the Wicked is, or the more Light and Goodness such a one sins against, the greater will his Judgment be; these shall have greater Damnation: It shall be more tolerable at the Judgment for Sodom than for them. Luk. 10. 10,11,12. Ch. 20.47

There is a wicked Man that goes blinded, and a wicked Man that goes with his Eyes open to Hell; there is a wicked Man that cannot see, and a wicked Man that will not see the Danger he is in, but Hell-fire will open both their Eyes. Luk. 16. 23.

There are that are Wicked, and cover all with a Cloak of Religion; and there are that proclaim their Profaneness, but they will meet both in the Lake that burns with Fire and Brimstone; The Wicked shall be turned into Hell, and all the Nations that forget God. Psal. 9.17.

There are also several Sorts (if I may so express my self) of those that are truly Righteous, as Children, Young-men, Fathers, or Saints that fear God, both small and great. Some have more Grace than some, and some do better improve the Grace they have, than others of their Brethren do; some also are more valiant for the Truth upon the Earth, than others of their Brethren are: Yea, some are so swallowed up with God, and Love to his Word and Ways, that they are fit to be a Pattern or Example in Holiness, to all that are about them; and some again have their Light shining so dim, that they render themselves suspicious to their Brethren, whether they are of the Number of those that have Grace or no. But being gracious they shall not 1 Joh. 2. Rev. 11. 18.

be loſt, although ſuch will at the Day of Reward ſuffer loſs: For this is the Will of the Father that ſent the Son to be the Savi-1 Cor. 3. 15. Joh. 6. 37. 38, 39. our of the World, That of all that he had given him he ſhould loſe nothing, but ſhould raiſe it up at the laſt Day.

Secondly, In the next Place, we are here preſented with ſome of the Qualities of the Wicked and the Righteous; the Wicked has his Fears, the Righteous has his Deſires.

The Wicked has his Fears; the Fear of the Wicked it ſhall come upon him, and the Deſire of the Righteous ſhall be granted.

Indeed it ſeems to the Godly that the Wicked feareth not, nor doth he after a Godly Sort; for he that feareth God aright muſt not be reputed a Wicked Man. The Wicked through the Pride of his Countenance declareth that he feareth not God aright, becauſe he doth not graciouſly call upon him: But yet for all that, the Wicked at Times, are haunted, ſorely haunted, and Job 18. 11, to 15. that with the worſt of Fears; Terrors (ſays Bildad) ſhall make him afraid on every ſide: And again, His Confidence ſhall be rooted out of his Tabernacle, and it ſhall bring him to the King of Terrors.

A Wicked Man, though he may hector it at Times with his proud Heart, as though he feared neither God nor Hell; yet again at Times, his Soul is even drowned with Job 24. 14, to 18. Terrors; The Morning is to them even as the ſhadow of Death, if one knew them, they are in the Terrors of the ſhadow of Death.

At Times, I ſay, it is thus with them, eſpecially when they are under warm Convictions, that the Day of Judgment is at Hand, or when they feel in themſelves, as if Death was coming as a Tempeſt, to ſteal them away from their Enjoyments, and Luſts, and Delights; then the Bed ſhakes on which they lye, then the proud Tongue doth faulter in their Mouth, and their Knees knock one againſt another; then their Conſcience ſtares, and roars, and tears, and arraigns them before God's Judgment Seat, or threatens to follow them down to Hell, and there to wreck its Fury on them, for all the Abuſes and Affronts this wicked Wretch offered to it in the Day in which it controuled his unlawful Deeds.

Oh! none can imagine what fearful Plights a wicked Man is in ſometimes; though God in his juſt Judgment towards them, ſuffers them again and again, to ſtifle
2 Pet. 2. 7, 8, 9. and choak ſuch Awakenings, from a Purpoſe to reſerve them unto the Day of Judgment to be puniſhed.

Thirdly, In the third Place, as the Wicked has his Fears, ſo the Righteous has his Deſires; The Deſire of the Righteous ſhall be granted: But this muſt not be taken excluſively, as if the Wicked had nothing but Fears, and the Righteous nothing but Deſires. For both by Scripture and Experience alſo, we find, that the Wicked has his Deſires, and the Righteous Man his Fears.

1. For the Wicked, they are not without their Deſires, Let me die the Death of the Righteous, and let my laſt End be like his, was the Deſire of wicked Balaam: Num. 23. 10. And another Place ſaith, The Wicked boaſteth of his Heart's Deſire. That he is for Heaven as well as the beſt of you all, but yet, even then, he bleſſeth the Covetous whom the Lord abhorreth. Pſal. 10. 3.

Wicked Men have their Deſires and their Hopes too, but the Hope and Deſire of unjuſt Men periſheth; yea, and though they look and long too all the Day long, with Deſires of Life and Glory, yet their Fears, and them only ſhall come upon them; for they are the Deſires of the Righteous that ſhall be granted. Prov. 11. 7. Ch. 14. 32. Pſal. 112. 10.

The Deſires of the Wicked want a good Bottom, they flow not from a ſanctified Mind, nor of Love to the God, or the Heaven now deſired; but only from ſuch a Senſe, as Devils have of Torments, and ſo as they, they cry out, I beſeech thee torment me not. Luk. 8. 28. Ch. 16. 24.

But their Fears have a ſubſtantial Foundation, for they are grounded upon the View of an ill-ſpent Life, the due Reward of which is Hell-fire; the Unrighteous ſhall not inherit the Kingdom of God, their Place is without; for without are Dogs and Sorcerers, and Whoremongers, and Murderers, and Idolaters, and whoſoever loveth and maketh a Lie. 1 Cor. 6. 9, 10. Rev. 22. 14, 15.

Their Fears therefore have a ſtrong Foundation; they have alſo Matter to work upon, which is Guilt and Juſtice, the which they ſhall never be able to eſcape, without a Miracle of Grace and Mercy. Heb. 2. 3

Therefore it ſaith, and that with Emphaſis, The Fear of the Wicked it ſhall come upon him, wherefore his Deſires muſt die with him: for the Promiſe of a Grant of that which is deſired, is only entailed to Righteouſneſs, The Deſire of the Righteous ſhall be granted: But grant not O Lord, the Deſire of the Wicked, ſaid David. Pſal. 140. 8.

2. Nor are the Righteous without their Fears, and that even all their Life long, Through Fear of Death, they ſome of them, are all their Life-time ſubject to Bondage. Heb. 2. 15

But as the Deſires of the Wicked ſhall be fruſtrate, ſo ſhall alſo the Fears of the Godly; hence you have them admoniſhed, yea, commanded not to be afraid, neither of Devils, Death nor Hell; for the Fear of the Righteous ſhall not come upon them to Eternal Damnation, The Deſire of the Righteous ſhall be granted. Iſa. 35. 4. Chap. 41. 10, 13, 14. Ch. 43. 1. Ch. 44. 28. Luk. 8. 50. Ch. 12. 32. Rev. 1. 17.

No, they are not to fear what Sin can do unto them, not what all their Sins can do unto them; I do not ſay they ſhould not be afraid of Sinning, nor of thoſe temporal Judgments that Sin ſhall bring upon them, for of ſuch Things they ought to be afraid, as ſaith the Pſalmiſt, My Fleſh trembleth for Fear of thee, and I am afraid of thy Judgment. Pſal. 119. 120.

But

But of Eternal Ruin, of that they ought not to be afraid with ſlaviſh Fear; Wherefore ſhould I fear, ſaid the Prophet, in the Days of Evil, when the Iniquity of my Heels Pſal.49.5. ſhall compaſs me about? And again, Ye have 1 Sam.12 20,21,22. done all this Wickedneſs, yet turn not aſide from following the Lord; for the Lord will not forſake his People, for his great Name ſake.

The Reaſon is, becauſe the Righteous are ſecured by their Faith in Chriſt Jeſus; alſo their Fears ſtand upon a Miſtake of the Nature of the Covenant, in which they are wrapped up, which is ordered for them in all Things, and ſure. Beſides, God is pur- 2 Sam.23. 5. poſed to magnifie the Riches of his Grace in their Salvation, therefore Goodneſs and Iſa. 55. 3. Pſal.23.6. Mercy ſhall to that End, follow them all Eph. 1. 3, the Days of their Life, that they may dwell 4, 5, 6, 7. in the Houſe of the Lord for ever. They Heb.7.25. have alſo their Interceſſor and Advocate 1 Joh.2.1, 2. ready with God to take up Matters for 1 Pet. 1. 13. them, in ſuch a way, as may maintain true Peace betwixt their God and them, and as may encourage them to be ſober, and hope to the End, for the Grace that is to be brought unto them, at the Revelation of Jeſus Chriſt.

Wherefore, though the Godly have their Fears, yea ſometimes dreadful Fears, and that of periſhing for ever and ever; yet the Day is coming, when their Fears and Tears ſhall be done away, and when their Deſires only ſhall be granted; The fear of the Wicked, it ſhall come upon them; but the deſire of the Righteous ſhall be granted.

The Words then, are a Prediction or Prophecy, and that both concerning the Wicked and the Righteous, with Reference to Time and Things to come, and ſhall certainly be fulfilled in their Seaſon.

Hence it is ſaid concerning the Wicked, Job 20. 5. That their Triumphing is ſhort, and that the Joy of the Hypocrite is but for a Moment. Oh their End will be bitter as Wormwood, and will cut like a two-edged Sword! Of this Solomon admoniſhes Youth, when Eccl.11.9. he ſaith, Rejoyce O young Man in thy Youth, and let thy Heart chear thee in the Days of thy Youth, and walk in the Ways of thine Heart, and in the Sight of thine Eyes; but know thou, that for all theſe Things, God will bring thee to Judgment.

This therefore ſheweth the deſperate Spirit that poſſeſſes the Children of Men, who though they hear and read all this, yet cannot be reclaimed from ſuch Courſes that are Wicked, and that lead to ſuch a Condition; Prov. 5.7, to 16. I ſay, they will not be reclaimed from ſuch Courſes, as lead to Ways that go down to Hell, where their Soul muſt mourn, even then, when their Fleſh and their Body are conſumed. Oh! how dear bought are their Pleaſures, and how will their Laughter be turned into Tears and Anguiſh unutterable? 2 Pet.2.3. And that preſently, for 'tis coming: Their Judgment now of a long Time lingreth not, and their Damnation ſlumbreth not. But what good will their Covenant of Death then do them? and will their Agreement of Hell yield them Comfort? Is not God as well mighty to puniſh as to ſave? Or can theſe Sinners believe God out of the World? Or cauſe that he ſhould not pay them home Iſa. 28.19. for their Sins, and recompence them for all Job 21. 29. 30, 31. the Evil they have loved, and continued in Ezek. 22. the Commiſſion of? Can thy Heart endure, 14. or can thy Hands be ſtrong in the Day that God ſhall deal with thee?

Thou art bold now, I mean bold in a wicked Way; thou ſayeſt now, thou wilt keep thy ſweet Morſels of Sin under thy Tongue, thou wilt keep them ſtill within thy Mouth; Poor Wretch! read Job 20. 11. Thy Sins ſhall lie down in the Duſt with thee. Thou haſt ſucked the Poyſon of Aſps, and the Viper's Tongue ſhall ſlay thee, ver. 16. Thou ſhalt not ſee the Rivers, the ſtreaming Floods, the Brooks of Butter and Honey, ver. 17. All Darkneſs ſhall be hid in thy ſecret Places, a Fire not blown ſhall conſume thee, &c. This is the Portion of a wicked Man from God, and the Heritage appointed to him by God, ver. 26, 27, 28, 29.

And as they predict or prophecy what ſhall become of the Wicked; ſo alſo they plentifully foretel what ſhall happen to the Righteous, when he ſaith, Their Deſire ſhall be granted: Of which more anon.

Only here I will drop this ſhort Hint, That the Righteous have great Cauſe to Rejoyce; for what more pleaſing, what more comfortable to a Man, than to be aſſured, and that from the Spirit of Truth, that what he deſireth ſhall be granted? and this the Righteous are aſſured of here, for he ſaith it in Words at length; The Deſire of the Righteous ſhall be granted.

This then ſhould comfort them againſt their Fears, and the Senſe of their Unworthineſs; it ſhould alſo make them hold up their Heads under all their Temptations, and the Affronts that is uſual for them to meet with in the World. The Righteous! who ſo vilified as the Righteous? He by the Wiſemen of the World is counted a very Abraham, a Fool; like to him who is the Father of us all.

But as he left all for the Deſire that he had of a better Country, and at laſt obtained his Deſire (for after he had patiently endured, he obtained the Promiſe:) So thoſe Heb.6.15. that walk in the Steps of that Faith, which our Father Abraham had, even thoſe alſo in the End, ſhall find Place in Abraham's Boſom: Wherefore it is meet that we ſhould chear up and be glad, becauſe what we deſire ſhall be granted unto us.

But I ſhall here leave off this ſhort Way of paraphrazing upon the Text, and ſhall come more diſtinctly to enquire into the Nature of the Words; but my ſubject Matter ſhall be the laſt Part of the Verſe, The Deſire of the Righteous ſhall be granted: From which Words there are theſe Things to be enquired into.

First, What or who is the Righteous Man?

Secondly, What are the Desires of a Righteous Man.

Thirdly, What is meant or to be understood, by the Granting of the Desires of the Righteous; The Desires of the Righteous shall be granted.

1. For the first of these, namely, What or who is the Righteous Man?

My Way of prosecuting this Head shall be to shew you first, that I intend a righteous Man, not in every Sense, but in that which is the best; otherwise I shall miscarry as to the Intendment of the Holy Ghost; for it may not be supposed that these Words reach to them that are Righteous in a general, but in a special Sense; such I mean that are so in the Judgment of God. For as I hinted, there are several Sorts of Righteous Men, that yet have nothing to do with this blessed Promise, or that shall never, as such, have their Desires granted.

1. There is one that is Righteous in his own Eyes, and is yet far enough off from the Blessing of the Text; There is a Generation that are Pure or Righteous in their own Sight, yet are not purged from their Filthiness. Prov. 30. 13.

These are they that you also read of in the Evangelist Luke, that are said to trust in themselves that they were Righteous, and despised others. Luk. 18. 9.

These are set so low, by this their foolish Confidence, in the Eyes of Jesus Christ, that he even preferred a praying Publican before them. Wherefore these cannot be the Men, I mean those Righteous Men, to whom this Promise is made. Ver. 13, 14.

2. There are those that by others are counted Righteous. I mean they are so accounted by their Neighbours. Thus Corah and his companied are called, the People of the Lord, and all the Congregation by them also, called Holy, every one of them, Numb. 16. 3, 41. But as he who commends himself is not approved: so 'tis no great Matter if all the World shall count us Righteous, if God esteemeth us not for such. For not he that commendeth himself is approved, but whom the Lord commends. 2 Cor. 10. 18.

3. There are those, that indeed are Righteous when compared with others. I came not to call the Righteous. For scarcely for a righteous Man will one dye, and the like, are Texts thus to be understood. For such as these, are as to Life mortal, better than others. But these, if they are none otherwise righteous, than by Acts and Works of Righteousness of their own, are not the Persons contained in the Text, that are to have their Desires granted.

4. The Righteous Man therefore in the Text, is, and ought to be thus described.

1. He is one whom God makes Righteous by reckoning him so.

2. He is one that God makes Righteous by possessing of him with a Principle of Righteousness.

3. He is one that is practically Righteous.

First, He is one that God makes Righteous. Now if God makes him Righteous his Righteousness is not his own; I mean this Sort of Righteousness. Their Righteousness is of me, saith the Lord. Isa. 54. 17. Phil. 3. 6, 7, 8, 9.

God then makes a Man Righteous by putting Righteousness upon him; by putting the Righteousness of God upon him. Hence we are said to be made the Righteousness of God in Christ. For God hath made him to be Sin for us who knew no Sin, that we might be made the Righteousness of God in him. 2 Cor. 5. 21.

Thus God therefore reckoneth one Righteous, even by imputing that unto us, which is able to make us so; he is made unto us of God Righteousness. Wherefore he saith again, in the Lord shall all the Seed of Israel be justified and shall Glory. Isa. 45. 25. 1 Cor. 1. 30.

The Righteousness then by which a Man is made righteous, with Righteousness to Justification of Life before God (for that is it we are speaking of now) is the Righteousness of another than is he who is justified thereby. Hence it is said again, by the Soul thus justified and made Righteous, The Lord hath cloathed me with the Garment of Salvation and covered me with the Robe of Righteousness. As he also saith in another Place, I spread my Skirt over thee, and covered thy Nakedness. Isa. 61. 10. Ezek. 16. 8.

This we call a Being made righteous by reckoning, by the reckoning of God; for none is of Power to reckon one righteous, but God, because none can make one so to be, but him.

He that can make me Rich, though I am in my self the poorest of Men, may reckon me rich, if together with his so reckoning, he indeed doth make me Rich. This is the Case, God makes a Man righteous by bestowing of Righteousness upon him, by counting the Righteousness of his Son, for his. He gives him Righteousness, a Righteousness already performed, and compleated by the Obedience of his Son. Rom. 5. 19.

Not that this Righteousness by being bestowed upon us, is severed from Jesus Christ: for it is still his, and in him. How then, may some say, doth it become ours?

I answer, by our being put into him. For of God are we in Christ Jesus, who is made unto us, of him, Righteousness. And again, we are made the Righteousness of God in him. So then, the Righteousness of Christ covereth his, as a Man's Garments cover the Members of his Body, (for we are the Body of Christ, and Members in particular.) The Righteousness therefore is Christ's, resideth still in him, and covereth us, as the Child is lapped up in its Father's Skirts, or as the Chicken is covered with the Feathers of the Hen. 1 Cor. 12. 27. Mat. 23. 37.

I make

Ezek. 15. 8. Psal. 36. 7. I make use of all these Similitudes, thereby to inform you of my meaning, for by all these Things are set forth the Way of our being made Righteous to Justification of Life.

Now thus a Man is made Righteous, without any Regard to what he has, or to what is of him: for as to him, it is utterly anothers. Just as if I should with the Skirts of my Garment take up and cloath some poor and naked Infant, that I find cast out into the open Field. Now if I cover the Person, I cover Scabs, and Sores, and Ulcers, and all Blemishes. Hence God by putting this Righteousness upon us, is said to hide and cover our Sins. Blessed is the Man whose Transgressions are forgiven, and whose Sin is covered. Blessed is the Man to whom the Lord will not impute Sin. Rom. 4. 6, 7, 8.

For since this Righteousness is Christ's, and counted or reckoned ours by the Grace of God, it is therefore bestowed upon us, not because we are, but to make us righteous before the Face of God. Hence, as I said, it is said to make us righteous, even as gay Cloaths do make a naked Body fine. He hath made him to be Sin for us, who knew no Sin, that we might be MADE the Righteousness of God in him.

This is of absolute Necessity to be known, and to be believed. For without this, no Man can be counted Righteous before God, and if we stand not Righteous before God, it will benefit us nothing as to Life Eternal, though we should be counted Righteous by all the Men on Earth. Besides if God counts me Righteous, I am safe, though in, and of my self I am nothing but a Sinner, and ungodly. The Reason is, because God has right to bestow Righteousness upon me; for he has Righteousness to spare, he has also a right to forgive, because Sin is the Transgression of the Law. Yea, he has therefore sent his Son into the World to accomplish Righteousness for Sinners, and God of his Mercy bestows it upon those that shall it receive by Faith. Now if God shall count me Righteous, who will be so hardy as to conclude, I yet shall Perish? 'Tis God that justifies, who is he that condemneth? It is Christ that died, yea, rather that is risen again; who is even at the right Hand of God, who also maketh Intercession for us. Who shall separate us from the Love of Christ? Rom. 8. 33, 34, 35.

Thus therefore is a Man MADE Righteous, even of God by Christ, or through his Righteousness. Now if, as we said, a Man is thus made Righteous, then in this Sense, he is good before God before he has done any Thing of that which the Law calls good before Men, for God maketh not Men Righteous with this Righteousness, because they have been, or have done good, but before they are capable of doing good at all. Hence we are said to be justified while ungodly, even as an Infant is cloathed with the Skirt of another while naked as touching itself. Rom. 4. 4, 5.

Works therefore do not proceed, but follow after this Righteousness; and even thus it is in Nature, the Tree must be good before it bear good fruit, and so also must a Man. 'Tis as impossible to make a Man bring forth good Fruit to God before he is of God made good; as it is for a Thorn or Bramble-bush, to bring forth Figs, or Grapes. Mat. 7. 15. 16.

But again, a Man must be righteous before he can be good; Righteous by Imputation, before his Person, his Intellectuals can be qualified with good, as to the Principle of good. For Faith, the Spirit, nor any Grace is given unto the Sinner before God has made him righteous with this Righteousness of Christ. Wherefore 'tis said, that after he had spread his Skirt over us, he washed us with water; that is, with the Washing of Sanctification. Ezek. 16. 8, 9.

And to conclude otherwise, is as much as to say, That an unjustified Man, has Faith, the Spirit and the Graces thereof, which to say, is to overthrow the Gospel. For what need of Christ's Righteousness, if a Man may have Faith and the Spirit of Christ without it, since the Spirit is said to be the Earnest of our Inheritance, and that by which we are sealed unto the Day of Redemption? Ephes. 1. Chap. 4.

But the Truth is, the Spirit which makes our Person good, I mean that which sanctifies our Natures, is the Fruit of the Righteousness which is by Jesus Christ. For as Christ died and rose again, before he sent the Holy Ghost from Heaven to his; so the Benefit of his Death and Resurrection is by God bestowed upon us, in order to the Spirit's possessing of our Souls.

2. And this leads me to the second thing, namely, That God makes a Man Righteous by possessing of him with a Principle of Righteousness, even with the Spirit of Righteousness. For though, as to Justification before God from the Curse of the Law, we are made righteous while we are ungodly, and yet Sinners; yet being made free from Sin, thus, we forthwith become through a Change which the Holy Ghost works in our Minds, the Servants of God. Hence, 'tis said, There is therefore now no Condemnation to those that are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the Flesh but after the Spirit. For though, as the Apostle also insinuates here, that being in Christ Jesus is antecedent to our walking after the Spirit: yet a Man can make no Demonstration of his being in Christ Jesus, but by his walking in the Spirit? because the Spirit is an inseparable Companion of imputed Righteousness, and immediately follows it to dwell with whomsoever it is bestowed upon. Rom. 4. 4, 5. Chap. 5. 7, 8, 9. Rom. 8. 1, 2.

Now it dwelling in us, principles us in all the Powers of our Souls, with that which is Righteousness in the Habit and Nature of it. Hence the Fruits of the Spirit are called, The fruits of goodness and Righte-

Righteouſneſs, as the Fruits of a Tree are called the Fruit of that Tree.

Eph. 5. 9. And again, He that doth Righteouſneſs is righteous, not only in our firſt Senſe, but even in this alſo. For who can do Righteouſneſs without he be principled ſo to do? who can act Reaſon, that hath not Reaſon? So none can bring forth Righteouſneſs that hath not in him the Root of Righteouſneſs, which is the Spirit of God, which comes to us by Virtue of our being made Sons of God. Hence the Fruits of the Spirit, are called the Fruits of Righteouſneſs, which are by Jeſus Chriſt to the Praiſe and Glory of God.

1 Joh. 2. 19. Ch. 3. 7. Philip. 1. 11. Gal. 4. 5, 6, 7.

This then is the thing we ſay, to wit, That he that is made righteous unto Juſtification of Life before God, is alſo habituated with a Principle of Righteouſneſs, as that which follows that Righteouſneſs by which he ſtands juſt before. I ſay as that which follows it, for it comes by Jeſus Chriſt, and by our being juſtified before God, and made righteous through him.

This ſecond then, alſo comes to us before we do any Act ſpiritually good. For how can a Man act Righteouſneſs but from a Principle of Righteouſneſs? And ſeeing this Principle is not of, or by nature, but of, and by Grace, through Chriſt, it follows, that as no Man is juſt before God that is not covered with the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt; ſo no Man can do Righteouſneſs but by the Power of the Spirit of God which muſt dwell in him. Hence we are ſaid by the Spirit to mortify the Deeds of the Body, which Works are preparatory to fruitful Actions. The Husband-man, ſays Paul, that laboureth, muſt firſt be Partaker of the fruit. So he that worketh Righteouſneſs, muſt firſt be bleſſed with a Principle of Righteouſneſs.

2 Tim. 2. 1 to 7.

Men muſt have Eyes before they ſee, Tongues before they ſpeak, and Legs before they go; even ſo muſt a man be made habitually good and righteous before he can work Righteouſneſs. This then is the ſecond thing. God makes a Man righteous by poſſeſſing him with a Principle of Righteouſneſs: which Principle is not of Nature, but of Grace; not of Man, but God.

Thirdly, The Man in the Text, is practically righteous, or one that declareth himſelf by Works that are good, a virtuous, a righteous Man, even as the Tree declares by the Apple or Plumb it beareth, what Manner of Tree it is; You ſhall know them by their Fruits.

Mat. 7. 16.

Fruits ſhew outwardly what the Heart is principled with; ſhew me then thy Faith which abideth in the Heart, by thy Works in a well-ſpent Life.

Mark how the Apoſtle words it, We being ſaith he, made free from ſin, and become the Servants of God, have our Fruit unto Holineſs, and the End everlaſting Life.

Rom. 6. 19 to 23.

Mark his Order, firſt we are made free from Sin; now that is by being juſtified freely by the Grace of God through the Redemption which is in Jeſus Chriſt, whom God has ſet forth to be a Propitiation thro' Faith in his Blood. Now this is God's act without any Regard at all to any Good that the Sinner has or can accompliſh; not by Works of Righteouſneſs which we have done, but according to his Mercy thus he ſaveth us.

Rom. 3. 24. 2 Tim. 1. 9. Tit. 3. 5.

Now being made free from Sin, what follows? We become the Servants of God, that is, by that turn which the Holy Ghoſt makes upon our Heart, when it reconciles it to the Word of God's Grace. For that, as was ſaid afore, is the effect of the indwelling and Operation of the Holy Ghoſt. Now having our Hearts thus changed by God and his Word, the Fruits of Righteouſneſs put forth themſelves by us. For as when we were in the Fleſh, the Motions of Sin which is in our Members did bring forth Fruit unto Death; ſo now, if we are in the Spirit, (And we are not in the Fleſh but in the Spirit, if ſo be the Spirit of Chriſt dwells in us,) by the Motions and Workings of that, we have our fruit unto Holineſs, and the End everlaſting Life.

Rom. 8. 6, 7, 8, 9.

But now by theſe fruits, we are neither made righteous, nor good? for the Apple maketh not the Tree good, it only declares it ſo to be. Here therefore all thoſe are miſtaken that think to be Righteous by doing of righteous Actions, or good by doing good. A Man muſt firſt be righteous or he cannot do Righteouſneſs, to wit, that which is Evangelically ſuch. Now if a Man is, and muſt be righteous, before he acts Righteouſneſs; than all his works are born too late to, make him juſt before God; for his Works if they be right, flow from the Heart of a righteous Man, of a Man that had, before he had any good Work, a twofold Righteouſneſs beſtowed on him; one to make him Righteous in the Sight of God, the other to principle him to be Righteous before the World. That he might be called a Tree of Righteouſneſs, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified.

Iſa. 61. 3.

The want of underſtanding of this, is that which keeps ſo many in a miſt of Darkneſs about the Way of Salvation; for they, poor Hearts, when they hear of the Need that they have of a Righteouſneſs to commend them to God, being ignorant of the Righteouſneſs of God, that is, of that which God Imputeth to a Man, and that by which he counteth him Righteous, have it not in their Thoughts to accept of that unto Juſtification of life, but preſently betake themſelves to the Law of Works, and fall to work there for the performing of a Righteouſneſs, that they may be accepted of God for the ſame, and ſo ſubmit not themſelves to the Righteouſneſs of God, by which, and by which only, the Soul ſtands juſt before God.

Rom. 10. 1, 2, 3.

Wherefore, I ſay, it is neceſſary that this be

be distinctly laid down; That a Man must be righteous first, even before he doth Righteousness; the Argument is plain from the Order of Nature, For a Corrupt Tree
Luk.6.43. cannot bring forth good Fruit: Wherefore make the Tree good, and so his Fruit good; or the Tree corrupt, and his Fruit corrupt.

Reason also says the same; for how can Blacks beget white Children, when both Father and Mother are Blacks? How can a Man without Grace, and the Spirit of Grace, do good? Nature is defiled even Tit. 1. 15. to the Mind and Conscience; how then can good Fruit come from such a Stock?

Besides, God accepteth not any Work of a Person, which is not first accepted of him; The Lord had respect to Abel and to
Gen. 4. 4. his Offering: To Abel first, that is, before that Abel offered. But how could God have respect to Abel, if Abel was not pleasing in his Sight? And how could Abel be yet pleasing in his Sight, for the sake of his own Righteousness, when 'tis plain that Abel had not yet done good Works? He was therefore first made acceptable in the Sight of God, by and for the sake of that Righteousness, which God of his Grace, had put upon him to Justification of Life; through and by which also, the Holy Ghost in the Graces of it, dwelt in Abel's Soul; now Abel being justified, and also possessed with this holy Principle, he offers his Sacrifice to God. Hence 'tis said, that he offered by Faith, by the Faith which he had precedent to his Offering; for if through Faith he offered, he had that Faith before he offered, that is plain. Now his Faith looked not for Acceptance for the sake of what he offered, but for the sake of that Righteousness, which it did apprehend God had already put upon him, and by which he was made righteous; wherefore his Offering was the Offering of a righteous Man,
Heb.11.4. of a Man made righteous first; And so the Text saith; By Faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent Sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained Witness that he was Righteous, that is, antecedent to his Offering: For he had Faith in Christ to come, by which he was made righteous; He also had the Spirit of Faith, by which he was possessed with a righteous Principle: And so being in this Manner made righteous, righteous before God, and also principled to work, he comes and offereth his more acceptable Sacrifice to God. For this all will grant, namely, that the Works of a righteous Man, are more excellent than are even the best Works of the Wicked. Hence Cain's Works came behind, for God had not made him righteous, had no respect unto his Person, had not given him the Spirit and Faith, whereby alone Men are made
Gen. 4. 5. capable to offer acceptably: But to Cain and to his Offering, the Lord had not respect.

From all which 'tis manifest, that the Person must be accepted, before the Duty performed can be pleasing unto God: And if the Person must first be accepted, 'tis evident that the Person must first be righteous; but if the Person be righteous before he doth good, then it follows, that he is made righteous by a Righteousness that is none of his own, that he hath had no hand in further, than to receive it as the gracious Gift of God: Deny this, and it follows that God accepteth Men without respect to Righteousness, and then what follows that, but that Christ is dead in vain?

We must not therefore be deceived, He 1 Joh. 3. 7. that doth Righteousness is righteous, even as the Lord is righteous: He doth not say, he that doth Righteousness shall be righteous; as if his doing Works, would make him so before God: But he that doth Righteousness IS righteous, antecedent to his doing Righteousness. And it must be thus understood, else that which follows signifies nothing; for he saith; He that doth Righteousness is righteous, even as the Lord his God is righteous. But how is the Lord righteous? Even antecedent to his Works. The Lord was righteous before he wrought Righteousness in the World; and even so are we, 1 John 4.
to wit, every Child of God. As he is, so 17.
are we, in this World.

But we must in this, admit of this Difference; the Lord was Eternal and Essentially Righteous before he did any Work, but we are imputatively righteous, and also made so by a second Work of Creation, before we do good Works. It holds therefore only as to Order; God was Righteous before he made the World, and we are righteous before we do good Works.

Thus therefore we have described the righteous Man.

1. He is one whom God makes righteous by Reckoning or Imputation.

2. He is one that God makes righteous by possessing of him with a Principle of Righteousness.

3. He is one that is practically righteous.

Nor dare I give a narrower Description of a righteous Man, than this; nor otherwise than thus.

1. I dare not give a narrower Description of a righteous Man than this, because whoever pretends to Justification, if he be not sanctified, pretends to what he is not; and Jam. 1. 22 to 28.
whoever pretends to Sanctification, if he shews not the Fruits thereof by a holy Life, he deceiveth his own Heart, and professeth but in vain.

2. Nor dare I give this Description otherwise than thus, because there is a real Distinction to be put between that Righteousness by which we should be just before God, and that which is in us a Principle of Sanctification; the first being the Obedience of the Son of God without us, the second being the Work of the Spirit in our Hearts.

There is alſo a difference to be put betwixt the Principle by which we work Righteouſneſs, and the Works themſelves; as a difference is to be put betwixt the Cauſe, and the Effect; the Tree and the Apple.

I come now to the ſecond Thing into which we are to enquire, and that is,

What are the Deſires of a righteous Man?

My Way of handling this Queſtion ſhall be,

1. To ſpeak of the Nature of Deſire in the general.

2. And then to ſhew you more particularly, What are the Deſires of the Righteous.

1. For the firſt: Deſires in General may be thus deſcribed, They are the Workings of the Heart or Mind, after that of which the Soul is perſuaded that it is good to be enjoyed: This, I ſay, is ſo, without Reſpect to Regulation; for we ſpeak not now of good Deſires, but of Deſires themſelves, even as they flow from the Heart of a Human Creature; I ſay Deſires are, or may be called, The working of the Heart after this or that; the ſtrong Motions of the Mind unto it.

Gen. 3. 16. Ezek. 24. 16. Deut. 21. 10, 11. Song 8. 6, 7.

1. Hence the Love of Women to their Husbands, is called, their Deſires; and the Wife alſo is called, The Deſire of the Husband's Eye. Alſo Love to Woman, to make her ones Wife, is called by the Name of Deſire. Now how ſtrong the Motions or Paſſions of Love are, who is there that is an utter Stranger thereto?

Pſal. 145. 16. Luk. 16. 21.

2. Hunger is alſo a moſt vehement Thing; and that which is called Hunger in one Place, is called Deſire in another: And he deſired to be fed with the Crumbs which fell from the rich Man's Table.

Pſal. 106. 14.

3. Exceeding Luſtings are called Deſires, to ſhew the Vehemency of Deſires.

Pſal. 78. 27, 28, 29.

4. Longings, Pantings, Thirſtings, Prayers, &c. if there be any Life in them, are all Fruits of a deſirous Soul.

5. Deſires therefore, flow from the Conſideration of the Goodneſs, or Profitableneſs, or Pleaſurableneſs of a Thing; yea, all Deſires flow from thence: For a Man deſires not that about which he has had no Conſideration, nor that neither on which he has Thought, if he doth not judge it will yield him ſomething worth deſiring.

When Eve ſaw the forbidden Fruit was a beautiful Tree (though her Sight deceived her) then ſhe deſired it, and took thereof her ſelf, and gave to her Husband, and he did eat: Yea, ſaith the Text, when ſhe

Gen. 3. 6. ſaw that it was a Tree to be deſired, to make one Wiſe, ſhe took.

Exod. 20. 17. Deut. 5. 21

6. Hence that which is called Coveting in one Place, is called Deſiring in another, for Deſires are Craving; and by Deſires a Man ſeeks to enjoy what is not his.

From all theſe Things therefore we ſee what Deſire is; It is the working of the Heart, after that, which the Soul is perſuaded that it is good to be enjoyed: And of them there are theſe two Effects.

1. One is (on a Suppoſition that the Soul is not ſatisfied with what it has) to cauſe the Soul to range and hunt through the World for ſomething that may fill up that Vacancy, that yet the Soul finds in it ſelf, and would have ſupplied. Hence deſires are ſaid to be wandring, and the Soul ſaid to walk by them: Better is the Sight of Eccl. 6. 8. the Eyes than the wandring of the Deſire, or than the walking of the Soul. Deſires are hunting Things, and how many Things do ſome empty Souls ſeek after, both as to the World, and alſo as to Religion, who have deſirous Minds?

2. The ſecond Effect is; if Deſires be ſtrong they carry all away with them, they are like Sampſon, They will pull down the Gates of a City, but they will go out abroad; nothing can ſtop the Current of Deſires, but the Enjoyment of the Thing deſired, or a Change of Opinion as to the worth, or want of Worth of the Thing that is deſired.

But we will now come to the Thing more particularly intended, which is,

To ſhew, what are the Deſires of the Righteous; this is that which the Text calls us to the Conſideration of, becauſe it ſaith, The Deſire of the Righteous ſhall be granted.

We have hitherto ſpoken of Deſires, as to the Nature of them, without Reſpect to them as good or bad; but now we ſhall ſpeak to them, as they are the Effects of a ſanctified Mind, as they are the Breathings, Pantings, Luſtings, Hungerings and Thirſtings, of a righteous Man.

The Text ſays, The Deſires of the righteous ſhall be granted; what then are the Deſires of the righteous? Now I will,

1. Speak to their Deſires in the general, or with reference to them as to their Bulk.

2. I will ſpeak to them more particularly as they work this Way, and that,

First, For their Deſires in the general: The ſame Solomon that ſaith, The Deſire of Pro. 11. 23 the Righteous ſhall be granted, ſaith alſo, The Deſire of the Righteous is only good.

This Text giveth us, in the general, a Deſcription of the Deſires of a righteous Man, and a ſharp and ſmart Deſcription it is: For where, may ſome ſay, is then the righteous Man, or the Man that hath none but good Deſires? And if it be anſwered, they are good in the main, or good in the general, yet that will ſeem to come ſhort of an Anſwer; for in that he ſaith, The Deſires of the Righteous are only good, it is as much as to ſay, that a righteous Man has none but good Deſires, or deſireth nothing but Things that are good.

Wherefore, before we go any further; I muſt labour to reconcile the Experience of good Men with this Text, which thus gives us a Deſcription of the Deſires of the Righteous.

First then, a Righteous Man, is to be conſidered considered more generally, or more strictly.

1. More generally, as he consisteth of the whole Man, of Flesh and Spirit, of Body and Soul, of Grace and Nature; now consider him thus, and you can by no Means reconcile the Text with his Experience, nor his Experience with the Text. For as he is Body, Flesh and Nature (for all these are with him, though he is a righteous Man) so he has Desires vastly different from those described by this Text, vastly differing from what is good; yea, what is it not, that is naught, that the Flesh and Nature even of a righteous Man will not desire? Do you think that the Scripture speaketh in Vain, the Spirit that dwelleth in us lusteth to Envy? And again, In me, that is, in my Flesh, dwelleth no good Thing: And again, The Flesh lusteth against the Spirit: And again, The Lusts thereof do war against the Soul.

Jam. 4. 5. Rom. 7. 18 Gal. 5. 17. 1 Pet. 2. 11.

From all these Texts we find, that a righteous Man has other Workings, Lusts and Desires, than such only that are good; here then, if we consider of a righteous Man thus generally, is no Place of Agreement betwixt him and this Text.

We must then consider of him in the next Place more strictly, as he may and is to be distinguished from his Flesh, his carnal Lusts, and sinful Nature.

Secondly, Then a righteous Man is taken sometimes as to, or for his best Part, or as he is a second Creation; and so, or as so considered, His Desires are only good.

2 Cor. 5. 17, 18. Ephes. 2. 10. Joh. 3. 6. 1 joh. 3. 9 Col. 3. 10.

1. He is taken sometimes as to, or for his best Part, or as he is a second Creation, as these Scriptures declare; If any Man is in Christ, he is a new Creature, all Things are become new; created in Christ Jesus, born of God, become heavenly Things, renewed after the Image of him that created them, and the like.

By all which Places, the sinful Flesh, the old Man, the Law of Sin, the outward Man, all which are corrupt according to the deceitful Lusts, are excluded, and so pared off from the Man, as he is righteous; for his Delight in the Law of God is after the inward Man.

And Paul himself was forced thus to distinguish of himself, before he could come to make a right Judgment in this Matter; saith he, That which I do, I allow not; what I would, I do not; but what I hate, that do I. See you not here how he cleaves himself in twain, severing himself as he is Spiritual, from himself as he is Carnal; and ascribeth his Notions to what is good to himself only, as he is Spiritual, or the new Man; If then I do that which I would not, I consent to the Law that it is good.

But I trow Sir, your consenting to what is good, is not by that Part which doth do what you would not; no, no, saith he, That which doth do what I would not, I disown, and count it no Part of sanctified Paul: Now then it is no more I that do it, but Sin that dwells in me; for in me (that is, in my Flesh) dwells no good Thing, for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good, I find not: For the good that would, I do not, but the evil that I would not, that I do: Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but Sin that dwells in me. Thus you see, Paul is forced to make two Men of himself, saying, I and I; I do, I do not; I do, I would not do; what I hate, that I do: Now it cannot be the same I, unto whom these Contraries are applied, but his sinful Flesh is one I, and his godly Mind the other: And indeed so he concludes it in this Chapter, saying, So then with the Mind I my self serve the Law of God, but with the Flesh the Law of Sin. Rom. 7.

Thus therefore the Christian Man must distinguish concerning himself; and doing so, he shall find, though he has Flesh, and as he is such, he hath Lusts contrary to God; yet as he is a new Creature, he allows not, but hates the Motions and Desires of the Flesh, consents to, and wills and delights in the Law of God. Ver. 15. to 23.

Yea, as a new Creature, he can do nothing else; for the new Man, inward Man, or hidden Man of the Heart, being the immediate Work of the Holy Ghost, and consisting only of that which is Divine and Heavenly; cannot breath, or act, or desire to act, in Ways and Courses, that are carnal: Wherefore in this Sense, or as the Righteous Man is thus considered, his Desires are only good.

Secondly, As the righteous Man must here be taken for the best Part, for the I that would do good, for the I that hates the Evil; so again, we must consider of the Desires of this righteous Man, as hey flow from that Fountain of Grace, which is the Holy Ghost within him, and as they are immediately mixed with those foul Channels, in and through which they must pass, before they can be put forth into Acts.

For though the Desire, as to its Birth, and first Being, is only good, yet before it comes into much Motion, it gathers that from the Defilements of the Passages through which it comes, as makes it to bear a Tang of Flesh, and Weakness in the Skirts of it; and the Evil that dwells in us is so universal, and also always so ready, that as sure as there is any Motions to what is good, so sure evil is present with it; for when or whenever I would do good, says Paul, evil is present with me.

Hence it follows that all our Graces, and so our Desires, receive Disadvantage by our Flesh, that mixing it self with what is good, and so abates the Excellency of the good.

There is a Spring that yieldeth Water good and clear, but the Channels through which this Water comes to us, are muddy, foul or dirty; now of the Channels, the

Waters

Waters receive a Diſadvantage, and ſo come to us as ſavouring of what came not with them, from the Fountain, but from the Channels.

This is the Cauſe of the Coolneſs, and of the Weakneſs, of the Flatneſs, and of the many Extravagances that attend ſome of our Deſires; they come warm from the Spirit and Grace of God in us; but as hot Water runneth through cold Pipes, or as clear Water runneth through dirty Conveyances, ſo our Deſires gather Soil.

You read in Solomon's Eccleſiaſtes, of a Ch. 12. 5. Time when Deſires fail, For that Man goeth to his long home: And as to good Deſires, there is not one of them, when we are in our Prime, but they fail alſo as to the perfecting of that which a Man deſires to do, To will is preſent with me, ſays Paul; but how to perform that which is good I find not.

To will or to deſire, that is preſent with me, but when I have willed or deſired to do, to perform is what I cannot attain to: But why not attain to a Performance? Why ſays he, I find a Law in my Members warring againſt the Law of my Mind; and this Law takes me Priſoner, and brings me into Captivity to the Law of Sin, which is in my Members.

Now where Things willed and deſired meet with ſuch Obſtructions, no marvel if our willing and deſiring, though they ſet out luſtily at the Beginning, come yet lame home in Concluſion.

There is a Man when he firſt proſtrates himſelf before God, doth it with Deſires as warm as Fire-Coals; but ere while he finds, for all that, that the Mettle of thoſe Deſires, were it not revived with freſh Supplies, would be quickly ſpent and grow cold.

But yet the Deſire is good, and only good, as it comes from the Breathing of the Spirit of God within us.

We muſt therefore, as I ſaid, diſtinguiſh betwixt what is good, and that which doth annoy it, as Gold is to be diſtinguiſhed from the Earth and Droſs that doth attend it.

The Man that believed, deſired to be- Mark 9. 24 lieve better, and ſo cries out, Lord help my Unbelief: The Man that feared God, de- Neh. 1. 11. ſired to fear him better, ſaying, I deſire to fear thy Name.

But theſe Deſires failed, as to the Performance of what was begun, ſo that they were forced to come off but lamely, as to their Faith and Fear they had; yet the Deſires were true, good, and ſuch as was accepted of God by Chriſt; not according to what they had not, but as to thoſe good Motions which they had. Diſtinguiſh then the Deſires of the Righteous in the Nature of them, from that Corruption and Weakneſs of ours that cleaveth to them, and then again, They are only good.

3. There is another Thing to be conſidered, and that is, The different Frames that our inward Man is in, while we live as Pilgrims in the World. A Man, as he is not always well without, ſo neither is he always well within. Our inward Man is ſubject to tranſient, though not to utter Decays.

And as it is when the outward Man is ſick, Strength and Stomach, and Luſt or Deſire, fails; ſo it is when our inward Man has caught a Cold likewiſe.

The inward Man, I call the new Creature; of which the Spirit of God is the Support, as my Soul ſupports my Body. But, I ſay, this new Man, is not always well; he knows nothing that knows not this. Now being ſick, Things fail. As when a Man is not in Health of Body, his Pulſe beats ſo as to declare that he is ſick; ſo when a Man is not well within; his inward Pulſe, which are his Deſires; for I count the Deſires, for the Pulſe of the inward Man, they alſo declare that the Man is not well within. They beat too little after God, weak and faintly after Grace; they alſo have their Halts; they beat not evenly, as when the Soul is well, but ſo as to manifeſt all is not well there.

We read that the Church of Sardis was under ſore Sickneſs, inſomuch that ſome of her Things were quite dead, and they that were not ſo, were yet ready to die; Rev. 3. 1, 2 yet Life is Life we ſay; and as long as there is a Pulſe, or Breath, though Breath ſcarce able to ſhake a Feather, we caſt not away all Hope of Life. Deſires then, though they be weak, are notwithſtanding true Deſires, if they be the Deſires of the Righteous thus deſcribed, and therefore are truly good, according to our Text.

David ſays, he opened his Mouth and Pſal. 119. panted, for he longed for God's Command- 131. ments. This was a Sickneſs, but not ſuch Song 5. 8. a one as we have been ſpeaking of: The Spouſe alſo cried out, that ſhe was ſick of Love. Such Sickneſs would do us good, for in it the Pulſe beats ſtrongly-well.

Object. But it may be objected. I am yet in Doubt of the Goodneſs of my Deſires, both becauſe my Deſires run both Ways, and becauſe thoſe that run toward Sin and the World, ſeem more and ſtronger, than thoſe that run after God, and Chriſt, and Grace.

Anſw. There is not a Chriſtian under Heaven, but has Deſires run both Ways, as is manifeſt from what hath been ſaid already. Fleſh will be Fleſh, Grace ſhall not make it otherwiſe. By Fleſh, I mean that Body of Sin and Death that dwelleth in the godly. As Grace will act according Rom. 6. 6. to its Nature, ſo Sin will act according to Ch. 7. 24. the Nature of Sin. Now the Fleſh has Eph. 2. 3. Deſires, and the Deſires of the Fleſh and Rom. 7. 25 of the Mind are both one in the Ungodly, thank God it is not ſo in thee.

The

The Fleſh, I ſay, hath its Deſires in the Godly; hence 'tis ſaid to luſt enviouſly, it
Gal. 5. 17. luſts againſt the Spirit. The Fleſh luſteth againſt the Spirit. And if it be ſo audacious as to fly in the Face of the Holy Ghoſt, wonder that thou art not wholly carried away with it.

But them Deſires that run to the World and Sin, ſeem moſt and ſtrongeſt in me.

Anſw. The Works of the Fleſh are ma-
Ver. 19. niſeſt, that is, more plainly diſcovered even in the godly, than are the Works of the Holy Ghoſt.

And this their Manifeſtation ariſeth from theſe following Particulars.

1. We know the leaſt Appearance of a Sin, better by its native Hue, than we know a Grace of the Spirit.

2. Sin is ſooner felt in its Bitterneſs to, and upon a ſanctified Soul, than is the Grace of God. A little Aloes will be ſooner taſted, than will much Sweet, though mixt therewith.

3. Sin is dreadful and murderous, in the Sight of a ſanctified Soul: Wherefore the apprehending of that, makes us often forget, and often queſtion, whether we have any Grace or no.

4. Grace lies deep in the hidden Part, but Sin lies high and floats above in the Fleſh, wherefore 'tis eaſier oftner ſeen, than is the Grace of God. The little Fiſhes ſwim on the Top of the Water, but the Pſal. 51. 6. biggeſt and beſt keep down below, and ſo are ſeldomer ſeen.

5. Grace as to Quantity, ſeems leſs than
Mat. 13. 31, Sin: What is Leaven, or a Grain of Muſ-
32, 33. tard-Seed, to the bulky Lump of a Body of Death?

6. Sin is ſeen by its own Darkneſs and alſo in the Light of the Spirit; but the Spirit itſelf neither diſcovers it ſelf, nor yet its Graces, by every Glance of its own Light.

7. A Man may have the Spirit buſily at work in him; he may alſo have many of his Graces in their vigorous Acts, and yet may be greatly ignorant of other: Wherefore we are not competent Judges in this Caſe. There may a Thouſand Acts of Graces paſs through thy Soul, and thou be ſenſible of few, if any of them.

8. Do you think that he that repents, believes, loves, fears, or humbles himſelf before God, and acts in other Graces too, doth always know what he doth? No, no. Grace many Times, even in a Man, is acted by him, unawares unto him. Did Gideon, think you, believe that he was ſo ſtrong in Grace as he was? Nay, was he Judges 6. 13, 14. not ready to give the Lie to the Angel, when he told him God was with him? Or, what do you think of David, when he
Pſ. 31. 22. — 88. 5. ſaid he was caſt off from God's Eyes; or of Heman, when he ſaid, he was free among them whom God remembred no more. Did theſe then ſee their Graces ſo clear, as they ſaw themſelves by their Sins to be unworthy ones?

9. I tell you 'tis a rare Thing for ſome Chriſtians to ſee their Graces; but a Thing very common for ſuch to ſee their Sins; yea, and to feel them too in their Luſts and Deſires, to the ſhaking of their Souls.

Queſt. But ſince I have Luſts and Deſires both Ways, How ſhall I know to which my Soul adheres?

Anſw. This may be known thus.

1. Which wouldeſt thou have prevail, the Deſires of the Fleſh, or the Luſts of the Spirit, whoſe Side art thou of? Doth not thy Soul now inwardly ſay, and that with a ſtrong Indignation? O let God, let Grace, let my Deſires that are good prevail againſt my Fleſh, for Jeſus Chriſt his Sake.

2. What Kind of ſecret Wiſhes haſt thou in thy Soul, when thou feeleſt the Luſts of thy Fleſh to rage? Doſt thou not inwardly, and with Indignation againſt Sin, ſay, O that I might never, never, feel one ſuch Motion more! O that my Soul were ſo full of Grace, that there might be no longer Room for ever the leaſt Luſt to come into my Thoughts!

3. What Kind of Thoughts haſt thou of thy ſelf, now thou ſeeſt theſe Deſires of thine that are good, ſo briskly oppoſed by thoſe that are bad? Doſt thou not ſay, Oh! I am the baſeſt of Creatures, I could even ſpue at my ſelf: There is no Man in all the World, in my Eyes, ſo loathſome as my ſelf is. I abhor my ſelf, a Toad is not ſo vile as I am. O Lord let me be any thing but a Sinner, any thing ſo thou ſubdueſt mine Iniquities for me!

4. How doſt thou like the Diſcovery of that which thou thinkeſt is Grace in other Men? Doſt thou not cry out, Oh I bleſs them in my Heart! O methinks Grace is the greateſt Beauty in the World! Yea, I could be content to live and die with thoſe People that have the Grace of God in their Souls. A hundred Times, and a hundred, when I have been upon my Knees before God, I have deſired, were it the Will of God, that I might be in their Condition.

5. How art thou when thou thinkeſt that thou thy ſelf haſt Grace! O then, ſays the Soul, I am as if I could leap out of my ſelf; Joy, Joy, Joy then is with my Heart. It is methinks the greateſt Mercy under Heaven to be made a gracious Man.

And is it thus with thy Soul indeed? Happy Man! 'Tis Grace that has thy Soul, though Sin at preſent works in thy Fleſh. Yea, all theſe Breathings are the very Actings of Grace, even of the Grace of Deſire, of Love, of Humility, and of the Fear of God within thee. Be of good Courage, thou art on the right Side. Thy Deſires are only good; for that thou haſt deſired againſt thy Sin, thy ſinful ſelf; which indeed is not thy ſelf, but Sin that dwells in thee.

I come next to ſpeak of Deſires more diſtinctly, or particularly, as they work this way, and that.

Firſt then, The Deſires of the Righteous are either ſuch as they would have accompliſhed here, or elſe ſuch as they know they cannot come at the Enjoyment of, till after Death.

For the firſt of theſe, the Deſires of the Righteous are for ſuch good Things as they would have accompliſhed here; that is, in this World, while they are on this ſide Glory. And they in general are comprized under theſe two general Heads.

1. Communion with their God in Spirit, or ſpiritual Communion with him.

2. The Liberty of the Enjoyment of his holy Ordinances. And indeed, this ſecond is, that they may both attain to, and have the firſt maintained with them. But for the firſt,

1. They deſire now Communion with God. With my Soul, ſaid ſhe, have I deſired thee in the Night, and with my Spirit within me, will I ſeek thee early. Iſa. 26. 9.

The Reaſon of this ſhe renders in the Verſe foregoing, ſaying, The Deſire of our Soul is to thy Name, and to the Remembrance of thee.

Now thus to deſire, declares, one already made righteous. For herein there appears a Mind reconciled to God. Wherefore the Wicked are ſet on the other Side, even in that Oppoſition to theſe; They ſay unto God, depart from us, for we deſire not the Knowledge of thy Ways. Job 21. 14, 15. They neither love his Preſence, nor to be Frequenters of his Ordinances. What's the Almighty that we ſhould ſerve him, and what Profit ſhall we have if we pray unto him? So again, ſpeaking of the Wicked, he ſaith, Yea, have ſaid it is in vain to ſerve God, and what Profit is it that we have kept his Ordinances? Mal. 3. 14.

This then to deſire truly, to have Communion with God, is the Property of a righteous Man, of a righteous Man only; for this Deſire ariſeth from a Suitableneſs which is in the righteous unto God. Whom, ſaid the Prophet, have I in Heaven but thee? and there is none upon Earth that I deſire beſides thee. Pſ. 73. 25. This could never be the deſire of a Man, were he not a righteous Man, a Man with a truly ſanctified Mind. The carnal Mind is Enmity againſt God, for it is not ſubject to the Law of God, neither indeed can be. Rom. 8. 7.

When Moſes the Man of God was with the Children of Iſrael in the Wilderneſs, he prays that God would give them his Preſence unto Canaan, or elſe to let them die in that Place. 'Twas Death to him to think of being in the Wilderneſs without God. And he ſaid unto God, If thy Preſence go not with me, carry us not hence. Exod. 33. 14, 15.

Here then are the Deſires of a righteous Man, namely, after Communion with God. He chuſes rather to be a Stranger with God in the World, than to be a Citizen of the World and a Stranger to God. For I am, ſaid David, a Stranger with thee, and a Sojourner as all my Fathers were. Pſal. 39. 12.

Indeed he that walketh with God, is but a Stranger to this World: And the righteous Man's Deſires are to, for, and after Communion with God, though he be ſo.

The Reaſons of theſe deſires are many.

1. In Communion with God, is Life, and Favour; yea, the very Preſence of God with a Man is a Token of it. Pſal. 30. 3. 5.

For by his Preſence he helps, ſuccours, relieves, and ſupports the Hearts of his People, and therefore is Communion with him deſired, I will, ſaid David, behave myſelf wiſely in a perfect way; O when wilt thou come unto me? Pſal. 101. 2.

2. The Pleaſures that ſuch a Soul finds in God that has Communion with him, are ſurpaſſing all Pleaſures and Delights, yea, infinitely ſurpaſſing them. In thy preſence is Fulneſs of joy, and at thy right hand are pleaſures for ever more: Upon this Account he is called, The deſire of all Nations, of all in all Nations that know him. Pſal. 16. 11.

3. Job Deſired God's Preſence that he might reaſon with God; ſurely, ſaid he, I would ſpeak to the Almighty, and I deſire to reaſon with God. And again, O that he would hear me! Behold my deſire is that the Almighty would anſwer me. Job 13. 3. Chap. 31. 35.

But why doth Job thus DESIRE to be in the preſence of God? Oh! he knew that God was good, and that he would ſpeak to him that which would do him good. Would he plead againſt me with his great power? no, but he would put ſtrength into me. There the righteous might diſpute with him: ſo ſhould I be delivered for ever from my Judge. Job 23. 6, 7.

4 God's Preſence is the ſafety of a Man: If God be with one who can hurt one? As HE ſaid, If God be for us, who can be againſt us? Now if ſo much ſafety flows from God's being FOR one, how ſafe are we when God is with us? The beloved of the Lord, ſaid Moſes, ſhall dwell in ſafety by him, and the Lord ſhall cover him all the day long, and he ſhall dwell between his Shoulders. Deut. 33. 12.

5. God's Preſence keeps the Heart awake to Joy, and will make a Man ſing in the Night; Can the Children of the Bride Chamber mourn while the Bridegroom is with them? God's Preſence is Feaſting, and Feaſting is made for Mirth. Job 35. 10. Mat. 9. 15. Rev. 3. 20. Eccleſ. 10. 19.

6. God's Preſence keeps the Heart tender, and makes it ready to fall in with what is made known, as Duty or Privilege. I will run the ways of thy Commandments, ſaid the Pſalmiſt, when thou ſhalt enlarge my Heart. Iſa. 64. 1. Pſal. 119. 32.

7. The Preſence of God makes a Man affectionately, and ſincerely good: Yea, makes him willing to be ſearched and ſtript from all the Remains of Iniquity. Pſal. 26. 1, 2, 3.

8. What

8. What shall I say? God's Presence is renewing, transforming, seasoning, sanctifying, commanding, sweetening and lightning to the Soul. Nothing like it in all the World; his Presence supplies all Wants, heals all Maladies, saves from all Dangers; is Life in Death, Heaven in Hell; all in all.

No Marvel then if the Presence of, and Communion with God, is become the Desire of a righteous Man.

9. To conclude this, by the Presence of God being with us, 'tis known to ourselves and to others what we are. If thy Presence, said Moses, go not with me, carry us not hence; for wherein shall it be known, that I and thy People have found Grace in thy Sight, is it not in that thou goest with us? so shall we be separate, I and thy People from all the People that are upon the Face of the Earth. Exod. 33. 16.

1. They are then best known to themselves. They know they are his People because God's Presence is with them. Therefore he saith, My Presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee Rest. That is, let thee know that thou hast found Grace in my Sight, and art accepted of me. For if God withdraws himself, or hides his Presence from his People, 'tis hard for them to bear up in the stedfast Belief that they belong to him. Be not silent unto me O Lord, said David, lest I be like unto them that go down into the Pit. Be not silent unto me, that is, as he has it in another Place, Hide not thy Face from me. Hear me speedily O Lord, saith he, my Spirit faileth; hide not thy Face from me, least I be like unto them that go down into the Pit. verse. 13, 14. Psal. 28. 1. Psal. 143. 7.

So that God's Presence is the Desire of the Righteous for this Cause also, even for that by it they gather, that God delighteth in them. By this I know thou favourest me, because mine Enemies do not triumph over me. And is this all? no, And as for me thou upholdest me in mine integrity, and settest me before thy Face for ever.

2. As by the Presence of God being with us, we know our selves to be the People of God: so by this Presence of God, the World themselves are sometimes convinced who we are also.

Acts 4. 13. 8. And when the Enemy saw the Boldness of Peter and John, they took Knowledge of them that they had been with Jesus.

Acts 16. 17. 9. The Girl that was a Witch, knew that Paul was a Servant of the most High God.

There is a Glory upon them that have God with them, a Glory that sometimes glances and flashes out into the Faces of those that behold the People of God. And all they that sat in the Counsel, looking stedfastly upon him, saw Stephen's face, as if it had been the Face of an Angel. Such Rays of Divine Majesty did shew themselves therein. Acts 6. 15.

The Reason is, for that,

1. Such have with them the Wisdom of God. 2 Sam. 14. 17, 18, 19, 20.

2. Such also have special Bowels and Compassions of God for others. 1 Sam. 16. 4

3. Such have more of his Majesty upon them than others. —3. 19, 20

4. Such, their Words and Ways, their Carriages and Doings are attended with that of God that others are destitute of. 2 King 4. 9.

5. Such are holier, and of more convincing Lives in general, than other People are.

Now there is both Comfort and Honour in this; for what Comfort like that of being a holy Man of God? and what Honour like that of being a holy Man of God?

This therefore is the Desire of the Righteous, to wit, To have Communion with God. Indeed none like God, and to be desired as he, in the Thoughts of a righteous Man.

And this leads me to the second Thing, namely,

The Liberty of the Enjoyment of his holy Ordinances. For next to God himself, nothing is so dear to a righteous Man as the Enjoyment of his holy Ordinances.

One Thing, said David, have I desired of the Lord, and that will I seek after (namely) that I may dwell in the House of the Lord all the days of my Life, to behold the Beauty of the Lord, and to enquire in his Temple. Psal. 27. 4.

The Temple of the Lord was the Dwelling House of God, there he recorded his Name, and there he made known himself unto his People. Wherefore this was the Cause why David so earnestly desired to dwell there too, To behold, saith he, the Beauty of the Lord, and to enquire in his Temple. —11. 4. Hab. 2. 20.

There he had promised his Presence to his People, yea, and to bring thither a Blessing for them. In all Places where I record my Name I will come unto thee, and I will bless thee. Ex. 20. 24.

For this Cause therefore, as I said, it is why the Righteous do SO desire that they may enjoy the Liberty of the Ordinances and Appointments of their God; to wit, that they may attain to, and have Communion maintained with him.

Alas! the Righteous are as it were undone done, if God's Ordinances be taken from them. How amiable are thy Tabernacles, O Lord of Hosts. My Soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the Courts of the Lord, my Heart and my Flesh crieth out for the living God. Behold what a Taking the good Man was in, because at this Time he could not attain to so frequent a being in the Temple of God as his Soul desired. It even longed and fainted; yea, and his Heart and his Flesh cried out for the God that dwelt in the Temple at Jerusalem.

Ps. 84. 1, 2.

Yea, he seems in the next Words to envy the very BIRDS that could more commonly frequent the Temple than he.

The Sparrow, saith he, hath found her a House, and the Swallow a Nest for herself, where she may lay her Young, even thine Altars, O Lord my King, and my God.

And then blessed all them that had the Liberty of Temple Worship, saying, Blessed are they that dwell in thine House, they will be still praising thee.

ver. 4.

Then he cries up the Happiness of those that in Zion do appear before God.

ver. 7.

After this he cries out unto God, that he would grant him to be Partaker of this high Favour, saying, O Lord God of Hosts hear my Prayer, &c. For a day in thy Courts is better than a thousand: I had rather be a Door-keeper in the House of my God, than to dwell in the Tents of Wickedness.

ver. 10.

But why is all this! what aileth the Man thus to express himself? Why, as I said, The Temple was the great Ordinance of God, there was his true Worship performed, there God appeared, and there his People was to find him. This was, I say, the Reason why the Psalmist chose out, and desired THIS one Thing, above ALL the Things that were under Heaven, even to behold there the Beauty of the Lord, and to enquire in his Temple.

There was to be seen The Shadows of Things in the Heavens; The Candlestick, the Table of Shew-Bread, the Holiest of all, where was the Golden Censor, the Ark of the Covenant overlaid round about with Gold, the Golden Pot that had Manna, Aaron's Rod that budded, the Tables of the Covenant, and the Cherubins of Glory over-shadowing the Mercy-Seat, which were all of them then, Things by which God shewed himself merciful to them.

Heb. 9. ver. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. compared with ver. 23. and chap. 8. 5.

Do you think that Love-Letters are not desired between Lovers? Why these, God's Ordinances, they are his Love-Letters, and Love-Tokens too: No Marvel then if the Righteous do SO desire them. More to be desired are they than Gold; yea, than much fine Gold: Sweeter also than the Honey and the Honey-Comb.

Ps. 19. 10. Ps. 119. 72 ver. 127.

Yea, this Judgment, Wisdom it self passes upon these Things, Receive, saith he, my Instruction, and not Silver, and Knowledge rather than fine Gold. For Wisdom is better than Rubies; and all the Things that may be desired, are not to be compared to it.

Pro. 8. 10, 11.

For this Cause therefore are the Ordinances of God so much desired by the Righteous. In them they meet with God; and by them they are builded, and nourished up to eternal Life.

As new-born Babes, says Peter, desire the sincere Milk of the Word that ye may grow thereby. As Milk is nourishing to Children, so is the Word, heard, read, and meditated on, to the Righteous. Therefore it is their Desire.

1 Pet. 2. 2.

He made himself known to them in breaking of Bread: Who would not then, that loves to know him, be present at such an Ordinance?

Luk. 24. 35.

Oft times the Holy Ghost, in the comfortable Influence of it, has accompanied the Baptized in the very Act of Administring it. Therefore in the Way of thy Judgments, or Appointments, O Lord, thy People have waited for thee, The Desire of their Soul is to thy Name, and to the remembrance of thee.

Isa. 26. 8.

Church-Fellowship, or the Communion of Saints, is the Place where the Son of God loveth to walk; his first walking was in Eden; There he converted our first Parents. And come my beloved, says he, let us go early to the Vineyards, let us see if the Vine flourish, whether the tender Grapes appear, and the Pomgranates bud forth: there will I give thee my Loves.

Song 7. 12

Church-fellowship rightly managed, is the Glory of all the World. No Place, no Community, no Fellowship adorned and bespangled with those Beauties as is a Church rightly knit together to their Head, and lovingly serving one another. In his Temple every one speaks of his Glory. Hence the Church is called the Place of God's Desire on Earth. This is my Rest, here I will dwell for ever, for I have desired it. And again. Thus the Church confesseth, when she saith, I am my Beloved's, and his desire is towards me.

Psal. 132. 13 to 17.

Psal. 29. 9.

Song 7. 10

No Marvel then if this be the ONE Thing that David desired, and that which he would seek after, namely, to dwell in the House of the Lord all the Days of his Life.

And this also shews you the Reason why God's People of old used to venture so hardly for Ordinances, and to get to them with the peril of their Lives, because of the Sword of the Wilderness.

Lam. 5. 9.

They was their Bread, they was their Water, they was their Milk, they was their Honey. Hence the Sanctuary was called the Desire of their Eyes, and that which their Soul pitied, or the Pity of their Soul. They had rather have died than lost it, or than that it should have been burned down as it was.

Ezek. 24. 21, 25.

When

When the Children of Israel had lost the 1 Sam. 4. 22. Ark, they counted the Glory was departed from Israel. But when they had lost all, what a Complaint made they then! He hath violently taken away his Tabernacle, as if it were of a Garden, he hath destroyed the Pla-
Lam. 2. 6, 7. ces of the Assembly: The Lord hath caused the solemn Feasts and Sabbaths to be forgotten in Sion, and hath despised in the Indignation of his Anger, the King and the Priest.

Wherefore upon this Account it was that the Church in those Days counted the Punishment of her Iniquity greater than the punishment of Sodom.

By these few Hints you may perceive, what is the Desire of the Righteous. But this is spoken of reference to Things present; to Things that the righteous Desire to enjoy while they are here: Communion with God while here, and his Ordinances in their purity while here. I come therefore in the second Place to shew you that the righteous have desires that reach further, Desires that have so long a Neck as to look into the World to come.

Secondly, Then the Desires of the righteous, are after that, which, yet they know, cannot be enjoyed till after Death. And those are comprehended under these two Heads.

1. They desire that Presence of their Lord, which is personal.

2. They desire to be in that Country where their Lord personally is.

That heavenly Country.

For the first of these, says Paul,

I have a Desire to depart and to be with Christ. Thus you have it in Philippians, 1, 23. I have a desire to be with Christ.

In our first Sort of Desires, I told you that the Righteous desired spiritual Communion with God; and now I tell you they desire to be with Christ's Person; I have a desire to be with Christ, That is, with his Person, that I may enjoy his personal Presence; such a Presence of his, as we are not capable to enjoy while here. Hence he
2 Cor. 5. 6. says, I have a desire to depart that I might be with him. Knowing, as he says in another Place, that while we are at home in the Body, we are (and cannot but be) absent from the Lord.

Now this Desire, as I said, is a Desire that hath a long Neck, for it can look over the brazen Wall of this, quite into another World. And as it hath a long Neck, so it is very forceable, and mighty in its Operation.

1. This Desire breeds a Divorce, a compleat Divorce betwixt the Soul and all inordinate Love and Affections to Relations and
1 Cor. 7. 29, 30. worldly Enjoyments. This desire makes a married Man live as if he had no Wife, a rich Man live as if he possessed not what he has, &c.

This is a Soul sequestring desire; This Desire makes a Man willing rather to be absent from all Enjoyments, that he may be present with the Lord. This is a famous Desire; none hath this Desire, but a righteous Man.

There are that profess much Love to Christ, that yet never had such a Desire in them, all their Life long. No the Relation that they stand in to the World, together with those many Flesh-pleasing Accommodations with which they are surrounded, would never yet suffer such a Desire to enter into their Hearts.

2. The Strength of this Desire is such, that it is ready, so far forth as it can to dissolve that sweet Knot of Union that is betwixt Body and Soul. A Knot more dear to a reasonable Creature than that can be which is betwixt Wife and Husband, Parent and Child, or a Man and his Estate. For even all that a Man has will he give for his Life, and to keep Body and Soul firmly knit together. But now, when this Desire comes, this Silver Cord is loosed, is loosed by Consent. This Desire grants to him that comes to dissolve this Union, leave to do it delightfully. We are confident and
2 Cor. 5. 8. willing rather to be absent from the Body and to be present with the Lord.

Yea, This Desire makes this Flesh, this mortal Life, a Burden. The Man that has this Desire, exercises self-denial, while he waits till his desired Change comes. For were it not, that the Will of God is that he should live; and did he not hope that his Life might be serviceable to the Truth and Church of God; He would not have wherewith to cool the Heart of this Desire: But would rather in a holy Passion with holy Job cry out, I loath, or I abhor it, I would Job 7. 15, 16, 17. not live always; let me alone (that I may die) for my Days are Vanity.

3. The Strength of this Desire shews it self in this also, namely in that it is willing to grapple with the King of Terrors, rather than to be detained from that sweet Communion, that the Soul looks for when it comes into the Place where its Lord is. Death is not to be desired for it self, the Apostle chose rather to be cloathed upon with his House which is from Heaven, that
2 Cor. 5. 1, 2, 3, 4. Mortality might be swallowed up of Life.

But yet rather than he would be absent from the Lord, he was willing to be absent from the Body. Death in the very Thoughts of it is grievous to Flesh and Blood; and nothing can so master it in our Apprehensions, as that by which we attain to these Desires. These Desires do deal with Death, as Jacob's Love to Rachel did deal with the seven long Years, which he was to serve for her. It made them seem few, or but a little Time; Now so I say, doth these Desires deal with Death it self. They make it seem little, nay a Servant, nay a Privilege; for that by that a Man may come to enjoy the presence of his beloved Lord, I have a Desire to depart, to go from the World and Relations, to go from my Body, that great

Piece of my ſelf; I have a Deſire to venture the Tugs and Pains and the harſh handling of the King of Terrors, ſo I may be with Jeſus Chriſt, Theſe are Deſires of the Righteous.

Are not theſe therefore ſtrong Deſires? Is there not Life and Mettle in them? Have they not in them Power to looſe the Bands of Nature, and to harden the Soul againſt Sorrow? flow they not, think you, from Faith of the fineſt Sort, and are they not Bread in the Boſom of a truly mortified Soul? Are theſe the Effects of a a purblind Spirit? Are they not rather the Fruits of an Eagle ey'd Confidence? Oh theſe Deſires! they are peculiar to the Righteous, they are none others, but the Deſires of the Righteous.

Queſt. But why do the Righteous deſire to be with Chriſt?

Anſw. And I ask, why doth the Wife, that is as the loving Hind, love to be in the preſence of her Husband?

1. Chriſt in Glory is worth the being with; Mark 5. 18. if the Man out of whom the Lord Jeſus did caſt a Legion, prayed that he might be with him, notwithſtanding all the Trials that attended him in this Life; how can it be but that a righteous Man, muſt deſire to be with him now he is in Glory?

2. What we have heard concerning the Excellency of his Perſon, the unſpeakableneſs of his Love, the greatneſs of his Sufferings, and the Things that he ſtill is doing for us, muſt needs command our Souls into a Deſire to be with him.

3. When we have heard of a Man among us, that has done for us ſome excellent Thing: the next Thing that our Hearts doth pitch upon, is, I would I could ſet mine Eyes upon him; but was ever heard the like, to what Jeſus Chriſt has done for Sinners? Who then that hath the Faith of him, can do otherwiſe, but deſire to be with him? 'Twas 1 Joh. 3. 2. that which ſometime comforted John, that the time was coming that he ſhould ſee him.

But that Conſideration made him bray like a Hart, to haſten the Time that he Rev. 22. 20. might ſet his Eyes upon him quickly.

To ſee Jeſus Chriſt then, to ſee him as he is, to ſee him as he is in Glory, is a ſight that is worth going from Relations, and out of the Body, and through the Jaws of Death to ſee; for this is to ſee him Head over all, to ſee him poſſeſſed of Heaven for his Church, to ſee him preparing of Manſion-houſes for thoſe his poor Ones, that are now by his Enemies kickt too and fro, like Foot-balls in the World; and is not this a bleſſed Sight?

Secondly, I have a Deſire to be with him, to ſee my ſelf with him; this is more bleſſed ſtill; for a Man to ſee himſelf in Glory, this is a Sight worth ſeeing: Sometimes I look upon my ſelf, and ſay where am I now? And do quickly return Anſwer to my ſelf again, why I am in an evil World, a great Way from Heaven, in a ſinful Body, among Devils and wicked Men; ſometimes benighted, ſometimes beguiled, ſometimes fearing, ſometimes hopeing, ſometimes breathing, ſometimes dying, and the like. But then I turn the Tables, and ſay, but where ſhall I be ſhortly? Where ſhall I ſee my ſelf anon, after a few Times more have paſſed over me? And when I can but anſwer this Queſtion thus, I ſhall ſee my ſelf with Jeſus Chriſt; this yields Glory, even Glory to ones Spirit now; no marvel then, if the Righteous deſire to be with Chriſt.

Thirdly, I have a Deſire to be with Chriſt; there the Spirits of the Juſt are perfected: there the Spirits of the Righteous are as full as they can hold: A Sight of Jeſus in the Word, ſome know how 'twill change them from Glory to Glory; but how then ſhall we be changed and filled, when we ſhall ſee him as he is? When he ſhall appear we ſhall be like him, for we ſhall ſee him as he is. Heb. 12. 23. 2 Cor. 3. 18. 1 Joh. 3. 2.

Moſes and Elias appeared to Peter and James and John, at the Transfiguration of Chriſt in Glory: How ſo? Why they had been in the Heavens, and came thence with ſome of the Glories of Heaven upon them. Guild a bit of Wood, yea, gild it ſeven Times over, and it muſt not compare in difference to Wood not guilt, to the Soul, that but a little while has been dipt in Glory.

Glory is a ſtrange Thing to Men that are on this Side the Heavens; 'tis that which Eye hath not ſeen, nor Ear heard, nor entered into the Heart of Man to conceive of; only the Chriſtian has a Word and Spirit, that at Times doth give a little of the Glimmering thereof unto him.

But oh when he is in the Spirit, and ſees in the Spirit, do you think his Tongue can tell! But I ſay, if the Sight of Heaven, at ſo vaſt a diſtance, is ſo excellent a Proſpect, what will it look like, when one is in it?

No Marvel then, If the Deſires of the Righteous are to be with Chriſt.

Object. But if this be the Character of a Righteous Man, to deſire to depart and to be with Chriſt, I am none of them; for I never had ſuch a Deſire in my Heart; no, my Fears of periſhing will not ſuffer me either to deſire to die to be with Chriſt, nor that Chriſt ſhould come to judge the World.

Anſw. Though thine is a Caſe that muſt be excepted, for that thy Deſires may not as yet be grown ſo high; yet if thou art a righteous Man, thy Heart has in it the very Seeds thereof.

There are therefore deſires, and deſires to deſires, as one Child can reach ſo High, and the other can but deſire to do ſo: Thou, if thou art a righteous Man, haſt deſires, theſe deſires ready to put forth into Act, when they are grown a little ſtronger, or when their Impediment is removed.

Many times it is with our Deſires, as it is with with Saffron, it will Bloom and Bloſſom, and be Ripe, and all in a Night: Tell me, doſt thou not deſire to deſire? Yea doſt thou not vehemently deſire to deſire, to depart and to be with Chriſt? I know if thou art a righteous Man, thou doſt. There is a Man ſows his Field with Wheat, but as he ſows, ſoon is it covered with great Clods; now that grows as well as the reſt, though it runs not upright as yet; it grows, and yet is kept down, ſo do thy deſires; and when one ſhall remove, the Clod, the Blade will ſoon point upwards.

I know thy Mind; that which keeps thee that thou canſt not yet arrive to this, To deſire to depart and to be with Chriſt, is becauſe ſome ſtrong Doubt or Clod of Unbelief, as to thy eternal Welfare, lies hard upon thy deſiring Spirit; now let but Jeſus Chriſt remove this Clod, and thy Deſires will quickly ſtart up to be gone.

I ſay let but Jeſus Chriſt give thee one Kiſs, and with his Lips as he kiſſes thee, whiſper to thee The Forgiveneſs of thy Sins, and thou wilt quickly break out and ſay, Nay, then Lord let me die in Peace, ſince my Soul is perſuaded of thy Salvation.

There is a Man upon the Bed of Languiſhing, but oh! he dares not die, for all is not as he would have it, 'twixt God and his poor Soul; and many a Night he lies thus in great horror of Mind; but do you think, that he doth not deſire to deſire to depart? Yes, yes, he alſo waits, and cries to God to ſet his Deſires at Liberty: At laſt the Viſitor comes and ſets his Soul at eaſe, by perſuading of him that he belongs to God; and what then? Oh! now let me die, welcome Death.

Now he is like the Man in Eſſex, who when his Neighbour at his Bed-ſide prayed for him, that God would reſtore him to Health, ſtarted up in his Bed, and pulled him by the Arm, and cryed out, No, no, pray that God will take me away, for to me 'tis beſt to go to Chriſt.

The Deſires of ſome good Chriſtians are pinioned and cannot ſtir, eſpecially theſe Sort of deſires; but Chriſt can and will cut the Cord ſometime or other; and then thou that wouldeſt, ſhalt be able to ſay, I have a deſire to depart, and to be with Jeſus Chriſt.

Mean time be thou earneſt to deſire to know thy Intereſt in the Grace of God, for there is nothing ſhort of the Knowledge of that, can make thee deſire to depart, that thou mayſt be with Chriſt; this is that that Paul laid as the Ground of his Deſires to be gone: We know, ſays he, that if our earthly Houſe of this Tabernacle were diſſolved, we have a Building of God, an Houſe not made with Hands, eternal in the Heavens: For in this we groan earneſtly, deſiring to be cloathed upon with our Houſe, which is from Heaven. 2 Cor. 5. 1, 2.

And know that if thy Deſires be right, they will grow as other Graces do, from Strength to Strength; only in this they can grow no faſter, than Faith grows as to Juſtification, and than Hope grows as to Glory.

But we will leave this, and come to the ſecond Thing.

Secondly, As the righteous Men deſire to be preſent with Jeſus Chriſt, ſo they deſire to be with him in that Country where he is; But now they deſire a better Country, that is, an Heavenly; wherefore God is not aſhamed to be called their God, for he hath prepared for them a City. But now they deſire a better Country; here is a Compariſon: There was another Country, to wit, their native Country, the Country from whence they came out; that in which they left their Friends and their Pleaſures, for the ſake of another World, which indeed is a better Country, as is manifeſt from its Character, It is an Heavenly: As high as Heaven is above the Earth, ſo much better is that Country which is an Heavenly, than is this in which now we are. Heb. 11. 14, 15, 16.

A Heavenly Country, where there is a Heavenly Father; a Heavenly Hoſt, Heavenly Things, Heavenly Viſions, Heavenly Places, a Heavenly Kingdom, and the Heavenly Jeruſalem, for them that are Partakers of the Heavenly Calling, and that are the Heavenly Things themſelves. Mat. 6. 14, 15, 16. Ch. 15. 13 Ch. 18. 35 Luk. 2. 13. Joh. 3. 12. Act. 26. 19. Epheſ. 1. 3, 20. 2 Tim. 4. 18. Heb. 3. 1. Ch. 9. 23. Ch. 12. 22.

This is a Country to be deſired, and therefore no marvel if any, except thoſe that have loſt their Wits and Senſes, refuſe to chuſe themſelves an Habitation here. Here is the Mount Zion, the City of the living God, the Heavenly Jeruſalem, and an innumerable Company of Angels; here is the general Aſſembly and Church of the firſt Born, and God the Judge of all, and Jeſus, and the Spirits of juſt Men made perfect; Who would not be here?

This is the Country that the Righteous deſire for a Habitation; but now they deſire a better Country, that is, an Heavenly; wherefore God is not aſhamed to be called their God, for he hath prepared for them a City.

Mark, They deſire a Country, and God prepareth for them a City; he goes beyond their Deſires, beyond their Apprehenſions, beyond what their Hearts could conceive to ask for.

There is none that are weary of this World from a gracious Diſpoſition that they have to an heavenly; but God will take Notice of them, will own them, and not be aſhamed to own them; yea, ſuch ſhall not loſe their Longing: They deſire a Handful, God gives them a Seaful; they deſire a Country, God prepares for them a City. A City that is an Heavenly; a City, that has Foundation; a City, whoſe Builder and Maker is God. And all this is that the Promiſe to them might be fulfilled, The Deſire of the Righteous ſhall be granted; and this is the laſt Thing, propounded to be ſpoken to from the Text. Therefore. Heb. 11. 10. Rev. 3. 12.

Thirdly,

Thirdly, We then in Concluſion come to enquire into, What is meant, or to be underſtood by the granting of the Righteous their Deſires; The Deſire of the Righteous ſhall be granted.

1. To grant, is to yield to what is deſired, to conſent that it ſhall be even ſo as is requeſted; The Lord hear thee in the Time of Trouble, the Name of the God of Jacob defend thee; ſend thee help from his Sanctuary, and ſtrengthen thee out of Zion, remember all thy Sacrifices; grant thee according to thine own Heart, and fulfil all thy Counſel. Pſal. 30. 1, 2, 3, 4.

2. To grant, is to accompliſh what is promiſed; thus God granted to the Gentiles Repentance unto Life, namely, for that he had promiſed it by the Prophets from the Days of old. Act. 11. 18. Rom. 15. 9, to 13.

3. To grant therefore, is an Act of Grace and condeſcending Favour; for if God is ſaid to humble himſelf when he beholds Things in Heaven, what Condeſcenſion is it for him, to hearken to a ſinful Wretch on Earth, and to tell him, have the Thing which thou deſireth? A Wretch I call him; if compared to him that hears him, though he is a righteous Man when conſidered, as the new Creation of God.

4. To grant then, is not to part with the Thing deſired, as if a Deſire merited, purchaſed, earned or deſerved it, but of Bounty and good Will, to beſtow the Thing deſired upon the Humble: Hence God's grants are ſaid to be gracious Ones. Pſal. 119. 29.

5. I will add, That to grant, is ſometimes taken for giving one Authority or Power to do, or poſſeſs, or enjoy ſuch and ſuch Privileges; and ſo it may be taken here: For the Righteous has a Right to a Power, to enjoy the Things beſtowed on them by their God. Ezra 3. 7.

So then, to grant is to give, to accompliſh, even of free Grace, The Deſires of the Righteous.

1. This is acknowledged by David, where he ſaith to God, Thou haſt given him his Hearts deſire, and haſt not withholden the Requeſts of his Lips. Pſ. 21. 2.

2. And this is promiſed unto all that delight themſelves in God; Delight thy ſelf in the Lord and he ſhall give thee the Deſire of thy Heart. And again, Pſ. 37. 4.

3. He will fulfil the Deſires of them that fear him: he alſo will hear their Cry and will ſave them. Pſ. 145. 19.

By all theſe Places 'tis plain, that the Promiſe of granting Deſires, is entailed to the Righteous, and alſo the Grant to them, is an Act of Grace and Mercy.

But it alſo follows, that tho' the Deſires of the Righteous are not Meritorious, yet they are pleaſing in his Sight; and this is manifeſt ſeveral Ways, beſides the Promiſe of a Grant of them.

Firſt, In that the Deſires of God, and the Deſires of the Righteous jump, or agree in one; they are of one Mind in their Deſires: God's Deſire is to the Work of his Hands, and the Righteous are for ſurrendering that up to him.

1. In giving up the Heart unto him; My Son, ſays God, give me thy Heart: I lift my Heart to thee, ſays the righteous Man. Prov. 23. 26. Pſ. 25. 1. Pſ. 86. 4. Lam. 3. 41

Here therefore there is an Agreement between God and the Righteous; 'tis I ſay, agreed on both Sides, that God ſhould have the Heart: God deſires it, the righteous Man deſires it; yea, he deſires it with a Groan, ſaying, Incline my Heart unto thy Teſtimony; let my Heart be found in thy Statutes. Pſal. 119. 36. 80.

2. They are alſo agreed about the diſpoſing of the whole Man; God is for Body and Soul, and Spirit; and the righteous Deſires that God ſhould have it all: Hence they are ſaid, To give themſelves to the Lord; and to addict themſelves to his Service. 2 Cor. 8. 5. 1 Cor. 16. 15.

3. God deſireth Truth in the inward Parts, that is, that Truth may be at the bottom of all; and this is the Deſire of the righteous Man likewiſe; I have hid thy Word in my Heart, ſaid David, that I might not ſin againſt thee. Pſ. 51. 6, 16. Pſ. 119. 11

4. They agree in the Way of Juſtification, in the Way of Sanctification, in the Way of Preſervation, and in the Way of Glorification; to wit, which Way to come at and enjoy all: Wherefore, who ſhould hinder the righteous Man, or keep him back from enjoying the Deſire of his Heart.

5. They alſo agree about the ſanctifying of God's Name in the World; ſaying, Thy Will be done on Earth as it is in Heaven: There is a great Agreement between God and the Righteous; He that is joyned to the Lord is one Spirit; no marvel then if their Deſires in the general, ſo far as the righteous Man doth know the Mind of his God, is one; conſequently their Deſires muſt be granted, or God muſt deny himſelf. 1 Cor. 6. 17.

Secondly, The Deſires of the Righteous are the Life of all their Prayers; and 'tis ſaid the Prayer of the Upright is God's Delight.

1. Jeſus Chriſt put a difference betwixt the Form and Spirit that is in Prayer, and intimates, the Soul of Prayer is in the Deſires of a Man: Therefore ſaith he, I ſay unto you what Things ſoever you deſire when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye ſhall have them. Mark 11. 24.

2. If a Man prays never ſo long, and has never ſo many brave Expreſſions in Prayer; yet God counts it Prayer no further, than there are warm and fervent Deſires in it after thoſe Things the Mouth maketh mention of. In Pſalm 38. 9. ſaith David, Lord all my Deſires are before thee, and my groanings are not hid from thee.

3. Can you ſay you deſire when you pray? or that your Prayers come from the Braying, Panting and Longing of your Hearts? If not, they ſhall not be granted; for for God looks when Men are at Prayer, to see if their Heart and Spirit is in their Prayers; for he counts all other but vain speaking. Rom. 8. 26, 27. Mat. 6. 7. Jer. 29. 12. Ye shall seek me, and find me, says he when you shall search for me with all your Heart. The people that you read of in 2 Chron. 15. are there said to do what they did, with all their Heart and with all their Soul, For they sought God with their whole desire, ver 11, 12, 13, 14, 15.

When a Man's Desires put him upon Prayer, run along with him in his Prayer, break out of his Heart, and ascend up to Heaven with his Prayers, 'tis a good Sign that he is a righteous Man and that his Desires shall be granted.

Thirdly, By desires a righteous Man shews more of his Mind for God, than he can by any Manner of ways besides; hence 'tis said, The Desire of a Man is his Kindness, and that a poor Man (that is sincere in his desires) is better than (he that with his Mouth shews much Love, if he be) a Liar. Prov. 19. 22.

1. Desires, Desires are copious Things; you read that a Man may enlarge his desires as Hell, that is, if they be wicked: Yea, and a righteous Man may enlarge his Desires as Heaven. Hab. 2. 5. Psal. 73. 25.

2. No Grace is so extensive as Desires, Desires out go all; who Believes, as he desires to Believe? and Loves, as he Desires to Love? and Fears as he Desires to fear God's Name? Might it be as a righteous Man doth sometimes desire it should be, both with God's Church and also with his own Soul, stranger Things would be than there are; Faith and Love, and Holiness would flourish more than it does. Oh! what does a righteous Man desire? What do you think the Prophet desired, when he said, O that thou wouldst rent the Heavens and come down? And Paul when he said, He could wish that himself were accursed from Christ, for the vehement Desire that he had that the Jews might be saved? Yea, what do you think John desired, when he cried out to Christ to come quickly? Neh. 1. 11. Isa. 64. 1. Rom. 9. 1, 2, 3. Ch. 10. 1.

3. Love to God, as I said, is more seen in Desires than in any Christian Act: Do you think that the Woman with her two Mites, cast in all that she desired to cast into the Treasury of God? Or do you think, when David said that he had prepared for the House of God, with all his Might, that his desires stinted when his Ability was at its utmost? No, no, desires go beyond all Actions: Therefore I said, it is the Desires of a Man that are reckoned for his Kindness. 1 Chron. 29. 2.

4. Kindness is that which God will not forget, I mean the Kindness which his People shew to him; especially in their Desires to serve him in the World. When Israel was come out of Egypt, you know how many stumbles they had before they got to Canaan. But for as much as they were willing, or desirous to follow God, he passes by all their failures, saying I remember thee (and that almost a thousand years after) the kindness of thy youth, the love of thine espousals, when thou wentest after me in the Wilderness, in a land that was not sown: Israel was Holiness to the Lord, and the first fruits of his increase. Jer. 2. 2, 3.

5. There is nothing that God likes of ours, better than he likes our true Desires. For indeed, true Desires they are the Smoak of our Incense, the Flower of our Graces, and the very vital Part of our new Man. They are our Desires that ascend, and them that are the Sweet of all the Sacrifices that we offer to God. The Man of Desires is the Man of Kindness.

Fourthly, Desires! true and right Desires, they are they by which a Man is taken up from the Ground and brought away to God, in spight of all Opposers. A Desire will take a Man upon its Back, and carry him away to God if ten thousand Men stand by and oppose it. Hence, 'tis said, That through desire a Man separates himself, to wit, from what is contrary to the Mind of God, and so seeketh and intermeddleth with all Wisdom. Prov. 18. 1

1. All Convictions, Conversions, Illuminations, Favours, Tastes, Revelations, Knowledge, and Mercies will do nothing, if the Soul abides without Desires. All I say, is but like Rain upon Stones, or Favours bestowed upon a dead Dog. Oh! But a poor Man with Desires, a Man that sees but little, that knows but little, that finds in himself but little, if he has but strong Desires, they will supply all. His Desires take him up from his Sins, from his Companions, from his Pleasures, and carry him away to God.

2. Suppose thou wast a Minister, and wast sent from God with a Whip whose Cords was made of the Flames of Hell, thou mightest lash long enough, before thou couldest so much as drive one Man that abides without Desires, to God, or to his Kingdom, by that thy so sore a Whip.

3. Suppose again that thou wast a Minister, and was sent from God to Sinners with a Crown of Glory in thy Hand, to offer to him that first comes to thee for it; yet none can come without Desires; but Desire takes the Man upon its Back, and so brings him to thee.

4. What's the Reason, that Men will with Mouth commend God, and commend Christ, and commend and praise both Heaven and Glory, and yet all the while, fly from him, and from his Mercy, as from the worst of Enemies? Why, They want good Desires; their Desires being mischievous, carry them another Way. Thou entreatest thy Wife, thy Husband, and the Son of thy Womb, to fall in with thy Lord and thy Christ, but they will not. Ask them the Reason why they will not, and they know none, only they have no De-

Isa. 53. 1, 2, 3. sires. When we ſhall ſee him, there is no Beauty in him that we ſhould deſire him. And I am ſure if they do not deſire him, they can by no Means be made to come to him.

But now, DESIRES! Deſires that are right, will carry a Man quite away to God, and to do his Will, let the Work be never ſo hard. Take an Inſtance or two for this.

1. You may ſee it in Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob. The Text ſays plainly, They
Heb. 11. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16. were not mindful of that Country from whence they came out, through their Deſires of a better.

God gave them Intimation of a better Country, and their Minds did cleave to it with Deſires of it, and what then? Why they went forth, and deſired to go, though they did not know whither they went. Yea, they all ſojourned in the Land of Promiſe, becauſe 'twas but a Shadow of what was deſigned for them by God, and looked to by their Faith, as in a ſtrange Country; wherefore they alſo caſt that behind their Back, looking for that City that had Foundation, of which Mention was made before.

Had not now theſe Men Deſires that were mighty! They were their Deſires that thus ſeparated them from their deareſt and choice Relations and Enjoyments. Their Deſires were pitched upon the heavenly Country, and ſo they broke through all Difficulties for that.

2. You may ſee it in Moſes, who had a Kingdom at his Foot, and was the alone viſible Heir thereof; but deſire of a better Inheritance, made him refuſe it, and chuſe rather to take Part with the People of God in their afflicted Condition, than to enjoy the Pleaſures of Sin for a Seaſon.

You may ſay, The Scripture attributes this to his Faith. I anſwer, ſo it attributes to Abraham's Faith, his leaving of his Country. But his Faith begat in him theſe Deſires after the Country that is above. So indeed Moſes ſaw theſe Things by Faith, and therefore his Faith begat in him theſe Deſires. For 'twas becauſe of his Deſires that he did refuſe, and did chuſe, as you read. And here we may opportunely take an Opportunity to touch upon the Vanity of that Faith that is not breeding, and that knows not how to bring forth ſtrong Deſires of enjoying what is pretended to be believed; all ſuch Faith is falſe. Abraham's, Iſaac's, Jacob's, and Moſes's Faith, bred in them Deſires, ſtrong Deſires; yea, Deſires ſo ſtrong as to take them up, and to carry them after what by their Faith was made known unto them. Yea, their Deſires were ſo mightily ſet upon the Things made known to them by their Faith, that neither Difficulties nor Dangers, nor yet Frowns nor Flatteries could ſtop them from the Uſe of all lawful Attempts of enjoying what they believed was to be had, and what they deſired to be poſſeſſed of.

3. The Women alſo that you read of, and others, that would not upon unworthy Terms, accept of deliverance from Torments, and ſundry Trials, That they might (or becauſe they had a Deſire to) be made Heb. 11. 35. partakers of a better reſurrection.

And others, ſaith he, had trial of cruel mockings and ſcourgings. Yea, moreover of bonds and impriſonments; they were ſtoned, they were ſawn aſunder; were tempted, were ſlain with the ſword; they wandred about in ſheep-skins, and goat-skins, being deſtitute, afflicted, tormented: Of whom the world was not worthy. They wandred in deſerts, in mountains and caves of the earth.

4. But we will come to the Lord Jeſus himſelf. Whither did his Deſires bring him? Whither did they carry him, and to what did they make him ſtoop? For they were his Deſires after us, and after our Good, that made him humble himſelf to Song 7. 10. do as he did.

What was it, think you, that made him cry out, I have a Baptiſm to be baptized with, Luke 12. 50. and how am I ſtraitned until it is accompliſhed. What was that Baptiſm, but his Death? and why did he ſo long for it, but of Deſire to do us good? Yea, the Paſſover being to be eaten on the Eve of his Sufferings, Chap. 22. 15. with what Deſires did he deſire to eat it with his Diſciples?

Yea, his Deſires to ſuffer for his People, made him go with more Strength to lay down his Life for them, than they for want of them, had to go to ſee him ſuffer. And Mat. 20. 17. Mark 10. 32. they were in the way going up to Jeruſalem, he to ſuffer, and they to look on. And Jeſus went before them, and they were amazed, and as they followed they were afraid.

I tell you, Deſires are ſtrange things if they be right; they jump with God's Mind, they are the Life of Prayer; they are a Man's Kindneſs to God, and they which will take him up from the Ground and carry him away after God to do his Will, let the Work be never ſo hard. Is it any Marvel then, if the Deſires of the Righteous are ſo pleaſing to God as they are? and that God has ſo graciouſly promiſed, that the Deſires of the Righteous ſhall be granted?

But we come now to the Uſe and Application.

Firſt Uſe is a Uſe of Information.

The firſt Uſe ſhall be a Uſe of Information. You have heard what hath been ſaid of Deſires, and what pleaſing things right Pſal. 112. 10. Deſires are unto God. But you muſt know, that they are the Deſires of his People, of the Righteous that are ſo. No wicked Man's Deſires are regarded.

This Men muſt be informed of, leſt their Deſires become a Snare to their Souls. You Prov. 21. 25. read of a Man whoſe Deſire kills him. And why?

why? but because he rests in desiring, without considering what he is, whether such a one unto whom the promise of granting Desires, is made; he coveteth greedily all the day long, but to little purpose. The Grant of Desires, of the fulfilling of Desires, is entailed to the righteous Man.

There are four sorts of people that desire, that desire the kingdom of Heaven; consequently, Desires have a fourfold Root from whence they flow.

First, The natural Man desires to be saved, and to go to Heaven when he dies. Ask any natural Man, and he will tell you so. Besides, we see it is so with them, especially at certain Seasons. As when some Guilt, or Conviction for Sin, takes hold upon them; or when some sudden Fear terrifies them; when they are afraid that the Plague or Pestilence will come upon them, and break up house keeping for them; or when Death has taken them by the Throat and is halling them down Stairs to the Grave. Then, O then! Lord save me, Lord have Mercy upon me; good People pray for me: Oh whither shall I go when I die, if sweet Christ has not Pity for my Soul? And now the Bed shakes, and the poor Soul is as loth to go out of the Body for fear the Devil should catch it, as the poor Bird is to go out of the Bush, while it sees the Hawk waits there to receive her. But the Fears of the Wicked they must come upon the Wicked; they are the Desires of the Righteous that must be granted. Pray take good Notice of this. And to back this with the Authority of God, Consider,

1. That Scripture, The wicked travels with pain all his days, and the number of his years is hidden from the oppressor. A dreadful sound is in his ears, in prosperity the destroyer shall come upon him. Trouble and anguish shall make him afraid, they shall prevail against him as a King ready to the battel. Job 15. 20, to 25.

Can it be imagined that when the Wicked are in this Distress but that they will desire to be saved? Therefore he saith again,

2. Terrors take hold on him as waters, a tempest stealeth him away in the night. The East Wind, that blasting Wind, carrieth him away and he departeth, and as a storm hurrieth him out of (the World) his place. For God shall cast upon him and not spare; in flying, he would fain fly out of his hand. Job 27. 20, 22, 23. Isa. 65. 13. Chap. 66. 4.

Their Terrors and their Fears must come upon them; their Desires and Wishes for Salvation must not be granted. They shall call upon me, says God, but I will not answer, they shall seek me early, but shall not find me. Prov. 1. 28.

Secondly, There is the Hypocrite's Desire: Now his Desire seems to have Life and Spirit in it. Also he desires in his Youth, his Health, and the like: Yet it comes to naught. You shall see him drawn to the Life in Mark 10. 17. He comes Running, and Kneeling, and Asking, and that, as I said, in Youth and Health; and that is more than Men merely Natural do. But all to no purpose; he went as he came, without the thing desired. The Conditions propounded were too hard for this Hypocrite to comply withal. v. 21, 22.

Some indeed make a great Noise with their Desires over some again do, but in Conclusion all comes to one; they meet together there where they go, whose Desires are not granted.

For what is the Hope of the Hypocrite, though he has gained to a higher Strain of desires, when God taketh away his soul? Will God hear his cry when trouble cometh upon him? Job 27. 8, 9.

Did he not, even when he desired Life, yet break with God, in the day when Conditions of Life were propounded to him? Did he not, even when he asked what good things were to be done that he might have eternal Life, refuse to hear or to comply with what was propounded to him? How then can HIS desires be granted, who himself refused to have them answered?

No marvel then if he perishes like his own dung, if they that have seen him shall say they miss him among those that are to have their desires granted.

Thirdly, There are the Desires of the cold formal Professor. The desires, I say, of him whose Religion lies in a few of the Shells of Religion; even as the foolish Virgins who were content with their Lamps, but gave not heed to take Oil in their Vessels. These I take to be those whom the wise Man calls the slothful. The Soul of the sluggard desireth and hath nothing, but the Soul of the diligent shall be made fat. The sluggard is one that comes to Poverty thro' Idleness, that contents himself with Forms, That will not plow in Winter by reason of the cold; therefore he shall beg in Harvest, or at the day of Judgment, and have nothing. Prov. 13. 4. Prov. 20. 4.

Thus you see that there are many that desire: the Natural Man, the Hypocrite, the Formalist; they All desire. For Heaven is a brave Place, and no-body would go to Hell. Lord, Lord, open to us, is the Cry of many in this World, and will be the Cry of more in the Day of Judgment.

Of this therefore thou shouldest be informed, and that for these Reasons,

1. Because Ignorance of this may keep thee asleep in security, and cause thee to fall under such disappointments as are the worst and worst to be born. For, for a Man to think to go to Heaven because he desires it, and when all is done, to fall into Hell, is a frustration of the most dismal Complexion. And yet thus it will be when desires shall fail, when Man goes to his long home, and when the Mourners go about the City. Eccl. 12. 5.

2. Because, as was said before, else thy Desires, and that which should be for thy good, will kill thee.

1. They

1. They kill thee at death, when thou ſhalt find them every one empty.

2. And at Judgment, when thou ſhalt be convinced, that thou oughteſt to go without what thou deſireſt, becauſe thou waſt not the Man whoſe Deſires the Promiſe was made, nor the Man that didſt deſire aright.

3. To be informed of this is the way to put thee upon ſuch Senſe and Sight of thy Caſe, as will make thee in earneſt betake thyſelf in that way to him, that is acceptable, who grants the deſires of the Righteous.

And then ſhalt thou be happy when thou ſhunneſt to deſire as the Natural Man deſireth, as the Hypocrite deſireth, or as the Formaliſt deſireth: When thou deſireſt as the Righteous do, thy deſires ſhall be granted.

Second Uſe is of Examination.

Secondly, If this be ſo, then what Cauſe haſt thou that art conſcious to thyſelf that thou art a deſiring Man, to examine thyſelf, whether thou art one whoſe deſires ſhall be granted. For to what Purpoſe ſhould a Man deſire, or what Fruits will Deſires bring him whoſe deſires ſhall not be granted? Such a Man is but like to her that longs, but loſes her longing; or like to him that looks for Peace while Evil overtakes him.

Thou haſt heard it over and over, that the Grant of deſires belongs to the Righteous: Shouldeſt thou then not enquire into thy Condition, and examine thyſelf whether thou art a righteous Man or no? The Apoſtle ſaid to the Corinthians, Examine yourſelves whether you be in the Faith; prove your own ſelves; know you not how that Jeſus Chriſt is in you except you be reprobates? You may be reprobates and not be aware of it, if you do not examine and prove your ownſelves.

'Tis therefore for thy Life, wherefore do not deceive thyſelf.

I have given you before a deſcription of a Righteous Man, namely, that he is one made ſo of God by Imputation, by an inward Principle, and one that brings forth Fruit to God. Now this laſt thou mayſt think thou haſt. For 'tis eaſy and common for Men to think, when they bring forth Fruit to themſelves, that they bring it forth to God. Wherefore examine thyſelf.

1. Art thou righteous? If thou ſayſt, yea. I ask, how comeſt thou righteous? If thou thinkeſt that Obedience to the Law of Righteouſneſs has made thee ſo, thou art utterly deceived. For he that thus ſeeks Righteouſneſs yet is not righteous, becauſe he cannot by ſo doing, attain that thing he ſeeketh for. Rom. 9. 31, 32.

Did not I tell thee before, that a Man muſt be righteous before he doth one good work, or he can never be righteous? The Tree muſt be good firſt, even before it brings forth one good Apple.

2. Art thou righteous? In whoſe Judgment art thou righteous? Is it in the Judgment of God, or of Man? If not of God, 'tis no matter tho' all the Men on Earth ſhould Juſtifie thee? thou for that art no whit the more righteous.

3. Art thou righteous in the Judgment of God? who told thee ſo, or doſt thou but dream thereof? Indeed to be righteous in God's Sight, is that, and only that, which can ſecure a Man from Wrath to come? for if God juſtifies, who is he that condemns? And this only is the Man whoſe Deſires ſhall be granted. Rom. 8. 33, 34.

4. But ſtill I ſay, is the queſtion, how comeſt thou to know that thou art righteous in the Judgment of God? Doſt thou know by what it is, that God makes a Man righteous? Doſt thou know where that is, by or with which, God makes a Man righteous? And alſo how God doth make a Man righteous with it? Theſe are Queſtions in the Anſwer of which thou muſt have ſome heavenly Skill, or elſe all that thou ſayſt about thy being righteous, will ſeem without a Bottom.

5. Now if thou anſwereſt; That that which makes me righteous is the Obedience of Chriſt to his Father's Will; that this Righteouſneſs is before the Throne of God, and that it is made mine by an Act of God's free Grace; I ſhall ask thee yet again,

6. How cameſt thou to ſee thy Need of this Righteouſneſs? And by what is this Righteouſneſs by thee applied to thy ſelf? For this Righteonſneſs is beſtowed upon thoſe that ſee their Need thereof.

This Righteouſneſs is the Refuge whereto the Guilty fly for Succour that they may be ſheltered from the Wrath to come. Haſt thou then fled, or doſt thou indeed fly to it? Heb. 6. 16, to 20.

7. None flies to this Righteouſneſs for Life, but thoſe who feel the Sentence of Condemnation by God's Law upon their Conſcience; and that in that Extremity have ſought for Righteouſneſs firſt elſewhere, but cannot find it in all the World.

8. For Man, when he findeth himſelf at firſt a Sinner, doth not ſtraightway betake himſelf for Righteouſneſs to God by Chriſt; but in the firſt Place, ſeeks it in the Law on Earth by labouring to yield Obedience thereto, to the end he may, when he ſtands before God at Death and Judgment, have ſomething to commend him to him, and for the ſake of which he may at leaſt help forward his Acceptance with him.

9. But being wearied out of this (and if God loves him, he will weary him out of it) then he looks unto Heaven, and cries to God for Righteouſneſs; the which God ſhews him in his own good time, he hath reckoned to him for the ſake of Jeſus Chriſt.

10. Now by this very Diſcovery, the Heart is alſo principled with the Spirit of the Goſpel; for the Spirit comes with the Goſpel down down from Heaven to such a one, and fills his Soul with good; by which he is capacitated to bring forth Fruit, true Fruit which are the Fruits of Righteousness imputed, and of Righteousness infused, to the Glory and Praise of God.

11. Nor can any Thing but Faith make a Man see himself thus made Righteous; for this Righteousness is revealed from Faith to Faith, from the Object of Faith to the Grace of Faith, by the Spirit of Faith: A faithless Man then can see this, no more than a blind Man can see Colours; nor relish this, more than a dead Man tasteth Victuals: As therefore blind Men talk of Colours, and as dead Men relish Food, so do carnal Men talk of Jesus Christ; to wit, without Sense or Savour; without Sense of the Want, or Savour of the worth and goodness of him to the Soul.

12. Wherefore I say, 'tis of absolute necessity, that with thy Heart thou deal in this Point, and beware of self-deceiving; for if thou fail here, thy Desires will fail thee for ever; For the Desire of the Righteous, and that only, must be granted.

Third Use is Cautionary.

Let me here therefore caution thee to beware of some Things, by which else, perhaps, thou mayst deceive thy self.

1. Take heed of taking of such Things for Grants of Desires, that accidentally fall out; accidentally I mean, as to thy Desires; for 'tis possible, that that very Thing that thou desirest, may come to pass in the current of Providence, not as an Answer of thy Desires: Now if thou takest such Things for a Grant of thy Desires, and consequently concludest thy self a righteous Man, how mayest thou be deceived? The Ark of God was delivered into the Hand of the Philistins, which they desired; but not for the sake of their Desires, but for the Sins of the Children of Israel.

The Land of Canaan was given unto Israel, not for the sake of their Desires, but Deut. 9. 5, 6. for the Sins of those whom God cast out before them; and to fulfil the Promise that God before they were born, had made unto their Fathers.

Israel was carried away Captive out of their own Land, not to fulfil the Desires of their Enemies, but to punish them for their Transgressions. These with many of smaller Importance of more Personal, might be mentioned, to shew that many Things happen to us, some to our pleasing, and some to the pleasing of our Enemies; which if either we or they should count the Returns of our Prayer, or the Fruits of our Desires, and so draw Conclusions of our Estate to be for the future Happy, because in such Things we seemed to be answered of God; we might greatly swerve in our Judgments, and become the greatest at Self-deceiving. Or shouldst thou,

2. Take it for granted, that what thou enjoyest thou hast it as the Fruit of thy Desires; yet if the Things thou boast of, are Things pertaining to this Life, such may be granted thee, as thou art considered of God as his Creature, though thy Self art far enough off from being a righteous Man; Thou openest thy Hand, says the Psalmist, and satisfiest the Desires of every living Thing. Again, He feeds the young Ravens that cry to him; and the young Lions seek their Meat from God. Cain, Ishmael, Ahab too, had in some Things, their Desires granted them of God.

Ps. 145. 16 Ps. 147. 9. Ps. 104. 21 Gen. 4. 14, 15. Ch. 21. 17, 18. 1 Kin. 21. 29.

For if God will hear the Desire of the Beasts of the Field, the Fishes of the Sea, and of the Fowls of Heaven; no marvel if the Wicked also, may boast him of his Heart's Desire. Ps. 10. 3.

Into whose Hand, as he saith in another Place, God bringeth abundantly. Take heed therefore, these Things, nor the Grant of them, are any Signs that thou art a righteous Man, or that the Promise made to the Righteous in granting their Desires, are accomplished upon thee. Job 12. 6.

I think a Man may say, that the Men that know not God, have a fuller Grant, I mean generally, of their Desires of temporal Things, than has the Child of God himself; for his Portion lying in better Things, his Desires are answered another Way.

3. Take heed, God grants to some Men their Desires in Anger, and to their Destruction. Jer. 44. 22. Ps. 106. 15

He gave to some their own Desires, but sent leanness into their Souls. All that God gives to the Sons of Men, he gives not in Mercy; he gives to some an inferior, and to some a superior Portion; and yet so also he answereth them in the Joy of their Heart.

Some Men's Hearts are narrow upwards, and wide downwards; narrow as to God, but wide for the World; they gape for the one, but shut themselves up against the other; so as they desire, they have of what they desire; thou fillest their Belly with thy hid Treasures, for that they do desire; But as for me, said David (these Things will not satisfie) I shall be satisfied when I awake in thy likeness. Ps. 17. 14, 15.

I told you before that the Heart of a wicked Man was widest downward, but it is not so with the Righteous: Therefore the Portion of Jacob is not like them; God has given to him himself. The Temple that Ezekiel saw in the Vision, was still widest upward; it spread it self toward Heaven: So is the Church, and so is the Righteous, and so are his Desires. Ez. 21. 7.

Thy great Concern therefore is to consider, since thou art confident that God also heareth thy Desires; I say, to consider, whether he answereth thee in his Anger; for if he doth so, thy Desires come with a Woe: Therefore I say, look to thy self.

A full Purse and a lean Soul is a Sign of a great Curſe; He gave them their own Deſires, but ſent leanneſs into their Soul: Take heed of that; many Men crave by their Deſires, as the dropſical Man craves Drink; his drinking makes his Belly ſwell big, but conſumes other Parts of his Body; Oh! 'tis a ſad Grant, when the Deſire is granted, only to make the Belly big, the Eſtate big, the Name big; when even by this bigneſs the Soul pines, is made to dwindle, to grow lean, and to look like an Anatomy.

I am perſuaded that it is thus with many, who, while they were lean in Eſtates, had fat Souls; but the fatting of their Eſtates, has made their Souls, as to good, as lean as a Rake. They cannot now breath after God, they cannot now look to their Hearts; they cannot now ſet Watch and Ward over their Ways; they cannot now ſpare Time to examine who goes out, or who comes in.

They have ſo much their Deſires in Things
Pſ. 119. 70 below, that they have no leiſure to con-
Pſ. 73. 7. cern themſelves with, or to look after Things above; their Hearts are now as fat as Greaſe; their Eyes do now too much ſtart out to be turned, and made to look inward.

They are now become as to their beſt Part, like the Garden of the Slothful, all grown over with Nettles and Bryars, that cover the Face thereof; or like Saul, removed from a little Eſtate and low Condition, to much, even worſe and worſe.

Prov. 20. 27. Men do not know what they do in de-Job 20. 20 ſiring Things of this Life, Things over and 1 Tim. 6. above what are neceſſary; they deſire them,
17, 18, 19 and they have them with a Woe: Surely he ſhall not feel Quietneſs in his Belly (his Belly is taken for his Conſcience) he ſhall not ſave of that which he deſired, (to help him in an evil Day.)

I ſhall not here give my Caution to the Righteous, but ſhall reſerve that for the next Uſe: But oh that Men were as wiſe in judging of the anſwering of the Deſires, as they are in judging of the Extravagances of their Appetites! You ſhall have a Man even from Experience, reclaim himſelf from ſuch an Exceſs of Eating, Drinking, Smoaking, Sleeping, Talking or pleaſurable Actions, as by his Experience he finds is hurtful to him (and yet all this may but hurt the Body, at leaſt the Body directly;) but how blind, how unskill'd are they in the Evils that attend Deſires? For like the Man in the Dropſie, made mention of before, they deſire this World, as he doth drink, till they deſire themſelves quite down to Hell. Look to it therefore and take heed; God's granting the Things pertaining to this Life unto thee, doth neither prove that thou art Righteous, nor that he acts in Mercy towards thee, but giving of thee thy Deſires.

Fourth Uſe is for Encouragement.

Is it ſo? ſhall the Deſire of the Righteous be granted? Then this ſhould encourage them that in the firſt Place, have ſought the Kingdom of God and his Son's Righteouſneſs, to go on in their Deſires.

God has given thee his Son's Righteouſneſs to juſtifie thee; he has alſo, becauſe thou art a Son, ſent forth the Spirit of his Son into thy Heart to ſatisfie thee, and to help thee to cry unto him Father, Father? wilt thou not cry? wilt thou not deſire? Thy God has bidden thee open thy Mouth, he has bid thee open it wide, and promiſed ſaying, And I will fill it: And wilt thou not deſire? Pſ. 81. 10.

Oh! thou haſt a Licenſe, a Leave, a Grant to deſire; wherefore be not afraid to deſire great Mercies of the God of Heaven: This was Daniel's Way, and he ſet others to doit too. Dan. 2. 18.

Object. But I am an unworthy Creature.

Anſw. That's true; but God gives to no Man for his Worthineſs, nor rejects any for their Sinfulneſs, that come to him ſenſible of the Want and Worth of Mercy for them. Beſides, I told thee before, that the Deſires of a righteous Man, and the Deſires of his God, do jump or agree: God has a Deſire to thee, thou haſt a Deſire to him; God deſires Truth in the inward Parts, and ſo doſt thou with all thy Heart; God deſires Mercy, and to ſhew it to the Needy; that's it thou alſo wanteſt, and that which thy Soul craves at his Hand. Job 14. 15 Pſ. 51. 6. Hoſ. 6. 6.

Seek Man, ask, knock, and do not be diſcouraged; The Lord grant all thy Deſires. Thou ſayſt thou art unworthy to ask the biggeſt Things, Things ſpiritual and heavenly; well, will carnal Things ſerve thee, and anſwer the Deſires of thy Heart? Canſt thou be content to be put off with a Belly well filled, and a Back well cloathed?

Oh! better I never had been born.

See, thou wilt not ask the beſt, and yet canſt not make ſhift without them; ſhift, no, no ſhift without them; I am undone without them, undone for ever and ever, ſayſt thou; well then deſire; ſo I do, ſayſt thou: Ah but deſire with more ſtrong Deſires, deſire with more large Deſires; deſire ſpiritual Gifts, covet them earneſtly, thou haſt a Licenſe too to do ſo, God bids thee do ſo; And I, ſays the Apoſtle, deſire that ye faint not, that is in the Proſecution of your Deſires, what Diſcouragements ſoever you may meet with in the Way; for he hath ſaid, The Deſire of the Righteous ſhall be granted. 1 Cor. 14. 1. Eph. 3. 13

Object. But I find it not ſo, ſays one, for though I have deſired and deſired, a thouſand Times upon my Knees, for ſomething that I want, yet I have not my Deſire; and indeed the Conſideration of this, hath made me queſtion whether I am one of thoſe, to whom the Promiſe of granting of Deſires is made.

Anſw. To this Objection many Things muſt be replied.

1. By Way of Queſtion.
2. Then by Way of Anſwer.

Firſt, by Way of Queſtion; what are the Things thou deſireſt, are they lawful or unlawful? For a Chriſtian may deſire unlawful Things; as the Mother of Zebedees Children did when ſhe came to Chriſt (nay Mat. 20. 20, 21. Mark 10. 35.

(nay her Sons themselves had their Hearts therein) saying, Master, we would that thou shouldst do for us, whatsoever we shall desire.

They came with a wide Mouth, but their Desire was unlawful, as is evident, for that Christ would not grant it. James also himself caught those unto whom he wrote, in such a Fault as this, where he says, Ye kill, Jam. 4. 2. and desire to have, and cannot obtain.

There are four Things that are unlawful 1 King 3. 11. Deut. 5. 21. Ps. 73. 3. Prov. 24. 1. 19. Jam. 4. 2, 3. 4. to be desired.

1. To desire the Life of thine Enemy, is unlawful.

2. To desire any Thing that is thy Neighbours, is unlawful.

3. To desire to share in the Prosperity of the Wicked, is unlawful.

4. To desire spiritual Things for evil Ends is unlawful.

Secondly, Are they lawful Things, which thou desirest? Yet the Question is, are they absolutely or conditionally promised? If absolutely promised, hold on in desiring. If conditionally promised, then thou must consider,

1. Whether they are such as are essential to the well-being of thy Soul in thy Christian Course in this Life.

2. Or whether they are Things that are of a more inferior Sort.

If they are such as are essential to the well-being of thy Soul in thy Christian Course in this World; then hold on in thy Desires; and look also for the Conditions that that Word calls, for that profereth them to thee. And if it be not possible to find them in thy self, look for them in Christ; and cry to God for them, for the Lord's sake.

But if they be of an inferior Sort, and thou canst be a good Christian without them; Desire them, and yet be content to go without them; for who knows, but it may be better that thou shouldest be denied, than that thou shouldest have now a Grant of some Things thou desirest? and Mat. 26. 39, 42. Mark. 14. 36. herein thou hast thy Lord for thy Pattern; who, though he desired that his Life might be prolonged, yet wound up that Prayer with a nevertheless, not my Will, but thine be done.

But we will suppose, that the Thing thou desirest is good, and that thy Heart may be right in asking. As suppose thou desirest more Grace, or as David has it, more Psal. 51. Truth in the inward, and hidden Part. Yet there are several Things for thy Instruction, may be replied to thy Objection, as,

1. Thou, though thou desirest more of this, mayest not yet be so sensible of the worth of what thou askest as perhaps God will have thee be, before he granteth thy Desire; sometimes Christians ask for good Things without having in themselves, an Estimate proportionable to the Worth of what they desire; and God may hold it therefore back, to learn them to know better, the worth and greatness of that Thing they ask for. The good Disciples asked Mark 10. 38. they knew not what.

I know they asked what was unlawful, but they were ignorant of the Value of that Thing, and the same may be thy Fault when thou askest for Things most lawful, and necessary.

2. Hast thou well improved what thou hast received already? Fathers will hold back more Money, when the Sons have spent that profusely which they had received before. He that is faithful in that which is Luke 16. 10, 11, 12. least, is faithful also in much, and he that is unjust in that which is least; is unjust also in much. And if you have not been faithful in that which is another Man's, who shall give you that which is your own?

See here, an Objection made against a further Supply, or rather against such a Supply as some would have, because they have mispent, or been unfaithful in what they have already had.

If thou therefore hast been faulty here; Go humble thy self to thy Friend, and beg Pardon for thy Faults that are past, when thou art desiring of him more Grace.

3. When God gives to his, the Grant of their Desires, he doth it so, as may be best for our Advantage; now there are Times wherein the giving of Grace may be best to our Advantage, as,

1. Just before a Temptation comes, then if it rains Grace on thee from Heaven, it may be most for thy Advantage. This is like God's sending of Plenty in Egypt just before the Years of Famine came.

2. For God to restrain that which thou desirest, even till the Spirit of Prayer is in a Manner spent, may be further to inform thee, that though Prayer and Desires are a Duty, and such also to which the Promise is made; yet God sees those Imperfections in both thy Prayers and Desires, as would utterly bind his Hands, did he not act toward thee nearly from Motives drawn from his own Bowels and Compassion, rather than from any deserving that he sees in thy Prayers. Christians, even righteous Men, are apt to lean too much to their own doings; and God to wean them from them, oft-times defers to do, what they by doing expect, even until in doing, their Spirits are spent, and they as to doing can do no longer. When they that cried for Water, had cried till their Spirits failed, and their Tongue clave to the Roof of their Mouth for Thirst; Then the Lord did hear, and then the God of Israel did give them their Desire. Also when Jonas his Soul fainted under the Consideration of all the Evils that he had brought upon himself; then his Prayer came unto Isa. 41. 17, 18. Jon. 2. 7. God into his Holy Temple.

The Righteous would be too light in asking, and would too much over prize their Works, if their God should not sometimes deal in this Manner with them.

3. It

3. It is also to the Advantage of the righteous, that they be kept, and led in that Way which will best improve Grace already received, and that is, when they spin it out and use it to the utmost; when they do with it, as the Prophet did with that Meals Meat that he eat under the Juniper Tree: Go in the Strength of it their forty Days and forty Nights, even to the Mount of God. Or when they do as the Widow did, spend upon their Handful of Flower in the Barrel, and upon that little Oyl in the Cruse, 'till God shall send more Plenty.

1 King 19. 4, to 9. Chap. 17. 9, to 17. The Righteous are apt to be like well fed Children, too wanton, if God should not appoint them some fasting Days. Or they would be apt to cast away Fragments, if God should give them every Day a new Dish. So then God will grant the Desires of the Righteous in that Way which will be most for their Advantage. And that is, when they have made the best of the old Store.

If God should give us two or three Harvests in a Year, we should incline to feed our Horse and Hogs with Wheat; but being as it is, we learn better to husband the Matter.

By this Means also we are made to see, that there is Virtue sufficient in our old Store of Grace to keep us with God in the way of our Duty, longer than we could imagine it would.

I myself have cried out, I can stand no longer, hold out no longer, without a further Supply of Grace, and yet I have by my old Grace been kept even after this, Days, and Weeks, and Months in a way of waiting on God. A little true Grace will go a great way, yea, and do more Wonders than we are aware of. If we have but Grace enough to keep us groaning after God, 'tis not all the World that can destroy us.

4. Perhaps thou mayest be mistaken. The Grace thou prayest for, may in great Measure be come unto thee. Thou hast been desiring of God, thou saist, more Grace; but hast it not.

But how if whilst thou lookest for it to come to thee at one Door, it should come to thee in at another? And that we may a little enquire into the Truth of this, let us a little consider what are the Effects of Grace in its coming to the Soul, and then see if it has not been coming unto thee almost ever since thou hast set upon this fresh desire after it.

1. Grace in the general Effect of it, is to mend the Soul, and to make it better disposed. Hence when it comes it brings convincing Light along with it, by which a Man sees more of his Baseness than at other times. More, I say, of his inward Baseness. It is through the shinings of the Spirit of Grace, that those Cobwebs and Stinks that yet remain in thee, are discovered. In thy light we shall see light. And again, whatsoever makes manifest is light. If then thou seest thy self more vile than formerly, Grace by its coming to thee, has done this for thee.

2. Grace when it comes breaks and crumbles the Heart, in the Sence and Sight of its Vileness. A Man stands amazed and confounded in himself; breaks and falls down on his Face before God; is ashamed to lift up so much as his Face to God at the Sight and Apprehension of how wicked he is.

3. Grace when it comes shews to a Man more of the Holiness and Patience of God; his Holiness to make us wonder at his Patience, and his Patience to make us wonder at his Mercy, that yet, even yet such a vile one as I am, should be admitted to breathe in the Land of the Living, yea more, suffered to come to the Throne of Grace.

4. Grace is of a heart humbling Nature; it will make a Man count himself the most unworthy of any thing; of all Saints. 'Twill make a Man put all others afore him, and be glad too, if he may be one beloved, though least beloved, because most unworthy. 'Twill make him with gladness accept of the lowest Room, as counting all Saints more worthy of Exaltation than himself.

5. Grace will make a Man prize other Mens Graces and gracious Actions above his own. As he thinks, every Man's Candle burns brighter than his. Every Man improves Grace better than he, every good Man does more sincerely his Duty than he. And if these be not some of the Effects of the Renewings of Grace, I will confess I have taken my Mark amiss.

6. Renewings of Grace beget renewed Self-bemoanings, Self-condemnations, Self-abhorrences.

And say thou prayest for Communion with, and the Presence of God. God can have Communion with thee, and grant thee his Presence, and all this shall, instead of comforting of thee at present, more confound thee, and make thee see thy Wickedness. Isa. 6. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

Some People think they never have the Presence, and the Renewings of God's Grace upon them, but when they are comforted, and when they are cheared up; when alas, God may be richly with them, while they cry out, by these Visions my Sorrows are multiplied, or, because I have seen God, I shall die. Dan. 10. 8, 16. Judg. 13. 22.

And tell me now, all these things considered, has not Grace, even the Grace of God which thou hast so much desired, been coming to thee, and working in thee in all these hidden Methods? And so doing, has it not also accommodated thee with all the afore-named Conveniences? The which when thou considerest, I know thou wouldst not be without for all the good of the World. Thus therefore thy desire is accomplishing: and when 'tis accomplished, will be sweet to thy Soul. Prov. 13. 19.

5. But

5. But we will follow thee a little in the way of thy Heart. Thou saist, thou desirest and desirest Grace, yea, hast been a thousand times upon thy Knees before God for more Grace, and yet thou canst not attain.

I answer, 1. It may be the Grace which thou prayest for, is worth thy being upon thy Knees yet a thousand times more. We find that usually they that go to Kings Courts for Preferment, are there at great Expences; yea, and wait a great while, even until they have spent their whole Estates, and worn out their Patience too. Yet they at last prevail, and the thing desired comes. Yea, and when it is come; it sets them up anew, and makes them better Men, though they did spend all that they had to obtain it, than ever they were before. Wait, therefore; wait, I say, on the Lord.

Psal. 27. 14.

Psal. 37. 7, 34. Psal. 62. 5. Isa. 30. 18.

Wait therefore with David, wait patiently; bid thy Soul chear up, and wait. Blessed are all they that wait for him.

2. Thou must consider that great Grace is reserved for great Service; thou desirest Abundance of Grace; thou doest well, and thou shalt have what shall qualify and fit thee for the Service, that God has for thee to do for him and for his Name in the World. The Apostles themselves were to stay for great Grace, until the time of their Work was come.

Acts 1. 4. Chap. 4. 33.

I will not allot thy Service, but assure thyself when thy desire cometh, thou wilt have occasion for it; new Work, new Trials, new Sufferings; or something that will call for the Power and Vertue of all the Grace thou shalt have to keep thy Spirit even, and thy Feet from slipping while thou art exercised in new Engagements.

Luke 12. 48.

Assure thy self, Thy God will not give thee Straw, but he will expect Brick. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required, and to whom Men have committed much, of him they will ask the more. Wherefore as thou art busie in desiring more Grace, be also desirous, that Wisdom to manage it with faithfulness may also be granted unto thee. Thou wilt say, Grace, if I had it, will do all this for me. 'Twill, and will not. 'Twill, if thou watch and be sober; 'twill not if thou be foolish and remiss. Men of great Grace may grow consumptive in Grace, and Idleness may turn him that wears a Plush Jacket, into Rags. David was once a Man of great Grace, but his sin made the Grace which he had, to shrink up, and dwindle away, as to make him cry out, O take not thy Spirit utterly from me.

Psal. 51. 11. Psal. 119. 8.

3. Or, perhaps God withholds what thou wouldst have, that it may be the more prized by thee, when it comes. Hope deferred makes the heart sick, but when the desire cometh, it is a Tree of Life.

Prov. 13. 12.

4. Lastly, but dost thou think that thy more Grace, will exempt thee from Temptations! Alas! The more Grace, as was hinted, the greater Trials. Thou must be for all that like the Ship of which thou readest, sometimes high, sometimes low; sometimes steddy, sometimes staggering, sometimes in, and sometimes even at the End of thy very wits. For so he brings us to our desired Haven.

Psal. 107. 23, to 31.

Yet Grace is the Gold and Preciousness of the righteous Man; yea, and herein appears the Uprightness of his Soul; In that though all these things attend the Grace of God in him, yet he chuseth Grace here, above all, for that it makes him the more like God and his Christ, and for that it seasons his Heart best to his own content; and also for that it capacitates him to glorify God in the World.

The CONCLUSION.

Is it so, is this the Sum of all, namely, that the Fears of the Wicked shall come upon them, and that the desire of the Righteous shall be granted; Then this shews us what is determined concerning both, concerning the Wicked, that all his Hopes shall not bring him to Heaven; and concerning the Righteous, that all his Fears shall not bring him to Hell. But what a sad thing is it for one to be a wicked Man? nothing can help him, his Wickedness is too strong for him. His own Iniquity shall take the wicked himself, and he shall be holden in the Cords of his Sins.

Pro. 5. 22.

He may twist and twine, and seek to work himself from under the Sentence past upon him: But all will do him no Pleasure. The wicked is driven away in his Wickedness. But the Righteous hath hope in his Death.

Prov. 14. 32.

Loath he is to be righteous now; and as loath he will be to be found in his Sins at the dreadful Day of Doom. But so it must be. Upon the wicked God shall rain Snares, Fire and Brimstone, and a horrible burning Tempest: this shall be the Portion of their Cup.

Ps. 11. 6.

Wo to the Wicked, therefore: It shall be ill with him, for the Reward of his Hands shall be done unto him. The just God will recompence both the Righteous and the Wicked, even according to their Works. And yet for all this, the Wicked will not hear. When I read God's Word and see how the Wicked follow their Sins, yea, dance in the Ways of their own Destruction, it is astonishing to me.

Their Actions declare them, though not Atheists in Principle, yet such in Practice. What do all their Acts declare, but this, that they either know not God, or fear not what he can do unto them?

But oh how will they change their Note when they see what will become of them! How wan will they look! yea, the Hair of their Heads will stand an end for fear. For their Fear is their Portion; nor can their Fears, nor their Prayers, nor their Entreaties, nor their Wishes, nor their Repentings help them in this Day.

And thus have I ſhewed you what are the Deſires of the Righteous: And that the fear of the Wicked ſhall come upon him, but the Deſire of the Righteous ſhall be granted.

THE

SAINTS Privilege and Profit.

HEB. IV. 16.

Let us therefore come boldly unto the Throne of Grace, that we may obtain Mercy, and find Grace to help in Time of need.

THIS Epiſtle is indicted and left to the Church by the Holy Ghoſt, to ſhew particularly, and more diſtinctly the HIGH Prieſthood of Jeſus Chriſt; and the excellent Benefits that his People have thereby. In which both the Excellency of his Perſon, and tranſcendent Glory of his Office, beyond either Prieſt, or Prieſthood of the Law, is largely ſet forth before us in Chap. 1. Chap. 2. &c.

Wherefore in order to our beneficial reading of this Epiſtle, the Spirit of God calls upon us, firſt moſt ſeriouſly to conſider what an one this excellent Perſon is. Wherefore Holy Brethren, ſaith he, you that are Partakers of the Heavenly Calling; conſequently you that are related to, and that are concerned in the undertaking of this Holy one, conſider the Apoſtle and High-Prieſt of our Profeſſion, Chriſt Jeſus. Chap. 3. 1. Conſider how great, and how fit this Man is, for ſo holy and glorious a Calling. He being ſo high, as to be far above all Heavens; ſo great, as to be the Son of, and God equal with the Father. Conſider him alſo as to his Humanity, how that he is really Fleſh of our Fleſh; ſinleſsly ſo, ſympathizingly ſo, ſo in all the Compaſſions of a Man; he is touched with, Compaſſioneth, Pitieth, Loveth, Succoureth us and feeleth our Infirmities, and maketh our Caſe his own. Nay, he again from the Conſideration of his Greatneſs and Love, puts us upon a confident Reliance on his undertaking, and alſo preſſeth us to a bold Approach of that Throne of Grace, where he continually abideth in the Execution of his Office. Seeing then, ſaith he, that we have a great High-Prieſt that is paſſed into the Heavens, Jeſus the Son of God, let us hold faſt our Profeſſion. For we have not an High-Prieſt which cannot be touched with the feeling of our Infirmities, but was in all Points tempted like as we are, yet without Sin. Let us therefore come boldly to the Throne of Grace.

In the Words we have,

1. An Exhortation.
2. An Implication, that we ſhall reap a worthy Benefit if we truly put the Exhortation into Practice.

The Exhortation is, That we ſhall come boldly to the Throne of Grace, Let us therefore come boldly to the Throne of Grace. In all we have an Intimation of five Things.

1. That God hath more Thrones than one. Elſe the Throne of Grace need not to be ſpecified by Name. Let us come to the Throne of GRACE.

2. That the godly can diſtinguiſh one Throne from another. For the Throne here is not ſet forth, by where, or what Signs it ſhould be known; it is only propounded to us by its NAME, and ſo left for Saints to make their Approach unto it. Let us come to the Throne of Grace.

3. The third Thing is, The PERSONS intended by this Exhortation, let US therefore come. US; What US? or who are they that by this Exhortation are called upon to come? let Us.

4. The MANNER of the coming of theſe Perſons to this Throne of Grace, and that is through the Vail, boldly, confidently. Let us come BOLDLY to the Throne of Grace.

5. The Motive to this Exhortation, and that is twofold.

1. Becauſe we have ſo great an High-prieſt, that cannot but be touched with the feeling of our Infirmities. Let us THEREFORE come boldly to the Throne of Grace.

2. And becauſe we are ſure to ſpeed; That we may obtain Mercy and find Grace, &c.

I ſhall, as God ſhall help me, handle theſe Things in order.

Firſt, for the firſt, that God hath more Thrones than one. He hath a Throne in Heaven, and a Throne on Earth. The Lord's Throne is in Heaven, and they ſhall call Jeruſalem the Throne of the Lord. He ruleth over the Angels, He ruleth in his Church.

Pſ. 11. 4. Jer. 3. 17. Pſ. 59. 13.

He

He ſitteth in Jacob and ruleth to the Ends of the Earth, yea, he has a Throne and Seat of Majeſty among the Princes and great ones of the World. He ruleth or judgeth a-
Pſ. 82. 1. mong the Gods. There is a Throne for him as a Father, and a Throne for Chriſt as a Giver of Reward to all faithful and overcoming Chriſtians. To him that overcometh,
Rev. 3.21 I will grant to ſit with me on my Throne, even as I alſo overcame, and am ſet down with my Father upon his Throne.

There is alſo to be a Throne of Judgment, on which God by Chriſt at the great and notable Day ſhall ſit to give to the whole World their laſt or final Sentence: From which, no, not by any Means they ſhall never be releaſed. This Throne is made
Mat. 25. 31. mention of in the New Teſtament; and is called by Chriſt, the Throne of his Glory; and a great white Throne. And his Preſence when he ſits upon this Throne, will be ſo terrible, that nothing ſhall be able to abide it, that is not reconciled to God by him before.

Wherefore it is not amiſs that I give you this hint, becauſe it may tend to inform unwary Chriſtians, when they go to God, that they addreſs not themſelves to him at Rovers, or at Random, but that when they come to him for Benefits, they direct their Prayer to the Throne of Grace, or to God as conſidered on a Throne of Grace. For he is not to be found a God merciful and gracious, but as he is on the Throne of Grace. This is his Holy Place, out of which he is terrible to the Sons of Men, and cannot be gracious unto them. For, as when he ſhall ſit at the laſt Day upon his Throne of Judgment, he will neither be moved with the Tears or Miſery of the World to do any Thing for them, that in the leaſt will have a Tendency to a Relaxation of the leaſt Part of their Sorrow, ſo now let Men take him where they will, or conſider him as they liſt, he gives no Grace, no ſpecial Grace, but as conſidered on the Throne of Grace: Wherefore they that will pray, and ſpeed, they muſt come to a Throne of Grace; to a God that ſitteth on a Throne of Grace. Let us therefore come boldly to the Throne of GRACE, that we may obtain, &c.

The Unbeliever, the Erroneous and Superſtitious conſider not this: Wherefore they ſpeak to God as their Fancies lead them, not as the Word directs them, and therefore obtain nothing. Ask the carnal Man, to whom he prays? he will ſay to God. Ask him where this God is? he will ſay in Heaven. But ask him how, or under what Notion he is to be conſidered there? and he will give a few Generals, but cannot direct his Soul unto him as he is upon a Throne of Grace, as the Apoſtle here biddeth, ſaying, Let us come boldly to the Throne of Grace. Wherefore they come and go, or rather go and come to no Advantage at all; they find nothing but their Labour or Words for their Pains. For the right conſidering of God when I go unto him, and how or where I may find him gracious and merciful, is all in all; and Mercy and Grace is then obtained when we come to him as ſitting upon a Throne of Grace.

2. We will therefore come to the ſecond Thing, to wit, that the godly can diſtinguiſh one Throne from another. And the Reaſon why I ſo conclude, is, as I ſaid, becauſe the Throne here, is not ſet forth unto us here, by where or what Signs it ſhould be known; it is only propounded to us by its Name (a Throne of Grace) and ſo left for Saints to make their Approach thereto. Let us therefore come boldly to the Throne of Grace.

We will therefore take this Concluſion into two Parts, and conſider it under this double Poſition.

Firſt, That there is a Throne of Grace.

Secondly, That it is the Privilege of the godly to diſtinguiſh from all other Thrones whatever, this Throne of Grace.

Firſt, There is a Throne of Grace. This muſt be true, becauſe the Text ſaith alſo it is that of which the Mercy-Seat ſo often made mention of in the Old Teſtament was a Type, Shadow, or Figure; nor is the Terms, of Seat, and Throne, of any Strength, to make this Suppoſition void. For 'tis common for the Antitype to be put forth in Words unto us, more glorious than is the Figure or Shadow of that Thing. And the Reaſon is, for that the heavenly Things themſelves are far more excellent than the Shadow by which they are repreſented. What's a Sheep, a Bull, an Ox, or Calf, to Chriſt; or their Blood, to the Blood of Chriſt? What's Jeruſalem that ſtood in Canaan to that new Jeruſalem that ſhall come down from Heaven; or the Tabernacle made with corruptible Things, to the Body of Chriſt, or Heaven it ſelf? no marvel then if they be ſet forth unto us by Words of an inferior Rank; the moſt full and apteſt being reſerved to ſet out the higheſt Things withal.

Before I proceed to give you a more particular Deſcription of this Throne of Grace, as alſo how it may be known; I will a little touch upon the Terms themſelves, and ſhew briefly what muſt be implyed by them.

Firſt, By this Word Grace we are to underſtand God's free Sovereign good Pleaſure, whereby he acteth in Chriſt towards his People. Grace and Mercy therefore are Terms that have their diſtinct Significations; Mercy ſignifies Pitifulneſs, or a running over of infinite Bowels to Objects in a miſerable and helpleſs Condition. But Grace ſignifies that God ſtill acts in this as a free Agent, not being wrought upon by the Miſery of the Creature, as a procuring Cauſe; but of his own princely Mind.

Was there no objects of Pity among thoſe that that in the old World periſhed by the Flood, or that in Sodom were burned with Fire from Heaven; Doubtleſs according to our apprehenſion there were many: But Noah, and he only found Grace in God's Eyes, not becauſe that of himſelf he was better than the reſt; but God acted as a gracious Prince towards him, and let him ſhare in Mercy of his own Sovereign Will and Pleaſure. But this at firſt, was not ſo fully made manifeſt as it was afterwards. Wherefore the propitiatory was not called as here, A Throne of Grace, but, a Mercy-ſeat, albeit there was great Glory in them Terms alſo; for by, (Mercy-ſeat) was ſhewed, not only that God had compaſſion for Men; but that alſo to be good, was as his continual Reſting-Place, whither he would at length retire, and where he would ſit down and abide, whatever terrible or troubleſome Work for his Church was on the Wheel at preſent. For a Seat, is a Place of Reſt, yea, is prepared for that end; and in that here mercy is called that Seat, it is to ſhew, as I ſaid, that whatever Work is on the Wheel in the World, let it be never ſo dreadful and amazing, yet to God's Church it ſhall end in Mercy, for that that is God's Reſting-Place. Wherefore after God had ſo ſeverely threatned and puniſhed his Church under the Name of a whoriſh Woman, as you may read in the Prephet Ezekiel, he ſaith, ſo I will make my fury towards thee to reſt, and my jealouſy ſhall depart from thee; and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry. And again, ſpeaking of the ſame people, and of the ſame Puniſhments, he ſaith, nevertheleſs I will remember my covenant with thee in the days of thy Youth, and I will eſtabliſh unto thee an everlaſting Covenant. And again I will eſtabliſh my Covenant with thee, and thou ſhalt know that I am the Lord. That thou mayeſt remember, and be confounded, and never open thy Mouth any more: becauſe of thy ſhame, when I am pacified towards thee for all that thou haſt done, ſaith the Lord God. Theſe with many more Places ſhew that Mercy is God's Place of reſt, and thither he will retire at laſt, and from thence will bleſs his Church, his People.

Ezek. 16. 42, to 64.

But yet theſe terms (a Throne, the Throne of Grace) doth more exceed in Glory: not only becauſe the Word Grace, ſhews that God by all that he doth towards us in ſaving and forgiving, acts freely as the higheſt Lord, and of his own good Will and Pleaſure: but alſo for that he now ſaith, that his Grace is become a King, a Throne of Grace. A Throne is not only Seat for reſt, but a place of Dignity and Authority. This is known to all. Wherefore by this Word, a Throne, or the Throne of Grace, is intimated, that God ruleth, and governeth by his Grace. And this he can juſtly do. Grace reigns through Righteouſneſs, unto eternal life through Jeſus Chriſt our Lord. So then, in that here is mention made of a Throne of Grace, it ſheweth that Sin, and Satan, and Death and Hell muſt needs be ſubdued. For theſe laſt mentioned are but Weakneſs and deſtruction; but Grace is Life, and the abſolute Sovereign over all theſe to the ruling of them utterly down. A Throne of Grace.

Rom. 5. 21.

By this then, God plainly declareth that he is reſolved this way to rule, and that he pointeth at Sin as his deadly Foe: and if ſo, then where ſin abounded, grace muſt much more abound. For it is the Wiſdom and Diſcretion of all that rule, to fortify themſelves againſt them that rebel againſt them, what they can. Wherefore he ſaith again, Sin ſhall not have Dominion over you, for you are not under the law, but under grace. Sin ſeeks for the Dominion, and Grace ſeeks for the Dominion; but Sin ſhall not rule, becauſe it has no Throne in the Church among the godly. Grace is King, Grace has the Throne, and the People of God are not under the Dominion of Sin, but of the Grace of God, the which they are here implicitly bid to acknowledge, in that they are bid to come boldly to it for Help. That we may obtain Mercy, and find Grace to help: to help in time of need. For as from the Hand and Power of the King, comes Help and Succour to the Subject, when aſſaulted by an Enemy: ſo from the Throne of Grace, or from Grace, as it reigns, comes the Help and Health of God's People. Hence it is ſaid again, A glorious high Throne from the beginning is the place of our ſanctuary. Here then the Saints take ſhelter from the Roaring of the Devil, from the Raging of their Luſts, and from the Fury of the Wicked. That alſo is a very notable Place, He will ſubdue our iniquities, and thou wilt caſt all our ſins into the depth of the ſea. He ſpeaks here of God as ſolacing himſelf in Mercy, and as delighting of himſelf in the Salvation of his People, and that without Compariſon. Who is a God like unto thee that pardoneth iniquity, and paſſeth by the tranſgreſſion of the remnant of his heritage? he retaineth not his anger for ever, becauſe he delighteth in Mercy. Thus is Mercy and Grace got into the Throne, reigns, and will aſſuredly conquer all. Yea, will conquer, and that with a Shout, Mercy rejoiceth againſt judgment. Yea, glorieth when it getteth the Victory of Sin, and ſubdueth the Sinner unto God and to its own Salvation, as is yet more fully ſhewed in the Parable of the Prodigal Son. But this briefly, to ſhew you ſomething of the Nature of the Terms, and what muſt neceſſarily be imply'd thereby.

Luke 15.

We will in the next Place, ſhew what is to be inferred from hence. And,

Firſt, To be ſure this is inferred, That converted Men are not every way, or in every Senſe free from the being of Sin. For were they, they need not betake themſelves to a Throne of Grace for Help; when it ſaith there is Grace in God, it inferreth that that there is Sin in the godly; and when it ſaith, Grace reigns, as upon a Throne, &c. It implies that Sin would aſcend the Throne, would reign, and would have the Dominion over the Children of God. This alſo is manifeſt, when he ſaith, Let not ſin therefore reign in your mortal body, that you ſhould obey it in the luſts thereof. And the only way to prevent it, is to apply ourſelves, as by the Text we are directed, to the Throne of Grace for Help againſt it.

Rom. 6. 12.

Secondly, The Text implies that at certain times, the moſt godly Man in the World may be hard put to it, by the Sin that dwelleth in him; yea, ſo hard put to it, as that there can be no ways to ſave himſelf from a fall, but by imploring Heaven, and the Throne of Grace for Help. This is called the needy Time, the Time when the wayfaring Man that knocked at David's Door ſhall knock at ours: or when we are got into the Sieve into which Satan did get Peter; or when thoſe Fiſts are about our Ears that were about Paul's; and when that Thorn pricks us that Paul ſaid was in his Fleſh. But why, or how comes it to paſs that the godly are ſo hard put to it at theſe times, but becauſe there is in them, that is, in their Fleſh, no good thing, but conſequently all Aptneſs to cloſe in with the Devil and his Suggeſtions to the overthrow of the Soul?

2 Sam. 12. Luke 22. 31.

2 Cor. 12. 7, 8.

But now here we are preſented with a Throne of Grace, unto which, as David ſays, we muſt continually reſort, and that's the way to obtain Relief, and to find Help in time of Need.

Pſal. 71. 3.

Thirdly, as Chriſtians are ſometimes in imminent Dangers of falling, ſo ſometimes it is ſo that they are fallen, are down, down dreadfully, and can by no means lift up themſelves. And this happeneth unto them becauſe they have been remiſs as to the conſcionable Performance of what by this Exhortation they are enjoined to. They have not been conſtant Supplicants at this Throne, for preſerving Grace; for had they, they ſhould, as the Text ſuggeſts, moſt certainly have kept from ſuch a Fall; Help ſhould have been granted them in their needful Time. But that is it of which ſuch are guilty, which is written in the Prophet Iſaiah, But thou haſt not called upon me, O Jacob, but thou haſt been weary of me, O Iſrael. Therefore thou art profaned, therefore thou art given to Reproaches.

Iſa. 43. 22, 28.

Now as they which are falling, are kept from coming down, by coming to this Throne of Grace: ſo thoſe that are fallen, muſt riſe, by the Sceptre of Love extended to them from thence. Men may fall by Sin, but cannot raiſe up themſelves without the Help of Grace.

Wherefore it is worthy of our Enquiry after a more thorough Knowledge of this Throne of Grace, whence as we may well perceive, our Help comes, and by what comes from thence we are made to ſtand.

I therefore come now to a more particular Deſcription of this Throne of Grace, and to ſhew how the Godly know, or may know it, from other Thrones of God.

Firſt then, This Throne of Grace is the Humanity or Heart and Soul of Jeſus Chriſt, IN which God ſits and reſteth for ever, in Love towards them that believe in him: For as much as Chriſt did by the Body of his Fleſh, when here, reconcile them unto the Father. The key of David, ſaith God, I will lay upon his ſhoulder: ſo he ſhall open and none ſhall ſhut, and he ſhall ſhut and none ſhall open. And I will faſten him as a nail in a ſure place, and he ſhall be for a glorious Throne to his Father's houſe. For a glorious Throne to his Father's Houſe, that is, for his Father's Houſe to come to their Father by, for that they ſhall always find him thereon, or as another Scripture ſaith, in him, reconciling them unto him, not imputing to them their Treſpaſſes and Sins.

Iſa. 22. 22, 23.

2 Cor. 5. 19, 20.

Nor is it poſſible that we lay aſide the human Nature of Chriſt, for us to find any ſuch thing, as a Throne of Grace: either in Earth or Heaven, for that then nothing can be found to be the Reſt of God. This is my well-beloved Son in whom I am well-pleaſed, is God's one Language, but there is none other of whom he hath ſo ſaid. Wherefore he reſteth in him towards us, and in him only. Beſides, Grace cannot be extended towards us but in a Way of Juſtice. For that the Law, and our Sin, obſtructeth another way; but lay the human Nature of Chriſt aſide, and where will you find THAT that ſhall become ſuch a Sacrifice to Juſtice for the Sin of Men, as that God for the ſake of that ſhall both forgive, and cauſe that Grace forever ſhould reign towards us in ſuch a way? It reigns through Righteouſneſs, or Juſtice, by Jeſus Chriſt, and no way elſe. Chriſt Jeſus therefore is this Throne of Grace, or him, or that by which Grace reigns towards the Children of God.

Mat. 3. 17.

Gen. 3. 24.

Rom. 5. 21

That Scripture alſo gives us a little Light herein. And I beheld, and lo in the midſt of the Throne, &c. ſtood a lamb as it had been ſlain. This is to ſhew the Cauſe why Grace is ſo freely let out to us, even for that there ſtands there in the midſt of the Throne and in the Midſt of the Elders, a Lamb as it had been ſlain, or as it was made a Sacrifice for our Sin; for as a ſlain Lamb he now lives in the midſt of the Throne, and is the meritorious Cauſe of all the Grace that we enjoy. And though it ſeems by this Text, that the Throne is one thing, and the Lamb another: yet the Lamb of God is the Throne, though not as a Lamb or Sacrifice, but as one that by his Sacrifice has made way for Grace to run like a River into the World. The Son of God, Jeſus Chriſt, is ALL; he is the Throne, the Altar, the Prieſt, the Sacrifice, and all; but he is the Throne, the Prieſt, the Altar, and the Sacrifice under divers Conſiderations. He is not the Throne, as he is the Prieſt; he is not the Prieſt, as he is the Sacrifice; he is not the Sacrifice, as he is the Altar: yet is truly all theſe; yea, there is no Throne of Grace, no High-prieſt, no Propitiatory Sacrifice, &c. but he; of all which we may yet ſpeak further before we conclude this Treatiſe.

Rev. 5. 6.

I conclude then, that Chriſt Jeſus in his humane Nature is this Throne of Grace: in his humane Nature, I ſay he has by that compleatly accompliſhed all things neceſſary for the making way for Grace to be extended to Men; and that that is not only God's Place of reſt, but that by, and from which, as upon a glorious Throne, his Grace ſhall reign over Devil, Death, Sin, Hell, and the Grave for ever.

This humane Nature of Chriſt is alſo called the tabernacle of God, for the Fulneſs of the Godhead dwells in it bodily. It is God's habitation, his Dwelling-place, his Chair and Throne of State. He doth all in, and by it, and without it he doth not any thing. But to paſs this, let us come to the next thing.

Secondly, we will now come to diſcourſe of the placing of this Throne of Grace, or to diſcover where it is erected. And for this we muſt repair to the Type; which as was ſaid before, is called the Mercy-ſeat. Heb. 9. 3, 4, 5. The which we find, not in the outward Court, nor yet within the firſt Vail, which ſignifies, not in the World, nor in the Church on Earth: but in the Holy of the Holies, or after the ſecond Vail, the fleſh of Chriſt. Heb. 10. 20. There than is this Throne of God, this Throne of Grace, and no where here below. And for as much as it is called the Throne of God, of Grace, and is there; it ſignifieth that it is the higheſt, and moſt honourable. Hence he is ſaid to be far above all Heavens, and to have a Name above every Name.

Wherefore he that will come to this Throne of Grace, muſt know what manner of coming it is by which he muſt approach it, and that is, not perſonally, but by runnings out of Heart; not by himſelf, but by his Prieſt, his High-prieſt; for ſo it was in the Type. Heb. 9. 7. Into the ſecond, where the Mercy-ſeat was, went the High-prieſt alone, that is, Perſonally, and the people by him, has he made Interceſſion for them.

This then muſt be done by thoſe that will approach this Throne of Grace: They muſt go to God, as he is inthroned IN Chriſt, BY Chriſt as he is the High-prieſt of his Church: and they muſt go to him in the Holieſt, by him.

But again, as this Throne of Grace is in the Holieſt, not in the World, not in the Church on Earth; ſo it is in this Holieſt, ſet up above the Ark of the teſtimony: for ſo was the Mercy-ſeat; it was ſet up in the moſt holy Place above the Ark of the teſtimony. Deut. 10. 1, to 6. 1 Kin 8. 9. 2 Chron. 5. 10. The Ark of the teſtimony, what was that; why it was the Place of the Law, the Ark in which it was kept; the teſtimony was the Law, the Ark was prepared to put that in. This Ark in which was put this Law, was ſet up in the Holieſt, and the Mercy-ſeat was ſet above it; for ſo was Moſes commanded to place them, Thou ſhalt make an Ark, ſaith God, and thou ſhalt make a Mercy-ſeat: the Ark ſhall be called the Ark of the teſtimony, and there thou ſhalt put the teſtimony which I give thee (that is, the Law) and thou ſhalt put the Mercy-ſeat above upon the Ark, and there will I meet with thee, from above the Mercy-ſeat between the two Cherubims which are upon, that is, above the Ark of the teſtimony, ſhadowing the Mercy-ſeat. Exod. 25. 16, to 23. Heb. 9. 5.

Thus than were things of old ordained in the Type, by which we gather what is now to be minded in our worſhipping of God: There was an Ark made, and the two Tables of Stone, in which the Law was writ, was put therein. This Ark with theſe two Tables were put into the Holieſt, and this Mercy-ſeat was ſet above it. The Holy Ghoſt in my mind, thus ſignifying, that Grace ſits upon a Throne, that is higher than the Law, above the Law, and that Grace therefore is to rule before the Law, and notwithſtanding all the Sentence of the Law, for it ſitteth, I ſay, upon a Throne, but the Law ſits on none; a Throne, I ſay, which the Law inſtead of accuſing juſtifieth and approveth. For although it condemneth all Men, yet it excepteth Chriſt, who in his Manhood is this Throne of Grace. Him, I ſay, it condemneth not, but approveth, and liketh well of all his Doings; yea, it granteth him, as here we ſee, as a Throne of Grace, to be exalted above it ſelf; yea, it cannot but ſo do, becauſe by Wiſdom and Holineſs it ſelf, which is alſo the Lord of the Law, it is appointed ſo to do. Here then is the Throne of God, the Throne of Grace, namely above the Ark of the teſtimony: on this God and his Grace, ſits, reigns, and gives leave to Sinners to approach his Preſence for Grace and Mercy. He gives, I ſay, for thoſe Sinners ſo to do, that have waſhed before in the brazen Laver that is prepared to waſh in firſt, of which we may ſpeak more anon.

Now behold the Wiſdom of God in his thus ordaining of Things, in his placing, in the firſt Place the Law, and Chriſt the Ark of the Teſtimony, and the Mercy-Seat, or Throne of Grace, ſo nigh together; for doubtleſs 'twas Wiſdom that thus ordained them, and it might ſo ordain for theſe Reaſons.

1. That we that approach the Throne of Grace, might when we come there, be made ſtill to remember that we are Sinners (for by the Law is the Knowledge of Sin) Rom. 3. 20 and behold juſt before us, is this Ark in which are the two Tables that condemn all Fleſh. Yea, we muſt look that Way, if we look at all; for juſt above it is the Mercy-ſeat, or Throne of Grace. So then here is a Memento for them that come to God,

Exod. 38. 8. God, and to his Throne of Grace for Mercy, to wit, The Law, by which they are afreſh put in Remembrance of themſelves, their Sins, and what need they have of freſh Supplies of Grace. I read that the Laver of Braſs and the Foot of it, was made of the Looking-glaſſes of the Women that aſſembled at the Door of the Tabernacle, methinks to ſignify, that Men might ſee their Smyrches when they came to waſh; ſo here you ſee, the Law is placed even with the Mercy-Seat (only that ſtood above) whereby thoſe that come to the Throne of Grace for Mercy, might alſo yet more be put in Mind that they are Sinners.

2. This alſo tendeth to ſet an Edge upon Prayer, and to make us more fervent in Spirit when we come to the Throne of Grace. Should a King ordain that the Ax and Halter ſhould be before all thoſe that ſupplicate him for Mercy; it would put yet an Edge upon all their Petitions for his Grace, and make them yet the more humbly and fervently implore his Majeſty for Favour.

But behold, the Mercy-ſeat ſtands above, is ſet up above the Ark and Teſtimony that is in it. Here therefore we have Encouragement to look for good. For obſerve, though here is the Law, and that too in the holieſt of all, whether we go; yet above it is the Mercy-ſeat and Throne of Grace Triumphant, unto which we ſhould look, and to which we ſhould direct our Prayers. Let us therefore come boldly, to the Throne of Grace, notwithſtanding the Ark and Teſtimony is by; for the Law cannot hurt us when Grace is ſo nigh; beſides, God is now not in the Law, but upon the Throne of Grace that is above it, to give forth Pardons, and Grace, and helps at a Time of need.

This then may ſerve to inform ſome, where about they are, when they are in their Cloſets, and at Prayer: Art thou moſt dejected when thou art at Prayer? Hear me, thou art not far from the Throne of Grace; for thy Dejection proceedeth from thy looking into the Ark, into which God hath or-
1 Sam. 6. 19. dained, that whoſoever looks ſhall die. Now if thou art indeed ſo near as to ſee thy Sins, by thy reading of thy ſelf by the Tables in the Ark, caſt but up thine Eyes a little higher, and behold, there is the Mercy-ſeat and Throne of Grace to which thou wouldeſt come, and by which thou muſt be ſaved. When David came to pray to God, Pſal. 5. 3. he ſaid, he would direct his Prayer to God, and would look up.

As who ſhould ſay, when I pray, I will ſay to my Prayers, O my Prayers, mount up, ſtay not at the Ark of the Teſtimony, for there is the Law and Condemnation; but ſoar aloft to the Throne that ſtands above, for there is God, and there is Grace diſplayed, and there thou mayeſt obtain what is neceſſary to help in Time of need.

Some indeed there be that know not what theſe Things mean: they never read their Sin nor Condemnation for it, when they are upon their Knees at their Devotion, and ſo are neither dejected at the Sight of what they are, nor driven with Senſe of Things to look higher for help at need; for need, indeed, they ſee none. Of ſuch I ſhall ſay, they are not concerned in our Text, nor can they come hither, before they have been prepared ſo to do, as may appear before we come to an end.

And thus have I ſhewed you what this Throne of Grace is, and where it ſtands: And now I ſhall come to ſhew you how you ſhall find it, and know when you are come to it by ſeveral other Things.

Firſt then, About the Throne of Grace there is a Rain-bow, in Sight like unto an Emerald. This was the firſt Sight that John ſaw after he had received his Epiſtles for the ſeven Churches. Before he received them, he had the great Viſion of his Lord, and heard him ſay to him, I am he that was dead and am alive, or that liveth and was dead, and behold I am alive, for evermore, and have the Keys of Hell and of Death. And a good Preparation it was for a Work of that Nature that now he has called unto; to wit, that he might the more warmly and affectionately and confidently atteſt the Truth which his Lord had now for him to teſtify to them. Rev. 4. 1, 2, 3. Chap. 1. 17, 18.

So here, before he entreth upon his Prophecy of Things to come, he hears a firſt Voice, and ſees a firſt Sight. The firſt Voice, that he heard, was come up hither, and the firſt Sight that he ſaw, was a Throne with a Rainbow round about it. And immediately, ſaith he, I was in the Spirit; and behold, a Throne was ſet in Heaven, and one ſat upon the Throne. And he that ſat was to look upon like a Jaſper, and a Sardin-ſtone, and there was a Rainbow round about the Throne.

The firſt time that we find in God's Word, mention made of a Rainbow, we read alſo of its Spiritual ſignification, to wit, that it was a token of the firmneſs of the Covenant that God made with Noah, as touching his not Gen. 9. 8, drowning the Earth any more with the 18. waters of a Flood. I do ſet, ſaith he, my Bow in the Cloud, and it ſhall be a token of a Ver. 13. Covenant between me and the earth. And it ſhall come to paſs when I bring a Cloud over the Earth, that the Bow ſhall be ſeen in the Cloud. And I will remember my Covenant which is between me and you, and every living Creature of all Fleſh; and the Waters ſhall no more become a Flood to deſtroy all Fleſh.

The firſt Uſe therefore of the Rain-bow, it was to be a Token of a Covenant of Mercy, and Kindneſs to the World; but that was not the utmoſt End thereof. For that Covenant was but a Shadow of the Covenant of Grace which God hath made with his Elect in Chriſt, and that Bow but a Shadow of the Token of the permanency and laſtingneſs of that Covenant. Wherefore the the next Time we read of the Rain-bow, is

Ver. 26. in the firſt of Ezekiel, and there we read of it, only with reference to the Excellencies of its Colour: For that it is there ſaid to be exactly like the Colour of the Glory of the Man that the Prophet there ſaw, as Zech. 6. 13. ſitting upon a Throne. The Glory, that is, the Prieſtly Robes, for he is a Prieſt upon the Throne, and his Robes become his Exod. 2. 1, 2. Ezek. 16. 8. Glory and Beauty. His ROBES, what is, or are they, but his bleſſed Righteouſneſs with the Skirts of which he covereth the
Iſa. 61. 10. ſinful Nakedneſs of his People, and with the Perfection of which he decketh and adorneth them as a Bride adorneth her ſelf with Jewels.

Now here again, in the third Place, we find a Rainbow; a Rainbow round about the Throne; Round about the Throne of Grace. A Rainbow, that is, a Token of the Covenant, a Token of the Covenant of Grace in its laſtingneſs, and that Token is Ezek. 1. 27 the Appearance of the Man Chriſt. The Appearance, that is, his Robes, his Righteouſneſs, from the Appearance of his Loins even upwards, and from the Appearance of his Loins even downwards, even down to the Foot, as you have it in the Book of the Rev. 1. 13. Revelations. As the Appearance of the Bow that is in the Cloud in the Day of Rain: ſo was the Appearance of the brightneſs round
Ezek. 1. 28 about: This was the Appearance of the likeneſs of the Glory of the Lord, &c.

The Sum then is, that by the Rainbow round about the Throne of Grace upon which God ſitteth to hear and anſwer the Petitions of his People, we are to underſtand the obediential Righteouſneſs of Jeſus Chriſt, which in the Days of his Fleſh he wrought out and accompliſhed for his People; by which God's Juſtice is ſatisfied and their Perſons juſtified, and they ſo made acceptable to him. This Righteouſneſs, that ſhines in God's Eyes, more glorious than the Rainbow in the Cloud doth in ours, ſaith John, is round about the Throne. But for what Purpoſe? Why, to be looked upon. But who muſt look upon it? Why God and his People; the People when they come to pray, and God when he is about to hear and
Gen. 9. 16, 17. give. And the Bow ſhall be in the Cloud, ſays God, and I will look upon it, that I may remember the everlaſting Covenant between God and every living Creature of all Fleſh that is upon the Earth.

And I ſay, as the Bow is for God to look on, ſo it is alſo for our Sight to behold. A Rainbow round about the Throne, in Sight; in whoſe Sight? in John's, and his Companions, like unto an Emerald.

1 Kin. 10. 18, 19, 20. We read of Solomon's great Throne of Ivory, that though there was not its like in any Kingdom, yet he was not willing that the Bow of it ſhould ſtand before him. It was round behind. Oh but, God's Throne has the Bow before, even round about, to view, to look upon in Sight. Solomon's was but a Shadow, and therefore fit to be put behind: But this is the Sum and Subſtance, and therefore fit to be before, in view, in ſight, for God and his People to behold.

Thus you ſee that a Rainbow is round about the Throne of Grace, and what this Rainbow is. Look then when thou goeſt to Prayer, for the Throne, and that thou mayeſt not be deceived with a Fancy, look for the Rainbow too. The Rainbow, that is, as I have ſaid, the perſonal Performances of Chriſt thy Saviour for thee. Look, I ſay, for that, it is his Righteouſneſs; the Token of the everlaſtingneſs of the Covenant of Grace; the object of God's Delight, and muſt be the Matter of the Juſtification of thy Perſon and Performances before God, God looks at it, look thou at it, and at it only. For in Heaven or Earth, if that be
Pſ. 71. 16. caſt away, there is nothing to be found that can pleaſe God or juſtifie thee. If it be ſaid, Faith pleaſes God. I anſwer, Faith is a relative Grace; take then the Relative away, which, as to Juſtification, is this ſpangling Robe, this Rainbow, this Righteouſneſs of Chriſt, and Faith dies and becomes as to what we now treat of, extinct and quenched as Tow.

And a very fit Emblem the Rainbow is of the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt, and that in theſe Particulars.

1. The Rainbow is an effect of the Sun that ſhines in the Firmament; and the Righteouſneſs by which this Throne of Grace is encompaſſed, the Work of the Son of God.

2. The Rainbow was a Token that the wrath of God in ſending the Flood was appeaſed; this Righteouſneſs of Chriſt is that for the Sake of which God forgiveth us all Treſpaſſes.

3. The Rainbow was ſet in the Cloud that the ſinful Man might look thereon and wax confident in common Mercy; this Righteouſneſs is ſhewed us in the Word, that we may by it believe unto ſpecial Mercy.

4. The Bow is ſeen but now and then in the Cloud; Chriſt's Righteouſneſs is but here and there revealed in the Word.

5. The Bow is ſeen commonly upon, or after Rain: Chriſt's Righteouſneſs is apprehended by Faith upon, or ſoon after the Apprehenſions of Wrath.

6. The Bow is ſeen ſometimes more, ſometimes leſs; and ſo is this Righteouſneſs, even according to the Degree or Clearneſs of the Sight of Faith.

7. The Bow is of that Nature as to make
Ezek. 16. 14. whatever you ſhall look upon through it, to be of the ſame Colour of it ſelf, whether that Thing be Buſh, or Man, or Beaſt. And the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt is that that makes Sinners, when God looks upon them through it, to look beautiful, and acceptable in his Sight, for we are made comely
Eph. 1. 6. through his Comelineſs and made accepted in the Beloved.

One

One Word more of the Rainbow, and then to ſome other Things. As here you read that the Rainbow is round about the Throne: So if you read on even in the ſame Place, you ſhall find the glorious Effects thereof to be far more than all that I have ſaid. But,

Secondly, As the Throne of Grace is known by the Rainbow that is round about it: So alſo thou ſhalt know it, by this, The High-Prieſt is continually miniſtring before it; the High-Prieſt, or Chriſt as Prieſt, is there before God in his High-Prieſt's Robes making continual Interceſſion for thy Acceptance there.

Now, as I ſaid before, Chriſt is Prieſt and Throne and all; Throne in one Senſe, Prieſt in another; even as he was Prieſt, and Sacrifice, and Altar too, when he became our Reconciler to God.

As a Prieſt here, he is put under the Notion of an Angel that came and ſtood at the Rev. 8. 1, 2. Altar to offer Incenſe for the Church all the Time that the ſeven Angels were to ſound out with Trumpets, the Alarum of God's Wrath againſt the Antichriſtian World; leaſt that Wrath ſhould ſwallow them up alſo.

Ver. 3. And, ſaith John, another Angel came and ſtood at the Altar having a golden Cenſer; and there was given unto him much Incenſe, that he ſhould offer it with the Prayers of all Saints upon the golden Altar which was before the Throne. And the Smoak of the Incenſe which came with the Prayers of all Saints, aſcended up before God out of the Angel's Hand.

Here then you have before the Throne, that is the Throne or Mercy-ſeat, the High-Prieſt; for there it was that God appointed that the Altar of Incenſe, or that to burn
Exod. 31. 1, to 8. Incenſe on, ſhould be placed. This Incenſe Altar in the Type, was to be over-laid with Gold; but here the Holy Ghoſt implies that it is all of Gold. This Throne then is the Mercy-Seat, or Throne of Grace, to which we are bid to come; and as you ſee, here is the Angel, the High-Prieſt with his golden Cenſer, and his Incenſe, ready to wait upon us: For ſo the Text implies, for he is Luk. 1. 10. there to offer his Incenſe with the Prayers of all Saints that are waiting without at his Time of offering Incenſe within. So then, at the Throne of Grace, or before it, ſtands the High-Prieſt of our Propitiation Chriſt Jeſus, with his golden Cenſer in his Hand, full of Incenſe, therewith to perfume the Prayers of Saints, that come thither for Grace and Mercy to help in Time of Need. And he ſtands there, as you ſee, under the Name of an Angel, for he is the Angel of God's Preſence and Meſſenger of his Covenant.

Bnt now 'tis worth our conſidering, to take Notice how, or in what Method the High-Prieſt under the Law was to approach the Incenſe-Altar. When he came to make Interceſſion for the Saints before the Throne, he was to go in thither to do this Work in his Robes, and Ornaments; not without them, leſt he died. The principal of theſe Ornaments were, a Breaſt-plate, an Ephod, a Robe, a broidered Coat, a Miter, and a Girdle. Theſe are briefly called his Garments, Exod. 28. ver. 4. (in Revelations the firſt) and in the general they ſhew us, that he is cloathed with Righteouſneſs, girded with Truth and Faithfulneſs, (for that is the Girdle of his Reins to ſtrengthen him) and that he beareth upon Iſa. 11. 5. his Heart the Names of the Children of Chap. 22. 21. Iſrael that are Iſraelites indeed: for as on Aaron's Breaſt-plate was fixed the Names of the twelve Tribes of Iſrael, and he was to bear the weight of them by the ſtrength of his Shoulders, ſo are we on the Heart of Chriſt.

Thus therefore is our High-prieſt within the Holieſt to offer Incenſe upon the golden Altar of Incenſe, that is, before the Throne. Wherefore when thou goeſt thither, even to the Throne of Grace, look for him, and be not content though thou ſhouldſt find God there, if thou findeſt there not him (I ſuppoſe now an Impoſſibility for Edifications ſake) for without him nothing can be done: I ſay, without him as a Prieſt. He is the Throne, and without him as a Throne, God has no Reſting-place as to us; he is a Prieſt, and without him as ſuch, we can make no acceptable Approach to God. For by him, as Prieſt, our Spiritual Sacrifices are accepted. By him therefore let us offer the ſacrifice of praiſe to God con- 1 Pet. 2. 5. tinually, given thanks and confeſſing to, and Heb. 13. 15. in his name.

And for our further Edification herein, let us conſider that as God has choſen and made him his Throne of Grace; ſo he has ſworn that he ſhall be accepted as a Prieſt for ever there. For his natural Qualifications we may ſpeak ſomething to them afterwards; in the mean time know that there is no coming to God, upon pain of death, without him.

Nor will it out of my mind, but that his wearing the Rain-bow upon his Head, doth ſomewhat belong to him as Prieſt, his Prieſt- Rev. 10. 1. ly Veſtments being for Glory and Beauty Ezek. 1. 26 as afore was ſaid, compared to the Colour of it. But why doth he wear the Rain-bow upon his head; but to ſhew, that the Sign, that the Everlaſtingneſs of the Covenant of Grace, is only to be found in him; that he wears it as a Miter or Frontler of Gold, and can always plead it with acceptance to God, and for the ſubduing of the World and good of his People. But,

Thirdly the Throne of Grace is to be known by the Sacrifice that is preſented there. The High-prieſt was not to go into the Holieſt, nor come near the Mercy-ſeat, the which as I have ſhewed you, was a Type of our Throne of Grace; without blood. But Heb. 9. 7. into the ſecond went the High-prieſt alone once Lev. 4. 5, every year, not without blood, which he offer- 6, 7. ed for himſelf and for the errors of the People. Chap. 16. 13, 14, 15.

Yea, the Prieſt was to take of the bloud of his Sacrifice, and ſprinkle it ſeven times before the Lord, that is, before the Mercy-ſeat, or Throne of Grace; and was to put ſome of the blood upon the Horns of the Altar of Incenſe before the Lord. So then the Throne of Grace is known by the blood that is ſprinkled thereon, and by the Attonement that by it is made there. I told you before that before the Throne of Grace there is our High-prieſt, and now I tell you, there is his Sacrifice too: his Sacrifice which he there preſenteth as Amends for the Sins of all ſuch as have a Right to come with Boldneſs to the Throne of Grace. Hence as I mentioned before, there is ſaid to be in the midſt of the Throne (the ſame Throne of which we have ſpoken before) a Lamb as it had been ſlain. The words are to the Purpoſe, and ſignify that in the midſt of the Throne is our Sacrifice, with the very Marks of his Death upon him, ſhewing to God that ſitteth upon the Throne, the Holes of the Thorns, of the Nails, of the Spear; and how he was diſfigured with Blows and Blood when at his Command he gave himſelf a Ranſom for his People; for it cannot be imagined that either the Exaltation or Glorification of the Body of Jeſus Chriſt, ſhould make him forget the Day in which he died the Death for our Sins, eſpecially ſince that which puts Worth into his whole Interceſſion is the Death he died, and Blood he ſhed upon the Croſs for our Treſpaſſes.

Rev. 5. 6.

Beſides, there is no Sight more taketh the Heart of God than to ſee of the travel of the Soul, and the bruiſings of the Body of his Son for our Tranſgreſſions. Hence it is ſaid he is in the midſt of the Throne as he died, or as he had been ſlain. It is ſaid again, The Lamb that is in the midſt of the throne ſhall feed them. The Lamb, that is, the Son of God, as a Sacrifice, ſhall be always in the midſt of the Throne to feed and comfort his People. He is the Throne, he is the Prieſt, he is the Sacrifice. But then how as a Lamb, is he in the midſt of the Throne? Why, the meaning in mine Opinion is, that Chriſt as a dying, and bleeding Sacrifice, ſhall be Chief in the reconciling of us to God; or that his being offered for our Sins ſhall be of great Virtue when pleaded by him as Prieſt, to the obtaining of Grace, Mercy, and Glory for us. By his Blood he entreth into the holy Place, by his Blood he hath made an Attonement for us before the Mercy-ſeat: His Blood it is that ſpeaketh better for us, than the Blood of Abel did for Cain; alſo it is by his Blood that we have bold Admittance into the Holieſt: wherefore no marvel if you find him here a Lamb, as it had been ſlain, and that in the midſt of the Throne of Grace.

Rev. 7. 17.

Heb. 9. 12.

Heb. 12. 24.

Heb. 10. 19.

While thou art therefore thinking on him as he is the Throne of Grace, forget him not as he is Prieſt and Sacrifice, for as a Prieſt he makes Attonement, but there is no Attonement made for Sin without a Sacrifice. Now as Chriſt is a Sacrifice, ſo he is to be conſidered as paſſive or a Sufferer; as he is a Prieſt, ſo he is active, or one that hath offered up himſelf: as he is an Altar, ſo he is to be conſidered as God; for in, and upon the Power of his God-head he offered up himſelf. The Altar then was not the Croſs, as ſome have fooliſhly imagined. But as a Throne, a Throne of Grace, ſo he is to be conſidered as diſtinct from theſe three things, as I alſo have hinted before.

Wouldeſt thou then know this Throne of Grace, where God ſits to hear Prayers and give Grace? then caſt the Eyes of thy Soul about; and look 'till thou findeſt the Lamb there, a Lamb there as it had been ſlain: for by this thou ſhalt know thou art right. A ſlain Lamb, or a Lamb as it had been ſlain, when 'tis ſeen by a Supplicant in the midſt of the Throne whither he is come for Grace, is a bleſſed Sight, a bleſſed Sight indeed, and it informs him he is where he ſhould be.

And thou muſt look for this the rather, becauſe without Blood is no Remiſſion. He that thinks to find Grace at God's hand, and yet enters not into the Holieſt by the Blood of Jeſus, will find himſelf miſtaken, and will find a dead inſtead of a living way. For if not any thing below, or beſides Blood, can yield Remiſſion on God's Part, how ſhould Remiſſion be received by us without our acting Faith therein? We are juſtified by his Blood, through Faith in his Blood. Wherefore, I ſay, look when thou approacheſt the Throne of Grace, that thou give Diligence to ſee for the Lamb, that is, as it had been Slain, in the midſt of the Throne of Grace: And then thou wilt have, not only a Sign that thou preſenteſt thy Supplications to God, where, and as thou ſhouldeſt; but there alſo wilt thou meet with Matter to break, to ſoften, to bend, to bow, and to make thy Heart as thou wouldſt have it; for if the Blood of a Goat will, as ſome ſay, diſſolve an Adamant, a Stone that is harder than Flint; ſhall not the ſight of a Lamb as it had been Slain, much more diſſolve and melt down the Spirit of that Man that is upon his Knees before the Throne of Grace for Mercy; eſpecially when he ſhall ſee, that not his Prayers, not his Tears, not his Wants, but the Blood of the Lamb has prevailed with a God of Grace, to give Mercy and Grace to an undeſerving Man? This then is the third Sign by which thou ſhalt know when thou art at the Throne of Grace; that Throne is ſprinkled with Blood, yea, in the midſt of that Throne, there is to be ſeen to this day, a Lamb as it had been ſlain; and he is in the midſt of it, to feed thoſe that come to that Throne, and to lead them by and to living Fountains of Water. Wherefore,

Rom. 5, 7, 8, 9.

Rev. 5. 6.

Fourthly,

Fourthly, The Throne of Grace is to be known by the ſtreams of Grace that continually proceed therefrom, and that like a River run themſelves out into the World. Rev.22.1. And ſaith John, He ſhewed me a pure River of Water of Life clear as Chryſtal, proceeding out of the Throne of God and of the Lamb. Mark you, here is again a Throne, the Throne of God, which as we have ſhewed, is the human Nature of his Son; out of which, as you read, proceeds a River, a River of Water of Life clear as Chryſtal. And the joyning of the Lamb alſo here with God, is to ſhew that it comes, I ſay from God, by the Lamb; by Chriſt, who as a Lamb, or Sacrifice for Sin, is the procuring Cauſe of the running of this River; it proceedeth out of the Throne of God and of the Lamb. Behold therefore how carefully here the Lamb is brought in, as one from, or through whom proceeds the Water of Life to us: God is the Spring-head; Chriſt the golden Pipe of Conveyance; the Elect, the Receivers of this Water of Life: He ſaith not here, the Throne of the Lamb, but and of the Lamb, to ſhew, I ſay, that he is out of, or through whom this River of Grace ſhould come. But and if it ſhould be underſtood that it proceedeth from the Throne of the Lamb, it may be to ſhew that Chriſt alſo has Power as a Mediator, to ſend Grace like a River into the Church: And then it amounts to this, that God for Chriſt's ſake, gives this River of Grace, and that Chriſt for his Merits ſake, has Power to do ſo too. And hence is that good wiſh, ſo often mentioned in the Epiſtles, Grace to you, and Peace from God the Father, and the Lord Jeſus Chriſt. And again, Grace be to you from God the Father, and from the Lord Jeſus Chriſt. For Chriſt has Power with the Father, to give Grace and Forgiveneſs of Sins to Men: But let us come to the Terms in this Text. Here we have a Throne, a Throne of Grace; and to ſhew that this Throne is it indeed, therefore there proceeds therefrom a River of this Grace put here under the Term of Water of Life; a Term fit to expreſs both the Nature of Grace, and the Condition of him that comes for it to the Throne of Grace.

Rom. 1.7 1 Cor. 1.3. 2 Cor. 1.2. Gal. 1. 3. Epheſ. 1.2 Phil. 1. 2 Col. 1. 2. 1 Theſ. 1.1 2 Theſ. 1.2 1 Tim. 1.2 2 Tim. 1.2 Tit. 1. 4. Phil. 3. John. 5.21 22,23,26. Mark 2.10

'Tis called by the Name of Water of Life, to ſhew what a Reviving Cordial the Grace of God in Chriſt is, ſhall be, and will be found to be, of all thoſe that by him ſhall drink thereof; It ſhall be in him, even in him that drinks it, a well of water ſpringing up unto everlaſting Life; It will therefore beget Life and maintain it; yea, will it ſelf be a Spring of Life, in the very Heart of him that drinks it. Ah, it will be ſuch a Preſervative alſo to ſpiritual Health, as that by its Virtue the Soul ſhall for ever be kept, I ſay, the Soul that drinks it, from total and final Decay; it ſhall be in them a Well of living Water, ſpringing up unto Everlaſting Life.

Joh. 4. 14.

But there is alſo by this Phraſe or Term, briefly touched the preſent State of them that ſhall come hither to drink; they are not the Healthful, but the Sick: 'Tis with the Throne of Grace, as 'tis with the Bath, and other Places of Sovereign and Healing Waters, they are moſt coveted of them that are diſeaſed, and do alſo ſhew their Vertues on thoſe that have their Health and Limbs; ſo I ſay, is the Throne of Grace, its Waters are for Healing, for Soul Healing, that is their Vertue. Wherefore as at thoſe Waters above-mentioned, the Lame leave their Crutches, and the Sick, ſuch Signs of their Recovery, as may be a Sign of their receiving Health and Cure there; ſo at the Throne of Grace it is where true Penitents, and thoſe that are ſick for Mercy, do leave their Sighs and Tears; And the Lamb that is in the midſt of the Throne ſhall feed them, and ſhall lead them unto living Fountains of Waters, and God ſhall (there) wipe away all Tears from their Eyes. Wherefore as Joſeph waſhed his Face, and dried his Tears away, when he ſaw his Brother Benjamin; ſo all God's Saints ſhall hear, even at the Throne of Grace, where God's Benjamin or the Son of his right Hand is, waſh their Souls from Sorrow, and have their Tears wiped from their Eyes: Wherefore, O! thou that art diſeaſed, afflicted, and that wouldſt live, come by Jeſus to God as Merciful and Gracious, yea, look for this River when thou art upon thy Knees before him, for by that thou ſhalt find whereabout is the Throne of Grace, and ſo where thou mayſt find Mercy. Rev. 7. 17.

But again, As that which proceeds out of this Throne of Grace, is called Water of Life, ſo it is ſaid to be a River, a River of Water of Life. This in the firſt Place ſhews, that with God is plenty of Grace, even as in a River there is plenty of Water; a Pond, a Pool, a Ciſtern, will hold much, but a River will hold more; from this Throne comes Rivers and Streams of Water of Life, to ſatisfie thoſe that come for Life to the Throne of God.

Further, as by River is ſhewed what abundance of Grace proceeds from God through Chriſt; ſo it ſhews the unſatiable Thirſt, and Deſire of one that comes indeed aright to the Throne of Grace for Mercy; nothing but Rivers will ſatisfie ſuch a Soul; Pond, Pools and Ciſterns will do nothing; ſuch an one is like him of whom it is ſaid, Behold he drinketh up a River, and haſteth not; he truſteth that he can draw up Jordan into his Mouth: This David teſtifies when he ſaith, As the Heart panteth after the Water-brooks, ſo panteth my Soul after thee, O God. Hence the Invitation is proportionable, Drink abundantly, and that they that are ſaved, are ſaid to receive abundance of Grace; they that receive abundance of Grace, and of the Gift of Righteouſneſs, ſhall reign in Life by one Jeſus Chriſt. And hence it is ſaid again, when the Poor and Needy ſeek Water and there is none, and their Tongue faileth faileth for thirſt; I the Lord will hear, I the God of Iſrael will not forſake them: But Lord how wilt thou quench their boundleſs thirſt? I will open Rivers in high Places and Fountains in the midſt of the Valleys; I will make the Wilderneſs a pool of Waters, and the dry Land Springs of Water: Behold, here is a Pool of Water as big as a Wilderneſs, enough one would think to ſatisfie any thirſty Soul: Oh but that will not do! wherefore he will open Rivers, Fountains and Springs, and all this is to quench the drought of one that thirſteth for the Grace of God, that they have enough; They ſhall be abundantly ſatisfied with the fatneſs of thy Houſe, and thou ſhalt make them drink of the River of thy Pleaſures, for with thee is the Fountain of Life, &c.

Job 40.23 Pſ. 42. 1. Song 5. 1. Rom. 5. 17

Iſa. 41. 17, 18.

Pſ. 36. 8, 9.

This Abundance, the Throne of Grace yieldeth for the help and health of ſuch as would have the Water of Life to drink, and to cure their Diſeaſes withal; it yields a River of Water of Life.

Moreover ſince Grace is ſaid here to proceed as a River from the Throne of God and of the Lamb, it is to ſhew the Commonneſs of it; Rivers you know are common in the Stream, however they are at the Head. And to ſhew the Commonneſs of it, the Apoſtle calls it the common Salvation; and 'tis ſaid in Ezekiel and Zecharias, to go forth to the Deſert, and into the Sea, the World, to heal the Beaſts and Fiſh of all Kinds that are there. This therefore is a Text that ſhews us what it is to come to a Throne, where the Token of the Covenant of Grace is, where the High-Prieſt miniſtreth, and in the midſt of which there is a Lamb, at it been ſlain; for from thence there cometh not Drops, nor Showers, but Rivers of the Grace of God, a River of Water of Life.

Ezek. 47. 8.

Zech. 14. 8

Again, as the Grace that we here read of is ſaid, as it comes from this Throne, to come as a River of Water of Life; ſo it is ſaid to be pure and clear as Chryſtal; Pure is ſet in Oppoſition to muddy and dirty Waters, and clear is ſet in Oppoſition to thoſe Waters that are black, by Reaſon of the cold and icyiſh Nature of them; therefore there is conjoyned to this Phraſe, the Word (Chryſtal) which all know is clear and ſhining Stone. Indeed the Life and Spirit that is in this Water, will keep it from looking black and dull; and the Throne from whence it comes, will keep it from being muddy, ſo much as in the Streams thereof; The bleſſing of the Lord it maketh rich, and he addeth no Sorrow with it. Indeed all the Sorrow that is mixed with our Chriſtianity, it proceedeth as the procuring Cauſe, from our ſelves, not from the Throne of Grace; for that is the Place where our Tears as was ſhewed you, are wiped away; and alſo where we hang up our Crutches: The Streams thereof are pure and clear, not muddy nor frozen, but warm and delightful, and that make glad the City of God.

Ezek. 34. 19.

Job 6. 15, 16.

Prov. 10. 22.

Pſal. 46.

Theſe Words alſo ſhew us, that this Water of it ſelf can do, without a Mixture of any Thing of ours: What comes from this Throne of Grace, is pure Grace and nothing elſe; clear Grace, free Grace, Grace that is not mixed, nor need be mixed with Works of Righteouſneſs which we have done; 'tis of it ſelf ſufficient to anſwer all our Wants, to heal all our Diſeaſes, and to help us at a Time of need.

'Tis Grace that chooſes, 'tis Grace that calleth, 'tis Grace that preſerveth, and 'tis Grace that brings to Glory: even the Grace that like a River of Water of Life proceedeth from this Throne: And hence it is, that from firſt to laſt, we muſt cry Grace, Grace, unto it.

Thus you ſee, what a Throne the Chriſtian is invited to; 'tis a Throne of Grace whereon doth ſit the God of all Grace; 'tis a Throne of Grace before which the Lord Jeſus miniſtreth continually for us; 'tis a Throne of Grace ſprinkled with the Blood, and in the midſt of which is a Lamb as it had been ſlain; 'tis a Throne with a Rainbow round about it, which is the Token of the everlaſting Covenant, and out of which proceeds, as here you read, a River, a pure River of Water of Life clear as Chryſtal.

Look then for theſe Signs of the Throne of Grace all you that would come to it, and reſt not until by ſome of them, you know that you are even come to it; they are all to be ſeen, have you but Eyes; and the Sight of them is very delectable, and has a natural Tendency in them when ſeen, to revive and quicken the Soul. But,

Fifthly, As the Throne of Grace is known and diſtinguiſhed by the Things abovenamed, ſo it is by the Effects which theſe Things have wrought; There is about that Throne four and twenty Seats, and upon the Seats four and twenty Elders ſitting, cloathed in white Rayment, and they have on their Heads Crowns of Gold.

Rev. 4. 4.

There is no Throne that has theſe Signs and Effects belonging to it but this; wherefore as by theſe Signs ſo by the Effects of them alſo, one may know which is, and ſo when he is indeed come to the Throne of Grace.

And a little as we commented upon what went before, we will alſo touch upon this.

1. By Seats, I underſtand Places of Reſt, and Dignity; Places of Reſt, for that they that ſit on them, do reſt from their Labours; and Places of Dignity, for that they are about the Throne; And the four and twenty Elders which ſat before God on their Seats, fell upon their Faces and worſhipped God: And for as much as the Seats are mentioned before they are mentioned that ſat thereon, it is to ſhew that the Places were prepared before they were converted.

Rev. 14. 13. Chap. 11. 16.

2. The Elders, I take to be the twelve Patriarchs and the twelve Apoſtles, or the firſt Fathers of the Churches; for for they are the Elders of both the Churches, that is, both of the Jewiſh and Gentile Church of God; they are the Ancients, as alſo they are called in the Prophet Iſaiah, which are in ſome Senſe the Fathers of both theſe Churches. Theſe Elders are well ſet forth by that four and twenty, that you read of in the Book of Chronicles, who had every one of them for Sons twelve in Number. There therefore the four and twenty are.

Iſa.24.23. 1 Chr.25. ver. 8. to ver. 31.

3. Their ſitting denoteth alſo their abiding in the preſence of God; ſit thou at my right Hand, was the Father's Word to the Son, and alſo ſignifieth the ſame.

Pſ. 110.1.

It is then the Throne of Grace where the four and twenty Seats are, and before which the four and twenty Elders ſit.

4. Their white Robes are Chriſt's Righteouſneſs, their own good Works and Glory; not that their Works brought them thither, for they were of themſelves polluted, and were waſhed white in the Blood of the Lamb; but yet God will have all that his People have done in Love to him, be rewarded: Yea, and they ſhall wear their own Labours, being waſhed as afore is hinted, as a Badge of their Honour, before the Throne of Grace, and this is Grace indeed.

Rev.7.14, 15. They have waſhed their Robes and made them white in the Blood of the Lamb, therefore are they before the Throne of God. They have waſhed as others did do before them.

5. And they had on their Heads Crowns of Gold. This denotes their Victory, and alſo that they are Kings, and as Kings ſhall reign with him for ever and ever.

Rev.5.10.

6. But what! were they ſilent! did they ſay, did they do nothing while they ſat before the Throne? yes, they were appointed to be Singers there. This was ſignified by the four and twenty that we made mention of before, who with their Sons were inſtructed in the Songs of the Lord, and all that were cunning to do ſo then, were two hundred fourſcore and eight. Theſe were the Figure of that hundred forty and four thouſand redeemed from the Earth. For as the firſt four and twenty, and their Sons, are ſaid to ſing and to play upon Cymbals, Pſalters and Harps, and as they are there ſaid to be inſtructed and cunning in the Songs of the Lord: So theſe that ſit before the Throne, are ſaid alſo to ſing with Harps in their Hands, their Song before the Throne; and ſuch Song it was, and ſo cunningly did they ſing it, that no Man could learn it, but that hundred and forty and four thouſand which were redeemed from the Earth.

1Chr. 25. 6, 7.

Rev.14.1, 2, 3, 4.

Now, as I ſaid, as he at firſt began with four and twenty, in David; and ended with four and twenty times Twelve: So here in John, he begins with the ſame Number, but ends with ſuch a Company that no Man could number. For, he ſaith, after this I looked, and lo, a great Multitude which no Man could number, of all Nations, and Kindreds, and People, and Tongues, ſtood before the Throne, and before the Lamb, cloathed with white Robes, and Palms in their Hands: And they cried with a loud Voice, ſaying, Salvation to our God which ſitteth upon the Throne, and unto the Lamb. And all the Angels ſtood round about the Throne, and the Elders, and the four Beaſts, and fell before the Throne on their Faces and worſhipped God.

Rev.7.9, 10, 11.

This numberleſs Number ſeems to have got the Song by the End; for they cry aloud Salvation, Salvation to our God, and to the Lamb; which to be ſure is ſuch a Song that none can learn but them that are redeemed from the Earth.

But I ſay, what a brave Encouragement is it for one that is come for Grace to the Throne of Grace, to ſee ſo great a Number already there, on their Seats, in their Robes, with their Palms in their Hands, and their Crowns upon their Heads, ſinging of Salvation to God, and to the Lamb!

And I ſay again, (and ſpeak now to the dejected) methinks it would be ſtrange, O thou that art ſo afraid that the Greatneſs of thy Sins will be a Bar unto thee, if amongſt all this great Number of Pipers and Harpers that are got to Glory, thou canſt not eſpy one that, when here, was as vile a Sinner as thy ſelf. Look Man, they are there for thee to view them, and for thee to take Encouragement to hope when thou ſhalt conſider what Grace and Mercy has done for them. Look again, I ſay, now thou art upon thy Knees, and ſee if ſome that are among them has not done worſe than thou haſt done. And yet behold, they are ſet down; and yet behold they have their Crowns on their Heads, their Harps in their Hands, and ſing aloud of Salvation to their God, and to the Lamb.

This then is a fifth Note or Sign that doth diſtinguiſh the Throne of Grace from other Thrones; there are before that to be ſeen for our Encouragement, a numberleſs Number of People ſitting and ſinging round about it: Singing I ſay to God for his Grace, and to the Lamb for his Blood, by which they are ſecured from the Wrath to come. And the four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps, and golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of ſaints, and they ſang a new ſong, ſaying, thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the ſeals thereof; for thou waſt ſlain, and haſt redeemed us unto God by thy blood, out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation: And haſt made us to our God, kings, and prieſts, and we ſhall reign on the earth.

Rev. 5. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10.

Behold tempted Soul, doſt thou not yet ſee what a Throne of Grace here is, and what Multitudes are already arrived thither to give Thanks unto his Name, that ſits thereon, and to the Lamb for ever and ever? And wilt thou hang thy Harp upon the Willows, and go drooping up and down the World, as if there was no God, no Grace, no Throne of Grace to apply thy ſelf unto, for Mercy and Grace to help in Time of Need? Hark! doſt thou not hear them what they ſay? Worthy, ſay they, is the Lamb that was ſlain, to receive power, and riches, and wiſdom, and ſtrength, and honour, and glory, and bleſſing. And every creature which is in heaven, (where they are) and on the earth, (where thou art) and under the earth, and ſuch as are in the ſea, and all that are therein, heard I, ſaying, bleſſing, honour, glory, and power, be to him that ſitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever.

All this is written for our Learning, that we through Patience and Comfort of the Scriptures might have Hope; and that the drooping ones might come boldly to the Throne of Grace, to obtain Grace and find Mercy to help in Time of Need.

They bleſs, they all bleſs; they thank, they all thank; and wilt thou hold thy Tongue? They have all received of his Fulneſs, and Grace for Grace, and will he ſhut thee out! Or is his Grace ſo far gone, and ſo near ſpent, that now he has not enough to pardon and ſecure, and ſave one Sinner more? For Shame leave off this Unbelief: Wherefore (doſt thou think) art thou told of all this, but to encourage thee to come to the Throne of Grace? And wilt thou hang back or be ſullen, becauſe thou art none of the firſt? Since he hath ſaid, The firſt ſhall be laſt, and the laſt firſt. Behold the Legions, the Thouſands, the untold and numberleſs Number that ſtand before the Throne, and be bold to hope in his Mercy.

Sixthly, As the Throne of Grace is diſtinguiſhed from other Thrones by theſe; ſo out of this Throne proceeds Lightnings
Rev. 4. 5. and Thunderings, and Voices; alſo before this Throne are ſeven Lamps of Fire burning, which are the ſeven Spirits of God. This then is another Thing by which the Throne of Grace may be known as an Effect of what is before. So again, Chapter
— 8. 5. the eighth, it is ſaid, That from the Altar of Incenſe that ſtood before the Throne, there was Voices, and Thunderings and Lightnings, and an Earthquake: All theſe then come out of the Holieſt, where the Throne is, and are inflamed by this Throne, and by him that ſits thereon.

1. Lightnings here, are to be taken for the Illuminations of the Spirit in the Goſpel;
Heb. 10. 32 as 'tis ſaid in the Book of Pſalms, They Pſal. 34. 5. looked to him (on the Throne) and were — 77. 18. lightned: Or, as it is ſaid in other Places, The Voice of thy Thunder was in the Heavens, the Lightnings lightned the World: And again, His Lightnings inlightned the World, the Earth ſaw it and trembled.

This Lightning therefore communicates Light to them that ſit in Darkneſs: God, ſaith the Apoſtle, who commanded the Light 2 Cor. 4. 6. to ſhine out of Darkneſs, hath ſhined into our Hearts, to give the Light of the Knowledge Acts 9. 3. of the Glory of God in the Face of Jeſus Chriſt. 'Twas from this Throne that the Light came that ſtruck Paul off his Horſe, when he went to deſtroy it, and the People that profeſſed it: Theſe are thoſe Lightnings by which Sinners are made to ſee their ſad Condition, and by which they are made to ſee the Way out of it: Art thou then made to ſee thy Condition how bad it is, and that the Way out of it is by Jeſus Chriſt? (for, as I ſaid, he is the Throne of Grace) Why then come orderly in the Light of theſe Convictions to the Throne from whence thy Light did come, and cry there, as Samuel did to Ely, Here I am, for thou haſt called 1 Sam. 3. 8. me: Thus did Saul by the Light that made him ſee, by it he came to Chriſt, and cried, Who art thou Lord, and what wouldeſt thou Acts 9. 6. have me to do? And is it not an Encouragement to thee to come to him, when he lights thy Candle that thou mightſt ſee the Way, yea, when he doth it on Purpoſe that thou mightſt come to him? He gives light to them that ſit in darkneſs, and in the ſhadow of death, (What to do?) to guide our feet in the way of peace.

This Interpretation of this Place, ſeems to me moſt to cohere with what went before; for firſt you have here a throne, and one ſitting on it; then you have the elders, and in them preſented to you the whole Church, ſitting round about the throne; then you have in the Words laſt read unto you, a diſcourſe how they came thither, and that is by the lightnings, thunderings, and voices that proceed out of the Throne.

2. As you have here lightnings, ſo thereto is adjoined thunders; there proceeded out of this Throne Lightnings and Thunders: By Thunders I underſtand that powerful Diſcovery of the Majeſty of God by the Word of Truth, which ſeizeth the Heart with a reverential Dread and Awe of him; hence it is ſaid, the Voice of the Lord is full of Majeſty, the Voice of the Pſ. 29. 4, Lord breaketh the Cedars; the Voice, that 5, 6, 7. is, his thundering Voice. Canſt thou thun- Job 40. 9. der with a voice like him? And the thunder Ch. 26. 14. of his power who can underſtand? It was upon this Account that Peter, and James, Mark 3. 16 and John, were called the Sons of Thun- 17. der, becauſe in the Word which they were to preach, there was to be not only Lightnings, but Thunders; not only Illuminations, but a great ſeizing of the Heart with the Dread and Majeſty of God, to the effectual turning of the Sinner to him.

Lightnings without thunder, are in this Caſe dangerous, becauſe they that receive the the one without the other, are ſubject to miſcarry: They were once enlightned, but you read of no Thunder they had, and they were ſubject to fall into an irrecoverable State. Saul had Thunder with his Lightnings to the ſhaking of his Soul; ſo had the three thouſand; ſo had the Jaylor: They that receive Light without Thunder, are ſubject to turn the Grace of God into Wantonneſs; but they that know the terror of God will perſuade Men. So then, when he decrees to give the Rain of his Grace to a Man, He makes a way for the lightning and thunder; not the one without the other, but the one following the other. Lightning and Thunder is made a Cauſe of Rain, but Lightning alone, is not: Who hath divided a water-courſe for the overflowing of waters? And a way for the lightning and thunder to cauſe it to rain on the earth, where no man is; on the wilderneſs wherein there is no man?

Heb. 6. 4, 5, 6. Acts 9. Ch. 2. Ch. 16. Rom. 3. 8. Jude 4. 2Cor. 5. 11. Job 28. 26. — 38. 25, 26.

Thus therefore you may ſee how in the darkeſt Sayings of the Holy Ghoſt, there is as great an Harmony with Truth as in the moſt plain and eaſy; there muſt be Thunder with Light, if thy Heart be well poiſed and ballanced with the Fear of God: We have had great Lightnings in this Land of late Years, but little Thunders; and that is one Reaſon why ſo little Grace is found where Light is, and why ſo many Profeſſors run on their Heads in ſuch a Day as this is, notwithſtanding all they have ſeen.

Well then, this alſo ſhould be an Help to a Soul to come to the Throne of Grace; the God of Glory has thundred, has thundred to awaken thee, as well as ſent Lightnings to give thee Light; to awaken thee to a coming to him, as well as to the enabling of thee to ſee his Things; this then has come from the Throne of Grace, to make thee come hither: Wherefore obſerve where it is by theſe Signs made mention of before, and by theſe Effects; and go, and come to the Throne of Grace.

3. As there proceeds from this Throne, Lightnings and Thunders, ſo from hence 'tis ſaid, voices proceed alſo; now theſe Voices may be taken for ſuch as are ſent with this Lightning and Thunder to inſtruct, or for ſuch as this Lightning and Thunder begets in our Hearts.

1. It may be taken in the firſt Senſe, for Light and Dread, when it falleth from God into the Soul, is attended with a Voice or Voices of Inſtruction to the Soul, to know what to do. Thus it was in Paul's Caſe; he had Light and Dread, and Voices for his Inſtruction; he had Lightnings and Thunderings and Voices: Good and upright is the Lord; therefore will he teach ſinners in the way: The meek will he guide in judgment; the meek will he teach his way.

Acts 9. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7. Pſ. 25. 8, 9.

2. Or by voices you may underſtand, ſuch as the lightning and thunder begets in our Hearts; for though a Man is as mute as a Fiſh to Godward, before this thunder and lightning comes to him, yet after that he is full of Voices; (and how much more numerous are the voices, that in the whole Church on Earth are begot by theſe lightnings and thunders, that proceed from the Throne of Grace) their Faith has a Voice, their Repentance has a Voice, their Subjection to God's Word has a Voice in it; yea, there is a Voice in their Prayers, a Voice of their Cry, a Voice in their Tears, a Voice in their Groans, in their Roarings, in their bemoaning of themſelves, and in their Triumphs.

2 Cor. 4. 13 — 7. 13. 1 Theſ. 1. 2, 3, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10. Pſal. 5. 3. Pſ. 7. 7. Pſ. 102. 5. Pſ. 43. 1. Pſ. 128. 5. Pſ. 22. 1. Jer. 31. 18

This then is an Effect of the Throne of Grace; hence it is ſaid, that they proceed from it, even the Lightning and the Thunder, and the Voices; that is, effectual Converſion to God.

It follows then, that if all theſe are with thy Soul, the Operations of the Throne of Grace have been upon thee to bring thee to the Throne of Grace; firſt in thy Prayers, and then in thy Perſon: And this leads me to the next Thing propounded to be ſpoken to, which is to ſhew who are the Perſons invited here to come to the Throne of Grace. Let us therefore come.

Now the Perſons here called upon to come to the Throne of Grace, are not all or every ſort of Men, but the Men that may properly be comprehended under this Word (Us) and (We) let (Us) therefore come boldly, that (We) may obtain. And they that are here put under theſe particular Terms, are expreſſed both before and after by thoſe that have Explication in them.

They are called,

1. Such as give the more earneſt Heed to the Word which they have heard. Heb. 2. 1.

2. They are ſuch as ſee Jeſus Crowned with Glory and Honour. 9.

3. They are called the Children. 14.

4. They are called the Seed of Abraham. 16.

5. They are called Chriſt's Brethren. 17.

So Chapter the third, they are called Holy Brethren, and ſaid to be Partakers of the heavenly Calling, and the People of whom it is ſaid, that Chriſt Jeſus is the Apoſtle and High-Prieſt of their Profeſſion. Ch. 8. 1. 6.

They are called Chriſt's own Houſe, and are ſaid to be Partakers of Chriſt. 14.

They are ſaid to be the Believers, thoſe that do enter in into Reſt, thoſe that have Chriſt for an High-Prieſt, and with the feeling of whoſe Infirmities he is touched and ſympathizeth. Ch. 4. 3, 14, 15.

So in Chapter the ſixth, they are called Beloved and the Heirs of Promiſe; they that have fled for Refuge to lay hold on the Hope ſet before them, they are called thoſe that Hope as an Anchor, and thoſe for whom Chriſt as a Fore-runner hath entred and taken Poſſeſſion of Heaven. Ch. 6. 9. 17. to 21.

So Chapter the Seventh, they are ſaid to be ſuch as draw nigh unto God. Ch. 7. 19.

And

Chap. 8. And Chapter the Eighth, they are ſaid to be ſuch with whom the New Covenant is made Chriſt.

Chap. 9. 12, 24. Chapter the Ninth, they are ſuch for whom Chriſt has obtained eternal Redemption, and ſuch for whom he has entred the Holy Place.

Ch. 10. 10, 19, 22, 23, 24, 25. Chapter the Tenth, they are ſuch as are ſaid to be ſanctified by the Will of God, ſuch as have boldneſs to enter into the Holieſt, by the Blood of Jeſus; ſuch as draw near with a true Heart, in full Aſſurance of Faith (or that have Liberty to do ſo) having their Hearts ſprinkled from an evil Conſcience, and their Bodies waſhed with pure Water; they were thoſe that had ſuffered much for Chriſt in the World, and that became Companions of them that ſo were uſed.

Ch. 11. 40 Yea, he tells them in the Eleventh Chapter, that they and the Patriarchs muſt be made perfect together.

Ch. 12. 22, 23. He alſo tells them in the twelfth Chapter, that already they are come to Mount Sion, to the City of the living God, the heavenly Jeruſalem, and to an innumerable Company of Angels; to the general Aſſembly and Church of the firſt born which are written in Heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the Spirits of juſt Men made perfect, and to Jeſus the Mediator of the New Teſtament, and to the Blood of ſprinkling that ſpeaketh better Things than that of Abel.

Thus you ſee what Terms, Characters, Titles, and Privileges they are inveſted with, that are here exhorted to come to the Throne of Grace: from whence we may conclude that every one is not capable of coming thither, no not every one that is under Convictions, and that hath a Senſe of the need of, and a Deſire after the Mercy of God in Chriſt.

Wherefore, we will come in the next Place to ſhew the orderly coming of a Soul to the Throne of Grace for Mercy: And for this we muſt firſt apply our ſelves to the Old Teſtament, where we have the Shadow of what we now are about to enter upon the Diſcourſe of, and then we will come to the Antitype where yet the Thing is far more explained.

Exod. 12. 43, 44, 45. Ezek. 44. 6, 7, 8, 9. Exod. 12. 48, 49. Firſt then, the Mercy-Seat was for the Church, not for the World; for a Gentile could not go immediately from his natural State to the Mercy-Seat by the High-Prieſt, but muſt firſt, orderly join himſelf, or be joined to the Church, which then conſiſted of the Body of the Jews.

The Stranger then muſt firſt be circumciſed, and conſequently profeſs Faith in the Meſſias to come, which was ſignified by his going from his Circumciſion directly to the Paſſover, and ſo orderly to other Privileges, ſpecially to this of the Mercy-Seat, which the High-Prieſt was to go but once a Year into.

2. The Church is again ſet forth unto us by Aaron and his Sons. Aaron as the Head, his Sons as the Members; but the Sons of Aaron were not to meddle with any of the Things of the Holieſt, until they had waſhed in a Laver. And the Lord ſpake unto Moſes, ſaying, thou ſhalt alſo make a Laver of Braſs, and his Foot alſo of Braſs, to waſh in; and thou ſhalt put it between the Tabernacle of the Congregation and the Altar, and thou ſhalt put Water therein. And Aaron and his Sons ſhall waſh their Hands and their Feet thereat. When they go into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, they ſhall waſh with Water, that they die not; or when they come near to the Altar to miniſter, to burn offerings made by fire unto the Lord. So they ſhall waſh their Hands and their Feet that they die not: and it ſhall be a Statute for ever unto them, even to him, and to his Seed in their generations. See the Margent. Exod. 30. 17. to 22. Chap. 40. 30, 31, 32.

3. Nay ſo ſtrict was this Law, that if any of Iſrael as well as the Stranger were defiled by any dead Thing, they were to waſh before they partook of the holy Things or elſe ſtill to abſtain; but if they did not, their Sin ſhould remain upon them. So again, The Soul that hath touched any ſuch uncleanneſs, ſhall be unclean until even, and ſhall not eat of the holy Things (much leſs come within the inner Veil) unleſs he waſh his fleſh in Water. Levit. 17. 15, 16. Chap. 22. 4, 5, 6.

Now I would ask, what all this ſhould ſignify, if a Sinner, as a Sinner before he waſhes, or is waſhed, may immediately go unto the Throne of Grace?

Yea, I ask again, why the Apoſtle ſuppoſes waſhing as a Preparation to the Hebrews entring into the Holieſt, if Men may go immediately from under Convictions to a Throne of Grace? For thus he ſays, let us draw near the Holieſt, (ver. 19.) with a true Heart in full Aſſurance of Faith, HAVING our Hearts ſprinkled from an evil Conſcience, and our Bodies waſhed with pure Water. Let us draw near: He ſaith not, that we may have; but having FIRST been waſhed and ſprinkled. Heb. 10. 22.

The Laver then muſt firſt be waſhed in, and he that waſhed not firſt there, has not Right to come to the Throne of Grace; wherefore you have here alſo a Sea of Glaſs ſtanding before the Throne, to ſignify this Thing. It ſtands before the Throne, for them to waſh in, that would indeed approach the Throne of Grace. For this Sea of Glaſs is the ſame that is ſhadowed forth by the Laver made mention of before, and with the brazen Sea that ſtood in Solomon's Temple, whereat they were to waſh before they went into the Holieſt. But you may ask me what the Laver or molten Sea ſhould ſignify to us in the New Teſtament? I anſwer, it ſignifieth the Word of the New Teſtament, which containeth the cleanſing Doctrine of Remiſſion of Sins by the precious Blood of Jeſus Chriſt. Wherefore we are ſaid to be clean through the Word, through the waſhing of Water by the Word. Rev. 4. 6. Joh. 15. 3. Tit. 3. 5.

The

The meaning then is, A man must first come to Christ, as set forth in the word, which is this Sea of Glass, before he can come to Christ in Heaven, as he is the Throne of Grace. For the word I say, is this Sea of Glass that stands before the Throne, for the Sinner to wash in first. Know therefore who ever thou art that art minded to be saved, thou must first begin with Christ Crucified, and with the Promise of Remission of sins through his Blood. Which Crucified Christ thou shalt not find in Heaven as such, for there he is alive, but thou shalt find him Gal.3.1,2. in the Word, for there he is to this Day set forth in all the Circumstances of his death, as Crucified before our Eyes. There thou shalt find THAT he Died; WHEN he Died; WHAT Death he Died; WHY he Died; and the Word open to thee to come and wash in his Blood. The Word therefore of Christ's Testament is the Laver for all New Testament Priests (and every Christian is a Priest to God) to wash in.

Rom. 5. 9, 10. Here therefore, thou must receive thy Justification, and that before thou goest one step further. For if thou art not Justified by his Blood, thou wilt not be saved by his Life. And the Justifying Efficacy of his Blood is left behind, and is here contained in the Molten Sea, or Laver, or Word of Grace for thee to wash in.

Indeed there is an interceding Voice in his Blood for us before the Throne of Grace, or Mercy-seat; but that is still to bring us to wash, or for them that have washed therein, as it was shed upon the Cross. We have Boldness therefore to enter into the Holiest by the Blood of Jesus, that is, by Faith in his Blood as shed without the Gate, for as his Blood was shed without the Gate, so it sanctifies the Believer, and makes him capable to approach the Holy of Holies. Wherefore after he had said, Heb. 13. 11, to 16. That he might sanctify the people with his own Blood, he suffered without the Gate; let us by him therefore, that is, because we are first sanctified by Faith in his Blood, offer to God the Sacrifice of Praise continually, that is, the Fruits of our Lips, giving Thanks in his Name. Wherefore the Laver of Regeneration, or Christ set forth by the Word, as Crucified, is for all coming Sinners to wash in, unto Justification; and the Throne of Grace is to be approached by Saints, or as Sinners justified by Faith in a crucified Christ; and so, as washed from Sin in the Sea of his Blood, to come to the Mercy-seat.

And it is yet far more evident; for that those that approach this Throne of Grace, they must do it through believing; for saith the Apostle, how shall they call on him, in whom they have not believed? of whom they have not heard, and in whom they have not believed? for to that Purpose runs the Text.

How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed (antecedent to their calling on him) and how shall they believe in him, of whom they have not heard (first)? Rom. 10. 14. So then hearing, goes before believing, and believing before calling upon God, as he sits on the Throne of Grace. Now believing, is to be according to the Sound of the beginning of the Gospel, which presenteth us, not first, with Christ as ascended, but as Christ dying, buried, and risen. For I delivered unto you first of all, that which I also received; how that Christ died for our sins, according to the Scriptures, and that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day, according to the Scriptures. 1 Cor. 15. 3, 4.

I conclude then, as to this, that the Order of Heaven is, that Men wash in the Laver of Regeneration, to wit, in the Blood of Christ, as held forth in the Word of the Truth of the Gospel which is the ordinance of God; for there Sinners as Sinners, or Men as unclean may wash, in order to their Approach to God as he sits upon the Throne of Grace.

And besides, Is it possible that a Man that passeth by the Doctrine of Christ as dead, should be admitted with Acceptance to a just and Holy God for Life? or that he that slighteth and trampleth under foot the Blood of Christ as shed on the Cross, should be admitted to an Interest in Christ as he is the Throne of Grace! it cannot be. He must then wash THERE first, or die; let his Profession, or pretended Faith, or Holiness be what it will. For God sees Iniquity in all Men, nor can all the Niter Jer. 2. 22. or Sope in the World, cause that our Iniquity should not be marked before God; for without shedding of Blood, is NO Remission. Heb. 9. 22.

Nothing that polluteth, that defileth, or, that is unclean, must enter into God's Sanctuary; much less, into the most Holy part thereof, but by their Sacrifice, by which they are purged, and for the sake of the Perfection thereof, they believing, are accepted. We have therefore brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus, and no way else. Chap. 10. 19.

But this will yet be further manifest by what we have yet to say, of the Manner of our Approach unto the Throne of Grace.

First then, we must approach the Throne of Grace by the second Veil; for the Throne of Grace is after the second Veil. So then, tho' a Man cometh into the Tabernacle, or Temple, which was a Figure of the Church, Chap. 9. 3. yet if he entred but within the first Veil, he only came, where there was no Mercy-seat or Throne of Grace.

And what is this second Veil, in, at, or through which, as the Phrase is we must, by Blood, enter into the Holiest? Why as to the Law, the second Veil did hang up between the Holy and the most Holy Place, and it did hide what was within the Holiest from the Eyes or Sight of those that went no further than into the first Tabernacle.

Now this ſecond Veil in the Tabernacle or Temple, was a Figure of the ſecond Veil, that all thoſe muſt go through that will approach the Throne of Grace. And that Veil is the fleſh of Chriſt.

This is that which the Holy Apoſtle teſtifies in his exhortation, where he ſaith, Heb. 10. 19, 20. We have boldneſs to enter into the Holieſt by the Blood of Jeſus, by a new and living way which he hath Conſecrated for us through the veil, that is to ſay, his fleſh. The ſecond Veil then, is the fleſh of Chriſt, the which, until a Man can enter or go through by his Faith, 'tis impoſſible that he ſhould come to the Holieſt where the Throne of Grace is, that is, to the Heart and Soul of Jeſus, which is the Throne.

The Body of Chriſt is the Tabernacle of Col. 2. 9. God, and ſo that in which God dwells, for the Fulneſs of the Godhead dwells in him bodily. Therefore, as alſo has been hinted before, Chriſt Jeſus is the throne of grace. Now, ſince his Fleſh is called the Veil, 'tis evident, that the Glory that dwells within him, to wit, God reſting in him, cannot be underſtood but by them that by Faith can look through, or enter through his Fleſh to that Glory. For the glory is within the veil; there is the Mercy-Seat, or Throne of Grace; there ſitteth God as delighted, as at reſt, in, and with Sinners, that come to him by and through that Fleſh, and the Offering of it for Sin without the Gate. Joh. 14. 6 I am the way, ſaith Chriſt, But to what? And how? Why to the Father, through my Fleſh. And having made peace through the blood of his croſs, by him to reconcile all things to himſelf; by him, I ſay, whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven. And you that were ſome- Col. 1. 20, 21, 22. time alienated, and enemies in your mind by wicked works, yet now hath he reconciled, (but how?) in the body of his fleſh, (that then muſt be firſt: To what?) to preſent you holy and unblameable, and unreprovable in his ſight; that is, when you enter into his Preſence, or approach by this Fleſh, the mercy-ſeat, or the Throne of Grace.

This therefore is the Manner of our coming (if we come aright to the Throne of Grace for Mercy) we muſt come by Blood through his Fleſh, as through the Veil by which, until you have entered through it, the Glory of God, and that he he is reſolved that Grace ſhall reign, will be utterly hid from your Eyes.

I will not ſay, but by the Notion of theſe Things, Men may have their whirling Fancies, and may create to themſelves, wild Notions, and flattering Imaginations of Chriſt, the Throne of Grace, and of Glory; but the Goſpel Knowledge of this, is of abſolute Neceſſity to my right coming to the Throne of Grace for Mercy. I muſt come by his Blood, through his Fleſh, or I cannot come at all: For here is no Back Door. This then is the Sum, Chriſt's Body is the Tabernacle, the Holieſt; thy law, ſaith he, is within my heart, Pſal. 40. 7, 8. or in the midſt of my Bowels: In this Tabernacle then God ſitteth, to wit, on the Heart of Chriſt, for that is the Throne of Grace. Through this Tabernacle Men muſt enter, that is, by a godly Underſtanding of what by this Tabernacle or Fleſh of Chriſt has been done to reconcile us to God that dwells in him. This is the Way, all the Way, for there is no Way but this to come to the Throne of Grace. This is the new Way into the heavenly Paradiſe, (for the old Way is hedged and ditched up by the flaming Sword of cherubims) the new and LIVING Way (for to go the other, is preſent Death) ſo then, this NEW and living Way which he has conſecrated for us through the veil, that is to ſay, his fleſh, is the only Way into the Holieſt, where the Throne of Grace is. Gen. 3. 24.

Secondly, We muſt approach this Throne of Grace, as having our Hearts (firſt) ſprinkled from an evil Conſcience. The Prieſt that was the Repreſentator of all Iſrael, when he went into the Holieſt, was not to go in, but as ſprinkled with Blood Exod. 23. firſt. Thus it is written in the Law; not without Blood; thus it is written in the Goſpel. And now ſince by the Goſpel we Heb. 9. 7. have all Admittance to enter in through the Veil, by Faith, we muſt take Heed that we enter not in without Blood; for if the Blood (virtually) be not ſeen upon us, we die, inſtead of obtaining Mercy and finding the Help of Grace.

This I preſs the oftener, becauſe there is nothing to which we are more naturally inclined, than to forget this. Who, that underſtands himſelf, is not ſenſible how apt he is to forget to act Faith in the Blood of Jeſus, and to get his Conſcience ſprinkled with the Virtue of that, that attempteth to approach the Throne of Grace. Yet the Scripture calls upon us to take Heed that we neglect not THUS to prepare our ſelves. Let us draw near with a true Heb. 10. Heart, in full Aſſurance of Faith, having 21. our Heart ſprinkled from an evil Conſcience, Chap. 9. 14. (to wit, with the Blood of Chriſt) leſt we die. In the Law all the People were to be ſprinkled with Blood, and 'twas neceſſary that the Patterns of Things in the Heavens ſhould be purified with theſe (that is, with the Blood of Bulls) but the heavenly Things themſelves with better Sacrifices than theſe, (that is) with the Offering of the Body, and Shedding of the Blood of Chriſt. By this then muſt thou be purified and ſprinkled, who by Chriſt wouldeſt approach the Throne of Grace.

Thirdly, Therefore it is added, and our bodies waſhed with pure water. This the Apoſtle taketh alſo out of the Law; where it was appointed, (as was ſhewed before) Chriſt alſo, juſt before he went to the Father, gave his Diſciple a Signification of this,

Joh. 13.8. this, saying to Peter, and by him to all the reſt,

If I waſh thee not, thou haſt no part with me. This pure Water is nothing but the wholeſome Doctrine of the Word mixed with Spirit, by which, as the Conſcience was before ſprinkled with Blood, the Body, and outward Converſation is now ſanctified and made clean, Now ye are clean
Joh. 15. 3. through the word, (ſaith Chriſt) which I have ſpoken unto you. Hence, waſhing, and ſanctifying, and juſtifying, are put together,
1 Cor. 6. 10, 11. and are ſaid to come by the Name of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and by the Spirit of our God. Thou muſt then be waſhed with Water and ſprinkled with Blood, if thou wouldeſt orderly approach the Throne of Grace: If thou wouldeſt orderly approach it with a true Heart, in full Aſſurance of; or if thou wouldeſt, as the Text biddeth thee here, to wit, come boldly to the throne of grace, to obtain Mercy, and find Grace to help in Time of Need.

To tell you what it is to come boldly, is one Thing; and to tell you how you ſhould come boldly, is another. Here you are bid to come boldly, and are alſo ſhewed HOW that may be done. It may be done through the Blood of Sprinkling, and through the ſanctifying Operations of the Spirit which are here by Faith to be received. And when what can be ſaid, ſhall be ſaid to the utmoſt, there is no Boldneſs, godly Boldneſs, but by Blood; the more the Conſcience is a Stranger to the Sprinkling of Blood, the further off it is of being rightly bold with God, at the Throne of Grace; for it is the Blood that makes the
Lev. 17. 11. attonement, and that gives boldneß to the
Heb. 10. 19. ſoul. It is the Blood, the Power of it by Faith upon the Conſcience, that drives away Guilt, and ſo Fear, and conſequently that begetteth Boldneſs. Wherefore, he that will be bold with God at the Throne of Grace, muſt firſt be well acquainted with the Doctrine of the Blood of Chriſt; namely, that it was ſhed, and why; and that it has made Peace with God, and for who. Yea, thou muſt be able by Faith to bring thy ſelf within the Number of thoſe that are made Partakers of this Reconciliation, before thou canſt come boldly to the Throne of Grace. But,

1. There is a coming to the Throne of Grace before or without THIS boldneß; but that is not the coming, to which by theſe Texts we are exhorted; yet that coming be it never ſo deficient, if it is right, it is through ſome Meaſure an Inlet into the Death and Blood of Chriſt, and through ſome Management, though but very little, or perhaps ſcarce at all diſcerned of the Soul, to hope for Grace from the Throne; I ſay, it muſt ariſe, the Encouragement muſt, from the Croſs, and from Chriſt as dying there. Chriſt himſelf went that way to God, and it is not poſſible but we muſt go the ſame way too. So then the Encouragement, be it little, be it much, (and it is little or much, even as the Faith is in Strength or Weakneſs, which apprehendeth Chriſt) it is according to the Proportion of Faith; ſtrong Faith gives great Boldneſs, weak Faith doth not ſo, nor can it.

2. There is a ſincere coming to the Throne of Grace without this Boldneſs, even a coming in the Uprightneſs of one's Heart without it: Hence a true Heart and full Aſſurance are diſtinguiſhed, Let us Heb. 10. draw near with a true Heart in full Aſſu- 22. rance of Faith. Sincerity may be attended with a great deal of Weakneſs, even as Boldneſs may be attended with Pride; but be it what kind of coming to the Throne of Grace it will, either a coming with Boldneſs, or with that doubting which is incident to Saints; ſtill the Cauſe of that coming or Ground thereof, is ſome Knowledge of Redemption by Blood, Redemption which the Soul ſeeth it has Faith in, or would ſee it has Faith in; for Chriſt is precious, ſometimes in the Sight of the Worth, ſometimes in the Sight of the Want, and ſometimes in the Sight of the Enjoyment of him.

3. There is an earneſt coming to the Throne of Grace, even with all the Deſire of ones Soul: When David had Guilt and Pſal. 38. 1, to 10. Trouble, and that ſo heavy that he knew not what to do, yet he could ſay, Lord, all my Deſire is before thee, and my groaning is not hid from thee. He could come earneſtly to the Throne of Grace, he could come thither with all the Deſire of his Soul; but ſtill this muſt be from that Knowledge that he had of the way of Remiſſion of Sins by the Blood of the Son of God.

4. There is alſo a conſtant coming to the Throne of Grace; Lord, ſaid Heman, I have cried Night and Day before thee, let Pſal. 88. my Prayer come before thee, incline thine 1, 2, 3. Ear unto my Cry, for my Soul is full of Trouble, and my Life draweth nigh unto the Grave.

Here you ſee his conſtant Crying before the Throne of Grace, crying Night and Day; and yet the Man that cries, ſeems to be in a very black Cloud, and to find hard Work to bear up in his Soul; yet this he had, namely, the Knowledge of how God was the God of Salvation; yea, he called him his God as ſuch, though with pretty much Difficulty of Spirit, to be ſure.

Wherefore it muſt not be concluded that they come not at all to the Throne of Grace, that come not with a full Aſſurance; or that Men muſt forbear to come, till they come with Aſſurance: But this I ſay, they come not at all aright, that take not the Ground of their coming from the Death and Blood of Chriſt; and that they that come to the Throne of Grace with but little Knowledge of Redemption by Blood, will come but with little Hope of obtaining ing Grace and Mercy to help in time of Need.

I conclude then, that it is the Privilege, the Duty and Glory of a Man, to approach the Throne of Grace as a Prince, as Job ſaid, Could he but find it, he would be ſure to do: O that I knew where I might find him! ſaith he, that I might come even to his Seat, Job 23. 3, to 8. I would order my Cauſe before him, and would fill my Mouth with Arguments; I would know the Words that he would anſwer me, and underſtand what he would ſay unto me: Will he plead againſt me with his great Power? No, but he would put ſtrength into me: There the Righteous might diſpute with him: ſo ſhould I be delivered for ever from my Judge. Indeed God ſometimes tries us.

He holdeth back, ſometimes, the face of Job 26. 9. his Throne, and ſpreadeth a Cloud upon it: And this ſeems to be Job's Caſe here, which made him to confeſs he was at a loſs and to cry out, O that I knew where I might find him! And this he doth for Tryal, and to prove our Honeſty and Conſtancy; for the Hypocrite will not pray always, will he always call upon God; No verily, eſpecially not when thou bindeſt them, Ch. 36. 13. afflicteſt them, and makeſt praying hard Work to them.

But difficulty as to finding of God's preſence, and the ſweet Shining of the Face of his Throne, doth not always lye in the Weakneſs of Faith; ſtrong Faith may be in this Perplexity, and may be hard put to it to ſtand at times. 'Tis ſaid here, that God did hold back the Face of his Throne, and did ſpread a Cloud upon it; not to weaken Job's Faith, but to try Job's Strength, and to ſhew to Men of after Ages, how valiant a Man Job was. Faith if it be ſtrong, will play the Man in the Dark, will like a mettled Horſe flounce in bad way, will not be diſcouraged at Tryals, at many or ſtrong Tryals, Though he ſlay me, yet will I truſt in him, is the Language of that Invincible Grace of God.

There is alſo an Aptneſs in thoſe that come to the Throne of Grace, to caſt all Degrees of Faith away, that carries not in its Bowels Self-evidence of its own Being and Nature, thinking that if it be Faith, it muſt be known to the Soul; yea, if it be Faith, it will do ſo and ſo; even ſo as the higheſt Degrees of Faith will do: When alas! Faith is ſometimes in a Calm, ſometimes up, and ſometimes down, and ſometimes at it with Sin, Death, and the Devil, as we ſay, Blood up to th' Ears. Faith now has but little time to ſpeak Peace to the Conſcience; 'tis now ſtrugling for Life, 'tis now fighting with Angels, with Infernals; all it can do now is to cry, groan, ſweat, fear, fight and gaſp for Life.

Indeed the Soul ſhould now run to the Croſs, for there is the Water, or rather the Blood and Water that is provided for Faith, as to the maintaining of the Comfort of Juſtification; but the Soul whoſe Faith is thus attacked, will find hard Work to do this, though much of the well managing of Faith, in the good Sight of Faith, will lie in the Souls hearty, and conſtant adhering to the Death and Blood of Chriſt; but a Man muſt do as he can.

Thus now have I ſhewed you the Manner of right coming to the Throne of Grace, for Mercy and Grace to help in time of Need.

The next thing that I am to handle is, firſt, To ſhew you, that it is the Privilege of the Godly to diſtinguiſh from all Thrones whatſoever, this Throne of Grace.

This, as I told you, I gathered from the Apoſtle in the Text, for that he only maketh mention thereof, but gives no Sign to diſtinguiſh it by; no Sign, I ſay, though he knew that there were more Thrones than it; Let us come boldly, ſaith he, to the Throne of Grace; and ſo leaves it, knowing full well that they had a good Underſtanding of his Meaning, being Hebrews: They being now alſo enlightened from what they were taught by the placing of the Ark of the Teſtimony, and the Mercy-ſeat in the moſt Heb. 9. 1, holy Place; of which Particular the Apoſtle to 9. did then count it, not of abſolute Neceſſity diſtinctly to diſcourſe. Indeed the Gentiles, as I have ſhewed, have this Throne of Grace deſcribed, and ſet forth before them by thoſe Tokens which I have touched upon in the Sheets that go before (for with the Book of Revelations the Gentiles are particularly concerned) for that it was writ to Churches of the Gentiles; alſo the great things propheſied of there, relate unto Gentile Believers, and to the Downfal of Antichriſt, as he ſtandeth among them.

But yet, I think, that John's Diſcourſe of the things attending the Throne of Grace, were not by him ſo much propounded, becauſe the Gentiles were uncapable of finding of it without ſuch Deſcription, as to ſhew the Anſwerableneſs of the Antitype with the Type; and alſo to ſtrengthen their Faith and illuſtrate the thing: For they that know, may know more, and better of what they know; yea, may be greatly comforted with another's dilating on what they know.

Beſides, the Holy Ghoſt by the Word, doth always give the moſt perfect Deſcription of Things; wherefore to that we ſhould have Recourſe for the compleating of our Knowledge: I mean not by what I ſay, in the leaſt to intimate, as if this Throne of Grace was to be known without the Text, for 'tis that that giveth Revelation of Jeſus Chriſt; but my meaning is, that a Saint as ſuch, has ſuch a working of Things upon his Heart, as makes him able by the Word, to find out this Throne of Grace, and to diſtinguiſh it to himſelf from others. For,

Firſt, The Saint has ſtrong Guilt of Sin upon his Conſcience, eſpecially at firſt; and and this makes him better judge, what Grace in the Nature of Grace is, than others can that are not ſenſible of what Guilt is.

Act. 16. 29,30,31. What 'twas to be ſaved, was better reliſhed by the Jaylor when he was afraid of, and trembled at the Apprehenſions of the Wrath of God, than ever it was with him all his Life before: Peter then alſo ſaw what ſaving was, when he began to ſink into the
Mat. 14. 30. Sea, Lord ſave me, ſaid he, I periſh. Sin is that without a Senſe of which, a Man is not apprehenſive what Grace is; Sin and Grace, Favour and Wrath, Death and Life, Hell and Heaven, are Oppoſites, and are ſet off or out, in their Evil or Good, Shame or Glory, one by another. What makes Grace ſo good to us, as Sin in its Guilt and Filth? What makes Sin ſo horrible and damnable a Thing in our Eye, as when we ſee there is nothing can ſave us from it, but the infinite Grace of God? Further there ſeems, if I may ſo term it to be, a kind of natural Inſtinct in the new Creature to ſeek after the Grace of God; for ſo ſaith the Word, They
Rom. 8.5. that are after the Fleſh, do mind the Things of the Fleſh; and they that are after the Spirit, the Things of the Spirit. The Child by Nature nuzzels in its Mother's Boſom for the Breaſt; the Child by Grace, does by Grace ſeek to live by the Grace of God. All Creatures, the Calf, the Lamb, &c. ſo ſoon as they are
1 Pet. 2. 1, 2, 3. fallen from their Mother's Belly, will by Nature look for, and turn themſelves towards the Teat, and the new Creature doth ſo too: For Guilt makes it Hunger and Thirſt, as the hunted Hart does pant after the Water-brooks. Hunger directs to Bread, Thirſt directs to Water; yea, it calls Bread and Water to mind: Let a Man be doing other Buſineſs, Hunger will put him in Mind of his Cupboard, and Thirſt of his Cruſe of Water; yea, 'twill call him, make him, force him, command him, to bethink what nouriſhing Victuals is, and will alſo drive him to a ſearch out after where he may find it, to the ſatisfying of himſelf: All right Talk alſo to ſuch an one, ſets the Stomach and Appetite a craving; yea, into a kind of a running out of the Body after this Bread and Water, that it might be fed, nouriſhed, and filled therewith. Thus it is by Nature, and thus it is by Grace; thus it is for the Bread that periſheth, and for that which endureth to everlaſting Life. But,

Secondly, As Nature, the new Nature, teaches this by a kind of heavenly Natural Inſtinct; ſo Experience alſo herein, helpeth the Godly much: For they have found all other Places, the Throne of Grace excepted, empty, and Places or Things that hold no
Exod. 19. Water. They have been at Mount Sinai for help, but could find nothing there but
Heb. 12. 2 Cor. 3. Fire and Darkneſs, but Thunder and Lightning, but Earthquake and Trembling, and a Voice of killing Words; which Words they that heard them once, could never endure to hear them again; and as for the Sight of Vengeance, there revealed againſt Sin, it was ſo terrible that Moſes, even Moſes ſaid, I exceedingly fear and quake.

They have ſought for Grace by their own Performances, but alas! they have yielded them nothing but Wind and Confuſion; not a Performance, not a Duty, not an Act in any Part of religious Worſhip; but they looking upon it in the Glaſs of the Lord, do find it ſpaked and defective. Iſa. 64. 5, 6, 7, 8.

They have ſought for Grace by their Reſolutions, their Vows, their Purpoſes, and the like, but alas! they all do as the other, diſcover that they have been very imperfectly managed, and ſo ſuch as can by no means help them to Grace.

They have gone to their Tears, their Sorrow and Repentance, if perhaps they might have found ſome help there; but all has either fled away like the early Dew, or if they have ſtood, they have ſtunk even in the Noſtrils of thoſe whoſe they were; how much more then in the Noſtrils of an holy God?

They have gone to God as the great Creator, and have beheld how wonderful his Works have been; they have looked to the Heavens above, to the Earth beneath, and to all their Ornaments, but neither have theſe, nor what is of them, yielded Grace to thoſe that had ſenſible want thereof.

Thus have they gone, as I ſaid, with theſe Pitchers to their Fountains, and have returned empty and aſhamed; they found no Water, no River of Water of Life; they have been as the Woman with her bloody Iſſue, ſpending, and ſpending till they have ſpent all, and been nothing better, but rather grew worſe. Mark 5. 26.

Had they ſearched into nothing but the Law, it had been ſufficient to convince them that there was no Grace, nor Throne of Grace in the World. For ſince the Law, being the moſt excellent of all the Things of the Earth, is found to be ſuch as yieldeth no Grace (for Grace and Truth comes by Jeſus Chriſt, not by Moſes) how can it be imagined that it ſhould be found in any Thing inferior? Joh. 1. 17.

Paul therefore, not finding it in the Law, deſpairs to find it in any Thing elſe below, but preſently betakes himſelf to look for it there, where he had not yet ſought it (for he ſometimes ſought it not by Faith, but as it were by the Works of the Law) he looked for it, I ſay, by Jeſus Chriſt, who is the Throne of Grace where he found it, and rejoyced in Hope of the Glory of God. Phil. 3. 6, 7, 8. Rom. 9. 29,30,31. Chap. 5. 1, 2, 3.
But,

Thirdly, Saints come to know and diſtinguiſh the Throne of Grace from other Thrones, by the very Direction of God himſelf: as it is ſaid of the Well that the Nobles digged in the Wilderneſs, They digged it by the Direction of the Law-giver:

So Saints find out the Throne of Grace, by the Direction of the Grace-giver. Hence
2 Theſ. 3. 5. Paul prays, That the Lord would direct the Hearts of the People into the Love of God. Man as Man, cannot aim directly at this
Rom. 8. 26 Throne, but will drop his Prayers ſhort, beſides, or the like, if he be not helped by
Joh. 6. 44. the Spirit. Hence the Son ſaith of himſelf, no Man can come to me, except the Father which hath ſent me, draw him; which Text doth not only juſtifie what is now ſaid, but inſinuates that there is an unwillingneſs in Man of himſelf, to come to this Throne of Grace; he muſt be drawn thereto; he ſetteth us in the Way of his Steps, that is, in that Way to the Throne, by which Grace and Mercy is conveyed unto us.

Fourthly, We know the Throne of Grace from other Thrones, by the Glory that it always appears in, when revealed to us of God; its Glory out-bids all: There is no ſuch Glory to be ſeen any where elſe, either in Heaven or Earth. But I ſay this comes by the Sight that God gives, not by any Excellency that there is in my natural Underſtanding as ſuch; my Underſtanding and Apprehenſion, ſimply as natural, is blind and fooliſh; wherefore, when I ſet to work in mine own Spirit, and in the Power of mine own Abilities to reach to this Throne of Grace, and to perceive ſomewhat of the Glory thereof, then am I dark, rude, fooliſh, ſee nothing; and my Heart grows flat, dull, ſavourleſs, lifeleſs, and has no warmth in the Duty: but it mounts up with Wings like an Eagle, when the Throne is truly apprehended.

Fifthly, Therefore that is another Thing by which the Chriſtian knows the Throne of Grace from all others; it meets with that good there, that it can meet with no where elſe. But at preſent, let theſe Things ſuffice for this.

I come now to the Motives by which the Apoſtle ſtirreth up the Hebrews, and encourageth them to come boldly to the Throne of Grace.

Firſt, The firſt is, becauſe we have there ſuch, or an High-Prieſt ſo and ſo qualified.

Secondly, Becauſe we that come thither for Grace, are ſure there to ſpeed, or find Grace and obtain it.

For the firſt of theſe, to wit, we have an Encouragement to move us to come with boldneſs to the Throne of Grace, becauſe we have an High-Prieſt there; becauſe we have ſuch an High-Prieſt there, For we have not an High-Prieſt that cannot be touched with the feeling of our Infirmities, but was in all Points tempted like as we are; yet without Sin; let us therefore come boldly to the Throne of Grace.

Of this High-Prieſt I have already made mention before, to wit, ſo far as to ſhew you that Chriſt Jeſus is he, as well as He is the Altar and Sacrifice and Throne of Grace, before which he alſo himſelf makes Interceſſion: But for as much as by the Apoſtle here, he is not only preſented unto us as a Throne of Grace, but as an High-prieſt miniſtring before it; it will not be amiſs, if I do ſomewhat particularly treat of his Prieſthood alſo: But the main or chief of my Diſcourſe will be to treat of his Qualifications to his Office, which I find to be in general of two Sorts.

Secondly, Natural.

When I ſay Legal, I mean, as the Apoſtle's Expreſſion is, not by the Law of a Carnal Commandment, but by an Eternal Covenant, and the Power of an endleſs Life thereby; which the Prieſthood of old was but a Type, and the Law of their Prieſthood but a Shadow. But becauſe their Law and their Entrance into their Prieſthood thereby, was, as I ſaid, a Shadow of good Things to come; therefore where it will help to illuſtrate, we will make uſe thereof ſo to do; and where not, there we will let it paſs.
Heb. 7. 16. Chap. 9. 15, 24. Ch. 10. 1.

The Thing to be now ſpoken to, is, that the Conſideration of Jeſus Chriſt, being an High-Prieſt before the Throne of Grace, is a Motive and Encouragement to us, to come boldly thither for Grace; Seeing then that we have a great High-prieſt that is paſſed into the Heavens, Jeſus the Son of God, Let us hold faſt the Profeſſion, and come boldly to the Throne of Grace.
Ch. 4. 14.

Now he was made an High-Prieſt for ſo is the Expreſſion, made an High-Prieſt for ever after the order of Melchiſedec.
Ch. 6. 20.

Firſt, he took not his Honour upon himſelf without a lawful Call thereto; thus the Prieſts under the Law were put into Office; and thus the Son of God; no Man taketh this Honour to himſelf, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron: So alſo Chriſt glorified not himſelf to be made an High-Prieſt, but he that ſaid unto him, Thou art my Son, this Day have I begotten thee: Wherefore he was called of God to be an High-Prieſt after the order of Melchiſedec. Thus far therefore the Law of his Prieſthood anſwereth to the Law of the Prieſthood of old; they both were made Prieſts by a legal Call to their Work or Office.
Ch. 5. 4, 6, 10.

But yet the Law by which this Son was made High-Prieſt excelleth, and that in theſe Particulars.
Ch. 7. 17.

1. He was made a Prieſt after the Similitude of Melcheſedec, for he teſtifieth, thou art a Prieſt for ever after the order of Melchiſedec: Thus they under the Law were not made Prieſts, but after the order of Aaron; that is, by a carnal Commandment, not by an everlaſting Covenant of God.

2. And, ſaith he, in as much as not without an Oath he was made Prieſt, for thoſe Prieſts were made without an Oath, but this with an Oath, by him that ſaid unto him, The Lord ſware and will not repent, thou art a Prieſt for ever after the order of Melchiſedec.
Ver. 20, 21.

3. The Prieſthood under the Law, with their Law and Sacrifices were fading, and were

Ver. 23. were not ſuffered to continue, by Reaſon of
24. the Death of the Prieſt, and Ineffectualneſs of his offering; but this Man becauſe he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable Prieſthood: For the Law maketh Men High-prieſts which have Infirmity, but the
Ver. 28. Word of an Oath which was ſince the Law, maketh the Son who is conſecrated for evermore.

From what hath already been ſaid, we gather,

1. What kind of Perſon it is that is our High-Prieſt.

2. The Manner of his being called to, and ſtated in that Office.

Ch. 4. 14. Firſt, what manner of Perſon he is: He
Ch. 7. 26. is the Son, the Son of God, Jeſus the Son of God. Hence the Apoſtle ſaith, we have a great High-Prieſt, SUCH an High-Prieſt that is paſſed into the Heavens. Such an High-Prieſt, as is made higher than the Heavens. And why doth he thus dilate upon the Dignity of his Perſon, but becauſe thereby is inſinuated the Excellency of his Sacrifice, and the Prevalency of his Interceſſion, by that, to God for us. There-
Ch. 10. 1. fore he ſaith again, every (Aaronical) Prieſt
11. ſtandeth daily miniſtring, and offering oftentimes the ſame Sacrifice which can never take away Sin. But this Man, this GREAT Man, this Jeſus, this Son of God, after he
Ch. 9. 25, he had offered one (one only, one once, but
26. one) Sacrifice for Sin, ſat down on the right Hand of God, from henceforth expecting till his Enemies be made his Foot-ſtool. For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are ſanctified. Thus I ſay, the Apoſtle toucheth upon the greatneſs of his Perſon, thereby to ſet forth the Excellency of his Sacrifice, and Prevalency of his Interceſſion.

Ch. 3. 1. Wherefore holy Brethren partakers of the heavenly Calling, conſider the Apoſtle and High-Prieſt of our Profeſſion Chriſt Jeſus. Or as he ſaith again, making mention of
Ch. 7. 4. Melchiſedec; conſider how great this Man was, we have ſuch an High-Prieſt, ſo great an High-Prieſt; one that is entred into the Heavens; Jeſus the Son of God.

Secondly, the Manner alſo of his being called to, and ſtated in his Office, is not to be overlooked. He is made a Prieſt after the Power of an endleſs Life, or is to be ſuch an one as long as he lives, add as long as we have need of his Mediation: Now Chriſt being raiſed from the dead, dies no more, Death hath no more Dominion over him. He is himſelf the Prince of Life.
Ch. 7. 24, 25. Wherefore it follows, he hath an unchange-Prieſt-hood: And what then? Why, then he is able to ſave to the utmoſt all them that come unto God by him, ſeeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for them.

But again, he is made a Prieſt with an Oath, the Lord ſware and will not repent, thou art a Prieſt for ever. Hence I gather.

1. That before God there is no High-Prieſt but Jeſus, nor ever ſhall be.

2. That God is to the full pleaſed with his High-prieſt-hood; and ſo with all thoſe for whom he maketh Interceſſion. For this Prieſt, though he is not accepted for the ſake of another, yet he is upon the Account Ch. 5. 1, 2. of another. For every High-Prieſt taken from among Men, is ordained for Men, in Things pertaining to God, to make Reconciliation for the Sins of the People. And again, he is entred into Heaven it ſelf, now to appear Ch. 9. 24. in the Preſence of God for us.

God therefore in that he hath made him a Prieſt with an Oath, and alſo determined that he will never repent of his ſo doing, declareth that he IS, and for ever WILL, be ſatisfied with his offering. And this is a great Encouragement to thoſe that come to God by him; they have by this Oath, a firm Ground to go upon, and the Oath is, thou art a Prieſt for ever (ſhalt be accepted for ever; for every one for whom thou makeſt Interceſſion; nor will I ever reject any Body that comes to me by thee) therefore here is Ground for Faith, for Hope and Rejoycing; for this Conſideration, a Man has Ground to come boldly to the Throne of Grace.

Secondly, But again, as Chriſt is made a Prieſt by Call and with an Oath, and ſo, ſo far legally: ſo he, being thus called, has other preparatory legal Qualifications. The High-Prieſt under the Law, was not by Law, to come into the holieſt, but in thoſe Robes that were ordained for him to miniſter in before God; which Robes were not to be made according to the fancy of the People, but according to the Command- Exod. 28. ment of Moſes. Chriſt our High-Prieſt in Heaven, has alſo his Holy Garment with which he covereth the nakedneſs of them that are his, which Robe was not made of corruptible Things, as Silver and Gold, &c. but by a patient continuance in a holy Life according to the Law of Moſes, both moral and ceremonial; not that either of theſe were that eternal Teſtament by which he was made a Prieſt; but the moral Law was to be ſatisfied, and the Types of the ceremonial Law, to be as to this, eminently fulfilled, and he was bound by that eternal Covenant by which he is made a Mediator to do ſo. Wherefore before he could enter the Holieſt of all, he muſt have theſe Holy Garments made, neither did he truſt others, as in the Caſe of Aaron, to make theſe Garments for him, but he wrought them all himſelf, according to all that Moſes commanded.

This Garment Chriſt was a great while a making. What Time, you may ask, was required? And I anſwer, all the Days of his Life; for all Things that were written concerning him, as to this, were not Joh. 19. 28, 29, 30. compleated till the Day that he hanged upon the Croſs. For then it was that he ſaid, It is finiſhed, and he bowed his Head and gave up the Ghoſt.

This

This Robe is for Glory and for Beauty. This is it that afore I ſaid was of the Colour of the Rainbow, and that compaſſeth even round about this Throne of Grace, unto which we are bid to come. This is that Garment that reaches down to his Feet, and that is girt to him with a golden Girdle. This is that Garment that covereth all his Body myſtical, and that hideth the Blemiſhes of ſuch Members from the Eye of God, and of the Law. And it is made up of his Obedience to the Rom.5.19 Law, by his compleat perfect Obedience thereto; this Chriſt wears always; he never puts it off, as the High-Prieſt puts off theirs by a ceremonial Command. He ever lives to make Interceſſion, conſequently he ever wears this Prieſtly Robe. He might not go into the Holy Place without it, upon Danger of Death, or at leaſt of Joh. 16. 10. being ſent back again: But he died not, but lives ever; is not ſent back, but is ſet down at God's right Hand, and there ſhall ſit till his Foes are made his Foot-ſtool.

This is that for the ſake of which all are made welcome, and embraced, and kiſſed, forgiven and ſaved, that come unto God by him.

This is that Righteouſneſs, that Mantle ſpotleſs, that Paul ſo much deſired to be found wrapt in; for he knew that being found in that, he muſt be preſented thereby to God a glorious Man, not having Spot, or Wrinkle, or any ſuch Thing.

This therefore is another of the Lord Jeſus's legal Qualifications, as preparatory to the executing of his High-Prieſt's Office in Heaven. But of this ſomething has been ſpoken before, and therefore I ſhall not enlarge upon it here.

Thirdly, When the High-prieſt under the Law was thus accompliſhed by a legal Call, and a Garment ſuitable to his Office, then again, there was another thing that muſt be done in order to his regular Execution of his Office; and that was, he muſt be conſecrated, and ſolemnly uſhered thereunto by certain Offerings, firſt preſented to God for himſelf.

This you have mention made of in the Levitical Law, you have there firſt commanded that in order to the High-prieſt's approaching the Holieſt for the People, there muſt firſt be an Offering of Conſecration for himſelf, and this is to ſucceed his Call, and the finiſhing of his holy Garments. For this Ceremony was not to be obſerved until his Garments were made and put upon Ex. 29. 5, 6, 7, 19, 20, 21, 22. Lev. 8. him: Alſo the Blood of the Ram of Conſecration was to be ſprinkled upon him, his Garments, &c. that he might be hallowed, and rightly ſet apart for the High-prieſt's Office. The Holy Ghoſt, I think, this ſignifying, that Jeſus the Son of God our great High-prieſt, was not only to ſanctify the people with his Blood; but firſt, by Blood muſt to that work be ſanctified himſelf For their ſakes, ſaith he, ſanctify I my ſelf, that they may be ſanctified through thy Truth. John 17. 19

But it may be asked, when was this done to Chriſt, or what Sacrifice of Conſecration had he, precedent to the offering up of himſelf for our Sins?

I anſwer, it was done in the Garden when he was waſhed in his own Blood, when his Sweat was his great Drops of Blood falling down to the Ground. For there it was that he was ſprinkled with his Blood, not only the Tip of his Ear, his Thumb, and Toe, but there he was waſhed all over; there, therefore was his moſt ſolemn Conſecration to his Office: at leaſt ſo I think. And this, as Aaron's was, was done by Moſes, 'twas Moſes that ſprinkled Aaron's, 'twas Moſes that ſprinkled Aaron's Garments. It was by Virtue of an Agony alſo that his bloody Sweat was produced; and what was the Cauſe of that Agony, but the Apprehenſion of the Juſtice and Curſe of Moſes's Law, which now he was to undergo for the Sins of the People? Luke 22. 44.

With this Sacrifice he then ſubjoined another, which was alſo preparatory to the great Acts of his High-Prieſt's Office, Ex. 29. 40. Num. 28. 7 which he was after to perform for us. And that was his Drink-Offering, his Tears, which were offered to God with ſtrong Cries. For this was the Place and Time that in a ſpecial Manner he cauſed his ſtrong Wine to be poured out, and that he drank his Tears as Water. This is called his Offering, his Offering for his own Acceptance with God. After he had offered up Prayers and Supplications, with ſtrong Crying and Tears unto him that was able to ſave him, he was heard for his Piety, for his Acceptance as to this Office: For he merited his Office, as well as his People. Wherefore it follows and being made perfect, that his, by a compleat Performance of all that was neceſſary for the orderly attaining of his Office as High-prieſt, he became the Author of eternal Salvation unto all them that obey him. Heb. 5. 7.

For your better underſtanding of me as to this, mind that I ſpeak of a twofold Perfection in Chriſt, one as to his Perſon, the other as to his Perſormances. In the Perfection of his Perſon, two things are to be conſidered: Firſt the Perfection of his Humanity, as to the Nature of it; it was at firſt appearing wholly without Pollution of Sin, and ſo compleatly Perfect: But yet this Humanity was to have joined to this, another Perfection, and that was a Perfection of Stature and Age. Hence 'tis ſaid, that as to his Humanity he increaſed, that is, grew more perfect. For this his increaſing, was in order to a Perfection, not of Nature, ſimply as Nature, but of Stature; Jeſus increaſed in Wiſdom and Stature. The Paſchal Lamb, was a Lamb the firſt Day it was yeaned; but it was not to be ſacrificed until it attained ſuch a Perfection of Age, as by by the Law of God was appointed to it. It was neceſſary therefore, that Chriſt as to his Perſon ſhould be perfect in both theſe Senſes. And indeed in due Time Chriſt died for the Ungodly.

Exod. 12. 5, 6.

Again, as there was a Perfection of Perſon, or of Nature and Perſonage in Chriſt; ſo there was to be a Perfection of Performances in him alſo. Hence it is ſaid, that Jeſus increaſed in favour with God; that is, by Perfecting of his Obedience to him for us. Now his Performances were ſuch, as had a reſpect to his bringing in of Righteouſneſs for us, in the general; or ſuch as reſpected Preparations for his Sacrifice as an High-Prieſt. But let them be applied to both, or to this or that in Particular; it cannot be, that while the moſt part of his Performances were wanting, he ſhould be as perfect, as when he ſaid, the things concerning me have an End.

Luk. 2. 52.

Not but that every Act of his Obedience, was perfect, and carried in it, a Length and Breadth proportionable to that Law by which it was demanded; nor was there at any time in his Obedience, that which made to interfere one Commandment with another. He did all things well, and ſo ſtood in the Favour of God. But yet one Act was not actually all, though vertually any one of his Actions might carry in it, a Merit ſufficient to ſatisfy and quiet the Law. Hence, as I ſaid it is told us, not only that he is the Son of God's love, but that he increaſed in Favour with God; that is by a going on in doing; by a continuing to do that always, that pleaſed the God of Heaven.

A Man that pays Money at the day appointed, beginning firſt at one Shilling, or one Pound, and ſo ceaſeth not untill he hath in current Coin told over the whole Sum to the Creditor, does well at beginning: But the firſt Shilling, or firſt Pound, not being the full Debt, cannot be counted, or reckoned the Whole, but a Part; yet is it not an imperfect Part: nor doth the Creditor find fault at all, becauſe there is but ſo much now told; but concludes that all is at hand, and accepteth of this firſt, as a Firſt-fruits: So Chriſt, when he came into the World, began to pay, and ſo continued to do, even until he had paid the whole Debt; and ſo increaſed in Favour with God.

There was then a gradual Performance of Duties, as to the Number of them, by our Lord when he was in the World, and conſequently a time wherein it might be ſaid that Chriſt had not, as to Act, done all, as was appointed him to do, to do as preparatory to that great thing which he was to do for us. Wherefore in concluſion he is ſaid to be made perfect, and being made perfect he became the Author of eternal Salvation to all them that obey him.

It will be objected then, That at ſome time it might be ſaid of Chriſt, that he was imperfect in his Obedience.

Anſw. There was a time, wherein it might have been ſaid, Chriſt had not done all that he was to do for us on Earth. But it doth not follow thereupon, that he therefore was imperfect in his Obedience, for that all his Acts of Obedience were done in their proper Time, and when they ſhould, according to the Will of God. The timing of Performances adds or diminiſhes as to the Perfection of Obedience, or the Imperfection of it. Had theſe Jews kill'd the Paſſover three Days ſooner than the Time appointed, they had tranſgreſſed. Had the Jews done that on the fourth Day to Jericho, which was to have been done on the ſeventh Day, they had ſinned. Duty is beautiful in its time, and the Son of God obſerved the time; I muſt, ſaith he, work the Works of him that ſent me, while it is Day; that is, in their Seaſons. You muſt keep in mind that we ſpeak all this while, of that Part of Chriſt's Perfection as to Duties, which ſtood in the Number of Performances, and not in the Nature or Quality of Acts. And I ſay, as to the thing in hand, Chriſt had Duty to do, with reſpect to his Office as High-prieſt, for us, which immediately concerned himſelf; ſuch Duties as gave him a legal Admittance unto the Execution thereof: ſuch Duties, the which, had they not orderly been done, the want of them would have made him an undue Approacher of the Preſence of God, as to that: Wherefore, as I ſaid afore, by what he did thereabout, he conſecrated, or ſanctified himſelf for that Work, according to God, and was accepted for his Piety, or in that he feared, and did orderly do, what he ſhould do.

Exod. 12. 6. Joſh. 6. 12, 13, 14, 15.

Fourthly, The next thing Preparatory to the Execution of this Office of High-prieſt was, the Sacrifice it ſelf. The Sacrifice you know, muſt as to the Being of it, needs preceed the Offering of it. It muſt be, before it can be offered. Nor could Chriſt have been a High-prieſt, had he not had a Sacrifice to offer. For every High-prieſt is ordained to offer Gifts and Sacrifices: wherefore it is of neceſſity, that this Man have ſomewhat alſo to offer.

Heb. 8. 3.

And I bring in the Sacrifice as the laſt thing preparatory, not that it was laſt, as to being, for it was before he could be capable of doing any of the afore-named Duties, being his body, in and by which he did them; but it was the laſt as to fitneſs; it was not to be a Sacrifice before the time, the time appointed of the Father. For ſince he had prepared it to that End, 'twas fit as to the time of its being offered, that that ſhould be when God thought beſt alſo.

Ch. 10. 5.

Behold then, here is the High-Prieſt with his Sacrifice; and behold again, how he comes to offer it. He comes to offer his Burnt Offering at the Call of God; he comes to do it in his Prieſtly Garments, conſecrated, and ſanctified in his own Blood; he comes with Blood and Tears, or by Water and Blood, and offereth his Sacrifice, himſelf a Sacrifice unto God for the Sin of the World; and that too, at a Time when God began to be weary of the Service and Sacrifices of all the World. Wherefore when he cometh into the World, he ſaith, Sacrifice and Offerings thou wouldeſt not, but a Body haſt thou prepared me, (thou haſt fitted me) in burnt Offerings and Sacrifices for Sin thou haſt no Pleaſure: Then ſaid I, Lo I come (in the Volume of thy Book it is written of me) to do thy Will O God.

Thus you ſee how our High-Prieſt proceeded to the Execution of his Prieſtly Office: And now we are come to his Sacrifice we will conſider a little of the Parts thereof, and how he offered, and pleads the ſame.

Lev. 3.12, 13, 14, 15, 16. The Burnt-Offering for Sin had two Parts, the Fleſh and the Fat, which Fat is called the Fat of the Inwards, of the Kidneys and the like. Anſwerable to this, the Sacrifice of Chriſt had two Parts, the Body and the Soul. The Body is the Fleſh, and his Soul the Fat; that inward Part that muſt not by any Means be kept from the Fire. For without the Burning of the Fat, the Burnt-Offering and Sin-Offering, both which was a Figure of the Sacrifice of our High-Prieſt, was counted imperfect, and ſo not acceptable.

Lev. 1. 8, 12. And it is obſervable that in theſe Kind of Offerings when they were to be burned, the Fat and the Head muſt be laid, and be burned together. And the Prieſt ſhall cut it in Pieces with his Head and his Fat; and the Prieſt ſhall lay them in Order upon the Wood that is on the Fire which is upon the Altar; to ſignify, methinks, the feeling Senſe that this Sacrifice of his Body and Soul ſhould have of the Curſe of God due to Sin all the while that it ſuffered for Sin. And therefore it is from this that this Sacrifice has the Name of Burnt-Offering, (it is the Burnt-Offering) for the Burning, becauſe of the Burning upon the Altar all Night, until the Morning; and the Fire of the Altar ſhall be burning in it.

The Fat made the Flame to increaſe, and to aſcend; wherefore God ſpeaks affectionately of the Fat, ſaying, The Fat of Iſa. 53. 10, 11, 12. mine Offerings. And again, He ſhall ſee of the Travail of his Soul and be ſatisfied. The Soul-Groans, the Soul-Cries, the Soul-Conflicts that the Son of God had, together with his Soul-Submiſſion to his Father's Will, when he was made a Sacrifice for Sin, did doubtleſs flame bright, aſcend high, and caſt out a ſweet Savour unto the Noſtrils of God, whoſe Juſtice was now appeaſing for the Sin of Men.

His Fleſh alſo was part of this Sacrifice, and was made to feel that Judgment of God for Sin, that it was capable of. And it was capable of feeling much, ſo long as natural Life, and ſo, bodily Senſe remained. It alſo began to feel, with the Soul, by Reaſon of the Union that was betwixt them both; the Soul felt, and the Body bled; the Soul was in an Agony, and the Body ſweat Blood; the Soul wreſtled with the Judgment and Curſe of the Law, and the Body to ſhew its Senſe and Sympathy, ſent out dolorous Cries, and poured out Rivers of Tears before God: We will not here at large ſpeak of the Laſhes, of the Crown of Thorns, of how his Face was bluſt with Blows and Blood; alſo how he was wounded, pierced, and what Pains he felt while Life laſted, as he ſuffered for our Sins; though theſe Things are alſo prefigured in the old Law, by the Nipping or Wringing of the Head, the Cutting of the Sacrifice in Pieces, and Burning it in the Fire. Lev. 1.

Now you muſt know, that as the High-Prieſt was to offer his Sacrifice, ſo he was to bring the Blood thereof to the Mercy-Seat or Throne of Grace, where now our Jeſus is; he was to offer it at the Door of the Tabernacle, and to carry the Blood within the Veil: Of both which a little.

1. He was to offer it, and how? Not grudgingly, nor as by Compulſion, but of a voluntary Will and chearful Mind; If his Offering be a Burnt-Sacrifice of the Herds, let him offer a Male without Blemiſh; he ſhall offer it of his own voluntary Will. Thus did Chriſt when he offered up himſelf, as is manifeſt by that which follows,

1. He offered a Male, himſelf, without Blemiſh. Heb. 7.27.

2. He gave himſelf a Ranſom: He gave his Life a Ranſom. Mat. 20.28

3. He laid down his Life of himſelf. John 10.18

4. He longed for the Day of his Death, that he might die to redeem his People.

5. Nor was he ever ſo joyful in all his Life, that we read of, as when his Sufferings grew near; then he takes the Sacrament of his Body and Blood into his own Hands, and with Thankſgiving beſtows it among his Diſciples; then he ſings an Hymn, then he rejoyces, then he comes with a Lo I come. Oh the Heart, the great Heart, that Jeſus Chriſt had for us to do us Good! He did it with all the Deſire of his Soul.

2. He did it, not only voluntary, and of a free Will, but of Love and Affection to the Life of his Enemies: Had he done thus for the Life of his Friends, it had been much; but ſince he did it out of Love to the Life of his Enemies, that's much more: Scarcely for a righteous Man will one die, Rom. 5.7, 8. yet peradventure for a good Man ſome would even dare to die; but God commended his Love towards us, in that while we were yet Sinners, Chriſt died for us.

3. He

3. He did it without relinquiſhment of Mind, when he was in: No Diſcouragement diſheartned him; cry and bleed he did, yea, roar by Reaſon of the Troubles of his Soul, but his Mind was fixed: His Father ſware and did not repent, that he ſhould be his Prieſt; and he vowed and ſaid, he would not repent, that he had threatned to be the Plague and Death of Death.

Hoſ. 13. 13, 14.

4. He did it effectually and to purpoſe; he hath ſtopped the Mouth of the Law with Blood, he hath ſo pacified Juſtice, that it now can forgive: He hath carried Sin away from before the Face of God, and ſet us quite in his Sight; he hath deſtroyed the Devil, aboliſhed Death, and brought Life and Immortality to Light through the Goſpel; he hath wrought ſuch a Change in the World by what he has done, for them that believe, that all Things work together for their good, from thence forward and for ever.

I ſhould now come to the ſecond Part of the Office of this High-Prieſt, and ſpeak to that; as alſo to thoſe Things that were preparatory unto his executing of it; but firſt, I think convenient a little to treat of the Altar alſo, upon which this Sacrifice was offered to God.

Some I conceive have thought the Altar, to be the Croſs on which the Body of Chriſt was crucified, when he gave himſelf an Offering for Sin; but they are greatly deceived, for he alſo himſelf was the Altar, through which he offered himſelf; and this is one of the Treaſures of Wiſdom which are hid in him, and of which the World and Antichriſt are utterly ignorant. I touched this in one hint before, but now a little more Expreſs.

The Altar is always greater than the Gift; and ſince the Gift was the Body and Soul of Chriſt, for ſo ſaith the Text, He gave himſelf for our Sins: The Altar muſt be ſomething elſe than a ſorry bit of Wood, or than a curſed Tree.

Wherefore I will ſay to ſuch, as one wiſer than Solomon ſaid to the Jews, when they ſuperſtitiated the Gift, in counting it more honourable than the Altar: Ye Fools and Blind, for whether is it greater, the Gift, or the Altar that ſanctifieth the Gift?

Mat. 23. 18, 19.

If the Altar be greater than the Gift, and yet the Gift ſo great a Thing as the very Humanity of Chriſt, can it, I will now direct my Speech to the greateſt Fool, can that greater Thing be the Croſs? Is, was the Croſs, the wooden Croſs, the curſed Tree that ſome worſhip, greater than the Gift, to wit, than the Sacrifice which Chriſt offered, when he gave himſelf for our Sins? O Idolatry! O Blaſphemy Queſt. But what then was the Altar?

Anſw. The divine Nature of Chriſt, that Eternal Spirit, by and in the Aſſiſtance of which, he offered himſelf without Spot to God; he through the eternal Spirit offered himſelf.

Heb. 9. 14.

1. And it muſt be THAT, becauſe as was ſaid, The Altar is greater than the Gift; but there is nothing but Chriſt's Divine Nature, greater than his Human; to be ſure a ſorry bit of Wood, a Tree, the ſtock of a Tree, is not.

2, It muſt be this, becauſe the Text ſays plainly, the Altar ſanctifies the Gift, that is, puts Worth and Vertue into it; but was it the Tree or the Godhead of Chriſt, that put Vertue and Efficacy into this Sacrifice that he offered to God for us? If thou canſt but tell thy Fingers, judge.

3. The Altar was it of old, that was to bear up the Sacrifice until it was conſumed; and with reference to the Sacrifice under Conſideration, the Tree could not bear up that: for our Sacrifice being a Man conſiſting of Soul and Body, that which could bear him up in his ſuffering Condition, muſt be that that could apply it ſelf to his reaſonable and ſenſible Part for Relief and Succour, and that was of Power to keep him even in his Spirit, and in a compleat Submiſſiveneſs to God, in the preſent Condition in which he was; and could the Tree do this, think you? Had the Tree that Command and Government of the Soul and Senſe of Chriſt, of the Reaſon and Feeling of the Lord Jeſus, as to keep him in this bitter Suffering, in that evenneſs and ſpotleſneſs in his Torment, as to cauſe that he ſhould come off this great Work, without the leaſt Smell or Tang of Imperfection? No, no, It was through the eternal Spirit, that he offered himſelf without Spot to God.

Queſt. Wherefore then ſerved the Croſs?

Anſw. I ask, and wherefore then ſerved the Wood by which the Sacrifices were burned? The Sacrifices were burned with Wood upon the Altar, the Wood then was not the Altar, the Wood was that Inſtrument by which the Sacrifice was conſumed, and the Croſs that by which Chriſt ſuffered his Torment and Affliction. The Altar then was it that did bear both the Wood and Sacrifice, that did uphold the Wood to burn, and the Sacrifice to abide the burning: And with reference to the Matter in Hand, the Tree on which Chriſt was hanged, and the Sacrifice of his Body, were both upheld by his Divine Power; yet the Tree was no more a Sacrifice, nor an Altar, than was the Wood upon the Altar; nor was the Wood, but the Fire, holy, by which the Sacrifice was conſumed. Let the Tree then be the Tree, the Sacrifice the Sacrifice, and the Altar the Altar; and let Men have a Care how in their Worſhip, they make Altars, upon which, as they pretend, they offer the Body of Chriſt; and let them leave off fooliſhly to dote upon Wood, and the Works of their Hands: The Altar is greater than the Gift or Sacrifice, that was, or is upon it.

We

We come now to the ſecond Part of the Office of this High-Prieſt, and to ſhew how he performeth that. In order to which, I muſt, as I did with reference to the firſt, ſhew you what Things, as preparatory, were to proceed the Execution of it.

We have here as you ſee, our Paſſover ſacrificed for us, for our Encouragement to come to the Throne of Grace; and now let us look to it; as it is preſented in the Holieſt of all, and to the order of its being ſo preſented.

Firſt then, before there was any Thing further done, I mean by this High-Prieſt, as to a further Application of his Offering, the Judgment of God was waited for by him, with Reſpect to his Eſtimation of what was already done, to wit, how that was reſented by him; the which he declared to the full by raiſing him from the dead: For in that he was raiſed from the Dead, when yet he died for our Sins, 'tis evident that his Offering was accepted, or eſteemed of Value ſufficient to effect that, for the which it was made a Sacrifice, which was for our Sins; this therefore was in order to his being admitted into Heaven. God by raiſing him from the Dead, juſtified his Death, and counted it ſufficient for the ſaving of the World. And this Chriſt knew would be the Effect of his Death, long before he gave himſelf a Ranſom; where he ſaith, This alſo ſhall pleaſe the Lord better than an Ox or a Bullock, that has Horns and Hoofs: And again, For the Lord God will help me, therefore I ſhall not be confounded; therefore I have ſet my Face like a Flint, and I know I ſhall not be aſhamed. He is near that juſtifieth me, who will contend with me? Let us ſtand together; who is mine Adverſary? let him come near me. Behold, the Lord God will help me, who is he that ſhall condemn me? Lo, they all ſhall wax old like a Garment, the Moth ſhall eat them up. All this is the Work of the Lord God, his Father, and he had Faith therein, as I ſaid before. And ſince it was God who was to be appeaſed, 'twas requiſite that he ſhould be heard in the Matter, to wit, whether he was pacified or no; the which he has declared, I ſay, in raiſing him up from the Dead.

Pſal. 69. 31. Iſa. 50. 6, 7, 8, 9.

And this the Apoſtles, both Paul and Peter inſinuate, when they aſcribe his Reſurrection to the Power of another, rather than to his raiſing of himſelf, ſaying, This Jeſus hath God raiſed up; God hath raiſed him up from the Dead; but God raiſed him from the Dead, and the like. I ſay therefore that God by raiſing up Chriſt from the Dead, hath ſaid, that thus far his Offering pleaſed him, and that he was content.

Act. 2. 32. Ch. 3. 15. Ch. 4. 10. Ch. 5. 30. Chap. 13. 30.

Secondly, But leaſt the World being beſotted by Sin, ſhould not rightly interpret Actions; therefore God added to his raiſing him up from the Dead, a ſolemn expoſing of him to view, not to all Men, but to ſuch as were faithful, and that might be truſted with the communicating of it to others. Him, ſaith Peter, God raiſed from the Dead, and ſhewed him openly, not to all the People, but to Witneſſes choſen before of God, even to us who did eat and drink with him, after he roſe from the dead. Act. 10. 40, 41.

And this was requiſite, not for that it added any Thing to the Value and Worth of his Sacrifice, but for the help of the Faith of them that were to have eternal Salvation by him. And it is for this Cauſe that Paul ſo enlargeth upon this very Thing, to wit, that there were them that could teſtify, that God had raiſed him up from the Dead, namely that Men might ſee that God was well pleaſed, and that they had Encouragement to come boldly by him to the Throne of Grace for Mercy. And this expoſing of him to view, was not for the length of a ſurprizing or dazling Moment, but Days and Nights, to the Number of no leſs than Forty; and that to the ſelf-ſame Perſons, to wit, the Apoſtles whom he had choſen: To whom alſo, ſays the Text, he ſhewed himſelf alive after his Paſſion, by many infallible Proofs, being ſeen of them forty Days, and ſpeaking of the Things pertaining to the Kingdom of God. 1 Cor. 15. 1, to 9. Act. 1. 2, 3.

Thus God therefore being willing more abundantly to ſhew him unto the World, ordered this great Seaſon betwixt his Reſurrection and Aſcenſion, that the World might ſee, that they had Ground to believe an Attonement was made for Sin.

Thirdly, But again, a third thing that was to preceed the Execution of the ſecond Part of this his Prieſtly Office, was the Manner and Order of his going into the Holieſt. I ſay, the Manner and Order of his going. He was to go thither in that ROBE, of which mention was made before, to wit, in the Virtue of his Obedience, for 'twas that which was to make his Way for him, as now ſprinkled with his Blood. He was to go thither with a Noiſe which the Holy Ghoſt calls a Shout, ſaying, God is gone up with a Shout, the Lord with the Sound of a Trumpet. This was prefigured by the BELLS, as I ſaid, which did hang on the Border of Aaron's Garments. This Shout ſeems to ſignify the Voice of Men and Angels: and this Trumpet, the Voice and Joy of God, for ſo it ſays, He ſhall deſcend. For the Lord himſelf ſhall deſcend from Heaven with a Shout, with the Voice of the Archangel, and with the Trump of God. Even as he aſcended and went up; for Aaron's BELLS were to be heard when he went into, and when he came out of the Holy Place. But what Men were to aſcend with him? but, as was ſaid afore, the Men that came out of their Graves after his Reſurrection; and what Angels? but thoſe that miniſtred to him here in the Day of his Humiliation. As for the evil ones, he then rode in triumph over their Heads, and Pſal. 47. 5, 6. Exod. 28. 33, 34, 35. Mat. 27. 52, 53. Eph. 4. 8.

cruſh'd them, as Captives, with his Cha-
Eph. 4. 8. riot Wheels. He is aſcended on High, he has led Captivity captive, he has received Gifts for Men.

Thus then he aſcended unto, into the Holy Paradiſe, where he was waited for of a Multitude of the Heavenly Hoſt, and of Thouſands of Millions of the Spirits of juſt Men made perfect: So approaching the higheſt Heavens, the Place of the ſpecial Preſence of God, he was bid ſit down at his right Hand, in token that for his Sufferings ſake, God had made him the higheſt of every Creature, and given him a Name above every Name, and commanded that Philp. 2. 6, to 12. at the Name of Jeſus, now all things in Heaven ſhould bow, and promiſed that at the Day of Judgment, all on Earth, and under it ſhould do ſo too, to the Glory of God the Father.

Heb. 12. 24. Thus he preſented himſelf on our Behalf unto God, a Sacrifice of a ſweet ſmelling Savour, in which God reſteth for ever, for that the Blood of this Sacrifice has always with him a pleaſing and prevailing Voice. It cannot be denied, it cannot be out-weigh'd by the Heavineſs, Circumſtances, or Aggravations of any Sin whatſoever, of them that come unto God by him. He is always, as I ſaid before, in the midſt of the Throne, and before the Throne a Lamb as it had been ſlain, now appearing in the Preſence of God for us. Of the Manner of his Interceſſion, whether it is Vocal or Virtual, whether by Voice of Mouth, or Merit of Deed, or both, I will not determine; we know but little, while here, how things are done in Heaven, and we may ſoon be too carnal, or fantaſtical in our Apprehenſions. Interceſſion he makes, that is, he manages the Efficacy and Worth of his Suffering with God, for us; and is always prevalent in his thus managing of his Merits on our Behalf. And as to the Manner, though it may be in itſelf infinitely beyond
1 Cor. 13. 11, 12. what we can conceive while here: yet God hath ſtooped to our Weakneſs, and ſo expreſſed himſelf in this Matter, that we might ſomewhat, though but childiſhly apprehend him. And we do not amiſs if we conceive as the Word of God hath revealed, for the Scriptures are the green Poplar, Hazel, and Cheſnut Rods that lie in the Gutters where we ſhould come to drink; all the Difficulty is, in ſeeing the white Strakes, the very Mind of God there, that we may conceive by it.

But the text ſays, he prayeth in Heaven, he makes Interceſſion there. Again, it ſaith, his Blood ſpeaks, and conſequently, why may not his Groans, his Tears, his Sighs, and ſtrong Cries, which he uttered here in the Days of his Fleſh? I believe they do, and have a ſtrong Voice with God for the Salvation of his People. He may then interceed both vocally, and vertually; vertually to be ſure he does, and we are allowed ſo to apprehend, becauſe the Text ſuggeſteth ſuch a Manner of Interceſſion to us: And becauſe our Weakneſs will not admit us to underſtand fully the thing as it is, our Belief that he maketh Interceſſion for us, has alſo the Advantage of being purged from its Faultineſs by his Interceſſion, and we ſhall be ſaved thereby becauſe we have relied upon his Blood ſhed, and the Prevalency of the Worthineſs of it with God for us; though as to this Circumſtance, the Manner of his interceeding, we ſhould be ſomething at a loſs.

The Word ſays, that we have yet but the Image of heavenly Things, or of things in the Heavens. I do not at all doubt, but Heb. 10. 1 that many of thoſe that were ſaved before Chriſt came in the fleſh; though they were as to the Main, right, and relied upon him to the ſaving of their Souls; yet came far ſhort of the Knowledge of many of the Circumſtances of his ſuffering for them: Did they all know that he was to be betrayed of Judas? that he was to be ſcourged of the Souldiers? that he was to be Crowned with Thorns? that he was to be Crucified between two Thieves, and to be pierced till Blood and Water came out of his Side? or that he was to be buried in Joſeph's Sepulchre? I ſay, did all that were ſaved by Faith that he was to come and die for them, underſtand theſe, with many more Circumſtances that were Attendants of him to Death, it would be rude to think ſo; becauſe for it we have neither Scripture nor Reaſon.

Even ſo, we now, that believe that he ever lived to make Interceſſion for us, are alſo very ſhort of underſtanding of the Manner, or Mode of his ſo interceeding. Yet we believe that he died, and that his Merits have a Voice with God for us? yea, that he manages his own Merits before God in way of Interceſſion for us, far beyond what we, while here, are able to conceive. Col. 2. 9.

The Text ſaith, that all the Fulneſs of the Godhead dwells in him bodily. It ſaith Iſa. 22. 23. alſo, that he is the Throne of God, and Heb. 12. 2. yet again, that he ſits on the right hand of the Throne.

Theſe things are ſo far from being comprehended by the Weakeſt, that they ſtrain the Wits and Parts of the ſtrongeſt, yet there is a heavenly Truth in all. Heavenly Things are not eaſily believed, no not of believers themſelves, while here on Earth, and when they are, they are ſo but weakly and infirmly.

I believe that the very appearing of Chriſt before God is an Interceſſion as a Heb. 9. 24. Prieſt, as well as a Plea of an Advocate; and I believe again, that his very life there, is an Interceſſion there, a continual Inter- Rom. 5, 10 ceſſion.

But there is yet ſomething further to be ſaid; Chriſt, the Humanity of Chriſt, if in it dwells all the Fulneſs of the Godhead bodily, how then appears he before him to make Interceſſion; or if Chriſt is the Throne of Grace and Mercy-ſeat, how doth he appear before God as ſitting there, to ſprinkle that how with his Blood? Again; if Chriſt be the altar of Incenſe, how ſtands he as a Prieſt by that Altar to offer the Prayers of all Saints thereon, before the Throne?

That all this is written, is true; and that it is all Truth, is as true; but that it is all underſtood by every one that is ſaved, I do not believe is true. I mean ſo underſtood, as that they could all reconcile the ſeeming contradictions that are in theſe Texts.

There are therefore three Leſſons, that God has ſet us as to the perfecting of our Underſtanding in the Myſteries of God.

Firſt, Letters.

Secondly, Words.

Thirdly, Meanings.

Firſt, Letters. I call the ceremonial Law ſo; for there all is ſet forth diſtinctly, every thing by it ſelf, as Letters are to Children: There you have a Prieſt, a Sacrifice, an Altar, a Holy-Place, a Mercy-ſeat; and all diſtinct.

Secondly, Now in the Goſpel, theſe Letters are put all into a Word, and Chriſt is that Word, that Word of God's Mind; and therefore the Goſpel makes Chriſt, that Prieſt; Chriſt, that Sacrifice; Chriſt, that Altar; Chriſt, that Holy Place; Chriſt, that Throne of Grace; and all: for Chriſt is all: all theſe meet in him, as ſeveral Letters meet in one Word.

Thirdly, Next to the Word, you have the Meaning, and the Meaning, is more difficult to be learned than either the Letters, or the Word: and therefore the perfect underſtanding of that, is reſerved till we arrive to a higher Form, till we arrive to a perfect Man, and when that which is perfect is come, that Knowledge which is in part, ſhall be done away. Mean time our Buſineſs is to learn to bring the Letters into a Word; to bring the Ceremonies to Chriſt, and to make them terminate in him: I mean, to find the Prieſt-hood, in Chriſt; the Sacrifice, in Chriſt; the Altar, in Chriſt; the Throne of Grace, in Chriſt; and alſo God in Chriſt reconciling the World unto himſelf by him. And if we can learn this well, while here, we ſhall not at all be blamed: for this is the utmoſt Leſſon ſet us, to wit, to learn Chriſt, as we find him revealed in the Goſpel. I determined, ſaith Paul, not to know any thing among you, ſave Jeſus Chriſt, and him Crucified. And Chriſtians after ſome time, I mean thoſe that pray, and pry into the Word well, do attain to ſome good Meaſure of Knowledge of him. 'Tis Life eternal to know him, as he is to be known here, as he is to be known by the Holy Scriptures. Keep then cloſe to the Scriptures, and let thy Faith obey the Authority of them; and thou wilt be ſure to increaſe in Faith: for therein is the Righteouſneſs of God revealed from Faith to Faith: as it is written, the Juſt ſhall live by Faith.

1 Cor. 2. 2.

Joh. 17. 3.

Rom. 1. 16, 17. Chap. 10. 25, 26, 27.

Believe then that Chriſt died, was buried, roſe again, aſcended, and ever lived to make Interceſſion for thee; and take heed of prying too far, for in Myſteries Men ſoon loſe their way. 'Tis good therefore that thou reſt in this, to wit, that he doth ſo, though thou canſt not tell how he doth it. A Man at Court gets by his Interceſſion, a Pardon for a Man in the Country; and the party concerned, after he hath Intelligence of it, knows that ſuch an one hath obtained his Pardon, and that by his interceeding; but for all that he may be ignorant of his Methods of Interceſſion, and ſo are we, at leaſt, in part, of Chriſt.

The Meaning then is, that I ſhould believe, that for Chriſt's ſake, God will ſave me, ſince he has juſtified me with his Blood, being juſtified by his Blood we ſhall be ſaved from Wrath through him. Through his Interceſſion, or through his coming between the God whom I have offended, and me a poor Sinner, through his coming between with the Voice of his Blood and Merits, which ſpeaketh on my Behalf to God, becauſe that Blood was ſhed for me, and becauſe thoſe Merits, in the Benefit of them, are made over to me, by an Act of the Grace of God, according to his eternal Covenant made with Chriſt. This is what I know of his Interceſſion; I mean with Reference to the Act itſelf; to wit, HOW he makes Interceſſion. And ſince ALL the Fulneſs of the Godhead dwells in him bodily: and ſince he alſo, as to his Humanity, is the Throne of Grace; yea, and ſince he alſo is the Holieſt of all, and the Reſt of God forever; it has been ſome ſcruple to me, whether it be not too carnal to imagine as if Chriſt ſtood diſtinct in his Humanity, diſtinct I ſay as to Space, from the Father as ſitting upon a Throne, and as ſo preſenting his Merits, and making vocal Prayers for the Life and Salvation of his People. The more true Meaning in my Apprehenſion is, that the Preſence and Worth of the human Natnre, being with the Divine, yea, taken into Union with God for ever, for the Service that was done for God, by it, in the World, in reconciling his Elect unto him, is ſtill, and ever will be, ſo deſerving in his Sight, as to prevail (I know not how elſe to expreſs it) with the Divine Nature (in whom alone is a Power to ſubdue all Impoſſibilities to itſelf) to preſerve thoſe ſo reconciled to eternal Life.

Chap. 7. 8, 9.

When I ſpeak of the human Nature, I mean the Man Chriſt, not bereft of Senſe and Reaſon, nor of the Power of willing and affecting; but thus I mean, that the human Nature ſo terminates in the Will of the Divine; and again, the Will of the Divine,

Divine, ſo terminates, as to ſaving of Sinners in the Merit and Will of the human, that what the Father would, the Son wills; and what the Son wills, the Father acquieſces in for ever. And this the Son wills, and his Will is backed with infinite Merit, John 17.24 in which alſo the Father reſts; that thoſe, all thoſe, whom the Father hath given him, be with him where he is, that they may behold his Glory. And now I am come to the Will and Affections of the High-Prieſt. This leads me to the ſecond Head, namely, to the natural Qualifications of him. And,

Firſt, This is one Thing that I would urge, he is not of a Nature foreign to that of Man; the Angels love us well, but they are not SO capable of ſympathizing with us in our Diſtreſſes, becauſe they are not Partakers of our Nature.

Nature has a peculiar Sympathy in it; now he is naturally one with us, Sin only excepted, and that is our Advantage too. He is Man as we are Fleſh and Blood, as we are; born of a Woman, and in all Points made like unto us, that excepted Heb. 2. 14, 16. which the Holy Ghoſt excepteth; For as much then as the Children are Partakers of Fleſh and Blood, he alſo himſelf likewiſe took Part of the ſame. For verily he took not on him the Nature of Angels; but he took the Seed of Abraham. This doth qualify him much, for as I ſaid before, there is a Sympathy in Nature. A Man will not be ſo affected with the Hurt that comes to a Beaſt, as he naturally will with the Hurt that comes to a Man: A Beaſt will be more affected with thoſe Attempts that are made upon its own Kind to hurt it, than it will be with thoſe that are made upon Man: Wherefore? Why there is a Sympathy in Nature. Now that Chriſt the High-Prieſt of the Houſe of God, is naturally one with us, you ſee the Scriptures plainly affirm. Gal. 4. 4. Rom. 1. 3. — 9. 5. 2 Tim. 2. 8. God ſent forth his Son, made of a Woman: He was made of the Seed of David, according to the Fleſh; the Fathers of whom, as concerning the Fleſh, Chriſt came, &c. and this muſt needs tend to make him a well qualified High-Prieſt. We will not now ſpeak of the Neceſſity of his taking upon him the human Nature, to wit, that he might deſtroy him that had the Power of Death, that is, the Devil, and deliver his People; for that would be here too much beſide our Matter, and be a Diverſion to the Reader: We are now upon his High-Prieſt's Office, and of thoſe natural Qualifications that attend him, as to that; and I ſay, Nature is a great Qualification, becauſe in Nature there is Sympathy; and where there is Sympathy, there will be a Provocation to help, a Provocation to help with Jealouſy and Indignation againſt thoſe that afflict.

A Bear robbed of her Whelps is not more provoked, than is the Lord Jeſus, when there is Means uſed, to make them miſs of Life eternal, for whom he hath died, and for whom he ever lives to make Interceſſion. But,

Secondly, As there is natural Sympathy in Chriſt to thoſe for whom he is an High-Prieſt, ſo there is relative Sympathy; he has not only taken to or upon him our Nature, but he is become one Brotherhood with us; now you know Brotherhood will carry a Man further than Nature: So then, when Nature and Relation meet, there is a double Obligation. Now both he that ſanctifieth (which is Chriſt) and they who are ſanctified (his Saints) are all of one, (which is God) they are all of God, as Children of a Father; for which Cauſe he is not aſhamed to call them Brethren, ſaying, I will declare thy Name unto my Brethren, in the midſt of the Church will I ſing Praiſe unto thee. Heb. 2. 11, 12. Now a Relation is much, and a natural Relation moſt of all. Why, here is a natural Relation betwixt Chriſt the High-Prieſt, and thoſe for whom he ever liveth to make Interceſſion; a natural Relation, I ſay, and that with Reſpect to the Humanity, which is the Nature ſubject to Affliction and Diſtreſs; For as much then as the Children are Partakers of Fleſh and Blood, he alſo himſelf likewiſe took Part of the ſame: So then it is for a Brother that he is engaged, for a Brother that he doth make Interceſſion.

When Gideon knew by the Confeſſion of Zeba and Zalmunna, that the Men that they ſlew at Tabor were his Brethren, his Fury came into his Face, and he ſware they ſhould therefore die: Relation is a great Matter. And therefore it is ſaid again, In all Things it behoved him to be made like unto his Brethren, that he might be a merciful High-Prieſt. A Brother is born for Adverſity: And, A Brother will go far. Judges 8. 18, 19.

This therefore is a ſecond Thing or another Qualification, with which Chriſt Jeſus is furniſhed to be an High-Prieſt; he is a Brother, there is a brotherly Relation betwixt him and us, therefore by Virtue of this Relation he maketh Interceſſion for us more affectionately.

Thirdly, There is another Thing in Chriſt Jeſus that makes him naturally of an excellent Qualification with Reference to his Prieſthood for us; and they are the Temptations and Infirmities wherewith he was exerciſed in the Days of his Humiliation. 'Tis true Temptations and Infirmities ſtrictly conſidered, are none of our Nature, no more are they of his; but yet, if it be proper to ſay Temptations and Afflictions have a Nature, his and ours were naturally the ſame, and that in all Points too, for ſo ſays the Text, He was tempted in all Points, like as we are, yet without Sin. Are we tempted to diſtruſt God? So was he: Are we tempted to murder our ſelves? Heb. 4. 15. Mat. 4. 3, 10. Luke 4. 3, 12.

ſelves? So was he: Are we tempted with the bewitching Vanities of this World? So was he: Are we tempted to commit Idolatry, and to worſhip the Devil? So was he. So that herein we alſo were alike; yea, from his Cradle to his Croſs he was a Man of Sorrows and acquainted with Griefs, a Man of Affliction throughout the whole Courſe of his Life.

And obſerve it, he was made ſo, or ſubjected thereto, by the Ordinance of God; nay farther, It behoved him to be made ſo, that is, to be made like unto us in all Things, the better to capacitate him to the Work of his Prieſthood, with the more Bowels and Compaſſion; we will read to you the Text; Wherefore in all Things it behoved him to be made like unto his Brethren; that he might be (qualified to be) a merciful and faithful High-Prieſt, in Things pertaining to God, to make Reconciliation for the Sins of the People: For in that he himſelf hath ſuffered, being tempted, he is able to ſuccour them that are tempted. Heb.2.17, 18.

See here how he is qualified, and to what end; he was tempted as we are, ſuffered by Temptations as we do, in all Points and Things as we are; that he might be Bowels, that he might be a merciful and faithful High-Prieſt in Things pertaining to God, to make up the Difference that is made by Sin, between God and his People, to make Reconciliation for the Sins of the People.

Yea, he by being tempted, and by ſuffering as he did, he is prepared and enabled ſo to do; for in that he himſelf hath ſuffered being tempted, he is able to ſuccour them that are tempted.

Wherefore, I alſo call this Qualification, both natural and neceſſary; natural, becauſe in Kind the ſame with ours; that is, his Temptations were the ſame with ours; the ſame in Nature, the ſame in Deſign, the ſame as to their own natural Tendency; for their natural Tendency was to have ruined both him and us, but God prevented. They alſo were neceſſary, though not of themſelves, yet made ſo by him, that can bring Good out of Evil, and Light out of Darkneſs; made ſo, I ſay, to us, for whoſe Sakes they were ſuffered to aſſault and afflict him, namely, that he might be able to be merciful, faithful, and ſuccouring to us.

Fourthly, Another Qualification with which our High-Prieſt is furniſhed for the better fitting of him to make Interceſſion for us is, that we are his Members; to be a Member is more than to be of the ſame Nature, or the neareſt of Relations, that excepted. So then now he makes Interceſſion for his own ſelf, for his own Body, and for the ſeveral Members of his Body. The High-Prieſt under the Law, did uſe to offer up Sacrifice for himſelf; firſt for himſelf, for his own Sins, and then for the Errors of the People. I will not ſay that Chriſt had any Sin that was perſonally or by his Act, his own, for that would be to blaſpheme the Name of that Holy One? but yet I will ſay, he made the Sins of the People his own, yea, God the Father made them his; thoſe alſo for whom he ever liveth to make Interceſſion are united to him, made Members of his Body, of his Fleſh, and of his Bones; and ſo are any Part of himſelf. Pſal.69.5. 2 Cor.5.21.

But we are now about his natural Qualifications, and this is one; that they for whom he ever liveth to make Interceſſion are his Members, the Members of his Body, we are Members of his Body, of his Fleſh, and of his Bones, ſo ſaith the Word. Wherefore here is a near Concern, for that his Church is Part of himſelf; 'tis his own Concern, 'tis for our own Fleſh; Never Man yet hated his own Fleſh, but nouriſheth and cheriſheth it. (Things are thus ſpoken, becauſe of the Infirmity of our Fleſh.) So that had Chriſt no Love to us as we are Sinners, yet becauſe we are Part of himſelf, he cannot but care for us, Nature puts him upon it; yea, and the more infirm and weak we are, the more he is touched with the feeling of our Infirmities, the more he is afflicted for us; For we have not an High-Prieſt that cannot be touched with the feeling of our Infirmities. He at no Time loſeth this his Fellow-feeling, becauſe he always is our Head, and we the Members of his. I will add, the infirm Member is moſt cared for, moſt pitied, moſt watched over to be kept from harms, and moſt conſulted for. Eph.5.30. Ver. 29. Heb.4.15. Eph. 22,

I love to play the Child with little Children, and have learnt ſomething by ſo doing: I have met with a Child that has had a ſore Finger, yea, ſo ſore as to be all together at preſent uſeleſs, and not only ſo, but by Reaſon of its Infirmity, has been a let or hindrance to the uſe of all the Fingers that have been upon that Hand; then have I began to bemoan the Child, and ſaid, alas my poor Boy or Girl, haſt got a ſore Finger? Ah quoth the Child with Water in its Eyes, and hath come to me to be bemoaned. Then I have begun to offer to touch the ſore Finger; Oh! ſaith the Child, pray do not hurt me: I then have replied, canſt thou do nothing with this Finger? No, ſaith the Child, nor with this Hand neither: Then have I ſaid, ſhall we cut off this Finger, and buy my Child a better, a brave golden Finger? At this the Child has ſtarted, ſtared in my Face, gone back from me, and entertained a kind of Indignation againſt me, and has no more cared to be intimate with me.

Then have I begun to make ſome uſe of that good Sermon which this little Child has preach'd unto me; and thus have I gone on: If Memberſhip be ſo dear, if this Child has ſuch tenderneſs to the moſt infirm, the moſt uſeleſs of its Members; if it counts me his Friend no longer than while I have a Mouth to bemoan, and Carriages that ſhew tenderneſs to this uſeleſs Finger; what an Intereſt doth Memberſhip give one in the Body, and what Compaſſions hath the Soul for ſuch a uſeleſs Thing, becauſe it is a Member? And turning all this over to Jeſus Chriſt, then inſtead of Matter and Corruption, there preſently comes Honey to me out of this Child's ſore Finger: I take leave to tell you now, how I uſe to play. And though I have told you this Tale upon ſo grave a Truth, as is the Memberſhip of Chriſtians with their Head, yet bear with me; no Child can be ſo tender of its ſore Finger, as is the Son of God of his afflicted Members; he cannot but be touched with the feeling of our Infirmities.

Ah! who would not make many Supplications, Prayers and Interceſſions for a Leg, for an Eye, for a Foot, for a Hand, for a Finger, rather than they will loſe it? And can it be imagined that Chriſt alone ſhall be like the fooliſh Oſtrich, hardned againſt his young, yea, againſt his Members! it cannot be.

Should he loſe a Member, he would be disfigured, maimed, diſmembred, imperfect, next to monſtrous. For his Body is called his fulneſs, yea, the fulneſs of him that fills all in all. This therefore ſhews you that Chriſt as High-Prieſt, has naturally a reſpect for thoſe for whom he ever liveth to make Interceſſion; yea, an unfathomable Reſpect for them, becauſe they are his Members.

Eph. 1. 22, 23.

Fifthly, But again, when Nature, Relation, and Member-ſhip is urged to ſhew the fit Qualifications wherewith Chriſt is endued, I intend not to intimate, as if the Bottom of all lay here, for then it might be urged, that one imperfect, has all theſe; for who knows not, that ſinful Man, has all theſe Qualifications in him, towards his Nature, Relations, and Members? I have therefore, as I ſaid, thus diſcourſed, only for Demonſtration ſake, and to ſuit my ſelf with the Infirmity of your Fleſh. I might come alſo in the next Place to tell you, that Jeſus Chriſt our High-Prieſt is thus, with reference to other Deſigns. We are his Purchaſe, and he counts us ſo; his Jewels, and he counts us ſo; his Eſtate real, and he counts us ſo. And you know, a Man will do much, ſpeak much, interceed much, and long for that which he thus is intereſted in: But we will come to ſpeak more particularly of the exceeding Excellency of his natural Qualifications, and ſhew you, that he hath ſuch as are peculiar to himſelf alone, and that we are concerned in them.

Pſal. 16. 5, 6.

Firſt then, he is Holy, and ſo a ſuitable High-Prieſt. There is a Holineſs that ſets further from, and a Holineſs that brings one nearer to, and to be concerned the more with the Condition of thoſe in Affliction, and that Holineſs is that which is intailed unto Office. When a Man is put into an Office, the more unholy he is, the worſe he performs his Office; and the more Holy, the better he performs his Office. For his Holineſs obliges him to be faithful unto Men, wherein he is concerned by his Office. Hence you read that he is a faithful High-Prieſt, becauſe he is a holy one, and ſuch an High-Prieſt became us, who is Holy, &c. Good and upright is the Lord Jehovah, Chriſt Jeſus, therefore he will teach Sinners in the Way. He that ruleth among Men muſt be Juſt, ruling in the fear of God. I mention theſe Texts to ſhew you, that Holineſs when intailed to Office, makes a Man do that Office the better. Now then, Chriſt is Holy, and he is made, called and made of God an High-Prieſt after the order of Melchiſedec, and is to manage that his Office for thee with God; that is to ſay, to continue to make Reconciliation for Iniquity, for that Iniquity that cleaveth unto thee, and that ſpuriouſly breaketh, or iſſueth from thy Fleſh after thou art called and converted. For we are now upon the ſecond Part of the Execution of the Prieſthood of Chriſt: that which he executeth I ſay, and by executing takes away the Iniquity of our Holy Things, and of our Life after our turning to God by him. Now he that is to do this, is Holy, and ſo one that will make Conſcience of performing that Office for us, with which he is intruſted of God. Hence he is ſet in Oppoſition to thoſe High-Prieſts that had Infirmities, that were not Holy, and upon this very Account, preferred above them. For the Law maketh Men High-Prieſts that have Infirmities, but the Word of an Oath which was ſince the Law, maketh the Son, who is conſecrated, perfected, or Holy for evermore.

Heb. 2.17

Ch. 7: 26.

Pſ. 25. 8.

2 Sam. 23. 3.

Heb. 7.28.

This therefore is a great Thing, to wit, that we have an High-Prieſt that is Holy, and ſo one that will not fail to perform to the utmoſt, the Truſt committed to him on our Behalf, to wit, to offer both Gifts and Sacrifices for Sin, this is one Thing.

Heb. 5. 1.

2. There is added to this of his Holineſs, another; and that is HARMLESS. For ſuch an High-Prieſt became us who is Holy, Harmleſs. A harmful Man, when he is in Office, Oh how much Miſchief may he do! Such an one is partial in doing his Office, ſuch an one will put the Poor by his Right, ſuch an one will buy and ſell a Cauſe, a Man, an Intereſt, will do, or not do, as his harmfulneſs prompts him to it; So is an evil Ruler among the poor People. But now our Jeſus, our High-Prieſt is Holy, harmleſs; He will wrong no Man, he will deprive no Man, he will contemn no Man, he will deny to no Man that comes to God by him, the Benefit and Advantage of his bleſſed Interceſſion; He reſpecteth not Perſons, nor taketh Reward. A harmful Man will ſtomach, and hate, and prejudice a Man, will wait for an Opportunity to do him a Miſchief, will take the Advantage if he can, to deny him his Right, and keep from him his due, when yet it is in the Power of his Hand to help him. Oh! but Chriſt is harmleſs, harmleſs as a Dove, he thinks no ill, intends no ill, doth no ill; but graciouſly, innocently, harmleſly, makes Interceſſion for thee; nor will he be prevailed with to prejudice thy Perſon, or to forbear to take up thy Name into his Lips, be thy Infirmities, and Weakneſſes, and Provocations never ſo many, if thou indeed comeſt to God by him. He is Holy, and Harmleſs, and ſo the more fit to become our High-Prieſt, and to make Interceſſion for us.

3. But again, this is not all, he alſo is undefiled; for ſuch an High-Prieſt became us, who is holy, harmleſs, undefiled. This Term is put in to ſhew, that he neither is, nor can be found, neither now, nor at any Time faulty in his Office. A Man that is Holy, may yet be defiled; a Man that is harmleſs, may yet be defiled. We are bid to be Holy and Harmleſs; and in a Goſpel Senſe ſo every Chriſtian is: Oh! but Chriſt is ſo in a legal Senſe, in the Eye of the Law, perfectly ſo. This is a great Matter, for it ſhews, that as nothing done by us, can tempt him to be hurtful to us, ſo there is nothing in himſelf that can tempt him ſo to be. A Man that is defiled, has that within him, that will put him upon uſing of his Office unfaithfully, though he ſhould have no Provocation from thoſe for whoſe good he is to execute his Office: But he that is undefiled, undefiled in a Law-ſenſe, as our Lord Jeſus is, is ſuch an one that doth not only not do hurt, and not act falſly in his Office, but one that cannot, one that knoweth not how to be unfaithful to his Truſt. He is Holy, harmleſs, undefiled, this therefore is a great Thing. He has not the Original of hurtfulneſs in him, there is no ſuch Root there; there is a Root of bitterneſs ſpringing up in us, by which, not only our ſelves, but oft-times others are defiled. Oh! but our High-Prieſt is undefiled, he is not corrupt, nor corrupteth; he doth his Office fairly, faithfully, holily, juſtly, according to, or anſwering our Neceſſities, and the Truſt repoſed in him, and committed to him. But,

Heb. 12. 15.

4. This is not all; as he is Holy, harmleſs, and undefiled; ſo he is ſeparate from Sinners, both in his Conception, in his Compoſition, and the Place ordained for him to execute this Part of his High-Prieſt's Office in. He was not conceived in the Womb, by carnal Generation; he was not made up of polluted and defiled Nature; he officiateth not with thoſe Materials that are corrupt, ſtained, or imperfect; but with thoſe that are unſpotted; even with the ſpotleſs Sacrifice of his own unblemiſhed Offering. He, nor his Offering, has any ſuch Tang, as had the Prieſts, and their Sacrifices under the Law, to wit, Sin, and Imperfection; he is ſeparate from them in this Reſpect, further than is an Angel from a Beaſt. He has none of the Qualities, Actions, or Inclinations of Sinners; his Ways are only his own; he never ſaw them, nor learnt them, but of the Father: There is none upright among Men, wherefore he is ſeparated from them to be a Prieſt. Again,

5. As he is thus, ſo again, he is ſaid to be higher than the Heavens. For ſuch an High-Prieſt became us, who is holy, harmleſs, undefiled, ſeparate from Sinners, and made higher than the Heavens. The Text ſaith that neither Saint nor Heavens are clean in God's Sight. Behold he putteth no Truſt in his Servants, he chargeth his Angels with Folly; and again, behold he putteth no Truſt in his Saints, yea, the Heavens are not clean in his Sight. Wherefore by this Expreſſion, he ſhews us, that our High-Prieſt is more noble, than either Heaven, or Angel; yea, more clean and perfect than any. It ſhews us alſo that all the Heavenly Hoſt are at his Command, to do as his Interceſſion ſhall prevail with the Father for us. All Angels worſhip him, and at his Word they become, they all become miniſtring Spirits for them who ſhall be Heirs of Salvation.

Job 4. 18. Chap. 15. 15.

Beſides, by this Word he ſhews that it is impoſſible that our High-Prieſt ſhould degenerate or decay: For that he is made higher than the Heavens; the Spirits, ſometimes in the Heavens, have decayed; the Heavens themſelves decay and wax old; and that is the fartheſt that by the Word we are admitted to go. But as for him that is above the Heavens; that is made higher than the Heavens; that is aſcended up far above all Heavens: He is the ſame, and his Years fail not; the ſame Yeſterday, to Day, and for ever.

Heb. 7. 26. Chap. 1. 10, 11, 12.

Heb. 13. 8.

This therefore is added, to ſhew that Chriſt is neither as the Angels, nor Heavens, ſubject to decay, or degenerate or to flag and grow cold in the Execution of his Office; but that he will be found, even at the laſt, when he is come to the End of this Work, and is about to come out of the holy Place, as affectionate, as full of Love, as willing, and deſirous after our Salvation as he was the firſt Moment that he was made High-Prieſt, and took upon him to execute that his bleſſed Office for us.

Wherefore our High-Prieſt is NO ſuch one as you read of in the Law. He is no Dwarf, hath no Blemiſh, nor any Imperfection; therefore is not ſubject to flag or fail in the due Execution of his Office; but is able to ſave to the uttermoſt them that come unto God by him, ſeeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for them.

Lev. 21. 18

And it is well worth our Conſideration, that it is ſaid, he is MADE thus; that is, appointed appointed, inſtituted, called, and qualified thus of God; this ſhews the Father's Heart as well as the Sons, to us-wards; to wit, that this Prieſthood was of him, and the glorious Effects thereof by him. Let us therefore come boldly to the Throne of Grace, that we may obtain Mercy, and find Grace to help in Time of Need.

I come now to the ſecond Motive, to wit, that we may find Grace and Mercy to help in Time of Need; or we ſhall find Grace and Mercy to help, if we come as we ſhould, to the Throne of Grace.

In this Motive we have theſe three Things conſiderable.

1. That Saints are like to meet with needy Times while they are in this World.

2. That nothing can carry us through our needy Times, but more, or a continual Supply of Mercy and Grace.

3. That Mercy and Grace is to be had at the Throne of Grace, and we muſt fetch it from thence by Prayer, if we would, as we ſhould go through thoſe needy Times.

For the firſt of theſe, that Saints are like to meet with needy Times; or with ſuch Times as will ſhew them, that they need a continual Aſſiſtance of the Grace of God, that they may go rightly through this World. This is therefore a Motive, that weareth a Spur in the Heel of it, a Spur to prick us forward to ſupplicate at the Throne of Grace. This needy Time, is in other Places, called the perilous Time, the evil Day, the Hour and Power of Darkneſs, the Day of Temptation, the cloudy and dark Day.

2Tim.3.1. Eph.6.13. Luk.22.53 Heb. 3. 8. Ez.34.12. Gen.47.9.

And indeed, in the general, all the Days of our Pilgrimage here, are evil, yea, every Day has a Sufficiency of Evil in it to deſtroy the beſt Saint that breatheth, were it not for the Grace of God. But, there are alſo, as I have hinted, particular, ſpecial Times, Times more eminently dangerous, and hazardous unto Saints. As,

1. There are there young Days, the Days of their Youth, and Child-hood in Grace. This Day is uſually attended with much Evil towards him, or them that are asking the way to Zion with their Faces thitherward. Now the Devil has loſt a Sinner: there is a Captive has broke Priſon, and one run away from his Maſter: now Hell ſeems to be awaked from Sleep, the Devils are come out, they roar, and roaring they ſeek to recover their Runaway. Now tempt him, threaten him, flatter him, ſtigmatize him, throw duſt in his Eyes, poyſon him with Errors, ſpoyl him while he is upon the Potters Wheel; any thing to keep him from coming to Jeſus Chriſt. And is not this a needy Time? doth not ſuch an one want Abundance of Grace? is it not of abſolute Neceſſity that thou, if thou art the Man thus beſet, ſhouldeſt ply it at the Throne of Grace for Mercy and Grace to help thee in ſuch a time of Need as this?

To want a Spirit of Prayer now, is as much as thy Life is worth. O therefore, you that know what I ſay, you that are broke looſe from Hell, that are fled for Refuge to lay hold on the hope ſet before you, and that do hear the Lyon roar after you, and that are kept awake with the continual Voice of his chinking Chain; cry as you fly; yea, the Promiſe is, that they that come to God with Weeping, with Supplication, he will lead them.

Well, this is one needy Time, now thy Hedge is low, now thy Branch is tender, now thou art but in the bud. Pray that thou beeſt not marr'd in the Potter's Hand.

2. The time of Proſperity is alſo a time of Need, I mean, of thy Spiritual Proſperity. For as Satan can tell how to ſuit Temptations for thee in the Day of thy Want, ſo he has thoſe that can entangle thee in the Day of thy Fulneſs. He has his ſpiritual Wickedneſſes in the high and Heavenly Places. He can tell how to lay a Snare for thee in the land of Canaan, as well as in the Wilderneſs; in thy time of receiving good things, as well as in thy hungry and empty Hours. Nay, ſuch times ſeem to be the moſt dangerous, not in themſelves, but through the Deceits of our Heart. Hence Moſes gives this caution to the Children of Iſrael, that when God had given them the Promiſed Land, and Vineyards, and Wells, and Olive-Trees, and when they had eaten and were full, Then, ſays he, beware leſt thou forget the Lord which brought thee forth of the Land of Egypt; from the Houſe of Bondage. And again, he doubleth this Caution, ſaying; when thou haſt eaten and art full: then thou ſhalt bleſs the Lord thy God, for the good Land which he has given thee. Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God in not keeping his Commandments, and his Judgments, and his Statutes, which I command thee this Day; leſt when thou haſt eaten and art full, and thou in all good things art increaſed, then thy Heart be lifted up, and thou forget the Lord thy God, which brought thee forth out of the Land of Egypt from the Houſe of Bondage; all this may be applied ſpiritually. For there are, as I ſaid, Snares laid for us in our beſt things, and he that has great Enjoyments, and forgets to pray for Grace to keep him humble then, ſhall quickly be where Peter was, after his Knowledge of the Lord Jeſus by the Revelation of the Father.

Eph.5.12. Deut.6. 10, to 14. Ch.8.10 to 15.

3. Another needy Time, is a time when Men are low and empty, as to worldly Good; this Time is full of Temptations and Snares. At this time, Men will, if they look not well to their Doings and Goings, be tempted to ſtrain Curteſies both with Conſcience, and with God's Word, and adventure to do things that are dangerous, and that have a Tendency to make all their

Religion

Religion and Profeſſion vain. This, Holy Agur was aware of, ſo he pray'd, Let me not be rich and full, leſt I deny thee; Let me not be poor, leſt I ſteal, and take the Name of my God in vain: There are many Inconveniences that attend him that is fallen into Decay in this World. It is an evil Day with him, and the Devils will be as buſy with him, as the Flies are with a lean and ſcabbed Sheep. It ſhall go hard but ſuch a Man ſhall be full of Maggots; full of ſilly, fooliſh, idle Inventions to get up, and to abound with Fullneſs again. It is not a time now, will Satan ſay, to retain a tender Conſcience, to regard thy Word or Promiſe, to pay for what thou buyeſt, or to ſtick at pilfering, and filch from thy Neighbour. This Agur was afraid of; therefore he pray'd that God would keep him from that which would be to him a Temptation to do it. How many in our Day have, on theſe very Accounts, brought Religion to a very ill Savour, and themſelves into the Snare of the Devil, and all becauſe they have not addicted themſelves to pray to God for Grace to help in this Time of Need, but rather have left off the thing that is good, and given up themſelves to the Temptations of the Devil, and the ſubtle and enſnaring Motions of the Fleſh? Prov. 30. 7, 8, 9.

4. Another needy Time is the Day of Perſecution; this is called, as was hinted before, the Hour of Darkneſs, the cloudy and dark Day. This Day therefore is full of Snares and of Evils of every kind. Here is the Fear of Man, the Terrors of a Priſon, of Loſs of Goods and Life. Now all things look black, now the fiery Trial is come. He that cannot now pray; he that now applieth not himſelf to God on the Throne of Grace, by the Prieſthood of Jeſus Chriſt, is like to take a Fall before all Men upon the Stage; a foul Fall, a Fall that will not only break his own Bones, but alſo the Hearts of thoſe that fear God and behold it. Come therefore boldly to the Throne of Grace, that you may obtain Mercy, and find Grace to help in time of Need.

5. Another time of Need is, that time wherein thou changeſt thy Condition, and entereſt into a new Relation. For here alſo the Snares and Traps lie waiting for thee. There is a hopeful Child goes to Service, or to be an Apprentice: There is a young Man and a young Maid entered into a married Condition, and though they pray before, yet they leave off to pray then: Why, theſe People are oftentimes ruined and undone; the Reaſon is, this Change is attended with new Snares, with new Cares, and with new Temptations, of the which, becauſe through Unwatchfulneſs they are not aware, they are taken, drawn to Perdition and Deſtruction by them.

Many in my ſhort Day, have gone, I doubt, down to the Pit, this way, that have ſometimes been to Appearance the very foremoſt, and hopefulleſt in the Place where they have lived. Oh how ſoon has their Fire gone out, has their Lamps forborn to burn! How quickly have they loſt their Love to their Miniſters, by whom they were illuminated, and to the warmeſt Chriſtians, through Communion with whom they uſed to be kept awake and ſavoury! How quickly have they found them out new Friends, new Companions, new Ways and Methods of Life, and new Delights to feed their fooliſh Minds withal! Wherefore, Oh thou that art in this fifth Head concerned, come boldly to the Throne of Grace, to obtain Mercy and find Grace to help in time of Need.

6. Another time of Need is, when the generality of Profeſſors are decay'd; when the Cuſtom of Fancies and Fooleries have taken away all Gravity and Modeſty from among the Children of Men. Now pray, or thou dieſt; yea, pray againſt thoſe Decays, thoſe vain Cuſtoms, thoſe fooliſh Fancies, thoſe light and vain Carriages that have overtaken others; elſe they will aſſuredly knock at thy Door, and obtain Favour at thy Hand, the which if they do, they will quickly bring thee down into the Dirt with others, and put thee in Peril of Damnation as well as they.

7. Another time of Need is, the Time of Guilt contracted, and of the hiding of God's Face. This is a dangerous Time. If thou now ſhalt forbear to pray, thou art undone, for the natural Tendency of Guilt is to drive a Man from God. So it ſerved our firſt Father; and oft times when God hides his Face, Men run into Deſperation, and ſo throw up all Duties, and ſay as he of old, Why ſhould I wait upon the Lord any longer? Now thy great Help againſt this is Prayer, continuing in Prayer. Prayer wreſtleth with the Devil, and will overthrow him: Prayer wreſtleth with God, and will overcome him: Prayer wreſtleth with all Temptations, and makes them fly. Great Things have been done by Prayer, even by the Prayer of thoſe that have contracted Guilt, and that have by their Sins loſt the Smiles, and Senſe of the Favour of God.

Wherefore, when this needy, this evil time has overtaken thee, pray. Come boldly to the Throne of Grace, to obtain Mercy and find Grace to help in time of Need.

8. The day of Reproach and Slander, is another time of Need, or a Day in which thou wilt want Supplies of Grace. Sometimes we meet with ſuch Days wherein we are loaden with Reproaches, Slander, candals, and Lies. Chriſt found the Day of Reproach a burdenſome Day unto him; and there is many a Profeſſor driven quite away from all Conſcience towards God and open Profeſſion of his Name, by ſuch things as theſe. Reproach is, when caſt at a Man, as if he was ſtoning to Death with Stones. Now ply it hard at the Pſal. 69. 7.

Throne

Throne of Grace, for Mercy and Grace to bear thee up, or thou wilt either miscarry or ſink under Ground by the Weight of Reproach that may fall upon thee.

John 6.66. 2 Tim. 1. 15. Job 19.13, to 20. Pſ. 88. 18. 9. Another Time of Need, is that, wherein a Man's Friends deſert and forſake him, becauſe of his Goſpel Principles, or of thoſe Temptations that attend his Profeſſion. This is a Time that often happeneth to thoſe that are good. Thus it was with Chriſt, with Paul, with Job, with Heman, and ſo has been with many other of God's Servants, in the Day of their Temptations in this World. And a ſore Time it is. Job complained under it, ſo did Heman, Paul, and Chriſt. Now a Man is as forlorn as a Pelican in the Wilderneſs, as an Owl in the Deſert, or as a Sparrow upon the Houſe Top. If a Man cannot now go to the Throne of Grace by Prayer, through Chriſt, and ſo fetch Grace for his Support from thence, What can he do? He cannot live of himſelf: Wherefore this is a ſore Evil.

John 15.4

10. Another Time of Need, is, the Day of Death; when I am to pack up all to be gone from hence, the Way of all the Earth. Now the greateſt Trial is come, excepting that of the Day of Judgment. Now a Man is to be ſtript of all, but that which cannot be ſhaken: Now a Man grows near the Borders of Eternity: Now he begins to ſee into the Skirts of the next World: Now Death is Death, and the Grave the Grave indeed: Now he begins to ſee what 'tis for Body and Soul to part, and what to go and appear before God: Now the dark Entry, and the Thoughts of what is in the Way from a Death-Bed to the Gate of the holy Heaven, comes nearer the Heart than when Health and Proſperity do compaſs a Man about. Wherefore this is like to be a trying Time, a Time of Need indeed. A prudent Man will make it one of the great Concerns of his whole Life, to get, and lay up a Stock of Grace for this Day, (though the Fool will rage and be confident) for he knows all will be little enough to keep him warm in his Soul, while cold Death ſtroaks his Hand over his Face, and over his Heart, and is turning his Blood into Jelly; while ſtrong Death is looſing his Silver Cord, and breaking his Golden Bowl. Wherefore I ſay this Motive weareth a Spur on his Heel, a Spur to prick us on to the Throne of Grace for Mercy and Grace to help in Time of Need.

Eccl. 12.5.

Ver. 6.

But Secondly, I come now to the next Thing, which is to ſhew, that nothing can carry us through our needy Times, but more, or a continual Supply of Mercy and Grace. This the Text fully implies, becauſe it directeth us to the Throne of Grace for Mercy and Grace for that very End. And had there been any Thing elſe that could have done it, the Apoſtle would have made mention of it, and would alſo have directed the Saints unto it. But for as much as he here makes mention of the needy Time, and directs them to the Throne of Grace for Mercy and Grace to help, it followeth that Mercy and Grace, and that only, can help us in the evil Time.

Now Mercy and Grace are to be diſtinctly conſidered.

1. Mercy, for that by it we have through Chriſt the Continuation and Multiplication of Forgiveneſſes, without which there is no Salvation.

2. Grace, for that by it we are upheld, ſupported, and enabled to go through our needy Times, as Chriſtians, without which there is no Salvation neither. The firſt all will grant, the ſecond is clear. If any Man draws back, my Soul ſhall have no Pleaſure in him; but we are not of them that draw back unto Perdition, but of them that believe to the ſaving of the Soul. Heb. 10. 38, 39.

Firſt, Mercy is that by which we are pardoned, even all the Falls, Faults, Failings, and Weakneſſes that attend us, and that we are incident to, in this our Day of Temptation; and for THIS Mercy we ſhould pray, and ſay, Our Father, forgive us our Treſpaſſes. For though Mercy is free in the Exerciſe of it to us-ward, yet God will have us ask, that we may have; as he alſo ſaith in the Text, Let us come boldly to the Throne of Grace, that we may obtain Mercy. Here then we have one Help, and that is, the Mercy of God is to be extended to us from his Throne through Jeſus Chriſt, for our Pardon and Forgiveneſs in all thoſe Weakneſſes that we are attended with in the needy or evil Times; and we ſhould come to God for this very Thing. This is that which David means, when he ſays, Surely Goodneſs and Mercy ſhall follow me all the Days of my Life, and I will dwell in the Houſe of the Lord for ever. And again, When I ſaid my Foot ſlipt, thy Mercy, O Lord, held me up. Set me clear and free from Guilt, and from the Imputation of Sin unto Death, by Chriſt. Mat. 6. 9, 10, 11, 12. Pſ. 23. 6

Nor can any thing help where this is wanting: For our Parts, our Knowledge, our Attainments, nor our Graces, cannot ſo carry us through this World, but that we ſhall be guilty of that that will ſink us down to Hell, without God's pardoning Mercy. It is not the Grace that we have received can do it, nor the Grace that is to be received that can do it; nothing can do it but the pardoning Mercy of God; for becauſe all our Graces are here imperfect, they cannot produce a ſpotleſs Obedience. But where there is not a ſpotleſs Obedience, there muſt of Neceſſity follow a Continuation of Pardon and Forgiveneſs by Mercy, or I know what will become of the Soul.

Here therefore the Apoſtle lays an Obligation upon thee to the Throne of Grace, to wit, that thou mayeſt obtain Mercy, a Continuation of Mercy, Mercy as long as thou art like to live this vain Life on the Earth; Mercy that will reach through all thy Days: For there is not a Day, nor a Duty; not a Day that thou liveſt, nor a Duty that thou doeſt, but will need that Mercy ſhould come after to take away thy Iniquity. Nay, thou canſt not receive Mercy ſo clearly as not to ſtand in need of another Act of Mercy to pardon Weakneſs in thy no better receiving the laſt. We receive not our Mercies, ſo humbly, ſo readily, ſo gladly, and with that Thankfulneſs as we ſhould; and therefore for the want of theſe, have the need of another, and another Act of God's Sin-pardoning Mercy, and need ſhall have thereof, as long as evil Time ſhall laſt with us.

But is not this great Grace that we ſhould thus be called upon to come to God for Mercy! Yea, is not God unſpeakably good, in providing ſuch a Throne of Grace, ſuch a Sacrifice, ſuch an High-Prieſt, and ſo much Mercy for us, and then to invite us to come with Boldneſs to him for it? Nay, doth not his Kindneſs yet further appear, by giving of us Items and Intimations of needy Times, and evil Days, on purpoſe to provoke us to come to him for Mercy?

This then ſhews us, as alſo we have hinted before, that the Throne of Grace, and Chriſt Jeſus our High-prieſt are both provided upon the Account of our Imperfections, namely, that we who are called, might not be by remaining Weakneſſes hindered of, but obtain eternal Inheritance. Weakneſſes, ſuch Weakneſſes remain in the juſtified, and ſuch Slips and Failings are found in and upon them, that call for a Courſe of Mercy and Forgiveneſs to attend them.

Farther, This alſo intimates that God's People ſhould not be dejected at the Apprehenſions of their Imperfections; I ſay, not ſo dejected, as therefore to caſt off Faith and Hope, and Prayer; for a Throne of Grace is provided for them, to the which they may, they muſt, they ought continually to reſort for Mercy, Sin-pardoning Mercy.

Secondly, As we are here to obtain Mercy, ſo we are here to find Grace. They that obtain Mercy, ſhall find Grace, therefore they are put together. That they may obtain Mercy and find Grace; only they muſt obtain Mercy firſt; for as Forgiveneſs at firſt, goes before Sanctification in the general, ſo Forgiveneſs afterwards goes before particular Acts of Grace for further Sanctification: God giveth not the Spirit of Grace to thoſe that he has not firſt forgiven by Mercy for the Sake of Chriſt: Alſo ſo long as he as a Father forbears to forgive us as his adopted, ſo long we go without thoſe further Additions of Grace that are here ſuggeſted in the Text. But when we have obtained Mercy to forgive, then we alſo find Grace to our renewing. Therefore he ſaith, firſt obtain Mercy, and then find Grace.

Grace here, I take to be that Grace, which God has appointed for us, to dwell in us; and that by, and through the continual Supply of which, we are to be enabled to do and ſuffer, and to manage our ſelves in doing and ſuffering according to the Will of God. Let us have Grace whereby we may ſerve him acceptably with reverence and godly Fear. So again, he giveth more Grace; wherefore he ſaith, God reſiſteth the Proud, but giveth Grace to the Humble. The Grace therefore that this Text intends is, Grace given or to be given; Grace received or to be received. Grace, a Root, a Principle of Grace with its continual Supplies for the perfecting of that Salvation that God has deſigned for us.

Heb. 12. 28. Prov. 3. 34. Jam. 4. 6. 1 Pet. 5. 5.

This was that which comforted Paul; when the Meſſenger of Satan was ſent to buffet him, 'twas ſaid unto him by Chriſt, My Grace is ſufficient for thee; As who ſhould ſay, Paul, be not utterly caſt down, I have where-withal to make thee ſtand, and overcome, and that is my Grace, by which thou ſhalt be ſupported, ſtrengthened, comforted, and made to live a triumphant Life, notwithſtanding all that oppreſs thee. But this came to him upon his Praying; for this I prayed to God thrice, ſaid he. So again, God is able to make all Grace abound towards you, that ye always having all-ſufficiency in all Things, may abound to every good Work. Thus you ſee that by Grace in theſe Places is meant that Spirit, and thoſe Principles of Grace, by the increaſe and continual Supply of which we are inwardly ſtrengthened and made to abound to every good Work.

2 Cor. 12. 9. 2 Cor. 9. 8.

This then is the Concluſion; That as there is Mercy to be obtained by us, at the Throne of Grace for the Pardon of all our Weakneſſes; ſo there is alſo Grace there to be found that will yet ſtrengthen us more, to all good walking and living before him. He giveth more Grace, and they receive one Time or another abundance of Grace that ſhall reign in Life by one Jeſus Chriſt.

This then teaches us ſeveral Things, ſome of which I will mention: As

1. That Nature, as Nature, is not capable of ſerving of God; no, not Nature where Grace dwells, as conſidered Abſtract from that Grace that dwells in it. Nothing can be done aright without Grace, I mean no Part nor Piece of Goſpel Duty. Let us have Grace whereby we may ſerve him acceptably. Nature managed by Grace, ſeaſoned with Grace, and held up with Grace, can ſerve God acceptably. Let us have Grace, ſeek for and find Grace to do ſo; for we cannot do ſo but by Grace. By the Grace of God I am what I am; and his

Grace

1 Cor. 15. 10. Grace which was beſtowed on me, was not in vain; but I laboured more abundantly than they all; yet not I, but the Grace of God which was in me.

What can be more plain than this beautiful Text? For the Apoſtle doth here quite ſhut out Nature, ſanctified Nature, (for he indeed was a ſanctified Man) and concludes that even he, as of himſelf, did nothing of all the great Works that he did; but they were done, he did them by the Grace of God that was in him. Wherefore Nature, ſanctified Nature, as Nature, can of it ſelf do nothing to the pleaſing of God the Father.

Is not this the Experience of all the godly? can they do that at all Times, which they can do at ſome Times? can they Pray, Believe, Love, Fear, Repent, and bow before God always alike? No. Why ſo? they are the ſame Men, the ſame Human Nature, the ſame Saints: Ay, but the ſame Grace, in the ſame Degree, Operation and Life of Grace, doth not ſo now work on that Man, that Nature, that Saint; therefore notwithſtanding he is what he is, he cannot do at all Times alike.

Thus therefore it is manifeſt, that Nature ſimply as ſuch is a great Way off of doing that which is acceptable with God. Refined, purified, ſanctified Nature cannot do but by the immediate Supplies, Lifts, and Helps of that Spirit and Principle of Grace by the which it is ſo ſanctified.

2. As Nature, even where Grace is, cannot without the Aſſiſtance of that Grace do any Thing acceptably before God; ſo Grace received, if it be not alſo ſupplied with more Grace, cannot cauſe that we continue to do acceptable Service to God. This alſo is clear by the Text. For he ſpeaketh there to them that had received Grace; yea, puts himſelf into the Number, ſaying, let us come boldly to the Throne of Grace, that we may find Grace to help in Time of need. If Grace received would do, what need of more? What need we pray for more? What need we go to the Throne of Grace for more? This very Exhortation ſaith it will not: Preſent Supplies of Grace are proportioned to our preſent need, and to help us to do a preſent Work or Duty. But is our preſent Need all the need that we are like to have, and the preſent Work, all the Work that we have to do in the World? Even ſo the Grace that we have received at preſent, though it can help us to do a preſent Work, it cannot without a further Supply, help us to do what is to be done hereafter. Wherefore the Apoſtle ſaith, that his continuing to do was through his obtaining help, continual help of God. Acts 26. 22. Having therefore, ſaith he, obtained Help of God, I continue to this Day witneſſing both to ſmall and great, &c. There muſt be a daily imploring of God for daily Supplies from him, if we will do our daily Buſineſs as we ſhould.

A preſent Diſpenſation of Grace, is like a good Meal, a ſeaſonable Shower, or a Penny in ones Pocket, all which will ſerve for the preſent Neceſſity. But will that good Meal that I eat laſt Week, enable me, without Supply, to do a good Day's Work in this? or will that ſeaſonable Shower that fell laſt Year, be without Supplies, a ſeaſonable Help to the Grain and Graſs that is growing now? or will that Penny that ſupplied my Want the other Day, I ſay, will the ſame Penny alſo, without a Supply, ſupply my Wants to Day?

The ſame may, I ſay, be ſaid of Grace received, it is like the Oil in the Lamp, it muſt be fed, it muſt be added to: And there ſhall be a Supply, wherefore he giveth more Grace. Grace is the Sap, which from the Root maintaineth the Branches; ſtop the Sap, and the Branch will wither: Not that the Sap ſhall be ſtopt where there is Union, not ſtopt for altogether; for as from the Root the Branch is ſupplied, ſo from Chriſt is every Member furniſhed with a continual ſupply of Grace if it doth as it ſhould, of his fulneſs have all we received, and Grace for Grace. Joh. 1. 16.

The Day of Grace, is the Day of Expence, this is our ſpending Time. Hence we are called Pilgrims and Strangers in the Earth, that is, Travellers from Place to Place, from State to State, from Tryal to Tryal. Now as the Traveller at a freſh Inn is made to ſpend freſh Money: So Chriſtians at a freſh Temptation, at a new Temptation are made to ſpend freſh and a new Supply of Grace. Great Men when, and while their Sons are Travellers, appoint that their Bags of Money be lodged ready, or conveniently paid in at ſuch and ſuch a Place for the ſuitable Relief of them; and ſo they meet with Supplies. Why ſo are the Sons of the great one, and he has allotted that we ſhould travel beyond Sea, or at a great Diſtance from our Father's Houſe; wherefore he has appointed that Grace ſhall be provided for us, to ſupply at ſuch a Place, ſuch a State or Temptation as need requires: But withal, as my Lord expecteth his Son ſhould acquaint him with the preſent Emptineſs of his Purſe, and with the Difficulty he hath now to grapple with; ſo God our Father expects that we ſhould plead by Chriſt our need, at the Throne of Grace, in order to a Supply of Grace. Let us therefore come boldly unto the Throne of Grace, that we may obtain Mercy and find Grace to help in Time of need. Heb. 11. 13.

Now then, this ſhews the Reaſon why many Chriſtians that are indeed poſſeſſed with the Grace of God, do yet walk ſo oddly, act ſo poorly, and live ſuch orderly Lives in the World. They are like to thoſe Gentlemen's Sons that are of the more extravagant Sort; that walk in their lowzy Hue, when they might be maintained better.

Such

Such young Men care not, perhaps ſcorn to acquaint their Father with their Wants, and therefore walk in their threadbare Jackets, with Hoſe and Shoes out at Heels; a right Emblem of the uncircumſpect Child of God.

This alſo ſhews the Reaſon of all thoſe dreadful falls and miſcarriages that many of the Saints ſuſtain; they make it not their Buſineſs to watch to ſee what is coming, and to pray for a Supply of Grace to uphold them; they with David are too careleſs, or with Peter too confident, or with the Diſciples too ſleepy, and ſo the Temptation comes upon them, and their Want like an armed Man.

This alſo ſhews the Reaſon, why ſome, that to ones thinking, would fall every Day; for that their Want of Parts, their ſmall Experience, their little Knowledge of God's Matters do ſeem to beſpeak it; yet ſtand, walk better, and keep their Garments more white than thoſe that have, when compared with them, twice as much as they. They are praying Saints, they are often at the Throne of Grace, they are ſenſible of their Weakneſs, keep a Sight of their Danger before their Faces, and will not be contented without more Grace.

3. And this leads me in the third Place, to ſhew you, that were we wiſe, and did we ply it at the Throne of Grace, for Grace, as we ſhould, O what ſpotleſs Lives might we live! We ſhould then have always help in Time of need. For ſo the Text inſinuates, that we may obtain Mercy, and find Grace to help in Time of need.

This is that which Peter means, when he ſays, And beſides all this, that is, beſides your Faith in Chriſt, and beſides your happy State of Juſtification, Giving all Diligence, add to your Faith, Vertue; and to Vertue, Knowledge; and to Knowledge, Temperance; and to Temperance, Patience; and to Patience, Godlineſs; and to Godlineſs, brotherly Kindneſs; and to brotherly Kindneſs, Charity. For if theſe Things be in you and abound, (and be continually ſupplied with a Supply from the Throne of Grace) they make you that ye ſhall neither be barren nor unfruitful in the Knowledge of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt; but he that lacketh theſe Things is blind, and cannot ſee afar off, and has forgotten that he was purged from his old Sins. Wherefore the rather Brethren give Diligence to make your Calling and Election ſure; for if you do theſe Things, ye ſhall never fall. For ſo an Entrance ſhall be miniſtred unto you abundantly into the everlaſting Kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jeſus Chriſt.

2 Pet. 1. 5, to 12.

The greateſt Part of Profeſſors now-a-days take up their Time in contracting of Guilt, and asking for Pardon, and yet are not much the better. Whereas if they had but the Grace to add to their Faith, Vertue, &c. they might have more Peace, live better Lives, and not have their Heads ſo often in a Bag as they have. To him that ordereth his Converſation aright, will I ſhew the Salvation of God. To him that diſpoſeth his Way aright; now this cannot be done without a conſtant ſupplicating at the Throne of Grace for more Grace. This then is the Reaſon why every new Temptation that comes upon thee, ſo foyls, ſo overcomes thee; that thou wilt need a new Converſion to be recovered from under the Power and Guilt that cleaves to thee by its overſhadowing of thee. Pſ. 50. 23.

A new Temptation, a ſudden Temptation, an unexpected Temptation uſually foyls thoſe that are not upon their Watch, and that have not been before with God to be inlayed with Grace proportionable to what may come upon them.

That ye may find Grace to help in Time of need. There is Grace to be found at the Throne of Grace, that will help us under the greateſt Straits. Seek and ye ſhall find; 'tis there, and it is to be found there; 'tis to be found there of the ſeeking Soul, of the Soul that ſeeketh him. Wherefore I will conclude as I did begin: Let us therefore come boldly to the Throne of Grace, that we may obtain Mercy and find Grace to help in Time of need. Eph. 3.

We will now ſpeak ſomething by way of Concluſion, and ſo wind up the Whole.

Firſt, You muſt remember that we have been hitherto ſpeaking of the Throne of Grace, and ſhewing what it is: That we have alſo been ſpeaking of Chriſt's Sacrifice, and how he manages his High-prieſt's Office before the Throne of Grace: We have alſo here, as you ſee, been ſpeaking of the Mercy and Grace that is to be obtained and found at this Throne of Grace, and of what Advantage it is to us in this our Pilgrimage; Now from all this, it follows, That Sin is a fearful thing; for all this adoe is, that Men might be ſaved from Sin. What a Devil then is Sin, 'tis the worſt of Devils, 'tis worſe than all Devils; thoſe that are Devils, Sin has made them ſo, nor could any thing elſe have made them Devils but Sin. Now I pray, what is it to be a Devil, but to be under, for ever, the Power and Dominion of Sin, an implacable Spirit againſt God? Such an one, from which Implacableneſs all the Power in Heaven and Earth cannot releaſe them, becauſe God of his Juſtice has bound them over to Judgment. Theſe Spirits are by Sin carried quite away from themſelves, as well as from God that made them; they cannot deſign their own good, they cannot leave that which yet they know will be everlaſtingly miſchievous to themſelves. Sin has bound them to it ſelf ſo faſt, that there can be no deliverance for them, but by the Son of God, who alſo has refuſed them, and left them to themſelves and to the Judgment which they have deſerved. Sin alſo has got a Victory over Man, has Pſ. 49.

made

made him an Enemy to God, and to his own Salvation; has caught him, captivated him, carried away his mind, and will, and heart from God; and made him chooſe to be vain, and to run the hazard of eternal Damnation with Rejoycing and Delight. But God left not Man where he left thoſe wicked Spirits, to wit, under the everlaſting Chains of Darkneſs, reſerved unto Judgment; but deviſed Means for their Ranſom, and Reconciliation to himſelf, which is the thing that has been diſcourſed of in the foregoing Part of this Book. But I ſay what a thing is ſin, what a Devil, and Maſter of Devils is it, that it ſhould, where it takes hold, ſo hang, that nothing can unclinch its Hold, but the Mercy of God, and the Heart-blood of his dear Son? Oh the fretting, eating, infecting, defiling, and poiſonous Nature of Sin, that it ſhould SO eat into our Fleſh and Spirit, Body and Soul, and So ſtain us with its vile and ſtinking Nature! yea, it has almoſt turned Man into the Nature of it ſelf: inſomuch as that ſometimes, when Nature is mentioned, Sin is meant, and when Sin is mentioned, Nature is meant.

Eph. 2. 3: —5. 8.

Wherefore Sin is a fearful Thing; a Thing to be lamented, a Thing to be abhorred, a Thing to be fled from with more Aſtoniſhment and Trembling than one would fly from any Devil; becauſe it is the worſt of Things, and that without which nothing can be bad; and becauſe where it takes hold, it ſo faſtneth, that nothing, as I have ſaid, can releaſe whom it has made a Captive, but the Mercy of God and the Heart-blood of his dear Son. Oh what a Thing is Sin!

Secondly, As by what hath been ſaid, Sin appears to be exceeding ſinful; ſo from hence it alſo follows, that the Soul is a precious Thing. For you muſt know all this is for the Redemption of the Soul. (The Redemption of the Soul is precious) I ſay 'tis for the Redemption of the Soul, 'twas for this that Chriſt was made a Prieſt, a Sacrifice, an Altar, a Throne of Grace: Yea, Sin, a Curſe, and what not that was neceſſary for our Deliverance from Sin, and Death, and everlaſting Damnation.

Pſ. 49. 8.

He that would know what a Soul is, let him read in Letters of Blood, the Price and Purchaſe of the Soul. It was not for a light, a little, an inconſiderable Thing that Chriſt Jeſus underwent what he ſuffered, when he was in the World, and gave himſelf a Ranſom for Souls. No, no. The Soul is a great, a vaſt great Thing, notwithſtanding it is ſo little ſet by, of ſome. Some prefer any Thing that they fancy, above the Soul; a Slut, a Lie, a Pot, an Act of Fraudulency, the Swing of a prevailing Paſſion, any thing ſhall be preferred when the Occaſion offereth it ſelf. If Chriſt had ſet as little by Souls, as ſome Men do, he had never left his Father's Boſom, and the Glory that he had with him; he had never SO humbled himſelf, SO gave himſelf to Puniſhment, Affliction, and Sorrow; and made himſelf SO the Object of Scorn, and Contempt, and Reproach as he did, and all that the Souls of Sinners might live a Life in Glory with him.

But methinks this is the Myſtery of all as to this, that the SOUL ſhould take that Pains, contrive ſuch Ways, and take ſuch Advantages againſt it ſelf! For 'tis the Soul that ſins, that the Soul might die. Oh Sin, what art thou! What haſt thou done! and What ſtill wilt thou further do! if Mercy, and Blood, and Grace doth not prevent thee. Oh ſilly Soul! what a Fool has Sin made of thee, what an Aſs art thou become to Sin! That ever an immortal Soul, at firſt made in the Image of God, for God, and for his Delight, ſhould ſo degenerate from its firſt Station, and ſo abaſe it ſelf that it might ſerve Sin, as to become the Devil's Ape, and to play like Jack Pudding for him upon any Stage, or Theater in the World.

But I recal my ſelf; for if Sin can make one, who was ſometimes a glorious Angel in Heaven, now SO to abuſe himſelf as to become, to Appearance, as a filthy Frog, a Toad, a Rat, a Cat, a Fly, a Mouſe, a Dog, or Bitches Whelp, to ſerve its Ends upon a poor Mortal that it might gull them of everlaſting Life; no marvel if the Soul is ſo beguiled as to ſell it ſelf from God, and all Good, for ſo poor a Nothing as a momentary Pleaſure is. But,

Thirdly, if Sin and the Soul are ſuch great Things, then behold the Love and Care of God; the Love to Souls, the Care he hath taken to deliver them from Sin. Sin, as I have ſaid, is ſuch a Thing, as, from which no Man can deliver himſelf; the Soul is ſuch a Thing, ſo rich and valuable, in the Nature of it, that ſcarce one in twenty Thouſand counts of it as they ſhould. But God, the Lover of Mankind and the greateſt Enemy to Sin, has provided Means effectually to overthrow the one, and to ſave and ſecure the other. Behold therefore the Love of God, the Care of God for us; for when we neither loved nor cared for our ſelves, God both loved us and cared for us. God commended his Love towards us in ſending his Son to be the Propitiation for our Sins.

Let it be then concluded, that God is Love, and that the Love that God hath to us, is ſuch, as we never had for ourſelves. We have been often tried about our own Love to ourſelves, and it has been proved over and over, that ſometimes, even we that are Chriſtians, could, and would, had it been poſſible, have pawned ourſelves, our Souls, and our Intereſt in Chriſt, for a foul and beaſtly Luſt. But God, who is rich in Mercy for his great Love wherewith he loved us, would not ſuffer it ſo to be. Now if we are ſo fickle and uncertain in our Love to ourſelves, as to value our Salvation at ſo low and ſo baſe a rate; can it be imagined that ever we ſhould, had it been left to our Choice, have given the beſt of what we have for the Salvation of our Souls.

Yet God gave his Son to be the Saviour of the World. I ſay again, if our Love is ſo ſlender to our own Souls, can any think that it ſhould be more full to the Souls of others! and yet God had ſuch Love to us as to give his only begotten Son for OUR Sins. Yet again, how ſhould it be that we, who are uſually ſo affected with the Conceit of our own Happineſs, ſince we care no more for our own Souls, do our beſt to ſecure the Souls of others? And yet God, who is infinitely above all Creatures, has ſo condeſcended, as to concern himſelf, and to give the beſt of his Flock, even his only beloved Son for vety Duſt and Aſhes.
1 John 4. 10 Wherefore herein is Love, not that we loved God (or our Neighbour) but that God loved us, and gave his Son to be a Propitiation for our Sins.

Fourthly, Is Sin ſo vile a thing, is the Soul ſo precious a thing, and is God's Love and Care of the Salvation of the Souls of Sinners infinitely greater, than is their own Care for their own Souls: Then this ſhould teach thoſe concerned, to bluſh, to bluſh, I ſay, and to cover their Faces with Shame. There is nothing, as I know of, that more becomes a Sinner, than bluſhing and Shame doth. For he is the Harbourer, the Nurſe, and the Nouriſher of that vile thing called SIN; that, SO great an Enemy of God, and that, SO great an Enemy to the Soul. It becomes him alſo, if he conſiders what a Creature God has made him, and how little he hath ſet by his own Creation, and by the Matter of which God has made his Soul. Let him alſo conſider unto what baſe things he has ſtooped, and proſtrated himſelf, while things infinitely better have ſtood by and offered themſelves unto him freely; yea, how he has caſt that God that made him, and his Son that came to redeem him, quite behind his Back, and before their Faces imbraced, loved, and devoted himſelf unto him that ſeeks nothing more than the Damnation of his Soul.

Ah Lord! when will fooliſh Man be wiſe, and come to God with his Hands upon his Head, and with his Face covered with Shame, to ask him Forgiveneſs for that Wickedneſs which he has committed; which is Wickedneſs committed not only againſt Holineſs, and Juſtice, againſt which alſo Men by Nature have an Antipathy, but againſt Mercy and Love, without which Man cannot tell what to do.

Bluſh Sinner, bluſh. Ah that thou hadſt Grace to bluſh! But this is God's Complaint: Were they aſhamed when they had committed Abomination? Nay, they were Jer. 8. 12. not at all aſhamed, neither could they bluſh; 'tis a ſad Thing that Men ſhould be thus void of Conſideration, and yet they are ſo. They are at a continual Jeſt with God and his Word, with the Devil and Sin, with Hell and Judgment. But they will be in earneſt one Day; but that one Day, will be too late.

Fifthly, Is it ſo that God, though Sin is ſo fearful a Thing, has prepared an effectual remedy againſt it, and purpoſed to ſave us from the evil and damning Effects thereof? 1. Then this ſhould beget Thankfulneſs in the Hearts of the Godly, for they are made Partakers of this Grace, I ſay it ſhould beget Thankfulneſs in thy Heart. Thanks be to God for his unſpeakable Gift, 2 Cor. 9. 15 ſaid the Apoſtle, when he ſeriouſly thought of that which was much inferior to what we have been a diſcourſing of. That was about Man's willingneſs to do good, this is about God's: That was about Men's willingneſs to give Money to poor Saints, this about God's Willingneſs to give Chriſt Jeſus his Son to the World. 'Twas the Thoughts of this Redemption and Salvation that made David ſay, Bleſs the Lord, O my Soul, and all that is within me, bleſs his holy Name. Pſal. 103. 1, 2, 3.

Oh! they that are partakers of redeeming Grace, and that have a Throne of Grace, (a Covenant of Grace) and a Chriſt that is the Son of God's Love, to come to, and to live by, ſhould be a thankful People. By Heb. 13. 15. him therefore let us offer the Sacrifice of Praiſe continually, giving Thanks in his Name.

How many Obligations has God laid upon his People, to give Thanks to him at every Remembrance of his Holineſs.

2. Study the Prieſt-hood, the High-Prieſt-hood of Jeſus Chriſt, both the firſt and ſecond Part thereof: The firſt Part was that, when he offered up himſelf without the Gate, when he bear our Sins in his own Body on the Tree: The ſecond Part is that which he executeth there whither he is now gone, even in Heaven it ſelf, where the Throne of Grace is. I ſay ſtudy what Chriſt has done and is a doing. Oh! what is he a doing now? he is ſprinkling his Blood with his prieſtly Robes on, before the Throne of Grace; that is too little thought on by the Saints of God. We Heb. 8. 1, have ſuch an High-Prieſt who is ſet down 2, 3. on the right Hand of the Majeſty in the Heavens, a Miniſter of the Sanctuary and of the true Tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, and not Man. Buſie thyſelf Fellow-Chriſtian about this bleſſed Office of Chriſt. 'Tis full of good, 'tis full of ſweet, 'tis full of Heaven, 'tis full of Relief and Succour for the tempted and dejected; wherefore I ſay again ſtudy theſe Things, give thy ſelf wholly to them.

Sixthly, Since God has prepared himſelf a Lamb, a Lamb, a Sacrifice, a Prieſt, a Throne of Grace, and has bid thee come to him, come to him as there ſitting; come, come boldly, as he bids thee. What better Warrant canſt thou have to come, than to be bid to come of God? When the good Man himſelf bids the Beggar come to his Houſe, then he may come boldly; the Conſideration of the Invitation doth encourage. That we have our Friend at Court, ſhould alſo make us come boldly. Jeſus as has been ſhewed, as Sacrifice and High-Prieſt is there, In whom we may have boldneſs, and acceſs with Confidence by the Faith of him. Again, By him alſo we have Acceſs by Faith unto this Grace, wherein we ſtand, and rejoice in hope of the Glory of God. Again, we have boldneſs Brethren, to enter in to the holieſt by the Blood of Jeſus.

Ephes. 3. 12.
Rom. 5. 1, 2.
Heb. 10. 19, 20.

What can be more plain, more encouraging, more comfortable to them that would obtain Mercy, and find Grace to help in Time of need!

'Tis a diſhonour to God, Diſadvantage to thee, and an Encouragement to Satan, when thou hangeſt back and ſeemeſt afraid to come boldly to the Throne of Grace. Let us therefore draw near with a true Heart in full Aſſurance of Faith, having our Hearts ſprinkled from an evil Conſcience, and our Bodies waſhed with pure Water; let us hold faſt the Profeſſion of our Faith without wavering, (for he is faithful that promiſed) and let us conſider one another to provoke unto Love and to good Works.

CHRIST a Compleat Saviour;

OR, THE

Interceſſion of Chriſt, and who are privileged in it.

HEB. VII. 25.

Wherefore he is able alſo to ſave them to the uttermoſt, that come unto God by him, ſeeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for them.

THE Apoſtle in this Chapter, preſenteth us with two Things: That is, with the greatneſs of the Perſon, and of the Prieſthood of our Lord Jeſus.

Firſt, He preſenteth us with the greatneſs of his Perſon, in that he preferreth him before Abraham, who is the Father of us all: Yea, in that he preferreth him before Melchiſedeck, who was above Abraham, and bleſſed him who had the Promiſes.

Secondly, As to his Prieſthood, he ſheweth the greatneſs of that, in that he was made a Prieſt, not by the Law of a carnal Commandment, but by the Power of an endleſs Life. Not without, but with an Oath, by him that ſaid, The Lord ſware and will not repent, thou art a Prieſt for ever after the order of Melchiſedec; wherefore this Man, becauſe he liveth ever, hath an unchangeable Prieſthood. Now my Text is drawn from this Concluſion, namely that Chriſt abideth a Prieſt continually. Wherefore he is able alſo to ſave to the uttermoſt them that come unto God by him, ſeeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for them.

In the Words I take Notice of four Things.

1. Of the Interceſſion of Chriſt. He maketh Interceſſion.

2. Of the Benefit of his Interceſſion, wherefore he is able alſo to ſave to the uttermoſt, &c.

3. We have alſo here ſet before us the Perſons intereſted in this Interceſſion of Chriſt: And they are thoſe that come unto God by him.

4. We have alſo here the certainty of their reaping this Benefit by him, to wit, ſeeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for them. Wherefore he is able alſo to ſave them to the uttermoſt, that come unto God by him, ſeeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for them.

We will begin with his Interceſſion, and will ſhew you,

1. What that is.

2. For what he interceeds: And,

3. What is alſo to be inferred from Chriſt's making Interceſſion for us.

I begin then with the firſt, that is, to ſhew you, what Interceſſion is. Interceſſion is Prayer; but all Prayer is not Interceſſion. Interceſſion then is, that Prayer that is made by a third Perſon, about the Concerns that are between two. And it may be made either to ſet them at further Difference, or to make them Friends. (For Interceſſion may be made againſt, as well as for a Perſon or People) Wot ye not what the Scriptnre ſaith of Elias, how he maketh Interceſſion to God againſt

Rom. 11. 2, 3.

againſt Iſrael? But the Interceſſion that we are now to ſpeak of, is not an Interceſſion of this Kind, not an Interceſſion againſt, but an Interceſſion for a People. He ever liveth to make Interceſſion for them. The High-Prieſt is ordained for, but not to be againſt the People. Every High-Prieſt taken from among Men, is ordained for Men, in Things pertaining to God, to make Reconciliation for the Sins of the People, or that he may offer both Gifts and Sacrifices for Sin. This then is Interceſſion, and the Interceſſion of Chriſt is to be between two, between God and Man, for Man's good. And it extendeth it ſelf unto theſe:

Heb. 5. 1.

1. To pray that the Elect may be brought all home to him, that is, to God.

2. To pray that their Sins committed after Converſion, may be forgiven them.

3. To pray that their Graces which they receive at Converſion, may be maintained and ſupplied.

4. To pray that their Perſons may be preſerved unto his heavenly Kingdom.

This is the Interceſſion of Chriſt, or that for which he doth make Interceſſion.

Firſt, he prays for all the Elect, that they may be brought home to God, and ſo into the Unity of the Faith, &c. This is clear, for that he ſaith, neither pray I for theſe alone, that is, for thoſe only that are converted, but for them alſo that ſhall believe on me through their Word, for all them that ſhall, that are appointed to believe, or as you have it a little above, for all them which thou haſt given me. And the Reaſon is, for that he hath paid a Ranſom for them. Chriſt therefore, when he maketh Interceſſion for the ungodly, (and all the unconverted Elect are ſuch) doth but petitionarily ask for his own, his purchaſed ones, thoſe, for whom he died before, that they might be ſaved by his Blood.

Joh. 17.9, 20.

Iſa. 53. ult.

Secondly, When any of them are brought home to God, he yet prays for them; namely, that the Sins which through Infirmity they after Converſion may commit, may alſo be forgiven them.

This is ſhewed us by the Interceſſion of the High-Prieſt under the Law that was to bear away the Iniquities of the holy Things of the Children of Iſrael: Yea, and alſo by his Attonement for them that ſinned: For that it ſaith, And the Prieſt ſhall make an Attonement for him, for the Sin which he hath ſinned, and it ſhall be forgiven him.

This alſo is intimated even where our Lord doth make Interceſſion, ſaying, I pray not that thou ſhouldeſt take them out of the World, but that thou ſhouldeſt keep them from the Evil.

That Chriſt pray'd that the converted ſhould be kept from all manner of Commiſſion of Sin, muſt not be ſuppoſed: For that's the Way to make his Interceſſion, at leaſt in ſome Things, invalid, and to contradict himſelf; For ſaith he, I know thou heareſt me always: But the Meaning is, I pray that thou wouldeſt keep them from Soul-damning Deluſions, ſuch as are unavoidably ſuch, alſo that thou wouldeſt keep them from the Soul-deſtroying Evil of every Sin, of every Temptation: Now this he doth by his prevailing, and by his pardoning Grace.

Levit. 5. 10, 15, 16, 18. Joh. 17. 15. Ch. 11. 42.

Thirdly, In his Interceſſion, he prayeth alſo that thoſe Graces which we receive at Converſion, may be maintained and ſupplied. This is clear where he ſaith, Simon, Simon, Satan has deſired to have you, that he might ſift you as Wheat, but I have prayed for thee that thy Faith fail not. Ay, may ſome ſay, he is ſaid to pray here for the Support and Supply of Faith, but doth it therefore follow, that he prayed for the maintaining and Supply of all our Graces? Yes, in that he prayed for the Preſervation of our Faith, he prayed for the Preſervation of all our Graces. For Faith is the Mother Grace, the Root Grace, the Grace that hath all others in the Bowels of it, and that, from the which all others flow: Yea, it is that which gives Being to all our other Graces, and that by which all the reſt do live. Let then Faith be preſerved, and all Graces continue and live, that is, according to the preſent State, Health, and Degree of Faith. So then Chriſt prayed for the Preſervation of every Grace, when he prayed for the Preſervation of Faith. That Text alſo is of the ſame Tendency, where he ſaith, Keep through thine own Name thoſe whom thou haſt given me: Keep them in thy Fear, in the Faith, in the true Religion, in the Way of Life by thy Grace, by thy Power, by thy Wiſdom, &c. This muſt be much of the Meaning of this Place, and he that excludes this Senſe, will make but poor Work of another Expoſition.

Luke 22. 31, 32.

John 17. 11

Fourthly, He alſo in his Interceſſion, prayeth that our Perſons be preſerved, and brought ſafe unto his heavenly Kingdom. And this he doth,

1. By pleading Intereſt in them.

2. By pleading that he had given, by Promiſe, Glory to them.

3. By pleading his own Reſolution to have it ſo.

4. By pleading the Reaſon why it muſt be ſo.

1ſt, He prays that their Perſons may come to Glory, for that they are his, and that by the beſt of Titles: Thine they were, and thou gaveſt them me. Father, I will have them: Father, I will have them, for they are mine: Thine they were, and thou gaveſt them me. What is mine, my Wife, or my Child, or my Jewel, or my Joy; ſure I may have it with me. Thus therefore he pleads, or cries in his Interceſſion, that our Perſons might be preſerved to Glory: They are mine, and thou gaveſt them me.

17. 6.

2dly,

2dly, He alſo pleads that he had given, given already, that is, in the Promiſe, Glory to them, and therefore they muſt not go without it. And the Glory which thou
Joh.17.22 gaveſt me, I have given them. Righteous Men when they give a good Thing by Promiſe, they deſign the Performance of that Promiſe. Nay, they more than deſign it, they purpoſe, they determine it. As the mad Prophet alſo ſaith of God, in Numb.23 19. another Caſe, Hath he ſaid, and ſhall he not do it? Or hath he ſpoken, and ſhall he not make it good? Hath Chriſt given us Glory, and ſhall we not have it? Yea, hath the Truth it ſelf beſtowed it upon us, and ſhall thoſe to whom 'tis given, even given by Scripture of Truth, be yet deprived thereof?

3dly, He pleads, in his interceding that they might have Glory, his own Reſolution
John17.24 to have it ſo. Father, I will that thoſe whom thou haſt given me, be with me where I am. Behold ye here, he is reſolved to have it ſo. It muſt be ſo. It ſhall be ſo. I will have it ſo. We read of Adonijah, that his Father never denied him in any thing. He
1 Kings 1 6. never ſaid to him, Why haſt thou done ſo? (Indeed he denied him the Kingdom, for his Brother was Heir of that from the Lord) How much more will our Father let our Lord Jeſus have his Mind and Will in this, ſince he alſo is as willing to have it ſo, as is the Son himſelf. Fear not, little
Luke 12. 32. Flock, it is your Father's good Pleaſure to give you the Kingdom. Reſolution will drive Things far, eſpecially Reſolution to do that which none but they that cannot hinder ſhall oppoſe. Why this is the Caſe, The Reſolution of our Interceſſor, is, that we be preſerved to Glory; yea, and this Reſolution he pleads in his Interceſſion. Fa-
John17.24 ther, I will that thoſe which thou haſt given me, be with me where I am, &c. Muſt it not therefore now be ſo?

4thly, He alſo in the laſt Place, in this his Interceſſion, urges a Reaſon why he will have it ſo, namely, That they may behold my Glory, which thou haſt given me, for thou lovedſt me before the Foundation of the World.

And this is a Reaſon to the Purpoſe. It is as if he had ſaid, Father, Theſe have continued with me in my Temptations; theſe have ſeen me under all my Diſadvantages; theſe have ſeen me in my poor, low, contemptible Condition; theſe have 17.6. ſeen what Scorn, Reproach, Slanders, and Diſgrace I have born for thy Sake in the World: And now I will have them alſo be where they ſhall ſee me in my Glory. I have told them that I am thy Son, and they have believed that; I have told them that thou loveſt me, and they have believed that; I have alſo told them that thou wouldſt take me again to Glory, and they have believed that: But they have not ſeen my Glory, nor can they but be like the Queen of Sheba, they will but believe by the Halves, unleſs their own Eyes do behold it. Beſides, Father, theſe are they that love me, and 'twill be an Increaſe of their Joy, if they may but ſee me in Glory: 'Twill be as an Heaven to their Hearts, to ſee their Saviour in Glory. I will therefore that thoſe which thou haſt given me, be with me where I am, That they may behold my Glory. This therefore is a Reaſon why Chriſt Jeſus our Lord interceeds to have his People with him in Glory.

I come now to the third Thing, namely, to ſhew you what is to be inferred from Chriſt's making Interceſſion for us.

Firſt, This is to be inferred from hence, That Saints (for I will here ſay nothing of thoſe of the Elect uncalled) do oftimes give Occaſion of Offence to God, even they that have received Grace. For Interceſſion is made to continue one in the Favour of another, and to make up thoſe Breaches that at any Time ſhall happen to be made by one, to the alienating of the Affections of the other. And thus he makes Reconciliation for Iniquity. For Reconciliation may be made for Iniquity two Ways, Firſt, By paying of a Price. Secondly, By inſiſting upon the Price payed for the Offender, by way of Interceſſion. Therefore you read that as the Goat was to be killed, ſo his Blood was by the Prieſt to be brought within the Veil, and in a way of Interceſſion to be ſprinkled before, and upon the Mercy-ſeat. Then ſhall he kill the Goat of Levit. 16.
the Sin-Offering that is for the People, and 15, 16.
bring his Blood within the Veil, and do with that Blood as he did with the Blood of the Bullock, and ſprinkle it upon the Mercy-ſeat, and before the Mercy-ſeat: And he ſhall make an Attonement for the holy Place, becauſe of the Uncleanneſſes of the Children of Iſrael, and becauſe of their Tranſgreſſions in all their Sins. And ſo ſhall he do for the Tabernacle of the Congregation, that remaineth among them, in the midſt of all their Uncleanneſſes. This was to be done as you ſee, that the Tabernacle, which was the Place of God's Preſence and Graces, might yet remain among the Children of Iſrael, notwithſtanding their Uncleanneſſes and Tranſgreſſions. This alſo is the Effect of Chriſt's Interceſſion, it is that the Signs of God's Preſence and his Grace might remain among his People, notwithſtanding they have by their Tranſgreſſions ſo often provoked God to depart from them.

Secondly, By Chriſt's Interceſſion, I gather, That awakened Men and Women, ſuch as the Godly are, dare not after Offence given, come in their own Names to make unto God an Application for Mercy. God in himſelf is a conſuming Fire, and Sin has made the beſt of us, as Stubble is to Fire: Wherefore they may not, they cannot, they dare not approach God's Pre-ſence for Help, but by and through a Mediator and Interceſſor. When Iſrael ſaw the Fire, the Blackneſs and Darkneſs, and heard the Thunder (and Lightning) and the terrible Sound of the Trumpet, they

Ex. 20. 19. Deut. 18. 16. ſaid to Moſes, Speak thou unto us, and we will hear: But let not God ſpeak with us, leſt we die. Guilt, and Senſe of the Diſparity that is betwixt God and us, will make us look out for a Man that may lay his Hand upon us both; and that may ſet us right in the Eyes of our Father again. This, I ſay, I infer from the Interceſſion of Chriſt. For, if there had been a Poſſibility of our Ability to have approached God with Advantage, without, what Need had there been of the Interceſſion of Chriſt?

2 Sam. 14. 32, 33. Ch. 13. Abſalom durſt not approach, no not the Preſence of his Father by himſelf, without a Mediator and Interceſſor; wherefore he ſends to Joab to go to the King and make Interceſſion for him. Alſo, Joab durſt not go upon that Errand himſelf, but by the Mediation of another. Sin is a fearful Thing, it will quaſh and quail the Courage of a Man, and make him afraid to approach the Preſence of him whom he has offended; though the offended is but a Man. How much more then ſhall it diſcourage a Man, when once loaden with Guilt and Shame, from attempting to approach the Preſence of a holy and a Sin-revenging God? Unleſs he can come to him through, and in the Name of an Interceſſor. But here now is the Help and Comfort of the People of God. There is to help them under all their Infirmities, an Interceſſor prepared, and at Work; He ever liveth to make Interceſſion.

Thirdly, I alſo infer from hence, That ſhould we out of an ignorant Boldneſs and Preſumption, attempt, when we have offended, by our ſelves to approach the Preſence of God, God would not accept us. He told Eliphaz ſo. What Eliphaz thought, or was about to do, I know not; but God ſaid unto him, My Wrath is kindled againſt thee, and againſt thy two Friends, for you have not ſpoken of me the Thing that is right, as my Servant Job hath. Therefore take unto you ſeven Bullocks, and ſeven Rams, and go to my Servant Job, and offer up for your ſelves (that is, by him) a Burnt-Offering, and my Servant Job ſhall pray for you, for him will I accept, leſt I deal with you after your Folly, in that you have not ſpoken of me the Thing that is right, like my Servant Job. See here, an Offence is a Bar and an Obſtruction to Acceptance with God, but by a Mediator, but by an Interceſſor. He that comes to God by himſelf, God will anſwer him by himſelf, that is, without an Interceſſor: And I will tell you, ſuch are not like to get any pleaſant or comfortable Anſwer, I will anſwer him that (ſo) cometh, according to the Multitude
Ez. 14. 7, 8 of his Idols. And I will ſet my Face againſt that Man, and will make him a Sign and a Proverb, and I will cut him off from the midſt of my People, and ye ſhall know that I am the Lord.

He that interceedes for another, with an holy and juſt God, had need be clean himſelf, leſt he with whom he ſo buſieth himſelf, ſay to him, Firſt clear thy ſelf, and then come and ſpeak for thy Friend. Wherefore this is the very Deſcription and Qualification of this our High-Prieſt and bleſſed Interceſſor, For ſuch an High-Prieſt Heb. 7. 26, 27. became us, who is holy, harmleſs, undefiled, ſeparate from Sinners, and made higher than the Heavens, who needeth not daily, as thoſe High-Prieſts, to offer up Sacrifice firſt for his own Sins, &c. Had we not had ſuch an Interceſſor, we had been but in a very poor Caſe; but we have one that becomes us, one that fits us to the Purpoſe, one againſt whom our God hath nothing, can object nothing; one in whoſe Mouth no Guile could be found.

Fourthly, Since Chriſt is an Interceſſor, I infer, That he has wherewithal in Readineſs to anſwer to any Demands that may be propounded by him that hath been by us offended, in Order to a renewing of Peace, and letting out of that Grace to us that we have ſinned away, and yet have need of. Oft-times the Offended ſaith to the Interceſſor, Well, thou comeſt to me about this Man; what Intereſt he has in thee, is one Thing; what Offence he has committed againſt me, is another. (I ſpeak now after the Manner of Men) Now what can an Interceſſor do, if he is not able to anſwer this Queſtion? But now, if he be able to anſwer this Queſtion, that is according to Law and Juſtice, no Queſtion but he may prevail with the Offended, for him for whom he makes Interceſſion.

Why this is our Caſe, to be ſure thus far it is, we have offended a juſt and a holy God, and Jeſus Chriſt is become Interceſſor. He alſo knows full well, that for our Parts, if it would ſave us from Hell, we cannot produce, towards a Peace with God, ſo much as poor two Farthings; that is, not any Thing that can by Law and Juſtice be eſteemed worth an Half-penny; yet he makes Interceſſion. It follows therefore, that he has wherewith of his own, if that Queſtion afore is propounded, to anſwer to every reaſonable Demand. Hence it is ſaid that he has Gifts as well as Sacrifice for Sin. Every High-Prieſt is or- Heb. 8. 3, 4 dained to offer Gifts, and Sacrifices: Wherefore it is of Neceſſity that this Man have ſomewhat alſo to offer. And obſerve it, the Apoſtle ſpeaks here of Chriſt as in Heaven, there miniſtring in the ſecond Part of his Office: For if he were on Earth, he ſhould not be a Prieſt. Theſe Gifts therefore, and this Sacrifice, he now offereth in Heaven, by way of Interceſſion, urging, and pleading, as an Interceſſor, the Valuableneſs of his his Gifts, for the pacifying of that Wrath that our Father hath conceived againſt us for the Diſobediences that we are guilty of. A Gift in Secret pacifieth Anger, and a Reward in the Boſom ſtrong Wrath.

Prov. 21. 14. Joh. 6. Gal. 1. 4. 1 Tim. 2. 6. Mat. 20. 28.

What Gifts theſe are the Scripture every where teſtifies. He gave himſelf, he gave his Life, he gave his All for us.

Theſe Gifts, as he offered them up at the Demand of Juſtice, on Mount Calvary for us; ſo now he is in Heaven, he preſenteth them continually before God, as Gifts and Sacrifice, valuable for the Sins, for all the Sins that we through Infirmity do commit, from the Day of our Converſion to the Day of our Death. And theſe Gifts are ſo ſatisfactory, ſo prevalent with God, that they always prevail for a continual Remiſſion of our Sins with him. Yea, they prevail with him for more than for the Remiſſion of Sins; we have through their Procurement, our Graces often renewed, the Devil often rebuked, the Snare often broken, Guilt often taken away from the Conſcience, and many a bleſſed Smile from God, and Love-look from his Life-creating Countenance.

Fifthly, Since Chriſt is an Interceſſor, I infer that Believers ſhould not reſt at the Croſs for Comfort; Juſtification they ſhould look for there; but being juſtified by his Blood, they ſhould aſcend up after him to the Throne: at the Croſs you will ſee him in his Sorrows and Humiliations, in his Tears and Blood; but follow him to where he is now, and then you ſhall ſee him in his Robes, in his Prieſtly Robes, and with his Golden Girdle about his Paps. Then you ſhall ſee him wearing the Breaſt-plate of Judgment, and with all your Names written upon his Heart. Then you ſhall perceive that the whole Family in Heaven and Earth is named by him, and how he prevaileth with God, the Father of Mercies, for you. Stand ſtill awhile, and liſten, yea, enter with Boldneſs into the Holieſt, and ſee your Jeſus, as he now appears in the Preſence of God for you; what work he makes againſt the Devil and Sin, and Death, and Hell for you. Ah! 'tis brave following of Jeſus Chriſt to the Holieſt, the Veil is rent, you may ſee with open Face, as in a Glaſs, the Glory of the Lord. This then is our High-prieſt, this is Interceſſion, theſe the Benefits of it. It lieth in our Part to improve it; and Wiſdom to do that alſo, comes from the Mercy-ſeat or Throne of Grace, where he, even our High-prieſt, ever liveth to make Interceſſion for us. To whom be Glory for ever and ever.

Heb. 10. Ch. 9.

And thus have I ſpoke to the firſt Thing, to wit, Of the Interceſſion of Chriſt: and now I come more particularly to ſpeak to (the ſecond) the Benefits of his Interceſſion, namely, that we are ſaved hereby; wherefore he is able alſo to ſave them, ſeeing he maketh Interceſſion for them. He is able to ſave them to the uttermoſt.

In my handling of this Head, I muſt ſhew you

1. What the Apoſtle means here by [ſave], wherefore he is able to [ſave]

2. What he means here by ſaving to the [uttermoſt.] He is able to ſave to the [uttermoſt.]

3. And then, thirdly, we ſhall do as we did in that foregoing, to wit, gather ſome Inferences from the Whole, and ſpeak to them.

Firſt, What doth the Apoſtle mean here by [ſave] He is able to [ſave] them.

To Save, may be taken two Ways; (in the general) I know it may be taken many ways, for there are many Salvations that we enjoy, yea, that we never knew of, nor can know, until we come thither, where all ſecret Things ſhall be ſeen, and where that which has been done in Darkneſs ſhall be proclaimed upon the Houſe Tops.

But I ſay there are two Ways that this Word may be taken.

1. To ſave in a Way of Juſtification.

2. Or to ſave in a Way of Preſervation.

Now Chriſt ſaves both theſe Ways: but which of theſe, or whether both of them are intended in this Place, of that I ſhall tell you my thoughts anon; mean while I will ſhew you,

1. What it is to be ſaved in the firſt Senſe.

2. And alſo how that is brought to paſs.

To be ſaved, is to be delivered from Guilt of Sin that is by the Law, as it is the Miniſtration of Death and Condemnation; or, to be ſet free therefrom, before God. This is to be ſaved: for he that is not ſet free therefrom, whatever he may think of himſelf, or whatever others may think concerning him, he is a condemned Man. It ſaith not, he ſhall be, but, he is condemned already. The Reaſon is, for that he has deſerved the Sentence of the Miniſtration of Condemnation, which is the Law. Yea, that Law has already arraigned, accuſed, and condemned him before God, for that it hath found him guilty of Sin. Now he that is ſet free from this, or as the Phraſe is, being made free from Sin, that is, from the Imputation of Guilt, there can to him be no Condemnation, no Condemnation to Hell-fire; but the Perſon thus made free, may properly be ſaid to be ſaved. Wherefore, as ſometimes it ſaith, we ſhall be ſaved, reſpecting ſaving in the ſecond Senſe, or the utmoſt compleating of Salvation. So ſometimes, it ſaith, we are ſaved, as reſpecting our being already ſecured from Guilt, and ſo from Condemnation to Hell for Sin, and ſo ſet ſafe, and quit from the ſecond Death before God.

Joh. 3. 18.

Rom. 6. 22

1 Cor. 1. 18. Eph. 2. 5.

2. Now ſaving thus, comes to us by what Chriſt did for us in this World, by what Chriſt did for us, as ſuffering for us. I ſay, it comes to us thus; that is, it comes to us by Grace, through the Redemption that is in Chriſt. And thus to be ſaved, is called called Juſtification; Juſtification to Life, becauſe one thus ſaved, is, as I ſaid, acquitted from Guilt, and that everlaſting Damnation, to which for Sin he had made himſelf obnoxious by the Law.

1 Cor. 15. 1, 2, 3, 4. Rom. 5. 8, 9, 10.

Hence we are ſaid to be ſaved by his Death, juſtified by his Blood, and reconciled to God by the Death of his Son; all which muſt reſpect his offering of himſelf on the Day he died, and not his improving of his ſo dying in a Way of Interceſſion, becauſe in the ſame Place the Apoſtle reſerveth a ſecond, or an additional Salvation, and applieth that to his Interceſſion, much more then being now, or already, juſtified by his Blood, we ſhall be ſaved from Wrath through him, that is, through what he will further do for us. For if when we were Enemies, we were reconciled to God by the Death of his Son, much more being reconciled, (that is, by his Death) we ſhall be ſaved by his Life, his Interceſſion, which he ever liveth to compleat.

See here, we are ſaid to be juſtified, reconciled already, and therefore we ſhall be ſaved, juſtified by his Blood and Death, and ſaved through him by his Life.

Now the ſaving intended in the Text, is ſaving in this ſecond Senſe; that is, a ſaving of us by preſerving us, by delivering of us from all thoſe Hazards that we run betwixt our State of Juſtification, and our State of Glorification. Yea, ſuch a ſaving of us, as we that are juſtified, need, to bring us into Glory. Therefore,

Secondly, When he ſaith he is able to ſave, ſeeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion, he addeth ſaving to ſaving; ſaving by his Life, to ſaving by his Death; ſaving by his improving of his Blood, to ſaving by his ſpilling of his Blood. He gave himſelf a Ranſom for us, and now improves that Gift in the preſence of God, by way of Interceſſion.

For, as I have hinted already, the High-prieſts, under the Law, took the Blood of the Sacrifices that were offered for Sin, and brought it within the Veil, and there ſprinkled it before, and upon the Mercy-ſeat, and by it made Interceſſion for the People to an additional Way of ſaving them: the Sum of which, Paul thus applies to Chriſt, when he ſaith, he can ſave, ſeeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion.

Rom. 8. 31 to 40.

That alſo in the Romans is clear to this purpoſe, Who is he that condemneth? 'Tis Chriſt that died. That is, Who is he that ſhall lay any thing to the charge of God's Elect to Condemnation to Hell, ſince Chriſt has taken away the Curſe, by his Death, from before God? Then he adds, that there is nothing that ſhall yet happen to us, ſhall deſtroy us, ſince Chriſt alſo liveth to make Interceſſion for us. Who ſhall condemn? It is Chriſt that died, yea rather that is riſen again, who even is at the right Hand of God, and maketh Interceſſion for us.

Chriſt then by his Death, ſaveth us as we are Sinners, Enemies, and in a State of Condemnation by Sin? and Chriſt by his Life, ſaveth us as conſidered juſtified, and reconciled to God by his Blood. So then, we have Salvation from that Condemnation that Sin had brought us unto, and Salvation from thoſe ruins that all the Enemies of our Souls would yet bring us unto, but cannot: for the Interceſſion of Chriſt preventeth. Rom. 9. 6 to 11.

Chriſt hath redeemed us from the Curſe of the Law; whatever the Law can take hold of to curſe us for, that Chriſt has redeemed us from, by being made a Curſe for us. But this Curſe that Chriſt was made for us, muſt be confined to his Sufferings, not to his Exaltation; and conſequently, not to his Interceſſion, for Chriſt is made no Curſe but when he ſuffered; not in his Interceſſion: ſo then, as he died, he took away the Curſe, and Sin that was the Cauſe thereof, by the Sacrifice of himſelf, and by his Life, his Interceſſion, he ſaveth us from all thoſe things that attempt to bring us into that Condemnation again. Gal. 3. 13.

The Salvation then that we have by the Interceſſion of Chriſt, as was ſaid (I ſpeak now of them that are capable of receiving Comfort, and Relief by this Doctrine) is Salvation that follows upon, or that comes after Juſtification. We that are ſaved, as to Juſtification of Life, need yet to be ſaved with that that preſerveth to Glory. For though by the Death of Chriſt we are ſaved from the Curſe of the Law: Yet Attempts are made by many, that we may be kept from the Glory, that juſtified Perſons are deſigned: for And from theſe we are ſaved by his Interceſſion.

A Man, then, that muſt be eternally ſaved, is to be conſidered,

1. As an Heir of Wrath.
2. As an Heir of God.

An Heir of Wrath he is in himſelf by Sin: An Heir of God, he is by Grace through Chriſt. Now, as an Heir of Wrath, he is redeemed; and as an Heir of God, he is preſerved: As an Heir of Wrath he is redeemed by Blood, and as an Heir of God he is preſerved by this Interceſſion. Eph. 2. 3. Gal. 4. 7.

Chriſt by his Death then, puts me, I being reconciled to God thereby, into a juſtified State, and God accepts me to Grace and Favour through him: But this doth not hinder, but that, all this notwithſtanding, there are, that would fruſtrate me of the End to which I am deſigned by this Reconciliation to God, by Redemption through Grace: and from the accompliſhing of this Deſign, I am ſaved by the bleſſed Interceſſion of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

Object. 1. Perhaps ſome may ſay, we are not ſaved from all Puniſhment of Sin by the Death of Chriſt; and if ſo, ſo not from all Danger of Damnation by the Interceſſion of Chriſt.

Anſw.

Anſw. We are ſaved from all Puniſhment in Hell-Fire, by the Death of Chriſt. Jeſus has delivered us from the Wrath to come. So that as to this great Puniſhment, God for his ſake has forgiven us all Treſpaſes. But we being tranſlated from being Slaves to Satan, to be Sons of God; God reſerveth yet this Liberty in his Hand to chaſtiſe us, if we offend, as a Father chaſtizeth his Son: But this Chaſtiſement is not in legal Wrath, but in Fatherly affection, not to deſtroy us, but that ſtill we might be made to get Advantage thereby, even be made Partakers of his Holineſs. This is, that we might not be condemned with the World. As to the ſecond Part of the Objection: There do (as we ſay, many things happen betwixt, or between, the Cup and the Lip) many things attempt to overthrow the Work of God, and to cauſe that we ſhould periſh through our Weakneſs, notwithſtanding the Price that hath by Chriſt been paid for us; but what ſaith the Scripture; Who ſhall ſeperate us from the Love of Chriſt? ſhall Tribulation, or Diſtreſs, or Perſecution, or Famine, or Nakedneſs, or Peril, or Sword? (As it is written, for thy ſake we are killed all the Day long, we are accounted as Sheep for the Slaughter) nay, in all theſe things we are more than Conquerors, through him that loved us. For I am perſwaded that neither Death, nor Life, nor Angels, nor Principalities, nor Powers, nor Things preſent, nor Things to come; nor Height, nor Depth, nor any other Creature: ſhall be able to ſeparate us from the Love of God, which is in Chriſt Jeſus our Lord.

1 Theſ. 1. 10. Col. 2. 13. Deut. 8. 5. Heb. 12. 5, to 12. 1 Cor. 11. 32. Rom. 8.

Thus the Apoſtle reckoneth up all the Diſadvantages that a juſtified Perſon is incident to in this Life, and by Way of Challenge declares, that not any one of them, nor all together ſhall be able to ſeparate us from the Love of God, that is towards us by Chriſt, his Death and his Interceſſion.

Object. 2. It may be further objected, that the Apoſtle doth here leave out Sin, unto which we know the Saints are ſubject, after Juſtification. And Sin of it ſelf, we need no other Enemies, is of that Nature, as to deſtroy the whole World.

Anſw. Sin is Sin, in the Nature of Sin, wherever it is found. But Sin as to the damning Effects thereof, is taken away from them unto whom Righteouſneſs is imputed for Juſtification. Nor ſhall any, or all the Things aforementioned, though there is a tendency in every one of them to drive us unto Sin; drown us through it, in Perdition and Deſtruction. I am perſuaded, ſays Paul, they ſhall never be able to do that. The Apoſtle therefore doth implicitly, though not expreſly, challenge Sin, yea, Sin by all its Advantages; and then glorieth in the Love of God in Chriſt Jeſus, from which he concludeth it ſhall never ſeparate the juſtified. Beſides, it would now have been needleſs to have expreſly here put in Sin by it ſelf, ſeeing before he had argued, that thoſe he ſpeaks of, were freely juſtified therefrom.

One Word more before I go to the ſecond Head. The Father, as I told you, has reſerved to himſelf a Liberty to chaſtiſe his Sons, to wit, with temporal Chaſtiſements, if they offend. This ſtill abideth to us, notwithſtanding God's Grace, Chriſt's Death, or bleſſed Interceſſion. And this Puniſhment is ſo ſurely intailed to the Tranſgreſſions, that we who believe ſhall commit, that it is impoſſible that we ſhould be utterly freed therefrom. Inſomuch that the Apoſtle poſitively concludeth them to be Baſtards, what Pretences to Sonſhip ſoever they have, they are not, for Sin, Partakers of fatherly Chaſtiſements.

For the reverſing of this Puniſhment, it is that we ſhould pray, if perhaps God will remit it, when we are taught to ſay, Our Father, forgive us our Treſpaſſes. And he that admits of any other Senſe as to this Petition, derogates from the Death of Chriſt; or Faith, or both. For either he concludes that for ſome of his Sins, Chriſt did not die; or that he is bound to believe that God, though he did, has not yet, nor will forgive them, till from the Petitioner ſome legal Work be done. [Forgive us, as we forgive them that treſpaſs againſt us.] But now apply this to temporal Puniſhments, and then 'tis true that God has reſerved a Liberty in his Hand to puniſh even the Sins of his People upon them: Yea, and will not pardon their Sin, as to the remitting of ſuch Puniſhment, unleſs ſome good Work by them be done. If you forgive not Men their Treſpaſſes, neither will your heavenly Father forgive your Treſpaſſes. Mat. 6. 14, 15. Chap. 18. 28, to 36.

And this is the Cauſe, why ſome that belong to God are yet ſo under the afflicting Hand of God: They have ſinned, and God who is their Father, puniſheth: Yea, and this is the Reaſon why ſome who are dear to God, have this kind of Puniſhment never forgiven, but it abides with them to their Lives end, goes with them to the Day of their Death: Yea, is the very Cauſe of their Death: By this Puniſhment they are cut off out of the Land of the Living. But all this is that they might not be condemned with the World. 1 Cor. 11. 32.

Chriſt died not, to ſave from this Puniſhment, Chriſt interceeds not, to ſave from this Puniſhment: Nothing but a good Life will ſave from this Puniſhment, nor always that neither.

The hidings of God's Face, the harſhneſs of his Providences, the ſevere and ſharp Chaſtiſements that oft-times over-take the very Spirits of his People: plainly ſhews that Chriſt died not to ſave from temporal Puniſhments: prays not to ſave from temporal Puniſhments, that is abſolutely. God has reſerved a Power to puniſh with temporal Puniſhments the beſt and deareſt of his People, if need be. And ſometimes he remits them, ſometimes not, even as it pleaſes him.

I come now to the ſecond Thing.

Secondly, I ſhall now ſhew you ſomething of what it is for Chriſt by his Interceſſion to ſave to the [uttermoſt.] He is able to ſave them to the uttermoſt.

Gen. 49. 26. Deut. 30. 4 Mat. 5. 26. Mar. 13. 27. Luke 15.

This is a great Expreſſion, and carrieth with it much. Uttermoſt, ſignifieth, to the outſide, to the end, to the laſt, to the furtheſt Part. And it hath Reſpect both to Perſons and Things.

1. To Perſons. Some Perſons are in their own Apprehenſions, even further from Chriſt than any Body elſe; afar off, a great Way off, yet a coming, as the Prodigal was. Now theſe many Times are exceedingly afraid: the Sight of that Diſtance, that they think is betwixt Chriſt and them, makes them afraid. As it is ſaid in another Caſe, They that dwell in the uttermoſt Parts, are afraid at thy Tokens: So theſe are afraid they ſhall not ſpeed, not obtain that for which they come to God. But the Text ſays, He is able to ſave to the uttermoſt, to the very hindermoſt, them that come to God by him.

Pſal. 65. 8.

Two Sorts of Men ſeem to be far, very far from God.

1. The Town-ſinner.

2. The great Backſlider: But both theſe, if they come, he is able to ſave to the uttermoſt. He is able to ſave them from all thoſe Dangers that they fear will prevent their obtaining of that Grace and Mercy they would have to help them in Time of need. The Publicans and Harlots enter into the Kingdom of Heaven.

Neh. 1. 9.

Secondly, As this Text reſpecteth Perſons: So it reſpecteth Things. There are ſome Things with which ſome are attended, that are coming to God by Chriſt, that make their coming hard, and very difficult.

1. There is a more than ordinary breaking up of the Corruptions of their Nature. It ſeems as if all their Luſts and vile Paſſions of the Fleſh were become Maſters, and might now do what they will with the Soul. Yea, they take this Man, and toſs and tumble him like a Ball in a large Place. This Man is not Maſter of himſelf, of his Thoughts, nor of his Paſſions: His Iniquities like the Wind do carry him away. He thinks to go forward, but this Wind blows him backward, he laboureth againſt this Wind, but cannot find that he getteth Ground. He takes what Advantage Opportunity doth miniſter to him; but all he gets is to be beat out of Heart, out of Breath, out of Courage. He ſtands ſtill, and pants, and gapeth as for Life. I opened my Mouth, and panted, ſaid David, for I longed for thy Commandments.

Iſa. 64. 6. Pſal. 119. 131.

He ſets forward again, but has nothing but Labour and Sorrow.

2. Nay, to help forward his Calamity, Satan (Angels) will not be wanting, both to trouble his Head with the Fumes of their ſtinking Breath; nor to throw up his Heels in their dirty Places. And while he was yet a coming, the Devil threw him down and tare him. How many ſtrange, hideous, and amazing Blaſphemies, have thoſe, ſome of thoſe, that are coming to Chriſt, injected and fixed upon their Spirits againſt him. Nothing ſo common to ſuch, as to have ſome helliſh Wiſh or other againſt God they are coming to, and againſt Chriſt, by whom they would come to him. Theſe Blaſphemies are like thoſe Frogs that I have heard of, that will leap up, and catch hold of, and hang by their Claws. Now help, Lord, now Lord Jeſus what ſhall I do? Now Son of David have Mercy upon me: I ſay, to ſay theſe Words, is hard Work for ſuch an one. But he is able to ſave to the uttermoſt this Comer to God by him.

Luk. 9. 42.

3. There are alſo the Oppoſitions of Senſe and Reaſon hard at Work, for the Devil, againſt the Soul. The Men of his own Houſe are aiſen up againſt him. Ones Senſe and Reaſon, one would think, ſhould not fall in with the Devil againſt our ſelves; and yet nothing more common, nothing more natural, than for our own Senſe and Reaſon to turn the unnatural, and war both againſt our God and us. And now 'tis hard coming to God. Better can a Man hear, and deal with any Objections againſt himſelf, than with thoſe that himſelf doth make againſt himſelf. They lie cloſe, ſtick faſt, ſpeak aloud and will be heard: Yea, will haunt, and hunt him (as the Devil doth ſome) in every Hole and Corner. But come, Man, come, for he is able to ſave to the uttermoſt.

4. Now Guilt is the Conſequence and Fruit of all this, and what ſo intolerable a Burden as Guilt: They talk of the Stones, and of the Sands of the Sea; but 'tis guilt that breaks the Heart with its Burden. And Satan has the Art of making the uttermoſt of every Sin, he can blow it up, make it ſwell, make every Hair of his Head as big as a Cedar. He can tell how to make it a hainous Offence, an unpardonable Offence, an Offence of that Continuance, and committed againſt ſo much Light, that (ſays he) it is impoſſible it ſhould ever be forgiven. But, Soul, he is able to ſave to the uttermoſt, he can do exceeding abundantly above all that we can ask or think.

Eph. 3. 20.

5. Join to all this the Rage and Terror of Men, which Thing of it ſelf, is ſufficient to quaſh and break to Pieces all Deſires to come to God by Chriſt. Yea, and it doth do ſo to thouſands that are not willing to go to Hell. Yet thou art kept, and made to go panting on; a whole World of Men, and Devils, and Sin, are not able to keep thee from coming. But how comes it to paſs paſs that thou art ſo hearty, that thou ſetteſt thy Face againſt ſo much Wind and Weather. I dare ſay, it ariſes not from thy ſelf, not from any of thine Enemies: This comes from God, though thou art not aware thereof, and is obtained for thee by the Interceſſion of the bleſſed Son of God, who is alſo able to ſave thee to the uttermoſt, that comeſt to God by him.

6. And for a Concluſion, as to this, I will add, that there is much of the Honour of the Lord Jeſus engaged, as to the ſaving of the coming Man to the uttermoſt. I am glorified in them, ſaith He. He is exalted to be a Saviour: And if the bleſſed one doth count it an Exaltation to be a Saviour: Surely, it is an Exaltation to be a Saviour, and a great one. They ſhall cry unto the Lord becauſe of their Oppreſſors, and he ſhall ſend them a Saviour and a great one, and he ſhall deliver them. If it is a Glory to be a Saviour, a great Saviour; then 'tis a Glory for a Saviour, a great one, to ſave, and ſave, and ſave to the uttermoſt. To the uttermoſt Man; to the uttermoſt Sin; to the uttermoſt Temptation. And hence it is that he ſaith again, ſpeaking of the Tranſgreſſions, Sins, and Iniquities that he would pardon, that it ſhould turn to him for a Name of Joy, a Praiſe, and an Honour before all Nations. He therefore counts it an honour to be a great Saviour, to ſave Men to the uttermoſt.

Joh. 17. 10. Acts 5. 31. Iſa. 19. 20. Jer. 33. 7, 8, 9.

When Moſes ſaid, I beſeech thee ſhew me thy Glory: The Anſwer was, I will make all my Goodneſs paſs before thee; and I will proclaim the Name of the Lord before thee. Exod. 33. 18, 19.

And when he came indeed to make Proclamation, then he proclaimed, The Lord, the Lord God merciful and gracious, long ſuffering, and abundant in Goodneſs and Truth. Keeping Mercy for thouſands, forgiving Iniquities, Tranſgreſſions and Sins, and that will by no Means clear the Guilty; That will by no Means clear them that will not come to me, that they may be ſaved. Ch. 34. 6, 7.

See here, if it is not by himſelf accounted his Glory, to make his Goodneſs, all his Goodneſs paſs before us: And how can that be, if he ſaveth not to the uttermoſt them that come unto God by him? For Goodneſs is by us no Ways ſeen, but by thoſe Acts by which it expreſſeth it ſelf to be ſo. And I am ſure, to ſave, to ſave to the uttermoſt, is one of the moſt eminent Expreſſions by which we underſtand it is great Goodneſs. I know Goodneſs has many Ways to expreſs it ſelf to be what it is, to the World: But then it expreſſeth its Greatneſs, when it pardons and ſaves: When it pardons and ſaves to the uttermoſt. My Goodneſs, ſays Chriſt, extends not it ſelf to my Father, but to my Saints; my Father has no need of my Goodneſs, but my Saints have, and therefore it ſhall reach forth it ſelf for their Help, in whom is all my Delight. And, O how great is thy Goodneſs, which thou haſt laid up for them that fear thee. Which thou haſt wrought for them that truſt in thee before the Sons of Men. Eph. 3. 20. Pſal. 16. 2, 3. Pſ. 31. 19.

It is therefore that which tendeth to get Chriſt a Name, a Fame and Glory; to be able to ſave to the uttermoſt them that come to God by him.

But ſome may ſay, What is the Meaning of this Word Able? Wherefore he is [able] to ſave: He is able to ſave to the uttermoſt: How comes it to paſs that his Power to ſave, is rather put in than his Willingneſs. For Willingneſs, ſaith the Soul would better have pleaſed me.

I will ſpeak two or three Words to this Queſtion. And, Firſt, By this Word [Able] is ſuggeſted to us the Sufficiency of his Merit, the great Worthineſs of his Merit; for, as Interceſſor, he ſticks faſt by his Merit, all his Petitions, Prayers, or Supplications, are grounded upon the Worthineſs of his Perſon as Mediator, and on the Validity of his Offering as Prieſt. This is the more clear, if you conſider that the Reaſon why thoſe Prieſts and Sacrifices under the Law, could not make the Worſhippers perfect: It was, I ſay, becauſe there wanted in them Worthineſs, and Merit in their Sacrifices. But this Man, when he came and offered his Sacrifice, he did by that one Act perfect for ever them that are ſanctified, or ſet apart for Glory. Wherefore this Man, after he had offered up one Sacrifice for Sin, for ever ſat down on the right Hand of God. Heb. 10. 1, to 15.

When Moſes prayed for the People of Iſrael, thus he ſaid, And now I beſeech thee let the Power of my Lord be great, according as thou haſt ſpoken. But what had he ſpoken? The Lord is long-ſuffering, and of great Mercy, forgiving Iniquity and Tranſgreſſion, and by no Means clearing the Guilty. Pardon, I beſeech thee, the Iniquity of this People, according to the Greatneſs of thy Mercy, and as thou haſt forgiven this People from Egypt until now. Numb. 14 17, 18, 19.

2. Has he but Power, we know he is willing, elſe he would not have promiſed; 'tis alſo his Glory to pardon and ſave. So then, in his Ability lies our Safety. What if he were never ſo willing, if he were not of Ability ſufficient, What would his Willingneſs do? But he has ſhewed, as I ſaid, his Willingneſs by promiſing; [Him that cometh to me, I will in no wiſe caſt out] ſo that now our Comfort lies in his Power, in that he is able to make good his Word. And this alſo will then be ſeen, when he hath ſaved them that come to God by him, when he hath ſaved them to the uttermoſt; not to the uttermoſt of his Ability, but to the uttermoſt of our Neceſſity. For to the uttermoſt of his Ability, I believe he will never be put to it to ſave his Church: Not for that he is loth ſo to ſave; but becauſe there is no Need ſo to ſave; he ſhall not need to put out all his Power, and to preſs the John 6. 37. Rom. 4. 20 21.

the utmoſt of his Merit for the ſaving of his Church. Alas! There is Sufficiency of Merit in him, to ſave a thouſand times as many more as are like to be ſaved by him; he is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think. Meaſure not therefore what he can do, by what he has, doth, or will do; neither do thou interpret this Word, to the uttermoſt, as if it related to the uttermoſt of his Ability, but rather as it relateth (for ſo it doth indeed) to the Greatneſs of thy Neceſſity. For as he is able to ſave thee, though thy Condition be, as it may be ſuppoſed to be, the worſt that ever Man was in that was ſaved; ſo he is able to ſave thee, though thy Condition were ten times worſe than it is.

What! Shall not the Worthineſs of the Son of God be ſufficient to ſave from the Sin of Man? Or ſhall the Sin of the World, be of that Weight to deſtroy; that it ſhall put Chriſt Jeſus to the uttermoſt of the Worth of his Perſon and Merit, to ſave therefrom? I believe it is Blaſphemy to think ſo. We can eaſily imagine that he can ſave all the World; that is, that he is of Ability to do it. But we cannot imagine that he can do more than we can think he can. But our Imagination and Thoughts ſet no Bound to his Ability. He is able to to do exceeding abundant above all that we ask or think. But what that is, I ſay, no Man can think; no Man can imagine. So then, Jeſus Chriſt can do more than ever any Man thought he could do, as to ſaving: He can do, we know not what.

This therefore ſhould incourage Comers to come to him; and them that come, to hope. This, I ſay, ſhould encourage them to let out, to lengthen, and heighten their Thoughts by the Word, to the uttermoſt, ſeeing he can ſave to the uttermoſt them that come to God by him.

Thirdly, And now I come to the third Thing that I told you I ſhould ſpeak to, and that is, to thoſe Inferences that may be gathered from theſe Words.

Firſt, Are they that are juſtified by Chriſt's Blood ſuch as have need yet to be ſaved by his Interceſſion? Then from hence it follows, that Juſtification will ſtand with Imperfection. It doth not therefore follow, that a juſtified Man is without Infirmity. For he that is without Infirmity, that is, perfect with abſolute Perfection, has no need to be yet ſaved by an Act yet to be performed by a Mediator, and his Mediation.

When I ſay, Juſtification will ſtand with Imperfection: I do not mean, that it will allow, countenance, or approve thereof; but I mean, there is no Neceſſity of our Perfection, of our perſonal Perfection, as to our Juſtification: And that we are juſtified without it: Yea, that that, in juſtified Perſons remains.

Again, when I ſay, that Juſtification will ſtand with Imperfection, I do not mean, that in our Juſtification we are imperfect: For in that we are compleat: We are compleat in him who is our Juſtice: If otherwiſe, the Imperfection is in the Matter that juſtifieth us, which is the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt. Yea, and to ſay ſo, would conclude that wrong Judgment proceedeth from him that imputeth that Righteouſneſs to us to Juſtification, ſince an imperfect Thing is imputed to us for Juſtification. But far be it from any that believe that God is true, to imagine ſuch a Thing; all his Works are perfect, there is nothing wanting in them as to the preſent Deſign. Col. 2. 10.

But what then do we mean when we ſay, Juſtification will ſtand with a State of Imperfection?

Anſw. Why, I mean, that juſtified Men are yet Sinners in themſelves; are yet full of Imperfections, yea, ſinful Imperfections. Juſtified Paul ſaid, I know that in me (that is, in my Fleſh) dwells no good Thing. While we are yet Sinners, we are juſtified by the Blood of Chriſt: Hence again, 'tis ſaid, he juſtifies the Ungodly. Juſtification then only covereth our Sin from the Sight of God, it maketh us not perfect with inherent Perfection. But God for the ſake of that Righteouſneſs which by his Grace is imputed to us, declareth us quit and diſcharged from the Curſe, and ſees Sin in us no more to Condemnation. Rom. 7. 18 — 5. 8, 9. — 4. 5.

And this is the Reaſon, or one Reaſon, why they that are juſtified have need of an Interceſſor: To wit, to ſave us from the Evil of the Sin that remains in our Fleſh, after we are juſtified by Grace, through Chriſt, and ſet free from the Law as to Condemnation. Therefore, as 'tis ſaid, we are ſaved, ſo 'tis ſaid, He is able to ſave to the uttermoſt them that come to God by him, ſeeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for them.

The Godly, (for now we will call them the Godly, though there is yet abundance of Sin in them) feel in themſelves many Things, even after Juſtification, by which they are convinced they are ſtill attended with perſonal, ſinful Imperfections.

1. They feel Unbelief, Fear, Miſtruſt, Doubting, Deſpondings, Murmurings, Blaſphemies, Pride, Lightneſs, Fooliſhneſs, Avarice, Fleſhly Luſts, Heartleſneſs to Good, wicked Deſires, low Thoughts of Chriſt, too good Thoughts of Sin, and, at Times, too great an Itching after the worſt of Immoralities.

2. They feel in themſelves an Aptneſs to incline to Errors, as to lean to the Works of the Law for Juſtification; to queſtion the Truth of the Reſurrection, and Judgment to come; to diſſemble and play the Hypocrite in Profeſſion, and in Performance of Duties; to do religious Duties, rather rather to pleaſe Man, than God, who trieth the Heart.

3. They feel an Inclination in them, in Times of Trial, to faint under the Croſs, to ſeek too much to ſave themſelves, to diſſemble the known Truth, for the obtaining a little Favour with Men, and to ſpeak Things that they ought not, that they may ſleep in a whole Skin.

4. They feel Weariſomneſs in religious Duties, but a natural Propenſity to Things of the Fleſh. They feel a Deſire to go beyond Bounds both at Board and Bed, and bodily Exerciſe, and in all lawful Recreation.

5. They feel in themſelves an Aptneſs to take the Advantage of uſing of Things that are lawful, as Food, Raiment, Sleep, Talk, Eſtates, Relations, Beauty, Wit, Parts, and Graces, to unlawful Ends. Theſe Things, with many more of the like Kind, the juſtified Man finds, and feels in himſelf to his humbling, and often caſting down: And to ſave him from the deſtroying Evil of theſe, Chriſt ever liveth to make Interceſſion for him.

Again, The juſtified Man is imperfect in his Graces: And therefore needeth to be ſaved by the Interceſſion of Chriſt from the bad Fruit that that Imperfection yields.

Juſtifying Righteouſneſs is accompanied with Graces, the Graces of the Spirit. Though theſe Graces are not that Matter, by and through which we are juſtified, nor any Part thereof, that being only the Obedience of Chriſt imputed to us of meer
Rom. 5. Pleaſure and good Will: But, I ſay, they come when Juſtification comes: And though they are not ſo eaſily diſcerned at the firſt, they ſhew forth themſelves afterwards. But, I ſay, how many ſoever they are, and how faſt ſoever they grow, their utmoſt arrivement here, is but a State ſhort of Perfection.

None of the Graces of God's Spirit, in our Hearts, can do their Work in us without Shortneſs, and that becauſe of their own Imperfections, and alſo becauſe of the Oppoſitions that they meet with from our Fleſh.

1. Faith; which is the Root-Grace, the grand Grace; its Shortneſs is ſufficiently manifeſt, by its Shortneſs of Apprehenſion of Things pertaining to the Perſon, Offices, Relations, and Works of Chriſt now in the heavenly Place, for us. It is alſo very defective in its fetching of Comfort from the Word to us, and in continuing of it with us, when, at any Time, we attain unto it. In its receiving of Strength to ſubdue Sin, and in its Purifyings of the Heart, (though indeed it doth what it doth in reality) yet how ſhort is it of doing of it throughly? Often-times, were it not for Luke 22. 31, 32. Supplies, by Vertue of the Interceſſion of Chriſt, Faith would fail of performing its Office in any Meaſure.

2. There is Hope, another Grace of the Spirit beſtowed upon us, and how often is that alſo, as to the Excellency of working, made to flag? I ſhall periſh (ſaith David) I am cut off from before thine Eyes, ſaid he. And now where was his Hope in the right Goſpel Diſcovery of it? Alſo all our Fear of Men, and Fears of Death, and Fears of Judgment, they ariſe from the Imperfections of Hope. But from all thoſe Faults, Chriſt ſaves us by his Interceſſions.

3. There is Love, that ſhould be in us, as hot as Fire. 'Tis compared to Fire, to Fire of the hotteſt Sort; yea, 'tis ſaid to be hotter than the Coals of Juniper. Song 8. 6, 7. But who finds this Heat in Love, ſo much as for one poor Quarter of an Hour together? Some little Flaſhes, perhaps ſome, at ſome Times, may feel; but where is that conſtant Burning of Affection, that the Word, the Love of God, and the Love of Chriſt calls for? Yea, and that the Neceſſities of the poor and afflicted Members of Chriſt call for alſo. Ah! Love is cold in theſe frozen Days, and ſhort when 'tis at the higheſt.

4. The Grace of Humility, When is it? Who has a Thimbleful thereof? Where is he that is clothed with Humility, and that does what he is commanded with all Humility of Mind? 1 Pet. 5. 5. Acts 20. 19

5. For Zeal, where is that alſo? Zeal for God, againſt Sin, Profaneneſs, Superſtition, and Idolatry. I ſpeak now to the Godly, who have this Zeal in the Root and Habit; but Oh how little of it puts forth it ſelf into Actions, in ſuch a Day as this is!

6. There is Reverence, Fear, and ſtanding in Awe of God's Word and Judgments, Where are the excellent Workings thereof to be found? And where it is moſt, how far ſhort of perfect Acts is it?

7. Simplicity, and Godly Sincerity alſo, with how much Dirt is it mixed in the beſt, eſpecially among thoſe of the Saints that are rich, who have got the poor and beggerly Art of Complementing? For the more Complement, the leſs Sincerity, Many Words will not fill a Buſhel. But in the Multitude of Words there lacks no Sin. Plain Men are thin come up in this Day; to find a Mouth without Fraud and Deceit now, is a rare Thing. Thus might one count up all the Graces of the Spirit, and ſhew wherein every one of them are ſcanty and wanting of Perfection. Now look what they want of Perfection, is ſupplied with Sin and Vanity; for there is a Fulneſs of Sin and Fleſh at hand, to make up all the vacant Places in our Souls. There is no Place in the Souls of the Godly, but 'tis filled up with Darkneſs, when the Light is wanting, and with Sin, ſo far forth as Grace is wanting: Satan alſo diligently waiteth to come in at the Door, if Careleſs has left it a little a-jarr. Prov. 10. 19.

But, Oh! the Grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, who ever liveth to make Intercession for us, and that by so doing, saves us from all the imperfect Acts and Workings of our Graces, and from all the Advantages that Flesh, and Sin, and Satan getteth upon us thereby.

Further, as Christ Jesus our Lord doth save us by his Intercession from that Hurt that would unavoidably come upon us by these; so also, by that, we are saved from the Evil that is at any Time found in any, or all our holy Duties and Performances, that is our Duty daily to be found in. That our Duties are imperfect follows upon what was discourſed before; for if our Graces be imperfect, how can our Duties but be so too?

1. Our Prayers how imperfect are they? With how much Unbelief are they mixed? How apt is our Tongue to run in Prayer before our Hearts? With how much Earnestness do our Lips move, while our Hearts lie within as cold as a Clod? Yea, and oft-times, 'tis to be feared, we ask for that with our Mouth, that we care not whether we have or no. Where is the Man that pursues, with all his Might, what but now he seemed to ask for with all his Heart? Prayer is become a Shell, a Piece of Formality, a very empty Thing, as to the Spirit and Life of Prayer, at this Day. I speak now of the Prayers of the Godly. I once met with a poor Woman, that, in the greatest of her Distresses, told me, she did use to rise in the Night, in cold Weather, and pray to God while she sweat, with Fears of the Loss of her Prayer, and Desires that her Soul might be saved. I have heard of many that have played, but of few that have prayed till they have sweat, by Reason of their wrestling with God for Mercy in that Duty.

2. There is the Duty of Alms-giving, another Gospel Performance, but how poorly is it done in our Days? We have so many foolish Ways to lay out Money in Toys and Fools Baubles for our Children, that we can spare none, or very little, for the Relief of the Poor. Also do not many give that to their Dogs, yea, let it lye in their Houses until it stinks so vilely, that neither Dog nor Cat will eat it; which had it been bestowed well in Time, might have been a Succour and Nourishment to some poor Member of Christ.

3. There is Hearing of the Word; but, alas! the Place of Hearing is the Place of Sleeping, with many a fine Professor. I have often observed, that those that keep Shops can briskly attend upon a Two-penny Customer; but when they come themselves to God's Market, they spend their Time too much in letting their Thoughts to wander from God's Commandments, or in a nasty drowsy Way. The Heads also, and Hearts of most Hearers, are to the Word, as the Sieve is to Water, they can hold no Sermons, remember no Text, bring home no Proofs; produce none of the Sermon to the Edification and Profit of others. And do not the best take up too much in Hearing, and mind too little, what, by the Word, God calls for at their Hands to perform it with a good Conscience?

4. There is faithfulness in Callings, faithfulness to Brethren, faithfulness to the World, faithfulness to Children, to Servants, to all according to our Place and Capacity: Oh how little of it is there found in the Mouths and Lives, to speak nothing of the Hearts, of Professors.

I will proceed no farther in this kind of Repetition of Things, only thus much give me leave to say over again, even many of the truly godly, are very faulty here: But what would they do if there were not one always at the right Hand of God, by Intercession taking away these kind of Iniquities?

Secondly, Are those that are justified by the Blood of Christ such, after that, as have need also of saving by Christ's Intercession? From hence then we may infer, that as Sin, so Satan will not give over from assaulting the best of the Saints.

'Tis not Justification that can secure us from being assaulted by Satan, Simon, Simon, Satan has desired to have you. Luk. 22. 31, 32.

There are two Things that do encourage the Devil to set upon the People of God.

First, He knows not who are Elect, for all that profess are not; and therefore he will make tryal if he can get them into his Sieve, whether he can cause them to perish. And great Success he hath had this Way. Many a brave Professor has he overcome: He has cast some of the Stars from Heaven to Earth. He pickt one out from among the Apostles, and one, as 'tis thought, from among the seven Deacons; and many from among Christ's Disciples. But how many think you now adays doth he utterly destroy with his Net?

Secondly, If it so happeneth that he cannot destroy, because Christ by his Intercession prevaileth; yet will he set upon the Church, to defile and afflict it. For,

1. If he can but get us to fall with Peter, then he has obtained that Dishonour be brought to God, the Weak to be stumbled, the World offended, and the Gospel vilified, and reproached. Or,

2. If he cannot throw up our Heels, yet by buffeting of us, he can grieve us, afflict us, put us to Pain, fright us, drive us to many Doubts, and make our Life very uncomfortable unto us, and make us go groaning to our Father's House. But blessed be God for his Christ, and for that he ever liveth to make Intercession for us.

Thirdly, Are those that are justified by the

the Blood of Christ, such, as after that, have need to be saved by Christ's Intercession: Then hence I infer, That it is dangerous going about any Thing in our own Name, and Strength. If we would have helps from the Intercession of Christ, let us have a Care that we do what we do according to the Word of Christ. Do what he bids us, as well as we can, as he bids us, and then we need not doubt but to have Help and Salvation in those Duties, by the Intercession of Col. 3.17. Christ. Do all, says the Apostle, In the Name of the Lord Jesus Christ. Oh but then the Devil and the World will be most of all offended. Well, well, but if you do nothing but as in his Fear, by his Word; in his Name you may be sure of what help his Intercession can afford you, and that can afford you much help, not only to begin, but to go through with your Work, in some good Measure, as you should; and by that also you shall be secured from those Dangers, if not Temptations to Dangers, that those that go out about Business in their own Names and Strength, shall be sure to meet withal.

Fourthly, Are those that are justified by the Blood of Christ such as after that, have need of being saved by Christ's Intercession: then hence I infer again, that God has a great dislike of the Sins of his own People, and would fall upon them in Judgment and Anger much more severely than he doth, were it not for Christ's Intercession. The Gospel is not, as some think, a loose and licentious Doctrine, nor God's Discipline of his Church a negligent and careless Discipline. For though those that believe already, have also an Intercessor: Yet God to shew his Detestation against Sin, doth often make them feel to purpose; the Weight of his Fingers. The sincere that fain would walk oft with God, have felt what I say, and that to the breaking of their Bones full oft. The loose ones, and those that God loves not, may be utter Strangers, as to this; but those that are his own indeed, do know it Amos 3.2. is otherwise. You have I known above all others, says God, therefore you I will punish for your Iniquities. God keeps a very strict House among his Children. David found it so, Haman found it so, Job found it so; and the Church of God found it so. And I know not that his Mind is ever the less against Sin, notwithstanding we have an Intercessor. True, our Intercessor saves us from damning Evils, from damning Judgments; but he neither doth nor will secure us from temporal Punishment, from spiritual Punishment, unless we watch, deny our selves, and walk in his Fear. I would to God, that those who are otherwise minded, did but feel for three or four Months something of what I have felt for several Years together for base sinful Thoughts. I wish it, I say, if it might be for their good, and for the better regulating of their Understandings. But whether they obtain my Wish or no, sure I am that God is no Countenancer of Sin; no, not in his own People: Nay he will bear it least of all in them. And as for others, however he may for a while have Patience towards them, if perhaps his Goodness may lead them to Repentance: Yet the Day is coming when he will pay the Carnal and Hypocrites, home with devouring Fire for their Offences.

But if our Holy God will not let us go altogether unpunished, though we have so able and blessed an Intercessor, that has always to present God with, on our Behalf, so valuable a Price of his own Blood, now before the Throne of Grace: What should we have done if there had been no Days-Man, none to plead for us, or to make Intercession on our behalf? Read that Text. For I am with thee, saith the Jer. 30.11. Lord, to save thee: though I make a full End of all Nations whither I have scattered them; yet I will not make a full end of thee, but I will correct thee in Measure, and will not leave thee altogether unpunished. If it be so, I say, what had become of us, if we had had no Intercessor? and what will Psal. 16. 4. become of them concerning whom the Lord has said already, I will not take up Joh. 17. 9. their Names into my Lips? I pray not for them.

Fifthly, Are those that are already justified by the Blood of Christ, yet such as have need of being saved by his Intercession? Then hence I infer, that Christ is not only the Beginner, but the Compleater of our Salvation; or, as the Holy Ghost calls him, the Author and Finisher of our Salvation; or, Heb. 12.2. as it calls him again, The Author of Eternal Salvation; of Salvation throughout, from Chap. 5.9. the beginning to the end, from first to last. His Hands have laid the Foundation of it, in his own Blood, and his Hands shall finish Zech. 4.9. it, by his Intercession: As he has laid the Ver. 7. beginning fastly, so he shall bring forth the Isa. 43. 11. head Stones with shootings, and we shall cry, Grace, Grace at the last, Salvation only belongeth to the Lord.

Many there be that begin with Grace, and end with Works, and think that is the only Way. Indeed Works will save from temporal Punishments, when their Imperfections are purged from them by the Intercession of Christ; but to be saved and brought to Glory, to be carried through this dangerous World, from my first moving after Christ, 'till I set my Foot within the Gates of Paradise: This is the Work of my Mediator, of my High-Priest and Intercessor: 'Tis he that fetches us again when we Ezek. 34. 16. are run away, 'tis he that lifteth us up when Ps. 145.14 the Devil and Sin has thrown us down; 'tis he that quickeneth us when we grow cold; 'tis he that comforteth us when we despair; 'tis he that obtains fresh Pardon when we have contracted Sin; and he that purges our Consciences, when they are loaden with Guilt. I know

I know alſo, that Rewards do wait for them in Heaven, that do believe in Chriſt, and ſhall do well on Earth; but this is not a Reward of Merit, but of Grace. We are ſaved by Chriſt; brought to Glory by Chriſt; and all our Works are no other Ways made acceptable to God, but by the Perſon and perſonal Excellencies and Works of Chriſt: Therefore whatever the Jewels are, and the Bracelets, and the Pearls that 1 Pet. 2. 5. thou ſhalt be adorned with as a Reward of
Heb. 13. 15. Service done for God in the World; for them thou muſt thank Chriſt, and before all, confeſs that he was the meritorious
Rev. 5. 9. to 14. Cauſe thereof. He ſaves us, and ſaves our Services too. They would be all caſt back as Dung in our Faces, were they not rinſed and waſhed in the Blood, were they not ſweetned and perfumed in the Incenſe, and Sixthly, Are thoſe that are already juſtified by the Blood of Chriſt, ſuch as do ſtill ſtand in need of being ſaved by his Interceſſion? Then hence I infer again, that we that have been ſaved hitherto, and preſerved from the Dangers that we have met with ſince our firſt Converſion to this Moment, ſhould aſcribe the Glory to Jeſus Chriſt, to God by Jeſus Chriſt. I have prayed that thy Faith fail not: I pray that thou wouldeſt keep them from the evil, is the true Cauſe of our ſtanding, and of our continuing in the Faith and Holy Profeſſion of the Goſpel to this very Day. Wherefore we muſt give Pſal. 44. 6, 7, 8. 2 Cor. 2. 14. Phil. 3. 3. the Glory of all to God by Chriſt: I will not truſt in my Bow, ſaid David, neither ſhall my Sword ſave me. But thou haſt ſaved us from our Enemies, and haſt put them to ſhame that hated us. In God we boaſt all the Day long, and praiſe thy Name for ever. Selah. He cauſeth us always to triumph in Chriſt; we rejoyce in Chriſt Jeſus, and have no Confidence in the Fleſh. Thus you ſee, that both in the Old and New Teſtament, all the Glory is given to the Lord, as well for Preſervation to Heaven, as for Juſtification of Life. And he that is well acquainted with himſelf, will do this readily: Though light Heads, and ſuch as are not acquainted with the deſperate Evil that is in their Natures, will ſacrifice to their own Net. But ſuch will ſo ſacrifice but a while. Sir Death is coming, and he will put them into the view of what they ſee not now, and will feed ſweetly upon them, becauſe they made not the Lord their Truſt. And therefore aſcribe thou the Glory of the Preſervation of thy Soul in the Faith hitherto, to that Salvation which Chriſt Jeſus our Lord obtaineth for thee by his Ineerceſſion.

Seventhly, Are thoſe that are already juſtified by the Blood of Chriſt, ſuch as do ſtill ſtand in need of being ſaved by his Interceſſion? Then is this alſo to be inferred from hence, that Saints ſhould look to him for that ſaving, that they ſhall yet have need of 'twixt this and the Day of their Diſſolution; yea, from henceforward, even to the Day of Judgment. I ſay they ſhould ſtill look to him for the remaining Part of their Salvation, or for that of their Salvation which is yet behind; and let them look for it with Confidence, for that it is in a faithful Hand; and for thy Encouragement, to look and hope for the compleating of thy Salvation in Glory, let me preſent thee with a few Things:

1. The hardeſt or worſt Part of the Work of thy Saviour is over; his bloody Work, his bearing of thy Sin and Curſe, his loſs of the Light of his Father's Face for a Time: His dying upon the curſed Tree, that was the worſt, the ſoreſt, the hardeſt and moſt difficult Part of the Work of Redemption; and yet this he did willingly, chearfully, and without thy Deſires; yea, this he did, as conſidering thoſe for whom he did it, in a State of Rebellion and Enmity to him.

2. Conſider alſo, that he has made a beginning with thy Soul to reconcile thee to God, and to that end has beſtowed his Juſtice upon thee, put his Spirit within thee, and began to make the unweeldable Mountain and Rock, thy heart, to turn towards him, and deſire after him; to believe in him, and rejoyce in him.

3. Conſider alſo, that ſome comfortable Pledges of his love thou haſt already received, namely, as to feel the Sweetneſs of his Love; as to ſee the Light of his Countenance; as to be made to know his Power, in raiſing of thee when thou waſt down; and how he has made thee ſtand while Hell has been puſhing at thee, utterly to overthrow thee.

4. Thou mayſt conſider alſo, that what remains behind of the work of thy Salvation in his hands, as it is the moſt eaſie Part, ſo the moſt comfortable; and that Part which will more immediately iſſue in his Glory: and therefore he will mind it.

5. That which is behind, is alſo more ſafe in his Hand, than if it was in thine own: he is wiſe, he is powerful, he is faithful; and therefore will manage that Part that is lacking to our Salvation, well, until he has compleated it. 'Tis his Love to thee that has made him that he putteth no truſt in thee; he knows that he can himſelf bring thee to his Kingdom moſt ſurely; and therefore has not left that Work to thee, no, not any part thereof.
Job. 5. 18. Chap. 15. 15.

Live in hope then, in a lively hope, that ſince Chriſt is riſen from the Dead, he lives to make Interceſſion for thee, and that thou ſhalt reap the bleſſed Benefit of this two-fold Salvation that is wrought, and that is working out for thee, by Jeſus Chriſt our Lord.

Lord. And thus have we treated of the Benefit of his Interceſſion, in that he is able to ſave to the uttermoſt. And this leads me to the third Particular.

The third Particular is to ſhew who are the Perſons intereſted in this Interceſſion of Chriſt; and they are thoſe that come to God by him. The Words are very conciſe and diſtinctly laid down; they are they that come, that come to God, that come to God by him. Wherefore he is able alſo to ſave them, to ſave to the uttermoſt them that come to God by him, ſeeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for them.

A little firſt to comment upon the order of the words, that come unto God by him.

1. There are that come unto God, but not by him; and theſe are not included in this Text, have not a Share in this Privilege. Thus the Jews came to God, the unbelieving Jews, who had a zeal of God, but not according to Knowledge. Theſe ſubmitted not to Chriſt, the Righteouſneſs of God, but thought to come to him by Works of their own, or at leaſt, as it were, by them, and ſo came ſhort of Salvation by Grace, for that reigns to Salvation only in Chriſt. To theſe Chriſt's Perſon and Undertakings were a Stumbling-ſtone: for at him they ſtumbled, and did ſplit themſelves to pieces, though they indeed were ſuch as came to God for Life.

Rom. 9. 30 to 34. Ch. 10. 1, 2, 3, 4.

2. As there are that come to God, but not by Chriſt; ſo there are that come to Chriſt, but not to God by him: of this Sort are they, who hearing that Chriſt is Saviour, therefore come to him for Pardon; but cannot abide to come to God by him, for that he is Holy, and ſo will ſnub their Luſts, and will change their Hearts and Natures. Mind me what I ſay: There are a great many that would be ſaved by Chriſt, but love not to be ſanctified by God thro' him. Theſe make a Stop at Chriſt, and will go no further; might ſuch have Pardon, they care not whether ever they went to Heaven or no. Of this kind of coming to Chriſt, I think it is, of which he warneth his Diſciples, when he ſaith, In that Day you ſhall ask me nothing: Verily, verily I ſay unto you, Whatſoever you ſhall ask the Father in my Name, he will give it you. As who ſhould ſay, when you ask for any thing, make not a Stop at me, but come to my Father by me: For they that come to me, and not to my Father through me, will have nothing of what they come for. Righteouſneſs ſhall be imputed to us, if we believe in him that raiſed up Jeſus our Lord from the Dead. To come to Chriſt for a Benefit, and ſtop there, and not come to God by him, prevaileth nothing. Here the Mother of Zebedee's Children erred; and about this it was that the Lord Jeſus cautioned her, Lord, ſaith ſhe, grant that theſe my two Sons may ſit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left in thy Kingdom.

Joh. 16. 23

Rom. 4. 24, 25.

Mat. 20, 21, 22, 23.

But what is the Anſwer of Chriſt? To ſit on my right Hand, and on my left, is not mine to give, but for whom it is prepared of my Father. As who ſhould ſay, Woman, of my ſelf I do nothing, my Father worketh with me. Go therefore to him by me, for I am the Way to him; what thou canſt obtain of him by me, thou ſhalt have; that is to ſay, what of the things that pertain to eternal Life, whether Pardon or Glory.

'Tis true, the Son has Power to give Pardon and Glory, but he gives it not by himſelf, but by, and according to the Will of his Father. They therefore that come to him for an eternal Good, and look not to the Father by him, come ſhort thereof; I mean now, Pardon and Glory.

Mat. 9. 6. Joh. 17. 22.

And hence, though it be ſaid the Son of Man hath Power on Earth to forgive Sins; to wit, to ſhew the Certainty of his Godhead, and of the Excellency of his Mediation; yet Forgiveneſs of Sin is ſaid to lie more particularly in the Hand of the Father, and that God for Chriſt's ſake forgiveth us.

Eph. 4. 32.

The Father, as we ſee, will not forgive, unleſs we come to him by the Son: why then ſhould we conceit that the Son will forgive thoſe that come not to the Father by him?

So then, juſtifying Righteouſneſs is in the Son, and with him alſo is Interceſſion; but Forgiveneſs is with the Father: yea, the Gift of the Holy Ghoſt, yea, and the Power of imputing of the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt is yet in the Hand of the Father. Hence Chriſt prays to the Father to forgive, prays to the Father to ſend the Spirit, and 'tis God that imputeth Righteouſneſs to Juſtification to us. The Father then doth nothing but for the ſake of and through the Son; the Son alſo doth nothing derogating from the Glory of the Father: But it would be a Derogation to the Glory of the Father, if the Son ſhould grant to ſave them that come not to the Father by him: Wherefore you that cry Chriſt, Chriſt, delighting yourſelves in the Thoughts of Forgiveneſs, but care not to come by Chriſt to the Father: For it you are not at all concerned in this bleſſed Text, for he only ſaves by his Interceſſion, them that come to God by him.

Luk. 23. 34. Joh. 14. 16 Rom. 4. 6.

There are three Sorts of People that may be ſaid to come to Chriſt, but not to God by him.

Firſt, They whoſe utmoſt Deſign in coming is, only that Guilt and Fear of Damning may be removed from them. And there are three Signs of ſuch a one.

1. He that takes up in a Belief of Pardon, and ſo goes on in his Courſe of Carnality, as he did before.

2. He whoſe Comfort in the Belief of Pardon, ſtandeth alone, without other Fruits of the Holy Ghoſt.

3. He that having been waſhed, can be content to tumble in the Mire as the Sow again, or as the Dog that did ſpue, to lick up his Vomit again.

Secondly, They may be ſaid to come to Chriſt, but not to God by him, who do pick and chuſe Doctrines, itching only after that
Mat. 5. 8. which ſounds of Grace: But ſecretly abhorring of that which preſſeth to moral Goodneſs. Theſe did never ſee God, what Notions ſoever they may have of the Lord Jeſus, and of Forgiveneſs from him.

3. They ſurely did never come to God by Chriſt, however they may boaſt of the Grace of Chriſt, that will from the Freeneſs of Goſpel Grace plead an Indulgence for Sin.

And now to ſpeak a few Words of coming to God, of coming, as the Text intends. And in ſpeaking to this, I muſt touch upon two things.

1. Concerning GOD.

2. Concerning the Frame of the Heart of him that comes to him.

Firſt, Of God. God is the chief Good. Good ſo as nothing is but himſelf. He is in himſelf moſt happy, yea all Good, and all true Happineſs is only to be found in God, as that which is eſſential to his Nature; nor is there any Good, or any Happineſs in or with any Creature, or Thing, but what is communicated to it by God. God is the only deſirable Good, nothing without him is worthy of our Hearts. Right Thoughts of God are able to raviſh the Heart; how much more happy is the Man, that has Intereſt in God. God alone is able by himſelf to put the Soul into a more bleſſed, comfortable and happy Condition, than can the whole World. Yea, and more, than if all the created Happineſs of all the Angels of Heaven did dwell in one Man's Boſom. God is the Upholder of all Creatures, and whatever they have that is a ſuitable good to their Kind, it is from God; by God all things have their Subſiſtence, and all the Good that they enjoy. I cannot tell what to ſay. I am drowned. The Life, the Glory, the Bleſſedneſs, the Soul-ſatisfying Goodneſs that is in God, is beyond all Expreſſion.

Secondly, Now there muſt be in us ſomething of a Suitableneſs of Spirit to this God, before we can be willing to come to him.

Before, therefore, God has been with a Man, and has left ſome Impreſſion of his Glory upon him, that Man cannot be willing to come to him aright. Hence 'tis ſaid concerning Abraham, that, in order to his coming to God (and following of him) aright, the Lord himſelf did ſhew himſelf unto him. Men, Brethren and Fathers,
Gen. 12. 1. hearken, The God of Glory appeared unto our Acts 7. 2, 3 Father Abraham, when he was in Meſopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran: And ſaid unto him, Get thee out of thy Country, and from thy Kindred, and come into the Land which I ſhall ſhew thee.

It was this God of Glory, the Sight and Viſions of this God of Glory, that provoked Abraham to leave his Country and Kindred to come after God. The Reaſon why Men are ſo careleſs of, and ſo indifferent about their coming to God, is becauſe they have their Eyes blinded, becauſe they do not perceive his Glory. God is ſo bleſſed a one, that did he not hide himſelf, and his Glory, the whole World would be raviſhed with him: But he has, I will not ſay, Reaſons of State, but Reaſons of Glory; glorious Reaſons, why he hideth himſelf from the World, and appeareth but to particular ones. Now by his thus appearing to Abraham, down fell Abraham's Vanity, and his idolatrous Fancies and Affections; and his Heart began to turn unto God, for that there was in this appearance an alluring and Soul-inſtructing Voice. Hence that which Moſes calls here an Joh. 6. 45.
appearing, Chriſt calls a hearing and a ver. 44.
teaching, and a learning. It is written in the Prophets, And they ſhall be all taught of God: Every man therefore that hath heard, and learned of the Father, cometh unto me. That is, to God by me. But, I ſay, what muſt they hear and learn of the Father, but that Chriſt is the Way to Glory, the Way to the God of Glory. This is a drawing Doctrine: Wherefore that which in this verſe is called, Teaching, and Learning, is called in the Verſe before, the Drawing of the Father. No man can come to me, except the Father which hath ſent me, draw him: that is, with powerful Propoſals, and alluring Concluſions, and heart ſubduing Influences.

Having thus touched upon this, we will now proceed to ſhew you what kind of people they are that come to God by Chriſt; and then ſhall draw ſome Inferences from this alſo.

There are therefore three ſorts of people, that come to God by Chriſt.

1. Men newly awakened.
2. Men turned back from backſliding.
3. The ſincere and upright Man.

Firſt, Men newly awakened. (By awakened, I mean awakened throughly.) So awakened as to be made to ſee themſelves, what they are; the World, what it is; the Law, what it is; Hell what it is; Death what it is; Chriſt what he is; and God, what he is, and alſo what Judgment is.

A Man that will come to God by Chriſt aright, muſt needs precedent to his ſo coming, have a competent Knowledge of things of this kind.

1. He muſt know himſelf, what a wretched and miſerable Sinner he is, before he will take one ſtep forward in order to his coming to God by Chriſt. This is plain from a great many Scriptures. As that Luke 15. of the Parable of the Prodigal, that of the Acts 2.
three thouſand, that of the Gaoler; and Ch. 16.
thoſe of many more beſides. The whole have have no need of the Phyſician. They were not the Sound, and Whole, but the Lame and Diſeaſed, that came to him to be cured of their Infirmities: And it is not the Righteous but the Sinners, that do well know themſelves to be ſuch, that come to God by Chriſt.

It is not in the Power of all the Men on Earth, to make one Man come to God by Chriſt, becauſe it is not in their Power to make Men ſee their State by Nature. And what ſhould a Man come to God for, that can live in the World without him? Reaſon ſays ſo, Experience ſays ſo, the Scripture beareth witneſs, that ſo it is of a truth. 'Tis a Sight of what I am, that muſt unrouſt me, that muſt ſhake my Soul, and make me leave my preſent Reſt. No Man comes to God by Chriſt, but he that knows himſelf, and what Sin hath done to him, that's the firſt.

Job. 21. 7, to 15.

Secondly, As he muſt know himſelf, and what a Wretch he is. So he muſt know the World, and what an empty thing it is. Cain did ſee himſelf, but ſaw not the Emptineſs of this World, and therefore inſtead of going to God by Chriſt, he went to the World, and there did take up to his dying Day. The World is a great Snare to the Soul, even to the Souls of awakened Sinners, by reaſon of its Big Looks, and the fair Promiſes that it makes to thoſe that will pleaſe to entertain it. 'Twill alſo make as though it could do as much to the quieting of the Spirit, as either Sermon, Bible, or Preacher. Yea, and it has its Followers ready at its Heels continually to blow its applauſe abroad, ſaying, Who will ſhew us any (other) Good; And though this their way is their folly, yet there Poſterity approveth their Sayings. So that unleſs a Man, under ſome Awakenings, ſees the Emptineſs of the world, he will take up in the good things thereof; and not come to God by Chriſt. Many there be now in Hell that can ſeal to this for truth: 'Twas the World that took awakened Cain, awakened Judas, awakened Demas. Yea Balaam, though he had ſome kind of viſions of God, yet was kept by the World from coming to him aright. See with what Earneſtneſs the Young Man in the Goſpel came to Jeſus Chriſt, and that for eternal Life. He ran to him, he kneeled down to him, and asked, and that before a Multitude, Good Maſter, what ſhall I do that I may inherit eternal Life? And yet when he was told; he could not come, the World ſoon ſtept betwixt that Life and him, and perſwaded him to take up in it ſelf, and ſo for ought we know he never looked after Life more.

Gen. 4. 16.

Pſal. 4. 6. Pſal. 49. 13.

Mark 10. 17, to 24.

There are four things in the World that have a Tendency to lull an awakened Man aſleep, if God alſo makes him not afraid of the World.

Luk. 8. 14. 1. There is the Buſtle and Cumber of the World, that will call a Man off from looking after the Salvation of his Soul. This is intimated by the Parable of the thorny Ground. Worldly Cumber is a deviliſh thing. 'Twill hurry a Man from his Bed, without Prayer: To a Sermon, and from it again, without Prayer. 'Twill choke Prayer, 'twill choke the Word, 'twill choke Convictions, 'twill choke the Soul, and cauſe that awakening ſhall be to no ſaving Purpoſe.

2. There is the Friendſhip of this World, to which if a Man is not mortified, there is no coming for him to God by Chriſt. And a Man can never be mortified to it, unleſs he ſhall ſee the Emptineſs and Vanity of it. Whoſoever makes himſelf a Friend of this World, is the Enemy of God. And how then can he come to him by Chriſt?

Jam. 4. 4.

3. There are the Terrors of the World, if a Man ſtands in fear of them, he alſo will not come to God by Chriſt. The Fear of Man brings a Snare. How many have in all Ages been kept from coming to God aright, by the Terrors of the World? Yea, how many are there to ones thinking, have almoſt got to the Gates of Heaven, and have been ſcared, and driven quite back again, by nothing but the Terrors of this World? This is that which Chriſt ſo cautioneth his Diſciples about, for he knew it was a deadly thing. Peter alſo bids the Saints beware of this, as of a thing very deſtructive.

Luke 12. 4, 5, 6. 1 Pet. 3. 14, 15.

4. There is alſo the Glory of the World, an abſolute Hindrance to Convictions and Awakenings: To wit, Honours and Greatneſs, and Preferments. How can ye believe, ſaid Chriſt, that receive Honour one of another, and ſeek not the Honour that cometh from God only. If therefore a Man is not in his Affections crucified to theſe, it will keep him from coming to God aright.

Joh. 5. 44.

Thirdly, As a Man muſt know himſelf, how vile he is, and know the World, how ſevere it is: So he muſt know the Law, how empty it is. Elſe he will not come to God by Jeſus Chriſt our Lord.

A Man that is under Awakenings, is under a double Danger of falling ſhort of coming to God by Chriſt. If he knows not the Severity of the Law,

1. He is either in Danger of ſlighting its Penalty, or,

2. Of ſeeking to make Amends to it, by doing of good Works. And nothing can keep him from ſplitting his Soul upon one of theſe two Rocks, but a ſound Knowledge of the Severity of the Law.

Firſt, He is in Danger of ſlighting the Penalty. This is ſeen by the Practice of all the Profane in the World. Do they not know the Law? Verily many of them can ſay the Ten Commandments without Book. But they do not know the Severity of the Law; and therefore when at any time Awakenings come upon their Conſciences, they ſtrive to drive away the Guilt of one Sin, by wallowing in the Filth of another.

But

But would they do thus if they knew the Severity of the Law? they would as ſoon eat Fire. The Severity of the Law would be an intolerable, unſupportable Burden to their Conſciences. It would drive them, and make them fly for Refuge to lay hold on the Hope ſet before them.

Secondly, Or if he ſlights not the Penalty, he will ſeek to make amends to it, by doing of good Works, for the Sins he has committed. This is manifeſt by the Practice of the Jews and Turks, and all that ſwerve on that hand; to wit, to ſeek Life and Happineſs by the Law. Paul alſo was here, before he met with Jeſus in the way. This is natural to Conſciences that are awakened, unleſs alſo they have given to them to ſee the true Severity of the Law. The which that thou mayſt do, if my Mite will help, I will caſt in for thy Conviction theſe four things:

Firſt, The Law charges thee with its Curſe, as well for the Pollution of thy Nature, as for the Defilements of thy Life; yea, and if thou hadſt never committed ſinful Act, thy Pollution of Nature muſt ſtand in thy way to Life, if thou comeſt not to God for Mercy by Chriſt.

Prov. 24. 9 Secondly, The Law takes Notice of (and chargeth thee with its Curſe, as well for) ſinful Thoughts, as for vile and ſinful Actions. The very Thought of Fooliſhneſs is Sin, tho' it never breaks out into Act, and will as ſurely merit the Damnation of the Soul, as will the greateſt Tranſgreſſion in the World.

Thirdly, If now thou couldeſt keep all the Commandments, That will do thee no good at all, becauſe thou haſt ſinned firſt: The Soul that ſinneth ſhall die. Unleſs then thou canſt endure the Curſe, and ſo in a legal way, overcome it for the Sins that thou haſt committed: Thou art gone if thou comeſt not to God by Chriſt for Mercy and Pardon.

Fourthly, And never think of Repentance, thereby to ſtop the Mouth of the Law, for the Law calleth not for Repentance, but Life; nor will it accept of any, ſhouldſt thou mourn and weep for thy Sins till thou haſt made a Sea of Blood with Tears. This, I ſay, thou muſt know, or thou wilt not come to God by Chriſt for Life. For the Knowledge of this will cauſe that thou ſhalt neither ſlight the Severity of the Law, nor truſt to the Works thereof for Life. Now when thou doeſt neither of theſe, thou canſt not but ſpeed thee to God by Chriſt for Life: for now thou haſt no Stay; Pleaſures are gone, all Hope in thy ſelf is gone. Thou now dieſt, and that is the way to live: for this inward Death is, or feels like an hunger-bitten Stomach, that cannot but crave and gape for Meat and Drink. Now 'twill be as poſſible for thee to ſleep with thy Finger in the Fire, as to forbear craving of Mercy, ſo long as this Knowledge remains.

Fifthly, As a Man muſt know himſelf, the Emptineſs of this World, and the Law; ſo it is neceſſary for him to know that there is a Hell, and how unſupportable the Torments of it are: for all Threatnings, Curſes, and Determinations to puniſh in the next World, will prove but Fictions and Scarecrows, if there be no woful Place (no woful State) for the Sinner to receive his Wages in for Sin, when his Days are ended in this World. Wherefore this Word [Saved] ſuppoſeth ſuch a Place and State. He is able to ſave from Hell! from the woful Place, from the woful State of Hell, them that come unto God by him.

Chriſt therefore often inſinuates the Truth of an Hell, in his Invitations to the Sinners of this World to come to him? as where he tells them, they ſhall be ſaved if they do; they ſhall be damned if they do not. As if he had ſaid, There is a Hell, a terrible Hell, and they that come to me I will ſave them from it; but they that come not, the Law will damn them in it. Therefore that thou mayſt indeed come to God by Chriſt for Mercy, believe there is a Hell, a woful terrible Place: Hell is God's Creature, he hath made it deep and large! the Puniſhments are by the Laſhes of his Wrath, which will iſſue from his Mouth like a Stream of burning Brimſtone, ever kindling it ſelf upon the Soul. Thou muſt know this by the Word, and fly from it, or thou ſhalt know it by thy Sins, and lie and cry in it. Iſa. 30. 33.

I might inlarge, but if I did I ſhould be ſwallowed up: for we are, while here, no more able to ſet forth the Torments of Hell, than we are (while here) to ſet forth the Joys of Heaven; only this may and ought to be ſaid, That God is able, as to ſave, ſo to caſt into Hell. And as he is able to make Heaven ſweet, good, pleaſurable and glorious beyond thought; ſo he is able to make the Torments of Hell ſo exquiſite, ſo hot, ſo ſharp, ſo intolerable that no Tongue can utter it, no not the damned in Hell themſelves. If thou loveſt thy Soul, ſlight not the Knowledge of Hell, for that, with the Law, are the Spurs which Chriſt uſeth to prick Souls forward to himſelf withal. What is the Cauſe that Sinners can play ſo delightfully with Sin? It is for that they forget that there is a Hell for them to deſcend into for their ſo doing when they go out of this World. For here uſually he gives our ſtop to a ſinful courſe; we perceive that Hell hath opened her Mouth before us. Leſt thou ſhouldſt forget, I beſeech thee, another time, to retain the Knowledge of Hell in thine Underſtanding, and apply the burning-hot Thoughts thereof to thy Conſcience; this is one way to make thee gather up thy Heels and mend thy Pace in thy coming to Jeſus Chriſt, and to God the Father by him. Luk. 12. 5. Iſa. 64. 4

Sixthly, 'Tis alſo neceſſary, that he that cometh cometh to God by the Lord Jeſus, ſhould know what Death is, and the Uncertainty of its Approaches upon us. Death is, as I may call it, The Feller, the Cutter down. Heb. 11. 13. Death is that that puts a Stop to a further living here, and that which lays Man where 1 Theſ. 4. 14. it finds him: If he is in the Faith in Jeſus, Job 29. 11 it lays him down there to ſleep, till the Lord comes: If he be not in the Faith, it lays him down in his Sins, 'till the Lord comes. Again, If thou haſt ſome Beginnings that look like good, and Death ſhould overtake thee before thoſe Beginnings are ripe, thy Fruit will wither, and thou wilt fall ſhort of being gathered into God's Barn. Job 24. 20, 24. Some Men are cut off like the Tops of the Ears of Corn, and ſome are even nipped Job 5. 26. by Death, in the very Bud of their Spring; but the Safety is, when a Man is ripe, and ſhall be gathered to his Grave, as a Shock of Corn to the Barn in its Seaſon.

Now if Death ſhould ſurpriſe and ſeize thee before thou art fit to die, all's loſt: For there is no Repentance in the Grave; or rather as the wiſe Man has it, whatſoever Eccl. 9. 10 thy Hand findeth to do, do it with all thy Might; for there is no Work, nor Device, nor Knowledge, nor Wiſdom in the Grave whither thou goeſt.

Death is God's Serjeant, God's Bailiff, and he arreſts in God's Name when he comes; but ſeldom gives warning before he clappeth us on the Shoulder: And when he arreſts us, though he may ſtay a little while, and give us leave to pant, and tumble, and toſs our ſelves for a while upon a Bed of languiſhing; yet at laſt he will prick our Bladder, and let out our Life, and then our Soul will be poured upon the Ground; yea, into Hell, if we are not ready and prepared for the Life Everlaſting. He that doth not watch for, and is not afraid leaſt Death ſhould prevent him, will not make haſte to God by Chriſt. What Job ſaid of temporal Afflictions, ſuch an one will Death be, if thou art not aware: When I looked Job 30. 26, 27. for good, evil came ------ The Days of affliction prevented me. If thou lookeſt, or beginneſt to look for good, and the Day of Death ſhall cut thee off before thou haſt found that good thou lookeſt for; all's loſt, Soul, and Life, and Heaven, and All. Wherefore it is convenient that thou conclude, the Grave is thy Houſe, and that thou make thy Bed once a Day, in the Grave: Job 17. 13, 14. Alſo, that thou ſay unto Corruption, Thou art my Father, and to the Worm, thou art my Mother and my Siſter. I ſay be acquainted with the Grave and Death. The Fool puts the evil Day far away; but the wiſe Man brings it nigh. Better be ready to die ſeven Years before Death comes, than want one Day, one Hour, one Moment, one Tear, one ſorrowful Sigh at the Remembrance of the ill-ſpent Life that I have lived. This then is that which I admoniſh thee of, namely; That thou know Death, what it is, what it doth when it comes. Alſo, that thou conſider well of the Danger that Death leaves that Man in, to whom he comes before he is ready and prepared to be laid by it in the Grave.

Sixthly, Thou muſt alſo be made by thy Awakenings to ſee what Chriſt is. This is of abſolute Neceſſity: For how can or ſhall a Man be willing to come to Chriſt, that knows not what he is, what God has appointed him to do? He is the Saviour, every Man will ſay ſo; but to Senſe, Smell, and Taſte, what ſaving is, and ſo to underſtand the Nature of the Office and Work of a Saviour, is a rare Thing, kept cloſe from moſt, known but by ſome. Jeſus of Naza- Col. 1. 19, 20, 21. reth is the Saviour, or the Reconciler of Men to God, in the Body of his Fleſh through Death. This is he whoſe Buſineſs in coming from Heaven to Earth, was to ſave his People from their Sins. Now, as was ſaid, to know how he doth this, is that which is needful to be enquired into: For ſome ſay he doth it one Way, ſome he doth it another; (and it muſt be remembred, that we are now ſpeaking of the Salvation of that Man that from new, or firſt Awakenings, is coming to God by Chriſt for Life.)

1. Some ſay he doth it, by giving of us Precepts and Laws to keep, that we might be juſtified thereby.

2. Some ſay that he doth it by ſetting himſelf a Pattern for us to follow him.

3. Some again hold, that he doth it by our following the Light within.

But thou muſt take heed of all theſe, for Rom. 5. 7, 8, 9. Eph. 1. 7. Rev. 1. 5. he juſtifies us by none of theſe Means, (and thou doſt need to be juſtified;) I ſay, he juſtifieth us not either by giving Laws unto us, or by becoming our Example, or by our following of him in any ſenſe, but by his Blood ſhed for us; his Blood is not Laws, nor Ordinances, nor Commandments, but a Price, a redeeming Price. He juſtifies us, by beſtowing upon us, not by expecting from us. He juſtifies us by his Grace, not by our Works. In a Word, thou muſt be well grounded in the Knowledge of what Chriſt is, and how Men are juſtified by him, or thou wilt not come unto God by him.

As thou muſt know him, and how Men are juſtified by him, ſo thou muſt know the readineſs that is in him to receive and to do for thoſe, what they need, that come unto God by him. Suppoſe his Merits were never ſo efficacious, yet if it could be proved that there is a lothneſs in him that theſe Merits ſhould be beſtowed upon the coming ones, there would but few adventure to wait upon him. But now, as he is full, he is free. Nothing pleaſes him better, than to give what he has away; than to beſtow it upon the poor and needy. And it will be convenient that thou, who art a coming Soul, ſhouldſt know this for thy Comfort, to encourage thee to come to God by him. Take two or three Sayings of his for the confirming of what is now ſaid:

Mat. 11. 28. Come unto me all ye that labour, and are heavy laden, and I will give you Reſt.

Joh. 6. 37. All that the Father giveth me, ſhall come to me; and him that comes to me, I will in no wiſe caſt out.

Mar. 2. 17. 1 Tim. 1. 15. I am not come to call the Righteous, but Sinners to Repentance. This is a faithful Saying, and worthy of all Acceptation, that Chriſt Jeſus came into the World to ſave Sinners; of whom I am chief.

Seventhly, As a Man that would come to God by Chriſt, muſt Antecedent to his ſo coming, know himſelf what he is; the World, how empty it is; the Law, how ſevere it is; Death, and what it is; and Chriſt, and what he is: So alſo he muſt know God,

Heb. 11. 6. He that cometh to God, muſt believe that he is, and that he is a Rewarder of thoſe that diligently ſeek him. God muſt know, elſe how can the Sinner propound him as his End, his ultimate End? For ſo doth every one that indeed doth come to Chriſt aright: He comes to Chriſt, becauſe he is the Way; he comes to God, becauſe he is the End. But, I ſay, if he knows him not, how can he propound him as the End? The End is that, for the ſake of which I propound to my ſelf any Thing, and for the ſake of which I uſe any means. Now then, I would be ſaved; but why? Even becauſe I would enjoy God. I uſe the Means to be ſaved, and why? Becauſe I would enjoy God. I am ſenſible that Sin has made me come ſhort of the Glory of God,

Rom. 3. 23 Ch. 5. 1, 2. and that Chriſt Jeſus is he, the only he, that can put me into a Condition of obtaining the Glory of God: and therefore I come to God by him.

But, I ſay, again, who will propound God for his End, that knows him not, that knows him not aright? yea, that knows him not to be worth being propounded as my End, in coming to Jeſus Chriſt: and he that thus knows him, muſt know him to be above all, beſt of all, and him in whom the Soul ſhall find that Content, that Bliſs, that Glory and Happineſs, that can by no Means be found elſewhere. And, I ſay, if this be not found in God, the Soul will never propound him to himſelf as the only, higheſt and ultimate End in its coming to Jeſus Chriſt. But it will propound ſomething elſe, even what it ſhall imagine to be the beſt good: perhaps Heaven; perhaps Eaſe from Guilt; perhaps to be kept out of Hell, or the like. I do not ſay, but a Man may propound all theſe to himſelf in his coming to Jeſus Chriſt; but if he propounded theſe as his ultimate End, as the chiefeſt good that he ſeeks: If the Preſence and Enjoyment of God, of God's glorious Majeſty, be not his chief Deſign, he is not concerned in the Salvation that is propounded in our Text. He is able, and ſo will ſave to the uttermoſt them that come unto [God] by him.

What's Heaven without God? what's Eaſe without the Peace and Enjoyment of God? What's Deliverance from Hell, without the Enjoyment of God? The propounding therefore theſe, and only theſe, to thy ſelf for thy Happineſs, in thy coming to Jeſus Chriſt, is a Propoſal not a hair's breadth higher than what a Man without Grace can propound. What, or who is he that would not go to Heaven? What, or who is he that would not alſo have Eaſe from the Guilt of Sin? And where is the Man that chuſeth to go to Hell? But many there be that cannot abide God; no, they like not to go to Heaven, becauſe God is there. If the Devil had a Heaven to beſtow upon Men, a vicious and a beaſtly Heaven, (if it be lawful thus to ſpeak,) I durſt pawn my Soul upon it, were it a thouſand Times better than it is, that upon a bare Invitation, the Soul Fiend would have twenty to God's one. They, I ſay, cannot abide God; nay, for all the Devil has nothing but a Hell for them, yet how thick Men go to him, but how thinly to God Almighty. The Nature of God lieth croſs to the Luſts of Men. A Holy God, a glorious Holy God, an infinitely Holy God; this ſpoils all. But to the Soul that is awakened, and that is made to ſee Things as they are, to him God is what he is in himſelf, the bleſſed, the higheſt, the only eternal Good, and he without the Enjoyment of whom, all Things would ſound but emptily in the Ears of that Soul.

Now then, I adviſe thee, that haſt a Mind to come to God by Chriſt, that thou ſeek the Knowledge of God. If thou ſeekeſt Wiſdom, as Silver, and ſearcheſt for her as for hid Treaſures; then ſhalt thou underſtand the Fear of the Lord, and find the Knowledge of God.

And to encourage thee yet further, he is ſo deſirous of Communion with Men, that he pardoneth Sins for that. Hence he is called, not only Loving, but Love. God is Love; and he that dwelleth in Love, dwelleth in God, and God in him. 1 Joh. 4. 16.

Methinks when I conſider what Glory there is, at Times, upon the Creatures, and that all their Glory is the Workmanſhip of God; O Lord, ſay I, what is God himſelf! He may well be called the God of Glory, as well as the Glorious Lord: for as all Glory is from him, ſo in him is an inconceivable Well-Spring of Glory, of Glory to be communicated to them that come by Chriſt to him. Wherefore let the Glory, and Love, and Bliſs, and eternal Happineſs that is in God, allure thee to come to him by Chriſt.

Eighthly, As thou ſhouldſt, nay muſt, have a good Knowledge of all theſe, ſo thou muſt have it of Judgment to come. They that come to God by Chriſt, are ſaid to fly from the Wrath to come: To fly for Refuge; to lay hold on the Hope ſet before them. Mat. 3. 7.

This Judgment to come, is a warm Thing

Thing to be thought of, an awakening Thing to be thought of: It is called the Eternal Judgment, becauſe it is, and will be, God's final Concluſion with Men. This Acts 2.20. Day is called the great and notable Day of the Lord, the Day that ſhall burn like an
Mal. 4.1. Oven; the Day in which the Angels ſhall gather the Wicked together, as Tares into Bundles, to burn them; but the reſt into his Kingdom and Glory. This Day will be it, in which all Bowels of Love and Compaſſion ſhall be ſhut up to the Wicked, and that in which the Flood-gates of Wrath ſhall be opened, by which ſhall a plentiful
Pſ. 31.22. Reward be given to Evil-doers, but Glory to the Righteous. This is the Day in which Men, if they could, would creep into the Ground for fear; but becauſe they cannot, therefore they will call and cry to the Mountains to fall upon them, but they ſhall not: Therefore they ſtand bound to bear their Judgment.

This Day will be the Day of breaking
Eccl. 12. 14. up of Cloſet-Councils, Cabinet-Councils, Secret-Purpoſes, hidden Thoughts; yea, God ſhall bring every Work into Judgment with every ſecret Thing; I ſay he ſhall do
1 Cor. 4. 5. it then. For he will both bring to Light the hidden Things of Darkneſs, and will make manifeſt the Councils of the Heart. This is the Day that is appointed to put them to Shame and Contempt in, that have, in this World, been bold and audacious in their vile and beaſtly Ways. At this Day God will cover all ſuch bold and brazen Faces with Shame. Now they will bluſh till the Blood is ready to burſt through their
Dan. 12.2. Cheeks: O the Confuſion and Shame that will cover their Faces, while God is diſcovering to them what a naſty, what a beaſtly, what an uncomely, and what an unreaſonable Life they lived in the World. They ſhall now ſee they contemned God that fed them, that cloathed them, that gave them Life and Limb, and that maintained their Breath in their Noſtrils. But Oh! when they ſee the Gulph before them, and all Things ready to receive them in thither, then, then, they will know what ſinning againſt God means.

And, I ſay, Thou that art for coming to God by Chriſt, muſt know this, and be well aſſured of this, or thou wilt never come to God by him.

What of the Glory of God ſhall be put upon them that do indeed come to him, will alſo help in this ſpiritual Journey, if it be well conſidered by thee: But perhaps, Terror and Unbelief will ſuffer thee to conſider but little of that. However the Things
Eccl. 12. 10, 11. aforementioned will be Goads: And will ſerve to prick thee forward: And if they do ſo, they will be God's great Bleſſing unto thee, and that for which thou wilt give him thy Thanks for ever.

Thus I have in few Words, ſpoken ſomething as to the firſt ſort of Comers to God by Chriſt; namely, of the coming of the newly awkened Man. And I ſay again, if any of the Things aforenamed be wanting, and are not with his Heart, 'tis a Queſtion whether notwithſtanding all the Noiſe that he may make about Religion, he will ever come to God by Chriſt.

1. If he knows not himſelf and the Badneſs of his Condition, wherefore ſhould he come?

2. If he knows not the World, and the Emptineſs and Vanity thereof, wherefore ſhould he come?

3. If he knows not the Law, and the Severity thereof, wherefore ſhould he come?

4. If he knows not Hell, and the Torments thereof, wherefore ſhould he come?

5. If he knows not what Death is, wherefore ſhould he come?

6. And if he knows not the Father and the Son, how can he come?

7. And to know that there is a Judgment to come, is as neceſſary to his coming as moſt of the reſt of the Things propounded. Coming to God by Chriſt, is for Shelter, for Safety, for Advantage, and everlaſting Happineſs. But he that knows not, that underſtands not the Things aforementioned, ſees not his Need of taking Shelter, of flying for Safety, of coming for Advantage to God by Chriſt. I know there are Degrees of this Knowledge, and he that has it moſt warm upon him, in all Likelyhood will make moſt Haſte; or, as David ſaith, will haſten his Eſcape from the windy Storm and Tempeſt: And he that Pſal. 55.8. 1 Cor. 9. 24, 25, 26. 2 Tim. 2. 4, 5. ſees leaſt, is in moſt Danger of being the Loiterer, and ſo of loſing the Prize. For all that run do not obtain it; all that fight do not win it; and all that ſtrive for it have it not.

Secondly, I ſhall now come to the ſecond Man mentioned, to wit, the Man that is turning back from his Backſliding, and ſpeak ſomething alſo about his coming again to God by Chriſt.

There are two Things remarkable in the returning of a Backſlider to God by Chriſt.

1. The firſt is, he gives a ſecond Teſtimony to the Truth of all Things ſpoken of before.

2. He alſo gives a ſecond Teſtimony of the Neceſſity of coming to God by Chriſt.

Of the Manner of his coming to God by Chriſt, perhaps I alſo may ſpeak a Word or two. But,

Firſt, The returning again of the Backſlider, gives a ſecond Teſtimony to the Truth of Man's State being by Nature miſerable, of the Vanity of this World: Of the Severity of the Law, Certainty of Death, and Terribleneſs of Judgment to come. His firſt coming told them ſo, but his ſecond coming tells them ſo with a double Confirmation of the Truth. It is ſo, ſaith his firſt coming, coming. Oh! it is ſo ſaith his ſecond. The Backſliding of a Chriſtian comes through the over much perſuading of Satan and Luſt; that the Man was miſtaken, and that there was no ſuch horror in the Things from which he fled; nor ſo much good in the Things to which he haſted. Turn again Fool, ſays the Devil, turn again to thy former Courſe. I wonder what Frenzy it was that drove thee to thy Heels, and that made thee leave ſo much good behind thee, as other Men find in the Luſts of the Fleſh, and the good of the World. As for the Law, and Death, and an Imagination of the Day of Judgment, they are but meer Scare-Crows, ſet up by politick Heads, to keep the ignorant in Subjection, Well, ſays the Backſlider, I will go back again and ſee: So fool, as he is, he goes back, and has all Things ready to entertain him, his Conſcience ſleeps, the World ſmiles, Fleſh is ſweet, Carnal Company compliments him, and all that can be got is preſented to this Backſlider to accommodate him. But behold he doth again begin to ſee his own Nakedneſs, and he perceives that the Law is whetting his Ax: As for the World, he perceives 'tis a Bubble, he alſo ſmells the ſmell of Brimſtone, for God hath ſcattered it upon his Tabernacle, and it begins to burn within him. Oh! ſaith he, I am deluded, Oh! I am enſnared. My firſt Sight of Things was true. I ſee it is ſo again. Now he begins to be for flying again to his firſt Refuge; O God, ſaith he, I am undone, I have turned from thy Truth to Lies! I believed them ſuch at firſt, and find them ſuch at laſt; Have Mercy upon me, O God.

Job 18.15

This, I ſay, is a Teſtimony, a ſecond Teſtimony by the ſame Man; as to the miſerable State of Man, the ſeverity of the Law, the emptineſs of the World, the certainty of Death, and the terribleneſs of Judgment. This Man has ſeen it, and ſeen it again.

A returning Backſlider is a great Bleſſing (I mean intended to be ſo) to two Sorts of Men.

1. To the Elect uncalled.

2. To the Elect that are called, and that at preſent ſtand their Ground. The uncalled are made to hear him, and conſider; the called are made to hear him, and are afraid of falling. Behold therefore the Myſtery of God's Wiſdom, and how willing he is that Spectators ſhould be warned and made take heed. Yea, he will permit that ſome of his own ſhall fall into the Fire, to convince the World that Hell is hot; and to warn their Brethren to take heed that they ſlip not with their Feet. I have often ſaid in my Heart, that this was the Cauſe why God ſuffered ſo many of the believing Jews to fall, to wit, that the Gentiles might take heed. O Brethren, ſaith the Backſlider that is returned, did you ſee how I left my God? did you ſee how I turned again to thoſe Vanities from which ſometime before I fled? Oh! I was deluded, I was bewitched, I was deceived: For I found all Things from which I fled at firſt, ſtill worſe by far when I went to them the ſecond Time. Do not backſlide. Oh! do not backſlide. The firſt Ground of your departing from them was good, never tempt God a ſecond Time.

2dly, And as he give us a ſecond Teſtimony that the World and himſelf are ſo as at firſt he believed they were; ſo by this his returning, he teſtifies that God and Chriſt are the ſame, and much more than ever he believed at firſt they were. This Man has made a Proof before and a Proof after Conviction, of the evil of the one, and good of the other. This Man has made a Proof by feeling and ſeeing, and that before and after Grace received. This Man God has ſet up to be a Witneſs: This Man is two Men, has the Teſtimony of two Men, muſt ſerve in the Place of two Men: He knows what it is to be fetched from a State of Nature by Grace; but this all Chriſtians know as well as he. Ay, but he knows what it is to be fetched from the World, from the Devil, and Hell, the ſecond Time; and that but few Profeſſors know: For few that fall away, return to God again. Ay, but this Man is come again, wherefore there is News in his Mouth, ſad News, dreadful News, and News that is to make the ſtanding Saint to take heed leaſt he fall. The returning Backſlider therefore is a rare Man, a Man of Worth and Intelligence, a Man to whom the Men of the World ſhould flock, and of whom they ſhould learn to fear the Lord God. He alſo is a Man of whom the Saints ſhould receive both Caution, Counſel and Strength in their preſent Standing; and that ſhould, by his Harms, learn to ſerve the Lord with fear, and to rejoyce with trembling.

Heb. 6. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5

1 Cor. 10. 6, to 13. Pſal. 51. 11, 12, 13. Luke 22. 32.

This Man has the ſecond Time alſo had a Proof of God's goodneſs in his Chriſt unto him, a Proof which the ſtanding Chriſtian has not, (I would not tempt him that ſtands, to fall) but the good that a returning Backſlider has received at God's Hands, and at the Hand of Chriſt, is a double good, he has been converted twice, fetcht from the World and from the Devil, and from himſelf twice. Oh Grace! and has been made to know the Stability of God's Covenant, the Unchangeableneſs of God's Mind, the ſure and laſting Truth of his Promiſe in Chriſt, and of the Sufficiency of the Merits of Chriſt, over and over.

OF the manner of this Man's coming to God by Chriſt, I ſhall alſo ſpeak a Word or two.

He comes as the new awakened Sinner comes, and that from the ſame Motives, and the Knowledge of Things, as he hath over and above (which he had as good have been been without) that which the newly awakened Sinner has not; to wit, the Guilt of his backſliding, which is a Guilt of a worſe Complexion, of a deeper Dye, and of a heavier Nature than is any Guilt elſe in the World. He is alſo attended with Fears and Doubts that ariſe from other Reaſons and Conſiderations, than do the Doubts and Fears of the newly awakened Man. Doubts built upon the Vileneſs of his backſliding. He has alſo more dreadful Scriptures to conſider of, and they will look more wiſhfully in his Face; (yea, and will alſo make him take Notice of their grim Phyſiognomy) than has the newly awakened Man. Beſides, as a Puniſhment of his backſliding, God ſeems to withdraw the

Pſ. 51.10. ſweet Influences of his Spirit, and is as if he would not ſuffer him to pray, nor to repent any more: As if he would now take take all away from him, and leave him to Prov. 14. 14. thoſe Luſts and Idols, that he left his God to follow. Swarms of his new Rogueries ſhall haunt him in every Place, and that not only in the Guilt, but in the Filth and Pollution of them. None knows the Things that haunt a Backſlider's Mind, his new Sins are all turned talking Devils, threatning Devils, roaring Devils, within him. Beſides, he doubts of the Truth of his firſt Converſion, conſequently he has it lying upon him, as a ſtrong Suſpicion, that there was nothing of Truth in all his firſt Experience; and this alſo adds Lead to his Heels, and makes him come, as to Senſe and Feeling, more heavy, and with the greater Difficulty to God by Chriſt. As Faithfulneſs of other Men kills him, he can ſee not an honeſt, humble, holy, faithful Servant of God, but he is pierced and wounded at the Heart. Ay, ſays he, within himſelf, that Man fears God, that Man hath faithfully follow'd God, that Man like the Elect Angels, has kept his Place; but I am fallen from my Station like a Devil. That Man honoureth God, edifieth the Saints, convinceth the World, and condemneth them, and is become Heir of the Righteouſneſs which is by Faith. But I have diſhonoured God, ſtumbled, and grieved Saints, made the World blaſpheme, and, for ought I know, been the Cauſe of the Damnation of many. Theſe are the Things, I ſay, together with many more of the ſame Kind, that come with him; yea, they will come with him; yea, and will ſtare him in the Face, will tell him of his Baſeneſs, and laugh him to Scorn, all the Way that he is coming to God by Chriſt; (I know what I ſay) and this makes his coming to God by Chriſt
Rom. 11.2 hard and difficult to him. Beſides he thinks Saints will be aware of him, will be ſhy of him, will be afraid to truſt him, yea, will tell his Father of him, and make Interceſ-
Mat. 18. 31. ſion againſt him, as Elias did againſt Iſrael, or as the Men did that were Fellow-Servants with him that took his Brother by the Throat. Shame covereth his Face all the Way he comes. He doth not know what to do: The God he is returning to, is the God that he has ſlighted, the God before whom he has preferred the vileſt Luſt: And he knows God knows it, and has before him all his Ways. The Man that has been a Backſlider, and is returning to God, can tell ſtrange Stories, and yet ſuch as are very true. No Man was in the Whale's Belly, and came out again alive, but backſliding and returning Jonah: Conſequently, no Man could tell how he was there, what he felt there, what he ſaw there, and what Workings of Heart he had when he was there, ſo well as he.

Thirdly, I come now to the third Man, to wit, to the ſincere, and upright Man, that cometh to God by Chriſt. (And although this may in ſome Senſe be applicable to the two former, for his coming is not worthy to be counted coming to God, that is, not in Sincerity and Uprightneſs) Yet by ſuch an one I now mean, one that has been called to the Faith, and that has in ſome good Meaſure of Sincerity and Uprightneſs therein abode with God.

This Man alſo comes to God by Chriſt: but his coming is to be diſtinguiſhed, I mean in the main of it from the coming of the other two.

The other come for the Knowledge of forgiveneſs, a thing that the Upright and Faithful Chriſtian for the moſt Part has a comfortable Faith of, and that for which he is often helped to give Thanks to God. I do not ſay he doubteth not, or that he has not his Evidences ſometimes clouded. Nor do I ſay that the Knowledge of his Reconciliation to God by Chriſt Jeſus is ſo high, ſo firm, ſo fixed, and ſtedfaſt, that it cannot be ſhaken, or that he needs no more. I will then explain my ſelf. He comes not to God as an unconverted Sinner comes: he comes not as a Backſlider comes when he is returning to God from his backſlidings; but he comes as a Son, as one of the Houſhould of God, and he comes as one that has not ſince Correction, wickedly departed from his God.

1. He then comes to God with that Rom. 5. 2, acceſs and godly Boldneſs that is only 3. proper to ſuch as himſelf: That is, to them that walk with God. Thus every one that ſhall be ſaved, doth not do: Thus every one that ſhall be ſaved, cannot do. To inſtance the two ſpoken of before.

2. He comes to God by Chriſt conſtant- Pſal. 27. 4. ly by Prayer, by Meditation, by every Ordinance: For therefore he maketh uſe of Ordinances, becauſe by them, through Chriſt, he getteth into the Preſence of God.

3. He comes to God through Chriſt, becauſe he judgeth that God only is that Good, that Bleſſedneſs, that Happineſs that is worth looking after: That Good, and that Bleſſedneſs that alone can fill the Soul to the Brim. That Good and that Happineſs that is worthy of our Hearts and Souls and Spirits. Hence David expreſſeth his coming to God by Panting, by Thirſting, by Tears, ſaying, My ſoul panteth after thee, O God. And again, My ſoul thirſteth for God, for the living God, when ſhall I come and appear before God? And again, I will go to the Altar of God, unto God, my exceeding Joy. And hence it was that he ſo envied the Swallow and Sparrow, even becauſe they could come to the Altar of God, where he had promiſed to give his Preſence, when he, as I think, by the Rage of Saul was forced to abide remote. My ſoul longeth, ſaith he, even fainteth for the Courts of the Lord: my heart and my Fleſh cryeth out for the living God. Yea, the Sparrow hath found an Houſe, and the Swallow a Neſt for her ſelf, where ſhe may lay her Young, even thine Altar, O Lord of Hoſts, my King, and my God. Bleſſed be they that dwell in thy Houſe, they will be ſtill praiſing thee. Then after a few more Words he ſaith, for a Day in thy Courts is better than a thouſand. I had rather be a Door keeper? I would chuſe rather to ſit at the Threſhold of thy houſe, than dwell in the Tents of wickedneſs. And then renders the Reaſons: For the Lord is a Sun and a Shield, the Lord gives Grace and Glory, &c.

Pſal.42.1, 2. Pſal.43.4. Pſal. 84.

The Preſence of God, and the Glory and ſoul-raviſhing Goodneſs of that Preſence, is a thing that the World underſtands not, nor can they, as ſuch, deſire to know what it is.

4. Theſe good Men come to God upon other Accounts alſo: for ſo it is, that they have many Concerns with God.

1. They come to him for a more clear Diſcovery of themſelves to themſelves. For they deſire to know how frail they are, becauſe the more they know that, the more they are engaged in their Souls to take heed to their Ways, and to fear leſt they ſhould tempt their God to leave them.

Pſal. 39.1, 2, 3.

2. They come to God by Chriſt, for the weakening of their Luſts and Corruptions. For they are a Sore, yea, a Plague to a truly ſanctified Soul. Thoſe, to be rid of which, if it might be, a godly Man chuſeth rather to die than to live. This David did mean, when he cried, Create in me a clean Heart, O God, and renew a right Spirit within me. And Paul, when he cried out, O wretched Man that I am, who ſhall deliver me from the Body of this Death.

Pſal.51.10

3. They come to God by Chriſt for the renewing and ſtrengthening of their Graces. The Graces that the Godly have received, are, and they feel they are, ſubject to Decay, yea, they cannot live without a continual Supply of Grace. This is the Meaning of that, Let us have Grace, and, Let us come boldly to the Throne of Grace, that we may obtain Grace, and find Mercy to help in time of Need.

Heb.4.16.

4. They come to God by Chriſt, to be helped againſt thoſe Temptations that they may meet withal. They know that every new Temptation has a new Snare, and a new Evil in it: but what Snare, and what Evil, that at preſent they know not: but they know their God knows, and can deliver out of Temptation when we are in, and keep us out while we are out.

Mat.6.13.

5. They come to God by Chriſt, for a Bleſſing upon that Means of Grace which God has afforded for the Succour of the Soul, and the Building of it up in the Faith. Knowing that as the Means, ſo a Bleſſing upon it is from God. And for this they have Encouragement, becauſe God has ſaid, I will abundantly bleſs her Proviſion, and ſatisfy her Poor with Bread.

2 Theſ.3.1. Pſal.132. 15. Pſal.19.12

6. They come to God by Chriſt, for the Forgiveneſs of daily Infirmities, and for the continuing them in the Light of his Countenance, notwithſtanding. Thus he alſo would always accept them and their Services, and grant that an Anſwer of Peace may be returned from their Father into their Boſoms: For this is the Life of their Souls. There a great many ſuch things that the ſincere and upright Man comes to God for, too many here to mention. But again,

This Man alſo comes to God to beſeech him for the flouriſhing of Chriſt's Kingdom, which he knows will never be until Antichriſt is dead, and till the Spirit be more plentifully poured upon us from on high. Therefore he alſo cries to God for the Downfal of the firſt, and for the pouring out of the other.

2. He comes to God for the haſtening the gathering in of his Elect: for 'tis an Affliction to him to think that ſo many of thoſe, for whom Chriſt died, ſhould be ſtill in a Poſture of Hoſtility againſt him.

Pſal.122.6

3. He comes to God for a Spirity of Unity to be poured out among Believers, for, for the Diviſions of Reuben he has great Thoughts of Heart.

4. He comes to God to pray for Magiſtrates, and that God would make ſpeed to ſet them all to that work that is ſo deſirable to his Church, that is, to hate the Whore, to eat her Fleſh, to make her deſolate, and burn her with Fire.

1 Tim.2.1 Rev. 17. 16.

5. He comes to God to beg that he would haſten that great and notable Day, the Day of the Coming of our Lord Jeſus: for he knows that Chriſt will never be exalted as he muſt be, till then; yea, he alſo knows, that God's Church will never be as ſhe would, and ſhall, till then.

Rev.22. 21.

6. But the main Meaning, If I may ſo call it, of this high Text is this: That they that come to God by him, that is, by Chriſt, are thoſe that come by Chriſt to God to enjoy him by Faith and Spirit here, and by open Viſion and unſpeakable Poſſeſſion of him in the next World. This is the

the great Deſign of the Soul in its coming to God by Jeſus Chriſt: and it comes to him by [Jeſus Chriſt,] becauſe it dares not come by itſelf, and becauſe God himſelf has made him the way, the new and living way. Here, as I ſaid, the Father meets with that which pleaſeth him, and the Soul with that which ſaveth her. Here is Righteouſneſs and Merits to ſpare, even Righteouſneſs that can juſtify the Ungodly. Here is always, how empty ſoever we be, a fulneſs of Merit always preſented to God by Chriſt for my obtaining of that which at any time I want, whether Wiſdom, Grace, Spirit, or any good Thing ſoever: only ſince I was upon this Subject, I thought a little to touch upon things in this Order, for the enlarging of thy Thoughts, for the Conviction of thy Spirit, for the ſtirring of thee up to God, and for the ſhewing of thee the good Signs of Grace where 'tis, where 'tis abuſed, and where any are ſeeking after it.

And now I come to draw ſome Inferences from this Point alſo, as I have already done from thoſe going before it.

You ſee that I have now been ſpeaking to you of the Man that cometh to God, both with reſpect to the Way he comes, as alſo with reſpect to the manner of Spirit in which he comes; and hence I may well infer, Firſt, That he is no Fool, no Fool, according to the beſt Judgment, that cometh to God by Chriſt. The World indeed, will count him one: for the Things that be of the Spirit of God, are Fooliſhneſs to them: but indeed, and in the Verdict of true Judgment, he is not ſo.

Prov. 18. 1 Cor. 1. 1. For that he now ſeeketh and intermeddleth with all Wiſdom. He has choſen to be concerned with the very Head and Fountain of Wiſdom: for Chriſt is the Wiſdom of God, and the Way to the Father by Chriſt, is the greateſt of Myſteries, and to chuſe to walk in that way, the Fruits of the moſt ſage Advice: Wherefore he is not a Fool that thus concerns himſelf.

2. It is not a Sign of Fooliſhneſs, timely Prov. 18. 3 Ch. 27. 12. to prevent ruine, is it? They are the prudent Men that foreſee an Evil, and hide themſelves: and the Fools, that go on and are puniſhed. Why, this Man foreſees an Evil, the greateſt Evil, Sin, and the puniſhment of the Soul for Sin in Hell; and flyes to Chriſt, who is the Refuge that God has provided for penitent Sinners, and is this a Sign of a Fool? God make me ſuch a Fool, and thee that readeſt theſe Lines ſuch a Fool, and then we ſhall be wiſer than all Men that are counted Wiſe by the Wiſdom of this World. Is it a Sign of a Fool to agree with one's Adverſary, while we are in the way with him, even before he delivereth us to the Judge? Yea, it is a Piece of the higheſt Wiſdom.

Is he a Fool that chuſeth for himſelf long laſters, or he, whoſe beſt things will rot in a Day? Sinners, Before your Pots can feel the thorns, (before you can ſee where you are) God ſhall take you away as with a Whirl wind, both living and in his Wrath. But this Man has provided for things, like the Tortoiſe, he has got a Shell on his Back, ſo ſtrong and ſound, that he fears not to ſuffer a loaden Cart to go over him. The Lord is his Rock, his Defence, his Refuge, his high Tower, unto which he doth continually reſort. Pſal. 58. 9

Was the unjuſt Steward a Fool in providing for himſelf for hereafter? For providing Friends to receive him to harbour, when others ſhould turn him out of their Doors? no more is he that gets another Houſe for his Harbour, before Death ſhall turn him out of Doors here. Luk. 16. 8, 9.

Secondly, As he that cometh to God by Chriſt is no Fool, ſo he is no little-ſpirited Fellow. There are a Generation of Men in this World, that count themſelves Men of the largeſt Capacities, when yet the Greatneſs of their Deſires lift themſelves no higher than to things below. If they can, with their Net of Craft and Policy, encompaſs a bulky Lump of Earth, Oh what a Treaſure have they ingroſſed to themſelves! Mean while the Man in the Text has laid Siege to Heaven, has found out the way to get into the City, and is reſolved, in and by God's help, to make that his own. Earth is a droſſy thing in this Man's Account: Earthly Greatneſs and Splendors are but like vaniſhing Bubbles in this Man's eſteem. None but God, as the End of his Deſires: none but Chriſt, as the Means to accompliſh this his End, are things counted great by this Man. No Company now is acceptable to this Man, but the Spirit of God; Chriſt and Angels, and Saints, as Fellow-Heirs with himſelf. All other Men and Things he deals with as Strangers and Pilgrims were wont to do. This Man's Mind ſoars higher than the Eagle or Stork of the Heavens. He is for muſing about things that are above, and their Glory, and for thinking what ſhall come to paſs hereafter.

But as I have ſhewed you what he is not, ſo now let me, by a few Words, tell you what he is.

Firſt, Then, he is a Man concerned for his Soul, for his immortal Soul. The Soul is a thing, though of moſt worth, leaſt minded by moſt. The Souls of moſt lie waſte while all other Things are encloſed. But this Man has got it by the End, that his Soul is of more Value than the World: Wherefore he is concerned for his Soul. Soul-concerns are Concerns of the higheſt Nature: And Concerns that ariſe from Thoughts moſt deep, and ponderous. He never yet knew what belonged to great and deep Thoughts, that is a Stranger to Soul-Concerns. Now the Man that comes to

God

God by Chriſt, is a Man that is engaged in Soul-concerns.

2. He is a Man whoſe Spirit is ſubjected to a ſuitableneſs to ſpiritual Things, for a carnal Mind cannot ſute with, and be delighted in theſe Things. The carnal Mind is Enmity againſt God; for it is not ſubject to the Law of God, neither indeed can be. This is the Man that God has tamed, and keeps tame by himſelf, while all other run wild, as the Aſſes upon the Mountains. If Birds could ſpeak, ſurely they would tell, that thoſe that are kept in the Cage, have with them another Temper than they that range the Air, and fly in the Fields and Woods. Yea, and could thoſe kept tame, expreſs themſelves to the reſt, they would tell that they have white Bread and Milk, and Sugar; while thoſe without, make a Life out of Maggots, and Worms. They are alſo in Place where there are better Things, and their Companions are the Children of Men: Beſides they learn ſuch Notes, and can whiſtle ſuch Tunes as other Birds are Strangers to. Oh! the Man whoſe Spirit is ſubjected to God; betwixt whom and God there is a Reconciliation, not only as to a Difference made up, but alſo as to a oneneſs of Heart: None knows what Lumps of Sugar God gives that Man, nor what Notes and Tunes God learns that Man. He hath put a new Song in my Mouth, ſaith David, even Praiſes to our God: Many ſhall ſee it, and Fear and Truſt in the Lord.

Rom. 8.7.

Pſal. 40.3

Secondly, Is there a Man that comes to God by Chriſt. Thence I infer, that there is, that believes there is a World to come. No Man looks after that, which yet he believes is not. Faith muſt be before coming to Chriſt will be, coming is the Fruit of Faith. He that comes muſt believe, Antecedent to his coming: Wherefore it is ſaid, we walk by Faith, that is, we come to God through Chriſt, by Faith. And hence I learn two Things:

Heb. 11.7. 2 Cor. 3.7

1. That Faith is of a ſtrong and forceable Quality.

2. That they who come not to God by Chriſt, have no Faith.

Firſt, Faith is of a ſtrong and forceable Quality, and that whether it be true or falſe.

1. A falſe Faith has done great Things. It has made Men believe Lies, plead for them, and ſtand to them, to the Damnation of their Souls. God ſhall ſend them ſtrong Deluſions that they ſhall believe a Lie, to their Damnation. Hence 'tis ſaid, Men make Lies their Refuge, Why? becauſe they truſt in a Lie. A Lie, if believed, if a Man has Faith in it, it will do great Things, becauſe Faith is of a forceable Quality. Suppoſe thy ſelf to be twenty Miles from Home, and there ſome Man comes and poſſeſſes thee that thy Houſe, thy Wife and Children, are all burned with the Fire. If thou believeſt it, though indeed there ſhould be nothing of Truth in what thou haſt heard, yet will this Lye drink up thy Spirit, even as if the Tidings were true. How many are there in the World whoſe Heart Satan hath filled with a Belief that their State and Condition, for another World, is good? and theſe are made to live by lying Hope, that all ſhall be well with them: And ſo are kept from ſeeking for that which will make them happy indeed. Man is naturally apt and willing to be deceived, and therefore a groundleſs Faith is the more taking and forceable. Fancy will help to confirm a falſe Faith, and ſo will Conceit, and Idleneſs of Spirit: There is alſo in Man a Willingneſs to take Things upon Truſt, without ſearching into the Ground and Reaſon of them. Nor will Satan be behind Hand to prompt and encourage, to thy believing of a Lie: For that he knows will be a means to bring thee to that End, to which he greatly deſireth thou ſhouldeſt come. Wherefore let Men beware, and O that they could, of a falſe and lying Faith.

2 Theſ. 2. 11, 12. Jer. 28.15.

2. But if a falſe Faith is ſo forcible, what is a True? What Force I ſay is there in a Faith that is begotten by Truth, managed by Truth, fed by Truth, and preſerved by the Truth of God. This Faith will make inviſible Things, viſible; not fantaſtically ſo, but ſubſtantially ſo. Now Faith is the Subſtance of Things hoped for, the Evidence of Things not ſeen. True Faith carrieth along with it an Evidence of the certainty of what it believeth; and that Evidence is the infallible Word of God. There is a God, a Chriſt, a Heaven, ſaith the Faith that is good, for the Word of God doth ſay ſo. The Way to this God, and this Heaven, is by Chriſt, for the Word of God doth ſay ſo. If I run not to this God by this Chriſt, this Heaven ſhall never be my Portion, for the Word of God doth ſay ſo. So then thus believing, makes the Man come to God by him. His thus believing then it is that carries him away from this World, that makes him trample upon this World, and that gives him the Victory over this World. For whoſoever is born of God overcometh the World, and this is the Victory that overcometh the World, even our Faith. Who is he that overcometh the World, but he that believeth that Jeſus is the Son of God. This is he that cometh by Water and Blood, even Jeſus Chriſt: not by Water only, but by Water and Blood: And it is the Spirit that beareth Witneſs, becauſe the Spirit is Truth.

Heb. 11.1.

1 Joh. 5.4, 5, 6.

Secondly, Now, if this be true, that Faith, true Faith, is ſo forcible a Thing, as to take a Man from his Seat of Eaſe, and make him to come to God, by Chriſt, as afore: Then, is it not truly inferred from hence, that they that come not to God by Chriſt, have no Faith. What! is Man ſuch a Fool as to believe Things, and yet not look after them? to believe great Things, and and yet not to concern himself with them? Who would knowingly go over a Pearl, and yet not count it worth stooping for. Believe thou art, what thou art. Believe Hell is, what it is. Believe Death and Judgment are coming, as they are, and believe that the Father and the Son are, as by the Holy Ghost in the Word, they are described, and sit still in thy Sins if thou canst. Thou canst not sit still, Faith is forcible. Faith is grounded upon the Voice of God in the Word, upon the teaching of God in the Word. And it pleases God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe: For believing makes them heartily close in with and embrace what by the Word is set before them, because it seeth the realty of them.

Shall God speak to Man's Soul? and shall Man believe? shall Man believe what God says, and nothing at all regard it? It cannot be. Faith comes by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God. And we know that when Faith is come, it purifies the Heart, of what is opposite to God, and the Salvation of the Soul.

So then those Men that are at Ease in a Rev. 21. 8. sinful Course, or that come not to God by Christ, they are such as have no Faith, and must therefore perish with the Vile, and Unbelievers.

The whole World is divided into two Sorts of Men; Believers and Unbelievers. The godly are called Believers. And why Believers? but because they are they that have given Credit to the great Things of the Gospel of God. These Believers are here in the Text called also Comers, or they that come to God by Christ, because, who so believes, will come: For coming is a Fruit of Faith in the Habit, or if you will, 'tis Faith in Exercise; yet Faith must have a Being in the Soul before the Soul can put it into Act.

This therefore further evidences that they that come not, have no Faith, are not Believers, belong not to the Houshold of Faith, and must perish. For he that believes not, shall be damned.

Nor will it be to any boot to say, I believe there is a God, and a Christ, for still thy sitting still, doth demonstrate that either thou liest in what thou sayst, or that thou believest with a worse than a false Faith. But the Object of my Faith is true. I answer, So is the Object of the Faith of Devils: For they believe that there is one God and one Christ; yet their Faith, as to the Root and Exercise of it, that notwithstanding is no such Faith, as is that Faith that saves, or that is intended in the Text, and that by which Men come to God through Christ.

Wherefore still, Oh thou slothful one, thou deceivest thy self! Thy not coming to God by Christ, declareth to thy Face, that thy Faith is not good, consequently that thou feedest on Ashes, and thy deceived Heart has turned thee aside, that thou canst not deliver thy Soul, nor say, is there not a Lie in my right Hand?

Thirdly, Is there a Man that comes to God by Christ? Thence I infer, That the World to come is better than this; yea, so much better, as to quit cost, and bear Charges of coming to God, from this, by Christ, to that. Though there is a World to come, yet if it was no better than this, one had as good stay here, as seek that; or if it were better than this, and would bear Charges, if a Man left this for that, and that was all, still the one would be as good as the other. But the Man that comes to God by Christ, has chosen the World that is infinitely good, a World betwixt which and this, there can be no Comparison. This must be granted, because he that comes to God by Christ, is said to have made the best choice, even chose a City that has Foundations. There are several Things that make it manifest enough, that he that comes to God by Christ has made the best Market, or chose the best World.

1. That is the World which God com- 2 Thes. 1. 5, 6.
mendeth, but this that that he slighteth and contemneth. Hence that is called the Kingdom of God, but this, an evil World. Now let us conclude, That since God made Gal. 1. 4.
both, he is able to judge which of the two are best; yea, best able so to judge thereof. I chuse the rather to refer you to the Judgment of God in this Matter: For should I put you upon asking of him, as to this, that is coming to God by Christ, perhaps you would say, he is as little able to give an Account of this Matter as your selves. But I hope you think God knows, and therefore I refer you to the Judgment of God, which you have in the Scriptures of Truth. Heaven is his Throne, and the Earth is his Foot-stool. I hope you will say here is some Difference. The Lord is the God of that, the Devil the God and Prince of this. Thus also it appears there is some Difference between them.

2. That World, and those that are counted worthy of it, shall all be everlasting; but so shall not this, nor the Inhabitants of it. The Earth with the Works thereof, shall be 2 Pet. 3. burned up, and the Men that are of it shall die in like Manner. But Israel shall be saved in the Lord with an everlasting Salvation: They shall not be ashamed nor confounded, World without End. Isa. 45. 17.

This World, with the Lovers of it, will 1 Pet. 1. 3, 4. end in a burning Hell; but the World to come fadeth not away.

3. The World that we are now in, has its best Comforts mixed either with Crosses or Curses; but that to come, with neither. There shall be no more Curse; and as for Crosses, all Tears shall be wiped from the Eyes of them that dwell there. There will be nothing but ravishing Pleasures, and Holy. There will be no Cessation of Joys, nor any Speck of Pollution. In thy Presence is Ps. 16. 12.
fulness of Joy, and at thy right Hand are Pleaſures for evermore.

Luk. 20. 35, 36. 4. There Men ſhall be made like Angels, neither can they die any more. There ſhall they behold the Face of God and his Son, and ſwim in the Enjoyment of them for ever.

5. There Men ſhall ſee themſelves beyond all Miſery, and ſhall know that it will be utterly impoſſible that either any thing like Sorrow, or Grief, or Sickneſs, or Diſcontent, ſhould touch them more.

6. There Men ſhall be rewarded of God for what they have done and ſuffered, according to his Will, for his ſake: There they ſhall eat and drink their Comforts, and wear them to their everlaſting Conſolation.

7. They are all Kings that go to that World, and ſo ſhall be proclaimed there. They ſhall alſo be crowned with Crowns, and they ſhall wear Crowns of Life and Glory, Crowns of everlaſting Joy, Crowns of loving Kindneſs; yea, In that Day the Lord of Hoſts himſelf ſhall be for a Crown of Glory to thoſe that are his People, Heb. 2. 7. Iſa. 35. 10. Pſal. 103. 4. Iſa. 28. 5. Now if this World (though no more could be ſaid for it then is ſaid in theſe few Lines) is not infinitely far better than what the preſent World is, I have miſs'd it in my Thoughts. But the coming Man, the Man that comes to God by Chriſt, is ſatisfied, knows what he does; and if his Way, all his Way thither were ſtrewed with burning Coals, he would chuſe, God helping him, to tread that Path, rather than to have his Portion with them that periſh.

Fourthly, If there be a World to come, and ſuch a way to it, ſo ſafe and good, and if God is there to be enjoyed by them that come to him by Chriſt: then this ſhews the great Madneſs of the moſt of Men; Madneſs, I ſay, of the higheſt Degree, for that they come not to God by Chriſt that they may be Inheritors of the World to come. 'Tis a right Character which Solomon gives of them: The Heart (ſaith he) of the Sons of Men are full of Evil, and Madneſs is in their Hearts, while they live, and after that they go to the Dead.

Eccl. 9. 3.

A mad Man is intent upon his Joys upon any thing, but that about which he ſhould be intent: and ſo are they that come not to God by Jeſus Chriſt. A mad Man has neither Ears to hear, nor a Heart to do what they that are in their right Wits adviſe him for the beſt, no more have they that come not to God by Chriſt. A mad Man ſets more by the Straws and Cocks-feathers by which he decks himſelf, than he does by all the Pearls and Jewels in the World: And they that come not to God by Chriſt, ſet more by the vaniſhing Bubbles of this Life, than they do by that Glory that the wiſe Man ſhall inherit. The Wiſe ſhall inherit Glory, but Shame, ſays Solomon, ſhall be the Promotion of Fools. What a ſhame 'tis to ſee God's Jewels lie unregarded of them that yet think none are wiſer than themſelves.

I know the wiſe Men of this World will ſcorn one ſhould think of them, that they are mad; but verily it is ſo: The more wiſe for this World, the more fool in God's Matters, and the more obſtinately they ſtand in their way, the more mad.

When Solomon gave himſelf to backſliding, he ſaith, he gave himſelf to Folly and Madneſs. And when he went about to ſearch out what Man is ſince the Fall, he went about to ſearch out Fooliſhneſs and Madneſs. And is it not ſaid, That when the Jews were angry with Jeſus for that he did good on the Sabbath, that that anger did flow from their being filled with Madneſs? Doth not Paul alſo, while he oppoſed himſelf againſt Chriſt, the Goſpel and Profeſſors thereof, plainly tell us, that he did it even from the higheſt pitch of Madneſs? And being exceeding mad againſt them, I perſecuted them even unto ſtrange Cities. Now if it is exceeding Madneſs to do thus, how many, at this Day, muſt be counted exceeding mad, who yet count themſelves the only ſober Men? They oppoſe themſelves, they ſtand in their own Light, they are againſt their own Happineſs, they cheriſh and nouriſh Cockatrices in their own Boſoms: They chuſe to themſelves thoſe Paths which have written upon them, in large Characters, Theſe are the ways of Death and Damnation: They are offended with them that endeavour to pull them out of their Ditch, and chuſe rather to lie and die there, than to go to God by Chriſt that they may be ſaved from Wrath through him: yea, ſo mad are they, that they count the moſt ſober, the moſt godly, the moſt holy Man, the mad one; the more earneſt for Life, the more mad; the more in the Spirit, the more mad; the more deſirous to promote the Salvation of others, the more mad. But is not this a Sign of Madneſs, of Madneſs unto Perfection? And yet thus mad are many; and mad are all they, that while 'tis called to day, while their Door is open, and while the golden Scepter of the golden Grace of the Bleſſed God is held forth, ſtand in their own Light, and come not to God by Chriſt. That is the Fourth Inference.

Eccl. 1. 17. Ch. 2. 12.

Ch. 7. 25, to 30.

Acts 26. 11.

John 10. 20. Acts 26. 24.

Fifthly, A fifth Inference that I gather from this Text, is, That the End that God will make with Men, will be according as they come or come not to God by Chriſt. They that come to God by Chriſt, have taken Shelter, and have hid themſelves, but they that come not to God by Chriſt, lay themſelves open to the windy Storm and Tempeſt that will be in that Day. And the Wind then will be high, and the Tempeſt ſtrong that will blow upon them that ſhall be found in themſelves: Our God ſhall come, and ſhall not keep Silence: a Fire ſhall devour before him, and it ſhall be very tempeſtuous tempeſtuous round about him. He ſhall call to the Heavens from above, and to the Earth that he may judge his People.

Pſal. 50. 3, 4.

And now what will be found in that Day to be the Portion of them that in this Day do not come to God by Chriſt? None knows but God, with whom the Reward of Unbelievers is.

But writing and preaching is in vain as to ſuch; let Men ſay what they will, what they can to perſwade to come, to diſſwade from neglecting to come, they are reſolved not to ſtir. They will try if God will be ſo faithful to himſelf, and to his Word, as to dare to condemn them to Hell-Fire that have refuſed to hear and comply with the Voice of him that ſpeaketh from Heaven.

But this is but a deſperate Venture: ſeveral things declare, that he is determined to be at a point in this matter.

1. The Gallows are built, Hell is prepared for the Wicked.

2. There are thoſe already in Chains, and ſtand bound over to the Judgment of
2 Pet. 2. 4. that Day, that are, as to Creation, higher and greater than Men; to wit, The Angels that ſinned. Let Sinners then look to themſelves.

3. The Judge is prepared and appointed, and it hath fallen out to be he that thou haſt refuſed to come to God by; and that predicts no good to thee. For then will
Luk. 19. 27. he ſay of all ſuch, Thoſe mine Enemies that would not that I ſhould reign over them, bring hither, and ſlay them before me.

But what a ſurprize will it be to them that now have come to God by Chriſt, to ſee themſelves in Heaven indeed; ſaving indeed, and poſſeſſed of everlaſting Life indeed. For alas! what is Faith to Poſſeſſion? Faith that is mixed with many Tears, that is oppoſed with many Aſſaults, and that ſeems ſometimes to be quite extinguiſhed: I ſay, what is that to a ſeeing of my ſelf in Heaven? Hence it is ſaid, that he ſhall then
2 Theſ. 1. 10. come to be admired in them that now believe, (becauſe they did here believe the Teſtimony) then they ſhall admire that it was their Lot to believe when they were in the World. They ſhall alſo admire to think, to ſee, and behold, what believing has brought them to, while the reſt for refuſing to come to God by Chriſt, drink their Tears mixed with burning Brimſtone.

Repentance will not be found in Heaven among them that come to God by Chriſt: no, Hell is the place of untimely Repentance: 'Tis there where the Tears will be mixed with gnaſhing of teeth. While they conſider how mad, and worſe they were, in not coming to God by Jeſus Chriſt.

Then will their hearts and mouths be
Mat. 25. full of, Lord, Lord, open unto us. But the anſwer will be, ye ſhut me out of doors, I was a Stranger and you took me not in; beſides, you refuſed to come to my Father by me, wherefore now you muſt go from my Father by me.

They that will not be ſaved by Chriſt, muſt be damned by Chriſt: No Man can eſcape one of the two. Refuſe the firſt, they may, but ſhun the ſecond they cannot.

And now they that would not come unto God by Chriſt, will have Leiſure, and Time enough (if I may call it Time) to conſider what they have done, in refuſing to come to God by Chriſt. Now they will meditate warmly on this thing, now their thoughts will be burning hot about it, and it is too late, will be in each Thought, ſuch a ſting, that like a Bow of Steel, it will continually ſtrike him thorough.

Now they will bleſs thoſe whom formerly they have deſpiſed, and commend thoſe they once contemned. Now would the rich Man willingly change Places with poor Lazarus, though he preferred his own Condition before his in the world.

The Day of Judgment will bring the worſt to rights, in their Opinions: They will not be capable of miſapprehending any more. They will never after that Day put Bitter for Sweet, or Darkneſs for Light, or Evil for Good any more. Their Madneſs will now be gone. Hell will be the unbelievers Bedlam houſe, and there God will tame them as to all thoſe Bedlam-tricks and Pranks, which they Played, in this World: But not at all to their Profit, nor Luk. 16. 23, to 27. Advantage. The Gulph that God has placed, and fixed 'twixt Heaven and Hell, will ſpoil all, as to that.

But what a joy will it be to the truly godly, to think now, that they are come to God by Chriſt! 'Twas their Mercy to begin to come, 'twas their Happineſs that they continued coming; but 'tis their Glory that they are come, that they are come to God by Chriſt.

To God! why he is all! All that is Good, eſſentially Good, and eternally Good. To God! the infinite Ocean of Good. To God in friendly wiſe, by the Means of Reconciliation (for the other now, will be come to him to receive his Anger, 'cauſe they come not to him by Jeſus Chriſt.) Oh that I could imagin! Oh that I could think, that I might write more effectually to thee of the happy Eſtate of them that come to God by Chriſt.

But thus have I paſſed through the three former Things, namely.

1. That of the Interceſſion of Chriſt.
2. That of the Benefit of Interceſſion.
3. That of the Perſons that are intereſted in this Interceſſion.

Wherefore now I come to the laſt Head, and that is to ſhew you, The Certainty of their reaping the Benefit of his Interceſſion.

Wherefore he is able to ſave them to the uttermoſt, that come unto God by him, ſeeing ing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for them.

The Certainty of their reaping the Benefit of being ſaved, that come unto God by Chriſt, is thus expreſſed, Seeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for them. The Interceſſion of Chriſt, and the Laſtingneſs of it, is a ſure Token of the Salvation of them that come unto God by him.

Of his Interceſſion, what it is, and for whom, we have ſpoken already: Of the Succeſs and Prevalency of it, we have alſo ſpoken before; but the Reaſon of its Succeſsfulneſs, of that we are to ſpeak now. And that Reaſon, as the Apoſtle ſuggeſteth, lies in the Continuance of it: Seeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion. The Apoſtle alſo makes very much of the Continuation of the Prieſthood of Chriſt, in other Places of this Epiſtle. He abides a Prieſt continually: Thou art a Prieſt for ever. He hath an unchangeable Prieſthood. And here he ever liveth to make Interceſſion.

Heb. 7. 3. 17, 21, 24.

Now, by the Text, is ſhewed the Reaſon, why he ſo continually harpeth upon the Durableneſs of it; namely, for that by the Unchangeableneſs of this Prieſthood, we are ſaved; nay, ſaved demonſtratively, apparently: 'Tis evident we are. He is alſo able to ſave them to the uttermoſt that come unto God by him, ſeeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for them. For,

Firſt, The Durableneſs of his Interceſſion proves, That the Covenant, in which thoſe that come to God by him, are concerned and wrapt up, is not ſhaken, broken, or made invalid by all their Weakneſſes and Infirmities.

Chriſt is a Prieſt according to Covenant; and in all his Acts of Mediation he has regard to that Covenant: So long as that Covenant abides in its Strength, ſo long Chriſt's Interceſſion is of worth. Hence when God caſt the old High-Prieſt out of Doors, he renders this Reaſon for his ſo doing. Becauſe they continued not in my Covenant; that is, neither Prieſts nor People. Therefore were they caſt out of the Prieſthood, and the People pulled down, as to a Church-State.

— 8. 6, 7, 8, 9.

Now the Covenant by which Chriſt acteth as a Prieſt, ſo far as we are concern'd therein, he alſo himſelf acteth our part, being indeed the Head, and Mediator of the Body: Wherefore God doth not count that the Covenant is broken, though we ſin, if Chriſt Jeſus our Lord is found to do by it what by Law is required of us. Therefore he ſaith: If his Children break my Law, and keep not my Commandments, I will viſit their Sins with a Rod, &c. But their Sins ſhall not ſhake my Covenant, with my beloved, nor cauſe that I for ever ſhould reject them. My Covenant will I not break, nor alter the Thing that is gone out of my Mouth. His Seed will I make to endure for ever, his Seed ſhall endure for ever. Hence 'tis clear, that the Covenant ſtands good to us, as long as Chriſt ſtands good to God, or before his Face. For he is not only our Mediator by Covenant, but he himſelf is our Conditions to God-ward; therefore he is ſaid to be the Covenant of the People, or that which the Holy God by Law required of us. Hence, again, he is ſaid to be our Juſtice or Righteouſneſs; to wit, which anſwereth to what is required of us by the Law. He is made unto us of God ſo, and in our room, and in our ſtead preſenteth himſelf to God. So then, if any ask me, by what Chriſt's Prieſthood is continued? I anſwer, By Covenant: For that the Covenant by which he is made Prieſt, abideth of full Force. If any ask whether the Church is concerned in that Covenant? I anſwer, Yes: Yet ſo as that all Points and Parts thereof that concern Life and Death everlaſting, is laid upon his Shoulders, and he alone is the Doer of it. He is the Lord our Righteouſneſs, and he is the Saviour of the Body; ſo that my Sins break not the Covenant: But them notwithſtanding, God's Covenant ſtands faſt with him, with him for evermore. And good Reaſon, if no Fault can be found with Chriſt, who is the Perſon that did ſtrike Hands with his Father upon our Account, and for us; to wit, to do what was meet ſhould be found upon us, when we came to appear before God by him.

Pſ. 89. 26, 37.

Iſa. 42. 6.

And that God himſelf doth ſo underſtand this Matter, is evident, becauſe, he alſo, by his own Act, giveth and imputeth to us that Good that we never did, that Righteouſneſs which we never wrought out; yea, and for the Sake of that, tranſmitteth our Sins unto Chriſt, as to one that had not only well ſatisfied for them, but could carry them ſo far both from us and from God, that they ſhould never again come to be charged on the Committers, to Death and Damnation. The Scriptures are ſo plentiful for this, that he muſt be a Turk, or a Jew, or an Atheiſt that denies it. Beſides, God's commanding that Men ſhould believe in his Son unto Righteouſneſs, well enough proveth this Thing, and the Reaſon of this Command, doth prove it with an over and above; to wit, For he hath made him to be Sin for us, who knew no Sin, that we might be made the Righteouſneſs of God in him.

Rom. 4. 1, to 5.

2 Cor. 5. 19, 20, 21.

Hence comes out that Proclamation from God, at the riſing again of Chriſt from the Dead: Be it known unto you therefore, Men and Brethren, that through this Man is preached unto you the Forgiveneſs of Sins; and by him all that believe, are juſtified from all Things, from which ye could not be juſtified by the Law of Moſes.

Acts 13. 38, 39.

If this be ſo, as indeed it is, then here lieth a great deal of this Concluſion, he ever liveth to make Interceſſion, and of the Demon-

Demonſtration of the certain Salvation of him that cometh to God by him, ſeeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for them. For if Chriſt Jeſus is a Prieſt by Covenant, and ſo abides as the Covenant abides; and if, ſince the Covenant is everlaſting, his Prieſthood is unchangeable, then the Man that cometh to God by him muſt needs be certainly ſaved. For if the Covenant, the Covenant of Salvation is not broken, none can ſhew a Reaſon why he that comes to Chriſt ſhould be damned, or why the Prieſthood of Jeſus Chriſt ſhould ceaſe. Hence, after the Apoſtle had ſpoken of the Excellency of his Perſon and Prieſthood, he then ſhews that the Benefit of the Covenant of God remaineth with us, namely, That Grace ſhould be communicated unto us, for his Prieſthood ſake, and that our Sins and Iniquities God would remember no more.

Heb 8.10, 11, 12. — 10. 16, to 21.

Now, as I alſo have already hinted, if this Covenant, of which the Lord Jeſus is Mediator and High-Prieſt, has in the Bowels of it, not only Grace and Remiſſion of Sins; but a Promiſe that we ſhall be Partakers thereof, through the Blood of his Prieſthood, for ſo it comes to us; then why ſhould not we have Boldneſs, not only to come to God by him, but to enter alſo into the Holieſt by the Blood of Jeſus, by that new and living Way, &c.

Secondly, But further, this Prieſthood, as to the Unchangeableneſs of it, is confirmed unto him by an Oath, By him that ſaid unto him, The Lord ſwore, and will not repent; thou art a Prieſt for ever. This Oath ſeems to me to be for the Confirmation of the Covenant, as it is worded before by Paul to the Galatians, when he ſpeaks of it with Reſpect to that Eſtabliſhment that it alſo had on Chriſt's Part, by the Sacrifice which he offered to God for us; yea, he then ſpeaks of the mutual Confirmation of it, both by the Father and the Son: Now, I ſay, ſince by this Covenant he ſtands and abides a Prieſt; And ſince the Lord ſware, and will not repent, ſaying, Thou art a Prieſt for ever: We are ſtill further confirmed in the certain Salvation of him that cometh to God by Chriſt.

Gal. 3. 15, 16, 17.

Heb. 6. 16, 17, 18.

The Lord by ſwearing confirmeth to Chriſt, and ſo to us in him, the immutability of his Counſel, and that he is utterly unchangeable in his Reſolutions to ſave them to the uttermoſt that come to God by Chriſt. And this alſo ſhews that this Covenant, and ſo the Promiſe of Remiſſion of Sins, is ſtedfaſt and unmoveable. And it is worth your noting the Manner and Nature of this Oath, The Lord ſware, and will not repent. It is as much as to ſay, what I have now ſwore, I bind me forever to ſtand to, or, I determine never to revoke. And that is, That thou art a Prieſt for ever. Now, as was ſaid before, ſince his Prieſthood ſtands by Covenant, and this Covenant of his Prieſthood is confirmed by this Oath, it cannot be, but that he that comes by him to God, muſt be accepted of him: For ſhould ſuch an one be rejected, it muſt be either for the Greatneſs of his Sins, or for want of Merit in the Sacrifice he preſented, and urged, as to the Merit of it, before the Mercy-Seat. But let the Reaſon ſpecified, be what it will, the Conſequence falls harder upon the Sacrifice of Chriſt than it can do any where elſe, and ſo on upon the Covenant, and at laſt upon God himſelf, who has ſwore, and will not repent, that he is a Prieſt for ever. I thus diſcourſe, to ſhew you what dangerous Concluſions follow from a Conceit, That ſome that come to God by Chriſt ſhall not be ſaved, though he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for them.

And this I have further to ſay, That the Lord's ſwearing, ſince the Manner of the Oath is ſuch as it is, and that it alſo tended to eſtabliſh to Chriſt his Prieſthood to be unchangeable, it declareth, That as to the Excellency of his Sacrifice, he is eternally ſatisfied in the Goodneſs and Merit of it, and that he will never deny him any thing that he ſhall ask for at his Hands, for his Sufferings ſake. For this Oath doth not only ſhew God's firm Reſolution to keep his Part of the Covenant, in giving to Chriſt that which was covenanted for by him; but it declareth, That in the Judgment of God, Chriſt's Blood is able to ſave any Sinner, and that he will never put Stop nor Check to his Interceſſion, how great ſo ever the Sinners be that at any Time he ſhall intercede for: So that the Demonſtration is clearer and clearer; He is able to ſave them to the uttermoſt that come unto God by him, ſeeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for them.

Thirdly, This Unchangeableneſs of the Prieſthood of Chriſt dependeth alſo upon his own Life. This Man becauſe he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable Prieſthood. Now although (perhaps) at firſt much may not appear in this Text, yet the Words that we are upon, take their Ground from them. This Man, becauſe he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable Prieſthood: Wherefore he is able alſo, that is, by his unchangeable Prieſthood, to ſave them to the uttermoſt that come unto God by him, ſeeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for them.

Heb. 7. 24.

The Life of Chriſt, then, is a Ground of the Laſtingneſs of his Prieſthood, and ſo a Ground of the Salvation of them that come unto God by him. We ſhall be ſaved by his Life. Wherefore, in another Place, this his Life is ſpoken of with great Emphaſis. The Power of an endleſs Life. He is made a Prieſt, not after the Law of a carnal Commandment, but after the Power of an endleſs Life. An endleſs Life is then a powerful

Rom. 5.

Heb. 7. 16,

a powerful Thing; and indeed two Things are very conſiderable in it:

1. That it is above Death, and ſo above him that hath the Power of Death, the Devil.

2. In that it capacitates him to be the laſt in his own Cauſe, and ſo to have the caſting Voice.

We will ſpeak to the firſt, and for the better ſetting of it forth, we will ſhew what Life it is, of which the Apoſtle here ſpeaks; and then, how, as to Life, it comes to be ſo advantageous, both with Reſpect to his Office of Prieſthood, and us.

1. What Life is it that is thus the Ground of his Prieſthood. It is a Life taken, his own Life reſcued from the Power of the Grave, a Life that we had forfeited, he being our Surety; and a Life that he recovered again, he being the Captain of our Salvation: I lay down my Life (ſaith he) that I may take it again: This Commandment have I received of my Father. It is a Life then that was once laid down as the Price of Man's Redemption, and a Life won, gained, taken, or recovered again, as the Token or true Effect of the compleating, by ſo dying, that Redemption: Wherefore it ſaith again, In that he died, he died unto Sin once; but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God. He liveth as having pleaſed God by dying for our Sins, as having merited his Life by dying for our Sins. Now, if this Life of his is a Life merited and won, by Vertue of the Death that he died, as Acts 2. 24. doth clearly manifeſt; and if this Life is the Ground of the unchangeableneſs of this Part of his Prieſthood, as we ſee it is, then it follows, that this ſecond Part of his Prieſthood, which is called here Interceſſion, is grounded upon the Demonſtrations of the Vertue of his Sacrifice, which is his Life taken to live again: So then, he holds this Part of his Prieſthood, not by Vertue of a carnal Commandment, but by the Power of an endleſs Life; but by the Power of a Life reſcued from Death, and eternally exalted above all that any Ways would yet aſſault it. For Chriſt being raiſed from the dead, dies no more; Death has no more Dominion over him.

John 10. 18.

Rom. 6. 10.

Chap. 6. 9.

Hence Chriſt brings in his Life, the Life that he won to himſelf by his Death, to comfort John withal, when he fainted under the view of that overcoming Glory that he ſaw upon Chriſt in his Viſion of him at Patmos. And he laid his right Hand upon me, (ſaid he) ſaying unto me, fear not, I am the firſt and the laſt: I am he that liveth and was dead, and behold I am alive for evermore, Amen. Why ſhould Chriſt bring in his Life to comfort John, if it was not a Life advantageous to him? But the Advantageouſneſs of it doth lie not merely in the being of Life, but in that it was a Life laid down for his Sins, and a Life taken up again for his Juſtification; a Life loſt to ranſom him, and a Life won to ſave him; as alſo the Text affirmeth, ſaying, He is able to ſave to the uttermoſt them that come unto God by him, ſeeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for them.

Rev. 1. 16, 17, 18.

Again, it is yet more manifeſt, that Chriſt receiving of his Life again, was the Death and Deſtruction of the Enemy of his People; and to manifeſt that it was ſo, therefore he adds (after he had ſaid, And behold, I am alive for evermore. Amen.) And I have the Keys of Hell and of Death. I have the Power over them, I have them under me: I tread them down by being a Victor, a Conqueror, and one that have got the Dominion of Life, (for he now is the Prince of Life) one that lives for evermore. Amen. Hence it is ſaid again, He hath aboliſhed Death, and brought Life and Immortality to Light through the Goſpel. He hath aboliſhed Death by his Death, (by Death he deſtroyed him that had the Power of Death, that is, the Devil,) and brought Life, (a very emphatical Expreſſion) and brought it, from whence? from God, who raiſed him from the Dead; and brought it to Light, to our View and Sight, by the Word of the Truth of the Goſpel.

2 Tim. 1. 10.

So then, the Life that he now hath, is a Life once laid down as the Price of our Redemption; a Life obtained and taken to him again as the Effect of the Merit that was in the laying down thereof. A Life by the Vertue of which, Death and Sin, and the Curſe is overcome; and ſo a Life that is above them for ever. This is the Life that he liveth; (to wit, this meriting, purchaſing, victorious Life) and that he improveth, while he ever ſo lives, to make Interceſſion for us.

This Life then is a continual Plea, and Argument with God for them that come to him by Chriſt, ſhould he make no other Interceſſion, but only ſhew to God that he liveth. Becauſe, his thus living ſaith, that he has ſatisfied for the Sins of them that come unto God by him. It teſtifies moreover, that thoſe, to wit, Death, the Grave and Hell are overcome by him for them; becauſe indeed he liveth, and hath their Keys. But now, add to Life, to a Life meritorious, Interceſſion: Or a urging of this meritorious Life by Way of Prayer for his, and againſt all thoſe that ſeek to deſtroy them (ſince they themſelves alſo have been already overcome by his Death) and what an encouraging Conſideration is here for all them that come to God by him, to hope for Life eternal: But,

Secondly, Let us ſpeak a Word to the ſecond Head. Namely for that his living for ever, capacitates him to be the laſt in his own Cauſe, and to have the caſting Voice, and that is an advantage next to what is chiefeſt.

His Cauſe, what is his Cauſe? But that the Death that he died when he was in the World, was and is of Merit ſufficient to ſecure all thoſe from Hell, or, as the Text has it to ſave them that come unto God by him: to ſave them to the uttermoſt. Now if this Cauſe be faulty, why doth he live? 2 Cor. 13. 4. yea, he liveth by the Power of God, by the Power of God towards us: Or with a Reſpect to our Welfare, for he liveth to make Interceſſion: Interceſſion againſt Satan our Accuſer, for us. Beſides he liveth before God, and to God, and that afetr he had given his Life a Ranſom for us. What can follow more clearly from this, but that amends was made by him for thoſe Souls, for whoſe Sins he ſuffered upon the Tree? Wherefore, ſince his Father has given him his Life and Favour, and that after he died for our Sins, it cannot be thought but that the Life he now liveth, is a Life that he received as the Effect of the Merit of his Paſſion for us.

in

God is juſt, and yet Chriſt liveth, and yet Chriſt liveth in Heaven. God is juſt, and yet Chriſt our Paſſover liveth there, do what our Foes can to the contrary.

And this note, by the Way, that though the Deſign of Satan againſt us, in his labouring continually to accuſe us to God, and to prevail againſt our Salvation, ſeems to terminate here: Yet indeed 'tis alſo laid againſt the very Life of Chriſt. And that his Prieſthood might be utterly overthrown: and in Concluſion, that God alſo might be found unjuſt, in receiving of ſuch whoſe Sins have not been ſatisfied for, and ſo whoſe Souls are yet under the Power of the Devil. For he that objects againſt him for whom Chriſt interceeds, objects againſt Chriſt, and his Merits; and he that objects againſt Chriſt's Interceſſion; objects againſt God who has made him a Prieſt for ever. Behold you therefore, how the Cauſe of God, of Chriſt, and of the Souls that come to God by him are interwoven. They are all wrapt up in one Bottom. Miſchief one, and you Miſchief all; overthrow that Soul, and you overthrow his Interceſſor; and overthrow him, and you overthrow even him that made him a Prieſt for ever.

For the Text is without Reſtriction. He is able to ſave to the uttermoſt, them that come unto God by him. He ſaith not now and then one, or Sinners of an inferior Rank in Sin; but them that come to God by him, how great ſoever their Tranſgreſſions are: As is clear in that it addeth this Clauſe, to the uttermoſt. He is able to ſave them to the uttermoſt.

But if he were not, why did the King ſend, yea, come and looſe him, and let him go free? Yea, admit him into his Preſence, yea, make him Lord over all his People; and deliver all Things into his Hand.

But he liveth, he ever liveth, and is admitted to make Interceſſion, yea, is ordained of God ſo to do. Therefore he is able to ſave to the uttermoſt, them that come unto God by him.

This therefore that he liveth, ſeeing he liveth to God and his Judgment, and in Juſtice is made ſo to do: It is chiefly with Reference to his Life, as Mediator, for their Sakes for whom he makes Interceſſion. He liveth to make Interceſſion. And 1 Cor. 15. 25. in that it is ſaid he liveth ever, what is it but that he muſt live, and outlive all his Enemies, for he muſt live, yea reign till all his Enemies are put under his Feet. Yea, his very Interceſſions muſt live till they are all dead and gone. For the Devil and Sin muſt not live for ever, not for ever to accuſe. Time is coming, when due Courſe of Law will have an End, and all Cavillers will be caſt over the Bar: But then and after that, Chriſt our Highprieſt ſhall live, and ſo ſhall his Interceſſions: Yea, and alſo all them for whom he makes Interceſſion, ſeeing they come unto God by him.

Now if he lives, and outlives all, and if his Interceſſion has the caſting Voice, ſince alſo he pleadeth in his Prayers, a ſufficient Merit, before a juſt God, againſt a lying, malicious, clamorous and envious Adverſary, he muſt needs carry the Cauſe, the Cauſe for himſelf and his People, to the Glory of God and their Salvation. So then his Life and Interceſſion muſt prevail, there can be no withſtanding of it. Is not this then a Demonſtration clear as the Sun, that they that come to God by him ſhall be ſaved, ſeeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for them?

Fourthly, The duration of Chriſt's Interceſſion as it is grounded upon a Covenant 'twixt God and him; upon an Oath alſo, and upon his Life: So it is grounded upon the Validity of his Merits. This has been promiſcuouſly touched before, but ſince it is an Eſſential to the laſtingneſs of his Interceſſion, 'twill be to the Purpoſe to lay it down by it ſelf.

Interceſſion then, I mean Chriſt's Interceſſion, is, that thoſe for whom he died with full Intention to ſave them, might be brought into that Inheritance which he hath purchaſed for them. Now then, his Interceſſion muſt, as to length and breadth, reach no further than his Merits. For he may not pray for thoſe, for whom he died not. Indeed, if we take in the utmoſt extent of his Death, then we muſt beware. For his Death is ſufficient to ſave the whole World: But his Interceſſions are kept within a narrower Compaſs. The Altar of Burnt-Offerings, was a great deal bigger than the Altar of Incenſe, which was a Figure of Chriſt's Interceſſion. But this, I ſay, his Interceſſion is for thoſe for whom he died, with full Intention to ſave them: Wherefore it muſt be grounded upon the Validity of his Sufferings. And indeed, his Interceſſion is nothing elſe, that I know of, but a preſenting of what he did in the World for us unto God, and preſſing the value of it for our Salvation. The Blood of ſprinkling, is that which ſpeaketh meritoriouſly Exod. 27. 1. Chap. 30. 1. Rev. 8. 3.

Heb. 12. 24. meritoriouſly, 'tis by the value of that, that God meaſureth out, and giveth unto us Grace, and Life Eternal: Wherefore Chriſt's Interceſſions alſo muſt be ordered and governed by Merit. By his own Blood Ch. 9. 12. he entred into the holy Place, having (before by it) obtained eternal Redemption for us, for our Souls.

Now, if by Blood he entered in thither, by Blood he muſt alſo make Interceſſion there. His Blood made way for his Entrance thither, his Blood muſt make way for our Entrance thither. Though here again we muſt beware, for his Blood did make way for him as Prieſt, to interceed; his Blood makes way for us, as for thoſe redeemed by it, that we might be ſaved.

This then ſhews ſufficiently the Worth of the Blood of Chriſt, even his ever living to make Interceſſion for us: for the Merit of his Blood laſts all the while that he doth, and for all them for whom he ever liveth to make Interceſſion. Oh precious Blood! Oh laſting Merit!

Blood muſt be pleaded in Chriſt's Interceſſion, becauſe of Juſtice, and to ſtop the Mouth of the Enemy; and alſo to Encourage us to come to God by him. Juſtice, ſince that is of the Eſſence of God, muſt concur in the Salvation of the Sinner; but how can that be, ſince it is ſaid at firſt, In the Day thou eateſt thereof, thou ſhalt ſurely dye; unleſs a plenary Satisfaction be made for Sin, to the pleaſing of the Mighty God. The Enemy alſo would elſe never let go his objecting againſt our Salvation. But now God has declared, That our Salvation is grounded on Juſtice, becauſe merited by Blood. And though God needed not to have given his Son to die for us, that he might ſave us, and ſtop the Mouth of the Devil in ſo doing; yet this way of Salvation has done both, and ſo it is declared: We are juſtified freely by his Grace through the Redemption that is in Jeſus, whom God hath ſet forth to be a Propitiation through faith in his Blood, to declare his Righteouſneſs for the Remiſſion of Sins that are paſt; to declare, I ſay, at this time his Righteouſneſs, that he might be juſt, and the Juſtifier of him that believeth in Jeſus. So then here is alſo a Ground of Interceſſion, even the Blood ſhed for us before.

Rom. 3. 24, 25.

And that you may ſee it yet more for your Comfort, God did at Chriſt's Reſurrection, to ſhew what a Price he ſet upon his Blood, bid him ask of him the Heathen, and he would give him the uttermoſt Parts of the Earth for his Poſſeſſion. His Blood then has Value enough in it, to ground Interceſſion upon; yea, there is more worth in it than Chriſt will plead or improve for Men by way of Interceſſion. I do not at all doubt but there is Vertue enough in the Blood of Chriſt, would God Almighty ſo apply it, to ſave the Souls of the whole World. But it is the Blood of Chriſt, his own Blood; and he may do what he will with his own. It is alſo the Blood of God, and he alſo may reſtrain its Merits, or apply it as he ſees good. But the coming Soul he ſhall find and feel the Vertue thereof, even the Soul that comes to God by Chriſt; for he is the Man concerned in its Worth: And he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for him.

Pſ. 2. 7, 8.

Now, ſeeing the Interceſſion of Chriſt is grounded upon a Covenant, an Oath, a Life, and alſo upon the Validity of his Merits; it muſt of neceſſity be prevalent, and ſo drive down all Oppoſition before it. This therefore is the laſt Part of the Text; and that which demonſtrateth that he that comes to God by Chriſt ſhall be ſaved, ſeeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for him.

I have now done what I intend upon this Subject, when I have drawn a few Inferences from this alſo.

Firſt, Then, Hence I infer that the Souls ſaved by Chriſt, are in themſelves in a moſt deplorable Condition. Oh what a do, as I may ſay, is here, before one Sinner can be eternally ſaved. Chriſt muſt die, but that is not all. The Spirit of Grace muſt be given to us, but that is not all; but Chriſt muſt alſo ever live to make Interceſſion for us. And as he doth this, for all; ſo he doth it for each one. He interceeded for me, before I was born, that I might in time, at the ſet time, come into being. After that, he alſo made Interceſſion for me, that I might be kept from Hell in the time of my unregenerate State, until the time of my Call and Converſion: Yet again he then intercedes, that the Work now begun in my Soul, may be perfected, not only to the Day of my Diſſolution, but unto the Day of Chriſt; that is, until he comes to Judgment. So that as he begun to ſave me before I had Being; ſo he will go on to ſave me, when I am dead and gone, and will never leave off to ſave me, untill he has ſet me before his Face for ever.

Phil. 1. 6.

But I ſay, what a deplorable Condition has our Sin put us into, that there muſt be all this ado, to ſave us. Oh how hardly is Sin got out of the Soul, when once it is in! Blood takes away the Guilt; inherent Grace weakens the Filth; but the Grave is the place, at the Mouth of which, Sin: as to the being of Sin, and the ſaved muſt have a perfect and final parting Not that the Grave of it ſelf is of a Sin-purging Quality, but God will follow Satan home to his own Door; for the Grave is the Door or Gate of Hell, and will there where the Devil thought to have ſwallowed us up, even there by the Power of his Mercy make us (at our coming thence) ſhine like the Sun, and look like Angels. Chriſt all this while ever liveth to make Interceſſion for us.

Iſa. 38. 10.

Secondly, Hence alſo I infer, That as Satan thought thought he ſtruck home at firſt, when he polluted our Nature, and brought our Souls to Death: So he is marvellous loth to loſe us, and to ſuffer his lawful Captives now to eſcape his Hands. He is full of Fire againſt us, full of the Fire of Malice, as is manifeſt,

1. Not only by his firſt Attempt upon our firſt Parents: But behold when the deliverer came into the World, how he roared; he ſought his Death while he was
Mat. 2. an Infant: He hated him in his Cradle, he perſecuted him while he was but a Bud, and Bloſſom.

When he was come to riper Years, and began to manifeſt his Glory, yet, leaſt the World ſhould be taken with him, how po-
Joh. 10.20 Joh. 7. 12. Mat. 9.34 Joh. 7.52. Luke 23.2 Mat. 28. 11, to 16 litickly did this old Serpent, called the Devil and Satan, work? He poſſeſſed People that he had a Devil, and was mad, and a Deceiver; that he wrought his Miracles by Magick Art, and by the Devil; that the Prophets ſpake nothing of him, and that he ſought to overthrow the Government which was God's Ordinance. And not being contented with all this, he purſued him to the Death, and could never reſt untill he had ſpilt his Blood upon the Ground like Water. Yea, ſo unſatiable was his Malice, that he ſet the Soldiers to forge Lies about him to the denial of his Reſurrection, and ſo managed that Matter, that what they ſaid has become a Stumbling-block to the Jews to this very Day.

2. When he was aſcended to God, and ſo was out of his reach; yet how buſily went he about to make War with his Peo-
Rev. 12. ple? yea, what Horrors and Terrors, what Troubles and Temptations, has God's Church met with from that Day till now. Nor is he content with Perſecutions, and general Troubles: But oh, how doth he haunt the Spirits of the Chriſtians with Blaſphemies, and Troubles, with Darkneſs and frightful Fears; ſometime to their Diſtraction, and often to the filling the Church with Out-cries.

3. Yet his Malice is in the Purſuit, and now his Boldneſs will try what it can do with God either to tempt him to reject his Son's Mediation, or to reject them that come to God by him for Mercy. And this is one Cauſe among many, why he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for them that come to God by him.

4. And if he cannot overthrow, if he knows he cannot overthrow them, yet he cannot forbear but vex and perplex them even as he did their Lord, from the Day of their Converſion to the Day of their Aſcenſion to Glory.

Thirdly, Hence I infer, that the Love of Chriſt to his is an unwearied Love, and it muſt needs be ſo: An undaunted Love, and it muſt needs be ſo. Who but Jeſus Chriſt would have undertaken ſuch a Task as the Salvation of the Sinner is, if Jeſus Chriſt had paſſed us by? It's true which is written of him, He ſhall not fail, nor be Iſa. 42. 4. diſcouraged till he has ſet Judgment in the Chap. 50. Earth, &c. If he had not ſet his Face like a 6, 7. Flint, the greatneſs of this Work would ſurely have daunted his Mind.

For do but conſider what Sin is, from which they muſt be ſaved. Do but conſider what the Devil and the Curſe is, from which they muſt be ſaved. And it will eaſily be concluded by you, that it is he that full rightly deſerveth to have his Name called Wonderful; and his Love ſuch as verily paſſeth Knowledge.

Conſider again, by what Means theſe Souls are ſaved, even with the loſs of his Life, and together with it, the loſs of the Light of his Father's Face. I paſs by here, and forbear to ſpeak of the matchleſs Contradiction of Sinners which he endured againſt himſelf, which could not but be a great Grief, or as himſelf doth word it, a breaking of Heart unto him; but all this did not, could not hinder.

Join to all this, his everlaſting Interceſſion for us; and the effectual Management thereof with God for us; and withal the infinite Number of Times that we by Sin provoke him to ſpue us out of his Mouth, inſtead of interceeding for us: And the many Times alſo that his Interceſſion is repeated by the repeating of our Faults: And this Love ſtill paſſes Knowledge, and is by us to be wondered at.

What did, or what doth the Lord Jeſus ſee in us to be at all this Care, and Pains, and Coſt to ſave us? What will he get of us by the Bargain, but a ſmall Pittance of Thanks, and Love? for ſo it is, and ever will be, when compared with his matchleſs and unſpeakable Love and Kindneſs towards us.

Oh how unworthy are we of this Love! How little do we think of it! But moſt of all, the Angels may be aſtoniſhed to ſee how little we are affected with that of it which we pretend to know. But neither can this prevail with him, to put us out of the Scroll in which all the Names of them are written, for whom he doth make Interceſſion to God. Let us cry, Grace, Grace unto it.

Fourthly, Hence again I infer, That they ſhall be ſaved that come to God by Chriſt, when the Devil and Sin have done what they can to hinder it. This is clear, for that the ſtrife is now, who ſhall be Lord of all, whether Satan the Prince of this World, or Chriſt Jeſus the Son of God: or which can lay the beſt Claim to God's Elect; he that produceth their Sins againſt them, or he that laid down his Heart's-Blood, a Price of Redemption, for them. Who then ſhall condemn when Chriſt has died, and doth alſo make Interceſſion? Stand ſtill, Angels, and behold, how the Father divideth his Son a Portion with the Great;

and how he divideth the Spoil with the ſtrong:
Iſa. 53.12. Becauſe he hath poured out his Soul unto Death, and was numbred with the Tranſgreſſors, and bear the Sin of many, and made Interceſſion for the Tranſgreſſors. The Grace of God, and Blood of Chriſt, will before the End of the World make brave Work among the Sons of Men. They ſhall come to a Wonderment to God by Chriſt, and be ſaved by a Wonderment for Chriſt's Sake. Behold theſe ſhall come
Iſa. 49.12. from far: and lo, theſe from the North, and from the Weſt, and theſe from the Land of Sinim.

Behold, theſe, and theſe, and theſe ſhall come, and lo theſe, and theſe, and theſe from the Land of Sinim.

This is to denote the Abundance that ſhall come in to God, by Chriſt, towards the latter End of the World: Namely, when Antichriſt is gone to Bed in the Sides of the Pit's Mouth. Then ſhall Nations come in and be ſaved, and ſhall walk in the Light of the Lord.

But, I ſay, what Encouragement would there be for Sinners thus to do, if that the Lord Jeſus by his Interceſſion were not able to ſave, even to the uttermoſt, them that come unto God by him.

Fifthly, Hence again I infer, That here is Ground for Confidence to them that come to God by Chriſt. Confidence to the End, becomes us, who have ſuch a High-prieſt, ſuch an Interceſſor as Jeſus Chriſt; who would diſhonour ſuch a Jeſus by doubting, that all the Devils in Hell cannot diſcourage by all their Wiles? He is a tryed Stone, he is a ſure Foundation; a Man may confidently venture his Soul in his Hand, and not fear but he will bring him ſafe home. Ability, Love to the Perſon, and Faithfulneſs to Truſt committed to him, will do all; and all theſe are with infinite Fulneſs in him. He has been a Saviour this four thouſand Years already, (two thouſand before the Law, two thouſand in the Time of the Law) beſides the ſixteen hundred Years that he has in his Fleſh continued to make Interceſſion for them that come unto God by him. Yet the Day is to come; yea, will never come, that he can be charged with any Fault, or neglect of the Salvation of any of them that at any Time have come unto God by him. What Ground then is here for Confidence that Chriſt will make a good End with me, ſince I come unto God by him, and ſince he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for me. Let me then honour him, I ſay, by ſetting on his Head the Crown of his Undertakings for me: by the believing that he is able to ſave me, even to the uttermoſt, ſeeing he ever liveth to make Interceſſion for me.

Sixthly, Hence alſo I infer, that Chriſt ought to bear, and wear the Glory of our Salvation for ever. He has done it, he has wrought it out. Give unto the Lord, O ye Kindreds of the People, give unto the Lord Glory and Strength. Do not ſacrifice to your own Inventions, do not give Glory to the Work of your own Hands. Your Reformations, your Works, your good Deeds, and all the Glory of your doing, caſt them at the Feet of this High-prieſt, and confeſs that Glory belongs unto him. Worthy is Rev. 5.12. the Lamb that was ſlain, to receive Power, and Riches, and Wiſdom, and Strength, and Honour, and Glory, and Bleſſing. And they Iſa. 22.24. ſhall hang upon him all the Glory of his Father's Houſe; the Off-ſpring and the Iſſue, all Veſſels of ſmall Quantity: From the Veſſels of Cups, even to all the Veſſels of Flaggons. Oh! the Work of our Redemption by Chriſt is ſuch, as wanteth not Provocation to us, to bleſs and praiſe and glorifie him in your Body and in your Souls, who has 1 Cor. 6. 20. bought you with a Price, and glorifie God and the Father by him.

THE USE.

I come now to make ſome Uſe of this Diſcourſe. And,

Firſt, Let me exhort you to the Study of this, as of other the Truths of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. The Prieſtly Office of Chriſt 1 Cor. 15. 1, to 6. Gal. 3.13, 14, 15. is the firſt and great Thing that is preſented to us in the Goſpel: Namely, how that he died for our Sins, and gave himſelf to the Croſs, that the Bleſſing of Abraham might come upon us through him. But now becauſe this Prieſtly Office of his, is divided into two Parts: And becauſe one of them, to wit, this of his Interceſſion, is to be accompliſhed for us within the Vail, therefore (as we ſay among Men, of Out-ſight, of Out-mind) he is too much as to this forgotten by us. We ſatisfie our ſelves with the ſlaying of the Sacrifice; we look not enough after our Aaron as he goes in to the holieſt there to ſprinkle the Mercy-Seat, with Blood upon our Account.

God forbid that the leaſt ſyllable of what I ſay, ſhould be intended by me, or conſtrued by others, as if I ſought to diminiſh the Price paid by Chriſt for our Redemption in this World. But ſince his dying is his laying down his Price, and his Interceſſion, the urging, and managing the Worthineſs of it in the Preſence of God againſt Satan. There is Glory to be found therein, and we ſhould look after him into the holy Place. The ſecond Part of the Work of the High-prieſts under the Law, had great Glory and Sanctity put upon it. For as much as the holy Garments were provided for him to officiate in within the Vail, alſo 'twas there that the Altar ſtood on which he offer'd Incenſe. Alſo there was the Mercy-ſeat and the Cherubims of Glory (which were Figures of the Angels) that love to be continually looking and prying into the Management of this ſecond Part of the Prieſthood of Chriſt in the Preſence of God. For although themſelves are not the Perſons ſo immediately concerned therein, in, as we; yet the Management of it, I ſay, is with ſo much Grace, and Glory and Wiſdom, and Effectualneſs, that 'tis a Heaven to the Angels to ſee it. O! to enjoy the odorous Scent, and ſweet Memorial, the heart-refreſhing Perfumes that aſcend continually from the Mercy-ſeat to the [above] where God is, and alſo to behold how effectual it is to the End for which it is deſigned, is glorious: and he that is not ſomewhat let into this by the Grace of God, there is a great thing lacking to his Faith, and he miſſeth of many a ſweet Bit that he might otherwiſe enjoy. Wherefore I ſay, be exhorted to the Study of this Part of Chriſt's Work in the managing of our Salvation for us. And the Ceremonies of the Law may be a great Help to you, as to this; for though they be out of uſe now, as to Practice, yet the Signification of them is rich, and that from which many Goſpellers have got much. Wherefore I adviſe that you read the five Books of Moſes often; yea read, and read again, and do not deſpair of Help to underſtand ſomething of the Will and Mind of God therein, though you think they are faſt lock'd up from you. Neither trouble your Heads, though you have not Commentaries and Expoſitions, pray and read, and read and pray. For a little from God is better than a great deal from Men: alſo what is from Men is uncertain, and is often loſt and tumbled over and over by Men: but what is from God is fixed as a Nail in a ſure Place. (I know there are times of Temptation, but) I ſpeak now as to the common Courſe of Chriſtianity. There is nothing that ſo abides with us, as what we receive from God, and the Reaſon why Chriſtians at this Day, are at ſuch a loſs, as to ſome things, is becauſe they are content with what comes from Mens Mouths, without ſearching, and kneeling before God, to know of him the Truth of Things. Things that we receive at God's Hand, comes to us as things from the Minting-houſe, though old in themſelves, yet new to us. Old Truths are always new to us, if they come to us with the Smell of Heaven upon them. I ſpeak not this becauſe I would have People deſpiſe their Miniſters, but to ſhew that there is now-a-days, ſo much Idleneſs among Profeſſors, as hinders them from a diligent Search after things, and makes them take up ſhort of that that is ſealed by the Spirit of Teſtimony to the Conſcience. Witneſs the great Decays at this Day amongſt us, and that ſtrange Revolting from Truth once profeſſed by us.

Secondly, As I would preſs you to an earneſt Study and Search after this great Truth, ſo I would preſs you to a diligent Improvement of it to your ſelves, and to others. To know Truth for Knowledge ſake, is ſhort of a gracious Diſpoſition of Soul; and to communicate Truth out of a Deſire of Praiſe and Vain-glory for ſo doing, is alſo a ſwerving from godly Simplicity: but to improve what I know, for the good of my ſelf and others, is true Chriſtianity indeed.

Now Truths received may be improved with reſpect to my ſelf and others, and that ſeveral ways.

1. To my ſelf when I ſearch after the Power that belongs to thoſe Notions, that I have received of Truth. There belongs to every true Notion of Truth, a Power: the Notion is the Shell, the Power, the Kernel, and Life: Without this laſt, Truth doth me no good; nor thoſe to whom I communicate it. Hence Paul ſaid to the Corinthians, When I come to you again, I will know not the Speech of them that are puffed up, but the Power. For the Kingdom of God is not in Word, but in Power. (1 Cor. 4. 19, 20.) Search then after the Power of what thou knoweſt; for 'tis the Power that will do thee good. Now this will not be got, but by earneſt Prayer, and much attending upon God: alſo there muſt not be admitted by thee, that thy heart be ſtuffed with cumbring Cares of this World, for they are of a choaking Nature.

2. Take heed of ſlighting that little that thou haſt: a good Improvement of little, is the way to make that little thrive; and the way to obtain Additions thereto. He that is faithful in that which is leaſt, is faithfull alſo in much: and he that is unjuſt in the leaſt, is unjuſt alſo in much. (Luke 16. 10.)

2. Improve them to others, and that,

1. By labouring to inſtil them upon their Hearts by good and wholſome Words, preſenting all to them with the Authority of the Scriptures.

2. Labour to inforce thoſe Inſtillings on them by ſhewing them by thy Life, the Peace, the glorious Effects that they have upon thy Soul.

Laſtly, Let this Doctrine give thee Boldneſs to come to God. Shall Jeſus Chriſt be interceding in Heaven? O then, be thou a praying Man on Earth; yea, take Courage to pray. Think thus with thy ſelf: I go to God, to God before whoſe Throne the Lord Jeſus is ready to hand my Petitions to him: yea, he ever lives to make Interceſſion for me. This is a great Encouragement to come to God by Prayers and Supplications for our ſelves, and by Interceſſions for our Families, our Neighbours and Enemies. Farewel.

Saints Knowledge of Chriſt's Love:

OR, THE

Unſearchable RICHES of CHRIST.

EPHESIANS III. 18, 19.

That ye may be able to comprehend with all Saints, what is the Breadth, and Length, and Depth, and Heighth: and to know the Love of CHRIST which paſſeth Knowledge.

THE Apoſtle having in the firſt Chapter, treated of the Doctrine of Election, and in the ſecond, of the reconciling of the Gentiles with the Jews to the Father, by his Son, through the preaching of the Goſpel; comes in the third Chapter to ſhew that that alſo was, as that of Election, determined before the World began. Now leſt the Afflictions that attend the Goſpel ſhould, by its raging among theſe Epheſians, darken the Glory of theſe things unto them; therefore he makes here a brief Repetition and Explanation, to the end they might be ſupported and made live above them. He alſo joins thereto a fervent Prayer for them, that God would let them ſee in the Spirit and Faith, how they, by God and by Chriſt, are ſecured from the Evil of the worſt that might come upon them. For this Cauſe I bow my Knees to the Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt; of whom the whole Family in Heaven and Earth is named; that he would grant you according to the Riches of his Glory, to be ſtrengthened with Might by his Spirit in the inner Man: That Chriſt may dwell in your Hearts by Faith, that ye being rooted and grounded in Love, may be able to comprehend with all Saints, what is the Breadth and Length, and Depth and Heighth, and to know the Love of Chriſt, which paſſeth Knowledge, &c. Knowing, that their deep Underſtanding what good by theſe were reſerved for them, they would never be diſcouraged, whatever Troubles ſhould attend their Profeſſion.

Breadth, and Length, and Depth, and Heighth, are Words that in themſelves are both ambiguous, and to Wonderment; ambiguous becauſe unexplained, and to Wonderment, becauſe they carry in them an unexpreſſible Something; and that Something that which far out-goes all thoſe Things that can be found in this World. The Apoſtle here was under a ſpiritual Surprize, for while meditating and writing, he was caught: the Strength and Glory of the Truths that he was endeavouring to faſten upon the People to whom he wrote, took him away into their Glory, beyond what could to the full be uttered. Beſides, many times things are thus expreſſed, on purpoſe to command Attentions, a Stop and Pauſe in the Mind about them; and to divert, by their Greatneſs, the Heart from the World, unto which they naturally are ſo inclined. Alſo, Truths are often delivered to us, like Wheat in full Ears, to the end we ſhould rub them out before we eat them, and take Pains about them, before we have the Comfort of them.

Breadth, Length, Depth, and Heighth. In my attempting to open theſe Words, I will give you, 1. Some that are of the ſame kind. 2. And then ſhew you, 1. The Reaſons of them; and then alſo, 2. Something of their Fulneſs.

Firſt, Thoſe of the ſame kind, are uſed ſometimes to ſhew us the Power, Force and Subtilty of the Enemies of God's Church, Dan. 4. 11. Rom. 8. 38, 39. But,

Secondly, Moſt properly to ſhew is the infinite and unſearchable Greatneſs of God. Job 11. 7, 8, 9. Rom. 11. 33.

They are hereto be taken in this ſecond Senſe, that is to ſuggeſt unto us the unſearchable and infinite Greatneſs of God; who is a Breadth beyond all Breadths, a Length beyond all Lengths, a Depth, beyond all Depths, and a Heighth beyond all Heights, and that in all his Attributes: He is an Eternal Being, an Everlaſting Being, and in that reſpect he is beyond all Meaſures, whether they be of Breadth, or Length, or Depth, or Heighth. In all his Atributes he is beyond all Meaſure: whether you meaſure by Words, by Thoughts, or by the moſt enlarged and exquiſite Apprehenſion; His Greatneſs is unſearchable; His Judgments are unſearchable; He is infinite in Wiſdom. O! the Depth of the Riches both of the Wiſdom and Knowledge of God, If I ſpeak of Strength, lo, he is ſtrong: Yea, the thunder of his Power who can

Job 5. 9. Rom. 11. 33. Job 9. 19. Ch. 26. 14

1 Sam. 2. 2. Pſal. 103. 17. can underſtand? There is none holy as the Lord: and his Mercy is from everlaſting to everlaſting, on them that fear him. The Greatneſs of God, of the God and Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, is that if rightly conſidered, which will ſupport the Spirits of thoſe of his People that are frighted with the Greatneſs of their Adverſaries. For here is a Greatneſs againſt a Greatneſs, Pharaoh was great, but God more great, more great in Power, more great in Wiſdom, more great every way for the help of his People, wherein they dealt proudly, he was above them. Theſe words therefore take in for this People, the Great God who in his immenſity, and infinite Greatneſs is beyond all Beings. But,

To come to the reaſon of the Words.

Firſt, They are made uſe of to ſhew to the Epheſians, that God with what he is in himſelf, and with what he hath in his Power, is all for the Uſe and Profit of the Believers. Elſe no great matter is held out to them thereby. But this God is our God! there is the Comfort: For this cauſe therefore he preſenteth them with this deſcription of him. To wit, by Breadth and Length, and Depth and Heighth: As who ſhould ſay, the High God is yours; the God that fills Heaven and Earth is yours; the God whom the Heaven of Heavens cannot contain, is yours; yea, the God whoſe works are wonderful, and whoſe Ways are paſt finding out, is yours. Conſider therefore the Greatneſs that is for you, that taketh Part with you, and that will always come in for your Help againſt them that contend with you. It is my Support, it is my Relief; it is my Comfort in all my Tribulations, and I would have it yours, and ſo it will when we live in the lively Faith thereof. Nor ſhould we admit of Diſtruſt in this Matter from the Conſideration of our own Unworthineſs either taken from the Finiteneſs of our State, or the Foulneſs of our Ways. For now, though God's Attributes, ſeveral of them, in their own Nature, are ſet againſt Sin and Sinners; yea, were we righteous, are ſo high that needs they muſt look over us, for 'tis to him a Condeſcention to behold things in Heaven: How much more then to open his Eyes upon ſuch as we: Yet by the Paſſion of Jeſus Chriſt, they harmoniouſly agree in the Salvation of our Souls. Hence God is ſaid to be Love, God is Love; might ſome ſay, and Juſtice too: but his Juſtice is turned with Wiſdom, Power, Holineſs and Truth, to love, yea, to love thoſe that be found in his Son; foraſmuch as there is nothing fault-worthy in his Righteouſneſs which is put upon us. So then, as there is in God's Nature a Length, and Breadth, and Depth, and Heighth that is beyond all that we can think: So we ſhould conclude that all this is Love to us, for Chriſt's ſake; and then dilate with it thus in our Minds, and enlarge it thus in our Meditations: ſaying ſtill to our low and trembling Spirits; It is high as Heaven, what canſt thou do? Deeper than Hell, what canſt thou know? the Meaſure thereof is longer than the Earth, and deeper than the Sea.

Pſal. 46. 1 Joh. 4. Job 11. 7.

But we will paſs Generals, and more particularly ſpeak ſomething of their Fullneſs, as they are fitted to ſuit and anſwer to the whole State and Condition of a Chriſtian in this Life. The Words are boundleſs; we have here a Breadth, a Length, a Depth, and Height made mention of, but what Breadth, what Length, what Depth, what Heighth is not ſo much as hinted. It is therefore Infiniteneſs ſuggeſted to us, and that as engaged for us. For the Apoſtle conjoins therewith, And to know the Love of Chriſt which paſſeth Knowledge. Thus therefore it ſuits and anſwers a Chriſtian's Condition, while in this World, let that be what it will. If his Afflictions be broad, here is a Breadth; if they be long, here is a Length; if they be deep, here is a Depth; and if they be high, here is a Heighth. And I will ſay, there is nothing that is more helpful, ſuccouring, or comfortable to a Chriſtian while in a State of Trial and Temptation, than to know that there is a Breadth to anſwer a Breadth, a Length to anſwer a Length, a Depth to anſwer a Depth, and a Heighth to anſwer a Heighth. Wherefore this is that the Apoſtle prayeth for, namely, that the Epheſians might have Underſtanding in theſe things, That ye may know what is the Breadth, and Length, and Depth, and Heighth.

Of the Largeneſs of the Apoſtle's Heart in praying for his People, to wit, That they might be able to comprehend with all Saints, what, &c. of that we ſhall ſpeak afterwards.

But firſt, to ſpeak to theſe four Expreſſions, Breadth, Length, Depth and Heighth.

Firſt, What is the Breadth. This Word is to ſhew, that God is all over, every where, ſpreading of his Wings, ſtretching out his Goodneſs to the utmoſt Bounds, for the good of thoſe that are his People. Deut. 32. 11, 12. Gen. 49. 26.

In the Sin of his People there is a Breadth; a Breadth that ſpreadeth over all, whereſoever a Man ſhall look. The Sin of the Saints is a ſpreading Leproſy. Sin is a Scab that ſpreadeth; it is a ſpreading Plague; it knows no Bounds: Or, as David ſaith, I have ſeen the Wicked ſpreading himſelf. Hence it is compared to a Cloud, to a thick Cloud, that covereth or ſpreadeth over the Face of all the Sky. Wherefore here is a Breadth called for, a Breadth that can cover all, or elſe what is done is to no Purpoſe. Therefore to anſwer this, here we have a Breadth, a ſpreading Breadth; I ſpread my Skirt over thee: But how far? Even ſo far as to cover all. I ſpread my Skirt over thee, and covered thy Nakedneſs. Here now is a Breadth according to the Lev. 13. 12. ver. 8. ver. 57. Pſ. 37. 35. Ezek. 16. 8 ſpreading Nature of the Sin of this wretched one; yea, a ſuperabounding Spreading; a Spreading beyond; a Spreading to cover. Bleſſed is he whoſe Sin is covered, whoſe ſpreading Sin is covered by the Mercy of God through Chriſt. This is the ſpreading Cloud, whoſe Spreadings none can underſtand. He ſpread a Cloud for a Covering, and Fire to give Light in the Night.

Rom. 4. 4, 5, 6, 7. Job 36. 29. Pſal. 105. 39.

This Breadth that is in God, it alſo overmatcheth that ſpreading and overſpreading Rage of Men that is ſometimes as if it would ſwallow up the whole Church of God. You read of the Rage of the King of Aſſyria, that there was a Breadth in it, an overflowing Breadth, to the filling of the Breadth of thy Land, O Immanuel. But what follows? Aſſociate your ſelves, O ye People, (ye Aſſyrians) and ye ſhall be broken to Pieces: And give ear, all ye of far Countries; gird your ſelves and ye ſhall be broken to Pieces: Take Counſel togeher, and it ſhall come to nought; ſpeak the Word, and it ſhall not ſtand for God is with us; God will over-match and go beyond you.

Iſa. 8. 8, 9.

Wherefore this Word, Breadth, and what is the Breadth: It is here expreſſed on purpoſe to ſuccour and relieve, or to ſhew what Advantage, for Support, the Knowledge of the overſpreading Grace of God by Chriſt yieldeth unto thoſe that have it, let their Tryals be what they will. Alas! the Sin of God's Children ſeemeth ſometimes to overſpread not only their Fleſh, and the face of their Souls, but the whole face of Heaven. And what ſhall he do now, that is a ſtranger to this Breadth, made mention of in the Text? Why he muſt deſpair, lie down and die, and ſhut up his Heart againſt all Comfort, unleſs he, with his fellow-Chriſtians, can, at leaſt, apprehend what is this Breadth, or the Breadth of Mercy intended in this Place. Therefore Paul for the Support of the Epheſians, prays, that they may know what is the Breadth.

This Largeneſs of the Heart and Mercy of God towards his People, is alſo ſignified by the ſpreading out of his Hand to us in the Invitations of the Goſpel. I ſaid, ſaith he, Behold me, behold me, I have ſpread out my hands all the day to a rebellious People, to a People that provoke me continually.

Ch. 65. 1, 2, 3.

I have ſpread out my Hands, that is, opened my Arms as a Mother affectionately doth, when ſhe ſtoopeth to her Child in the warm Workings of her Bowels, and claſpeth it up in them, and kiſſeth, and putteth it into her Boſom.

For, by ſpreading out the Hands or Arms to embrace, is ſhewed the Breadth or Largeneſs of God's Affections; as by our ſpreading out our Hands in Prayer, is ſignified the great Senſe that we have of the ſpreading Nature of our Sins, and of the great Deſires that are in us, that God would be merciful to us.

Ezra 9. 5, 6, 7, &c.

This Word alſo anſwereth to, or may fitly be ſet againſt the Wiles and Temptations of the Devil, who is that great and dogged Leviathan, that ſpreadeth his ſharp-pointed things upon the Mire: For, be the ſpreading Nature hf nur Corruptions never ſo broad, he will find ſharp-pointed things enough to ſtick in the Mire of them, for our Affliction. Theſe ſharp-pointed things are thoſe that in another Place are called fiery Darts, and he has abundance of them, with which he can and will ſorely prick and wound our Spirits: Yea, ſo ſharp ſome have found theſe things to their Souls, that they have peirced beyond Expreſſion. When, ſaid Job, I ſay, my bed ſhall comfort me, my couch ſhall eaſe my Complaint, then thou ſcareſt me with Dreams, and terrifieſt me through Viſions, ſo that my Soul chuſeth ſtrangling, and Death, rather than life. But now, anſwerable to the ſpreading of theſe ſharp-pointed things, there is a ſuper-abounding Breadth in the ſovereign Grace of God, the which whoſo ſeeth and underſtandeth, as the Apoſtle doth Pray we ſhould, is preſently helped: for he ſeeth that this Grace ſpreadeth it ſelf, and is broader than can be, either our Mire, or the ſharp-pointed things that he ſpreadeth thereupon for our Vexation and Affliction: It is broader than the Sea.

Job 41. 30. Eph. 6. 16, 17. Job 7. 13, 14, 15. Job 11. 9.

This therefore ſhould be that upon which thoſe that ſee the ſpreading Nature of Sin, and the Leproſie and Contagion thereof, ſhould meditate, to wit, The Broadneſs of the Grace and Mercy of God in Chriſt. This will poiſe and ſtay the Soul; this will relieve and ſupport the Soul in and under thoſe many miſgiving and deſponding Thoughts unto which we are ſubject when afflicted with the Apprehenſions of Sin, and the abounding Nature of it.

Shall another man pray for this, one that knew the Goodneſs and Benefit of it, and ſhall not I meditate upon it? and ſhall not I exerciſe my Mind about it? Yes ſurely, for it is my Duty, it is my Privilege and Mercy ſo to do. Let this therefore, when thou ſeeſt the ſpreading Nature of thy Sin be a Memento to thee, to the end thou mayſt not ſink and die in thy Soul.

Secondly, What is the Breadth and [Length] As there is a Breadth in this Mercy and Grace of God by Chriſt, ſo there is a Length therein, and this Length is as large as the Breadth, and as much ſuiting the Condition of the Child of God, as the other is. For, though Sin ſometimes is moſt afflicting to the Conſcience, while the Soul beholdeth the overſpreading Nature of it, yet here it ſtoppeth not, but oft-times through the Power and Prevalency of it, the Soul is driven with it, as a Ship by a mighty Tempeſt, or as a rolling thing before the Whirl- wind;

wind: driven, I ſay, from God, and from all Hopes of his Mercy, as far as the Eaſt is from the Weſt, or as the ends of the World are aſunder. Hence it is ſuppoſed by the Prophet, that for and by Sin they may be driven from God to the utmoſt Part of Heaven; and that is a ſad thing, a ſad Thing, I ſay to a gracious Man. Why,
Pſal. 22. 1. ſaith the Prophet to God, Art thou ſo far from helping me, and from the Words of my roaring? Sometimes a Man, yea, a Man of God, is, as he apprehends, ſo far off from God, that he can neither help him, nor hear him, and this is a diſmal State. And thou haſt removed my Soul, ſaid the Church,
Lam. 3. 17 far off from Peace, I forgot Proſperity. This is the State ſometimes of the godly, and that not only, with Reference to their being removed by Perſecutors from the Appointments and Goſpel-Seaſons, which are their Delight, and the Deſire of their Eyes; but alſo with reference to their Faith and Hope in their God. They think themſelves beyond the reach of his Mercy. Wherefore in Anſwer to this Conceit, it is that
Iſa. 50. 2. Ch. 59. 1. the Lord asketh, ſaying, Is my Hand ſhortened at all that I cannot redeem? And again, Behold the Lord's Hand is not ſhortened, that it cannot ſave, neither his Ear heavy, that he cannot hear. Wherefore he ſaith again, If any of thine be driven out unto the utmoſt Parts of Heaven, from thence will the Lord thy God gather thee, and from thence Deut. 30. 4 Neh. 1. 9. will he fetch thee. God has a long Arm, and he can reach a great Way further than we can conceive he can: When we think his Mercy is clean gone, and that our ſelves are free among the Dead, and of the Number that he remembreth no more, than he can reach us, and cauſe that again we ſtand be-
Jonah 2. fore him. He could reach Jonah, though in the Belly of Hell; and reach thee, even then, when thou thinkeſt thy Way is hid from the Lord, and thy Judgment paſſed over from thy God. There is a length to Admiration, beyond Apprehenſion or Belief, in the Arm of the Strength of the Lord; and this is that which the Apoſtle intendeth by this Word, Length; namely, To inſinuate what a Reach there is in the Mercy of God, how far it can extend it ſelf. If I take the Wings of the Morning, Pſal. 139. 9, 10. ſaid David, and dwell in the uttermoſt Parts of the Sea, even there ſhall thy Hand lead me, and thy right Hand ſhall uphold me. I will gather them from the Eaſt, and from the Weſt, and from the North, and from the — 107. 3. South, ſaith he: That is, from the utmoſt Corners.

This therefore ſhould encourage them that for the preſent cannot ſtand, but that do flie before their Guilt: Them that feel no Help nor Stay, but that go, as to their Thinking, every Day by the Power of Temptation, driven yet farther off from God, and from the Hope of obtaining of his Mercy to their Salvation; poor Creature, I will not now ask thee how thou cameſt into this Condition, or how long this has been thy State; but I will ſay before thee, and I prithee hear me, O the length of the ſaving Arm of God! As yet thou art within the reach thereof; do not thou go about to meaſure Arms with God, as ſome good Men are apt to do: I mean, do not thou conclude, that becauſe thou canſt not reach God by thy ſhort Stump, therefore he cannot reach thee with his long Arm: Look again, Haſt thou an Arm like Job 40. 9. God, an Arm like his for length and ſtrength? It becomes thee, when thou canſt not perceive that God is within the reach of thy Arm, then to believe that thou art within the reach of his; for it is long, and none knows how long.

Again, is there ſuch a length? ſuch a length in the Arm of the Lord, that he can reach thoſe that are gone away, as far as they could? then this ſhould encourage us to pray, and hope for the Salvation of any one of our backſliden Relations, that God would reach out his Arm after them: Saying, Awake O Arm of the Lord, art not thou Iſa. 51. 9, it that haſt cut Rahab, and wounded the 10. Dragon? Art not thou it which haſt dried the Sea, the Waters of the great Deep, haſt made the depths of the Sea away for the ranſomed to paſs over? Awake, O Arm of the Lord, and be ſtretched out as far as to where my poor Husband is, where my poor Child, or to where my poor backſliden Wife or dear Relation is, and lay hold, faſt hold; they are gone from thee, but, O thou the Hope of Iſrael, fetch them again, and let them ſtand before thee. I ſay, here is in this Word [Length] matter of Encouragement for us thus to pray; for if the length of the reach of Mercy is ſo great, and if alſo this length is for the Benefit of thoſe that may be gone off far from God, (for they at preſent have no need thereof that are near) then improve this Advantage at the Throne of Grace for ſuch, that they may come to God again.

Thirdly, As there is a Breadth and Length here, ſo there is a [Depth.] What is the breadth and length, and depth? And this depth is alſo put in here on purpoſe to help us under a Tryal that is diverſe from the two former. I told you, that by the breadth the Apoſtle inſinuates a Remedy and Succour to us, when we ſee our Corruptions ſpread like a Leproſie; and by length he would ſhew us, that when Sin has driven God's Elect to the fartheſt Diſtance from him, yet his Arm is long enough to reach them, and fetch them back again.

But, I ſay, as we have here a Breadth, and a Length, ſo we have alſo a Depth. That ye may know what's the [Depth] Chriſtians have ſometimes their ſinking Fits, and are as if they were always deſcending; or as Heman ſays, counted with them Pſ. 88. 4. that go down into the Pit. Now Guilt is not not to ſuch ſo much a Wind and a Tempeſt, as a Load and Burthen. The Devil, and Sin, and the Curſe of the Law, and Death, are go tten upon the Shoulders of this poor Man, and are treading of him down, that he may ſink into, and be ſwallowed up of his mirey Place.

I ſink, ſays David, in deep mire, where there is no ſtanding: I am come into deep Waters, where the Floods overflow me. Yea, there is nothing more common among the Saints of old, than this Complaint:
Pſ.69.15. Let not the Water-flood overflow me, neither let the Pſ.88.6,7. Pit ſhut her Mouth upon me. Heman alſo ſaith, thou haſt laid me in the loweſt Pit, in darkneſs in the Deeps. Thy Wrath lieth hard upon me, and thou haſt afflicted me with all
Pſ. 42. 7. thy Waves. Hence it is again that the Pſalmiſt ſays; Deep calleth unto Deep, at the Noiſe of thy Water Spouts all thy Waves,
Ver. 6. and thy Billows are gone over me. Deep calleth unto Deep: What's that? Why, 'tis expreſſed in the Verſe before: O God, ſays he, My Soul is caſt down within me. Down! that is, deep into the Jaws of Diſtruſt and Fear. And, Lord, my Soul in this depth of Sorrow calls for help to thy depth of Mercy. For though I am ſinking and going down, yet not ſo low, but that thy Deut.33. 27. Mercy is yet underneath me: Do of thy Compaſſions open thoſe everlaſting Arms, and catch him that has no Help or Stay in himſelf: For ſo it is with one that is falling into a Well or a Dungeon.

Now mark, as there is in theſe Texts, the ſinking Condition of the godly Man ſet forth, of a Man whom Sin and Satan is treading down into the Deep; ſo in our Text which I am ſpeaking to at this Time, we have a depth that can more than counter-poyſe theſe Deeps, ſet forth with a hearty Prayer, that we may know it. And although the Deeps, or Depths of Calamity into which the godly may fall, may be as deep as Hell, and methinks they ſhould be no deeper: yet this is the Comfort, and for the Comfort of them of the godly that are thus a ſinking: The Mercy of God for them
Job 11.8. lies deeper. It is deeper than Hell, what canſt thou know? And this is that which made Paul that he was not afraid of this
Rom.8.39 Depth, I am perſuaded, ſaith he, that neither heighth nor depth ſhall ſeparate us from the Love of God, which is in Chriſt Jeſus our Lord. But of this he could by no Means have been perſuaded, had he not believed that Mercy lieth deeper for the godly to help them, than can all other depths be to deſtroy them: This is it at which he ſtands
Chap. 11. 32, 33. and wonders, ſaying, O the depth of the Riches both of the Wiſdom and Knowledge of God, that is to find out a Way to ſave his People, notwithſtanding all the deep Contrivances that the Enemy hath, and may invent to make us come ſhort home.

This is alſo that, as I take it, which is wrapped up in the Bleſſing, wherewith Jacob bleſſed his Son Joſeph. God ſhall
Gen. 49. 25 bleſs thee, ſaith he, with the Bleſſings of Heaven above, and with the Bleſſings of the Deep that lyeth under. A Bleſſing which he had Ground to pronounce: as well from his Obſervation of God's good dealing with Joſeph, as in a Spirit of Prophecy: For he
Ver. 22. 23, 24. ſaw that he lived and was become a flouriſhing Bough, by a Wall, after that the Archers had done their worſt to him. Moſes alſo bleſſeth God for bleſſing of Joſeph thus, and bleſſeth his Portion to him, as counting of it ſufficient for his help in all Afflictions. Bleſſed, ſaith he, of the Lord,
Deut. 33. 13. be his Land, for the precious Things of Heaven, for the Dew, and for the deep that coucheth beneath.

I am not of Belief that theſe Bleſſings are confined to Things Temporal, or Carnal, but to Things Spiritual and Divine; and that they have moſt chiefly reſpect to Soul, and eternal Good. Now mark, he tells us here, that the Bleſſings of the Deep, do couch beneath. Couch, that is, lye cloſe, ſo as hardly to be diſcerned by him that willingly would ſee that himſelf is not below thoſe Arms that are beneath him. But that as I ſaid, is hard to be diſcerned by him that thus is ſinking, and that has as he now ſmartingly feels, all God's Waves, and his Billows rouling over him. However whether he ſees or not, for this Bleſſing lieth couched: Yet there it is, and there will be, though one ſhould ſink as deep as Hell: And hence they are ſaid to be everlaſting Arms that are underneath:
Ver. 27. That is, Arms that are long and ſtrong, and that can reach to the Bottom, and alſo beyond, of all Miſery and Diſtreſs, that Chriſtians are ſubject to in this Life. Indeed Mercy ſeems to be aſleep, when we are ſinking: For then we are as if all Things
Pſ. 44.22, to 27. Mar.4.36, to 40. were careleſs of us, but it is but as a Lyon couchant, it will awake in Time for our Help. And for as much as this Term is it, which is applicable to the Lyon in his Den; it may be to ſhew that as a Lyon, ſo will God at the fitteſt Seaſon, ariſe for the help and deliverance of a ſinking People. Hence when he is ſaid to addreſs himſelf to the delivering of his People, it is that he comes as a roaring Lyon. The Lord ſhall go
Iſa. 42.13 forth as a mighty Man, he ſhall ſtir up Jealouſie like a Man of War: He ſhall cry, yea roar, he ſhall prevail againſt his Enemies. However here is a depth againſt the depth that's againſt us, let that depth be what it will. As let it be the depth of Miſery, the depth of Mercy is ſufficient. If it be the depth of helliſh Policy, the depth both of the Wiſdom and Knowledge of God ſhall go beyond it, andprevail.

This therefore is worthy of the Conſideration of all ſinking Souls; of the Souls that feel themſelves deſcending into the Pit. There is ſuch a Thing as this experienced among the godly. Some come to them (when Psal. 113. (when tempted) when you will, they will tell you, they have no Ground to ſtand on, their Feet have ſlipped, their Foundation is removed, and they feel themſelves ſinking, as into a Pit that has no Bottom. They inwardly ſink, not for want of ſomething to relieve the Body, but for want of ſome ſpiritual Cordial to ſupport the Mind. I went down to the Bottoms of the Mountains, Jon. 2. 5, 6. ſaid Jonas, the Earth with her Barrs was about me for ever; my Soul fainted within me.

Now for ſuch to conſider that underneath them, even at the Bottom there lieth a Bleſſing, or that in this deep whereinto they are deſcending, there lieth a delivering Mercy couching to catch them, and to ſave them from ſinking for ever, this would be Relief unto them, and help them to hope for good.

Again, As this were it well conſidered by the ſinking ones, would yield them Stay and Relief, ſo this is it by the Vertue whereof, they that have been ſinking heretofore, have been lifted up, and above their caſtings down again. There are of thoſe that have been in the Pit, now upon Mount Sion, with the Harps of God in their Hands, and with the Song of the Lamb in their Mouths. But how is it that they are there? why, David, by his own Deliverance ſhews Pſ. 86. 13. you the Reaſon. For great is thy Mercy towards me, ſaith he, and thou haſt delivered my Soul from the loweſt Hell. And again, He brought me up alſo out of an horrible Pit, a Pit of Noiſe, (a Pit wherein was the Noiſe of Devils, and of my Heart anſwering them with Diſtruſt and Fear) out Pſ. 40. 1, 2, 3. of the miry Clay, (into which I did not only ſink, but was by it held from getting up: but he brought me up) and ſet my Feet upon a Rock, and eſtabliſhed my Goings. And he hath put a new Song in my Mouth, even Praiſes to our God.

But let me here give, if it may be, a timely Caution to them that think they ſtand upon their Feet. Give not way to falling becauſe everlaſting Arms are underneath, take heed of that: God can let thee fall into Miſchief, he can let thee fall, and not help thee up. Tempt not God, leſt he caſt thee away indeed. I doubt there are many that have preſumed upon this Mercy, that thus do couch beneath, and have caſt themſelves down from their Pinacles into Vanity, of a vain conceit that they ſhall be lifted up again: whom yet God will leave to die there, becauſe their fall was rather of wilfulneſs, than weakneſs, and of ſtubbornneſs, and deſperate Reſolutions, than for want of Means and Helps to preſerve them from it.

Fourthly, As there is a Breadth and Length, and Depth, in this Mercy and Grace of God through Chriſt towards his People: So there is alſo a Heighth. That ye may comprehend with all Saints, what is the Breadth, and Length, and Depth, and [Height] There are things that are high, as well as things, that are low; things that are above us, as well as things that are under, that are diſtreſſing to God's People. It is ſaid when Noah was a Preacher Gen. 6. 4 of Righteouſneſs, there were Giants in the Earth in thoſe Days: And theſe, as I conceive, were ſome of the Heighths that were ſet againſt Noah: yea, they were the very Dads and Fathers of all that monſtrous Brood that followed in the World in that Day. Of this Sort were they who ſo frighted, and terrified Iſrael, when they Num. 13. were to go to inherit the Land of Promiſe. 31, to 34. Deut. 2. The Men that were tall as the Cedars, and 10, & 9. 2. ſtrong as the Oaks, frighted them: they were in their own Sight, when compared with theſe high ones, but as Graſhoppers. This therefore was their Diſcouragement.

Beſides, together with theſe, they had high Walls, Walls as high as Heaven; and theſe Walls were of purpoſe to keep Iſrael out of his Poſſeſſion. See how it is expreſ- Ch. 1. 28. ed: The people is greater and taller than we, the Cities are great and walled up to Heaven; and moreover, we have ſeen the Sons of the Anakims there. One of theſe, to wit, Goliah by Name, how did he fright 1 Sam. 17. the Children of Iſrael in the Days of Saul! How did the Appearance of him, make them ſcuttle together on Heaps before him. By theſe Giants, and by theſe high Walls, God's Children to this Day are ſorely diſtreſſed, becauſe they ſtand in the croſs ways to cut off Iſrael from his Poſſeſſion.

But now to ſupport us againſt all theſe, and to encourage us to take heart notwithſtanding all theſe Things; there is for us, Pſ. 89. 26, a Heighth in God. He hath made his Son 27, 28. higher than the Kings of the Earth: His Pſ. 119. Word alſo is ſettled for ever in Heaven, and 89. therefore muſt needs be higher than their Walls: He alſo ſaith in another Place, If Eccl. 5. 8. thou ſeeſt the Oppreſſion of the Poor, and violent perverting of Judgment and Juſtice in a Province, marvel not at the Matter, for he that is higher than the higheſt, regardeth, and there be higher than they. 'Twas this that made Paul, that he feared Rom. 8. not the Height: not things preſent, nor 39. things to come.

But again, As there are theſe things ſtanding, or lying in our way: So there are another ſort of Heights that are more miſchievous than theſe: And they are the fallen Angels. Theſe are called ſpiritual Eph. 6. 12. Wickedneſs, or wicked Spirits, in high Places: For God has ſuffered them for a Time to take to themſelves Principality and Power, and ſo they are become the Rulers of the Darkneſs of this World. By theſe we are tempted, ſifted, threatned, oppoſed, undermined: alſo by theſe there are Snares, Pits, Holes, and what not made and laid for us, if peradventure by ſomething we may be destroyed. Yea, and we should most certainly be so, were it not for the Joh. 3. 31. Rock that is higher than they. But he that cometh from Heaven is above all. These are they that our King has taken captive, and hath rid (in his Chariots of Salvation) in triumph over their Necks. These are they, together with all others, whose most Rom. 8. 23 devilish Designs he can wield, and turn and make Work together for his ransomed's Advantage. There is a Heighth, an infinitely overtopping Heighth in the Mercy and Goodness of God for us, against them.

There are Heighths also that build up themselves in us, which are not but to be taken notice of: Yea, there are a many of them, and they place themselves directly so, that if possible they may keep the saving Knowledge of God out of our Hearts. 2 Cor. 10. 6. These high things therefore are said to exalt themselves against the Knowledge of God: and do oft times more plague, afflict, and frighten Christian Men and Women, than any thing besides. It is from these that our Faith and spiritual Understanding of God and his Christ is opposed and contradicted, and from these also that we are so inclinable to swerve from right Doctrine into destructive Opinions. 'Tis from these that we are so easily perswaded to call into question our former Experience of the Goodness of God towards us, and from these that our Minds are so often clouded and darkened that we cannot see afar off. These would betray us into the Hands of fallen Angels, and Men, nor should we by any Means help or deliver ourselves, were it not for one that is higher. These are the dark Mountains at which our Feet would certainly stumble, and upon which we should fall, Song 2. 8, 17. were it not for one who can Leap and Skip over these Mountains of Division, and come into us.

Further, there is a Heighth also that is obvious to our Senses, the which when it is dealt withal by our corrupted Reason, proves a great Shaking to our Mind, and that is the Heighth, and exceeding Distance that Heaven is off of us, and we off it. Job 22. 12 Prov. 25. 3 Isa. 7. 11. Is not God in the Height of Heaven, and behold the Heighth of the Stars, how high are they? Hence Heaven is called the Place for Heighth. Also when Ahaz is bid to ask with reference to Heaven, he is bid to ask it, in the Heighth, the Heighth above. Now saith Reason, how shall I come thither? especially when a good Man is at his furthest Distance therefrom: which is, when he is in the Grave. Now I say every Height is a Difficulty to him that is loaden with a Burden, especially the Heaven of Heavens, where God is, and where is the Resting-place of his, to them that are oppressed with the Guilt of Sin. And besides, the Dispensation which happeneth to us last, to wit, Death, as I said before, makes this Heaven, in my Thoughts while I live so much the more unaccessible. Christ indeed could mount up, but me, poor me, how shall I get thither? Elias indeed had a Chariot sent him to ride in thither, and went up by it into that holy Place: but I, poor I, how shall I get thither? Enoch is there because God took him: but as for me, how shall I get thither? Thus some have mourningly said. And although Distrust of the Power of God, as to the accomplishing of this thing, is by no means to be smiled upon, yet methinks the Unconcernedness of Professors thereabout, doth argue that considering Thoughts about that, are wanting. Acts 1. 9. 2 King. 2. Gen. 5. 24.

I know the Answer is ready. Get Christ and go to Heaven. But methinks the Heighth of the Place, and the Glory of the State that we are to enjoy therein, should a little concern us, at least so as to make us wonder in our thinking, that the time is coming that we must mount up thither. And since there are so many Heighths between this Place, between us and that; it should make us admire at the Heighths of the Grace and Mercy of God, by which, means is provided to bring us thither. And I believe that this thing, this very thing is included here by the Apostle when he prays for the Ephesians, that they might know the Heighth.

Methinks, How shall we get thither, will Isa. 14. 14. still stick in my Mind. I will ascend, says one, Obad. 4. above the Heighth of the Clouds, and I will be like the Most High: And I, says another, will set my Nest among the Stars of Heaven. Well, but what of all this? If Heaven has Gates, and they shall be shut, how wilt thou go in thither? Though Amo. 9. 2. such should climb up to Heaven, from thence will God bring them down. Still I say, therefore, how shall we get in thither? Why, for them that are godly, there is the Power of God, the Merits of Christ, the Help of Angels, and the Testimony of a good Conscience to bring them thither; and he that has not the Help of all these, let him do what he can, shall never come thither. Not that all these go to the making up of the Heighth that it intended in the Text: for the Heighth there, is what Luk. 16. 22. is in God through Christ to us alone. But Heb. 1. 14. the Angels are the Servants of God for that Psal. 15. 1. End: and none with ill Consciences enter Psal. 24. 3. in thither. What, know ye not that the 1 Cor. 6. 9. Unrighteous shall not inherit the Kingdom Eph. 5. 5. of God? be not deceived, such have no Inheritance in the Kingdom of Christ and of God.

This then should teach us that in God is a Power that is able to subdue all things to himself. In the compleating of many things, there seems to be an utter Impossibility, as that a Virgin should conceive in her Womb, as a Virgin, and bring a Son into the World; that that the Body that is turned into Duſt, ſhould ariſe and aſcend into the higheſt Heaven. Theſe things with many more ſeem to be utterly impoſſible: but there is that which is called the power of God, by the which he is able to make all things bend to his will, and to make all Obſtructions give place to what he pleaſes. God is high above all things, and can do whatever it pleaſeth him. But ſince he can do ſo, why doth he ſuffer this, and that thing to appear, to act, and do ſo horribly repugnant to his Word? I anſwer, he admits of many things, to the end he may ſhew his Wrath and make his Power known; and that all the World may ſee how he checks and over-rules the moſt vile and unruly things, and can make them ſubſervient to his holy Will. And how would the Breadth and the Length, and the Depth, and the Heighth, of the Love and Mercy of God in Chriſt to us-ward be made to appear, ſo as in all things it doth, were there not admitted that there ſhould be Breadths, and Lengths, and Depths, and Heighths, to oppoſe. Wherefore theſe Oppoſitions are therefore ſuffered, that the Greatneſs of the Wiſdom, the Power, the Mercy, and Grace of God to us in Chriſt might appear and be made manifeſt unto us.

Philip. 3. 21.

This calls therefore upon Chriſtians, wiſely to conſider of the Doings of their God. How many oppoſite Breadths, and Lengths, and Depths, and Heighths did Iſrael meet with in their Journey from Egypt to Canaan, and all to convince them of their own Weakneſs, and alſo of the Power of their God. And they that did wiſely conſider of his Doings there, did reap the Advantage thereof. Come, behold the works of the Lord towards me, may every Chriſtian ſay. He hath ſet a Saviour againſt Sin; a Heaven againſt a Hell; Light againſt Darkneſs; good againſt evil, and the Breadth, and Length, and Depth, and Heighth of the Grace that is in himſelf, for my good, againſt all the Power and Strength, and Force, and Subtilty of every Enemy.

This alſo, as I hinted but juſt before, ſhews both the Power of them that hate us, and the Inability of us to reſiſt. The Power that is ſet againſt us none can cruſh, and break, but God: For it is the Power of Devils, of Sin, of Death, and Hell. But we for our parts are cruſhed before the mouth: being a Shadow, a Vapour, and a Wind that paſſes away. Oh how ſhould we, and how would we, were but our Eyes awake, ſtand and wonder at the Preſervations, the Deliverances, the Salvations and Benefits with which we are ſurrounded daily: while ſo many mighty Evils ſeek daily to ſwallow us up, as the Grave.

Job 4. 19.

Pſal. 56. 1, 2. See how the golden Pſalm of David reads it. Be merciful unto me, O God, for Man would ſwallow me up: he fighteth daily, oppreſſeth me. Mine Enemies would ſwallow me up: for they be many that fight againſt me, O moſt High. This is at the beginning of it. And he concludes it thus, Thou haſt delivered my Soul from Death: ver. 13. wilt not thou deliver my Feet from falling, that I may walk before God in the Light of the living.

By this alſo we ſee the Reaſon why it is ſo impoſſible for Man or Angel to perſuade Unbelievers to come into, and cloſe with Chriſt; why there is a Breadth that they cannot get over, a Length that they cannot get beyond, a Depth that they cannnot paſs, and Heighths that ſo hinder them of the Proſpect of Glory, and the Way thereto, that they cannot be allured thither. And that nothing can remove theſe, but thoſe that are in God, and that are oppoſite thereto; even the breadth and length, and depth and heighth that is in the Text expreſſed, is to all awakened Men an undoubted Truth.

One Item I would here give to him that loveth his own Soul, and then we will paſs on in purſuance of what is to come! Since there is an heighth obvious to Senſe, and that heighth muſt be overcome ere a Man can enter into Life Eternal: Let thy Heart be careful that thou go the right Way to over-paſs this heighth, that thou mayeſt not miſs of the delectable Plains, and the Pleaſures that are above. Now there is nothing ſo high, as to overtop this heighth; but Jacob's Ladder, and that can do it: That Ladder, when the Foot thereof doth ſtand upon the Earth, reacheth with its Top to the Gate of Heaven. This is the Ladder by which Angels aſcend thither: And this is the Ladder by which thou mayeſt aſcend thither. And he dreamed a Dream, and behold a Ladder ſet upon the Earth, and the Top of it reached to Heaven: And behold the Angels of God aſcending and deſcending on it.

Gen. 28. 12.

This Ladder is Jeſus Chriſt, the Son of Man, as is clear by the Evangeliſt John. And in that it is ſaid to ſtand upon the Earth, that is to ſhew that he took hold of Man who is of the Earth, and therein laid a Foundation for his Salvation: In that it is ſaid the Top reached up to Heaven, that is to ſhew that the Divine Nature was joined to the human, and by that Means he was every Way made a Saviour compleat. Now concerning this Ladder, 'tis ſaid, Heaven was open where it ſtood, to ſhew that by him there is Entrance into Life: 'Tis ſaid alſo concerning this Ladder, that the Lord ſtood there, at the Top, above it: Saying, I am the God of Abraham, to ſhew his hearty and willing Reception of thoſe that aſcend the heighth of his Sanctuary this Way. All which Chriſt further explains by ſaying, I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life, no Man cometh to the Father but by me. Look to thy ſelf then that thou do do truly and after the right Manner embrace this Ladder, ſo will he draw thee up thither after him. All the rounds of this Ladder are ſound and fitly placed, not one of them is ſet further than that by Faith thou mayeſt aſcend Step by Step unto, even untill thou ſhalt come to the higheſt Step thereof, from whence, or by which thou mayeſt ſtep in at the Celeſtial Gate where thy Soul deſireth to dwell.

Take my Caution then, and be wary, no Man can come thither but by him. Thither I ſay to be accepted: Thither, there to dwell, and there to abide with Joy for ever.

That you may be able to comprehend with all Saints, what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and heighth; and to know the Love of Chriſt which paſſeth Knowledge.

Having thus ſpoke of the Breadth, and Length, and Depth, and Heighth, that is in God's Mercy by Chriſt to us-ward; we will now come more directly to the Prayer of the Apoſtle for theſe Epheſians, with Reference thereunto; to wit, that they might be able to comprehend with all Saints what they are.

And firſt, As to the Ability that he prays for, to the End they may be capable to do this Thing.

That ye may be able.] The weakneſs that is here ſuppoſed to hinder their thus comprehending, &c. did doubtleſs lie in their Grace, as well as their Nature: For in both, with reference to them that are Chriſtians, there is great Diſability, unleſs they be ſtrengthened mightily by the Holy Ghoſt. Natures Ability depends upon Graces, and the Ability of Graces, depends upon the mighty Help of the Spirit of God. Hence as Nature it ſelf, where Grace is not, ſees nothing; So Nature by Grace ſees but weekly, if that Grace is not ſtrengthened with all Might by the Spirit of Grace. The breadths, lengths, depths and heighths here made mention of, are Myſteries, and in all their Operations, do work wonderful myſteriouſly: Inſomuch that many Times, though they are all of them buſily engaged for this and the other Child of God, yet they themſelves ſee nothing of them. As Chriſt ſaid to Peter, what I do thou knoweſt not now: So may it be ſaid to many where the Grace and Mercy of God in Chriſt is working: They do not know, they underſtand not what it is, nor what will be the End of ſuch Diſpenſations of God towards them. Wherefore they alſo ſay as Peter to Chriſt, Doſt thou waſh my Feet? thou ſhalt never waſh my Feet: Yea, and when ſome Light to convince of this Folly breaks in upon them, yet if it be not very diſtinct and clear; cauſing the Perſon to know the true Cauſe, Nature, and End of God's doing of this or that, they ſwerve with Peter, as much on the other Side. They have not known my Ways, and my Methods with them in this World, were that that cauſed Iſrael always to err in their Hearts, and lye croſs to all, and each of theſe breadths, lengths, depths, and heighths, whenever they were under the Exerciſe of any of them in the Wilderneſs. Heb. 3. 10.

And the Reaſon is, as I ſaid before, for that they are very myſterious in their workings. For they work by, upon, and againſt Oppoſitions; for, and in order to the Help and Salvation of his People. Alſo (as was hinted a while ſince) that the Power and Glory of this breadth and length, &c. of the Mercy and Grace of God, may the more ſhew its Excellency and Sufficiency as to our Deliverance; we by him ſeem quite to be delivered up to the breadth, lengths, and depths, and heighths that oppoſe, and that utterly ſeek our Ruin: Wherefore at ſuch Times, nothing of breadths, lengths, depths, or heighths can be ſeen, ſave by thoſe that are very well skilled in thoſe myſterious Methods of God, in his gracious Actings towards his People. Who will bring me into the ſtrong City, and, wilt not thou O God which haſt caſt us off? And thou O God which didſt not go forth with our Armies? Is a Leſſon too hard for every Chriſtian Man to ſay over believingly. And what was it that made Jonah ſay, when he was in the Belly of Hell, yet will I look again towards thy holy Temple; but the good skill that he had in underſtanding of the Myſtery of theſe breadths, and lengths, and depths, and heighths of God, and of the Way of his working by them. Read the Text at large. Thou haſt caſt me into the Deep, in the midſt of the Seas, and the Floods compaſſed me about. All thy Billows and thy Waves paſſed over me. Then I ſaid, I am caſt out of thy Sight; yet will I look again toward thy holy Temple. Pſ. 60. 9, 10. Jonah 2. Ver. 3, 4.

Theſe, and ſuch like Sentences, are eaſily played with by a preacher, when in the Pulpit, ſpecially if he has a little of the Notion of Things, but of the Difficulty and Strait, that thoſe are brought into, out of whoſe Mouth ſuch Things, or Words are extorted, by Reaſon of the Force of the Labyrinths they are fallen into: Of thoſe they experience nothing, wherefore to thoſe they are utterly Strangers.

He then that is able to comprehend with all Saints what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and heighth; muſt be a good Expoſitor of Providence, and muſt ſee the Way, and the Workings of God by them. Now there are Providences of two Sorts, ſeemingly good, and ſeemingly bad, and thoſe do uſually as Jacob did, when he bleſſed the Sons of Joſeph, croſs Hands; and lay the Bleſſing where we would not. And when Joſeph ſaw that his Father laid his right Hand upon the Head of Ephraim, it diſpleaſed him. I ſay there are Providences unto which we would have the Bleſſings intailed, but they are not. And they are Gen. 48. 17.

Joh. 13. 6, 7, 8.

Ver. 9, 10.

are Providences that ſmile upon the Fleſh, to wit, ſuch as caſt into the Lap. Health, Wealth, Plenty, Eaſe, Friends, and Abundance of this World's good: Becauſe theſe, Ch. 4. 51. Manaſſeh as his Name doth ſignifie, have in them an aptneſs to make us forget our Toil, our low Eſtate, and from whence we were: But the great Bleſſing is not in them. There are Providences again, that take away from us whatever is deſirable to the Fleſh; ſuch is the Sickneſs, Loſſes, Croſſes, Perſecution and Affliction; and uſually in theſe, though they make us ſhock when ever they come upon us, Bleſſing coucheth, and is ready to help us. For God, as the Ver. 52. Name of Ephraim ſignifies, makes us fruitfull in the Land of our Affliction. He therefore in bleſſing of his People lays his Hands a croſs, guiding them wittingly, and laying the chiefeſt Bleſſing on the Head of Ephraim, or in that Providence, that ſanctifies Affliction. Abel! what, to the Reaſon Gen. 35. 18. of Eve was he, in Compariſon of Cain. Rachel called Benjamin the Son of her Sorrow; but Jacob knew how to give him a better Name. Jabez alſo, though his Mo- 1 Chro. 4. 9, 10. ther ſo called him, becauſe, as it ſeems, ſhe brought him forth with more than ordinary Sorrow, was yet more honourable, more godly, than his Brethren. He that has Skill to judge of Providences aright, has a great Ability in him to comprehend with other Saints, what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and heighth, but he that has no Skill as to diſcerning of them, is but a Child in his Judgment in thoſe high, and myſterious Things. And hence it is, that ſome ſhall ſuck Honey out of that, at the which others tremble for fear it ſhould poyſon them. I have often been Eccl. 7. 3, 4, 5. made to ſay, Sorrow is better than Laughter: And the Houſe of Mourning, better than the Houſe of Mirth. And I have more often ſeen, that the afflicted are always the beſt ſort of Chriſtians. There is a Man, never well, never proſpering, never but under Afflictions, Diſappointments and Sorrows: Why this Man if he be a Chriſtian, is one of the beſt of Men. They Pſ. 107. 23, 24. that go down to the Sea, that do Buſineſs in great Waters, they ſee the Works of the Lord, and his Wonders in the Deep. And it is from hence, for ought I know, that James admoniſhes the Brother of high De- James 1. 10, to 14. gree to rejoyce in that he is made low. And he renders the Reaſon of it, to wit, for that the Faſhion of the World periſheth, the rich Man fadeth away in his Way; but the tempted and he that endureth Temptation is bleſſed. Now, I know theſe Things are not excellent in themſelves, nor yet to be deſired for any Profit that they can yield, but God doth uſe by theſe, as by a Tutor or Inſtructor, to make known them that are exerciſed with them, ſo much of himſelf as to make them underſtand, that Riches of his Goodneſs that is ſeldom by other Means broken up to the Sons of Men. Heb. 12. 11. And hence it is ſaid that the afterwards of Affliction doth yield the peaceable Fruits of Righteouſneſs to them that are exerciſed thereby.

The Sum is, theſe Breadths, and Lengths, and Depths, and Heights of God, are to be diſcerned; and ſome that are good, do more, and ſome do leſs diſcern them, and how they are working, and putting forth themſelves in every Providence, in every Change, in every Turn of the Wheel that paſſeth by us in this World. I do not queſtion but that there are ſome that are alive that have been able to ſay, the Days of Affliction have been the beſt unto them, and that could, if it were lawful, pray that they might always be in Affliction, if God would but do to them as he did when his Hand was laſt upon them. For by them he cauſed his Light to ſhine: Or as Job has it, Thou hunteſt me as a fierce Lyon, and again, thou ſheweſt thy ſelf marvelouſly upon me. Job 10. 16. See alſo the Writing of Hezekiah, Iſa. 38. and read what Profit he found in Afflictions.

But again, theſe Breadths, Lengths, Depths, and Heights, have in themſelves naturally that Glory, that cannot be ſo well diſcerned, or kept in View by weak Eyes. He had need have an Eye like an Eagle, that can look upon the Sun, that can look upon theſe great Things, and not be ſtricken blind therewith. You ſee how Saul was ſerved when he was going Acts 9. to Damaſcus: But Stephen could ſtand and Chap. 7. look up ſtedfaſtly into Heaven, and that too when with Jonas he was going into the Deep. But I have done with this, and proceed,

That ye may be able to comprehend.] Although apprehending is included in comprehending; yet to comprehend is more. To comprehend is to know a Thing fully; or, to reach it all. But here we muſt diſtinguiſh, and ſay that there is a Comprehending that is abſolute, and a Comprehending that is comparative. Of comprehending abſolutely or perfectly, we are not here to ſpeak; for that the Apoſtle could not, in this Place, as to the Thing prayed for, deſire: For it is utterly impoſſible perfectly to know whatſoever is in the Breadths, Lengths, Depths, and Heights here ſpoken of. Whether you call them Mercies, Judgments, or the Ways of God with Men. How unſearchable are his Judg- Rom. 11. ments, and his Ways paſt finding out! Or, 33. if you take them to ſignify his Love, unto which you ſee I am inclined; why, that you read of in the ſame Place, to be it which paſſes Knowledge. Wherefore ſhould the Apoſtle by this Term, conclude, or inſinuate, that what he calls here Breadths, Lengths, Depths, or Heighths, might be fully, or perfectly understood and known, he would not only contradict other Scriptures, but himself, in one and the selfsame Breath. Wherefore it must be understood comparatively; that is, and that he says, with, or as much as others, as any, even with all Saints. That ye may be able to comprehend with all Saints, what is the Breadth, and Length, and Depth, and Heighth. I would ye were as able to understand, to know, and to find out these Things, as ever any were; and to know with the very best of Saints, The Love of Christ, which passeth Knowledge. There are, as has afore been hinted, Degrees of Knowledge of these Things; some know more, some less; but the Apostle prays that these Ephesians might see, know, and understand as much thereof as the best, or as any under Heaven.

And this in the first Place shews us the Love of a Minister of Jesus Christ. A Rom. 16. 20, 24. 1 Cor. 16. 23. 2 Cor. 13. 7. Gal. 6. 18. Eph. 1. 16. Phil. 1. 4. Col. 1. 3. 1 Thes. 1. 2 2 Thess. 1. 11. 1 Tim. 6. 21. 2 Tim. 4. 22. Minister's Love to his Flock is seen in his Praying for them: Wherefore Paul, commonly, by his Epistles, either first or last, or both, gives the Churches to understand, That he did often heartily pray to God for them: And not only so, but also specifies the Mercies, and Blessings, and Benefits which he earnestly begged for them of God.

But Secondly, This implies that there are great Benefits accrue to Christians by the comprehending of these things: Yea, it implies that something very special is ministred to us by this Knowledge of these; and here to touch upon a few of them.

First, He that shall arrive to some competent Knowledge of these things, shall understand more thorowly the Greatness, the Wisdom, the Power, &c. of the God that is above. For by these Expressions are the Attributes of God set forth unto us: And although I have discoursed of them hitherto under the Notion of Grace and Mercy, yet it was not for that I concluded, they excluded the expressing of his other Attributes, but because they all, as it were, turn into loving Methods in the Wheel of their heavenly Motion towards the Children of God. Hence it is said, 1 Joh. 4. 16 God is Love, God is Light. God is what he is for his own Glory, and the good of them that fear him. God! Why God in Col. 1. 17. the Breadth, Length, Depth, Heighth that is here intended, comprehends the whole World. The whole World is in him: For he is before, above, beyond, and round about all things. Hence it is said, The Heavens for Breadth, are but his Span; That he gathereth the Wind in his Fists, Prov. 30. 4 measureth the Waters in the Hollow of his Isa. 40. 12, 17. Hand, weigheth the Mountains in Scales, and the Hills in a Balance. Yea, that all Nations before him are as nothing, and they are counted to him less than nothing, and Vanity. Hence we are said to live and move Acts 17. 28 in him, and that he is beyond all Search.

I will add one Word more, notwithstanding there is such a Revelation of Him in His Word, in the Book of Creatures, and in the Book of Providences, yet the Scripture says, Lo, these are part of his Ways, but how little a Portion is heard of him! So great is God above all that Job 26. 14. we have read, heard, or seen of Him, either, in the Bible, in Heaven, or Earth, the Sea, or what else is to be understood. But now, That a poor Mortal, a Lump of sinful Flesh, or as the Scripture-Phrase is, poor Dust and Ashes, should be in the Favour, in the Heart, and wrapped up in the Compassions of such a God! O amazing! O astonishing Consideration! And yet This God is our God for ever and ever; Psa. 48. 14 and He will be our Guide even unto Death.

It is said of our God, That he humbleth himself when he beholds things in Heaven. How much more then when he openeth his Eyes upon Man; but most of all when he makes it, as one may say, his Business to visit him every Morning, and to try him every Moment, having set his Heart upon him, being determined to set him also among his Princes. The Lord is high Psal. 113. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8. above all Nations, and his Glory above the Heavens. Who is like to the Lord our God who dwelleth on high! Who humbleth himself to behold things that are in Heaven, and in the Earth! He raiseth up the poor out of the Dust, and lifteth the needy out of the Dunghil, that he may set him with Princes, even with the Princes of his People.

Secondly, If this God be our God; or if our God be such a God, and could we but attain to that Knowledge of the breadth, and length, and depth, and heighth that is in him, as the Apostle here prays, and desires we may, we should never be afraid of any thing we shall meet with, or that shall assault us in this World. The great God, the Former of all things, taketh part with them that fear him, and that engage themselves to walk in his Ways, of Love, and Respect they bare unto him, So that such may boldly say, The Lord is Heb. 13. 5. 6. my Helper, and I will not fear what Man shall do unto me. Would it not be amazing, should you see a Man incompassed with Chariots and Horses, and Weapons for his defence, yet afraid of being Sparrow blasted, or over-run by a Grashopper! Why It is He that sitteth upon the Circle of the Isa. 40. 22. Earth, and to whom the Inhabitants thereof be as Grashoppers, that is the God of the People that are lovers of Jesus Christ; therefore we should not fear them. To fear Man, is to forget God; and to be careless in a time of Danger, is to forget God's Ordinance. What is it then? Why, let us fear God, and diligently keep his Way, with what prudence and regard to our preſervation, and alſo the Preſervation of what we have, we may: And if, we doing this, our God ſhall deliver us, and what we have, into the Hands of them that hate us, let us laugh, be fearleſs and careleſs, not minding now to do any thing elſe but to ſtand up for him againſt the workers of Iniquity; fully concluding, that both we, and our Enemies, are in the hand of him that loveth his People, and that will certainly render a Reward to the Wicked, after that he has ſufficiently tryed us by their Means. The great God that formed all things, both rewardeth the Fool, and rewardeth Tranſgreſſors. Prov. 26. 10.

Thirdly, Another thing that the Knowledge of what is prayed for of the Apoſtle, if we attain it, will miniſter to us, is, An holy Fear and Reverence of this great God in our Souls; both becauſe he is great, and becauſe he is wiſe and good. Who would not fear Thee, O Lord, and glorifie Thy Name. Jer. 10. 7. Rev. 15. 4.

Greatneſs ſhould beget Fear, Greatneſs ſhould beget Reverence: Now who ſo great as our God: and ſo, who to be feared like him! he alſo is wiſe, and will not be deceived by any. He will bring Evil, and not call back his Words, but will riſe againſt the Houſe of Evil-doers, and againſt the Help of them that work Iniquity. Moſt Men deal with God as if he were not wiſe; as if he either knew not the Wickedneſs of their Hearts and Ways, or elſe knew not how to be even with them for it: When, alas; He is wiſe in Heart, and Mighty in Power; and although he will not without Cauſe, afflict, yet he will not let Wickedneſs go unpuniſhed. This therefore ſhould make us fear. He alſo is good, and this ſhould make us ſerve him with fear. Oh! that a great God ſhould be a good God; a good God to an unworthy, to an undeſerving, and to a People that continually do what they can to provoke the Eyes of his Glory; this ſhould make us tremble. He is fearful in Service, fearful in Praiſes. Iſa. 31. 2.

The breadth, and length, and depth, and heighth of his out-going towards the Children of Men, ſhould alſo beget in us a very great Fear and Dread of his Majeſty. When the Prophet ſaw the Heighth of the Wheels, he ſaid they were dreadful, and cried out unto them, O Wheel! His Judgments alſo are a great deep; nor is there any ſearching of his Underſtanding. He can tell how to bring his Wheel upon us; and to make our Table a Snare, a Trap, and a Stumbling-Block unto us: He can tell how to make his Son to us a Rock of Offence, and his Goſpel to be a Savour of Death unto Death, unto us. He can tell how to chuſe Deluſions for us, and to lead us forth with the Workers of Iniquity. He can out-wit, and out-do us, and prevail againſt us for ever; and therefore we ſhould be afraid and fear before him, for our good, and the good of ours for ever: Yea, it is for theſe Purpoſes, with others, that the Apoſtle prayeth thus for this People: For the comprehending of theſe things, do poiſe and keep the Heart in an even Courſe. This yields comfort; This gives Incouragement; this begets Fear and Reverence in our Hearts of God.

Ez. 1. 18. —10. 13. Pſ. 36. 6. Iſa. 8. 14. —40. 28. Rom. 11. 8 9, 10. 2 Cor. 2. 15, 16. Iſa. 66. 4. 2 Theſſ. 2. 11, 12. Pſ. 125. 5. Job 14. 20.

Fourthly, This knowledge will make us willing that he ſhould be our God; yea, will alſo make us abide by that Willingneſs. Jacob ſaid with a Vow, If God will be with me and will keep me in this Way that I go, and will give me Bread to eat, and Raiment to put on; ſo that I come again to my Father's Houſe in peace: Then ſhall the Lord be my God. And this Stone which I have ſet for a Pillar, ſhall be God's Houſe; and of all that Thou ſhalt give me, I will ſurely give the Tenth unto Thee. Thus he conſidered the Greatneſs of God, and from a Suppoſition that he was what he had heard him, of his Father, to be; he concluded to chuſe him for his God, and that he would worſhip him, and give him that honour that was due to him as God. How did the King of Babylon ſet him above all gods, when but ſome ſparkling Rays from him did light upon him: He calls him a God of Gods, prefers him above all Gods, charges all People and Nations that they do nothing amiſs againſt him: He calls him the moſt high God, the God that liveth for ever; and confeſſes, that He doth whatſoever he will in Heaven and Earth; and concludes with praiſing and extolling of him. We naturally love Greatneſs: And when the glorious Beauty of the King of Glory ſhall be manifeſt to us, and we ſhall behold it, we ſhall ſay as Joſhua did; Let all Men do as ſeems them good; but I, and my Houſe will ſerve the Lord. Gen. 28. 20, 21, 22. Dan. 2. 47. Ch. 3. 28, 29. Ch. 4.

When the Apoſtle Paul ſought to win the Athenians to him, he ſets him forth before them with ſuch Terms as beſpeaks his Greatneſs; calling of him (and that rightly) God that made the World, and all Things; the Lord of Heaven and Earth. One that giveth to all Life and Breath, and all Things: One that is nigh to every one; he in whom we live, and move, and have our Being: God that hath made of one Blood all Nations of Men; and that hath determined the Times before appointed, and the Bounds of their Habitation, &c. Theſe Things beſpeak the Greatneſs of God, and are taking to conſidering Men. Yea, theſe very Athenians, while ignorant of him, from theſe dark Hints that they had by natural Light concerning him, erected an Altar to him, and put this ſingular Inſcription upon it, To the Unknown God: To ſhew, that according to their Mode, they had ſome Kind of Reverence for him: But how Acts 17. 20, 25, 26, 27, 28.

how much more when they came to know him, and to believe that God in all his Greatneſs had engaged himſelf to be theirs, and to bring them to himſelf, that they might in Time be Partakers of his Glory.

Fifthly, The more a Man knows or underſtands, of the Greatneſs of God towards him, expreſſed here by the Terms of unſearchable Breadth, Length, Depth, and Height; the better will he be able in his Heart to conceive of the excellent Glory and Greatneſs of the Things that are laid up in the Heavens for them that fear him. They that know nothing of this Greatneſs, know nothing of them; they that think amiſs of this Greatneſs, think amiſs of them; they that know but little of this Greatneſs, know but little of them: But he that is able to comprehend with all Saints what is the Breadth, and Length, and Depth, and Heighth; he is beſt able to conceive of, and conſequently, to make a Judgment concerning the due Worth and bleſſed Glory of them.

This is both evident to Reaſon, alſo Experience confirmeth the ſame. For as for thoſe dark Souls that know nothing of his Greatneſs, they have in Deriſion thoſe who are, through the Splendor of the Glory, captivated and carried away after God. Alſo, thoſe whoſe Judgments are corrupted, and themſelves thereby made as Drunkards, to judge of Things fooliſhly, they, as it were, ſtep in the ſame Steps with the other, and vainly imagine thereabout. Moreover we ſhall ſee thoſe little ſpirited Chriſtians, though Chriſtians indeed, that are but in a ſmall Meaſure acquainted with this God, with the Breadths, and Lengths, and Depths, and Heights that are in him, taken but little with the Glory and Bleſſedneſs that they are to go to when they die; wherefore they are neither ſo mortified to this World, ſo dead to Sin, ſo ſelf-denying, ſo delighted in the Book of God, nor ſo earneſt in Deſires to be acquainted with the Heights, and Depths that are therein. No, this is reſerved only for thoſe who are devoted thereto; who have been acquainted with God in a Meaſure beyond that which your narrow-ſpirited Chriſtians underſtand. There doth want as to theſe Things, inlargings in the Hearts of the moſt of Saints, as there did in thoſe of Corinth, and alſo in thoſe at Epheſus; wherefore as Paul bids the one, and prays that the other may be inlarged, and have great Knowledge thereabout; ſo we ſhould to anſwer ſuch Love, through Deſire ſeparate our ſelves from terrene Things, that we may ſeek and intermeddle with all Wiſdom. Chriſt ſays, if any Man will do his Will he ſhall know of the Doctrine. Oh! that we were indeed inlarged as to theſe Breadths, and Lengths, and Depths, and Heighths of God, as the Apoſtle deſired the Epheſians might.

Iſa. 28. 9.

Sixthly, Then thoſe great Truths, the Coming of Chriſt, the Reſurrection of the Dead, and eternal Judgment, would neither ſeem ſo like Fables, nor be ſo much off our Hearts as they do, and are. For the thorough Belief of them depends upon the Knowledge of the Abilities that are in God to perform what he has ſaid thereabout: And hence it is that your inferior Sort of Chriſtians live ſo like, as if none of theſe Things were at han ; and hence it is again, that they ſo ſoon are ſhaken in Mind about them, when tempted of the Devil, or briskly aſſaulted by Deceivers. But this cometh to paſs that there may be fulfiled what is written: And while the Bridegroom tarried, they all ſlumbred and ſlept. Surely, the Meaning is, they were aſleep about his coming, the Reſurrection and the Judgment; and conſequently had loſt much of that Knowledge of God, the which if they had retained, theſe Truths, with Power, would have been upon their Hearts. The Corinthians were horribly decaying here, though ſome more than others: Hence Paul, when he treats of this Doctrine, bids them awake to Righteouſneſs, and not ſin, telling them, that ſome among them had not the Knowledge of God. To be ſure they had not ſuch a Knowledge of God as would keep them ſteddy in the Faith of theſe Things.

1 Cor. 15. 35.
Mat. 25. 1, to 8.
1 Cor. 15. 34.
Ver. 31.

Now the Knowledge of the Things above-mentioned, to wit, this comprehending Knowledge; will greaten theſe Things, bring them near, and make them to be credited as are the greateſt of God's Truths, and the Virtue of the Faith of them is, to make one die daily. Therefore,

Seventhly, Another Advantage that floweth from this Knowledge, is, that it makes the next World deſireable, not ſimply as it is with thoſe lean Souls, that deſire it only as the Thief deſireth the Judge's Favour, that he may be ſaved from the Halter, but out of love ſuch have to God and to the Beauties of the Houſe he dwells in; and that they may be rid of this World, which is to ſuch as a dark Dungeon. The Knowledge of God that Men pretend they have, may eaſily be judged of, by the Anſwerable or Unanſwerableneſs of their Hearts and Lives thereto. Where is the Man that groans earneſtly to be gone to God, that counts this Life a Strait unto him; that ſaith as a ſick Man of my Acquaintance did, when his Friend at his Bedſide prayed to God to ſpare his Life, No, No, ſaid he, pray not ſo, for 'tis better to be diſſolved and be gone. Chriſtians ſhould ſhew the World how they believe, not by Words on Paper, not by gay and flouriſhing Notions; but by thoſe Deſires they have to be gone, and the Proof that theſe Deſires are true, is a Life in Heaven while we are on Earth.

Jam. 2. 18.
Phil. 3. 20, 21.

I know

I know Words are cheap, but a Dram of Grace is worth all the World. But where, as I ſaid, ſhall it be found, not among carnal Men, not among weak Chriſtians, but among thoſe, and thoſe only, that enjoy a great Meaſure of Paul's Wiſh here. But to come to the ſecond Part of the Text,

And to know the Love of Chriſt which paſſeth Knowledge. Theſe Words are the ſecond Part of the Text, and they deal mainly about the Love of Chriſt, who is the Son of God. We have ſpoken already briefly of God, and therefore now we ſhall ſpeak alſo of his Son. Theſe Words are a Part of the Prayer afore-mentioned, and have ſomething of the ſame Strain in them. In the firſt Part, he prays that they might comprehend that which cannot abſolutely by any Means be comprehended; and here he prays that that might be known, which yet in the ſame Breath he ſaith, paſſeth Knowledge, to wit, the Love of Chriſt. And to know the Love of Chriſt, which paſſeth Knowledge.

In the Words we are to take Notice of three Things:

Firſt, Of the Love of Chriſt.

Secondly, Of the exceeding Greatneſs of it.

Thirdly, Of the Knowledge of it.

We will begin with the firſt of theſe, to wit, Of the Love of Chriſt. Now for the explication of this we muſt enquire into three Things,

1*ſt*, Who Chriſt is.

2*dly*, What Love is.

3*dly*, What the Love of Chriſt is.

1*ſt*, Chriſt is a Perſon of no leſs Quality than is he of whom we treated before; to wit, very God. So I ſay, not titularly, not nominally, not ſo counterfeitly, but the ſelf-ſame in Nature with the Father. Wherefore what we have under Conſideration, is ſo much the more to be taken Notice of; namely, that a Perſon ſo great, ſo high, ſo glorious, as this Jeſus Chriſt was, ſhould have Love for us, that paſſes Knowledge. It is common for Equals to love, and for Superiors to be beloved; but for the King of Princes, for the Son of God, for Jeſus Chriſt to love Man thus: This is amazing, and that ſo much the more, for that Man, the Object of this Love, is ſo low, ſo mean, ſo vile, ſo undeſerving, and ſo inconſiderable, as by the Scriptures every where he is deſcribed to be.

Joh. 1. 1, 2. 1 Joh. 5. 7. Phil. 2. 6

But to ſpeak a little more particularly of this Perſon. 1. He is called God. 2. The King of Glory, and Lord of Glory. 3. The Brightneſs of the Glory of his Father. 4. The Head over all Things. 5. The Prince of Life. 6. The Creator of all Things. 7. The Upholder of all Things. 8. The Diſpoſer of all Things. 9. The only Beloved of the Father.

Pſ. 24. 10. 1 Cor. 2. 8. Heb. 1. 3. Eph. 1. 22. Acts 3. 15. Col. 1. 16. Heb. 1. 3. Mat. 28. — 11.

But the Perſons of him beloved, are called Tranſgreſſors, Sinners, Enemies, Duſt and Aſhes, Fleas, Worms, Shadows, Vapours; vile, ſinful, filthy, unclean, ungodly Fools, Madmen. And now is it not to be wondred at, and are we not to be affected herewith, ſaying, And wilt thou ſet thine Eye upon ſuch a one? But how much more when he will ſet his Heart upon us. And yet this great, this high, this glorious Perſon, verily, verily loveth ſuch.

2*dly*, We now come to the ſecond Thing, namely, to ſhew What is Love; not in a way of nice Diſtinction of Words, but in a plain and familiar Diſcourſe, yet reſpecting the Love of the Perſon under Conſideration.

Love ought to be conſidered with Reference to the Subject as well as to the Object of it.

The Subject of Love in the Text is Chriſt; but foraſmuch as Love in him is diverſe from the Love that is in us; therefore it will not be amiſs, if a little the Difference be made appear.

1. Love in us is a Paſſion of the Soul, and being ſuch, is ſubject to ebb and flow, and to be extream both Ways. For whatever is a Paſſion of the Soul, whether Love or Hatred, Joy or Fear, is more apt to exceed, or come ſhort, than to keep within its due Bounds. Hence, oft-times that which is loved to Day is hated To-morrow; yea, and that which ſhould be loved with Bounds of Moderation, is loved to the Drowning of both Soul and Body in Perdition and Deſtruction.

2 Sam. 13. 15. 2 Tim. 4. 10.

2. Beſides, Love in us is apt to chuſe to it ſelf undue and unlawful Objects, and to reject thoſe, that with Leave of God, we may embrace and enjoy; ſo unruly, as to the Laws and Rules of Divine Government, oft-times is this Paſſion of Love in us.

3. Love in us requires that ſomething pleaſing and delightful be in the Object loved, at leaſt ſo it muſt appear to the Luſt and Fancy of the Perſon loving, or elſe Love cannot act; for the Love that is in us, is not of Power to ſet it ſelf on work, where no allurement is in the Thing to be beloved.

4. Love in us decays, though once never ſo warm and ſtrongly fixed, if the Object falls off, as to its firſt alluring Provocation; or diſappointeth our Expectation with ſome unexpected Reluctancy to our Fancy or our Mind.

All this we know to be true from Nature, for every one of us are thus; nor can we refuſe, or chuſe as to Love, but upon, and after the Rate, and the Working thus of our Paſſions. Wherefore our Love, as we are natural, is weak, unorderly, fails and miſcarries, either by being too much or too little; yea, though the Thing which is beloved be allowed for an Object of Love, both by the Law of Nature and Grace. We therefore muſt put a vaſt Difference ference betwixt Love, as found in us, and Love as found in Chriſt, and that both as to the Nature, Principle, or Object of Love.

Love in Chriſt is not Love of the ſame Nature, as is Love in us: Love in him is 1 John 4. 16 eſſential to his Being; but in us it is not ſo, as has been already ſhewed. God is Love, Chriſt is God, therefore Chriſt is Love, Love naturally. Love therefore is eſſential to his Being. He may as well ceaſe to be, as ceaſe to love. Hence therefore it follows, that Love in Chriſt floweth not from ſo low and beggarly a Principle, as doth Love in Man; and conſequently is not, nor can be attended with thoſe Infirmities or Defects, that the Love of Man is attended with.

1. It is not attended with thoſe unruly or uncertain Motions that ours is attended with: Here is no ebbing, no flowing, no going beyond, no coming ſhort, and ſo nothing of Uncertainty. Having loved his
John 13. 1 own which were in the World, he loved them to the End.

True, there is a Way of manifeſting of Song 7. 11 this Love, which is ſuited to our Capacities,
12. as Men, and by that we ſee it ſometimes more, ſometimes leſs: Alſo it is manifeſted
John 14. to us as we do, or do not walk with God
23. in this World. I ſpeak now of Saints.

2. Love in Chriſt pitcheth not it ſelf upon undue or unlawful Objects; nor refuſeth to embrace what by the eternal Covenant is made capable thereof. It always acteth according to God; nor is there at any Time the leaſt Shadow of Swerving as to this.

3. Love in Chriſt requireth no taking Beauteouſneſs in the Object to be beloved, as not being able to put forth it ſelf without ſuch attracting Allurements. It can
Ez. 16. 6 7, 8. act of and from itſelf, without all ſuch Kind of Dependencies. This is manifeſt to all who have the leaſt true Knowledge of what that Object is in it ſelf, on which the Lord Jeſus has ſet his Heart to love them.

4. Love in Chriſt decays not, nor can
ver. 9 to 15 be tempted ſo to do by any thing that happens, or that ſhall happen hereafter, in the Object ſo beloved. But as this Love at firſt acts by, and from it ſelf, ſo it continueth to do until all Things that are Imperfections, are compleatly and everlaſtingly ſubdued. The Reaſon is, becauſe Chriſt loves to make us comely, not becauſe we are ſo.

Object. But all along Chriſt compareth his Love to ours; now, Why doth he ſo, if they be ſo much unlike?

Anſw. Becauſe we know not Love but by the Paſſions of Love that work in our Hearts; wherefore he condeſcends to our Capacities, and ſpeaketh of his Love to us, according as we find Love to work in our ſelves to others. Hence he ſets forth his Love to us, by borrowing from us Inſtances of our Love to Wife and Children.
Eph. 5. 25. Yea, he ſometimes ſets forth his Love to us, by calling to mind how ſometimes a Man loves a Woman that is a Whore.

Go (ſaith God to the Prophet) love a
Hoſ. 3. 1. Woman, (beloved of her Friend, yet an Adultereſs) according to the Word of the Lord toward the Children of Iſrael, who look to other Gods, and love Flagons of Wine. But then, theſe Things muſt not be underſtood with Reſpect to the Nature, but the Diſpenſations and Manifeſtations of Love; no, nor with Reference to theſe neither, any further than by making uſe of ſuch ſuitable Similitudes, thereby to commend his Love to us, and thereby to beget in us Affections to him for the Love beſtowed upon us.

Wherefore Chriſt's Love muſt be conſidered both with Reſpect to the Eſſence, and alſo as to the divers workings of it. For the Eſſence thereof, it is as I ſaid, natural with himſelf, and as ſuch, it is the Root and Ground of all thoſe Actions of his, whereby he hath ſhewed that himſelf is loving to ſinful Man. But now, though the Love that is in him is eſſential to his Nature, and can vary no more than God himſelf; yet we ſee not this Love but by the Fruits of it, nor can it otherwiſe be diſcerned, Hereby perceive we the Love of 1 Joh. 3. 16 God, becauſe he laid down his Life for us. We muſt then betake our ſelves to the Diſcoveries of this Love, of which there are two Sorts.

1. Such as are the Foundations.
2. Such as are the Conſequences of thoſe fundamental Acts.

Thoſe which I call the Foundations, are they upon which all other Diſcoveries of his Goodneſs depend, and they are two.

1. His dying for us. 2. His improving of his Death for us at the right Hand of God. And this leads me to the third Particular, to wit, to ſhew you what the Love of Chriſt is; namely, in the Diſcovery of it.

And to know the Love of Chriſt.

The Love of Chriſt is made known unto us, as I ſaid. 1. By his dying for us. 2. By his improving of his dying for us.

His dying for us appears, 1. To be wonderful in it ſelf. 2. In his Preparations for that Work.

Firſt, It appears to be wonderful in it ſelf, and that both with Reſpect to the Nature of that Death, as alſo, with Reſpect to the Perſons for whom he ſo died.

The Love of Chriſt appears to be wonderful by the Death he died: In that he died, in that he died ſuch a Death. It was ſtrange Love in Chriſt that moved him to die for us: Strange, becauſe not according to the Cuſtom of the World. Men do not uſe in cool Blood deliberately to come upon the Stage or Ladder, to lay down their Lives for others; but this did Jeſus Chriſt, and that too for such, whose Qualification, if it be duly considered, will make this act of his, far more amazing, He laid down his Life for his Enemies, and for those that could not abide him; yea, for those, even for those that brought him to the Cross: not accidentally, or because it happened so, but knowingly, designedly, he knew it was for those he died, and yet his Love led him to lay down his Life for them. I will add, That those very People for whom he laid down his Life, tho' they by all Sorts of Carriages did what they could to provoke him to pray to God his Father, that he would send and cut them off by the flaming Sword of Angels, would not be provoked, but would lay down his Life for them. Nor must I leave off here: We never read that Jesus Christ was more chearful in all his Life on Earth, than when he was going to lay down his Life for them, now he thanked God, now he sang.

and

Rom. 5. Zec. 12. 10. Mat. 26. 53. Lu. 22. 19. Matth. 26. 27, 30.

But this is not all. He did not only die, but died such a Death, as indeed cannot be expressed. He was content to be counted the Sinner: yea, to be counted the Sin of the Sinner, nor could this but be odious to so holy a Lamb as he was, yet willing to be this and thus for that Love that he bare to Men.

This being thus, it follows, that his Sufferings must be unconceivable; for that, what in Justice was the proper Wages of Sin and Sinners, he must undergo; and what that was can no Man so well know as he himself and damned Spirits; for the proper Wages of Sin, and of Sinners for their Sin, is that Death which layeth Pains, such Pains which it deserveth, upon the Man that dieth so: But Christ died so, and consequently was seized by those Pains not only in Body but in Soul. His Tears, his Cries, his bloody Sweat, the hiding of his Father's Face; yea, God's forsaking of him in his Extremity, plainly enough declares the Nature of the Death he died. For my Part, I stand amazed at those that would not have the World believe, that the Death of Jesus Christ was, in it self, so terrible as it was.

Mark. 15. 39. Mat. 27. 46. Lu. 22. 44.

I will not stand here to discourse of the Place called Hell, where the Spirits of the damned are, we are discoursing of the Nature of Christ's Sufferings: And I say, if Christ was put into the very Capacity of one that must suffer what in Justice ought to be inflicted for Sin; then, how we can so diminish the greatness of his Sufferings, as some do, without undervaluing of the greatness of his Love, I know not; and how they will answer it, I know not. And on the contrary, what if I should say, that the Soul of Christ suffered as long as his Body lay in the Grave, and that God's loosing of the Pains of Death at Christ's Resurrection, must not so much be made mention of with reference to his Body, as to his Soul, if to his Body at all. For what Pain of Death was his Body capable of, when his Soul was seperate from it? And yet God's loosing the Pains of Death, seems to be but an immediate Antecedent to his rising from the dead. And this Sense, Peter doth indeed seem to pursue, saying, For David speaketh concerning him; I foresaw the Lord always before my Face, for he is on my right Hand that I should not be moved. Therefore did my Heart rejoyce, and my Tongue was glad; Moreover also, my Flesh shall rest in Hope, Because thou wilt not leave my Soul in Hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see Corruption. This, saith Peter, was not spoken of David, but he being a Prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an Oath, that of the Fruit of his Loins according to the Flesh he would raise up Christ to sit on his Throne: He seeing this before, spake of the Resurrection of Christ, that his Soul was not left in Hell, neither did his Flesh see Corruption. Thou wilt not leave my Soul in Hell; his Soul was not left in Hell. Of what use are these Expressions, if the Soul of Christ suffered not, if it suffered not when seperated from the Body? for of that Time the Apostle Peter seems to treat. Besides, if it be not improper to say, that Soul was not left there, that never was there, I am at a loss. Thou wilt not leave, his Soul was not left there; Ergo, It was there, seems to be the natural Conclusion. If it be objected, that by Hell is meant the Grave; 'tis foolish to think that the Soul of Christ lay there while his Body lay dead therein. But again, the Apostle seems clearly to distinguish between the Places where the Soul and Body of Christ was; counting his Body to be in the Grave, and his Soul, for the Time, in Hell. If there be objected what was said by him to the Thief upon the Cross, I can answer, Christ might speak that with reference to his God-head, and if so, that lies as no Objection to what hath been insinuated. And why may not that be so understood, as well as where he said, when on Earth, The Son of Man which is in Heaven, meaning himself. For the personality of the Son of God, call him Son of Man, or what other Term is fitting, resideth not in the humane, but divine Nature of Jesus Christ. However, since Hell is sometimes taken for the Place, sometimes for the Grave, sometimes for the State, and sometimes but for a Figure of the Place where the damned are tormented; I will not strictly assign to Christ the Place, the Prison where the damned Spirits are, but will say, as I said before, that he was put into the Place of Sinners, into the Sins of Sinners, and received what by Justice was the proper Wages of Sin both in Body and Soul: As is evident from that fifty third of Isaiah. This Soul of his I take to be that which the Inwards and the Fat of the burnt Sacrifices Act. 2. 24. Ver. 25. Ver. 26. Ver. 27. Ver. 28. Ver. 29. Ver. 30. Ver. 31. Lu. 23. 43. Joh. 3. 13. Acts 1. 25 Ps. 116. 3. Pet. 3. 19, 20. Isa. 53. 10. 11. Ex. 29. 13, 14.

Lev.8.14, 15, 16. was a Figure, or Shadow of. And the Fat and the Inwards were burnt upon the Altar, whilſt the Body was burned for Sin without the Camp.

And now having ſaid thus much, wherein have I derogated from the Glory and Holineſs of Chriſt? Yea, I have endeavoured to ſet forth ſomething of the greatneſs of his Sorrows, the odiouſneſs of Sin, the Nature of Juſtice, and the Love of Chriſt. And be ſure, by how much the Sufferings of the Son of God abounded for us, by ſo much was this unſearchable Love of Chriſt made manifeſt. Nor can they that would, before the People, pare away, and make but little theſe infinite Sufferings of our Lord, make his Love to be ſo great as they ought, let them uſe what Rhetorick they can. For their objecting the odious Names and Place of Hell, accounting it not to be fit to ſay, That ſo holy a Perſon as the Son of God was there. I anſwer, Though I have not aſſerted it, yet let me ask, which is more odious, Hell or Sin? Or whether ſuch think that Chriſt Jeſus was ſubject to be tainted by the badneſs of the Place, had he been there? Pſ.139. 8. Or whether, when the Scripture ſays, God is in Hell, it is any Diſparagement to him? Or if a Man ſhould be ſo bold as to ſay ſo, Whether by ſo ſaying, he confineth Chriſt to that Place for ever? And whether by ſo thinking he has contradicted that called the Apoſtles Creed.

Secondly, Having thus ſpoken of the Death and Sufferings of Chriſt, I ſhall in the next Place ſpeak of his Preparations for his ſo Suffering for us; and by ſo doing, yet ſhew you ſomething more of the greatneſs of his Love.

Chriſt, as I have told you, was even before his Sufferings, a Perſon of no mean Generation, being the Son of the Eternal God: Neither had his Father any more ſuch Sons but He; conſequently he of right was Heir of all Things, and ſo to have Dominion over all Worlds. Col.1. 16. Heb. 1. For, for him were all Things created. And hence all Creatures are ſubject to him; yea, the Angels of God worſhip him. Wherefore, as ſo conſidered, he augmented not his State by becoming lower than the Angels for us, for what can be added to him, that is naturally God. Indeed he did take, for our ſakes, the humane Nature into Union with himſelf, and ſo began to manifeſt his Glory; and the kindneſs that he had for us before all Worlds, began now eminently to ſhew it ſelf. Had this Chriſt of God, our Friend, given all he had to ſave us, had not his Love been wonderful? But when he ſhall give for us himſelf, this is more wonderful. But this is not all; the Caſe was ſo 'twixt God and Man, that this Son of God could not, as he was before the World was, give himſelf a Ranſom for us, he being altogether incapable ſo to do, being ſuch an one as could not be ſubject to Death, the Condition that we by Sin had put our ſelves into.

Wherefore that which would have been a Death to ſome, to wit, the laying aſide of Glory, and becoming, of the King of Princes, a Servant of the meaneſt Form; this he of his own Good-will, was heartily content to do. Wherefore, he that once was the Object of the Fear of Angels, is now become a little Creature, a Worm, an inferiour one, born of a Woman, brought forth in a Stable, laid in a Manger, ſcorned of Men, tempted of Devils, was beholding to his Creatures for Food, for Raiment, for Harbour, and a Place wherein to lay his Head when dead. In a Word, he made himſelf of no Reputation, took upon him the Form of a Servant, and was made in the likeneſs of Men, that he might become capable to do this Kindneſs for us. And 'tis worth your noting, that all the while that he was in the World, putting himſelf upon thoſe other Preparations which were to be antecedent to his being made a Sacrifice for us, no Man, though he told what he came about to many, had, as we read of, an Heart once to thank him for what he came about. No, they railed on him, they degraded him, they called him Devil, they ſaid he was mad, and a Deceiver, a Blaſphemer of God, and a Rebel againſt the State: They accuſed him to the Governor; yea, one of his Diſciples ſold him, another denied him, and they all forſook him, and left him to ſhift for himſelf in the Hands of his horrible Enemies; who beat him with their Fiſts, ſpat on him, mocked him, crowned him with Thorns, ſcourged him, made a gazing-ſtock of him, and finally, hanged him up by the Hands and the Feet alive, and gave him Vinegar to increaſe his Affliction, when he complained that his Anguiſh had made him thirſty. And yet all this could not take his Heart off the Work of our Redemption. To die he came, die he would, and die he did before he made his return to the Father, for our Sins, that we might live through him.

Pſ. 22. 6. Luke 2. Chap. 4. Phil. 2. Isa. 53. 3.

Now may what we read of in the Word concerning thoſe temporal Sufferings that he underwent be over-looked, and paſſed by without ſerious Conſideration; they being a part of the Curſe that our Sin had deſerved? For all temporal Plagues are due to our Sin while we live, as well as the Curſe of God to everlaſting Perdition, when we die. Wherefore this is the Reaſon why the whole Life of the Lord Jeſus was ſuch a Life of Affliction and Sorrow, he therein bare our Sickneſſes, and took upon him our Deſerts: So that now the Curſe in Temporals, as well as the Curſe in Spirituals, and of everlaſting Malediction, is removed by him away from God's People; and ſince he overcame them, and got to the Croſs, 'twas by Reaſon of the worthineſs of the humble Obedience that he yielded to his Father's Law in our Fleſh. For his whole Life (as well as his Death) was a Life of Merit and Purchaſe, and Deſert. Hence it is ſaid, he increaſed in Favour with God. For his Works made him ſtill more acceptable to him: For he ſtanding in the room of Man, and becoming our Reconciler to God; by the heavenly Majeſty he was counted as ſuch, and ſo got for us what he earned by his Mediatory Works; and alſo partook thereof as he was our Head himſelf. And was there not in all theſe Things Love, and Love that was infinite? Love which was not eſſential to his Divine Nature, could never have carried him through ſo great a Work as this: Paſſions here would a failed, would a retreated, and have given the Recoile; yea, his very Humanity would have flagged and fainted, had it not been managed, governed, and ſtrengthened by his Eternal Spirit. Wherefore it is ſaid, that through the Eternal Spirit he offered himſelf without Spot to God. And that he was declared to be the Son of God, with ſo doing, and by the Reſurrection from the dead.

to

Luke 2. 12.
Heb. 9. 14
Rom. 1. 2, 3, 4.

We come now to the ſecond Thing propounded, and by which his Love is diſcovered, and that is his improving of his dying for us. But I muſt crave Pardon of my Reader, if he thinks that I can diſcover the ten hundred thouſandth Part thereof, for it is impoſſible; but my meaning is, to give a few hints what beginnings of Improvement he made thereof in order to his further Progreſs therein.

First therefore, This his Death for us, was ſo vertuous, that in the Space of three Days and three Nights, it reconciled to God in the Body of his Fleſh as a common Perſon, all, and every one of God's Elect. Chriſt, when he addreſſed himſelf to die, preſented himſelf to the Juſtice of the Law, as a common Perſon; ſtanding in the ſtead, Place, and Room of all that he undertook for; He gave his Life a Ranſom for many. He came into the World to ſave Sinners. And as he thus preſented himſelf, ſo God, his Father, admitted him to this Work; and therefore it is ſaid, The Lord laid upon him the Iniquities of us all: And again, Surely he hath born our Griefs, and carried our Sorrows. Hence it unavoidably follows, that whatever he felt, and underwent in the Manner, or Nature, or Horribleneſs of the Death he died, he felt and underwent all as a common Perſon; that is, as he ſtood in the ſtead of others: Therefore it is ſaid, He was wounded for our Tranſgreſſions, and bruiſed for our Iniquities; and that the Chaſtiſement of our Peace was upon him. And again, the juſt died for the unjuſt.

Mat. 20. 28.
1 Tim. 1. 15.
Iſa. 53. 4, 6.
Ver. 5.
1 Pet. 3. 18.

Now then, if he preſented himſelf as a common Perſon to Juſtice, if God ſo admitted and accounted him, if alſo he laid the Sins of the People, whoſe Perſons he repreſented, upon him, and under that Conſideration puniſhes him with thoſe Puniſhments and Deaths, that he died. Then Chriſt in Life and Death is concluded by the Father to live and die as a common or publick Perſon, repreſenting all in this Life and Death, for whom he undertook thus to live, and thus to die. So then, it muſt needs be, that what next befalls this common Perſon, it befalls him with Reſpect to them in whoſe Room and Place he ſtood and ſuffered. Now, the next that follows, is, that he is juſtified of God: That is, acquitted and diſcharged from this Puniſhment, for the Sake of the worthineſs of his Death and Merits; for that muſt be before he could be raiſed from the Dead: God raiſed him not up as Guilty, to juſtifie him afterwards: His Reſurrection was the Declaration of his precedent Juſtification. He was raiſed from the dead, becauſe it was neither in Equity or Juſtice poſſible that he ſhould be holden longer there, his Merits procured the contrary.

Acts 2. 24

Now he was condemned of God's Law, and died by the Hand of Juſtice, he was acquitted by God's Law, and juſtified of Juſtice; and all as a common Perſon; ſo then, in his acquitting, we are acquitted, in his Juſtification we are juſtified; and therefore the Apoſtle applieth God's juſtifying of Chriſt to himſelf; and that rightly. For if Chriſt be my Undertaker, will ſtand in my Place, and do for me, 'tis but reaſonable that I ſhould be a Partaker: Wherefore we are alſo ſaid to be quickned together with him: That is, when he was quickned in the Grave; raiſed up together, and made to ſit together in heavenly Places in Chriſt Jeſus. Therefore another Scripture ſaith, He hath quickened us together with him, having forgiven us all Treſpaſſes. This quickning, muſt not be underſtood of the Renovation of our Hearts, but of the reſtoring of Jeſus Chriſt to Life after he was crucified; and we are ſaid to be quickned together with him, becauſe we were quickned in him at his Death, and were to fall or ſtand by him quite through the three Days and three Nights Work; and were to take therefore our Lot with him: Wherefore 'tis ſaid again, That his Reſurrection is our Juſtification. That by one Offering he has purged our Sins for ever; and that by his Death he hath delivered us from the Wrath to come. But I ſay, I would be underſtood aright: This Life reſideth yet in the Son, and is communicated from him to us, as we are called to believe his Word; mean while we are ſecured from Wrath and Hell, being juſtified in his Juſtification, quickned in his Quickning, raiſed up in his Reſurrection; and made to ſit already together in heavenly Places in Chriſt Jeſus.

Iſa. 50. 8. Rom. 8. 33, 34.
Eph. 2. 5, 6 Col. 2. 13.
Rom. 4. 25. Heb. 10. 12. 1 Theſ. 1. 10.

And is not this a glorious Improvement of his Death, that after two Days the whole Body of the Elect, in him, ſhould be revived, and that in the third Day we ſhould live in the Sight of God, in and by him.

Heb. 6. 1, 2, 3.

Secondly, Another Improvement of his Death for us, was this, By that he ſlew for us, our infernal Foes; by it he aboliſhed Death; by Death he deſtroyed him that had the Power of Death: By Death he took away the Sting of Death; by Death he made Death a pleaſant Sleep to Saints, and the Grave for a while, an eaſy Houſe and Home for the Body.

2 Tim. 1. 1. Heb. 2. 14, 15. 1 Cor. 15. 55, 56.

By Death he made Death ſuch an Advantage to us, that it is become a Means of tranſlating of the Souls of them that believe in him, to Life. And all this is manifeſt, for that Death is ours, a Bleſſing to us, as well as Paul and Apollo, the World and Life it ſelf. And that all this is done for us by his Death, is apparent, for that his Perſon is where it is, and that by himſelf as a common Perſon he has got the Victory for us. For though as yet all Things are not put under our Feet, yet we ſee Jeſus crowned with Honour and Glory, who by the Grace of God taſteth Death for every Man. For it became God, for whom are all Things, and by whom are all Things, to make the Captain of our Salvation perfect through Sufferings. It became him; that is, it was but juſt and right he ſhould do ſo, if there was enough in the Virtuouſneſs of his Death and Blood to require ſuch a Thing. But there was ſo. Wherefore God has exalted him, and us in him, above theſe infernal Foes. Let us therefore ſee our ſelves delivered from Death firſt, by the Exaltation of our Jeſus, let us behold him I ſay as crowned with Glory and Honour, as, or becauſe, he taſted Death for us. And then we ſhall ſee our ſelves already in Heaven by our Head, our Undertaker, our Jeſus, our Saviour.

1 Cor. 3. 22. Heb. 2. 6, 7, 8, 9.

Thirdly, Another Improvement that has already been made of his Death for us, is thus, he hath at his Enterance into the Preſence of God, for his Worthineſs ſake, obtained that the Holy Ghoſt ſhould be given unto him for us, that we by that might in all Things yet to be done, be made meet to be Partakers perſonally in our ſelves, as well as vertually by our Head and Forerunner, of the Inheritance of the Saints in Light. Wherefore the abundant Pourings out of that was forborn until the Reſurrection and Glorification of our Lord Jeſus. For the Holy Ghoſt was not yet given, becauſe that Jeſus was not yet glorified. Nor was it given ſo ſoon as received: For he received it upon his entering into the Holy Place, when he had ſprinkled the Mercy-Seat with the Blood of Sprinkling, but it was not given out to us till ſome Time after: However it was obtained before. And it was meet that it ſhould in that infinite Immeaſurableneſs in which he received it, firſt abide upon him, that his human Nature, which was the firſt Fruits of the Election of God, might receive by its Abidings upon him, that Glory for which it was ordained; and that we might receive, as we receive all other Things, firſt by our Head and Undertaker, Sanctification in the Fulneſs of it. Hence it is written, that as he is made unto us of God, Wiſdom, and Righteouſneſs, and Redemption, ſo Sanctification too: For firſt we are ſanctified in his Fleſh, as we are juſtified by his Righteouſneſs. Wherefore he is that holy one that ſetteth us, in himſelf, a holy Lump before God, not only with Reference to Juſtification and Life, but with Reference to Sanctification and Holineſs: For we that are Elect, are all conſidered in him as he has received that, as well as in that he has taken Poſſeſſion of the Heaven for us. I count not this all the Benefit that accrueth to us by Jeſus his receiving the Holy Ghoſt, at his Entrance into the Preſence of God for us: For we alſo are to receive it our ſelves from him, according as by God we are placed in the Body at the Times appointed of the Father. That we, as was ſaid, may receive perſonal quickning, perſonal Renovation, perſonal Sanctification; and in Concluſion, Glory. But I ſay, for that he hath received this holy Spirit to himſelf, he received it as the Effect of his Aſcenſion, which was the Effect of his Reſurrection, and of the Merit of his Death and Paſſion. And he recived it as a Common Perſon, as a Head, and Undertaker for the People.

John 7. 39. Acts 4. —2. 32. 33. 1 Cor. 1. 30.

Fourthly, Another Improvement that has been made of his Death, and of the Merits thereof for us, is that he has obtained to be made of God, the chief and high Lord of Heaven and Earth, for us. (All this while we ſpeak of the Exaltation of the human Nature, in, by, and with which, the Son of God became capable to be our Reconciler unto God) All Things, ſaith he, are delivered unto me of my Father: And all Power in Heaven and Earth is given unto me, and all this becauſe he died. He humbled himſelf, and became obedient unto Death, even the Death of the Croſs: Wherefore God hath highly exalted him, and given him a Name above every Name, that at the Name of Jeſus every Knee ſhould bow, of Things in Heaven, of Things in Earth, or Things under the Earth; and that every Tongue ſhall confeſs that Jeſus Chriſt is Lord, to the Glory of God the Father. And all this is, as was ſaid afore, for our Sakes. He has given him to be Head over all Things to the Church.

Philip. 2. 8, 10. Eph. 1. 22.

Wherefore, whoever is ſet up on Earth, they are ſet up by our Lord. By me, ſaith he, Kings reign, and Princes decree Juſtice. By me Princes rule, and Nobles, even all the Judges of the Earth. Nor are they when when ſet up, left to do, though they ſhould deſire it, their own Will and Pleaſure. The Metheg-Ammah, the Bridle is in his own

1 Pet. 3. 22. the right Hand of God: Angels, and Authorities, and Powers being made ſubject unto him.

This Power, as I ſaid, he has received for the Sake of his Church on Earth, and for her Conduct and Well-being among the Jer. 10. 7. Rev. 15. 3. Sons of Men. Hence, as he is called the King of Nations, in general; ſo the King of Saints, in ſpecial: And as he is ſaid to be Head over all Things in general, ſo to his Church in ſpecial.

Fifthly, Another Improvement that he hath made of his Death for us, is, he hath obtained, and received into his own Hand ſufficiency of Gifts to make Miniſters for his Church withal. I ſay, to make and maintain, in Oppoſition to all that would
1 Cor. 12. 28, 29, 30. hinder, a ſufficient Miniſtry. Wherefore he ſaith when he aſcended on high, he led Captivity captive, and gave Gifts unto Men: And he gave ſome Apoſtles, ſome Prophets, ſome Evangeliſts, ſome Paſtors and Teachers; for the perfecting of the Saints for the Work of the Miniſtry, for
Eph. 4. 8. to 15. edifying of the Body of Chriſt: 'Till we all come in the Unity of the Faith, and Knowledge of the Son of God unto a perfect Man, unto the Meaſure of the Stature of the fullneſs of Chriſt. Many Ways has Satan deviſed to bring into Contempt this bleſſed Advantage that Chriſt has received of God for the benefit of his Church; partly while he ſtirs up Perſons to revile the Sufficiency of the Holy Ghoſt, as to this Thing: Partly, while he ſtirs up his own Limbs and Members, to broach his Deluſions in the World, in the Name of Chriſt, and as they blaſphemouſly call it by the Aſſiſtance of the Holy Ghoſt: partly while he tempteth Novices in their Faith, to ſtudy and labour in nice Diſtinctions, and the affecting of uncouth Expreſſions, that vary from the Form of ſound Words, thereby to get Applauſe, and a Name, a Forerunner of their own Deſtruction.

But notwithſtanding all this, Wiſdom

Sixthly, Another Improvement that the Lord Chriſt has made of his Death, for his, is the obtaining, and taking Poſſeſſion of Heaven for them. By his own Blood
Heb. 9. 12 Matt. 23. 22. he has entered into the holy Place, having obtained eternal Redemption for us. This

Of this Heaven, as was ſaid afore, we are poſſeſſed already, we are in it, we are ſet down in it, and partake already of the Benefits thereof, but all by our Head and Undertaker; and 'tis fit that we ſhould believe this, rejoyce in this, talk of this, tell one another of this, and live in the Expectation of our own perſonal Injoyment of it. And as we ſhould do all this, ſo we ſhould bleſs and praiſe the Name of God who has put over this Houſe, this Kingdom, and Inheritance into the Hand of ſo faithful a Friend. Yea, a Brother, a Saviour and Bleſſed Undertaker for us. And laſtly, ſince all theſe things already mentioned, are the Fruit of the Sufferings of our Jeſus, and his Sufferings the Fruit of that Love of his that paſſeth Knowledge: how ſhould we bow the Knee before him, and call him tender Father; yea, how ſhould we love and obey him, and devote our ſelves unto his Service, and be willing to be alſo Sufferers for his ſake, to whom be Honour and Glory for ever. And thus much of the Love of Chriſt in general.

I might here add many other things, but as I told you before, we would under the Head but now touched upon, treat about the Fundamentals or great and chief Parts thereof, and then the exceeding Greatneſs of it more particularly: Wherefore of that we muſt ſay ſomething now.

And to know the Love of Chriſt, which paſſes Knowledge. In that it is ſaid to paſs Knowledge, 'tis manifeſt it is exceeding great, or greatly going beyond what can be known; for to exceed, is to go beyond, be above, or to be out of the Reach of what would comprehend that which is ſo. And ſince the Expreſſion is abſolutely indefinite, and reſpecteth not the Knowledge of this or the other Creature only; it is manifeſt, that Paul by his thus ſaying, challengeth all Creatures in Heaven and Earth to find out the Bottom of this Love if they can. The Love of Chriſt which paſſeth Knowledge. I will add, that for as much as he is indefinite alſo about the Knowledge, as well as about the Perſons knowing, 'tis out of doubt that he here engageth all

Knowledge

Knowledge, in what Enlargements, Attainments, Improvements, and Heighths ſoever it hath, or may for ever attain unto. It paſſeth Knowledge.

Of the ſame Import alſo is that other Paſſage of the Apoſtle a little above in the ſelf-ſame Chapter. I preach, ſaith he, among the Gentiles the unſearchable Riches of Chriſt: or thoſe Riches of Chriſt that cannot by ſearching, be found out in the all of them: The Riches, the Riches of his Love and Grace. The Riches of his Love and Grace towards us. For ye know the Grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, that though he was rich, yet for your ſakes he became poor, that ye through his Poverty might be made rich. Ye know the Grace, that is ſo far, and ſo far every Believer knows it: for that his leaving Heaven and taking upon him Fleſh, that he might bring us thither, is manifeſt to all. But yet, all the Grace that was wrapped up in that amazing Condeſcenſion, knoweth none, nor can know: for if that might be, that Poſſibility would be a flat Contradiction to the Text: The Love of Chriſt which paſſeth Knowledge. Wherefore the Riches of this love in the utmoſt of it, is not, cannot be known by any: let their Underſtanding and Knowledge, be heightened and improved what it may. Yea, and being heightened and improved, let what Search there can by it be made into this Love and Grace. That which is afar off, and exceeding deep, who can find out? And that this Love of Chriſt is ſo, ſhall anon be made more apparent. But at preſent we will proceed to particular Challenges for the making out of this, and then we will urge thoſe Reaſons that will be for the further Confirmation of the whole.

Ephes. 3. 8.

2 Cor. 8.9
Eccl. 7.24.

1. This Love paſſes the Knowledge of the wiſeſt Saint, we now ſingle out the greateſt Proficient in this Knowledge; and to confirm this, I need go no further than to the man that ſpake theſe Words; to wit, Paul, for in his Concluſion he includes himſelf. The Love of Chriſt which paſſeth Knowledge, even my Knowledge. As who ſhould ſay: Though I have waded a great way in the Grace of Chriſt, and have as much Experience of his Love as any He in all the World, yet I confeſs my ſelf ſhort, as to the Fulneſs that is therein, nor will I ſtick to conclude of any other, That he knows nothing yet as he ought to know.

1 Cor. 8. 2.

2. This Love paſſeth the Knowledge of all the Saints, were it all put together, we, we all, and every one, did we each of us contribute for the manifeſting of this Love, what it is, the whole of what we know, it would amount but to a broken Knowledge; we know but in part, we ſee darkly, we walk not by Sight, but Faith. True, now we ſpeak of Saints on Earth.

Chap. 13. 9–12.
2 Cor. 5. 7.

3. But we will ſpeak of Saints in Heaven; they cannot to the utmoſt, know this Love of Chriſt. For though they know more thereof than Saints on Earth, becauſe they are more in the open Viſions of it, and alſo are more enlarged, being Spirits perfect, than we on Earth. Yet, to ſay no more now, they do not ſee the rich and unſearchable Runnings out thereof unto Sinners here on Earth. Nor may they there meaſure that, to others. by what they themſelves knew of it here. For Sins, and Times and Perſons and other Circumſtances, may much alter the Caſe, but were all the Saints on Earth, and all the Saints in Heaven to contribute all that they know of this Love of Chriſt, and to put it into one Sum of Knowledge, they would greatly come ſhort of knowing the utmoſt of this Love, for that there is an infinite deal of this Love, yet unknown by them. 'Tis ſaid plainly, that they on Earth do not yet know what they ſhall be. And as for them in Heaven, they are not yet made perfect as they ſhall be. Beſides, we find the Souls under the Altar, how perfect now ſoever, when compared with that State they were in when with the Body; yet are not able in all Points, tho' in Glory, to know, and ſo to govern themſelves there without Directions. I ſay, they are not able, without Directions and Inſtructions, to know the kinds and manner of workings of the Love of Chriſt towards us that dwell on Earth.

4. We will joyn with theſe, the Angels, and when all of them, with Men, have put all and every whit of what they know of this Love of Chriſt together, they muſt come far ſhort of reaching to, or of underſtanding the utmoſt Bound thereof. I grant, that Angels do know, in ſome certain Parts of Knowledge of the Love of Chriſt, more than Saints on Earth can know while here; but then again. I know that even they do alſo learn many things of Saints on Earth, which ſhews that themſelves know alſo but in part; ſo then, All, as yet, as to this Love of Chriſt, and the utmoſt Knowledge of it, are but as ſo many Imperfects, nor can they all, put all their Imperfects together, make up a perfect Knowledge of this Love of Chriſt; for the Texts do yet ſtand where they did and ſay, his Riches are unſearchable, and his love that which paſſeth Knowledge. We will come now to ſhew you, beſides what has been already touched on, the reaſon why this Riches is unſearchable, and that Love ſuch as paſſeth Knowledge; and the

1 Pet. 1. 12.

Firſt is, becauſe It is Eternal. All that is Eternal, has attending of it, as to the utmoſt Knowledge of it, a fourfold Impoſſibility.

1. It is without Beginning. 2. It is without End. 3. It is infinite. 4. It is incomprehenſible.

1. It is without Beginning; That which was was before the World was, is without a Beginning, but the Love of Chriſt was before the World.

This is evident from Proverbs the eighth, His Delights, before God had made the World, are there ſaid to be, with the Sons of Men. Not that we then had Being, for we were as yet increated; but though we had not Beings created, we had Being in his Love and Affections of Jeſus Chriſt. Now this Love of Chriſt muſt needs, as to the Fullneſs of it, as to the utmoſt of it, be abſolutely unknown to Man. Who can tell how many heart-pleaſing Thoughts Chriſt had of us before the World began? Who can tell how much he then was delighted in that Being we had in his Affections; as alſo, in the Conſideration of our Beings, Believings, and being with him afterwards.

In general we may conclude, it was great; for there ſeems to be a Parallel betwixt his Father's Delights in Him, and his Delights in Prov. 8. 22. 30. 31. us. I was daily his Delight, and my Delights were with the Sons of Men. But I ſay, who can tell, who can tell altogether, what and how much the Father delighted in his Son before the World began? Who can tell what kind of Delight the Father had in the Son before the World began? Why there ſeems to be a Parallel betwixt the Father's Love to Chriſt, and Chriſt's Love to us; the Father's Delight in Chriſt, and his Delight in us. Yea, Chriſt confirms it ſaying, As my Father hath loved me, ſo have I loved you, continue ye in my
Joh. 15. 9. Love. I know that I am not yet upon the Nature of the Word Eternal; yet ſince, by Eternal, we underſtand, before the World began, as well as forward, to an endleſs for ever: We may a little enquire of Folks as they may read, if they can tell the kind or Meaſure of the Love wherewith Chriſt then loved us. I remember the Queſtion that God asked Job, Where, ſaith he, waſt
Job 38. 4. thou when I laid the Foundation of the Earth? declare it if thou haſt Underſtanding: Thereby inſinuating that becauſe it was done before he had his Being, therefore he could not tell how it was done. Now, if a Work ſo viſible, as the Creation is, is yet as to the Manner of the Workmanſhip therefore wholly unknown to them that commenced in their Beings afterwards: How ſhall that which has, in all the Circumſtances of it, been more hidden and inward, be found out by them that have Intelligence thereof by the Ear, and but in part, and that in a Myſtery, and long afterwards. But to conclude this, That, which is eternal is without all Beginning. This was preſented to Conſideration before, and therefore it cannot to perfection be known.

2. That which is eternal is without End, and how can an endleſs thing be known, that which has no End has no Middle, wherefore it is impoſſible that the one half of the Love that Chriſt has for his Church ſhould ever by them be known. I know that thoſe Viſions that the ſaved ſhall have in Heaven of this Love, will far tranſcend our utmoſt Knowledge here, even as far as the Light of the Sun at Noon, goes beyond the Light of a blinking Candle at Midnight; and hence it is, that when the Days of thoſe Viſions are come, the Knowledge that we now have, ſhall be ſwallowed up. When
1 Cor. 13. 10. that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part ſhall be done away. And altho he ſpeaks here of Perfections, when that which is perfect is come, &c. yet even that Perfection muſt not be thought to be ſuch as is the Perfection of God; for then ſhould all that are ſaved be ſo many Eternals and ſo many Infinites, as he is infinite. But the Meaning is, we ſhall then be with the Eternal, ſhall immediately enjoy him with all the Perfection of Knowledge, as far as is poſſible for a Creature, when he is wrought up to the utmoſt Heighth that his created Subſtance will bear to be capable of. But for all that, this Perfection will yet come ſhort of the Perfection of him that made him, and conſequently, ſhort of knowing the utmoſt of his Love; ſince that in the Root is his very Eſſence and Nature. I know it ſays alſo, that we ſhould know even as we are known. But yet this muſt not be underſtood, as if we ſhould know God as fully as he knows us. It would be Folly and Madneſs ſo to conclude; but the Meaning is, we are known for Happineſs; we are known of God, for Heaven and Felicity; and when that which is perfect is come, then ſhall we perfectly know, and enjoy that for which we are now known of God. And this is that which the Apoſtle longed for, namely, If by any
Phil. 3. 12. Means, he might apprehend that for which he was alſo apprehended of Chriſt Jeſus. That is, know, and ſee that, unto the which he was appointed of God and apprehended of Chriſt Jeſus. 'Tis ſaid again,
1 Joh. 3. 2. We ſhall be like him, and ſhall ſee him as he is. This Text has reſpect to the Son, as to his Humanity, and not as to his Divinity. And not as to his Divinity, ſimply, or diſtinctly conſidered; for as to that it is as poſſible for a Spirit to drink up the Sea, as for the moſt enlarged Saint that is, or ever ſhall be in Glory, ſo to ſee God as to know him altogether, to the utmoſt, or throughout. But the Humanity of the Son of God, we ſhall ſee throughout, in all the Beauty and Glory that is upon him; and that was prepared for him before the Foundation of the World. And
Joh. 17. 24 Chriſt will that we ſee this Glory, when he takes us up in Glory to himſelf; but the utmoſt boundleſſneſs of the Divine Majeſty, the Eternal Deity of the Son of God, cannot be known to the utmoſt or altogether. I do not doubt, but that their Will then in him, I mean in Chriſt, and in us, break forth thoſe glorious Rays and Beams of the 2 Theſ. 1. 10. Eternal Majeſty, as will make him in each of us admirable one to another; and that then, that of God ſhall be known of us, that now never entered into our Hearts to think of. But the whole, is not, cannot, ſhall never be fully known of any. And therefore the Love of Chriſt, it being eſſential to himſelf, cannot be known becauſe of the endleſſneſs that is in it. I ſaid before, that which has no End, has no Middle, how then ſhall thoſe that ſhall be in Heaven eternally, ever paſs over half the breadth of Eternity. True, I know that all Enjoyments there will be Enjoyments Eternal. Yea, that whatever we ſhall there embrace, or what Embraces we ſhall be embraced with, ſhall be eternal; but I put a difference betwixt that which is Eternal, as to the Nature, and that which is ſo as to the durableneſs thereof. The Nature of eternal Things we ſhall enjoy, ſo ſoon as ever we come to Heaven, but the Duration of eternal Things, them we ſhall never be able to paſs through, for they are endleſs. So then, the eternal Love of Chriſt, as to the Nature of it, will be perfectly known of Saints, when they ſhall dwell in Heaven; but the endleſſneſs thereof they ſhall never attain unto. And this will be their Happineſs. For could it be, that we ſhould in Heaven ever reach the End of our Bleſſedneſs; (as we ſhould, could we reach to the End of this Love of Chriſt) why then, as the ſaying is, We ſhould be at the Land's-End, and feel the Bottom of all our Enjoyments. Beſides, whatſoever has an End, has a Time to decay, and to ceaſe to be, as well as to have a Time to ſhew forth its higheſt Excellencies. Wherefore, from all theſe Conſiderations it is moſt manifeſt, that the Love of Chriſt is unſearchable, and that it paſſes Knowledge.

Now the other two Things follow of Courſe, to wit, That this Love is infinite and incomprehenſible. Wherefore here is that that ſtill is above and beyond even thoſe that are arrived to the utmoſt of their Perfections. And this if I may ſo ſay, will keep them in an Employ, even when they are in Heaven; though not an Employ that is labourſome, tireſome, burthenſome, yet an Employ that is dutiful, delightful and profitable; for although the Work and Worſhip of Saints in Heaven is not particularly revealed as yet, and ſo it doth not yet appear what we ſhall be, yet in the general we may ſay, there will be that for them to do, that has not yet by them been done, and by that Work which they ſhall do there, their Delight will be Delight unto them. The Law was the Sha-
Heb. 10. 1. dow and not the very Image of heavenly
Ch. 9. 23. Things. The Image is an Image, and not the heavenly Things themſelves (the heavenly Things they are Saints) there ſhall be worſhip in the Heavens. Nor will this at all derogate from their Glory. The Angels Pſ. 103. 20. now wait upon God and ſerve him, the Son Heb. 5. 1, 2. of God, is now a Miniſter, and waiteth upon his Service in Heaven; ſome Saints have been employed about Service for God after they have been in Heaven; and why we ſhould be idle Spectators, when we Luke 9. 29. come thither, I ſee not Reaſon to believe. 30, 31, 32. It may be ſaid, They there reſt from their Labours. True, but not from their Delights. All Things then that once were burthenſome, whether in ſuffering or Service, ſhall be done away, and that which is delightful and pleaſurable ſhall remain. But then will be a Time to receive, and not to work. True, if by Work you mean ſuch as we now count Work; but what if our Work be there, to receive and bleſs. The Fiſhes in the Sea do drink, ſwim and drink. But for a further Diſcourſe of this, let that alone till we come thither. But to come down again into the World, for now we are talking of Things aloft;

Secondly, This Love of Chriſt muſt needs be beyond our Knowledge, becauſe we cannot poſſibly know the utmoſt of our Sin. Sin is that which ſets out, and off, the Knowledge of the Love of Chriſt. There are four Things that muſt be ſpoken to for the clearing of this.

1. The Nature of Sin. 2. The Aggravations of Sin. 3. The utmoſt Tendencies of Sin. 4. And the perfect Knowledge of all this.

Firſt, Before we can know this Love of Chriſt, as afore, we muſt neceſſarily know the Nature of Sin, that is, what Sin is in it ſelf. But no Man knows the Nature of Sin to the full; not what Sin in it ſelf is to the full. The Apoſtle ſaith, That Rom. 7. 13. Sin, (that is in itſelf) is exceeding ſinful. That is, Exceeding it as to its Filthineſs, goes beyond our Knowledge: But this is ſeen by the Commandment. Now the Reaſon why none can, to the full, know the horrible Nature of Sin, is becauſe none, to the full, can know the bleſſed Nature of the bleſſed God. For Sin is the oppoſite to God. There is nothing that ſeeketh abſolutely, and in its own Nature to overcome, and to annihilate God, but Sin, and Sin doth ſo. Sin is worſe than the Devil; he therefore that is more afraid of the Devil than of Sin, knows not the badneſs of Sin as he ought; nor but little of the Love of Jeſus Chriſt. He that knows not what Sin would have done to the World, had not Chriſt ſtept betwixt thoſe harms and it, How can he know ſo much as the extent of the Love of Chriſt in common? And he that knows not what Sin would have done to him in particular, had not Chriſt the Lord, ſtept in and ſaved, cannot know the utmoſt of the Love of Chriſt to him in particular. Sin therefore in the utmoſt

Evil

Evil of it, cannot be known of us: So conſequently the Love of Chriſt in the utmoſt goodneſs of it, cannot be known of us.

Beſides there are many Sins committed by us, dropping from us, and that pollute us, that we are not at all aware of; How then ſhould we know that Love of Chriſt by which we are delivered from them?

Pſ. 19.12. Lord who can underſtand his Errors? ſaid David. Conſequently, who can underſtand the Love that ſaves him from them? Moreover, he that knows the Love of Chriſt to the full, muſt alſo know to the full that Wrath and Anger of God, that like Hell it ſelf, burneth againſt Sinners for the ſake of Sin: But this knows none. Lord, Pſ. 90.11. who knows the Power of thine Anger? ſaid Moſes. Therefore none knows this Love of Chriſt to the full. The Nature of Sin is to get into our good, to mix it ſelf with our good, to lie lurking many Times under the formality and ſhew of good; and that ſo cloſe, ſo cunningly, and inviſibly, that the Party concerned, embraces it for Vertue, and knows not otherwiſe to do; and yet from this he is ſaved by the Love of Chriſt; and therefore, as was hinted but now, if a Man doth not know the Nature of his Wound, how ſhould he know the Nature and Excellency of the Balſam that hath cured him of his Wound.

Secondly, There are the due Aggravations that belong to Sin, which Men are Jer. 2. Chap. 3. Ezek. 16. unacquainted with; it was one of the great Things that the Prophets were concerned with from God towards the People, (as to ſhew them their Sins, ſo) to ſhew them what Aggravations did belong thereto.

There are Sins againſt Light, Sins againſt Knowledge, Sins againſt Love, Sins againſt Learning, Sins againſt Threatnings, Sins againſt Promiſes, Vows and Reſolutions, Sins againſt Experience, Sins againſt Examples of Anger, and Sins that have great, and high, and ſtrange Aggravations attending of them; the which we are ignorant of, though not altogether, yet in too great a Meaſure. Now if theſe Things be ſo, How can the Love that ſaveth us from them be known or underſtood to the full?

Alas! our Ignorance of theſe things is manifeſt by our Unwillingneſs to abide Affliction, by our ſecret Murmuring under the Hand of God; by our wondring why we are ſo chaſtized as we are, by our thinking long that the Affliction is no ſooner removed.

Or, if our Ignorance of the Vileneſs of our Actions is not manifeſt this way, yet it is in our Lightneſs under our Guilt, our ſlight Thoughts of our Doings, our ſlovenly doing of Duties, and asking of Forgiveneſs after ſome evil or unbecoming Actions. 'Tis to no boot to be particular, the whole Courſe of our Lives doth too fully make it manifeſt, that we are wonderful ſhort in knowing both the Nature, and alſo the Aggravations of our Sins: And how then ſhould we know that Love of Chriſt in its full Dimenſions, by which we are ſaved and delivered therefrom?

Thirdly, Who knows the utmoſt Tendencies of Sin? I mean, what the leaſt Sin driveth at, and what it would unavoidably run the Sinner into. There is not a Plague, a Judgment, an Affliction, an Evil under Heaven, that the leaſt of our Tranſgreſſions has not called for at the Hands of the great God: Nay, the leaſt Sin calleth for all the Diſtreſſes that are under Heaven, to fall upon the Soul and Body of the Sinner at once. This is plain, for that the leaſt Sin deſerveth Hell; which is worſe than all the Plagues that are on Earth. But I ſay, Who underſtandeth this? And I ſay again, If one Sin, the leaſt Sin, deſerveth all theſe things, What thinkeſt thou do all thy Sins deſerve? How many Judgments! how many Plagues! how many Laſhes with God's Iron Whip doſt thou deſerve! Beſides there is Hell it ſelf, the Place itſelf, the Fire itſelf, the Nature of the Torments, and the Durableneſs of them, who can underſtand?

But this is not all, the Tendencies of thy Sins are to kill others. Men, good Men little think how many of their Neighbours one of their Sins may kill. As, how many good Men and good Women do unawares, through their Uncircumſpectneſs, drive their own Children down into the Deep? We will eaſily count them very hard-heart- Pſ. 106.
ed Sinners, that uſed to offer their Chil- 36, 37.
dren in Sacrifice to Devils; when 'tis eaſy to do worſe ourſelves: They did but kill the Body, but we Body and Soul in Hell, if we have not a Care.

Do we know how our Sins provoke God? how they grieve the Holy Ghoſt? how they weaken our Graces? how they ſpoil our Prayers? how they weaken Faith? how they tempt Chriſt to be aſhamed of us? and how they hold back good from us? And if we know not every one of all theſe Things to the full, how ſhall we know to the full the Love of Chriſt which ſaveth us from them all?

Again, Thirdly, But who has the perfect Knowledge of all theſe things? I will grant that ſome good Souls may have waded a great Way in ſome one, or more of them; but I know that there is not any that thorowly know them all. And yet the Love of Chriſt doth ſave us from all, notwithſtanding all the Vileneſs and Soul-damning Vertue that is in them. Alas! how ſhort are we of the Knowledge of our ſelves, and of what is in us. How many are there that do not know that Man conſiſteth of a Body made of Duſt, and of an immortal Soul? Yea, and how many be there of thoſe that confeſs it? that know not the Conſtitution of either. I will add, how many are there that profeſs themſelves to be Students dents of theſe two Parts of Man, that have oftentimes proved themſelves to be but Fools as to both? And I will conclude that there is not a Man under Heaven that knoweth it all together: For Man is fearfully and wonderfully made: Nor can the Manner of the Union of theſe two Parts be perfectly found out. How much more then muſt we needs be at loſs as to the Fullneſs of the Knowledge of the Love of Chriſt?

Pſal. 139. 14.

But Thirdly, He that altogether knoweth the Love of Chriſt, muſt, precedent to that, know not only all the Wiles of the Devil; but alſo all the Plottings, Contrivings and Deſigns and Attempts of that wicked one; yea, he muſt know, all the Times that he hath been with God, together with all the Motions that he has made that he might have leave to fall upon us, as upon Job and Peter, to try if he might ſwallow us up. But who knows all this? no Man, no Angel. For, if the heart of man be ſo deep, that none, by all his actions, ſave God, can tell the utmoſt Secrets that are therein; how ſhould the Heart of Angels, which in all likelihood are deeper, be found out by any mortal Man. And yet this muſt be found out before we can find out the utmoſt of the love of Chriſt to us. I conclude therefore from all theſe things, that the Love of Chriſt paſſeth Knowledge: or that by no means, the Bottom, the utmoſt Bounds thereof can be underſtood.

Job 1. Chap. 2. Luke. 22. 31

Fourthly, He that will preſume to ſay, this love of Chriſt can be to the utmoſt known by us, muſt preſume to ſay that he knoweth the utmoſt of the Merits of his Blood, the utmoſt Exerciſe of his Patience, the utmoſt of his Interceſſion, the utmoſt of the Glory that he has prepared and taken Poſſeſſion of for us. But I preſume that there is none that can know all this, therefore I may without any fear aſſert, there is none that knows, that is, that knows to the full the other.

We come now more particularly to ſpeak of the Knowledge of the Love of Chriſt; we have ſpoken of the Love of Chriſt; to wit, of the exceeding Greatneſs of it: And now we come to ſpeak of the Knowledge of it; that is to ſay, we will ſhew what Knowledge of it is attainable in this World, under theſe three Heads. As to this,

1. It may be known as to the Nature of it.

2. It may be known in many of the Degrees of it.

3. But the greateſt Knowledge that we can have of it here, is to know that it paſſes Knowledge.

Firſt, We may know it in the Nature of it. That is, that it is Love free, divine, heavenly, everlaſting, incorruptible. And this no Love is but the Love of Chriſt; all other Love is either Love Corruptible, Tranſient, Mixed, or Earthly. It is Divine, for 'tis the Love of the holy Nature of God. It is Heavenly, for that it is from above: It is everlaſting, for that it has no end: It is immortal, for that there is not the Appearance of Corruptibleneſs in it, or likelyhood of Decay.

This is general Knowledge, and this is common among the Saints, at leaſtwiſe in the Notion of it. Though I confeſs, it is hard in time of Temptation, practically to hold faſt the Soul to all theſe things. But, as I have ſaid already, this Love of Chriſt muſt be ſuch, becauſe Love in the Root of it, is eſſential to his Nature, as alſo I have proved now, as is the Root, ſuch is the Branches; and as is the Spring, ſuch are the Streams, unleſs the Channels in which thoſe Streams do run, ſhould be corrupted, and ſo defile it; but I know no Channels through which this Love of Chriſt is conveyed unto us, but thoſe made in his Side, his Hands, and his Feet, &c. Or thoſe gracious Promiſes that dropt like Honey from his holy Lips, in the Day of his Love, in which he ſpake them: And ſeeing his Love is conveyed to us, as through thoſe Channels, and ſo by the Conduit of the holy and bleſſed Spirit of God, to our Hearts, it cannot be that it ſhould hitherto be corrupted. I know the Ciſterns, to wit, our Hearts, into which it is conveyed, are unclean, and may take away much, through the Damp that they may put upon it, of the native Savour and Sweetneſs thereof. I know alſo, that there are thoſe that tread down and muddy thoſe Streams with their Feet; but yet neither the Love, nor the Channels in which it runs, ſhould bear the Blame of this. And I hope thoſe that are Saints indeed, will not only be preſerved to eternal Life, but nouriſhed with this that is incorruptible unto the Day of Chriſt.

Ezek. 34. 18, 19.

I told you before, that in the Hour of Temptation, it will be hard for the Soul to hold faſt to theſe Things; that is, to the true Definition of this Love; for then, or at ſuch Seaſons, it will not be admitted that the Love of Chriſt is either tranſient, or mixed; but we count that we cannot be loved long, unleſs ſomething better than yet we ſee in us, be found there, as an Inducement to Chriſt to love, and to continue to love our poor Souls. But theſe the Chriſtian at length gets over; for he ſees by Experience he hath no ſuch Inducement; alſo that Chriſt loves freely, and not for, or becauſe of ſuch poor, ſilly, imaginary Inticements. Thus therefore the Love of Chriſt may be known, that is, in the Nature of it: It may, I ſay, but not eaſily. For this Knowledge is neither eaſily got, though got, nor eaſily retained, though retained. There is nothing that Satan ſetteth himſelf

Iſa. 64. 6. Deut. 9. 5. Ezek. 16. 60 to 64. — 36. 25, to 34. 2 Cor. 5. 14

himſelf more againſt, than the breaking forth of the Love of Chriſt in its own proper native Luſtre. For he knows it deſtroys his Kingdom, which ſtandeth in Profaneneſs, in Errors and Deluſions, the only Deſtruction of which is the Knowledge of this Love of Chriſt. What mean thoſe Swarms of Opinions that are in the World? What is the Reaſon that ſome are carried about as Clouds, with a Tempeſt? What mean Mens waverings, Mens changing, and enterchanging Truth for Error, and one Error for another? Why, this is the Thing, the Devil is in it. This Work is his, and he makes this a-do, to make a Duſt; and a Duſt to darken the Light of the Goſpel withal. And if he once attaineth to that, then farewel the true Knowledge of the Love of Chriſt.

Alſo he will aſſault the Spirits of Chriſtians with divers and ſundry Cogitations, ſuch as ſhall have in them a Tendency to darken the Judgment, delude the Fancy, to abuſe the Conſcience. He has an Art to metamorphize all Things. He can make God ſeem to be to us, a moſt fierce and terrible Deſtroyer; and Chriſt a terrible Exactor of Obedience, and moſt amazingly pinching of his Love. He can make ſuppoſed Sins unpardonable; and unpardonable ones, appear as Virtues. He can make the Law to be received for Goſpel, and cauſe that the Goſpel ſhall be thrown away as a Fable. He can perſuade that Faith is Fancy, and that Fancy is the beſt Faith in the World. Beſides, he can tickle the Heart with falſe Hope of a better Life hereafter, even as if the Love of Chriſt were there. But, as I ſaid before, from all theſe Things the true Love of Chriſt in the right Knowledge of it, delivereth thoſe that have it ſhed abroad in the Heart by the Holy Ghoſt that he hath given. Wherefore it is for this Purpoſe that Chriſt biddeth us to continue in his Love: Becauſe the right Knowledge, and Faith of that to the Soul, diſperſeth, and driveth away all ſuch Fogs and Miſts of Darkneſs; and makes the Soul to ſit faſt in the Promiſe of eternal Life by him; yea, and to grow up into him who is the Head, in all Things.

Before I leave this Head, I will preſent my Reader with theſe Things, as Helps to the Knowledge of the Love of Chriſt. I mean the Knowledge of the Nature of it, and as Helps to retain it.

Firſt, Know thy ſelf, what a vile, horrible, abominable Sinner thou art: For thou canſt not know the Love of Chriſt, before thou knoweſt the Badneſs of thy Nature. O wretched Man that I am, muſt be, before a Man can perceive the Nature of the Love of Chriſt. He that ſees himſelf but little, will hardly know much of the Love of Chriſt: He that ſees of himſelf nothing at all, will hardly ever ſee any thing of the Love of Chriſt. But he that ſees moſt of what an abominable Wretch he is, he is like to ſee moſt of what is the Love of Chriſt. All Errors in Doctrine take their Riſe from the Want of this (I mean Errors in Doctrine as to Juſtification). All the idolizing of Mens Virtues, and human Inventions, riſeth alſo from the Want of this. So then if a Man would be kept ſure and ſtedfaſt, let him labour before all Things to know his own Wretchedneſs. People naturally think that the Knowledge of their Sins is the Way to deſtroy them; when in very deed, it is the firſt Step to Salvation. Now if thou wouldeſt know the Badneſs of thy ſelf, begin in the firſt Place to ſtudy the Law, then thy Heart, and ſo thy Life. The Law thou muſt look into, for that's the Glaſs; thy Heart thou muſt look upon, for that's the Face; thy Life thou muſt look upon, for that's the Body of a Man, as to Religion. And without the wary Conſideration of theſe three, 'tis not to be thought that a Man can come at the Knowledge of himſelf, and conſequently to the Knowledge of the Love of Chriſt.

Secondly, Labour to ſee the Emptineſs, Shortneſs, and the Pollution that cleaveth to a Man's own Righteouſneſs. This alſo muſt in ſome meaſure be known, before a Man can know the Nature of the Love of Chriſt. They that ſee nothing of the Loathſomeneſs of Man's beſt things, will think, that the Love of Chriſt is of that Nature as to be procured, or won, obtained or purchaſed by Man's good Deeds. And although ſo much Goſpel light is broke forth as to ſtop Mens Mouths from ſaying this, yet 'tis nothing elſe but ſound Conviction of the Vileneſs of Man's Righteouſneſs that will enable Men to ſee that the Love of Chriſt is of that Nature, as to ſave a Man without it; as to ſee that it is of that Nature as to juſtifie him without it: I ſay, without it, or not at all. There is Shortneſs, there is Hypocriſie, there is a Deſire of Vain Glory, there is Pride, there is Preſumption in Man's own Righteouſneſs: nor can it be without theſe Wickedneſſes, when Men know not the Nature of the Love of Chriſt. Now theſe defile it, and make it abominable. Yea, if there were no Inperfection in it, but that which I firſt did mention, to wit, Shortneſs; how could it cover the Nakedneſs of him that hath it, or obtain for the Man, in whole or in part, that Chriſt ſhould love, and have reſpect unto him.

Occaſions many thou haſt given thee to ſee the Emptineſs of Man's own Righteouſneſs, but all will not do unleſs thou haſt help from Heaven: wherefore thy wiſdom will be, if thou canſt tell where, to find it, to lye in the Way of God, that when he comes to viſit the Men that wait upon him in the Means of his own appointing, thou mayest be there; if perhaps he may cast an eye of Pity upon thy desolate Soul, and make thee see the things above mentioned. That thou mayest know the Nature of the Love of Christ.

Thirdly, If thou wouldest know the Nature of this Love, be much in acquainting of thy Soul with the Nature of the Law, and the Nature of the Gospel. The which though
Gal. 3. 21. they are not diametrically opposite one to another, yet do propound things so differently to Man, that if he knows not where, when and how to take them, 'tis impossible but that he should confound them, and in
Rom. 9. 31, 32. confounding of them, lose his own Soul.
chap. 10. 3. The Law is a Servant, both First and last, to the Gospel: when therefore it is made a Lord, it destroyeth: and then to be sure it is made a Lord and Saviour of, when its Dictates and Commands are depended upon for Life.

Thy Wisdom therefore will be to study these things distinctly, and throughly; for so far as thou art ignorant of the true Knowledge of the Nature of these, so far thou art ignorant of the true Knowledge of the Nature of the Love of Christ. Read Paul to the Galatians, that Epistle was indicted by the Holy Ghost, on purpose to direct the Soul, in, and about this very thing.

Fourthly, The right knowledge of the Nature of the Love of Christ, is obtained, and retained, by keeping of these two Doctrines at an everlasting Distance as to the Conscience; to wit, not suffering the Law to rule but over my outward Man, not suffering the Gospel to be removed one Hairs breadth from my Conscience. When Christ dwells in my Heart by Faith,
Eph. 3. 17. and the Moral Law dwells in my Mem-
Col. 3. 5. bers, the one to keep up Peace with God, the other to keep my Conversation in a good Decornm: then am I right, and not till then.

But this will not be done without much Experience, Diligence, and Delight in Christ. For there is nothing that Satan more desireth, than that the Law may abide in the Conscience of an awakened Christian, and there take up the Place of Christ, and Faith; for he knows if this may be obtained, the Vail is presently drawn over the Face of the Soul, and the Heart darkned as to the Knowledge of Christ; and being darkned, the Man is 2 Cor. 3. 13, to 16. driven into Despair of Mercy, or is put upon it to work for Life. There is therefore, as I say, much Diligence required of him that will keep these two in their places assigned them of God. I say much diligent Study of the Word, diligent Prayer; with Diligence to walk with God in the World. But we will pass this, and come to the second Head.

Secondly, As the Love of Christ may be known in the Nature of it, so it may be known in many Degrees of it. That which is knowable, admits of Degrees of Knowledge: The Love of Christ is knowable. Again, that which is not possible to be known to the utmost, is to be known, we know not how much; and therefore they that seek to know it, should never be contented nor satisfied to what Degree of the Knowledge of it soever they attain; but still should be reaching forward, because there is more to be known of it before them. Brethren, said Paul, I count not my self to have apprehended (that is to the utmost) but this one Phil. 3. 13, Thing I do, forgetting those Things which are 14. behind, and reaching forth to those Things which are before, I press towards the Mark for the Price of the high Calling of God in Christ Jesus.

I might here discourse of many Things, since I am upon this Head of reaching after the Knowledge of the Love of Christ in many of the Degrees of it. But I shall content my self with few.

First, He that would know the Love of Col. 2. 1, 2 Christ in several Degrees of it, must begin 3. at his Person, for in him dwells all the Treasures of Wisdom and Knowledge. Nay, more; In him are hid all the Trea- 1 Tim. 3. sures of Wisdom and Knowledge in him; That 16. is, in his Person: For, for the Godhead of Christ, and our Nature to be united in one Person, is the highest Mystery, and the first Appearance of the Love of Christ by himself, to the World. Here I say, Joh. 11. 4. lie hid the Treasures of Wisdom, and here, to the World, springs forth the Riches of his Love. That the eternal Word, for the Salvation of Sinners, should come down from Heaven and be made Flesh, is an Act of such Condescension, a Discovery of such Love, that can never to the full be found out. Only here we may see Love in him was deep, was broad, was long, and high: Let us therefore first begin here to learn to know the Love of Christ, in the high Degrees thereof.

1. Here, in the first Place, we perceive Love, in that the human Nature, the Nature of Man, not of Angels, is taken into Union with God. Who so could consider this, as it is possible for it to be considered, would stand amazed till he died with Wonder. By this very Act of the heavenly Wisdom, we have an unconceivable Pledge of the Love of Christ to Man: For in that he hath taken into Union with himself our Nature, what doth it signifie, but that he intendeth to take into Union with himself our Persons. For, for this very purpose did he assume our Nature. Wherefore we read that in the Flesh he took upon him, in that Flesh he died for us, the 1 Pet. 3. 18 Just for the Unjust, that he might bring us to God.

2. As he was made Flesh, so as was said afore, he became a publick or common Person for us: And hereby is perceived another another Degree of his Love; undertaking to do for his, what was not poſſible they ſhould do for themſelves, perfecting of Righteouſneſs to the very End of the Law, and doing for us to the reconciling of us unto his Father, and himſelf.

Rom. 10. 3, 4. Ch. 3. 24.

3. Herein alſo we may attain to another Degree of Knowledge of his Love, by underſtanding that he has conquered, and ſo diſabled our Foes, that they cannot now accompliſh their deſigned Enmity upon us: but that when Satan, Death, the Grave and Sin have done to his People, what ever can by them be done, we ſhall be ſtill more than Conquerors, though on our Side be many Diſadvantages, through him that has loved us, over them.

Ch. 5. 10. Epheſ. 5. 25, 26, 27. Rom. 8. 37

4. By this alſo we may yet ſee more of his Love, in that as a Forerunnner, he is gone into Heaven to take Poſſeſſion thereof for us: there to make ready, and to prepare for us our Summer-Houſes, our Manſion, Dwelling-Places. As if we were he Lords, and he the Servant! Oh this Love!

Heb. 6. 20. Joh. 14. 1, 2, 3.

5. Alſo we may ſee another Degree of his Love, in this, that now, in his Abſence, he has ſent the third Perſon in the Trinity to ſupply his Place as another Comforter of us, that we may not think he has forgot us, nor be left deſtitute of a Revealer of Truth unto us. Yea, he has ſent him to fortifie our Spirits, and to ſtrengthen us under all Adverſity, and againſt our Enemies of what Account, or Degree ſoever.

Joh. 16. 7, 8. Ch. 15. 26 Ch. 14. 16. Luk. 21. 15

6. In this alſo we may ſee yet more of the Love of Chriſt, in that though he is in Heaven and we on Earth: Nothing can happen to his People to hurt them, but he feels it, is touched with it, and counteth it as done unto himſelf: Yea, ſympathizes with them, and is afflicted, and grieved in their Griefs, and their Afflictions.

7. Another Thing by which alſo yet more of the Love of Chriſt is made manifeſt, and ſo may by us be known, is this: He is now, and has been ever ſince his Aſcenſion into Glory, laying out himſelf as High-Prieſt for us, that by the improving of his Merits before the Throne of Grace, in Way of Interceſſion, he might preſerve us from the Ruins that our daily Infirmities would bring upon us: yea, and make our Perſons and Performances acceptable in his Father's Sight.

Heb. 7. 24, 25. Ch. 8. 12. Rom. 5. 10 1 Pet. 2. 5.

8. We alſo ſee yet more of his Love by this, that he will have us where himſelf is, that we may behold and be Partakers of his Glory. And in this Degree of his Love, there are many Loves.

Joh. 17. 24

1. Then he will come for us, as a Bridegroom for his Bride.

Mat. 25, 6, 10. Rev. 19. 6, 7.

2. Then ſhall a publick Marriage be ſolemnized, and eternized betwixt him and his Church.

Col. 3. 3. Mat. 25. 31, 32.

3. Then ſhe ſhall be wrapped up in his Mantles and Robes of Glory.

Ch. 13. 41 1 Cor. 6. 2, 3.

4. Then they ſhall be ſeparated, and ſeparated from other Sinners, and all Things that offend ſhall be taken away from among them.

5. Then ſhall they be exalted to Thrones, and Power of Judgment; and ſhall alſo ſit in Judgment on ſinful Men and fallen Angels, acquieſcing, by Vertue of Authority, with their King and Head, upon them.

6. Then or from thenceforth for ever, there ſhall be no more Death, Sorrow, hidings of his Face, or eclipſing of their Glory for ever.

Luk. 20. 35, 36.

7. And thus you may ſee what Rounds this our Jacob's Ladder hath, and how by them we may climb, and climb, even until we are climbed up to Heaven: But now we are ſet again; for all the Glories, all the Benefits, all the Bleſſings, and all the good Things that are laid up in Heaven for theſe; who can underſtand?

Secondly, A ſecond thing whereby the love of Chriſt in ſome degrees of it may be known, is this: That he ſhould paſs by Angels and take hold of us. Who ſo conſidereth the Nature of Spirits, as they are God's Workmanſhip, muſt needs confeſs, that as ſuch, they have a Preheminency above that which is made of Duſt: This then was the diſparity 'twixt us and them; they being by Birth, far more noble than we. But now, when both are fallen, and by our Fall, both in a State of Condemnation, that Jeſus Chriſt ſhould chuſe to take up us, the moſt inconſiderable, and paſs by them, to their eternal Perdition and Deſtruction: O Love! Love in a high Degree to Man: For verily he took not hold of Angels, but of the Seed of Abraham he took hold. Yet this is not all: In all Probability this Lord Jeſus has ten Times as much to do now he has undertaken to be our Saviour, as he would have had, had he ſtep'd over us and taken hold on them.

Heb. 2. 16.

1. He needed not to have ſtooped ſo low as to take Fleſh upon him; theirs being a more noble Nature.

2. Nor would he in all likelihood, have met with thoſe Contempts, thoſe Scorns, thoſe Reproaches and Undervaluings from them, as he has all along received in this his undertaking, and met with from ſinful Fleſh. For they were more noble than we, and would ſooner have perceived the Deſign of Grace, and ſo one would think more readily have fallen in therewith, than ſuch Darkneſs as we were, and ſtill by Sin are.

3. They would not have had thoſe Diſadvantages as we, for that they would not have had a Tempter, a Deſtroyer, ſo ſtrong and mighty as ours is. Alas! had God left us, and taken them, though we ſhould have been never ſo full of Envy againſt their Salvation; yet being but Fleſh, what could we have done to them to have laid Obſtacles in the Way of their Faith and Hope, as they can and do in ours?

4. They,

4. They, it may fairly be preſumed, had they been taken, and we left, and made Partakers in our ſtead, while we had been ſhut out as they are, would not have put Chriſt ſo to it, now in Heaven (pray bear with the Expreſſion, becauſe I want a better) as we by our Imperfections have done and do, Sin, methinks, would not have ſo hanged in their Natures as it doth in ours: their Reaſon, and Senſe, and Apprehenſions being more quick, and ſo more apt to have been taken with this Love of Chriſt, and by it more eaſily have been ſanctified.

5. The Law which they have broken, being not ſo intricate, as that againſt which we have offended, theirs being a Commandment with Faithfulneſs to abide in the Place in which their Creator had ſet them; methinks, conſidering alſo the aptneſs of their Natures as Angels, would not have made their complete Obedience ſo difficult.

6. Nor can I imagine, but had they been taken, they, as Creatures excelling in Strength, would have been more capable of rendering theſe Praiſes and Bleſſings to God for eternal Mercies, than ſuch poor ſorry Creatures as we are, could. But! behold, what manner of Love the Father hath beſtowed upon us, that we ſhould be called the Children of God. That we, not they, that we notwithſtanding all that they have, or could have done to hinder it, ſhould be called the Children of God.

1 Joh. 3. 1.

This therefore is an high Degree of the Love of Jeſus Chriſt to us, that when we and they were fallen, he ſhould ſtoop and take up us, the more ignoble, and leave ſo mighty a Creature in his Sins to periſh.

Thirdly, A third Thing whereby the Love of Chriſt in ſome of the Degrees of it may be known, will be to conſider more particularly the Way, and unwearied Work that he hath with Man to bring him to that Kingdom, that by his Blood he hath obtained for him.

1. Man, when the Lord Jeſus takes him in Hand to make him partaker of the Benefit, is found an Enemy to his Redeemer; nor doth all the Intelligence that he has had of the Grace and Love of Chriſt to ſuch, mollifie him at all, to wit, before the Day of God's Power comes. And this is a ſtrange Thing. Had Man, though he could not have come to Chriſt, been willing that Chriſt ſhould have come to him, it had been ſomething; it would have ſhewn that he had taken his Grace to Heart, and conſidered of it. Yea, and that he was willing to be a ſharer in it. But verily here is no ſuch Thing; Man, though he has free Will, yet is willing by no Means to be ſaved God's Way, to wit, by Jeſus Chriſt, before (as was ſaid before) the Day of God's Power comes upon him. When the good Shepherd went to look for his Sheep that was loſt, in the Wilderneſs, and had found it: did it go one Step homewards upon its own Legs? did not the Shepherd take her and lay her upon his Shoulder, and bring her home rejoycing. This then is not Love only, but Love to a Degree.

Rom. 4. 5. Ch. 5. 7, 8, 9, 10.

Luk. 15.

2. When Man is taken, and laid under the Day of God's Power: When Chriſt is opening his Ear to diſcipline, and ſpeaking to him that his Heart may receive Inſtruction; many Times that poor Man is, as if the Devil had found him, and not God. How frenzily he imagines? how croſly he thinks? how ungainly he carries it under Convictions, Counſels, and his preſent Apprehenſion of Things? I know ſome are more powerfully dealt withall, and more ſtrongly bound at firſt by the World; but others more in an ordinary Manner, that the Fleſh and Reaſon may be ſeen, to the Glory of Chriſt. Yea, and where the Will is made more quickly to comply with its Salvation. 'Tis no Thanks to the Sinner at all. 'Tis the Day of the Power of the Lord that has made the Work ſo ſoon to appear. Therefore count this an Act of Love, in the height of Love; Joh. 15. 15 Love in a great Degree.

3. When Chriſt Jeſus has made this mad man to come to himſelf, and perſuaded him to be willing to accept of his Salvation: Yet he may not be truſted, nor left alone, for then the Corruptions that ſtill lie ſcattering up and down in his Fleſh will tempt him to it, and he will be gone, yea, ſo deſperately wicked is the Fleſh of Saints, that ſhould they be left to themſelves but a little while, none knows what horrible Tranſgreſſions would break out. Proof of this we have to Amazement, plentifully ſcattered here and there in the Word. Hence we have the Patience of God, and his gentleneſs ſo admired: for through that it is that they are preſerved. He that keepeth Iſrael neither ſlumbers nor ſleeps, but watches for them, and over them every Moment, for he knows elſe they will be hurt.

2 Chr. 32. 31. Pſ. 121. 4. Iſa. 27. 3

4. Yea, notwithſtanding this, how often are Saints found playing Truant, and lurking like Thieves in one hole or other. Now in the Guilt of backſliding by the power of this, and then in Filth by the Power of that Corruption. Yea, and when found in ſuch Decayings, and under ſuch Revoltings from God, how commonly do they hide their Sin with Adam, and David, even until their Saviour fireth out of their Mouths a Confeſſion of the Truth of their Naughtineſs. When I kept Silence, ſaid David, (and yet he choſe to keep Silence after he had committed his Wickedneſs) my Bones waxed old through my roaring all the Day long. For Day and Night, thy Hand was heavy upon me, my Moiſture is turned into the Drought of Summer. But why didſt thou not confeſs what thou hadſt done then? So I did, ſaith he, at laſt, and thou forgaveſt the Iniquity of my Sin.

Jer. 2. 26. Pſ. 32. 3, 4. Ver. 5.

5. When

5. When the Sins of Saints are ſo viſible and apparent to others, that God for the Vindication of his Name and Honour muſt puniſh them in the Sight of others; yea, muſt do it, as he is juſt: Yet then for
1 Cor. 11. 31, 32. Heb. 12. 5, 6, 7, 8. Pſ. 94. 12. Chriſt's Sake, he waveth ſuch Judgments, and refuſeth to inflict ſuch Puniſhments as naturally tend to their Deſtruction, and chuſeth to chaſtiſe them with ſuch Rods and Scourges, as may do them good in the End; and that they may not be condemned with the World. Wherefore the Lord loves them, and they are bleſſed, whom he chaſtneth and teacheth out of his Law. And theſe Things are Love to a Degree.

6. That Chriſt ſhould ſupply out of his Fulneſs the Beginnings of Grace in our Souls, and carry on that Work of ſo great Concern, and that which at Times we have ſo little Eſteem of, is none of the leaſt of the Aggravations of the Love of Chriſt to his People. And this Work is as common
Mat. 24. 13. as any of the Works of Chriſt, and as neceſſary to our Salvation, as is his Righteouſneſs, and the Imputation thereof to our Juſtification: For elſe how could we hold out to the End; and yet none elſe can be ſaved.

7. And that the Love of Chriſt ſhould be ſuch to us that he will thus act, thus do to, and for us, with Gladneſs; (as afore is manifeſt by the Parable of the loſt Sheep) is another Degree of his Love towards us: And ſuch an one too, as is none of the loweſt Rate. I have ſeen hot Love, ſoon cold; and Love that has continued to act, yet act towards the End, as the Man that by running, and has run himſelf off his Legs, pants, and can hardly run any longer: But I never ſaw Love like the Love of Chriſt, who as a Giant, and Bridegroom coming out of his Chamber, and as a ſtrong
Pſ. 19. 5. Man, rejoyceth to run his Race. Loving higher and higher, ſtronger and ſtronger,
Joh. 2. 10. I mean as to the lettings out of Love, for he reſerveth the beſt Wine even till the laſt.

8. I will conclude with this, that his Love may be known in many Degrees of it, by that ſort of Sinners whoſe Salvation he moſt rejoyceth in, and that is in the Salvation of the Sinners that are of the biggeſt Size: Great Sinners, Jeruſalem Sinners, Samaritan Sinners, Publican Sinners. I might urge moreover, how he hath proportioned Invitations, Promiſes, and Examples of his Love, for the Encouragement, and Support of thoſe whoſe Souls would truſt in him: By which alſo great Degrees of his Love may be underſtood. But we will come now to the third Thing that was propounded.

Thirdly, But the greateſt Attainment that as to the underſtanding of the Love of Chriſt, we can arrive to here, Is to know that it paſſes Knowledge: And to know the Love of Chriſt that paſſeth Knowledge.

This Truth diſcovereth it ſelf.

1. By the Text it ſelf, for the Apoſtle here, in this Prayer of his for the Epheſians, doth not only deſire that they may know, but deſcribeth that thing which he prays they may know, by this term, It paſſeth knowledge. And to know the Love of Chriſt which paſſeth Knowledge, as our reaſon and carnal imagination will be rudely, and unduely tampering with any Thing of of Chriſt, ſo more eſpecially with the Love and Kindneſs of Chriſt: Judging and concluding that juſt ſuch it is, and none other, as may be apprehended by them: Yea, and will have a Belief that juſt ſo, and no otherwiſe are the Dimenſions of this Love; nor can it ſave beyond our carnal Conceptions of it. Saying to the Soul as Pharaoh once did to Iſrael in another Caſe. Let the Lord be with you as I ſhall (judge it meet he ſhould) let you go. We think Chriſt loves us no more, thanwe do think he can, and ſo conclude that his Love is ſuch as may by us be comprehended, or known to the utmoſt Bounds thereof. But theſe are falſe Conceptions, and this Love of Chriſt that we think is ſuch, is indeed none of the love of Chriſt, but a falſe Image thereof, ſet before our Eyes. I ſpeak not now of weak Knowledge, but of fooliſh and bold Concluſions. A Man through Unbelief may think that Chriſt has no Love for him, and yet Chriſt may love him with a Love that paſſeth Knowledge. But when Men in the common Courſe of their Profeſſion, will be always terminating here, that they know how, and how far Chriſt can love, and will thence be bold to conclude of their own Safety, and of the Loſs and Ruin of all that are not in the ſame Notions, Opinions, Formalities, or Judgments as they: this is the worſt and greateſt of all. The Text therefore, to rectifie thoſe falſe and erroneous Concluſions, ſays, It is a Love that paſſeth Knowledge.

And it will be worth our Obſervation to take Notice that Men, erroneous Men, do not put theſe Limits ſo commonly to the Father and his Love, as the Son, and his. Hence you have ſome that boaſt that God can ſave ſome who have not the Knowledge of the Perſon of the Mediator Jeſus Chriſt the righteous; as the Heathens that have, and ſtill do make a great Improvement of the Law and Light of Nature: crying out with Diſdain againſt the Narrowneſs, Rigidneſs, Cenſoriouſneſs, and Pride of thoſe that think the contrary. Being not aſhamed all the while to eclipſe, to degrade, to leſſen and undervalue the Love of Jeſus Chriſt; making of him and his Undertakings to offer himſelf a Sacrifice to appeaſe the Juſtice of God for our Sins, but a Thing indifferent, and in its own Nature but as other ſmaller Matters.

But all this while the Devil knows full well at what Game he plays, for he knows that without Chriſt, without Faith in his Blood, there is no Remiſſion of Sins. Wherefore, ſaith he, let theſe Men talk what they will of the greatneſs of the Love of God as Creator, ſo they ſlight and undervalue the Love of Chriſt as Mediator. And yet it is worth our Conſideration, that the greatneſs of the Love of God is moſt expreſt in his giving of Chriſt to be a Saviour, and in beſtowing his Benefits upon us that we may be happy through him.

But to return, The Love of Chriſt that is ſo indeed, is Love that paſſeth Knowledge: and the beſt and higheſt of our Knowledge of it is, that we know it to be ſuch.

Secondly, Becauſe I find that at this Point, the great Men of God, of old, were wont to ſtop, be ſet, and beyond which they could not paſs. 'Twas this that made Moſes wonder. 'Twas this that made David cry out, how great and wonderful are the Works of God? Thy Thoughts to uswards, they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee: If I ſhould declare and ſpeak of them, they are more than can be numbred. And again, How precious alſo are thy Thoughts unto me, O God, how great is the Sum of them? If I ſhould count them, they are more in Number than the Sand. And a little before, ſuch Knowledge is too wonderful for me. Iſaiah ſaith, there hath not entred into the Heart of Man what God has prepared for them that wait for him. Ezekiel ſays, this is the River that cannot be paſſed over: And Micah, to the Sea; and Zechariah, to a Fountain, hath compared this unſearchable Love. Wherefore the Apoſtle's Poſition, That the Love of Chriſt is that which paſſeth Knowledge, is a Truth not to be doubted of: Conſequently, to know this, and that it is ſuch, is the fartheſt that we can go. This is to juſtifie God, who has ſaid it, and to magnifie the Son, who has loved us with ſuch a Love: And the contrary is to diſhonour him, and leſſen him, and to make him a deficient Saviour. For ſuppoſe this ſhould be true, that thou couldeſt to the utmoſt comprehend this Love. Yet unleſs, by thy Knowledge thou canſt comprehend beyond all Evil of Sin, or beyond what any Man ſins, who ſhall be ſaved, can ſpread themſelves or infect: Thou muſt leave ſome pardonable Man in an unpardonable Condition. For that thou canſt comprehend this Love, and yet canſt not comprehend that Sin. This makes Chriſt a deficient Saviour. Beſides, if thou comprehendeſt truly, the Word that ſays, it paſſeth Knowledge, has loſt its Sanctity, its Truth.

It muſt therefore be, that this Love paſſeth Knowledge; and that the higheſt Pitch that a Man by Knowledge can attain unto, as to this, is to know that it paſſeth Knowledge. My Reaſon is, for that all Degrees of Love, be they never ſo high, or many, and high; yet, if we can comprehend them, reſt in the Bowels of our Knowledge, for that only which is beyond us, is that which paſſeth Knowledge. That which we can reach, cannot be the higheſt: And if a Man thinks there is nothing beyond what he can reach, he has no more Knowledge as to that: But if he knows that together with what he hath already reached, there is that which he cannot reach, before; then he has a Knowledge for that alſo, even a Knowledge, that it paſſeth Knowledge. 'Tis true a Man that thus knoweth may have divers Conjectures about that Thing that is beyond his Knowledge. Yea, in Reaſon it will be ſo, becauſe he knows that there is ſomething yet before him: But ſince the Thing it ſelf is truly beyond his Knowledge, none of his Conjectures about that Thing may be counted Knowledge. Or ſuppoſe a Man that thus conjectureth, ſhould hit right as to what he now conjectures; his right hitting about that Thing may not be called Knowledge: It is as yet to him but as an uncertain Gueſs, and is ſtill beyond his Knowledge.

Queſt. But, may ſome ſay, what good will it do a Man to know that the Love of Chriſt paſſeth Knowledge? one would think that it ſhould do one more Good to believe that the Knowledge of the whole Love of Chriſt might be attainable.

Anſw. That there is an Advantage in knowing that the Love of Chriſt paſſeth Knowledge; muſt not be queſtioned, for that the Apoſtle ſaith it doth. For to know what the holy Word affirms, is profitable: Nor would he pray that we might know that which paſſeth Knowledge, were there not by our knowing of it, ſome help to be adminiſtred. But to ſhew you ſome of the Advantages that will come to us by knowing that the Love of Chriſt paſſeth Knowledge. 2 Tim. 3. 16.

Firſt, By knowing of this, a Child of God has in reſerve for himſelf, at a Day, when all that he otherwiſe knows, may be taken from him through the Power of Temptation. Sometimes a good Man may be ſo put to it, that all that he knows comprehenſively may be taken from him: To wit, the Knowledge of the Truth of his Faith, or that he has the Grace of God in him, or the like, this I ſay may be taken from him. Now if at this Time, he knows the Love of Chriſt that paſſeth Knowledge, he knows a Way in all Probability to be recovered again. For if Chriſt Jeſus loves with a Love that paſſeth Knowledge: Then ſaith the Soul, that is thus in the dark, he may love me yet, for ought I know, for I know that he loves with a Love that paſſeth Knowledge; and therefore I will not utterly deſpond. Yea, if Satan ſhould attempt to queſtion whether ever Chriſt Jeſus will look upon me or no. The Anſwer is, if I know the Love that paſſes Knowledge: But he may look upon me me, (Satan) yea, and love, and ſave me too, for ought I poor Sinner know; for he loves with a Love that paſſeth Knowledge. If I be fallen into Sin that lies hard upon me, and my Conſcience fears, that for this there is no Forgiveneſs. The Help for a Stay from utter Deſpair is at Hand: But there may, ſay I, for Chriſt loves, with a Love that paſſeth Knowledge. If Satan would diſſwade me from praying to God, by ſuggeſting as if Chriſt would not regard the ſtammering, and chattering Prayer of mine. The Anſwer is ready, but he may regard for ought I know; for he loves with a Love that paſſeth Knowledge. If the Tempter doth ſuggeſt that thy Tryals, and Troubles, and Afflictions, are ſo many that it is to be thought thou ſhalt never get beyond them. The Anſwer is near, but for ought we know, Chriſt may carry me through them all, for he loves with a Love that paſſeth Knowledge. Thus I ſay, is Relief at Hand, and a Help in Reſerve for the tempted, let their Temptations be what they will. This therefore is the Weapon that will baffle the Devil when all other Weapons fail; for ought I know, Chriſt may ſave me, for he loves with a Love that paſſeth Knowledge. Yea, ſuppoſe he ſhould drive me to the worſt of Fears, and that is to doubt that I neither have nor ſhall have for ever the Grace of God in my Soul. The Anſwer is at Hand, but I have or may have it, for Chriſt loves with a Love that paſſeth Knowledge. Thus therefore you may ſee that in this Prayer of Paul, there is a great deal of good. He prays, when he prays that we might know the Love of Chriſt that paſſeth Knowledge: That we may have a Help at Hand, and Relief againſt all the horrible Temptations of the Devil. For this is a Help at Hand, a Help that is ready to fall in with us, if there be yet remaining with us, but the leaſt Grain of right reaſoning according to the Nature of Things. For if it be objected againſt a Man that he is poor, becauſe he has but a Groat in his Pocket; yet if he has an unknown deal of Money in his Trunks, how eaſy is it for him to recover himſelf from that Slander, by returning the Knowledge of what he has, upon the Objector. This is the Caſe, and thus it is, and will be with them that know the Love of Chriſt that paſſeth Knowledge. Wherefore,

Gen. 26. 22. Secondly, By this Knowledge, room is made for a Chriſtian, and Liberty is miniſtred unto him, to turn himſelf every way in all ſpiritual Things. This is the Chriſtian's Rehoboth, that Well for which the Philiſtines have no Heart to ſtrive, and that which will cauſe that we be fruitful in the Land.

2 Sam. 22. 37. If Chriſtians know not with this Knowledge, they walk in the World as if they were pinioned; or as if Fetters were hanged on their Heels. But this enlarges their ſteps under them: By the Knowledge of this Love they may walk at Liberty, and their Steps ſhall not be ſtraitned. This is that which Solomon intends when he ſaith, Get Wiſdom, and get Underſtanding----- Then when thou goeſt, thy Steps ſhall not be ſtraitned, and when thou runneſt, thou ſhalt not ſtumble. A Man that has only from Hand to Mouth, is oft put to it to know how to uſe his Penny, and comes off alſo, many Times, but with an hungry Belly; but he that has, not only that, but always over and to ſpare, he is more at Liberty, and can live in Fulneſs, and far more like a Gentleman. There is a man has a Ciſtern, and that is full of Water: There is another alſo, that has his Ciſtern full, and withal, his Spring in his Yard; but a great Drought is upon the Land in which they dwell: I would now know, which of theſe two have the moſt Advantage to live in their own Minds at Liberty, without fear of wanting Water? Why this is the caſe in hand. There is a Chriſtian that knows Chriſt in all thoſe degrees of his Love that are knowable, but he knoweth Chriſt nothing in his Love that paſſeth Knowledge. There is another Chriſtian, and he knows Chriſt, as the firſt, but withal, he alſo knows him as to his Love that paſſeth Knowledge. Pray now tell me, which of theſe two are liklieſt to live moſt like a Chriſtian, that is, like a ſpiritual Prince, and like him that poſſeſſeth all things? which has moſt Advantage to live in godly largeneſs of Heart, and is moſt at Liberty in his mind? which of theſe two have the greateſt Advantage to believe, and the greateſt Engagements laid upon him to love the Lord Jeſus? which of theſe have alſo moſt in Readineſs to reſiſt the Wiles of the Devil, and to ſubdue the Power aud Prevalency of Corruptions? 'Tis this, that makes men Fathers in Chriſtianity. I write unto you, Fathers, becauſe ye have known; I have written unto you Fathers becauſe ye have known, why, have not others known? not ſo as the Fathers. The Fathers have known and known. They have known the Love of Chriſt in thoſe Degrees of Love which are knowable, and have alſo known the Love of Chriſt to be ſuch which paſſeth Knowledge. In my Father's houſe is bread enough and to ſpare, was that that fetched the Prodigal home. And when Moſes would ſpeak an endleſs-all to Iſrael, for the Comfort and Stay of their Souls, he calls their God, The Fountain of Jacob upon a Land of Corn and Wine.

Deut. 33. 28.

Thirdly, By this Knowledge, or Knowing of the Love of Chriſt which paſſeth Knowledge, There is begot in Chriſtians a greater Deſire to preſs forwards to that which is before them. What is the Reaſon of all that Sloth, carnal Contentedneſs, and Liftleſneſs of Spirit in Chriſtians, more than the Ignorance of this. For he that thinks thinks he knows what can be known, is beyond all Reaſon that ſhould induce him to ſeek yet after more. Now the Love of Chriſt may be ſaid, not to be knowable, upon a threefold Account.

Firſt, for that my Knowledge is weak.

Secondly, for that my Knowledge is imperfect.

Thirdly, or for that, though my Knowledge be never ſo perfect, becauſe the Love of Chriſt is eternal.

There is Love that is not to be apprehended by weak Knowledge. Convince a man of this, and then, if the Knowledge of what he already has, be truly ſweet to his Soul, it will ſtir him up with great Heartineſs to deſire to know what more of this is poſſible.

Prov.2.10 There is Love beyond what he knows already, who is indued with the moſt perfect Knowledge, that man here may have. Now if what this man knows already of this Love is indeed ſweet unto him; then it puts him upon hearty Deſires that his Soul may yet know more. And becauſe there is no Bound ſet to Man, how much he may know in this Life thereof; therefore his Deſires, notwithſtanding what he has attained, are yet kept alive, and in the Purſuit after the Knowledge of more of the Love of Chriſt. And God in old time has taken it ſo well at the hands of ſome of his, that their deſires have been ſo great, that when, as I may ſay, they have known as much on Earth as is poſſible for them to know; (that is by ordinary Means) he has come down to them in Viſions and Revelations; or elſe taken them up to him for an Hour or two into Paradiſe, that they might know, and then let them down again.

But this is not all, There is a Knowledge of the Love of Chriſt, that we are by no Means capable of until we be poſſeſſed of the Heavens. And I would know, if a Man indeed loveth Chriſt, whether the Belief of this be not one of the higheſt Arguments that can be urged, to make ſuch an one weary of this World, that he may be with him. To ſuch an Phil.1.21, 22, 23. one, to live is Chriſt, and to die is Gain. And to ſuch an one, it is difficult to bring his Mind to be content to ſtay here a longer time; except he be ſatisfied that Chriſt has ſtill Work for him here to do.

I will yet add, There is a Love of Chriſt, I will not ſay, that cannot be known but I will ſay, that cannot be enjoyed; no, not by them now in Heaven (in Soul) until the Day of Judgment. And the Knowledge of this, when it has poſſeſſed even Men on Earth, has made them chuſe a 2Cor.5.4. Day of Judgment, before a Day of Death, that they might know what is beyond that State and Knowledge which even the Spirits of juſt Men made perfect, now do enjoy in Heaven. Wherefore, as I ſaid at firſt, To know the Love of Chriſt that paſſeth Knowledge, is advantageous upon this Account; It begetteth in Chriſtians a great Deſire to reach, and preſs forward to that which is before.

One thing more, and then, as to this Reaſon, I have done. Even that Love of Chriſt that is abſolutely unknowable, as to the utmoſt Bound thereof becauſe it is eternal, will be yet in the Nature of it ſweet and deſireable, becauſe we ſhall enjoy or be poſſeſſed of it ſo. This therefore, if there were no more, is enough, when known, to draw away the Heart from things that are below, to it ſelf.

Fourthly, The Love that paſſeth Knowledge, The Knowledge of that is a very fruitful Knowledge. It cannot be, but it muſt be fruitful. Some Knowledge is empty, and alone, not attended with that Good, and with thoſe Bleſſings wherewith this Knowledge is attended. Did I ſay, it is fruitful? I will add, It is attended with the beſt Fruit; it yieldeth the beſt Wine; It fills the Soul with all the Fullneſs of God. And to know the Love of Chriſt which paſ- 2 John 9. ſeth Knowledge, that he may be filled with all the Fulneſs of God. God is in Chriſt, and makes himſelf known to us by the Love of Chriſt. Whoſoever tranſgreſſeth, and abideth not in the Doctrine of Chriſt, hath not God, for God is not to be found nor enjoyed, but in him, conſequently he that hath, and abideth in the Doctrine of Chriſt, hath both the Father and the Son. Now, ſince there are Degrees of Knowledge of this Doctrine, and ſince the higheſt Degree of the Knowledge of him, is to know that he has a Love that paſſeth Knowledge, it follows, that if he that has the leaſt ſaving Knowledge of this Doctrine, hath God; he that hath the largeſt knowledge of it, has God much more, or, according to the Text, is filled with all the Fulneſs of God. What this Fulneſs of God ſhould be, is beſt gathered from ſuch Sayings of the Holy Ghoſt, as come neareſt to this in Language, filled,

1. Full of Goodneſs. Ro.15.14.
2. Full of Faith. Acts 6.5.
3. Full of the Holy Ghoſt. chap.7.55. Heb.6.11.
4. Full of Aſſurance of Faith. cha.10.22.
5. Full of Aſſurance of Hope. 1 Pet.1.8.
6. Full of joy unſpeakable, and full of Glory. 1 Joh 1.4. Act 9.36, 37.
7. Full of Joy. Col. 1.9.
8. Full of good Works. Eph.5.18. Phil.1.11.
9. Being filled with the Knowledge of his Will.
10. Being filled with the Spirit.
11. Filled with the fruits of Righteouſneſs, which is by Jeſus Chriſt to the Glory and Praiſe of God.

Theſe things to be ſure are included either for the Cauſe or Effect of this Fulneſs. The Cauſe they cannot be, for that is God's, by his Holy Spirit. The Effects therefore they are, for where-ever God dwells dwells in the Degree intended in the Text, there is ſhewn in an eminent Manner, by theſe Things, what is the Riches of the Glory of his Inheritance in the Saints. But theſe Things dwell not in that Meaſure ſpecified by the Text, in any, but thoſe who know the Love of Chriſt which paſſeth Knowledge. Eph. 1. 18.

But what a Man is he that is filled with all theſe Things! or that is, as we have it in the Text, filled with all the Fulneſs of God! Such Men are, at this Day, wanting in the Churches. Theſe are the Men that ſweeten Churches, and that bring Glory to God and to Religion. And Knowledge will make us ſuch, ſuch Knowledge as the Apoſtle here ſpeaketh of.

I have now done, when I have ſpoken ſomething by way of Uſe unto you, from what hath been ſaid. And, Firſt, Is there ſuch Breadth, and Length, and Depth, and Heighth in God, for us? And is there toward us Love in Chriſt that paſſeth Knowledge? Then this ſhews us, not only the Greatneſs of the Majeſty of the Father and the Son, but the great good Will that is in their Heart to them that receive their Word.

God has engaged the Breadth, and Length, and Depth, and Heighth of the Love, the Wiſdom, the Power, and Truth that is in himſelf, for us; and Chriſt has loved us with a Love that paſſeth Knowledge. We may well ſay, Who is like thee, O Lord, among the Gods? Or, as another Prophet has it, Who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth Iniquity, and paſſeth by the Tranſgreſſions of the Remnant of his Heritage; he retaineth not his Anger for ever: becauſe he delighteth in Mercy. Yea, no Words can ſufficiently ſet forth the Greatneſs of this Love of God and his Son to us poor miſerable Sinners. Ex. 15. 11. Mic. 7. 18.

Secondly, Is there ſo great a Heart for Love, towards us, both in the Father and in the Son? Then let us be much in the Study and Search after the Greatneſs of this Love. This is the ſweeteſt Study that a Man can devote himſelf unto; becauſe 'tis the Study of the Love of God and of Chriſt to Man. Studies that yield far leſs Profit than this, how cloſe are they purſued, by ſome who have adapted themſelves thereunto? Men do not uſe to count telling over of their Money burthenſome to them, nor yet the recounting of their Grounds, their Herds, and their Flocks, when they encreaſe. Why, the Study of the unſearchable Love of God in Chriſt to Man, is better in it ſelf, and yields more Sweetneſs to the Soul of Man, then can ten thouſand ſuch Things as but now are mentioned. I know the wiſe Men of this World, of whom there are many, will ſay as to what I now preſs you unto, Who can ſhew us any Good in it? But Lord lift thou up the Light of thy Countenance upon us. Thou haſt put Gladneſs in my Heart, more than in the Time that their Corn and their Wine increaſeth. David alſo ſaid that his Meditation on the Lord ſhould be ſweet. Oh, there is in God and in his Son, that Kindneſs for the Sons of Men, that, did they know it, they would like to retain the Knowledge of it in their Hearts. They would cry out as ſhe did of old; Set me as a Seal upon thy Heart, as a Seal upon thine Arm: For Love is ſtrong as Death. Every Part, Crumb, Grain, or Scrap of this Knowledge, is to a Chriſtian, as Drops of Honey are to ſweet palated Children, worth the gathering up, worth the putting to the Taſte to be reliſhed. Yea, David ſays of the Word which is the Ground of Knowledge: It is ſweeter than Honey or the Honey-Comb. More, ſaith he, to be deſired are they than Gold; yea, than much fine Gold, ſweeter alſo than Honey or the Honey-Comb. Why then do not Chriſtians devote themſelves to the Meditation of this ſo heavenly, ſo goodly, ſo ſweet, and ſo comfortable a Thing, that yieldeth ſuch Advantage to the Soul? The Reaſon is, theſe Things are talked of, but not believed: Did Men believe what they ſay, when they ſpeak ſo largely of the Love of God, and the Love of Jeſus Chriſt, they would, they could not but meditate upon it. There are ſo many Wonders in it, and Men love to think of Wonders: There is ſo much Profit in it, and Men love to think of that which yields them Profit. But, as I ſaid, the Belief of Things are wanting. Belief of a Thing will have ſtrong Effects, whether the Ground for it be true or falſe. As ſuppoſe one of you ſhould, when you are at a Neighbour's Houſe, believe that your own Houſe is on fire, whilſt your Children are faſt aſleep in Bed, though indeed there were no ſuch Thing: I ſhall appeal to any of you if this Belief would not make notable Work with and upon your Hearts. Let a Man believe he ſhall be damned, though afterwards 'tis evident he believed a Lie, yet what Work did that Belief make in that Man's Heart; even ſo, and much more, the Belief of heavenly Things will work, becauſe true and great, and moſt good; alſo, where they are indeed believed, their Evidence is managed upon their Spirit, by the Power and Glory of the Holy Ghoſt it ſelf: Wherefore let us ſtudy theſe Things. Pſ. 4. 6, 7. Song 8. 6, 7, 8. Pſ. 19. 10.

Thirdly, Let us caſt our ſelves upon this Love: No greater Encouragement can be given us, than what is in the Text and about it. It is great, it is love that paſſeth Knowledge. Men that are ſenſible of Danger, are glad when they hear of ſuch Helps upon which they may boldly venture for eſcape. Why ſuch an Help and Relief the Text helpeth trembling and fearful Conſciences to. Fear and Trembling as to Miſery hereafter, can flow but from what we know, feel, or imagine: But the Text ſpeaks of a Love that is beyond that we can know, feel, or imagine, even of a Love that paſſeth Knowledge; conſequently of a Love that goes beyond all theſe. Beſides, the Apoſtle's Concluſion upon this Subject, plainly makes it manifeſt that this Meaning which I have put upon the Text, is the Mind of the Holy Ghoſt. Now unto him, ſaith he, that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all Eph.3.20, 21. that we ask or think, according to the Power that worketh in us: Unto him be Glory in the Church by Chriſt Jeſus throughout all Ages, World without end. Amen. What can be more plain? What can be more full? What can be more ſuitable to the moſt deſponding Spirit in any Man? He can do more than thou knoweſt he will, he can do more than thou thinkeſt he can. What doſt thou think? Why, I think, ſaith the Sinner, that I am caſt away. Well, but there are worſe Thoughts than theſe, therefore think again. Why, ſaith the Sinner, I think that my Sins are as many as all the Sins of the World. Indeed this is a very black Thought, but there are worſe Thoughts than this, therefore prithee think again. Why, I think, ſaith the Sinner, that God is not able to pardon all my Sins. Ay, now thou haſt thought indeed. For this Thought makes thee look more like a Devil than a Man, and yet becauſe thou art a Man and not a Devil, ſee the Condeſcenſion and the Boundleſneſs of the Love of thy God. He is able to do above all that we think! Couldeſt thou (Sinner) if thou hadſt been allowed, thy ſelf expreſs what thou wouldeſt have expreſſed, the Greatneſs of the Love thou wanteſt, with Words that could have ſuited thee better? for 'tis not ſaid he can do above what we think, meaning our thinking at preſent, but above all we can think, meaning above the worſt and moſt ſoul-dejecting Thoughts that we have at any Time. Some times the dejected have worſe Thoughts than at other Times they have. Well, take them at their worſt Times, at Times when they think, and think, till they think themſelves down into the very Pangs of Hell, yet this Word of the Grace of God, is above them, and ſhews that he can yet recover and ſave theſe miſerable People.

And now I am upon this Subject, I will a little further walk and travel with the deſponding Ones, and will put a few Words in their Mouths for their Help againſt Temptations that may come upon them hereafter. For as Satan follows ſuch now, with Charges and Applications of Guilt, ſo he may follow them with Interrogatories and Appeals: For he can tell how by Appeals, as well as by charging of Sin, to ſink and drown the Sinner whoſe Soul he has Leave to engage. Suppoſe therefore that ſome diſtreſſed Man or Woman, ſhould after this Way be engaged, and Satan ſhould with his Interrogatories and Appeals be buſy with them to drive them to Deſparation; the Text laſt mentioned, to ſay nothing of the Subject of our Diſcourſe, yields Plenty of Help for the Relief of ſuch a one. Says Satan, Doſt thou not know that thou haſt horribly ſinned? Yes, ſays the Soul, I do. Says Satan, Doſt thou not know, that thou art one of the vileſt in all the Pack of Profeſſors? Yes, ſays the Soul, I do. Says Satan, Doth not thy Conſcience tell thee that thou art and haſt been more baſe than any of thy Fellows can imagine thee to be. Yes, ſays the Soul, my Conſcience tells me ſo. Well, ſaith Satan, now will I come upon thee with my Appeals. Art thou not a graceleſs Wretch? Yes. Haſt thou an Heart to be ſorry for this Wickedneſs? No, not as I ſhould. And albeit, ſaith Satan, thou prayeſt ſometimes, yet is not thy Heart poſſeſſed with a Belief that God will not regard thee? Yes, ſays the Sinner. Why then deſpair, and go hang thy ſelf, ſaith the Devil. And now we are at the end of the Thing deſigned and driven at by Satan. But what ſhall I now do, ſaith the Sinner; I anſwer, take up the Words of the Text againſt him, Chriſt loves with a Love that paſſeth Knowledge, and anſwereth him farther, ſaying Satan, though I cannot think that God loves me; though I cannot think that God will ſave me, yet I will not yield to thee: For God can do more than I think he can. And whereas thou appealedſt unto me, if whether when I pray, my Heart is not poſſeſſed with Unbelief that God will not regard me; that ſhall not ſink me neither: For God can do abundantly above what I ask or think. Thus this Text helpeth where Obſtructions are put in againſt our believing, and thereby caſting our ſelves upon the Love of God in Chriſt for Salvation.

And yet this is not all, for the Text is yet more full: He is able to do abundantly more, yea, exceeding abundantly more, or above all that we ask or think. It is a Text made up of Words picked and packed together, by the Wiſdom of God, picked and packed together on purpoſe for the Succour and Relief of the tempted, that they may when in the midſt of their Diſtreſſes, caſt themſelves upon the Lord their God. He can do abundantly more than we ask. Oh! ſays the Soul, that he would but do ſo much for me as I could ask him to do! How happy a Man ſhould I then be. Why, what wouldeſt thou ask for, Sinner? You may be ſure, ſays the Soul, I would ask to be ſaved from my Sins; I would ask for Faith in, and Love to, Chriſt; I would ask to be preſerved in this evil World, and ask to be glorified with Chriſt in Heaven. He that asketh for all this, doth indeed ask for much, and for more than

Satan

Satan would have him believe that God is able or willing to beſtow upon him; but mark, the Text doth not ſay, that God is able to do all that we can ask or think, but that he is able to do above all, yea abundantly above all, yea, exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think. What a Text is this! What a God have we! God foreſaw the Sins of his People, and what Work the Devil would make with their Hearts about them, and therefore to prevent their Ruin by his Temptation, he has thus largely, as you ſee, expreſſed his Love by his Word. Let us therefore, as he has been bidden us, make this good Uſe of this Doctrine of Grace, as to caſt our ſelves upon this Love of God in the Times of Diſtreſs and Temptation.

Fourthly, Take heed of abuſing this Love. This Exhortation ſeems needleſs; for Love is ſuch a Thing, that one would think none could find in their Heart to abuſe. But for all that, I am of Opinion, that there is nothing that is more abuſed among Profeſſors this Day, than is this Love of God. There has of late more light about the Love of Chriſt broke out, than formerly: Every Boy now can talk of the Love of Chriſt; but this Love of Chriſt has not been rightly applied by Preachers, or elſe not rightly received by Profeſſors. For never was this Grace of Chriſt ſo turned into Laſciviouſneſs, as now. Now it is a Practice among Profeſſors to learn to be vile, of the Profane. Yea, and to plead for that vileneſs: Nay, we will turn it the other Way, now it is ſo that the Profane do learn to be vile of thoſe that profeſs (They teach the wicked ones their Ways:) a Thing that Jer. 2. 33. no good Man ſhould think on but with bluſhing Cheeks.

Jud. 4. Tit. 1. 16. Jude ſpeaketh of theſe People, and tells us that they, notwithſtanding their Profeſſion, deny the only Lord God, and our Saviour Jeſus Chriſt. They profeſs, ſaith Paul, that they know God, but in Works they deny him, being abominable, diſobedient, and to every good Work reprobate.

But I ſay, let not this Love of God and of Chriſt, be abuſed. 'Tis unnatural to abuſe Love, to abuſe Love, is a Villainy condemned of all, yea, to abuſe Love, is the moſt inexcuſable Sin of all. It is next the Sin of Devils to abuſe Love, the Love of God and of Chriſt.

And what ſays the Apoſtle? Becauſe they received not the Love of the Truth that they might be ſaved, therefore God
2 Theſ. 2. 11. 12. ſhall ſend them ſtrong Deluſions that they may believe a Lye, that they all may be damned, who believed not the Truth, but had Pleaſure in Unrighteouſneſs. And what can ſuch an one ſay for himſelf in the Judgment, that ſhall be charged with the Abuſe of Love? Chriſtians, deny your ſelves, deny your Luſts, deny the Vanities of this preſent Life, devote your ſelves to God; become lovers of God, lovers of his Ways, and a People zealous of good Works; then 2 Cor. 6. 1. ſhall you ſhew one to another, and to all Men, that you have not received the Grace of God in Vain. Renounce therefore the hidden Things of Diſhoneſty, walk not in Craftineſs, nor handle God's Word deceitfully, but by Manifeſtation of the Truth, commend yourſelves to every Man's Conſcience in the Sight of God. Do this, I ſay, yea, and ſo endeavour ſuch a Cloſure with this Love of God in Chriſt, as may graciouſly conſtrain you to do it, becauſe, when all Proofs of the right receiving of this Love of Chriſt ſhall be produced, none will be found of Worth enough to juſtifie the Simplicity of our Profeſſion, but that Tit. 2. 14. which makes us zealous of good Works. And what a Thing will it be to be turned off at laſt, as one that abuſed the Love of Chriſt! as one that preſumed upon his Luſts, this World, and all manner of Naughtineſs, becauſe the Love of Chriſt to pardon Sins was ſo great! What an unthinking, what an diſingenuous one wilt thou be counted at that Day! yea, thou wilt be Read found to be the Man that made a Prey of Ezek. 16. Love, that made a Stalking-Horſe of Love, that made of Love a Slave to Sin, the Devil and the World, and will not that be bad?

Fifthly, Is the Love of God and of Chriſt ſo great? let us then labour to improve it to the utmoſt for our Advantage, againſt aall the hindrances of Faith.

To what Purpoſe elſe is it revealed, made mention of, and commended to us? We are environed with many Enemies, and Faith in the Love of God and of Chriſt, is our only Succour and Shelter. Wherefore our Duty and Wiſdom and Privilege is, to improve this Love for our own Advantage. Improve it againſt daily Infirmities, improve it againſt the Wiles of the Devil; improve it againſt the Threats, Rage, Death and Deſtruction, that the Men of this World continually with their Terror ſet before you. But how muſt that be done? why, ſet this Love and the Safety that is in it, before thine Eyes; and behold it while theſe Things make their Aſſaults upon thee. Theſe Words, the Faith of this, God loves Phil. 3. 1. me, will ſupport thee in the midſt of what Pſ. 44. 8. Dangers may aſſault thee. And this is that 2 Cor. 2. 14 Pſ. 16. 8. which is meant, when we are exhorted to Heb. 13. 6. rejoyce in the Lord, to make our Boaſts in the Lord; to triumph in the Lord; and to ſet the Lord always before our Face. For he that can do this Thing ſtedfaſtly, cannot be overcome. For in God there is more than can be in the World, either to help or hinder; Wherefore, if God be my Helper, if God loves me, if Chriſt be my Redeemer, and has beſtowed his Love that paſſeth Knowledge upon me, who can be Rom. 8. 31 againſt me? And if they be againſt me, what Diſadvantage reap I thereby; ſince even all this alſo, worketh for my good?

This

This is improving the Love of God and of Chriſt for my Advantage. The ſame Courſe ſhould Chriſtians alſo take with the Degrees of this Love, even ſet it againſt all the Degrees of Danger; for here Deep calleth unto Deep. There cannot be Wickedneſs and Rage wrought up to ſuch or ſuch a Degree, as of which it may be ſaid, there are not Degrees in the Love of God and of Ex.18.11. Chriſt to match it. Wherein Pharaoh dealt proudly againſt God's People, the Lord was above him, did match, and overmatch him; he came up to him, and went beyond him; he collared with him, overcame him, and
Ex. 15.3, 4, 5, 6. caſt him down. The Lord is a Man of War, the Lord is his Name. Pharaoh's
Pſ. 47.9. Chariots and his Hoſts hath he caſt into the Sea---they ſank into the Bottom as a Stone. There is no ſtriving againſt the Lord that hath loved us; there is none that ſtrive againſt him can proſper. If the Shields of the Earth be the Lords, then he can wield them for the Safeguard of his Body the Church; or if they are become uncapable of being made uſe of any longer in that Way, and for ſuch a Thing, can he not lay them aſide, and make himſelf new ones? Men can do after this Manner, much more God. But again, if the Miſeries, or Afflictions which thou meeteſt with, ſeem to thee to overflow, and to go beyond Meaſure, above Meaſure, and ſo to be above
2 Cor.1.8 Strength, and begin to drive thee to deſpair of Life; then thou haſt alſo, in the Love of God, and of Chriſt, that which is above, and that goes beyond all Meaſure alſo, to wit, Love unſearchable, unknown, and that can do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think. NowGod hath ſet them one againſt the other, and 'twill be thy Wiſdom to do ſo too, for this is the Way to improve this Love. But though it be eaſie thus to admoniſh you to do, yet you ſhall find the practical Part more difficult; wherefore, here it may not be amiſs, if I add to theſe, another head of Counſel.

Firſt then, Wouldſt thou improve this Love of God and of Chriſt to thy Advantage, Why then thou muſt labour after the knowledge of it. This was it that the Apoſtle pray'd for, for theſe Epheſians, as was ſaid before, and this is that that thou muſt labour after, or elſe thy Reading and my Writing, will, as to thee, be fruitleſs.
1 Ch.28.9 Let me then ſay to thee, as David to his Son Solomon, And thou Solomon, my Son, know thou the God of thy Father. Empty Notions of this Love will do nothing but harm, Wherefore, they are not empty Notions that I preſs thee to reſt in, but that Song 1.3. 2Cor.2.14 Pr. 2. 10, 11. thou labour after the knowledge of the Savour of this goodOintment, which the Apoſtle calleth the Savour of the Knowledge of this Lord Jeſus. Know it, until it becometh Sweet or Pleaſant to thy Soul, and then it will preſerve and keep thee. Make this Love of God and of Chriſt thine own, and not anothers. Many there are that can talk largely of the Love of God to Abraham, to David, to Peter and Paul. But that is not the Thing, give not over until this Love be made thine own; until thou find and feel it to run warm in thy Heart by the ſhedding of it abroad there, by the Spirit that God hath given thee. Then thou wilt know it with an obliging and engaging Knowledge; yea, then thou wilt know it with a Soul-ſtrengthning, and Soul-encouraging Knowledge. Rom.5.5

Secondly, Wouldſt thou improve this Love? Then ſet it againſt the Love of all other Things whatſoever, even untill this Love ſhall conquer thy Soul from the Love of them to it ſelf.

This is Chriſtian. Do it therefore, and ſay, why ſhould any Thing have my Heart but God, but Chriſt? He loves me with Love that paſſeth Knowledge. He loves me, and he ſhall have me; he loves me, and I will love him: His Love ſtript him of all for my Sake; Lord let my Love ſtrip me of all for thy Sake. I am a Son of Love, an Object of Love, a Monument of Love, of free Love, of diſtinguiſhing Love, of peculiar Love, and of Love that paſſeth Knowledge, and why ſhould not I walk in Love? in Love to God, in Love to Men, in holy Love, in Love unfeigned? This is the Way to improve the Love of God for thy Advantage, for the ſubduing of thy Paſſions, and for ſanctifying of thy Nature. 'Tis an odious Thing to hear Men of baſe Lives talking of the Love of God, of the Death of Chriſt, and of the glorious Grace that is preſented unto Sinners by the Word of the Truth of the Goſpel. Praiſe is comely for the Upright, not for the Profane. Therefore let him ſpeak of Love that is taken with Love, that is captivated with Love, that is carried away with Love. If this Man ſpeaks of it, his ſpeaking ſignifies ſomething; the Powers, and Bands of Love are upon him, and he ſhews to all that he knows what he is ſpeaking of. But the very mentioning of Love, is in the Mouth of the Profane, like a Parable in the Mouth of Fools, or as Salt unſavory. Wherefore, Chriſtian, improve this Love of God as thou ſhouldeſt, and that will improve thee as thou wouldeſt. Wherefore, Thirdly, If thou wouldeſt improve this Love, keep thy ſelf in it. Keep your ſelves in the Love of God. This Text looks as if it favoured the Socinians, but there is nothing of that in it. And ſo doth that, If Joh.15.10 ye keep my Commandments, ye ſhall abide in my Love: Even as I have kept my Father's Commandments and abide in his Love. The meaning then is this, that living a holy Life is the Way, after a Man has believed unto Juſtification, to keep himſelf in the Savour and Comfort of the Love of God. And Oh, that thou wouldeſt indeed ſo do. And Jude 21.

that becauſe, if thou ſhall want the Savour of it, thou wilt ſoon want Tenderneſs to the Commandment, which is the Rule by which thou muſt walk, if thou wilt do good to Pſ. 50.23. thy ſelf, or honour God in the World. To him that ordereth his Converſation aright, I will ſhew the Salvation of God. He that would live a ſweet, comfortable, joyful Life; muſt live a very holy Life. This is the Way to improve this Love to thy ſelf in Deed.

Eph. 3.13 Fourthly, To this End, you muſt take Root and be grounded in Love, that is, you muſt be well ſettled, and ſtabliſhed in this Love, if indeed you would improve it. You muſt not be ſhaken as to the Doctrine, and Grounds of it. Theſe you muſt be well acquainted with: For he that is but a Child in this Doctrine, is not capable as yet, of 1 Joh. 4. 17, 18. falling in with theſe Exhortations: For ſuch waver, and fear when tempted: And he that feareth is not made perfect in Love, nor can he ſo improve it for himſelf and Soul's good as he ſhould.

Fifthly, and laſtly, Keep, to this End, thoſe Grounds and Evidences that God hath given you of your Call to be Partakers of this Love, with all clearneſs upon your Hearts, and in your Minds. For he that wants a Sight of them, or a Proof that they are true and good, can take but little Comfort in this Love. There is a great Myſtery in the Way of God with his People. He will juſtify them without their Works, he will pardon them for his Son's Sake: But they ſhall have but little Comfort of what he hath done, doth, and will do for them, that are careleſs, carnal, and not holy in their Lives. Nor ſhall they have their Evidences for Heaven at Hand, nor out of doubt with them, yea, they ſhall walk without the Sun, and have their Comforts by Bitts and Knocks; while others ſit at their Father's Table, have Liberty to go into the Wine-Cellar, rejoyce at the ſweet and pleaſant Face of their heavenly Father towards them; and know it ſhall go well with them at the End.

Something now for a Concluſion ſhould be ſpoken to the carnal World, who have heard me tell of all this Love. But what ſhall I ſay unto them? if I ſhould ſpeak to them and they ſhould not hear; or if I ſhould teſtifie unto them, and they ſhould not believe; or intreat them, and they ſhould ſcorn me; all will but aggravate, and greaten their Sin, and tend to their further Condemnation. And therefore I ſhall leave the obſtinate where I found him, and ſhall ſay to him that is willing to be ſaved, Sinner, thou haſt the Advantage of thy Neighbour, not only becauſe thou art willing to live, but becauſe there are that are willing thou ſhouldeſt; to wit, thoſe unto whom the Iſſues from Death do belong, and they are the Father and the Son, to whom be Glory with the bleſſed Spirit of Grace, World without end. Amen.

A DISCOURSE of THE HOUSE of the Foreſt of LEBANON.

CHAP. I.

AS Solomon built an Houſe for Pharaoh's Daughter, and that called The Temple of the Lord; ſo he built an Houſe in Lebanon, called The 1 Kin. 7.2. Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon.

Some, I perceive, have thought that this Houſe, called The Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, was none other than that called the Temple at Jeruſalem, and that that was called The Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, becauſe built of the Wood that grew there. But that Solomon built another than that, even one in Lebanon, called The Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, is evident, and that from theſe Reaſons.

Firſt, That in the Foreſt of Lebanon is mentioned as another, beſides that called The Temple of the Lord; and that too when the Temple, and its finiſhing is ſpoken of; yea, it is mentioned with an alſo, as an additional Houſe, beſides the Temple of the Lord.

In the fourth Year, ſaith the Text, was the Foundation of the Houſe of the Lord laid in the Month Zef; and in the eleventh Year in the Month Bul, (which is the eighth Month) was the Houſe finiſhed throughout all the Parts thereof, and according to all the Faſhion of it; ſo he was ſeven Years in building it. But Solomon was building his own Houſe thirteen Years: And he finiſhed all his Houſe. He built alſo the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, &c. 1 Kin. 6. 37, 38. Ch. 7.1,2.

Can there now be any Thing more plain? Is not here the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon mentioned as another beſides the Temple, he built the Temple, he built his own Houſe, he built alſo the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon.

Secondly, It is evident by the difference of their Meaſures and Dimenſions: The length of the Temple was threeſcore Cubits; but the length of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon was an hundred Cubits; ſo that the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, was forty Cubits more than was that called Solomon's Temple: The breadth of Solomon's Temple was twenty Cubits, but the breadth of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon was fifty Cubits: And as there is odds between threeſcore and fiveſcore, ſo there is alſo between twenty and fifty.

As to their heighth, they were both alike; but Equality in heighth can no more make them the ſame, than can a twenty year's Age in two, make them one and the ſame Perſon.

Their Porches alſo differed greatly; the Porch of the Temple was in length but twenty Cubits, but the length of that of the Houſe of the Forceſt of Lebanon was fifty Cubits. So that here alſo is thirty odds. The Porch of the Temple was but ten Cubits broad; but the Porch of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon thirty Cubits. Now, I ſay, who that conſidereth theſe Diſproportions, can conclude that the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon was none other than that called the Temple of Jeruſalem. For all this compare 1 Kings 6. 2, 3. with Chap. 7. 2. 6.

Thirdly, If you add to theſe the different makes of the Houſes, it will ſufficiently appear, that they were not one. The Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon was built upon four Rows of Cedar Pillars; but we read of no ſuch Pillars upon which the Temple ſtood. The Windows of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon ſtood in three Rows, Light againſt Light; but we read of no ſuch Thing in the Temple. The Temple had two Pillars before the Door of its Porch, but we read not of them before the Door of the Porch of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon.

In the 6th and 7th Chapters of the firſt Book of Kings, theſe two Houſes, as to their make, are exactly ſet forth; ſo that he that liſteth may ſearch and ſee, if as to this, I have not ſaid the Truth.

CHAP. II.

Of what the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon was a Type.

THAT the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon was a Houſe ſignificant, I think is clear; alſo, if it had not, we ſhould not have had ſo particular an Account thereof in the Holy Word of God: I read but of four Buildings wherein, in a particular Manner, the Houſes or Fabricks are, as to their Manner of Building, diſtinctly handled: The Tabernacle is one, the Temple another; the Porch which he built for his Throne, his Throne for Judgment; and this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon is the fourth. Now the three firſt, to wit, the Tabernacle, the Temple, the Porch and Throne, wiſe Men will ſay are Typical; and therefore ſo is this.

I will therefore take it for granted, That the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon is a ſignificative thing, yea, a Figure of the Church, as the Temple at Jeruſalem was, though not under the ſame Conſideration. The Temple was a Figure of the Church under the Goſpel, as She relateth to Worſhip; but the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon was a Figure of that Church, as ſhe is aſſaulted for her Worſhip, as ſhe is perſecuted for the ſame. Or take it more expreſly thus: I take this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon to be a Type of the Church in the Wilderneſs, or as ſhe is in her Sack-cloth State.

We read before this Houſe was built, that there was a Church in the Wilderneſs; and alſo after this Houſe was demoliſhed, that there would be a Church in the Wilderneſs: But we now reſpect that Wilderneſs State that the Church of the New Teſtament is in, and conclude, that this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, was a Type and Figure of that; that is, of her Wilderneſs State. And, Acts 7. 38. Rev. 12. 14.

1. Methinks the very Place where this Houſe was built does intimate ſuch a Thing; for this Houſe was not built in a Town, a City, &c. as was that called The Temple of the Lord; but was built in a Kind of a Wood, a Wilderneſs, 'twas built in the Foreſt of Lebanon; unto which that Saying ſeems directly to anſwer. And to the Woman [the Church] was given two Wings of a great Eagle, that ſhe might fly into the Wilderneſs to her Place. Rev. 12.

A Wilderneſs State is a deſolate, a tempted, an afflicted, a perſecuted State. All which is more than intimated by the Witneſſes wearing of, and propheſying in Sack-Cloth, and alſo expreſſed of by that Revel. 12. Jer. 2. 6.

Anſwerable to this is that of the Prophet concerning this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, where he ſays, Open thy Doors, O Lebanon! that the Fire may devour thy Cedars. And again, Howl Firr-Tree, for the Cedar is fallen. Zach. 11. 1, 2.

What can be more expreſs? The Prophet here knocks at the very Door of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, and tells her, That her Cedars are deſigned for Fire; unto which alſo moſt plainly anſwer the Flames to which ſo many of the Cedars of Lebanon, God's Saints, I mean, for many hundred Years, have been delivered for their Profeſſion; and by which, as another Dan.11.33 ther Prophet has it, for many Days they have fallen.

Alſo when the King of Aſſyria came up with his Army againſt Jeruſalem, this was his Vaunting, I am come to the Sides of Le-
Iſa.37.24. banon, and will cut down the tall Cedars thereof.

What was this King of Aſſyria, but a Type of the Beaſt made mention of in the New Teſtament? Now, ſaith he, I will cut down the Cedars of Lebanon; who are, in our Goſpel Times, the tall ones of the Church of God. And I ſay again, in that he particularly mentions Lebanon, he intends that Houſe which Solomon built there, the which was builded as a Fortification to defend the Religion of the Temple, as the Saints now in the Wilderneſs of the People, are ſet for the Defence of the Goſpel: But more of this anon.

This Houſe therefore was builded to make Aſſaults, and to be aſſaulted, as the Church in the Wilderneſs is; and hence the State of this Houſe is compared to the Condition of a Woman in Travail, ſtruggling with her Pains, as alſo we find the State of the Church in the Wilderneſs is, O Inhabitant of Lebanon, that makeſt thy Neſt in the Cedars, how gracious ſhalt thou be when Pangs come upon thee, the Pain of a travelling Woman? And again, Verily, verily, I ſay unto you, that ye ſhall weep and lament, and have Sorrow, as a Woman in Travail: Much anſwering her Caſe, who in her Travails, and while pained to be delivered, was ſaid, even in this Caſe, to Jer.22.23. John 16. 20,21,22. Rev. 12, 1, to 7. ſtand before the Dragon, who with open Mouth ſought to deſtroy her Fruit, ſo ſoon as it was born.

Hence, again, when Chriſt calls his Spouſe out to ſuffer, he calls, or draws her out of his Houſe in Lebanon, to look from the Lions Dens, and the Mountains of the Leopards, to the Things that are inviſible; even as Paul ſaid when he was in Af-Song 4. 8. 2Cor.4.18 fliction, We look not at the Things that are ſeen.

He draws them out thence, I ſay, as Sheep appointed for the Slaughter; yea, he goeth before them, and they follow him thither.

Alſo, When the Prophet fore-tells the Affliction of the Church, he expreſſes it by the Fall of the Cedars of Lebanon, ſaying, The Lord ſhall cut down the Thicket of his Foreſt with Iron; a little afore called the Axe and Saw. And Lebanon ſhall fall by a mighty one. And again, The Earth mourneth
Iſa.10.15, 34. and languiſheth, Lebanon is aſhamed and Iſa.33.9. hewn down.

Do we think that the Prophet propheſieth here againſt Trees, againſt the natural Cedars of Lebanon? No, no, 'tis a Prophecy touching the afflicted State of the Church in the Wilderneſs, of which Lebanon, I mean this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, was a Figure.

When God alſo threatneth the Enemies of his Church in the Wilderneſs with his Judgments, for their cruel Dealing with her in the Day of her Deſertion; he calls thoſe Judgments The Violence of Lebanon: That is, by way of Compariſon, ſuch as the Violence done to Lebanon was. The Violence of Lebanon ſhall cover thee; Hab.2.17. and the Spoil of Beaſts which made them Rev.18.6. [Lebanon] afraid: Becauſe of Men's Blood, Jer.51.35. Ob. 15. and for the Violence of the Land, of the Ci- Ezek. 35. ty, and of all that dwell therein. This is 15. like that, Reward her, even as ſhe has rewarded you; and double unto her double, according to her Works. This the Church doth by her Prayers. The Violence done unto me, and to my Fleſh, be upon Babylon, ſhall the Inhabitants of Zion ſay: And my Blood be upon the Inhabitants of Babylon, ſhall Jeruſalem ſay. And then ſhall be fulfilled that which is written, Look what they did unto Lebanon ſhall be done unto them.

God has his Time to return the Evil that the Enemies do to his Church, and he will do it when his time is come, upon their own Head; and this Return is called the Covering of them with the Violence of Lebanon, or that Violence ſhewed to her in the Day of her Diſtreſs.

It is yet further evident, That this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon was a Type of the Church in the Wilderneſs, Firſt, For that ſhe is called a Tower, Song 7.4. Mic. 4. 8, or Place of Fortification and Defence; 9, 10. the ſame Term that is given to the Church in a captivated State.

For, As the Chuach in the Wilderneſs is compared to a Woman in Travail, to ſhew her Fruitfulneſs to God-ward in her moſt afflicted condition; ſo ſhe is called a Tower, to ſhew her fortitude and courage, for God and his Truth, againſt Antichriſt.

I ſay therefore, unto both theſe is ſhe compared in that Scripture laſt cited, the which you may peruſe, if you pleaſe.

A Tower is a Place of receipt for the Afflicted, and ſo is the Church under the Rage of Antichriſt; yea, and tho' it is the only Place deſigned by the Enemy for Ruine and Deſtruction; yet it is the only Place of Safety in the World.

Secondly, this Tower, this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, it ſeems to be ſo built, as to confront Damaſcus, the chief City of the King of Aſſyria; and in ſo doing, it was a moſt excellent Type of the Spirit and Deſign of the Church in the Wilderneſs, who is raiſed up, and built to confront Antichriſt. Hence Chriſt calls ſome of the Features of his Church, and compares them to this. Thy Song 7.4. Neck, (ſays he) is as a Tower of Ivory; thine Eyes like the Fiſh-pools of Heſhbon, by the Gate of Beth-rabbim; thy Noſe is like the Tower of Lebanon, which looketh towards Damaſcus. Thy Thy Noſe, that great Ornament of thy lovely Countenance, is as a Tower looking that Way; ſo ſet, as Chriſt ſays of his, as a Flint.

And this is a comely Feature in the Church, that her Noſe ſtands like a Tower, or as he ſays in another Place, like a fenced brazen Wall againſt Damaſcus, the Metropolitan of her Enemy: for the head of Syria was Damaſcus.

Iſa. 7. 8.

And as Chriſt thus compares his Church, ſo ſhe again returns, or compares the Face of her Lord to the ſame, ſaying, His Legs are as Pillars of Marble ſet upon ſockets of fine Gold: his Countenance is as Lebanon, excellent as the Cedars.

Song. 5. 15.

Thus in Lebanon, in this brave Houſe, is found the Excellency of the Church, and the Beauty of Chriſt, for that they are both as a Rock. With Glory and Majeſty, bended againſt the Enemies of the Truth. The Face of the Lord is againſt them that do evil. Pillars his Legs are here compared to, and Pillars were they that upheld this Houſe, this Tower, which thus bravely was builded with its Face confronting the Enemy's Country.

Secondly, That this Houſe, of the Foreſt of Lebanon was a Type of the Church in Affliction, yet further appears, for that at the fall of Babylon, her Cedars are ſaid to rejoyce in ſpecial. The Fir-Trees rejoyce at thee, and the Cedars of Lebanon, ſaying, ſince thou art laid down, no feller is come upon us. This is at the Deſtruction of Babylon, the Type of that called Antichriſt.

Iſa. 14. 6, 7, 8.

But why ſhould Lebanon, the Cedars in Lebanon, in an eſpecial Manner here, be ſaid to rejoyce at his downfall: Doubtleſs to ſhew that as the Enemy made his Inroad upon Jeruſalem; ſo in a particular Manner Lebanon, and the Houſe there, was made to ſmoak for it. This anſwereth to that, Rejoyce over her thou Heaven; and ye holy Apoſtles and Prophets, for God hath avenged you of her. Hence again, when he ſpeaks of giving Glory to his afflicted Church, for all the Sorrow which ſhe hath ſuſtained in her bearing witneſs for the Truth againſt Antichriſt, he calls it the Glory of Lebanon: That is, as I take it, The Glory that belongs to her, for the Afflictions which ſhe underwent for his Name. The Glory of Lebanon ſhall be given unto it. And again, The Glory of Lebanon ſhall come unto thee.

Iſa. 37. 24. Jer. 22. 23. Zach. 11. 1

Iſa. 35. 2. Chap. 60. 13.

Theſe are Promiſes to the Church for her Suffering of Affliction, and they are made unto her as ſhe bears the Name of Lebanon, who, or which was her Type in thoſe Havocks made in it, when the Enemy, as I ſaid, aſſaulted the Church of old.

Thus by theſe few Lines I have ſhewed you that there was a Similitude betwixt this Houſe in the Foreſt of Lebanon, and our Goſpel Church in the Wilderneſs: Nor need we ſtumble becauſe this word Houſe is not ſubjoyned in every particular Place, where this Sorrow, or Joy of Lebanon is made mention of; for it is an uſual thing with the Holy Ghoſt, when he directs his Speech to a Man, to ſpeak as if he ſpake to a Tree; and when he directs his Voice to a King, to ſpeak as if he intended the Kingdom; ſo when he ſpeaks of the Houſe, to ſpeak as to the Foreſt of Lebanon. Inſtances many might be given.

CHAP. III.

Of the Largeneſs of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon.

THE Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon was forty Cubits longer than was the Temple at Jeruſalem, to ſhew that the Church in the Wilderneſs would increaſe more, and be far larger than ſhe that had Peace and Proſperity: And as it was forty Cubits longer, ſo it was thirty Cubits wider, ſtill ſhewing that every way ſhe would abound. Hence they that came out of great Tribulation, when compared with others, are ſaid to be a numberleſs Number, or a Multitude which no Man could number, of all Nations, and Kindreds, and People, and Tongues. Theſe, ſaith one, are they which came out of great Tribulation, and have waſhed their Robes, and made them white in the Blood of the Lamb; therefore are they before the Throne of God.

Rev. 7. 14, 15.

The Church, as it reſpected Temple-Worſhip, was confined to the Land of Canaan; but our New-Teſtament perſecuted One, is ſcattered among the Nations; as a Flock of Sheep are ſcattered in a Wood or Wilderneſs. Hence they are ſaid to be in the Wilderneſs of the People, fitly anſwering to this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon.

But though the Houſe exceeded in Length and Breadth, the Temple of Jeruſalem, yet as to their Heighth they were the ſame, to ſhew, that what Acts that in the Wilderneſs doth, above what they have been capable to do, that have not been in that Condition; yet the Nature of their Grace is the ſame.

Rom. 15. 27, 2 Pet. 1. 1.

But, I ſay, as for Length and Breadth, the Church in the Wilderneſs exceeds, more than the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon did that of the Temple at Jeruſalem, as it is written: More are the Children of the Deſolate, than the Children of the married Wife, ſaith the Lord. And again: Thou ſhalt break forth on the right Hand and on the Left; and thy Seed ſhall inherit the

Iſa. 54. 1, 2, 3, 4. the Gentiles, and make the deſolate Cities to be inhabited.

This is ſpoken of the Church in the Wilderneſs, that made up chiefly of the Gentiles, of which the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon was a Figure; and how ſhe at laſt ſhall recover herſelf from the Yoak and Tyranny of Antichriſt. And then ſhe ſhall ſhoulder it with her Adverſary, ſaying, Give Place, That I may dwell.

And I will add, it was not only thus Magnificent for Length and Breadth, but for Terror; it was compacted after the Manner of a Caſtle, or Strong Hold; as was ſaid before. It was a Tower built for an Armory; for Solomon put there his two hundred Targets, and three hundred Shields of Gold.

2Chron.9. 15, 16.

This Place therefore was a Terror to the Heathen on that Side of the Church eſpecially becauſe ſhe ſtood with her Noſe ſo formidable againſt Damaſcus: No marvel therefore if the Implacable cried out againſt them, Help Men of Iſrael, help! And will ye rebel againſt the King.

Acts 21. 27, 28. Neh.9.19.

For it is the Terror, or Majeſty and Fortitude, which God has put upon the Church in the Wilderneſs, that makes the Gentiles ſo beſtir them to have her under Foot. Beſides, they miſapprehend concerning her, as if ſhe was for deſtroying Kings, for ſubverting Kingdoms, and for bringing all to Deſolation; and ſo they ſet themſelves againſt her, crying, Theſe that have turned the World upſide down, are come hither alſo: Whom Jaſon hath received: And theſe all do contrary to the Decrees of Cæſar, ſaying, that there is another King, one Jeſus.

Acts 17. 5, 6, 7.

Indeed the very Name of Jeſus is the very Tower of the Chriſtian Church, and that by which ſhe frights the World, but not deſignedly, but thorough their Miſunderſtanding; for neither ſhe, nor her Jeſus, is for doing them any Hurt: However, this is that which renders her yet in their Eye, terrible as an Army with Banners.

Song 6.10.

How then could ſhe eſcape Perſecution for a Time; for it was the Policy of Jeroboam, and is yet the Policy of the Nations, to ſecure themſelves againſt this their imagined Danger, and therefore to uſe all Means, as Pharaoh did, to keep this People low enough, ſaying, Come, let us deal wiſely with them, leſt they multiply, and it come to paſs when there falleth out any War, they join alſo to our Enemies, and fight againſt us, and ſo get them up out of the Land.

Ex. 1. 10. 1Kings 12 26, 27, &c.

But could the Houſe of Lebanon, though a fortified Place, aſſault Damaſcus? Could it remove from the Place on which God had ſet it? It only was a Place of Defence for Judah, or for the Worſhip of the Temple. And had the Adverſary let the Temple-Worſhip and Worſhippers alone, the Shields and Targets in the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, had not been uncovered, had not been made bare againſt them. The ſame may now be ſaid of the Church in the Wilderneſs, ſhe moveth no Sedition, ſhe abideth in her Place, let her Temple-Worſhippers but alone, and ſhe will be as if ſhe were not in the World: But if you afflict her, Fire proceedeth out of her Mouth, and devoureth her Adverſaries: And if any Man will hurt her, he muſt in this Manner be killed. And ſo die by the Sword of the Spirit.

Rev. 11. 5

But becauſe the Weapons of the Church, though none of them are carnal, be ſo talked of in the World, the Blind are yet more afraid of her, than they in this Manner are like to be hurt by her; and therefore they of old have peeled, and pulled, and endeavoured to ſpoil her all along; ſending their Servants, and ſaying to their Bayliffs and Sheriffs, Go to a Nation ſcattered and peeled, to a People terrible from their Beginning, a Nation meeted out, and trodden down, whoſe Land the Rivers have ſpoiled.

Iſa. 18. 1, 2.

But this People ſhall prevail, though not by Worldly Force, her God will deliver her. And then, or at that Time, ſhall the Preſent be brought to the Lord of Hoſts, of a People ſcattered and peeled, and from a People terrible from their Beginning hitherto, a Nation meeted out, and trodden under Foot, whoſe Land the Rivers have ſpoiled, to the Place of the Name of the Lord, the Mount Zion.

Ver. 7.

Now thus did the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon provoke, it was built defenſively, it had a Tower, it had Armour; its Tower confronted the Enemy's Land. No marvel then, if the King of Aſſyria ſo threatned to lay his Army on the Sides of Lebanon, and to cut down the tall Cedars thereof.

Ch. 37. 24.

The Largeneſs therefore, and Proweſs of the Church, by Reaſon of her inherent Fortitude, and the valourous Acts that ſhe hath done, by Suffering, by Prayer, by Faith, and a conſtant endureing of Hardſhip for the Truth, doth force into the World a Belief, thorough their own Guilt and Clamours of Conſcience againſt them for their Debaucheries, that this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon will deſtroy them all, when ſhe ſhall be delivered from her Servitude.

Come therefore, ſaith Balak to Balaam, and curſe me this People, if peradventure I may overcome them. When he might have let them paſs peaceably by, and they would not have lift up a Finger againſt him.

Wherefore, from all theſe Things it appears, That the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon was a Type of the Church in the Wilderneſs.

CHAP. IV.

Of the Materials of which the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon was made.

THE Foundation of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, was of the ſame great Stones which were laid in the Foundation of the Temple of the Lord. 1 Kings 7. 2, to 12.

And this ſhews, that the Church in the Wilderneſs has the ſame Foundation and Support, as had the Temple that was at Jeruſalem, though in a State of Sack-cloth, Tears, and Afflictions, the Lot of the Church in the Wilderneſs; for ſhe, while there, is to howle. Zach. 11. 2

Now, ſince the Foundation is the ſame, What is it but to ſhew alſo, that ſhe, though in an afflicted Condition, ſhall certainly ſtand? The Gates of Hell ſhall not prevail againſt it. Matt. 16. 18.

Her confronting idolatrous Nations is therefore a Sign of her Troubles; not any Prediction of a Fall. Her Rock is ſtedfaſt, not like the Rock of her Adverſaries, the Enemy being Judges. Deut. 32. 31.

But that which in ſpecial I take Notice of, is, that I find in a Manner, in this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon nothing but Pillars and Beams, great Timber, and thick Beams, and of thoſe was the Houſe builded; Pillars to hold up, and thick Beams to couple together, and thus was the Houſe finiſhed. I read not here of any Garniſhing, either of the Pillars, Beams, Doors, Poſts, Walls, or any Part of the Houſe; all was plain, without Garniſh; fitly repreſenting the State of the Church in the Wilderneſs, which was cloathed with Sack-cloth, covered with Aſhes, wearing her mourning Weeds, with her Tears upon her Cheeks, and a Yoak or Band about her Neck. Iſa. 52. 1, 2. — 61. 3.

By this Kind of Deſcription we may alſo note, with what Kind of Members this Houſe, this Church is furniſhed. Here, as I ſaid, that is, in the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, you find Pillars, Pillars; ſo in the Church in the Wilderneſs, O the mighty Ones of which this Church was compacted! They were all Pillars, ſtrong, bearing up the Houſe againſt Wind and Weather; nothing but Fire and Sword could diſſolve them. As therefore this Houſe was made up of great Timber, ſo this Church in the Wilderneſs was made up of Giants in Grace. Theſe Men had the Faces of Lions: No Prince, no King, no Threat, no Terror, no Torment, could make them yield: They loved not their Lives unto the Death. They have laughed their Enemies in the Face, they have triumphed in the Flames.

They were Pillars, they were Pillars of Cedar: The Cedar is the higheſt Tree in the World; wherefore in that this Houſe was made of Cedar, it may be to denote that in the Church in the Wilderneſs, however contemned by Men, was the higheſt Perfection of Goodneſs; as of Faith, Love, Prayer, holy Converſation, and Affection for God and his Truth.

For indeed, none ever ſhewed the like, none ever ſhewed higher Cedars than thoſe that were in Lebanon. None ever ſhewed higher Saints than were they in the Church in the Wilderneſs. Others talked, theſe have ſuffered; others have ſaid, theſe have done: Theſe have voluntarily taken their Lives in their Hands, For they loved them not to the Death; and have fairly, and in cool Blood, laid them down before the World, God, Angels, and Men, for the confirming of the Truth, which they have profeſſed. Acts 15. 26. Rev. 12. 11

Theſe are Pillars, theſe are ſtrong Ones indeed: 'Tis meet therefore, that the Church in the Wilderneſs, ſince ſhe was to reſemble the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, ſhould be furniſhed with theſe mighty Ones.

Cedars! The ſame that the Holieſt of All in the Temple was covered with within, (and that Houſe was a Figure of Heaven) to ſhew that the Church of God in the Wilderneſs, how baſe and low ſoever in the Judgment of the World, is yet the only Heaven that God hath among the Children of Men. Here are many Nations, many Kingdoms, many Countries, and many Cities; but the Church in the Wilderneſs was but one, and ſhe was the Heaven that God is here: Hence ſhe is called, Thou Heaven. Rejoice over her thou Heaven. — 18. 20.

And again, when the Combuſtion for Religion is in the Church in the Wilderneſs, it is ſaid to be in Heaven. And there was War in Heaven. Michael fought againſt the Dragon, and the Dragon fought, and his Angels. — 12. 7.

The Church therefore loſeth not all her Titles of Honour, no, not when at the loweſt: She is God's Heaven ſtill. Though ſhe may not be called now a Crown of Glory, yet ſhe is ſtill God's Lilly amongſt Thorns; though ſhe may not be called The Church of Jeruſalem, yet ſhe may The Church in the Wilderneſs; and though ſhe may not be called Solomon's Temple, yet ſhe may, The Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon.

Cedars! Cedars are tall and ſweet, and ſo are the Members of the Church in the Wilderneſs. Oh! their Smell, their Scent, it hath been as the Wine of Lebanon. Hoſ. 14. 5, 6, 7.

They that have gone before, have left this Smell ſtill in the Noſtrils of their Survivers, as that both fragrant and precious.

This Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon was builded upon four Rows of Cedar Pillars. 1 Kings 7. 2.

Pillars,

Pillars, thoſe upon which the whole Weight of the Houſe did bear. The Holy Ghoſt ſaith here, four Rows, but ſays not how many were in a Row. But we will ſuppoſe them to allude to the Twelve Apoſtles, or to the Apoſtles and Prophets, upon whoſe Foundation the Church in the Wilderneſs is ſaid to be built. And if ſo, then it ſhews, that as the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon ſtood upon theſe four Rows of Pillars, as the Names of the Twelve Tribes ſtood in four Rows of precious Stones upon Aaron's Breaſt-plate, when he went into the Holieſt: So this Houſe, or Church in the Wilderneſs, ſtands upon the Doctrine of the Apoſtles and Prophets.

Eph. 2.

Ex. 28. 17. — 39. 10.

But becauſe it only ſaith it ſtood upon four Rows, not ſpecifying any Number; therefore as to this we may ſay nothing certain; yet I think ſuch a Conjecture hath ſome Shew of Truth in it, however, I will leave it to wiſer Judgments.

And it was covered with Cedar above, upon the Beams that lay on forty-five Pillars, fifteen in a Row.

1 Kings 7. 3.

Theſe Pillars, as the others, are ſuch upon which the Houſe did alſo bear; this is clear, becauſe the Beams that lay upon the four Rows of Pillars afore-mentioned, lay alſo upon theſe forty-five.

It ſeems therefore, that theſe four Rows of Pillars, were they that were the more outſide ones; that is, two Rows on this Side of the Houſe, and two Rows alſo on that; and that theſe forty-five Pillars, fifteen in a Row, ſtood in three Rows more inward, and ſo did bear up with the other, the Beams that were laid upon them, much like to thoſe inner Pillars that uſually ſtand in our Pariſh-Churches.

If ſo, then the firſt four Rows did ſeem to be a Guard to theſe, for that, as they ſtood more to the Outſides of the Houſe, ſo more to the Weather, and nearer to the firſt Approach of the Enemy.

And this may ſhew, that the Apoſtles in their Doctrine are, not only a Foundation to the forty-five Pillars, but a Protection and Defence: I ſay, a Protection and Defence to all the Pillars that ever were beſides in the Church in the Wilderneſs. And it is to be conſidered, that the four Rows are mentioned, as placed firſt, and ſo were thoſe upon which the thick Beams, that firſt were for coupling of the Houſe were laid: The which moſt fitly teacheth, that the Office and Graces of the Apoſtles were firſt in the Church in the Wilderneſs, according to 1 Cor. 12. 18.

Theſe forty-five Pillars ſtanding in the midſt, by the others, may alſo be to ſhew, that in the Time of the Trouble of the Church in her Wilderneſs State, there will be thoſe that will ſtand by, and maintain her Apoſtolical Doctrine, though for ſo doing, they bear the Burthen of the Whole.

But I read of no Chambers for Eaſe or Reſt, in this Houſe; here is no room for Chambering. They that were for being Members in the Church in the Wilderneſs, muſt not look for Reſt, until their Lord ſhall come.

Rom. 13. 13, 14. 2 Theſ. 1. 5. to 10.

Here therefore was but hard Lodging; the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon was not made for tender Skins, and for thoſe that cannot lie out of Down Beds; but for thoſe that were warlike-men, and that were willing to endure hardneſs, for that Religion that God had ſet up in his Temple; and is fitly anſwered by that of the Apoſtle. Thou therefore, my Son, endure hardneſs as a good Soldier of Jeſus Chriſt. No Man that warreth entangleth himſelf with the Affairs of this Life, that he may pleaſe him that hath choſen him to be a Soldier.

2 Tim. 2. 3, 4.

Forty five Pillars! 'Twas forty five Years that the Church was of old in a bewildred and warlike Condition, before ſhe enjoyed her Reſt in Canaan. Now, as there were forty five Years of Trouble, ſo here are forty five Pillars for Support; perhaps to intimate, That God will have in his Church in the Wilderneſs, a ſufficient Succeſſion of faithful Men, that like Pillars ſhall bear up the Truth above Water, all the Time of Antichriſt's Reign and Rage.

Joſ. 14. 10.

The thick Beams that lay over-thwart to couple this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon together, did bear upon theſe forty five Pillars, to ſhew, that by the Burden-bearers that have, and ſhall be in the Church of God in the Wilderneſs, the Unity of that Houſe is through the Spirit maintained. And indeed, had it not been for theſe Pillars, the Sufferers, theſe Burden-bearers in the Church, our Houſe in the Foreſt of Lebanon, or more properly, our Church in the Wilderneſs, had, before this, been but in a poor Condition. Thus therefore this Church, which in her Time is the Pillar and Ground of Truth in the World, has been made to ſtand and abide it. When the blaſt of the terrible ones has been as a ſtorm againſt the Wall.

1 Tim. 3. 15.

Iſa. 25. 4.

Many a Time have they afflicted me from my Youth, may Iſrael now ſay: Many a Time have they afflicted me from my Youth, yet they have not prevailed againſt me.

Pſ. 129. 1, 2.

Thus you ſee how the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon was a Type of the Church in the Wilderneſs: And you ſee alſo by this, the Reaſon why the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon had its inward Glory, lying more in great Pillars, and thick Beams, than in other Ornaments. And indeed, here had need be Pillars and Pillars, and Beams and Beams too; ſince 'twas deſigned for Aſſaults to be made upon it; ſince it was ſet for a But for the Mark's-man, and to be an Object for furious Heathens to ſpend their Rage againſt its Walls.

The Glory therefore of the Temple lay

in

in one Thing, and the Glory of this Houſe lay in another: the Glory of the Temple lay in that ſhe contained the true Form and Modes of Worſhip; and the Glory of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, lay in her many Pillars, and thick Beams, by which ſhe was made capable, through good Management, to give Check to thoſe of Damaſcus, when they ſhould attempt to throw down that Worſhip.

And as I ſaid before, theſe Pillars were ſweet-ſcented Pillars, for that they were made of Cedar; but what cared the Enemy for that, they were offenſive to him, for that they were placed as a Fortification againſt him: Nor is it any Allurement to Satan to favour the mighty ones in the Church in the Wilderneſs, for the fragrant Smell of their ſweet Graces; nay, both he and his Angels are the more bent to oppoſe them, becauſe they are ſo ſweet-ſcented.

The Cedars therefore got nothing becauſe they were Cedars, at the Hands of the barbarous Gentiles; (for they would burn the Cedars,) as the Angels, or Pillars, get nothing of Favour at the Hands of Antichriſt, becauſe they are Pillars of, and Angels for the Truth, yea, they ſo much the more by her are abhorred.

Well, but they are Pillars for all that; yea, Pillars to the Church in the Wilderneſs, (as the others were in the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon,) and Pillars they will abide there, dead, and alive, when the Enemy has done what he can.

The Pillars were ſet in three Rows, for ſo are forty five, when they are ſet fifteen in a Row.

And they were ſet in three Rows to bear. This manner alſo of their ſtanding thus, was alſo doubtleſs ſignificant.

But again, They, theſe Pillars, may be ſet, or placed thus in three Rows in the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, to ſhew that the three Officers of Chriſt are the great Things that the Church in the Wilderneſs muſt bear up before the World.

The three Offices of Chriſt, they are his Prieſtly, his Prophetical, and his Kingly Offices. Theſe are thoſe in which God's Glory, and the Churches Salvation are moſt immediately concerned; and they that have been moſt oppoſed by the Devil, and his Angels: All Hereſies, Errors and Deluſions, with which Chriſt's Church has been aſſaulted in all Ages, have bent themſelves againſt ſome one, or all of theſe.

Iſa. 33.22. 2 Theſ. 2. 3, 4. Rev. 16. 13. 16. Ch. 19. 19,20, 21.

Chriſt is a Prieſt to ſave, a Prophet to teach, and a King to rule his Church: But this Antichriſt cannot bear; therefore he attempts to get up into the Throne himſelf, and to act as if he were one above all that it called God, or that is worſhipped.

But behold! here are Pillars in three Rows, mighty Pillars to bear up Chriſt in theſe his Offices before the World, and againſt all Falſhood and Deceit.

Fifteen in a Row. I can ſay no further than I can ſee; what the number of fifteen ſhould ſignifie, I know not, God is wiſer than Man: But yet methinks, their ſtanding thus, ſhould ſignifie a Reſerve: As, ſuppoſe the firſt three that the Enemy comes at, ſhould be deſtroyed by their Hands, there are three Times fourteen behind: Suppoſe again, that they ſhould ſerve the next three ſo; yet there is a Reſerve behind. When that fine one, Jezebel, had done what ſhe could againſt the afflicted Church in her Time, yet there was left a Reſerve, a Reſerve of ſeven Thouſand that were true Worſhippers of God.

1 Kings 19 18. Rom. 11.4

Always when Antichriſt made his Inroads upon the Church in the Wilderneſs, to ſlay, to cut off, and to kill; yet ſome of the Pillars ſtood, they were not all burnt in the Fire, nor cut down.

They ſaid indeed, Come let us cut them off from being a Nation, that the Name of Iſrael may be no more in Remembrance. But what then? There's a Difference 'twixt ſaying and doing; the Buſh was not threefore conſumed becauſe 'twas ſet on Fire; the Church ſhall not be conſumed although ſhe be afflicted.

Ex. 3.2,3. Pſ. 83. 4.

And this Reaſon is, becauſe God has ſtill his fifteens; therefore if Abel falls by the Hand of Cain, Seth is put in his Place; if Moſes is taken away, Joſhua ſhall ſucceed him; and if the Devil breaks the Neck of Judas, Matthias is at Hand to take his Office. God has, I ſay, a Succeſſion of Pillars in his Houſe, he has to himſelf a Reſerve.

Gen. 4.25. Joſ. 1. 2,3. Acts 1.16, to 27.

Yet, again, Methinks that there ſhould be forty five Pillars, and beſides them four Rows of Pillars, and all this to bear up an inviſible Burden; for we read of nothing upon the Pillars, but the Heavens and Roof. It ſhould be to ſhew, that it is impoſſible that a carnal Heatt ſhould conceive of the Weight that Truth lays upon the Conſcience of a Believer: They ſee nothing, alas nothing at all, but a Beam, a Truth; and ſay they, are you ſuch Fools to ſtand groaning to bear up that, or what is contained therein? They, I ſay, ſee not the Weight, the Glory, the weight of Glory that is in a Truth of God; and therefore they laugh at them that will count it worth the while to endure ſo much to ſupport it from falling to the Ground. Great Pillars and Beams, great Saints, and great Truths, are in the Church of God in the Wilderneſs; and the Beams lie upon the Pillars, or the Truth upon the Saints.

The Tabernacle and Ark, formerly were to be born upon Men's Shoulders, even as theſe great Beams are born up by theſe Pillars: And as this Tabernacle, and Ark were to be carried hither and thither, according to the Appointment of God; ſo were theſe Beams to be by theſe Pillars born up, that therewith the Houſe might be be girt together, kept uniform, and made to ſtand faſt, notwithſtanding the Wind and Storm.

CHAP. V.

Of the Windows of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon.

1 Kings 7. 4. THE Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon had many Windows in it; And there was Windows in three Rows, and Light was againſt Light in three Ranks.

Windows are to let the Light in at, and the Eye out at, to Objects at a Diſtance from the Houſe, and from thoſe that are therein.

The Windows here are Figures of the Word of God, by which Light the Light of Life is let into the Heart; through that, the Glaſs of theſe Windows, the Beams of the Sun of Righteouſneſs ſhine into the Church. Hence the Word is compared to 2 Cor. 3. 18. Glaſs, through which the glorious Face of Chriſt is ſeen. This therefore, this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon had, it had Windows, a Figure of that Word of God, through, and by which, the Church in the Wilderneſs ſees the Mind of God, and ſo what while there, ſhe ought to believe, do, and leave undone in the World.

This Houſe had plenty of Windows, three Rows of Windows on both Sides the Houſe.

In three Rows, by theſe Windows in three Rows, perhaps was prefigured how into the Church in the Wilderneſs was to ſhine the Doctrine of the Trinity: Yea, to ſignifie that ſhe was to be poſſeſſed with that in her moſt low State, and when under her greateſt Clouds. The Doctrine of 1 John 2. 22, 23. Ch. 4. 2, 3, 4. the Trinity! that's the ſubſtance, that's the Ground and fundamental of all: For by 2 Joh. 9. 10. this Doctrine, and by this only, the man is made a Chriſtian; and he that has not this Doctrine, his Profeſſion's not worth a button.

You muſt know that ſometimes the Church in the Wilderneſs has but little Light, but the Diminution of her Light is not then ſo much in, or as to ſubſtantials, as it is as to circumſtantial Things; She has then the Subſtantials with her, in her darkeſt Day, even Windows in three Rows.

The Doctrine of the Trinity! You may ask me what that is? I anſwer. It is that Doctrine that ſheweth us the Love of God the Father, in giving of his Son: The Love of God the Son, in giving of himſelf; and the Love of the Lord, the Spirit, in his Work of regenerating of us, that we may be made able to lay hold of the Love of the Father by his Son, and ſo enjoy eternal Life by Grace. This Doctrine was always let in at theſe Windows into the Church in the Wilderneſs, for to make her ſound in Faith, and hearty in Obedience; as alſo meek and patient in Temptation and Tribulation.

And, as to the Subſtance of Chriſtianity, this Doctrine is ſufficient for any People, becauſe it teaches Faith, and produceth a good moral Life. Theſe therefore, if theſe Doctrines ſhine upon us, through theſe Windows of Heaven, ſo as that we ſee them, and receive them, they make us fit to glorifie God here, and meet to be glorified of, and with him hereafter.

Theſe Lights therefore cauſe that the Inhabitants of this Church in the Wilderneſs, ſee their Way through the dark pitch Night of this World: For as the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, this Church of God in the Wilderneſs had always her Lights, or Windows in theſe three Rows, to guide, to ſolace and comfort her.

This Houſe therefore, is thus diſcriminated and diſtinguiſhed from all other Houſes in the World; no Houſe, that we read of in the Bible, was thus adorned with Light, or had Windows in three Rows, but this; and anſwerable hereunto, no Congregation or Church, but the true Church of God, has the true Antitype thereof.

Light! Windows! A Sufficiency of Windows was of great Uſe to a People that dwelt in a Foreſt, or Wood, as the Inhabitants of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon did: But how ſolitary had this Houſe been, had it had no Light at all! to be in a Wood, and that without Windows, is one of the worſt of Conditions.

This alſo is the Relief that the Church in the Wilderneſs had; true, ſhe was in a Wood, but had Light, called in another Place God's Rod, or his Word which giveth Inſtruction. Feed thy People with thy Rod, Mic. 7. 14. the Flock of thine Heritage, which dwell ſolitary in the Wood, &c.

To be, as was ſaid, in a Wood, and Ex. 10, 21, 22, 23. without Light too, is a Condition very deſolate: the Egyptians found it ſo, for all they were in their Houſes.

But how much more then is that Peoples Caſe to be lamented that are under Perſecution, but have not Light in three Rows to guide them. But this is not the State of the Church in the Wilderneſs, ſhe has her Windows in three Rows, to wit, the Light of the Face of the Father, the Light of the Face of the Son, and the Light of the Face of the Holy Ghoſt; all ſhining through the Windows or Glaſs of the Word to her Comfort and Conſola ion, though now in the Foreſt of Lebanon.

And Light was againſt Light in three ranks.

This is an additional Account of the Windows that were in the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon. Before he ſaid, ſhe had Windows in three Rows, but now he adds, that there was Light againſt Light, Light oppoſite to Light, and that alſo in three ranks.

Mar.6.40. Numb. 2. 16, 24. 1 Chron. 12. 33,38. In that he ſaith, they were in ranks, he either means in order, or inſinuates a military Poſture, for both theſe ways is this Word taken.

Nor need any ſmile becauſe I ſay the Lights were ſet in a military Poſture; we read of Potſherds ſtriving with Potſherds; and why may it not as well be ſaid, Light Iſa. 45. 9. was againſt Light.

But we will purſue our Deſign, Here is Oppoſition inſinuated; in the Margent it is Sight againſt Sight; wherefore the Lights thus placed in the Hoaſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, give me another Incouragement, to think that this Houſe was a Type of the Church in the Wilderneſs, and that ſhe Rev. 12. 7. is the Seat of Spiritual War alſo.

For as this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon was that which was the Object of the Rage of the King of Aſſyria, becauſe it ſtood in his Way to hinder his ruining Jeruſalem; ſo the Spirit and Faithfulneſs of the Church of God in the Wilderneſs, ſtands in the way, and hinders Antichriſt's bringing of the Truth to the Ground.

Pſal. 80. 13 2 Theſſ. 2. 4. Rev. 12. 7 And as the Enemy brake into Lebanon, and did ſet Fire to her Cedars; ſo the Boar, the Antichriſt, the Dragon, and his Angels got into the Church in the Wilderneſs.

This being ſo, here muſt needs be War; and ſince the War is not carnal but ſpiritual, it muſt be made by way of Controverſy, Contention, Diſputation, Argument, Reaſonings, &c. which were the Effect of oppoſite Apprehenſions, fitly ſet out in this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, for that there Light againſt Light, Sight againſt Sight, in three Ranks.

Wherefore, in that he ſaith Light was againſt Light in three Ranks, he ſuggeſteth to the life, how it would be in the Church in the Wilderneſs.

And ſuppoſe they were the truly godly that made the firſt Aſſault, can they be blamed? For who can endure a Boar in a Vineyard: a Man of Sin in a holy Temple; or a Dragon in Heaven? What then if the Church made the firſt Aſſault? Who bid the Boar come there? What had he to do in God's Houſe? The Church, as the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, would have been content with its own Station; and Bread and Water will ſerve a Man, that may with Peace enjoy his Delights in other Things. But when Privilege, Property, Life, Delight, Heaven and Salvation, comes to be intruded, no marvel if the Woman, tho' but a Woman, cries out, and ſet her Light againſt them; had ſhe ſeen the Thief, and ſaid nothing, ſhe had been far worſe.

1 Cor. 13. 12. Jam. 1. 23, 24, 25. I told you before, That by the Windows is meant the Word, which is compared to Glaſs.

What then, Is the Word againſt the Word? No, verily, 'tis therefore not the Word, but oppoſite Apprehenſions thereabout, that the Holy Ghoſt now intends; for he ſaith not, that Window was againſt Window, reſpecting the true Senſe of the Word, but Light was againſt Light, reſpecting the divers Notions and Apprehenſions that Men of oppoſite Spirits would have about the Word.

Nor are we to take this word Light, eſpecially in the Antitype, in a proper but a metaphorical Senſe; that is, with reſpect to the Judgment of both Parties. Here is the true Church, and ſhe has the true Light: here alſo is the Boar, the Man of Sin, ~~and the~~ Dragon; and they ſee by their way, and yet as I ſaid, all by the ſelf-ſame Windows. They that are the Church, do in God's Light, ſee Light; but they that are not, do in their own Way ſee. And let a Man, and a Beaſt, look out at the ſame Window, the ſame Door, the ſame Caſement, yet the one will ſee like a Man, and the other but like a Beaſt. No marvel then, though they have the ſame Windows, that Light is againſt Light, and Sight againſt Sight in this Houſe. For there are that know not, but what they know naturally as Brutes. Pſal. 92. 6. Jer. 10. 8. 14, 21. Jude 10.

No marvel then, if there is here a Diſagreement, the Beaſt can but ſee as a Beaſt, but the Church is reſolved not to be guided by the Eye of a Beaſt, though he pretends to have his Light by that very Window by which the Church has hers. The Beaſt is Moon-ey'd, and puts Darkneſs for Light, yea, and hates the Light that is ſo indeed: but the Saints will not hear him, for they know the Voice of their Lord. Iſa. 5. 20. Joh. 3. 20. — 10.

How then can it be, but that Light ſhould be againſt Light in this Houſe, and that in a military Poſture? And how can it be, but that here every Battle of the Warrior ſhould be with confuſed Noiſe, and Garments rolled in Blood. Iſa. 9. 5.

And in that he ſaith, Light was againſt Light in three Ranks, it ſhews their Preparations one againſt another; alſo, that they on both Sides are reſolved to ſtand by their way: The Church is confident, the Man of Sin is confident; they both have the ſame Windows to ſee by, and ſo they manage their Matters; yet not ſo ſimply by the Windows, as by their divers Judgment they make of that which ſhineth in at them. Each one therefore hath the true and falſe Profeſſion, will be confident of his own way: he that was right, knew he was right; and he that was wrong, thought he was right; and ſo the Battle began. There is a way that ſeems right to a Man, but the End thereof are the Ways of Death. Prov. 14. 12.

Nor is it in Man to help it; there has been reaſoning, there has been diſputing, there has Blood alſo been ſpilt on both ſides, thorow the Confidence that each had of the Goodneſs of his own Way; but no Reconciliation is made, the Enmity is ſet here of God; Iron and Clay cannot mix;

mix; God will have things go on thus in the World, till his Words ſhall be fulfilled:
Gen.3.15. the Deceived, and the Deceiver, are his.
Dan.2.42. Things therefore muſt have their Courſe
43. in the Church in the Wilderneſs, till the Job 12.16. Myſtery of God ſhall be fulfilled.
Rev.17.17

Hence 'tis ſaid, God will bring Gog againſt his People of Iſrael, as a Cloud to cover the Land. But for what Cauſe? Why, that he may contend a while with them, and then fall by their Light to the Ezek. 39. 11. Ground. Therefore he ſays alſo, That he will give God a Place of graves in Iſrael, and it ſhall be called the Valley of Hamon-gog.

God will get himſelf great Glory, by permitting the Boar, the Man of Sin, and the Dragon to revel it in the Church of God; for they by ſetting up, and contending for their Darkneſs, and calling of it the Light; and by ſetting of it againſt that Light, which is Light in very deed, do not only prove the Power of Truth where it is, but illuſtrate it ſo much the more: For, as Black ſets off White, and Darkneſs, Light, ſo Error ſets off Truth: He that calls a Man a Horſe, doth in Concluſion, but fix the Belief of his Humanity ſo much the more in the Apprehenſion of all rational Creatures.

Light againſt Light in three Ranks. The three Ranks on the Churches Side, ſignifie her light in the Trinity, as was ſaid, and in the three Offices of Chriſt; and the Ranks againſt theſe three Ranks be to ſignifie, the oppoſite Apprehenſions of the Enemy. They differ alſo about the Authority of the Word, and Ordinances, about the Offices, Officers, and Executions of Office, in the Church, &c. There is an Oppoſition every where, even round about the Houſe. there was Light againſt Light in three Ranks.

This Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon was therefore a ſignificative Thing, wiſely built and fit for the Purpoſe for which it was deſigned, which was to ſhew what afterward would be the State of the Church in the Wilderneſs. Nor could any thing in the Temple more aptly expreſs it ſelf in a typical Way, as to any of the Things concerning New Teſtament Matters, than doth this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon: as to the Things deſigned to be ſignified thereby. It ſpeaks, can we but hear; It points to things, as it were with a Finger, have we but Eyes to ſee.

It is not therefore to be wondered at, that we hear both Parties plead ſo much for their Authority, crying out againſt each other, as thoſe that deſtroy Religion.
1Kings 3. 16 17 13. So doth the Church, ſo doth the Man of Sin. The living Child is mine, ſaith one; nay, but the dead Child is thine, and the living Child is mine, ſays the other. And thus they ſpake before the King.

Now this could not be, were there not different Apprehenſions here; Light againſt Light then is the Cauſe of all this: And here is Light againſt Light in three Ranks; and ſo will be till the Beaſt is dead.

The Church will not give place, for ſhe knows ſhe has the Truth; the Dragon, and his Angels, they will not give place, but as beaten back by the Power of the Truth: For thus it is ſaid of the Dragon and his Angels, They fought and prevailed not. Dan.7.11. Rev. 19. 20. Therefore there will, there muſt, there cannot but be a ſpiritual Warfare here, and that until one of the two are deſtroyed, and their Body given to the burning Flame.

CHAP. VI.

Of the Doors and Poſts, and their Square, with the Windows of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon.

AND all the Doors and Poſts were ſquare, with the Windows. 1Kin.7.5.

The Doors, they were for Entrance, the Poſts were the Support of the Doors, and the Windows were, as was hinted before, for Light.

Now here they are ſaid to be all ſquare; Square is a Note of Perfection; but this word ſquare, may be taken two ways.

1. Either as to the faſhion of the things themſelves; or,

2. With Reference to the uniform Order of the whole.

In the firſt Senſe was the Altar of burnt Offering, the Altar of Incenſe, and the Breaſtplate of Judgment, ſquare; and ſo alſo it is ſaid of our New Teſtament New Jeruſalem. Ex. 27. 1. — 28. 16. — 30. 2. &Rev.21. 16.

But the Square in the Text is not thus to be underſtood, but if I miſtake not, as is ſignified under the ſecond head, that is for an uniform Order. The whole Fabrick, as the Doors, Poſts, and Windows, preſented themſelves to Beholders in an exact uniform Order, and ſo right delectable to behold. Hence we may gather, that this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, was ſo exactly built, and conſequently ſo compleat to view, that it was alluring to the Beholders; and that the more, for that ſo pretty a Fabrick ſhould be found in a Foreſt, or Wood. A Lilly among Thorns, a Pearl on a Dunghil, and Beauty under a Veil, will make one turn aſide to look on it.

Anſwerable to this, the Church, even in the Wilderneſs, or under Perſecution, is compared not only to a Woman, but to a comely and delicate Woman. And who, that ſhall meet ſuch a Creature in a Wood, unleſs he feared God, but would ſeek to raviſh and defile her.

Therefore I ſay, That which is here ſaid to be Square, muſt be underſtood to be ſo, as to Proſpect and View, or right taking to the Eye.

Thus therefore they are allured, and think to defile her in the Bed of Love, but but coming to her, and finding of her chaſt, and filled with nothing but Armour, and Men at Arms, to maintain her Chaſtity, nolens volens: Their fleſhly Love is turned into cruel Rage, and ſo they go to Variance.

Jer. 6. 2. I have likened, ſays God, the Daughter of Zion to a comely and delicate Woman.

But where is ſhe? O! ſhe is in the Field, in the Foreſt among the Shepherds. But what will they do with her? Why, becauſe ſhe complies not with their Deſires, they prepare War againſt her, ſaying, Ariſe, let us go up at Noon. ----- Ariſe, Ver. 4. 5. let us go up by Night, and let us deſtroy her Palaces.

Wherefore the Beauty of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, as well as the Fortitude thereof, was a Temptation to the Enemy to come to take it into their Poſſeſſion; eſpecially ſince it ſtood, as it were, on the Borders of Iſrael, and ſo faced the Enemy's Country.

Thus the Church, though in her Weeds of Widowhood, is become the Deſire of the Eyes of the Nations; for indeed her Features are ſuch, conſidering who is her Head, where moſtly to the Eye Beauty lies, that whoſo ſees but the utmoſt Glimpſe of her, is eaſily raviſhed with her Beauties; ſee how the Prophet words it:

Mic. 4. 11. Many Nations are gathered together againſt thee, that ſay, let her be defiled, and let our Eye look upon Zion.

The Church, the very Name of the Church of God, is beautiful in the World; and, as among Women, ſhe that has Beauty, has her Head deſired, if it might be, to ſtand upon another Woman's Shoulders; ſo this, and that, and every Nation that beholds the Beauty of the Church, would fain be called by that Name.

The Church, one would think, was but in a homely Dreſs when ſhe was coming out of Captivity; and yet then, the People of the Countries deſired to be one with her. Let us, ſaid they (to Zerubbabel, and Ezr. 4. 1, 2. to the Fathers of the Church) build with you, for we ſeek your God as you do.

The very Name of the Church, as I ſaid, is ſtriven for of the World; but that is the Church which Chriſt has made ſo, her Featnres alſo remain with her ſelf, as this comely Proſpect of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon abode with it, whoever beheld or wiſht for it. The Beauty therefore of this Houſe, though it ſtood in the Foreſt, was admirable; even as is the Beauty of the Church in the Wilderneſs, though in a bewildered State.

Hear the Relation that the Holy Ghoſt gives of the intrinſick Beauty of the Church, when ſhe was to go to be in a perſecuted State: She was cloathed with the Sun, had the Moon under her Feet, and

Rev. 12. 1. 2, 3, 4. had upon her Head a Crown of twelve Stars. And yet now the Dragon ſtood by her. But I ſay, here's a Woman! Let who will attempt it, ſhew ſuch another in the World, if he can.

They therefore, that have any Regard to Morality, Civility, or to ceremonial Comelineſs, covet to be of the Church of God, or to appropriate that glorious Title to themſelves.

And here, indeed, Antichriſt came in; ſhe took this Name to her ſelf; and though ſhe could not come at the Sun, nor Moon, nor Stars, to adorn herſelf with them, yet ſhe has found ſomething that makes her comely in her Followers Eyes. See how the Holy Ghoſt ſets her forth. She was arrayed in Purple and Scarlet Colour, and — 17. 4. decked with Gold and precious Stones, and Nah. 3. 4. Pearls, having a Golden Cup in her Hand, Ii. 47. 57. &c. Hence ſhe is called, the well-favoured Harlot, the Lady of Kingdoms, &c.

But becauſe the chaſt Matron, the Spouſe of Chriſt, would not allow this Slut to run away with this Name, therefore ſhe gets upon the Back of her Beaſt, and by him puſhes this Woman into the Dirt; but becauſe her Faith and Love to her Husband remains, ſhe turns again, and pleads by her Titles, her Features, and Ornaments, that ſhe, and ſhe only, is ſhe whoſe Square anſwereth to the Square of her Figure, and to the Characters which her Lord hath given of his own, and ſo the Game began.

For ſo ſoon as this Miſtreſs became a Dame in the World, and found that ſhe had her ſtout Abbettors, ſhe attempts to turn all Things topſi-turvy, and to ſet them, and to make of them what ſhe liſts. And now ſhe will have an Altar like that which was Tiglath-Pileſer's: Now muſt the Lord's Braſen Altar be removed from its Place, the Borders of the Baſis muſt be cut off, and the Laver removed from off them; the molten Sea muſt alſo now be took off the Backs of the Brazen Oxen, 2 Kings 16 where Solomon ſet it, and be ſet on a Pave- 10, to 18. ment of Stone.

Solomon! alas Solomon's No-body now; this Woman is wiſer in her own Conceit, than ſeven Men that can render a Reaſon. Ver. 18. Now alſo the Court of the Sabbath muſt be turned to the Uſe of the King of Aſſyria, &c.

Thus has the Beauty of God's Church betrayed her into the Hands of her Lovers, who loved her for themſelves, for the Devil, and for the making of her a Seat, a Throne for the Man of Sin. And poor Deut. 22. Woman, all her ſtruggling and ſtriving, 25, to 28. and crying out under the Hands of theſe Raviſhers, has not, as yet, delivered her, though it has ſaved her Life.

But though thus it has been with Chriſt's true Church, and will be as long as his Enemy Antichriſt reigns; yet the Days will come, when her God will give her her Ornaments, and her Bracelets, and her her Liberty, and her Joy, that ſhe had in the Day of her Eſpouſals.

CHAP. VII.

Of the Repetition of Light againſt Light in the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon.

TO be ſure it was not ſuperfluouſly done of the Holy Ghoſt, to make Repetition of theſe Words, [And Light was againſt Light in three Ranks;] therefore ſomething is intended in the adding of them again, that was not intended by the firſt mentioning of them.

I have told you what I thought was intended by the firſt Rehearſal of them; namely, to ſhew how Antichriſt got in with his Senſuality, and oppoſed it to the true Light of the Word of God, exalting himſelf above God, and alſo above all Divine Revelation; this was his Light againſt Light. But, I ſay, why is it repeated? For he ſaith, Light was againſt Light in three Ranks again.

Truely, I think it is repeated, to ſhew the evil Effects the firſt Antichriſtian Oppoſition would have in the Church of God, towards the end of her Wilderneſs-State. For, Light againſt Light, now, for that it is here repeated, is to ſhew us ſome new Thing, or, as far as Wood and Windows can ſpeak, to let us underſtand what would be the Conſequence of thoſe Antichriſtian Figments that was brought into the Church at firſt by him.

For, can it be imagined, but that, ſince ſo much Confuſion was brought into the Church, ſome of the truly godly themſelves would be much damnified thereby. The Apoſtle ſays Evil Communication corrupts good Manners. And that their Words will eat, as doth a Canker. Miſchief therefore muſt needs follow this ugly Deed of the Man of Sin.

1 Cor. 15. 33. 2 Tim. 2. 17.

If an Houſe be on fire, though it is not burnt down, the Smell of the Flame may long remain there; alſo we count it no Wonder to ſee ſome of the Effects upon Rafters, Beams, and ſome of the principal Poſts thereof.

Judg. 18. 30. The Calf that was ſet up at Dan, defiled that People, 'till the Captivity of the Land.

And I ſay again, ſince Light againſt Light was ſo early in the Church in the Wilderneſs, and has alſo been there ſo long; and again, ſince many in this Church were both born and bred there under theſe Oppoſitions of Light; 'tis eaſie to conclude, that ſomething of the Enemies Darkneſs might be alſo called Light, by the Sincere that followed after. For by Antichriſtian Darkneſs, though, they might call it Light, the true Light was Darkened, and ſo the Eye made dim, even the Eye of the truly godly. Alſo, the Holy Ghoſt did much withdraw it ſelf from the Church; ſo the Doctrines, Traditions, and Rudiments of the World, took more hold there, and ſpread themſelves more formidably over the Face of that whole Church.

For after the firſt Angel had ſounded, and the Star was fallen from Heaven to the Earth, and had received the Key of the bottomleſs Pit, and had opened the Mouth thereof, the Smoak came out amain. This Angel was one of the firſt Dads of Antichriſtianiſm; and this Smoak was that which they call Light, but it was Light againſt Light. And he opened the bottomleſs Pit, and there aroſe a Smoke out of the Pit, as the Smoke of a great Furnace, and the Sun and the Air was darkened, by Reaſon of the Smoke of the Pit. Rev. 9. 1, 2

The Sun I take to be the Goſpel of God, and the Air, a Type of the Breathings of the Holy Ghoſt. The Smoke, I take to be the Doctrines and Traditions of Antichriſt; that which was, as I ſaid before, put for Light againſt the true Light of the Word. Now, ſince the Sun, and the Air were darkened, by this Smoke; yea, and ſo darkened, as that the Sun, nor Moon, nor Stars, nor Day, nor Night, could ſhine for a third Part of them; no marvel though the true Worſhippers here was benighted, or at leaſt, had but little Light to walk by; yea, I have known ſome that have been born and bred up in Smokey-Holes, that have been made both in Smell and Sight, to carry the Tokens of their ſo being bred, about them.

And I ſay again, as to what is now under our Conſideration, no marvel if they that breathed in this Church in the Wilderneſs, after the Smoak came out of this Pit, ſuck'd in the Smoak with the Air, till it became natural to them. A Houſe annoyed with Smoak, is a great Offence to the Eyes, whoſe Light being thereby impaired, the Judgment alſo, ſince that, as to Viſibles, is guided by the Eye, muſt needs be in Danger of being in part mis-led.

And this being the Effect of Light againſt Light at firſt, is the cauſe of what to this Day we ſee in the Church among the true Brotherhood. For as a Cauſe produceth an Effect: ſo oftentimes an Effect ſets on foot another Cauſe.

Now therefore, we have Light againſt Light among the Godly, as afore there was Antichriſtian againſt the Chriſtian Light. Not that Light againſt Light is now Godly in the all of it. 'Tis Antichriſtian that oppoſes the Chriſtian Light ſtill. But, as before, the Darkneſs that oppoſed the Light, was in the Antichriſtians, now that Darkneſs is got into the Chriſtians, and has ſet them againſt one another. Light therefore againſt Light, now, is in the Chriſtians, truly prefigured by that which was in the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon.

Witneſs the Jars, the Oppoſitions, the Contentions, Emulations, Strifes, Debates, Whiſperings, Tumults, and Condemnations that like Cannon-ſhot have ſo frequently on all ſides been let fly againſt one another.

Shall I need to mention particular Conteſts many Years paſt, and preſented to us in Print? Words and Papers now in Print, as alſo the many petty Diviſions, and Names amongſt us, ſufficiently make this manifeſt.

Wherefore Light againſt Light in this laſt Place, or where it is thus repeated, cannot, I think, be more fitly applied than to that now under our Conſideration; that is to ſay, than to the oppoſite Perſwaſions, different Apprehenſions, and thwart Concluſions, that are conſtantly drawn from the ſame Texts, to maintain a diverſe Practice. Though we are to acknowledge with Thankfulneſs, that this Oppoſition lies not ſo much in Fundamentals, as in Things of a leſſer Import.

The Godly all hold the Head, for there Antichriſt could never divide them: Their Diviſions therefore are, as I ſaid, only about ſmaller things.

I do not ſay that the Antichriſtian Darkneſs has done nothing in the Church as to the hurting it, in the great things of God. But, I ſay, it has not been able to do that which could ſever their Head from them, otherwiſe there appears even too much of the Effect of his Doings there. For even as to the Offices of our Lord, ſome will have his Authority more large, ſome more ſtrait. Some confine his Rules to themſelves, and to their more outward Qualification, and ſome believe they are extended further. Some will have his power in his Church purely ſpiritual, others again would have it mixt. Some count his Word perfect and ſufficient to guide in all religious Matters, others again hold that an Addition of ſomething humane is neceſſary. Some are for confining of his Benefits in the ſaving Effects of them, only to the Elect, others are for a ſtretching of them further. I might here multiply things; but that Light againſt Light is now among the Godly, as Light againſt Light was in the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, is not at all to be queſtioned.

This therefore may ſtand for another Argument, to prove that the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, was a Type of the Church in the Wilderneſs. As to the Number here, that is to ſay, in three Ranks, it is alſo, as I think, to ſhew that, though, as was ſaid afore, this Darkneſs could not ſever the true Church from her Head; yet it has eclipſed the Glory of things. By two Lights, a Man cannot ſee this or that thing, ſo exactly, as by one ſingle Light: no they both make all confuſed, though they make not all inviſible.

Mat. 6. 22, 23.

As for Inſtanc, Sun-light and Moon-light together; Fire-light and Sun-light together; Candle-light and Moon-light together, make things more obſcure, than to look on them by a ſingle Light.

The Word reflecting upon the Underſtanding without the interpoſing of Man's Traditions, makes the Mind of God to a Man more clear, than when attended with the other. How much more than when Light ſhall be againſt Light in three ranks?

Chriſt in his Offices, bleſſed be God, is to this Day known in his Church, notwithſtanding there is yet with us Light againſt Light in three Ranks. But in theſe things he is not ſo diſtinctly, fully, and compleatly known, as he was before the Church went into the Wilderneſs. No, that Knowledge is loſt to a third Part of it, as was alſo ſhewed before. Rev. 8. 12.

Things therefore will never be well in the Church of God, ſo long as there is thus light againſt light therein. When there is but one Lord among us, and his Name one: and when diviſions, by the Conſent of the whole, are baniſhed, I mean, not perſecuted, but abandoned in all by a joynt Conſent: and when every Man ſhall ſubmit his own ſingle Opinion to thoſe Truths, that by their being retained, are for the Health of all: then look for good Days, and not till then. For this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, in which, as you ſee, there is Light againſt Light in three Ranks, was not built to prefigure the Church in in her primitive State, but to ſhew us how we ſhould be while ſtanding before the Face of the Dragon, and while ſhifting for our ſelves in the Wilderneſs.

And although by her Pillars, and Beauty, and Tower, and by her facing the Metropolitan of her Enemies, ſhe ſheweth that the true Grace of God is in her, and a Strength and Courage that is invincible; yet for that ſhe has alſo affixed to her Station, Light againſt Light in three Ranks: 'tis evident, her Eye is not ſo ſingle, and conſequently, that her Body is not ſo full of Light, as ſhe will be when her Sackcloth is put off, and as when ſhe has put on her beautiful Garments. For then it is that her Moon is to ſhine as the Sun, and that the Light of her Sun is to be ſeven fold, even as the Light of ſeven Days; then, I ſay, When the Lord bindeth up the Breach of his People, and healeth the Stroke of their Wound. Iſa. 30. 26.

You know a Kingdom flouriſhes not, ſo long as it is the Seat of War, but when that is over, Peace and Proſperity flouriſhes. This Houſe, as has been hinted, was a Type of the Church in a Wood, a Foreſt, a Wilderneſs.

CHAP.

CHAP. VIII.

Of the Shields and Targets that were in the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon.

AS this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, was that, which in the general, prefigured the State of the Church in the Wilderneſs, ſo it was accoutred with ſuch military Materials as ſuited her in ſuch a Condition, that is to ſay, with Shields and Targets: Conſequently with other warlike Things. And Solomon made two hundred Targets of beaten Gold, ſix hundred Shekles of Gold went to one Target, and he made three hundred Shields of beaten Gold: three hundred Shekles of Gold went to one Shield: And the King put them in the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon.

1 Kings 10 16, 17. 2 Cor. 9. 15, 16.

This ſuppoſes that the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, would be attacked by the Enemy. And good Reaſon there was for ſuch a Suppoſition, ſince it was built for Defence of that Worſhip that was ſet up in the Church. Hence 'tis ſaid, when the Enemy uſed to come with his Chariots and Horſemen againſt them, that they did look in that Day to the Armour of the Houſe of the Foreſt.

Iſa. 22. 7, 8.

That was, to ſee how they were prepared at Lebanon, to make Reſiſtance againſt their Foes, and to ſecure themſelves and their Religion, from that Deſtruction that by the Enemy, was deſigned ſhould be made upon both. And thus again, or in this Thing, the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon ſhews that it was a Figure of the Church of the Wilderneſs: For ſhe alſo is furniſhed with ſuch Weapons as were counted by the Wiſdom of God neceſſary for the ſecurity of the Soul, and Chriſtian Religion: To wit, the Weapons of our warfare, the whole Armour of God.

2 Cor. 10 3, 4.

For, though this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon was a Place of Defence, yet her Armour is deſcribed and directed too, both as to Matter and to Meaſure. 'Twas Armour made of Gold, ſuch Armour, and ſo much of it: And 'twas made by Direction of Solomon, who was a Type of Chriſt, by the Power of whoſe Grace and Working, our Armour is alſo provided for us, as in the Texts afore-mentioned may appear. By this Deſcription, therefore, of the Armour of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, we are confined, that being a Type to the Armour of God, in the Anti-type thereto for the Defence of the Chriſtian Religion. We then may make uſe of none but the Armour of God for Defence of our Souls, and the Worſhip of God: This alone is the golden Armour provided by our Solomon, and put in the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, or rather in the Church in the Wilderneſs, for her to reſiſt the Enemy withal.

Two hundred Targets. There is but little mention made of Targets in the Bible, nor at all expreſsly how they were uſed, but once; and that was when Goliah came to defy Iſrael, he came, as without other warlike Furniture, ſo with a Target of Braſs between his Shoulders.

1 Sam. 17

A Target, that is, ſaith the Margent, a Gorget. A Gorget is a Thing wore about the Neck, and it ſerveth in that Place inſtead of a Shield. Wherefore in ſome of your old Bibles, that which in one Place is called a Target, in another is called a Shield. A Shield for that Part.

This Piece of Armour, I ſuppoſe was worn in old Time, by them that uſed Spears, and it was to guard the upper Part of the Back and Shoulders from the Arrows of their Enemies, that were ſhot into the Air, to the intent they might fall upon the upper Part of the Body.

The Shields were for them which drew Bows, and they were to catch, or beat off thoſe Arrows that were levelled at them by the Enemy before.

Aſa had at one Time an Army of Men that bare Targets and Spears, out of Judah three hundred thouſand, and out of Benjamin that bare Shields, and drew Bows, two hundred and fourſcore thouſand.

2 Chr. 14. 8.

I cannot tell what the Target ſhould ſignifie here, unleſs it was to ſhew that thoſe in the Type, were more weak and faint-hearted than thoſe in the Anti-type: For in that this Gorget was prepared for ſome back Part of the Body, it ſuppoſed the Wearers ſubject to run away, to flee. But in the Deſcription of the Chriſtian Armour, we have no Proviſion for the Back of our Men in the Church: So in the Wilderneſs are ſuppoſed to be more ſtout. Their Face is made ſtrong againſt the Face of their Enemies, and their Foreheads ſtrong againſt their Foreheads.

Ezek. 3. 8, 9.

The Shield was a Type of the Chriſtian Faith, and ſo the Apoſtle applies it. The which he alſo counteth a principal piece of our Chriſtian Armour: When he ſaith, Above all taking the Shield of Faith, wherewith ye ſhall be able to quench all the fiery Darts of the Wicked.

Eph. 6. 16.

Theſe Targets and Shields were made of Gold, to ſhew the excellent worth of this Armour of God: To wit, that it is not Carnal but Spiritual, not Humane but Divine; not common or mean, but of an infinite Value. Wherefore James alluding to this, ſaith, Hearken, my beloved Brethren, hath not God choſen the Poor of this Word Rich in Faith? (Hath he not given them this golden Shield) and made them Heirs of that Kingdom, which he hath promiſed to them that love him.

Jam. 2. 5.

Faith! Peter ſaith, Faith, in the very tryal of it, is much more precious than is Gold that periſheth: If ſo, then what is that worth, or value, that is in the Grace it ſelf?

1 Pet. 1. 6, 7.

This

This alſo is that which Chriſt intends, when he ſays, buy of me Gold tryed in the Fire, that thou mayeſt be rich. Rev.3.18.

And methinks the Apoſtles, and the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, do in all theſe Places allude to the Shields, the Shields of Gold, that Solomon made and put in the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon: Which Houſe, as I have ſhewed, was that which indeed prefigured the State of the Church in the Wilderneſs: and theſe Shields a Type of Faith.

Obj. But here is mention made of nothing but Shields and Targets?

Anſw. True, and that perhaps to ſhew us that the War that the Church makes with Antichriſt, is rather defenſive than offenſive. Shields and Targets are Weapons defenſive, Weapons provided for Self-Preſervation, not to hurt others with. A Chriſtian alſo, if he can but defend his Soul in the ſincere Profeſſion of the true Religion, doth what by Duty, as to this, he is bound. Wherefore though the New Teſtament admits him to put on the whole Armour of God: Yet the whole, and every Part thereof is ſpiritual, and only defenſive. True, there is mention made of the Sword, but that Sword is the Word of God. A Weapon that hurteth none, none at all but the Devil, and Sin, and thoſe that love it. Indeed 'twas made for Chriſtians to defend themſelves, and their Religion with, againſt Hell and the Angels of Darkneſs. Eph.6.17.

Theſe two Pieces of Armour then that Solomon the King did put into the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, were Types of the ſpiritual Armour that the Church in the Wilderneſs ſhould make uſe of. And as we read of no more that was put there, at leaſt to be typical, ſo we read of, and muſt uſe no more than we are bid to put on by the Apoſtle, for the defence of true Religion.

Object. But he that ſhall uſe none other than this, muſt look to come off a loſer.

Anſw. In the Judgment of the World, this is true; but not in the Judgment of them that have Skill, and an Heart to uſe it. For this Armour is not Saul's, which David refuſed, but God's, by which the Lives of all thoſe have been ſecured, that put it on, and handled it well. You read of ſome of David's mighty Men of Valour, that their Faces were as the Faces of Lions, and that they were as ſwift of foot as the Roes upon the Mountains: Being expert in handling Spear and Shield. 1 Cor. 12. 8.

Why, God's Armour makes a Man's Face look thus, alſo it makes him that uſeth it, more lively and active, than before. God's Armour is no Burden to the Body, nor Clogg to the Mind, but rather a natural, inſtead of an artificial Fortification.

But this Armour comes not to any, but out of the King's Hand. Solomon put theſe Targets and Shields into the Houſe of the Foreſt of Labanon. So Chriſt diſtributeth his Armour to his Church. Hence 'tis ſaid, 'Tis given to his to ſuffer for him. 'Tis given to his by himſelf, and on his Behalf. Phil.1.29.

That is, that they might with it fight thoſe Battles which he ſhall manage againſt Antichriſt. Hence they are called the Armies in Heaven: And are ſaid, to follow their Lord upon white Horſes cloathed in fine Linen, white and clean. But, as I ſaid, ſtill their war was but defenſive. For a little further, do but obſerve, and you ſhall find the Beaſt fall upon him. And I ſaw the Beaſt, and the Kings of the Earth, and their Armies gathered together, to make War againſt him that ſat on the Horſe, and againſt his Army. Rev. 19. 12, to 22.

'Tis they that fall on, 'tis they that pick the Quarrel, and give the Onſet. Beſides, the Armour, as I ſaid, is only ſpiritual; wherefore the Slaughter muſt needs be ſpiritual alſo. Hence, as here it is ſaid, the Lamb did ſlay his Enemies, by the Sword, Spirit, or Breath of his Mouth; ſo his Army alſo ſlays them by the Fire that proceedeth out of his Mouth.

Here is therefore no Man's Perſon in danger by this War. And I ſay again, ſo far as any Man's Perſon is in danger, it is by wrong managing of this War. True, the Perſons of the Chriſtians are in danger, but that is becauſe of the bloody Diſpoſition of an Antichriſtian Enemy. But we ſpeak now with Reference to the Lamb and the Army that follows him: And as to them, no Man's Perſon is in danger ſimply as ſuch. Wherefore, it is not Men but Sin; not Men, but the Man of Sin, that wicked one, that the Son of God makes War againſt, in and by his Church. 2 Theſ. 2 8. Heb.12.4.

Let us therefore ſtate the Matter right; no Man needs be afraid to let Jeſus Chriſt be chief in the World, he envies no Body, he deſigns the hurt of none: His Kingdom is not of this World, nor doth he covet temporal Matters; let but his Wife, his Church alone, to enjoy her purchaſed Priviliges, and all ſhall be well. Which Priveleges of hers, ſince they are Soul-concerns, make no Infringement upon any Man's Liberties: Let but Faith and Holineſs walk the Streets without Controul, and you may be as happy as the World can make you. I ſpeak now to them that contend with him.

But if ſeaſonable Counſel will not go down, if hardneſs of Heart and blindneſs of Mind, and ſo periſhing from the Way ſhall overtake you, 'tis but what you of old have been cautioned of. Be wiſe now therefore, O ye Kings, be inſtructed ye Judges of the Earth. Serve the Lord with Fear, and rejoyce with trembling. Kiſs the Son, leſt he be angry, and ye periſh from the Way, when his Wrath is kindled but a little. Bleſſed are all they that put their Truſt in him. Pſ. 2. 10, 11, 12.

Now let this alſo that has been ſaid upon this Head, be another Argument to prove that that the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, was a Type of the Church in the Wilderneſs.

CHAP. IX.

Of the Veſſels which Solomon put in the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon.

1 Kings 10 21. 2 Chro. 9. 20.

SOlomon did alſo put Veſſels into the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon. And all King Solomon's Drinking-Veſſels were of Gold, and all the Veſſels of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon were of Gold, pure Gold, none were of Silver; it was nothing accounted of in the Days of Solomon.

Since it is not expreſſed what thoſe Veſſels of pure Gold were which Solomon put in the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, therefore, as to the Affirmative, no Man can be abſolute; Veſſels of Gold, Veſſels of pure Gold, the Holy Ghoſt ſays they were, and ſo leaves it to the Prudent to make their Conjectures: And although I may not put my ſelf among the Number of thoſe prudent Ones, yet let me take Leave to ſay what I think in the Caſe.

Firſt then, negatively, They were not Veſſels ordained for Divine Worſhip; for, as that was confined to the Temple, ſo the Veſſels, and Materials, and Circumſtances for Worſhip, was there.

2 Chron. 2. 4. —7. 12, 15, 16.

I ſay, The whole uniform Worſhip of the Jews now, was confined to the Temple.

Wherefore, the Veſſels here mentioned, could not be ſuch as was in Order to ſet up Worſhip here, for to Jeruſalem they were to bring their Sacrifices: True, they had Synagogues where ordinary Service was done; there the Law was read, and there the Prieſts taught the People how they ſhould ſerve the Lord; but for that which ſtood in carnal Ordinances, as Sacrificings, Waſhings, and uſing Veſſels for that Purpoſe, that was performed at Jeruſalem.

This Houſe therefore, to wit, the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, was not built to ſlay, or to offer Burnt-Offerings or Sacrifices in, but as that Altar was which the two Tribes and an half, built by Jordan, when they went each to their Inheritance; namely, to be a Witneſs of the Peoples

Joſ. 22. 21, to 29. Reſolutions to preſerve true Religion in the Church, to themſelves, and to their Poſterity.

Since this Houſe therefore was deſigned for defenſive War, 'twas not requiſite that the Formalities of Worſhip ſhould be there.

1 Theſ. 2. 2 The Church in the Wilderneſs alſo, ſo far as ſhe is concerned in Contention, ſo far ſhe is not taken up in the practical Parts of Religion; for Religion is not to be practiſed in the Church in the Moments of Contention. Let us practiſe then our Religion in Peace, and in all peaceable Ways, and vindicate it by Way of Contention; that is, when asked, or required, by Oppoſites, to render a Reaſon thereof. Phil. 1. 7, 17. Acts 22. 1.

But my Contention muſt be, not in pragmatick Languages, or in Striving about Words to no Profit, but by Words of Truth and Soberneſs, with all Meekneſs and Fear. —26. 24, 25. Tit. 3. 1, 2. 1 Pet. 3. 15

To practiſe and defend a Practice, you know are two Things: I practiſe Religion in my Cloſet, in my Family, in the Congregation; but I defend this Practice before the Magiſtrate, the King, and the Judge. Now the Temple was prepared for the Practice of Religion, and the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon for Defence of the ſame.

So far then as the Church in the Wilderneſs worſhips, ſo far ſhe is compared to the Temple; and ſo far as ſhe defends that Worſhip, ſo far ſhe is called an Army: An Army terrible with Banners. For God has given a Banner to them that fear him, that it may be diſplayed becauſe of the Truth. Hence ſhe ſays to God, We will rejoice in thy Salvation, and in the Name of our God, we will ſet up our Banners. Rev. 11. 1. —19. 14 Song 6. 4. Pſ. 60. 4. —20. 5.

But here is in all this no Hurt to the World; the Kingdom, the Worſhip, the War is ſpiritual, even as the Armour is. I have ſpoken this to diſtinguiſh Worſhip from contending for Worſhip, and to make Way for what is yet to be ſaid.

If the Veſſels of the Foreſt of Lebanon, or thoſe put into that Houſe, were not ſuch as related to Worſhip, to Worſhip ſimply as ſuch, then it ſhould ſeem.

Theſe Veſſels therefore, were for ſome other Uſe than for formal Worſhip, in the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon. The beſt Way then, that I know of, to find out what they were, is, firſt to conſider to what they are joined in the Mention of them. Now I find them joined in the Mention of them, with Solomon's Drinking Veſſels; and ſince, as they were made of fine or pure Gold, I take them alſo to be Veſſels of the ſame Kind, to wit, Veſſels to drink in. Now if we join to this the State of the Church in the Wilderneſs, of which, as we have ſaid, this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon was a Type, then we muſt underſtand that by theſe Veſſels were prefigured, ſuch Draughts as the Church has, when in a bewildered or perſecuted State, and they are of two Sorts, either,

1. Such as are exceeding bitter: Or,

2. Such as are exceeding ſweet: For both theſe attend a State of War.

1. Such as are exceeding bitter: Theſe are called Cups of Red Wine, ſignifying Blood; alſo, The Cup of the Lord's Fury, The Cup of Trembling, The Cup of Aſtoniſhment, &c. —75. 8. Ja. 51. 17. 22. Jer. 25. 15. Ez. 23. 32.

Nor is there any Thing more natural to the Church, while in a Wilderneſs Condition, than ſuch Cups and Draughts as theſe. Hence ſhe, as there, is ſaid to be cloathed, as was ſaid afore, in Sack-Cloth, to mourn, to weep, to cry out, and to be in Pain, as a Woman in Travail. See the Lamentations and you will find all this verified. See alſo Rev. 11. 3. Chap. 12. 2.

And whoſo conſiders what has already been ſaid, as to what the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon met with, will find that what is here inferred, is not foreign but natural. For, can it be imagined, that when the King of Aſſyria laid down his Army by the Sides of Lebanon, and when the Fire was to devour her Cedars; alſo, when Lebanon was to be cut down and languiſht, that theſe Veſſels, theſe Cups, was not then put into her Hand. And, I ſay again, ſince the Church in the Wilderneſs, Lebanon's Antitype, has been ſo perſecuted, ſo diſtreſſed, ſo oppreſſed, and made the Seat of ſo much War, ſo much Blood, of ſo many Murders of her Children within her, &c. can it be imagined that ſhe drank of none of theſe Cups? Yes, yes; ſhe has drank the Red Wine at the Lord's Hand, even the Cup of Blood, of Fury, of Trembling, and of Aſtoniſhment. Witneſs her own Cries, Sighs, Tears, and Tremblings; with the Cries of Widows, Children and Orphans within her.

But what do I cite particular Texts, ſince Reaſon, Hiſtories, Experience, any Thing that is intelligible, will confirm this for a Truth: Namely, that a People, whoſe Profeſſion is directly in Oppoſition to the Devil and Antichriſt, and to all Debauchery, Inhumanity, Profaneneſs, Superſtition, and Idolatry, when ſuffered to be invaded by the Dragon, the Beaſt, the falſe Prophet, and Whore, muſt needs taſte of theſe Cups, and drink thereof to their Aſtoniſhment.

But all theſe are of pure Gold. They are of God's ordaining, appointing, filling, timeing; and alſo ſanctified by him for Good to thoſe of his that drink them. Hence Moſes choſe rather to drink a Brimmer of theſe, than to enjoy the Pleaſures of Sin for a Seaſon. Heb 11.25

The Sowreneſs, Bitterneſs, and Wormwood of them, therefore, is only to the Fleſh, that loveth neither God, nor Chriſt, nor Grace. 1 Theſ. 3.3 Rev. 2.10. Pſ. 75. 8. Iſa. 27. 9. 1 Pet. 1. 6.

The Afflictions therefore, that the Church in the Wilderneſs hath met with, theſe Cups of Gold, are of more Worth than are all the Treaſures of Ægypt; they are needful, and profitable, and Praiſe-worthy alſo, and tend to the augmenting of our Glory, when the next World is come. Heb. 12. 7 8, 9, 10. 1 Pet. 2. 19 2 Cor. 4. 17, 18.

Beſides they are Signs, Tokens, and Golden Marks of Love; and Jewels that ſet off the Beauty of the Church in the Sight of God the more. They are alſo a Means by which Men are proved ſound, honeſt, faithful, and true Lovers of God; as alſo ſuch, whoſe Graces are not counterfeit, feigned, or unſound, but true, and ſuch as will be found to Praiſe, and Honour, and Glory, at the Appearing of Jeſus Chriſt. Phil. 1. 28. 2 Theſ. 1. 5 Gal. 6. 17. Rev. 3. 19.

And this has been the Cauſe that the Men of our Church in the Wilderneſs, have gloried in Tribulation; taking Pleaſure in Reproaches, in Neceſſities, in Perſecutions, and in Diſtreſſes for Chriſt's Sake. Yea, this is the Reaſon why they have bade one another rejoice, when they fell into divers Temptations, ſaying, Happy is the Man that endureth Temptations; and Behold we count them happy that endure: And again, If ye be reproached for the Name of Chriſt, happy are ye. Rom. 5. 3. 2 Cor. 12. 9, 10. Jam. 1. 2, 12. — 5. 11. 1 Pet. 4. 14

Theſe therefore are Veſſels of pure Gold, though they contain ſuch bitter Draughts, and though ſuch, as at which we make ſo many wry Faces, before we can get their Liquor down.

Do you think that a Chriſtian, having even this Cup in his Hand to drink it, would change it for a Draught of that which is in the Hand of the Woman that ſits on the Back of the Scarlet-coloured Beaſt? No, verily; for he knows that her Sweet is Poiſon, and that his Bitter is to purge his Soul, Body, Life, and Religion, of Death. Rev. 17. 3, 4. 2 Tim. 2. 11, 12.

God ſends his Love Tokens to his Church two Ways, ſometimes by her Friends, ſometimes by her Enemies. When they come by the Hand of a Friend, as by a Miniſter, a Brother, or by the Holy Ghoſt, then they come ſmoothly, ſweetly, and are taken, and go down like Honey. But when theſe Love Tokens come to them by the Hand of an Enemy, then they are handed to them roughly: Pharaoh handed Love Tokens to them roughly: The King of Babylon handed theſe Love Tokens to them roughly. They bring them of Malice; God ſends them of Love; they bring them, and give them to us, hoping they will be our Death: They give us them therefore with many a foul Curſe; but God bleſſes them ſtill. Did not Haman lead Mordecai in his State, by the Hand of Anger?

Nor is this Cup ſo bitter, but that our Lord himſelf drank deep of it, before 'twas handed to his Church: He did, as loving Mothers do, drink thereof himſelf, to ſhew us it is not Poiſon, alſo to encourage us to drink it for his Sake, and for our endleſs Health. Mat 20. 22 — 26. 39, 42.

And, as I told you before, I think I do not vary from the Senſe of the Text, in calling them Cups; becauſe, though there they have no Name, they are joined with King Solomon's drinking Veſſels; and becauſe as ſo joined in the Type, ſo they are alſo joined here: Therefore the Cup here is called called Chriſt's Cup. Are ye able to drink of the Cup that I drink of? Ye ſhall indeed drink of my Cup. Here you ſee they are joined in a Communion in this Cup of Affliction, as the Cups in one and the ſame Breath are joined with thoſe King Solomon drank in, which he put in the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon.

But theſe are not all the Cups that belong to the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, or rather to the Church in the Wilderneſs; there is alſo a Cup, out of which, at Times, is drunk what is exceeding ſweet.

It is called The Cup of Conſolation, The Cup of Salvation; a Cup in the which God himſelf is. As he ſaid, The Lord is the Portion of my Cup. Or rather, The Lord is the Portion of mine Inheritance, and my Cup.

Pſ. 16. 5. —116. 13. Jer. 16. 7.

This Cup, they that are in the Church in the Wilderneſs have uſually for an after-Draught to that bitter one that went before: Thus, as tender Mothers give their Children Plumbs or Sugar, to ſweeten their Palate after they have drank a bitter Potion, ſo God gives his the Cups of Salvation, and Conſolation, after they have ſuffered a while. For as the Sufferings of Chriſt abound in us, ſo our Conſolation aboundeth by Chriſt.

2 Cor. 1. 5.

Hence the Apoſtle aſſureth himſelf, concerning the Affliction of them at Corinth; yea, and alſo promiſeth them, That as they were Partakers of the Sufferings, ſo ſhould they be of the Conſolation.

— 1. 7.

Some of theſe Cups are filled 'till they run over, as David ſaid, his did, when the Valley of the Shadow of Death was before him. Thou prepareſt a Table before me, ſaid he, in the Preſence of mine Enemies: Thou anointeſt my Head with Oil; my Cup runneth over.

Pſ. 23. 5.

This is that which the Apoſtle calls exceeding; that is, that which is beyond Meaſure. I am, ſays he, filled with Comfort, I am exceeding Joyful in all our Tribulations.

— 7. 4.

Now he has one anſwering the other. Thou haſt made Summer and Winter: Thou haſt made the warm Beams of thy Sun anſwerable to the Cold of the dark Night. This may be alſo yet ſignified by the building of this Houſe, this Type of the Church in the Wilderneſs, in ſo pleaſant a Place as the Foreſt of Lebanon was. Lebanon! Lebanon was one of the ſweeteſt Places in all the Land of Canaan. Therefore we read of the Fruit of Lebanon, of the Streams from Lebanon; the Scent, the Smell, the Glory of Lebanon; and alſo of the Wine and Flowers of Lebanon.

— 72. 16. Song 8. 11. Iſa. 35 2. — 60. 13. Hoſ. 14. 6, 7. Nah. 1. 4.

Lebanon! That was one Thing that wrought with Moſes to deſire that he might go over Jordan; namely, That he might ſee that goodly Mountain, and Lebanon. The Glory and excellent Beauty of the Church, Chriſt alſo ſetteth forth, by comparing of her to Lebanon. Thy Lips, O my Spouſe, ſays he, drop as an Honey-Comb; Honey and Milk are under thy Tongue, and the Smell of thy Garment is like the Smell of Lebanon.

Song 4. 11.

This Houſe therefore, being placed here, might be to ſhew, how bleſſed a State God could make the State of his Church by his bleſſed Grace and Preſence, even while ſhe is in a Wilderneſs Condition.

Deut. 3. 25

We will add to this, for further Demonſtration, that Letter of that godly Man, Pomponius Algerius, an Italian Martyr; ſome of the Words of which, are theſe:

'Let, ſaith he, the miſerable worldly 'Man anſwer me; What Remedy, or ſafe 'Refuge, can there be to him that lacketh 'God, who is the Life and Medicine of all 'Men: And how can he be ſaid to fly 'from Death, when himſelf is already dead 'in Sin. If Chriſt be the Way, Verity and 'Life, how can there be any Life then with-'out Chriſt?

'The heat of the Priſon to me is cold-'neſs; the cold Winter to me is a freſh 'Spring in the Lord. He that feareth not 'to be burned in the Fire; how will he 'fear the heat of Weather? Or, what ca-'reth he for the pinching Froſt, which 'burneth with the Love of the Lord.

'The Place is ſharp and tedious to them 'that be Guilty; but to the Innocent and 'Guiltleſs it is melliſluous. Here droppeth 'the delectacle Dew; here floweth the 'pleaſant Nectar; here runneth the ſweet 'Milk; here is plenty of all good Things. 'And altho' the Place it ſelf be deſert and 'barren; yet to me it ſeemeth a large Walk, 'and a Valley of Pleaſure; here to me is 'the better and more noble Part of the 'World. Let the miſerable worlding ſay, 'and confeſs, if there be any Plot, Paſture, 'or Meadow, ſo delightful to the Mind of 'Man, as here. Here I ſee Kings, Prin-'ces, Cities, and People; here I ſee Wars, 'where ſome be overthrown, ſome be 'Victors, ſome thruſt down, ſome lifted up. 'Here is Mount Sion; here I am already 'in Heaven it ſelf. Here ſtandeth firſt 'Chriſt Jeſus in the Front; about him 'ſtand the old Fathers, Prophets, and E-'vangeliſts, Apoſtles, and all the Servants 'of God: Of whom ſome do embrace 'and cheriſh me, ſome exhort me, ſome 'open the Sacraments to me, ſome com-'fort me, others are ſinging about me: 'And how then ſhall I be thought to be 'alone, among ſo many, and ſuch as theſe 'be, the beholding of whom is to me both 'Solace and Example. For here I ſee 'ſome crucified, ſome ſlain, ſome ſtoned, 'ſome cut aſunder, and ſome quartered, 'ſome roaſted, ſome broiled, ſome put in 'hot Caldrons, ſome having their Eyes 'bored thorough, ſome their Tongues cut 'out, ſome their Skin plucked over their 'Heads, ſome their Hands and Feet chopt 'off,

'off, ſome put into Kilns and Furnaces, 'ſome caſt down headlong, and given to 'the Beaſts, and Fowls of the Air to feed 'on. It would, ſaid he, ask a long Time, 'if I ſhould recite all.

'To be ſhort, divers I ſee with divers 'and ſundry Torments excruciated; yet 'notwithſtanding, all living, and all ſafe. 'One Plaiſter, one Salve, cureth all their 'Wounds, which alſo giveth to me 'Strength and Life; ſo that I ſuſtain all 'theſe tranſitory Anguiſhes, and ſmall 'Afflictions, with a quiet Mind, having a 'greater Hope laid up in Heaven. Nei-'ther do I fear mine Adverſaries which 'here perſecute me and oppreſs me, for he 'that dwells in Heaven ſhall laugh them 'to Scorn, and the Lord ſhall deride them. 'I fear not ten thouſands of People which 'compaſs me about. The Lord my God 'ſhall deliver me, my Hope, my Supporter, 'my Comforter, who exalteth up my 'Head. He ſhall ſmite all them that 'ſtand up againſt me without Cauſe; and 'ſhall daſh the Teeth and Faces of Sinners 'aſunder, for he only is all Bleſſedneſs and 'Majeſty.

'The Rebukes for Chriſt make us jo-'cund; for ſo it is written: If ye be re-'buked and ſcorned for the Name of Chriſt, 'happy be you; for the Glory and Spirit of 1 Pet. 4. 14 'God reſteth upon you. Be ye therefore 'certified (ſaid he, by this his Letter to 'his Friends) that our Rebukes, which are 'laid upon us, redound to the Shame and 'Harm of the Rebukers.

'In this World there is no Manſion firm 'to me; and therefore I will travel up to 'the New Jeruſalem which is in Heaven, 'and which offereth it ſelf to me, without 'paying any Fine or Income. Behold, I 'have entered already on my Journey, 'where my Houſe ſtandeth for me pre-'pared, and where I ſhall have Riches, 'Kinsfolks, Delights, Honours, never-fail-'ing.

'As for theſe earthly Things here pre-'ſent, they are tranſitory Shadows, vaniſh-'ing Vapours, and ruinous Walls. Briefly, 'all is but very Vanity of Vanities, where-'as Hope, and the Subſtance of Eternity 'to come, are wanting; which the merci-'ful Goodneſs of the Lord hath given, as 'Companions to accompany me, and to 'comfort me; and now do the ſame begin 'to work, and to bring forth Fruits in me. 'I have travelled hitherto, laboured and 'ſweat early and late, walking Day and 'Night, and now my Travels begin to 'come to effect. Days and Hours I have 'beſtowed upon my Studies.

'Behold the true Countenance of God 'is ſealed upon me, the Lord hath given 'Mirth in my Heart; and therefore in the 'ſame will I lay me down in Peace and Pſal. 4. 8. 'Reſt. And who then ſhall dare to blame 'this our Age conſumed; or ſay, that our 'Years be cut off? What Man can now 'cavil, that theſe our Labours are loſt, 'which have followed, and found out the 'Lord and Maker of the World, and 'which have changed Death for Life. 'My Portion is the Lord, ſaith my Soul, 'and therefore I will ſeek and wait for 'him.

'Now then, If to die in the Lord, be 'not to die, but live moſt joyfully, where 'is this wretched worldly Rebel, which 'blameth us of Folly, for giving away our 'Lives to Death? O how delectable is 'this Death to me! To taſte the Lord's 'Cup, which is an aſſured Pledge of true 'Salvation; for ſo hath the Lord fore-'warned us, ſaying, The ſame that they 'have done to me, they will alſo do unto you.

'Wherefore, let the doltiſh World, with 'his blind Worldlings (whom the bright 'Sun-ſhine, yet go ſtumbling in Darkneſs, 'being as blind as Beetles) ceaſe thus un-'wiſely to carp againſt us, for our raſh 'ſuffering, as they count it. To whom, 'thus, we anſwer again, with the holy 'Apoſtle, That neither Tribulation, nor 'Anguiſh, nor Hunger, nor Nakedneſs, 'nor Jeopardy, nor Perſecution, nor Sword, 'ſhall be able ever to ſeparate us from the 'Love of Chriſt; we are ſlain all the Day 'long; we are made like Sheep ordained Rom. 8. 'to the Shambles.

'Thus (ſaith he) do we reſemble Chriſt 'our Head, which ſaid, that the Diſciple 'cannot be above his Maſter, nor the Ser-'vant above his Lord. The ſame Lord 'hath alſo commanded, that every one Luke 9. 'ſhall take up his Croſs and follow him.

'Rejoice, rejoice, (my dear Brethren, 'and fellow Servants) and be of good 'Comfort, when ye fall into ſundry Temp-'tations; let your Patience be perfect, in 'all Parts. For ſo it is fore-ſhewed us be-'fore, and is written, That they which 'ſhall kill you, ſhall think to do God good 'Service. Therefore, Afflictions and Death 'be as Tokens and Sacraments of our E-'lection and Life to come.

'Let us then be glad and ſing unto the 'Lord, when as we, being clear from all 'juſt Accuſations, are perſecuted and given 'to Death: For better is it that we in do-'ing well do ſuffer, if it ſo be the Will of 'God, than doing Evil. We have for our 'Example, Chriſt, and the Prophets which 1 Pet. 3. 'ſpake in the Name of the Lord, whom 'the Children of Iniquity did quell and 'murder. And now we bleſs and magnify 'them that then ſuffered.

'Let us be glad and joyous, in our In-'nocency and Uprightneſs; the Lord ſhall 'reward them that perſecute us; let us 'refer all Revengement to him.

'I am accuſed of Fooliſhneſs, for that I 'do not ſhrink from the true Doctrine, and 'Knowledge of God, and do not rid my 'ſelf out of theſe Troubles, when with

'one

'one Word I may. O the Blindneſs of 'Man, which ſeeth not the Sun-ſhine; 'neither remembreth the Lord's Words. 'Conſider therefore what he ſaith, You are 'the Light of the World. A City built on a 'Hill cannot be hid; neither do Men light a 'Candle and put it under a Buſhel, but up-'on a Candleſtick, that it may ſhine, and 'give Light to them in the Houſe. And in 'another Place (he ſaith) You ſhall be led 'before Kings and Rulers: Fear ye not them 'which kill the Body, but him which killeth 'both Body and Soul. Whoſoever ſhall con-'feſs me before Men, him will I alſo confeſs 'before my Father which is in Heaven; and 'he that denieth me before Men, him will I 'deny before my heavenly Father.

'Wherefore, ſeeing the Words of the 'Lord be ſo plain, How, or by what Au-'thority, will this wiſe Counſellor then 'approve this his Counſel which he doth 'give? God forbid that I ſhould re-'linquiſh the Commandments of God to 'follow the Counſel of Men. For, it 'is written, Bleſſed is the Man that hath Pſalm 1. 'not gone in the Way of Sinners, and hath 'not ſtood in the Counſel of the Ungodly, and 'hath not ſit in the Chair of Peſtilence. God 'forbid that I ſhould deny Chriſt where I 'ought to confeſs him: I will not ſet more 'by my Life than by my Soul; neither 'will I exchange the Life to come for this 'World here preſent. O how fooliſhly 'ſpeaketh he, which argueth me of Fool-'iſhneſs!'

And a little farther he ſaith. 'And now 'let this carnal politick Counſellor, and 'Diſputer of this World, tell wherein have 'they to blame me: If in mine Examina-'tions I have not anſwered ſo after their 'Mind and Affection as they required of 'me, ſeeing it is not our ſelves that ſpeak, 'but the Lord that ſpeaketh in us, as he 'himſelf doth fore-witneſs, ſaying, When 'you ſhall be brought before Rulers and Mat. 10. 'Magiſtrates, It is not you that ſpeak, but 'the Spirit of my Father that ſhall be in 'you. Wherefore, if the Lord be true and 'faithful of his Word, as it is moſt certain, 'then there is no Blame in me; for he gave 'the Words that I did ſpeak, and who was 'I that I could reſiſt his Will?

'If any Man ſhall reprehend the Things 'that I ſaid, let him then quarrel with the 'Lord, whom it pleaſed to work ſo in me; 'and if the Lord be not to be blamed, nei-'ther am I herein to be accuſed, which 'did that I purpoſed not, and that I fore-'thought not of. The Things that there 'I did utter and expreſs [He means when 'he was before the Magiſtrates] if they 'were otherwiſe than well, let them ſhew 'it, and then will I ſay that they were my 'Words and not the Lord's. But if they 'were good and approved, and ſuch as 'cannot juſtly be accuſed, then muſt it 'needs be granted; ſpite of their Teeth, 'that they proceed of the Lord; and then 'who be they that ſhall accuſe me? Peo-'ple of Prudence? Or, Who ſhall con-'demn me? Juſt Judges? And though 'they ſo do, yet, nevertheleſs, the Word 'ſhall not be fruſtrate; neither ſhall the 'Goſpel be fooliſh, or therefore decay; 'but rather, the Kingdom of God, ſhall 'the more proſper and flouriſh to the If-'raelites, and ſhall paſs the ſooner unto 'the Elect of Chriſt Jeſus; and they which 'ſhall ſo do, ſhall prove the grievous Judg-'ment of God. Neither ſhall they 'ſcape, 'without Puniſhment, that be perſecutors 'and murderers of the Juſt.

'Beloved (ſaith he) lift up your Eyes, 'and conſider the Counſels of God, he 'hath ſhewed unto us of late, an Image 'of his Plague, which was to our Correc-'tion; and if we ſhall not receive him, he 'will draw out his Sword, and ſtrike with 'Sword, Peſtilence, and Famine, the Na-'tion that ſhall riſe againſt Chriſt.'

This, as I ſaid, is Part of a Letter, writ by Pomponius Algerius, an Italian Mar-tyr, who when he wrote it was in Priſon, in, as he calls it, his delectable Orchard, the Priſon of Leomine, 12. Calend. Auguſt, Anno 1555. As is to be ſeen in the ſecond Volume of the Book of Martyrs.

This Man was, when he wrote this Letter, in the Houſe of the Foreſt of Le-banon; in the Church in the Wilderneſs; in the Place and Way of contending for the Truth of God, and he drank of both theſe bitter Cups of which I ſpake before; to wit, of that which was exceeding bitter, and of that which was exceeding ſweet; and the Reaſon why he complained not of the Bitter, was, becauſe the ſweet had overcome it; as his Afflictions abounded for Chriſt, ſo did his Conſolations by him: So, did I ſay? they abounded much more.

But was not this Man, think you, a Gyant? A Pillar in this Houſe? Had he not alſo, now, hold of the Shield of Faith? Yea, was he not now in the Combat? And did he not behave himſelf valiantly? Was not his mind elevated a thouſand Degrees beyond Senſe, carnal Reaſons, fleſhly Love, ſelf Concerns, and the Deſires of embracing temporal Things? This Man had got that, by the end, that pleaſed him; neither could all the Flatteries, Promiſes, Threats, or Reproaches, make him once liſten to, or deſire to enquire after what the World, or the Glory of it could afford. His Mind was captivated with Delights inviſible, he coveted to ſhew his Love to his Lord, by laying down his Life for his Sake? he long'd to be there, where there ſhall be no more Pain, nor Sorrow, nor Sighing nor Tears, nor Troubles, He was Eccleſ. 7. 22. a Man of a thouſand.

But to return again to our Text. You know we are now upon the Veſſels of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon: which, I have told you, could not be Veſſels for Worſhip; for, that Worſhip that was ordained to be performed at the Temple, was alſo confined to that, and to the Veſſels that were there. Therefore, they muſt be, in all probability, the Veſſels that I have mentioned, the which, you ſee how we have expounded and applied.

If I am out, I know it not; if others can give me better Light, here about, for it I will be thankful.

There was alſo added to this Houſe of 2 Chron. 8. 3, 4, 5, 6. the Foreſt of Lebanon, Store-Cities, Chariot-Cities, and Cities of Horſemen; unto ch. 27. 3, 4. which, King Jotham added Caſtles, and Towers.

These might be to ſignifie, by what Ways and Means, God would at times revenge the Quarrel of his Church, even in this World, upon them that, without Cauſe, ſhould for their Faith, and Worſhip, ſet themſelves againſt them. For, here is a face of threatning Revenge, they were Store-Houſes, Chariot-Cities, Cities of Horſemen, with Caſtles, and Towers. And they ſtood on the ſame ground that this Houſe was builded upon, even in the Foreſt of Lebanon.

We know, that in Iſrael, God ſtirred up Kings, who all times ſuppreſs'd Idolatry there, and plagued the Perſecutors too, as Jehu, Hezekiah, Joſiah, &c. And he has promiſed that, even in Goſpel times, Kings Rev. 17. 12. 16. ſhall hate the Whore, make her deſolate, and naked, and ſhall eat her Fleſh, and burn her with Fire.

Here now are the Store-Houſes, Chariot-Cities, Cities of Horſemen, with Towers, and Caſtles, for the Help of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, for the Help of the Church in the Wilderneſs, or, as you have it, in another Place, As the Serpent caſt Floods of Water out of his Mouth, after the Woman, that he might cauſe her to be carried away of the Flood: So the Earth helped the Chap 12. 15, 16. Woman, and the Earth opened her Mouth, and ſwallowed up the Flood, which the Dragon caſt out of his Mouth.

Thus the Medes and Perſians helped to deliver the Church, from the Clutches and ſtrong Hand of the King of Babylon.

This Lebanon, therefore, was a place Song 11. ch. 5. 15. chap. 7. 4. conſiderable, and a Figure of great things; the Countenance of the Lord Jeſus is compared to it, and ſo is the Face of his Spouſe, and alſo the Smell of her Garment.

CHAP. X.

Of the Porch of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon.

SOlomon, alſo, made a Porch to this Houſe, of the Foreſt of Lebanon. He made ſeveral Porches, as, one for the Temple, one for the Houſe which he dwelt in, one for the Throne of the Kingdom, and this that was for the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon; of all which, this laſt is that mentioned. 1 King. 7. 6.

And he made a Porch of Pillars, the Length thereof was fifty Cubits, the breadth thereof thirty Cubits; and the Porch was before them, and the other Pillars, and the thick Beams were before them. This Porch was famous, both for Length, and Breadth, and Strength; it was able to contain a thouſand Men. 2 Sam. 5. 'Twas like that of the Tower of David, otherwiſe called, the ſtrong Hold, 1 Chron. 11. 5. the Caſtle of Zion, which is the City of David.

This Tower of David was built for an Armory, whereon there hanged a thouſand Song 4. Bucklers, all Shields of mighty Men.

It was fifty Cubits long, and thirty broad; a ſpacious Place; a large Receptacle for any that liked to take Shelter there.

It was made of Pillars, even as the Houſe within was, or it ſtood upon Pillars. The Pillars, you know, I told you before, were to ſhew us what mighty Men, or what Men of mighty Grace, God would have his Church in the Wilderneſs, furniſhed with.

And 'tis worth your obſerving here alſo we have Pillars, Pillars. And he made the Porch of Pillars; that is, of Pillars of Cedar, as the reſt of the Pillars of the Houſe were.

And the Porch was before them. That is, as I take it, an entring Porch, leſs than the Space within; ſo that the Pillars neither as to Number nor Bigneſs could be ſeen without, until, at leaſt, they that had a mind to ſee, entred the Mouth of the Porch.

And by this was fitly prefigured, how unſeen the Strength of the Church under Perſecution is of all that are without her. Alas! they think that ſhe will be run down with a puſh; or, as they ſaid, What do theſe feeble Jews? Will they fortifie themſelves? Will they ſacrifice? Will they make an end in a Day? Will they revive the Stones, out of the Heaps of Rubbiſh, which are burnt? Alas! If a Fox go up, he will Neh. 4. 2, 3 even break down their ſtone Wall.

But do you think theſe Men ſaw the Strength of the Jews now? No, no, their Pillars were within, and ſo were ſhadowed from their Eyes. David himſelf could not Pſal. 73. tell what Judgment to make of the way 19, 17. of the World, againſt the People of God, until he went into the Sanctuary of God.

How then can the World judge of the Condition of the Saints? Alas, had they known the Churches Strength; ſurely, they would not as they have, ſo furiouſly aſſaulted the ſame. But have they got by all they have done, either againſt the Head or Body of the ſame?

She yet has Being in the World, and will have, ſhall have, tho' all the Nations on Earth ſhould gather themſelves together againſt it: Nor is it the cutting off many that will will make her ceaſe to flouriſh. Alas, were ſhe not ſome times pruned, and trimmed, her boughs would ſtand too thick. Thoſe therefore that are taken away, with God's Pruning Hooks, are removed that the under-Branches may grow the better.

But, I ſay, to extinguiſh her, 'tis in vain for any to hope for that; ſhe ſtands upon Pillars, on Rocks, on the Munition of Rocks; ſtand therefore ſhe muſt, whether the World believes it or no.

And the other Pillars were before them, or, as the Margent has it, according to them: The other Pillars, that is, they more inward; thoſe that were in the Body of the Houſe. Chriſt doth not do as the poor World doth, that is, ſet the beſt leg before; the Pillars that were more inward, in the Houſe, were as good as thoſe in the Front: 'Tis true, ſome are appointed to Death, to ſhew to the World, the Strength of Grace, not that he can help no body to that Strength but they: The moſt feeble of his Flock, when Chriſt ſhall ſtand by and ſtrengthen them, are able to do, and bear, what the ſtrong have under-went. For ſo he ſaith,

And the other Pillars, and the thick Beams, were according to them: nay before them? Indeed, they that are left, ſeem weak, and feeble, if compared to them that have already been tried with Fire and Sword, and all the Tortures of Men. But, that Grace (by which they were helped that have done ſuch mighty Acts already,) can help thoſe who ſeem more weak, yet to go beyond them. God Amos 5.9. ſtrengtheneth the ſpoiled, againſt the ſtrong; ſo that the ſpoiled come againſt the Fortreſs: Iſa.33.23 Or, as another Scripture has it, The Lame take the Prey.

So that, you ſee, here is all ſubſtance: All here are Pillars, and thick Beams, both in the Houſe, and in the Porch.

The Concluſion therefore is. The true Members of the Church in the Wilderneſs, are ſtrong, mighty, being made able by the Grace of God, for their ſtanding; and having alſo coupled, and compacted together, with the biggeſt Bands, or thickeſt Beams, that the Holy Ghoſt puts forth, to bind and hold this Church together.

And there is reaſon for it. The Church is God's Tower, or Battery, by which he beateth down Antichriſt; or if you will have it in the Words of the Prophet, Thou art my battle-Ax, and Weapons of War; Jer. 51. 19, 20. and with thee (ſaith God) will I break in Pieces, &c.

Wherefore, ſince the Church is ſet for Defence of Religion, and to be as a Battery to beat down Antichriſt, 'tis requiſite that ſhe ſhould be made up of Pillars of ſtrong and ſtanch Materials.

The Largeneſs of the Porch was commodious, it was the next Shelter, or the Place where-unto they of the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, when purſued, might reſort, or retreat, with the leſs Difficulty. Thus the Church in the Wilderneſs, has her Porch, her Place, her Boſom, whereunto her diſcouraged may continually reſort, and take up, and be refreſhed. As Abiather thruſt in to David, and his Men, in the Wilderneſs, in the Day when Saul had ſlain his Father, and of his Brethren even fourſcore and five Perſons that did wear a Linnen Ephod. 1 Sam. 22. 17. 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23.

When the Apoſtles were perſecuted, they went to their own Company, becauſe the Lord was there. Acts 4.23.

There we find the Pillars, and have both Solace and Example. There, as Pomponius ſaid of his Perſon, ſtands Chriſt Jeſus, in the front as Captain of the Lord's Hoſt, and round about him, the old Fathers, Prophets, Apoſtles, and Martyrs.

This Porch, therefore, I take to be a Figure of thoſe cordial and large Affections, which the Church, in the Wilderneſs, has to all, and for all them that love the Truth, and that ſuffer, and are afflicted, for the ſincere Profeſſion thereof.

This Porch was bigger than that which belonged to the Temple, by much; to ſhew that thoſe that are made the Object of the Enemies rage moſt, are uſually moſt prepared, with Affection, for them that are in the ſame Condition. Fellow-feeling is a great Matter. 'Tis ſaid of the poor afflicted People, that were in Macedonia, in their great Trial of Affliction, the Abundance of their Joy, and their deep Poverty, abounded unto the Riches of their Liberality; for to their Power, yea, and beyond their Power, they ſhewed their Charity to the deſtroyed Church of Jeruſalem. 2 Cor. 8.1, 2, 3, 3, 4.

And a Porch, in a Foreſt; a Boſom, in a Wilderneſs; is ſeaſonable to them, that in the Wilderneſs are faint and weary.

Nabal ſhut up his Doors againſt David, and therefore he died like a Beaſt. Poor David! thou waſt bewildred, but this Churle had no Compaſſion for thee. 1 Sam. 25. 5, to 40.

Bleſt Obediah, thou hadſt a Boſom, and Bread, and Hiding-places for the Church, when rent and torn by the fury of Jezebel, and thou haſt for it thy Reward in Heaven. 1 King. 18 3, 4. Mat. 10. 42.

Ebed-melch, becauſe he had Compaſſion on Jeremy, when he was in the Dungeon; God did not only give him his Life for a Prey, but promiſed him the Effects of putting his Truſt in the Lord. Jer. 38. 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 Ch 39. 15, 16, 17, 18.

And he made a Porch of Pillars. The Porch is but the Entrance of the Houſe, whither many go, that yet ſtep not into the Houſe, but make their Retreat from thence: But it is, becauſe, they are Non-Reſidents, they only come to ſee; or elſe, if they pretended more, it was not from the Heart. They went out from us, ſaid John, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would, no doubt, have 1 Joh. 2. 19

continued with us; but they went out, that it might be made manifeſt, that they were not all of us.

And, foraſmuch, as this Porch was fifty Cubits long, Men may take many a Step ſtrait forward therein, and be but in the Porch yet. Even, as we have ſeen Men go, as one would think, till they are out of View, in the Porch of this Church, in the Wilderneſs; but preſently you have them without the Door again.

True, this Porch was made of Pillars; and ſo to every one, at firſt Entrance, it ſhewed the Power of the Place; the Church, in the Wilderneſs, alſo is ſo builded, that Men may ſee it is ordained for Defence. Men alſo, at their firſt offer to ſtep over the Threſhold there, with Mouth profeſs, that they will dwell as Soldiers there: But Words are but Wind, when they ſee the Storm a coming, they will take care to ſhift for themſelves: This Houſe, or Church, in the Wilderneſs, muſt ſee to it ſelf, for all them.

As the Houſe therefore is a Figure of the Church, in the Wilderneſs; ſo, ſo great a Porch, belonging to it, may be alſo to ſhew that Numbers may there be entertained, that, if need be, will quickly whip out again. Although therefore the Porch was made of Pillars, yet every one that walked there were not ſuch. The Pillars was to ſhew them, not what they were, but what they ſhould be that entred into this Houſe.

The Church alſo, in the Wilderneſs, even in her Porch, or firſt Entrance into it, is full of Pillars, Apoſtles, Prophets, and Martyrs of Jeſus: There alſo hang up the Shields that the old Warriors have uſed, and are plaſtered upon the Walls, the brave Atchievements which they have done: There are alſo ſuch Encouragements there, for thoſe that ſtand, that one would think none that came thither, with Pretence to ſerve there, would for very Shame attempt to go back again; and yet not to their Credit be it ſpoken, they will forſake the Place without bluſhing; yea, and plead for this their ſo doing. But I have done with the explicatory Part, and conclude, that from theſe ten Particulars thus handled in this Book, the Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, was a Type, or Figure, of the Church in the Wilderneſs.

Nor do I know, if this be denied, how ſo fitly to apply ſome of theſe Texts, which ſpeak to the Church to ſupport her under her Troubles, of the Comforts that afterwards ſhe ſhall enjoy; ſince they are preſented to her under ſuch Metaphors, as clearly denote, ſhe was once in a Wilderneſs, for Inſtance.

1. Sing O ye Heavens, for the Lord hath done it (that is, redeemed his Servant Jacob, from their Sins, and from the Hand of the Enemy,) ſhout ye lower Part of the Earth, (or Church once trampled under Feet,) break forth into ſinging, ye Mountains, O Foreſt, and every Tree therein; (here is Comfort for the Church, under the Name of a Foreſt, that in which the Houſe, we have been ſpeaking of, was built;) for the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and glorified himſelf in Iſrael. Iſa. 44. 23.

To what, I ſay, can this Text more fitly be applied, than to the Church in the Wilderneſs, put here under the Name of a Foreſt, as well as under the Title of Heaven. Yea, methinks 'tis cried here to her, O Foreſt, on purpoſe to intimate to us, that the Houſe, in the Foreſt of Lebanon, was the Figure of the Church in this Condition.

2. Again, Is it not yet a very little while, Iſa. 29. 17 to 21. and Lebanon ſhall be turned into a fruitful Field, and the fruitful Field ſhall be eſteemed as a Foreſt. And in that Day ſhall the Deaf hear the Words of the Book; and the Eyes of the Blind ſhall ſee out of Obſcurity, and out of Darkneſs. The meek alſo ſhall encreaſe their joy in the Lord, and the poor, among Men, ſhall rejoyce in the holy one of Iſrael: For the terrible one is brought to nought, and the ſcorner is conſumed, and all that watch for Iniquity are cut off. Lebanon was a Foreſt, but now ſhe muſt be a fruitful Field. What Means he here by Lebanon, but the Church under Perſecution; and the fruitful Field, Miſtreſs Babylon ſhall become as a Foreſt, that is, as the Church under diſtreſs. But when ſhall this be? Why, when the terrible one is brought low, and the ſcorner is conſumed, &c.

What can be more plain than this, to prove that Lebanon, even the Houſe, in the Foreſt of Lebanon (for that is here intended) was a Figure of the Church, in the Wilderneſs, or in a tempted and perſecuted State. For to be turned into a fruitful Field, ſignifies the recovering of the afflicted Church, into a State moſt quiet and fruitful; fruitful Fields are quiet, becauſe they are fenced, and ſo ſhall the Church be in that Day.

3. The Wilderneſs, and the ſolitary Places ſhall be glad for them, and the Deſert ſhall rejoice, and bloſſom as a Roſe. Iſa. 35. 1.

What are we to underſtand by theſe Words, if they be not a Prophecy of the flouriſhing State of Chriſt's Kingdom; who in the Days of her Perſecution, is compared to a Wilderneſs, to a Deſert, and to ſolitary Places. And ſhe ſhall be glad for them; for what? For that ſhe is rid of the Dragons, Wild Beaſts, Satyrs, Screech-Owles, Great Owle, and Vulture, Types of the Beaſts, and unclean Birds of Antichriſt.

She ſhall be glad for them, that they are taken away from her, and placed far away: For then no Lion ſhall be there, nor any ravenous Beaſt: Yea, 'tis the Habitation of Dragons, where each lay, ſhall be Graſs, with Reeds, and Ruſhes, as it is Ch. 35. Ch. 34. 13. to 18.

And

And now, The lame Man ſhall leap as an Hart, and the Tongue of the Dumb ſhall ſing; for in the Wilderneſs ſhall Waters break out, and Streams in the Deſert. Read the whole Chapter.

For that the Deſert and Wilderneſs is thus mentioned, and that to expreſs the State of the Church in trouble by; 'tis clear that Lebanon is not excluded, nor the Thing that is ſignified thereby, which, I ſay, is the Church, in her low Eſtate, in her Foreſt, or Wilderneſs Condition.

Iſa. 41. 18, 19. 4. I will plant in the Wilderneſs, the Cedar, the Shittah-Tree, the Myrtle-Tree, and the Oyl-Tree; and I will ſet in the Deſert, the Fir-Tree, and the Pine, and the Box-Tree together.

Can any think that Trees are the Things taken care of here? They are the Men that Antichriſt has murdered in his Heat and Rage againſt Chriſt, the which God will reſtore again to his Church, when Antichriſt is dead and buried, in the Sides of the Pits Mouth.

And that you may the better underſtand, he meaneth ſo, he expreſſeth again the State of the Church, as like to a Wilderneſs Condition, and promiſeth that in that very Church now ſo like a Wilderneſs, to plant it again with Chriſtians, flouriſhing with Variety of Gifts and Graces, ſignified by the various Nature, and Name of the Trees, ſpoken of here.

Iſa 43. 19 20. 5. Behold, I create a new Thing; now it ſhall ſpring forth, ſhall ye not know it? I will even make a Way in the Wilderneſs, and Rivers in the Deſert; the Beaſts of the Field ſhall honour me, the Dragons and the Owls, becauſe I give Waters in the Wilderneſs, and Rivers in the Deſert, to give Drink to my People, my choſen.

Here God alludes to the Condition of the Children of Iſrael, in the Wilderneſs of old, and implies they ſhall be in a Wilderneſs again; and as then he gave them Water, and delivered them from Serpents, Cockatrices, Vipers, Dragons; ſo he will do now, now to his People his choſen.

Iſa. 51. 3. 6. The Lord ſhall comfort Zion, he will comfort all her waſte Places, and he will make her Wilderneſs like Eden, and her Deſert like the Garden of the Lord; Joy and Gladneſs ſhall be found therein, Thankſgiving, and the Voice of Melody.

See, here are Sion's waſte Places, Sion's Wilderneſs, Foreſt, or Lebanon. Next here is a Promiſe that he will comfort her; and what doth this ſuppoſe, but that ſhe was in her Wilderneſs State, uncomfortable at leaſt, as to her outward Peace, her Liberty, and Goſpel Privileges and Beauties. Then here is the Compariſon, by which he illuſtrates his Promiſe, as to what Degree and Pitch he will comfort her. He will make her Wilderneſs, like Eden, and her Deſert like the Garden of the Lord.

The Effects of all which will be, ſhe will have Joy, and Gladneſs; ſhe will be thankful, and be melodious in her Voice, in her Soul to the Lord. This, I ſay, will follow upon her Deliverance from her Deſert, her Wilderneſs, her Deſolate, and Comfortleſs State: All which is more fully expreſſed, by her repeated Allelujahs. Rev. 19. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

Which Allelujahs there, are the Effect of her Deliverance from the Rage of the Beaſt and great Whore, of whoſe Greatneſs, and Ruine, you read in the two foregoing Chapters.

Now, I ſay, ſince the Church was to be in a Wilderneſs Condition, under the Goſpel; and ſince we have this Houſe of the Foreſt of Lebanon, ſo particularly ſet forth in the Scriptures; and alſo ſince this Houſe, its Furniture, its Troubles, and State, do ſo paint out this Church, in this Wilderneſs State, I take it to be for that very Thing deſigned, that is to ſay, to prefigure this Church in this her ſo ſolitary and Wilderneſs State.

We will now therefore here make a brief Concluſion of all. Firſt, this may inform us of the Reaſon of the deplorable State of a profeſſing People. It is allotted to them in this World to be ſo. The World, and Men of the World, muſt have their Tranquility here, and muſt be poſſeſt of all; this was fore-ſhewn in Eſau, who had of his Sons many that were Dukes and Kings before there was any King in Iſrael. God ſo diſpoſing of Things that all may give Place, when his Son ſhall come to reign in Mount Zion, and before his Ancients glorioufly, which coming of his will be at the Reſurrection, and end of this World, and then ſhall his Saints reign with him, when Chriſt who is our Life ſhall appear, then ſhall we alſo appear with him in Glory. Gen. 36. 31. Col. 3. 3, 4.

Let not therefore Kings and Princes and Potentates be afraid; the Saints that are ſuch indeed, know their Places, and are of a peaceable Deportment; the Earth God hath given to the Children of Men, and his Kingdom, to the Sons of God. Pſ. 115. 16 Mat. 25. 34. Luk. 12. 32.

I know there are extravagant Opinions in the World, about the Kingdom of Chriſt, as if it conſiſted in temporal Glory, in Part, and as if he would take it to him by carnal Weapons, and ſo maintain it in its greatneſs and grandeur; but I confeſs my ſelf an Alien to theſe Notions, and believe and profeſs the quite contrary, and look for the coming of Chriſt to Judgment perſonally, and 'twixt this and that, for his coming in Spirit, and in the Power of his Word to deſtroy Antichriſt, to inform Kings, and ſo to give Quietneſs to his Church on Earth; which ſhall aſſuredly be accompliſhed, when the Reign of the Beaſt, the Whore, the falſe Prophet, and of the Man of Sin is out. 2 Theſ. 2. 8. Iſa. 49. 23. Ch. 52. 15. Ch. 60. 3. 10, 11, 16, 62, 2. Rev. 21. 24.

2. Let this teach Men, not to think that the Church is curſt of God, becauſe ſhe is put in a Wilderneſs State: Alas, that is but to train her up in a Way of Solitarineſs, to make her Canaan the more welcome to her. (Reſt is ſweet to the labouring Man,) Yea, this Condition is the firſt Step to Heaven; yea, 'tis a Preparation to that Kingdom. God's Ways are not as Man's. I have choſen thee, ſaith he, in the Furnace of Affliction.

Ezek.20.6 Pſ. 107.1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7. When Iſrael came out of Egypt, they were led of God into the Wilderneſs; but why? That he might have them to a Land, that he had eſpied for them, that he might bring them to a City of Habitation.

The World know not the Way of the Lord, nor the Judgment of our God. Do you think that Saints that dwell in the World, and that have more of the Mind of God than the World, would, could, ſo rejoice in God, in the Croſs, in Tribulations and Diſtreſſes? Were they not aſ-

Acts 14. 22. ſured that through many Tribulations is the very Road-Way to Heaven.

Let this then encourage the Saints to hope, and to rejoice in hope of the Glory of God, notwithſtanding preſent Tribulations. This is our Seed-time, our Winter. Afflictions are to try us of what Mettle we are made; yea, and to ſhake off worm-eaten Fruit, and ſuch as are rotten at Core. Troubles for Chriſt's Sake are but like the prick of an Awl in the Tip of the Ear, in order to hang a Jewel there.

Let this alſo put the Saints upon Patience; when we know that a Tryal will have an End, we are by that Knowledge encouraged to exerciſe Patience. I have a bad Maſter, but I have but a Year to ſerve under him, and that makes me ſerve him with Patience: I have but a Mile to go in this dirty Way, and then I ſhall have my Path pleaſant and green, and this makes me tread the dirty Way with Patience.

I am now in my Rags, but by that a quarter of a Year is come and gone, two hundred a Year comes into my Hand, wherefore I will wait, and exerciſe Patience. Thus might I multiply Compariſons. Be patient then my Brethren: But how long? to the coming of the Lord. But when will that be? the coming of the Lord draws nigh.

Be patient, my Brethren, be long Patient, even to the coming of the Lord: Behold, the Husbandman waiteth for the precious Fruit of the Earth; and hath long Patience for it until he receive the early and latter Rain. Be ye alſo Patient, ſtabliſh your Hearts, for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh. Jam. 5. 7, 8.

A PREMONITION to the READER.

AFTER that God had delivered Babylon and her King into the Hands of the Kings of the Medes and Perſians, then began the Liberty of the Jews from their long and tedious Captivity: For though Nebuchadnezzar and his Sons did tyranni-

Ezra 1. cally enſlave, and hold them under; yet God ſo wrought with the Hearts of thoſe Kings that ſucceeded them, that they made Proclamation to them to go home and build their City, Temple, &c. and worſhip their own God according to his own Law. But becauſe I would not be tedious in enumerating Inſtances for the clearing of this, therefore I will content myſelf

Ezra 7.26 with one, and with a brief Note upon it. It is that in the Seventh of Ezra: And whoſoever will not do the Law of thy God, and the Law of the King, let Judgment be executed ſpeedily upon him, whether it be to Death or to Baniſhment, or to Confiſcation of Goods, or to Impriſonment. This is the Concluſion of a Letter that King Artaxerexes gave to Ezra the Prieſt, and Scribe, when he granted his Petition, and gave him leave to go to Jeruſalem to build the Temple, and to offer Sacrifice there to the God whoſe Houſe is in Jeruſalem. And a Concluſion it was both comfortable and ſharp; comfortable to Ezra and his Companions, but ſharp unto his Enemies. I ſhall here preſent you with a Copy of the Letter at large.

Ezra 7. 12. Artaxerexes King of Kings, Unto Ezra the Prieſt, a Scribe of the Law of the God of Heaven, perfect Peace, and at ſuch a Time:

13. I make a Decree, That all they of the People of Iſrael, and of his Prieſts and Levites in my Realm, which are minded of their own Free-will to go up to Jeruſalem, go with thee.

14. Foraſ-

14. Forasmuch as thou art sent of the King, and of his seven Counsellors, to enquire concerning Judah and Jerusalem, according to the Law of thy God which is in thine Hand.

15. And to carry the Silver and Gold, which the King and his Counsellors have freely offered unto the God of Israel, whose Habitation is in Jerusalem.

16. And all the Silver and Gold that thou canst find in all the Province of Babylon, with the Free-will-offering of the People; and of the Priests, offering willingly for the House of their God; which is in Jerusalem.

17. That thou mayst buy speedily with this Money, Bullocks, Rams, Lambs, with their Meat-Offerings, and their Drink-offerings, and offer them upon the Altar of the House of your God, which is in Jerusalem.

18. And whatsoever shall seem good to thee and to thy Brethren, to do with the rest of the Silver and Gold, that do after the Will of your God.

19. The Vessels also that are given thee, for the Service of the House of thy God, those deliver thou before the God of Jerusalem.

20. And whatsoever more shall be needful for the House of thy God, which thou shalt have Occasion to bestow, bestow it out of the King's Treasure-house.

21. And I, even I Artaxerexes the King, do make a Decree to all the Treasurers which are beyond the River, that whatsoever Ezra the Priest, the Scribe of the Law of the God of Heaven, shall require of you, it be done speedily.

22. Unto an hundred Talents of Silver, and to an hundred Measures of Wheat, and to an hundred Baths of Wine, and to an hundred Baths of Oil, and Salt without prescribing how much.

23. Whatsoever is commanded by the God of Heaven, let it be diligently done for the House of the God of Heaven: For why should there be Wrath against the Realm of the King and his Sons?

24. Also we certifie you, that touching any of the Priests, and Levites, Singers, Porters, Nethinims, or Ministers of this House of God, it shall not be lawful to impose, toll, tribute, or custom upon them.

25. And thou, Ezra, after the Wisdom of thy God, that is in thine Hand, set Magistrates and Judges, which may judge all the People that are beyond the River, all such as know the Laws of thy God; and teach ye them that know them not.

26. And whosoever will not do the Law of thy God, and the Law of the King, let Judgment be executed speedily upon him, whether it be unto Death, or to Banishment, or to Confiscation of Goods, or to Imprisonment.

This is the Letter; and now for the Scope thereof.

First, Generally.

Secondly, Particularly.

Generally. The general Scope of the Letter is this: A Grant given by the King to Ezra the Scribe, to go to Jerusalem, and build there the Temple of God, and offer Sacrifice in it according to the Law: With Commissions annexed thereunto, to the King's Lieutenants, Treasurers and Governors on that Side the River, to further the Work with such Things as by the King was commanded they should.

But we will consider the Matter particularly.

1. As to the Manner of the Grant which the King gave to Ezra and his Brethren to go thither.

2. As to the King's Grant, with Reference to their Building, and Way of Worship.

3. With Reference to the King's Liberality and Gifts towards the building of the Temple, and by what Rules it was to be bestowed.

4. As to the Way that the King concluded they should be governed in their own Land.

5. With Reference to the King's Charge to his Officers that were thereabout, not to hinder Ezra in his Work.

6. And lastly, with Reference to the King's Threat and Commandment to do Judgment if they should hinder it.

First, As to the Manner of the Grant that the King gave to Ezra and his Brethren to go to build, it was such an one as forced none, but left every Jew to his own Choice, whether he would go or forbear. The Words are these: Artaxerexes, King of Kings, unto Ezra the Priest, a Scribe of the Law of the God of Heaven, perfect Peace, and at such a Time: I make a Decree, that all they of the People of Israel, and of his Priests and Levites in my Realm, which are minded of their own Free-will, to go up to Jerusalem, go with thee. Ver. 12. 13

Thus gracious then was the King: He made a Decree, That all they of the Captive Jews, their Priests and Levites, that would return to their own Land, to build their Temple, and to sacrifice there, might: He would hinder none, force none, but left them free to do as they would.

Secondly, As to the King's Grant, with reference to their Building, and Way of Worship there, nothing was to be done therein, but according to the Law of the God of Ezra, Ver. 14.

which was in his Hands. Hence, when he was come to Jeruſalem, he was to enquire concerning Judah and Jeruſalem; to wit, What was wanting in order to the Temple and Worſhip of God there, according to the Law of his God, which was in his Hand. Alſo when they went about to build, and to ſacrifice, all was to be done according as was Com-
Ver. 23. manded by the God of Heaven: Yea, this was granted by the King and his ſeven Councellors.

Thirdly, As to the King's Liberality towards the building of this Houſe, &c. it was large:
Ver. 17. He gave Silver, Gold, Bullocks, Rams, Lambs; with Wheat, Wine, Oyl, and Salt;
Ver. 22. but would by his Royal Power, give no Orders how in particular things ſhould be beſtowed,
Ver. 18. but left all that to Ezra the Prieſt, to do with it according to the Will, Word, or Law of God.

Fourthly, As to the way that the King concluded they ſhould be governed in their own Land, it was by their own Laws; yea, he did bid Ezra the Prieſt, after the Wiſdom of his God that was in his Hand, ſet Magiſtrates and Judges, which might Judge all the People, &c. only he bid him make them ſuch, which did know the Law of his God: Alſo the King added, That they ſhould teach it to them that know it not.

Fifthly, As to the King's Officers, he gave them a charge not to hinder, but further this Work. To further this Work, not by putting their Hand thereto, (that was to be left to the Jews alone, eſpecially to Ezra, according to the Law of his God,) but that they ſhould ſpeedi-
Ver. 20. ly give him ſuch things which the King had commanded, to wit, Silver, and Wheat, and 21, 22. Wine, and Oyl, and Salt, for their encouragement; and to do therewith, as by the Law of their God they ſhould. Further, That they ſhould not impoſe Toll, Tribute, or Cuſtom, upon the Prieſts, Levites, Singers, Porters, Nethinims, or Miniſters.

Sixthly, And now we come to the Concluſion, to wit, the King's Threat and Command to do Judgment on them them that obeyed not the Law of Ezra's God, and the King.

Conſidering what hath been ſaid before, I conclude.

1. That this King impoſed no Law, no Prieſt, no People upon theſe Jews; but left them wholly to their own Law, their own Miniſters, and their own People: All which were the Laws of God, the Prieſts of God, the People of God, as to their Building of their Temple, and the Worſhip of their God.

2. He forced not THIS People, no, not to their Land, their Temple, nor their Worſhip, by his or their Law; but left them free to their own mind, to do thereabout as they would.

3. He added not any Law therefore of his own, to preſcribe Worſhip or to enforce it upon the Jews.

But you will ſay, Upon what then was the Threatning and the Command to puniſh grounded? I anſwer, Upon a ſuppoſed Breach of two Laws. He of the Jews, that in Jeruſalem, rebelled againſt the Law of the Lord, was in his own Land left by the King to be puniſhed by the ſame Law, according to the Penalties thereof: And he of the King's Officers, that refuſed to do the King's Laws, that refuſed to give the Jews ſuch things as the King commanded, and that would yet exact ſuch Cuſtoms and Tributes as the King forbad, ſhould be puniſhed by the King's Laws, whether unto Death, or unto Baniſhment, or unto Confiſcation of Goods, or to Impriſonment.

And if all Kings would but give ſuch Liberty, to wit, that God's People ſhould be directed in their Temple-building, and Temple-Worſhip, as they find it in the Law of their God, without the Additions of Man's Inventions: And if all Kings did but lay the ſame Penalty upon them, of their pretended Servants that ſhould hinder this Work, which this brave King Artaxerxes laid upon his; how many of the Enemies of the Jews, before this time, would have been hanged, baniſhed, had their Goods confiſcated to the King, or their Bodies ſhut up in Priſon! The which we deſire not; we deſire only that this Letter of the King might be conſidered of, and we left to do as is there licens'd and directed: And when we do the contrary, let us be puniſh'd by the Law of God, as we are his Servants; and by the Law of the King, as we are his Subjects; and we ſhall never complain.

Only I cannot but obſerve how prettily it is done of ſome, who urge this Text to colour their Malice, Ignorance and Revenge withal, while they cry, The Law of God, and The Law of the King, when they will neither let, according to this Scripture, the Law of God, nor the Law of the King take place: Not the Law of God; for that they will not leave us to that, to ſquare and govern ourſelves in Temple-Work, and Sacrificing by. Nor will they do the Law of the King, which has made void, ipſo facto, whatever Law is againſt the Word of God; but becauſe themſelves can do, they will force us to do ſo too.

Before I leave this, I would touch once again upon the Candour of this King Artaxerxes, who thus did: Becauſe he gave this Leave and Licenſe to the Jews, contrary (if he had any) to his own National Worſhip; yea, and alſo to the impairing of his own Incomes. Methinks he ſhould have a Religion of his own; and that, not that of the Jews, becauſe he was a Gentile; and not, as we read of, proſelyted to the Jews Religion. Indeed, he ſpake reverendly of the God of Iſrael, and of his Temple-Worſhip, and Sacrifices, as did alſo ſeveral other Kings; but that will not prove that he was adapted to that Religion.

That

That his Incomes were impaired, 'tis evident; because he took off Toll, Tribute, and Custom from them, of whom mention is made before: nor is it, I think, to be believed, that he did exact it of their Brethren. But we may see what the Lord can do; for thus to do, Ver. 27. was put into the Heart of the King by the God of Heaven. This therefore ariseth not of Nature: no more did the Kindness of Cyrus or Darius, of whom we read in the Beginning of this History. As God therefore did put it into the Hearts of the wicked Kings of Babylon, to distress his Church and People for their Sins; so he put it into the Hearts of the Kings of the Medes and Persians, who were to be, in a sense, their Saviours; to ease them of those Distresses, to take off the Yoke, and let them go free. Indeed, there was an Artaxerxes that put a Stop to this Work of God, and he also was of the Kings that had de- Chap. 4. stroyed the Babylonians; for it doth not follow, because God hath begun to deliver his People, that therefore their Deliverance must be compleated without stop or let. The Protestants in France had more Favour formerly, than from their Prince they at this time have; yet I doubt not but that God will make that Horn also one of them (in his time) that (indeed) shall hate the Whore. As the Sins of God's People brought them into Captivity; so their Sins can hold them there; yea, and when the Time comes that Grace must fetch them out, yet the Oxen that draw this Cart may stumble; and the Way through Roughness, may shake it sorely. However, Heaven rules and over-rules; and by one Means and another, as the Captivity of Israel did seem to linger, so it came out at the Time appointed; in the Way that best pleased God, most profited them, and that most confounded those that were their implacable Enemies. This therefore should instruct those that yet dwell where the Woman sitteth, to Quietness and Patience.

To Quietness. For God rules, and has the Dispose of Things. Besides, it is a kind of arraigning of his Wisdom, to be discontent at that which at present is upon the Wheel. Above all, it displeases him that any should seek, or go about to revenge their own Injuries, or to work their own Deliverances; for that is the Work of God, and he will do it by the Kings: Nor is he weak, nor has he miss'd the Opportunity; nor doth he sleep but waketh, and waiteth to be gracious.

This also should teach them to be Patient, and put them upon bearing what at present they may undergo, patiently. Let them wait upon God, patiently let them wait upon Men, and patiently let them bear the Fruits of their own Transgressions; which though they should be none other but a deferring of the Mercy wished for, is enough to try, and crack, and break their Patience, if a continual Supply, and a daily Increase thereof be not given by the God of Heaven.

And before I do conclude this, let me also add one Word, more; to wit, To exhort them to look that they may see that which God at present may be doing among the Babylonians.

When God had his People into Babylon of old, he presented them with such Rarities there, as he never shewed them in their own Countrey. And is there nothing now to be seen by them that are not yet delivered from that Oppression, that may give them Occasion to stay themselves and wonder! What, is Preservation nothing? What, is Baffling and Befooling the Enemies of God's Church nothing? In the Maryan Days here at home, there was such sweet Songs sung in the Fire, such sweet Notes answering them from Prison, and such Providences, that Coals of burning Fire still dropped here and there upon the Heads of those that hated God; that it might, and doubtless did make those that did wisely consider of God's Doings, to think God was yet near, with, and for a despised and afflicted People.

I conclude then, first with a Word of Counsel, and then with a Word of Caution.

First, Let us mend our Pace in the Way of Reformation, that is the Way to hasten the Downfall of Antichrist. Ministers need reforming, particular Congregations need reforming, there are but few Church-Members but need reforming. This twenty Years we have been degenerating, both as to Principles, and as to Practice; and have grown at last into an amazing Likeness to the World, both as to Religion and civil Demeanour: Yea, I may say, so remiss have Churches been in instructing those that they have received into Fellowship with them; and so careless have the Received been, of considering the Grounds of their coming in to Churches, that most Members, in some places, seem now to be at a Loss; yea, and those Churches stand with their Fingers in their Mouths, and are as if they would not, durst not, or could not help it.

My Second is, A Word of Caution.
